

THE SLATON SLATONITE BIG SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN GROWS IN INTEREST

SEVEN CONTESTANTS IN THE RACE FOR THE FORD COUPE AND CASH PRIZES

| NAME                 | ADDRESS | VOTES  |
|----------------------|---------|--------|
| Miss Melva Bourland, | Slaton  | 22,000 |
| Mrs. Jack Calloway,  | Slaton  | 20,000 |
| Mrs. G. M. Ayres,    | Slaton  | 17,000 |
| Mrs. Ivey Moore,     | Slaton  | 14,000 |
| Miss Ruth Clim       | Slaton  | 12,000 |

| Miss Viola Guy       | Wilson  | 12,000 |

Saturday night, July 4th, sees the close of The Slatonite's most important period of the big subscription campaign. Candidates should exert every effort to get in every possible subscription before the close of the first period.

Gritting their teeth with absolute determination, the contestants in The Slatonite's "Everybody Win" grand prize campaign are going at top speed to capture the leadership of the coveted prize.

Each candidate is striving now to outdistance her rivals and to accumulate a sufficient number of votes to be the undisputed leader of the race for the Cash Prizes. The competition is growing more keen as the final hours of the big vote period draws nearer. No stone is being left unturned by the candidates who are planning to get hold of every possible subscription before 7 o'clock Saturday night, July 4, the fatal hour.

No Bluffs Tolerated
No "bluffs" will be tolerated. The election is and will be conducted in a fair, square and just manner to everyone, and those who participate must conduct their own races in exactly the same manner.

Count for More Now
Candidates eventually will realize that work now will produce subscriptions which count for more. A subscription now is worth several times the votes it will be worth when the campaign closes. A lead secured now will be harder and harder to overcome as the time for the ending of the campaign nears.

This certainly ought to spur candidates to action. The hardest part of all is getting started. Bear in mind that friends of a candidate will be willing to help once they know the candidate means business. If you show, through your votes and through your efforts, that you are in to win, your friends will rally to you. But if you appear to be indifferent they will naturally help someone who seems anxious to advance. This is just natural. It is human nature.

Can you use cash? Let's go! Let's realize that opportunity is here today. Let's go in and win. Are you "electioneering"? What are you doing now, honestly? Have you any ambition? Are you willing to go through this campaign with the mute evidence that you can't "carry on"? Are you so well "fixed" that you can't use money?

Even in these days of financial prosperity there ought to be many who could use money, who should welcome an opportunity to increase their income. Well, if you can use it, why don't you get it? It's here for you. You can have it. In a few short weeks the opportunity will be gone. Then maybe you will see the light. Let's be up and doing, working for our own interests, enhancing the golden lining to our purse.

Custer Finally Gets Very Thrilling Story

"The Code of the Wilderness," which was booked for the Custer theatre on the 14th and 15th of June, but for which Mr. Custer was compelled to substitute on account of having his dates cancelled from headquarters, has finally been secured, positively, and will be shown next Monday and Tuesday, June 29th and 30th. This is gratifying news for the many movie fans who have been looking forward to an opportunity of seeing this much heard of feature.

A. A. Suits, wife and son, of Lockney, spent Saturday night and Sunday in Slaton, the guests of his sister, Mrs. J. D. Norris, and family.

Big Revival Will Begin in Tent Next Sunday

Evangelist Jimmie Smith and singer, Rex J. Moon, will begin the big tent meeting next Sunday morning.

The Presbyterians and Methodists are united in this gospel crusade, but everybody is invited to help. Let's go! for a big revival in Slaton.

J. A. OWEN,
B. W. DODSON, Pastors.

REX MOON, singer for the Big Tent Gospel Crusade to start in Slaton June 28th.

Rev. J. A. Owen Resigns Pastorate

Last Sunday evening after the services at the Presbyterian church Rev. J. A. Owen surprised the members of his congregation by offering his resignation as pastor of the church. The resignation to take effect August 1.

The resignation of this young minister, who has been here nearly two years, was accepted with regret. During his residence here Mr. Owen has made himself very popular not only with the members of his church but with the citizenship of Slaton generally, all of whom will regret losing this young minister and his family. They will go from here to Albany, Texas, where Mr. Owen was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church.

New Members Received at Last Rotary Meeting

At the regular weekly meeting and luncheon of the Slaton Rotary club, held last Friday in the basement of the Methodist church, three additional members were accepted into the club as follows: Walter Olive, cashier of the Slaton State bank; Sam Ball, dentist, and Jeff Custer, proprietor of the Custer theatre.

In the absence of President Harry McKeehan, who was in attendance on the National Rotary meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, and Vice President Floyd Rector, Secretary Sam Stages presided. Ladies of the Presbyterian church served the luncheon, which was very much enjoyed by all present.

Visitors at this meeting were Revs. F. G. Calloway and Jno. P. Hardesty. Rev. Hardesty delivered a very interesting address.

