Clean Up - Fix Up Day In Lubbock

Mayor Bill McAlister during Lubbock's City Council meeting Thursday, proclaimed Saturday, May 23, 1981, as "Clean Up-Fix Up Day". The proclamation encourages "each individual citizen of Lubbock to fulfill his or her personal responsibility in this community effort" and also asks that "neighborhood groups, civic clubs, churches, schools, city department, commercial organizations, youth organizations which want to help take an active and participating part during this time and throughout the year. Let each person assume his or her direct responsibility by joining in this worthwhile endeavor."

The Beautification Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce-Board of City Development echoes the proclamation of Mayor McAlister and hopes by setting aside this official day the people of Lubbock will indeed "pitch in" and help make Lubbock an even better place in which to live, visit and enjoy a quality of life.

Tall weeds, brush and debris piles in alleys can be hazardous to health and safety. Much of the brush you want to dispose of will fit in the dumpster but those larger items that won't fit into the dumpster no longer have to be taken to the landfill. Eight brush trucks are stationed at the following locations throughout the city for your convenience in disposing of your rubbish: Parkway Drive and Gauva Avenue; East 48th Street and Quirt Avenue Fire Station; 2601 Auburn; 17th Street and Utica Avenue Fire Station; 29th Drive and Brownfield Highway Water Pump Station; K.N. Clapp Park, 2110 46th St. 79th Street and Slide Road Fire Station; and City Park, 90th Street and Flint Avenue.

As trucks fill up, they are driven to the landfill and emptied and returned to their station so you always have a place to take your rubbish.

Chairman Paul Lang of the Beautification Committee states that Lubbock is making progress and hopes everyone will do their part starting Saturday, May 23, to help make Lubbock the most beautiful city.

Bentsen Assails Proposed Cutbacks

Washington, D.C. - Senator Lloyd Bentsen last week said he recently assured black community leaders in Dallas that he will continue to oppose efforts to cut back vocational education programs.

"I assured a group of leaders from the black community in Dallas at a recent breakfast that I strongly support vocational education and I will continue to oppose efforts to cut back this important program," Senator Bentsen said.

"We had black business leaders, political leaders and religious leaders, and we had workers and homemakers as well. We had a good exchange of views."

"Virtually all of the people that I visited with are aware of the need to cut back government spending. They know this country is spending beyond its means and they know that we can't continue to do so. But they agree with me that we simply cannot reduce some of the vital programs that mean so much to so many Americans."

"Vocational education is a good example. It frequently provides a key that can unlock the door to opportunity. It provides training for jobs so that young Americans who are anxious to find work and earn a decent living can do so," Bentsen said.

"It trains the young medical technicians, auto mechanics, electricians and plumbers that this country is going to need in the years ahead. I strongly support vocational education and the opportunity it holds out not only for black Americans but for all young Americans. And I assured these community leaders in Dallas of my continuing support," Senator Bentsen said.

Elderly Face Cutoffs

Elderly face Cutoffs
Washington, D.C.--
Delegates to the national

Project EnergyCare
conference concluded their two days of meetings in Washington, D.C. expressing concern about the record number of utility shutoffs occurring across the nation.

The 125 delegates represented local sponsors of programs to alert the elderly and the handicapped about Federal low-income energy assistance and weatherization programs. During the winter months, most states arranged to make direct payments to energy vendors, including utility companies, on behalf of those receiving energy assistance. In return, the utility companies agreed not to shut off service for non-payment.

"In most states, that moratorium has been lifted, as of April 15," said Mike Sandifer, Project EnergyCare Director. "Our projects report massive warnings going out to customers, including 100,000 in the state of Wisconsin, where there have been substantial layoffs, and 28,000 in the metropolitan Baltimore area."

The delegates who met in regional caucuses discussed problems in operating the programs in each of the states. They noted that where insufficient outreach was conducted, monies were not completely spent, although the utility shutoffs clearly indicate the growing inability of families to meet the rising cost of energy.

The EnergyCare National Office will develop a model energy assistance plan based on information received from local projects. The model will be used by EnergyCare sponsors as a basis for designing next years program.

With respect to unspent 1981 Low-Income Energy Assistance Program funds, the delegates will urge their states to open up cooling assistance programs to help the elderly, disabled, and young children get through the summer. They noted that the principal reason for left-over monies included unrealistic eligibility requirements, extremely low individual benefit levels, and welfare office administration which tended to stigmatize beneficiaries.

