NOSIN... WITH POLLY

Yours truly has taken a vacation from the writers' camp and the space ordinarily set aside for "Nostin, with Polly," has been used to display local News. However tonight I'm back at it again.

Trouble is, there are so many subjects to choose from I find it rather a task to select one subject and stay with it. There are the Hippies, Dope Addicts, Taxes, farm program, high interest and the vanishing of small towns as though swallowed up by Dragons in the night. All these are paramount subjects of interest in our present day and leave one wondering just where ordinary happiness has fled.

One can always write about the good old days when people had time, (no money but time). They visited their neighbors, attended church, visited the sick and in spite of milking cows, moulding butter, shelling corn, making biscuits (from the flour up) and scrubbing clothes on the rub board they managed to rear hearty well fed families. Using the golden rule "Do Unto Others" as a gage for good daily living.

Responsibility for ones own actions was first of the many lessons a youngster was taught.

Leisure time was never available for kiddos to discover the art of sniffing glue. Also the trips one was familiar with, in those days were daily trips to and from to the cotton fields to work, not trips on LSD.

However, thinking over all the available subjects to write about the one subject that stands in my mind tonight is that our fine Wolverette team will meet Petersburg in their first step up the stairway to State.

This fine team is anxious to be on their way. They are fine athletes, good sports and demonstrate a healthy school spirit.

Their ability to play ball has afforded fans in the area many moments of delightful entertainment.

The community is proud of each member on the team, not only for their ball playing skill but more for the fact that they are not addicted to drugs, tobacco, and weird ways of life.

So, as we fans go to Plainview Tuesday night to watch our fine team play we not only will be proud of them for their performance on the court, but we're proud of them for their daily lives.

GOOD LUCK TEAM!

Installing gas air conditioning now will allow you to beat the spring rush that always comes with that first hot or dusty day. So, while others are waiting for the overworked installers, you'll be cool, calm and collected...already enjoying the benefits of your winter air conditioning buy. Gas quietly cools your whole house for what you may have been paying to cool two or three rooms before. pressor is a usual source of failure in other air conditioning systems.

So, join the smart ones. Call Pioneer today and tell them you'd like to find out more about installing gas air conditioning in winter. A representative will come tell you just what it will take to convert your present forced air heating system to gas air conditioning. The Calhoun family which consists of the mother and father, a boy in the seventh grade at Springlake-Earth, and a five year old boy, lived 11 miles north of Earth and 2 1/2 miles west when the tragedy occurred.

Calhoun had been working on the Rayburn Ott farm for about four months.

The Calhouns are presently living at Dodd in a house furnished by the Dodd Gin Company.

Anyone wishing to donate gifts such as clothes, household articles, and other useful items may do so by leaving them at Pounds Pharmacy or the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Shirey located at the fourth house from the east on the south side of the Hite Park Addition.

Intermediate GA's Study "Where Is My Neighbor?"

The Intermediate GA's of the Earth First Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. S. Cole in the absence of their leader, Mrs. Jerry Starke.

Peggy Cantrell, Alice Johnson, and Margarette Hood acted as migrant workers giving parts that showed some of their needs. The group then listed these needs and discussed ways in which they as GA's could meet these needs.

Through a Map Study, the girls located the areas in southern Texas and Florida where a number of these workers are found. The Baptist make unlimited efforts to teach these people as a part of their Home Mission Study.

Following the program refreshments were served by Mrs. R. S. Cole to Patricia Lanier, Joyce Hood, Barbara Lanier, Peggy Cantrell, Alice Johnson and Margarette Hood.

The weekly Prayer Calendar and Prayer for Missionaries was given by Mrs. Pete O'Hair.

Those present were Mrs. Ruby Hodge, Mrs. Lillie Wuerflin, Mrs. Pete O'Hair, and Mrs. R. S. Cole.

Bridges To Participate In Calf Scramble

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, to be held February 25th through March 8th, will have Bruce Bridges of Earth participating in the calf scramble on February 28th.

The world's largest Calf Scramble is always a highlight of the Houston Show. In 1942, when the first scramble was held at the Houston Livestock Show, only 24 calves were awarded. There was no idea that in twenty-seven years the number would increase to 194 calves each year.

The scramble is a rough tumble event with plenty of action between 12 calves and 24 boys at each performance of the rodeo. A certificate for the purchase of a calf is given to each boy who catches a calf, gets a halter on it and crosses the finish line.

Winners in this event must care for the calves and exhibit them the following year at the Houston Show. In addition, they must furnish monthly progress reports to the show, their sponsors and supervisors.

As a result of the Calf Scramble contests, nearly a million and a half dollars in livestock, cash and prizes have been put into the hands of Texas youth. Businessmen sponsor the calves in the contest by contributing $200 each for a dairy or beef calf. Many sponsors take a personal interest in "their" boy by following his progress and activity throughout the ensuing year, and many scramble boys become sponsors themselves in later years.

The purpose of the Calf Scramble is to encourage and further the education of 4-H Club boys and FFA boys in the raising, feeding and breeding of high quality cattle in Texas. O. M. Holt, Associate Professor, Agricultural Education Department, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, will be the Superintendent of the Beef Calf Scramble Class, and Lloyd Henderson of Schulenburg, Texas, will be the Superintendent of the Dairy Calf Scramble.