First Christian Church Calls Minister

Rev. L. Farris Powell, who has been serving under the Texas Christian Missionary society as pastor-evangelist at A. & M. College, College Station, Texas, for some time, has accepted a call to become minister of the First Christian church of Slaton and plans to reach the field by July 1st.

Rev. Powell comes well commended by all who know him. He has done a most excellent work at College Station among the young men there and in his evangelistic work in towns near College Station. He came to Texas from Oregon, where his work was very successful. He is a man of experience, training, much native ability, deep consecration and broad vision.

Mrs. Powell is a musician of training, talent, experience and fine pleasing personality and will be a great help to her husband and will add much to the life not only of the church but the community.

The First Christian church is not yet two years of age and this marks a new period in its development, with near 100 resident members and near that number in Sunday school, with this fine couple to lead them great things may be anticipated of this young church. The church has been meeting in the city hall for several months and will continue to meet there. Plans are under way to erect a minister's home at once and soon begin work on a modern church home that will meet the needs of the congregation and be a credit to the community.

District Evangelist Jasper Bogue has been looking after the work of the congregation in the past, serving only until a full-time minister could be secured. He will continue to reside in Slaton and continue his district work from here as in the past. It is expected that the Christian church will go forward in mighty strides now with this good family to lead them. The Slatonite congratulates this young congregation on this forward step.

Baptist Pastor Closes Fourth Year Here

Next Sunday closes the fourth year of the pastorate of Rev. Jno. P. Hardesty, pastor of the local Baptist church. At the morning hour Sunday, services at the church will be in keeping with this anniversary. Members and others are urged to be present for this service.

Since the coming of Rev. Hardesty to the local pastorate the church has grown and prospered in an almost unbelievable way. Present resident membership is almost six hundred, about twice the number the church had four years ago. Sunday school and young people's work have grown enormously in that time, and the present church building is a vast improvement over the small frame building in which the church was worshiping when Rev. Hardesty began his work here four years ago.

In beginning the fifth year with the church, Rev. Hardesty says he was never happier in any pastorate elsewhere. While he has had much difficult work to perform, he says that is to be expected in any church, and he rather enjoys it anyway. He expresses himself as feeling that the Lord has greatly blessed the work during these four years, and is anxious to see the same growth and forward strides be taken in the future.

Church officials say that the church affairs in general were never better with the local situation than at the present time.

The many friends of Rev. Hardesty and his fine family will be delighted to know that it is his present intention to remain here at his post of duty. He says he sees no reason for changing his location, and expects to continue in this pastorate, hoping to be of ever increasing value to the church and community.

Robert and Frederick Ayres of Lockney were here the first of the week on a visit with their brother, G. M. Ayres, and wife, of the Jones Dry Goods.

LOCAL MERCHANTS IN BIG PROGRESS DRIVE

Slaton's business and professional interests, literally speaking, are "up in arms!"

They're out to set things booming around this town. To give it a "charged" atmosphere. To make everything hum. And to get you citizens up on your toes in boosting Slaton into its rightful position on the map as a great community. To gain those ends, they have pledged their last dollar, if need be!

Yes, folks, you're about to see the start of the most stirring campaign in Slaton's history. Not a political pow-wow. Nor a movement, out of which anybody will garner a single copper. But—a real, honest-to-goodness drive to transform Slaton into a live community of unchecked progress and prosperity with a future whose horizon shall know no clouds!

Need Your Aid

A noble and unselfish cause, indeed. However, our local business people alone cannot achieve its ultimate goal. Eager though they are and willing to do more than their share, they need your aid—Your cooperation! Your active and material assistance in cultivating that true Community Spirit which alone can remove all obstacles that may find their way into the path of our fair town's progressiveness and development.

We must present a "solid front" in facing the problems of the future here. There must be a better understanding, a better working plan, a more neighborly spirit between the merchants and you citizens. After all, their interests are your interests, their welfare your welfare. By helping them you're helping yourself. And when we all put our shoulders to the same wheel, there's only one town that's going to benefit. That's Slaton, and with it, you people in it.

Read Opening Message:

In launching this drive, our merchants today present their side of the civic cooperation problem. How and where they stand in furthering this most worthy campaign and what they expect of you in helping them make Slaton a better and greater community. You'll find their opening message elsewhere in this issue. Turn to it now!

It's a message forcefully written, ringing with true sincerity of purpose and one which will inspire in you a new friendliness for those who serve and aim to please you. It will convince you that you and the local business interests have much in common. They have done much toward building up this great and promising community of ours of which we all are proud. And quite often they did it by putting loyalty to you above what might have been their personal gain.

Yet, all they ask in return is your cooperation. And you can give it by patronizing them for your every need. For, when they profit—Slaton profits. Bigger Business means Greater Prosperity for all!

And, whatever you do, don't miss any of these educational talks of our local merchants. The hexagon will appear in this paper on July 16.