Last Sunday (May 17th) was the 54th Church Anniversary of the New Hope Baptist Church. Everything was great! Devotion services during morning services were led by Deacons Swain and Givens. Guest speaker was Rev. B. J. Bradford, Sr. of Fort Worth, Texas. His scripture was James 4:14-15. His subject was "What Is Your Life." It was a wonderful message.

At this report, Rev. A. L. Dunn, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church, is still in the hospital. Maybe (just maybe), he will come home this week. Let us continue to pray for his recovery.

Wanda English of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, was a visitor last Sunday morning at New Hope Baptist Church. She is here visiting her great grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Patterson.

Mrs. Ann Taylor's mother and aunt, both of Ballinger, Texas, were visitors at New Hope Baptist Church last Sunday morning. They were in the "Hub City" to attend graduation exercises of Mrs. Taylor's daughter, Kathy.

Word comes to the "Hub City" that Mr. W. Clayborn, former member and deacon at New Hope Baptist Church, passed away last Sunday morning in Pasadena, California. He is also the father of Mrs. Annie Flowers here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison (Bull) Davis received word last Friday that his stepson passed away in Los Angeles, California. He is the brother of Shirley, Mary Ann and Grace Ann. His name was Willie Lee, Jr.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members in our community. Among them this week is Mr. Alexander (Sonny) Johns who is still a patient at Methodist Hospital. Mrs. Sara Blocker returned home last Sunday afternoon after attending a meeting at Huntsville, Texas. She spent a few days in Dallas with relatives before returning home.

Mr. Lewis (Fellow) Jones enjoyed a very fine birthday party last week at his home, 3010 East 2nd Street. Among the guest were his daughters and family, Herbert and Joyce Mitchell and three children -- Michael, Rusty and Trevelen -- all of Denver, Colorado; his grand kids of Albuquerque, N. M. -- Rita, Joyce and Lionel Cummings and daughter, Marlan; also grand daughters from Denver, Colorado -- Cerise and Larvan Hutchins. Among Lubbock relatives who participated were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mosley, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Robinson and sons -- Ronnie and Jobie -- Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Walker and son, Mrs. Gettis Mosley and Mr. and Mrs. Ham Thomas. The food was great! Mr. Jones enjoyed it so very much.

He says: "Let's do this more often!"

The Senior Choir of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church surprised Mrs. Rosanna Harris after choir rehearsal on May 7th with a birthday party in fellowship hall. Mrs. O. L. Smith, president of the choir, reported a wonderful affair. Sandwiches, punch, cake and homemade ice cream were served. Everyone enjoyed it very much. Mrs. Harris was all smiles without a word to say.

The Women of Mount Vernon United Methodist Church will sponsor a "Green Leaf Tea" on Sunday afternoon, May 24, 1981, at the home of Mrs. Grace Sullivan, 2011 Date Avenue, from 3 to 5 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

YWCA Offers Racquetball Tournament

Even IBM Falls Japan Rips Reagan Revitalization Plans

Japan Inc., as collectively Japanese companies are being called, has notched another mark on its gun. In the fiscal year just ended 1979, Fujitsu Ltd. moved past IBM Japan to become Japan's top computer seller.

Japan Inc., as collectively Japanese companies are being called, has notched another mark on its gun. In the fiscal year just ended 1979, Fujitsu Ltd. moved past IBM Japan to become Japan's top computer seller.

Some might say the U.S. has it coming to us. The threat of legislation to stop Japanese auto imports or "voluntary restraint" is Regan's hope for helping the depression riddled auto and steel industries. U.S. Trade Representative William Brock, a Regan appointee, bought a listening ear to the electric Japanese trade problems with the U.S.

All the while he is thinking about getting tough with the Japanese, they are taking advantage of an earnest Mr. Brock's ear and pocket book right now! Japan's share of the new auto market grows by the hour.

Mr. Brock had best bust the "Japan, Inc." auto assault or Regan's meeting in May with Prime Minister Zenko Suzuki, will result in a continuing decrease in the U.S. automobile industry employment contribution to the country. One out of six U.S. jobs depend on the auto industry.

In case the White House is unaware of "Japan, Inc." problem, it's jobs for their people! A practice President Regan might move to the front of his agenda, especially where Black Americans are concerned along with the rest of the country.

