13 Year-Old Activist Carries Olympic Torch to Honour Children of the World

Toronto, Ontario – Bilaal Rajan, the 13 year-old UNICEF Children's Ambassador, youth activist, best-selling author and fundraiser, carried the Olympic flame through the streets of Toronto on Thursday. He was chosen to participate by the Royal Bank of Canada.

"Carrying the torch was an amazing experience and an incredible honour," said Rajan, whose relay started at the entrance of Sick Kids Hospital. He ran through the freezing temperatures to help raise awareness of child poverty in developing countries. "Too many young people in the world today lack basic necessities such as clean drinking water, health care and education."

Barely a teenager, the Toronto-based children's and environmental activist is already a force to be reckoned with. An accomplished writer, Rajan's book, Making Change: Tips from an Underage Overachiever (160 pages, Orca Book Publishers), shows people how they can take charge and make a difference in their communities, no matter what their age. "The Olympics have such an important message of international cooperation, peace and friendship, and just to participate in this event was overwhelming," said Rajan.

At 4, Rajan stepped up to take on the problems of the world by selling clementine oranges door-to-door raising money for victims of the 2001 earthquake in

Bilaal Rajan, the 13 year-old UNICEF Children's Ambassador

Gujarat, India. Since then, he has raised millions of dollars for children's causes. At 7, he founded Making Change Now, an organization dedicated to heightening awareness of youth and environmental issues and fundraising for those in need. In March 2005, he was chosen as an official Children's Ambassador for UNICEF Canada.

"From an early age," says Rajan, "I could see that millions of other young people around the world didn't have it so good. I realized two specific things: that I had to get involved and make a difference, and that I would need a lot of help in order to make that change."

Rajan recently created a new website, SudokuHub.com, where users can play the numeric-based puzzle that is sweeping the world in popularity. But unlike other gaming sites, SudokuHub.com will allow users to play and raise funds to provide food for malnourished children in developing countries.

"We wanted to find a way where young people could have fun while making a difference during the holiday season. After all, this is the time of year to give," says Rajan. "We expect the site to become the leading destination for online Sudoku players around the world."

Young people can make a difference!

EVERYTHING ABOUT KWANZAA...

DEFINITION OF KWANZAA Kwanzaa is a unique African American celebration with focus on the traditional African values of family, community responsibility, commerce, and self-improvement. Kwanzaa is neither political nor religious and despite some misconceptions, is not a substitute for Christmas. It is simply a time of reaffirming African-American people, their ancestors and culture. Kwanzaa, which means "first fruits of the harvest" in the African language Kiswahili, has gained tremendous acceptance. Since its founding in 1966 by Dr. Maulana Karenga, Kwanzaa has come to be observed by more than 18 million people worldwide, as reported by the New York Times. When establishing Kwanzaa in 1966, Dr. Karenga included an additional "a" to the end of the spelling to reflect the difference between the African American celebration (kwanzaa) and the Motherland spelling (kwanza). Kwanzaa is based on the Nguzo Saba (seven guiding principles), one for each day of the observance, and is celebrated from December 26th to January 1st.

Umoja (oo-MO-jah) Unity stresses the importance of togetherness for the family and the community, which is reflected in the African saying, "I am We," or "I am because We are." Kujichagulia (koo-gee-cha-goo-LEE-yah) Self-Determination requires that we define our common interests and make decisions that are in the best interest

From the Desk of Parson D.A. Smith
 "Who is in Charge of Thinking for Christian African Americans?"

We Thank God for Jesus
 "Christmas For Christ Or Merchandise"

The thought of "who is in charge of thinking for Christian African Americans" came to mind when I accidentally stumbled upon an article written by David D. Kirkpatrick and published by the New York Times Magazine December 16, 2009.

This article appears to have enforced the hypocrisy of the modern day "conservative movement" that is bent toward hell on pushing their way of thinking upon all Americans from: religion, separation of race, politics, economics, etc toward the idea that if it is not the white conservative way of thinking, it is not the "Owl Monkey's mark when it left the limb."

The following are from the article titled: "The Conservative-Christian Thinker."

