CRIMM MEETING CLOSES THIRD SUCCESSFUL WEEK; INTEREST INCREASE

The revival which has been in progress at the Baptist church in Slaton party for the past three weeks has under the leadership of the Crimm held unwavering interest from beginning to end. Evidence of this is found in the fact that immense congregations have attended these services from the very first. There is no way of knowing how many different people have heard the striking messages delivered by Rev. Crimm, but there must have been thousands.

Held under a large out-door tabernacle, the meetings have had wonderful attendance, and the sermons by Evangelist Crimm have really been powerful. Singer Powell, and Pianist Christiansen have filled their places in an excellent way, and the people have co-operated faithfully, and their efforts have been diligent. The home people of the Baptist congregation have co-operated in their support of the meeting. Great prayer meetings have been conducted almost every day of the meeting.

The additions to the Baptist church to this writing total almost one hundred. Exact figures have not come into our hands. Many have come as candidates for baptism, others upon statement, and still others by letter. A large number of conversions are reported. Quite a number have applied or membership in the various other churches of the town.

Today (Sunday) there will be a special service in the afternoon for men and boys, Rev. Crimm speaking on "The Man who Stood Hitched." Services at the morning and evening hours today as usual.

Compress Work Has Been Finished; 6 New Sheds

R. H. McCurdy, manager of the Compress and Storage Company of Slaton informs us that they have just completed all improvements at the Compress and that they are ready for fall business.

They have just completed additional platform space to the amount of 120 x 260 feet and an extension of trackage to the amount of 240 feet.

This is one of the largest Compresses on the South Plains and they will perhaps handle the bulk of the cotton on the South Plains this season. Mr. McCurdy anticipates a large cotton crop here this fall and thinks, after a careful study of the situation, that he will gin 15,000 bales at Slaton this year.

The Compress employs a large number of laborers and office men and his pay roll in the fall of the year is felt in the way of additional business with our business concerns.

Telephone Company Making Improvements Here

The Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company have had a crew of men busy this week building a new toll lead from Lubbock to Slaton. This lead is of the black diamond cedar poles and are 25 to 35 feet in length. It will carry six circuits, making two more than the old lead carried. It will perhaps take some sixty days to complete this work and then it is probable that the exchange at Slaton will be improved to a great extent. New cable will be strung in the resident section and an underground cable in the business section to take care of future business for the next twenty-five years. An additional section will be cut in on the switch board giving us 100 more drops for additional telephones.

J. J. Forrester is construction foreman on the new improvements and he will rush the work to completion. A new toll lead will also be constructed from here to Sweetwater just as soon as they can get to it.

Wholesale Business in Slaton Is Making Good

E. Bracken, an experienced wholesale man from Greenville, Texas, came in Saturday to take a permanent place in the Slaton Wholesale Grocer house. Mrs. Bracken came with him and they are planning to make this their home and enter into the social and religious life of the town. We are glad to welcome them.

The acquiring of this new man is only a natural result of the sturdy increase of our new wholesale business. Already with the co-operation of the Slaton merchants, the house is doing an enormous business.

In addition to the Slaton people, the merchants of Southland, Wilson and other communities are coming to Slaton for their goods. It is also expected that Tahoka, O'Donnell and the other towns near will do their trading here because of the convenience of shipping. In fact, every one thinks that the success of the Slaton Wholesale Grocer Company is assured.

Light and Ice Company Making Improvements

J. A. Elliott, local manager of the Slaton Light and Ice Co informs us that they are setting quite a few poles in the east and southeast part of town this week and have some 200 more poles enroute that will be set just as they arrive, taking the place of some of the smaller poles.

This company plan to extend their service wires to all parts of the city during the next few months.

S. W. Hutton, Southwestern Bible School Superintendent for Christian Sunday schools and Young People's work will be in Slaton for full day program with local Christian church, Sunday, August 31.

Mrs. Ferguson Has Big Lead Over Robertson

Breaking all Precedent in Elections, Texas Voters in Saturday Run-off Primary Nominate Woman as Candidate for Governor of State; by Large Vote.

DALLAS, August 23—With 455,867 votes tabulated at midnight, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson had 71,725 with the probability that she will have final majority of between eighty and ninety thousand. Total votes cast will probably be in the neighborhood of 700,000.

C. M. Cureton has decidedly defeated W. C. Wear for Chief Justice of Supreme Court. Mrs. Ferguson took the lead from the start but at times during early count was only a

In the Public Weighers race in the Slaton Precinct, Ike Madden defeated Barron by a majority of 61 votes. The Slaton box gave Madden 466 and Barron 556.

Quite a crowd of interested people stood before the board in front of the Slatonite office Saturday night and watched the returns of the election as they were posted on the board.

Though disappointing to some of the spectators, it was a pleasure to the Slatonite to supply this information and will always be the policy of this paper to give it to the public in Slaton first.

Since starting the semi-weekly edition of the Slatonite we have added quite a number of yearly and six month subscribers and the best part of this is that they are all within the city limits of Slaton.

If you want the news when it is news—get the Slatonite.

No advance in price to home subscribers—$2.00 per year.

FALL FESTIVAL PLANS COMPLETED; WILL BE PART OF COMMUNITY FAIR

The plans of the Civic and Culture Club for a flower festival have changed a little bit. At the call of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, they have about decided to let the festival become a part of the Community Fair, and in this way lend their undivided efforts to the success of the Fair.

If this plan is followed out, the ladies of the Civic and Culture Club will retain three of the most important items of their original program. These items will be featured it is thought, because of their decorative value.

The first part of their program will, of course, be the flower display. Under this head will come the contest of flowers in which every lady is urged to enter her favorite blossom. The floats of the flower festival will take a prominent part in the Community parade.

A second part of the Civic and Culture Club plans is to have a booth at which things in keeping with their part of the Fair will be on display and for sale.

The last, and by no means the least important part will be a program given the evening of the Fair. The plans are made for the evening entertainment but are not yet ready for publication. However, it is to be educational as well as interesting.

Further announcements will be given from time to time with regard to the work of the Civic and Culture Club in connection with the Community Fair and the Flower Festival.

Baptists Having Excellent Revival at Wilson

The revival meeting in progress at the Baptist church, Wilson, is full of life and interest. Rev. Darby, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Madisonville, Texas, is doing the preaching. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wilson, of Slaton, are conducting the music.