Unemployment is unnerving the U.S. system and creeping up in Japan. It is expected that by the turn of the century one out of every four Japanese workers will be over retirement age. A problem where the work system is styled for life time employment. There can be no cut back in Japanese industry without severe repercussions for a record amount of time and people. Life time employment is a cultural guarantee in Japan.

Ronald Reagan and Mr. Brock will have to do more than a John Wayne type statement to these critics. Cutting them off at the pass wouldn't work when they shoot the horses out from under you, Japan is eager for a shoot-out, too. Their defense industry is just hankering for having more arms sales. Someone is Washington will want the Japanese to go ahead and fire up its defense industry in hopes it will take down some of the U.S. defense spending.

This kind of thinking could easily backfire with the U.S. defense industry blowing up as it loses business too and the Japanese selling out to everyone under the sun. Since the U.S. would not want to lose the domestic defense industry for security reason, it might have to bail out these "bad boys" with the taxpayers backs-like Chrysler while study losing sales to Japan, Inc.

In just another month, the masses of unemployed will get a look at the western rancher in the White House during a real shoot'em up. The onlyposses in the President's District is the Congressional Black Caucus. He could call them in first-that way wjem the shooting started, at least he could see what this country's real fighters look like.

Ringing The Bell

by Bob Ticeul

Dear Bob - Minority leaders of various black and brown organizations often speak bitterly about their people not receiving "our slice of the pie. They cite figures on youth employment, disparities in salaries between whites and minority employees, lack of opportunities for advancement and various government agencies shortchanging their neighborhoods.

Some of these complaints are certainly legitimate. Q As a spokesman for the so-called white business establishment, The Tribune is interested in seeing career opportunities for every segment of our society to assure progress and growth in every neighborhood in our various communities. As more and more well-educated blacks and browns emerge as leaders each year, The Tribune has to wonder why these spokesmen for their races have so little interest in participating in the civic and political organizations which crusade for community causes.

"Slices of the pie, especially where the federal or state government are expected to provide the sugar, may become rarer and rarer from the Reagan administration after the mandate of November 4. There are many slices of pie waiting for those who are willing to pay for the dinner. The days of free lunches have almost bankrupted the most prosperous nation conceived in all of history. There are solutions which will profit everyone. However, if there is no dialogue, compromises are most difficult to forge. Black college administrators, black and brown publishers, preachers and business leaders... come let us reason together. Signed RGZ, publisher - The Oak Cliff Tribune.

Our reply: Well said, Sir. We have urged our black people for years, to become more involved in all phases of community life. Indeed, where there is no vision, the people perish. Come on brothers and sisters, let's get more involved in all facets of our community life, everywhere. It's later than we think!

Andrew Young told a group of Southern Baptists in Dallas recently that when he traveled to the trouble spots in the world as U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, he didn't see Russians behind every bush, but missionaries. "Everywhere I went, I saw missionaries with that revolutionary notion that everyone is a child of God," Young said.

Young said the challenge of the 1980's in this country is to produce "economic justice". He said that economic injustices have driven frustrated white people to "hide under sheets" and have erected economic barriers to young blacks. He believes the economic gap between blacks and whites is widening.

Continued Young: "Race relations are now better than ever in my lifetime. But when times get hard, there are isolated pockets of racial violence. We have desegregated our society, but we have not integrated it. We have desegregated education, but we have not solved the economic problems." Young concluded.

Thousands of people from over the United States will gather in the largest all-black town of Boley, Oklahoma on May 23 and 24, 1981 for the 21st Rodeo, featuring some of the nation's top black riders and performers, it was reported to us when we flew down a few days ago for an interview with some of the sponsors.

Leon Smith, a longtime Detroit resident, who was born and raised in Boley, has recently published a book entitled "High Noon at the Boley Corral." The book tells the story of the Pretty Boy Floyd Gang and their attempt to rob the all-black bank at Boley. In the prologue, according to the Boley Chamber of Commerce's Newsletter, Smith writes that in all the accounts of the Floyd gang, including two movies, the role of Boleyites in putting an end to the Floyd gang, has been largely ignored. And now until later, be a good neighbor and remember they come in all colors and creeds.

Employers of households help are responsible for deducting social security taxes from wages, paying the employer's share of the taxes, and reporting the wages to the Internal Revenue Service.