On a September afternoon, about 60 prominent Christians assembled in the library of the Metropolitan Club on the east side of Central Park. It was a gathering of unusual diversity and power. Many in attendance were conservative evangelicals like the born-again Watergate felon Chuck Colson, who helped initiate the meeting. Metropolitan Jonah, the primate of the Orthodox Church in America, was there as well. And so were more than half a dozen of this country's most influential Roman Catholic bishops, including Archbishop Timothy Dolan of New York, Archbishop John Myers of Newark and Cardinal Justin Rigali of Philadelphia. At the center of the event was Robert P. George, a Princeton University professor of jurisprudence and a Roman Catholic who is this country's most influential conservative Christian thinker. Dressed in his usual uniform of three-piece suit, New College, Oxford cuff links and rimless glasses, George convened the meeting with a note of thanks and a reminder of its purpose. Alarmed at the liberal takeover of Washington and an apparent leadership vacuum among the Christian right, the group had come together to warn the country's secular powers that the culture wars had not ended. As a starting point, George had drafted a 4,700-word manifesto that promised resistance to the point of civil disobedience against any legislation that might implicate their churches or charities in abortion, embryo-destructive research or same-sex marriage.

...It's part of a philosophy that has found support among a group of Catholic bishops who have become some of the most persistent critics of President Obama and the Congressional Democrats. George serves as their intellectual point man (Note: this lay lawyer appears to be their Baal High Priest). In the past few years, many of the evangelical Protestants who once defined the religious right have turned away after their disappointment with President George W. Bush. In their place, George's friends among the Catholic bishops have stepped to the fore, hammering Obama Pro for his pro-choice Catholic cabinet nominees, for being invited to speak at Notre Dame's commencement, for his stem-cell research policies and most recently for his health care proposals.

Isaiah 9:6 -- For unto us a child is born. Unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulders. And his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

The woman brought stamps at the post office. The other day, a deep frown or madness overcame her smile. That was on her face.

As she looked at the stamps of Mary holding Baby Jesus. She said, they are now putting religion in Christmas. I don't believe it!!!

Mark 7:6 -- Jesus said, we'll have E-sai'as prophesied of you hypocrites. As it is written, t his people honor me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

(I spell Xmas this way, because it is not God's business. Can you tell the drug dealer's house of lights his Xmas trees, his shopping bags? Anytime the sinner wants in on it not about God!!! Many of many people play the Xmas game, saying I love you, and will buy things to try and show it. Buying presents, trees, toys, lights and lying Santa Claus. They have nothing to do with God's business. The stories make a killing this time of the year, because of the game the world is playing. Think!!! If there was a birthday party celebration, do you give a gift to one another. Or to whom the celebration is for??? God gave his gift. It was as Jesus. God's business is saving souls. Do you want to give a gift? Give yourself to God. Your soul would be the gift to God!!! You be the gift!!!

***** WILL YOUR CHRISTMAS ROB GOD OF HIS GIFT??? *******

That's another trick of the Devil. We're not to celebrate Jesus' Birthday. God wants mankind to believe on the death and resurrection of Jesus to be saved.

John 3:17 -- Jesus said, for God sent His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved.

Jesus died for the world and all their sins. The world believes

Him not. People lie to their children, telling them: Santa gave the toys you got!!!

***** Will Santa Claus Rob God??? *******

(Here is wisdom: Luke 1:25 -- In the sixth month, Mary got pregnant. Makes it June and nine months it's March. The Spring of the year. **** What Shepherd in his right mine. Would be in the fields in the dead of winter time? And that is a time to be in the fields! Spring time.)

Luke 1:26a - 27a -- In the sixth month, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph.

***** WILL RED RIBBONS - CANDY CANES AND JINGLE BELLS. ROB GOD??? *******

The Wise Men showed respect. Gave gifts of Frankincense, Myrrh and Gold, but like King Herod and Santa Claus. Jesus' glory has now been stolen!!!

Sunday School got underway last Sunday morning with our Assistant Superintendent Sister Annie Onasanya in charge.

The subject of the morning lesson was "A Unique Birth." The scripture text was Matthew 1:18-25. The Unifying Topic was "Immanuel Is Born."

The teacher of the morning lesson was Rev. J. Brown. The review was given by Pastor Canady. The main thought of the Sunday School Lesson was: "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." Matthew 1:21.

The Morning Worship Hour begun at 11:00 a. m. The morning devotion was led by Sister Onasanya and Sister Barbara Johnson.

The St. Matthew Baptist Choir sung out of their hearts and souls.

The morning message was delivered by Pastor Canady. His subject was "The Real Purpose of Christmas Is To Worship." The scripture text was Luke 2:10-11 and Matthew 2:1-8. The Song of Inspiration was "When The Gates Swing Open."

The weekly meetings held at St. Matthew Baptist Church are as follows:

Mission meets on Wednesday evenings at 5:00 p. m.

Bible Study is held on Wednesday evenings at 6:00 p.m.

Choir Rehearsal is held on Friday evenings at 5:00 p. m.

The morning announcements are read last Sunday morning by First Lady Sister Shirley Canady.

