

The Slaton Slatonite

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY IN THE INTEREST OF SLATON AND SLATONITES

Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas, Friday, July 15, 1938

BOOST SLATON AND WATCH
IT GROW

Number 47

Absentee Voting Closes Soon

Next Tuesday Is Deadline Set

The County Clerk will help you with your absentee voting. If you are to be away on election day, don't lose your opportunity to express your choice. Go to the County Clerk's office in Lubbock, with your Poll Tax Receipt or Exemption Certificate and cast your vote, and your vacation or business trip will not bar you from the polls.

Or, if you can't go there you may write for a ballot to be sent to where you will be and vote by mail. But the closing date for absentee voting is soon upon us. July 19th, next Tuesday is the last day allowed by law for such accommodation for those who want their votes to be counted. It's not too late, but you'd better hurry.

Kessels Are Back From The West

Abe Kessel and his family are back from their Western trip during which they took in the Rotary International Convention at San Francisco and other sights of interest on the West Coast.

Abe himself has been out of town most of the time since his return due to the fact that his store in Roswell, New Mexico, was destroyed by fire while the family were on their trip. Mrs. Kessel reports a most delightful time on the trip, because of the scenery of Western America, the great Rotary International Convention and the fact that the whole Kessel family could be together for the trip. She found much more enjoyment in this spring's tour than in the European trip she made two years ago.

Mrs. C. H. Martin Killed In Crash

Thrown from her husband's car when it was overturned in a traffic collision early Sunday night 12 miles east of Lubbock, Mrs. C. H. Martin, 57, of Slaton was fatally injured.

She died at 11 o'clock, approximately four hours after the mishap. Her husband was only jarred and suffered a few scratches.

Funeral rites were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Rix Funeral Chapel in Lubbock by Rev. Perry J. Ausmus, Primitive Baptist Pastor of Lubbock, and burial was in a Lubbock cemetery.

Other than the husband, there were no survivors in the immediate family. There are three sisters, Mrs. L. L. Drummheller of Whiteface, Mrs. C. Martin of Slaton and Miss Dora Casey of Lubbock, and four brothers, Captain Guy Casey, a fireman, Arthur and C. E. Casey, all of Lubbock, and T. C. Casey of Abilene.

Martin is an employee of the Santa Fe railroad company at Slaton. He and Mrs. Martin had lived here 18 years.

Mrs. W. E. McLaughlin Dies At Dallas

Mrs. W. E. McLaughlin of Ralls died in a Dallas hospital Monday of injuries received in an automobile accident June 26. Mrs. McLaughlin was widely known among West Texas Pioneers, having lived in Crosby County since 1905.

She is survived by three children, J. Edd, and Marvin McLaughlin of Ralls, and Mrs. A. S. Lewis of Dallas. J. Edd is well known throughout Texas and especially in West Texas for his activity in banking and Rotary circles, having just concluded a year as Governor of this the 127th District of Rotary International.

DOCTOR HUCKABAY INSTALLS OPTOMETRY EQUIPMENT

Dr. W. L. Huckabay has recently installed equipment for the practice of optometry in his office on West Garza. He is qualified to practice in this field and adds it to his practice of dentistry, both of which fields he is authorized to practice in by state laws. His card in this issue invites your patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Yuzbick and family spent Sunday in Lovington, New Mexico with friends.

Robert Lee Stone

Robert Lee Stone, senior agricultural education student at Texas Tech, is one of ten men to receive Sears Roebuck scholarships for next year because of superior scholarship and other excellence in Tech last term.

M. E. Parsonage Begun This Week

Six-Room Brick Veneer To House Local Pastor

Work was begun this week on the new Methodist Parsonage on the beautiful lots at the corner of Lubbock and Eleventh streets just west of the Church building.

The building which is to be a six-room brick veneer cottage will be rushed to completion by the building Committee headed by W. R. Wilson. Other members of the Committee are E. R. Legg, Vice-chairman, J. H. Brewer, Mrs. Fred Whitehead, and Mrs. O. D. McClintock.

Local Methodists are proud of this evidence of progress which is in addition to the recent installation of a Hammond Organ, and brings the physical equipment of the Church up to a point of highest effectiveness.

T. W. Montgomery

For Representative

In a statement given the Slatonite yesterday T. W. Montgomery said: "I am a native Texan, age 38, educated in Texas public schools. I earned my B. A. degree from Texas Tech college in 1931. I have been teaching 12 years, ten years within this representative district.

"I am announcing in the interest of the common people, to give an undivided service.

"After teaching government history economics and commercial law in high school, after observing the affairs of our state, I realize the duties and responsibility of this state office."

Mr. Montgomery's platform is:

1. Strict rigid economy in the administration of government.
2. Effective execution of the old age pension by tax on sulphur, natural resources.
3. Abolish pension board and liquor board and give administration of old age pension to local officials with state supervision.
4. Balance the state budget without additional taxes.
5. Support public schools and college by $22 per capita, resource revenue to be put in school fund, raise the old age teacher pension law.
6. Abolish the poll tax law, have free registration like 41 states to bring out old voters to have a complete democracy.
7. Have $4,000 tax exemption law on homestead to encourage the owner. (See T. W. MONTGOMERY page 4)

Pioneer Couple Celebrate Here

McDonalds Reach 30th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McDonald celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary Sunday, July 10th at McKenzie Park, Lubbock. The following relatives being present:

Eunice McDonald of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDonald of Southland, Mrs. H. J. Wright and Leo May Wright of San Benito, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Wright of San Benito, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McDonald of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDonald and three sons Francis, Hoover and Micky of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. J. P. McDonald and Jack McDonald of Bovina, Mrs. J. I. Clements of Las Vegas, N. M.

J. S. McDonald and family are now living at 125 South 5th street, Slaton. They moved to Slaton June 16th, 1911 when the town of Slaton was opened for settlement.

J. S. McDonald is an employee of the Santa Fe Railway at Slaton, being one of the five who opened the depot for service June 16, 1911.

Louie F. Moore For District Clerk

Louie F. Moore, candidate for district clerk, today is making his formal statement relative to his campaign and his candidacy subject to action of the democratic party in the primary election. His statement to the voters of Lubbock county:

"In seeking the office of district clerk, I do not come before the people as an inexperienced applicant. Five years' experience as a deputy county clerk, coupled with the experience gleaned as district clerk, years ago when the remuneration was very small has afforded me an opportunity to learn the intricate duties, and to appreciate the importance of, and to know the responsibilities of the office; and, therefore enables me to render the type of service to which the public is entitled. After all, there is no substitute for experience, especially in the district clerk's office, which involves not only routine, but legal and clerical knowledge and training as well.

"My solicitation of your vote and influence in the coming primaries is prompted by a desire to obtain promotion or advancement at your hands. I realize that the office I seek belongs to the people, and my sincere wish is that my experience and acquaintance with the voters of Lubbock county, will merit favorable consideration at your hands.

"Thanking you, I am, 'Yours For MOORE Service,'"

Louie F. Moore

Voting Precincts Changed In City

Dr. E. C. Foster, chairman of local voting precinct No. 10, announces for the convenience of voters next week that consolidations have been made in the entire county and new arrangements have been made for the accommodation of voters.

The old precinct No. 24 is now No. 10 and will vote in the City Hall, East Side, formerly nos. 25 and 26 are included in No. 8, and will vote at the City Hall. The new No. 10 will vote at West Ward school building. The old No. 5 will vote in the City Hall; it is the new No. 9.

The new arrangements are part of a county wide plan which has cut the number of polling places in the county from 32 to 18.

PEOPLE OF SLATON AND NEAR COMMUNITIES:

I am exceedingly desirous of your support for Representative but am exhausting my physical powers in canvassing where I am not known so well and trust you know me favorably enough to support me without my personal solicitation.

Your Friend,
W. P. FLORENCE

Leroy Holt is visiting friends in Dallas this week.

J. W. Tarlton

Seeks Superintendency

J. W. Tarlton of 2017 Fourteenth street, Lubbock, announced for county superintendent of public instruction in Lubbock county, subject to Democratic primaries.

In a formal statement, he said:

Formal Statement Given

I was a citizen of Cleburne, Johnson county, by birth; a citizen of Fisher county by chance, but I am a citizen of Lubbock county by choice.

I taught school 16 years, starting in a one-teacher school and finishing as a mathematic teacher in Sweetwater High school. I was head teacher in all except Sweetwater.

I served as county superintendent of Fisher county four years, not running for a third term.

Reasons Are Given

I want this office for the following reasons: I enjoy teaching and like county administration. I like to work for and serve the public. I am qualified by experience. I need the salary it pays to finish the education of my three girls, two now in Texas Techno- (see J. W. TARLTON page 4)

H. B. BRYAN

H. B. Bryan, now serving as tax assessor-collector, by appointment, today issued the following statement regarding his candidacy for a first elective term subject to the wish of the voters at the democratic primary, July 23:

"Remembering at all times that the tax assessor-collector's office belongs to you, the people of Lubbock County, and knowing that you are entitled to the very best of service, my creed has always been 'A Friendly Service to All.'"

"Firmly believing that real economic and efficient service in the tax assessor-collector's office can best be rendered by one who has had actual experience, and having faithfully served the citizenship of Lubbock County the past several years as a deputy, and having been appointed to serve as your tax assessor-collector ten months ago on September 1, 1937, together with meeting other requirements, I feel that I am justified in asking for a continuation of this promotion.

"I am deeply appreciative of your kindness in the past and grateful that I have been entrusted with the responsibility of this important branch of your county government. Being conscientiously interested in and greatly enthusiastic about the work of this important office, I have made a thorough study of the many duties of the office and the laws under which they operate, and have employed deputies that are capable, willing and courteous and whom, I believe, have at all times efficiently met the demands made upon them.

(See H. B. BRYAN page 4)

Paving To Begin On West Lubbock

Ordinance Is Passed For Ten-Block Job

The city ordinance authorizing the paving of West Lubbock street from the intersection of Tenth street to the city line was passed at a meeting of the City Commission Monday night, Mayor Hood stated in an interview Tuesday afternoon.

Property owners will be assessed $1.81 per front foot or $90.50 for a fifty foot lot, for the standard curb and apron, a compressed caliche base and triple coating of crushed rock and asphalt, such as was laid on West Lynn.

Contracts have been let for gravel and sand for the curbing, but no other contracts have been let at this date. Contracts with property owners have not all been completed, but it is expected that work can begin by the first of next week at the latest.

J. H. Brewer Heads Local Rotarians

New Committees Are Announced

The Rotary Club of Slaton at the regular meeting last week installed officers for the year 1938-39. J. H. Brewer is president, Charlie Taylor, vice-president; Allan J. Payne, secretary-treasurer and editor; Jim Sargent, Sgt-at-arms; Mrs. Allen Ferrell, pianist and Webber Williams song leader. Directors are Nick Carter, Leonard Herral and Webber Williams.

Committees for the year are: Aims and Objects, Jim Elliott and Allan J. Payne; Club and Community Service, J. D. Holt, Webber Williams; Membership, Gordon Loveless, Herschel Crawford, Ollie Crow; Attendance, Lonnie Lively, Jim Sargent; Fellowship, J. O. Quattlebaum, C. C. Hoffman, jr.; Rural-Urban, Merle Nelson, Vincent Nesbitt; Vocational, Bill Cates, Rob't. Scott; Finance, Claud Anderson, W. H. (Bill) Smith; International Relations, Abe Kessel, John W. Hood; Public Information, Herschel Crawford, Charlie Taylor; Boys Work, Nick Carter, John W. Hood; Rotary Education, Jimmy Rankin, Harry Jacobson; Classification, Scott Allen, Leonard Herral, G. M. Blackwell.

Mrs. Ruth Baxley Buried Tuesday

Mrs. Ruth Baxley, 29, of 725 South Eleventh street died July 11th, following an illness of several months. She was buried in Englewood cemetery after funeral services at the First Methodist Church, conducted by the local pastor Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, jr.

Mrs. Baxley is survived by her husband, Lloyd M. Baxley and an infant daughter of eighteen months. No other members of the immediate family survive.

Mrs. Birdie Acker Buried Thursday

Mrs. Birdie Acker, 72, died at the home of her brother, W. E. Smart, Wednesday night July 13. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. F. Ferguson officiating.

C. A. PORTER IS BUILDING

Among other new buildings going up in Slaton are four modern cottages on the site of the old Hood and Strasser Yard on West Lynn street.

The demand for convenient homes in Slaton is so marked that these houses will be welcome additions to the town.

At Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Walton a daughter, Viola Mae, July 7th, seven pounds six ounces.

for the...
ent with...
privat please...
turn money...
fail to...
ROSS PHAR...
ch Suffe...
Smith, who...
Hotel Lubbo...
er fifteen...
able, but...
rial now...
Tons are...
Drug Store...
iron-clad...
be please...
ne XXVI
A
E E K
A TIME
by J. M. RANKIN
Plate...
PROGRESSES
from the great negro...
uskegee Institute, gives us...
hears that the first six...
1938 has passed without a...
Timbers...
ching in the United States...
the first time since records...
kept that no lynching has...
red for the first six months...
Texans can be proud that...
vidence of civilization ap...
as well as to all other parts...
ited States.
ACREAGE DOWN
at government report of...
cottage for this year, published...
Night...
ay, shows plantings slightly...
twenty-seven million acres...
only 78% of last years aver...
as has nearly ten million...
against thirteen and a third...
pany, 1932. We can't tell whether...
Track... ent program can solve the...
Also... that if cotton growing gets...
inued bad economics, other... in the United States will be...
and Texas farmers doing what...
urged on them for many...
hat is, get off the one-crop...
Then the hog raisers won't be...
hip pork to Texas, and the...
won't be able to ship Texas...
the corn belt and feed them...
mpetition with Texas feeders...
dairy farmers will find Texas...
their milk and butter and... arkets with competition that... e the hide off. This may be...
exas ought to do. Surely this...
Texas can do, but may not... e forced to it. Cotton... is down. So what?
E CARDOZO IS DEAD
Law is what the Supreme...
ays it is," remarked a great...
Now one who has been...
interpret the supreme law of...
as millions thought it ought... terpreted, is gone. Mr. Justice... in N. Cardozo is dead. The... men of unquestioned sincer...
high learning have differed...
interpretations of the consti...
ave led some to wonder about...
at the fact that some have de...
favor of a liberal government... liberal interpretation of the...
ion, can make us believe that...
the makers of our constitution... or that document to be of the...
by the people and FOR the...
It will be a rare chance if...
Cardozo's place can be filled... so valuable as he has been...
ica.
TO CUT WEEDS
President didn't come through...
We should have been glad to... im pass through. We should...
ed to have the chance to see...
ecutive, and to have the little...
are most interested in to see... so we doubtless would have...
up somewhat around the...
and alleys in anticipation of...
t. We reckon nobody owns...
these lots, and the rest of us...
aid we'd be trespassing if we...
weeds and hauling of the old...
es and rubbish. We don't...
President Roosevelt will come... here on his way home, but...
ht to cut the weeds anyway.
HER STARVE
olini to a gathering of Italian... s this week that Italy would... never buy wheat from the... acies. Rather would they...
said he, than lower themselves...
ing wheat raised by the wicked... who still believe a modern... can govern themselves. This... talk for a dictator. He will...
rve. Neither will the farmers... even in Italy. But there are...
illions in Italy who will go...
this winter if the Italian dic... tators by his declaration: Farm...
n't want everything, but they...
nt a fair price for their pro...
Italian farmers doubtless re... that the government makes it...
eat will bring a high price to... this year. But the dictator...
"rather" poor people would...
than that he should lose a lit...
A WEEK AT A TIME page 4)

Once upon a time—

Yep, once upon a time, back in the days of buggies and dirt roads your grandfather on his way to town would draw over to the side of the road, stop the rig and read a sale bill posted on a fence.

