

C. G. Roper Buys All Baking Interests

Recently C. G. Roper, well known baker of Slaton, bought the interest in both the Slaton Baking Company and the City Bakery from W. E. Dorsett.

Charles Lewis, an experienced baker, is now in charge of the City Bakery, on the west side of the square, while Mr. Roper is remaining as before at the Slaton Baking Company.

Slaton's two bakeries have been giving splendid service, and the same good service and good baking may be expected in the future. Both of these institutions are enjoying splendid patronage at the hands of Slaton citizens as well as surrounding communities and smaller towns nearby.

Missouri Capitalists Like Slaton Country

Neil C. Hardin, capitalist, of Louisiana, Missouri, arrived in Slaton Tuesday to attend to business matters in this section, and to visit with Attorney R. A. Baldwin.

Mr. Hardin owns extensive property interests near Slaton. He had not visited this section since about four years ago, and he was amazed and gratified at the marvelous growth and development of Slaton and surrounding country which has taken place since he last visited here.

Custer Theatre Will Not Change Name

Recently rumors have been circulated that the Custer Theatre will, in the future, be known as the "Gem Theatre," and some few probably are of the impression that this popular play house has officially undergone a change in name.

This rumor, however, is purely a mistake, according to the manager, who informs The Slatonite this place of business will continue under the old and popular name of "Custer Theatre."

Dentist Locates at City Drug Store

Dr. J. L. Rice, dentist, who recently moved here from Lorraine, has opened offices in the rear of the City Drug Store, on Texas avenue.

Dr. Rice is an experienced man in dental surgery, and is thoroughly familiar with all phases of that profession, and his offices are well equipped to care for the need of his trade.

W. E. Dorsett Buys The Ferndale Cafe

W. E. Dorsett, formerly of the City Bakery, has purchased the Ferndale Cafe from E. N. Twaddle, and will move the fixtures to the Ragsdale building on the west side of the square this building having recently been vacated by the Smoke House. Mr. Dorsett expects to have his cafe ready for operation early next week.

MERCHANT MEMBERS CREDIT ASSOCIATION

We are now ready and prepared to compile rating list and each of you that are members and to any one else that would like to join, we ask that you make out a rating sheet at once.

It is very necessary that we have this data before us at an early date. It is the real purpose of this association to render that service that will protect the general public and put a stop to this cold checking.

Every merchant member will be supplied with application blanks which will serve its purpose as information and you will do yourselves and the general public a great favor in reporting every new customer that is an applicant for credit.

It is indeed a great pleasure to the merchant to assist and extend accommodations to the worthy but it is a pure shame and reflects lost confidence on the part of all to extend hazardous and reckless credit.

Every merchant is asked to join and restore the lost confidence and render credit ratings.

Prepare your credit reports and turn them in at once.

Boy Scouts

Monday, October 12, 1925, fifty-two boys were present. Mr. Palmer had charge of the meeting. He began with the songs then took up the idea of each scout having a "Big Buddy." The Lubbock Redskins, Elks and other organizations took over patrols or troops and each man had certain boy as a "Little Buddy." Mr. Palmer wants the Slaton Scouts to do this too. He left us to think it over awhile. The Area Scout Commissioner took charge of the Court of Honor. One of our scouts passed the star scout test and was awarded his badge at the Court of Honor. This scout was James S. Lanham. The badges were merit badges, automobiling, camping, civics, cooking, firemanship and personal health. These tests entitled him to the star scout badge. James then built a fire without use of matches, rubbing sticks together or flint and steel.

One new member and one old member S. P. Wood joined and his brother comes from their home. They know scouting and will make good scouts. We welcome any boy of twelve or over who will obey the scout laws.

We wish to have a hike soon so come and help us organize. The surrounding scouts will go hand-in-hand with us if we organize.

Let's have success.

Scribe.

CHAS. B. ROGERS IS DISPATCHER IN P. O.

Charles B. Rogers, who recently moved to Slaton with his family from Plainview, is now in the local post-office as mail dispatcher. Mr. Rogers has been working under civil service for some time, and will be remembered here as being in the postoffice during the holiday season of last year.

ATTENTION, SIR KNIGHTS

Local Man Added To Slatonite Force

L. A. Wilson, of this city, who for approximately the past two years has been connected with the First Baptist Church in the capacity of Educational Director, has accepted a place on the Slatonite staff, and will be in charge of the news features as well as assisting with the advertising.

Mr. Wilson is thoroughly experienced in business, has had several years' of public school teaching experience, and formerly has done newspaper work. Hence his connection with the Slatonite will add materially to the efficiency of this office in its service to the people.

His connection with the Slatonite will begin October 16th, after which this paper will appreciate full co-operation on the part of our citizens in his efforts to advance the interests of this community through the service rendered by the Slatonite.

Recent Improvements Foster Funeral Home

Among improvements being made in Slaton during the past few days is the addition of a neat, solid board fence around the rear of the Foster Funeral Home. Attractiveness is added with latticework arches over the entrances to the home.

The latter part of this week a late designed limousine hearse and ambulance for the funeral home is expected to arrive, according to Dr. E. C. Foster, the undertaker. The new hearse was built by Sayers & Scoville, and will represent an investment of $4,200.

WILL VOTE ON THE JAIL BOND ISSUE

City Commissioners of Slaton Call Bond Election for Paving

Last Wednesday night the Mayor and City Commissioners passed necessary orders calling election to vote one hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of paving Slaton streets.

The streets it is proposed to pave are Texas Avenue from the depot to the square, and at least one block in every direction from the square, then if the money will be sufficient, these streets will be extended.

The election notice is published elsewhere in this issue of the Slatonite, and called for the bonds to be in denominations of $1000.00 each, to bear interest at five and one-half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and the bonds mature serially on January 1st of each year, beginning January 1st, 1927. For the first twenty years two bonds will mature each year and for the last twenty years three bonds will mature each year, and being serials, the interest payments will decrease each year very materially.