In addition, the employer must give the worker a Form W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) after the year ends.

The cash pay test must be met in a calendar quarter - 3 month periods beginning January, April, July and October of each year. Room and board do not count for social security purposes. All cash counts, even if part of it is paid to cover the cost of board, room, or bus fare.

To report wages, the employer must complete IRS Form 942 (Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees) and send it, along with social security taxes, to IRS before the end of the month after the calendar quarter.

If wages during the quarter amount to less than $50, no taxes are due.

For more information about social security coverage of household employees, contact the Lubbock social security office located at 1205 Texas Avenue. The telephone number is 762-7381 or Toll Free Number 1-800-392-1603. Or, employers can contact the nearest office of IRS. Their telephone number can be found in the telephone directory.

BLACK ILLITERACY: HOW EACH CAN HELP

The Alarming Predicament

Increasingly black Americans—and the nation as a whole—are becoming painfully aware of the mounting illiteracy among our black youth and young adults. Many professionals and vast numbers of others see it as fast creating the greatest unmet social and economic dilemma facing America since Emancipation.

Each year our schools are casting on society black (and other) eighteen-year-olds who are unable to read a simple label and who, if they could find any work, often would not be able to read a job safety warning sign. It is the massive proportions of these youth which must alarm us most. According to recent government statistics, between forty and fifty percent—of nearly one-half of all of our black youth—fit into this category, which is called "functional illiteracy." These are younger and older people who cannot read above the fourth grade level.

Because hardly any of these young people will ever be able, under the prevailing circumstances, to hold a permanent or a long-term job, practically all of them are pointed toward lives permanently marked by welfare dependency, hopelessness for the unfortunate children which they will bear, and a perpetual flirtation with drugs and petty or major crime.

Picture in your mind, if you will, nearly one out of every two black youths—and eventually younger and older adults—in that tragic kind of condition! It nearly boggles the mind to think of the negative image it would produce of our race as a whole, and of the potential ravages of rampant crime of which we as blacks would be the primary victims, and of riots which would soon nearly rend America asunder.

A Grave and Growing Concern

The situation of black functional illiteracy in the massive or staggering proportions which we now face did not gradually creep up on us. It has come upon us suddenly, and it has been clouded over, in large part, by a wide range of educational puzzles. Seeing so many highly publicized educational blunders, we felt until practically this present moment—that the inability of black youngsters to read, and thereby to think and to learn, was simply one difficulty among many others. Not so. Now it has surfaced for all to see boldly that the most monumental educational fact in America, and the major root cause of the hopelessness and despair, with all its many undesirable consequences, is the inability of nearly one-half of our black youth to read, and thereby, to be productive.

One of the chief difficulties with reading—and with other learning areas—in our urban schools is finances. Many text books and learning materials publishers have excellent resources for pupil motivation and for student learning skills. But because urban school systems—where most of our black youth attend—have such poor credit ratings, the learning tools (which are needed in the most crucial way) are not even marketed for many urban school districts to even consider.

The best and proven learning resources are simply sold to the suburban schools. Our black urban youth have thus been—and still are—left out and lost from the very start.

An Important Initial

It is obvious—for our own

Response

This tragic situation was brought to the attention of a number of black newspaper publishers more than a year ago. At that time, it was discovered that the major developer of the "best selling" reading skills programs which had been marketed in the suburban schools throughout the country was a black man who was, himself, alarmed that practically none of his firm's highly successful and award-winning materials was reaching our black urban youth.

In conjunction initially with the publishers associated with Black Media, Inc. (BMI), this black-owned firm (which is the nation's largest developer of learning materials for our schools) has created an "at cost" reading skills program from which no profits are to be made, and which is designed specifically to meet the critical needs of our urban youth.

The entire approach, which is called an "Assault-On-Illiteracy Program" (AOIP), now is beginning to receive widespread national support under the primary leadership and encouragement of the National Business League and many of NBL's affiliated organizations which are members of the National Council for Policy Review (NCPRI). Quite importantly, it is largely through this alliance that all of our national and local black organizations are being invited to serve in the "Assault-On-Illiteracy Program" (AOIP) network. That is where you and your organization come in, if you are not already among those who have joined in this particular massive effort.

Each of Us Can Help!

