

130 Grads Urged To Be Present Sun. To Aid In Reunion Planning

An extensive search for all the members of the 1930 Slaton High school graduating class, the largest group ever to leave the local school, is still being made in order that a complete class reunion commemorating their twentieth anniversary may be held this year.

A meeting to make further plans for the reunion and to appoint committees is to be held in the Slaton High school gymnasium this Sunday, February 5, at 3:00 p. m. Any graduate of this school who was a member of the 1930 class (and wives or husbands) are urged to present to take part in planning and to help on the details.

The group decided upon June 3 as the date for the reunion. It is hoped that all the addresses of the graduates can be obtained in time to send out invitations by February 15.

Since last week's publication of a list of 1930 graduates, many people have contacted Cecil Scott, registrar of the school, to register their addresses, however, they still lack fifteen addresses out of the seventy-five. They include Flora Mae Cook, Frances Hank, Mae Hall, Dorothy King, King, Conway Kuykendall, non Lemons, Ila Sipe, Nora H. Alene and Thelma Smith, Ale Thomas, Evelyn Triplett, Margaret Whalley and John Wilson. Anyone knowing the towns in which these people live or their correct addresses please contact Cecil Scott, Slaton, Texas, or call 11-J.

The reunion instigators found no report of any of the students having been killed in the service, and it is believed that they are all still living. "It will be a grand reunion," Mrs. Scott explained, "and we don't want to omit anyone from our list, so everyone in our class should register soon."

Our Teachers Are Added To Faculty

Four new teachers have been added to the faculty of the Slaton school system. Miss Bonnie Anderson has been employed to replace J. W. Wilder in the fifth grade at West Ward School. Mrs. Sarah Sales is teaching history in high school. Miss Wilda Hannah and S. Helen Bradford are teaching first and second grades in East Ward School.

Slaton is experiencing a large increase in students in the primary grades. In the first grades in East and West Ward schools there are 140 students enrolled, and 115 students in the second grades. In East Ward alone there are two more classes required to handle the first grade students, and in West Ward there are three.

In Slaton High School, East Ward and West Ward there is a total enrollment of 962; and in East Ward School there are 147 enrolled bringing a grand total of 1109 students up to 1109.

The Question Of The Week . . .

When we hear criticisms of our school systems so this week our question is "Do you think the schools are teaching the children as much as they did when they were in school?"

Mrs. Travis Reynolds feels that schools are doing a much better job today than they did when she attended schools. "The curriculum has enlarged so much," she explained, "that the children learn so much more than just basic reading, writing, and arithmetic."

I believe our generation was taught to spell better than this," Mrs. R. D. Hickman said, "today the youngsters are getting a much broader education than we did. When I was in high school we studied history, math, English, and Latin; today they study those plus speech, music, economics, journalism and by others. I don't believe today's teachers stress the fundamentals as much as ours did, but I feel today's generation will be better adjusted to life." Mrs. Hickman feels that the improvement in education can be attributed to the better trained teachers. Asked if she thought the schools were teaching the children of our generation as much as they

1950 Looks Good Says H. Swanner In Bank Report

Howard Swanner, Vice-president of the Slaton Citizens State Bank recently wrote an article concerning business in this area during 1949 and prospects for 1950. He submitted it to a magazine, "The Texas Bankers Record," and in turn they published his report. Since the article contains valuable information and is so well written, we are reprinting it this week in the Slatonite as follows:

"I am glad that I can make a favorable report on our area for 1949's business, and the prospects for 1950, with normal conditions, looks good. The poorest dry land crops are making half a bale of cotton to the acre, while the best irrigated crops are making a bale to a bale and a half to the acre. About thirty-five percent of our trade territory is irrigated. It is true the making and gathering of the 1949 crop has been at an all time high cost, but a lot of the money is staying at home. Our merchants are enjoying one of the best years in history. In addition to having bountiful crops we are receiving a lot from oil interest. Land is leasing from five dollars to ten dollars per acre cash bonus, and receiving from fifty cents to a dollar per acre rental. Royalty is selling from twenty-five dollars to one hundred dollars per acre and the nicest part of this business is that it is all profit. I see no reason for not being optimistic at this writing."

Building Plans To Be Shown Mon. At Baptist Church

A special architect will be present Monday evening at the First Baptist Church to discuss the plans and specifications for the new Educational Building. All men of the Brotherhood are urged to be present although their meeting is ordinarily scheduled for this time. Reverend Bolding explained that the plans will be presented especially for the Building Planning Committee, and he also urged that the Building Finance Committee and the Board of Deacons be present.

