THREE OUT-OF-TOWN NEGROES ARE CHARGED WITH LEGAL OFFENSES

"A quiet week-end" was the designation applied to activities in and around Slaton by the law-enforcing officers as regards to such activities as might demand their attention.

The three cases coming to their attention were all from out-of-town. Two Lubbock negroes got into an altercation Sunday night using knives or razors as weapons. They were lodged in jail here and transferred to Lubbock by Ernest Ward, Chief of Police. On investigation of the case Tuesday, Mr. Ward learned that the one on the receiving end of the instrument said he had a cut in his throat but had had it sewed up and that he "had no charge to make."

An Odessa negro was picked up by the Highway patrol in the south edge of Slaton as he had a gun in his car Monday night and lodged in the Slaton jail. He was charged in Lubbock with carrying a gun.

Over the Wire

Heywood Basinger, who recently returned from a Deer Hunting trip to South Texas has his chest out because he got one.

J. J. Maxey and Max Arrants, who went to Harlingen to attend the State Municipalities Convention have gone in to Old Mexico and will come back with some Bull Fighting, or Bull slinging stories, that will be above the average.

It is reported that a Canning plant will be in operation here within a short while and that the location is being prepared and equipment being shipped in. It will start in a small way but the operator expects and hopes to expand.

Visitors to other parts of the state report that the Christmas lighting in Dallas, Austin, Amarillo and other cities, is most attractive, in many cases more elaborate than before the war. Snyder is offering prizes for those whose homes are the most attractive for Christmas and most every town in the state has some kind of Christmas plans except Slaton and Lubbock.

One newly arrived resident of Slaton wants to know whether there is a street cleaning department in Slaton. She said that she had seen more dead cats, tin cans, nail and trash in the gutters in Slaton than she had in any of the smaller towns where she lived before.

Ruby Mullins, who formerly handled publicity for the Slatonite, but who is employed in the United States Health Department in Washington, writes, she was glad to read of the low death rate in Slaton but after her experience in health work and the data she has compiled she cannot understand how Slaton could be such a healthy place.

Turkey prices were nearly twice as high in Slaton last Thanksgiving as in Chicago and from all indications will be so again this Christmas.

Most merchants in Slaton say that the majority of their Christmas merchandise has arrived and that even if a freight embargo is established it will have little effect until after the first of the year.

Plants Needed For Grounds At Colored School

The school for the colored children of Slaton was newly refinished and remodeled for the opening of his school year. The patrons and pupils have been very appreciative of their new building, and have been working hard at beautifying the grounds.

The school held a Halloween Carnival to raise money for use in buying shrubs and trees, but this amount is not adequate. If anyone has any shrubs, trees, or plants to be given away, if they will call Mrs. R. H. Bailey at 240, she will arrange to provide for the digging up and transportation of these to the school grounds. Some individuals have already donated cannas and other plants, which are greatly appreciated.

No Immediate Effects Likely To Be Felt From Coal Miners Strike

In an interview with a local Santa Fe Railroad official regarding the effect of the coal strike on local conditions he said that he does not look for the strike to affect business operations here unless the men stay out for several months.

Even with the present embargo on freight it will take a long time for the effect to be felt here as the embargo does not affect food and agricultural products going to the East and other localities that depend upon coal. This ruling does not affect the shipment of grain and cotton which are the chief products going out of this area to the East.

The embargo will affect commodities coming into this area from the East but as most business concerns selling Holiday merchandise have already purchased the stocks the interference of shipments from the East to this section will not be felt until after the Holidays, or later. It was this official's personal opinion that the strike will probably last some time and that all parts of the nation will feel it before settlement is made.

Local business men are of many different opinions but all of them agree that the situation is very disturbing and could become critical at any time.

La Verne's Beauty Shop is also located at the same address, under the management of Miss La Verne Bain. Miss Bain has been operating her shop for some time, and is now calling attention to the lines of cosmetics which may be obtained there.

DISEASE LURKS IN CROWDED HOUSES

Many a laying house will be the scene of a disease outbreak this winter, and yours may be one of them unless preventive care is taken. If you value the health of your birds, overlook nothing in your effort to provide them with healthy, comfortable quarters.

