How About Tree-Shaped Plants?

Standard or tree-shaped plants, popular as specimens or in groupings of container grown plants, can be grown at home easily, says County Extension Agent Bobby Brunson.

To train one of these plants, place a sturdy stake in the container and tie the central or strongest leader of the plant to it. Remove all lateral or side shoots soon after they develop.

When the central leader reaches the desired height, pinch out the top and allow the plant to branch. Further pinching will help develop a bushy, attractive plant. The stake should remain until the leader is strong enough to support the top.

Grow the plant in a container that has a drainage hole in the bottom. Use a rich soil mix of sandy loam and an organic material such as peat moss.

A SUR' NUF' UFO??? These youths look as though they are observing one of those Flying Unidentified Objects by their intense interest on the approaching object. However, it's not that serious - it's only a Volley ball flying through the air during the area youth recreational party at the Terry Bridge Recreational area at Springlake Baptist Church.

Regular applications of a water soluble fertilizer will help to insure healthy, fast-growing plants. Occasional pruning and grooming is also necessary for most standard specimens. Evergreen shrubs such as zales, Japanese yew, wax-leaf ligustrum and hollies have been used for tree shaping for a number of years. Recently, there has also been considerable interest in training flowering plants such as Lantant, coleus and geraniums. English ivy also makes an interesting specimen when trained up a stake and onto a ball made of chicken wire.

Homemaking Tips

You look and feel best when you eat wisely, not when you over eat or under eat. Certain food nutrients are leaders in day-by-day nourishment and upkeep of the body. Eating well-chosen foods in the right amounts regularly helps keep you and your family strong and healthy.

A family food plan, followed faithfully, supplies the foods needed by the body. It provides food for energy, food for growth and repair, food to regulate body processes, and food to keep body parts functioning efficiently.

You can put nutrition to work for your family by making sure your daily meals include the key nutrients in these food groups - milk, meat, vegetable-fruit and bread-cereal.

The milk group includes milk, cheese and ice cream. Milk is our leading source of calcium. Unless milk is used regularly it is difficult to get enough calcium in the diet. Calcium is needed for building bones and teeth, keeping body frames strong, blood clotting, and maintaining muscle tone. Milk also provides high-quality protein, riboflavin, vitamin A, and other nutrients.

The meat group includes meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dry beans, peas and nuts. These foods supply protein, which is needed for building and repairing all body tissue - muscle, organ, blood, skin and hair; for energy; and for formation of antibodies in the blood to fight infection. Foods in these groups also contain iron, and B vitamins.

The vegetable and fruits are mainly sources of many vitamins and minerals, particularly of vitamin C and vitamin A. Vitamin C is needed for growth and repair, particularly of bones and teeth; healthy blood vessels, firm gums, and for healing of wounds and fractures. Vitamin A is needed for growth, normal vision, and a healthy condition of skin and other body surfaces. Foods rich in vitamin A also aids the body in delaying aging and fighting disease.

Flour, cereal and baked goods make up the fourth group. Foods in this group furnish protein, and if whole grain, enriched, or restored supply iron and several of the B vitamins, notably thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin. Iron is needed to make red cells and to help the cells use oxygen. The B vitamins contribute to steady nerves, normal appetite, good digestion, healthy skin, and general well being. All foods in this group also furnish worthwhile amounts of food energy.

Crane Hunt Set

The Muleshoe, Texas Jaycees have scheduled their Eleventh Annual Sandhill Crane Hunt to be held November 3, 4, and November 10 and 11, 1973.

The November Jaycees have arranged again for land adjacent to the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge. This refuge is the oldest in the State of Texas, and during the winter months, there are as many as 100,000 Sandhill Crane wintering away from their Arctic breeding grounds. The Muleshoe population represents the largest concentration of this species in the United States.

The Jaycees will also provide transportation to and from the hunting area. Shells and licenses will be available and the guides will leave the XIT Restaurant, 102 W. American Blvd., which is hunt headquarters, one and one-half hours before sunrise each day. The costs for the hunt are as follows:

- $5.00 Day
 - $7.50 Week-end
 - $15.00 All 3 week-ends
- The hunter who kills the largest bird during the hunt will receive a Twelve-Gauge Browning Automatic Shotgun. For more information, contact Richard Hawkins, 803 W. 7th, Muleshoe, Texas 79347. Phone Area Code 806/272-4930 or 272-3308.

IF FOOD HAD GONE UP in price at the same rate as wages in industry, a quart of milk today would cost 55¢ in the store, a dozen eggs would sell for $1.61, and a whole, dressed frying chicken would cost $1.46 a pound.

