More than 125 Residents Attend Meeting East Lubbock Residents Volunteer to Serve on Various Committees

In a most successful community meeting at the Alderson Junior High School Wednesday, October 20, 1993, more than 125 residents came out to give their support for helping the Cherry Point/Parkway Neighborhood Association.

"This was an action-oriented meeting, and we were concerned about motivating the citizens of the area," said Cassandra Stephens, who helped coordinate the efforts, along with Roosevelt Carroll.

The meeting began with the singing of young people of the Alderson Junior High School choir who volunteered to come back and perform for the residents.

"This is a very good omen when you see our young people volunteering to help with the program," said Mr. Carroll.

This meeting, and the efforts underway in the area have come from a combined effort of the Cherry Point Neighborhood Association, those involved in the Community Services Commission's Alderson Junior High School project and the group of concerned citizens who met with Mayor David Langston and City Councilman T.J. Patterson several months ago at the George Woods Community Center.

"We would hope this effort would help promote the need for more education and support of parents," said Ross Crabree, Neighborhood Coordinator of the City of Lubbock.

During the meeting, citizens volunteered to serve on various committees. Those committees and citizens are as follows:

Family & Parent Issues

Rose Wilson, Alma Gopie, Wanda King, Kathy Anderson, Hattie Fleming, Marea Lorryman, Virginia Longria, Shirley Cleveland, Cassandra Stephens, and Laverne Bibbs

Substance Abuse

Rev. F.B. Bell, Joe Maden, Clark Lilly, Robyn Scott, JoAnn Hollie, Cassandra Stephens, and LaCarl Richardson

UMC Trauma Center Gets First State Level One Designation

(LUBBOCK)—Texas Health Commissioner David Smith has announced that University Medical Center is the first Texas hospital to receive the state's Level 1, or "comprehensive," trauma center designation.

The designation means that UMC is equipped to treat any level of trauma, including the most severe.

The criteria for Texas Department of Health (TDH) designation as a Level 1 trauma center are that a hospital receive Level 1 verification from the American College of Surgeons (ACS) and that the region in which the hospital is located have a Regional Advisory Council (RAC) in place. The RAC sets usage criteria for health care providers within its 18-county region.

UMC received Level 1 verification in September after a July survey by an ACS team. Hospitals requesting surveys for verification can be given verifications of Level 1 through 4, depending on the hospital's capabilities.

Criteria for ACS Level 1 verification include having such components as an Emergency Center staffed 24 hours a day by physicians certified in Advanced Trauma Life Support, an in-house surgical team devoted to trauma care 24 hours a day and an established research program to gather data on trauma patients as part of a national computerized data bank designed to improve patient care.

"I think it is fairly common knowledge that if you're badly injured, this is the place you need to come. We need to reinforce that to the public so that the public is able to make good, informed decisions about health care. Health professionals in outlying areas also need to know what resources are here and what a difference it can mean in terms of the outcome of the patient," he said.

He added that having a regional trauma network helps UMC work with area health care providers to ensure the most up-to-date knowledge in caring for trauma patients.

"It's very, very important that a rural hospital is well versed in doing things such as stabilizing patients and making sure they are appropriately stabilized for transfer and that they understand how to evaluate the needs of patients in order to make appropriate referrals. As a Level 1 trauma center for this region, we will be the hub of the wheel, but there will be a number of spokes that are essential to making the whole system work well," he said.

Courtney said he credits the trauma care team at UMC with making the trauma center eligible for Level 1 status.

"The way you provide good care, whether it be trauma care, pediatrics, obstetrics or anything else, is through the talent, commitment and teamwork of the people who work in those areas. We wouldn't be a Level 1 trauma center if it weren't for the people because they're the ones who truly do the work and provide the service," he said.

Grandmother Refuses to be Interviewed!

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories on the recent eviction of a 67-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Alice McNeal, who apparently refused to be interviewed. Anyway, here is the conclusion of this series.)

by Candida N. Johnson

In the late 50's it was common for many Black youth to gather in the barracks after picking cotton. Often when one of the teen males dozed off other males would pour lighter fluid on his shoe, strike a match and watch the reaction of the stunned victim. The youth would wake up with a "Hot Foot" (as it was called), often angry, threatening all those around. Mainly for show because all eyes were on him. When the episode died down the youth would quietly return to his spot and act as if nothing happened. The "Hot Foot" reaction is similar to the reaction of many African-Americans in Lubbock across the board. The "Hot Foot" reaction crosses all economic and social boundaries.