Epidemic Does Not Halt Work on Film

David Smith Unit Makes Western Drama With Animals

Director David Smith found himself up against great difficulties in making "The Code of the Wilderness," which will be shown at Custer theatre on Monday and Tuesday, June 29 and 30. The picture had been cast with Alice Calhoun, John Bowers, Alan Hale, Otis Harlan, Charlotte Merriam and Kitty Bradbury; locations selected and a large amount of livestock for the big sequences on the cattle ranges rented when an epidemic of hoof and mouth disease put a quarantine on the movement of livestock in California and forced many producers to abandon Western productions until the ban was lifted.

When Director Smith starts a thing he usually sees it through and in this case his grit, tact, strategy and knowledge of the quarantine laws made it possible for him to complete the picture although he had to duplicate a ranch in the studio lot and go to much other trouble and expense, which in normal times would have been unnecessary.

Engineering Company Makes Estimate on Cost of Paving Slaton's Streets

The Elrod Engineering company of Dallas has written the following in regard to the paving campaign which is about to be inaugurated in Slaton, and which is self explanatory:

Sweetwater, Texas, June 24, 1925.

Hon. S. F. King, Mayor, Slaton, Texas, Dear Sir:—In accordance with our discussion of your proposed street paving program we are glad to furnish you the following estimates of costs. These estimates are based on figures compiled from your city maps and from a visual inspection of the proposed paving area itself and on estimated costs of construction. We feel sure that these estimates represent maximum costs, for conditions as stated, but we do not guarantee such for it is impossible to tell in advance what materials will cost.

Considering the following streets and portions, with conditions as stated below:

The Public Square—Twelve foot sidewalk along business property, line around city property set out from property line approximately 18.57 ft. with a 38-foot strip flaved on either side with a curbed 30-foot park on four side;

Eight Blocks—Each block 300 feet long with intersection—12-foot sidewalks on each side with 56-foot pavement in center.

Texas Avenue—One block paved full width with 12-foot sidewalk on each side and 76 feet paved in center;

Texas Avenue—Two and one-half blocks with 12-foot sidewalk on each side, 25-foot strip paved on each side with curbed 26-foot park in center; and

Panhandle Avenue—Two blocks paved full width with 12-foot sidewalks on each side with 56-foot pavement in center;

With the city paying for all the costs of intersections, one-fourth the balance and for the city's property in the center of the public square, the estimated costs are as follows:

Estimated cost to city for intersections and one-fourth ..... $94,598.00
Estimated cost to city for city property on square ..... 45,883.00

Total estimated construction costs to city ..... $140,481.00
Estimated cost to property owners ..... 97,105.00

Total estimated construction costs ..... $237,586.00
Add 5% for engineering, etc. .... 10,459.50

Total estimated costs ..... $248,045.50
Total estimated costs to city, including construction and engineering costs: $140,481.00 plus $10,459.50—$150,940.50. You will notice that this last figure is less than the one given you by the writer when in Slaton for at that time the decrease in cost, due to parking the public square, was estimated, and not figured closely.

In case the city sees fit to undertake a paving program on the streets as herein outlined, paying the proportionate part of the costs as figured herein, we would recommend that a bond election be called for $125,000 since this would surely be ample for all the requirements, even if some changes were made in design, width of paved portions, parkways, etc.

Now, in case the city is interested in knowing what the estimated costs would be, with the city paying on a different basis, we would be very glad to submit these figures to you, without any obligations on the part of the city.

The property owners are usually interested in the cost to them and for your information we are furnishing the following estimated costs per front foot of property. These costs are based on the system of paving and parking as previously outlined:

The Public Square—Cost per front foot, including curb ..... $11.85
300 ft. Blocks—Leading off public square at right angles, cost per front foot, including curb ..... 8.35
Texas Ave.—Paved full width—cost per front foot, including curb ..... 11.15
Texas Ave.—26-ft. park in center—cost per front foot, including curb ..... 8.42
Panhandle Ave.—Paved full width—cost per front foot, including curb ..... 8.35

Trusting that these figures will be of some service to you and assuring you of our willingness to serve you in any way possible, we remain, Very truly yours,
ELROD ENGINEERING CO.
By Glen R. Blackburn.

Ample arrangements will be completed before time for the meeting so that every opportunity may be had for a great revival. Keep the date in mind. Arrange to be here during that time. ### Why So Many Phone Girls Are Pretty

The mighty army of American telephone girls has a high average for good looks, according to trained observers. After looking over the first 1000, any normal man will agree to this proposition. Or perhaps it wouldn't be necessary to give even 1000 the once-over.

In "Daughters of the Night," the big, human telephone photoplay produced by William Fox and which is booked at the Custer theatre on July 1 and 2, there are bevy of attractive telephone girls. And they're all real, snapped from life with no making up, right out of the daily and nightly routine of the telephone service.

Application for a job as telephone operator is no beauty contest, but nevertheless the process of natural selection results in the high average of attractive girlhood. Why?

A long-haired savant explained the reason. One of the absolute qualifications for the job is a pleasant voice. And voices that are easy to listen to generally go with faces and forms that are easy to look at.

That's why the American "hello" girl is generally agreeable both to the eye and ear.

