

Scout Rally Set For Monday, October 4

Mrs. Phil Neinst, a den mother last year for 13 Cub Scouts, is this year pleading for assistance again among parents of young lads to take an interest in Scouting and provide dens for every boy in the area who is interested in becoming a Cub Scout. A meeting has been set for Monday, October 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The meeting is entitled "A Touchdown for Boy Power." The meeting is for all interested persons, whether they have a Scout or not, they are welcome to attend the meeting. Warren Green of Lubbock, council program director and Marc Whittenberg, district scout executive, will both be present for the session to aid in answering questions concerning the local Scouting program.

All boys in the area, 8 years old or in the third grade, are eligible to join the Cub Scouts. They MUST be accompanied by their parents or at least by one parent.

Phil Neinst is Cub Scout Master for the local Scouts. Mrs. Neinst said there seemed to be several boys interested in joining but disinterested parents caused a shortage of available dens for the would-be Scouts. She insisted that if mothers would sign up as assistants this would help tremendously.

Mr. Neinst indicated that boys joining the Cub Scouts did not have to have a complete uniform, but they would like for them to have the shirt, kerchief and tie. The fee is 10¢ per week for each member. This small fee is to be earned by the Scout. He can be provided a responsible job each week wherein he can earn the dime for his weekly dues.

In speaking of the uniform, she asked that if there were those in the community who have Cub Scout shirts they no longer need and would like to donate them to the Scouts, they may be left at the home of Robert Geissler, Don Taylor or Phil Neinst. Or, the person wishing to donate the shirt may call 986-2591 and the shirt will be picked up.

Cubs who are to receive badges WILL NOT receive their badges if one or both parents do not attend the meeting.

She pointed out that in this area, most folks were fortunate enough that their boys could become Scouts without any problems other than finding interested parents to help out. She asks that mothers please not wait until it was too late to give their sons some time. In concluding her plea for help, she handed this article for reprint taken from the Los Angeles Times and written by Robert Kistler entitled:

A NEW UNIFORM FOR ANGEL

There's not much you can say about Angel Ferrer.

He was just a skinny little kid who died in his sleep at age 10 because an earthquake made his house fall down.

It wasn't the earthquake's fault. It had no way of knowing that Angel Ferrer had just realized a "life-long" ambition. Or that the last three days had been the happiest of his life.

It's not that Angel Ferrer had any long range goals or stuff. He just dreamed a lot. Of being a Cub Scout, and wearing the uniform.

A lot of kids want to be a Scout. But with Angel, it was an obsession. A year ago, he'd asked his parents if he could join, but they were forced to say no.

The $1.00 registration fee just wasn't in the family's welfare budget.

But when Angel's best friend, George Rodriguez, joined a Cub Pack, Angel made up his mind he would, too.

It would just take him a little longer.

First, Angel went to work. He collected and sold discarded soda pop bottles and aluminum beer cans.

Finally (there were some setbacks -- a candy bar here, a full bottle of pop there), he managed to squirrel away 53 cents, just the right amount to buy an official Cub Scout uniform at a Salvation Army store.

It was a grand uniform. A little baggy, perhaps, and a bit tattered -- but "regulation" all the way: One blue shirt (darker in spots where the previous owner's badges had been) and one pair of blue pants.

The cap and scarf would be added later. There was still the matter of the registration fee.

And the uniform did the trick. It convinced his parents that Angel was serious about becoming a Cub Scout.

His father, Julio Ferrer, accompanied little Angel to a meeting of the Webelos den of San Fernando's First Methodist Church's Pack 44 on January 28. Patrolman Richard Jesson, a burly officer of the Los Angeles Police Department, remembers the meeting well. As head of the Webelos, Jesson has all the meetings at his house.

"The little kid sat there in his uniform and watched everything like a thirsty man looks at water. Afterwards, his father told me he'd find the money somewhere, and we made plans to take Angel on our camping trip -- the following week."

The following Thursday -- February 4 -- took a year in coming, it seemed. Angel spent the time studying his new Webelos handbook and checking over his "camping gear."

The registration fee was paid and Angel became a full-fledged Webelos just hours before the den left for its stay in the foothills above Sylmar.

"You should've seen that kid on our trip," says normally gruff-spoken Jesson. "He was first in line for everything, and did everything three times harder than anyone else."