Gas Rate Hearing Summarized

Tuesday, January 27, marked the end of the public hearing concerning Pioneer Natural Gas Company's application for an increase in the domestic and commercial gas rate of gas sold to 61 cities in the Company's West Texas Transmission System. The action was subsequent to both the cities and Pioneer resting their cases. Pioneer's application to the Railroad Commission requested a 22 per cent increase in rates to residential and commercial customers from 28¢ to 34¢ per MCF of gas, plus an allowance for the federal surtax.

Industrial customers such as municipal power plants, are negotiated directly with the individual industrial consumer, and would therefore not be afected by the gate rate increase to the 61 cities.

WOLVERINE WILLIE WILBORN, Gets both hands in the air as he attempts to drop the ball in for two points. Wilborn scored 9 of the 68 points against Bovina.

Pioneer has stated that the new gate rate applied for would have no immediate effect on current gas rates. Such an increase would, however, establish a new cost of gas at the city gate for any subsequent changes in domestic and commercial rates in the cities on the West Texas Distribution System.

Rate specialists consisting of two attorneys, a rate consultant, a certified public accountant, and an engineering firm were employed by the forty-nine cities in the West Texas system composing the West Texas Municipal Utilities Committee to investigate Pioneer's petition and all supporting data.

Some of the cities included in this committee are Tulla, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Levelland, Lamesa, Brownfield, Canyon, Hereford, Plainview, Pampa, Lubbock, Odessa, and Midland.

Membership of the Utility Committee represents over 90 per cent of the residential and commercial customers of the system.

The cities conducted the investigation to determine whether or not a "matter of fact," Pioneer was entitled to all or any part of the increase they were requesting the Railroad Commission to grant.

The Railroad Commission makes a determination of what a "fair gas rate" is in accordance with the law, based upon three essential factors:

(1) Present fair value of the property used and useful by the Company in providing public service.

(2) The reasonable net rate of return.

(3) The reasonable operating revenue and expenses.

Once these factors are determined, a gas rate is then calculated to provide the Company a "fair rate" of return on its investment.

The following significant differences were revealed in direct testimony by the cities' rate specialists subsequent to thorough analysis and study of exhibits submitted by Pioneer to support its request:

(1) Some foreign transmission lines and other facilities not used or useful to service in the 61 cities were included in determining the fair value of the system, and should be omitted from the rate base.

(2) Figures and methods used in determining the "replacement costs new" which relate to the "fair value" of the system were excessive.

(3) Pioneer used the figure of $3,385,944 to be the fair market value of its general office building in Amarillo on the date of inquiry. A professional realty appraiser in Amarillo, retained by the cities, found the valuation of the same property to be $1,862,500 as of the same date.

(4) Pioneer contended that the age of pipe in the transmission system has no effect upon the value of the pipe, while the cities believe both age and condition should be considered in determining the value of a gas pipe line.

(5) The cities contend that Pioneer did not use an "equitable balance" for rates of depreciation as defined by law, and relating to the depreciation for expense purposes, as compared with depreciation used for determining the fair market value of the system.

(6) The allocation methods presently used by the gas company for allocating expenses to the city gates are not equitable, and should be changed. Pioneer's methods of allocation would indicate residential and commercial customers are subsidizing other classes of customers.

Briefs will be filed by both parties and by the Railroad Commission Examiner shortly. A decision is not expected by the Railroad Commission until sometime this spring.

HD Agent Gives Tips To Balance Food Budget

If you count each grocery penny, balance your food budget and your family's diet, by cutting costs within each of the four food groups. These ideas from Lady Clare Phillips, Co. Home Demonstration Agent may help you balance nutrition and bargain.

Meat: We need two or more servings from this food group each day. Count as a serving: two-three ounces lean cooked meat, poultry or fish without bone; two eggs; one cup cooked dry beans or peas; four tablespoons peanut butter.

To save on meat money buy weekend meat specials, buy dressed chicken whole rather than cut-up; and select variety meats.

Milk: Use two to four servings a day. A serving would be one eight-ounce glass fluid milk; two cups ice cream; one and a half cups cottage cheese or two one inch cubes Cheddar type cheese.

Save in this department by using nonfat dry milk and save up to one-half of your milk bill, serve milk shakes and fewer soft drinks, grate hardened ends of cheese and use to top casseroles.

Bread-Cereal: Eat four or more servings a day. One serving equals one slice of bread, an ounce ready-to-eat cereal or a half cup cooked cereal, pasta or rice.

Save here by preparing bread and cereal products at home. They usually cost less than ready-baked breads and ready-prepared cereals.

Vegetable-Fruits: We need four or more servings daily. Count as a serving a half cup vegetable or fruit; or a portion as ordinarily served such as a medium apple, a half cantaloupe or juice of one lemon.

Save on this food group by taking advantage of fresh seasonal items; and by buying frozen vegetables and fruits if they cost less a serving than fresh or canned.

This is the study home demonstration club women are making this month.

Throw-Away Bottles Help Build Roads

Thinking Americans are concerned about the litter-strewn American highways. A college student has an idea and his college professor is helping him to implement it.

Experiments are being conducted at the University of Missouri using bottle glass in our highways. Roy Joplin of Kansas City and Dr. Delbert Day are working with crushed throw-away bottles and mixing the glass fragments with asphalt to determine the proper size glass-aggregate and the correct mixture.

They are using this mixture in place of the conventional gravel and limestone aggregate required to form the concrete used in pavements.

Joplin & Day patched a hole in a campus parking lot. Not only did the patch wear as well as a standard limestone-asphalt combination, it withstood traffic and weathering, and was absolutely harmless to tires as well.

Now, encouraged by the parking lot patch test, the researchers will whip up a king-size batch and pave a 600-foot long street area, 20 feet wide, also on campus, and examine it for durability, skid resistance, and a confirmation of its harmlessness to tires.

