Generation II Unveiling of Farm Supply to Host Open House

It's here - talk about a generation gap! It's so great that Farm Supply has scheduled an open house for all farmers in the area on Saturday, August 19, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Mr. Dent, manager of Farm Supply says this is the second generation of the new John Deere Tractors since they were introduced twelve years ago.

Mr. Dent and Tom Sanders attended a two-day training course at Waterloo, Iowa, where the new line was introduced to all John Deere dealers. Mr. Dent says their enthusiasm was very high, particularly after he and other dealers had operated the new tractors. While he cannot discuss specific details until the August 19 announcement, Mr. Dent says it will be to every farmer's advantage, especially from a health and comfort standpoint, to attend the open house and learn all the facts about the new John Deere Tractors.

The open house will begin at 10:30 a. m. and will last all day. Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts will be served all day and door prizes will be awarded after the drawings at 3:30 p. m.

Showers Dot Area

Brief but moderately heavy showers fell in the Earth trade territory Sunday evening and again Monday. The first shower, giving farmers west and southwest of town a good cotton shower. Monday's rain gave .25 inch of rain northeast of town on Lowell Walden's farm. However, the weatherman calls for the possibility of more later so perhaps all will get a much needed rain before the skies clear.

ctors and sports of- nist that steroids are ve and have unplea- effects. The Inter- Olympics Committee medical commission warns in a booklet called DOPING, that "anabolic steroids can severely harm the health, causing liver and bone damage, disturbances in the metabolic and sexual functions, and among women, virilization and menstrual upset."

Despite professional opinions and despite the fact that an amateur athlete caught taking a nontherapeutic drug can be disqualified, the drugs are widely used. Donald Cooper, medical committee chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, says that 80 to 90 percent of all weight lifters take steroids. The editor of MUSCULAR Development, John Grimek, estimates that between "99 and 101" percent of the contestants for Mr. America in 1971 were taking or had experimented with steroids.

In medicine, these drugs are legitimately used only to treat debilitated patients and such diseases as pituitary dwarfism. Thus, in order to obtain steroids, athletes must usually turn to the black market or to unethical pharmacists.

Steroids were originally used during World War II by German troops to increase aggressiveness; and some survivors of Nazi concentration camps were given the drugs to help build body weight.

Steroids were first used by athletes in 1954, when the Russians gave them to their Olympic team. Even as late as 1965, the drugs were used mainly by body builders and weight lifters—but today usage of steroids seems to have become a common practice.

Present day steroids stem from the discovery that testosterone can be modified to diminish its sexual effects (testosterone regulates the development of the secondary sexual characteristics of the male) while preserving its growth-promoting or anabolic benefits.

Dr. John Ziegler, a Maryland physician, tested the new anabolic steroids on athletes. His early conclusion was that these drugs were effective, but later he believed that with normal people their influence was mostly psychological. Dr. Ziegler found, for example, that subjects claimed the same improvements whether they received steroids or a placebo, which is a harmless sugar-coated pill used in drug testing. (A person participating in a drug test never knows whether he is receiving the drug or a placebo.)

Extensive research was done by Dr. J.P. O'Shea at Oregon State University, who gave steroids to several subjects. He found that those receiving the drugs gained significantly in weight and muscle strength over on-drug-using subjects.

Kent is a 1970 graduate of Springlake-Earth, enlisting in the Navy in August 1970. He took his basic at Naval Training Station, Orlando, Florida, and his homeport has been Norfolk, Va., USS E. A. Green.

It seems that Kent has seen much of the world and he shared his voyages with us. In July-October of 1971, he sailed the Caribbean to Cuba, Jamaica, and Porto Rico and the North Atlantic to Norway and Germany. From December '71 to July '72, he sailed the Mediterranean to Italy, Greece, Spain, Africa, France and Turkey.

He will board the USS William M. Wood (DD-715) on September 1, and sail to Athens, Greece until February 1, 1974.