The pastor further announced that all who are interested, members or friends of the church, are especially invited to come, see the plans, and ask questions about the new building.

Although Sunday was an unusually cold day, 363 were present for Sunday School and 26 in the Mission Sunday School making a total of 389. There were 119 in Training Union.

The third Sunday in February has been set as "Victory Sunday," with the goal of finishing of the Building Fund drive to the "contract letting" figure.

Six additions to the church on promise of a letter were also made Sunday and two dedications.

From Tractors to Printer's Ink in Refugee Camps

Refugees, now awaiting resettlement in European camps operated by the International Refugee Organization (IRO), a U. N. Specialized Agency, are learning new trades to earn livings in new homes and at the same time are keeping their skills at their former professions. A group of newspaper writers and editors (left) practice their new knowledge of tractor repairing. After finishing their work at mechanics, they turn out newspaper copy for one of 35 journals published in refugee camps. At right, displaced editors of a Latvian-language refugee paper at work.

CORRECTION OF ERROR

In this week's issue of the Slatonite, two ads for the Plains Mattress Factory were printed. One of them bears the address 1040 West Division which is the address of the owners home rather than the address of the factory which is 950 South 9th. Only one of the two ads is correct, they both should read 950 S. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Wyatt and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Thompson and two sons, all of Ft. Worth, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Odum and attended the Gainer-Bradley wedding in Lubbock. Mr. Mark Summers of Jacksonville, Texas was also a week end guest in the Odum home.

Slaton's last Trades Day Drawing will be held next Monday, February 6 in the City Hall auditorium at 4:00 p. m. The program, which was begun in September and has lasted for the past six months, has been successful in both its aim and the interest people have taken in it. Trades Day was designed to encourage people in and around Slaton to come to town and do their shopping locally.

In order to register for the special gifts and savings bonds given away on these first Mondays, the participants were required to go into the business establishments, listed below, which were taking a part and sign the specially prepared slips of paper. It was permissible for anyone to register once each day. Registration for the last drawing will be continued until noon Monday. Listed below are the firms where Trades Day boxes can be found:

Tax Deadline Sees 1212 Registrants For Poll Payment

Mr. F. A. Drewry who collects poll taxes for this area reported Wednesday that 1212 people registered, with fifty exemptions, enabling them to vote in both county and state elections. Deadline for poll tax payment was Tuesday, January 31. The number of registrants reported this year is the average registration for Slaton. About 1500 votes come out of Slaton, but many people in this precinct register with the Lubbock office.

Mr. Drewry reported further that more people of Spanish descent paid their poll taxes this year, but that fewer Negroes were registered. He also said that during registration he heard no comments, pro or con, concerning the proposed election for liquor.

Jerry Lemon is in the hospital with a light case of pneumonia. He is, however, improving and is expected to be back in school next week.

Talent Show Nets $187 Friday Nite For March-Dimes

Approximately $187.00 was taken in Friday night at the March of Dimes talent show which was sponsored by the Junior Civic and Culture Club. Of this amount, $15.56 was donated by the Evans Negro school. The program was presented in cooperation with the Lions Club which was the official sponsor of the March of Dimes in Slaton.

With the exception of a small percentage which will go into a national fund for research in more scientific treatment of the disease, all of the proceeds from the talent show will go into the local March of Dimes fund for medical care extended to infantile paralysis cases in Lubbock County.

Two outstanding and talented soloists appeared with the choir from Evans School which presented a fifteen minute concert at the March of Dimes show. Soloists were Nathaniel C. Rutherford, male singer, and Piney Raye Parker was the girl singer. Both the soloists and the choir were applauded enthusiastically for their excellent performance.

Wage Hour Clinic To Be In Lubbock

A Wage Hour Clinic will be held in the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 902 Texas Avenue, at 2:00 p. m. on February 6, which will be jointly sponsored by the Texas Manufacturing Association and the Chamber of Commerce, T. A. Rogers, President of the local chapter of T.M.A., announced this week.

The purpose of the clinic will be to clarify changes in the National Wage and Hour Law. A representative of the Department of Labor will discuss the following topics at the clinic:

1. Coverage narrowed
2. Exemptions broadened
3. Higher minimum wage
4. Tighter child labor provision
5. Clarification of "regular rate" and "overtime on overtime"
6. New "white collar" regulations more clearly defining requirements for exemption of executive, administrative, professional, etc., employees.

