Vote For Aderton!!

The Lubbock Digest urge you to vote Tuesday, April 27th for planned growth in an organized manner by voting for our friend and yours, M. J. "Bud" Aderton, for City Councilman Place 3.

As we see it, Councilman Aderton is a part of a good team at City Hall. Let's keep him on the job. He is working on a refuge recycling project which will be of great benefit as far as revenue to the city, omitting contamination by using the landfill. It will, no doubt, help the economy by construction of the plant, employees, and supplies from local merchants.

The Justiceburg Project is high on Bud's agenda. He is a mature, sensible, and humble person. He is doing a good job!

Knowing all of this and more, let us keep our friend, M. J. "Bud" Aderton, in office. Let's keep him on the job working for the good of all citizens of Lubbock. He will remain in office, if we go to the polls and vote on Tuesday, April 27th, between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Will you help re-elect M. J. "Bud" Aderton!

Law Enforcement Workshop Friday

Use of deadly force and how to file a complaint against a police officer will be discussed in an all day regional workshop April 23. Although the Law Enforcement Workshop carries with it a $6 fee, the public can attend a free reception to meet with include Glass Hat Lounge, Evans & Kinner's Barber Shop, Dillard's Cuit Stop, Bethel AME Church, Texas Instruments, Inc. and First Federal Savings and Loan.

Southwestern Bell Needs Your Help!

Spring means more than the coming of blowing dust and warmer weather to the residents of the South Plains. It also represents a time of renewed underground digging and construction activity which sometimes leads to cut telephone cables.

Southwestern Bell Assistant Staff Manager-Claims Mike Miller said that more than just dollars are lost through cut telephone cables. "We can repair a cut cable, however less easy to repair is our reputation for quality service," Miller said. "Our customers depend on the telephone to work whenever they need it, and we don't want customers experiencing unnecessary service interruptions."

HUD Secretary Pledges Support

Samuel R. Pierce, Jr., Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, recently declared his wholehearted support for efforts designed to significantly increase the participation of historically black colleges and universities in federally sponsored programs.

Addressing the Seventh Annual Conference of the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education at the Washington Hilton, Secretary Pierce noted that President Reagan last September indicated his recognition of the need to support the education of black youth by issuing an executive order calling for measures to achieve such participation.

Secretary Pierce said the Nation's historically black colleges and universities will turn out more than 400,000 graduates over the next 10 years. These schools, he added, will produce 50 percent of black business executives and elected officials, 75 percent of black holders of doctorate degrees, 85 percent of black physicians, 80 percent of blacks in Federal jobs, and 75 percent of black military officers.

"Too little has been done alone. We must redouble our efforts," the Secretary asserted. "As far as HUD is concerned, I have assigned one of my key aides to chair an advisory committee with responsibility to assure maximum participation of black colleges in HUD programs."

Secretary Pierce pointed out that immediately a number of research grant awards, totalling about $150,000,000 have been identified. These would be geared to policy-related research using the Annual Housing Survey.

In addition, Secretary Pierce said HUD has set aside $300,000 for use by these colleges in support of community development block grant technical assistance activities. "We realize," Secretary Pierce said, "that this is only the beginning. Much must be done to mainstream historically black colleges and universities into the total procurement and grant process."

Turning to housing, Secretary told the gathering that he considered it imperative that we direct our greatest effort to assist those needy who are least able to shelter themselves. Instead, we do all we can to deliver housing assistance as cost-effectively as possible. I want that assistance targeted to the areas, as well as the people, where the need is greatest -- where adequate housing is most difficult to come by.

BUDWEISER SUPPORTS UNCF -- In addition to the sponsorship by Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc., of the "Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" television special which benefits the United Negro College Fund, substantial promotional support is provided through the company's brewing subsidiary Anheuser-Busch, Inc., and its Budweiser brand. Reviewing the 1982 poster display from left are Wayman F. Smith, III, a member of the board of directors of the world's largest brewer and vice president of corporate affairs for the parent company, Lou Rawls and Christopher F. Edley, executive director of the UNCF. A totally new Parade of Star will be aired throughout the United States in 1982.

Clovis NAACP Still In Trouble

by Willie Hobby

Clovis, N. M. -- One week after denying its president to resign, the NAACP has not been revived, "nor does it appear it will, say some."

Rev. B. J. Choice is displeased. "Every Black organization has the same problems." "We've made dedication after dedication," adds Bertha Grant, a member of the group.

They were referring to past and present failures of themselves and others like them who have not consistently supported the local NAACP's programs.