The meeting began last Sunday, and up until Friday of the past week, there had been eighteen additions to the church there. There were six conversions Thursday night following a master sermon on "Five Men who Left God Out." The speaker dwelt on the example of the man who planned to pull down his business and build greater ones, but the Lord said, "This night thy soul shall be required of thee." All of the sermons by Rev. Darby are inspiring and strong. He preaches the old-time gospel in simplicity and power.

The choir has been exceptionally good all the past week. Fine co-operation is being had by all the Wilson people. The song services are uplifting and inspiring.

The meeting will continue on into the coming week. Everybody is invited to attend these services, both day and night.

F. V. Gates Returns From Eastern Markets

Almost by the time F. V. Gates, manager and buyer for the Gates Dry Goods Co., arrived in town the latter part of the week his new fall line of dry goods that he purchased while in the market centers, began to arrive and have been arriving each day since that time until it seems that the building is going to be crowded to the utmost to care for them.

Every department will be complete within itself. The ladies ready-to-wear department is brim full of all the latest ideas in women's wearing apparel. The very latest word in foot wear for the ladies is attracting no little attention as is the coats and dresses. Piece goods were brought in abundance and are now on display, including many new patterns.

The mens department is chock full of new fall suits, hats, caps, shirts, shoes, etc.

Mr. Gates spent several days going from place to place looking up the new creations in dry goods and he states that he found them and is bringing them to the people of this immediate territory, with follow-up shipments every week in the new things.

Abe Kessel Leaves Today for Eastern Markets

Abe Kessel left this morning for the market centers of Dallas, Kansas City and St. Louis where he will buy a large stock of very latest fall merchandise for his store at this place. Abe says that he will have all the new things at his store this fall and if he don't find what he wants at the above named places he will keep on going until he does find just what he is looking for, and that his trade can expect a snappy line of merchandise upon his return. Mr. Kessel has a nice store on Texas Avenue and enjoys a nice business the year round.

Slaton Lads to Play in Tennis Tourney at Lubbock

Two of our local boys in the person of Wilson McKirahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McKirahan, and Bruce Pember, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Pember, will represent Slaton at the West Texas Tennis Tournament at Lubbock on August 27 and 28, in doubles.

Wilson was in the Interscholastic District meet this spring and was only defeated by a small margin, the team defeating him going to Austin for the finals. These two boys are the fastest tennis players on the South Plains and we have no fear but that they will bring home the "Bacon" next week. Wilson is only seventeen years of age but is a wizard on his feet when it comes to covering the ground on a tennis court.

Bruce is equally as good as Wilson and has been up against some of the best players in the western part of the state. These boys records will be watched very closely by Slaton tennis fans. They will draw places next Wednesday and no doubt when the time is announced that these boys will play a large delegation of our local people will journey to Lubbock to watch them strut their stuff.

LEM SONE GOES TO GLENROCK, TO COACH FOOTBALL TEAM

Lem Sone, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sone, will leave next week for Glenrock, Wyo., where he will teach Manual Training and coach the football team for the public school at that place.

Lem is a football letter man from Canyon Normal and made a wonderful record this past season in football and other out-door sports at the normal school. There is no doubt but what Mr. Sone will make good with the Glenrock school and we can expect to hear of some wonderful games of football under his leadership in the State of Wyoming.

FLOWER COLORINGS AND LACE FEATURE EXQUISITE LINGERIE

THE lure of dainty lingerie abates not. Where is she whose repose is not sweetened by the touch of a soft silken nightgown lace-edged and beribboned? Or whose waking hours are not filled with dreams of a hope-chest, which shall be the receptacle for delectable garments as lovely as the one shown in the picture?

It is fine detail which counts in the making of one's lingerie. A touch here and there bespeaks individual charm, such as, for instance, the little pocket on the silken gown of this illustration. Then, too, the lace-trimmed scallops at the hem line suggest a clever finish.

Ever so many attractive materials are available for lingerie sets just now. There is a very lovely small figured Jacquard crepe and a fabric highly commendable is what is called triple voile, the same in dainty shades, leading among which are palest green and the handsome peach tones. Crepe-back satin is also a favorite, and it launders to perfection.

Collectively one's lingerie represents a rainbow of enchanting flower shades. Even the lace trimmings are dyed to match in some instances. Novelty is registered in the trimming of narrow black lace edgings and insertions which adorn colorful garments.

Lingerie sets in flower-like colors have little hand-work bouquets done in natural colorings. Here is where home talent finds opportunity to create garments at minimum cost.

New in the lingerie class is the nightgown of glove silk. Models include the simple strap design with tiny venise lace edge, and round neck types which show insets of lace.

Lavish detail work which some of the handsomest garments boast stresses drawn threads with incrustations of net or lace.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLASS

The membership of the Young Peoples Class of the Methodist church is constantly on the increase. During this time of vacations there is a growth instead of a decrease.

The future of the class, at this rate of growth, is very bright. In the fall when every one is home from their vacations and the teachers have added their presence, extra room will have to be made as the class just about fills its allotted space.

Every member and visitor is urged to be present this morning. A business meeting will be a part of the program. Definite plans are to be made for another social event. The present idea is to have it Tuesday night.

You will remember what a fine time the crowd had at the Robinson ranch. You cannot afford to miss this.

Fashion Notes

A black crepe satin tunic dress had corn-colored chiffon set in its deeply V-neck, in an interesting draped arrangement which covered the throat. Ruffles of the chiffon fell over the hands and extended up the seam to the elbow.

Dresses opening up the front and disclosing a contrasting material from either bust or neckline to hem appear everywhere.

Purple and fuchsia tones are coming into prominence here for trimming in Fall dresses. Bois de rose (colors ranging from a pink blond to rust) were an important note at the Auteuil grand steeplechase.

Gold tissue is a material much in evidence of the evening gowns seen at the Paris Ritz.

Beaded satin dresses of vivid red or green, and some of white, were worn by spectators at the Grand Prix Pal, who were not in costume.

A new note in the combination of silks was struck in gowns worn at the Paris Ritz, which employ different colors for corsage and skirt. One with a deep crepe de chine skirt, flowered in lighter green, showed a corsage of pink mouse-line, also flowered.

