

'Around the Hub City'

Around The Hub City learned something new last week...

We heard them play and march at many a football game, we heard them at band concerts—but now they have done something new! The Dunbar Panther Band, the pride of the Hub City, has recorded its first single record.

The record, in a word, is terrific. The Echo label which was produced by the Austin Custom Record Company of Austin, Texas consists of five selections; namely, Bilboard March by Klohr, Band Swing and Band Boogie by Braxton, Queen City March by Boorn, and Swinging on Parade by Auken.

The director of the band, Mr. Roy Roberts, has exemplified on this record—and we may add in more ways than one—the versatility of the magnificent band.

The thousands of Dunbar fans who have heard them perform will agree with me when I say they are good plus, in marching, playing, and now recording their first single. They should show their talent to the people throughout our state as well as the United States by performing at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas. Perhaps one day that chance will be realized.

Mrs. Maurice Johnson and her mother, Mrs. Richardson, of Denver, Colorado are visiting in our city for two weeks. Mrs. Johnson is the sister of Mrs. Clara Bell Smith, 2303 Elm.

The citizens of East Lubbock held another organizational meeting last Monday evening, the 22nd, at the E. C. Struggs Junior High. It seems as though when there is a meeting such as this, the entire community would know about it. It doesn't make any sense for only a hand full—special picked—to know of meetings which involve the entire community. After all, we are now living in one of the top ten cities of growth in the states.

We all might be interested in what is going on.

FINAL RITES READ FOR MRS. A. W. WHEELER

Final rites were read for Mrs. Artie M. Wheeler, who died last Wednesday, at the Bethel A M E Church, Friday, November 19, 1965 at 2:30 pm. Officiating at the ceremonies was Presiding Elder T. M. Mrs. Wheeler was born to the union of Wash and Rosie Miles on July 18, 1899 at Greenville, Texas. She was a member of a family of four children, three girls and one boy.

Her childhood days were spent in Greenville, and at the age of 11 years, she was converted and became a member of New Bethel C M E Church. From an early marriage she became the proud mother of one daughter, Helen Mae Thompson.

She moved from Greenville to Childress, Texas in 1927 and three years later to Lubbock where she made her home for 35 years. Here she became a member of the Bethel A M E Church and was a faithful worker even after health began to fail her. The past 25 years she was a faithful friend and member of Miss Ruth E. Ford's family whom she loved and who loved her.

Thanksgiving

A Day Peculiarly Our Own

Thanksgiving is a day and an idea peculiar to the New World. With our Canadian neighbors to the north — who celebrate it in October — we set this season aside to commemorate no battles, victories or heroes, but the simple fact that the Lord has been good to us. It is a day celebrated happily and expansively, yet simply and devoutly, too, with a grateful minimum of commercialization.

While Thanksgiving, as we know it, is North American, its roots go back to Bible times. The Old Testament relates that the ancient Jews built booths (succah) in the autumn and in these leafy bowers they feasted and thanked God for a bountiful harvest. So it is inspiring to know that we, like the prophets of old, can turn from our daily occupations to thank our Creator for a good year and ask His blessings on the year to come.

A THOUGHT FOR THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day is a day for acknowledgement, appreciation and evaluation as well as feasting and fun.

At the first Thanksgiving feast, our forefathers were happy, hungry, and grateful to those who died in the hostile wilderness so they could survive...while above all thankful to God.

Americans are prepared to celebrate Thanksgiving, today, over tables laden with delicacies. Gone are the Indians and wilderness...and all too often the prayers of Thanksgiving. What has happened?

Some believe the saying of grace has been affected by our abundance of food and hectic schedules. For the pilgrims, preparing for Thanksgiving was a whole year's work. Today, a short trip to the supermarket, and your harvest is complete. Our bounty is taken for granted.

Too often the saying of grace gets lost in the unpredictable and hurried routine of modern living. Yet, the custom is as old as eating. Excavations of prehistoric dwellings have uncovered small dish-like altars which were used to make food offerings to gods. Practically all cultures have had prayers to remind them that no human act, however basic to existence, ought to be performed without giving thanks to the Creator.

"Whether you eat or drink, or whatsoever you do", Paul told the faithful, "do all to the Glory of God."