This goes for those born in Lubbock, to those who move here, all the way to Tech students who pass through our city. We only react when things are hot; when they cool down so do we. Take for example the conversion of Dunbar High School into a junior high. African-Americans in Lubbock were hot. When a meeting with the school board was set up at Estacado there was standing room only. Black people threatened to home-school their children, there was even talk of pooling our resources together and coming up with a private school for the kids in the Dunbar area. However, when the A-J and local news stations stopped buzzing about it, so did we. On Dunbar High School's last graduation only a handful of people (mostly graduating seniors' parents) showed up. If the graduation had been held in the high school auditorium everyone in attendance would have had a seat. Had all those who cried and protested in front of the cameras come to the graduation a powerful statement could have been made.

On Texas Tech's campus, when Pi Kappa Alpha and Fashion Board poked fun of Black people at a racist party, Black students that had never been seen or even associated with other Blacks on campus took the lead being the first to grace the screens of the local news and newspapers with cries of Black pride and dissatisfaction with the white status quo. But when the cameras went away so did they. Once again the "Hot Foot" reaction.

This was also apparent in the Alice McNeal case of last week. While the elderly and disabled grandmother was in need of help she couldn't get it. But once the subject was in the news people came in droves to help out. Many residents wonder why help did not come before the grandmother was evicted? When Ms. McNeal was sitting in her yard for almost nine hours why didn't anyone offer to take her in before she collapsed and was taken to the hospital? Why didn't McNeal's children or grandchildren clean up the house? Why did the Housing Authority allow the McNeals to move in if they had a previous record of destroying property? Why? Why? Why?

The bottom line is African-Americans/Black people in Lubbock will never reach economic or social equality until we decide to act instead of react. People around Ms. McNeal knew that she was about to be evicted but instead of acting they chose to react only after the grandmother was homeless, and the news and the cameras came. True, the main responsibility to take care of elderly parents should lie on the children, but aren't we all family? Couldn't Ms. McNeal be any one of our mothers, grandmothers or aunts?

Our reputation is beginning to precede us; whites are well aware that African-Americans in Lubbock will take a stand, scream, march, protest and even fight (as long as the camera is rolling).

Extra Mile Award Recipients

The Lubbock Committee for Women will recognize the 1993 recipients of the Extra Mile Awards at 5:30 p.m., November 4, at the McInturff Conference Center at University Medical Center.

The awards, established in 1985, are given annually to women who give their time, energy, and devotion in service to the community.

Selection is based on a volunteer's contributions above and beyond what would be expected and not done to gain recognition or build a resume; activities performed out of a sense of caring and desire to help; and contributions which may enhance the goals of an organization or increase the quality of life in the community.

The 1993 recipients are:

Parkway Manor Care Center News

Mary Lara from the St. Patrick Catholic Church came last Sunday to offer communion to the Catholic residents. What joy when this takes place.

Ruben Acosta and family visited Hermilio Martinez last Sunday, and had a wonderful time together.

Gloria Brookings visited her mother, Esther Ferguson, this week.

Bro. Birmingham and Bro. Leonard, both members of the Hope Deliverance Temple Church, visited with the residents on Monday afternoon.

The Greater St. Luke Missionary Baptist Missionary Society had five members to come and visit and hold church services with the residents on Monday evening. The spirit of the Lord was in that place.

Robert Avery visited Timothy Collins several times this week.

The Mt. Vernon United Methodist Church had six members to come visit and have church services with the residents on last Tuesday evening. What a time!

What a time in the Lord!

The Idalou High School Choir had 35 members come to sing for the residents last Wednesday afternoon. It was enjoyed very much and the residents appreciate them very much.

Ann Day, who works with SPAC, came last Thursday morning, as she has in the past, to visit and read to the residents. Mamie Young visited with them also.

Missionary Collins and Mother Birmingham, who are members of the Hope Deliverance Temple Church, visited Lucille Lewis on last Thursday.

Velma Joiner visited Zeb Slay this week.

Francis Bell visited her mother, Esther Ferguson, and Rev. W.H. Stephens this week.

John W. Hearn of Los Angeles, California, visited his uncle, Rev. W.H. Stephens, this week. What a time they had together.

Mrs. Norma Owens, A.D. & R.

Many people from other parts of the country don't realize that we have an educational system second to none, a plentiful and willing work force, friendly people, a clean environment, and a determined, optimistic course of action to excel.

It's important how people from different places see us, and our part of the country. All of us can have an impact. At SPS we support chambers of commerce, industrial development boards, and individuals who are working to bring new industry and opportunities for growth to our area.

