Rotarians See Controversial Film

C. L. Kay, vice president for Public Services of Lubbock Christian College, brought the program for the weekly meeting of Slaton's Rotary Club, held Thursday in the Club House.

Mr. Kay gave a short talk, and showed a film called "Operation Abolition," which depicted the communist instigation in the student riots during the San Francisco hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The controversial film has been under attack since its origin from several individuals and groups who feel that it is a prejudiced coverage. Most of the objection, however, has come from those affiliated or associated with the communist cause or its front organizations.

Mr. Kay will also conduct the "Freedom Seminars," which will begin in Slaton March 30th at 8 p.m. and will continue each Thursday night for six weeks.

No special business was conducted during the Rotary meeting.

Fire Damages Slatonite

Early Morning Blaze Sweeps Back Shop Section

As the last volunteer fireman started out the door after extinguishing the fire last Thursday morning at The Slatonite, he turned to look one more time to make sure nothing else was burning and that everything was under control. The blaze damaged the paper's press, folder, which you see here in the foreground, mallet and various items of other equipment as well as out-of-county papers and newstand copies of last week's issue. The damage is expected to be repaired, for the most part, in time for the Slatonite's staff to produce next week's paper at home. This week's issue was printed at Friona with the new printing process called offset.

At 7 a. m. last Thursday morning, somebody's newspaper which didn't get delivered caught above a burner on the press, blazing up to ignite a fire which has put The Slaton Slatonite printing department more-or-less "out of business" for the last few days.

The burning paper spread flame to other nearby papers and, despite the frenzied efforts of two Slatonite printers, the fire spread out of control.

Printer Don Howell called the Fire Department and the combined efforts of the volunteers and the Slatonite's overhead fire extinguishers had the fire out in short order. Smoke then was the number one enemy, coming from smoldering embers and fire-resistant insulation.

Fortunately, the papers for local subscribers had been printed and delivered to the Post Office, but single papers for out-of-county destinations and news stand copies were consumed in the fire.

Printer Chester Reese suffered minor injuries in the blaze, getting slight burns on the chin, nose and hands. He was treated at Mercy Hospital but returned to The Slatonite just after the firemen had completed their job. Howell also suffered slight burns on the bottoms of his feet, where he has stepped on burning papers.

Principal items damaged in the fire were the newspaper press, folder, addresser and some more minor pieces of equipment. Smoke, water and fire extinguisher damage, however, were extensive throughout the shop area.

The newspaper was printed this week at Plains Publishers in Friona, utilizing the new offset method of printing.

Slatonite representatives said they hoped to have the equipment back in working order for next week, though, so the paper can be printed in its home plant.

Publisher Joel R. Combs, who has received offers of help in getting the paper printed from publishers and companies from as near as Lubbock and Post and as far away as Dallas and Kansas City, Mo., expressed his deep appreciation to those people and to local individuals who have helped in "getting this mess cleaned up."

"Particularly," he said, "I want to thank those advertisers who helped this week by getting their ads in early. Also, club (Continued on page 8.)

Bond Election Is Postponed

Lubbock County Commissioners voted at a regular meeting Monday to postpone the forthcoming bond election, which had been set for April 4th.

B. E. Rushing Jr., chairman of the Lubbock County Highway Advisory Committee, presented the resolution seeking the postponement.

Although the committee had previously recommended that the bond election, which includes construction on the loop around Slaton on US 84 south to the Lynn County line, be held in conjunction with the special senatorial election, it was later decided against.

The resolution pointed out that the senatorial election is the more important of the two at this time, and that holding them together would present many difficulties for the Commissioners Court and the election of judges in each voting precinct.

The difficulties would include qualification of voters by two sets of standards by the same judges in that only poll tax or exemption certificates are needed for the senatorial race while a person must be a property owner for bond elections.

The resolution also pointed out that the postponement of the bond election would necessitate re-circulation at a later date of petitions asking that the election be held.

In addition to the work on US 84 in Slaton, the bond election is to provide funds for purchase of right-of-way for improvement of Hwy. 87 from Lubbock south to the Lynn County line and from Lubbock north to the Hale County line, and from Shallowater northwest to the Hockley County line.

FINAL REGISTRATION--

Little League Signing Deadline On March 21st

Slatonite citizens are reminded again that March 21st will be the final date that youngsters may register for Little League baseball next season. Registration will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the VFW hall, and boys who do not register, accompanied by a parent, will not be eligible to participate in the league.

If for any reason it is impossible for a boy to register with one parent on this date, they may contact Norbert Kitten at VA 8-4083. This, however, should be only in the case of emergencies.

It is particularly stressed that under Little League rules, if a boy does not register on the final day, and has not registered at one of the previous meetings, then he will not be able to play.

Dumplings with a Difference

For a dessert that is simple to make and of a most satisfying heartiness, we recommend these feather-light chocolate chip dumplings, baked right in their own butterscotch sauce.

My Neighbors

"Try not to think about it!"
"Say, you look like my best girl."
"Mind your own business, Masher."
"You know, you talk like her, too."

If a 30-foot fence has three regularly spaced posts, how long will a 12-post fence be?
Ans.: Nope--not 120 feet! Obviously a 30-foot fence with three posts would have 15 feet between posts, disregarding space taken by the posts. So a 12-post fence would have eleven 15-foot intervals, and would be 165 feet long.

CARING FOR YOUR FAMILY

by Edith Clarke

Baby Takes A Trip Outdoors

It's a proud moment when baby goes out in his pram to meet the world! For the new mother, it's a wonderfully happy experience to have friends and neighbors see her fine new infant. For baby, the outside world is a thrilling place—filled with fascinating motion and sound. The first few joyrides outdoors can be a happy time for you and baby if you follow some sensible precautions.

Since this is the season for bustery weather and chilling winds, it's a good idea to make the first few outings fairly brief. Before you leave the house, make sure baby is dry. Wet diapers will make him feel clammy and cold. Dab a bit of Vaseline Petroleum Jelly around baby's nose and chin to prevent chapping, and dress him in garments that will give warmth without bulk. Be sure you've got a supply of facial tissue with you, so that you can deal quickly with a runny nose or a drooly chin. Last but not least, check the blankets to be sure they are long enough and wide enough for plenty of tuck-in all around. Now you're set to roll!

Once outdoors, try to keep moving at a steady pace. You'll find baby loves the feeling of moving along. The out-of-doors is a big new experience for a tiny one, so it's best not to linger too long on the street while you chat with a neighbor. Too much "stop and go driving" and attention from strangers will make baby feel confused and fretful.

For baby, half the fun of going out will be coming back home. This is the time mother should give him special pampering and care.

Begin by removing all of baby's outerwear, cleaning and drying him carefully. Before putting on a fresh diaper, smooth on petroleum jelly to protect against diaper rash. The petroleum jelly forms a healing, protective coating that prevents ammonia from coming into contact with his skin.

Pay special attention to baby's face, too. Raw weather can chafe and roughen his skin quicker than you can say Jack Frost. Make sure his face is completely clean and dry, nose wiped, chin dry. Then pat a film of petroleum jelly on his cheeks, the crevice around his nostrils, and on his chin. Wipe off the excess so the only a thin coating remains. I will work to keep the moisture in his skin, and prevent it from drying and reddening.