Jesson, who has a 10-year-old Webelos of his own, particularly remembers the care Angel took with his camping "equipment."

"The poor little guy didn't have a sleeping bag or regulation mess kit like everyone else. He's bought all he had -- a regular dinner plate, a plastic fork, and a plastic cup."

"He guarded them with his life. I guess his mom had told him not to break the plate because, when he went through the chow line, he held it in both hands."

During the outing, Angel (4 feet tall, 59 pounds) won two badges.

One for athletic prowess, the other for his knowledge of the outdoors. He told one of his friends that the badges meant more to him than anything.

At noon Sunday, February 7, the 15 members of the Webelos Den broke camp and headed home.

Services Held For Jack McNeill

Funeral services for Jack McNeill, a former Earth resident, were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 22, in the First Baptist Church of Earth.

Reverend David Hartman, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Earth, officiated the services and was assisted by Reverend Glen Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Springlake.

Interment was at Earth Cemetery under the direction of Parsons - Ellis - Singleton Funeral Home of Earth.

McNeill passed away in a hospital in Springer, New Mexico, about 2 a.m. Tuesday, September 21, after suffering a fall the night before.

He was a member of the Baptist Church and the Odd-fellow Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Pearl of Sunray; one daughter, ing that only a couple miles away, unfathomable pressure was building below ground.

At home Sunday night and Monday, there was little but the camping trip to be discussed in the Ferrer house.

The following morning the quake killed Angel outright and seriously injured his father. Others in the family escaped with minor injuries.

Julio Ferrer, an out-of-work laborer, was treated at a local hospital for leg and internal injuries. Against his doctor's orders, he signed himself out able to attend his son's funeral.

Angel Ferrer was to have received his badges in front of the entire pack February 26. Instead, they were awarded early -- if that's possible when they came so late.

The "ceremony" was relatively simple.

O. K. McFarland, a funeral director at J. T. Oswald mortuary in San Fernando, stepped up to the casket and pinned the medals on.

One thing McFarland remembers is that the Cub Scout uniform looked new.

It was. Angel's parents had purchased it only four hours before.

Mrs. John Bridges of Earth; one son, Earl McNeill of Roff, Oklahoma; his mother, Mrs.

Amanda McNeill of Earth; two sisters, Mrs. Venona Lee of Earth and Mrs. Ernest Green of Springlake; one brother, Jim Dick McNeill of Earth; and two grandchildren. Pallbearers were Thurman Lewis, Bill Lee, Doug Lewis, Howell Schours, Dewitt Elmore and Jerry Kelley.

11 County Wrecks In August

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 11 accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of August, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and one person injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1971 shows a total of 56 accidents resulting in five persons killed and 34 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for August, 1971, shows a total of 581 accidents resulting in 25 persons killed and 400 persons injured. This was 17 more accidents, 13 less fatalities, and 76 more injured than during July.

The 25 traffic deaths for the month of August, 1971, occurred in the following counties: Wise, five; Gray and Potter, three each; Garza, Hale and Carson, two each; Baylor, Crosby, Montague, Parker, Briccoe, Castro, Randall and Roberts, one each.

PTA Presents Informative Grading System Program

Members of the Springlake-Earth Parent Teachers Association met in regular session at 8 p.m. Monday, September 20, in the school cafeteria.

PTA president, Mrs. Larry Hausmann, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Hausmann discussed the Bi-County (Lamb-Bailey) PTA meeting which was held at the Springlake-Earth school. She reported that fifteen persons attended the parliamentary leadership course held that day and that four of those persons were from this area.

The president also announced that the District PTA Workshop will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. at Ralls on October 12. The State PTA Convention will be held November 17-19 at Dallas.

Members of the various committees for the year were then introduced by Mrs. Hausmann. They are historians, Mrs. Lydia Hill and Mrs. Ivora Ingram; publicity, Mrs. Jo Eddy Riley, Sunnyside, Mrs. Sherry Lawrence, Earth, and Mrs. Sybil Davis, Springlake; citizenship, Bill Anderson; hospitality, Mrs. Jo Houchin; membership, Larry Hausmann; health, Mrs. Judy Graham; program, Mrs. Jody Ellis; yearbook, Monarae Cummings; council representative, Mrs. Jody Ellis; finance and budget, Mrs.