Also the City officers called another election to be held the same date, November 17th, for the purpose of adopting certain provisions of the Texas statutes relating to street improvements. The statutes in question grant to cities and towns certain powers and rights, but the city cannot exercise them until an election has been held and a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the city have voted to adopt the benefits by the said laws.

Only qualified voters, that is, persons who have resided in the State twelve months and in the corporate limits of Slaton for six months next preceding the date of the election, and who are property tax paying voters within the city, will be allowed to vote at either of these elections, that being the requirements of the law.

The action of the City officials is most gratifying. A short time ago a petition was circulated asking for such election for bonds, and was signed by practically every business man in the city. There is no doubt but that the election will carry by an overwhelming majority.

Slaton is an up-to-date city and will not be behind her neighbors in the matter of public improvements. Many of our neighbors, smaller than Slaton, have already voted paving bonds, and some of them have their paving completed.

The thing for every citizen of Slaton to do is to remember the date of the election, November 17th, boost for the bonds, and get out and vote. It means much to each citizen and to the town as a whole.

West Ward P. T. A. Have Auction Sale

On Saturday, October 17th, at 3 p. m., and also at 7 p. m. the West Ward Parent-Teachers' Association will conduct an auction sale at the City Hall, for the purpose of raising funds for putting down cement sidewalks around the West Ward school buildings.

A public auctioneer, who has been in Slaton for the past several days, has volunteered his services for these occasions, and will auction the various articles for the P. T. A.

All who are interested in the welfare of the schools are requested to attend, and, if possible bring something along to be auctioned for this public cause. Or come prepared to make purchases of articles you may need.

If solicitors fail to see you, you are requested to attend, anyway and bring most any kind of article that might be of value to someone, and would serve to raise funds for the improvements of the schools.

Here are a few suggestions of articles that would doubtless be beneficial, and would be appreciated by the P. T. A.: Furniture, clothing, dishes, vegetables, harness, butter, eggs, chickens, dish cloths, rugs, shoes, quilts, pillows, towels, tools, canned fruits and vegetables, feed, mirror, fancy work, aprons, flower pots, baby bugles, baby beds, peanuts, milk, home made syrup, jelly, potted plants, toys, brooms, hats, pictures, suitcases, overcoats and sweaters, or anything else.

Slaton Tigers Will Play Brownfield Hi

Tomorrow on the local gridiron, just east of town, the Slaton Tigers, in all their viciousness, will meet the Brownfield High School Eleven in what is predicted to be a warm battle. Let's give the Slaton High School boys our support.

HOXIE PROMISES THRILLS IN NEW WESTERN DRAMA

Jack Hoxie, in a thundering Western adventure story in which not a gun is pulled and not a shot fired, but which still keeps the audience on edge from start to final fadeout—this is the feature coming Saturday to the Custer Theatre, when "Daring Chances," Universal's new Hoxie western attraction, is to be shown.

It is a story told almost entirely on horseback—with Jack Hoxie astride his favorite mount, Scout, and the Universal Ranch Riders dashing thru adventure after adventure—a sensational rodeo, a breath-taking race—followed by a grim chase after bandits and a sensational rescue, on the very brink of a yawning chasm,—and all culminating in a delightful romance.

Plans to determine whether or not $35,000 worth of bonds shall be issued for the purpose of building and equipping a new jail at Crosbyton for Crosby county.—Ralls Banner.

Be A Booster!

If you were attending a football game and your neighbor who chanced to be sitting next to you were to begin rooting for the opposite side, you would be offended. The idea would immediately come to you that this man who lived in one town and rooted for another was something of a rotten sport. Yet one man's support in a football game is of little importance; it would be the spirit of the thing that you objected to.

Granted that the above is true, we will assume that you are one of the good citizens of Slaton who is offended at finding that your neighbor has gone to another city to trade. That neighbor is more of a rotten sport than the one man who rooted for the opposite side at the football game. Football rooting is important, but how much more important is town building? And town building is what we all are engaged in, even though we are unconscious of the fact.

Every single dime you spend is going to build some town. If it is spent here you are building Slaton, if spent in a town a few miles from Slaton you are helping that town's growth, but most of all you are retarding the growth of Slaton. A town's enterprise depends on the prosperity of its business men. The prosperity of the business man depends upon the loyalty with which he is supported.

Goods are cheaper in Slaton; don't be a sucker and a rotten sport, as well.

JACK LONDON'S "ADVENTURE" COMING TO THE CUSTER

A brilliant cast headed by Tom Moore, Pauline Starke, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, will present Jack London's "Adventure" at the Custer Theatre Friday, October 16th.

It lives up to its title! That's the one, big, outstanding important fact about "Adventure"—it lives up to its title!

Adventure! The dictionary defines it as: "the encountering of risks; a bold undertaking, in which hazards are to be met and the issue hangs upon unforeseen events." Magnify old Noah Webster's definition with all the superlatives you can think of and still you will come short of getting an accurate impression of this Paramount picture.

BEAL ON VACATION

Nairn-Albietz Players Open Here Monday

While less than a year old, and having organized the above attraction here in Slaton, Bud Nairn and Lysie Albietz have today what is conceded to be one of the highest class tented dramatic shows playing the Southwest.

The many features to be noted with the Nairn-Albietz Players which will open a week's engagement in Slaton starting next Monday, October 19th, under the auspices of the Slaton Commercial Club are varied.

First—The show has a reputation for clean, high class clever comedy.

Second—All plays presented are new, tried and proven successes, correctly costumed and staged. They are laugh makers with strong moral appeals.

Third—The vaudeville numbers to be seen each night between acts compare favorably with big city circuits.

Fourth—The Nairn-Albietz Players carry a high class concert band and a 7-piece orchestra that not only know how to play but entertain as well.

Then there is the opening play a comedy drama in four acts, "Other People's Business," by Chas. Harrison writer of "Honest Sinners and Sainly Hypocrites," and the special ladies' guest night Monday at which time ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by one paid adult ticket.