During the past few days several citizens have been wondering why our city water has that peculiar taste. Hence one of our city commissioners suggests that The Slatonite state the difference in the water is caused by the fact that both the main pipe line from the new well, as well as the reservoir, are new, and paint and tar are affecting the water temporarily. A few days' use, however, will do away with the unpleasant taste in the water. The Slatonite is informed.

Former Slaton Resident Dies in Kentucky

A telegram has been received by J. T. Overby advising of the death of his brother-in-law, A. S. Page, at Princeton, Kentucky. Mr. Page was a former resident of Slaton, having lived here from the opening of the town until 1919. He will be remembered by his many friends here.

A PLAINS HOME

That of E. F. Payton, Near Slaton, Like a Bit of California

Who would ever dream of a real picture of California out on the Plains? Well, if you would like to see a real California spot, just visit the home of E. F. Payton, who lives three miles west of the city and who came to this section in 1908 and bought 330 acres of land and in this short period of time he has cultivated two hundred and thirty acres and has three acres in orchard.

This is one of the most beautiful and picturesque places that the writer has visited, with a beautiful home and all kinds of fruit bearing trees, beside the beautiful ornamental shade trees, that seems to show the cooperation of nature along with the efforts of its builder.

The writer had occasion to ask Mr. Payton the secret of all of this beauty and success. His answer was, "Hard work and growing his living at home." We walked out into the garden, a blooming field of food products, everything seemed to be full of life and doing its part toward beautifying and lending its part in the happiness of a real home.

Eight years were spent at different times in the building and making of his beautiful reservoir, where hundreds of people are going each day and enjoying the pleasure of a cold plunge.

We could see in the background from the smile upon the face, the joy and happiness and pleasure that comes from a life of toil. Mr. Payton is now enjoying the fruits of his labor, not only he and his family of eight children, but hundreds are sharing in the pleasure of this beautiful well prepared home. It represents a picture of what the Plains country could be, only in this short period of fifteen years that barren farm has been transformed into a blooming garden of nature paradise.

In one end of this big concrete reservoir, is his fish pond, stocked with various kinds of the finny tribe, and down in the milk house, where the water continues to run and keep fresh and cool, is milk and butter and other perishable products.

We looked over in this big concrete box and to our surprise he was fattening and purifying some fine fish, ready for the coming of his mother.

The guineas were singing, the ducks were quacking, the hens were cackling, the birds had gathered in the orchard and among the branches and altogether sang cheer to the happiness of a real home.

All of this made us wonder at the greatness and the fullness of nature, just how quick was nature ready to respond and come at the call of the laborer.

We heard the shouts and the laugh and joy of the swimmers as they sprang from the bank and plunged deep into the pure waters of refreshment, we could only think back fifteen years ago, when Mr. Payton stopped on this barren spot, not a post, not a green bush, not a thing really told him of the future of his labor, but they had faith in their selection and we must say that this home is an object lesson and portrays a real vision of what this country will be in the next twenty years.

But let's not forget the secret of this home. He bought no meat, and he states that he bought no feed, but he lived at home and in 1923 and '24 he and his family used ten sacks of sugar each year in putting up fruit and vegetables. This tells the whole story.

Mrs. M. H. Hood and baby of Paducah, are visiting in Slaton with her brother, Jess Swint, and wife.

Slaton Community Fair, Sept. 24, 25, 26, 1925

The indicator is pointing toward the biggest fair on the South Plains. All that is necessary is for everybody to lend a helping hand, and lend their cooperation toward bringing out those exhibits that are necessary in the building of the fair.

Each community is being favored with a director, who will appoint a number of committees to assist in the organizing of their respective communities, as outlined by the board of fair directors, each community taking part will be a contestant against other communities for the winning prize.

It is the purpose of the board of directors to secure the very largest premiums possible for the community entries that are made in this coming fair.

It will be the purpose of the officers of the Community Fair to arrange for more room and more space for exhibit than was had last year. The association has already closed a deal with one of the best and largest attraction companies in the South, which will add greatly to the general interest and pleasures of those in attendance. We are more than anxious and are extending a special invitation to each and every community to take part in this three-day fair. It will not only be a pleasure to each of us from the communities we represent, but it brings out that civic pride and civic spirit that shows progress and development.

Catalogues and premium lists will be ready for distribution within the near future, anyone wishing a premium list and catalogue will receive one just as soon as they have been issued, by filing your application by letter. S. E. STAGGS, President, J. J. ROSS, Secretary.

Noted U. S. Senator Dies at Capital

Washington, June 18.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, for many years a stormy petrel of American politics, died here Thursday.

Death resulted at 1:21 p. m. from heart failure induced by a general breakdown and an attack of bronchial asthma.

The Wisconsin senator and later independent presidential candidate, began failing in health even before the 1924 campaign. Several weeks ago he contracted a severe cold which developed into asthma.

His heart, which had been unable to stand the strain, gave way during the night, and he sank rapidly after daylight today.