A very short frock of brick-dust colored crepe was worn by a famous actress. Its pointed shoulder yoke and turnover collar and tie were interesting details.

Social Etiquette

Question: Do men and boys really object to the athletic girl? If not, why do they, as a rule, leave her severely alone?

No, men and boys like and admire an athletic girl as long as she remains within her own sphere and does not try to compete with the other sex. The average girl, however, upon going in for athletics neglects her feminine charms and allows her sports, instead of broadening her, coarsen her. Instead of remaining her simple and refined self, she assumes a masculine role.

Question: Should a girl keep company regularly with a young man about whom she knows absolutely nothing?—M.L.N.

No, but unless he has been introduced by trust-worthy friends, who have your interest at heart.

Question: Give me a list of subjects that it would be interesting to introduce for discussion with a young man caller?—J.M.

Politics, sports, dogs, horses, music, the professions. In fact, there is an endless number that may answer your purpose but if you really wish to interest the young man let him choose his own subject and you be the listener. Encourage him to lead in the conversation by an occasional question. By no means agree with him on every subject but do not be too positive with your opinions.

Question: A person who poses as a friend has warned me against the young man with whom I have been going. I have a great deal of faith in my friend and in the young man, too. Shall I ignore the warning or ask for explanation from the latter? Do neither. Ask your brother, or a real good boy friend to find if there is anything to what your friend tells you. He can handle it in a way to protect you and at the same time not hurt the feelings of the young man.

WHY GIRLS RENEW THEIR MAKE-UP IN PUBLIC

How often do we see someone criticize a girl for renewing her makeup in public. Why didn't she do all that at home?" they ask.

The answer is that of course she did. But probably she neglected to make up at home by the same kind of light that she is under now—and she finds that the the makeup is entirely wrong. There is a vast difference between the makeup needed when one is surrounded by shaded lights and that when one is under the relentless glare of electric chandeliers.

A conservative woman who wears rouge in the day time usually prefers a shade that tones so perfectly with her own color that, put on discreetly, it merely intensifies the little flush upon her cheek. If her skin is olive, her hair dark, she chooses a deep brunette tone like Ashes of Roses. If she is fair, a lighter, muted rosy shade gives her the perfect illusion of rosy color. However, in the evening both of these women may prefer an effect that's a bit more exotic. The warm, orangy color of Mandarin rouge gives the dark-haired woman a Spanish suggestion—an to the blond a piquant naughtiness of complexion.

But there is another matter that most of us forget about. Different costumes call for different makeup, so the final touches must be made after we are dressed. If you are wearing a jeune fille dress, for instance, you would not want heavily beaded eyelashes and dead white powder.

NOTICE FIDELIS MEMBERS

If you are a member of the Fidelis Class, make it a point to be there each Sunday. Be on time, bring your Bible and prepare a lesson. If you do not attend Sunday school anywhere, the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Sunday school gives you a cordial invitation. We have been having a good number each Sunday, but have been missing YOU.

Yours, this morning, today!

LADIES MISSIONARY SOCIETY

At 2:30 o'clock Monday, the Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church met in regular session. The meeting was opened by the singing of "Work for the night is coming."

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the roll called. At the close of the business session, Mrs. Silas Wilson took charge as the leader for the day. She called upon Mrs. Whitney for a report of the news of the Missionary fields. This was a splendid review and was very enlightening to the members upon the subject of Missions.

Mrs. W. H. Proctor gave a wonderful talk on the "Out look of prayer." She handled the subject very ably put a great deal of spirituality into the talk and by her force and conviction made plain to her audience the true meaning of prayer. In connection with Mrs. Proctor's talk Mrs. Silas Wilson read the scripture lesson of Isa XLIX, 5-13 and Rev. XXI, 1-4.

This was followed by a very beautiful prayer by Mrs. B. W. Dodson.

A very instructive and spiritual talk on "A new gospel track over the hills" was given by Mrs. Siler. She explained the new Missionary fields of the women's work and aroused an interest in this work among the ladies that they had not felt before.

The program was brought to a close by a very appropriate and beautiful piano solo by Mrs. Hahn.

Mr. Ross made the ladies a little talk on their part in the coming Community Fair and readily received their pledge of support.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Owen in study of women and missions Monday afternoon and had an interesting program by Mrs. Peavey and Mrs. Ross, with Mrs. Pitman as leader.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Peavey in Bible study. The lesson will be the first 25 Psalms. Mrs. A. L. Brannon will be the leader.

THE WEDNESDAY STUDY CLUB

The home of Mrs. Silas Wilson was the scene for the regular social meeting of the Wednesday Study Club, Wednesday afternoon.

The regular business meeting preceded the social hour. Minutes were read and approved. The reports of several committees were given. The committee on Year Books reported that the books had been turned over to the printers and would be ready for the Club by the next meeting.

The social hour was spent in playing the ever interesting game of "42" Each guest was supplied with a beautiful score card. The tables were marked with artistic hand painted table numbers.

Refreshments of brick ice cream and cake were very delicious. The color scheme of pink and white was very successfully carried out through the whole party and the refreshments were a part of the carefully devised color schemes served upon beautiful hand-made luncheon clothers and accompanied by dainty favors of little pink baskets filled with delicious pink and white mints, the refreshments were the crowning event of the afternoon.

This will always be remembered as one of the prettiest and most successful meetings of the Wednesday Study Club.

SLATONITE MOTORLOG COVERS WONDERFUL PLAINS FARMING SECTION.

Quite a few people living in Slaton and in this territory, possibly, would make quite a few auto trips over this country if they had the distance and the correct log of the roads and for this reason the Slatonite will give the logs, running time, etc., of several of the roads in this section of the South Plains each Sunday when arrangements can be made.

Sunday morning at ten o'clock, Harry Green of the Green Garage, who are Slaton dealers for the Star Car, at the wheel of a Star touring car, accompanied by Bruce Pember and a representative of the Slatonite force made a 117.3 mile drive, going to Brownfield via way of Lubbock and back via Tahoka, making the trip in four hours and twenty minutes, actual running time.

This was not a new car, but had only been driven 5,000 miles and had had no extra work done on it for the trip. We used Gulf gasoline—four gallons and one quart for the trip and a pint of Mobiloil. Had no trouble at all on the trip and the little Star hit on four all the way, and it was easy riding, too, especially on the rough stretch of rock road east of Brownfield and west of Tahoka, and take the sand, my how she did go after the sand beds without a chage in gears.