You'll find that this care routine soon will become easy and automatic. And, taking the time to be thorough about these details will keep baby a healthy, happy traveler in the great, wonderful world outside.

SLATON SCHOOLS REVIEW

First Grade Curriculum Geared To Program

The First Grade Curriculum in Slaton and other accredited Texas public schools, while varying according to specific needs of individuals, is geared consistently to a prescribed reading, writing and arithmetic program. It is enriched by music, spelling, science, art, social studies and grammar, taught both specifically and incidentally.

Reading, in effect, is an integrated language arts program encompassed in a developmental series of basal readers. When a teacher says "it takes all day just to teach reading," she realizes, happily, that she is, at the same time, teaching language, spelling, writing, dramatics, art, speech and, sometimes, science and numbers. Specific instruction in the different subjects varies with individual needs and, of course, differs from first grade room to first grade room. The overall program, as broadly outlined here, varies daily according to individual or group needs.

Because of the wide range of individual differences among children, the first grade basal reading program is taught in three or more sections in each room. Children who are ready early in the school year for the phonetic approach to reading, writing and spelling skills are placed in the first group. The second group is made up of those whose readiness tests indicate some immaturity but average or above potential. The third group is reserved for the children who need special, individual attention in a concentrated readiness program. Regrouping goes on constantly as maturation takes place. In each group, the teaching methods vary according to the needs of the most children. Word attack skills are developed by each child according to his ability on one or any combination of the following approaches:

1. Recognition through general configuration or unusual characteristics of the word; 2. recognition through similarities to known words--common elements; 3. use of picture clues; 4. use of phonetic analysis; 5. use of context clues; 6. use of structural analysis; 7. use of dictionary (yes, in the first grade), and 8. wide supplementary reading.

The reading program in each group daily includes readiness, word study skills, creative reading, development of reading interest and related language experiences. Instructional problems include providing enrichment activities, reading reading activities to other members of the curriculum, evaluation...

uating growth and providing for individual differences. In coping with such problems, the first grade teacher has a distinct advantage in the fact that the average first grader is naturally motivated by the excitement of "trying his wings."

While one group is in the "circle" with the teacher, the other two or three groups are doing seat work designed to strengthen concepts in the above mentioned facets of the reading program. This work naturally overflows into other language arts areas and into science, art and arithmetic.

The children study music for 20 minutes every other day with a qualified public school music teacher. On alternate days, this period is devoted to science, films, speech training, dramatics or other enrichment media, as needed for curricular balance.

Every day, the children have a short arithmetic lesson. During the year, the arithmetic program covers the development of number ideas to and including ten through the study of groups by counting, comparing, analyzing, counting away and counting together, and leading to the discovery of the 45 "easy" additions and the 45 "easy" subtractions. The children who have above average number concepts at the beginning of the year learn, through an accelerated program, to count to 100 by ones, twos, fives and tens, are introduced to the "teens," learn to tell time by the hour and half hour, and they learn measurement terminology in other areas, including the calendar, scales, ruler and thermometer.

During the first semester, spelling, writing and phonics are integrated with the reading program, concepts being introduced in the circle and practiced in seat work while other groups are "in the circle."

A "spelling" workbook is introduced early in the second semester, and all children work in it during a 10 or 15-minute instruction period. It is based on a phonetic approach. Children who are mature enough proceed, in the last 12 weeks of school, to a concentrated program of learning to spell, orally and in writing, from 50 to 75 or more words, according to individual abilities.

A developmental science program is followed in the Slaton schools. The first grade studies the same areas as the fifth grade but on the level of the 6-year-old child. This approach is chosen because concepts grow gradually out of a wide range of experiences and mature as they grow. On each level, the concepts are presented again but each time with a new facet, a fresh outlook and a wider application. An example is the simple concept that water evaporates under certain conditions. This is developed in the first grade through observation and discussion leading to the discovery that wet things become dry after awhile and that they dry faster when it is warm or when there is wind. It is not until the second grade that, through experiments, the children follow the evaporated water through its cycle as it forms a cloud and as it condenses to form rain. It is not until the fifth grade that this concept is developed to the point of studying the weather bureau.

Areas so covered in the first grade science program include wheels, fire, safety, collections, animals and plants, the seasons, machines and health.

As the teacher recognizes the responsibility of, primarily, developing reading skills, much of the above is integrated with the reading program. The children who finish the first reader ahead of the overall schedule have time and ability the last month of school to read the rest of the science book independently and present the remaining experiments to the members of the class who have not completed the basal program.

One period a week is set aside in many first grade rooms for "Show and Tell." The children bring to school the results of creative, scientific, industrial or other cultural activities at home or on trips and explain them to the class. This is a highly motivating medium for practice in speech, dramatics, listening, exercising originality and developing social grace.

The curriculum is introduced each September with a six-weeks readiness program designed to help the child make his first great adjustment to the world outside his sheltered home. During this period, phonics and other word attack skills are introduced in preparation for the first pre-primers. Three pre-primers, at least, are completed by the majority of children by the end of the first semester. The second semester is devoted to the primer and first reader. Completion of the primer, along with relative competency in numbers and writing, are minimum requirements for promotion.

With the introduction of the primer, the child begins supplementary reading, first taking pre-primers home for practice in reading aloud and using word attack skills on words not in the basal program. By the end of the second semester, more than half of the children will have completed the first reader and have read independently a dozen supplementary pre-primers, six or more supplementary primers and the more advanced children will have read a few supplementary first readers.

The overall program is geared to average abilities in order to benefit the majority of children. Of necessity it is flexible, no two children being identical in their abilities. Ideally, it provides acceleration for the most capable and a comfortable, slower pace for the children who need a longer than normal maturation period.

Blakley Sets 'Coffee Break' Lubbock

Senator William A. Blakley will launch an intensive pre-campaign drive in the Panhandle area this week. Blakley will meet voters in Shamrock Thursday and in Amarillo Friday. He will be the principal speaker at a pre-Thanksgiving Day dinner there Saturday night. Blakley will meet voters in a series of "Coffee Breaks" in Amarillo and in Plainview and Rock Saturday. People throughout the Lubbock area are invited to attend the coffee and visit with the Texas Senator, Blakley is hitting the campaign trail after introducing major sections of his legislative program in the U. S. Senate. In addition to his school-aid bills, he proposed an increase in amount individuals are permitted to earn without losing part of the Social Security benefits. Under Blakley's bill, the amount would be increased from $1200 to $1800 a year. Blakley told the Senate present restrictions prevent older people from contributing what they can and want to contribute to production and a stronger economy.