Let us pray for our sick and shut-in of the Lubbock Community. Your prayers are welcome.

The Members, First Lady and Pastor Canady of the St. Matthew Baptist Church wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year!

*Shout to the Lord,
 All the earth,
 Let us sing power and majesty. Praise to the King; Mountains bow down and the seas will roar at the sound of Your Name.*

Thought For The Week:
 "Our thoughts about God should lead us to Joyful Praise."

Although we are almost about to enter a New Year, as we sit around our homes and dinner tables during these holidays, why not just reflect on how God has been to all of us. If you really take a real hard look, it should make want to shout and just call His name: Jesus!

If you are looking for a Church Home, then come and visit with us at the St. Matthew Baptist Church. When you come, bring a family member with you.

Remember our doors are always open to you and your family. Just be careful, and remember the reason for the Season! God Bless each of you until next week!

Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast thought this would be good to read so all would know who's birthday we're celebrating.

Luke 2: 1-24

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus 2 that the whole world should be enrolled.

2 This was the first enrollment, when Quirinius was governor of Syria.

3 So all went to be enrolled, each to his own town.

4 And Joseph too went up from Galilee from the town of Nazareth to Judea, to the city of David that is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David,

5 to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.

6 While they were there, the time came for her to have her child.

7 and she gave birth to her first-born son. 3 She wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 Now there were shepherds in that region living in the fields and keeping the night watch over their flock.

9 The angel of the Lord appeared to them and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were struck with great fear.

10 The angel said to them, "Do not be afraid; for behold, I proclaim to you good news of great joy that will be for all the people.

11 For today in the city of David a savior has been born for you who is Messiah and Lord.

12 And this will be a sign for you: you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."

13 And suddenly there was a multitude of the heavenly host with the angel, praising God and saying:

14 "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to those on whom his favor rests."

15 When the angels went away from them to heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go, then, to Bethlehem to see this thing that has taken place, which the Lord has made known to us."

16 So they went in haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in the manger.

17 When they saw this, they made known the message that had been told them about this child.

18 All who heard it were amazed by what had been told them by the shepherds.

19 And Mary kept all these things, reflecting on them in her heart.

20 Then the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, just as it had been told to them.

21 When eight days were completed for his circumcision, 7 he was named Jesus, the name given him by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 When the days were completed for their purification 9 according to the law of Moses, they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord,

23 just as it is written in the law of the Lord, "Every male that opens the womb shall be consecrated to the Lord,"

24 and to offer the sacrifice of "a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons," in accordance with the dictate in the law of the Lord.

Archbishop Charles Chaput of Denver, the informal leader of this side of the American church gave a much publicized speech denouncing Obama as "the most committed abortion rights candidate in history." The Archbishop chose to publish his remarks on the Web site of a think tank co-founded by George (the lawyer who appears to know the mind of God and as sit beside God in Jesus' seat) —the man who had himself argued in an essay disseminated widely last fall through conservative circles, Fox News and Christian radio that Barack Obama was "the most extreme pro-abortion candidate ever to seek" the presidency.

Black America needs to become aware and filter out the underlying intent of these so-called agents of God. We as a people do not need any Conservative to think for us. The acts of so-called Christian conservatives once enslaved our fore-fathers and mothers and our very being. The ills of conservatism toward other human beings pressed on John Newton, an Anglican priest and once upon a time Black slave trafficker heart so much so he wrote "Amazing grace how sweet the sound that saved a wretch like me!"

THINK ABOUT IT!

"2009 Is Fading Away; 2010 Is Almost Here!"

by Eddie P. Richardson

Yesterday is gone tomorrow is not here! So let's be in love with today. Everything you could or did not accomplish in the past, it's too late because, you cannot recapture time. It's gone never to return, so look to today and look for tomorrow because, yesterday is gone forever. We must or at least we should remember the season and the reason we celebrate, starting with Thanksgiving.

Almost years end, be thankful for our good fortune and blessings during the year, beginning with the Indians and Pilgrims. Many years ago, they even took time out from their funding and fighting to break bread and give thanks for their successful crops and other blessings through out the year. In this modern day, instant, electronic, digital, cyber age, we take every thing for granted, the world or everybody owes us something, when in reality, no one owes us a darn thing. We owe it to ourselves to do for ourselves, and help ourselves because, a person with faith and determination can be or do anything they want to do. Or be if they are willing to work at it and pay the price. No one said it would be easy but, anything is possible again if you are willing to work at it and pay the price. We should all take a quick lesson in history and see why the season or holiday we just celebrated began Thanksgiving and the one we are approaching Christmas, not XMAS and realize the true meaning and spirit of both days and our whole attitude would change. They were not about getting or receiving, not about big commercial days for the merchants but about giving, sharing, and thanking for life, liberty, and happiness for some celebrating the birth of a Savior. So any way, we look at it, we have strayed away in the wrong direction. Think about it!!