In talking to Kent he stated that the Navy isn't the best thing in the world, but he is seeing plenty of foreign countries. Earth is still home to him and it looks mighty good!

Effort Begins On Anchor Safe Mobile Homes

Operation Anchor-Safe, a nation-wide effort to eliminate wind damage to mobile homes, has been launched by the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association (MHMA).

"Like other types of housing, mobile homes are subject to damage from storms and high winds," Mrs. Jane Berry, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said. "Operation Anchor-Safe is geared to provide mobile home owners and buyers with information to eliminate damage and injury from these winds."

Mrs. Berry explained that the mobile home industry has begun nation-wide effort to encourage every state to adopt legislative requirements for mobile home anchoring. Presently, manufacturing firms are required to build their mobile homes to an established standard which provides minimum specifications for the home's body and frame construction as well as plumbing, heating and electrical systems.

"The national association's Land Development Division urges mobile home developments across the nation to make necessary arrangements for anchoring," the Texas A&M University specialist pointed out. "Those residing in mobile home communities should urge resident managers to make these same arrangements available for tenants."

She noted that while the purpose of anchoring is safety, mobile home owners will also realize savings in insurance premium plus an increased resale price.

Mrs. Berry named four basic criteria for maximum mobile home protection: construction according to the American National Standard Institute's Standard for Mobile Homes; site improvement according to minimum requirements; proper blockage and set-up on the mobile home site; and proper anchorage to the home site.

MHMA's land development division has prepared suggested engineering drawings and anchoring instructions, pending appropriate testing and adoption of anchoring device criteria.

"Interested developers and consumers can secure this information by sending a stamped eight-cent, self-addressed long envelope, plus 25 cents to Operation Anchor-Safe, MHMA, Box 56066, Chicago, Illinois, 60656."

Migrant Workshop Held

Mrs. Vic Coker and Mrs. Leon Dent attended the migrant workshop in Lubbock, Thursday and Friday, and Mrs. Robert Gossett attended on Friday. Dr. Anthony V. Manzo, Associate professor of education at the University of Missouri at Kansas City, was the keynote speaker, Thursday evening, when 350 area teachers and personnel registered for a 2 day migrant workshop at Estacado High School. "Language and inquiry" was the title he chose to speak on. In his address, Manzo outlined two points for the teaching of migrant children by training them in basic inquiry and curiosity. "Help them dignify their experiences and help them express their experiences, so we can share their experiences." "Teach them how to inquire." He cited a current research project underway in which he participated to develop programs and teach children how to ask questions effectively. His speech followed an introduction by Dr. Omer R. Douglas, Lubbock, executive director of Region 17 Education Service Center. Lee C. Frasier, Austin, directed the workshop and had several opening remarks in the morning program. Groups were then designated to meet in various seminars conducted throughout the workshop. Topics included were child development, bilingual education, cultural heritage, career education, migrant record transfer system and health service. There were 26 consultants, all specialists in working with migrant children, from various parts of Texas, Arizona University, Wisconsin University, Little Rock, Arkansas, and Fresno, California. The attending ladies reported a very interesting and informative workshop.