It is obvious—for our own survival sake—that each of us and our organizations should be a national and/or a local participant sponsor in the "Assault-On-Illiteracy Program." Becoming a sponsor of this proven-productive approach calls for no outlay of money. Nor does it require your pledging any money. Financial resources are obviously needed, even when an educational skills program is offered at a no-profit level or below cost. Here is all you need to do to involve your organization or yourself alone.

First, sponsors need to learn about the "Assault-On-Illiteracy Program." This can be done by writing or phoning the address below.

Second, share this information with your organization members and other friends who might not realize we can successfully combat the illiteracy debacle.

Third, with your combined community forces, get these much-needed materials into the often slow-to-act schools who often cannot easily change course without pressure from thousands of volunteers—dozens in each community. And, if you choose,

Fourth, join with the publisher of the newspaper receiving this column to seek ways to raise the meager funds needed to make this assault a reality.

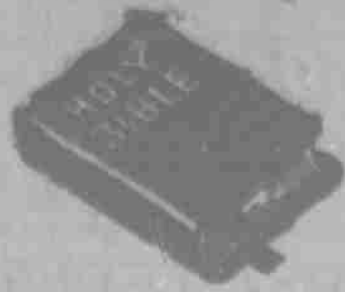

For information about what you can do, please write: "Assault on Illiteracy Program", c/o Curriculum Concepts, 770 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10003. You will never regret your doing so. And our nation—and most especially our precious black youth—will find themselves in your perpetual debt.

BUT WITH ONLY A RIGHT WING, HOW CAN YOU FLY?

I'M A RARE BIRD!

Prayer Poem

This hymn with a pentecostal flavor, entitled, "Let There Be Light, Lord God of Hosts!" comes as a powerful reminder of how God's light can infuse us with a new zeal and spirit. The church needs such light and strength and so do our lives in a drab and all too dreary world.

Let there be light, Lord God of hosts!
Let there be wisdom on the earth!
Let broad humanity have birth!

Let there be deeds, instead of boasts!

Within our impassioned hearts instill
The calm that endeth strain and strife!

Make us thy ministers of life;
Purge us from lusts that curse and kill!

Give us the peace of vision clear
To see our brothers' good our own,
To joy and suffer not alone;
The love that casteth out all fear!

—Amen

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members and friends of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning at 9 a. m. in the fellowship hall of the Community Baptist Church with Rev. and Mrs. Tony Williams serving host and hostesses - pastor and wife of this fine church.

The spirit was very high! President Mary Ward presided over the meeting.

Opening participants were Mrs. Ward, Mrs. C. Brooks, and Mrs. C. C. Cage. The scripture was taken from II John 1:1-3.

The morning devotional message was brought by Mrs. Annie M. Johnson. Her subject was "What Time Is It?" Her scripture was found in Haggai 1:3-6.

"Then came the word of the Lord by Haggi, the prophet, saying, Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your celled houses, and this house lie waste? Now therefore, thus saith the Lord of hosts; consider your ways. Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes."

The speaker said what time is it in your life? It is later than you think. So just be real in whatever you do for Christ. It only took a few minutes for this speaker to speak words of wisdom. Mrs. Johnson, you are a super terrific woman and you are loved by this group.

Beautiful remarks were given by the entire group. Thought for the day: "Before the evolution theory, there was and is a divine fact that God created man." Think about it!

Our visitors were welcomed by Mrs. Buelah Winters.

Breakfast was served in huge quantities with quality. Are you hungry? We try so hard to please. See you next week.

Visitors present were Rev. and Mrs. Tony Williams, Mrs. Lauzado Jones of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Vicky Edmerson, Mrs. Willie Knigton and Mrs. Brooks, both of Decatur, Texas; and Mrs. Annie M. Johnson who was back with the group. We were so happy to see each of you. Come again!

Our sick list this week includes: Rev. A. L. Dunn, patient at Methodist Hospital; Mr. Alexander "Sonny" Johns, patient at Methodist Hospital; Mrs. Verlina Carroll, patient at Highland Hospital; Mrs. Hattie Henry, Mrs. Irma Cook, Mrs. Beatrice Brown, sick in California; Rev. Roger Culbertson, sick in California; Miss Sena Mae Jasper, ill in California; and Mrs. Mary Jackson, a patient at Highland Hospital.

"Let's go about doing good." That's what Christ did. Let's help meet these people physical and these people physical and spiritual needs. Through Jesus Christ, according to Mark 11:23-24.