Have a Very Happy Holiday Season!

State Representative Carl Isett Will Not Seek 8th Term WEST TEXAS LOSES A TRUE CONSERVATIVE STATESMAN

Respected State Representative, Carl Isett, announced today that he will not seek an eighth term to the Texas House of Representatives. Originally elected in 1996, Isett has served the local community for 13 years with honor and distinction. When asked about his decision to step back from the political spotlight, Isett seemed eager to focus on his bright future. "I am excited to enter a new season of my life," he stated. Isett is known for his strong conservative philosophy and leadership in reforming state government. He served on a myriad of committees during his tenure in office; however, he cites his most significant work as serving on the Appropriations Committee and, most recently, as Chairman of the influential Sunset Commission.

When asked about his immediate future, Isett responded, "I am looking forward to new opportunities and challenges specifically regarding my Navy career." Isett serves in the United States Navy Reserve where he holds the rank of Commander and currently is a Commanding Officer in the Defense Logistics Agency. "Of course, I will also continue to be actively engaged in the discourse of important issues facing our state and a nation," he noted.

"It has been a great honor and blessing to serve the West Texas area," said Isett. "The support that I've been given over the last 13 years has been so humbling, and I am very thankful to have had this opportunity. I want to thank the many members of my staff who gave so much of themselves in the process. Perhaps more important, I want to thank my family for their support through the years and the incredible sacrifices they have made to allow me to serve the citizens of Lubbock."

'Tis the season to be joyful and frugal, for the New Year cometh. If we waste a lot now, times in the New Year will not be as fruitful as we perhaps want them to be. This time of the year, most us wish everyone a happy holiday season and make an effort to see that in some way, that those individuals who are alone or without, have a nice holiday meal on Christmas day. For many of us, the food we waste during the year could feed a family for at least six months out of the year.

One of the ways that we waste food is looking at the expiration date on the food we buy and taking it literally. This date is usually a reminder of the usefulness of food. It is not necessarily the date to throw it in the garbage. Take milk for instance; the expiration date may be December 23, 2009, but when you smell or taste it on December 25, it is still edible. You can drink it from a glass or put it on your cereal. If it is sour and not yet clabber, you can cook with it. Sour milk makes good cornbread; clabber milk does too, if you know how to use it. Most young people follow expiration dates religiously. They waste a lot of food. Many stores give food with expired dates to non-profit institutions which feed the poor and hungry.

I bought a smoked turkey breast for Thanksgiving and cooked it according to the directions and had a delicious dinner. Days following Thanksgiving, no one eating at my house would eat the turkey. I had turkey sandwiches for a week, turkey salad the next week and turkey soup the third week. It was all good turkey. The turkey had been smoked which is a form of 'curing' meat. Young people who never lived or visited a farm do not know very much about 'curing' meat such as turkey, ham, bacon etc. If a store label says it has an expiration date, they will not eat it after that date; a waste!

Eating leftovers is another area which our youths usually will not participate. They eat so much 'fast food' until if it does not look like Mac Something or Super Something, they would rather not eat. Most leftovers are good to eat for several days. I learned to listen to food and know if it is still good to eat, especially after it has been properly stored. When you listen to leftovers and there is no sound coming from the food, it is fitting to eat. If you hear popping and any kind of gurgling sound coming from the food, do not heat it or eat it. Throw it out. My mother taught me how to do that. Our youth does not care to learn.

One thing to remember is not to keep stuffing in the turkey. If you cook it in the turkey, take it out as soon as it is finished cooking and store it separately. To be really safe, cook your dressing Prosperity-Texas released its 2009 Legislative Report Card to taxpayers today with the help of Santa Claus, who read the names of legislators who made the "Nice" list by earning an A for the 81st Texas Legislative Session and those who made the "Naughty" list by earning a D or F.

"A number of legislators earned good grades this year. As result of their work, Texas is doing relatively well," said AFP State Director Peggy Venable. "Texas remains the beacon of fiscal sanity in this country because of the leadership of these legislators. Our legislative leaders - Governor Rick Perry, Lt. Gov. ### Man exonerated, freed from prison after 35 years

BARTOW, Fla. - James Bain used a cell phone for the first time Thursday, calling his elderly mother to tell her he had been freed after 35 years behind bars for a crime he did not commit.