Lack of participation, empty pledges of support, lack of funds and inactive officers are the major factors affecting the NAACP's progress.

The self-inflicted wounds of the civil rights organization will undoubtedly adversely affect the lives of every man, woman and child in Clovis if it goes uncorrected.

Members at recent NAACP meetings divulged that the organization was a farce. They pointed out that the group was not doing what it was supposed to do -- protect the rights of all people, to collect the problems.

Plans are now underway to formulate a platform with the NAACP State President, Alfred Rucks, moderating. "The idea is to get all Black organizations together for a summit," stated Choice.

DOT Awards Grant To Howard

Urban Mass Transportation Administrator Arthur E. Teele, Jr. announced last week a $167,455 grant to Howard University, Washington, D. C. The grant will assist the university in conducting a summer workshop in transportation-related studies for faculty members of predominantly minority colleges and universities. The six-week workshop will be held from June 21 to July 30 at Howard's Institute for Urban Affairs and Research. It will provide training in transportation research, planning and management and computer utilization for 15 faculty members. It is designed to enhance the ability of the faculty to conduct research on contemporary transit problems, and to reinforce their abilities to propose a wide range of research and development projects.

UMTA sponsored transit oriented summer workshops for faculty members of predominantly minority institutions in 1980 and 1981 at State University of New York at Buffalo.

Unemployment On Rise In Lubbock

The Texas Employment Commission reported last week that unemployment was up in Lubbock from January to February. February figures indicate a jobless rate to 4.9 percent compared with 4.4 percent the previous month. However, Lubbock figures are still below the state average of 5.7 percent and far below the national average of 6.8 percent for the same period.

Social Security Tips

Your Social Security And You

by Jewel M. Love
Service Representative

Starting this month, the way supplemental security income (SSI) payments are figured is changed.

Under the old law, the amount of the SSI payment due a person was figured on the basis of calendar quarters, 3-month periods starting January, April, July, and September. The person's total income for the quarter was totaled and averaged and the SSI payment determined accordingly.

Sometimes, this caused an unfair burden for a person whose income changed late in a calendar quarter. The changed income counted for all 3 months of the quarter and as a result, the person had an overpayment which had to be repaid or deducted from future payments.

Starting this month under the new law, SSI payments will be figured on a person's past month's income and resources. That month will be 2 months before the payment month. For example, the income a person had in February will be used to figure how much he or she is due for April. March income will count for May's payment, and so on.

This will help reduce the number of overpayments that have occurred in the past. But, it is even more important that people receiving SSI payments make prompt reports of any change in their income, resources, living arrangements, or disability status. People should also remember that any change in income will result in their SSI payment being affected 2 months later and budget their funds accordingly.

SSI is a Federal program that provides a basic cash income for people in need who are 65 or older or blind or disabled. Although SSI is administered by Social Security, funds for the payments come from Federal general revenues, not Social Security taxes.

More information about DDI reporting and payments can be obtained at any Social Security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

Senior Citizens Hold Services

The Mae Simmons Senior Citizens held group services last week. They want to thank God for a lovely worship service on Tuesday morning.

The group began with the singing of "What A Fellowship". Pastor Leon Armstead, pastor of the Greater Saint Mark Baptist Church, was responsible for the message of the hour. His subject was "Send Jesus A Message."

He said if you your message by Jesus, there will be no adding or subtracting of anything.

Special guest of the day were Bro. Herman Grant, Bro. E. Boyd, and Rev. A. D. Adams. Read the Lubbock

National Consumer Week

The week of April 25 - May 1, has been declared, by President Reagan, as National Consumer Week. The purpose of the week is to focus national attention on the impact of informed and educated consumers on the marketplace and on the economy.

South Plains observances are being sponsored by the Consumer Science Department of Texas Tech, the local Attorney General's office for Consumer Affairs and the Better Business Bureau of the South Plains. The BBB will appear before the City Council of Lubbock to receive a city proclamation on National Consumer Week from Mayor Bill McAllister.

Aside from various radio and T. V. appearances commemorating the event, there will be a week-long exhibit at the Student Center at Texas Tech. All three sponsoring groups will have displays for viewing by the public.

Local businesses and institutions are encouraged to participate in the observances. For information, please call Alan Bligh at BBB, 763-0459.

Officers Acquitted In Juneteenth Drownings

Last Saturday, a jury acquitted three former Limestone County officers of negligently causing three black teenagers to drown when a boat carrying all six capsized last June 19th.

The 14-foot motorboat contained no life preservers or running lights as required by state law.

The black youths had been arrested for investigation of marijuana possession at an annual Lake Mexia Celebration of Juneteenth.