Next Sunday another trip will be made in another car in another direction and the car will be driven by a salesman for the Slaton agency handling the car used. Complete information of the trip will be given in the Slatonite of August 31.

Aside from some very wonderful crops, about the most interesting thing viewed by the travelers was the 3-K building at Brownfield. The oddity of the building will naturally attract the eye of the stranger in town and after a casual observation it is not necessary to ask what building it is for at the very top there are three letter K K K's about 18 inches high.

The brick in the building are white enamel face brick and the decorative part is in blue and red. Some of the panel work of the front of the building is done in long bars about two brick deep, squares and diamond shapes. The back ground of these are in blue and the inner rim of the panels are in red.

At first sight a stranger would take the building to be the property of the Santa Fe as it is more or less along the line of their architecture.

In the bottom of the building, which is in the center of the block on the west side of the square is a real up-to-date drug store.

Leaving Slaton at ten o'clock, we arrived in Brownfield at 12:15 and had lunch at the Hill Hotel, leaving there at 12:45 and arriving in Tahoka at 2:15 with the speedometer reading 90.3.

If you do not care to make this long drive today, follow the log to Ropes, which is 39.3 and then turn to your left at the main street and head for Slaton, and you will have a rip of about 61 miles and the roads are extra good, except for a little sand before arriving in Ropes. Some fine cotton back in that section.

CAR WHEELS SHOULD BE FARTHER APART AT TOP THAN AT THE BOTTOM

When a car is viewed from the front, it will be seen that the front wheels slant away from each other at the top; in other words, they are farther apart at the top than at the bottom. This is made necessary by the fact that otherwise the center of the wheel where it forms contact with the road would not coincide with the center of the king pin. The wheel bearing carried on the overhanging portion of the steering knuckle which is pivoted on the king pin located on the ends of the axle. This overhanging causes the wheels to describe an arc, or portion of a circle whenever they are revolved around the king pin. This has been found undesirable, as the wheels do not respond readily to a turn of the steering wheel, due to the circling path on which they must travel in making a turn. The wheels are cambered in order to overcome this condition, so that a line dropped through the center of the king pin would pass through near the center of the tire where it touches the road.—Automobile Digest.

MOTORISTS PLANNING LENGTHY TOURS SHOULD BE VACCINATED

Motorists planning extensive automobile tours are advised to have themselves vaccinated or revaccinated as a protection against delays through small pox quarantine in a special bulletin just sent to all motor clubs affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

This action on the part of A. A. A. is, in turn, a result of a request made by the Surgeon-General of the United States in a special communication to the big national motoring organizations.

"The increasing prevalence of small pox in the United States and its continuous spread from city to city and from state to state," he warns, "will, if not checked, but only augment the number of victims, but may bring about a condition which will seriously interfere with the movements of automobile tourists and other travelers."

"It is conceivable that this interference might be of a degree that would involve the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars through quarantine measures, a contingency which might easily be avoided provided our people can be induced to protect themselves by vaccination and revaccination."

CLEAR AIR SAVES WEAR IN MOTORS

Truck owners whose equipment has to make frequent journeys into mud, sand and gravel pits, and who as a result find their motors being ground and scraped into uselessness by the dust and dirt resulting, will learn with interest how the General Motors truck has solved the problem with an air cleaner.

All air drawn into the motor interior is screened and cleaned, so that no grit or dust can get inside the cylinders or to other bearings.

As a result the life of motors in gravel and sand, or used in open country where a sandy soil keeps the air filled with dust, has been more than doubled.

MANY CONGRATULATE VETERAN DE PALMA

Fifteen million cars in service and possibly several million more by the end of the year. What does this mean in service opportunities? It is a problem of considerable magnitude that requires careful consideration and one that must be solved in a big way, if success is desired. Contrary to the opinion of many, it cannot be solved with makeshift tools and equipment, inferior parts or workmanship.

And it is surprising that many shops fail to realize the necessity of proper equipment and facilities.

YOU SHOULD HAVE OWNER'S AND DRIVER'S LICENSE CARD

To avoid getting "pinched," a motorist should have his owner's and driver's license cards with him at all times when using the car. Both operator's and owner's license cards should be signed. Have the license tags bolted to the car and not wired on. They should be made secure and in a permanent position, that the bumper does not hide the view of any part of the numbers. See that the rear tag is at least twelve inches from the ground and that the rear light shines on every figure of the tag at night, so it can be plainly read in case of accident. Keep license tags clean at all times.

Don and Delmar Lavender transacted business in Plainview this week.

TWENTY MOTOR UNITS ARE NOW OPERATED

The Pennsylvania Railroad is now operating twenty motor truck units, doubling within a few months its truck service. The twenty units involve the use of about forty motor trucks in replacement of local freight trains which previously were operated to carry less than carload freight. Total mileage on the Pennsylvania System on which daily motor truck service is now in effect is 1,412, as compared with 602 miles early last spring.

HEAVIER OIL WILL IMPROVE OLD ENGINE

After an engine has seen reasonably long service so that the pistons do not fit as closely in the cylinders as they did at first it is advisable to use a heavier grade of oil in order to take up a little of the clearance.

USE CASTILE SOAP IN WASHING TOPS

Never clean the top of a car with gasoline, kerosene or similar liquids. Use castile soap and water. Rub suds vigorously all over the top and then rinse off with clear water.

SOME OF THE CAUSES OF SHORT CIRCUITS

Short circuits are very likely to be caused by carbon, fuel or water collecting on the points of the spark plugs or on the low surface of the insulation or by cracks in the insulation itself.

Park Site in Palo Duro Canyon Is Selected

The Texas highway park board has a plan which will mean five or six state parks of small size, scattered along the Palo Duro Canyon, and connected by a scenic drive, which will probably lead out of Amarillo, according to D. E. Colp, chairman of the board, who is in the city today.

The highway through the canyon will be built by convict labor. Local parties interested in the park plans, suggested that a highway be built up the canyon from a point about 18 miles due south of Washburn as far west as the Harding ranch.

Mr. Colp, accompanied by representatives of the Board of City Development, is making an inspection of the Harding Ranch today, with the view to taking a portion of the ranch as one of the state parks.

