Fire Inspection Team Here Wednesday

Two representatives, Bob Barrick and Martin Nigohossian from the Fire Insurance Commission of Austin, were in Earth Wednesday checking the requirements needed to meet specifications, in order to lower insurance rates.

They spent several hours in Earth, checking hydrants, water line, fire truck, ordinances, and the old and new wells. They thoroughly checked everything in the Fire zone area.

Barrick, stated that the new well with a 1,900 gallon capacity, and an equal amount from the old well, plus the new ground storage tank with a capacity of 84,000 gallons, and the new pumping system, which was due to arrive here this week, and with workmen standing by ready to install it, there would be no problem in having enough water.

Nigohossian, who checked the fire truck said some new water hose would probably be needed in the near future.

Barrick, explained that he would turn in his report to Austin, and in turn would be checked with the set of requirements the insurance companies have set up their insurance rates by.

The next step will be a letter of recommendation to Earth, stating the requirements necessary to meet specification if there are any requirements or changes necessary.

Let Us Reason Together

By W. E. IRVINE

BAPTISM, WHAT IS IT???

Baptism is one of the most familiar subjects of the bible, yet possibly the most misunderstood. Even though most churches practice baptism in some form and for some purpose, it has been relegated to a secondary position of importance so far as our obedience unto it is concerned. We are interested in the teaching of Christ, for by obedience to Jesus we have salvation.

What did Jesus say regarding baptism as a condition of salvation? "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Mark 16:16. No one will deny belief as a condition of salvation, but will deny that baptism is just as important a condition. Notice that the Lord places as much importance upon baptism as belief by using the connecting conjunction and between the two verbs. This statement of the Lord was made in the giving of the Great Commission to the Apostles. He told them this preaching was to be done throughout the world. It began on the first Pentecost after the ascension of Jesus in Jerusalem.

Now let us notice that first sermon under the Great Commission as given to the apostles, and see if baptism had an important part in that sermon. Peter preached that first sermon, and he concluded by saying, "Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do? Then Peter said unto them, Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." Acts 2:36-38.

What is baptism? It is a command of the Lord for remission of sins, in order to have salvation. It must be preceded by faith in Christ, Mk. 16:16; repentance of sins, Acts 2:38. Who am I to place more importance upon one command of Christ above another? If God has said it is for remission of sins, is that not enough? Were you baptized "for remission of sins," or were you baptized because you thought you were already saved? Think on these things, and read your bible.

Soil Conservations News—

There is considerable interest in sprinkler irrigation in the Lamb County Soil Conservation District. Soil Conservation Service technicians have been assisting quite a lot of farmers with their sprinkler design. Mainly, sprinkler irrigation is recommended for three different sets of conditions. (1) sandy soil, (2) uneven topography where leveling is too costly or soil too shallow, and (3) small wells.

There is over 53,000 acres of irrigated land in Lamb County Soil Conservation District that needs a sprinkler irrigation system on them. Following is a view of what sprinkler irrigation is and how they should be used.

SPRINKLER IRRIGATION

Sprinkler irrigation is a means of delivering water over a field with a system of pipes and nozzles. The most common layout of a sprinkler system spaces the nozzles every 30 feet along the lateral line and lateral lines are moved 60 feet along the main line. Main line is the pipe which delivers the water from the pump to the lateral line and then through the nozzles. These three items have to be designed according to the amount of water delivered from the pump, to the length of the main and lateral lines and the rate of discharge by the nozzles that the soil will take in a given time.

The pump and motor must be adequate to deliver the amount of water through the lines at the operating pressure of the nozzles plus the friction losses over the greatest distance traveled through the pipe. The nozzle size must be such that the water delivered on the area around the nozzle will be taken up by the soil without any run-off. On soils around here this will range from around one-half inch per hour on the tighter soils to an inch per hour on the sandy soils.

A sprinkler system must be properly designed if good results are to be expected in irrigating crops. Time of sets must be timed so that sufficient water is put on the field to be effective. This time may vary from 8 to 12 hours per set, depending upon the amount of moisture to be replaced and the amount of water the system delivers.

A sprinkler system has many advantages over flood irrigation. Among these advantages are: Almost any kind of land can be sprinkler irrigated regardless of the sandiness of the soil or the roughness of the land. This can eliminate the necessity of any land leveling. More land can be irrigated with a given amount of water and on small wells this is a very distinct advantage because twice as much acreage can be irrigated with these small wells than by flooding.

Erosion is kept at a minimum and no water need be lost from a field with a properly designed sprinkler system.