In final arguments prosecutors claimed the officers perceived a danger when they removed the handcuffs from the suspects and consulted with one another about how many trips were needed to ferry all six people to a command post across the lake.

Business Hints

By Lenora Blagrove

WHAT and WHERE IS YOUR BUSINESS?

We often hear people comment that Blacks do not patronize other Blacks in business and, of course, we give a thousand excuses of why this is true that are not valid.

How often does one take into consideration the product or service that the businessowner(s) have to offer? If bars and nightclubs are not my "thing" there is no need for me to spend money in them because Black owns and operates it. Or, if my car does not need repairing, there is no need for me to take it to the shop. Or, if I prefer to eat at home, there is no law that says I must go to a restaurant and buy a dinner because the owner is Black. Or, if I do not need the service of a carpenter or plumber that I must call them anyways. In other words the first consideration of why Blacks do not patronize other Blacks should be the product or service that is being offered.

I have never fully understood why many Blacks expect service, get service, do not want to pay the price for the service, and then call the businessperson incompetent. Incompetence does exist in every endeavor, but I discovered many years ago that there are two sides to every story and that in most instances we only hear one side -- the dissenter. The dissenter who have become a dissatisfied customer with work performance or service in many instances through his own doings or refusal to pay for said service or performance. However, it is unjust to label all Black businessowners as incompetent.

A major problem that I have been faced with in patronizing Black businessowners is that not only I, but many other Blacks in the same locale, do not know who the Black businessowners are and the product or service that they have for sale. How can one find a business particular business that no one seems to know is in existence?

A rather inexpensive means for letting Blacks and other potential customers in a community know what your product or service is and where you are located is to advertise in your Black newspaper. Yes, I know that advertising is expensive, but by cooperative or sharing ad space with another or other businessowners the cost could make the difference in increased sales.

Another overlooked possibility for advertising is a few lines in the classified section of your Black newspaper. Your ad does not have to be oversized to be seen and let potential customers know what your product or service is and where you are located.

Littlefield, Texas Greater First Baptist Church

The members of the Greater First Baptist Church had a good time last Sunday. Everything began with Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. with little Jackie Williams acting as superintendent. Each month one of our young people is chosen to conduct Sunday School. We think this is a great effort!

During our morning services, Deacon Hodges was in charge. A song service was led by the Junior and Senior Choirs with Latonya Baldwin at the piano. Due to the absence of Rev. Wilson Baldwin, our pastor, who was in Odessa attending a church anniversary with Rev.

S. N. North, we still had a great time.

Rev. S. D. Baldwin brought a soul searching message. His scripture was Acts 19:1-7 and 18; 1 John 2:15. His subject was "Who Are You?" Also he talked about "Is The Holy Spirit here?" Acts 1:13 and Matthew 7:21.

We worshipped with St. John Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon. The youth was responsible for the afternoon program. A very nice program and choir service was held.

Our sick and shut-in members include Sis. Annie Robinson, Sis. Laura Mann, and Ardeil Johnson. Sis. Nannie Payton is back at home and doing nicely.

Rev. Baldwin Wilson is pastor, Sis. Eona Jenkins is reporter.

Friend,
I am asking for your support in the Democratic Primary, May 1st.

The office of Justice of the Peace is a very important one which probably requires more day to day public contact than any other judicial office. I feel that through my work with the people of Lubbock in civic and governmental affairs I have proven my ability to listen and respond to citizen's needs in a fair manner.

If elected, I will not only provide you with fair, impartial justice, but will also be a spokesman in the community for improvement in law and order. I will spend time speaking to school and civic groups in an attempt to enhance respect for the law and our system of justice.

Please help me in this race. I assure you your vote and support will be appreciated.

Thank you,

WHY NOT? "Help!!"

by
Eddie P. Richardson

Whatever happened to the family? Everyone in America knows that Reagan's plans are not working. Maybe it has not had time enough. Maybe it is his method of application. But one thing for sure is we need help. The elderly, the poor, the sick, the handicapped are breaking America!

We are also spending billions on destruction, i.e. bombs, missiles, and airplanes. People are out of work and are hungry. We need help!

Social programs are being cut and causing additional hardships. While plants are being closed and more people going hungry, everything is in a shamble. It is good, however, to see unions and management making concessions for the good of everyone involved. If people can work, then we have an alternative to social programs. Jobs and jobs alone is the replacement of social programs. Some how, America has to become productive again. We are losing out to overseers, cheap slave labor by American companies who are setting up plants and shops overseas for the cheap slave type labor, and American workers are still pricing themselves out of the job market. While companies are moving more plants overseas and bringing the goods back to America, at extravagant prices to American people, this is another area where labor and management need to make more concessions for the good of America. Think about it!! We need HELP!!

