PRESENTATION OF PANTHER ROYAL FAMILY

FOOTBALL QUEEN Joyce Mayse

The people of Lubbock will have a chance to see one of their famous and favorite recording stars November 13th at the Fair Park Coliseum.

He is none other than the one and only "Fats Domino" who made the song "Red Sails in The Sunset" famous, plus many many more. So far no one has been able to imitate him. He has a style of his own.

With him is a female vocalist, lovely Jean Dushon. Don't forget Friday night November 13th, at the Fair Park Coliseum from 8:30 'til 12:30 pm. The admission will be $3.00 for presale tickets and $4.00 for tickets at the door.

Hundreds of Lubbockites were present last Saturday night at Lowery Field to witness the presentation of the "Homecoming Queen", Football Sweetheart, and the first and second runner-ups at the intermission of the game between the Dunbar Panthers and the Midland Hornets. The royal family of the Maroon and White was led on the field in a motorcade of three white 19-65 convertibles. The magnificent marching band of the Dunbar Panthers provided the music for the special presentation. Their salute to the royal family was a song entitled "I left my Heart in San Francisco". Winnie Faye Taylor, featured twiller, gave an exciting demonstration for the family.

The "Homecoming Queen" for 1964-65 is Mrs. Sylvia Moss Clay, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. James H. Moss. She resides with her husband, Curtis Clay, and two sons, Curtis, Jr., age 5 and Gregory Lamont, 23 months, at Little Rock, Arkansas. Mrs. Clay is a band director at Dunbar Jr. High School of Little Rock, with seven years of teaching experience. She gave the Panthers their fifth victory of the season against two losses.

It was in the later seconds of the third period when Midland's flash, little Sammie Grant raced over the goal line for Midland's first tally. Midland was not through, with less than two minutes on the clock, fullback John Woodberry took a pass behind the line of scrimmage and raced down the left side line for the final score of the evening.

The touchdowns scored by the Panthers were made by Joe Newman, who scored two; James Geary, and Robert Lampkin.

Dunbar accomplished 336 yards in rushing and passing, including seventeen first downs, while Midland only gained