But times have changed

We whiz along the road today in our cars—no stopping to read some dinky handbill... We're going to town to buy something we read about in our newspaper.

For high speed results advertise in this paper

Alcorn Transfer AND STORAGE WAREHOUSE Local and Long Distance Hauling Phones 80-278J ALL KINDS OF STORAGE

ROCKWELL BROS. LUMBERMEN Phone 15

LUBBOCK Sanitarium & Clinic Medical, Surgical, Diagnostic

General Surgery Dr. J. T. Krueger Dr. J. H. Stiles Dr. Henrie E. Mast

Eye, Ear, Nose & Throat Dr. J. T. Hutchinson Dr. Ben B. Hutchinson Dr. E. M. Blake

Infants and Children Dr. M. C. Overton Dr. Arthur Jenkins

General Medicine Dr. J. P. Latimore Dr. H. C. Maxwell

Obstetrics Dr. O. R. Hand

Internal Medicine Dr. R. H. McCarty

X-Ray and Laboratory Dr. James D. Wilson

Resident Dr. J. K. Richardson

C. E. Hunt Supt. J. H. Felton Business Mgr.

X-Ray and Radium Pathological Laboratory School of Nursing

FOSTER FUNERAL HOME SLATON, TEXAS

Embalming and Funeral Directing Ambulance Service Phone 125 - Day or Night

Got Something You Want to Sell?

Most people have a piece of furniture, a farm implement, or something else which they have discarded and which they no longer want.

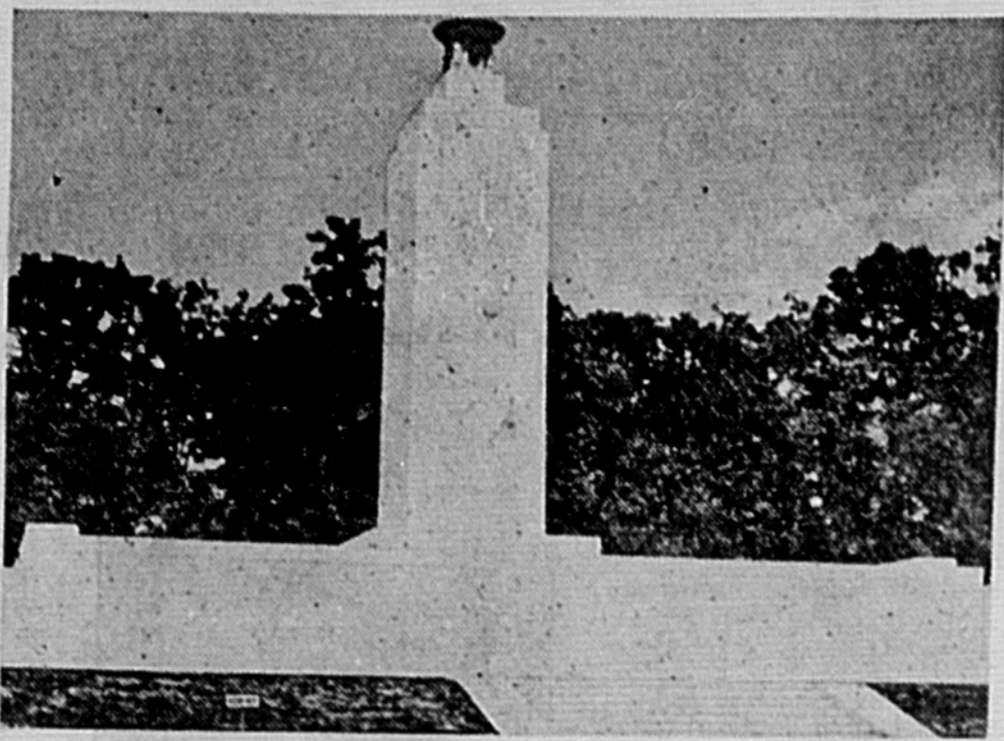

These things are put in the attic, or stored away in the barn, or left lying about, getting of less and less value each year.

WHY NOT SELL THEM? Somebody wants those very things which have become of no use to you. Why not try to find that somebody

BY PUTTING A WANT AD IN THIS NEWSPAPER?

News Review of Current Events

BLUE AND GRAY MEET Veterans of Gettysburg Celebrate Together on Field of the Crucial Civil War Battle

Here is the new Peace Memorial in the Gettysburg National Military park which was dedicated by President Roosevelt during the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, in which veterans of the Northern and Southern armies participated. On the top of the shaft burns "The Flame of Eternal Peace."

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Yanks and Johnny Rebs SEVENTY-FIVE years after they faced each other in deadly conflict, some 2,000 old soldiers gathered in friendly concert to celebrate the great Battle of Gettysburg. The Stars and Stripes and the Stars and Bars flew side by side on the once bloody field, and the veterans of the Northern and Southern armies that fought there in one of history's biggest battles wandered together over the hills and meadows or sat in their tented city, exchanging reminiscences and renewing old friendships.

The war department had done everything possible to make the now feeble old warriors comfortable and safe, and the Pennsylvania National Guard and Boy Scouts attended carefully to their every want. There were feasts, parades, and military displays in plenty, but the veterans were not called on to do the entertaining. They were to be entertained. In the Gettysburg National Military park, comprising the battlefield, had been erected a beautiful peace memorial, and President Roosevelt was there to dedicate it on the afternoon of July 3. At the top of the monument's shaft is a burner for natural gas that supplies "The Flame of Eternal Peace." This was kindled by the President as the climax of the day's celebration.

There were no re-enactments of battle scenes. The observance was all of peace, and peace and harmony of all the land breathed all through the talks made by Mr. Roosevelt and other speakers. From a common platform Commander-in-Chief Overton H. Mennet of the Grand Army of the Republic and Commander-in-Chief John M. Claypool of the United Confederate Veterans spoke to their comrades.

Politics in Relief CHAIRMAN SHEPPARD of the senate campaign funds committee put it up to the members of that body whether they should investigate charges that the WPA had increased relief wages in Kentucky and Oklahoma to aid the candidacies of Senators Barkley and Thomas.

Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins denied that the WPA has been made a political instrument in Kentucky. In a statement accompanied by exhaustive documentary evidence, Hopkins challenged 22 charges that his agency has subjected WPA workers to political pressure. He said the facts do not substantiate the charges, but reiterated his promises of summary and stringent action in all cases where political coercion could be proved.

"Every charge in which a WPA worker or official was named has been thoroughly investigated and documentary evidence conclusively establishes that out of more than a score of cases in which political activity was alleged, only two instances of improper conduct could be found," he said.

Hopkins' statement referred to a series of articles on the Kentucky senatorial primary fight between Alben W. Barkley, senate majority leader, and Gov. A. B. ("Happy") Chandler. The articles enumerated specific instances where, it was asserted, political pressure was being exerted on relief workers in behalf of Barkley.

Real Drive on Depression WITH the start of the new fiscal year the administration began what the President calls "the real drive on depression." In the coming fiscal year relief agencies, army and navy, public works departments and federal lending corporations may pour out approximately $8,500,000,000. Some of this money is returnable to the treasury. Administration officials said this huge sum—equal to more than $66 for every person in the nation—was needed because there are approximately 10,500,000 unemployed in the country. This estimate, furnished by a federal economist, was 4,500,000 higher than last October, when the recession's effect became visible.

Officials left little doubt they hope to get business positively on the up-grade by Labor day, although economists estimated it would take a year from the upturn to recover the ground lost since last summer.

Upholds Free Press PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT delivered two speeches in New York, on the site of the world's fair that is being built. First he spoke at the laying of the cornerstone of the federal building at the exposition after dabbling in cement with a silver trowel.

Then the Chief Executive appeared before a convention of the National Education association, and declared that the mission of America is to carry the torch of free thought and free learning in a world in which dictators have smothered the fires of freedom.

He did not mention Nazi Germany or Fascist Italy by name, but he condemned in most positive language such purges as burned libraries, exiled scientists, artists, musicians, writers and teachers, dispersed universities and censored news, literature and art.

"If in other lands the press is censored," Mr. Roosevelt declared, "we must redouble our efforts here to keep it free. If in other lands the eternal truths of the past are threatened by intolerance, we must provide a safe place here for their perpetuation."

In his address to the teachers the President warmly defended the spending of his administration on the ground that the outlays of federal money had increased national and human resources.

"The only real capital of a nation is its natural resources and its human beings," he said. "So long as we take care of and make the most of both of them we shall survive as a strong nation, a successful nation, and a progressive nation—whether or not the bookkeepers say other kinds of budgets are from time to time out of balance."

"This capital structure—natural resources and human beings—has to be maintained at all times. The plant has to be kept up and new capital put in yearly to meet increasing needs. If we skimp on that capital, if we exhaust our national resources and weaken the capacity of our human beings, then we shall go the way of all weak nations."

Strike at New York Fair MORE than 6,000 workers were affected by a general strike of construction men at the New York world's fair, called by the Building Trades and Construction council, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. All construction work was tied up except structural steel work. The strike was precipitated by a jurisdictional dispute.

Heads N. Y. Exchange WILLIAM McCHESNEY MARTIN of a St. Louis brokerage firm and chairman of the New York Stock exchange since last May was elected president of the exchange at a salary of $48,000 a year. His selection was the final step in the reorganization of the executive personnel of the exchange which was brought about through the insistence of the securities and exchange commission and the "liberal" group within the exchange membership.

Winners in Cake Recipe Contest

Some of the Prize-Winning Cakes Baked in the Experimental Kitchen Laboratory of C. Houston Goudiss.

THE home economists on the staff of the Experimental Kitchen Laboratory, maintained in New York City by C. Houston Goudiss, who conducts our "WHAT TO EAT AND WHY" series, have reached their decision concerning the prize winners in the recent Cake Recipe Contest. Winners have already been notified and have received their checks.

The first prize of $25.00 went to Mrs. D. F. Kelly, 1004 Charles St., Whitewater, Wis.

Second Prize Winners. The five second prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. Harshbarger of 2427 Fifth Ave., Altoona, Pa.; R. A. Williams, 12075 Rosemary Ave., Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. C. A. Burns, Box 788, Oakland, Miss.;

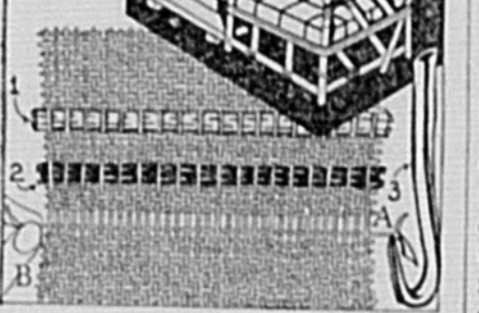

Miss Sadie Cunningham, Avonmore, Pa.; and Mrs. Laura Meyer, 107 Pleasant St., Plymouth, Wis.

Third Prize Winners. Mrs. T. H. Fjone, Flaxville, Mont.; Mrs. Lester Ralston, 127 South Judd St., Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. Harry A. Kramer, 16 Marin Road, Manor, Calif.; Mrs. F. D. McDonald, Route 1, Amherst, Texas; Vera Tygar, Commodore, Pa.; Mrs. George Ahlborn, R. D. No. 1, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Mrs. B. A. Robinson, Box 578, Emmett, Idaho; Jean Guthrie, 4712 Campbell St., Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Walter Richter, Bonduel, Wis.; Mrs. P. C. Blakely, Alden, Mich.

Honorable Mention. Emogene Williams, Damon, Texas; Mrs. Simon Moen, Norma,

HOW to SEW By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THERE is a modern air about the colorful roughly woven table mat and the chair cover and cushion shown here. Does it surprise you to learn that they cost next to nothing? There is a trick in it. The fabric is actually bur-lap sacking with dyed strips of old silk stockings drawn through. Dye the stockings before cutting. Cut the strips 3/4-inch wide and about an inch longer than the space they are to fill. Taper one end of the strip so that it will pull through the bur-lap easily. If long strips are needed, cut around and around the stocking spirally instead of lengthwise. Now, draw out one thread of the bur-lap; then tie one end of the next thread to the tapered end of the stocking strip as at A. Pull the other end of this thread as at B to draw the strip through.

NOTE: If you wish to use these weekly articles for reference paste them in a scrapbook, as they are not included in either Sewing Book No. 1 or 2. Book 1, "Sewing for the Home Decorator," covers curtains, slipcovers, dressing tables; 48 pages of fascinating directions. Book 2 illustrates 90 embroidery stitches with numerous applications; doll clothes and gift items. Order by number, enclosing 25 cents for each book desired. If you order both books, leaflet on making crazy quilts, with 36 stitches illustrated, will be included free. Address Mrs. Spears, 210 South Desplaines St., Chicago, Ill.

UNA and INA Go Camping on the River...

"There's the Doorbell Again"

SUPPOSE daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedious doorbell answering that would mean! It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price. And yet you need those merchants' services quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worth while in the market-places of the world. They are not strangers at the door, but merchants you know and trust. You are sure of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

N. D.; Mrs. Dick... ville, Iowa; Mrs. E... Box 1118, Crosby, M... Paul Lorenz, P. O... Strathmore, Calif.; M... entz, Simpson, Nev... Hilger, Box 257, Rock... Mrs. Grace H. Peter... Amherst, Wis.; Mrs... ner, Bedford, Wyo.; M... nace, 317 West Tw... South Sioux City, Neb.

Advertisement for U.S. PE-KO ED JAR RUBBERS. Includes a cartoon illustration of a woman and a child, and text describing the product's benefits for sewing and home decoration.

Friday, July 10, 1936. Various small text fragments and advertisements on the right edge of the page.

WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE'S

To Ride the River With

COPYRIGHT WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE—WNU SERVICE

CHAPTER XI—Continued

"Go in and light a lamp, Pete," ordered Norris in a low voice. "Put close to yore friend. Then I'll come in."

Haskins lit a lamp and set it on a table. The light shone on a man sitting up in bed. His hair was matted, his face unshaven. The best of the man, seen through the tattered shirt, was matted like a mane tangled with cockleburbs. He held his right hand beneath the blanket. The scarred cheek, in connection with the shifty, ratlike eyes, gave him a sinister appearance.

Norris came into the room, moving with the padded, panther-like stride that marked him. His gaze locked with that of the stranger, but there was a weapon in the hand beneath the blanket he did not need to be told.

"Who are you?" he demanded in a snarl.

"He's visiting me, not you, Morg," mentioned Haskins mildly.

"Keep outta this, Pete," advised the Tail Holt bandit out of the corner of his mouth. "I'm asking a question, and I aim to get an answer."

"My turn to ask one now," the man in the bed said, a hard rasp in his voice. "Who do you think you are to talk thataway to me?"

"I'm Morgan Norris." The owner of the name waved a hand in the direction of Haskins, without lifting his eyes from the other. "He told you who I am, but he didn't tell me who you are. Come clean, fellow. I'm in a tight and I don't aim to throw in with anyone I don't know. These hills are full of guys that are poison to me."