Top man for the Wolverines was Willie Wilborn with 16 points. Following him closely with scoring honors was Terry Bridge and Mike Cleavinger with 12 points each. However, the victory story was different Tuesday night as the Wolverines took the honor dropping Bovina 68-52. The Wolverines took the lead during the first quarter, but by the end of the third Bovina had pulled to within 11 points. During the final quarter the Wolverines increased that substantial lead by scoring 19 points to

The local "B" team entered the second half with renewed strength and scored 27 points to Bovina's 18 points giving them the lead and victory. High point man for the "B" team was George Nance, with 10 points. He was followed by Greg Slover, 9 points; Danny

PKU Can Cause Mental Retardation

There's a continuing search going on in Texas for the hereditary condition with the tongue-twisting name of phenylketonuria (fen'-il-kee-toe-new-ree-ah), usually shortened to PKU. This condition can cause mental retardation unless detected and treated early in life, says the Texas State Department of Health. PKU represents an inability of the body to convert phenylalanine, an essential amino acid present in protein, to tyrosine. When a person has PKU, the phenylalanine accumulates in the body fluids and tissues, and too much can cause damage to the brain. Too little phenylalanine, on the other hand, can retard normal growth. The prospects of having one baby in 10,000 facing life mentally retarded moved the Texas Legislature about 5 years ago to pass a law requiring that all children born in the state be given a test for PKU. Since a newborn infant with PKU looks the same as any other newborn infant, the PKU test is necessary. Although appearing normal at birth, the PKU baby is unable to use all the protein found in breast or cow's milk, and other foods. Substances which may cause mental retardation, and other damage, begin to build up in a PKU baby's body soon after he starts to take milk. When a mother and father are carriers of the trait which causes PKU, their offspring may be born with PKU, even though neither parent has the condition. Because it is inherited,

To encourage blood testing, a more reliable method of early detection of PKU, the Texas State Department of Health provides filter paper collection materials to physicians, hospitals, clinics and local health departments. The Health Department laboratories also report to physicians the results of PKU screening and confirmatory tests submitted to it for testing. In addition, upon the request of the physician attending a confirmed PKU patient, the Division of Maternal and Child Health provides a special dietary supplement for treatment of the child. What happens if your baby does have PKU? Diet is a major part of the treatment program because phenylalanine is found in most foods. Therefore, under the guidance of a physician using periodic laboratory tests, dietary treatment is prescribed to fit the child's needs.

New Travel Film Released By Highway Department

Del Rio--State tourism officials were hosted by the Del Rio Chamber of Commerce at the world premiere of the Texas Highway Department's new travel film, "Law West of the Pecos."

The motion picture deals with one of the great legends of the Southwest, Judge Roy Bean of Langtry. The colorful saloon-keeper and frontier justice of the peace brought national attention to his rustic tavern-courthouse-billiard hall called the Jersey Lilly.

In those yesterdays the Jersey Lilly stood beside the transcontinental tracks of the Southern Pacific, serving early travelers on their way West. The old judge died, and the unused building weathered in the Langtry sun.

The Southern Public Railroad deduced the site to the state in 1939, and the Texas legislature directed the Highway Department to restore, to preserve and to maintain the historic structure, so that "the legends of Judge Roy Bean and the Jersey Lilly may ever be told and appreciated."

Today the Jersey Lilly still stands, serving modern travelers in a visitor complex where the legends of Judge Roy Bean still are told and appreciated.

In the new air-conditioned Visitor Center by the rustic original, travelers are transported back to pioneer times as they view dioramas which depict highlights of Judge Bean's life. Special tape recordings simulate the voices of characters in the three-dimensional scenes.

Outside the Visitor Center, grounds are landscaped with native plants of the Southwest. Pathways thread through the area, and signs identify the plants, giving historical background on their uses by Indians and early settlers.

Viewers of the new film are introduced to the six dioramas at the Visitor Center, and portions of the narrations are part of the sound track. The film also tours the elaborate cactus garden and nearby sites which contributed to Judge Bean legends.

Among those who attended the premiere showing were Tom H. Taylor, Director of the Highway Department's Travel and Information Division which produced the movie; Chester Parson, Highway Department District Engineer at Del Rio who supervised restoration of the Roy Bean site; Frank Hildebrand, Executive Director of the Texas Tourist Development Agency; Bill Coffey, chief of the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association; and Vic Mathias, President of the Discover Texas Association. Also attending were city and regional chamber of commerce executives and E. H. Sheffield, host for the premiere and executive director of the Del Rio chamber.

Following the screening the group drove to Langtry for a firsthand view of the Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center. Sheffield complimented the highway Department on development of the outstanding tourist facility.

"With this new Roy Bean center plus the recreational attractions of Amistad Reservoir," Sheffield said, "this area is becoming a prime tourist destination for travelers from throughout the country."

Don't Be In The Dark About Safe Driving

The Northern Hemisphere is now in its darkest time of the year. For the average motorist, this means more nighttime driving. Even the drive home from the plant or office is a nighttime activity--and will be until early spring.

"Protect yourself by slowing down," Mr. Paul Graham, President, Texas Motor Transportation Association, advises. "Make sure you can stop within the area illuminated by your headlights." He pointed out that professional truck drivers rightfully regard their headlights as an extension of their eyes and treat them with care.

"See and be seen," Mr. Graham advises. "Before starting out, make sure all your lights--including your brake lights--are working properly. Make sure the lenses and your windows are clean. And, at least twice a year, have your headlights checked for proper aim."