In a time of world troubles, the daily reminders that there is a Giver of gifts, a power greater than ourselves, will furnish us with spiritual strength just as the abundance of our tables gives us our physical strength, and strong family relationships can give us the inner strength we need to be good citizens and useful people. What better time is there to begin putting "thanks" back in Thanksgiving.

Will you?

POVERTY VERSUS EDUCATION

In the war against poverty there are those who look for immediate results and who are forever doomed to disappointment. There are the ones who see immaculate streets and shining cities replacing the slums overnight; the old and decrepit schools, with still more tired and weary teachers, turned by a trick of the hand into educational dream of tomorrow, and the unemployment figures reduced to zero in a fortnight. Their eagerness for equality, their zealotry for justice, and their sympathy for the underdog clouds their vision and prevents them from recognizing the slow and somewhat torturous road that constructive change must travel. In their impatience, they decry efforts which do not bring instant results and cite figures to prove their point.

As employment is the single best way to keep poverty from one's doorstep, these critics quote the labor market reports to corroborate their position that today's energies to make the poor affluent are ineffective. In a sense their figures are correct, for over the past ten years the unemployment rate of non-whites has remained double that for whites. In 1955, the respective rates were 3.6 and 7.9%; in 1960, they were 5.0 and 10.2%; whereas in March of this year they were exactly double -- 4.6% as opposed to 9.2%. In a like manner, the median income of white families has been much greater in each of the past 15 years. Although the economic picture has improved, it is always harder for the non-white to get a job than for the white and more difficult for him to rise out of the mire of poverty.

In the face of such bold employment and income statistics it is hard for the gradulist to make his point regardless of the vast amount of legislation to improve the economic conditions of the poor.

All of the above facts are true despite the efforts by the Manpower Development and Training Act, the Area Redevelopment and the act of more recent times, for which many of our adults who are attending the free night classes to better their education, the Economic Opportunity Act.

In looking at the works of Economic Opportunity Act, it is true that education is a necessity. Lack of education may in fact become the last refuge of all the poverty, shall we call it a scoundrel, but education is still the soundest and surest way of achieving an upward movement of one's economic and social position. To be sure, it is slow, time consuming, and demands the ability to delay gratification of one's desires. But the rewards accrue not only to those children and their children's children. Remember, "education begets education."

For the impatient therefore, who see in every program sponsored under the Economic Opportunity Act, another fiasco, it would be wise to take a view on high and see therein the educational values which will reap rewards in years to come.

A Bouquet For The President

A bouquet from America's heart so dear

To the President, in his brief pause here.

One of flowery praise and honor
Whose blossoms are lit with Heaven's cheer.

To him whose soul ascends to Heaven

From a saddened world, stunned with shock,

To God, who made him wise and might,

The tender of His flock.

Yet, in this tragedy is God's virtue?

Through bells of sorrow chime not to cease.

Heaven's gates are swinging open
While a fate struck world has no peace

A casson was drawn by six white horses

That bore America's hero within.

His body shall soon be the dust,

But never shall he be abused again.

To Whom It May Concern ...A Memorial To JFK

by DONNELL DAVID PRICE

(ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Donnell David Price, 26, is a composer. He is a native of Temple, Texas but now resides at 2603 Noble Street, Houston. Price says he had been offered "a few hundred dollars" for this article by a member of a literary organ unknown to many and rarely seen by members of the minority group to which Price belongs. He said he felt that it would be more of more mental value to him to allow FORWARD TIMES to publish it. FORWARD TIMES respectfully suggests that you drop Mr. Price a card or line of thanks for expressing the thoughts of many. Price told FORWARD TIMES: "It is very rare that we, of the minority groups of the South have an opportunity to express our opinion--and it is something unusual for our material to be used for anything worthwhile and to our advantage.")

WHERE THERE are miraculous thoughts about great people, millions are concerned.

I THINK that it is better late than never in telling the nation.

AGAIN, a wonderful thing about writing an expression of this kind is that at the end of every sentence, the words do not have to rhyme.

SO, I FEEL like this... TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

AS WE ALL know, a great martyr has gone. The man I'm referring to is our late President

John F. Kennedy.

HE WAS asked one day about commitment, "I can take care of that, I think," he said. And he did when he accepted the bullet, one that struck him in the head.