Following the discussion there will be a question period in which the representative will explain any part of the program that the audience wishes to have cleared up. The discussion will be in form of an open forum, in which questions of general nature and specific questions of individual cases will be answered.

Rogers declared that the T.M.A. and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce are extending an invitation to all businessmen over this area to come and hear this timely and vital subject discussed.

"We know there are a number of questions that are in the minds of everyone relative to the National Wage Hour Law, and especially the changes in the law, which will be discussed at the clinic. We hope that the businessmen over the area will take advantage of this clinic," Rogers said.

Beginning February 6 and lasting through February 12, the Boy Scouts of America will observe their 40th anniversary in every part of the nation, with Boy Scout Troop Number 29, Slaton, being among the more than 2,300,000 boys and adult leaders taking part.

"Strengthen Liberty" is the birthday theme of the Boy Scouts, and this "Crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" continues through 1950.

Each Boy Scout is required to wear his uniform during the week, both at school and every place he goes out of school. The local scouts will begin their week here by starting a paper drive next Monday that will last through the 11th. This is both a clean-up process and a means whereby scouts can make some money.

Monday night, February 6, the Slaton Scouts, along with Scoutmaster David Burnett, will attend the Scout-A-Rama and Court of Honor to be held in the Cooper High School gymnasium, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The boys will take part in Fire by Friction, Fire by Flint and Steel, Pyramid Building, and Knot Relay. Valuable prizes will be offered.

On Friday, February 10, the Scouts will participate in assembly at West Ward School and will perform the same tasks as they will at the Cooper meet. February 12 is Scout Sunday, and every scout attends his own church and Sunday School in uniform.

Bill Sledge Gives Winning Facts In "Whosit" Puzzle

Two weeks ago the Slatonite carried a picture which was unidentified by anyone on the newspaper staff. A prize of one year's subscription was offered to the first person who could most satisfactorily give the answer to where the picture was taken.

During the week so many different answers were submitted that it was impossible to determine who should take the prize, so the picture puzzle was held over for another week until more proof could be secured. Bill Sledge finally came through with the needed information.

Mr. Sledge brought a picture into the Slatonite office which had been taken of the west side of the square by his family in 1914. His picture clearly showed that the buildings were the same as those pictured the week before in the Slatonite. And according to Sledge, the building where the hotel is located was not yet built. His photo was so clear that the sign over the bank, located where the Slaton Furniture is now, could be easily read. At the time the picture was taken, Bill's father had a livery stable, and the horse drawn vehicle pictured in the Slatonite is believed by him to be "Dad's old rig." The Sledge family moved to Slaton in 1911.

Bill said he didn't want the subscription because he would then have to wait until Friday to get his paper. "I'd rather just buy it at the drug store," he explained, "so just send it to my sister-in-law, Mrs. R. L. Sledge, in Brownsville."

Slaton Lumber Co. Robbed Wed. Nite

A thief or thieves broke into the Slaton Lumber Company last Wednesday night and broke open the cash drawer taking $46.40 in bills and cash. Entrance was made through a window. It is believed that an experienced robber did the job.

A March of Dimes receptacle for contributions containing about $7.00 was not bothered. Police were investigating the robbery, but no suspects had been uncovered when this paper went to press.

POLICE REPORT

Only five cases were handled in City Court and one in Justice Court during the past week, according to Slaton Police Chief Ernest Ward.

City Court charges include 4 drunks, 4 traffic violations, and one vagrancy. One forgery charge was filed in Justice Court for action of the grand jury.

Mrs. W. H. Mudgett and two children of Duncan, Okla., are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mudgett.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. H. H. Edmondson has often been reputed as the best cook in Slaton, so this week we asked her to give us one of her favorite recipes to print in our column. Mrs. Edmondson said that one of the simplest and perhaps one of the tastiest of her recipes is one for cherry cobbler.

To make this dessert, add one cup of sugar to one can of red sour cherries and bring to a boil. Melt one-fourth pound of butter (or margarine) in baking dish, and add cherries. Pour batter over cherries and bake in quick oven until brown.

Ingredients for the batter are:
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup flour
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 cup milk

Sift the dry ingredients of the batter together and add the milk. Mrs. Edmondson explains that the batter is very thin and that when poured over the cherries it soaks through, but as it cooks the batter comes to the top.