Prayer request was made. Do you have one? Or just want someone to talk to? Call 747-7326.

The KITCHEN BEAT

HELP YOURSELF TO SALAD AND VITAMIN C!

In today's black American home, cooking is no longer the responsibility of one person. Because of busy and varied schedules, usually every member of the family at some time or another has to prepare personal meals or meals for other members of the family. The Kitchen Beat is designed to meet some needs of the various cooks in the modern black family.

When fresh salad greens are plentiful at local produce counters, it makes sense to take advantage of their availability to enjoy them in your daily menus. They make for very good eating, and more important, these greens contribute significant amounts of essential vitamins and minerals. Vitamin C is one of these nutrients, and because your body does not store it, you should replenish your supply daily.

In addition to their food value, greens are an indispensable part of salads for the color, taste and texture that they add. While many people opt for lettuce for the salad bowl, they tend to neglect other tasty, nutritious and economical alternatives such as cabbage and spinach. Take, for example, raw cabbage—both the red and the white varieties—which is in abundant supply practically year-round and often less expensive than other greens. What's more, cabbage stores well without any significant loss of vitamin C.

Think of cabbage and you think of coleslaw, the ever-popular salad that is easy to prepare and so versatile. It can be an important part of a main meal that satisfies during any time of the year.

Served with a flavorful dressing, it makes a perfect accompaniment to practically any entrée. This recipe for Red and Green Slaw combines both varieties of cabbage and fresh grapes with a tasty dressing. Each serving provides more than half of the daily requirement for vitamin C.

To maintain your daily quota of vitamin C, breakfast fruits and juices (a 4 fl. oz. serving of orange or grapefruit juice) provides you with a full day's requirement. Other good sources of this nutrient are broccoli, collards, turnip greens, brussel sprouts, white potatoes and cauliflower. This permits a wide range of foods to complement your meals.

TUNA TASTIES

It's hard to beat tuna for flavor, nutrition and versatility. Add a platter of crisp raw veggies and a savory dip to either of these dishes, and you have a delicious lunch or light supper for four.

Tuna Lorenzo
2 cups chunk light tuna, drained
½ cup sour cream
1 tsp. chervil, crumbled
¼ tsp. seasoned salt
4 English muffins, split
8 tomato slices
½ cup grated Parmesan
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Combine first 4 ingredients. Brown muffins 2 minutes each side. Spoon tuna mixture on top of each muffin half. Top each with tomato slice and 1 tablespoon cheese. Broil 5 minutes.

Tuna Squares Mexicano
4 eggs, lightly beaten
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup shredded cheddar
4 oz. diced green chiles
½ cup flour
¼ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
1½ cups chunk light tuna, drained
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Combine eggs, cheeses and chiles. Mix dry ingredients and blend into egg mixture. Add tuna and toss lightly until all ingredients are blended. Pour into buttered 8-inch square baking dish. Bake 35 minutes. Remove from oven and let set 5 minutes before cutting into squares.

SCALLOPS NEWBURG

My family goes on strike if I serve seafood with anything but French fries and cole slaw, but my personal preference is to spoon this lusciously creamy dish over rice and have a crisp green salad on the side. To serve 4-6 you'll need:
2 lbs. scallops
8 tbs. butter
1 tbs. lemon juice
4 tps. flour
1½ cups heavy cream
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
4 tbs. dry sherry
Salt to taste
Rinse scallops and pat dry with paper towels. Cut them in half. Melt half the butter in a skillet. When butter foams, add the scallops and lemon juice. Saute one minute. Remove scallops and set aside. Melt remaining butter in the skillet. Stir in the flour and cook over low heat, stirring gently, until smooth. Slowly add the cream, stirring constantly. When sauce is thick and smooth, beat two tablespoons of it into the egg yolks. Then return the yolk-sauce mixture to the skillet and stir until blended. Add the sherry, raise heat to medium, and cook for one minute, stirring constantly. Return scallops to the skillet, add salt to taste, cook 3 minutes and serve immediately.

Clovis Schools Dismissed For Summer Vacation

Clovis, N. M. -- The Clovis Public School students will be dismissed for the summer on Wednesday, May 27. On that day, the afternoon session of the kindergarten will not meet. Grades first through sixth will dismiss at 11:40 a.m. The junior and senior high schools will be dismissed at 12 noon of that same day.