An award of appreciation to the Arts Festival this year, especially the Heritage and Cultural Affairs division of the Chamber of Commerce for recognizing that Black people exist and have existed since way back when.

A heartfelt thanks to everyone involved, especially Betty Anderson for her untiring efforts and also everyone who was involved with her. Thank Carolyn Lanier for working with Betty, getting identification signs and the like. It was great of both of you!

Also a special thanks to members of the Black community who manned the booth in the Civic Center last weekend. Among them were Charles Terrell, Jeff Joiner, Mrs. G. H. (Bull) Davis, Almo Sedberry, and others. This was a great beginning.

Don't forget to vote April 27th for M. J. "Bud" Aderton in the upcoming run-off City Council election. Our choice at the Digest is Aderton. Both men are good businessmen, but we go with the Bud.

This writer encourages you to vote for M. J. "Bud" Aderton. This is a very important election. Our reason is very simple, Aderton should remain on the present team. We have a working team who is willing to do what it can for Lubbock. They are not perfect, but they are doing a great job. Will you help on Tuesday? You will be voting for M. J. "Bud" Aderton!

Funny stuff has been going on a lot in the various political forums. Some people are inviting some of the candidates and forgetting about the others. The moderators are even showing bias or favoritism. This is not good!

Congratulations to the Baptist Ministers Union, Rev. J. B. Lester, president, for such a warm and positive breakfast last Saturday morning. It was informative and it let people see and hear some of the candidates.

Keep up the work, Brethren of the Cloth!

Ringling The Bell

by
Bob Ticuel

From a Black Perspective: One of the most frequent questions being asked today in the United States, is just how do you communicate and reach black people. Tom Skinner in his latest book: If Christ is the Answer, What are the Questions? says the first thing that can be done to reach black people is for white people to "dehunkify" their minds, that is, for white people to learn to "think black" and to understand the cultural patterns of black people. He admits that there are black people who operate at different levels. He continues:

"I am not talking about the bourgeois blacks who are essentially people with black skins and white minds; these are people whom you can relate to much easier. Many black people find that white people prefer to relate to those types of blacks; they can identify with them because essentially those black people are white people—they just happen to have black skins."

"White people have to learn to think black. It is unfortunate that in our society white people have not been given the opportunity to be multicultural. Black people tend to be more multicultural because we have been forced to read Hemingway, F. Scott, Fitzgerald, Shakespeare and others. Yet white folks are not obligated to read Jet and Ebony. Thus white people in our society grow up culturally deprived."

"You see, people are emerging in this society where they are accepting their blackness and saying that if they are going to be accepted they are going to be accepted on their black terms." end of quote.

Cuts in federal spending programs for students whose primary language is not English, reveals in state laws on bilingual education, adverse publicity about bilingual programs from the current administration in Washington — all these developments may mean the end of programs for students who need special instruction because English is not their sole primary language, believes ballringer C. Ebel.

Bellringer Writes: -- Dear Bob -- For a good many years, I have followed your column and other reports you have published in the various periodicals and newspapers of the country. Especially, your treatment and study of the black church and ministry have been penetrating and challenging. You have also followed closely the life and times of black people in West Texas and Southern New Mexico and many times you have attempted to point the way for our people in church and state. Why don't you write a book about some of these various studies and findings? There can be little doubt it would be a best seller. Keep up the great work. Signed -- L. P. "An old time bellringer."

Dear Old Timer -- As you say, we have been at the job of inspiring and challenging blacks, both young and old and those in between, to live up to the highest ideals possible. The mission fields of West Texas and Southern New Mexico are paving West Texas and Southern New Mexico are grazing grounds for those who have much strength and fortitude. Some make it and some don't. As we near the close of an era in our life, we pray that somebody has been helped by what we had to say in our oral and verbal reports. And perhaps, we will "do" that book that we would so much like to do before we check in, sm'ec. Write again. You too, have had a rich black experience that I would like to tell in my story. Signed -- "Rub" -- The Bellringer.

There can be little doubt that there is a great need through the nation for a more objective appraisal of the problems facing Black youth as they seek to find their rightful place in America.

VIEWPOINT

Illiteracy on Voting Rights

By Julian Bond

If the law says that the speed limit is 55 mph, that's pretty clear.