Mrs. Edmondson says she has been using the recipe for years and years, and although it is not an original dish of her own, she cannot remember where she first obtained it. She says the best thing about this dessert is that it is not dry, that it is simple to make and that it is not too rich.

We're sure Mrs. Edmondson has had plenty of experience at meal preparation, as she tells us that she has been cooking for the past thirty-five years and that she has four children, two boys and two girls, who naturally "had to be fed." All of the Edmondson children are married and only one of them, Bobby, still lives in Slaton. Mrs. Edmondson also has four grandchildren.

Green Wood

Green wood—that is, wood which has not been cut and seasoned long enough to dry out properly—is poor in heat value because of the moisture it contains. From 25 to more than 50 per cent of the weight of green wood is water, depending on the variety. The heat required to drive off the water is lost as far as warming the room is concerned.

Canning of Milk

The idea of preserving milk by concentrating it and heating it in sealed cans was brought to this country from Switzerland. Evaporated milk was first prepared com-mercially in the little country town of Highland, Ill., in 1865. It was only after several years of struggle and experiment that evaporated milk became a commercial success.

Kathleen Eidson - Brian Sartain Are Married In Church Ceremony

Miss Kathleen Eidson of Dallas, formerly of Slaton, became the bride of Brian Sartain Thursday, January 26 at 7:30 p. m. in the Maple Lawn Methodist Church in Dallas. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Charles Bounds before the greenery banked altar which was decorated with baskets of white Garza chrysanthemums and white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Kathleen Eidson and the late Henry Eidson of Dallas, former Slaton residents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sartain of Slaton.

Given in marriage by Walter Seideman of Fort Worth, the bride wore a heavenly-blue nylon tulle dress, with a bare top fashioned with a matching jacket. Her tight fitting bodice was accented by a full dirndl skirt in ankle length, and her veil was of matching tulle in a halo effect with illusion framing her face. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow Dutch Iris, with satin streamers.

Miss Bessie Ellen Biddle of Three Rivers, Texas was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pink tulle sikk organza dress in ankle length fashion with a jacket over the bare top, and her head piece was of matching illusion. She also carried a colonial bouquet of blue Dutch Iris with satin streamers.

Mr. Carl Sartain acted as his son's best man.

Mrs. Charles Bounds of Dallas played the traditional wedding music and "Because" was sung by Mrs. Vivian Brown, also of Dallas.

As her going-away costume, the bride wore a gabardine suit with a white jacket and royal blue skirt. She wore red accessories and a corsage of yellow iris. The couple is living in Slaton at 135 South Third Street following a short wedding trip.

Mrs. Sartain attended San Marcus Academy, is a graduate of Slaton High School and also attended Southern Methodist University where she was a member of Delta Zeta, social sorority. Mr. Sartain is also a Slaton High graduate and he attended McMurry College in Abilene. He is now employed with the City Cab Co. here.

Civic And Culture Has Study Sat. On Woman's Progress

"Woman's Progress in the World" was the general topic for study at the Saturday, January 28th meeting of the Civic and Culture Club which assembled in the home of Mrs. W. E. Smart.

Mrs. H. G. Sanders spoke to the group about "Mental Attitudes" in which she pointed out the change in women's attitudes toward a place in the world and the effect this change has had on men in general. Mrs. Sanders also contrasted the woman in the home with the woman in the business world.

Representatives were elected by the group for the Federation meetings. Mrs. Bessie Donald was chosen as county delegate, Mrs. J. L. Fertig as district delegate, and Mrs. A. L. Robertson as delegate to the state federation.

Four guests were present for the last meeting including Mrs. R. D. Bisbee, Mrs. Fred England, Miss Juanita Elliott of Chicago, and Mrs. F. W. Ater of San Angelo.

Next regular meeting of the club will be February 11 in the home of Mrs. W. R. Lovett.

Mrs. Long Is Party Honoree January 24

A surprise birthday party was given January 24 by the Slaton Home Demonstration Club honoring Mrs. W. N. Long. With Mrs. Hoyt Agnew acting as hostess, the club presented the honoree with a cyclamen pot plant.

POSEY WSCS MEETS

Members of the Posey Women's Society of Christian Service met Thursday, January 26 at the home of Mrs. Carl Miller. During the business session, results of the auction sale were reported.

Mental Hospital To Receive Box From Legion Aux.