Sherry Lawrence. Other PTA officers for the forthcoming year are vice president, Mrs. Jody Ellis; secretary, Mrs. Frankie Hartman; treasurer, Mrs. Virginia Barden; parliamentarian, Mrs. Jo Eddy Riley; and reporter, Mrs. Maurine Pierce.

Mrs. Jo Eddy Riley was also introduced as president of the Bi-County (Lamb-Bailey) PTA. She announced that Bill Clayton will speak November 9 on legislation concerning schools, teachers and students.

Mrs. Dorothy Wood was introduced next. She explained the new state law requiring all school children to be immunized. Mrs. Wood is positively for this program as there have been various epidemics in the state of Texas at various times such as the diphtheria epidemic at San Antonio last year.

Oral polio vaccine is required in three doses after the fourth birthday and periodically to age nineteen. DPT shots which include diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus are required to be completed before the fourth birthday and boosters should be given once every ten years. Smallpox vaccination is required by the sixth birthday and should be repeated every ten years.

Usually during the year, Mrs. Wood has to take a bus load of children to the Littlefield Clinic for immunization. The migrant health nurse there holds a free clinic for all these children each Tuesday and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and parents are urged to take advantage of these services.

Mrs. Wood gave suggestions for two projects which the PTA might sponsor this year. The projects are a Red Cross First Aid Clinic or a Birth Control Clinic.

Mrs. Jody Ellis then introduced members of a panel which answered questions on the grading system in our schools. Members of the panel who did an outstanding job in presenting the program were Ward Cooksey, high school representative; Mrs. Linda Taylor, junior high representative; and William Verden, elementary representative.

Number grades are used in high school and they are 70-79, a C average; 80-89, a B average; and 90-100, an A average. All grades below 70 are failing and credits are not given unless the student passes both semesters. The school has a nine week grading system but if a student is failing unsatisfactory slips will be sent to the parents before the end of the 9 week period. Cooksey will have grade sheets for each pupil each 9 weeks and if parents have any questions they need answered school faculty members want them to feel free to call on him.

The elementary school will have more detailed report cards this year but will not use number grades on them. They will use satisfactory, unsatisfactory and excellent. Each subject will be broken down such as reading will be graded separately for oral and silent reading.

To keep parents informed on the child's grades, elementary pupils take graded papers home every few days, but they do not receive failing slips until after the fourth grade. If a child is failing his parents will be notified in some manner. Verden feels the 9 week grading system reduces testing time and leaves more teaching time.

Junior high uses letter and number grades. Each teacher has their preferred grading system but they feel parents like number grades the best. Mrs. Taylor feels we need to learn to grade more on the progress of each student rather than comparison. She states that this is not very easy to do at this time and that parents and teachers need to cooperate more and that parents need to be re-educated on the grading system. She also stated that junior high students are changing more in their lives than they ever have or will. They go from a boy to a man, so therefore, they no longer idealize their teachers or grades but only their friends. This is because they are changing inside and outside, e-

TB, Man's Oldest And Most Puzzling Disease

Of all diseases, tuberculosis is probably man's oldest and most puzzling enemy. It remains a major public health problem in many states today, including Texas.

"Texas is recorded as having the third largest total of new, active tuberculosis cases in the nation last year," says Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health.

Today, with careful diagnosis and conscientious drug treatment, the chances of curing tuberculosis are very good, no matter what the stage of the disease. Great advances in treatment have brought TB under medical control. But don't get the idea that TB is now a rare disease. It isn't.

Tuberculosis affects 37,000 new patients each year and kills over 5,000 people. In 1970, Texas recorded 2,889 new cases of the disease, placing behind only New York and California in the number of new cases reported. At the beginning of 1971, there were nearly 20,000 cases on the TB register in Texas being kept under surveillance.

Today, over 300,000 people in the United States are under medical care or supervision for TB. More than 100,000 of these have active cases of the disease.

"That's why medical and health authorities view the situation with concern," Dr. Peavy said.

Actually, the high rate of new TB cases in Texas is due to the Health Department's intensive new program of searching out and diagnosing cases of tuberculosis. Progress is being made in reducing the rate of occurrence. The number of cases recorded in 1970 actually fell almost 100 cases from the number reported in 1969 and was over 300 cases down from the number reported in 1968.

