Proposed Help For East Lubbock

Denise Kinner

The proposed construction of a cottonseed cleaning and delinting facility, if approved, could greatly reduce cottonseed dust which plagues the East Lubbock community this time of the year.

The facility, proposed by Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Inc., would be located at East 29th Street and Elm Avenue. According to Charles Hay, engineer for Plains. the new facility will emit only 44 percent as much dust as the present facility.

"The new facility will greatly reduce the amount of dust and will replace our present facility which was built in

The total cost of the project, according to Hay, will be $12 to $15 million. Construction could begin as early as January 1982, with a completion date in early

Lubbock Voters Approve Seven Propositions!!!

Denise Kinner

Lubbock voters approved seven of the eight propositions in the city's bond election Saturday. The only proposal to fail called for additional softball fields in the city.

Almost 11,000 voters participated in the $42.5 million general obligation bond election, twice as many participants as in the past two bond elections.

Most of the opposition to the bond package came from north and east Lubbock. Some east Lubbock leaders had urged rejection of the

Due to last minute scheduling problems, Washington, D. C. Mayor Marion Barry indicated that he would be unable to participate in the Walk Against Fear. Because of the Mayor's unique position as the official bout of this special occasion, it had to be postponed indefine tely. The Walk had been scheduled for Tuesday, November 17th.

While many senators have expressed a willingness to take part in the Walk, the absence of the Mayor robbed the

Editorials Let Us Reflect

by Eddie P. Richardson

In 1621, the first Thanksgiving was celebrated. That was a good year, in fact, the first good year the Colonist had had. Bad harvest and times in this new land. They had deaths from hard winters and poor, harvest, but in early 1621, the Indians came to their rescue and taught them how and helped them plant corn, pumpkins, and other items we take granted for today.

So less than a year after the Colonist arrived and settled at Plymouth, the dreadful winter in Massachusetts had killed half of the Colonists. The new hope grew in the summer of 1621. The corn was bountiful. They set aside three days of prayer and feasting. That is how the holiday started and still is held in the fall. The first Thanksgiving, Indians brought wild turkeys and vinsion (deer meat). The women of the Colony spent many days preparing for the feast. The children helped by turning roasts on spits in front of open fires. The women served the meat adn fish with journey cake, corn meal bread with nuts, and succotash. Everyone are out doors at big tables, The American Thanksgiving Day probably grew out of the harvest home celebration in England.

Thanksgiving is also a time for serious religious thinking, church services, and prayer. One of the first Thanksgiving observations in America was entirely religious and did not involve feasting.

On December 4, 1619, 39 English settlers arrived at Berkeley Plantation, on the James River near what is now Charles City, Va. The group's charter required that the day of arrival be observed yearly as a day of giving thanks to God.

Now for a local contemporary view. We should go back to basics on what Thanksgiving really is and why it started in the first place. We should go back to the religious aspects, and giving thanks for our many blessings during the year. We have become too commercial, and to entertainment oriented on holidays like Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. That's why we need to reflect the past and remember why these holidays originated.

As a whole, we do not give thanks anymore for anything. We are too busy criticizing, complaining and being ungrateful. So this is why we should - on one day - pause and give thanks for all the good things and blessings throughout the year. No matter how many things which did not as we thought they should -- how many times we did not have our way - how much we missed that we thought we should have had. There was still many more blessings which came our

This week I want to applaud the voters of Washington, D. C.

Voters in this predominantly Black city on November 3 overwhelmingly rejected a tuition tax credit proposal that would have allowed taxpayers to take a credit against their local income tax for public and private school cost! Some 90 percent of those voting opposed the measure.

If the proposal had been approved by District of Columbia voters - and passed congressional and judicial scrutiny - observers predicted that it would have spurred similar efforts in many cities with troubled school systems, as well as in Congress, defense by the consumer is one of the most efficient weapons against inflation," not just high interest rates and cuts in social program spending. "Any belief in a simple origin and in a simple remedy is very dangerous; uncalculated and unobserved side-effects can become much stronger elements for new and even greater inflation," observes Dr. Holzach.

Inflation in Switzerland is currently standing at 7.4% about 40% below the U.S. rate around 12%. Perhaps the best observation of the effects of inflation on the public is in the housing area. In 1971 the median family income in the U.S. stood at just over $10,000 and the median priced single family home was about $25,000 with mortages available at around eight percent.

Today, interest charged from permanent mortgages are twice that at 17% per annum. In the meantime the median-priced home is over $65,000 while median income is only $22,000. In 1970, almost half the U.S. families seeking their first home could attord the median-priced new home. Today only one out of seven should be so lucky.