According to Mr. Colp, he already has the offer of a piece of the Harold ranch, which lies about 18 miles due south of Washburn, for one of the parks, the plan is to put about 25 miles of the scenic highway through this tract.

Theaters tracts in the canyon have not yet been selected. Mr. Colp is now looking over all the proposed park sites in the Panhandle, and eliminating all those which are not suitable. Later the entire park board, with the state highway commission and others, making a party of about 30 persons, will inspect the proposed sites. This party will be in Amarillo August 31.

This board will report back to the legislature at its next session, when final action will be taken. Mr. Colp will leave tonight for San Antonio. He will make several stops on the way.

BOAT CAPSIZES AND POST MAN LOSES HIS LIFE

Held helpless after becoming entangled in the heavy moss in the north end of Two Draw Lake in a boat in which three men were fishing capsized, Fred Donaldson, about 32 years old, a machinist in the Post-Tex Cotton Mills here was drowned about 1:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Earl Elkins, also of this city, narrowly escaped the same fate when he was dragged to the bank by witnesses of the tragedy after he had made his way to shallow water, but was unable to get on from exhaustion.

A man named Grissom from Crosbyton, was in the boat with Donaldson and Elkins when it capsized. He scrambled to land by the aid of Elkins, but was exhausted and powerless to assist his companions.

According to witnesses of the scene, who viewed the tragedy from a distance, Mr. Donaldson was casting a reel from the boat and became over-balanced. This capsized the small boat, and the three were thrown into the heavy moss, in which the victim became entangled.

Elkins, it is said, after assisting Grissom to the bank, made every effort to extricate Donaldson, but his efforts were unavailing, and he was almost thrown into the tangle. Realizing his predicament Elkins turned for the bank and barely made it out safely with his own life.

Mr. Donaldson had been a resident of Post for the past several years. He is survived by his wife.

THE LADIES AND THE COMMUNITY FAIR

Secretary J. J. Ross, of the Chamber of Commerce called a meeting of the various women's organizations of the town in the city hall on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. There were representatives of the various church societies, the Parent-Teacher organizations, the cultural and social clubs present.

The purpose of the meeting was to get the united effort of the women of Slaton to help put the Community Fair over. A splendid response was made by the ladies and through one club or the other, practically every woman in Slaton will be drawn into doing her part.

The plans were made at the meeting for the societies and clubs to have booths and stands at which they are liberty to choose what they will sell or display. They are also at liberty to decide in what way they are to use the net proceeds of their sales.

All loyal citizens of Slaton are urged to get in touch with some society to which they belong and find what will be their part in making the Community Fair a success. A great deal depends upon the ladies and with the united effort they have promised, the Fair is almost assured of a success.

This is a good position and we are proud that Miss Dorothy is able to claim such a responsible place. Arrangements have already been made for her board and she feels that she will be very pleasantly located.

The young people of Slaton will miss the ladies so much and it will be with regret that they see them go.

3,000 WITNESS FAWVERRITES; WERE DROWN LAST SUNDAY

Three thousand people attended the funeral services late Tuesday afternoon of Frank, Milton and Virginia Fawver, who were drowned at Silver Falls Lake, near Crosbyton, late Sunday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. R. E. L. Muncy of Floydada.

The Rev. Muncy is a life long friend of the Fawver family, and one of the oldest residents of the county. The Baptist church was packed to capacity three hours before the services began, and there were more than twice as many people on the outside as there were inside the building.

It took an hour and a half for the large crowd to pass the three caskets. More than 500 cars were in the procession when it left the Baptist church at a late hour for the cemetery north of town. Burial of the three victims was not completed until after dark Tuesday evening.

Funeral services for Miss Leona Luttrall, another of the five victims of the tragedy, was conducted at the home of her parents, south of Floydada, Tuesday morning and interment made in the Lakeview cemetery in the south part of Floyd county. The Rev. G. W. Tubbs conducted the services, and over 1,000 people attended.

The body of Ernest Gregg, the fifth victim of the accident was shipped to Dublin Tuesday for interment. The body was accompanied by Miss Esther Hattley, a sister of the deceased.

Alton Young is visiting in Cross Plains this week.

SLATON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By C. L. Sone

The time of school work is approaching rapidly and every body is asking questions. We are glad to answer all we can.

We are getting matters arranged in every way. Next week's papers will contain some of the details in which the pupils are interested.

We also hope to announce in full the faculty for all the schools. Several resignations have been received within the last few days and we are filling them as rapidly as possible.

We have been fortunate in securing at this date such a fine line of teachers from which to select. Mrs. Eldridge has resigned from the Spanish department and Miss Boone from the Mathematics.

We regret very much to lose these splendid teachers from our school. We feel sure that they will be missed by the pupils. We are going to be able to fill their places with experienced degree teachers.

Miss Shipman has also resigned to accept a place at Chillicothe, Texas. The place will be filled by an experienced teacher.

Music, Expression and Art

The fine art teachers have asked that the following be placed in the school notes:

In order that pupils in the fine arts may get credit for the work done here when entering other institutions of learning. The fine arts teachers of Slaton schools have added to their courses, one hour class lessons each adopted a standard rate of tuition.

In case of protracted illness, lessons will be made up or money refunded.

No lesson will be made up during examination or on holidays unless teacher is previously notified.

For credit, pupils in music and expression must practice 7½ hours per week.

Practice cards must be signed by parents each week. All art students must spend 40 minutes each day in studio. A strict graded system will be carried out and a permanent record kept, so that pupils will receive proper credit on going to other schools.

Football

Coach Miller will be on the ground September first to begin work-outs with the boys. He has been very closely occupied in college this summer and must take a few days of rest at home before taking up the strenuous work of training.

A great team will grace the Slaton gridiron this year and when the whistle blows for training we shall see as fine a bunch of high school students offering for registration as may be found anywhere.

We are proud of the boys and Slaton is proud of them, too. Each issue we would like to give their names but we can say that they are rearing to go and will be some team.

Mr. Miller has already scheduled almost enough games. The citizens and local fans will be glad to know that most of them are to be played at home where we can all see our lads in action. Plainview, Tulla, Snyder, will be here October 10, 17 and 24 respectively.

YOUNG LADIES MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS SESSION

The Young ladies met in regular session at the home of Mrs. Fred Tudor Thursday afternoon. A number of important business questions were discussed.