Are you having trouble getting a manufacturer to honor a "money back" guarantee? Have you reached an impasse with the company that sold you a defective product? If you are involved in a dispute, consider the alternative dispute resolution options offered by your Better Business Bureau. The BBB's dispute resolution services are informal and customer friendly, and can help both customers and businesses to overcome a variety of common marketplace conflicts. At little or no cost, the Bureau provides assistance as a neutral third party to help the two parties reach an amicable solution. If the Bureau staff cannot help you reach a settlement, the BBB can provide binding arbitration. This is where a neutral volunteer arbitrator will listen to both sides, weigh the evidence and make a final decision to end the case. If you want a time and money-saving alternative to going to court, call a trusted resource, the BBB.

Save 50%, 10-20% off, $100 off... The question is off what? One of the areas of the BBB Code of Advertising we review often is savings claim advertising. This is advertising that promotes a percentage off or a price reduction for a product or service. When these types of ads are used, a "reference price" needs to be included that shows what the savings is coming off of. Customers should be aware that most companies intend for the reduction to be off of their regular prices, but simply fail to say it. If you see an ad advertising a price savings, make sure there is a reference price. If there is not, please contact your Better Business Bureau at 763-0459 and we will check it out for you. As always, consumers should do some comparative shopping as to price and quality before making a purchase decision.

Black Community Priorities "Casting Down Our Buckets Where We Are"

by Eddie F. Richardson

One of the major objectives of every group of responsible people is to take their rightful place, by reaching out, in mutual interdependency roles with other peoples. However, a necessary precedent to acceptance of responsibility and/or privilege of interdependence is independence, nonetheless, we are faced with a costly and devastating fact that 39 years after the historic 1954 U.S. Supreme Court decision on school desegregation over 47% of the nation's Black Youth are "functional illiterates." These Black youths, as such, and along with many others, are forced to be a dependency role on society as a whole. There must be a re-assessment of our immediate goals and priorities. Something must be done immediately to change our past and present policies of paternalism, largess and irresponsibility. We need encouragement that fosters independence; positive policies that call for and encourage excellence in education, equitable opportunities for achievement and community pride that builds self-reliance or independence.

Therefore, our communities and nation's priorities during the 1990s call for a shift away from certain kinds of "integration" or reaching-out and immediate emphasis on the things necessary within our communities to save our presently denied youth and millions of others in our communities, where there appears for many, no other way out than a life of idleness or crime...All spelling out non-productive and negative dependency. Accordingly, to eliminate these burdensome needs from within Black America, we have chosen as our over-all theme for the 1990s. "Casting Down Our Buckets Where We Are." This new emphasis, or priority, will have to involve getting all of our Black Community organizations and institutions together to encourage our youth and others to take pride in preparing themselves early to be our community's economic builders. This means new forms of massive training to take over our Black community needs for Black bricklayers, carpenters, electricians, Black street sweepers, as well as Black lawyers, Black merchants etc. It calls for new forms of partnerships while we, simultaneously, can encourage the Black community to selectively support those White-owned businesses and institutions which have policies that tend to build our long-denied communities in an equitable manner.

This new priority of rebuilding our communities from within, calls for new roles for all in the Black community. It means that the Black press and all others will have to examine every possible way we can to "pull up our community by whatever bootstraps" we have, as we seek the long-overdue and deserved support required of the White community, such as the city financial institutions, builders, investors and others who have a concern for the total community.

However, the leadership to make our communities the responsible and self-sustaining marketplaces must come from within our communities. East Lubbock is working on making this a reality.

Crazy Horse by Stephen C. McIntyre

If you have nothing to do on Monday nights turn on PBS, Channel 5, and watch an award-winning show about the Sioux during the 1960s.

George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln...never said the Pledge of Allegiance. They bravely loved and defended the Constitution, Bill of Rights, and Declaration of Independence. I suspect they would resent the mandatory nature of the oath required each day at school, at government meetings, and other civic functions in our country today.

It seems to me that if the Founding Fathers felt that a daily oath was needed to prove a patriot's love and support of this country then one of them would have written it into the Constitution. But even Lincoln, during the worst days of the Civil War, never required the people of our country to stand, salute and declare their support for the Republic once a day. Lincoln must have known that such a requirement would be meaningless in really helping to save the country. Or maybe he just could not envision free men being compelled by the government to salute/bow down to a symbol.

All of us must know that public declarations of patriotism, no matter how loud, without real action are meaningless. It is similar to the loud praying of the rich man who then rushes out after church to race his fancy horse, eat caviar and collect outrageous rent from the poor.

We should be listening to the people who clean up the church after the service, feed the poor each day in October before the fashionable Thanksgiving/Christmas meal, and who argue and fight to insure that all of us receive equal justice under the law because they are the real thing.

