I am delighted to see Earth citizens asserting a definite interest in the proposed experiment station of the Texas Research Foundation.

The service of such a station to this region is incalculable. Its progress in research is not retarded by the usual red tape of government stations.

Therefore, with a new vegetable era inevitably headed in our direction, it behooves every farmer on the south Plains to lend his moral and financial support to the establishment of such an experiment station.

Little Pricey hit the run-off trail Monday morning yapping out of one side of his mouth that "a clean campaigner can still win office in Texas... without name calling and personalities."

Scores of times during the primary campaign, Texas' little Republican Senator practiced the old magician's trick of deflected attention on his audiences.

A clever boy, that little Junior. But when he referred to the negro voters as being the only groups which went against him, he certainly took a costly swing at one million other voters who must have gone against him.

Election results substantiate that approximately ONE MILLION voters in Texas disapproved a continuation of the "Austin gang" of which Price Daniel was an integral part both by Republican party affiliation and as an office holder during the scandal-ridden Shivers administration.

Little Junior has never denied the secret mid-night meeting at the Governor's mansion in which it is alleged that a trade-off deal was made on a senate vacancy in case he (Daniel) was elected governor.

It appears now that a real Republican "hogpen habitue" is scheduled to haunt Texas for another two years if these two arch plotters are successful.

Accident Fatal To Ft. Worth Girl

(Editors Note — The following article was taken from the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram. The little girl involved was a grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gilmore of Earth)

Fort Worth 1956 traffic fatality count Saturday stood at 32 — the same number that it took all year to reach in 1955.

Eight year old Mary Elizabeth Jackson who was not believed seriously injured when struck by a car Tuesday, took a turn for the worse and died in a hospital Friday afternoon.

The death pushed the Tarrant County traffic count for the year to 47.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jackson, 3505 S. Jennings received head injuries when struck by a car at Berry and Jennings while returning from the grocery store. Witnesses said she crossed on a green light.

Driver of the car McKinley Graves, 58 year old negro preacher of 1439 Maddox, was given a ticket for passing a signal light and for careless collision.

Traffic Lt. Jimmy Wood said the case was still under investigation.

Graves denied he ran to stop light and said he had been praying every night for the little girl.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Monday in Guardian Chapel.

She is survived by a brother, Donald Wayne; two sisters, Lillie Diane and Carol Lynn; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gilmore of Earth and W. N. Jackson of Ft. Worth.

John Smith of Plainview was in Earth on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Irvine entertained the members of the Giants Little League baseball team with a weiner roast at their home Monday evening.

About ten boys were present.

PLAINVIEW— July 31 (Special) — The State Commission on Accreditation has recommended that the Springlake Independent School District in Lamb County be warned that it is violating accreditation standards.

The recommendation came in a commission report which will be considered by the State Board of Education at its Sep. 3 meeting. If accepted it means the Springlake school will be one step from losing its accreditation.

The board has several categories for rating schools. Loss of accreditation would mean that Springlake graduates would have to take entrance examinations before they could enter college.

A report by inspectors was especially critical of the elementary school operated at Earth by the Springlake ISD. They said the one-room building was too small for its 32 pupils & in poor condition had no sanitary drinking facilities, sanitary toilets and had inadequate furniture.

Other schools in the district were in better condition, the inspectors said, and the teaching level was nearly adequate. The libraries are inadequate, however and some classes need additional teaching aids.

Delegates Named Sat. At Democratic Convention

A Democratic Convention of Precinct 2 was held Saturday afternoon in the Lyric Theatre with Roy Neal chairman, presiding.

Delegates to the county convention on August 4, were elected. They included W. H. (Bill) Braden, Bob Armstrong, Mrs. J. A. Littleton and Punk Martin.

STREET CONSTRUCTION MAN RETURNS BILLFOLD FOUND IN EARTH MONDAY

W. J. Botts, a 71 year old jobber of Plainview who delivers candy and similar items in the Plainview area, lost his billfold Monday while making deliveries in Earth. He estimated his loss at "about $500."

Botts returned to the spot where he thought he had lost the billfold, somewhere between Hammons Service Station and D & C Garage, but couldn't find a trace of it.

Inquiries at a nearby street construction job of a Lubbock contractor, Thelief P. Hodges, also failed to yield any information concerning the wallet.

Despairing of finding the billfold, or at least the money it contained, Botts returned to his home in Plainview.

Tuesday, Mr. Botts received the happy news that one of Hodges workers had found the billfold. The finder received a $20. reward for his honesty.