Misses Marion McHugh, Audrey Marriott and Byrl Aben gave an interesting report of the trip to Crosbyton. This caused a great deal of laughter and the girls immediately asked for another party to be organized.

A Missionary lesson dealing with the condition in South America and Japan followed the business.

Mrs. Tudor served delicious ice cream and cake and the girls expressed their appreciation by saying that their most pleasant evenings are spent with her.

The Society will meet with Miss Frances Adams and Margaret Smith at the Adams home. This will be the regular monthly social meeting. All members are urged to come and bring your visitors.

B. B. Jones and family, who have been on a ten day visit with relatives in Knox county have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Preston and children of Stamford, were the guests of C. I. Preston and family last week.

These are strong teams and will try the mettle of the Slaton boys. But we are going to play the game with spirit and good sportsmanship.

The new suits are here now and our teams will be thoroughly equipped so that they will not be handicapped when they meet their opponents.

The girls will have a special director of Athletics and physical training. They will also have a dean for girls selected from the faculty.

English Cottage Type of Home Presents Very Pleasing Picture

First Floor Plan.

Second Floor Plan.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD
 Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1822 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.
 Acquired knowledge of generations has contributed to form the English cottage type of house and this development of years finds its expression in the beauty of the exterior and in the livable qualities of the interior.
 The home illustrated here presents a very pleasing picture with its combination of brick, stucco and timber. The arched doorway of the vestibule, with its contrasting keystone set in the arch of brick, helps to make a pleasant panel of the vestibule with its brick front and individual gable. The terrace will prove to be comfortable and useful.
 The arrangement of the seven major rooms is such that they will render a maximum amount of service without demanding an extravagant amount of housekeeping.

The hall, which opens from the vestibule, houses the stairway to the second floor. Provision is made in this room for a cloak closet, which should help the housekeeper in her constant warfare to keep cloaks, wraps and hats from being strewn about the home. The living room, with the cheerful fireplace at one end, is exceptionally well lighted, and opening directly off this room is the dining room. The recessed terrace, with its doors from both the dining room and the kitchen, will provide a setting for many summer evening meals. The kitchen is well lighted and arranged.
 The two bedrooms on the first floor, with the accompanying bath, are reached through a small hall off the dining room. Both are of adequate size and are well supplied with closets. An extra closet in the hall provides a storage space for linens.
 The two bedrooms on the second floor are of an interesting shape and large enough to insure the comfort of their occupants. The upper stair hall has two closets. The bath on this floor is separated by the width of the hall from the bedrooms and is accessible from both.

THE SINS COMMITTED IN THE NAME OF ADVERTISING

"Take $5 worth and charge it to advertising."
 May be it was space on a wall card back of a beauty folder promoted envelope with a dozen merchants to be represented on the back, a donation to get a tightwire walker, a contribution to a hamburger party or anyone of a hundred other things that arise in the course of a year's business that don't quite fit under any other regular heading in the ledger—so "charge it to advertising."

 Then at the end of the year totals are taken and "I'm spending too much money for advertising—I have simply got to cut down this year" and January and February are usually pretty slow advertising months for the newspapers until the merchant begins to feel the loss of business from lack of advertising and opens up again.
 There are a number of recognized dependable advertising mediums available to business men, merchants and worth-while enterprises. Newspapers, show windows, well lighted

WHEN A HOUSE IS A REAL HOME

A house is permanent enough to qualify as a "home" when it belongs to the family whose members live in it. But when is it sufficiently worthy to be considered a home? Better Homes in America answers, in effect at least, that a home is worthy when it is of such a type that its possession gives satisfaction and contentment to every member of the family circle. It must be conveniently arranged, a house in which there are contrivances for reducing household drudgery to its minimum, so that time is left for the more important work of home-making.

A well-arranged kitchen leaves a mother leisure to cultivate companionship with her children. A comfortably and harmoniously furnished living-room is a place in which spirits as well as bodies may be at ease. A home pervaded by dignity and simplicity goes a long way toward producing lives permeated by the same qualities.

The worthy home need not have overstuffed chairs and imported rugs, but it will have good books and music and the parents will devote time to play with their children, since these things are of the spirit and a worthy home ministers first of all to the spirit. High ideals are more essential than comfort or efficiency in a home.

When is a house attractive enough to be a home? It is when it possesses the priceless attributes of appropriateness and harmony and beauty, no matter how modest its furnishings and decorations may be. All the furniture in a home may come under the thousand-dollar mark, and yet it may have these invaluable qualities. Another house may be furnished with real antiques and expensive tapestries and priceless pictures and yet come nearer to being a museum than a home.

Care should be taken in choosing colors in the furnishings and decorations. Above all, don't be a slave to mandates of fickle fashion, which is the greatest detriment to individuality and personality in the modern home. It is probably not too much to say that the wrong colors can keep a house from being a real home.

Pictures are another important matter. If parents would only realize their unconscious influence there would be fewer of the meaningless, horrid things that make nightmares of so many homes. As for ornaments, it should be remembered that they decrease in value as they increase in number. In general, it may be held that a home is attractive only when it possesses thorough harmony in its inner as well as its outer aspects.

The greatest advances made in architecture aside from the cities' skyscrapers have been in the construction of homes—houses so splendidly made, so beautiful and homey looking that, passed on from generation to generation, they will at all times be a valuable part of our present and national possession.

Take a straight and honest look at your abode right now and make up your mind whether it is a "home" or a "house." If it is only the latter, and does not qualify as a "home" in every sense of the word, then you have very probably "sold your birthright for a mess of pottage," for "the sweetest word which men have learned in the pastures of the wilderness is 'fold.'" signs, direct-by-mail folders, circulars etc.—are some of the recognized forms of advertising that have been found by actual test to be profitable. And the cost of these, in proportion to the results obtained when intelligently employed, is the lowest of any form of advertising. And the cost is not added to the commodity to be sold and passed on to the consumer, but the increased volume of business made possible through an intelligent, consistent advertising program has actually been found to make a reduction in the price charged for the article possible.

Messrs. Bud Graham, Thos. Christman, of Abilene, Whit and Dick Armstrong, of Hawley, were here Saturday prospecting and calling on old friends.