The big show tent with seats to accommodate some 1200 people will be located southeast corner of square.

S. W. Hilliard, of Tyler, Texas, has accepted a position as linotype machine operator for the Slatonite. Mr. Hilliard's family will join him here very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dorsett returned the latter part of last week from a visit with friends and relatives in Childress, Vernon and Quanah.

Compress Enlarging Storage Capacity

Storage capacity of the Western Compress and Storage Company, of Slaton, is being considerably enlarged to care for the on-coming bumper cotton crop.

An additional floor space of 40x250 feet, with shed in proportion, is being added, according to Manager R. H. McCurdy, who says the compress is now ready to handle the crop rapidly. An additional press was recently installed at the compress, doubling the plant's capacity.

A run was made Wednesday, pressing cotton from local gins and from towns nearby.

City Officials Capture 65 Gallons Chock Beer

Wednesday morning Chief Sam Selmon and Mayor S. F. King drove down to the Flats, and confiscated 65 gallons of chock beer, capturing five negroes, each of whom plead guilty to manufacturing the unlawful goods, and paying fines.

Four of the victims of the raid are Jake Hill, Medie Hill, Willie Fentroy and George Wilson, according to officers.

Thief Makes Get-Away With Hestand's Car

W. B. Hestand, manager for the Slaton Wholesale Grocer Company, is loser of a Ford roadster, according to reports coming to the Slatonite office. The car was taken from the circus grounds Tuesday night. Its highway number is 783589.

G. K. Taylor, who as was stated in last week's issue of the Slatonite, is establishing a general tailoring business at the Toggery on Ninth Street, is now ready for business.

"Taylor the Tailor," as the firm is styled, will call for and deliver, and promises splendid service to the public. Your attention is invited to his large advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Slatonite.

MILLER CALLED AWAY ON ACCOUNT MOTHER'S ILLNESS

Claude Miller, secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, was called to Dallas Wednesday on account of the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. I. O. Miller. It is hoped Mr. Miller will find his mother much improved, and that he may soon be able to return to Slaton.

MASONIC MEETING CITY HALL

The Masons of Slaton will hold an open meeting at the City Hall Thursday evening, October 22nd. Mr. Berry B. Cobb of El Paso and others will be here on that date and will address the meeting and will show moving pictures. No admission will be charged and the public is invited. Masons and Eastern Star members are requested to be present. Mr. Cobb spoke in Slaton two years ago with the Masonic service association committee and those who heard him at that time will know that they will hear something worthwhile when he comes again.

Rotarians Enjoy Peppy Program

Rotarian Sam E. Staggs had charge of the program at the regular weekly luncheon of the Slaton Rotary Club last Friday noon in the basement of the Methodist Church, and it proved a peppy, enjoyable and profitable affair.

Messrs. Wester, Miller, and Leverett, teachers in the Slaton High School, were guests of the Club, and they, with Prof. Sone, were called on for a quartet and they sang "My Old Cottage Home" so well that they were obliged to respond to an encore, and then they sang the praises of the Bulldog on the Bank and the Bullfrog in the Pool.

Mr. Staggs gave a reading, "Truth Never Dies," and showed how that fact applies to the great principles of Rotary.

Mr. Miller, the Slaton High School Athletic coach, made an interesting talk on athletics in the Slaton schools, and was followed by a talk from Mr. John B. Dickinson, of Dallas.

Mr. Dickinson's talk was greatly enjoyed. It was full of good, homely sense, philosophy and timely suggestions. His auditors were greatly surprised when Mr. Dickinson declared that he had never attended school a day in his life; that he had traveled twice around the globe, visited fifty-two foreign countries and spoke seven foreign languages. He cited the fact as an example of what one can accomplish with the requisite determination and application to study. His address was inspirational, and calculated to make the Rotarians do some thinking about the problems and privileges of living and working.

"Do not leave your home town because it is small," he said. "Henry Ford and the Mayos lived in small towns—smaller than they were—but instead of leaving, they proceeded to build the towns to their own size." Mr. Dickinson warned against a divided citizenship and urged loyalty and support to one great Chamber of Commerce as a central rallying point for the united efforts of the citizens, and as a learning house for the ideas of all persons in the community. The Rotarians regretted that there was not more time in which to hear the speaker, but it is a rule of Rotary to open and close exactly on time.

One advantage the fool has is that few things cause him embarrassment.

Be quick to express thanks; be slow to expect thanks.

The busiest man in the world is he who can find nothing to do.

He who is armed with right has a mightier weapon than he who is armed with force.

If you should succeed in your present efforts to rob some fellow mortal of his good name, pray tell me what would you do with it?

Had you ever noticed that the girl who wears cotton hosiery wears her skirts longer—both in length and in point of time?

Someone has said that a nightingale dies for shame if another bird sings better, and we have seen a woman turn green with envy because her neighbor dressed better.

Man may not be descended from a monkey—we do not know about that—but we do know that a monkey will not descend to the things that men do.

Each of us, if we had our own way, would exempt ourselves from all man-made laws, and at the same time, if given a free hand, would enslave the rest of the world.

The ancient stuff called manna was not like money. The children of Israel were commanded to gather each morning just enough of it for their needs and no more. If they gathered more than they had need for, the surplus spoiled. Money is not that way. If a man gathers a lot of money over and above his reasonable needs, the surplus itself does not spoil, but instead it spoils the man.

Since the day when man began to look back into the past and forward into the future—since the day when man began to think—he has argued more about religious questions than about any other one subject, and not to this good day does history record a single instance when any religious question was solved—to the other's satisfaction—by argument. Time was when these arguments ended with the stronger cutting off the head of the weaker or feeding him to the flames. Now the stronger kicks the weaker out and the latter goes off and founds a new denomination of his own. And this is evolving—but we cannot say for the life of us in which direction.