Plans Go Forward For Approaching "Freedom Seminars" In Slaton

Plans are going forward for the six-session "Freedom Seminars," being sponsored by the Slaton Lions Club, which will begin on Thursday, March 30th, at 8 p.m. Last week's Slatonite reported an incorrect date for the beginning session through a typographical error, but the correct date is the 30th (thirtieth). Meetings will be held every Thursday evening at 8 p.m., lasting 90 minutes per session. C. L. Kay, Vice President for Public Relations of Lubbock Christian College, will conduct the seminars. Utilizing lectures, films, cartoons, etc., the primary objective is to make persons aware of necessary elements in today's positions of economic and political leadership. The seminars conducted by Mr. Kay reveal facts and information of many of the prime problems of today society, including the continual perpetration of communism into the American way of life. Kay's has become widely known for the interest and knowledge he has created in his seminars. During the past two years he has made over 350 addresses to civic organizations, PTAs, youth banquets and conventions. At Thursday's meeting of the Rotary Club, Kay showed the film, "Operation Abolition," portraying the communist instigated student riots during the San Francisco hearings by the House Un-American Activities Committee. Friday evening he addressed a meeting of Slaton's womens clubs. More details will be announced later concerning the seminars to be held. All persons in the community are invited to attend.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority
Get The Picture?
If you're going on a tour or vacation or week-end trip, take your camera to record the fun. When you do, bear these tips in mind: Have your camera checked before you leave. Repairs in route waste time and may rob you good shots.

Keep the camera within reach—not packed away. Be prepared to shoot quickly. Always have film in the camera. When you finish one roll, load another immediately. If you switch from black-and-white to color, write kind of film on a piece of adhesive tape and stick it on the back of the camera. Carry a small notebook to make notes about the photos you take. Identify people, places, things—and mark the date. Number your rolls (with pencil or cardboard container) and number these numbers with your name. Tell the person who processes film to keep the negatives with proper container. When you see the pictures in an album later you'll welcome this identifying material. Don't shy away from taking pictures in dim light. Both black and white and color films now come extremely fast. Consult your photo dealer about them. Then follow the directions on the package.

TELEPHONE TALK
by J. C. Oakley, Manager

IMPROVING TELEPHONE SERVICE IN SLATON
Today, you can reach almost anyone in town or around the country in a matter of seconds... by telephone. If you're curious and want to see what's behind the telephone calls you make and receive, plan to visit our telephone central office real soon. We'll be glad to show you or your club or civic group many of the technical changes in equipment and methods that continue to improve your service. Just call us and let us know when you're coming. These "behind the scenes" improvements come about in two ways. A great many results from the full-time research carried on by telephone scientists. Other improvements come from ideas of telephone people working right here in Texas. This teamwork between telephone people on the job and scientists in laboratories makes an unbeatable combination. Our goal is simply this: To give you service this year that's better than last year's.

"How do you find time to get everything done and still have time for your family?" I seem to hear that question come up in conversation more and more lately. Here's how one Kansas family found more time to do the things they enjoyed together: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Padgett of Dodge City have fulltime jobs and two active school age children. They find time for bowling, golf, American Legion, PTA and church work in addition to scout and school activities for the children. How do they manage to keep up with everything? The Padgetts have help... two telephones, which they use to save time, trips and energy. Mrs. Padgett says, "I believe we save as much as a day a week in needless trips just by telephoning." Quite a saving. How about you? Could you use your phones to save time for the family? Why not try them and see.

LONG DISTANCE SERVICE
The proper way to place long distance calls is to give the operator the name of the town you are calling, the telephone number and if person-to-person, give the operator the name of the person you want to speak with. The operator will then put your call through and while the number you called is ringing she will ask for your telephone number. Very simple isn't it, but it will certainly save you time. Here is the formula again for faster long distance service: OPERATOR: Slaton long distance CUSTOMER: Atlanta, Georgia please, Main 5-1234 (If person-to-person, give the operator the name of the person you want to speak with.) OPERATOR: Thank you, just a moment, please (Operator puts through call to Atlanta) What number are you calling from? CUSTOMER: VA 7-4469 OPERATOR: Thank you, Go ahead.

Remember: Long distance is twice as fast if you know the number.
Call by number. It's twice as fast.

ON A DESOLATE HILL

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	19	23-42
Monday	John	20	1-25
Tuesday	Psalms	102	1-12
Wednesday	Matthew	14	22-33
Thursday	Psalms	119	169-176
Friday	John	13	31-38
Saturday	Luke	24	13-53

It is not strange that someone chose this lonely spot to erect a reverent memorial. It was on a desolate hill that three crosses stood many centuries ago... the Cross of the Saviour... and of the penitent... and of the scoffer.

Always these crosses have seemed to belong to the desolate hills of life. When a man feels the crushing burden of worldly care upon him, when he trudges the steep trail lost and alone — then, either he will claim the Love and Strength of Christ as did the penitent, or like the scoffer he will let his unbelief destroy his soul.

But no man should wait for a time of desolation to make life's most joyous decision. It can be made today... and sealed with years of happy service in the church of one's choice.

First Grade Curriculum Geared To Program

The First Grade Curriculum in Slaton and other accredited Texas public schools, while varying according to specific needs of individuals, is geared consistently to a prescribed reading, writing and arithmetic program. It is enriched by music, spelling, science, art, social studies and grammar, taught both specifically and incidentally.

Reading, in effect, is an integrated language arts program encompassed in a developmental series of basal readers. When a teacher says "it takes all day just to teach reading," she realizes, happily, that she is, at the same time, teaching language, spelling, writing, dramatics, art, speech and, sometimes, science and numbers. Specific instruction in the individual subjects varies with individual needs and, of course, differs from first grade room to first grade room. The overall program, as broadly outlined here, varies daily according to individual or group needs.

Because of the wide range of individual differences among children, the first grade basal reading program is taught in three or more sections in each room. Children who are ready early in the school year for the phonetic approach to reading, writing and spelling skills are placed in the first group. The second group is made up of those whose readiness tests indicate some immaturity but average or above potential. The third group is reserved for the children who need special, individual attention in a concentrated readiness program. Regrouping goes on constantly as maturation takes place. In each group, the teaching methods vary according to the needs of the most children. Word attack skills are developed by each child according to his ability on one or any combination of the following approaches:

1. Recognition through general configuration or unusual characteristics of the word;
2. recognition through similarities to known words—common elements;
3. use of picture clues; use of phonetic analysis; use of context clues;
4. use of structural analysis;
5. use of dictionary (yes, in the first grade), and 8. wide supplementary reading.

The reading program in each group daily includes readiness, word study skills, creative reading, development of reading interest and related language experiences. Instructional problems include providing enrichment activities, re-reading activities to other areas of the curriculum, evaluation of growth and providing for individual differences. In coping with such problems, the first grade teacher has a distinct advantage in the fact that the average first grader is naturally motivated by the excitement of "trying his wings."

While one group is in the "circle" with the teacher, the other two or three groups are doing seat work designed to strengthen concepts in the above mentioned facets of the reading program. This work naturally overflows into other language arts areas and into science, art and arithmetic.

The children study music for 20 minutes every other day with a qualified public school music teacher. On alternate days, this period is devoted to science, films, speech training, dramatics or other enrichment media, as needed for curriculum balance.

Every day, the children have a short arithmetic lesson. During the year, the arithmetic program covers the development of number ideas and including ten through the study of groups by counting, comparing, analyzing, counting away and counting together, and leading to the discovery of the 45 "easy" additions and the 45 "easy" subtractions. The children who have above average number concepts at the beginning of the year learn, through an accelerated program, to count to 100 by ones, twos, fives and tens, are introduced to the "teens," learn to tell time by the hour and half hour, and they learn measurement terminology in other areas, including the calendar, scales, ruler and thermometer.