I HEARD one say that the minority has lost their best friend. But I am pleased to write that he believed in justice, and died for all mankind.

HE HAD great influence on most of the people. This is what I hear. But I know first, before he could do this, he must have

readers remember

made them believe, and know that he cared.

HE ONLY expressed his best opinion and he didn't let this nation down. For when there were too many missiles in Cuba, he stopped, and stood his ground.

HE WAS A very humorous person, although his work was no charm. But in giving some of his TV news conference, he made them seem like fun. If he made any mistakes, I am sure he

CARD OF THANKS

SWORN IN BUSSED: Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris (left) receives a kiss from her mother, Mrs. Hildren Roberts of Chicago, after Mrs. Harris was sworn in as U.S. Ambassador to Luxembourg at the U.S. State Department.

Mrs. Harris, formerly an assistant professor of law at Howard University, will succeed Ambassador William R. Rivkin, who left his post recently.

NY Policeman Sues Dr. Martin L. King For Million, Half

ATLANTA-(Special)-Charging that Dr. Martin Luther King maliciously defamed him in the shooting death of a Negro teenager in New York last year, Police Lt. Thomas R. Gilligan of New York filed a $1.5 million slander suit against Dr. King.

Gilligan shot and killed James Powell last summer after he said the youth attacked him. A grand jury and departmental investigation later cleared the police lieutenant of charges that he had fired hastily and without justification.

The suit, filed in U.S. District court here asserts that Dr. King said publicly last July 27th, "Murder has been committed. The shooting of Powell was Murder."

meant no harm. For most of the things he attempted to do were well done.

HE WAS A great husband and father. He saw that his immediate family was well fed. Then he gave his earnings to charity and the Red Cross so that they could have better aid. These organizations I am sure cannot easily forget, not for what they have done for him, but for what he has done for them.

GREATNESS is not something you hear of today and have to be reminded of tomorrow. It is something you remember a lifetime and hear everywhere you go.

REMEMBER ONE great president stopped slavery, another stopped the war. But the one I'm referring to stopped the steel strike and got the flying soldiers back.

NOW WE HAVE another brilliant

President to fill Mr. Kennedy's space. But once you are actually great, no one can take your place. But there can be two GREATS and he also need our support. So let's take him by the hand and remember that he too is only a man.

LET US bow our heads for a moment of meditation! Dear God I know not how to pray openly. For this I am sure you understand. Your power and greatness are the most majestic known to all mankind. Father, as I write this, I am sure that my thoughts are clear. I pray that you give me strength to get this published so that everyone can hear. Father, I questioned Thee once, why did Thee let this tragic thing happen to us? Then I thought, Thou art a jealous God, and let not our will, but Thy will be done.

A-men.

Practically all cultures have had prayers to remind them that no human act, however basic to existence, ought to be performed without giving thanks to the Creator.

"Whether you eat or drink, or whatsoever you do", Paul told the faithful, "do all to the Glory of God."

In a time of world troubles, the daily reminders that there is a Giver of gifts, a power greater than ourselves, will furnish us with spiritual strength just as the abundance of our tables gives us our physical strength, and strong family relationships can give us the inner strength we need to be good citizens and useful people. What better time is there to begin putting "thanks" back in Thanksgiving.

Will you?

A Bouquet For The President

A bouquet from America's heart so dear

To the President, in his brief pause here.

One of flowery praise and honor
Whose blossoms are lit with Heaven's cheer.

To him whose soul ascends to Heaven
From a saddened world, stunned with shock,

To God, who made him wise and might,

The tender of His flock.

Yet, in this tragedy is God's virtue?

Through bells of sorrow chime not to cease.

Heaven's gates are swinging open
While a fate struck world has no peace

A casson was drawn by six white horses

That bore America's hero within.
His body shall soon be the dust,
But never shall he be abused again.