HERE IN AMERICA

The current issue of the International Book Review tells the brief story of Anzia Yezierska, a young girl who entered this country with no knowledge of English and no education in her own tongue, but with the determination to become an American (note the word) novelist. "But by working in sweatshops and at other forms of drudgery all day, and by studying English all night, that is, by merely sacrificing sleep, food, clothing, shelter, health, she is now a distinguished American novelist, a woman of letters."

The story goes on to relate that at one time in her fight for a livelihood she went to a certain New York hotel looking for a job at scrubbing or as a scullion, to be rejected because of her clothes and general appearance, and not many years later she went to the same hotel as the guest of honor at a literary banquet.

Could Anzia have done this in any other country in the world? Possibly she could, for determination and the right habit of thinking can accomplish almost anything anywhere, but the fact is that she did it here in America.

Another noteworthy fact is that Anzia determined that she would become "an American novelist," not a foreign novelist living in America. She first set about to become Americanized—to Americanize herself—to adapt herself to her environment. She made good, mainly because she had the right viewpoint, and because squalid poverty, ignorance and discouragement could not break her spirit.

What a contrast there is between Anzia Yezierska, the little ignorant foreign girl, rising by force of will, vision and industry from the bottom to the top of the social ladder, and the thousands of native born Americans who go about grumbling and growling about the lack of opportunity and laying the blame on the government—"cussing" America, the land of their birth!

The career of Anzia is the finger of scorn and of shame pointing at all such ingrates.

Truly, our own fair America is the land of Opportunity, where merit is recognized and rewarded more surely and more lavishly than anywhere else in the world. And we need more Anzia Yezierskas, not only to point the way to Americanization to her foreign born sisters, and brothers, but also to implant in the souls of many of the native stock a just gratitude that they are Americans.

A NEEDED CHANGE

The present tax laws are a source of much trouble, inconvenience and unnecessary expense to the property owner, and there should be a change.

Recently many persons in Slaton, and we suppose also in other places, have received notices of delinquent taxes against their property for some year or years in the past, when as a matter of fact the taxes on the property reported delinquent have been paid.

The cause of this, in many instances, is duplicate assessments. A man will render his property for taxes and sometimes it will also be placed on the unrendered, unknown lists, and when taxes are paid credit will be given in one place on the rolls and not at the other place, thereby showing taxes unpaid.

Should the man die, and his tax receipts are lost, as frequently they are lost, and suit is brought to enforce the tax lien, there is often no other alternative but to pay the taxes again, and this time with penalty, accrued interest, costs, fees, etc.

We know of an instance where a man owned some property for upward of thirty years, and when he sold it and abstract was made, there developed unpaid taxes for some years back in the eighties, and it cost him nearly as much to pay those taxes, with all trimmings added, as the property was worth.

This tax system of ours is wrong. Each year when property is placed on the assessment rolls, any and all unpaid taxes should be added thereto, and no payment less than full payment accepted, and then a tax receipt should be conclusive evidence of payment of taxes for the current year in which it is issued and for all prior years.

The Texas tax laws are terribly antiquated, cumbersome, difficult of interpretation, and with an enormous amount of red tape provided for in their administration. A wise reform of our tax laws would effect a great saving in taxes to the taxpayer, with no decreased revenues to the state.

SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION CALLED

Representative A. H. King of Seymour, in the 113th representative district, has issued a call for a special session of the legislature to convene in Austin November 2nd, for the following purposes:

1. To amend or repeal certain laws of the last legislature relating to rules of evidence in criminal cases, which make it harder to get convictions in criminal cases.

2. To amend or repeal the "search and seizure act" which handicaps peace officers in their apprehension of criminals.

3. To investigate all state departments and institutions, with the object in view of weeding out incompetent and unworthy public officials.

4. To tighten the prohibition laws to prevent the sale of "jake" and "choce."

5. To investigate the abuses, if any, of official powers and prerogatives by state officials.

6. To exercise the collective wisdom of the 39th legislature for the welfare of the people of Texas.

7. To assert the 1000-year-old right of the people to act through their lawful representatives to protect themselves from actual and threatened dangers.

There are three ways by which the Texas legislature may be convened in extraordinary session. The first is by proclamation of the governor; the second by the proclamation of the Speaker of the House when petitioned by fifty of the members, and thirdly, by proclamation of a majority of the members of the house. Mr. King has adopted the third method, and it is reported that he had 80 names of members to his petition, which is four more than a majority, since the house has a constitutional limit of 150.

We think there is need of action as suggested in the first and second objects stated in the call, for said laws are indeed pernicious and ought to be amended or repealed outright.

Investigations by the legislature seldom accomplish much, but if the proposed investigation was carried out with efficiency and zeal, and the revealed evils actually remedied, it would be worth its cost, and more, but seldom are revealed evils remedied. Such investigations tramp on too many people's toes, and the report of one legislature is too often made to a subsequent legislature, or one legislature passes the buck to another legislature with the result generally that the whole thing is tabled.

Unmistakably, to our notion, the 5th, 6th and 7th objects stated refer directly to acts of the governor, and directly, in all probability, to the governor's pardon policy. The pardon power is derived from the constitution, and the governor is sworn to support the constitution. The people having placed the power of pardon in the governor, presupposes that it will be exercised in proper cases, and not abused in improper cases, and in the nature of things exercise of the power is of course discretionary. That its abuse can amount to subversion of the governor's power and prerogative, and amount to a violation of the oath of office, undoubtedly is true. That its improper exercise can be a great injury to the people is also true, and there are many in Texas today, and some of them in the legislature, who believe the governor's pardon policy inimical to the welfare of the state, arguing that it discourages law enforcement and paralyzes the orderly processes of the constabulary and of the courts. That the policy does have those effects, there can be little question, but whether a majority of the House will believe the alleged abuse of power ground for impeachment, and whether the Senate, as the high court to try the impeachment would muster the necessary two-thirds vote to sustain the charge, are entirely different matters.

However, should the House find a bill of impeachment, and should the senate vote to convict on that bill, there is no appeal from the decision.