Properly aimed headlights are most important. "If they are aimed too high, even a little too high," Mr. Graham says, "they will blind the driver of oncoming vehicles. And if they are aimed too low, you won't be able to see as far ahead as you should. In effect, you are blind to a certain area of the road."

But even with properly working headlights, night driving is more hazardous than daylight driving. For one thing, it is more difficult to judge distances.

"At night, a driver often has no way to judge his distance from a light ahead," the trucking industry spokesman says, "because other objects which would aid in his judgement are in darkness. The size of the light won't necessarily tell him much. Often, it is difficult to look at a light ahead and tell whether it is on a stopped vehicle, a slow-moving vehicle, or a vehicle moving at normal highway speed. Sometimes, it is also hard to tell whether the light is on or off the roadway."

"Under these conditions, the smart driver plays it safe. He slows down so that he can always stop within the distance illuminated by his own headlights. He keeps a close watch on lights which appear to be on or near the road and he makes sure he knows where--and what they are before he gets into an accident situation."

"Like the 'St. Louis woman' in that famous old song," Mr. Graham concludes, you may "hate to see that evenin' sun go down." But more important, you will want to see the mornin' sun come up.

"To make sure you do, a little common sense and caution are in order."

Employment Survey To Be Conducted Here

The Bureau of the Census will conduct a sample survey of employment and unemployment in the Denver area during the week of February 15. Walter A. Freeman, Jr., Director of the Bureau's regional office in Denver announced today.

The households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically designed sample of the entire U.S. population. The employment and unemployment statistics are collected monthly by the Census Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor to provide a continuing measurement of the economic health of the Nation as a whole and of its major regions. This monthly survey is not to be confused with the 1970 decennial census of the entire population to be taken next April 1 since that will cover all of the Nation's 60 million households and will provide data for each of the 50 States and for each of their political and economic subdivisions.

As in the forthcoming April census, facts about the individual and the family collected in this survey are kept completely confidential and the results will be used only to compile statistical tables.

Mrs. Rosemary McNeese will

Governments Spend $18 Billion on Welfare

Nearly $18 billion was spent in 1968 by federal, state and local governments for welfare programs, about two-and-one-half times the cost in 1960, a new Tax Foundation study shows.

Included in this total are dozens of separate welfare programs: public assistance, including cash and medical care, for the aged, blind, disabled, and for families with dependent children; other hospital and health care, food stamps, school lunches and special Office of Economic Opportunity programs.

Most Buglars Are Pros And Deserve Professional Reception

Dallas, --Any business that rakes in a profit of $133,000 per week can only be described as a most profitable venture and certainly as big business. And that's the approximate weekly take of the big business of residential burglary alone, not including burglaries of business establishments--and just in Texas. Considering this, it's no wonder that insurance protection for this peril is so costly. In recent years insurance payments to the victims of home and apartment burglaries have doubled in Texas and, unlike lightning, thieves often strike more than once in the same place. The ambitious young burglar on the way up can often increase his profit by repeat business. For example, statistics recently released by the Dallas Police Department showed an 81 per cent increase in the incidence of burglaries in 1969 compared with 1968. A portion of that increase can be attributed to repeat burglaries at the same location when the first "hit" did not prompt the property owner or apartment dweller to take precautionary steps to prevent the repetition.

The annual loss suffered by the victims of residential burglary and their insurance companies adds up to well over $7 million in Texas alone, but much of this could be prevented by proper preventive measures, the Texas Insurance Advisory Association (TIAA) advises. Leaving a note on a door telling when you'll be back or where the key is hidden is all the invitation a burglar needs. Once a burglar has chosen his "customer," and successfully completes his transaction, there is little chance that the goods can be recovered. Because of a lack of witnesses, say police almost 80 per cent of the burglaries reported are never solved. The chances of a burglar visiting your home will be minimized if you'll practice a few common sense precautions.

AT HOME
When you're away, keep all doors and windows, including the attic and basement, locked. Don't leave ladders laying around your property. There's no reason why you should make the housebreaker's job easier. When you go out in the evening, leave a few lights on. When you go away, don't broadcast the fact that you're leaving on a fall or winter vacation or on a week-end trip. Suspend in advance deliveries of milk, newspapers and mail. Before you leave, ask immediate neighbors and local police to keep an eye on the house. Arrange with someone to mow the lawn or shovel the walks, depending on the season, if you plan to be gone long. A house that's dark night after night is inviting to the burglar. Perhaps a neighbor would be willing to turn your lights on and off at appropriate times each evening. Or, install a timing device which can be set to do the job automatically.

Never take chances on a burglar's having a key to your home. Change the locks whenever you lose a key. Don't make forced entry easy. Use heavy screens on windows and double locks on doors. Don't employ domestic servants without checking references carefully. Don't give your exact address when advertising expensive articles for sale. Thieves read the want ads, too. Don't keep large amounts of cash and expensive valuables such as jewelry in dresser drawers or other easy-to-spot places. Put them in a safe or a safe deposit box for safekeeping. The TIAA cautions that although insurance against theft is included in all homeowners insurance policies, consider purchasing separate coverage for items of high value such as furs, jewelry, cameras and antiques.

Above all, keep an inventory of personal belongings, as well as a list of serial numbers of such items as color television sets, typewriters and sewing machines. Detailed descriptions of stolen items will be helpful to the police in case a burglar DOES strike. Remember, the TIAA cautions losses that do not occur do not result in insurance claims payments nor in unrecoverable expenses like inconvenience, time spent finding replacements for stolen property, etc. Lower overall claims payments are reflected in a reduced need for premium increases. Therefore, by taking reasonable precautions against burglary, you can assist in efforts to lower property insurance rates and also avoid the unrecoverable expenses.