All members of the American Legion Auxiliary are urged to be present Tuesday, February 7 for the meeting to pack the valentine box to be sent to the mental hospital in Waco. The box will contain candy, cookies, valentines and plate favors; therefore members are urged to get their contributions ready this week.

Contributions for this cause from anyone in the community will be greatly appreciated. Anyone wishing to contribute to the box should call Mrs. A. R. Keys, Mrs. Alvin White, or Mrs. George Green and they will pick up the articles.

There are 23,000 veterans in this mental hospital, many of whom have no families. It is through showing these men special consideration at such times that the American Legion Auxiliary hopes to lighten the burdened hearts of these more unfortunate service men.

However, the Auxiliary work does not end here. They have recently contributed both to the March of Dimes and to the heart fund.

Chatterboxing with Marie Guhl

I'm certainly feeling for Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Ayers, as they're marooned in my hometown, Sherman. It's not as if Sherman weren't the grandest town in the world, next to Slaton of course, but right now they are having one of their famous ice storms; and after having lived through a few of them myself, I know that it isn't exactly what you'd call a picnic. The first day of the storm the lights go out, and soon afterwards all the telephone lines fall to the ground. Something happens to the gas which is used for heating purposes and cooking alike and you sit shivering before a candle or a kerosene lamp eating cheese and crackers. The only nice thing I could ever see in these ice storms was that I didn't have to go to school, but after staying in bed for three days to keep warm I decided that algebra was better than freezing to death—a point which would have previously taken a strong bit of convincing.

Bridge. Now there's a game. But just between my readers and me, I think I have long ago seen my best day. Then there are people who renege, contend they didn't even notice, then prove that it's legal in some cases—there simply are no two ways about it, such things are just plain the "finer points of cheating." (This last phrase is respectfully borrowed from Dr. Glen Payne.) But we both agreed that Pat Ragsdale is really a very nice girl, and her sweet, innocent face certainly comes in handy in such tight predicaments. Maybe my bridge techniques had something to do with it. No doubt there's something wrong when you play eighteen hands and all you can muster up is a score of 120. Someone even suggested that I change the title of my column to "Bridge," or just simply "All Washed Up." But Robby Hollingsworth promised to take care of him for me. I don't know. I think I'll just develop a complex.

Poor Mr. Jackson, our green-thumbed editor. He has been having such a hard time with his campaign to make Slaton a rose center of West Texas. He has written company after company trying to get cut rates on rose bushes to sell to the Slaton citizens, but so far all he has received is a half a dozen catalogues filled with pictures of beautiful flowers and exorbitant prices to match. But some day some altruistic rose peddler is going to offer our chief all the bushes he wants for a dime a dozen; and when this happens, I'm going to take a dime's worth and plant them right in the middle of my front yard—I'm sure Mr. Kidd, who owns my house, wouldn't have any objections to this. Personally I had much rather make a rose garden out of the back yard, but this would be defeating Mr. Jackson's purpose as he feels they should be planted in the front where they can be seen. And although my attributes are few and far between, one of my prize virtues is loyalty to the Slatonite; so my roses will be seen standing in rank on the front lawn.

This cold dry weather is about to be the death of me. My hair stands straight out and refuses to curl no matter what; and to add to the ungraciousness of it all, the hard water makes me itch from head to toe. I can even remember when my complexion didn't look like some vicious scaly reptile. But there's always a silver lining. We at the Slatonite are looking toward the future. We have all agreed not to use any more of this cold water at the office even for drinking purposes, because we're going to save it until next summer when we can really appreciate it. Since our H-20 registers 33.99 degrees, we feel there is little chance for it to warm up much. Paul Henry is responsible for this decision.

Our newspaper people aren't the only talented writers. Howard Swanner has shown us all up. He wrote a short article to a magazine called "Texas Bankers Record" and they published it. In turn we have printed it on the front page this week but we're all green with jealousy.

Sponsored by the WSCS, the movie "King of Kings" telling Christ's life story will be shown Monday and Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in the High School auditorium. Admission 25c and 50c.

"T" CLUB TO MEET
Touchdown Club members are urged to attend an important meeting Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

THIS WEEK'S SMILES

A reader of a weekly paper wrote to the editor asking when it was proper for a gentleman to remove his hat. The editor replied that it should be done when mopping the brow, when taking a bath, when eating, when going to bed, when taking up a collection, when having the trimmed, when being shampooed, when standing on the head.