There seems to be one unmistakable fact, in which most thinking persons are agreed, that law enforcement in Texas since the Ferguson ascension to the governor's chair is not the paramount activity, although it is today the paramount issue.

There are many, many law enforcement officers in Texas today who go about their duties with a feeling of "What's the use," since they seem to get so little encouragement at the hands of the chief executive, and so much discouragement by having all their efforts and expenditure of public moneys brought, to naught by the indiscriminate freeing of criminals from the penitentiaries by the governor.

Just what the 80 who signed the call for the special session have in mind in the 5th, 6th and 7th objects is more or less conjecture, but we may be assured that when the session convenes there will be "something in the air," and it will not be a love feast between the executive and the law-making departments of the Texas government.

But first of all is the question of the legality of the call, and that matter must first be determined and settled.

FUNDAMENTALISTS AND MODERNISTS

There is hatefulness and harm in the very names "fundamentalist" and "modernist." There is in those words, applied as they are, the instigation to dissension, division, discord and disharmony, and that precisely are their fruits, as all reflective persons must know, and as all rational beings who glance into the modern religious world must behold.

Who first applied to any group of persons the word "fundamentalists," we do not know. Who first applied to another group the term "modernists," likewise we are uninformed.

If the Fundamentalists so self-styled themselves, they by that act provoked animosity and discord and dissension by the implication that they have a monopoly on things that are fundamental—religiously speaking. It would be the same as saying to the other group that they are nothing fundamental in their religious life, hopes and aspirations. The others would resent that.

If the Modernists so self-styled themselves, they committed a like and an equal crime. It would seem that this latter group would damn everything of the past, and declare that only the new and modern is worth anything.

If one group gave to the other the names by which they are now commonly known, the implications are the same, only the baneful interpretations of "fundamentalists" and "modernists" come from the enemy in each case.

And we say "enemy" purposely and with an understanding of the meaning of the term. Both of these religious groups worship the same God, shun the same evils and hope for the same ultimate glory. Yet the quibbling which started over words has grown into a mighty warfare, with intolerance and unreason as their king and queen, sitting on the throne of their prejudice and unforgiveness.

Each calls the other extreme, as if being extreme is a gigantic crime. The reaction from being extreme is temperance, reason and sober judgment, and when the reaction comes, as come it must in time, then those virtues will displace intolerance and unreason.

Both sides are sincere, yet neither side will grant that virtue to the other. Both sides are so hot-headed that they forget and lose the opportunity, yea, the duty, of being brotherly.

The whole controversy has its locus in the question of the modus operandi of Creation. Neither, in the last analysis, deny divine creation, but they quibble over the manner in which the God they both worship effected the original work—as if it were either a solvable question or a question of really serious moment. Just exactly how came man here—and all the races of men—neither side knows, and in quibbling over that matter, they—both sides—lose sight of two other much more weighty and more significant facts: The first, that man is actually here, answering present, ready to be evangelized, but neglected; and the other fact is that man has a destiny. And neither the Fundamentalist nor the Modernist had one thing to do enter with man being here or with the laws, as old as man, that determine his destiny.

If the warfare continues, as it probably will, then in a short time people will have the ancient route on the one hand and the modern route on the other to Heaven, which is about the same as saying that they will have no route at all, for Christ, we believe, whom both sides take as their authority, said that "no man cometh unto the Father but by me," and as one on the outside looks at the question, there is mighty little Christ in either Fundamentalism and the spirit of Fundamentalism or in Modernism or the spirit of Modernism.

Will it not be necessary, for the poor, ignorant layman, who is neither theologian nor scientist, to abandon both the "ancient" and the "modern" routes and come direct to Christ if he would see the Father?

We would say to both Fundamentalist and Modernist: "Be not the first by whom the New is tried; Nor yet the last to lay the Old aside."

STUCK BY RAILS

When communities may have both motor and rail service all is lovely, but when the choice must be made, that is something else. Recently two trade areas in Oklahoma had to choose between buses, trucks and railways, and they chose railways. The lines concerned were the Fort Smith & Southwestern and the Oklahoma City, Ada & Atoka. When the railway commission made it plain that installation of a truck line probably would mean the end of the roads, business men and others declared their preference for railways.

HERE IS ONE WAY TO MAKE TAXES HIGHER

Suppose a candidate were to run for office on this platform, suggests the Texas Public Service Information Bureau:

"If elected I promise to increase the taxes of each family eight dollars a year."

How many votes would he get? But taxes would have to be raised if electric light and power companies were owned by cities, states, or the national government. For such politically owned companies pay no taxes, while the electric light and power companies under their present ownership and public regulation pay taxes of one hundred and fifty million dollars a year.

This is more than eight dollars for every family in the United States.

It is better for the government to govern and let business be run by business men.

Particularly when the business men have been able to keep the cost of their products down in the very years when the average cost of all other commodities has risen sixty-five per cent.

That is what the business men who run the electrical utilities have been able to do.

YOUNG GIRL SUCCUMBS TO APPENDICITIS

The body of Lois Myers, 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Myers, of the McClung district, was laid to rest in the Lubbock cemetery yesterday afternoon. Services were held at the Rix undertaking parlors with the Rev. W. A. Bowen officiating.

The little girl took ill last Tuesday at her home and was rushed to the West Texas hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, but her condition was such that the surgeons could not save her life.

She is survived by her parents and four brothers. Relatives from Truett and Fisher county and Knox county arrived yesterday to attend the funeral.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Texas 21st State as To Health Finances

The Texas State Board of Health stands 21st on the list of states as to financial support according to compilations printed in Public Health Reports issued by the United States Public Health Service.

The state of Pennsylvania heads the list with the amount of $2,260,000 appropriated for the use of its state board of health each fiscal year. Two other state boards of health are in the millionaire class, these being Massachusetts and New York, with appropriations of $1,812,000 and $1,434,970 respectively for each fiscal year.