The highest incidence of new cases in Texas occurred in the very large cities and in areas near the southern border. TB can be cured, but it is a long, tedious process. Recovery from tuberculosis, unlike many other diseases, takes months or sometimes years. Although other drugs have been useful in the past, the Texas Health Department is optimistic that a new oral anti-tuberculosis drug promises to be a significant development in tuberculosis therapy. Known as "rifampin," the drug was developed by a team of Italian scientists, and has been available in this country since last May.

A dairy cow producing 11,000 pounds of milk a year (about 5,000 quarts) consumes an average of 45 tons of feed -- 8 tons of feed and 37 tons of water. That's 247 pounds a day.

Mrs. Pauline Huck then served coffee and a delicious assortment of cookies to those present.

XIT Club To Make Tablecloths For Girlstown

The Springlake XIT Study Club met Tuesday, September 21, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cain.

The meeting, presided over by club president Mrs. Charlotte Cain, was opened by a prayer offered by Mrs. Ernest Baker.

The floor was then turned over to Ted Ray, division manager of Channing Company Incorporated at Lubbock. He presented a very interesting program entitled "Income Funds Invested For Better Living of Today."

This title covered topics such as goals, policies, dividends, capital gains, incomes and their capital changes, investment making rights and privileges and wills and probations. Ray also discussed the check a month plan, federal tax deficit, social security taxes and income tax returns.

Following the program a business session was held. Minutes of the last meeting in May and minutes of the September 8 meeting were read and approved.

Club members voted to buy materials and make 16 new tablecloths for the girls at Girlstown at Whiteface. When this project is completed, the ladies will deliver the tablecloths and take the evening meal with the girls.

Plans were made to go to Palo Duro Park at Canyon to see "They Came From Spain" for the next club meeting set for October 8.

Refreshments of coffee, spiced tea and fresh apple cake were served to the eight members and several guests who were present.

Mrs. Bill Mann is a patient in the Littlefield hospital. Mrs. Mann is suffering with back trouble but is reported to feel a little better.

MR. and MRS. GARY NEIL STRAHAN
(nee Janis Bridge)

Bridge-Strahan Pledge Vows

Miss Janis Carol Bridge and Gary Neil Strahan of Muleshoe were united in marriage in an impressive double ring ceremony Friday, September 10, at 8 p.m. in the Springlake First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge of Springlake. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Strahan of Muleshoe.

Reverend M. D. Durham, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church in Lubbock, officiated the services and was assisted by Reverend Glen Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Springlake.

Mrs. Verna Sadler accompanied Miss Peggy Day and Mrs. Erlene Carter on the piano as they sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "One Hand, One Heart."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a beautiful floor length formal gown of white lace, the gown featured an empire waist, high neck and long lacy puffed sleeves with wide cuffs and buttons.

The bride's double veil, made of matching lace covering the bridal gown, was attached to a beaded bow.

The traditional theme of Something New, Something Old, Something Borrowed and Something Blue was carried out as the bride wore pennies minted in her birth year and a penny minted in the year of her marriage in her shoes for Something New. She carried a Bible her mother carried at her wedding for Something Old. She wore a white pearl necklace borrowed from Mrs. Larry Strahan for Something Borrowed and she wore a blue garter for Something Blue.

The bridal bouquet was a stunning cascade centered with a white butterfly orchid and featuring lovely white feathered mums, baby's breath, greenery and long satin streamers.

The bride presented small white roses tinted blue to her mother and new mother-in-law.

Vows were exchanged before an archway of 15 candles entwined by lovely greenery and flanked on either side by a 15 branch spiral candelabra adorned by greenery. A white memory candle featuring a blue bow was placed in front of the altar.

Mrs. Donna Taylor served as matron of honor. She wore a lovely light blue floor length gown of acetate which was fashioned with an empire bodice. She carried a nosegay of blue pom poms on a lace back. Larry Strahan of Lubbock, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Terry Bridge, brother of the bride, and Freddie James, cousin of the bride, ushered the parents and wedding guests.

The candles were lit by Mark Bridge, brother of the bride, and Gaylan Strahan, brother of the groom.

My Personal Tribute To L.K. Anderson

By DAVID HARTMAN

My first encounter with L.K. Anderson was a telephone conversation in June of 1968. Little did he know that the mere fact he called was an answer to prayer for me. I was wrestling with a decision whether or not to be considered for the position of Minister of Education by a church in Wichita Falls.