—Gordon Gammack, Des Moines Register.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Crow over the weekend were Mrs. Van Prince and Miss Peggy Prince of Ft. Worth.

Toys are Tumbled
The small metal toy prizes, such as miniature dogs, horses, elephants, tanks, automobiles and tractors which are found in boxes of popcorn, are painted by tumbling methods.

Income from oil on the Post Stampede and Rodeo Association property is paying off the association's indebtedness. Oil checks received during the past three months, totaling $1,276,74, have been applied on the $3,000 note against the rodeo grounds which were bought several years ago from the Double U Company.

The balance of $1,723.26 can easily be paid during 1950 if the oil production continues, the association's secretary, Homer McCrary, believes.

A Memorial Shelf has been established in the Federation Library. After repeated requests from people interested in a book memorial, it was decided to offer this opportunity to those who would like well chosen books placed on the library shelves. These books will bring reading pleasure to library patrons and an active memory of those friends who have passed on.

Hereford High School grossed over $10,000 on five home games last football season. Gross gate receipts of the home games totaled $7,225.59. Season ticket sale was $2,044.95 and pre-season reserve seats sales reached $730.

Hereford High School Athletic Association is in better shape this year than at any time in recent years, according to superintendent George Graham, having had the most successful seasons (financial, in some time, due, largely, to football.

Not a dream—but a reality! A $100,000 Motion Picture Theatre in Morton! And it's already under construction across from the Morton Court House. The contract has been let to Wallar and Allen, contractors of Lamesa. The modern fire-proof brick and tile building was designed by Architect Howard Allen of Lamesa. According to Wallace Blankenship, owner of the Blankenship Theatres, this new theatre is the latest and most modern theatre on the South Plains. Blankenship said high post war prices and scarcity of materials was the main factor of the delay in construction of this new building. The new Rose theatre is to be completed in 100 working days. Brick and tile for construction is to arrive in three weeks.

—The Morton Tribune

The City of Morton took over the Morton Gas Company on Jan. 1, following a bond election held here last fall in which taxpayers voted for the purchase.

Rates and deposits will remain the same as with the Morton Gas Company. The change over of deposits from customers has practically been completed. Refunds to the customers on deposits was made by the Morton Gas Company with customers in turn putting up a new deposit with the City of Morton.

JUST TALK

by
A.M.J.

Have you taken time to ride around Slaton lately? There has been no great amount of ballahoo over the many, many new homes that have been constructed over town. In the North West section of Slaton there are some particularly attractive homes and our town is not going in for the cheap, jerrybuilt kind of homes that are found in some sections of the larger towns. Lubbock has grown a lot and there are a great many new homes there but many of them are very poorly built and Lubbock is likely to be a shabby looking city if some restrictions are not put on the kind of houses that the loan companies are slapping up.

A cousin of mine, who is an architect, used to have a poem on his wall, it read:

"Jack Sprat built a flat, his wife, she drew the plans and bewit the two when they got through, it wasn't worth painting."

Occasionally I stop in at the Slaton Pharmacy, at Berkley and Haddock, the Piggly Wiggly and I stop at Allan Payne's and we sympathize with each other over the troubles we have, but so far none of the other fellows' difficulties compare with those a man has who tries to publish a newspaper.

On a quiet day we usually get at least one letter griping because a subscriber did not get a paper, a phone call that some ones name was mis-spelled and a report from the foreman that there is a great necessity for an expensive part for the linotype, we are usually nearly out of news ink, the sewer gets stopped up, some one comes in looking for an engraving that appeared in the paper last June, a ton or two of newsprint arrives and there is no place to stack it, six customers come in and want some commercial printing done that day and four more come in wanting the work we promised to have ready that day, but do not, two typewriters go haywire, Paul Henry, the foreman complains that his feet hurt, Weldon Martin, the linotype operator has a cold, J. B. Hutchens, the job printer, says we need about five thousand envelopes and that there are none in stock, the fire whistle blows and the Avalanche Journal phoned down for details, the rock crusher, on which we print the Slatonite, gets full of static.

Those fellows in those other kinds of business think that they have trouble.

Minister Herring of the Methodist Church came into the Slatonite last week and I asked him how his business is progressing. He said that Monday and Saturdays were his worst days of the week. On Saturdays he worries about the folks who should go to church and on Mondays he worries because they did not come. There might have been something personal about his remark.