"Morg is all right, Clint," Haskins put in. "Might as well tell him who you are."

"My name is Doke—Clint Doke," Norris stared at the man. "How many Clint Dokes are there?" he asked. "Another bird has been claimin' that name around here."

"So Howard tells me," the hairy man nodded. "He's a damn liar. Jeff Gray is his name. He's a United States marshal."

Morg Norris stared at the man in the bed. His mind was struggling to adjust itself to the implications of this information.

"He showed us a poster with his picture on it offering a reward for his arrest," Norris said. "Beneath the picture was the name Clint Doke. It was sure enough the spittin' image of this Jeff Gray."

"I wouldn't know about that," answered the man who claimed to be Doke. "I'll describe Gray to you. Red-headed—crooked nose—scar on the back of his hand—medium size."

"That's the fellow," Norris said with a bitter oath. "So he's a spy. I knew he was wrong all the time, but Sherm wouldn't listen to me. That big tub always knows more than anybody else."

"Gray is dangerous. Don't make any mistake about that."

The younger man admitted this. "But how come he to have that poster?" he asked, still suspicious.

"What's the idea in his claiming to be you—if you are Doke?"

The hairy man scratched his tousled head to help him to think. "Search me. Unless he figured you all would have heard of me account of the Texas and Southern holdup and he was using my name for a stand-in."

"That's the way I figure it," Haskins said. "Easy enough for him to get a poster printed with his picture on it claiming to be Clint Doke. Clint is a Wyoming man. Leastways he has spent most of the past fifteen years there. Not likely he would be known up in this neck of the woods."

Norris drew a bottle from his hip pocket and passed it round. All three of them took a pull at it.

"My feet hurt like all get out, Pete," the most recently arrived fugitive said, embellishing his resentment of the fact with an oath. "I was afoot for twenty miles. How about lookin' after my bronc for me?"

Haskins departed to take care of the animal.

Norris sank into a chair and drew off his boots. He looked sourly at his aching feet.

"So you're scared of this son-of-a-gun Gray," he jeered.

"Surest thing you know," admitted the train robber. "Scared he'll drag me back to Texas where Old Man Trouble is sittin' waiting for me."

"He's bigger than you are behind a gun, is he?"

"Not a mite. I'd as lief stand up and swap bullets with him if it came to a showdown. But there's something about him. Maybe it's just luck. Seems like he always drags in the guy he starts after."

"He went after me, but he didn't get me," Norris boasted.

"Story I've heard is that he set you afoot without a gun," Doke told him maliciously.

The younger man ripped out another angry oath. "Like you just said, he had luck. Came outa the bushes at me and whanged away before I had a chance. All I ask with him is an even break. I'm gonna get it too. Me, I'm tired of being hunted. I aim to turn hunter. This Gray is poison to you, the same as he is to me. What say we throw in together and collect him—hang his hide up to dry?"

Doke slanted a side look at him and grinned. "They ought to call you Sudden Morg. Five minutes ago you hadn't made up yore mind whether to cut loose at me with yore hogleg or not. Now you're talking up a partnership. May be good medicine, but I'd have to sleep on it first. We don't hardly know each other."

"Sudden Morgue is good," Norris said, and broke into jangled laughter. "I've sent a plenty guys who got in my way to morgues here and there. I'm in this part of the country for only a short visit longer, but before I leave I aim to meet Mr. Jeff Gray and stop his clock."

"We'll talk about this again," the man from Texas said. "Doesn't have to be settled tonight. With sense of duty. But that reason was one he could not discuss with anyone. They had killed his oldest son, a boy of nineteen, a fine lad who had enlisted in the Rangers a month or two before.

To get evidence against the Brayton gang, Lee Chiswick had gone into the brush country alone and spent weeks there. Not until he had built up a convincing case had he sent for his men. There had been only one slip-up. He mentioned this now, harshly, his eyes fierce and hungry.

"I didn't do so good a job," he said. "I missed one, the brains of the outfit. He escaped."

"I didn't know that," Gray replied. "Left the country, I reckon."

"Yes. Left Texas and came here."

"Here?" The steady eyes of his guest were fixed on the cattleman.

"Unless I've been fooling myself for years. I'd never met Buck Brayton, so there's a millionth chance I'm wrong."

"Sherm Howard," Gray guessed. "Yes. Hope you have better luck and don't let him slip away."

"I'll put my cards on the table, Chiswick. No reason why I shouldn't tell you now. I'm a special deputy United States marshal sent to get evidence against the outlaws operating around Tail Holt. I'm pretty nearly ready for the gaffer. When I am I'll need you."

The face of the cattleman lit. "Best news I've heard in a long time. The L C men will be with you to the finish."

"Good. Now if I can have a pow-wow with this scawlag."

"Soon as I can get him to you," Chiswick promised as he left.

Frank Chiswick presently came into the room, bringing with him the prisoner Lou Howard. That young man was dejected, sullen, and alarmed. He no longer looked the Beau Brummel of Tail Holt, but much more a schoolboy called in for a thrashing from the principal.

Gray continued to lounge in his chair. He looked at Howard out of chill, accusing eyes.

"You've sure got yore tail in a crack," he said at last.

"They got no right to hold me here!" Lou burst out, his voice shrill with fear and anger. "I haven't done a thing—not a thing. 'Anything I've said because they were third-degreeing me don't go. A man would say whatever they put into his mouth when it was a question of saving his life. You know that, Gray."

"Suits me if it does you," the crook-nosed man said coldly. "I'm a special United States marshal sent to clean up the criminals in this part of the country. If you want to go to prison for ten or fifteen years, in the event you aren't hung, that's all right with me. Today you can write your own ticket, but you can't do that tomorrow. There are weak links in every chain. As soon as someone else turns state's evidence, you lose yore chance. Talk or keep yore mouth clamped, whichever you like."

The matter-of-fact manner of the officer left young Howard no room for doubt. He was in a trap. A wave of panic swept through him, but he made a feeble effort to stem it.

"Thought you claimed to be Clint Doke," he said, and rolled a cigarette with fingers that trembled. "Curly and Morg saw a poster with yore picture on it."

"I wanted them to think I was Clint Doke and they obliged me," Gray said. He rose from the chair where he sat with the brisk manner of one who has finished his business. "Take him back to the dog-house,

He moistened his parched lips.

yore feet the way they are you're in no shape to travel for three-four days yet. If we can find out where this fellow is roosting, and if he hasn't got too many friends around him, I might take chips in yore game."

To the surprise of Ruth, her father did not blame her for having assisted Morgan Norris to escape. He was so happy at the fortunate termination of her adventure that there was no room in him for criticism. Apologetically he defended what she had done, explaining the reason for it to Gray.

"Ruth was so nervous and worked up she didn't know what she was doing. You saved her. That's the main point. Someone else will kill the miscreant even though you didn't."

Gray shrugged his shoulders. "All right with me. I was sore at first, but I'm past that now. Yes, one of these days someone will get him."

"When I was captain of Rangers more than once I was forced to kill men who were better dead," Chiswick said, his speculative gaze on the red-headed man. "Ruth doesn't understand that this is in the day's work for an officer, that he doesn't rub out the scoundrel personally. You and I know it is the law wipes him out."

"So I'm an officer, am I?" Gray countered.

"Must be. The criminal on the dodge story won't hold water. Of course you're under sealed orders and can't talk. Probably you're gathering information. Well, when you've got it count on me if you need help."

"Much obliged. I may take you up on that. I'm going to drift to town today, but before I go I want to talk with young Howard, if you don't mind."

"I'll have the boys bring him in to you," Chiswick rose from the chair where he had been sitting. "About that going to town? You mean Tail Holt?"

"Yes."

"Don't you reckon that would be a little foolhardy? By this time Sherm Howard must have a pretty good idea you are responsible for his boys falling down at Live Oak canyon."

Gray smiled. "Some might say it was foolhardy for you to have gone out into the brush to collect the Brayton gang about ten years ago."

The former captain of Rangers dropped the point. He had taken his life in his hands to run down this bunch of outlaws. There had been a special reason for this, an intimate and personal one, though he would have done it anyhow from a sense of duty. But that reason was one he could not discuss with anyone. They had killed his oldest son, a boy of nineteen, a fine lad who had enlisted in the Rangers a month or two before.

To get evidence against the Brayton gang, Lee Chiswick had gone into the brush country alone and spent weeks there. Not until he had built up a convincing case had he sent for his men. There had been only one slip-up. He mentioned this now, harshly, his eyes fierce and hungry.

"I didn't do so good a job," he said. "I missed one, the brains of the outfit. He escaped."

"I didn't know that," Gray replied. "Left the country, I reckon."

"Yes. Left Texas and came here."

"Here?" The steady eyes of his guest were fixed on the cattleman.

"Unless I've been fooling myself for years. I'd never met Buck Brayton, so there's a millionth chance I'm wrong."

"Sherm Howard," Gray guessed. "Yes. Hope you have better luck and don't let him slip away."

"I'll put my cards on the table, Chiswick. No reason why I shouldn't tell you now. I'm a special deputy United States marshal sent to get evidence against the outlaws operating around Tail Holt. I'm pretty nearly ready for the gaffer. When I am I'll need you."

The face of the cattleman lit. "Best news I've heard in a long time. The L C men will be with you to the finish."

"Good. Now if I can have a pow-wow with this scawlag."

"Soon as I can get him to you," Chiswick promised as he left.

Frank Chiswick presently came into the room, bringing with him the prisoner Lou Howard. That young man was dejected, sullen, and alarmed. He no longer looked the Beau Brummel of Tail Holt, but much more a schoolboy called in for a thrashing from the principal.

Gray continued to lounge in his chair. He looked at Howard out of chill, accusing eyes.

"You've sure got yore tail in a crack," he said at last.

"They got no right to hold me here!" Lou burst out, his voice shrill with fear and anger. "I haven't done a thing—not a thing. 'Anything I've said because they were third-degreeing me don't go. A man would say whatever they put into his mouth when it was a question of saving his life. You know that, Gray."

"Suits me if it does you," the crook-nosed man said coldly. "I'm a special United States marshal sent to clean up the criminals in this part of the country. If you want to go to prison for ten or fifteen years, in the event you aren't hung, that's all right with me. Today you can write your own ticket, but you can't do that tomorrow. There are weak links in every chain. As soon as someone else turns state's evidence, you lose yore chance. Talk or keep yore mouth clamped, whichever you like."

The matter-of-fact manner of the officer left young Howard no room for doubt. He was in a trap. A wave of panic swept through him, but he made a feeble effort to stem it.

"Thought you claimed to be Clint Doke," he said, and rolled a cigarette with fingers that trembled. "Curly and Morg saw a poster with yore picture on it."

"I wanted them to think I was Clint Doke and they obliged me," Gray said. He rose from the chair where he sat with the brisk manner of one who has finished his business. "Take him back to the dog-house, Frank. He has had his chance. I'm hitting the trail."

Howard wilted visibly. He moistened his parched lips with his tongue. "Wait a minute," he said hoarsely. "What—what is it you want to know?"

"How did Sherm Howard know the Mexicans were coming up through Live Oak canyon with silver?" the United States marshal demanded abruptly.

"One of the smugglers gets him information, a Mexican called Juan Pasqual," the prisoner said, shakily and reluctantly.

"Who were in the gang that held up the Mexicans last spring?"

Lou shook his head. "I don't know," he pleaded. "They didn't tell me about that. I never was in anything of this kind before. I wish to God they had left me out this time."

"Who held up the Benson stage?" The officer lifted a hand of warning sharply. "Either talk turkey or shut up. Don't lie to me. You know who did it. You've heard plenty of conversation about it."

"Just talk," the badgered man protested. "You know how it is. Folks gab, and it doesn't mean a thing."

"If you aim to save yore neck, Howard, you'll come clean," the officer said quietly.

"The story is that Morg Norris and Mile High did it. All I know is from gossip."

"That's not all you know. You're not a fool. After word of the holdup came to Tail Holt, you looked around to see who had been missing. When did Morg and Mile High leave town? How long before the holdup?"

"The evening before," Howard replied sulkily. "But that don't prove—"

"On what horses?" Gray interrupted curtly.

"Mile High was riding his buckskin and Morg a sorrel with white stockings."

"How'd you know?"

"I saw them when they came back to town."

"Which was when?"

"The day after the holdup."

"Sit down at the table and write a list of all those in the Howard gang. I want all of those connected with it in any way. Any explanations I want I'll ask for later."

Howard took the offered pencil with palpable unwillingness. "I don't know what you mean," he protested. "There's no Howard gang. Maybe there's been a little—"

"Get busy," snapped the officer. "I don't want argument or explanation."

Lou sat down, twiddled the pencil, and began to write names. Sid Hunt, Mile High, Kansas, Curly Connor, Morg Norris, Yorky, Slim Burke, Pete Haskins, Curt Dobbs, Jim Reynolds. The prisoner wrote the names painfully and slowly, biting the end of the pencil between each before he could make up his mind to put it on the list. Three or four others he added.

"That all?" asked Gray.

Another name was scribbled, then still another. "That's all I know," the writer said, pushing the paper from him.

"Add yore own and Sherm Howard's."

"I tell you I wasn't in on whatever was doing."

Gray picked up the list. "I'll have a check on everything you tell me, so you'd better not dish up any lies. We'll take the names in turn. You'll tell me all you know against them."

"I'll just be guessing," Howard said doggedly.

"See you guess right."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

other angry oath. "Like you just said, he had luck. Came outa the bushes at me and whanged away before I had a chance. All I ask with him is an even break. I'm gonna get it too. Me, I'm tired of being hunted. I aim to turn hunter. This Gray is poison to you, the same as he is to me. What say we throw in together and collect him—hang his hide up to dry?"

Doke slanted a side look at him and grinned. "They ought to call you Sudden Morg. Five minutes ago you hadn't made up yore mind whether to cut loose at me with yore hogleg or not. Now you're talking up a partnership. May be good medicine, but I'd have to sleep on it first. We don't hardly know each other."

"Sudden Morgue is good," Norris said, and broke into jangled laughter. "I've sent a plenty guys who got in my way to morgues here and there. I'm in this part of the country for only a short visit longer, but before I leave I aim to meet Mr. Jeff Gray and stop his clock."

"We'll talk about this again," the man from Texas said. "Doesn't have to be settled tonight. With sense of duty. But that reason was one he could not discuss with anyone. They had killed his oldest son, a boy of nineteen, a fine lad who had enlisted in the Rangers a month or two before.

To get evidence against the Brayton gang, Lee Chiswick had gone into the brush country alone and spent weeks there. Not until he had built up a convincing case had he sent for his men. There had been only one slip-up. He mentioned this now, harshly, his eyes fierce and hungry.

"I didn't do so good a job," he said. "I missed one, the brains of the outfit. He escaped."

"I didn't know that," Gray replied. "Left the country, I reckon."

"Yes. Left Texas and came here."

"Here?" The steady eyes of his guest were fixed on the cattleman.

"Unless I've been fooling myself for years. I'd never met Buck Brayton, so there's a millionth chance I'm wrong."

"Sherm Howard," Gray guessed. "Yes. Hope you have better luck and don't let him slip away."

"I'll put my cards on the table, Chiswick. No reason why I shouldn't tell you now. I'm a special deputy United States marshal sent to get evidence against the outlaws operating around Tail Holt. I'm pretty nearly ready for the gaffer. When I am I'll need you."