It means that the speed limit isn't 60 or 65 or 100 mph and that anyone who drives faster than 55 is breaking the law. All those able to read can understand that their lawmakers have set 55 as the fastest speed anyone can drive on the public highways.

If, after several years of good experience with this law, a court ruled that the speed limit could be as high as 90 mph, the legislature would swiftly slow down the traffic again. A lawmaker would introduce a bill saying something like: "The speed limit on our highways shall not exceed 55 mph."

Everyone would understand those words, and anyone who said they meant anything else would be called crazy or stupid or illiterate.

But now the attorney general of the United States and his assistant attorney general for civil rights have revealed that they can't read something almost as simple.

They have been unable to understand the meaning of the following sentence: "The fact that members of the minority group have not been elected in numbers equal to the group's proportion of the population shall not in and of itself constitute a violation of the section."

This refers to Section 2 of S. 1992, the renewal of the 1965 Voting Rights Act that is scheduled to expire this August.

Section 2 prohibits practices that deny, dilute or abridge the voting rights of racial and ethnic minorities. Under Section 2, the attorney general or a private plaintiff can challenge discriminatory voting practices or procedures.

From 1965, when the Voting Rights Act became law, until 1970, citizens who believed they had been victims of voting bias had to prove either discriminatory intent or effect — that is, that the objectionable practice was begun with the purpose of discriminating or that its result was discriminatory.

In 1980, however, a plurality of the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that plaintiffs had to prove discriminatory intent. Proof of discriminatory results would no longer be enough.

That ruling in Mobile vs. Bolden changed what had been law for 15 years and imposed an impossible standard on the victims of racial bias at the ballot box. For example, the objectionable procedure in the Mobile case dated back to 1911; proving the intent of long-dead politicians has thus far been impossible.

As a result of the barrier raised in the Mobile decision to successful voting-discrimination cases, language returning the law to the pre-Mobile standard was inserted into the renewal legislation.

And to keep any literate person from believing that quotas would be required, the sentence regarding proportional representation was inserted in Section 2.

That's the sentence Attorney General William French Smith can't — or won't — understand.

Neither can Assistant Attorney General William Bradford Reynolds. He is the man in charge of enforcing the Voting Rights Act, so his understanding of the legislation is crucial.

Reynolds told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that the renewal legislation would require racial quotas. The attorney general has made the same argument elsewhere in attacking the renewal legislation.

Reynolds told the Senate subcommittee that the proposed law would "place in doubt the validity of any election system under which candidates backed by the minority community were not elected in numbers equal to the group's proportion of the total population."

That's the Reagan administration's major misunderstanding of the renewal legislation.

The legislation says that there is no requirement for racial quotas. Smith and Reynolds deny that the legislation says what it clearly does. Unfortunately, some senators who can't read may agree with them.

The "quota" argument is the last-ditch effort by an administration hostile to civil rights to bury the most effective civil-rights law passed during this century.

But no matter what the Reagan people say, there are no quotas required by the Voting Rights Act. There is no requirement that the percentage of minorities in elective office equal the percentage of minorities in the population.

But there should be a requirement that the attorney general be able to read.

Letters to Editor

"Thank You!"

Dear Editor:

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the members of the Saint Luke Baptist Church, our many friends and visitors, and to the Lubbock Digest for attending and supporting us in our "First Annual Bishop College Day" on April 4, 1982.

Through the efforts of all of you, we were able to donate to Bishop College $1,330.00. Within the next few days, I will be on the Bishop College campus, and will be very pleased to present such a generous donation representing Lubbock.

Again, I want to thank you for your help in making this such a fine affair. As we begin our plans for the "Second Annual Bishop College Day", I already look forward to having you in the congregation once again.

Rev. J. H. Ford,
Pastor
Saint Luke Baptist Church

"Help Us!!"

Dear Editor:

When we subscribed to your newspaper, the Lubbock Digest, we were informed that we would receive our weekly paper on Friday of each week. As it stands now, we are not receiving our paper until the following Monday. If the problem is not in your finished printout in time for us to receive or paper, as promised, then we assume the problem is with the post office in delivering it. If this is the case, what can you do to take care of this problem? One of your sales representatives promised delivery by Friday of each week. We would appreciate your immediate attention concerning this matter.