Almost to the last, however, he insisted on cheerful reports being given out as to his illness and it was not until yesterday that it was admitted that his condition was serious.

"In these days of indigestion It is oftentimes a question As to what to eat and what to let alone; For each microbe and bacillus Has a different way to kill us And in time they always claim us for their own."

WAYS WITH LEFTOVERS

A nice dish and one which will not have any reference to food previously served is:

Stuffed Peppers.—Cut off the tops and remove the white membrane and seeds from as many peppers as there are people to serve. Parboil them until soft in boiling water to cover, then fill with the following: Drop a half-teaspoonful of beef extract into each pepper mixed with buttered crumbs, chopped meat of any kind seasoned with onion, pepper and salt. Put to bake in gumpans so they will keep their shape. Bake until well-heated through and serve hot.

Meat and Potato Pie.—Moisten two cupfuls of cold minced mutton or beef with canned soup, and season well before putting into a greased baking dish. Have ready a large cupful of mashed potato, seasoned with melted butter and warm milk. Cover the meat with this seasoned potato; smooth the surface and bake until it is well-heated through, then brush with the beaten white of an egg and return to the oven to brown.

Molded Rice.—When putting away the leftover rice of today, press it while warm into a buttered mold. When ready to prepare the meal, turn it out carefully on a pie plate and set into the oven. When it is heated through, butter well and return to the oven to brown; butter again and sprinkle with grated cheese and return to the oven until the cheese begins to melt. Serve hot.

Cheese Custard.—Place slices of buttered bread in a baking dish in layers, using enough bread to supply the family, sprinkling each buttered slice generously with finely-minced or grated cheese—the rich kind, which will not become stringy when heated. Pour over a pint of milk to which two beaten eggs have been added, salt and cayenne to taste for seasoning. Bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set. Serve hot from the dish in which it was baked. This is a good way to use leftover slices of bread.

There is no mystery about happiness whatever. Put in the right ingredients and it must come out. We may encourage others by our faith and cheer, but we have no right to dishearten them by doubt and gloom.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

A nice dish to serve a small company is the following:

Chicken au Supreme With Mushrooms.—Cut the meat into small pieces from a cold cooked chicken, saving the bones for soup. There should be two cupfuls of the chicken and one-half cupful of mushrooms.

Prepare a sauce of two tablespoonfuls each of melted butter and flour well-mixed, add the liquor from the can of mushrooms and one cupful of milk. Cook until smooth then add the chicken, cook three minutes, then add the mushrooms. Cook two minutes longer very slowly. Beat in two well-beaten eggs, stirring all the while and as soon as the eggs are cooked remove from the fire. Serve in hot patty shells.

Brown Fricassee of Chicken.—Joint the chicken neatly and lay in cold water for an hour. Fry one-half pound of fat salt pork to a light brown. Strain it and return the fat to the fire, add butter enough to make the amount of fat needed to fry the fowl. Fry all the larger pieces in this fat with a sliced onion. Chop the fried pork fine and put into the double boiler, adding the onion and chicken. Pour in water enough to cover well, put on the lid and set in the lower vessel partly filled with cold water. Set back on the range where it will not boil for an hour, hold this at a simmering temperature for four hours without opening the top, keeping the lower boiler well replenished with water. The longer the chicken stews the more tender it will be. Serve on a hot dish, cover with a thickened gravy made of browned flour and serve after letting stand in an open oven for ten minutes.

Scalloped Salmon.—Make an ordinary white sauce, using two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour and one cupful of milk. Flake canned salmon and add to it finely shredded green peppers and let cook gently. Cut up ripe olives rather coarsely and add to the salmon. Just before serving add a few walnut meats, cover with buttered crumbs and set into the oven until the crumbs are brown.

Plan To Attend State Meeting

Lubbock county boys and girls, under County Agent David F. Eaton and Miss Lela DuBose, county demonstration agent, are completing plans to attend the sixteenth annual Farmer's Short Course at College Station, July 27 to August 1.

An excellent program has been planned for those who attend, according to T. O. Walton, director of the course. Speakers and entertainers who are nationally known are to appear on the program. Courses in agriculture and home demonstration work will be given along with the contests that will be held in poultry judging, grain judging and livestock judging. A large number of the state agricultural societies will hold annual meetings at the college during the course.

The railroads have agreed to make a special rate of one and one-fifth fare for the round trip. Persons attending the course will be charged President R. Q. Lee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has announced the itinerary for his first good will tour of West Texas, which will begin at Stamford July 6th.