The face of the cattleman lit. "Best news I've heard in a long time. The L C men will be with you to the finish."

"Good. Now if I can have a pow-wow with this scawlag."

"Soon as I can get him to you," Chiswick promised as he left.

Frank Chiswick presently came into the room, bringing with him the prisoner Lou Howard. That young man was dejected, sullen, and alarmed. He no longer looked the Beau Brummel of Tail Holt, but much more a schoolboy called in for a thrashing from the principal.

Gray continued to lounge in his chair. He looked at Howard out of chill, accusing eyes.

"You've sure got yore tail in a crack," he said at last.

"They got no right to hold me here!" Lou burst out, his voice shrill with fear and anger. "I haven't done a thing—not a thing. 'Anything I've said because they were third-degreeing me don't go. A man would say whatever they put into his mouth when it was a question of saving his life. You know that, Gray."

"Suits me if it does you," the crook-nosed man said coldly. "I'm a special United States marshal sent to clean up the criminals in this part of the country. If you want to go to prison for ten or fifteen years, in the event you aren't hung, that's all right with me. Today you can write your own ticket, but you can't do that tomorrow. There are weak links in every chain. As soon as someone else turns state's evidence, you lose yore chance. Talk or keep yore mouth clamped, whichever you like."

The matter-of-fact manner of the officer left young Howard no room for doubt. He was in a trap. A wave of panic swept through him, but he made a feeble effort to stem it.

"Thought you claimed to be Clint Doke," he said, and rolled a cigarette with fingers that trembled. "Curly and Morg saw a poster with yore picture on it."

"I wanted them to think I was Clint Doke and they obliged me," Gray said. He rose from the chair where he sat with the brisk manner of one who has finished his business. "Take him back to the dog-house, Frank. He has had his chance. I'm hitting the trail."

Howard wilted visibly. He moistened his parched lips with his tongue. "Wait a minute," he said hoarsely. "What—what is it you want to know?"

"How did Sherm Howard know the Mexicans were coming up through Live Oak canyon with silver?" the United States marshal demanded abruptly.

"One of the smugglers gets him information, a Mexican called Juan Pasqual," the prisoner said, shakily and reluctantly.

"Who were in the gang that held up the Mexicans last spring?"

Lou shook his head. "I don't know," he pleaded. "They didn't tell me about that. I never was in anything of this kind before. I wish to God they had left me out this time."

"Who held up the Benson stage?" The officer lifted a hand of warning sharply. "Either talk turkey or shut up. Don't lie to me. You know who did it. You've heard plenty of conversation about it."

"Just talk," the badgered man protested. "You know how it is. Folks gab, and it doesn't mean a thing."

"If you aim to save yore neck, Howard, you'll come clean," the officer said quietly.

"The story is that Morg Norris and Mile High did it. All I know is from gossip."

"That's not all you know. You're not a fool. After word of the holdup came to Tail Holt, you looked around to see who had been missing. When did Morg and Mile High leave town? How long before the holdup?"

"The evening before," Howard replied sulkily. "But that don't prove—"

"On what horses?" Gray interrupted curtly.

"Mile High was riding his buckskin and Morg a sorrel with white stockings."

"How'd you know?"

"I saw them when they came back to town."

"Which was when?"

"The day after the holdup."

"Sit down at the table and write a list of all those in the Howard gang. I want all of those connected with it in any way. Any explanations I want I'll ask for later."

Howard took the offered pencil with palpable unwillingness. "I don't know what you mean," he protested. "There's no Howard gang. Maybe there's been a little—"

"Get busy," snapped the officer. "I don't want argument or explanation."

Lou sat down, twiddled the pencil, and began to write names. Sid Hunt, Mile High, Kansas, Curly Connor, Morg Norris, Yorky, Slim Burke, Pete Haskins, Curt Dobbs, Jim Reynolds. The prisoner wrote the names painfully and slowly, biting the end of the pencil between each before he could make up his mind to put it on the list. Three or four others he added.

"That all?" asked Gray.

Another name was scribbled, then still another. "That's all I know," the writer said, pushing the paper from him.

"Add yore own and Sherm Howard's."

"I tell you I wasn't in on whatever was doing."

Gray picked up the list. "I'll have a check on everything you tell me, so you'd better not dish up any lies. We'll take the names in turn. You'll tell me all you know against them."

"I'll just be guessing," Howard said doggedly.

"See you guess right."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

other angry oath. "Like you just said, he had luck. Came outa the bushes at me and whanged away before I had a chance. All I ask with him is an even break. I'm gonna get it too. Me, I'm tired of being hunted. I aim to turn hunter. This Gray is poison to you, the same as he is to me. What say we throw in together and collect him—hang his hide up to dry?"

Doke slanted a side look at him and grinned. "They ought to call you Sudden Morg. Five minutes ago you hadn't made up yore mind whether to cut loose at me with yore hogleg or not. Now you're talking up a partnership. May be good medicine, but I'd have to sleep on it first. We don't hardly know each other."

"Sudden Morgue is good," Norris said, and broke into jangled laughter. "I've sent a plenty guys who got in my way to morgues here and there. I'm in this part of the country for only a short visit longer, but before I leave I aim to meet Mr. Jeff Gray and stop his clock."

"We'll talk about this again," the man from Texas said. "Doesn't have to be settled tonight. With sense of duty. But that reason was one he could not discuss with anyone. They had killed his oldest son, a boy of nineteen, a fine lad who had enlisted in the Rangers a month or two before.

To get evidence against the Brayton gang, Lee Chiswick had gone into the brush country alone and spent weeks there. Not until he had built up a convincing case had he sent for his men. There had been only one slip-up. He mentioned this now, harshly, his eyes fierce and hungry.

"I didn't do so good a job," he said. "I missed one, the brains of the outfit. He escaped."

"I didn't know that," Gray replied. "Left the country, I reckon."

"Yes. Left Texas and came here."

"Here?" The steady eyes of his guest were fixed on the cattleman.

"Unless I've been fooling myself for years. I'd never met Buck Brayton, so there's a millionth chance I'm wrong."

"Sherm Howard," Gray guessed. "Yes. Hope you have better luck and don't let him slip away."

"I'll put my cards on the table, Chiswick. No reason why I shouldn't tell you now. I'm a special deputy United States marshal sent to get evidence against the outlaws operating around Tail Holt. I'm pretty nearly ready for the gaffer. When I am I'll need you."

The face of the cattleman lit. "Best news I've heard in a long time. The L C men will be with you to the finish."

"Good. Now if I can have a pow-wow with this scawlag."

"Soon as I can get him to you," Chiswick promised as he left.

Frank Chiswick presently came into the room, bringing with him the prisoner Lou Howard. That young man was dejected, sullen, and alarmed. He no longer looked the Beau Brummel of Tail Holt, but much more a schoolboy called in for a thrashing from the principal.

Gray continued to lounge in his chair. He looked at Howard out of chill, accusing eyes.

"You've sure got yore tail in a crack," he said at last.

"They got no right to hold me here!" Lou burst out, his voice shrill with fear and anger. "I haven't done a thing—not a thing. 'Anything I've said because they were third-degreeing me don't go. A man would say whatever they put into his mouth when it was a question of saving his life. You know that, Gray."

"Suits me if it does you," the crook-nosed man said coldly. "I'm a special United States marshal sent to clean up the criminals in this part of the country. If you want to go to prison for ten or fifteen years, in the event you aren't hung, that's all right with me. Today you can write your own ticket, but you can't do that tomorrow. There are weak links in every chain. As soon as someone else turns state's evidence, you lose yore chance. Talk or keep yore mouth clamped, whichever you like."

The matter-of-fact manner of the officer left young Howard no room for doubt. He was in a trap. A wave of panic swept through him, but he made a feeble effort to stem it.

"Thought you claimed to be Clint Doke," he said, and rolled a cigarette with fingers that trembled. "Curly and Morg saw a poster with yore picture on it."

"I wanted them to think I was Clint Doke and they obliged me," Gray said. He rose from the chair where he sat with the brisk manner of one who has finished his business. "Take him back to the dog-house, Frank. He has had his chance. I'm hitting the trail."

Howard wilted visibly. He moistened his parched lips with his tongue. "Wait a minute," he said hoarsely. "What—what is it you want to know?"

"How did Sherm Howard know the Mexicans were coming up through Live Oak canyon with silver?" the United States marshal demanded abruptly.

"One of the smugglers gets him information, a Mexican called Juan Pasqual," the prisoner said, shakily and reluctantly.

"Who were in the gang that held up the Mexicans last spring?"

Lou shook his head. "I don't know," he pleaded. "They didn't tell me about that. I never was in anything of this kind before. I wish to God they had left me out this time."

"Who held up the Benson stage?" The officer lifted a hand of warning sharply. "Either talk turkey or shut up. Don't lie to me. You know who did it. You've heard plenty of conversation about it."

"Just talk," the badgered man protested. "You know how it is. Folks gab, and it doesn't mean a thing."

"If you aim to save yore neck, Howard, you'll come clean," the officer said quietly.

"The story is that Morg Norris and Mile High did it. All I know is from gossip."

"That's not all you know. You're not a fool. After word of the holdup came to Tail Holt, you looked around to see who had been missing. When did Morg and Mile High leave town? How long before the holdup?"

"The evening before," Howard replied sulkily. "But that don't prove—"

"On what horses?" Gray interrupted curtly.

"Mile High was riding his buckskin and Morg a sorrel with white stockings."

"How'd you know?"

"I saw them when they came back to town."

"Which was when?"

"The day after the holdup."

"Sit down at the table and write a list of all those in the Howard gang. I want all of those connected with it in any way. Any explanations I want I'll ask for later."

Howard took the offered pencil with palpable unwillingness. "I don't know what you mean," he protested. "There's no Howard gang. Maybe there's been a little—"

"Get busy," snapped the officer. "I don't want argument or explanation."

Lou sat down, twiddled the pencil, and began to write names. Sid Hunt, Mile High, Kansas, Curly Connor, Morg Norris, Yorky, Slim Burke, Pete Haskins, Curt Dobbs, Jim Reynolds. The prisoner wrote the names painfully and slowly, biting the end of the pencil between each before he could make up his mind to put it on the list. Three or four others he added.

"That all?" asked Gray.

Another name was scribbled, then still another. "That's all I know," the writer said, pushing the paper from him.

"Add yore own and Sherm Howard's."

"I tell you I wasn't in on whatever was doing."

Gray picked up the list. "I'll have a check on everything you tell me, so you'd better not dish up any lies. We'll take the names in turn. You'll tell me all you know against them."

"I'll just be guessing," Howard said doggedly.

"See you guess right."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

other angry oath. "Like you just said, he had luck. Came outa the bushes at me and whanged away before I had a chance. All I ask with him is an even break. I'm gonna get it too. Me, I'm tired of being hunted. I aim to turn hunter. This Gray is poison to you, the same as he is to me. What say we throw in together and collect him—hang his hide up to dry?"

Doke slanted a side look at him and grinned. "They ought to call you Sudden Morg. Five minutes ago you hadn't made up yore mind whether to cut loose at me with yore hogleg or not. Now you're talking up a partnership. May be good medicine, but I'd have to sleep on it first. We don't hardly know each other."

"Sudden Morgue is good," Norris said, and broke into jangled laughter. "I've sent a plenty guys who got in my way to morgues here and there. I'm in this part of the country for only a short visit longer, but before I leave I aim to meet Mr. Jeff Gray and stop his clock."

"We'll talk about this again," the man from Texas said. "Doesn't have to be settled tonight. With sense of duty. But that reason was one he could not discuss with anyone. They had killed his oldest son, a boy of nineteen, a fine lad who had enlisted in the Rangers a month or two before.

To get evidence against the Brayton gang, Lee Chiswick had gone into the brush country alone and spent weeks there. Not until he had built up a convincing case had he sent for his men. There had been only one slip-up. He mentioned this now, harshly, his eyes fierce and hungry.

"I didn't do so good a job," he said. "I missed one, the brains of the outfit. He escaped."

"I didn't know that," Gray replied. "Left the country, I reckon."

"Yes. Left Texas and came here."

"Here?" The steady eyes of his guest were fixed on the cattleman.

"Unless I've been fooling myself for years. I'd never met Buck Brayton, so there's a millionth chance I'm wrong."

"Sherm Howard," Gray guessed. "Yes. Hope you have better luck and don't let him slip away."

"I'll put my cards on the table, Chiswick. No reason why I shouldn't tell you now. I'm a special deputy United States marshal sent to get evidence against the outlaws operating around Tail Holt. I'm pretty nearly ready for the gaffer. When I am I'll need you."

The face of the cattleman lit. "Best news I've heard in a long time. The L C men will be with you to the finish."

"Good. Now if I can have a pow-wow with this scawlag."

"Soon as I can get him to you," Chiswick promised as he left.

Frank Chiswick presently came into the room, bringing with him the prisoner Lou Howard. That young man was dejected, sullen, and alarmed. He no longer looked the Beau Brummel of Tail Holt, but much more a schoolboy called in for a thrashing from the principal.

Gray continued to lounge in his chair. He looked at Howard out of chill, accusing eyes.

"You've sure got yore tail in a crack," he said at last.

"They got no right to hold me here!" Lou burst out, his voice shrill with fear and anger. "I haven't done a thing—not a thing. 'Anything I've said because they were third-degreeing me don't go. A man would say whatever they put into his mouth when it was a question of saving his life. You know that, Gray."

"Suits me if it does you," the crook-nosed man said coldly. "I'm a special United States marshal sent to clean up the criminals in this part of the country. If you want to go to prison for ten or fifteen years, in the event you aren't hung, that's all right with me. Today you can write your own ticket, but you can't do that tomorrow. There are weak links in every chain. As soon as someone else turns state's evidence, you lose yore chance. Talk or keep yore mouth clamped, whichever you like."

The matter-of-fact manner of the officer left young Howard no room for doubt. He was in a trap. A wave of panic swept through him, but he made a feeble effort to stem it.

"Thought you claimed to be Clint Doke," he said, and rolled a cigarette with fingers that trembled. "Curly and Morg saw a poster with yore picture on it."

"I wanted them to think I was Clint Doke and they obliged me," Gray said. He rose from the chair where he sat with the brisk manner of one who has finished his business. "Take him back to the dog-house, Frank. He has had his chance. I'm hitting the trail."

Howard wilted visibly. He moistened his parched lips with his tongue. "Wait a minute," he said hoarsely. "What—what is it you want to know?"

"How did Sherm Howard know the Mexicans were coming up through Live Oak canyon with silver?" the United States marshal demanded abruptly.

"One of the smugglers gets him information, a Mexican called Juan Pasqual," the prisoner said, shakily and reluctantly.

"Who were in the gang that held up the Mexicans last spring?"

Lou shook his head. "I don't know," he pleaded. "They didn't tell me about that. I never was in anything of this kind before. I wish to God they had left me out this time."

"Who held up the Benson stage?" The officer lifted a hand of warning sharply. "Either talk turkey or shut up. Don't lie to me. You know who did it. You've heard plenty of conversation about it."

"Just talk," the badgered man protested. "You know how it is. Folks gab, and it doesn't mean a thing."

"If you aim to save yore neck, Howard, you'll come clean," the officer said quietly.

"The story is that Morg Norris and Mile High did it. All I know is from gossip."