Thanking you in advance
Concerned subscribers in Midland

(Signed by 23 subscribers)

(Editor's Note: We would like to take this time and thank you for your concern in letting us not know about the trouble each of you are having in receiving the Lubbock Digest. We have advised the Postmaster in Lubbock of our problem. We have begun a new means of seeing that you will receive your paper on time in future. If there are still problems, please advise. Thank you. Ye Ed)

Cocktails, commitments, commerce Color of the Chamber

What is smart, selective, strong, dark and wears a business suit — any member of the Black Business Chamber of Commerce. Combining sales skills and sophisticated management methods while making dry with a martini is one hand is good practice for your perception on business or life. Like 40 other folks I found my way to the elegant "Assay Office" restaurant and bar in San Francisco last month for a meeting of the San Francisco Black Business Chamber of Commerce. Considering the plush and prosperous place the meeting was being held in a "National Historic Registered Landmark" building, boy were we impressed by its dapper Black American owner, Jimmy Thigpen. Of course he is originally from Chicago like me — that explains everything. Actually there were a lot of sharp and curvy ("sexist" remark) people at the Chamber. Coming together obviously for both facts and figures (another "sexist" remark). Furniture and antiques in the Assay Office restaurant and bar are old world charm with modern chic cuisine. An enhancing and comfortable chamber to discuss commerce and personal compliments (see above for type of remark). Owner Jimmy Thigpen was not the only Jim in business for himself soliciting contracts for more available business. Jim Jefferson, Jefferson Associates, Inc., engineers, Frederick E. Jordan, Avent Associates, Inc., financiers; L. Andrew Jeanpierre, Jeanpierre, Taylor & Co., Certified Public Accountants; Pello Smith, ABEC Medical Co., medical equipment sales and Earl H. White, Earl White & Co., consultants, constitute the chambers Executive Board. Beautiful people with more business on their minds. The thrust of the team "is to seek economic parity and promote perpetual flow of opportunities to local Black owned businesses." Being membership supported, they solicit all interested Black American businessmen and women to join the Chamber. All across the country the concept of organizing and operating with the aid of a Black Chamber of Commerce is taking hold. Having "enterprise zones" as proposed by the President will proliferate these Chambers.

Coming together under a common banner for more business opportunities is a sound business principle, particularly for Black American people. Our businesses tend to be small where the greatest number of failures are found. Business failures are climbing sharply all around. They jumped from 24 per 10,000 in 1978 to a rate of 83 per 10,000 now, up 245% in four years. The family that plays together, stays together a lot longer. For a longer business life Black American businessmen and women should consider joining a Black American Chamber of Commerce — now. It may not only enhance your survival, it may save your life.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

Your Absence from Church is A Vote To Close its Doors

Rev. Robinson Speaks

Harvey E. Robinson
Pastor
East Lubbock Church of God

Understanding The Christian Journey

The Christian must realize that his life should be one of self denial. The denial is not one of a bleak and dreary nature but of joy and peace. The devil would try and deceive you by trying to convince you that a dedicated Christian's life is very dull and uneventful. This is far from the truth, for when one denies himself for the cause of Christ, this person ceases from sin and does not obey the lusts thereof.

Those persons who do not know the Lord as their Savior will think it strange because you do not find pleasure in what they enjoy. To them, you are punishing yourself for some reason; but to you, the Lord has become your joy and strength. As a Child of God you must realize that it is very exciting to live a life free from the clutches of Satan -- to think that Christ came into your life and freed you from lying, stealing, smoking, drinking, fornicating or committing adultery, and the desire to serve Satan is gone!

So remember, "Blessed is the man that endureth temptations, for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord has promised to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted for God; for God cannot be tempted, with evil, neither tempteth he any man. But every man is tempted when he is drawn away of his own lust and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin when it is finished bringeth forth death." (James 1:13-15)

So then, we see the devil is powerless to stop the Christian who is dedicated to the cause of Christ. As we live daily, it is to show the people who have not let Christ come into their lives that this journey from earth to heaven is joy, peace, and the experience of the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost in the life of the believer will keep him on the right path and enable him not to yield to the temptation of Satan.

Faith First Baptist Church News

The activities of the Faith First Baptist Church started with Sunday School at 9:00 a. m. The lesson was "The Emmaus Experience," Luke 24:13-21; 28-32.

Last Sunday was Women's Day and devotion was led by Sister S. Mosley, Sis. E. Dinwiddle, Sis. M. Roberson and Sis. A. Mosley. The choir was at their post and sang beautifully.

The pastor, Rev. F. E. Bell, preached a wonderful message. His text was "You've Got To Get Down To Get Up." His scripture was Luke 18:9-14; James 1:23. Everyone enjoyed the message.

The thought for the week was Hebrews 10:7: "Lo, in the volume of the book is written of me, I come to do thy will, O God."

Visitors last Sunday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mosley, and Mrs. O. Coleman and son.