One of the most common mistakes is that of crowding more birds into a poultry house than it is meant to accommodate. Overcrowding, if continued, can cut into your profits by encouraging the spread of disease, the development of cannibalism and egg picking. Lagging birds may become even more rundown because they are lost in the rush to the crowded feed troughs. Egg production per hen may drop for the same reason.

They Need Room
Remember this guide in determining the number of birds you may safely put into a poultry house:

1. Provide about 3 square feet of floor space per bird for light breeds.
2. Provide about 4 square feet of floor space per bird for heavy breeds.

Make sure there is no crowding at the feeders and waters, and that there is an adequate amount of roosting space and plenty of nests. If feeders and waterers are too small, they are much more likely to become contaminated, thus helping to spread disease. Roosts, when crowded, do not allow birds to obtain the proper amount of rest. When there are not enough nests, eggs become dirty and a considerable number of them may be broken or eaten by hens.

Plenty of Feeding Space
Allow at least 36 feet of feeder space and two five-gallon waterers for every 100 birds. Provide enough roosting space so that each bird has from 8 to 10 inches of space. Each pole should be 14 to 16 inches apart. There should be about one nest for each five chickens.

A dirty, unsanitary poultry house is a perfect breeding ground for disease. Keep it clean and disinfected. Wet litter is another favorite of disease organisms; keep the litter dry. Watch the litter surrounding waterers, and when it becomes damp, replace it with dry litter.

Texas Pig Crop To Be Very Small

Supply of fall-farrowed pigs in Texas will be very short this year, according to a survey made by E. M. Regenbrecht, swine husbandman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

The survey was conducted among county agricultural agents and swine breeders in the state to determine the number of pure-bred pigs that are available for distribution as future breeding stock.

Reports indicate, says Regenbrecht, that very large numbers of fall farrowed pure-bred pigs at weaning time were sold to farmers for feeding purposes at very attractive prices. Apparently, the recent removal of ceiling prices on fat hogs, with the sudden resulting price increase, has caused farmers who have a feed supply on hand to think in terms of feeding it to hogs. Regenbrecht explains. Prices for fat hogs have climbed as high as 25 cents per pound. This sudden change in prices for market hogs has developed a strong demand for feeder pigs.

Demand for good pure-breeding stock is very strong at present and the supply is scarce, the swine husbandman points out. Breeders who have a supply of breeding stock on hand are inclined to want to keep the animals for breeding purposes on their own farms, thereby expanding operations. Quality of fall farrowed pig crop is one of the best Texas has ever produced, Regenbrecht says.

25 cents per pound and young hens 34 to 37 cents. Demand for chickens was brisk. Heavy hens held steady at 22 to 25 cents per pound and fryers at 37 to 40 cents.

Egg prices strengthened as fresh supplies were too small to meet the increased holiday demand last week. Current receipts ranged from 45 to 50 cents per dozen, depending on market locale.

Light cattle receipts accounted for the active trading at most southwest markets last week. Prices were steady to stronger under the pressure of improved demand. Small offerings of medium and good slaughter steers brought $17.50 to $21 per hundred at Wichita and $18.75 to $24.50 at Denver. Medium and good steers and yearlings ranged from $15 to $18.50 at Oklahoma City. Good slaughter steers and yearlings realized $20 to $25 at Fort Worth while cutter and common lightweight yearlings and steers brought $9.50 to $11 at San Antonio. Houston sold common and medium steers and yearlings $11 to $15.

Keen competition for small hog receipts carried prices higher at most markets last week. Top price for good and choice butchers was $25 to $25.25 per hundred pounds at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Denver, $25.75 at Wichita, and $25 at San Antonio.

DEMAND FOR COTTON WILL BE GOOD IN 1947

Foreseen continued demand for cotton products in 1947 has set Texas' cotton planting goal for next year at 8,460,000 acres.

This information comes from specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service who attended the Annual Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C. to see what's in store for farmers next year.