The Texas State Employees Union is in Lubbock organizing. You may have heard of some of the members of the TSEU: Ann Richards, Dan McAlees, Gary Mauro...

It also appears that folks working for the City of Lubbock are trying to organize into the Lubbock Public Employees Union (LPEU).

If everything was going so good down at city hall, why in the world would folks be organizing in Lubbock?

"Flush Rush"

In Cinque by Renetta W. Howard

One little three-letter word has been a source of curiosity for young people for a very long time and apparently an area of exploration and continuous education for many adults. It is SEX.

Tons of books have been written on the subject, and lately, many are in graphic detail. Schools "teach" sex education. Parents teach sex education so does a child's peers. Who is he going to believe?

As a child, I read every book that I could get my hands on, from The Birds and the Bees to The Stork Didn't Bring You. Fortunately I learned that kissing did not produce fertility.

Books at the disposal of children today teach that the body undergoes changes at puberty and that boys and girls are different. Now that AIDS is an epidemic, children learn that clean needles should be used to "do drugs" and that sex can kill you.

Parents find it difficult to talk to their children and some, like my parents, put books at their disposal and entertain questions based on the reading. Some parents really do not know what to say. Some have not learned enough to say.

Schools carefully teach whatever no reasonable parent would object to: anatomy and the way various germs travel throughout the bloodstream and affect one's health. How the germ gets into the body is not an area of education unless it does not involve sex.

Peers are the greatest educators of all. They know everything first-hand and are willing to share all they know with their friends. The sad thing is, they do. Children get a misdirected and unreliable sex education from their peers which result in fertility and diseases.

Parents: talk to your children. Get "in cinque." Tell them the truth. Do not rely on others to give your children a reliable sex education. It will not happen. Schools give useful information, but parents need to reinforce it with the missing links. When you talk to your children, they will not need to talk to their friends. Better yet, they will not believe what they are told by others if you give it to them straight in the first place. Get "in cinque." Do it.

Where In the World Are We? by Congressman Larry Combest (R-Texas)

United States ground troops are under U.N. command in Somalia, Macedonia, Cambodia, the Middle East and last week, poised for Haiti. In those places where U.S. troops are not involved in the 17 U.N. worldwide missions, U.S. taxpayer money is, in the amount of $1 billion each year.

Curiously, both the Clinton Administration and their defense budget-cutting allies in Congress support the involvement of our troops in not only those five U.N. missions but also in Bosnia. Those "doves" propose peace-keeping while at the same time cutting the U.S. Defense Budget. This misguided policy of cutting defense and stretching our military resources is a disastrous course to follow. While they burn the candle at both ends, our troops are in the middle, caught in a dangerous fire fight.

At his speech to the United Nations in New York recently, the president urged the U.N. to carefully choose its peacekeeping missions around the world. He has reason to want the U.N. to limit its missions. From the beginning of his administration, President Clinton has laid out his vision of U.S. involvement within U.N. "multi-lateral" (multi-nation) actions.

Last Wednesday, the Clinton Administration recounted its mistakes in a report to Congress. Along the way, without consulting Congress, Clinton's ambassador to the U.N. voted to switch the U.N. goal to something called "nation-building" and signed on to the hunt for Aided in Somalia. In the letter to Congress that accompanied his report, the president asserted that the U.S. goal in Somalia has "never been nation-building."

If the United Nations has a goal of "nation building" and neither that nor hunting Aided is the goal of the United States, then why have U.S. troops been under the command of the United Nations? I strongly disagree with putting U.S. troops under any control other than U.S. commanders, who after all, have proven to be the best in the world. After the deaths and taking of at least one U.S. prisoner, the president will still allow 3,000 American troops in Somalia under operational control of the United Nations.

I opposed the original humanitarian deployment last December under President Bush because the "exit" timetable was not firm. I went on record calling for withdrawal of U.S. troops in votes and messages to President Clinton on April 1, May 25, September 15 and September 30. In an October 6 letter to the president, I joined with approximately 100 Members of Congress re-urging the shift of responsibility back to the United Nations, and expeditious withdrawal of American troops.

Now that the president has taken stock of his lack of mission in Somalia, he should withdraw all of our troops. I am disturbed at his getting a new goal to "ensure the restoration of democracy" because it is a difficult goal to define. I am also greatly concerned that his March 31 deadline for withdrawal will, in effect, become the real goal in Somalia—either for American troops or for Aided.

Tigers Claw Mats, 27-20!

Was it a bird? No! Was it a plane? No! Was it a train? No! Was it a tiger? Yes, it was those Frenship Tigers who clawed the Estacado Matadors last Friday evening at Tiger Field by a score of 27-20!