"That's not all you know. You're not a fool. After word of the holdup came to Tail Holt, you looked around to see who had been missing. When did Morg and Mile High leave town? How long before the holdup?"

"The evening before," Howard replied sulkily. "But that don't prove—"

"On what horses?" Gray interrupted curtly.

"Mile High was riding his buckskin and Morg a sorrel with white stockings."

"How'd you know?"

"I saw them when they came back to town."

"Which was when?"

"The day after the holdup."

"Sit down at the table and write a list of all those in the Howard gang. I want all of those connected with it in any way. Any explanations I want I'll ask for later."

Howard took the offered pencil with palpable unwillingness. "I don't know what you mean," he protested. "There's no Howard gang. Maybe there's been a little—"

"Get busy," snapped the officer. "I don't want argument or explanation."

Lou sat down, twiddled the pencil, and began to write names. Sid Hunt, Mile High, Kansas, Curly Connor, Morg Norris, Yorky, Slim Burke, Pete Haskins, Curt Dobbs, Jim Reynolds. The prisoner wrote the names painfully and slowly, biting the end of the pencil between each before he could make up his mind to put it on the list. Three or four others he added.

"That all?" asked Gray.

Another name was scribbled, then still another. "That's all I know," the writer said, pushing the paper from him.

"Add yore own and Sherm Howard's."

"I tell you I wasn't in on whatever was doing."

Gray picked up the list. "I'll have a check on everything you tell me, so you'd better not dish up any lies. We'll take the names in turn. You'll tell me all you know against them."

"I'll just be guessing," Howard said doggedly.

"See you guess right."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

other angry oath. "Like you just said, he had luck. Came outa the bushes at me and whanged away before I had a chance. All I ask with him is an even break. I'm gonna get it too. Me, I'm tired of being hunted. I aim to turn hunter. This Gray is poison to you, the same as he is to me. What say we throw in together and collect him—hang his hide up to dry?"

Doke slanted a side look at him and grinned. "They ought to call you Sudden Morg. Five minutes ago you hadn't made up yore mind whether to cut loose at me with yore hogleg or not. Now you're talking up a partnership. May be good medicine, but I'd have to sleep on it first. We don't hardly know each other."

"Sudden Morgue is good," Norris said, and broke into jangled laughter. "I've sent a plenty guys who got in my way to morgues here and there. I'm in this part of the country for only a short visit longer, but before I leave I aim to meet Mr. Jeff Gray and stop his clock."

"We'll talk about this again," the man from Texas said. "Doesn't have to be settled tonight. With other angry oath. "Like you just said, he had luck. Came outa the bushes at me and whanged away before I had a chance. All I ask with him is an even break. I'm gonna get it too. Me, I'm tired of being hunted. I aim to turn hunter. This Gray is poison to you, the same as he is to me. What say we throw in together and collect him—hang his hide up to dry?"

Doke slanted a side look at him and grinned. "They ought to call you Sudden Morg. Five minutes ago you hadn't made up yore mind whether to cut loose at me with yore hogleg or not. Now you're talking up a partnership. May be good medicine, but I'd have to sleep on it first. We don't hardly know each other."

"Sudden Morgue is good," Norris said, and broke into jangled laughter. "I've sent a plenty guys who got in my way to morgues here and there. I'm in this part of the country for only a short

The Slaton Slatonite
Published Every Friday By Slatonite Publishing Company
Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas.

Slaton Times Purchased Jan. 20, 1927
Entered as second class mail matter at the postoffice at Slaton, Texas.
J. M. Rankin - Owner and Editor

ADVERTISING RATES
DISPLAY ADVERTISING—35c per column inch to all agencies, with usual discount.
LOCAL READERS—set in 8-pt., 10c per line of five words, Net. To Agencies, 10c per line, with usual discount.
CARDS OF THANKS—50c.
RESOLUTIONS, Memoirs, or Obituaries, (excepting accounts of deaths, news originating in this office), 5 cents per line. Poetry, 10c per line.
SUBSCRIPTIONS IN ADVANCE
Lubbock, Lynn, Garza Counties—$1.50
Outside these counties—$2.00
Beyond 6th Postal Zone—$2.25
In changing your address, please give your OLD as well as your NEW address.

A Week At A Time

tle of his power or prestige.

TEXT FOR THE WEEK

The Text of the week is that chosen by Rev. H. C. Huff, District Missionary for the Texas Baptist Convention for his Sunday morning Sermon at the First Baptist Church;

The Lord God is a sun and a shield.
—Psalms 74:12.

J. W. TARLTON

logical college, one in high school.

I shall make as complete a canvass as my limited means will permit.

I covet your careful and earnest investigation and consideration as to my fitness to serve the people of this county.

Thanking you now and pledging myself to remain grateful regardless of election results.

J. W. Tarlton.

J. W. Tarlton's Boyhood Friends and Former Constituents Indorse Him.

Mr. J. W. Tarlton comes from one of the best families of Johnson county, Texas. The entire family take active interest in all affairs pertaining to the betterment of community and country life. His father has been on the County Board of Education for 26 years. Several of the family are instructors in the Fort Worth Schools. We have watched and know the record of J. W. Tarlton as a school man since reaching his majority and will say that we unreservedly recommend him to be enterprising, safe, efficient and deserving of the office to which he aspires.

Any favors granted J. W. Tarlton will be appreciated by us and we assure you that you will not regret casting your vote for him.

S. A. Lovelas and wife, Idalou, Texas.

Ollie Davis and wife, Route 6, Lubbock, Texas.

H. L. Bradford and wife, Rt. 4, Lubbock, Texas.

Former Constituents

We, the undersigned, supported Mr. J. W. Tarlton in his successful candidacy for County Superintendent of Fisher County, Texas, and affirm that a spirit of mutual endeavor and cooperation prevailed between the patrons, teachers and communities during his entire tenure. He, J. W. Tarlton, was efficient, aggressive, economical and faithful to the performance of his duties. In fact he is a teacher and leader of ability. We solicit and recommend a careful consideration of his present candidacy, assuring you satisfactory service and appreciative efforts if elected.

We will gladly answer any inquiry concerning him and his qualifications.

Mr. and Mrs. Brake, Slaton.

S. B. Summers and wife, Rt. 3, Lubbock, Texas.

J. H. Martin and wife, 2211 25th st., Lubbock, Texas.

L. F. Berry and wife, 1951 Avenue N, Lubbock, Tex.

Steve Etter and wife, 2401 22nd, St., Lubbock, Texas.

H. B. BRYAN

"If I am getting the job done like you think it should be, and you feel that a young man who is qualified by actual experience should be continued with his first opportunity, then I would sincerely appreciate the privilege of serving you as your tax assessor-collector for an elective term, and I respectfully ask for a continuation of the promotion I received by being appointed to the office. Thanks."

Mrs. C. D. Grantham of Southland was in Slaton on business Wednesday.

CHIEF MAY MAKES STATEMENT

T. E. (Chief) MAY

What do you people think about me for Sheriff? First you should know something of my character and kind of life I have lived. Whether I am a Christian or not and if I am qualified to fill this important office or not, I was born in Alabama and was reared by a sweet Christian mother, and through her prayers and the grace of God I was saved when I was thirteen years of age. Mother passed on to her reward when I was twelve years old, therefore I was reared an orphan boy, but have never parted from those teachings she gave me when just a lad. I will admit I have not lived as clean a life as possibly I should have but have never gotten so far away but what I have come back. I hope some day to give you a true story of my life.

I have lived here in Lubbock County for fifteen years. My record as a peace officer is an open book and one of which I am proud. To the ones whom I am not personally acquainted I would appreciate it if you would inquire of any pastor, school teacher or business man or woman in Lubbock County, who has lived here for the past fifteen years they know me and I am willing to take their judgment for my record.

If you people knew of the nice things which I have said to me about some little kind deed or things I said in way of advice, while I was Chief of police, you would then understand why I believe there is such a great work that a peace officer can do. It inspires me to try to do greater things. I do not think there is anyone who has a greater opportunity to be of help to his fellow man than a peace officer, if he himself is living the right kind of life. As you people know that a peace officer is looked upon as an outstanding example before the public eye and I know that by the experience that I have had that the children are willing to listen to an officer.

If I am elected your Sheriff I will assure you good people with your help and cooperation that I will endeavor to try every way possible to keep the young people out of jail and away from the reformatory. You good people know there is a crime wave sweeping our country today largely of the young people and you are also aware that we have more children in our Juvenile Courts than ever before and I feel that it is high time that we as citizens are making some effort toward correcting the lives of the young people of our country. I feel that the children of today are no worse than they were in our days but I do think that the parents are falling short of the proper training and teaching of these younger people. For I believe that if this country is ever brought to where it should be on a moral standard it is going to be through the younger generation and it is up to us to try to help to guide them to that end.

If we as parents would make every effort possible to get the young people to reading the lives of so many great men and if we ourselves would read more of these books which are obtainable we would be more fitted to try to talk to our children. We may give them all the education it is possible for us to do but if we fail in teaching them the Christian and moral side of life we are failures as fathers and mothers.

I will endeavor to treat people as I want them to treat me and I will show no partiality so far as possible between the rich and the poor but will do my best to deal out justice toward all man kind. Remember we have all fallen short of our intentions and few of us who have not violated some law therefore I have a feeling for those who have been caught possibly for something we have been guilty of ourselves. For you grown ups know that to lock up a young person tears down their moral and often leads to many a criminal. If we would just stop and think and say some nice word to our fellow man we do not realize what this would mean. We should endeavor to teach our children to be satisfied and contented with the things that are around us and we have many things to be thankful for. Let's praise and not criticize.

The Chamber of Commerce has done a great job in having Lubbock painted and cleaned up. Now lets make Lubbock an outstanding County for morals. We have a great school here one of which we are all proud of, lets not over-look the most important part which you know is the christianity and morality of our children. We do not think anything of spending thousands and thousands of dollars in buildings and other enterprises and still we can't spend a little time on our children, lets be thinking. Does your children love and obey you, as they should, if not, why? Have you a goal in life and are you impressing on your children that they must have a goal to reach? We all must have some object in life for which we must strive. We should not be just wandering. Will state that I have reared my children in Lubbock through the public schools and in Tech College and I am proud of my children. I have never asked for a public office before and will say if you people see fit to vote for me for Sheriff I will surely appreciate same.

I feel further that Slaton, the largest city in Lubbock County outside the county seat should have a resident Deputy Sheriff. If elected Sheriff I will appoint such a deputy for Slaton.

Pol. Adv.

T. W. MONTGOMERY

ship-of homes.

8. Raise the truck law scientifically according to the number of wheels, wheel base and size of truck.

9. Have Fair trade acts to prevent state dumping and monopoly.

10. Against liquor sold by drink and legalized gambling.

LOCAL O.E.S. CELEBRATES CHAPTER BIRTHDAY

The local O.E.S. Chapter celebrated the Chapter's 23rd birthday at a regular meeting, Tuesday evening, July 12.

Brother J. W. Hood gave a very interesting talk on the history of the Chapter.

As Sr. Scoggins lighted the 23 candles which topped the birthday cake, the Star Points gave tributes in behalf of the wives, daughters, mothers, widows and sisters of Slaton Chapter No. 585.

Plans are being made for an Old Fashioned Box Supper which will be public and held at the Club House. Watch for the date. The Birthday cake made in the five colors of the Star and punch was served in the dining room, following the meeting.

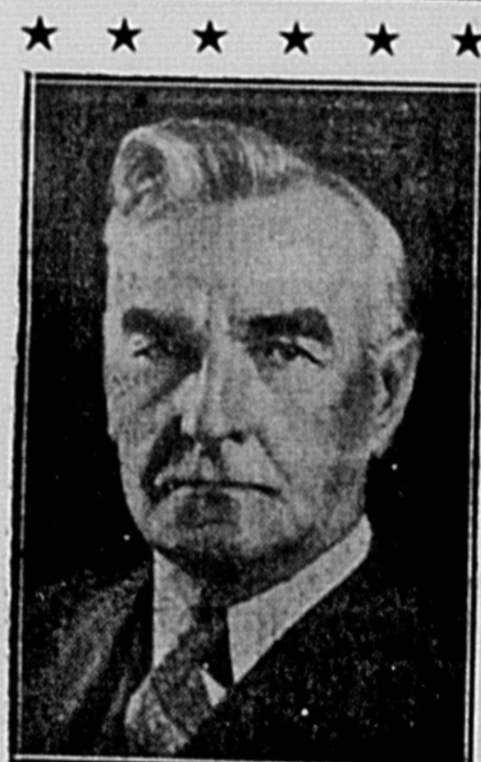

ELECT

OUR SENATOR
G. H. NELSON
OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

Lieutenant Governor

HONEST, EFFICIENT
DEPENDABLE

Political Advertising paid for by Slaton Friends of Senator Nelson.

M. J. R. JACKSON

Candidate for Nomination to the Office of

CHIEF JUSTICE

Of The

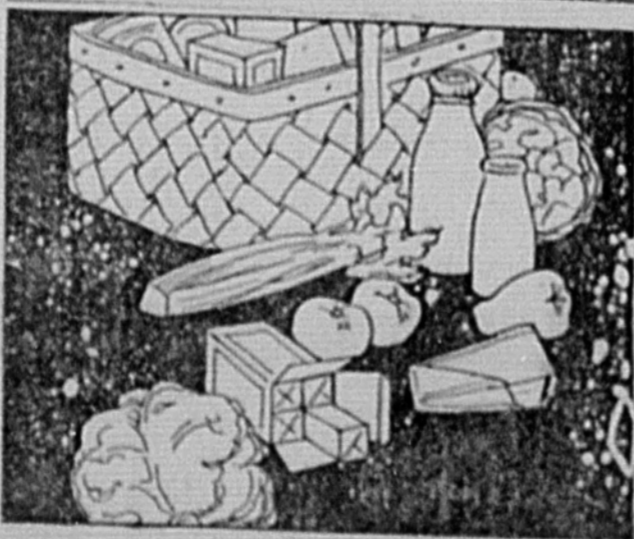

Court of Civil Appeals
Amarillo, Texas

In the Democratic Primary July 23, 1938

use the BABY POWDER that doctors recommend

Now you can get a baby powder that will keep your baby SAFER against germs and skin infections. It's Mennen Antiseptic Powder Your doctor will tell you that whenever you buy a baby powder it surely ought to be Mennen because Mennen is more than just a dusting powder—it's antiseptic! And it costs no more! So, mother, buy a tin from your druggist today.

MENNEN Antiseptic POWDER

Staple Groceries—Fresh Produce Daily

PIGGLY WIGGLY

Dear Alene--

You remember I told you that we were planning to buy an electric range? Well, we've bought a Westinghouse! It's the prettiest and easiest to keep clean you have ever seen. Actually, you realize how much cooler and cleaner my kitchen is now. No more hot, stuffy kitchens for me!

But of all the conveniences, I like the auto oven best. Baking is simply a snap... of the... and that's all. Everything just seems to cook

So, if you are still interested in a new range, by all means, buy a Westinghouse Electric Range

Love,
Blanche

P.S. These ranges are at the...

TEXAS-NEW MEXICO UTILITIES CO.

MRS. LEE GREEN ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Lee green entertained with a breakfast honoring Mrs. J. G. Levy of Houston, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Ragsdale, 305 So. 11th street.