The consumption rate of cotton has continued high since the end of the war, no immediate change can be foreseen, the specialists say. Certain factors that may tend to weaken the demand for cotton goods, as well as most all farm products are expected to become more prominent during 1947, however. As home construction and production of automobiles and household appliances increase, consumer expenditures will be shifted to purchase these goods and less money will be spent on food and clothing. Cotton consumption in the nation for the first six months of the 1946-47 season is expected to be at approximately the same high level as it has been during the last few years, but may run at a lower rate the last half of the season. Concerning prices that farmers are due to receive for cotton next year, the specialists say that the 1947 loan rate is fixed at 92.5 percent of parity as of August 1, 1947. # What ADEQUATE WIRING means to you

Every year you depend more and more on low cost electricity to bring you more convenience and economy in your home and place of business. As new appliances and other aids are developed, you use electricity more and more. You improve your lighting, too.

To have electricity accomplish these many tasks successfully and efficiently you should provide ADEQUATE WIRING.

- ADEQUATE WIRING MEANS
1. enough circuits
  2. large enough wire
  3. enough outlets and switches

When you build or remodel your home call on your Public Service Company for help in planning your Adequate Wiring System.

Adequate Wiring Simply Means

• ENOUGH CIRCUITS
The fuse box is the center of electrical service in your home. Circuits should branch off from it to each center of electrical use as side roads branch off from a main highway.

• LARGE ENOUGH WIRE
The wires in your home can be likened to the branches of a tree; each must be large enough to bear the weight of most carry, or service the appliances or lights to which it will be connected.

• ENOUGH OUTLETS AND SWITCHES
Each room in your house should have enough outlets and switches to provide service for every appliance or light you have there now, or expect to have in the future. It's hard to have too many, easy to have too few.

 A.M.J.

There are a lot of folks who have faith enough to believe in Santa Claus, to see the doughnut instead of the hole, to wear only a belt or a pair of suspenders but never both, to go out in a boat without a life preserver and to enter business when merchandise is hard to get and at a very high price.

These are the kind of people who make fortunes, go broke and make more fortunes, they see the silver lining and if Slaton had a few more now and had the past residents believed a little more in Santa Claus we would have had a better town.

The man or woman who only plays cinches may grab off a few pieces of pie occasionally but he gets it off the optomist when he is at his lowest ebb. It seems to me that Slaton is entering a new era along with the remainder of the nation and that those who have faith in the future and believe in Santa Claus are the ones who are going to get the presents.

Max Arrants reports that he met with considerable opposition in his suggestion to rename Texas Avenue, Memorial Avenue and to beautify the central parking space and the space between the curbing and the sidewalks. It seems that there is a terrible fear on the part of some folks that all the drunken drivers would rush up and down this particular street in order to destroy all the flowers and shrubs should they be planted or that motorists would prefer to drive over the flowers and shrubs rather than stay on the pavement. This hardly seems reasonable to me for if the flowers and shrubs were kept watered, as they would have to be if they lived, then the drunkards and drivers that preferred to steer their cars down the parked portions of the street would soon be bogged down or have their cars in such a state of repair that they could not be driven.

 Other towns and cities have streets and roads that have been made beautiful, Austin and Dallas both have mile after mile of landscaped highways that are breath taking for beauty in the spring, summer and fall and I believe that several of Slaton's streets could be made the same but the reactionaries and kill joys in the town are not going to see it done if they can help it.

Money whether owned by an individual, a business institution or a municipality is of little use to anyone unless it is used for some useful purpose. The people of a town or a state may scream to high heaven about high taxes but most of us will keep on paying and, down in our hearts, we admit that the taxes are not unfair if the money is wisely spent on something worth while such as school buildings, water and sewer systems, paving and other things that make living more pleasant, but when a group of business men or an individual endeavor to get stingy with the money then the tax payers feel that they are not getting a square deal.

The near future should see considerable expansion in state, national and municipal fields and the town or state that lags behind is going to suffer. Let us hope that we can keep in step with the times.

There are a number of folks in Slaton who have proved that they have faith in the future and in Slaton among them are Ed Haddock, John Berkley, Harry Stokes, O. Z. Ball, Ray Ayers, J. D. Holt, J. T. Kendrick and others. These folks have put their money back of their judgement, they have made Slaton a better town and if we ever progress it will be because men of this character have led the way.