Local Twosome Attend Crusade Conference

Mrs. C. L. Houchin and Mrs. Thurman Lewis along with Hubert Henry, Lamb County President of the Cancer Society, and delegates from a twenty county area were in Lubbock Wednesday, February 4, to act as a Sounding Board for new ideas which were presented Thursday at a meeting held at the Red Raider Inn.

The meeting held Thursday was the District 3-S Cancer Crusade Conference with theme "We're On Our Way!"

The meeting began at 9 a. m. with Mrs. Pete McLaughlin presiding, followed by Dr. J. Irvin Gaynor, Crusade Chairman for the Hale County Unit, outlining the need for a Cancer Crusade Program.

Mrs. C. L. Houchin, vice-president of the Lamb County Unit, gave a report on what Crusade money is used for and the plans for the cancer program during the year.

Texas received $1.11 for each dollar turned in because of its excellent research program. This $1.11 is divided into six portions all dealing with the cancer program. Thirty-eight cents of this amount goes for cancer research; fifteen cents for professional education, fellowships, and services; twenty-one cents for public education; twenty-three cents for service to patients; five cents for development of program and administration; and nine cents for the campaign including training volunteers, two state-wide training campaigns and one area campaign each year.

During the second portion of the days program, the group of approximately sixty people divided into three groups for special sessions. The three groups consisted of Special Gifts and Business held by Russ Wilkenson, Lubbock County Unit; House-to-house, Mrs. Deryl Bennett of Cochran County; and Crusade and Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Pete McLaughlin, District Director.

The luncheon session was the highlight of the activities with Hubert Henry, President of the Lamb County Unit, presiding.

Dr. James Cranberry of Lubbock, presented the Challenge to those present by encouraging them to give their all in the Crusade which will begin April 14.

The program for the Crusade Conference was concluded with a report from a college student who opened his heart to tell of his despair when he learned the had cancer. After this young man had surgery and treatment he was unable to find any kind of employment because he was unable to pass a physical examination. He turned to the Cancer Society for help and was able to secure work in Lubbock with the Juvenile Department. Although he does not yet know what the future holds for him he is pursuing a career by attending law school at Texas Tech and spending a portion of his time working with the Big Brothers Organization.

As long as there is a disease like cancer to strike young people and bring despair to people of all ages a large number of volunteers and donations from the public are needed to bring about a cure.

A total of $3,000,000 is the goal for the upcoming Crusade and Lamb County has pledged $10,000. The residents in the Springlake and Earth areas have been generous, but the goal will take extra effort for volunteers to reach.

Mrs. Thurman Lewis is the Crusade Chairman for the Cancer Society in the Earth Area.

A program on the prevention of cancer and what donated money is used for will be given by Mrs. C. L. Houchin tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the Springlake-Earth High School Building.

All those interested in their own health and that of others are encouraged to attend.

Easter Seal Appeal Opens In Lamb On February 23

The 1970 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Lamb County on Monday, February 23, according to Joe Montgomery, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county.

Mr. Montgomery said the Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about March 1.

As Easter Seal Representative he is the local contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing program and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.

Last year 20,387 handicapped people received help from the Texas Society, Montgomery said, explained. But the costs of providing expert professional care are rising, and more money than ever will be needed, he said.

Funds help support 20 centers in Texas, where crippled children and adults are treated, regardless of their ability to pay. Walkers, wheelchairs and related services are provided to those who cannot provide for themselves.

"Since 1929 the people of Texas have always responded to our needs, and I feel certain they will make it possible to increase Easter Seal services to crippled Texans throughout the coming year," Montgomery said.

Financial Facts

By Norlan Dudley

In terms of the concept of exchange, there are two broad classifications of money. They are commodity money and debt money.

We know that commodity money was expressed in terms of the wealth which it represented such as pounds, drachmas etc. Later, money took on more the concept of the discharge of indebtedness and the units of exchange were referred to as notes and bills.

This early debt money was related to its commodity backing since it was considered to be a promise to pay in terms of the commodity, be it gold, silver or whatever. The trend, however, is away from this original concept. Debt money is increasingly considered to stand on its own strength and no pretense is made at commodity backing.

Demand deposits are a common form of this concept.

record of their working parent when he dies or becomes entitled to benefits. If both parents work, their child is potentially eligible on both records but he can only receive benefits on one. The Social Security Administration refers to these beneficiaries as disabled adult children under 18. For example, take the case of a child we will call Earnie. Earnie was born with a brain injury so severe he was never able to work. His parents have continued to care for him all his life and even though Earnie is in an institution most of the time, they are responsible for his care.

When Earnie's father retires and becomes eligible for social security benefits, Earnie will receive social security benefits too because his disability began before his 18th birthday. The same would be true if Earnie's father became disabled or died. Earnie's age is not a factor because his disability began in childhood. Disability for social security

Whenever we face something of value to be learned, some good to be gained, we should depend on God for our supply. Let His rich ideas and productivity work through us. ## WTCC Supports Farm Legislature

Three important items of farm legislation have received the attention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Resolutions have been sent to the Agriculture Department, President Nixon and other legislative leaders seeking assistance on these items.

The WTCC supports the continued partial prepayment of farm diverted acreage payments as well as payment of price supports as soon as possible.