"It pays to Advertise"—there is no doubt of the statement—but only when the money spent is for real, recognized advertising and not for every little skin game, fly-by-night advertising scheme, so-called, that is presented. Set aside from 2 to 8 per cent of the gross income of your business to be spent in carefully planned, recognized advertising year in and year out and the records show that your chance for success as a merchant and a business man are 83 per cent against 17 per cent as a non-advertiser.—The Plains Journal.

BEAD JEWELRY MUCH IN VOGUE FOR WEAR DURING FALL SEASON

Bead jewelry was never more in vogue than for the autumn of 1924. In their colors these bead gems will echo the trimming color of the gown to repeat the motif shown in the hat, scarf or cape.

These bead jewels combine best with the more ornamental sport costumes, the less formal evening gowns and are particularly chic with the tailleur. The colors most favored for wear on the evening are coral, smoked amber, lapis, jade and black. They may also be mounted in matching sets of earrings, finger rings and bracelets as well as in the short choke necklaces and long strands.

Both gems and gem stones are used for the new jewelry groupings after the manner of setting pearls. One of these new groups is happily set in an onyx charm, which has oblong onyx beads set with small diamonds. Large round beads are strung between these. But many other combinations, both in the opaque and the transparent gem stones and in gems and pearls are seen this season among the latest parures. Sometimes the settings of these large beads are no more than bead chains, but more often the large gems are separated by smaller beads or chain links.

Complete jewelry parures are made up in this manner, but separate pieces may be chosen to wear with quite distinct jewelry designs. The choker necklace was the first jewel to adopt this bead mounting. But now there are earrings, bracelets, brooches, finger rings and long strands. In this way complete sets of matching bead gems may be had.

The gem stones are not the only jewels used for this exquisite bead jewelry for there are being offered large polished emeralds combined with very small diamonds. Another very lovely set was fashioned of sapphires mounted with extremely small carved platinum links. Pearls combined with onyx is being offered in strikingly lovely pieces as are pearls combined with emeralds, sapphires, rubies and topazes.

These beads, whether gems or gem stones, may be finished in any one of four ways. They may be faced over their entire surfaces, cut in cubes, polished or hand-carved in a decorative design.

The stones for facing include all of the transparent stones. They are being very happily combined with smaller beads and long or short carved platinum or gold links.

Costumes for morning, afternoon or evening, as well as the ones designed for street wear are not complete until milady has selected for each, harmonizing sets of bead jewelry. A parure being shown for wear with white georgette dinner dress was of beads of faceted onyx mounted with small diamonds. Others suited to every hour of the feminine day are being shown in glistening profusion and variety.

SUB DEBS GETTING WARD-ROBES IN SHAPE

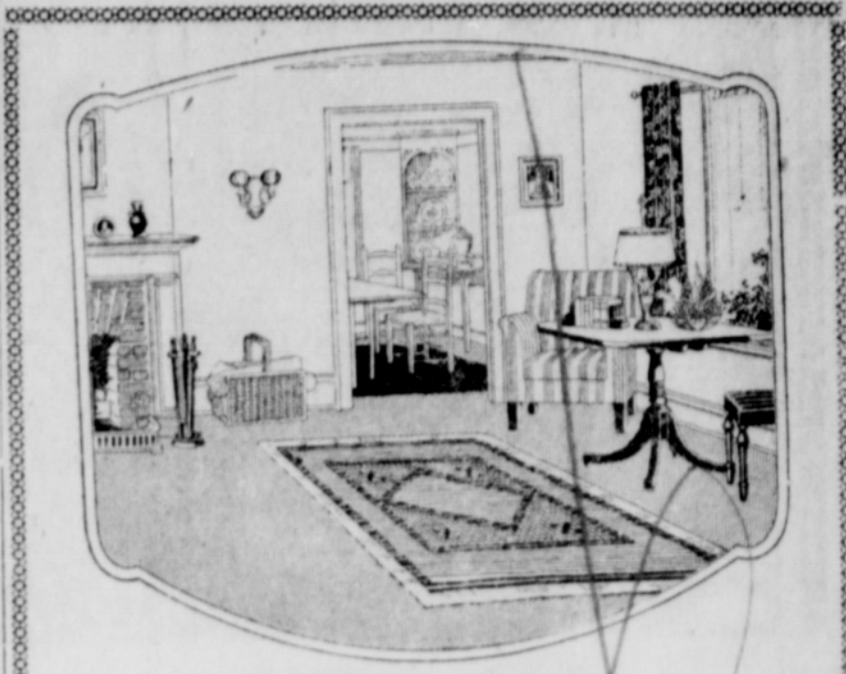

In this month, the laziest on the calendar, the subject of fashions is presumed not to enter the social scheme of life. But that presumption is not true. There is a hectic season ahead and the debs and sub-debs must know what "is" and what "isn't" Dame Fashion's edict.

The fair ones resolutely plan to have a complete rest until the time comes to prepare for the Fall season, and have sought playgrounds where the thought of dress is secondary. But there are no playgrounds far enough away to be out of reach of the whispers and murmurs that emanate from Paris at this time of year foretelling style changes.

In spite of the customary August lethargy, one must attend to one's wardrobe. By this time the frilly frocks are frayed and shabby and need pointing up here and there, and the importance of absorbing impressions of coming styles is obvious. Radical innovations have come so fast however, that few changes, no matter how extreme, arouse much excitement. Yet it is essential that one be correctly informed.

POOR DRIVERS ARE BLAMED FOR DEATHS

The usual cause of an old engine overheating more easily than a new model is the combination of poor compression, which leads to excessive carbon deposit and pre-ignition, and the lime and rust, which gather within the water jacket surrounding the cylinders and in the radiator, preventing proper cooling.