Beside learning that a lost wallet could be regained, Botts also learned that the billfold contained not $500, but nearly twice that amount. A count revealed more than $970, most of which was cash.

Its Not How Many But How Good

How many hens are needed to provide a living for the producer? The answer to this frequently asked question involves not only hen numbers but more important, says Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman, is the number of eggs required each week to earn the expected living income.

It is generally considered, says the specialist, that about 50,000 dozens of eggs are required to earn a living for a poultryman. Production on a weekly basis would need average about 1,000 dozens.

If average earnings were five cents a dozen, this production would return to the producer $50 each week. Since feed and flock depreciation represent a about 90 percent of the cost of producing eggs, the successful producer should concern rate on these two items of management.

To produce 52,000 dozens of eggs in a year with hens that average 17 dozens of eggs each, about 56 percent production, the poultryman would need a flock of slightly more than 3,000 laying hens in production year, round. Since mortality and culling will take out about 20 percent of the hens during the laying year, the poultryman will have the equivalent of a 1 months production from 90 percent of the pullets housed, point-out Wormell.

By upping the rate of lay per hen, the total number required to produce the 1,000 dozens of eggs each week can be cut. Too, says the specialist, it is just good business for the poultryman to carefully estimate his average costs and earnings and thus set a reasonable potential profit per dozen.

Too, Wormell urges egg producers to seek a dependable graded egg market where he can get full pay for producing eggs of top quality. By starting replacement chicks several times each year the producer can maintain both uniform marketing or egg volume and income from his egg business. Thus making his living income more stable.

WILL REDUCES COMPLICATIONS IN SETTLING ESTATE

A properly drawn will can be the means of short cutting many legal formalities, and save a great deal of time in distributing the estate of a decedent among his rightful heirs. It may also serve to save many dollars in legal fees and court costs.

As an example, whenever a person dies without a will and it is necessary for the probate court to appoint an administrator of his estate, the person so appointed is required to post a bond. This bond is for the purpose of insuring the faithful performance of his duties.

The amount of the bond must be double the estimated value of the personal property of the estate plus a reasonable amount to cover prospective rents and other income from real estate involved. The administrator's bond must be kept in force until the estate is finally closed & he is discharged from his obligation by court.

The same rule applies to an executor under a will, unless the testator has specified that no bond shall be required. This provision may be inserted or left out of the will at the option of the maker. Needless to say, there are situations in which the bond serves a real purpose. But when not needed, the statutory requirement may prove a distinct annoyance to the executor and a burden upon the estate in the form of annual premium payments.

Another example: A court appointed administrator may not sell any property of an estate without an order of the court authorizing him to do so. He must take application to the court for approval of each sale. The court must be advised of and approve the sales price and the manner in which the same is to be collected. Similar provisions apply to the making of mineral leases and other transactions.

These provisions apply equally to the executor of the will, unless the testator has freed him from such requirements. A single short paragraph inserted in a will designating him as an independent executor in appropriate phraseology may serve this purpose. Then he will have a free hand to dispose of property upon short notice whenever a favorable opportunity arises with a minimum of legal formality.

Since every application or other paper filed with the probate court and every order obtained from the court involves the expenditures of attorney fees for its preparation and court costs for its handling by the clerk, in proper cases many dollars may be saved for the heirs by adequate provisions of a will.

OUTDOOR COOKING CAN BE FUN

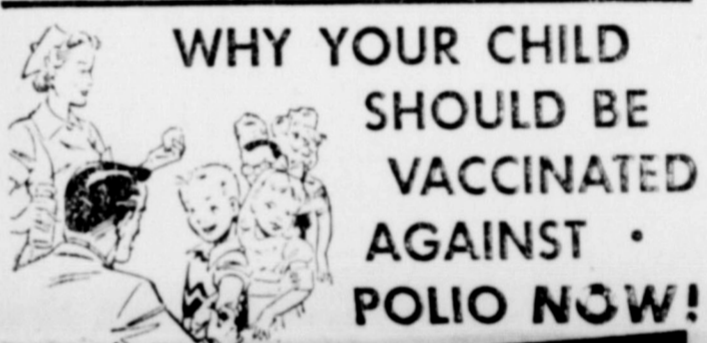

Warm weather and visions of juicy charcoal broiled steaks combine to make a good many of today's husbands don their barbecue aprons and adjourn to patios and backyards.