Financing of West Texas crops has been handled in the past by these prepayments," president J. Fike Godfrey of Spar stated. "The present tight money market makes it difficult for our farmers to obtain sufficient money to put in their crops and their greatest hope will be the continued prepayment of the government funds to them", he said.

According to some West Texas bankers, the farmers cannot borrow all the money necessary to put in their crops and still maintain a margin of profit adequate to keep their farms in operation.

Public Law 90-288, "The Agricultural Fair Practices Act of 1967" establishes a fair, equitable and just procedure for agricultural marketing associations to bargain with processors, according to Henry Sears of Hereford, chairman of the WTCC Agriculture/Ranching committee. There are proposed changes (SB 2225) which would amend the policies set forth in PL 90-288 to require processors to negotiate an exclusive contract with only one association.

"The changes proposed by SB 2225 would eliminate the free market for the buyer as well as the seller of farm products," according to Sears. "The WTCC is opposed to any legislation which would strangle the free flow of products between buyers and sellers."

The other specific piece of legislation which has had the attention of the Agriculture/Ranching committee is the Murphy bill, known as the Consumer Agricultural Food Protection Act of 1969. This bill would provide for the free flow of an adequate supply of food from the farmers to the consumer and provide for an orderly system in which agriculture workers may, if they desire, organize and bargain collectively.

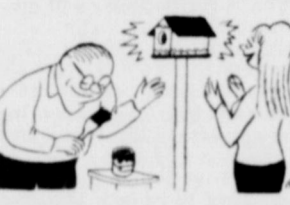

"Without the passage of this Act, our economy is subject to injustices, such as secondary boycotts, picketing of retail establishments not involved in labor disputes, forcing union membership on farm workers without an election and strikes which will endanger perishable farm products", Jack G. Springer, executive vice president of the committee members who are conducting hearings on the bill.

"All of these injustices can only disrupt the orderly distribution of food and greatly increase the cost to the consumer. The greatest burden would be borne by the low income people, including the agricultural workers", he continued in the letter.

"Agriculture and ranching are still a vital part of the West Texas economy", according to a WTCC spokesman, "and all efforts possible will be made to improve the economic well being of the farmer and rancher throughout the West Texas area."

Carol Cole and Denny Davis of Lubbock were dinner guests in the home of the R. S. Coles Tuesday. Carol is a son of the R. S. Coles.

Artificial Resuscitation Neighborhood Clinic Topic

Approximately twenty-five persons were present Tuesday night for the first program of the Neighborhood Health Clinic which is being sponsored by the Springlake-Earth Young Homemakers.

The program was presented by Jerry Hays, Personnel and Safety Director for the Plains Division of the Southwestern Public Service Company in Plainview. His program on artificial resuscitation featured a film "The Breath of Life."

Artificial resuscitation has only been recognized as a life-saving method in the United States since 1960. Since that time the mouth-to-mouth method has proved to be successful in saving persons who have been drowned, choked, or suffocated. The mouth-to-mouth method has been employed by large industries including the Company of Southwestern Public Service. Artificial resuscitation has been taught in safety classes and proved successful in cases of saving persons who have been electrocuted or breathing has stopped due to some other accident.

Resucil-Ann, a life-size, mannequin, was the special guest at the program. Demonstrations regarding the mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-nose method were given to the group. When he exhales their is 16% oxygen in his breath, which is enough to keep a victim from suffering brain damage. When administering artificial resuscitation, the victim should be lying flat, his head tilted back, his nostrils pinched closed, and his mouth completely covered with the other persons mouth. The one administering the process should then exhale into the mouth causing the chest to lift. The exhaling process is done every 3-5 seconds on an adult and every 3 seconds on a child and should be continued until normal breathing starts or qualified help arrives.

Each person was given the opportunity to practice artificial resuscitation on Resucil-Ann. Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served following the program in the Home Economics Cottage.

Lamb Designated Disaster Area

The Farmers Home Administration has notified Congressman Bob Price that nine High Plains counties, including Lamb have been designated as disaster areas.

The other counties are Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Deaf Smith, Hale, Farmer and Swisher. The designation means that emergency credit is available.

Transportation may be provided by contacting Mrs. Don Taylor.

to farmers and ranchers in these areas who have been unable to obtain funds elsewhere.

According to a spokesman in the office of Rep. Price, he has been working closely with the FHA in an attempt to obtain the designation which makes funds available at an interest rate of 3 per cent for farmers and ranchers who have been affected by natural disasters such as hail or freeze.

Most Statewide Races Contested, In Election

There won't be much excitement county-wide in the first Primary Election to be held May 2 as Earth was the only area to produce a "contested" race. The race is between T. L. "Buddy" Free and O. J. Parrish, both vying for the position of Commissioner for Precinct II. Thurman Lewis, Earth farmer, did not choose to run for re-election.

For the 28 other candidates whose names will be printed on the ballots for County and District Positions it looks as though it will be clear sailing through the Primary election.

Others who filed are: Commissioner, Precinct 3, Hubert Dykes.

State Senator, 30th Senatorial District, Jack Hightower.

State Representative, 72nd District, Bill Clayton.

Lamb County Judge, G. T. Sides.

Lamb County Clerk, Mary Beth Willey.

Lamb County Treasurer, Lucy M. Moreland.

District Clerk, Ray Lynn Britt.

District Judge, 154th Judicial District, Pat Boone, Jr.

Lamb County School Superintendent, C. Roy Stevens.

Justice of Peace, Precinct 4, J. N. Bowen.