The morning was spent in progressive 42. Those present were:

Mesdames Julia Adams, Minnie Brannon, Lula Loveless, Allie Rowland Lillian Pember, Laura Rhodes, Anne Rayburn, Sue Klassner, Lula Florence, Birdie Shankle, Edith Sanders, Virgie Ragsdale, Nancy Smith, Caroline Marriott, Mamie Levy, Lena Green.

The hostess was assisted by Peg Ragsdale and Gladys Herral and little Mary Herral.

BLUEBONNET
The Bluebonnet
Carl Evans
The next
W. E. Payne
On the 7th annual picnic their families
Job well
Office
Every
A Palmer

Values Like T Spell Sav
at KESSELS
Mid-Summ
Clearan

MEN'S $3.50
White & Comb.
Sport Shoes
$2.79

All Leather
A Good Full Size Pillow Case
10c

A Large of Bear
Wome
$1.00
$1.98

SAVE ON THESE AND ITEMS NOW & ALL NEXT

KESSEL
DEPARTMENT STORE

Posey Paragraphs

Frances Boyce, Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carroll and sons Jonnie Glyn and Mr. Abner Carroll of Paducah spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carroll.

A family reunion was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gentry Sunday. Relatives attending out of the community were, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morgan and sons, Bud and Shorty of Italy, Texas; Mrs. Chan Hastings and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Hastings of Alief, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bailey of Muleshoe, Mr. Daniel of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Bailey and son of Slaton, and numerous other relatives of the community. There were seventy people present.

Doris Dell Richardson was ill last week. Imogene Gentry sprained her ankle Sunday. La Verne Gentry is ill with asthma.

Mrs. Chan Hastings and son Fritz

BANKS

OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION of the Citizens State Bank, at Slaton, State of Texas, at the close of business on the 30 day of June, 1938, published in the Slatonite, a newspaper printed and published at Slaton, State of Texas, on the 15 day of July, 1938.

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts, on personal or collateral security --- $83,727.15
 Securities of U. S., and State or political subdivision thereof 4,046.25
 Banking House --- 4,000.00
 Furniture and Fixtures --- 1,000.00
 Cash and due from approved reserve agents --- 462,028.60

TOTAL $554,802.00

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT:

GRAND TOTAL $554,802.00

Capital Stock --- $25,000.00
 Surplus Funds --- 7,000.00
 Undivided Profits, net --- 3,918.77
 Revenue for Taxes and Contingencies --- 1,938.40
 Individual Deposits subject to check, including time deposits due in 30 days --- 516,267.25
 Cashier's Checks Outstanding - 677.58

TOTAL $554,802.00

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT:

GRAND TOTAL $554,802.00

STATE OF TEXAS, County of Lubbock,

We, J. S. Edwards, as President and H. T. Swanner, as Cashier of said bank, each of us, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of our knowledge and belief.

J. S. Edwards, President
 H. T. Swanner, Cashier

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of July, A. D. 1938

Lea Beth Drewry,
 Notary Public, Lubbock County, Texas.

CORRECT-ATTEST:

H. G. Sanders
 C. F. Anderson (seal)
 Bob Merrell, Directors

"Battle of Broadway" Film of Legionnaires Who Hazed New York

New York must be a constant source of amazement to visitors.

This constant state of disarray gave rise some time ago to one of the city's funniest legends. The American Legion had held its memorable convention in the big town and the sophisticated metropolis was flabbergasted.

Legionnaires had taken over the control of traffic; they brought in all manner of trick gadgets to astonish the bored New Yorkers out of seven year's growth; they sat in rocking chairs in the middle of Broadway; they amazed the press—and columns were devoted to their hilarious antics.

The veterans hadn't forgotten a trick after 20 years, but they drew the line at rough house. There was a good-natured fun; and so it was a good-natured New York which howled with glee when a group of Legionnaires stood at the brink of a gaping subway hole in the wee hours one morning and vociferously explained to a smiling policeman:

"Officer, honest to crackers, we never done it. That hole was here when we came around the corner!"

And 20th Century-Fox's boisterous laugh riot, "Battle of Broadway," which opens at the Palace Theatre today bases a big proportion of its fun on the events which took the gay white way by the ears when the Legion hit town.

In the capable hands of Victor McLaglen and Brian Donlevy, both honest-to-gosh war veterans, the story of their efforts to rescue a brother veteran's son from the wiles of Louise Hastings and wife of Alief, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morgan and sons of Italy spent the weekend with friends and relatives. Mr. W. T. Gentry accompanied the Morgans home and will spend the next two weeks there.

Messrs. Benton Patterson and J. I. Patterson and families spent Sunday at Carlsbad, N. M.

W. E. LAVENDAR
 for COUNTY CLERK
 Lubbock County, Texas
 Pol. Adv. paid for by Slaton Friends

MERCY HOSPITAL REPORTER

Miss Mildred Rogers, tonsillectomy Wednesday.

Mrs. David Houston, surgery, Tuesday.

Mrs. T. O. Petty, who underwent surgery last week is progressing nicely.

Ronnie Thornton, incubator baby, was taken home to Littlefield by his parents last Sunday.

Bill Moseley who underwent major surgery last week was able to be taken home Wednesday.

Jack Thompson, 9, of 440 W. Lynn, tonsillectomy Wednesday.

Mr. T. L. Rampy, medical patient, Tuesday.

Miss Ida Johnson of Post, tonsillectomy Saturday.

Miss Lena Belle Foster of Post, medical, Saturday.

Beurl Blake, Post, medical patient July 9th.

Mrs. Jack Rose of Slaton, medical patient Tuesday.

Have your prescriptions filled at TEAGUE DRUG STORE by a Registered Pharmacist

Hovick, a New York showgirl charmer, is full of plenty of love interest for the women—and heaps of hell-for-leather gusto for the Class of 1917-18.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchinson of Glendale, California, who have been visiting Mrs. Hutchinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitehead, are returning home this week. Kathryn Whitehead will go with them for a short visit.

Irvin Woods has returned to his home at Alpine after spending a week with relatives and friends.

Have your prescriptions filled at TEAGUE DRUG STORE by a Registered Pharmacist

WHY PAY RENT?

If you have a steady job, we can get you a 90% loan with which to build a home.

LET US HELP YOU WITH YOUR PLANS

Plains Lumber Co.

Phone 282

MERCY HOSPITAL
 CONDUCTED BY SISTERS OF MERCY
 The Staff:

Dr. W. E. Payne
Dr. Harry Jacobson
Dr. Roy G. Loveless
Dr. George Scott Allen

This Ad Sponsored by RED CROSS PHARMACY

Vote For VANROE M. HOWARD
 For DISTRICT CLERK
 OF LUBBOCK COUNTY
 I promise Prompt, Efficient and Courteous Service at all times.
 (Experienced, Qualified and Ready to Serve) Pol. Adv.

SHORT LIMIT

First - Class
 Round - trip
SUMMER EXCURSION FARES

From SLATON, TEXAS
 To—
 LOS ANGELES --- $43.35
 SAN DIEGO --- 43.35
 SAN FRANCISCO --- 54.40
 Tickets are on sale daily to Sep. 30th, limited 21 days in addition to date of sale and good in sleeping cars upon payment of charge for space occupied.
 CORRESPONDINGLY LOW FARES FROM OTHER POINTS
 Air-conditioned standard and tourist pullmans—reclining chair car, free pillows—convenient schedule.
 For complete details,
 Call— Or Write—
 W. H. Smith, M. C. Burton,
 Agent, General Passenger Agent,
 Slaton, Texas Amarillo, Texas

LOOKS GOOD!
 SMELLS GOOD!
 TASTES GOOD!
 IS GOOD!

OUR BREAD
 Other Fine Bakery Products
SLATON BAKERY, INC.

A LONG COOL DRINK TO QUENCH YOUR THIRST

SLATON CONFECTIONERY

W. L. Huckabay,
 M. D., D. D. S.
 PRACTICING DENTISTRY and OPTOMETRY
 Slaton, Texas

The worst
BODY ODOR is
P.O.

The worst body odor comes from P.O.—perspiration odor under the arms.
 Take 1 minute to use Yodora—new, amazing deodorant cream that works directly on underarm excretions. Normally stops odor 1 to 3 days. Yodora also reduces amount of perspiration.
 Made without lard—Yodora is utterly different from stiff, greasy pastes: (1) Soft—smooth as face cream. (2) Leaves no sticky film on fingers or underarms. (3) Leaves no "lardy" smell on clothes. 25¢—50¢. Get it today—money back if not delighted.
 Trial size free. Send coupon.

YODORA
 DEODORANT CREAM
FREE! Send coupon for trial size to McKesson & Robbins, Fairfield, Conn. Dept. P-1.
 Name _____
 Address _____

THE SIX SUPREME

CHEVROLET

Leads the Sixes... Sixes Lead the World

THE ONLY LOW-PRICED CAR WITH ALL THESE FEATURES:

- Perfected Hydraulic Brakes
- 85-Horsepower Valve-in-Head Engine
- All-Silent, All-Steel Bodies
- Genuine Knee-Action*

*ON MASTER DE LUXE MODELS ONLY

CROW-HARRAL CHEVROLET COMPANY

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

AGENTS

29 Million Housewives Need Vogue Appealing new, smart, bath room and kitchen fixture. Nothing like it before. Easily installed. 1 minute demonstration sells. Good commissions. Elsworth Industries, 701 N. Michigan, Chicago

SCHOOLS

OLD LONDON School of Beauty Southwest's Oldest No failures on state examinations. A position for every graduate. Full courses with instruments and books $67.50. Terms $1.50 down, $2.00 weekly. 2535 Forest Ave., Dallas

Largest Flag

The largest national flag in history, so far as is known, is one of the Stars and Stripes, made by a New York company for a Detroit department store in 1923, says Collier's. This flag, which cost $2,700, is more than 20,700 square feet in area.

Makes 10 BIG GLASSES FREE AVIATION CAPS BOY'S GIRLS KOO-LAID 51 ASK YOUR GROCER

Railroad Era

One-fifth of the present railroad mileage of the country was constructed in the eight years 1886 to 1893, inclusive.

NERVOUS?

Do you feel so nervous you want to scream? Are you cross and irritable? Do you scold those dearest to you? If your nerves are on edge and you feel you need a good general system tonic, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. For over 60 years one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with reliable Pinkham's Compound. It helps nature build up more physical resistance and thus helps calm quivering nerves and lessen discomforts from annoying symptoms which often accompany female functional disorders. Why not give it a chance to help YOU? Over one million women have written in reporting wonderful benefits from Pinkham's Compound.

A Sunny Friend

A cheerful friend is like a sunny day, which sheds its brightness on all around.—Sir J. Lubback.

sore eyes get worse and worse the longer you let them go; Leonard's Golden Eye Lotion cures inflammation and soreness without pain in one day. Cooling, healing, strengthening.

LEONARD'S GOLDEN EYE LOTION MAKES WEAK EYES STRONG

35c at all druggists New Large Size with Dropper—50 cents S. B. Leonard & Co., New Rochelle, N. Y.

Affections and Intellect The affections come to school with the intellect.—Dr. Gregory.

MOROLINE FOR BURNS SNOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY LARGE JARS 5¢ AND 10¢

Encouraging Men are born to succeed, not to fail.—Thoreau.

TO KILL Screw Worms Your money back if you don't like Cannon's Liniment. It kills screw worms, heals the wound and keeps flies away. Ask your dealer. (Adv.)

KILL ALL FLIES Placed anywhere, Daisy Fly Killer attracts and kills flies. Guaranteed, effective. Neat, convenient—cannot spill—without soil or injury anything. Lasts all seasons. 25¢ at all dealers. Harold Somers, Inc., 130 1/2 Kalb Ave., Bklyn., N. Y. DAISY FLY KILLER

WNU-L 28-38

Sentinels of Health Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbances. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Inset at Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

Fun for the Whole Family

THE FEATHERHEADS By Osborne

Comic strip 'THE FEATHERHEADS' showing a man being hit by a falling object. Speech bubbles: 'SOMEONE BREAKING IN! AND FELIX NOT AT HOME!', 'I-I-I CAN'T GO DOWN—I-C-C-CAN'T STAY HERE—I'LL HAVE TO G-GO DOWN', 'IT'S IN THE KITCHEN! I'LL PUT THE LIGHT ON AND SCREAM!', 'SO—YOU FORGOT YOUR KEY—WHY DIDN'T YOU RING THE BELL?', 'I DIDN'T WANT TO DISTURB YOU'.

S'MATTER POP— Considering the Up and Down Season By C. M. PAYNE

Comic strip 'S'MATTER POP' showing a man slipping on a sidewalk. Speech bubbles: 'IN CASE OF TROUBLE A FELLA ORTA HAVE SUMTHIN TO FALLBACK ON!', 'ONE MINUTE YER UP, AN THA NEXT THING YAKNOW, YER DOWN!', 'WISE THOUGHT FOR A LITTLE FELLOW!', 'ME FER SUMTHIN TO FALL BACK ON. YES, SIR!', 'MY BOY SPEAKING!', 'WHAT KINDA TROUBLE AEE YA FIGGERIN' AT?', 'SLIPPERY SIDEWALKS!'.

MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY

Comic strip 'MESCAL IKE' showing a man at a post office. Speech bubbles: 'I TAKE NOTE TH CREDIT HOUSE IS WRITIN' TO MULEY BATES AGEN', 'YEAH?', 'UH-HUH... THIS TIME THEY SENT HIM A STAMPED RETURN ENVELOPE', 'AND WHAT'D MULEY DO ABOUT IT?', 'HE SENT 'EM BACK TH' STAMP ON ACCOUNT', 'GENRUL STORE POST OFFICE'.

FINNEY OF THE FORCE By Ted O'Loughlin

Comic strip 'FINNEY OF THE FORCE' showing two men talking. Speech bubbles: 'LO CRACKER—WHIN DID YEZ GIT OUT?', 'OH—I GRADUATED TWO WEEKS AGO', 'TREE YEARS FER THAT SAFE JOB—OI HOPE YEZ WILL GO STRAIGHT NOW—BE YEZ WURRIN'?', 'NAW—NOT YET—WOULD YA HELP ME TO BE ABLE TO GO TO WORK?', 'O'D GLADLY DO ENNYTING T'HELP YEZ', 'THERE'S JUST ONE TING THAT KEEPS ME FROM BEING BUSY—', 'WHUT BE THAT', '—GETTIN' ME TOOLS BACK WHAT YA CAUGHT ME WIT—'.

POP— The Proof

Comic strip 'POP— The Proof' showing a man riding a horse. Speech bubbles: 'I SEE POP'S OUT—', '—RIDING AGAIN!', 'INSET POP!'.

THE MINUTE THAT SEEMS A YEAR By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

Comic strip 'THE MINUTE THAT SEEMS A YEAR' showing a man looking at a clock. Text: 'YOU SEE THE B'G BOYS, WHO HAVE LOST THEIR BALL DOWN A BUTTER DRAIN, CAST A SPECULATIVE EYE AT YOUR BALL.'

DISCRETION

"Do you still take lessons in painting?" "No," answered Mrs. Jud Tunkins. "After three lessons I manicured my finger nails and decided that a woman ought not to sacrifice too much for the sake of a personal career."

Vicious Circle

Customer (after paying an account)—I's square now. Shopkeeper—Yes, sir, but I hope you'll soon be round again.—Montreal Star.

True

John—What is truth? Pa—What you hear when two women are having a row.