To Whom It May Concern ...A Memorial To JFK

by DONNELL DAVID PRICE

(ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Donnell David Price, 26, is a composer. He is a native of Temple, Texas but now resides at 2603 Noble Street, Houston. Price says he had been offered "a few hundred dollars" for this article by a member of a literary organ unknown to many and rarely seen by members of the minority group to which Price belongs. He said he felt that it would be more of more mental value to him to allow FORWARD TIMES to publish it. FORWARD TIMES respectfully suggests that you drop Mr. Price a card or line of thanks for expressing the thoughts of many. Price told FORWARD TIMES: "It is very rare that we, of the minority groups of the South have an opportunity to express our opinion--and it is something unusual for our material to be used for anything worthwhile and to our advantage.")

WHERE THERE are miraculous thoughts about great people, millions are concerned.

I THINK that it is better late than never in telling the nation.

AGAIN, a wonderful thing about writing an expression of this kind is that at the end of every sentence, the words do not have to rhyme.

SO, I FEEL like this... TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

AS WE ALL know, a great martyr has gone. The man I'm referring to is our late President

John F. Kennedy.

HE WAS asked one day about commitment, "I can take care of that, I think," he said. And he did when he accepted the bullet, one that struck him in the head.

I HEARD one say that the minority has lost their best friend. But I am pleased to write that he believed in justice, and died for all mankind.

HE HAD great influence on most of the people. This is what I hear. But I know first, before he could do this, he must have

readers remember

made them believe, and know that he cared.

HE ONLY expressed his best opinion and he didn't let this nation down. For when there were too many missiles in Cuba, he stopped, and stood his ground.

HE WAS A very humorous person, although his work was no charm. But in giving some of his TV news conference, he made them seem like fun. If he made any mistakes, I am sure he

CARD OF THANKS

Certainly I wish to take this method of thanking my many friends, members of Courts, Stars, and above all the church for the beautiful flowers, cards, food and gifts while being ill.

May God continue to bless each of you. Your visits helped me so much.

SWORN IN BUSSED: Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris (left) receives a kiss from her mother, Mrs. Hildren Roberts of Chicago, after Mrs. Harris was sworn in as U.S. Ambassador to Luxembourg at the U.S. State Department. Mrs. Harris, formerly an assistant professor of law at Howard University, will succeed Ambassador William R. Rivkin, who left his post recently.

NY Policeman Sues Dr. Martin L. King For Million, Half

ATLANTA-(Special)-Charging that Dr. Martin Luther King maliciously defamed him in the shooting death of a Negro teenager in New York last year, Police Lt. Thomas R. Gilligan of New York filed a $1.5 million slander suit against Dr. King.

Gilligan shot and killed James Powell last summer after he said the youth attacked him. A grand jury and departmental investigation later cleared the police lieutenant of charges that he had fired hastily and without justification.

The suit, filed in U.S. District court here asserts that Dr. King said publicly last July 27th, "Murder has been committed. The shooting of Powell was Murder."

meant no harm. For most of the things he attempted to do were well done.

HE WAS A great husband and father. He saw that his immediate family was well fed, then he gave his earnings to charity and the Red Cross so that they could have better aid. These organizations I am sure cannot easily forget, not for what they have done for him, but for what he has done for them.

GREATNESS is not something you hear of today and have to be reminded of tomorrow. It is something you remember a lifetime and hear everywhere you go.

REMEMBER ONE great president stopped slavery, another stopped the war. But the one I'm referring to stopped the steel strike and got the flying soldiers back.

NOW WE HAVE another brilliant President to fill Mr. Kennedy's space. But once you are actually great, no one can take your place. But there can be two GREATS and he also need our support. So let's take him by the hand and remember that he too is only a man.

LET US bow our heads for a moment of meditation! Dear God I know not how to pray openly. For this I am sure you understand. Your power and greatness are the most majestic known to all mankind. Father, as I write this, I am sure that my thoughts are clear. I pray that you give me strength to get this published so that everyone can hear. Father, I questioned Thee once, why did Thee let this tragic thing happen to us? Then I thought, Thou art a jealous God, and let not our will, but Thy will be done.

A-men.

Coronado Outlasts Dunbar 48-46

While last week was proclaimed as "Beat Arkansaw Week" by the Mayor of Lubbock, the fighting five from Dunbar were out-lasted by the quintet of Coronado High School. It was a split decision as far as schools were concerned, with the varsity of Coronado and the "B" squad of Dunbar each winning at Monterey Gym last Friday night.

The Mustangs took the varsity battle, 48-46. The Panthers copped the B-tilt, 51-41.