Justice of Peace, Precinct 5, W. T. Tobe Vereen.

Lamb County Democratic Chairman, Glenn Batson.

Lamb County Precinct chairman:

Precinct 1, Glen Exter.

Precinct 2, Bruce Higgins.

Precinct 3, N. N. Frey.

Married Taxpayer And Community Property Laws

(Dallas, Texas)--Helpful information for married taxpayers affected by Texas' community property laws can be obtained at local IRS offices, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue said today.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that Publication 555, "Community Property and the Federal Income Tax," explains the additional problems married taxpayers may encounter if they decide to file separate tax returns in a community property state such as Texas.

A special feature of the booklet is an illustrated worksheet which shows the different treatment of income and deductions for a husband and wife filing a joint return compared to separate returns.

Taxpayers can also obtain "Community Property and the Federal Income Tax" by sending a post card to Supply, Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

A thorough appraisal of the record will reveal that the nation's business community—both on its own and in concert with government—is developing, underwriting and implementing viable efforts to solve the problems which you rightfully say demand attention. In terms of responsiveness to these needs and increasingly effective solutions, I think a noteworthy record is in the making, with expenditures ranging in the billions. Without profits, this money would not be available for those programs, which offer no monetary return to industry whatsoever.

20,378 Crippled Persons Received Treatment Through Easter Seal Sales

Because of the steady growth in numbers of crippled children and adults in Texas, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas has stepped up its rehabilitation services. It was announced today.

According to P. O. Settle, Jr. of Fort Worth, Texas Society president, 20,378 crippled persons received Easter Seal treatment during 1979.

Nationwide, Easter Seal services were provided for almost a quarter million handicapped Americans last year, he pointed out. Quoting the annual report of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, of which the Texas Society is an affiliate, he said that almost all programs in operation across the nation are expanding. They include treatment and rehabilitation centers, sheltered workshops, camps, recreation and education programs and many others.

"Through these programs, persons with a wide variety of handicaps receive the help they are treated regardless of their ability to pay.

The Easter Seal campaign, which provides funds for the continuation of these services, begins February 23 and continues through March 29, Easter Sunday.

Really cultured persons never mistake vulgarity for originality.—Eugene Gay, The Calvert (Tex.) News-Messenger.

General Telephone Company Announces Rate Decrease

The latest of several reductions in long distance telephone calling costs—effective February 1—provides a real bargain for customers who dial their own out-of-state station-to-station calls, according to L. L. Porter, traffic director for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The primary overall effect of the recent changes is that customers who utilize self-dialed facilities are charged less than those customers who utilize the services of an operator in making out of state long distance calls.

"The new rates more accurately reflect the added and increasing costs incurred for operator service and reduction in costs when customers dial their own long distance calls," Porter said. "Customers who do not yet have access to equipment which permits dialing their own long distance calls, still benefit from the new rates, provided the customer gives operators all of the calling information."

"The rate structures for long distance calls are very complex, involving times, days, holidays, distances, initial rate periods, overtime rates, and types of calls such as station-to-station, person-to-person, coin, collect, credit cards, etc.," Porter stated.

"But I feel certain key points about the new rate might be helpful to the calling public. These are outlined below:"

Weekend calling represents a major saving. Customer dialed station-to-station calls outside the state made between 8 a. m. and 11 p. m. on Saturday and between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. on Sunday have been reduced to 70¢ for a coast-to-coast call. Cost is even less for intervening distances.

The lowest rates for customer dialed station-to-station calls outside the state remain at 35¢ for a one minute coast-to-coast call, but the time period has been extended one hour, beginning now at 11 p. m. and extending to 8 a. m. seven nights per week.

To illustrate the savings involved in dialing your own out of state station-to-station calls on weekends, Porter pointed out that a coast-to-coast self dialed call costs 70¢ for three minutes while an operator handled station-to-station call costs $1.10 during the weekend time period of 8 a. m. to 11 p. m. Saturday and 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Sunday. A person-to-person call during the same time would cost $3.30.

"While this example covers the lower weekend rates, similar savings apply on daytime and evening customer-dialed station-to-station calls. The easiest way to explain the rate structure effective February 1 is to say money can be saved on out-of-state long distance calls of more than 197 miles—regardless of the time of day the call is made—if you dial it yourself without the assistance of an operator," Porter said. "Person-to-person calls or any call requiring an operator just costs more to handle and therefore it costs the customer more."

Local Seniors Honored At Annual Luncheon

Forty-seven Springlake-Earth High School Seniors were honored Wednesday, February 4, with a noon luncheon at the Earth Community Building. The ladies of the local Earth and Springlake Churches of Christ sponsored the annual affair.

Special guests were Senior Class sponsors Miss Donna Benke and Bill Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mann, and Leonard Harper, pastor of the Earth Church of Christ.

Following a delicious fried chicken dinner, Mr. Harper addressed the class using as his topic, the thought invoking subject, "What Is Life."

He admonished the group to think not of just making a living, but to build for themselves a real life. Steve Busby expressed the classes gratitude to the ladies for providing the good food. Decorations for the event were carried out in the Valentine theme. The head table was covered in white and was centered with a tall white tiered styrofoam base featuring two big red hearts, a gold cupid, and three beautiful red feathered love birds.

In the background was a large taffeta heart surrounded by red ruffled tulle and bearing the letters "Seniors '70." The heart was flanked by two large red felt cupids.