States having approximately a half million or more for public health work are: North Carolina, Ohio, Illinois and California. Nevada has the smallest appropriation of any state, only $8800 being allowed for yearly health work.

Texas has a yearly available fund of $187,140.93, while Rhode Island, with an area no larger than an average Texas county, has $95,500 available for yearly health work.

MAY BE ONLY TWO IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

POLITICAL WISEACRES PREDICT "MA"—Managed by Jim—AND LYNCH DAVIDSON WILL BE ONLY GUBERNATORIAL ENTRIES FOR 1926.

Austin, Sept. 25.—A two-handed battle royal for the gubernatorial honors in 1926, with Lynch Davidson of Houston and Jim Ferguson knight errant for Mrs. Ferguson, the two contestants, seems in the offing. With Lee Satterwhite, Whit Davidson, Eugene Blount and half a dozen other possible candidates out of the way and with the announcement of Wizard Evans that the clan will not take part in the race the field rapidly is being narrowed down to only two candidates.

The Fewer, the Hotter.

Should there be only two in the race it would be for the first time in several years that the gubernatorial sweepstakes has had such a small field, but the race probably would be hotter than when there are a number of entries.

There would be but one issue in the race—Fergusonism. All of Texas would be lined up in two camps—for and against Ferguson.

A general realization that such will be the issue seems largely the deterrent force that is keeping the other possible candidates out of the race. They know that the more in the field the better it will be for Ferguson and the less chance each individual will have. They know that Lynch Davidson has been a candidate since he was barely nosed out last year and that he has the determination and the means to stay in the race as well as the demonstrated strength to justify his making the race. Consequently the others feel that to get in at this time would but reduce Davidson's chances of beating Ferguson and would not help their own cause.

There is only one other possible candidate who might develop any strength at all and he is Dan Moody, the attorney general. But several forces are at work against Moody's favorable entry into the race.

First of these is the fact that he has just been elected to state office, has had less than a year to prove his ability, and has had no executive or economic training to fit him for the governorship.

Should Moody make the race for governor without resigning from his present office he would be assailed for neglecting his duties while campaigning, for drawing the taxpayers' money while engaged in seeking another job at the hands of the taxpayers. Should he resign to make the race he would have to see his office filled by an appointee of the Fergusons, and Jim Ferguson would be certain to use this in the campaign as a demonstration of Moody's faith in the administration. It is well known in political circles that Moody is being urged by his closest friends to keep out of the race and give the anti-Ferguson forces an opportunity to center their strength behind one candidate. Ferguson has repeatedly tried to bait Moody into the race and his followers are subtly trying to get him in, hoping to split the strength of the opposition.

As between Davidson and the Fergusons the former has much the easier position. The withdrawal of Whit Davidson from the possibility of making the race assures the Houston man many thousands of votes of "either Davidson" people who would have supported either had the other not been in the race last year. Davidson probably has not lost any of his 1924 supporters, and the combined vote of Whit Davidson with his own, plus the general anti-Ferguson vote, gives him a solid position.

The Case of Lynch.

The Houston man has no major problems of any sort confronting him. He has no apology to make for offering for the office. He is known to be rapidly as possible retiring from all business connections, following the policy of the president's cabinet members in that respect. He has the means to make the campaign and to live as governor without having to go in debt to supplement the $4,000 a year paid as a salary by the state—while several former governors have left the office heavily in debt. In fact, his only problem is to get enough votes to win.

The Fergusons are not fortunately situated. In the first place, there stares them in the face the promise which Mrs. Ferguson made last year that if elected, so that the family name could be vindicated, she would not seek office again. That promise more than offsets any value to her of the two term tradition of the democratic party. Besides, it would not be, in fact, her second, but the fourth term of the Fergusons should she be re-elected.

It seems the plan of the Fergusons is to overcome their promise by announcing that if their administration is assailed they will seek vindication of the acts of the administration by carrying the campaign to the people for re-election. Jim Ferguson having virtually so said in a recent interview in North Texas. When saying that Jim Ferguson knew that his wife's administration, as that of any governor, certainly would be assailed by its enemies, and therefore it was a virtual announcement that she would be a candidate. This is further strengthened by letters which have been mailed out by Ferguson asking for poll tax lists and the names of one supporter for every 25 votes in each precinct.

The 1924 Verdict.

When Mrs. Ferguson overwhelmingly defeated Felix Robertson last year, it was generally agreed among the political wiseacres at the time that it was not a victory for Ferguson but a defeat for the clan, and there seems no reason to change that view now. With the issue solely that of Fergusonism next year a hot and bitter campaign is in sight with the odds considerably in favor of Lynch Davidson.—Wichita Falls Record News.

Slaton Community Fair

Slaton's Commercial Club is taking steps towards the locating and building of permanent fair grounds which will greatly relieve the past situation.

Bywatching the growth and development of both city and community, it is guaranteed evidence that a fair is one of the great motive powers that develop both the spirit of co-operation and service.

After the holding of two fairs under the supervision and direction of J. J. Ross it is evident that no bigger business could be had for our community than the business of affairs. It is that business that concentrates and centralizes that great spirit of progress and development.

It is that power of organic production that inspires and restores confidence in both prosperity and economy. It is the one great business that portrays the life and citizenship of our community. It acts as a mirror that reflects the civic pride and the civic build and inspires the people to greater and bigger propositions.

A community fair is the greatest selling agencies of all sales corporations. It is at the fair that you have bought and sold that great spirit of co-operation and service. It brings out and exhibits the values of both commercial and productive life.

It is the one great business that opens the avenues of progress and development into the great highways of commercial life. It is at the fair that we come in contact with our fellow man and it is at the fair that we learn the great lessons of progress and thrift and it is at the fair that we are shown the great possibilities and the great wealth that comes from the store house of the agriculture department. It is here that our young people behold the labor and the fruit of our service and it is at the fair that our younger people are inspired that sense of scientific power and development.