There are a lot of business places in Slaton that are just the same in every respect as they were ten, fifteen and twenty years ago, some of them have not even changed the location of a single shelf or display case in that length of time, many of them have prospered and done well but the time is coming when they will have to wake up or quit. Let us hope that all of them get in step with the times.

Next spring will see Judge Smith hiding his face in shame, he may even go so far as to leave the country when he sees the roses we are going to have out at our place. For several years I have been nursing a rose that the flower people said would bear blue roses and next spring I am sure it is going to start bearing. If the flowers I am planning on planting do what the flower catalogue says they will, I know Judge will probably never speak to me again.

WARNING

PRAYING FOR RAIN IS NOT ENOUGH

Rainfall is mighty important in determining yields of cotton and other crops. On the average, lack of moisture reduces the U. S. cotton crop yield about 8 per cent, annually.

Other things are important, too. Boll weevils, for example, reduce our cotton yields, on the average, about 7.7 per cent—ALMOST AS MUCH AS DEFICIENT MOISTURE.

We can't control the weather; but common farmers can control many factors that influence their yields.

Good planting seed, plenty of fertilizer, control of diseases and insects, and other sound practices will make more cotton per acre in 1947.

They will help you "cash in" more on every acre of cotton you plant. And higher yields multiplied by more acres will mean more cash and more livestock feed for you, and more cotton and cottonseed products needed by everyone.

For something new she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. For something old she wore her mother's wedding ring. For something borrowed she carried a white pearl rosary from Lourdes, France, belonging to Miss Estella Wimmer. She also had the traditional penny in her shoe.

Miss Estella Wimmer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, Miss Cleo Heinrich, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. They wore identical dresses of ice blue brocade satin fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, short cap sleeves and full skirt. Their headdress consisted of blue net made in a half halo with rosettes on each side centered with sequins. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations.

Walter Heinrich, brother of the bride, was best man, Emil Wimmer, brother of the groom was groomsmen, Monroe Buxkemper was usher.

Miss Mildred Heinrich, organist, cousin of the bride, played the traditional wedding marches. The Catholic Daughters of America choir sang hymns and Mrs. Delphine Hlavaty sang a solo.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The brides table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride

A MESSAGE TO INSPIRE CHRISTIAN UNITY

J. Lloyd Moyer Phone Res. 239 J Office 333
Box 583, Slaton, Texas

Subject: "How Are People Made Believers?"

We must be believers in God and in Christ to escape eternal condemnation. (John 3:16; Heb. 11:6.)

HOW are people made believers? There are two doctrines so diametrically opposed to each other that if either is right the other is wrong. One doctrine asserts that God makes believers by a direct operation of his power upon the sinner's heart. The other affirms that God makes believers by exerting his power through the inspired word, as given through Christ and the inspired writers. Which is correct?

To what authority may we appeal for settlement? Shall the case be referred to the man who says: "I know the time and place when the power of God came directly into my heart and made me a believer. I was not reading the Bible nor hearing the gospel, but I know that I was made a believer by the immediate power of God." If this type of testimony is accepted, then any other type of religion, however objectionable it may be, can be proved, for they all have any number of witnesses of this kind. However, such witnesses care not what the Bible says, but will put their own "experience" against anything that God has spoken. It is plain, therefore, that such testimony is not to be regarded at all. The Bible, and the Bible alone, is the supreme authority in the settlement of this and all other religious questions, and to it we must go, if we learn the truth in this matter. Please see Isaiah 8:20.

The question is not: Does God make believers? We all admit that he does. Nor is the question: Does He make believers by the Holy Spirit? We all admit that he does that, too. Neither is the question: Does He make believers by his power? All who accept the Bible accept that. The real question is: Does God make believers by a direct operation of His power upon the sinner's heart or does He exert that power through His inspired word, the Bible, and in that way make believers?