During the first semester, spelling, writing and phonics are integrated with the reading program, concepts being introduced in the circle and practiced in seat work while other groups are "in the circle."

A "spelling" workbook is introduced early in the second semester, and all children work in it during a 10 or 15-minute instruction period. It is based on a phonetic approach. Children who are mature enough proceed, in the last 12 weeks of school, to a concentrated program of learning to spell, orally and in writing, from 50 to 75 or more words, according to individual abilities.

is warm or when there is wind. It is not until the second grade that, through experiments, the children follow the evaporated water through its cycle as it forms a cloud and as it condenses to form rain. It is not until the fifth grade that this concept is developed to the point of studying the weather bureau.

Areas so covered in the first grade science program include wheels, fire, safety, collections, animals and plants, the seasons, machines and health.

As the teacher recognizes the responsibility of, primarily, developing reading skills, much of the above is integrated with the reading program. The children who finish the first reader ahead of the overall schedule have time and ability the last month of school to read the rest of the science book independently and present the remaining experiments to the members of the class who have not completed the basal program.

One period a week is set aside in many first grade rooms for "Show and Tell." The children bring to school the results of creative, scientific, industrial or other cultural activities at home or on trips and explain them to the class. This is a highly motivating medium for practice in speech, dramatics, listening, exercising originality and developing social grace.

The curriculum is introduced each September with a six-weeks readiness program designed to help the child make his first great adjustment to the world outside his sheltered home. During this period, phonics and other word attack skills are introduced in preparation for the first pre-primer. Three pre-primers, at least, are completed by the majority of children by the end of the first semester. The second semester is devoted to the primer and first reader. Completion of the primer, along with relative competency in numbers and writing, are minimum requirements for promotion.

With the introduction of the primer, the child begins supplementary reading, first taking pre-primer home for practice in reading aloud and using word attack skills on words not in the basal program. By the end of the second semester, more than half of the children will have completed the first reader and have read independently a dozen supplementary pre-primers, six or more supplementary primers and the more advanced children will have read a few supplementary first readers.

The overall program is geared to average abilities in order to benefit the majority of children. Of necessity it is flexible, no two children being identical in their abilities. Ideally, it provides acceleration for the most capable and a comfortable, slower pace for the children who need a longer than normal maturation period.

Check Trolines Often

When running trolines at night be sure to check them at least every three hours.

Rough fish take a good toll of troline bait—and empty hooks catch no fish. Keep those hooks baited by frequent checking.

Maybe the Outlook staff needs a new cover-story writer. The Outlook recently received a letter from a reader who teaches English. She said that her class does creative writing once a week as they look at pictures, and that recently she used the November Outlook cover as the basis for their story. Included in one of the creations was—

"There are two cowboys holding a calf—one his front legs, the other his back legs—while a third cowboy stands nearby roasting a wiener."

Blakley Sets Coffee Break at Lubbock

Senator William A. Blakley will launch an intensive pre-campaign drive in the Panhandle area this week.

Blakley will meet voters in a series of "Coffee Breaks" in Amarillo and in Plainview and Rockwell Saturday.

Blakley will be at Lubbock Saturday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. at 1010 Broadway, Senator Blakley's Lubbock Campaign Headquarters.

People throughout the Lubbock area are invited to attend the coffee and visit with the Texas Senator. Blakley is hitting the campaign trail after introducing major sections of his legislative program in the U. S. Senate. In addition to his school-aid bills, he proposed an increase in amount individuals are permitted to earn without losing part of the Social Security benefits. Under Blakley's bill, the amount would be increased from $1200 to $1800 a year. Blakley told the Senate present restrictions prevent older people from contributing what they can and want to contribute to production and a stronger economy.

Duck hunters often are troubled by shells becoming wet and swollen. Next trip out carry your shells in plastic bags to avoid this trouble.

To De-burr Dogs
Next time your setter or spaniel comes in from the field with its coat full of cockleburrs, remove them with a two-tined kitchen fork. The burrs can be removed in jig time, without so much as a yelp from the pooch.

Plans Go Forward For Approaching "Freedom Seminars" In Slaton

Plans are going forward for the six-session "Freedom Seminars," being sponsored by the Slaton Lions Club, which will begin on Thursday, March 30th, at 8 p. m.

Last week's Slatonite reported an incorrect date for the beginning session through a typographical error, but the correct date is the 30th (thirtieth). Meetings will be held every Thursday evening at 8 p. m., lasting 90 minutes per session.

C. L. Kay, Vice President for Public Relations of Lubbock Christian College, will conduct the seminars. Utilizing lectures, films, cartoons, etc., the primary objective is to make persons aware of necessary elements in today's positions of economic and political leadership.

The seminars conducted by Mr. Kay reveal facts and information of many of the prime problems of today society, including the continual perpetration of communism into the American way of life.

Kay's has become widely known for the interest and knowledge he has created in his seminars. During the past two years he has made over 350 addresses to civic organizations, PTAs, youth banquets and conventions.

At Thursday's meeting of the Rotary Club, Kay showed the film, "Operation Abolition," portraying the communist instigated student riots during the San Frisco hearings by the House Un-American Activities Committee. Friday evening he addressed a meeting of Slaton's womens clubs.

More details will be announced later concerning the seminars to be held. All persons in the community are invited to attend.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

If you're going on a tour or vacation or week-end trip, take your camera to record the fun. When you do, bear these tips in mind:

Have your camera checked before you leave. Repairs in route waste time and may rob you good shots.

Keep the camera within reach—not packed away. Be prepared to shoot quickly. Always have film in the camera. When you finish one roll, load another immediately. If you switch from one speed film to another, or from black-and-white to color, write kind of film on a piece of adhesive tape and stick it on the back of the camera.

Carry a small notebook to make notes about the photos taken. Identify people, places, things—and mark the date. Number your rolls (with pencil or cardboard container) and number these numbers with your name. Tell the person who processes film to keep the negatives with proper container. When you see the pictures in an album later, you'll welcome this identifying material.

Don't shy away from taking pictures in dim light. Both black and white and color films now come in extremely fast emulsions. Tell your photo dealer about them, then follow the directions in the package.

Woodrow, Slaton Home Clubs Meet

The Woodrow and Slaton Home Demonstration Clubs were hostesses, Wednesday, when the 2nd in a series of programs on clothing selection and care was held at the Slaton Club House.

Mrs. Clara Pratt showed a film on "A Dry Cleaner's Plant." Appearing on the panel were Dr. Gene Sheldon, Mrs. Vivian Linder, Paul Basinger, Ralph Bumpass and Mrs. Bennie Hagens. A question and answer period followed the panel discussion.

The Slaton Home Demonstration Club has invited the Woodrow to a demonstration on cake decorating at 9:30 a.m., March 23 in the home of Mrs. W. L. Roche in Slaton.

TELEPHONE TALK

by J. C. Oakley, Manager

IMPROVING TELEPHONE SERVICE IN SLATON

Today, you can reach almost anyone in town or around the country in a matter of seconds . . . by telephone.