From now on Billy Ball can have the job of predicting weather for this section of the country. While he has never been right, neither have I, so between the two of us the weather has turned some mighty mean tricks. Here it has been almost summer time for months, the flower bushes are about to bloom, the sand storms are beginning to come and I need some help to bring on a snow storm, a big rain and an opportunity to wear my last winter's overcoat.

Why do folks plant all of their pretty flowers in a back yard or garden? When I wanted to plant some trees in our front yard my wife raised such a howl that I gave up. When I asked her why she objected so she said "they don't plant flowers in the front yard." Since then I've been trying to find out who "they" are but to date "they" are still a mystery. If there is anyone who can put their finger on "they" I'll give them a big dollar bill.

It seems to me that flowers should be planted where every one who visits over the town, can see them. I'm trying to persuade my wife to let me plant some roses in the parkway between our curbing and the sidewalk but "they" have gummed things up.

If you do not play Canasta there is little left for you to do for amusement except go to dances or to eat.

The trouble is that all the things you can get to eat these days are either frozen foods, canned foods or cakes and rolls and biscuit that come ready mixed and none of them taste like the things tasted way back when mother used to take time out to do some of the mixing herself.

At one time I half way enjoyed pushing the woman around on a dance floor, but it bores me now. Canasta has not excited me, and since all the food comes from the grocers mixed and ready to give you indigestion I am practically useless and have been wondering what the use in living anyway. I'm hungry, lazy, fat and disheartened.

Clyde Doherty, who does things at the Teague Drug Store, said that a little boy came into the store last week, picked up a New York Times and handed him a nickel. "Hold on, youngster," said Clyde, "that paper is fifteen cents."

"I thought that it was the Slatonite," said the little fellow. "No," said Clyde, "but I'll bet Jackson would give you ten dollars for your mistake."

Not long ago Mr. V. P. Williams brought some English newspapers into our office and nearly every one on the staff has given them a good reading. There were several London papers in the bunch and they all were more like our weekly papers than they are like the dailies. None were over eight or ten pages, the advertisements were small and the news items were more personal. Very little space was devoted to Russia, murders and crime, in fact there was something refreshing about them that I liked and there was not a word in any of them about the atom bomb. I just don't see how they ever got them published without such information.

J. C. Wilkerson took a philosophical turn in his Comanche Chief last week when he observed that sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that business is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. "He soon learns," Editor Wilkerson continues, "that it does not pay to be a sensitive soul — that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back."

"He learns that he who loses his temper suffers most. "He learns that all men have burned toast for breakfast now and then and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously."

FRANK POWELL JOINS ARMY

Pvt. Frank A. Powell, 17, brother of Mr. Glen R. Powell, 820 South 14th St., Slaton, Texas, has reported to Lackland AFB, the "Gateway to the Air Force," to begin the AF basic airman indoctrination course, here.

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, center of Air Force basic training for airmen and women, indoctrination station for prior service reenlistees and home of the AF's Officer Candidate School.

His thirteen weeks of basic training will prepare him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course will include a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

The City of Morton through the City Secretary, J. S. Harrison, has issued instructions to the general public that an ordinance passed in July 1946 regarding "out-door toilets" will be rigidly enforced.

Notice was given the public last August that after January 1, 1950 this ordinance would be enforced and the penal clause of the ordinance ordered.

The ordinance was enacted as a sanitary measure made necessary by the expansion of Morton's population.

We're Good And We're Not So Good

As in every community the people of Slaton can look to them and feel pride in many things and at the same time see many things that need correcting and improving.

Slaton has more paving than any town its size in West Texas and in this respect Slaton is far ahead of hundreds of towns in the older part of the state; the town is, on an average, cleaner than most towns in West Texas; Slaton has better water than most communities; most of our homes are substantial construction and we have a first class amusement park.

Our big park and our Club House are outstanding examples of what can be done in the way of a meeting place and how attractive a park can be made in a modest size town. We still have some scars of the 1920 era.

There are some knock-kneed awnings still teetering in front of many of our business buildings; there are many signs on buildings in the names of business concerns that have not been in operation for years, there are business places on the square where the paint is peeling off and many of the firms have the same arrangements in their stores that they had ten years ago.

Slaton streets are bare, we need better traffic regulations and an organization that will promote entertainment for the folks who live here and in the Slaton territory. Those who take time to look around may take some pride and some shame in their home town and we all have been responsible for the share.

Whats Right With Texas

A casual glance at any newspaper or a few seconds listening to a radio will convince most anyone that the country is a surplus of traitors, politicians, taxes, strikes and worry.