Deep inside I felt I should not be considered by this church. Yet I wanted to be. I distinctly remember sitting in my office that Wednesday in June pondering the question, "should I or shouldn't I?" Finally I said, "Lord, if you don't want me to be considered by this church in Wichita Falls let me hear something from somewhere else."

That very Wednesday evening I received the telephone call from L.K. Anderson. First Baptist Church, Earth, was looking for a pastor. L.K., as Chairman of the Pulpit Committee, called, on behalf of the committee, to inquire if I would be interested in the church. I was. However, it was August before God worked out all the details and

I became the pastor here. That one telephone call literally changed the course of my life because the real question at hand was, "shall I remain in the pastorate or shall I get out?" God answered through First Baptist Church, Earth, and L.K. Anderson that I should remain in the pastorate.

This is one way God used this man to help chart the course of my life.

After we moved here I got to know L.K. better and I want to share with you some of my personal impressions of this man.

L.K. was a plain spoken man. You never had to guess at what he was saying because he plainly told you. I like this quality in any person. I wish all our leaders practiced it. I always knew where L.K. stood on matters in the church, community, or the nation.

He had a sense of humor. This is so vital in a day when tension and crisis is all about us. He loved to tease and many of us loved to tease him.

Bookmobile In Area Next Thursday, Friday

The High Plains Bookmobile will be in the Springlake, Earth, Pleasant Valley area Thursday, September 30, and Friday, October 1.

The library on wheels will roll into the town of Springlake at 11 a.m. Thursday, where it will remain for 45 minutes before proceeding on its way to the Springlake-Earth school where it will be parked from 12 o'clock noon until 1 p.m.

At 1:15 p.m. the library will arrive in the City of Earth where it will be available to the readers here until 3:45 p.m.

On Friday at 10 o'clock the bookmobile is slated to arrive at the Community Building in Pleasant Valley for one hour before moving on to Sudan.

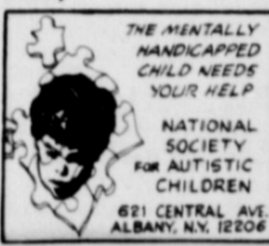

From all indications he was a good business man and did a good job managing the Co-op gains here.

L.K. loved the church and the Christ who founded it. He attended worship services regularly on Sunday and Wednesday here at First Baptist Church. In the past he has served as Sunday School Director, Chairman of Deacons, Chairman of the Pulpit Committee, and on numerous other committees.

At the time of his death he was serving as an active Deacon. He served wherever he felt he was needed.

I am thankful that God saw to it that our paths crossed because my life has been different as a result of it.

(This tribute was read at L.K.'s funeral September 21, 1971, First Baptist Church, Earth, Texas)

Chilling Temperatures Brought By Moisture

Local residents were sent scurrying for coats and blankets early Friday as cold, wet autumn weather tumbled the mercury to the low 50's and reached a final drop to a cold 39 degree mark early Saturday morning.

A rain-filled cloud, which held the rumble of thunder and lightning, sneaked into the area late last Thursday evening.

The Springlake, Earth, Oton and Hart Camp areas received varied amounts of rainfall from .5 inch to two inches.

The heaviest precipitation was reported in the Whitharral area where rainfall amounts of up to 3 inches were recorded.

Some crops in the Bula, Sudan, Bull Lake and Whitharral communities received heavy hail damages Thursday evening.

Although temperatures were quite chilly Saturday, they seemed to rise slightly Sunday.

Residents woke up to see the first frost of the season early Monday morning and kept their heating systems turned up all day as the cool weather remained.

Tuesday and Wednesday Earthites were able to shed their coats in the warmer temperatures, but decided to keep them handy as weathermen expect a new cold front to move in early Thursday or Friday.

THOMAS A. EDISON was granted more than 1,000 United States patents.

More than 500,000 students are presently receiving benefits from social security each month under the child-student provisions of the law, John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock office, reported.

Children, between the ages of 18 and 22 who are unmarried and fulltime students in an accredited school, are entitled to these student benefits on the accounts of their insured parents, he explained.

Hutton stated that one out of every 12 students attending school is receiving assistance toward the advancement of his education as a result of these benefits. Students attending professional and business schools, as well as educational institutions, may qualify for these benefits.

Hutton said that many children eligible for student benefits, as well as routine children benefits (under age 18), may not be getting them because of a failure to understand amendments which were enacted in 1967.