The buses will run immediately after dismissal. The cafeterias will not serve students on dismissal day.

There will be no resource classes on May 27th either, but all other special education classes will meet.

The teaching staff will be allowed to leave after 1:30 p. m., but may stay to finish up their work if they desire.

The Clovis Public Schools will sponsor their annual school ROD-E-O on Saturday, May 23rd, at the Clovis School's parking lot at 7 a. m.

Mr. Wayne Burch, coordinator for school transportation for the Clovis schools, said "Despite the name, this is a serious task of driving knowledge and driving skills for school bus drivers in Curry County."

He went on to add: "It requires a great deal of skill to handle these big 66 passenger buses through those driving test areas."

"I've tried it!" he concluded.

Charles Prust, assistant superintendent for business, said: "The ROD-E-O is an annual event taking place all over the state of New Mexico. It's main purpose is to encourage school bus drivers added reason to keep their driving skills sharpened."

All school bus drivers whose school distribution is within Curry

County are invited and encouraged to come and participate.

Mr. Prust said: "Even though we are there for serious business, we do have time to visit one another and enjoy the day in that way as well."

The winner of the contest will receive a plaque in honor of their ability and represent Curry County in the State School Bus ROD-E-O at Silver City, New Mexico in July.

"Dedicated to proprietors and partnerships"

Mrs. Luanna C. Blagrove, author and publisher of Manchester, Connecticut, have started the first known publication company that is dedicated solely to books and pamphlet for proprietor and partnership type businesses - better known as "small businesses."

"Mrs. Blagrove entered into the publishing business because of the inability to find an agent to handle her book, Untold Facts About The Small Business Game: How To Be Competent In Business, that was designed for the businessowners of one-two-person (s) owned and operated businesses. The inability to find an agent was contributed to the fact of the strength of the subject matter and no known authority on proprietor and partnership type businesses to approve or disapprove the facts in her book that proves that there is not a small business problem but there is indeed an "unaware, unwritten, and unrecognizable" business game with instructions on how to play the business game successfully.

Thorough research and investigation academic training, and personal business experience revealed four undeniable facts. The first fact is that there is no such business structure as a "small business" structure. Technically and legally there are only three business structures - proprietor, partnership, and corporation. Thus, it is impossible to have a problem with something that does not exist. Likewise, it is impossible to research, investigate, and instruct others in something that does not exist and apply it to something that does exist effectively. The true business problem is society's failure to recognize the proprietor and partnership structured owned businesses in "small business". THE SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM!

The second fact is the outcome of the first, in that because of the failure to recognize the proprietors and partnerships in "small business", lack of research, investigation, and academic training into these business structures leaves unknown the proper procedure or basics for laying a sound business foundation, the functions, roles, duties, and responsibilities of both the proprietor or partnership, businessowners and professional advisors as it pertains to these structures. MANAGEMENT

The third fact is the unaware, unwritten, and unrecognizable "business game" with its opponents, accomplishments, set rules, and a definite strategy plan that prospering proprietors and partnerships along with their competent professional advisors, have learned through trial and error, mastered, and use to eliminate all business problems including incompetence, lack of business knowledge, and insufficient operating capital. THE BUSINESS GAME

The fourth fact is the need for comprehensive books and researchable materials based on experience and facts, not theory, that are factual, informative, instructional, and in clear understandable form that will aid the proprietor and partnership type businessowners, their professional advisors, academic instructors and students in laying a sound business foundation before financing sources, easy accounting methods, or how to get rich in business schemes are thought upon. RESERACH AND INVESTIGATION MATERIALS

BLAGROVE PUBLICATIONS is designed to fulfill these facts through its comprehensive books, in easy everyday language, that are based on experience and facts. Our books are designed to be factual, informative, instructional, in clear understandable form, and gives the whole or total business pictures as it pertains to proprietors and partnerships.

Mrs. Blagrove knows both sides of the business field - as a businessowner and as a professional advisor. She has owned and operated a management and bookkeeping service business. She earned her Bachelor Degree in Business Administration majoring in accounting from Central Connecticut State College. She is presently devoting her time to learning (by trial and error), mastering, and using the "business game" as it is applicable to the writing and publishing fields.

For further information concerning books by BLAGROVE PUBLICATIONS write to BLAGROVE PUBLICATION, P. O. Box 584-M. O., Manchester, CT 06040. Books are sold through mail order only.