We submit herewith the testimony of the Scriptures. Acts 11:14: "Who (Peter) shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved." Any theory that proposes to make believers and save men WITHOUT WORDS cannot be received, so long as we have regard for the Lord's plan by which men are SAVED BY

WORDS.

Acts 15:7: "And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe." If it was God's will that the Gentiles "should hear the gospel and believe," then it was NOT His will that they should believe WITHOUT THE WORD.

John 17:20: "Neither pray I (Christ) for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their (apostles') word." The Lord prayed that we would BELIEVE ON HIM THROUGH WORDS.

John 20:30-31: "And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book; but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through His name." Why were these things written? That we might believe this is the Lord's plan for making believers.

"So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." Rom. 10:17.

Experiment

NATIONALIZATION of industry is the big issue in England. The Labor government, elected last year on a nationalization platform, is proceeding to carry out the program as rapidly as possible. Some sectors of American thought are advocating the same measures for our country. For this reason it is my belief that many readers of this column will find interest in the progress of this socialistic program in England.

First step was nationalization of the Bank of England, upon which the government long has relied for more or less of its own financing, particularly has it obtained large short-term loans for years. The bank's stock belonged to private individuals and had been paying about 3 per cent interest. The government did not evaluate the bank, but simply took over all the stock, giving to all the former owners bonds equal to the market value of the stock and bearing 3 per cent. The invaluable hidden assets which invariably accrue to such an institution went to the government without remuneration to the former stockholders.

Danger THE BANK of England Present also was given power to require other banks of the country to accept such banking policies as it might decide to issue. Some experienced bankers fear that the day may come when the government, because of extensive deficit financing, will advance unsound banking policies which would react badly upon the financial status of the United Kingdom. Policies already adopted by the bank have led to the discontinuing interest formerly paid on deposits and savings accounts.

Perhaps the most complex problems for nationalization are presented by the iron and steel industry. This is a highly skilled craft, requiring skills and know-how to be found only in the present management of the industry. Many important but closely related industries in manufacturing, from needles to locomotive, would be affected.

Problems ONE GOVERNMENT in Steel economist told me that the government would take over production of steel and iron up to the point where metal was allowed to cool, regardless of the form in which that might be. However, another economist stated that this policy would draw the line of demarcation for nationalized industry right through the center of some plants, which were accustomed to using a continuous process until metals were actually shaped into materials for sale.

Some observers in England think difficulties will be so great that the government finally will give up the scheme of nationalizing the iron and steel industries. In fact, the government has recently indicated the scheme would be postponed at least four years. One steel operator with whom we lunched ventured that production per man hour would certainly go down when and if the government took over. One of his reasons was that the employees would then be at points entirely too far removed from the source of authority. He also affirmed that in his opinion workers did not like the idea of nationalization.

Business Survey Shows Increase Over The State

Postal receipts in 57 Texas cities in October increased 20 per cent over September, according to reports compiled by the bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. While October normally shows an increase over September, this year's rise was unusually good, being exceeded only twice in the last ten years.

Both employment and pay rolls in Texas edged upward in October over September to hit their 1946 peaks according to data compiled by the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. The gains for the month were 1.4 per cent for employment and .09 per cent for pay rolls.

Air express shipments from Texas airports picked up 21 per cent in October over September according to Railway Express Agency reports compiled by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Compared with October, 1945, Texas shipments by air last month were up 66 per cent.

Texas department and apparel store sales rose 3 per cent in Oct-over over September according to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. This gain was only one-fourth of the increase in sales that usually occurs between these two months.

Notable sales gains were recorded, however, over last year's figures.

This past months sales in department and apparel stores were 13 per cent above sales in October, 1945. Furthermore, for the first 10 months of last year.

Building permits in 46 Texas cities during October declined 4 per cent from September.

Total permits in the cities surveyed by the bureau amounted to $16,681,447 in October, as compared with $17,330,481 in September 1946, and $9,651,940 in October 1945.

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it, he sets aside a "worrying hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bed time.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find... right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wash away your worries.

IS THERE SUCH A THING AS PERFECT WOMANHOOD?