Prior to February 1968, a child could qualify for benefits on his mother's account only if the mother was currently insured (work six quarters in the 13-quarter period prior to her death) or she was contributing more than one-half of the child's support when she died. The amendments allow a child to qualify on his mother's account if she was fully insured at the time of her death, the same provisions under which the child may qualify on his father's account.

Hutton emphasized that any student eligible for benefits on his mother's account and presently not receiving them should contact the nearest social security office by phone or in person to file the necessary application as soon as possible.

Prison Rodeo Each Sunday In October

HUNTSVILLE -- Based on the long and colorful history of the annual Texas Prison Rodeo, the 40th annual event to be featured each Sunday in October promises to be filled with plenty of action, plus the best in entertainment as special guest stars join tough convict cowboys in this fast-moving two-hour show.

Held in the prison's $1 million stadium in Huntsville, the show begins at 2 p.m., following a pre-show special by inmates at 1 p.m.

Guest stars for this year's Prison Rodeo series include Dottie West and the Heartaches on October 3; Connie Smith and Nat Stuckey on October 10; Charlie Walker on October 17; The Waylon Jennings Show on October 24; and the Porter Wagoner Show on October 31.

Also included in this year's rodeo series will be the popular chuckwagon races and the thrilling chariot races which will be highlighted each Sunday.

According to Hoot Crawford, arena director for the rodeo, he will have a big choice of convict riders since more than 300 hopefuls have applied for a place on the program.

And this year, for the first time, the Texas Prison Rodeo will open without either a former or defending champion in the saddle. "This means that the competition will be greater than ever," Crawford said.

In addition to the bronc riding and bull riding events, the Texas Prison Rodeo offers its own brand of the Mad Scramble, Calf Tussle, Wild Horse Race and the Hard Money event, which pits 25 convict cowboys against one bull with a money sack tied to its horns.

Jim Batten, rodeo supervisor, says that there are plenty of good seats available for all performances, and block tickets may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas enclosing check or money order. There is no reduction in the price of children's tickets. Net proceeds finance the rehabilitation programs for more than 15,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

NCC Says Cotton To Suffer Market Losses If Acreage Drops

MEMPHIS (Special) -- Cotton stands to suffer further market losses if adequate incentives to grow more of it are not provided for 1972.

That was the warning sounded recently by a National Cotton Council economist in the opening session of the annual fall meeting of the Council's Board of Directors.

"Shooting for a crop that is just enough to meet expected demand and no more will not do the job," said Dabney S. Wellford, director of the Council's economic and market research service. He pointed out that demand cannot be accurately forecast, and unfavorable weather can drastically reduce the crop, as it has five of the past six years.

"If we expect to hold our markets, we must aim higher and build up the carryover stock from the dangerously low level at which it now stands," Wellford continued.

The carryover from previous crops is expected to be about 4.1 million bales, and "once more there would not be enough in the carryover to cushion us if next year's crop falls short of demand." The demand has exceeded the amount grown in each of the five seasons, and as a result stocks have been reduced to the point that they hardly meet working stock requirements.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin will announce the 1972 government cotton program in the early fall. Wellford pointed out that unless there are reassurances about next season's crop, the industry can expect pressures to continue for textile mills to shift out of cotton because of the uncertainty of the supply.

Wellford stated that the Secretary has the mandate for a program to relieve this pressure. His report pointed out that the Agriculture Act of 1970 states that the "...national base acreage allotment ... in the case of the 1972 and 1973 crops shall be in such amount as the Secretary determines necessary to maintain adequate supplies."

The carryover part of that adequate supply is defined specifically in the law as "not less than 50 per cent of the average offtake for the three preceding marketing years." That figure is 5.5 million bales, not including extra long staple. An increase in the paying allotment to induce a crop that will build the carryover to that level would be one incentive in 1972, Wellford said.

A second alternative would be to eliminate the requirement for cotton set-aside acreage, thus freeing land normally held out of use in order to keep agricultural production in balance with demand. Then farmers could grow whatever crops they wanted, including cotton, on this land. Wellford pointed out, however, that feed grains or soybeans might go on some of this acreage, thus depressing prices for these crops.

Another alternative would be to retain the set-aside and allow only cotton to be grown on it.