If you're curious and want to see what's behind the telephone calls you make and receive, plan to visit our telephone central office real soon. We'll be glad to show you or your club or civic group many of the technical changes in equipment and methods that continue to improve your service. Just call us and let us know when you're coming.

These "behind the scenes" improvements come about in two ways. A great many results from the full-time research carried on by telephone scientists. Other improvements come from ideas of telephone people working right here in Texas.

This teamwork between telephone people on the job and scientists in laboratories makes an unbeatable combination. Our goal is simply this: To give you service this year that's better than last year's.

"How do you find time to get everything done and still have time for your family?" I seem to hear that question come up in conversation more and more lately. Here's how one Kansas family found more time to do the things they enjoyed together: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Padgett of Dodge City have fulltime jobs and two active school age children. They find time for bowling, golf, American Legion, PTA and church work in addition to scout and school activities for the children.

How do they manage to keep up with everything? The Padgetts have help . . . two telephones, which they use to save time, trips and energy. Mrs. Padgett says, "I believe we save as much as a day a week in needless trips just by telephoning."

Quite a saving. How about you? Could you use your phones to save time for the family? Why not try them and see.

LONG DISTANCE SERVICE

The proper way to place long distance calls is to give the operator the name of the town you are calling, the telephone number and if person-to-person, give the operator the name of the person you want to speak with.

The operator will then put your call through and while the number you called is ringing she will ask for your telephone number.

Very simple isn't it, but it will certainly save you time. Here is the formula again for faster long distance service:

OPERATOR: Slaton long distance
CUSTOMER: Atlanta, Georgia please, Main 5-1234 (if person-to-person, give the operator the name of the person you want to speak with.)
OPERATOR: Thank you, just a moment, please (Operator puts through call to Atlanta) What number are you calling from?
CUSTOMER: VA 7-4469
OPERATOR: Thank you, Go ahead.

Remember: Long distance is twice as fast if you know the number.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

ON A DESOLATE HILL

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	19	23-42
Monday	John	20	1-25
Tuesday	Psalms	102	1-12
Wednesday	Matthew	14	22-33
Thursday	Psalms	119	169-176
Friday	John	13	31-38
Saturday	Luke	24	13-53

It is not strange that someone chose this lonely spot to erect a reverent memorial. It was on a desolate hill that three crosses stood many centuries ago . . . the Cross of the Saviour . . . and of the penitent . . . and of the scoffer.

Always these crosses have seemed to belong to the desolate hills of life. When a man feels the crushing burden of worldly care upon him, when he trudges the steep trail lost and alone — then, either he will claim the Love and Strength of Christ as did the penitent, or like the scoffer he will let his unbelief destroy his soul.

But no man should wait for a time of desolation to make life's most joyous decision. It can be made today . . . and sealed with years of happy service in the church of one's choice.

Mrs. C. Lewis Jr. Is Winner Of Rhyme Contest

Mrs. Carl Lewis Jr., a housewife residing at 950 S. 21st St., is the winner of last week's Ad Rimes Contest.

Mrs. Lewis correctly identified the hidden slogan, "Buy locally for service and satisfaction," and submitted the winning Ad Rime, in the opinion of the judge.

Her rhyme:
Service is a home-town knock.
Shop at home, he sharp as a tack

Whose Bird Is It?
Who has the rightful claim to game shot by more than one hunter?
This question has plagued sportsmen since time began.
There is no single answer. Proper etiquette is observed differently according to the section of the country.
Most widely accepted is that the deer, bird, or other animal belongs to the one who first wounds it. Other shots are supposed to kill... but only to prevent waste or suffering.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to express my sincere appreciation for many cards, flowers and notes I received during my recent stay in the Veterans Hospital in Big Springs. May I make this personal "thank you" to everyone.
Henry Jarmon

The Confederate veterans were holding a reunion at Montgomery. It was quite a few years after the War Between the States and so time had greatly thinned the ranks. Someone moved that all who had been actual colonels be advanced to the rank of general, the majors be raised to colonels, and so on down the list of officers, and the motion carried.
Then a wag offered a resolution: "Be it resolved that all mules that served in the war be promoted to horses."
This motion was also adopted.

CARD OF THANKS
May I take this opportunity to thank all my friends and relatives for more than a hundred letters and cards. It is impossible to answer all. I have been quite ill in the John Sealy Hospital recovering from a spinal operation. I am now very much improved but will be transferred back to Warm Springs in Gonzales for further treatments later and will appreciate all the letters and cards you care to send. God bless all of you.

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

"Fertility" Meeting To Held In Slaton Tuesday

"Fertility" meeting held in Slaton Tuesday March 21st, at 8 p.m., in the City Hall. It was an interesting and informative meeting. It was presided over by Will Ayers, extension agent for Slaton, and was attended by a number of interested persons. Refreshments will be served at the close of the discussion.

Small wet flies usually are thought of as early spring bait. But it is surprising how often they work in dead summer when the water is sluggish and clear. Fish 'em deep and slowly in the pools.

The OLD RANCHER

OVERGRAZING NEVER PAYS:
TAKE HALF AND LEAVE HALF
THE GRASS FOR MORE
BEEF PER ACRE.

When a bass strikes and misses, wait a spell before casting out over that spot again. This is especially true of bait-casting. But even fly fishermen can profit by this advice.

General Agricultural Outlook Favorable

Domestic demands for agricultural products in Texas are expected to be good in 1961, says John McHaney, extension agricultural economist. Even if there should be a small change in consumer incomes, it will not affect the domestic market for farm products to any great extent.

If the recent economic declines are long-run and become more severe than is now expected, they could have a depressing effect on the domestic market for agricultural products, but this is not likely in 1961.

McHaney also says that the volume of agricultural exports during the present fiscal year, July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961, will likely equal or exceed the record high established last year. Progress continues to be made in lowering trade barriers against farm products imported from the United States, and government programs continue to play a major role in the agricultural economy of the U.S.

A Nacogdoches county 4-H boy, Benny Goodman of Douglass, topped all competitors in the 1960 statewide Texas Hybrid Corn Program. His yield was 139.5 bushels from his acre of Texas 30 and was made under irrigation. The top dryland yield was made by Victor Degner of Hill county, 129.2 bushels from an acre of Texas 28.

Just 20 years ago the average American ate only 1.97 pounds of broiler annually. Ten years ago the figure stood at 8.65 pounds per capita, but today, says Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialist, the figure stands at 23.65 pounds. A remarkable growth, he adds, because of widespread and popular acceptance of broilers by consumers.

SLATON CO-OP GINS

ARE YOUR GINS IF YOU USE THEM . . . . . invite you to come by and look them over and see for yourself a couple of the best gins in Texas. Whether or not you gin does a good job, depends on the gin you use. We here at the Co-op gin have just one, but four of the very best ginners in the state.

Our employees work less 12 months out of the year and very piece of machinery from top to bottom. Come let one of this fellows show you through the plants, and you will agree that both the ginners and machines are the best.

We maintain two separate gin offices during each gin. We buy cotton, write government contracts and put in the Co-ops.

Our office personnel have been trained in all phases of ginning cotton. We would appreciate the opportunity to serve you in the future.