If you talk to Coach Louis Kelly, he will tell you that this defeat at the hands of the Tigers won't keep the Mats down. "We may appear to be down, but we won't remain there," said Coach Kelly.

The defeat put the Matadors in a tie for second place with the Tigers, who both are 2-1 in District 2-4A.

Estacado, who is 5-3 overall, is faced with a difficult tilt with undefeated and fifth-ranked Plainview at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday at Lowrey Field.

"We want you to know that we are not down, and our kids will play hard. We just didn't get the job done against Frenship," said Coach Kelly.

Despite the loss last Friday, the Mats led 14-0 in the first quarter, but gave up 17 points in the second quarter, and were able to put six points up on the scoreboard before halftime, leading 20-17.

But the contest was decided in the final quarter when the Tigers put 10 points on the scoreboard.

The Tigers had 17 first downs, compared to the Mats 13. The Mats, however, led in the rushing department, with 43 attempts for 295 yards and Frenship had 39 rushes for 202 yards.

Frenship completed 7 passes out of 22 attempts and the Mats had a 4-for-9 effort.

With six penalties totaling 55 yards, compared to the Tigers 4 for 20 yards, the Mats lost 2 fumbles, and Tigers lost one.

Coach Kelly believes the turn-around in the district tilt came when the Mats drove to the Frenship 3-yard line and lost the ball in the third quarter. "That really hurt us. If we score, we go up 27-13, but the momentum started switching after that effort," said Coach Kelly.

Last Friday night was a good game for Talion Scott who rushed for 273 yards on 29 carries.

"But all of that, it's part of it. I've always said you can lay down and hide, but we'll come out and play," continued Kelly who looked forward to the district contest against Plainview.

Petty Receives Robinson/NMJGSA Scholarship

E. Scott Petty of Peoria, Illinois is the 1993 Jackie Robinson/National Minority Junior Golf Scholarship Association (NMJGSA) scholarship recipient. Petty, a freshman attending South Carolina State University in Orangeburg, South Carolina, is a member of the golf team and plans to major in Business Administration.

As a student at Peoria Central High School, Scott participated in an honor assembly for carrying a 3.0 GPA his senior year and graduated 51st in his class of 254 students. He was also the number one player on his high school golf team and an All Conference Team member for three consecutive years.

Scott aspires to one day become a professional golfer. He told his parents that one day they will see him on TV, and they quickly responded, "No we won't, because we will be right there in the gallery."

The JRF/NMJGSA scholarships are awarded annually to one outstanding high school graduate and three continuing college students in the amount of $5,000 each. The continuing students are: Nakia Davis, a sophomore at Vanderbilt University, carried a 2.5 GPA and is the No. 1 player on the Women's Golf Team; Brian Dixon, a junior at Florida A&M University, achieved the Dean's List (3.48 GPA) and Samuel Norwood, a senior at Jackson State University carried a 3.8 GA and made the Dean's List. He also interned at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson and became the first person at JSU to make first team ALL-State in golf.

Bill Dickey, President of the NMJGSA also announced the awarding of over $45,000 to forty-two (42) student athletes from across the country. The non-profit organization began awarding scholarships in 1984 and since then has distributed $205,000 to 206 students attending 68 different schools.

Early Balloting of Exxon SWC Supreme Team Announced

HOUSTON, Oct. 19, 1993—Sampling of the earliest returns for the Exxon SWC Supreme Team finds each school represented with players in contention for a place on the final team.

The Exxon SWC Supreme Team is a fan-selected, all-conference team. Ballots are available at participating Exxon stations throughout the state and at each school. Voting continues through Oct. 31.

"Early returns show fans are enthusiastically voting for their favorite players," said Chuck Hale of Exxon.

"And I want to encourage all SWC fans to keep voting and remember that Exxon and its retailers will donate $1 million to the Southwest Conference Scholarship Fund for every ballot returned to an Exxon station."

Players from Baylor, Texas Tech, Texas A&M and Houston have received strong initial boosts from fans.

Jimmy Klinger of Houston has a strong early lead at quarterback with 10,000 more votes than Robert Hall of Texas Tech.

Lamar Smith of Houston shares a strong lead position at running back with Greg Hill of Texas A&M, a 1992 Supreme Team player.

Texas Tech players dominate the wide receiver position with Lloyd Hill (1992 Supreme Team player) and Derrell Mitchell at the one and two spots. Rice's Jimmy Lee follows with the third most votes.

At defensive back only 101 votes separate early leader Van Malone of Texas and Tyrone Smith of Baylor at the fourth spot.