Swiss Bankers do not do business based on lucky charms, "As a banker, I am a pragmatist," cites Dr. Holzach. "Inflation is neither a matter of predetermined fate, that we can attempt to escape by cult rituals, nor is it an economic circumstance like the weather against which we can only react defensively," concludes Dr. Holzach.

"The disease of inflation is basically curable," claims the doctor. Cautioning us to treat the cause and not the symptoms. "Since reasons for the existence and increase of inflation are not one fold but camifold, any action against inflation has to be manifold as well," says Dr. Holzach.

"Any belief in a simple cause of inflation and therefore a simple remedy is dangerous because the calculated and unoberved side effects can become even stronger elements for new and heightened inflation," concludes Holzach. "High interest rates and high unemploymen: resulting from the monetarist fight against inflation will themselves become inflationary. if they exceed adequate proportions.

President Reagan will be able to observe the overflow of unemployment very soon provided interest rates are not relaxed by the end of the year.

What is the meaning of the Black Experience? Remember Brother Malcolm, Brother Martin, The Tills. The Evans and many other of our black men and women and children who sacrificed unselfishly their lives in the beliefs and their giving, that was significant towards the progress and our ascent as a free people in the black experience, asks J. E. Hines in one of his columns recently.

For many blacks, especially in our larger cities and in the youth group, life has lost its real meaning. Life is cheap. It is frustrating for many young, middle age and old. The young are neglected, the old shunted off into dreary hursing homes. Stress builds up until hearts fail. or violence erupts.

Here for a few short years, then into the grave and oblivion. How can life have meaning? What makes a man more important than an ant or a grasshopper? How could my life have meaning, another young black man wonders, 'When yo are dead you're dead'. But wait my friend! Some do notice. Some do care. Some will remember. Life does have meaning if you want it to, if you make it so.

Let every voice, young, black, old, join together in song. Let not our songs be of misery, now that of downtrodden people but let our songs be of taith, hope, struggle, pain, joy and then finally we will all join in the chorus: "Free at last, thank God almighty, we are free at last'.

Let us give our children foundations of purpose, reasons and strength to stand up and continue the fight of the Black Experience. All things good begins at home. Let us return to our family and community ties that will make a better sisterhood and brotherhood for all America to see and know that this land (America) belongs to all of us.

********* President Hastings K. Banda, the President of Malawi, an independent African nation, recently announced the gift of one million dollars to Wilberforce University in Ohio. Wilberforce has been since 1856, a black college dedicated to the training and education of black people and is owned and operated by the African Methodist Episcopel Church, the largest black body of Methodists in the world today.

Dr. Banda was a student and graduate from Wilberforce in 1928. He also attended Meharry Medical College in Nashville, an institution dedicated to the training of black doctors and medical workers. According to R. H. Reid, r., editor of the A. M. E. Christian Recorder, official organ of the denomination states: "Most people who think of Africa, immediately seem to think only of jungle, poverty and missionaries... We should not get lost in ex!tilliaration of gift of the million and not see and recognize the new dawn of a new day for a new identity with the A. M. E. Church and all persons of African descent to our mother land. What America today is to the world, Africa can tomorrow be, and why not? end of quote.

After graduating from Wilberforce and medical studies at Meharry and Indiana Universities, Dr. Banda returned to his natal land, Malawi, to practice medicine and became the leader of the independent movement. With Independence, he served as prime minister and in July, 1966, he became President of the Republic of Malawi.

Black colleges have graduated 75 percent of all black Ph.D's, 75 percent of all Black army officers and 80 percent of all Black doctors. They enroll in excess of 200,000 Black students and have 800,000 living alumni. Today, 90 Black graduate as many Blacks as 1,500 White colleges. About seven out of 10 Blacks at White colleges never graduate. More important, 75 percent of all Blacks with advanced degrees from White universities receive their undergraduate degrees from a Black college, dispelling the notion that Black colleges are inferior. Take Black colleges out of the picture and we will lose 50 percent of all Blacks who graduate every year from college.

Your Community Blood Center

United Blood Service is a part of a system of 19 non-profit community blood centers which supply blood needed by over 800 hospitals throughout the United States. The Lubbock center serves a 22 county area and 35 hospitals on the South Plains and in Eastern New Mexico. Current requirements are between 1800 and 2000 units of blood per month.