IN 1972, the U. S. Department of Agriculture spent $3.47 billion on programs for food distribution, food stamps, child nutrition and school milk. This was nearly one-third of the entire USDA budget.

IS THE SMALL FARMER IMPORTANT? Sperry New Holland, the world's largest manufacturer of specialized farm equipment thinks so and has introduced this country's first tractor-mounted forage harvester, for the farmer who has less than 40 acres of corn for silage.

EACH FARMER in America today, produces enough food for himself and 51 other people. Twenty years ago, he was raising enough to feed just 15 other people.

The SX-70 is here.

Perhaps once or twice in a lifetime, there comes an invention so radically new, it actually changes the way we live our lives.

Television was one.

We at Polaroid believe the SX-70 is another.

The virtual cascade of revolutions, mechanical, chemical, optical and electronic, that made the SX-70 possible had only one purpose: to free you from everything cumbersome and tedious about picture-taking, so that it could become at last the simple creative act it should be.

Now that all you need to do is frame your picture, bring it instantly into perfect focus and push a button, now that the picture is automatically delivered into your hand in less than two seconds, to time itself and develop into a photograph of a depth and brilliance unparalleled in amateur photography, what might once have seemed like a family duty or even just an interesting hobby, can become a spontaneous and constant pleasure in your daily life.

Women Drivers !!

Sometimes people just have to learn things the hard way, especially women and girls, according to Jim Norman, but it's the man who has to pay for the education. Norman, who lives northwest of Earth, indicated he had told his wife and daughter at least 100 times to drive slowly on dirt roads, and apparently to no avail.

However, last Thursday about 7:55 a.m. the two-membered his warning but not until they had wrecked both his station wagon and the family car.

Jim Ella Norman, his 18-year-old daughter, was driving the station wagon to school that morning. His wife, Ella Travis Norman, was on her way to town in the car. The daughter, thinking she had a flat tire, stopped in the center of the road and got out to look at the tires as though there was no-one else ever traveling that road. Along came Mrs. Norman, when she saw the station wagon stopped in the road she was traveling to fast to stop. She couldn't get around the vehicle, as it was in the middle of the road - so wham, bang, etc.

The car skidded over a hundred feet before it plowed into the rear end of the station wagon and knocked it into the bar ditch on the right.

There was extensive damage to both vehicles, and apparently both drivers got tickets. The daughter was filed on for parking in the roadway, and the mother was cited for failure to control speed. Highway Patrol Officer Vincent Ponder investigated the accident.

Homecoming Scheduled At SPC

Levelland--Parents of South Plains College students and alumni will be in the limelight for Parents' Day on Saturday (Nov. 10), in conjunction with Homecoming activities.

The round of activities focusing on parents will start with registration and refreshments in the campus Student Center from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

A Parents' Day Luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Texan Hall. Tickets are $1.50 a person. Performances by several college groups will highlight a Parents' Day program from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building. Dr. Marvin Baker, president of South Plains, and Greg Sidberry, student body president, will deliver welcoming addresses. The Tex-Anns, women's drill and dance team, the SPC Stage Band, "Hope for the Future," and "Baker's Dozen," will perform. A reception for faculty, students and their parents will be from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. also in the SUB. During this time, there will be open houses in all dormitories. Informal tours also will be conducted throughout the campus.

A barbecue for all alumni of South Plains will be from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. in Texan Hall. Tickets for the barbecue are $2.25 a person. Tickets for both luncheon and barbecue may be purchased at the door.

Pre-game activities for the Homecoming basketball game will start promptly at 7 p.m., with performances by the SPC Texan Band, and Tex-Anns and presentations of various awards. Framed certificates will be presented to the youngest and oldest fathers and to the parents traveling the farthest to attend. An award also will be given to the dormitory having the most visiting parents registered.

A letter of invitation was mailed early this week to parents. Besides an invitation from Dr. Marvin Baker, SPC president, the letter includes complimentary tickets to the basketball game, a schedule of events and a card for parents to fill out and return if they plan to take part in the festivities.

The cards will give college officials an indication of the number who plan to take part in the luncheon. Parents who, for any reason, fail to receive a letter but plan to be on campus for the luncheon are asked to send a post card to the Office of Public Relations, South Plains College, Levelland, Texas 79336, as soon as possible.