"No"—claim medical authorities, who ought to know! Nature has so constructed and physically endowed woman that in many cases she's apt to suffer certain distressing symptoms during her life. For instance, when she enters womanhood—or during the menopause, the period when fertility ebbs away.

Now if on 'certain days' of the month—female functional monthly disturbances are causing you to suffer from pain, nervous distress and feel so tired, cranky, you snap at your children and husband—then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this purpose.

Made ESPECIALLY For Girls and Women

Pinkham's Compound does more than relieve such monthly pain. It also relieves accompanying nervous tension, irritability and weak, menstruating feelings—when due to this cause. Taken regularly through the month—this great medicine helps build up resistance against such distress. A thing any sensible woman should want to do!

Lydia Pinkham's Compound is also very effective to relieve hot flashes and those funny, embarrassing feelings during the years 38 to 53—when due to the functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women.

Pinkham's Compound is worth trying!

SPECIALIST ADVISES VARIETY OF TREES

Communities planning memorial tree planting may bear in mind that a variety of trees should be planted as a protective measure against plant disease, says Sadie Hatfield, landscape gardening specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Names like "The Crepe Myrtle City" may sound romantic, says Miss Hatfield, but it is risky to put out solid plantings of only one kind of tree. At the same time it is easy to permit one type of tree to predominate a memorial planting without making a solid planting of it. "Putting all your eggs in one basket," in connection with tree planting, is not a good idea, as folks in West Texas will testify in recalling the heavy ice storm a few years back that ruined the popular Elms and did only slight damage to the less popular green ash.

Due to solid plantings that have been made in a number of cities in Texas, many of these places would look desolate for years if an uncontrollable disease should strike that particular type tree, Miss Hatfield points out. For instance, Chinese elms may be endangered by the Dutch elm disease, which is now killing trees in the eastern United States.

There are many shade trees that are well-adapted to all of Texas, and from which a well-balanced planting may be made. Some of these are the black walnut, Chinese ju-jube, thornless honey locust, small leaf Chinese elm or parvifolia elm.

Among the hardy ever-greens, the red cedar and podocarpus or western yellow pine will thrive on very little moisture and make excellent windbreaks. Austrian pine is nearly as hardy in areas of scant rainfall. Desert willow, tamarix, or salt cedar, peach, cherry and plum are others that will do well in areas of slight rainfall as well as sections where abundant moisture falls. Just flip the valves and these Gas burners instantly light to high-heat... another flip and they're automatically set on slow simmer. ## THIS WEEK'S LESSON

'God the Only Cause and Creator' is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 8.

The Golden Text is: "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is" (Acts 4:24).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth" (Psalms 33:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress" (page 170).

Howdy Folks; Well, it looks like we are on the right track to get readers for our advertising. Several folks have mentioned the opening column.

One man offered us a good joke to use in the write-ups. That's the kind of cooperation we like and appreciate.

He said that every man likes to see a broad smile, especially if she's smiling at him.

Not bad and we're glad to get it. All ready we're wondering whether we'll be able to wax humorous every time we sit down to write this column.

We'll keep on trying. We have heard that the pen is mightier than the sword, that is, if we could get all the criminals in to it.

We're mighty anxious to meet more of you good folks who haven't tried our Mobilgas and Mobiloil. There's something you are sure to like.

A Masterpiece in the Flower Kingdom

The orchid is a flower of great beauty! It is recognized by horticulturists as a masterpiece in the flower kingdom, and reaches maturity only after seven years cultivation.

Physical beauty is the only requirement the orchid must fulfill to assume its place in the world. It is otherwise a soulless botanical specimen.

The botanist who cultivated this flower also possessed a son, and as the orchid approached maturity so also grew the child. The flower and the child were the objects of his greatest pride and affection. While his success with the orchid was certain, he failed in the greatest responsibility of his life—the training of his son.

The father's failure was caused by his inability to see the all important difference between the soulless flower and the immortal soul of his son. He thought only of the physical and mental prowess of his boy and thus neglected the child's greatest potential heritage—spiritual development. He had forgotten there was a Church! He had forgotten God!

The Church offers guidance and help to parents in the training of their children. Every parent and every child needs the sustaining strength of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