Simple and Efficient Type of Hog House and Farrowing Pen

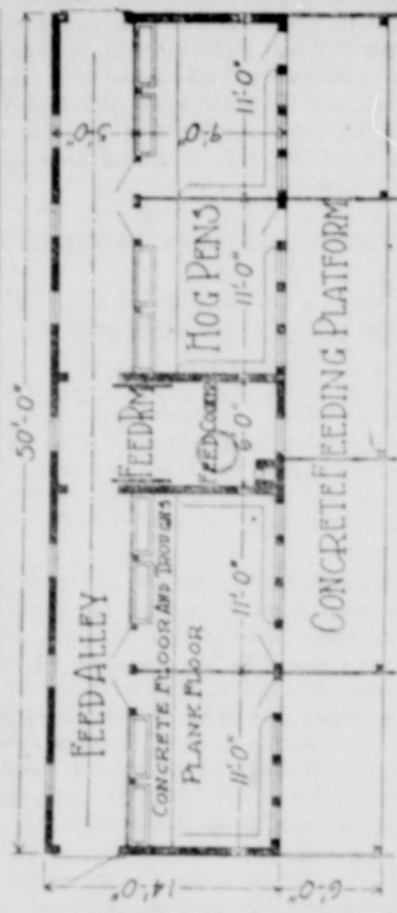

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

Profit in raising hogs, it is well known, is in no small degree dependent upon housing the animals properly. Yet this often is one of the most neglected units of the buildings which form the improvements on a farm.

There is illustrated here a simple type of hog house and farrowing pen. It is a plain, shed-roof building, 14 feet wide and 50 feet long. It contains four large farrowing pens and a feed room in the center. As will be seen in the floor plan, the feeding alley extends along the back walls with the pen to the front.

Each pen has an opening to the feeding floor and to the fenced-in hog lots. The building is on a concrete foundation and has a concrete floor which extends outside as a feeding floor. The building extends east and west and faces north and south. The many windows provide the pens with sunshine and ventilation.

Dance Announces 4 Indian Maids to be Marriageable

El Paso, Aug. 18.—Devil Dances are in progress at Cedar Creek, 16 miles west of Fort Apache, Arizona, as a noice to the world that four Indian maidens have reached marriageable age. Just what the idea of this custom is, must be left to the imagination for the Indians offer no explanation.

The dance began Thursday and will last through Saturday under the direction of Wallace Althah R-14. Wallace carries the government number given each Apache, in addition to a name. In the Devil dances the four Indian maidens are the principal figures. Other dancers wear the large headdress and special costumes which the Apaches wear for these special functions.

LOMAX WILL ATTEND OLD-TIME COW-PUNCHERS REUNION

When the old-time cow-punchers of the Panhandle meet on August 28, at Pala Duro canyon, near the city of Canyon, they will have as their guest Dr. John A. Lomax, known throughout the nation as a collector of cowboy songs and stories. Word that Lomax will attend has been received by Judge L. Gough of Amarillo, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Every cowboy who came to the Plains before 1890 is invited to this reunion, and bring their families. It was originally organized by ex-cowboys of the T-Anchor outfit, but has been extended to include all the old-timers.

The reunion will be held on the Palo Duro, about a mile north of Canyon, and the program will be a re-enactment of the old range life including everything from chuck wagon to camp fire. Stories, speeches, songs and yells will recall the departed days.

L. D. Smith went to Seagraves last week and purchased a half section of that fine land. His son, Thomas, will move on the place at once and L. D. will take his belongings and family the first of the year.

EXERCISE BRINGS BEAUTY TO MOST WOMEN

Any woman can be beautiful. That may seem a broad statement, but it is nevertheless true. Beauty can not be defined as a mere perfection of features. Real beauty comes from the perfect development of the body given to the normal person. Without health there is little beauty, for all of the outward signs of beauty depend upon health. Where there is health the eyes are bright, the hair is glossy, the skin is clear and smooth and there is evident the graceful posture without which there can not be true health. A woman may have lovely hair, expressive eyes and perfect features. But if her neck is scrawny, if her shoulders are stooped and if she is hollow-chested, she does not deserve to be termed beautiful. Certain prescribed exercises; if taken regularly for a sufficient length of time, in conjunction with proper rest and good food, will bring the beauty of form which is more enviable by far than the gift of naturally perfect features, because it is the most valuable asset in life.

Large Whiskey Still Captured Near Roby

Roby, Texas, Aug. 18.—Four State Rangers, assisted by W. R. Moore, constable precinct one after an all night vigil succeeded in rounding up a large still in the north part of the county Friday morning. They found over one hundred quarts of whiskey most of which was first run stuff, but quite a bit of it was "finished goods," and something over five hundred gallons of mash, with several dozen fruit jars, and two stills of large capacity. One of the stills was found in a house and had never been used.

After destroying the mash and containers they brought the evidence, both of the stills and one man to town. The Rangers destroyed a part of the whiskey and its container here this morning and put quite a bit of it away here in the jail.

VALVE STEM OILING HINDERS EFFICIENCY

As a rule the oiling of valve stems is not advisable for the reason that the heat of the metal and the close adjustment of the stem and guide causes the oil to become gummy and eventually to hinder the movement of the valve.

Motor Ship Makes Maiden Voyage

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 12.—With 12,000 tons of coal beneath her hatches for delivery here the Diesel equipped motor ship Benson Ford, the first iron ore carrier of the Ford fleet berthed here at 7:00 a. m. today. Captain Daniel reported an excellent trip while chief engineer Walter M. Kitchin declared the performance of the 3,000 horse power Sun-Dexford Diesel engine was satisfactory, no trouble of any kind being experienced. To effect minor adjustments to the steering equipment the anchor was dropped outside of Port Huron for a few hours. These adjustments, although anticipated, could not be made until the boat had been tested under load and actual running conditions.

The coal she carries was taken on board at Toledo, Ohio and came from the Ford collieries in Kentucky. On the return trip she will carry iron ore for the Rouge Plant from Ford mines in upper Michigan. On the way to Toledo to pick up her first cargo the big freighter was inspected by Mr. Ford and a number of company officials, the flagship Sialia escorting her part of the way.

The Benson Ford was built at the Great Lakes Engineering Works, Ecorse, Mich. She is 612 feet long with 65 foot beam and a draft of 21 feet, and when she swung out from her berth at Ecorse into Detroit river channel the entire absence of smoke from her stack made her conspicuous among the shipping craft. However, a stack on a Diesel motor ship is not built for smoke but instead to house exhaust silencers for great internal combustions.

Among other unusual features in equipment the latest addition to the Ford fleet carries the first radio compass ever used on the Great Lakes. On Lake Erie during the run from Ecorse to Toledo music from broadcasting stations in Detroit and Cleveland served to determine the boat's exact position. This innovation in modern navigation practically eliminates fog hazard—the bane of shipping since water transportation began.

United States Shipping Board is interested in Diesel motor equipment and had a representative accompany the Benson Ford on the run from Ecorse to Toledo.