Texas Historical Marker Erected in Amherst

An Official Texas Historical Marker for the Town of Amherst was erected on August 15, it was announced today by Mr. V.N. Peterman of Amherst, chairman of the Lamb County Historical Survey Committee. The marker will be placed at FM 37 (Main St.,) in the City Park, Amherst. Dedication will be announced in the near future. A marker of this size and similar description is being processed and will be erected in the City of Earth in the near future. These markers are being co-sponsored by the Historical Committee and the Ewing Halsell Foundation. Made of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect, the marker measures 27 by 42 inches and is sponsored by Lamb County Historical Survey Committee. The inscription on the marker reads: TOWN OF AMHERST Began in 1913 as a cattle-shipping point on Pecos & Northern Texas Railroad, served the 300,000-acre Springlake Ranch which was established in 1902 by W. E. "Colonel Bill" Halsell (1877-1965). According to local tradition the shipping point was named for Amherst College, Mass., Alma Mater of one of the railway officials. When, in 1923, the economy of the high plains began to switch from ranching to farming, the Halsells divided much of their land to sell to the influx of new settlers. Farms could be bought for $25 an acre. They set aside land at the railroad depot for a town and donated lots for a school and churches. First permanent building was the Amherst Hotel, built by Halsell Land Company for prospective buyers and visitors. It also had space for a bank, general store, and office. For years it was the most popular hotel between Clovis, N.M., and Lubbock, Tex. The first general store was opened in 1923, a post office in 1924, and the first national bank in 1925. The town's first newspaper was the "Argus." By 1930 Amherst had a population of 964. Today (1972) citizens number 835 and the economy is based on cotton and grain, hog raising and cattle feeding. The marking of local historic sites and landmarks is part of Texas State Historical Survey Committee's program of preservation Act in Texas. As of 1970 the Survey Committee had erected more than 5,000 official markers. The name and location of the present marker will appear in the next edition of the GUIDE TO OFFICIAL TEXAS HISTOR-ICAL MARKERS in order to stimulate tourist travel in this area, to arouse interest in historical tours, and to acquaint people of this locale of their unique heritage. Monty Winders, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Winders, had an emergency appendectomy Sunday evening in Littlefield Hospital. His condition is reported to be good.

Our Boys In Service

PVT. SANTOS PEREZ R. FT. ORD, CALIF., August, -- Army Private Santos Perez, Jr., 19, whose parents live at Dimmitt, is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif., where he is training under the modern volunteer Army program. The program combines basic and advanced individual training (AIT) into an average 16-week program, depending on the AIT the soldier receives after completing basic. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections give the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the program. Pvt. Perez began his tour with Company A, 1st Battalion of the 1st Brigade, 17 and is scheduled to begin the first phase on Sept. He is a 1972 graduate of Dimmitt High School. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Debbie, Brenda and of Bard, Mew Mexico and Mrs. Art McFarlane of Odessa are in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Parish.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Scheduled

The only rodeo of its kind in the nation will be held over the Labor Day weekend, September 3 and 4.

It will be the 28th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, where approximately 10,000 people are expected for the two performances. More than 150 boys will be riding calves, steers, brahma bulls and bucking broncs. Older boys will compete on professional rodeo stock with judging under R. C. A. rules. All of the 375 boys who make their home at the Ranch will have some part in the rodeo, either as contestants or working in the many behind-the-scenes activities.

Both performances of the rodeo will begin at 2:30 on Sunday and Monday afternoons with music provided by the Boys Ranch band. An added attraction will be big bar-be-que sandwiches that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1.00. The rodeo is also a traditional homecoming for the more than 2,500 boys who have lived at the Ranch since it was founded by Cal Farley in 1939.

Reserve box seat tickets for $2.50 are available at the Boys Ranch office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo, or can be obtained by writing to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79106. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for children.

BANK HONORS S-E FACULTY

The Springlake-Earth School faculty was honored Tuesday, August 15, at 3:30 p. m. at a reception in the bank by officers and employees of the Citizens State Bank.

A gift of appreciation was presented to each guest that attended and delicious refreshments of Cokes, coffee and cookies were served to the 33 guests who registered.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Fanning and family of Enid, Oklahoma, are visiting this week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fanning.

David Hinchliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hinchliffe, is home and recovering from a mild case of hepatitis.

It Happens in TEXAS!

Not even the fish are safe from drunk drivers. The Texas Safety Association says that more than 1,500 Texans are killed each year by drinking drivers.

Graduates College Bound

There are 24 graduates of the 1972 class of Springlake-Earth High School that are currently enrolled in colleges and universities.