Every man and woman from every walk of life should take part in the making of our fair. It will build community life, it will bring out the development and growth of our country, will speak in terms of citizenship.

Let every community boost and be in the building of this fair.

J. J. Ross, Sec'y.

LITTLE THINGS

Only a little shriveled seed—
It might be a flower or grass or weed:
Only a box of earth on the edge
Of a narrow, dusty window ledge:
Only a few scant summer showers:
Only a few clear shining hours—
That was all. Yet God could make
Out of these, for a sick child's sake,
A blossom as wondrous fair and sweet
As ever broke at an angel's feet.

Only a life of barren pain,
Wet with sorrowful tears for rain;
Warmed sometimes by a wandering gleam
Of joy that seemed but a happy dream;
A life as common and brown and bare
As the box of earth in the window there.

Yet it bore at last the precious bloom
Of a perfect soul in a narrow room—
Pure as the snowy leaves that fold
Over the flower's heart of gold.
—Henry Van Dyke.

Newly Weds Given Shower

Mrs. S. W. Ball one of our recent brides was honored by a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. J. H. Brewer on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Brewer had asked the ladies to come at three and shortly after that hour the guests were asked to listen to some advice given by a few of the ladies on "How to be happy tho' married." These ridiculous pieces of advice were followed by a poem to be written by the guests, each adding a line, dedicating it to the bride and groom. This proved to be very amusing and when it reached Miss Whitaker she was asked to read the entire poem. Mrs. Brewer then announced that Dr. and Mrs. Ball were going on a trip around the world and wanted to bring back something for each guest. The guests were to select a place and an article to buy from the same initial beginning with the letter "A" and so on through the alphabet. This too caused much merriment but the climax came when Mrs. Ball was asked to empty the pockets of a suit of clothes to get ready for the cleaner who was waiting outside. A dummy stuffed, was brought in and from this dummy the shower of gifts were drawn.

The hostess then worked the guests to the dining room where a buffet lunch was served to about thirty-five guests. Mrs. S. A. Peavy toasted the bride; Mrs. Bunnell the groom and Miss Whitaker to "those left behind."
Mrs. Ball was given many beautiful and useful things to be used in their apartment.

They are keeping house with Mr.
and Mrs. O. Z. Ball in their beautiful new home.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any constable of Lubbock county—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon James F. Chaffee, Sr., I. W. Nicklas and his wife, Tressie Nicklas; J. W. Nicklas, I. W. Nickler, J. L. McNeerling and his wife, M. F. McNeerling; R. W. Stephens and his wife, Mrs. Fannie M. Stephens; M. G. Leverett and his wife, Mary E. Leverett, and J. H. P. Duncan, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county of general circulation, which has been regularly and continuously published in Lubbock county, Texas, for at least one year, next preceding the date of the first publication of this notice, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Lubbock county, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the third Monday in October, A. D. 1925, the same being the 19th day of October, A. D. 1925, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 21st day of September, A. D. 1925, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 2282, wherein W. E. Martin is plaintiff and James F. Chaffee, Sr., T. W. Nicklas and his wife, Tressie Nicklas; J. W. Nicklas, I. W. Nickler, J. L. McNeerling and his wife, M. F. McNeerling; R. W. Stephens and his wife, Mrs. Fannie M. Stephens; M. G. Leverett and his wife, Mary E. Leverett, and J. H. P. Duncan are defendants, and said petition alleging that on June 20, 1922, plaintiff conveyed by deed to James F. Chaffee, Sr., lot 11 in block 99 in the original town and East Park addition to Slaton, Lubbock county, Texas, retaining the vendor's lien for $1000, due on or before three years after its date, payable $30 per month, with ten per cent per annum interest, and ten per cent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, on which note there is now owing on the principal $749.10 and interest from February 1, 1923, past due and unpaid, and which note is placed in the hands of an attorney and suit instituted thereon to enforce collection thereof.

That thereafter defendant, James F. Chaffee, Sr., conveyed by deed lots 10 and 11 in block 99 in the original town and East Park addition to the town of Slaton, Lubbock county, Texas, to I. W. Nicklas, but by mutual mistake the name of the grantee was spelled I. W. Nickler, and in other places in the chain of title as J. W. Nicklas, but all names referring to and intending to refer to I. W. Nicklas as the true and correct grantee, and retained the vendor's lien to secure payment of one note for $630, dated October 7, 1920, due $30 per month, with ten per cent per annum interest, payable monthly, signed by I. W. Nicklas and payable to the order of James F. Chaffee, Sr., at Slaton, Texas, which note was sold, indorsed and delivered to plaintiff, for value, before maturity, in due course, and on which note there is now owing, past due and unpaid, the sum of $119.57 principal and interest from February 1, 1923, which note provides for payment of ten per cent additional on principal and interest owing if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, and after default said notes were placed in the hands of an attorney and this suit caused to be instituted to effect collection thereof.