CONDENSED

Smith looked up from his desk and handed it to his wife, said, pointing to the line, "Talk." "Why wrong?" she asked. "Well," replied he, "it's half a column beneath it."

Advertisement for IRIUM Conquers Surface-Stains for Pepsodent Users. Irium contained in BOTH Pepsodent Tooth Powder and Pepsodent Tooth Paste. "It's Pepsodent for me!"... That's what thousands of people the country over are saying about the new, modernized Pepsodent containing Irium. Yes... and you'll say the same once you've used this remarkable fast-action dentifrice.

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL

By Carter Field

WASHINGTON.—A new idea of the "yardstick" as applied to TVA, Bonneville and other government power projects is being discussed in New Deal circles, with the positive statement in some quarters that it is really what the President and David E. Lillenthal mean when they use the word.

First, let's consider what has been the popular conception—what congress thought it was when it was voting the money for TVA. Stated briefly, the idea was that it would be demonstrated what the price of electricity should be to small consumers—literally a yardstick to determine whether rates charged by privately owned utilities were fair.

This is the only explanation of the "yardstick" that has ever been publicly considered. It is the only one congress ever thought of. It is what the average, intelligent, well-informed person thinks it is all about. And it may still be the correct answer.

But let's look at this new conception, advanced now by people in sympathy with New Deal objectives and particularly in sympathy with the government electric projects.

According to this theory, the whole purpose is to demonstrate to the country, and to the electric industry, that if power is produced in enormous quantities, and offered to ordinary consumers at very low rates, consumption will leap up to an unbelievable extent, and hence the reduction of rates would be the soundest thing, economically, that the electric companies could do.

Note in this connection that Lillenthal was actually attacked by Arthur E. Morgan for having used high pressure methods to induce people to use more electricity than Morgan thought they could afford.

Forced Prosperity

Note that Lillenthal has repeatedly insisted that the privately owned electric systems in TVA territory had literally had prosperity forced upon them by TVA competition—that is, by being forced to reduce their rates.

Note that in Bonneville what seemed to the electric industry a very bad policy, from the purely economic standpoint, was laid down. In this case the stream flow is such that there is an enormous quantity of constant power, that is, power which is available for 24 hours a day, and cannot be economically stored during the hours when the consumption might be low. For this sort of situation, private power experts figured the most economical use would be to get industrial plants to locate near the switchboard, and particularly the type of plants which would operate in three shifts, thus using all the potential power.

But emphatically the government does not want this. It wanted wide distribution. It was to give the household consumers for hundreds of miles around the benefit of this cheap power. The answer, according to this new theory, is that if the rates were made low enough, the small consumers would use so much electricity that the whole operation would be profitable. But also that it would be an outstanding object lesson to the utility executives of the country, showing them that there is gold in the hills if they will only mine for it with low rates.

Certainly, one New Dealer pointed out, Lillenthal must have been ignoring the old yardstick conception when he reported to congress recently on the allocations as to cost of the three first TVA dams as between power, navigation and flood control.

Marked for Slaughter

The latest development in the Maryland "purge" situation is that Senator George L. Radcliffe, who does not come up for re-election until 1940, is marked for the slaughter by the supporters of Representative David J. Lewis. What happened was that Radcliffe, after announcing some time back that he was for the renomination of Senator Millard E. Tydings, later accepted the post of campaign manager for his colleague.

This seems to have taken the Lewis people by surprise. In fact, they are indignant. They are saying that Radcliffe has now shown himself in his true colors, after having posed as a New Dealer since his election to the senate in 1934.

Actually it should not have surprised any one. Again and again, while the Tommy Corcoran crowd was looking for somebody to run against Tydings, they would go to Radcliffe for advice. Always Radcliffe told them that he was for Tydings.

So while it may not have been figured in advance that he would take the chairmanship of Tydings' campaign, it should not have surprised the Lewis people that Radcliffe should be sitting in Tydings' corner.

Incidentally, the Lewis publicity indicates a rather amazing ignorance of the last few years in Maryland politics. One need only go back to 1934 to figure that Radcliffe would be very unlikely to take any public step against Tydings.

The Case of Ritchie

At that time Governor Albert C. Ritchie was still alive and active. In fact, he was the undisputed boss of the Democratic party in Maryland. He was serving his fourth term as governor, and aspired to a fifth term, although no governor before that had ever succeeded in getting two terms.

Tydings, who had been a loyal lieutenant to Ritchie, knew that his chief had slipped in personal strength due to a combination of factors. One was that too many people were getting to think that Ritchie should be satisfied with four terms, that the honors should be passed around. Another was that Ritchie had made many enemies in the Eastern Shore section of Maryland by using the militia to break up mobs in a threatened lynching. Still another was that, rightly or wrongly, a lot of people blamed Ritchie for the fact that some of the banks in Maryland had gone sour during the dark days of early 1933.

So Tydings urged Ritchie to run for senator instead of governor. No one questions that Ritchie could easily have been elected senator. The term of a Republican was expiring, and no one would have opposed Ritchie for the Democratic nomination.

In an attempt to force Ritchie's hand Tydings brought out Radcliffe for governor, as a sort of trial balloon. Ritchie was unmoved, ran for governor and was defeated by Harry W. Nice. Tydings, after Ritchie's decision, then supported Radcliffe for senator, and he was easily elected, though he had never run for office before, on the same day Ritchie was defeated.

All of which put Radcliffe under all sorts of obligations to Tydings, and Radcliffe is not a man to take his obligations lightly.

Where Will It Lead?

Although the intention was to put the conduct of the anti-trust investigation on a high plane, administration critics say that too much weight is put on the preliminary meetings between big business executives and the New Deal prima donnas. These critics hold that a proper appraisal of such get-togethers is that New Deal strategists such as Thurman Arnold, Tommy Corcoran, Ben Cohen and Herman Oliphant are glad to talk to anybody, but they keep on their way undisturbed by the talk. In short, they seem to be simply impervious to other views if the other views do not fit in with their preconceived notions.

Where that path will lead is by no means certain as half a dozen senators and representatives, including Senators William E. Borah and Joseph C. O'Mahoney, have their own ideas as to how to proceed. This "economic" commission has not yet organized. Participation by congress in the inquiry was not desired by President Roosevelt, and the independent attitude of congressional members is fair assurance that it will not be dominated by the White House. In fact, time and again Senator O'Mahoney, although an original Roosevelt man "Before Chicago," and a member of Roosevelt's "little cabinet," as assistant postmaster general, before his coming to the senate, has shown his independence. In fact, he first became a close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt by differing with her sharply, and in a large committee meeting, on an important question involving personalities in politics.

His difference with the President on the Supreme court issue is still remembered, and with some bitterness, at the White House.

Keep Check on Inquiry

Congressional members have not been present at the meetings arranged between administration officials and various members of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper's business advisory council. Even so, the council never has been able to exert any influence on the administration, although Prentiss L. Cooney, who came to Washington some time back as assistant to W. Averell Harriman, council chairman, is trying to build up its effectiveness as an agency of co-operation between business and government. He has succeeded to the extent, and only to the extent, of bringing in personal contact with the young brain trusters prominent members of the Roper group, including important figures from Standard Oil, American Radiator, Sears Roebuck and Co., U. S. Steel, and General Foods.

Congressional members of the commission don't propose to let administration officials run away with the inquiry. Representative Edward C. Eicher of Iowa is the only 100 per cent New Dealer in the lot, but the Capitol contingent splits along other lines. Senator William H. King of Utah and Representatives Hatton W. Summers of Texas and B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee will seek to define anti-trust policy for the future in a quiet, orderly fact-finding inquiry without upsetting business. Senators Borah and O'Mahoney disclaim any intention of turning the inquiry into a circus but believe nevertheless that it should be a public performance and the commission, with that in mind, was given all the inquisitorial powers of the securities and exchange commission in the resolution setting it up.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 17

DEBORAH: EMERGENCY LEADERSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Judges 4:1-9, 12-14. GOLDEN TEXT—Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?—Esther 4:14. PRIMARY TOPIC—Why Deborah Sang. JUNIOR TOPIC—Why Deborah Sang. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Ready for Emergencies. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Emergency Leadership.

"Every man did that which was right in his own eyes." Such is the divine summary of what was wrong in Israel during the period of the judges (Judges 21:25). "There was no king in Israel," no competent and inspiring leadership. The people lived according to the whims of the day, and, as always, humanity left to itself drifted to lower and lower levels. This was true morally and spiritually and ultimately politically, for they came repeatedly into bondage to other nations and were only delivered as God raised up judges to lead them to repentance and victory, as well as to rule over them.

I. A People in Disorder (vv. 1-3). Any people that forgets God and begins to live after the dictates of the flesh will at length come to the place where some strong man with "chariots of iron" will rule over them. We, in America, look at the other nations of the world, viewing their plight with sympathy but ever assuring ourselves that "it can't happen here." We ought to arouse ourselves and face the facts lest our own land, happy in its possession of God's great blessings of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," abuse those privileges, neglect the worship of God, spurn the leadership He gives us, and become "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God; having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof" (II-Tim. 3:4, 5). If we do not awake and repent the Lord may have to "sell" us, as He did Israel, into the hands of the oppressor.

II. A Leader Called of God (vv. 4-9).

God always has His man ready for the hour of need—only in this case His man was a woman. Glorious indeed is the record of faithful and capable womanhood in annals of God's work on earth. Deborah was a woman of unique gifts—a poetess, a prophetess, and withal "the wife of Lapidoth," evidently a woman who cared well for her own household.

Brains and natural ability are much needed, especially in a time such as ours when few there are who even care to think for themselves and few who have any desire to develop native ability except for the purpose of "making money." But true leadership calls for more than talent and intelligence; it calls for a burning in the soul, a divine zeal, the urge of God in the heart.

Deborah had this fiery touch upon her life. Barak, while undoubtedly a man of ability, evidently did not have it. Many excuses have been offered for the weakness indicated in verse eight. It has been said that he was cautious, or that he wanted to give the place of honor to Deborah as the leader of her people. These suggestions may be true, but somehow one has the feeling that what he really lacked was the "flaming heart." May God give it to us, that in our much doing of His work the divine fire may warm and inspire us!

III. A Divine Victory (vv. 12-14).

God gave Deborah and Barak a great victory, but note that it was God and not man who brought about the defeat of Jabin (Judges 4:15, 23). It was a complete victory and the enemies of Israel troubled them no more for many a day.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith aptly points out that we should look "upon these conflicts in the book of Judges as certainly symbols of the great conflict that every Christian knows as he wrestles, not with flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers, against the world-rulers of darkness and spiritual wickedness in heavenly places. Victory is certain only when the Lord is with us and only when we walk in His will and contend against evil in His power. We are more than conquerors, but only through the Lord Jesus Christ" (Peloubet's Select Notes).

In closing this lesson the writer of these notes wishes to recognize the blessing of God in enabling him to complete two years of this service to Him and to His people. He also wishes to thank those readers in every state of the Union and in a number of foreign countries who have written to him words of appreciation, encouragement and counsel.

Value of Meditation It is not he that reads most, but he that meditates most on Divine truth, that will prove the choicest, wisest, strongest Christian.—Bishop Hall.

Attaining Perfection The warm loves and fears, that swept over us as clouds, must lose their finite character and blend with God, to attain their own perfection.—Emerson.

Designs for Sheer Cottons

THESE pretty styles will make you and your daughter feel fresh and cool, and look smart and charming, when you go out to tea parties or dinner, these midsummer days. They have a summery, dressy effect, and yet they are not fussy. Make them yourself, and have something very individual as well as fashion-right. It's so easy; a detailed sew chart comes with each pattern. And you can wear much prettier materials when you sew your own—at big savings, too.

Afternoon Dress with Shirring. Shirring is one of the smartest details you can choose—it's used just this way in new and expensive models—on the shoulders, to give fullness over the bust, and at the sides only of the skirt. Thus your dress has animation and grace, and yet the front and back are plain and won't crush and muss when you sit down. In dimity, voile, organdy, handkerchief lawn or mull, with a youthful tie belt and frills of lace, this will be the most flattering frock you own.

Bolero Frock for Little Girls. With or without the sleeveless bolero, this dress is a perfect darling for little girls! It's so simple and yet it has loads of style, with its very puffed sleeves, very full skirt, and little round collar. Notice how short the bolero is—that's the smart new kind. Make this up in dotted swiss, dimity, organdy or batiste, and trim it with rickrack, Irish edging, or linen lace. It's a pattern that you and your little girl will both like so well that you'll make many times over. It will be nice for school in fall fabrics, too.

The Patterns.

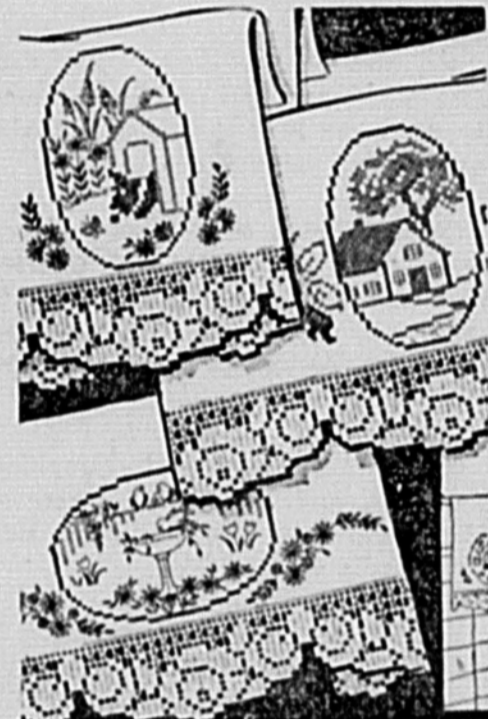

1505 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 6 requires 2 1/4 yards of 35 inch material for dress alone. Three-eighths yard for bolero; 1/4 yard for contrasting collar, if desired. Two and three-eighths yards is required for trimming bolero and collar.

1545 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 3/4 yards of 35 inch material. Three yards of lace edging for neckline and sleeves. One and one-fourth yards ribbon for belt.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Combine Crochet and Cross Stitch

Pattern 6106.

A quick "beauty treatment" for your linens—this easy-to-crochet border and simple embroidery motif! Pattern 6106 contains a transfer pattern of two motifs 6 by 11 inches, two motifs 4 by 12 inches; and two motifs 5 1/4 by 6 inches; chart and directions for crochet; color schemes; illustrations of stitches; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern, send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) to The Sewing Circle, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. Fourteenth St., New York City.

Please write your name, address and pattern number plainly.

Czechoslovakia

The republic of Czechoslovakia is composed of two branches of the same Slav nation: the Czechs of Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia, and the Slovaks of Slovakia.

The state came into existence on October 28, 1918, when the national council took over the government of the Czechoslovak countries, which had formerly belonged to the Austro-Hungarian monarchy. The Czechoslovak national assembly met in Prague on November 14, 1918, and formally declared the Czechoslovak state to be a republic.

Gold Rush Crime Wave

Crime was rampant in San Francisco during the gold rush during the early fifties. Up to 1854 there were 4,200 homicides and 1,200 suicides, while the records of the next few years showed many deaths by violence, the high mark being reached in 1855 with 585. In 1851 the Vigilance Committee was formed to attempt to free the city of most of the lawless element. By 1856, when it came together a second time, order was restored in the community. More than 8,000 citizens served on the two committees.