The increased demand for blood is due to several factors, including increasing medical sophiscation and new techniques, growing capabilities as Lubbock becomes a medical center. Blood can only be provided by healthy donors who are willing to share their own natural resources. United Blood Service depends totally on volunteer donors to mee. the demand. This eliminates the possibility of any commercialism and makes blood available on an equitable basis to everyone. The only charge to a patient is a processing fee, which reflects the costs of drawing, processing, and insurance. Your community blood center collects blood either at the blood center at 415 Avenue R or at mobile blood drives distributing the blood.

This fee is normally which may be set up at your place of business, your church, school, or civic organization. Mobile drives may be arranged simply by calling the blood center 763-0428. The mobile units are staffed by trained personnel, and necessary equipment is furnished.

Your community blood center is in existence solely to provide blood to people. The blood center does not need blood -- people do. The blood center however, must depend on volunteers to provide the blood on a continuous basis so that it will be available to patients when it is needed.

But meny that are first shall be jast; and the last shall be first." Matt.

Our Lord spoke to His disciples concerning the reversal of position, which had an early fulfillment in the United States in 1902. The slaves were freed in 1863, and 39 years later we would see the son of a slave and a former slave himself receive the greatest gift that Heaven had given to mankind.

For many years since 1492 the people of the New World had taught holiness. sanctification and being filled with the Holy Ghost. Yet in the New World the baptism of the Holy Ghost had not been experienced as it was given on the day of Pentecost. "And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to

Men of all faiths sought this experience from God for many years, yet it was not given in the United States until the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ looked down on W. J. Seymour. The Reverend Seymour was pastor of the Azusa Street Mission in Los Angeles, California, and it was know all over the United States. Church history shows that men of all colors in America visited the Azusa Street Mission and sought knowledge of Mr. Seymour concerning God had looked on this son of a slave and former slave and had touched him and his people. The Lord did not give us a reversal of political, financial or social position, but he gave to the Black people in the New World the gift that had been given on the day of Pentecost. Please notice that the Blacksd were not leaving neighborhoods to worship, but the whites were coming to worship with the blacks. My heart goes out for my people, whom I know can reach God. For many weeks I have tried to appeal to your hearts to return fully to the Lord Jesus Christ so that He will again send people into our neighborhoods. rather than us leaving our neighborhoods.

This article is not written to have any racial overtone, but it is written to let the black commisnity know what many of those in the white community already know ... that God chose the blacks in America first to show His praise in the fullness of the Spirit, 1 do not know why the Lord chose Azusa Street first, but we know that He has no respect of people because W. J. Seymour, a black preacher, was the first person to receive the hap an of the Holy Ghost in the United SHARRY.

Robert Packwood (R-Ore.), and William Roth (R .-Del.) have introduced a tuition tax credit bill (S. 550) that would provide a tax credit to those parents whose children are in elementary, secondary, college or vocational educational institutions. This bill calls for a $250 refundable credit in 1982, and a $500 refundable credit in 1983.

Similar, although not identical, measures are pending before the House Ways and Means Committee. More than 20 other tax credit bills have been introduced, and President Reagan has promised his own version of a tuition tax credit plan. My reasons for being opposed to tuition tax credits are as follows:

First. I believe that public monies should be used to support public purposes. The concept of tuition tax credits represents a diversion of public monies for private purposes, because of revenues that would be lost to the U.S. Treasury. Among other broad public purposes. Federal monies should be used to improve the quality of public education. This would be much more difficult to accomplish if the increasingly limited Federal resources are further constrained by diversion of funds to private education.

Second, passage of tuition tax credits legislation would worsen the already serious Federal budget deficit that out nation faces. To this extent, then, tuttion tax credits are not consistent with President Reagan's stated goal of achieving a balanced budget.

Third, statistical studies indicate that tuition tax credits would mostly benefit families of students who attend sectarian schools. This being the case, I am concerned that the Supreme Court would most likely find this legislation unconstitut anal as violation of the separation of Church-, tate doctrine. The tuition tax credit scheme fits neatly into the Reagan philosophy of always benefiting the rich at the expense of the poor. Taking money from a public school in a ghetto neighborhood and transfering it to a private school in an affluent neighborhood is in same league as cutting the check of a welfare mother while decreasing the taxes of a millionaire. After the Supreme Court's 1954 ruling against segregated schools, southern states engaged in massive resistance to get around desegregating their schools. Enacting tuition tax credits would revive these efforts by making available more funds, thereby providing a federal subsidy to violate the law. As a matter of record, cities throughout the country have shown their objections to carrying out the mandate of the High Court. Court-ordered busing is tabeled "forced busing" in many areas as school

I see no reason to give in or drop our guard just because the scheme is now taking a different form.