James Bain

Bain spent more time in prison than any of the 246 inmates previously exonerated by DNA evidence nationwide, according to the project. The longest-serving before him was James Lee Woodard of Dallas, who was released last year after spending more than 27 years in prison for a murder he did not commit.

As Bain walked out of the ages us to look within ourselves and to set personal goals that are beneficial to the community.

Polk County courthouse Thursday, wearing a black T-shirt that said "not guilty," he spoke of his deep faith and said he does not harbor any anger.

"No, I'm not angry," he said. "Because I've got God."

The 54-year-old said he looks forward to eating fried turkey and drinking Dr Pepper. He said he also hopes to go back to school.

Friends and family surrounded him as he left the courthouse after Judge James Yancey ordered him freed. His 77-year-old mother, who is in poor health, preferred to wait for him at home. With a broad smile, he said he looks forward to spending time with her and the rest of his family.

CELEBRATING KWANZAA

As it is always better to get an early start, I suggest that you begin the first week in December by making a check list for the following items: A Kinara (candle holder); Mkeka (placemat preferably made of straw); Mazao (crops, i.e., fruits and vegetables); Vibunzi/Muhindi (ears of corn to reflect the number of children in the household); Kikombe cha umoja (communal unity cup); Mishumaa saba (seven candles, one black, three red, and three green); and Zawadi (gifts that are enriching).

It is important that the Kinara not be confused with the menorah.* The Kinara holds seven candles to reflect the seven principles which are the foundation of Kwanzaa. If you don't have a Kinara and don't know where to get one, it is suggested that you use "kuumba" (creativity) and make one. A 2x4 or a piece of driftwood will do just fine, and screw-in candle holders can be purchased in most hardware stores. The Mkeka (place mat) shouldn't present a problem. While straw is suggested because it is traditional, cloth makes an adequate substitute. If cloth is used, one with an African print is preferred. The other symbols are easy to come by and warrant no further discussion other than to caution against placing the Mazao (crops) in a cornucopia which is Western. A plain straw basket or a bowl will do just fine. One last note, even households without any children should place an ear of corn on the place mat to symbolize the African concept of social parenthood. All seven symbols are creatively placed on top of the place mat, i.e., the symbols should be attractively arranged as they form the Kwanzaa centerpiece.

DECORATING THE HOME The Kinara along with the other symbols of Kwanzaa should dominate the room, which should be given an African motif. This is easily achieved and shouldn't result in too much expense. The colors of Kwanzaa are black, red and green. This should be kept in mind when decorating the home.

Chris Henry Dies

injuries Wednesday night as "life-threatening." He was taken to the Carolinas Medical Center in Charlotte.

The 26-year-old receiver played for the Bengals for five seasons but was on the injured reserve list after suffering a dislocated forearm during a November 8 game against the Baltimore Ravens. The 6-foot-4, 200-pound Henry caught 12 passes for 236 yards and two touchdowns in eight games before being hurt.

An article on the Bengals Web site called Henry "one of the best comeback stories in the NFL" before being injured, saying he had rebuilt "his life and career in a three-year climb from a series of off-field problems."

The problems, the article said, included four arrests, three NFL suspensions and a release from the Bengals in April 2008. But Henry had since "put his life back together," according to the article.

"He's a big part of what we are," left tackle Andrew Whitworth said in the article. "I really admire how he carries himself, how he's changed his life, and how he's made his career his passion. That's what this team has done. He's one of the guys that has helped give this team that attitude."

Mike Brown, the club's president, told reporters Thursday he didn't regret giving Henry a second chance.

Watch team management reflect on Henry's life

Henry had "finally seemingly reached the point where everything was going to blossom, and he was going to have the future that we all wanted for him and he wanted for himself. And then this tragedy cut him down," Brown said. "It's a terrible tragedy that just at the time he was running to daylight, if you will, his life was snuffed out."

Funeral details were pending and will be released later, Brown

Lewis said when he talked with Henry in August about coming back, "there was a different man that was sitting across from me and a different person. From that point on, we've seen pretty much a continual growth."

Tonga "had been a very steady force in Chris' life," Lewis said.

Brown, Lewis and others spoke of Henry's gentle and soft-spoken nature, his big heart and his love for his children.

"Our football team, what they're feeling yesterday and this morning ... they watched a guy mature as a young man and work through adversity," Lewis said, adding that Henry became "a beacon of hope."

Lewis recalled seeing Henry at rookie camp, catching the first ball thrown to him and sticking up his finger in celebration. "I told the receivers coach at that time, 'You better get him,'" he said.