Are Named FFA Stock Show Winners

Jim Lowry won the Grand Champion ribbon and Don Caldwell was awarded the Reserve Grand Championship Saturday at the Slaton Future Farmers of America annual stock show.

Featuring only exhibitions of swine, Lowry won with a Poland China and Caldwell won with a Yorkshire.

In the class divisions, Gayland Porsche won the Duroc Class; Don Caldwell won the Hampshire Class; Gary Caldwell won the Berkshire Class and Don Caldwell won the Yorkshire Class.

In the Breeding Division Don Caldwell won again, with a Berkshire gilt.

In addition to the above first place winners, ribbons were given to the owners of the top four animals in each division. John Mangum was awarded the "Showmanship" ribbon for excellence in exhibiting his project.

The show included boys in FFA as well as 4-H members within the Slaton school district.

FFA instructors Don Tankersley and Beryl Robertson stated that plans were being made for a better show next year with all divisions of livestock, including beef cattle, sheep and swine.

Also, the show will be held closer to town, and will have animals on exhibit through the morning prior to the judging in the afternoon. This year's show was held at the FFA farm on the Canyon Road.

Overall prices received by farmers in the U.S. and Texas in 1961 probably will not change much from those received in 1960, but prices received for individual commodities will change. The extent of these changes will depend on economic factors affecting such commodities.

Through the years, farm and ranch debts in the U.S. and Texas have continued to increase, but this debt is only about 13 percent of the value of farm assets. Equities of farmers and other owners of farm assets are high in relation to farm debts, and this is favorable, the specialist continues.

The main problem confronting agriculture in Texas and the U.S. is that production is over-expanded in terms of available markets at prices that are satisfactory to many farmers and ranchers. Unless more effective programs are developed, farmers will continue to be confronted with a price-cost squeeze through the next several years, McHaney concludes.

Central processing of DHIA records on electronic data processing machines has been underway in Texas for one year, and J. W. Davis, extension dairy husbandman, reports that this new program has met with good acceptance by DHIA members. As a measure of this acceptance, more than one-third of the Texas DHIA herds are now on DHIA-EDPM test.

DO YOU FARMING FOR A PROFIT?

Give Your Crop a Booster Shot!
Fertilize As You Plant...
— Says KENNETH PURTELL, Terry County Farmer

How Purtell Does It!...

Purtell added: "It is easy to convert your planter to handle LIQUID FERTILIZER at the time you do your planting. You use the usual opening plows on the planter feet, plus a 3/8" fertilizer knife—4" to the right of the foot, as shown at the left. Weld a pipe on the back of the knife to connect the fertilizer tube to. The fertilizer is put down about 1" deeper than the seed. The barrels for the fertilizer are located 'saddle-tank' style on the sides of the tractor. With this set-up I have cut out one complete farming operation, plus reducing the amount of pneumatic packing of my farm land. The cost of converting your planter to this type of operation is nominal."

If you are already using LIQUID FERTILIZER, come by and let us show you how easy and inexpensive it is to do both—planting and fertilizing—at the same time. If you are not now using Goodpasture LIQUID FERTILIZER then you are in for a treat. LIQUID FERTILIZER takes the 'work' out of fertilizing, plus saving you money.

Remember! We have a SOLUTION for any fertilizer problem. See your nearest Goodpasture LIQUID FERTILIZER dealer for more details about modern fertilizing . . . the safe, fast, economical way.

Commissioners

May Install Voting Booths

Lubbock County Commissioners Court agreed to investigate purchase of voting booths for the county during a regular meeting Monday.

Following a discussion of the booths, which will be for all the county's 44 election precincts, commissioners requested Bill Crutcher to communicate with firms manufacturing the booths to determine when it will be convenient for them to have representatives meet with the court to discuss and demonstrate their products.

Commissioners indicated that they would be willing to call a special meeting if the representatives would be able to appear before the court sooner than the April 10th regular meeting date.

It was agreed that there is not enough time for installation prior to the April 4th election, but possibly enough time for a run-off election.

Considered were booths constructed of corrugated cardboard, aluminum and steel reporters and local officials who submitted stories much earlier than usual, and all who have helped in so many ways. Locating Lost Arrows

If you are new at archery and lose arrows, try touching them up with fluorescent paint that will glow in a flashlight's beam, then look for them after dark.

Use Light Loads

Many hunters shoot better with light loads when hunting upland game.

To Tighten Axe Handle

You can tighten the handle on a loose axe head by soaking end of handle in oil for an hour. Handle end will swell. Then you can affix head tightly and permanently to it.

SUPERSONIC speed (faster than 738 mph, the approximate speed of sound in air) will soon be an almost outmoded term. Get used to hypersonic--that's five times the approximate speed of sound in air, or 3,690 mph.

Car Trunks and Bird Dogs

You bird hunters who carry your dogs in the car trunk should keep the car trunk closed, rather than partly open for ventilation.

Open tops only suck in gas fumes.

Close the top and "air" the dogs at regular intervals.

To Improve Taste of Water

Boil any doubtful water. To overcome the flat taste that boiling leaves, pour the water back and forth several times from one container to another. This restores the air which is responsible for the taste in water.

The building in Waco where W. C. Brann ("the iconoclast" of the 1890's) had his office is still standing.

Calling His Bluff

Good Crow Decoys

Stuffed owls, fox skins, leashed tame cats, and dead crows tied in trees, all make good crow decoys.

But these decoys should be placed far enough away from your blind so that incoming crows won't know you are anywhere around--even when you start shooting.

Nobody has the moral right to take by force from the producer anything he has produced or earned, for any purpose whatsoever--even for a good purpose, as he thinks of it. --Dr. F. A. Harper

Most mechanical and electrical things at some time require immediate and expert repairs. Can you risk depending on some remote service man?

Occasionally, we overhear a conversation sad and drear, bemoaning troubles quite severe because the dealer isn't near!

Well, far from us to interfere with jeer, or leer, or smirky sneer --so--this advice we volunteer: "Get wise, my dear, and BUY IT HERE!"

Check service guaranty with mechanical and electrical items. Consider service guaranty before you buy.

BY A. M. J.

It was my hope that our giant Allum along with some new plants for the space along our front walk would be enough to put us out in front with a frightening display of spring and summer flowers and make our home the outstanding horticultural display in Slaton but after a fast inspection of the efforts of Mrs. Robert Ayers, I am already accepting defeat. Last week a truck unloaded a hundred or more sacks on her front lawn and a crew of men started heaving and hoeing, digging and raising dust and before the day had passed she had a tree that looks either like a banana or a palm, a fancy evergreen that must have come from the emperor of Japan's private garden and some other fancy stuff that has already put my giant allum out of the running, even before it has had a chance to get its head out of the ground.

she had bought a mighty cute gardener ensemble that she wore while telling the men where to dig. All I have in this line is a peckerwood type cap that has a bill that makes a kind of awning for my nose. It is real becoming but in no way as outstanding and attractive as her tan coat and slacks. I have been toying with the idea of ordering a California redwood tree to get back in the running but it would take too long for one of them to grow to a worth-while size. Think I will go in for a rock garden.