Efficient Fertilizer Use Stressed

Fertilizer supplies are expected to be tight during the coming year, so agricultural producers should make every effort to conserve fertilizer and to make the most efficient use of what is available, urges County Extension Agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

He offers these suggestions on fertilizer use:

1. Find out what you really need in each field and for each crop. This is best done by using a soil test.

2. Apply fertilizers when a crop response can reasonably be expected.

3. Correct the acidity of your soil. Most crops like a pH range of 5.8 to 6.8. Limestone will help correct any calcium and magnesium deficiencies and will also improve the activity of micro-organisms which decompose plant residue, there by increasing nutrient amounts in organic matter. Limestone also improves the activity of nitrogen bacteria which live on the roots of legumes.

4. Make a maximum use of manure and crop residue. Don't forget that livestock manure adds organic matter, nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and other plant nutrients. Manure also improves the structure and tilth of the soil. Crop residue returned to the soil reduces the fertilizer needs for following crops.

5. Plan your fertilizer needs in advance. With the use of a soil test, figure your fertilizer needs and then discuss them with your supplier.

With the increased demand expected for fertilizer next season due to the nationwide move to expanded production, wise use of available fertilizer supplies is the only answer, believes Logsdon.

Secretary Of Agriculture Against Export Controls

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz October 23 strongly reiterated his stand against export controls on cotton and other agricultural commodities and expressed the belief that his position is gaining support among the sometimes control-happy powers of Washington.

The Secretary's statements were made in a Washington conference with 10 executive officers of cotton producer organizations from across the cotton belt and a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, who was chairman of the producer group, said "We came away feeling somewhat better about prospects for continuing unrestricted sales to our foreign customers, which is extremely important to the cotton industry and to our area in particular."

The possibility of exports being curtailed, as proposed by the domestic textile industry and some consumer advocates, has been and continues to be a major threat to the current boom in cotton prices and to further development of foreign markets. The session with Secretary Butz was requested by producer organizations to express their collective gratitude and continued support for his effective opposition to controls.

"In this instance as in others, the Secretary has been one of the cotton producer's very best friends," Johnson said, "and he is deserving of the highest praise for having withstood the pressures that have been exerted on him and his office from a number of directions."

According to Johnson, the Secretary agreed with the producer contention that controls on cotton exports are in no way justified and would be more harmful than helpful to the industry and to the nation.

"In the judgement of those at the meeting," Johnson said, "with the Secretary's valuable support and with help from our other friends in Washington, export controls do not appear to be on the near horizon."

In addition to Johnson from the High Plains, representatives attended the meeting from the Texas Rolling Plains, the Lower Rio Grande Valley, South Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, California, Arkansas, the Southeast and the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council.

Care should be taken that any State actions with regard to forward contracting of cotton in Texas is effective, equitable, practical and compatible, according to Cotton Fanning, Executive Assistant at Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Fanning made this statement at a hearing conducted October 26 in Lubbock by Representative E.L. Short of Tahoka, Chairman of the Food and Fibers Marketing Subcommittee of the Texas House Agriculture Committee.

Noting that the major problem with forward contracting is in the area of contract performance, he said much discussion in Texas and across the Cotton Belt has to date failed to arrive at the "perfect solution" and that PCG was therefore unable to make specific recommendations to the Subcommittee.

"I can say, however," he continued, "that whatever action the Committee takes or considers taking should meet four criteria:
"It should be effective as a means to make forward contracting a better marketing tool;
"It should be equitable in that it will not unfairly jeopardize the interests of either party to a contract;
"It should be practical in that it will not cause either party to incur prohibitive costs or unnecessary inconvenience, and
"It should be compatible with

Dear Mr. Middleton

The Institute of Texas Cultures for three years has been publishing a bi-monthly newsletter called PEOPLE (copy enclosed). We have not placed all newspapers, magazines, television and radio stations in the state on the mailing list in the usual blanket-coverage manner, because we know it is a waste of your time, our time, and the state's money, if our work does not interest you.

Now, however, experience has shown us and many others, that we have something to say that the public wants to hear. While trying to dig out honest, accurate Texas history in terms of contributions of many peoples, we have stumbled onto a significant side effect. Our approach seems to break down hostilities among Texans of various ethnic backgrounds. We do not divide Texans into "white, black, and brown," instead, we unfold the history of over two dozen national, cultural and racial groups now mixed in the Texas population. This approach gives all peoples human dignity through giving them their rightful share of the history of Texas development.

If you would like to keep up with our work, we would be glad to put you or any member of your staff on the mailing list to receive PEOPLE. The subscription is free, and a card is enclosed for your convenience in notifying us of the proper name and address.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Marion Travis