The dining tables were laid with white and centered with red streamers and Valentine arrangements accented with hearts

Low-Cost Insurance Available To Disabled Veterans

The Veterans Administration said today that thousands of disabled veterans are not taking advantage of valuable low-cost insurance available to them.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs, Donald E. Johnson, said that VA disability ratings result in more than 7,000 veterans being added to the rolls each month. When they are, Johnson said, they are encouraged to apply for the special RH insurance with premiums so low that a 25-year-old veteran, for example, can start a $10,000 insurance program for $2.60 a month.

"Thus, $10,000 RH and $10,000 converted SGLI at standard

each month. When they are, Johnson said, they are encouraged to apply for the special RH insurance with premiums so low that a 25-year-old veteran, for example, can start a $10,000 insurance program for $2.60 a month.

"Thus, $10,000 RH and $10,000 converted SGLI at standard seasons averaged 4.4 million bales per year. The lowest carryover of cotton at the end of any season during this period was 7.4 million bales on August 1, 1961. Average carryover was about 11 million bales and annual production averaged almost 13 million bales.

In 1968-69, when the beginning carryover was only a little over 6.2 million bales and only 10.8 million bales were produced in this country, exports dropped to 2.7 million bales. And it looks now as if the U.S. may do well to equal that sorry export performance in the 1969-70 season ending August 1 this year. Carryover on August 1, 1969 was only 6.3 million bales and the year's production total is straining to reach 10 million.

At beginning of the current season the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimated that U.S. cotton exports would show an increase over last year. That was when a crop of 11.7 million bales or so was expected.

Later, when it became evident that the crop would fall to around 10 million bales, both Government and trade sources began to say current-year exports might well drop below 2.7 million.

Fortunately for U.S. cotton exports, it now appears that adverse development in other cotton exporting countries of the world may at least partially offset the abnormally low supply of U.S. cotton, and our exports may yet reach the 1968-69 total. Other countries, too are learning that "you can't do business from an empty wagon."

For example the latest indication is that Russia's crop may be some 3/4 million bales below expectations, and a decline in actual exports from the U.S.S.R. will provide an opportunity for increasing exports from free world countries, including the U.S.

Reports from Mexico show that prospects for the 1969-70 crop there have declined more than 200,000 bales in recent weeks. This, coupled with the fact that plantings in that country this year were down some 320,000 acres, indicates the Mexican crop may come to only about 1.75 million bales, down 700,000 bales from 1968-69 production.

The crop in Central America has also deteriorated recently and that area's production is now expected to be off 200,000 bales or more from last season. All together the Foreign Agriculture Service of USDA now estimates that total cotton production in free foreign countries may drop slightly below the record 25.9 million bales produced in 1968-69.

And as the foreign cotton supply situation has worsened, price quotations for most foreign growths of cotton have shown significant increases. Prices for many of the growths of medium and longer staple cottons have now moved close to, and some have even gone above, price quotations for American medium staples.

Nearly half the decline in U.S. crop prospects, from 11.6 million bales at the beginning of the season to around 10 million, occurred in areas producing the shorter staple cottons, including the High Plains. Consequently the supply situation pushed prices for these staples above prices at which similar cottons would be obtained from other exporting countries. Since the shorter staples normally account for a major share of U.S. cotton exports, the depressing influence on the export outlook for American cotton appeared particularly strong. And this was responsible for the extremely dire predictions on exports that showed up in late November and early December, 1969.

Over 98 percent of Commodity Credit Corporation stocks, of which there are only 1.8 million bales currently available for sale, staple over an inch. Almost all of the 1969 crop cotton that remains unsold is also of the longer staples. We have little or no short cotton to sell outside the U.S.

It can be hoped, even expected, that the low supply situation in foreign cotton exporting countries will help some of our longer cottons to move into export markets. Even so, the export record for 1969-70 will reflect a miserably poor year. And much of the blame must be placed on an inadequate supply of the cottons most in demand from this country.

For 1970 USDA increased the national allotment from 16 million to 17 million acres—a commendable attempt to raise total production. But price support payments are still to be made only on 65 percent of each farmer's cotton acreage. And with the loan level at 20.25 cents per pound, farmers have little hopes of getting a price equal to production costs on acreage planted above 65 percent.

So it is anybody's guess whether 1970 production will be sufficient to meet market demands. And it's a good bet the guessing game will continue, year after year, until such time as the industry has a cotton program that gives producers a chance to at least recover expenses on cotton produced to supply the export as well as the domestic market.

A lower loan level, lower payments and a strenuous requirement that producers idle a sizable part of their land, as the Administration is currently proposing, won't get the job done.

COTTON TALKS

In consideration of a new cotton program officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. continue to point out that adequate supplies are an absolute must if U.S. export markets are not to be lost forever.

In the decade of the sixties, cotton exports for the first eight years allows disabled veterans an opportunity to carry $20,000 insurance at comparatively low premiums. Many could not qualify for other insurance or could do so only at increased premiums," the VA chief pointed out.

RH National Service Life insurance is available to veterans separated from service after April 24, 1951, who have been rated by the VA as having a service-connected disability.

Applications for RH insurance must be submitted within one year from the date VA establishes the disability, and is available whether or not veterans have converted their Servicemen's Government Life Insurance (SGLI) to a private policy after they got out of military service.

Disabled veterans are urged to get additional information from their local VA office as soon as possible after receiving disability rating. A legally appointed guardian or other person acting in a veteran's behalf may apply if the veteran is incompetent, Johnson said.

VA insurance offices in Philadelphia or St. Paul inform each veteran that he is entitled to apply for low cost RH insurance at the time his disability has been established, but VA has found that many ignore the opportunity to do so.