To Lubbock and Texas Tech will be: Karen Hinchliffe; Marlon Dawson; Becky Littleton; Susie Temple; Donna Dunnam; Regina Cole; Dale Wheatley and Hoyt Glascock. Lubbock Christian College was chosen by Karen Dear, while Criss Dent goes to Abilene Christian College in Abilene. Carl Sulser will be going to McMurry College in Abilene. South Plains Junior College at Levelland has been chosen by: Raiford Daniels; Janet Britton; Hollis Daniels; Mike Cleavinger; Greg Slover; Chris Brock and Norma Cantu.

West Texas State University at Canyon; Chuck Smith; Bruce Bridges; Joe Rivas and Donald Templeton, Sherry Pittman has chosen attend Southwestern College, Weatherford, Texas; and Terrell O'Connell attending North Texas State University at Denton.

Yes, we will miss these boys here in Earth, but they will someday return to make their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. G. Dallas is visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walker.

County Jury Wheel Filled

The names of 6,566 prospective jurors of Lamb County will go into a drum this week to provide a fair and impartial list of persons for jury service for the coming year.

Under State laws passed last year, the use of mechanical means of selecting jurors, replaces the old jury commission method.

In the past exemptions were granted to morticians, teachers (except during summers or vacations), preachers, physicians, pharmacists, firemen, nurses, chiropractors, optometrists, attorneys and spouses of practicing attorneys, dentists, veterinarians, railroad companies, members of the National Guard, forestry agents and forest patrolmen, and faith healer, the spouse of any person summoned on the same jury panel, persons over 65, and females with children under 16.

Of all these exemptions, the only unchanged exemptions are for persons over 65. Those over 65 now have the option of claiming their exemption but may select to serve. Women with legal custody of children under the age of 10 years (rather than 16) do not have to serve.

The many other exemptions have been removed. That coupled with mechanized selection means that many persons who have never been called as jurors may be receiving notices for jury duty now.

Not only are the butcher, the baker and the candle stick maker required to report for jury duty when called, but the doctor, the teacher and the preacher are subject to this civic duty.

Between now and the 15th of this month, the tax collector, sheriff, county clerk, and district clerk of the county will meet at the county courthouse and reconstitute the jury wheel using as the sole and mandatory source all names on the voter registration lists of persons 21 and over from all precincts in the county.

The list of names of registered voters which goes into the wheel this month will be used for all jury panels drawn Jan. 1 through Dec. 31 of next year. Only in the event that additional jurors are needed to fill out the August through December court settings will the reconstituted list be used the remainder of this year.

DDT Will Continue to Vaporize From Soil

The ban of DDT may not remove environmental problems immediately, according to a report in the Journal of Agricultural and Food Chemistry, a bimonthly publication of the American Chemical Society.

For many years material will continue to escape into the air from past DDT applications, and the airborne material has a different, perhaps ecologically more potent, chemical makeup than the original DDT applied to the soil, reported Dr. William F. Spencer and Mark M. Claitor of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service, Soil and Water Conservation Research Division, at the University of California, Riverside.

Two substances related to DDT use are significantly more volatile than the main constituent of crude DDT. The significance of low concentrations of these substances in air is not known although the vaporization and subsequent atmospheric transport away from past applications (or future ones) implies that contamination of the biosphere will continue, said Dr. Spencer in an interview. There is some evidence, he said, that rain removes such substances from the air. However, the ecological impact of DDT at the immediate point of application should slowly erode after its use is discontinued.

Essentially nonbiodegradable, the usual breakdown product of DDT--DDE--vaporizes from soil about twice as readily as the predominant form of DDT, the authors reported. "Increasingly implicated" is egg-shell thinness and decreased population of birds, DDE has a lethal-toxicity rating somewhat less than that of DDT. DDE is slowly formed from DDT in soil. One-third of the DDT applied to a California soil was converted to DDE in seven to eight years, Dr. Spencer commented.