Our sick and shut-ins are Mrs. Juanita Bartlett, a patient at Methodist Hospital, room 815; and Mr. Granville Wallace. Mrs. Bartlett is prenatal grandmother of Alisa Henderson. May we continue to pray for our sick ones in our community.

The church will report on their travel to Slaton, Texas last Sunday to be in the 12th anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Peoples.

Evangelist Rev. L. E. Moore of Dallas, Texas will begin a revival at Faith First Baptist Church. It got underway Tuesday of this week and will continue through Sunday, April 25. Will you come and be with us?

The Deaconess of the New Zeal District Association will have a meeting at 12 noon Saturday, April 24, here at the church.

On Saturday night, April 24th, Faith First Baptist Church will host Rev. P. B. Phenix and the Faith Radio Mission. Rev. Bell will deliver the sermon. Rev. F. E. Bell is pastor, Alisa Henderson is reporter.

Clinic Today

One of the four clinics scheduled this week at the Community Hospital of Lubbock, 5301 University, is a Podiatry Clinic. It will be held today, Thursday, April 22nd, from 1 to 3 p. m.

Dr. D. Bizzoco, staff podiatrist, will be on hand to see patients with foot problems. Community Health Programs are offered as a public service from Community Hospital of Lubbock.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members and friends of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met at 9 a. m. last Saturday in the home of Mrs. Christine Hyson. Everyone was blessed just by being there. President Mary Ward presided over the meeting.

The opening devotion scripture was the 100th Division of Psalms. Participating were Mrs. B. Bogus, Mrs. C. E. Brown, Mrs. Hyson and Mrs. Ward. The morning scripture lesson was taught by Mrs. Dorothy Hood. The subject was Board Demonstration, Church, The Body of Christ. Scriptures were 1 Corinthians 12:12-31; Ephesians 1:22-23; Colossians 1:18; 1 Corinthians 13.

"Did you know if you are a Christian, you are part of the body with Christ as the head. I don't discuss religions. That's not important to me. If you accept Jesus Christ as the Son of God and let him come into your life as Lord and Saviour, you are a part of this body, and there isn't but one head which is Christ Jesus."

"And also he has put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the Church which is His body. You see, this body has many members but one head. Only One. So you see a name doesn't mean nothing. It's what's on the inside. Christ is head of us all. You see there should be no chism in the body but it is sure important that all parts work together for best results. If your physical body become ill. You go to your physician and get medication to heal whatever is wrong. So it should be with the church body. If there is spiritual illness, work on it with love until it heals. With Christ as head the Church should be filled with love. There is healing power in love. Read all these scriptures. If you have wounded anyone, then in these scriptures you will find a more excellent way.

We want to thank you, Sister Hood, for a beautiful lesson. We just see the love in you. Lots of love, and you are sharing it with all mankind. So continue to let your light shine. We thank God for you. Continued on Page 11

Miss Black Lubbock Pageant On Tap

MEET HER! She is Dakota Lloyd, 18 year old graduate from Coronado High School, who has plans to enroll at Eastern Michigan University by Fall 1982, to pursue a degree in Accounting. Dakota enjoys modeling, and it, too, is very much in her plans. (Photo by Ulok Etukudo)

by Denise Kinner

Plans for the annual "Miss Black Lubbock Pageant" are well underway with 18 young ladies from East Lubbock participating, according to Joan Y. Ervin, pageant coordinator.

Participants must be 18-25 years old. According to Ms. Ervin, the primary goal of the pageant is to emphasize talent and ability. "I feel the pageant provides motivation for young black women in the community. I feel it is a viable program for our black women. It gives them a chance to be a 'Miss' because they'll never have the opportunity to be a Miss Lubbock," said

Ms. Ervin. Not everyone has such glowing reports for the pageant. One parent of a former participant, told the Digest that there should be more benefits given to the participants.

"When it first started out last year the winner was supposed to take a trip to Dallas. Then it was changed that the winner and runner-up were supposed to go—but no one ever went. The benefits should have been a lot better because most pageants like that give scholarships."

According to one of last year's participants, talent and ability are not the only qualifications necessary to enter the pageant. "We had to sell ads. It was to help pay for the renting of the building for the pageant, to pay the cost of the programs and buy gifts for the girls."

Black Elderly Hungry
In Land of Plenty

We live in a nation that counts itself among five countries which have the resources and capacity to not only feed its own population but also export foodstuff to the less fortunate of the world community.

Yet, we remain a nation jolted by a devastating economic crisis that has made hunger more widespread than at any time since the Great Depression of the 1930's. And the one group that must carry the greatest burden in these harsh times is the black elderly.