Willie Shupp of Baylor has the early leaders for the Exxon SWC Supreme Team, based on initial sampling (voting percentages have been rounded):

Last year, SWC fans cast more than 3 million ballots for the all-conference team and the expectations are for that number to increase in 1993.

The final Exxon SWC Supreme Team will be announced in mid-November. Voting ends Oct. 31.

This year's final ballot will be released by a panel of conference sports media.

WOULD $43,500 HELP WITH COLLEGE?

You can earn more than $16,750 during a standard Army Reserve enlistment... And another $6,840 if you qualify for the Montgomery GI Bill...

Plus if you have or obtain a qualified student loan, you could get help paying it off—up to $20,000—if you train in certain specialties in specific units.

And that's for part-time service—usually one weekend a month plus two weeks' Annual Training.

Think about it.

Count on God

The telephone rang in the clergyman's office of the Washington church which President Franklin Roosevelt attended, the story is told. An eager voice inquired, "Do you expect the President to be in church Sunday?"

"That," answered the clergyman, "I cannot promise. But we expect God to be there and we fancy that should be incentive enough for a reasonably large audience."

God is dependable. His Word assures us of that, and so does His creation. There are stars so far away in space, scientists say it takes hundreds of millions of years for their light to come to us on earth—and light travels at 186,000 miles a second! When we think of God who made all those stars and who fills all that space, we wonder that He can even notice anything as tiny as we are. Such wonder is not new. Long ago David sang, "When I consider your heavens, the works of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is man that you are mindful of him?" (Psalm 8:3, 4 NIV). God, however, does notice us, though in size we are nearer to grasshoppers than to stars. We can count on God.

Let us imagine for a moment what would happen if day no longer followed night? If we could not be sure that summer follows spring? If the law of gravity were here today and gone tomorrow? What a catastrophe!

Our minds may play the "wishing game" with the law of gravity when our feet slip on the ice, but the law is secure and we lie prostrate on the ground unless there is someone there to break the fall. We may wish inertia would cease when another vehicle abruptly change into our lane of movement, but inertia is unchanging and we crash unless we apply our brakes. We may wish that sin would not bring death, but it will because God's Word declares "The wages of sin is death" unless the Savior rescues us.

Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." You can count on that. To believers Peter said, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." You can count on that. To suffering Christians Jesus said, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." You can count on that. In John's prophetic vision "whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire." You can count on that. Henry W. Beecher said "God pardon like a mother who kisses away the repentant tears of her child." You can count on that!

We Thank God for Jesus

"Lord the Blind's Leading the Blind!"

Romans 1:18-19, For the wrath of God so revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness; Because that which may be known of GOD is manifest in them; for GOD hath shewed it unto them.

I was raised up right, in an OBEDIENT CHRISTIAN HOME, and like the prodigal son, "like AMERICA: I said I don't need GOD; and went out on MY OWN."

I went into the world's HOG PEN, seeking all the thrills, "like AMERICA: THE DEVIL SAID: DON'T WORRY, BE HAPPY, AND TAKE WHAT I GIVE."

Romans 1:21a, 22, Because that, when they knew GOD, they glorified him not as GOD, Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools.

As I watched the people on TV, Drinking LITE BEER and having FUN, "THE DEVIL said that's all you need, IT WON'T HURT YOU NONE."

Isaiah 5:20, The LORD SAID: WOE unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter.

So I started drinking the LITE BEER, like the people on the TV, "But I had to move up to HEAVY STUFF; THAT DIDN'T MAKE ME HAPPY."

Psalm 146:5, Happy is he that hath the GOD of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the LORD his GOD.

The DEVIL told me to try WHISKEY & SCOTCH: AND CURSE WHEN YOU CAN, "DON'T WORRY BE HAPPY: THESE THINGS WILL MAKE YOU FEEL LIKE A MAN."

Luke 6:39, Jesus said: Can the blind lead the blind? shall they both fall in the ditch?

(I was one of the FOOLS of this world, I tried EVERYTHING, but JESUS. I knew something was MISSING IN MY LIFE, The drugs didn't help, the WOMAN, nor CIGARETTES, OR Anything else that MY BODY AND SOUL HUNGERED FOR. THE FASHIONS of today, TRYING TO KEEP UP WITH THE JONESES, trying to satisfy THE FLESH, and it all cost MONEY. THE THING IS IT'S ALL VANITY; So try THE MAN FROM GALILEE (JESUS), AND HE'LL MAKE YOU FREE.)

It cost me plenty, to feed THE DEMON SPIRITS THAT CONTROLLED ME; THE LEADERS know it's a big PRICE TO PAY, IF ONE WANTS TO BE HAPPY.

