National Newspaper Week. October 5-11 reminds me of the many, many happy days we have moving forward again. This is spent in Earth as publishers of a thought that brings about a your local news paper. My memory reminds me also of the many, many lovely friends we growing little town in Texas. have made as we walked this It isn't entirely impossible for way of life in this small West Earth to catch up and gain back Texas community of Earth and her zeal for growth. We are also reminded of the many we loved so dearly here, housing. However, there seems who have passed on to their rewards leaving a void in our hearts.

Newspaper Week, we are reminded of our own two children growing up sweet, kind and loving in spite of their absent parents, who were on duty at the newspaper both day and to spend with them. For those lost hours, many tears have to have a business. been shed, but God in his mercy watched over the two and kept them safe. He helped us to appreciate the time we did have together.

You'd be surprised how few people say "Thanks" for a complimentary story, but you'd be surprised at the ones who want to scream or call you names when you print a story they consider uncomplimentary. That the story is true, doesn't mean a thing, they just DON'T WANT TO SEE IT IN PRINT. One may lose what they thought was a friend along the way. However, when newspaper is your occupation in life, you find you must do what you must do and in that way you really find out who your friends

National Newspaper Week always brings tears to my eyes, as the years in newspaper here have been memorable ones for us. As we look back through our newspaper files in 1954 when we came here, and go through the years one by one, it becomes a History Book. No place on earth can you find as much history about the Earth-Springlake Community as in the files of the News-Sun. We have the births, deaths, achievements, growth, etc.

Being your publishers hold many, many memories, some wonderful, some sad, but in all sincerety we must admit, that if we had the power to change our past lives, we would not have missed being a proud member of the Newspaper Publishers of this great nation. Had we done so, we feel we would have missed much depth to our lives. For many times we have cried silently when you cried, were proud when you were proud, and most of all have truly tried to love each of you, whether you loved us or not.

That's what Newspaper Week means to us. But, whether it pleases the majority of you, we shall continue to print the news. We shall always guard the right of a FREE PRESS.

THE LITTLE RED HEN (Revisited)

Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about near the grain bins and uncovered some grains of wheat. We began our 22 year as your She called her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat, we will have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?" "Not I," said the cow. "Not I, "said the duck. "Not I, " said the goose. "Then I will, " said the little red hen. And she did.

The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain, "Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen. "Not I," said the duck. "Out of my classification," said the pig. "I'd lose my seniority, " said the cow. "I'd lose my unemployment insurance," said the

Then it came time to bake the bread. "That's overtime for me, "said the cow, "I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the duck. "I'd lose my welfare benefits, "said the pig. "If I'm the only helper, that's discrimination, "said the goose.

"Then I will, " said the little red hen. She baked five loaves and held them up for her neighbors to see. They all wanted some, even demanded a share. But the red hen said, "No, I can rest for a while and eat the five loaves myself. "

"Excess profits," cried the cow. "Capitalistic leech," screamed the duck. "Company fink, " grunted the pig. "Equal rights," yelled the goose, And they hurriedly painted "Unfair" picket signs and marched around the little red hen, shouting ob-

And they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked, "I am grateful. I am grateful. " But her neighbors wondered why

Consumer Service Program Began Wednesday At Post Office

A nationwide Consumer Service Program designed to improve and broaden the quality of mail service was announced last week by Postmaster Harold

It began October 1, the U.S. Postal Service introduced a program at the Earth Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service. The cards will help management spot problem areas and trends and take cor-

The card should take no more than two minutes to fill out. The postmaster also said he and his staff are willing to discuss any problems, including lack of courtesy, irregularities in deliveries or collections, collection box convenience and

"We want you to come to us with your problems, "concluded Postmaster Miller. "The whole point of this service program is to bring your problems and gripes out into the open where we can attempt to resolve

moving the football for the first time, and greater depth in key positions, the Wolverines used the running of Larry Dear and a defense that gave up yardage, but a scarcity of points to simply wear down the outmanned Sudan Hornets 25-6, Friday

The Wolverines on their first posession moved the football in six plays for a TD that set the tone of the ballgame. Lee Brown started the drive on his own 44 by finding tight end Brad Bridges in the right flat and he did the rest, rambling for a 46 yard gain to the Hornet 12. Furt hit for 5, Geissler for 7 and the Wolverines had a first down at the 1. Geissler hit over tackle for the TD and at 7:15 of the first it was 6-0. Furr was stopped on a counter for the extra point try.