That defendant I. W. Nicklas assumed and promised to pay $880 of the principal owing on said $1000 note as part of the purchase money for said lots.
That defendants I. W. Nicklas and wife, Tressie Nicklas, on November 8, 1922, conveyed by deed said lots to M. G. Leverett, who, as part of the purchase money therefor assumed and promised to pay said $630 note and $820 of the principal of said $1000 note, but has no, done so. That on November 17, 1922, defendants M. G. Leverett and wife, Mary E. Leverett, conveyed by deed said lots to defendant J. H. P. Duncan, who assumed and agreed to pay the assumed obligations of the said M. G. Leverett as part of the purchase money for said property, and in addition thereto executed to defendant M. G. Leverett as third vendor's lien and note for $650, dated November 17, 1922, due in 12 monthly installments of $15 each and a 43rd installment of $20, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum, payable monthly. That such note and lien is inferior, subsequent and subordinate to the liens owned and held by plaintiff, and plaintiff asks for the cancellation thereof as against his superior debts and liens against said property.
That the defendants are seeking to claim or assert some right title or interest in and to said real estate and premises, but plaintiff says that if any of the defendants have any right, title or interest in said property, same is inferior and subordinate to his superior title as evidenced by said vendor's lien and he is entitled to foreclosure of his said vendor's liens against all the defendants on said property.
Plaintiff prays for judgment for the amount owing on the $1000 note against defendant James F. Chaffee, Sr., principal and interest and attorney's fees, and against the defendants I. W. Nicklas, M. G. Leverett and J. H. P. Duncan on both the notes sued on, principal, interest and attorney's fees; for reformation and correction of the deed from James F. Chaffee, Sr., to I. W. Nicklas, recorded in Vol. 70, page 220 of the deed records of Lubbock county, Texas, as to the name of the grantee therein, and reformation and correction of the deed from I. W. Nicklas and wife, Tressie Nicklas, to M. G. Leverett, recorded in Vol. 78, page 23 of the deed records of Lubbock county, Texas, as to the name of the grantor therein where the same appears by mistake as J. W. Nicklas; for foreclosure of his vendor's liens against each and all of the defendants, and that the said two lots of land be decreed to be sold according to law; that the sheriff or other officer executing the order of sale shall place the purchaser of said property sold under order of sale in possession thereof within thirty days after the day of sale, for costs of suit, and for general and special relief, in law and equity, to which he may be entitled.

Herein fail not but have before said court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, on this 21st day of September, A. D. 1925.
(Seal) LOUIE F. MOORE,
Clerk, District court, Lubbock county, Texas.

NO; THE OPERATOR IS NOT ASLEEP

(Editorial in Cleveland Press.)
You have heard it said. Perhaps you have said it yourself. It is one of the supposedly smart things that people say—the smart alecky remark about the telephone operator when you don't get quickly the number you want.
In Columbus, Mr. Henry Gunnett was working on a car in his garage, the doors being closed. He was overcome with carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust. Monoxide poison acts quickly. The victim felt himself fainting and stumbled to the telephone and removed the receiver. As he did so he collapsed with a moan and was unconscious.

Miss Emma Kuhlwein was the telephone operator who answered "Number please," when the light appeared on her board. It was one light among hundreds in the course of a hard day's work. But the operator heard the groans just as she answered the signal, and she received no other response to her repeated calls. She knew that something was wrong.

Miss Kuhlwein called the assistant chief operator and presently the chief operator joined the consultation. The three could have said: "Well, it's none of our business. Let's keep the traffic moving and let that one light burn." But they didn't. One of them called the police department while the other two checked over the numbers and located the address. The police emergency car was ready to start when the address was flashed, and Mr. Gunnett's life was saved.

Telephone company records are full of such incidents.

In all fairness, don't use that smart quip again about the telephone operator. It is not true, and it is rather cruel.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

That some wiley office holders and office seekers are continually trying to make the people believe that Public Service Companies are great big hogs and octopuses.

That they seem to think that the easiest way to hold the office they now have, or to ride into a new one, is to go after Public Service Companies as though they were stupendous grafters.

That the people are waking up to the selfish destructive motives of these agitators and "putting the screws" to them in dead earnest.

That some politicians are putting up a howl about this or that, trying to divert attention away from their performances; they are being sorely chastened by public opinion. They act as though they had picked up a hot brick and couldn't find a place to set it down.

Men who hold public offices are paid to perform certain duties and their time should be put in performing those duties.

Office holders who spend the time the public pays for in agitating something for their personal benefit, should be whacked on the side of the head by public opinion.

Office holders and office seekers who want to talk on subjects outside of their regular work should use the advertising columns of the newspapers; that is the proper place through which to talk to the people; give the street corners and soap boxes a rest.—E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

Pains Very Severe

"I suffered from womanly troubles which grew worse and worse as the months went by," says Mrs. L. H. Cantrell, of R. F. D. 3, Gainesville, Georgia.
"I frequently had very severe pains. These were so bad that I was forced to go to bed and stay there. It seemed to me my back would come in two."

CARDUI For Female Troubles

"I taught school for a while, but my health was so bad I would have to stay out sometimes. This went on till I got so bad I didn't know what to do.
"One day I read about the merits of Cardui, and as I had some friends who had been helped by it, I thought I would try it. I began to get better after I had taken half a bottle. I decided to keep on and give it a thorough trial and I did. I took in all about 12 bottles and now I am perfectly well. I do not suffer any pain and can do all my housework."

Chevrolet Motor Co. Makes New Record

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—The Chevrolet Motor company built 55,865 motor cars and trucks during September, a new record for that month and only 378 fewer than the highest production month in the history of the company. Ordinarily sales and consequently production are expected to decrease during the latter part of the year. However, the demand for Chevrolet cars which has held production at high figures throughout the year continues undiminished. As a result the schedule for the present month contemplates the building of more than 54,500 cars and trucks.

August deliveries to dealers in the United States alone were 41,500, an August record. This figure is exclusive of cars shipped to foreign countries. During September deliveries in the United States increased to approximately 44,500, placing September second only to April and May of this year and exceeding the domestic deliveries for June, July and August respectively.

"I am proud of these records for two reasons," said Charles F. Barth, vice-president in charge of production.

"My first reason is that since March the Chevrolet production has remained consistently at 50,000 or more without the usual seasonal fluctuations. This indicates that the automobile industry is becoming established upon a regular year-round demand.

"My second reason is that the September production proved conclusively the loyalty and capacity of the Chevrolet manufacturing organization. Increasing demand for cars from the Chevrolet dealers made it necessary early in September to increase the September production schedule nearly 7,000, the new schedule calling for 53,165 cars and trucks. A production increase of that magnitude is a severe test of any manufacturing organization. The sales department would have desired us to increase the production schedule even more sharply. The results exceeded our highest expectations. The loyal workers in the Chevrolet factories, most of them veterans who are proud of their jobs and proud of their product, responded to a man. They came through with the record September production of 55,865 which was 2700 cars more than we had asked for even under the revised schedule."