Cold weather has not yet arrived here, but there were several players who shot in double figures on both teams; Lynn Shuttleworth had 19 points and Mark Leaverton 10 for the Mustangs. James Gary of Dunbar hit the hoop for 18 points.

In the B-tilt, Dan Gobin got 15 points and Robert Sweatt added nine for Coronado. Dunbar high-pointers were James Skeif, 11 points; Jerry Phillips, 11; and John Hollins, 10 points.

IT WENT LIKE THIS:

STAB VICTIM

A local Lubbock man told police last Saturday morning that he was talking to his wife at the corner of 18th and Avenue B when a woman stabbed him in the shoulder. The cut was minor, however. The cut appeared to be located about two inches below the top of the shoulder on the right side of the chest. He refused to go to the hospital by an ambulance, but decided to go later by private vehicle. There were no charges filed as late as Monday.

Moral of the story; "Be careful of what you say these days, man".

FAMILY DISTURBANCE

Police arrived at a house where a 19-year old Lubbock lady had fired three shots into the window of another woman. After firing, according to the lady being fired at, she got into a '55 Pontiac station wagon, backed up and drove into the front of the house. Police found two bullet holes in the kitchen where apparently the rounds had hit.

The markswoman was apprehended by authorities. The fued was believed to have started over one of the girl's husband. As one of the young ladies' put it, and we may add rather strongly, "I'm tired of her messing around with my husband."

ROSE'S CAFE HIT AGAIN

For the second time in less than a week, someone has burglarized the well known Rose Room Cafe, at 1324 E. 24th Street. The owner, April Rose, told police that someone broke into her place of business by raising the window on the west side of the cafe and entered, taking an undetermined amount of gum, candy, one jar of pickles, three cartons of cigarettes, and also a roll of pennies valued at fifty cents. There were no suspects.

TEENAGERS STEAL HUBCAPS

Three Lubbock teenagers were arrested by juvenile authorities for stealing hubcaps from a car in the 2800 block of Redbud Avenue last week. The boys ages ranged from 13-16.

He said that the player had an "x" marked under the player located next to the release button. The thief really hit the jackpot for there were approximately thirty hit records in a box next to the player. Eddie said that the value of the theft was approximately $80.00.

Now, Augusta Tate who resides at 2206 Redbud Avenue, said her record player was stolen on the same night. It was learned that the car for which this record player was found in was not locked the night before, but the next morning upon discovering that the door was locked and the record player gone. The value of the player was believed to be $51.00.

Soldier Returns From Duty

P F C Arthur Kinney arrived from South Viet Nam in Oakland, California air terminal on the 18th of November and hee in Lubbock November 21st. He completed his Army career on the 19th of the month.

Arthur's viewpoint on the Viet Nam crisis is; "This type of war is very different than any other war that the U.S. has fought." He went on to add that the enemy is so "senaky", "and they have so many crude attacks, but as a whole he thinks that eventually the U.S. will conquer the war."

"I am thankful for all the prayers for the U.S. abroad, and I am hoping there will be a continuance of prayers for our troops in South Viet Nam." Kinney concluded.

LITTLE ROCK--Members of the state legislature were profuse in their commendations of Arkansas A&M college officials last week for the "prompt and courageous action" in dismissing Brent Davis, 27-year-old speech instructor for circulating petitions against state penal farm punishment.

The profuseness of the commendations stemmed in part from the fact that Davis has once hung a picture of the slain Black Nationalist leader, Malcolm X, on the wall of his room.

The instructor's dismissal occurred a day after news paper articles appeared reporting the opposition to prison whipping petitions.

Davis was also accused of disagreeing with American actions in Vietnam, advocating a ban on nuclear bombs in addition to being an agnostic.

Tan Wrangler

Bob Scott, wrangler-horse trainer for Universal TV's two-hour color telefilm for the CBS Television Network, "The Plainsman," starring Don Murray, Guy Stockwell, Abby Dalton, Brad Dillman and Henry Silva, is every bit the long-legged, daring, wide open-spaces variety of western cowboy and rodeo man kids have emulated for decades.

Scott also happens to be a Negro.