Just talk
Another competitor I have been keeping a weather eye on is Greeley Sanders, who I understand has put about an acre in bulbs at his mothers, Mrs. H. G. Sanders, home on Garza street. Last year he made no end of a hullabaloo when his bulbs bloomed and from one of my scouts I understand that he has even gone further into the business this year. He will bear close watchin.

Just talk
Having a very decided attraction for sweets, I got big hearted not long ago and paid $1.40 for a pound of candy for my wife. She got extra generous with it when some company arrived and one of the men got his dipper in before I had half a chance. Having just made out our income tax, I counted how many little pieces of candy was in the box and it was eighteen, making each piece cost approximately 6 cents each. This visitor fired the candy into his mouth as if he were eating pop corn and my pocket book rebelled with agony as I saw that candy go so fast. Soon afterwards while shopping in the grocery store with my wife I picked up a package of Pepperidge frozen turnover for nearly 80 cents. There were only four of them making them cost 20 cents each and when I ate mine it ran about ten cents a bite as there was nothing to them except a belch or two. The next time I go to the store I am going to check on the cost of a package of rice and then when it is cooked I am going to figure out how much a forkful of rice costs. Watch for my report.

Just talk
We visited some friends in Lubbock recently and when the woman of the house came to greet us at the door it took her quite a while to unlock the front door and unlatch the screen. We expressed surprise that they were so timid that they had to lock themselves in the house like convicts in a penitentiary.

Just talk
You'd be timid too if you lived here," she explained. "Just last week our neighbor across the street left her front door open for fifteen minutes and when she came back in the house a man ran by her from her bedroom. He had a small jewelry case in his hand in which was a wedding ring and some other old pieces of jewelry. She did not try to stop him nor did she even report the incident to the police because she felt it was a common place incident. She decided the only thing to do is to keep her house locked like a jail."

Just such happenings might make us here in Slaton wonder whether living in a swarming, robbing, dangerous and up and coming big city is all that it is said to be. Of course the safest and best thing to do is to lock your home or your business when you leave even for a few minutes but it is not a very good feeling to know that there are sneak thieves working at all times of the day or night in your locality.

Just talk
My wife depends greatly on Magnolia, an old family retainer, to help her with the household chores. When she failed to show up for several days, we went to investigate. "My sister's in the hospital," Magnolia explained. "They operated on her and she's mighty sick." We expressed our sympathy and in the course of conversation my wife asked what the trouble was.

Does Welfare Make Crime?

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
Written for "Texas Tax Journal"

Is there any connection between welfare and crime? A lot of people are asking that question in one form or another. But nobody can give a definite answer because nobody has made an objective study of the subject.

Sometimes the question is asked differently--for example: What effect does welfare have on the character of the American people? Here again, a definite answer can not be given. But perhaps we can get an inkling from certain revealing facts, of what the answer might be.

"The 'welfare' referred to, of course, means outright government handouts to individual citizens. These handouts may seem to come from generous and benevolent governments, federal, state, and local--but in reality they come from self-reliant and energetic Americans who work hard for salaries, wages, etc. The government then step in, tax the results of their labor and use part of these taxes to make the handouts.

Now the last 20 years in these United States have been years of boom and prosperity. They have been, of course, periods of recession, but generally speaking anybody who really wanted a job could get one. But evidently there is a growing segment of our population who would rather live off the earnings of others. That may seem like a harsh and cold-hearted statement. But the Tax Foundation recently made a study of welfare payments in the United States which reveals some shocking figures. We must keep in mind two things about these figures.

The first is that they refer to a period of great prosperity.

The second is they include only outright handouts--what we used to call doles. They do not include social security payments or payments under any other government insurance schemes. They refer only to what goes under the fancy name of "public assistance"--which means, as we said, plain doles.

Well, in the last 20 years--years of raging prosperity--this outright welfare spending by the federal government has risen 685 per cent!

In the case of state and local governments, it has risen 117 per cent!

These incredible figures mean that there are nearly SEVEN MILLION AMERICANS living on outright doles from the governments.

Undoubtedly, some of these people cannot help themselves. But how many of these people have fallen for the vicious notion that the government owes everybody a living? Why Work? Why not just sit back and let the government take care of you? This is what is meant when someone asks what effect welfare is having on the character of the American people.

There was a time when the American was the most independent, self-reliant individual in the world. He considered it a major ingredient of his own moral integrity to earn his own way if he possibly could. What, then, are we to think when SEVEN MILLION AMERICANS--in a period when in many spots jobs were going begging--were willing to accept government handouts at the expense of their fellow working citizens?

As to whether all this has anything to do with crime, it would be interesting to know if there is any connection between these figures and a recent statement by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI. Mr. Hoover made the startling revelation that crime in the United States is at an all-time high. He said that last year there were more than 1,500,000 serious offenses committed throughout the nation. And this cannot be blamed on the increase in our population because, as Mr. Hoover pointed out, crime has risen FOUR times as fast as the population.

THE Peripatetic VIEW

by C.E.C.

"HERE I STAND"

With the state senatorial race rapidly approaching, citizens are again hearing some of the most ridiculous, and over-used phrases possible in order to cultivate a few votes.

For instance, one of the favorites among many politicians goes something like, "I stand for the working people." Now if this is true, and if the candidate who made this bland statement stand behind it, then he will be voting both for and against every bill that is presented.

I personally know persons who most definitely are "working people," and among them include:

1. A Catholic who is in favor of federal aid to parochial schools.
  2. A Baptist who is opposed to federal aid to parochial schools.
  3. A union barber who is in accordance with everything the union proposes.
  4. A lumber yard employee who feels the yard is unjust, and has perpetrated every justice possible.
  5. A farmer who favors his parity and wouldn't vote for anyone who would remove it.
  6. A farmer who feels that federal subsidization had not only shaved his income in the past but prohibits his possibilities in the future.
- So the next time you hear a candidate express a view such as the one about being "for the working people," then you'll know just how much he has actually said.

Another dandy remark comes when a speaker says he's "for Texas." This is the same sort of affair only a little more gross in content. In Texas you have bankers, socialists, left-wingers, right wingers, reactionaries, management, labor, oil, gas, cotton, republicans, democrats, constitutionalists, farmers, thugs, preachers, teachers and lawyers. All these are Texans and anyone who claims he can do them all justice is either telling a lie or is the most underrated man in the world.

I think if I had a group come into the office and solicit my vote for a candidate on the grounds that he would do all he could for "my class" of people, I'd be a bit wary. I'd almost be brazen enough to ask EXACTLY what he planned to do about some SPECIFIC issues, and thereby find out something about how the man stood and how he believes.

So -- when you find yourself considering someone who claims to help "Texas," and "the common man," and "the working people," etc., my advice is that if you can't get more definite information than this, then you had better switch horses. -- even if it is in the middle of a stream.

Temperatures Average 50

The temperatures for the week of March 6 thru March 12 averaged 50 degrees.

Daily high and low temperatures were Monday, 71 and 30; Tuesday, 60 and 40; Wednesday, 58 and 26; Thursday, 60 and 28; Friday, 72 and 34; Saturday, 79 and 36; and Sunday, 73 and 38.

The Sounding Board

If you wonder how people on the other side of the fence feel after the Tigerettes were defeated by Spearman last week, read this. It's not what you'd call the most gracious of compliments!