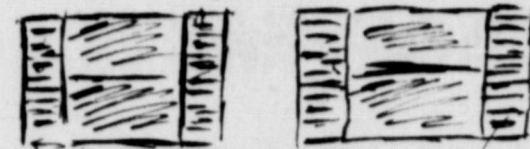

Wellford added that if the 1972 program offers no reassurances about next season's supply, it is likely that the supply problem would be resolved anyway -- through loss of both foreign and domestic markets. "The specter of drastic losses such as those which resulted from the 1967-68 price run-up will continue to hang over us until it is laid to rest by prospects of a larger 1972 crop."

When you think about your future, think about the Army Reserve.

Best thing is to ask him about fees on your first visit, UPDATE suggests. Why not be straightforward about it?

Proper Harvest Can Cut Soybean Losses

COLLEGE STATION -- Soybean producers can put a few extra dollars in their pockets this fall through proper harvesting practices, contends R.J. Hodges, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Harvest losses generally average three bushels of soybeans per acre," notes the agronomist. "Proper harvesting could cut these losses by two-thirds, and, at current prices, this could mean a saving of $6. or more per acre." Nationwide, one of every 10 bushels of soybeans produced is lost at harvest time, inflicting a loss of more than $350 million on the industry. A loss of four seeds per square foot is equal to about one bushel per acre.

"With soybeans in strong demand this year, careful attention to the harvesting operation is especially important," points out Hodges. "Producers should first of all check the moisture content of the beans and begin harvesting when it reaches 13 percent. Operating the combine at a slower ground speed and keeping the cutterbar close to the ground also will bring in more soybeans."

The combine should be properly adjusted before taking it into the field, says Hodges. Once in the field, it should be operated at a ground speed of 2 1/2 to 3 miles per hour. Reel speed should be slightly greater than the combine's ground speed. The reel should be run deep enough in the beans to control the stalks and should be 6 to 12 inches ahead of the cutterbar.

Harvesting during the early morning when the straw is damp from dew can reduce shatter loss. Under such conditions, the combine's cylinder speed should be increased (800 rpm's for a 22-inch cylinder).

"Remember that harvesting losses in soybeans can be reduced sharply by using a little more care and taking the time to make necessary adjustments in equipment," reminds Hodges. "And every bushel saved at harvest is clear profit."

Foods Of The Future To Be Different

COLLEGE STATION -- Foods made from fungus, swamp gas, auto exhaust gas, oil, molds and algae?

Although they may sound far out, we may actually be eating such foods some day, says Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

Food technologists and nutritionists at the Western Hemisphere Nutrition Congress held recently in Miami, Florida, discussed some of these possibilities, the specialist explains.

One possibility may be single cell protein, an edible food product, made by bacteria, yeast or molds. Some microorganisms have the ability to turn gas and oil, for instance, into edible, valuable protein foods. Protein is the food element most needed by the world's malnourished populations, Miss Springer reminds.

Other researchers are working with bacteria that can turn cellulose -- the most abundant organic substance on earth -- to food. If the experiments are successful, such bacteria might be able to convert a bag of household trash into a meal as healthy as a thick steak.

According to the specialist, the basis of these experiments is this: A cow eats grass, mostly cellulose, and it becomes protein and steak. Various scientists believe that bacteria, in controlled operations, may be able to do the same, thus supplying cheap, virtually endless protein for the world's growing population.

The specialist also reports the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is developing methods to make food from human breath. They hope to use this to supplement food supplies on long space voyages.

So, Miss Springer concludes, as we look to the future, foods will be different for our children's children.

Increase In Medicare In Effect

If you are enrolled in Medicare, the protection you have against high medical expenses is becoming more and more valuable each year. Hospital and medical costs have nearly doubled since Medicare went into effect in 1965.

As these expenses have continued to grow, Medicare has absorbed most of the costs with only small increases in the price of its protection. However, to continue providing maximum coverage to its beneficiaries without increases in taxes, the Social Security Administration has announced that, effective January 1, 1971, the part you pay while in a hospital was increased slightly.

For the first 60 days you are in a hospital, Medicare pays all of the covered expenses except the first $60. For the next 30 days, Medicare pays all the covered expenses except for $15 a day. You previously had to pay the first $52 and $13 a day.

Also, if you use any of the 60 "lifetime reserve" days in the hospital, Medicare pays all the covered costs except $30 a day.

If you need extended skilled care in a nursing home after a stay in a hospital, Medicare pays all of the covered expenses for the first 20 days and all but $7.50 a day for up to 80 more days. Formerly, the cost was $6.50 a day.