The most recent Census figures show that two out every five blacks over age 65 (some 4 million persons) lived in dire poverty in 1980.

This amounts to the highest level of poverty for older blacks since the government started keeping records of these types of statistics. More than 50 percent of the housing for the black elderly is substandard; and in rural areas, where 45 percent of the black seniors live, some 85 percent of the housing is substandard.

Additionally, the health problems of elderly blacks are made worse by a lack of food and proper care. Contrary to the popular belief that blacks function within an "extended family" whereby the elderly are cared for while respect for them is maintained, 74 percent of all black elderly persons live alone, according to the National Center on the Black Aged.

More must be done to take these persons from the brink of hunger and despair. President Reagan's great cheese giveaway was a much too meager gesture and in fact a calculated injustice to human needs of the poor trapped in our inner cities and rural areas.

Proper food and diet for all in need should be a right and one that is fully embraced by a nation that is the world's leading food producer. We must work to break the hold on the nation's food surplus, a situation that is controlled by a tightfisted band of agri-business corporations. For selfish economic reasons that are totally unjustified in these hard times, the nation's stored food supply is kept away from a public in need, a public that has been racked by skyrocketing food bills.

However, there is a growing coalition generating support in order to challenge the lobbyists who want to keep the food surplus program intact. Such a campaign deserves our steadfast backing in light of the recent cuts in social programs that serve the needy — food stamps, school lunches, meals-on-wheels to the elderly on fixed incomes and related nutritional allotments.

What is needed is meaningful and pointed assault on hunger and an end to the priorities that give comfort to special interests in the food industry.

The struggle to have enough to eat is on and will no doubt intensify in the days ahead. It is a sad commentary that while the government continues its insensitive food policy millions of acres of black owned farmland in the South are being lost. We must not lose the ability to feed ourselves. Let the U. S. Department of Agriculture hear from you.

life. The social, political, education and economic privileges that have been denied them have left them frustrated, hopeless, unmotivated and lacking in aspiration. They need to be "sold" on the idea that there is a place for them in American life, if they will equip themselves well.

Big Jump in Minority Firms That Sell To Western Electric

Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, last year added 175 minority firms — a more than 24 percent increase — to the 724 from which it purchased goods and services in 1980.

The 899 firms that received purchase commitments from Western Electric in 1981 received more than $84.1 million for such things as electronic and electrical supplies, transformers, plastic molded products, technical and drafting services, janitorial services, and stationery and office supplies.

In 1981 the company expanded its minority purchasing program from 36 to 39 states and the District of Columbia and increased the number of minority supplier firms in 22 states.

The average number of suppliers in each state varied widely, from a single supplier in Idaho, Maine, Montana, New Hampshire and Tennessee to as many as 119 in California and 118 in Illinois.

And, with the exception of those two states — California got $15 million and Illinois $20 million — Western Electric contributed relatively evenly to the economies of the participating states. Firms in at least 16 of them received gross payments of more than $1 million from Western Electric.

Some of the larger payments by states were Illinois, 118 firms were paid a total of $20.1 million; California, 110 firms for $15 million; New Jersey $9 for $8.4 million; New York, 83 supplier for $7.8 million; Colorado, 28 firms for $4 million and Massachusetts, 39 suppliers for $4 million. Western Electric has operated its own minority supplier program for 13 years. The company buys from minority firms under conditions that are in keeping with its commitment to purchase the best products at the most favorable prices.

The members of New Hope Baptist Church had a wonderful day last Sunday. It all began with Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. which was opened by Sister Dorothy Kinner. Morning worship services were held at 10:45 a. m. Devotion was led by Deacon Francis and Deacon Swain. The choirs were at their post of duty. The sermon of the hour was delivered by Rev. W. B. Hillson of Lubbock, Texas who has moved here from Los Angeles, California. His scripture was the 23rd Psalm. His subject was: "Five Things About The Shepherd." His steps were: First -- His Plan; Second -- The Crook; Third -- His Dog; Fourth -- The Mark; and Fifth -- His Fold. It was a beautiful message. His family was present also.

Here's How It Works...
This Wednesday we will redeem all MANUFACTURERS' CENTS-OFF coupons for DOUBLE their value. Offer good on current national manufacturers' coupons when purchasing the specified product and does not include free coupons or food retailer (any food stores) coupons. The total redemption may not exceed value of item. Limit 1 coupon per item.

Here's an Example...
If the Manufacturers' Coupon is Worth 50¢...it will be worth $1.00 on WEDNESDAY at Furr's.