From Buri McClellan's column, "The Tall Texan," in the Hansford County Plainsman: There has been only one subject on everybody's lips in Spearman this week and, naturally, it has been the Lynxettes. It is funny that this same team only a few weeks ago was playing before a half-empty gym two nights a week. Now it is suddenly everybody's team. There is no denying it, everybody likes a winner.

Even though the girls have been coming up on the right side of the scoreboard in the clutches, they have also been coming up on the right side of the sportsmanship scoreboard also. No one can accuse them of not being good sports.

We have seen them time and again this season go over and say a kind word to an opposing player that had fouled out. Many times even the player's own teammates did not extend her the courtesies.

In Lubbock Saturday, the girls were mauled by the wild style of play that is apparently allowed to the south. They were elbowed, knocked down and run over, but they never apparently got mad or lost their temper, they just came up playing harder.

From what we hear from people who have been to the tournament in Austin, we can expect more of the rough play at the state tournament. We are told that most anything short of tackling is allowed.

Another view on the advertisement of liquor in newspapers is the following taken from Joe Harrison's column

"The Editor's Corner" in the Spur paper: Notice that the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal has joined the Lubbock TV stations and radio stations in running liquor advertisements.

I have heard numerous comments about this subject, most of it unfavorable.

I must say I was disappointed when the Lubbock paper fell into line--so to speak--and ran the liquor ads.

In Sunday's Letter Editor column in the Herald I noticed several letters in liquor ads, all unfavorable. I did not notice any by the editor which follows letters promptly.

Amarillo and Dallas have heaped nothing but abuse and insults upon Lyndon Johnson, Sam Rayburn, Ralph Yarborough, and they are not going to change. The more Johnson, Rayburn and Yarborough can expect. The time sometimes comes in the lives of all of us when a person needs to be marked off our list. And that time has come for the Texas delegation in Washington.

Let Dallas' Republican Congressman Bruce Alger carry the ball for Amarillo and Dallas.
 Kennedy knows about Amararillo. He knew its political stripe last October. We told him. Our only mistake was not painting the picture as black as it should have been painted in view of the election results on November 8 and the slanderous behavior of Amarillions and their newspapers since that time. Kennedy altered his tight schedule to visit Amarillo just a week before the election when time was so precious. And it didn't gain him one vote!

Our advice to Kennedy is to tell Amarillo and Dallas to "go to purgatory" and wait for the Democrats of Texas to bail them out!

-COUNTRY EDITOR

That reminds us of a tale making the rounds this week.
 Three persons, a Republican,
 a Democrat, and a Jew had died and all had been consigned to the regions below. Satan, however, offered to release them for $10
 each.

Immediately the Republican paid off and made his way to heaven. But the other two didn't appear at the Golden Gate. A call was made to Satan to see what was the holdup.

"The Jew is trying to get the price cut to $5," said Satan,
 "and the Democrat insists that the government should pay it!"

Another indication of rigged letters to the editor in the Amarillo papers is the fact that hardly a day passes that the paper doesn't publish a vilifying letter from a dentist.
 Every letter sings the same tune. Now we know that dentists comprise only a small segment of our people and how on earth would the law of averages give us a published letter from a dentist every day unless there was some rigging behind the scenes, perhaps on the part of the dental society? Could it be that a campaign has been going on among the dentists to "write your editor how we feel"?

It burns us up when we see dentists or any other professional groups dominating the free space of any newspaper.
 The free space for readers to air their opinions is available only because of paid advertisement in other parts of the paper.
 And if we depended upon professional people to keep newspapers in business, we wouldn't even have newspapers unless they were government subsidized. Professional people, including doctors, dentists,
 lawyers, accountants, veterinarians and the like, can't even run a one-inch ad in a newspaper merely giving their name and the address of their offices. They can't because their professional societies, or unions, won't let them.

What right have these Amarillo dentists to use column after column of free space in the Amarillo papers when they never contribute five cents to the cost of publishing these papers? In fact, they are even asking for free advertising when they stick the "DDS" on their names.

And lastly, from Douglas Meador's "Trail Dust," in the Matador Tribune:
 Grotesque and shabby, the red brick railway station stands apart in the senile community.
 It is a lighthouse in the dry floor of a receding sea. Scars of the old right of way are obliterated except in the cuts through the hills and the decaying debris of bridges. Time has no schedule. The thunder of the last train spilled into silence and the depot windows became a part of a design for shadows
 when the last coal oil lamp was extinguished; when destiny signalled that the track was clear.

The weight of transgressions is not a satisfactory ballast for the trim ship of dreams.

Age has no contribution for my physical agility except to allow me to put my foot in my mouth with undiminished ease.

One method of vindicating antipathy for the income tax collector is to fail to earn enough to require payment.
 This, of course, has its drawbacks, since predatory creditors do not hesitate to create an atmosphere of discomfort.

Our enemies are our friends whom we have never taken the trouble to understand.

W. J. Corbett, district sales

 membership awards are presented for excellent retail sales performance. The Ford 300-500 Club was founded in 1950 to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen

Mr. Corbett added that the

Easter Seal Campaign Will Be Conducted Until Sunday, April 2

"Annually an Easter Seal Campaign is held in Lubbock County to make available funds to provide care for crippled children whose parents are unable to provide the needed care," Dr. John Rountree, Jr., President of the Lubbock County Society for Crippled Children stated today. This Campaign began March 2 and will extend through Easter Sunday, April 2. Funds are obtained from letters sent to Lubbock County residents, from a Lily Day to be held March 18 and from money placed in coin containers to be found in business places. "All the money contributed helps crippled children since the Society has no administrative costs. Everyone connected in any way with the Campaign donates his or her time so that

The Mayor Of Acuff

Have you noticed the latest in women's fashions? I've never seen so many knobby knees in my life. I was just thinking, you know all the girls are going into Plainview and all the guys are going to Seymour, (see more, get it?) O.K. so you got it but you don't want it. At least I don't have to worry about Bob Hope stealing my jokes. But still some women mistakenly believe that the secret of youth is found in keeping a secret. You know the definition of a modern woman. She's one that drives a short distance to a drugstore to buy reducing pills. Us boys just work off the fat. Say I heard a good story on Ed Reynolds and Henry Morgan. Seems as if they went fishing on Sunday, and the fish believed in the seventh day as a day of rest so they weren't in "school." In a little while Ed and Henry began to feel kinda guilty about not being in church. Finally Ed got up and told Henry he might as well go on home, because he shouldn't have left his wife sick in bed anyway. I guess you heard about the pet store in Lubbock that went out of business. They were making plenty of money too. They just lost their LEASH.

Charlie Mullins Mayor

Editor's Note: I see that you are no different from mayors in all cities in that you spend most of your time speculating on the nearest pair of nude knees. Take heart, however, because the fair lasses outside of the isolated community of Acuff have not spent most of their years pulling cotton sacks on their knees and present a much more fetching sight. I wouldn't say Acuff was a backward community at all, but on my last visit I noticed that your local cafe had instituted what it considered to be a move toward modernization. There was a new sign that read:

COFFEE - 5¢ - ALREADY SAUCERED AND BLOWED