"But I never thought about that until I came to Hollywood," says Bob. "People here—both Negro and white—seemed surprised to learn that there are men of color working rodeos and stables throughout the West. Most don't even realize that it was a Negro, Bill Pickett, who invented bulldogging, one of rodeo's most popular events."

Born in New Mexico, Bob was destined from the start to be a wrangler. He was on a horse before he could walk and rode bulls before he reached his teens. He first gained national prominence when he rode a bucking Brama bull into a Palm Spring hotel as part of Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign.

Since then Scott has trained horses and stunt riders for several movies, including "Look Out Sister" and "Borderline" and a Screen Actors Guild member himself, has acted in films with Alan Ladd and Gene Autry. He was also under contract to Astro Pictures in New York.

Presently affiliated with the

Rocking Horse Stables in Burbank, Calif., and the proprietor of his own stables in Saugus, California, Bob boasts that at least one member of his family is following in his footsteps. His four-year-old daughter, Juanita, is billed as "The youngest bull rider in the business."

FEDERATION OF CHOIRS

The Federation of Choirs will be held at the New Hope Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon with the host church being Rising Star Baptist. Please come out and witness this remarkable array of talent from all the churches throughout the city.

THE CHURCH IS COSTING TOO MUCH

"The Church is costing too much", said a complainer to another member of the church. "Money, money, they're always asking for money."

The other member replied: "I want to tell you a story right out of my own life. Some years ago a little boy was born in my home, and from the time he was born, he cost me money. I had to buy food and clothes, and medicine and toys, and finally a puppy dog. Then he started to school and the cost was even greater. When in college, he became gravely ill and died, and he has not cost me a single cent from that time on...not a single cent..." and he brushed away a tear.

As long as the church lives and exerts any influence in the world for good it will cost money. As long as Christianity lives and has influence in your home and community and helps guide this world that is grop-

In Sister Wheeler's life she exemplified the noble virtues taught in our chapter. We can see it mean something to be a true Eastern Star.

The "Blue Star" signifies many important advantages to home buyers. It means design that emphasizes individuality... expert construction from top quality building materials... and perhaps most important of all, the Blue Star means the ultimate in comfort and convenience to be found only with dependable G&M appliances.

And the Blue Star means outstanding household economy... for with all G&M appliances the average family can save $10,000 or more over a 20-year mortgage period.

Yes, the Blue Star means greatest thing for the family who owns one... and it's the "star" sign to look for if you're a prospective home buyer.

The Police Beat

By: T. J. Patterson

IT WENT LIKE THIS:

STAB VICTIM

A local Lubbock man told police last Saturday morning that he was talking to his wife at the corner of 18th and Avenue B when a woman stabbed him in the shoulder. The cut was minor, however. The cut appeared to be located about two inches below the top of the shoulder on the right side of the chest. He refused to go to the hospital by an ambulance, but decided to go later by private vehicle. There were no charges filed as late as Monday.

Moral of the story; "Be careful of what you say these days, man".

FAMILY DISTURBANCE

Police arrived at a house where a 19-year old Lubbock lady had fired three shots into the window of another woman. After firing, according to the lady being fired at, she got into a '55 Pontiac station wagon, backed up and drove into the front of the house. Police found two bullet holes in the kitchen where apparently the rounds had hit.

The markswoman was apprehended by authorities. The feud was believed to have started over one of the girl's husband. As one of the young ladies' put it, and we may add rather strongly, "I'm tired of her messing around with my husband."

ROSE'S CAFE HIT AGAIN

For the second time in less than a week, someone has burglarized the well known Rose Room Cafe, at 1324 E. 24th Street. The owner, April Rose, told police that someone broke into her place of business by raising the window on the west side of the cafe and entered, taking an undetermined amount of gum, candy, one jar of pickles, three cartons of cigarettes, and also a roll of pennies valued at fifty cents. There were no suspects.

TEENAGERS STEAL HUBCAPS

last week. Perhaps the thief had a taste for the TATES.

The first victim, Eddie Tate of 2611 Walnut, reported that his 1961 Ford was parked at his residence when his Philco car record player, installed on his dashboard, was taken. He said that the player had an "x" marked under the player located next to the release button. The thief really hit the jackpot for there were approximately thirty hit records in a box next to the player. Eddie said that the value of the theft was approximately $80.00.