Monroe Building New Annex To School Building

Scott Rudesell, prominent citizen of Monroe, was in Lubbock Tuesday looking after business. In an interview while here, Mr. Rudesell stated that the contract had been let for the new annex to the already splendid brick school building in that growing community, and that the new building being erected would cost $9,000. Mr. Rudesell also stated that dirt was broken Monday for the erection of a splendid new gin at Monroe. The people of that wide-awake and thriving community deserve much credit for their splendid spirit of enterprise.—Lubbock Avalanche.

only the actual cost of meals and lodging. A special camp ground is being arranged for and groceries, ice and vegetables will be delivered at this camp for those who come in automobiles. All state contests for home demonstration clubs and women will be held at this time. Mr. Eaton expects to take a boy and girl. However, both of them are urging the farmers of this region to attend the course. Any man, woman, boy or girl who desires to study and learn more about the solution of farm and home problems are eligible to register for the short course, according to those who are conducting it. Mr. Eaton took a group of boys to the course last year. No farmer from the county has attended this meeting since he has been here, he says.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

That home ownership improves the stability and public spirit of the citizens.
 That building and loan associations prove of incalculable benefit to the rebuilding of a city.
 That they provide an opportunity for small investors to invest in a proposition that brings good returns.
 That they provide funds for the erection of new homes on a small monthly payment plan.
 That a home can be paid for with rent money.
 That if you are paying rent, the time to buy or build your own home is now.
 That you will always have to rent or own. Why not own?
 That a place of your own will be a place where life is better and living cheaper.
 That just at this time a home is a particularly good investment.
 That when you build your own home you get just what you want.
 Under Any Conditions, a Home Is the Best Investment a Family Can Make.—E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Oklahoma, Board of Commerce.

Many Boys Will Work Way Through Tech College

Unusual things are happening in connection with the making of preparations to open the doors of the Texas Tech, but in regard to applications for entrance made by students the usual willingness of the boys to work their way through is signified on seventy-five per cent of the entry blanks. This information was made public Thursday by R. M. Chitwood, the business manager of the college, who had just completed a survey of the applications on file in the office of Dr. P. W. Horn, president of the college. While Lubbock business men have some responsibility upon them in helping to secure work for those who wish to make their way through the term, those familiar with the energetic manner in which a boy who is willing to work for an education looks after his interest in this matter realize that they will prove able in taking care of themselves and that they will find every advantage here that can be found in other colleges of the country is not questioned.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Chrysler Assumes Dominant Rank in Motor Car Industry

Since the name Walter P. Chrysler, through the Chrysler car, first became known to the public, it has grown to a position of commanding importance in the automobile industry. Men competent to judge have since declared that at the rate he is going and the progress his organization is making, he is rapidly establishing himself as the outstanding new figure in the industry. These men go so far as to say that within two years his organization will be recognized as having achieved industrial accomplishments hitherto considered impossible in the manufacture and marketing of quality motor cars. It is only to the public at large that Walter P. Chrysler is a new figure in the making and merchandising of motor cars. Within the industry he has been known more than a dozen years as one of its leading men. Since he assumed a position of outstanding importance in the nation's largest industry, nearly 2,000,000 cars have been built and sold under his leadership.

Today at 50, those closest to him say that he and the organization he has gathered about him are only approaching the threshold of their greatest accomplishments. Recent visitors to the Chrysler plants in Detroit report that one of the most amazing happenings in connection with the building of that car is the personal interest taken in all stages of its manufacture by Mr. Chrysler himself. It should be said here, to appreciate the singularity of the man, that the magnitude of his operations and interests is larger than that of any other American, with perhaps half dozen or ten exceptions.

West Texas C. of C. at Amarillo in 1926

Amarillo is already receiving recognition for winning the 1926 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Indications are that thousands will come to Amarillo for the convention and they will take advantage of the opportunity to learn something about this section. Three years ago Plainview entertained the convention. The Panhandle-Plains received wide publicity from that convention, but the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has grown during these years. A lapse of four years will mean that people will appreciate the opportunity to come to this section for the convention. Amarillo alone will not be the host to this convention. Amarillo does not want to appear that it is a convention belonging to this city exclusively. This convention was won by the united efforts of cities from the Panhandle-Plains and The News wants them to reap the advantages of some of the publicity therefrom. This city will begin making plans shortly for the entertainment of the convention. It will require the voluntary help of men and women to make the 1926 convention a success. Amarillo's goal is to make the convention the greatest that has ever been held. The people already indicate that they want to come to Amarillo. The convention will be held after school is out to enable children to make the trip with their parents. With school out hundreds will spend a little time here and learn something of this section.

In bringing new settlers to the Panhandle-Plains, it should not be the desire to get people to move from one section of Texas up here. Efforts should be devoted largely to get prospects from other states.—Amarillo Daily News.

Many Outlaw Horses Will Be at Rodeo

Lubbock, Texas, June 22.—With the famous McCarty string of outlaw horses from Cheyenne, Wyoming, on the ground and 27 head of longhorn steers from El Dorado, in the border country, on pasture west of the city, plans for the first annual South Plains Round Up and Rodeo, to be staged here on July 2, 3 and 4, are going right along. Elmer Jones, of Midland, who is managing the event, stated recently. In the McCarty string of horses, brought here by Lewis Kubits, wrangler, Mr. Jones believes he has 28 head of outlaw horses which cannot be surpassed. Allen Holden of Lamesa; Richard Merchant, of Carlsbad; Barney Hopkins, of Carlsbad; Homer Ward, of Phoenix; Lewis Jones, of Christoval; Clyde Meadows of San Angelo; Cecil Childress, of Abilene; Sam Stewart, of Fort Worth, and J. W. Harris, of Breckenridge, all topnotch ropers and riders, have already promised to be here and a great many other rodeo experts whose names are bywords in the cowboy circles are expected to be on hand. The initial rodeo being held this year is under the auspices of the Lubbock Baseball Park association, against whom there still stands a large debt, from the last year of league baseball here.