Between gambling crooks trying to run the state of New York, Louisiana, and California and the Communists messengers up in Washington, the labor unions and the big industries, the folks here in Texas do not realize what a mess of the nation must be in, that is if what we read and hear is true.

The high tension that must be in the air in localities where the strikers congregate must be a strain on every persons nerves, the feeling of insecurity and of double dealing must be rampant in Washington and every one in New York, California, Texas and Florida must feel that a gang war may break out at any minute.

We have had our Pappy O'Daniels, our Ma and Pa Dicks and we have had some fire and smoke in the past but Texas are still able to look our friends in the eye and that we are not going to get a knife stuck in our ribs if we get our backs or be moulded into a pillar of cement and sunk in a river, nor are we suspicious of every stranger being a Communist spy. We still like our crooks rough and ready, the kind that makes no bones about it and admits their guilt.

The weather may be dry, the northers cold, and the fighting may get hard sometimes but the folks in Texas still live in a state that resembles a free country.

Reduced Prices; Is It Crime?

Should it be considered a crime for a retailer to use the possible operating technique to reduce prices to the consumer?

Think twice before answering that question. If you are a business in Slaton and you found by figuring your expenses, that you could sell for less than sixty, fifty, or forty percent profit, would you feel that it should be the place of the government to tell you what selling price to place on your merchandise? In essence, that is what the government is attempting to do in its anti-trust suit against a very large chain store system, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company.

The government brief holds that A & P, because of its pricing policy, has prevented competition and created a monopoly that means anything at all, it means that other merchants are impossible to do business in communities in which A & P operates.

However, anyone who lives in an area where A & P operates knows that this simply is not true. No one store, no low prices, can take all the trade in a certain area; for as people have different personalities they will have different tastes, likes and dislikes. Many people contend that they do not like to trade with the larger stores like A & P as their products such as tea, coffee, etc., are made by the company and that they all taste alike—that is, the same marketing techniques are used which they contend lends variety; while on the other hand other people feel that this is an advantage as you are sure of the safety of your products.

Also, many people had rather trade in smaller stores where special attention is given to their wants. And this is all a part of the American way of free choice.

Many news commentators seem to think that what the government actually wants to do is to make mere size seem important and reprehensible. This is a philosophy that, if ever sold to the public, can only make for retrogression. The measure of progress is service—not size. That principle has made possible the development of our economy.

Education: A Waste Of Time Or Not

Many parents who have never attended colleges or universities contend to their children who desire to attain higher education that they (the parents) were very successful in the world without having wasted four years sitting in lecture halls and dormitories.

Perhaps there is some truth in this argument. Perhaps the truly desiring to succeed in the business world without a college education; however, there are many who are being over looked in taking this one-sided view, and universities do not pretend to make millionaires out of them, in fact they do not even pretend to completely prepare their graduates for a chosen vocation. Instead they try to introduce them to certain professional problems to be found in their chosen fields in order to help them decide whether or not they are suited for such work. They attempt to de-glamorize the business world and present the facts and problems which will have to be faced and solved.

Although colleges try to help students adjust themselves to the world, many of these collegians continue in one line of study, graduate with honors, then go out into the world and are total failures. Then John Public smiles contentedly to himself and says, "Look at that foolish youngster. While he was willing away his time in college I was working hard trying to make a place for myself. I have a home, a car, a family, and satisfaction of security." But the college man would not trade places with the success boy, for he feels that he has learned things through his associations that he never would have learned in a business.

When most boys and girls graduate today from our country's high schools they are too immature to know what sort of business career will yield them the most happiness and most of them are not ready to settle down to one job. Thus it is that many parents see the value in sending their children to college where they might possibly absorb additional polish which cannot be found in the protection of a self-sufficient home environment. In a sense college might be looked upon as a weaning place from the home into the world of business.

Many non-college people say that the public schools are doing a far greater job than the educators of higher learning. This is true. Most public school teachers are concerned mainly with seeing the results of their teaching. If they do not teach their pupils algebra, English grammar, and chemistry they feel they have failed. College professors are not expected to drill their students into learning. These students are in college on their own will and what they gain there is left up to them. The educators provide the learning, and the students can take it or leave it. What they make of it is their own doing. College learning is supposed to be a refinement of what has gone before.

But then it is all back to which is more important—material wealth or happiness, the art of appreciation or mere base existence.