Now, Augusta Tate who resides at 2206 Redbud Avenue, said her record player was stolen on the same night. It was learned that the car for which this record player was found in was not locked the night before, but the next morning upon discovering that the door was locked and the record player gone. The value of the player was believed to be $51.00.

Soldier Returns From Duty

P F C Arthur Kinney arrived from South Viet Nam in Oakland, California air terminal on the 18th of November and hee in Lubbock November 21st. He completed his Army career on the 19th of the month.

Arthur's viewpoint on the Viet Nam crisis is; "This type of war is very different than any other war that the U.S. has fought." He went on to add that the enemy is so "senaky", "and they have so many crude attacks, but as a whole he thinks that eventually the U.S. will conquer the war."

"I am thankful for all the prayers for the U.S. abroad, and I am hoping there will be a continuance of prayers for our troops in South Viet Nam." Kinney concluded.

LITTLE ROCK--Members of the state legislature were profuse in their commendations of Arkansas A&M college officials last week for the "prompt and courageous action" in dismissing Brent Davis, 27-year-old speech instructor for circulating petitions against state penal farm punishment.

The profuseness of the commendations stemmed in part from the fact that Davis has once hung a picture of the slain Black Nationalist leader, Malcolm X, on the wall of his room.

The instructor's dismissal occurred a day after news paper articles appeared reporting the opposition to prison whipping petitions.

Davis was also accused of disagreeing with American actions in Vietnam, advocating a ban on nuclear bombs in addition to being an agnostic.

Tan Wrangler

Bob Scott, wrangler-horse trainer for Universal TV's two-hour color telefilm for the CBS Television Network, "The Plainman," starring Don Murray, Guy Stockwell, Abby Dalton, Brad Dillman and Henry Silva, is every bit the long-legged, daring, wide open-spaces variety of western cowboy and rodeo man kids have emulated for decades.

Scott also happens to be a Negro.

"But I never thought about that until I came to Hollywood," says Bob. "People here—both Negro and white—seemed surprised to learn that there are men of color working rodeos and stables throughout the West. Most don't even realize that it was a Negro, Bill Pickett, who invented bulldogging, one of rodeo's most popular events."

Born in New Mexico, Bob was destined from the start to be a wrangler. He was on a horse before he could walk and rode bulls before he reached his teens. He first gained national prominence when he rode a bucking Brama bull into a Palm Spring hotel as part of Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign.

Since then Scott has trained horses and stunt riders for several movies, including "Look Out Sister" and "Borderline" and a Screen Actors Guild member himself, has acted in films with Alan Ladd and Gene Autry. He was also under contract to Astro Pictures in New York.

Presently affiliated with the

Rocking Horse Stables in Burbank, Calif., and the proprietor of his own stables in Saugus, California, Bob boasts that at least one member of his family is following in his footsteps. His four-year-old daughter, Juanita, is billed as "The youngest bull rider in the business."

urch, was the conductor.

FEDERATION OF CHOIRS

The Federation of Choirs will be held at the New Hope Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon with the host church being Rising Star Baptist. Please come out and witness this remarkable array of talent from all the churches throughout the city.

THE CHURCH IS COSTING TOO MUCH

"The Church is costing too much", said a complainer to another member of the church. "Money, money, they're always asking for money."

The other member replied: "I want to tell you a story right out of my own life. Some years ago a little boy was born in my home, and from the time he was born, he cost me money. I had to buy food and clothes, and medicine and toys, and finally a puppy dog. Then he started to school and the cost was even greater. When in college, he became gravely ill and died, and he has not cost me a single cent from that time on...not a single cent..." and he brushed away a tear.

As long as the church lives and exerts any influence in the world for good it will cost money. As long as Christianity lives and has influence in your home and community and helps guide this world that is grop-

We the members are sending a special thanks to Sister L. McCutcheon who played an important part doing the services. Sister Wheeler walked among us in constancy and with courage, and in departing she has left a memory of her loveliness for each of us. She maintained the high principles of the Marshall Chapter #796, and "last professed a good profession before many witnesses."

In Sister Wheeler's life she exemplified the noble virtues taught in our chapter. We can see it mean something to be a true Eastern Star.