If you have medical insurance under Medicare, your coverage has not changed. Your insurance will pay 80 percent of your covered medical expenses over $50 each year. However, effective July of 1971, there will be a slight increase in your monthly premium.

Therefore, although medical expenses have skyrocketed since 1965, the cost to you has changed little.

If you have questions, you should call your nearest social security office.

Also, if you use any of the 60 "lifetime reserve" days in the hospital, Medicare pays all the covered costs except $30 a day.

Fertilizer Necessary For Top Production

LUBBOCK --- Fertilizer is necessary for top wheat production for both grain and forage on the High Plains.

This is the word from Dr. Arthur Onken, soil researcher at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. And the best method of determining fertilizer needs is through proper soil tests, he says.

"Any sound fertilizer program must be constructed around soil test results," Onken emphasizes. These tests need to be tied in with actual yields on the same type soil. This is the system used at the Center's soil testing laboratory, which is operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with the cooperation of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station personnel.

The first limiting factor for irrigated wheat production is nitrogen, which is necessary for optimum yields on most High Plains soils. On some of these soils, phosphorus may be needed when adequate amounts of nitrogen are applied. Onken reports that 15 years of research show that wheat yields on the High Plains have not been increased by application of potassium, sulfur, iron, zinc or magnesium.

Other research has shown that fertilizer response depends on two things -- yield potential and residual nutrients applied to the previous crop. If some factor other than nutrition restricts yields, such as limited irrigation, then optimum production can be reached with less fertilizer.

"Application of fertilizer materials will not compensate for lack of water, heavy weed infestations, or other poor management practices," Onken warns.

Most fertilizers sold on the High Plains will supply nitrogen and phosphorus equally well. The differences blamed on different sources of fertilizer are usually caused by the wrong application technique rather than a difference in the products.

"For example, it is inadvisable to apply nitrogen sources such as urea to a soil surface and leave it exposed for extended periods of time," Onken warns. Also, anhydrous ammonia will escape to the atmosphere when applied to a soil that is dry and cloddy, or one that is so wet that the chisel channel cannot be closed easily.

"Except for putting nitrogen on sandy soils, all fertilizers can be applied any time after the previous crop has been harvested," the researcher says.

On sandy soils, nitrogen leaching can be a problem, and Onken recommends that a fourth to a third of the nitrogen be applied before planting with the rest top-dressed in one or more applications, depending on the grazing schedule.

"When wheat is to be grazed, more nitrogen is needed than just for grain production," Onken says. Grazing can reduce grain yields; however, this loss will not be significant if adequate fertilizer is supplied and cattle are taken off before the tillering stage.

Salvation Army Still Active

"The Salvation Army is still in business and very active in Lamb County," says Doyle Patton, chairman of the Salvation Army Service Unit in Littlefield.

Patton also states that there is no longer a permanent Salvation Army officer stationed in this immediate area, but the emergency welfare program of the Salvation Army continues as before.

There are three separate Salvation Army Service Unit Committees that serve the citizens of Lamb County.

Olton has an 11-member committee under the direction of Chairman Basil Sherman.

The 15-member Littlefield committee serves not only Littlefield, but also Amherst, Spade and Sudan. The Littlefield chairman is Doyle Patton.

The 9-member Earth committee consists of Ross Middleton, chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Wood, Alvin Pittman, Mrs. Lynn Glasscock, M. H. Been, Rev. David Hartman, Rev. Glen Smith, Rev. Charles Dunnam and Rev. Leonard Harper.

These committees make all decisions as to who will receive help and the amount of assistance to be given. Evident needs can be helped at once as there is no red tape involved.

Salvation Army assistance is available to both transients and local people. It has been pointed out that all Salvation Army facilities and state programs are available as needed.

Cancer Society Meets

Members of the Lamb County Cancer Society met for a regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 21, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Houchin of Earth.

Representatives from Lubbock, Littlefield and Earth heard District Cancer Society President Dan Harris of Lubbock report on the State Cancer Society meeting held at Houston in August.

Harris passed out new officer packets containing literature for the forthcoming year.

Refreshments of dips, chips, coffee and punch were served following the business session. Attending from Earth were Mrs. Thurman Lewis, Mrs. M. E. Kelley, Mrs. Marvin Sanders and Mrs. C. L. Houchin.

Coffee trees bear fruit for about 20 years.