$500 CASH Each Week

$250 to Consumers FREE to Grocers GIVEN—YOU CAN WIN $50 THIS WEEK—if you act QUICK... Everybody can enter this simple, easy—

FLA-VOR-AID

NEWS ITEM CONTEST

1st Prize $50.00 3rd Prize $10.00
2nd " 25.00 4th " 5.00
5 Prizes, Ea. 2.00 150 Prizes, Ea. 1.00
159 Cash Prizes Given Each Week

- Here Are the Simple Rules
- 1—Clip the most unusual or unusual News item from your paper or magazine.
- 2—Complete this sentence in 10 words or less—"THE ONE THING I LIKE BEST ABOUT FLA-VOR-AID is..."
- 3—Attach entry to wrapper from 50 package of FLA-VOR-AID or facsimile.
- 4—Add the Name and Address of Grocer where you bought FLA-VOR-AID.
- 5—Sign your Name and Address plainly.
- 6—Mail Entry to JEL SERT CO., 1020 S. Central Park Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, not later than Wednesday, July 20th. Judges' decision is final.

ENTER TODAY

You May Win $50.00

Prize winners will be notified by mail. For list of winners write to the Jel Sert Co. Chicago, Ill.

Not One Drop of Acid!

QUAKER STATE has accomplished a scientific "miracle" . . . produced from the finest Pennsylvania crude oil a motor oil so pure that the common ailments of sludge, carbon and corrosion are wholly overcome. Four great, modern refineries equipped with every scientific aid are at the service of the motoring public . . . deliver to you Acid-Free Quaker State which makes your car run better, last longer. Retail price, 35¢ a quart. Quaker State Oil Refining Corp., Oil City, Penna.

"MADE TO ORDER FOR 'MAKIN'S' SMOKERS" SAYS JOE BARTLETT

PRINCE ALBERT'S CUT RIGHT FOR SELF-ROLLED SMOKES. IT ROLLS UP FAST AND PLUMP—DRAWS EASY, AND SMOKES COOL. AND SAY—ME AND THE BOYS GO FOR THAT MELLOW, MILD P.A. TASTE IN A BIG WAY!

70 fine roll-your-own cigarettes in every 2-oz. tin of Prince Albert

P. A.'S MADE TO ORDER FOR PIPE-SMOKING JOY TOO!

Copyright, 1938, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

PRINCE ALBERT

THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

THE BIG 2 CRIMP CUT 100% BURNING PIPE AND CIGARETTE TOBACCO

Mrs. Binion Honored In Family Reunion

Mrs. H. M. Binion of this city was honored in a family reunion at Post last Sunday at which all four of her daughters were present as well as all seventeen of her grandchildren.

AN OLD-TIME REVIVAL

An old time revival is being held at the Church of God on 840 South 5th street under the direction of Rev. C. G. Crutcher.

FOR SALE: Smith & Barnes Upright Piano. Good condition. Reasonably priced.

WE BUY FOR CASH and SELL ON CREDIT used typewriters, adding machines, and office furniture.

FOR RENT: Bed-room. Front entrance. C. E. Warder, 325 S. 5th St.

FOR RENT: Furnished apartment. Apply 245 So. 15th Street.

FOR SALE: Practically new Speed Queen Washing Machine. Priced at $25. See Henry Trammel.

PALACE

"Cool As A Sea Breeze" 10c - 25c

Friday and Saturday

WHEN THESE BOTTLE-SCARRED LEGIONAIRES LAY SIEGE TO A BEAUTIFUL DAME—

It's a barrage of boisterous buffoonery—a bombardment of button-popping laughs—the most riotous skirmish since Mademoiselle from Armentieres was a mere slip of a girl!

"BATTLE OF BROADWAY"

with Victor McLaglen

Prevue, Sun., Mon.

Freddie Bartholomew Micky Rooney

"LORD JEFF"

EXTRA

Popeye the Sailor

MEETS

"Ali Baba and the 40 Thieves"

A Color-Cartoon Featurette!

Tuesday and Wednesday

Henry Fonda Madelaine Carroll

"BLOCKADE"

Again the Management comes forward to endorse a truly Great Picture to the Palace Theatre Patrons!

CLASS HAS PICNIC

Mrs. Martin and class of the Baptist Sunday School, went on a picnic at Tumble Inn Park at Lubbock, Friday afternoon.

Connie Henry, president; Juanita Elliott, vice-president; Viola Martin, secretary; Cleo Joyce Marr, assistant secretary; Bonnie Mercer, reporter.

CLUBHOUSE SCHEDULE

Supplied by Henry E. Cavener, caretaker. July 15—Open. July 16—Open. July 17—Church, Primitive Baptist.

SANTA FE RECREATIONAL CLUB

Mrs. Howard Purkey, leaving this weekend for San Angelo to make her home, was named honoree Wednesday afternoon.

The house was decorated with lovely flowers. A lovely parting gift was presented the honoree and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Marie Foster, vice-president, assumed the position of the out-going president, Mrs. Purkey, and Mrs. Delma Hodge was elected new vice-president in a short business meeting.

Simple refreshments were served to Mesdames Ernest Robinson, E. G. Robinson, Charlie Smith, L. Gregory, M. L. Foster, J. O. Jenkins, Jim Scott, Purkey, E. J. Kenney, A. H. Shelton, Hodge and Young.

Mrs. J. O. Jenkins will be hostess at the next monthly meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

For the first time in fifty-four years, death has come into our family and has taken our husband and father. Not all the knowing that death must come could lessen the shock of it.

Dr. W. E. Payne and Family. Mrs. F. M. Payne and Family.

Let Our Want Ads Do Your Work.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Slatonite Publication has been authorized to present the names of the following citizens as Candidates for office subject to the action of the Democratic Voters in their primary election on Saturday, July 30, 1938.

FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

(119th District) Alvin R. Allison, of Levelland. W. P. Florence, of Slaton. John Vickers, of Lubbock. R. H. Martin, of Lubbock.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

(72nd Judicial District) Burton S. Burks (Re-Election 2nd term) Vaughn E. Wilson

FOR DISTRICT COURTS CLERK

Louie F. Moore. S. E. McMillan. Royal Furguson, of Lubbock. Vanroe M. Howard

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

Robert J. Allen, (Re-Election)

FOR SHERIFF

Tom Abel, (Re-Election) T. E. (Chief) May. Sid Caraway, of Lubbock. Chas. S. Middleton, of Lubbock

FOR COUNTY TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR

H. B. Bryan. A. G. Hunt, of Lubbock

FOR COUNTY CLERK

Ed D. Allen, (Re-Election) W. E. Lavender, of Lubbock

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

J. J. Dillard, (Re-Election) A. V. Weaver, of Lubbock

FOR COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Joseph R. Griggs, (Re-Election) Claude L. Hale

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Frank Bowles, of Lubbock. A. B. Ellis, (Re-Election, 2nd Term)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

(Precinct No. 2) Ben Mansker, of Slaton. Re-Election, 2nd Term

FOR CONSTABLE

Charley Yates, of Slaton. Bill Evetts

PUBLIC WEIGHER

Boyce Wicker, (Re-Election)

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Anderson returned from their Western trip last week. They picked up the trailer house at Albuquerque and had the misfortune to overturn it a few miles west of Vaughn.

Mrs. L. G. Bain and daughter Dorothy and Mrs. C. R. Bain spent Monday visiting friends in Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ribble of Odessa were in Slaton Sunday visiting Mrs. Ribble's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis of Slaton Floral.

Miss Virginia Montague spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Montague.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Young, and daughter, Joyce, of San Bernadino, California are in Slaton for a couple of weeks visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Young and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Ttate.

Robert and John Martin of San Angelo have been visiting Joe Teague, III.

R. C. Hall of Greenville is to speak at the city hall Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the interest of Karl A. Crowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carter and son Kenneth are off to Colorado Springs, Colorado for a couple of weeks. Vacation it is called, but we suspect Nick will devote much of the time to golf and fishing while Mrs. Carter looks after Kenneth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wylie with Gwennie, Sarah Ann and James, spent the week-end in Brownwood and Abilene visiting relatives.

Chas. Whalen of Whalen Drugs, took off for San Angelo with Charley Wild and Luther Faulkner to try to catch one of the big fish that got away two weeks ago when he was down there.

Mrs. F. C. Scott and daughter, Mary Joe, and Mrs. J. M. Rogers of Albuquerque are visiting Mrs. Ray Conner this week.

Mrs. W. A. Stringer of Hamilton is visiting this week with her daughter Mrs. B. G. Norman.

Mrs. S. A. Ball of Texarkana is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, and holding a reunion with her little son Sam, who has been visiting his grandparents here for several weeks.

W. L. Jones, Jr. and Wm. Holt left Tuesday for the Methodist Sunday School encampment at Mt. Sequoyah, Arkansas.

Uncle George Marriott has just returned from the Santa Fe Hospital at Clovis, where he received medical attention.

BILIOUS?

For biliousness and that tired, worn-out feeling caused by a sluggish liver use ACKER'S BLACK MEDICINE (contains no calomel) RED CROSS PHARMACY

Health-Wrecking Functional PAINS

Severe functional pains of menstruation, cramping spells and jangled nerves soon rob a woman of her natural, youthful freshness. PAIN lines in a woman's face too often grow into AGE lines!

Advertisement for Sufferers of Stomach Ulcers and Hyperacidity, featuring definite relief or money back guarantee.

Advertisement for NU-PLATE, a re-lining for loose false teeth plates.

BOARD of CITY DEVELOPMENT and CHAMBER of COMMERCE NEWS

A. J. PAYNE, SECRETARY

Regular meeting of the Directors of the B. C. D. and Chamber of Commerce met last Tuesday night with a big majority of the members present.

President F. H. Schmidt being absent from this meeting, Vice President Webber Williams took the Chair, and he appointed a committee of C. F. Anderson and M. J. Nelson to look further into the building of a Gymnasium for Slaton.

On account of one Director having been absent four consecutive meetings without a good excuse, Mr. W. M. (Bill) Cates was elected to take his place. Bill has always made a good attendance member of the Directorate in the past and we are glad to see him back with us again.

Sec-Treas. Payne presented his financial report of the 4th of July Celebration, and same was accepted, and the Sec-Treas. then asked what was the will of the Directors as to what to do with the balance of $150.24, and they very quickly by motion carried that same be left as is, for the benefit of and future entertainment that might come up, and as a starter for the next 4th of July.

One other good reason why we need a Gymnasium, is to house the Band Instruments and Uniforms, which are now unprotected, and an investment of around $5,000 should be protected.

P. O. Receipts as given to us by Postmaster K. L. Scudder for the month of June are $975.25 an increase over June last year of $69.75. First two quarters of this year show an increase of $623.84 over the same two quarters of last year.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Staggs are visiting friends and relatives in Indiana.

Burton S. Burks Seeks Re-Election

To the Voters of the 72nd Judicial District: I announced for re-election to the office of District Attorney with a deep appreciation of the votes given me two years ago, and of the splendid support and cooperation I have received from the citizenship of this District during this, my first term.

A. C. Hanna, who went to Chicago in December and has lately been in Dallas came to Slaton last week in the car with his son, J. R. Hanna of Dallas, who is in this section of the country in his capacity of supervisor and appraiser for the H.O.L.C.

Harry Jacobson, M. D.

PHYSICIAN and SURGEON Associated with W. E. PAYNE, M. D. Office Phone 231 Residence 14

Charm Beauty Shop Mrs. Jessie Rice

555 West Garza SPECIALS ON PERMANENTS OPEN FRIDAYS & SATURDAYS

THE FARMERS REFINERY

Cor. 4th & Ave O, Lubbock, Sells good Farm Gas, 6c, & Bronze high test Gas 8c plus Tax Exemptions, Tractor & Stove Distillate 5c. Tractor Lube Oil 25c gal. Transmission & Gun Grease, 5c lb. Bring Barrels.

G. V. PARDUE

LAWYER 7 - 8 Brown Bldg. LUBBOCK, TEXAS

Dr. C. H. McIroy

CHIROPRACTOR ELECTRO-THERAPY 110 Texas Ave. Phone 444

LOCAL UNION NO. 1822

JOHN W. OGLESBY Financial Sec'y and Business Representative To: Officers and Members of Local Union No. 1266 U. B. of C. & J. of A. Greetings: At a regular meeting of Local Union No. 1822, I was instructed to inform all Carpenter's Local Unions of the State as to the labor record of one W. Lee O'Daniel, a candidate for Governor of Texas.

SLATONITES SEE PRESIDENT ARILLO TO SEE THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES MONDAY MORNING. Green, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. J. D. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Odom, E. R. Lox, L. C. Butler, L. L. Lively, H. R. W. Scott, Boyce Wicker, Jones, Jr.

Have your prescriptions filled at TEAGUE'S DRUG STORE Registered Pharmacist Mrs. C. L. Pack's mother, L. Snyder left this week for a few weeks visit with her, Lee Wilson, a recent passenger conductor of the

"Leto's" for the Do your gums itch, become your discomfort, druggette your money if the first "LETO'S" fails to satisfy. RED CROSS PHARMACY Stomach Sufferer Mr. Sidney Smith, who of the Lubbock Hotel Lubbock that he suffered fifteen stomach trouble, but at Gas-Tons a trial now he likes, Gas-Tons are on at Teague Drug Store to explain the ironical that you must be pleased.

LUMBER BARGAIN SAVE $25.00 per thousand GOOD Used Timbers. Buy on many other building including Cypress and Spruce priced low! Murphey's Pioneer Lumber North "H" Lubbock

Refrigerator RENTED and Complete Rebuilding Delta Electric Day Phone 84 Night 1104 Main St., Lubbock

Lubbock Machine Company, Gasoline Truck & Tanks. Also General Machine Work

AUTO LOAN Lowest Available Rates ON USED CARS Refrigerators and 6 per cent Loans on

Pember Ins. Agency

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, including "SUBSCRIBERS", "VOLUME", "A 1", "BY", "GOING TO", "Cotton", "last", "were", "ose who", "ervation", "still", "ing to", "ure is", "ly plans", "erry; in", "ents will", "ember", "ristmas", "iance with", "VO OR TH", "Some peo", "es who", "ghty imp", "ports of", "t found", "icers to", "overnment", "erson w", "emocracy", "it is the", "stay with", "til we are", "is offered", "blic office", "they hadn", "it primary", "essly rec", "has time", "ely does", "himself.", "like a man", "t your ma", "political", "ur democ", "lism for", "wha", "or Germ", "go outside", "mocracy an", "TELL FO", "e can tell", "it, please", "stars and", "lity and", "at love an", "could tell", "s and rum", "you th", "ld be blow", "could put", "ard and w", "e and sit", "e and spea", "a bad col", "s a few pe", "we will b", "rummed if", "ed about", "thoroughly", "neighborin", "July nint", "And what", "ed all over", "ctable da", "news; and", "tell fortun", "ie is smar", "when one", "be all righ", "ION YOU", "END YOU", "e following", "their lo", "having a", "piration", "let Youth", "trist, hel", "s Virgin", "ae Joplin", "Jr. The", "ates from", "h of Slat", "on their", "der people", "mon Nich", "nd Mrs.", "a last we", "ed home", "l weeks", "home of", "r, Sunday", "FOR TH", "ny Fath", "ons.—John", "en from", "Stevens", "ev. Mr. S", "morning", "yterian Ch", "ta Glen", "ys.