1 John 2:15, Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world, If any man love the world, the love of the FATHER IS NOT IN HIM.

With all this WORLD'S WEIGHT ON MY SHOULDERS; I WAS IN MISERY, "I THEN CALLED ON THE LORD JESUS; AND HE TOTALLY MADE ME FREE."

Matthew 11:28-30, Jesus Said: Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I (JESUS) will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you, and learn of ME; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For MY yoke is easy, and MY burden is light. God is not through with us yet. So let's pray for one another always.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

"Jesus Christ, The Equalizer"

Not long ago, there was a T.V. series entitled "The Equalizer," who was portrayed as a strong and powerful individual with many resources, and would be called to help clients combat enemies who were too strong for them when the client would be caught in dangerous situations. There were never any need to fear, for the equalizer was sure to bring them out victoriously.

OK! It is, therefore, not much of a stretch in the imagination to think of our savior as our equalizer. For, in truth, Jesus is our Equalizer! He is strong and mighty. Mighty to battle. Psalm 28:8, All power in heaven and in earth has been given into his hands. Matthew 28:18b. He is not without resources, for only he has won the ultimate victory over Satan, sin, death and the grave. (1 Corinthians 15:55-57)!

Jesus is not only the Equalizer in our everyday combat with victory over Satan's works, but Jesus is also the Equalizer of our relationship to each other. For example, it is only in Jesus that we can be Brothers and Sisters in the Lord. It is only in Jesus that we each share the same job description, "Servant."

Therefore, the Law was our disciplinarian until Christ came. So that we might be justified by faith, but now that faith has come. We are no longer subject to a disciplinarian, for in Christ Jesus, you are all Children of God. Through faith, as many of you as were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. There is no longer Jew or Greek; there is no longer slave or free; there is no longer male and female; for all of us are one in Christ Jesus.

We belong together. Equality in terms of women's role in church leadership. Scriptures, most assuredly, invokes us to believe that the spirit of God, working in each one of us, is able to unify us in all areas. Ephesians 4:4-6 calls us why this divine possibility can be a human reality; as we come to the fourth and final quarter of 1993, may we sincerely invoke God's spirit to unify us, but in doing so, let us be mindful of how we interpret unity. Are we simply paying lip service to the idea of unity, while holding on to the hierarchical idea of superior and inferior individuals within the body of Christ??? Or do we want spirit of God to make us one. Truly One with Christ and with each other??? Jesus is the model of wholeness. Because Jesus Christ is for all. He is in fact, the Equalizer of all and renders human oppressive limitations invalid. "Go make Disciples of money."

Reverend Thomison Holds Revival November 8-12, 1993

The African-American Christian Unity Project, a non-profit organization, devoted entirely to rescuing young Black brothers and sisters from the clutches of Satan. They know this can be done by prayer and action. The action, however, required is teach these young people by "any means necessary" and lead them to Jesus Christ.

While gangs and drugs are destroying the youth, the problem goes deeper than this. Poverty is one of the leading causes that leads to these lifestyles. Many of our youth are from low-income families, and the basic necessities of life that are available to other youths are not available to them.

One cause of concern is the number of young Blacks not covered by any type of insurance. The first major project of the African-American Christian Unity project is to locate these youth, provide basic life insurance coverage.

In order to provide these services, we must have funds. Therefore, the Rev. Lawrence D. Thomison, a nationally-known recording artist and Grammy nominee, has agreed to come to Lubbock, Texas, November 8-12, 1993 to hold a crusade to help these young people through powerful preaching, powerful prayer, powerful singing, and powerful giving.

The nightly services will be held at the St. John Baptist Church, 1712 East 29th Street.

The St. John Baptist Church has opened the doors and donated the use of their building for this glorious endeavor. Services will begin each night at 7:00 p.m.

Poems Wanted for National Contest and Anthology

Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum is offering a Grand Prize of $500 in its new "Distinguished Poet Awards" poetry contest. Thirty-four other cash awards are also being offered. The contest is free to enter.

Poets may enter one poem only, 20 lines or less, on any subject, in any style. Contest closes Jan. 31, 1994, but poets are encouraged to send their work as soon as possible. Poems entered in the contest also will be considered for publication in the Fall 1994 edition of Treasured Poems of America, a hardcover anthology to be published in August, 1994. Anthology purchase may be required to ensure publication, but is not required to enter or win the contest. Prize winners will be notified by March 31, 1994.

"Poetry is more popular than ever," says Jerome P. Welch, Publisher. "Our contest offers a public forum for new poets that allows them to share their work. We welcome poetry of all styles and themes. Many of our contest winners are new poets with new ideas."