SLATON SLATONITE

ISSUED WEEKLY

Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas.

Mrs. W. Donald, Publisher and Owner
R. W. Collier, Jr., Editor

Subscription, per year $2.00

Entered as second-class mail matter at the postoffice at Slaton, Texas.

It seems to us that Slaton isn't such a bad place, after all. Not long ago our high school moved into a new $125,000 building. Recently current was turned onto more than seventy beautiful street lights. An extension of the water and sewer systems, costing more than one hundred thousand dollars, is nearing completion. Pumping equipment has just been put into operation in two recently dug wells that will supply the city with more than 750 gallons of pure water per minute. Much building activity is in evidence. Even nice brick homes are under construction, and hundreds of yards of cement sidewalks have been built within the past sixty days. As, and before another calendar is hung on the wall, Slaton will have not less than a dozen and a half blocks of paved streets, and in all probability an additional hotel—modern in every detail; not more than three weeks ago marked the completion of a task at one of Slaton's industries, when the capacity of the cotton compress was doubled. Before the opening of the coming cotton season, Slaton will boast of a new and modern cotton seed oil mill, which is now well under construction. Most certainly Slaton is a good town and a growing town. For a steady and substantial growth, Slaton ranks second to no other town in West Texas, and this marvelous progress is due largely to the united efforts on the part of the good citizenry of our city.

In the resignation of Reverend J. A. Owen as pastor of the local Presbyterian church, there comes a vacancy in that church that will not be at all easy to fill; Slaton will lose a valued citizen, and several different organizations of our town will lose a zealous member and faithful worker. As leader of Slaton troop of the Boy Scouts, every member of the troop had come to love him; he has served faithfully on several committees from the Slaton Rotary club; he was the valued director of music for the Slaton Music club, an enthusiastic member of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, and had just been appointed chaplain for the ensuing year of the local Masonic fraternity. It is with sincere regret on the part of many that Mr. and Mrs. Owen have decided to return to their former home at Albany, where previous to coming to Slaton, he was pastor of the Presbyterian church for five years. But, in this instance, Slaton's loss is Albany's gain, and citizens of that city should rejoice, indeed, that these people have decided to again cast their lots with them.

We think the woman of today, like the girl of today, is holding her heart too cheap. Modern love is becoming cheap. Every woman is essentially heart and love. She may pretend to be something else, something more; she may have her fails, and her hives. She may even adjust decency and proudly wear the spinsters' hood—but fundamentally, just the same, she is heart and love. A cheap heart and a cheap love cheapen her. And nothing that is cheap is beautiful or endures for long.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The old-time merchant who believes in newspaper advertising, and advertises regularly in his home town paper is the merchant who always succeeds. The business man who doesn't plunge on every new advertising scheme as it comes out may be considered as somewhat of a back number, but you rarely hear of him going broke.

A committee from the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce recently secured rooms in Lubbock for 927 students of the Texas Technological college, which will open September 28th.

There are yet a few convicts in the Texas state penitentiary.

ADVERTISING

This is nothing new, but is true, nevertheless, not only of the real estate business, but of every other kind of business:

"A real estate firm should spend at least 15 per cent of the gross commission on newspaper advertising, because it will increase business," holds D. Bradley Rich, former vice president, National Association of Real Estate Boards, in speaking of the Springfield Real Estate Board. "Advertising is the strongest spotlight in the world and no big venture can be a success without it."

The old saying that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" apparently is being taken to heart by American municipalities. The cities of America which provide space and leadership for the play of their people have grown from fourteen, at the beginning of 1900, to 711 at the beginning of 1925. This quarter century has marked the acceptance of public play as a department of municipal government and a new civic science.

Cities first opened children's playgrounds as a philanthropic experiment. Today a community's provision for the recreation of its citizens, young and old, is regarded as an important index of its progress and its livability, says the 1924 Year Book of the Playground and Recreation Association of America.

Doctors can cut out most anything that's the matter with us nowadays, except our own lamphoodishness. We'll have to cut that out ourselves. Let's do it, and make Slaton a better town.

You never can tell what thought will do,

In bringing you hate and love,
For thoughts are things,
And their airy wings
Are swifter than doves.

They follow the law of the universe.

Each kind must create its kind,
And they speed o'er the track,
To bring you back
Whatever went out from your mind.

JUST TO MEN ONLY
(By J. J. Ross.)

For several thousand years men have been the constructors and builders of nations, and in the making and building, many have rose, and reigned and fell.

But in all of his great achievement, it has been carried out through knowledge and wisdom and the cooperation and service of those that held the reign of the constructive powers of the human family.