Crude DDT which is applied to soil contains primarily p, p'-DDT. A related minor constituent that appears to be ecologically more significant is called o, p'-DDT. This "impurity" which mimics the action of female hormone (estrogen) to a greater degree than p, p'-DDT does, volatilizes seven and one-half times as readily as that main constituent, the authors noted.

Recent evidence indicates that escape of degradation products into the air is a major pathway for the loss of some "persistent" organochlorine pesticides from soils. This process disperses the more volatile components in the environment away from the point of application and allows the accumulation of the less volatile components in the soil.

While this may aid the environment in the application area, it also can spread DDT-related compounds into areas of low contamination.

SUPERPEST

An important pest, the tobacco budworm, already resistant to carbamate and DDT-like pesticides, has now become resistant to still another class--organophosphorus (OP) insecticides, such as the widely used parathion. Parathion has been used to control cotton pests in certain regions of Texas, Mexico, and Central America. But the appearance of OP resistant has forced curtailment of cotton production in some places and threatens others, since economic control can no longer be achieved with present chemicals. Scientists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, College Station, Texas report that the development of OP-resistance in tobacco budworms coincides with a substantial increase in their capacity to detoxify a variety of substances, including other classes of pesticides. The key initial reaction which detoxifies parathion in insects is more active in the resistant tobacco budworm, in which several important enzyme systems were significantly enhanced (enzymes catalyze reactions in the body).

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butter entertained with a Wednesday evening dinner for their guests, Mrs. Dora Belle Angeley, Mrs. Clayburn Stewart, Claylene and Chad of Rankin and Mrs. Jesse Cole and Heath of Lubbock.

Required Immunizations 1972

Texas now has new laws that require immunizations for all students enrolled in child caring facilities and institutions, schools and institutions of higher learning. The required immunizations are shown below by age groups:

MINIMUM IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS FOR CHILDREN ADMITTED TO CHILD CARING FACILITIES AND INSTITUTIONS, SCHOOLS AND INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING

DOSES OF VACCINE REQUIRED FOR FOUR DIFFERENT AGE GROUPS
VACCINE	Under 1 year	1-4 years	5-11 years	12 yrs. & older
ORAL POLIO	3	3	3*	3* (Thru Age 18)
DTP and/or Td	3	3	3*	3
MEASLES	NONE	1	1	NONE
RUBELLA	NONE	1	1	NONE
SMALLPOX	NONE	1	1	1

NOTE: *At least one of these doses must have been received since the 4th birthday. **At least one dose must have been received within the past 10 years. If a child has had measles illness, measles vaccine is not required. Requirements for Kindergarten (five-year-old children only) and grades 1 thru 5 are the same as those for ages 5-11 years shown above. Requirements for grades 6 and above are the same as those for ages 12 years and older as shown above.

After June 1972, signature or rubber stamp validation of personal records by physicians or public health clinics is required for school registration.

Las nuevas Leyes del estado de Texas requieren que se administren ciertas inmunizaciones a todos los estudiantes que ingresan en escuelas publicas, parroquiales, o privadas. La siguiente serie de inmunizaciones son requeridas para todos los estudiantes que ingresan a la escuela este año:

Difteria
Tetanos
Tox Ferina
Poliomielitis
Sarampion (Rubella)
Sarampion Aleman (Rubella)

Para estar completamente seguro de cuales inmunizaciones su niño todavía necesita, llene la tarjeta de los "shots" que ya ha recibido para que la revise su medico personal. Recuerde cada niño debe de tener documentacion personal de inmunizaciones con las fechas y clase de inoculaciones que le fueron administradas. Todas las inmunizaciones deben ser verificadas por un medico o la clinica de salud. Si usted tiene algunas preguntas sobre el particular, favor de comunicarse con su medico o con el departamento de salud en la ciudad donde usted reside. El distrito escolar de Herford agradece su amable cooperacion en este asunto. Los niños deben tener estas inmunizaciones para cuando principian las clases el 21 de Agosto, 1972.