Poems should be sent to Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum, Inc., Dept. N, 203 Diamond St., Sistersville, WV 26175.

Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum sponsors six free poetry contests and publishes six hardcover poetry anthologies each year. Sparrowgrass is dedicated to encouraging and rewarding the many "undiscovered" poets across America.

Poppy Days Coming Up Nov. 5-7

November 5th through the 7th, 1993, has been designated as "POPPY DAYS" by Mayor David Langston. Mayor Langston will present a proclamation to American Legion Unit 575 on November 1, 1993 at 1:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

The American Legion poppy is an emblem of the sacrifices which have been made by the men and women who gave their lives that our country might be saved. Because our poppy is an emblem of sacrifice, those who love it make every effort to teach the public the true meaning of the flower. If, in the season of Veterans Day the public recalls these sacrifices, the first and greatest mission of the poppy has been fulfilled.

Poppy Facts
DO YOU KNOW—

THAT in the spring of 1919, amidst complete devastation, the poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France where so many of our men had fallen in battle, and that a replica of this poppy has become the Memorial Flower of the American Legion

Auxiliary?

THAT the American Legion was the first national organization to adopt the poppy as its Memorial Flower, having taken this action at the National Convention in Cleveland, September 27-29, 1920?

THAT at the time the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy, it pledged 100% of the profits from the poppy sales distribution to welfare relief for servicemen and service-women and their families, thus fulfilling the true meaning of the poppy, an emblem of faith; faith which is being kept with all who died through service to the living.

THAT the memorial poppies are made of red crepe paper, by hand, by disabled veterans in hospitals and poppy workrooms in forty states, and that workers receive pay for each poppy made, the materials being furnished free by the Legion Department in which the hospital is located?

THAT the more than 25,000,000 poppies made by disabled veterans are distributed on the streets under the supervision of the American Legion Auxiliary, by approximately 125,000 volunteer workers who receive no compensation?

THAT through the American Legion Auxiliary poppy program, more than $300,000 is paid annually to needy and disabled servicemen and servicewomen for making the poppies?

THAT proceeds from the distribution of over 25,000,000 poppies annually under the guidance of the American Legion Auxiliary amount to more than $2,000,000, every penny of which is devoted to Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation work, which includes aid to needy veterans and their families?

THAT the public is given an opportunity each year to help, as well as an opportunity to pay tribute to all who died in service, by wearing a poppy during Poppy Days.

Poppies will be distributed November 5-7, 1993 at various locations throughout Lubbock. Donations will be accepted.

City-Wide Ushers

City-wide ushers will meet at Center Chapel CME Church, November 13, 1993 at 5 p.m. at 420 N. Quirt where the Rev. H.L. Pasley is Host Pastor. This event at this time will be the preach-a-rama—all preachers that are not pastors are asked to take part in this celebration, please. At the next publication I will tell you what our title will be; in the meantime, please don't forget your canned goods. Also we want to thank all churches that took part in Saturday's Oct. 23 workshop. Hope you will continue to come every month. Thank you.

Performing Artist Seminar Scheduled at South Plains College

LEVELLAND—A performing artist workshop by veteran Tom Jackson was so popular last year that South Plains College officials have invited him back for a repeat seminar Nov. 1.

The seminar, open to the public, is scheduled at 7 p.m. in the Tom T. Hall Studio in SPC's commercial music program. "Jackson has worked with a variety of major Christian and secular record labels to help groups look as good as they perform. In one session, he can help a performer go from amateur to a more professional look," explained Reid.

Jackson will work with a college ensemble, so the audience can see first-hand the improvement factor in their performance, Reid noted.

Jackson has drawn praise from groups he has worked with. "Tom Jackson's workshop classes are practical, professional and invaluable for any Christian performer. He is a regular lecturer at our seminars and I would recommend his classes unequivocally," said Jim Chaffee, executive vice president of Christian Artists Corp.

Reid recommended the workshop for bands, solo performers who sing with live bands and tracks, veterans as well as beginners. "Even people who have been performing a lot of years will still learn something," he said. "Jackson has a lot of energy and charisma."

In Pick 3 you can make a $500, $1, $2, $3, $4 or $5 play on your numbers, and you can win up to $500 for each Exact Order $1 play. Remember, you can play Pick 3 at any Texas Lottery retailer where you play LOTTO Texas. Pick 3 drawings are held at 9:59 p.m., Monday through Saturday. You can even ask for a Quick Pick, and the computer will pick your three numbers for you. If you need more information, just pick up a how-to-play brochure at any LOTTO Texas retailer, or call 1-800-37-LOTTO.