Woman has never been to blame for either the building or the tearing down of any nation, but only in this modern age have we stopped to pay tribute to that wisdom that has sit for these thousands of years in obscure silence.

While man, in his great glory, has boasted of his mighty power and his achievements in forwarding the steps of generations.

History has proven that governments and municipalities have become corrupt and crumbled and fell from the act and conduct of its leaders. It is men only that lead in the great construction and the building of our commercial and educational institutions.

It is only men, without the thought of self and selfish motives, or selfish gains, that lead its people from out of the wilderness of a nondeveloped state into the highways of a modern developed country.

It is only men that sacrifice time and energy that go out into the highways and there seek to unfold the hidden pleasures to the glory and happiness of its people.

Selfish ideas and selfish motives never builded a mile post that marked the way of civilization. Only men that are mature in the wisdom and the nature of understanding to conceive the greater ideals of its people.

There is a commercial field, a spiritual field, an educational field, a productive field, and an industrial field, and in the wisdom of the great writer of the solvent solution, of the painted pages of science, no man is able to exist and have his being in the atmosphere of partizan and politics, and yet, have the power to lead in the commercial build and progress of the finance world.

God in his great wisdom, gave unto each of us our talent. Some have buried them, some have applied them to the glory of self, others have applied them to the great sacrifice and the glory of God's people.

It is only men who sit at the hour of midnight and listen to the call and cries of its millions, and he who sits in the chair of wisdom, when selfish is far away, has gathered unto himself the glory of God and becomes a leader in the onward march of civilization.

It is only men that take time and are given the thought that stop and without selfish purpose or selfish motives seek only to purify the atmosphere of friction and discord.

It is only men who sit and rule over the household of America's citizenship, that in his great wisdom he designs and fits the application of such law and government as will bring peace and happiness to the eternal altar of this America's greatest institution.

It is only men that stand along the highways of lift to guide and protect its traveling millions, it is men of wisdom who seek only to enter in to the confines of the sacredness of home and life, for the one great cause, to bring peace and joy to the tormented souls.

It is only the great men that are called of God that stand in the altar and behind the pulpit of peace and point the dying millions to the cross of peace and everlasting life.

It is only men of that true wisdom that walk to and from through the annals of life and speak peace and wisdom to those characters of hatred and malice. Give unto us, in these days of trials, men of wisdom who have no other motive than peace and good will to all men, and God forbid that the devil or his angels would have the power to mislead and to misrepresent and to scatter the poison of hatred, division and strife, but let thy men of wisdom, men of knowledge, men whose hearts are filled with the love and hope of tomorrow.

Take hold of this melting pot of eruption and confusion, and lead thy people from out of the darkness of political and let them as in the days of old behold the glory and peace of cooperation and service.

It is only a man that can listen to the vile worlds of hatred, malice and confusion that seems, in its nature, to stain and bleed the hearts of the just, and yet in his great wisdom, and through the power of the soul of peace, offers the bread of life.

Let confusion be cast into the fiery furnace, where the devil and his angels only have joy, let the men that count themselves leaders adhere to those great solvent principles that lead the toiling masses from out of the midnight darkness into the midday sun, of peace, joy and cooperation.

Who are the men that are bringing all of this confusion, who are they that are keeping alive the burning fires of hatred, malice and confusion? Referring to the book of books, they are those that know not, what they are saying or what they do, but for that selfish purpose and with that selfish motive, they cry aloud and are heard for their much saying.

Who are they that are bringing steps of progress and are building the great institutions through which pass the oncoming generations.

They are men that do not seek darkness but live in the light and in the glory and in the understanding of God the Creator.

Who are they that are building, molding and shaping the lives and characters of this nation? Who are they that build and purify the democracy of America's citizenship?

They are men whose lives and characters are sublime and are filled with the cares and welfare of its people.

Who are they that go about and up and down the highways of life, howling that I am the way? These are the ones that are only heard for their much saying but never went down sanctified before the cross of God.

Let's follow the man that carries the book of peace, the heart of love, the joy of wisdom and who holds the material within his hands that builds the great highways of co-operation and service.

County Attorney Will File Many Suits

In an effort to collect all back taxes standing on the books of Lubbock county from the time of the founding of the county in 1885 up to the present time, members of the commissioners' court have ordered County Attorney Owen W. McWhorter to immediately begin filing suits against the owners of all property on which back taxes have accrued, it has been officially announced. It is believed by the officials that this will entail the filing of approximately five thousand tax suits.

Following the orders which were served on him by the commissioners' court Prosecutor McWhorter began his plans to follow out the order and stated that at least five hundred of the suits would be filed for hearing in the regular summer term of district court, which will convene here on August 17. Following the completion of the summer term of court a like number of back tax collection cases will be filed in succeeding court sessions until the situation is cleared up.

Mr. Albert Bushey and family have recently moved to Slaton from Los Angeles, California, and have traded to make their home here, having traded for the Howerton building on Texas avenue.