Realizing that adequate equipment is essential for successful outdoor cooking, the budding culinary genius shown here is all prepared to whip up a tantalizing meal for his family. After the meal, the clean-up job will be no problem, because the two portable barbecues our chef is using are finished in lifetime porcelain enamel. The hard glass-like finish is easily cleaned with soap and water. Mother will also appreciate the colorful porcelain enamel cups and dishes that dress up the table, yet are durable enough for picnic use.

Porcelain enamel affords the advantages of being rust proof, heat proof, and food or liquids can never stain its gleaming finish.

Our cook is also prepared if uninvited guests of the insect world drop in. The porcelain enamel garden torch, planted next to the cooking area, will keep bugs and mosquitoes from spoiling the meal. With a minimum of effort, an outdoor barbecue can add variety and fun to summer cooking, and with this in mind, porcelain enamel has stepped from the kitchen to the backyard to lend its versatile aid to well planned evening meals.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

Persuading Jeff to go shopping with me is a project requiring the wiles of a Mata Hari and the persistence of a bull dog. So I felt pretty smug the other day when I maneuvered him into a downtown department store. But when I pointed out the yellow couch I wanted, Jeff balked. "New look," he objected, "I'm willing to admit that you're the fashion authority in this family. But that light-colored upholstery is out of the question." He frowned. "Think of the cleaning bills!"

This was the remark I'd been waiting for. I steered Jeff to the appliance department and stepped in front of a new RCA Whirlpool air conditioner. "Here's what makes a yellow decor practical," I told him. "This air conditioner contains an electronic filter that traps dirt particles as tiny as 1/25,000th of an inch. Even the pollen count goes down. So air is really clean, as well as cool, when it enters the room." Jeff rose to the bait. "Say, that air conditioner would make your housework easier this summer."

"This winter, too," I cooed. "An electric heater goes to work warming cold outside air so we can have year-round ventilation without drafts." Talking fast, I emphasized some of the major advantages of the new air conditioner. I told Jeff it was a product of Whirlpool-Seegeer Corp., same as our freezer. I assured him our rugs and draperies and other furnishings would last longer and need less care. I mentioned the economy of fewer household cleaning bills. Then I brought up the yellow couch again. "I suppose the couch and the air conditioner would both be good investments," Jeff admitted. "But no more shopping trips," he added firmly. "For the rest of the summer, we'll stay home and enjoy today's purchases." I nodded. At least we'd be cool, I thought contentedly.

He weighed 9 lbs and 8 oz and was named Stephen Michael. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Houston Stephens of Earth.

Wash Knitwear for Summer Storage

Fine sweaters and knitted dresses should be completely clean before you store them for the summer, say homemaking experts, then folded carefully and placed in dustproof plastic bags or tightly fitted storage drawers.

For best results in washing, to avoid shrinkage problems, wash in cool water, using a special product designed for gentle but thorough cleaning of knitwear, such as Yarn-Glo, the cold-water sweater shampoo. Effective for safe cleaning of woolens, cashmeres, and synthetics, product is a pleasantly scented liquid, packaged in unbreakable plastic bottles.

Press and gently through sweater, squeeze dry — do not wring — and rinse just once in cool water. Sweaters and knit dresses should be dried flat, shaped to original form.

Attention Tech Students.

Texas Tech students looking for a home away from home this fall are invited to contact the Texas Tech Dean of Men's Office, Dean Lewis N. Jones announced.

There is no charge for the service, Dean Jones pointed out. Tech maintains the housing records as a public service for students faculty members, and persons with rental property.

Students who plan on working their way through Texas Tech should contact the Tech Placement Service as early as possible, according to Mrs. Jean Jenkins, director.

Early application can mean finding a full or part-time job more easily, she said. Or, it may mean a student's abilities can be more carefully matched with some employer's needs.

The Service is free to both employers and employees.

Mrs. Lester Hammons underwent an appendectomy at West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe last Thursday and at last report was recovering steadily.

Mrs. Shirley Sanifer and daughter of Paducah and Mrs. James Cox and two daughters of Plain view spent the early part of this week in the home of their sister Mrs. E. T. Borum.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Beavers of Muleshoe are new residents of Earth. They moved last week to the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pope.

The Beavers purchased Pope's Parts Place and also the Pope's home.

Natives of Finland call their country Suomi.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitehead of Midland are the parents of a baby boy born Friday, July 27 at 9 a. m.

The infant weighed 7 lbs and 6 oz. and was named Stevan Rand.

The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Minnie Pate of Earth.

Loss in the Chicago Fire was approximately $165,000,000.