The teams traded punts and the Hornets drove from their 16 to the Wolverine 19 where on first down Martin fumbled and Willie Flores recovered for the Wolverines at their own 7. Brown ran 30 on an option and then Furr and Geissler carried for another first. But the drive stalled and Wood punted to the Hornet 2. Neither team could get anything going after they traded punts again and the first half ended after Flores had intercepted a Sudan pass, but the Wolverines couldn't take advantage of the break.

After picking up just one yard in the first half, Dear, (who filled in for the injured Geissler) started the second half with a 34 yard burst on a dive to his own 46. Once again though the Hornets held and forced a punt. Furr's punt was a beauty, 42 yards with Dear killing it at the Sudan 5. The Hornets could not move and the Wolverines got another break when the Sudan punt covered just 15 yards. On first down Mark Barton in at QB, got two tremendous blocks from Cliff Wood and BradBarden and ran 32 yards on the option for the touchdown. Furr again was stopped and with 6:45 left it was 12-0.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By: BILL WELDON

The "Green Machine" is about as predictable as West Texas weather during corn harvest or the U.S. Government on export controls. Lacking consistency in moving the football all year, they suddenly find it. The big play defense becomes more like a rubber band when it gives up plenty of yardage but very few points. So, amid all the confusion of whether the offense is finally beginning to jell or is the defense hurting because of injuries, the Wolverines pieced together a team effort to soundly whip Sudan.

The game answered some key questions, but also raised some, but most of a pleasant nature for the coaches. The running of Larry Dear showed that there is depth at the running back position. But on the other hand Furr, Geissler and Barden have all had good nights. A pleasant problem, to have that stable of good backs, in case of injury to a starter. The depth "problem" extends to the quarterback position as well as tight end, or split end. There is an abundance of talent at all of these positions and allows for a greater degree of experimentation to give each player valuable game experience. The same is true for the line where the Wolverines are young in spots and must improve by

On the defensive side of the coin, the play of newcomers has helped ease the situation and allowed the coaches to rest offensive starters. The secondary had been riddled with passes before Friday night, but responded with its first interception. The coaches also have an abundance of players from which to choose at the four secondary positions, or for that matter at the linebacker positions. If there is a weakness in depth it would come at the down position on defense, especially since the injury of Bryan Taylor.

Since the Wolverines have blown hot and cold on different week-ends, one can never tell or judge just how fast the team as a whole is developing.

If the play against Sudan is any indication then the Wolverines have taken a giant step forward to consistency. But after the game against Dimmitt, they need to put back to back games together to prove that they are maturing as a team. It was obvious to all that the team was mentally ready to play Friday night, taking the fight to the Hornets from the out, and Rodney Geissler is doubtful, (Bad ankle) The Wolverines must not look ahead to Vega, but concentrate on refining the offense for the district chase. The Mustangs will be itching for a win and would like to avenge last year's loss.

We think the Wolverines are ready to roll---but they must be mentally ready.

Dr. Gwin Morris, executive director of the museum, says, This museum will tell the story of the people of this area from early "Plainview Man" 8,000 years ago through the Indian era, the removal of the Indians, the coming of the settlers, and finally to the formation of political units, the counties. We'll cover homes, families, schools, churches, businesses, the whole aspect of life through these times.

Indian artifacts from digs at will be on exhibit along with private collections that have een donated. Most of the museum's contents are now housed in Matador Hall, an old unused girl's dormitory.

Long-range plans include expanding the rear of the new building into a "living museum. " An old "dugout" house will be moved in, then a "box