Erosion is kept at a minimum and no water need be lost from a field with a properly designed springler system.

Sprinkling does away with need for field ditches: This eliminates ditchbank weed problem, reduces maintenance and increases land available for cropping.

Special skills are not required for operation of the sprinkler system and anyone can do a more efficient job of applying water for best distribution over a field than he could by flood irrigation.

Sprinkler irrigation permits frequent light applications when crop are small and only the top portion of the soil needs the moisture replenished.

Like other methods, sprinkling has certain disadvantages. Initial investment is high but often this can be offset by the land being lower priced since it would not flood irrigated properly and eliminate the need for any leveling.

Power costs are higher and a power unit of about twice the size is needed over one raising water to the top of the ground only. Water under pressure is required to operate a sprinkler, resulting in more power needed. Wind affects water distribution; wind distort the spray pattern and increase evaporation.

Lum's Chapel, planted some Guar on a drouthy red clay hill and it proved itself capable of withstanding the drought; it is also holding the land from blowing better than cotton, and has conditioned the soil with deep root penetration. From what we have seen of it in other areas, we believe it will boost the fields of following cash crops. Under favorable conditions, it will compete with grain sorghums as a cash crop. I do believe a good practice would be to plant four rows of sorghum and four rows of Guar, giving more protection from wind erosion and at the same time provid-each setting and mams from one part of the field to the other. Cooperators in the District who have sprinkler irrigation systems are: Bill Miller of Pleasant Valley, Helbert Harvey, north of Sudan, J. R. Inklebarger, south of Fieldton. Designs and plans are being made for sprinkler systems on E. J. Stone, south of Sudan, W. E. Priddy of Amherst, K. O. Lynn of Littlefield, Art Chesher of Fieldton and others.

A lot of people have asked what we think of Guar after its first year of trial here as a soil building crop. Although we will not be able to realize the full benefits of last years crop until fall, from what we have seen believe it has definite possibilities. Jimmie Craft, northwest of Fieldton used it on bench leveled land. Irrigation water to it, growth was about 4 feet and put down a good deep root.

John Graham, a mile east of Fieldton, is growing a deep rooted soil improver crop.

A considerable acreage of land has been chiseled or hoed since harvest was completed. A tendency will be to use a lot for the next tillage operation. However, the Experiment Station

POTATOES ITALIAN STYLE

If yours is a family that demands potatoes nearly every meal, probably you are always looking for different ways to serve this staple dish! Here is a new recipe for preparing the Irish potato Italian style!

(Six Servings)
 6 medium potatoes
 2 tablespoons margarine
 1 slice diced Canadian-style bacon
 OR ham
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 2 bouillon cubes
 Boiling water

Scrub potatoes well. Pare off a thin strip of skin all around middle of potato. Melt margarine in skillet or saucepan with close-fitting lid. Add bacon or ham and fry gently 5 minutes, stirring several times. Add parsley, then potatoes. Dissolve bouillon cubes in 1 cup boiling water. Pour over potatoes. Add more water just enough to cover potatoes. Cover pan tightly and simmer 1 1/2 hours, or until potatoes are pierced easily with fork. If desired, potatoes may be baked in covered container in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 1 1/2 hours. Serve in vegetable dish with sauce, or serve sauce in separate bowl.

(Note: One No. 2 can small potatoes may be used instead of uncooked potatoes. Drain liquid from potatoes, heat and dissolve bouillon cubes in hot liquid. Reduce cooking time to 20 minutes.)

PLANTATION SUPPER

There's always a table laden with tasty dishes in the dining room of Southern plantation homes, for cooks of the deep South have a special way with food. Their "plantation supper" is a fine example of an old-fashioned Dixieland treat.

(Six Servings)
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1/2 cup yellow corn meal
 2 tablespoons sugar
 4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 egg
 3/4 cup milk
 1/2 cup melted margarine
 1 pound bulk pork sausage
 2 1/2 pounds fresh asparagus OR 1 pkg. frozen asparagus spears
 2 1/2 cups medium white sauce
 6 pimiento strips, if desired

Make corn bread as follows: Into mixing bowl sift together flour, corn meal, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Beat egg, add milk and melted margarine. Mix well and pour all at one time into dry ingredients. Stir only until flour and meal are well-moistened. Batter will still be a bit lumpy. Spread into well-margarined 8x8-inch pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until golden brown.

While corn bread bakes, prepare other parts of dish.

Fry sausage in skillet over low heat, stirring with fork to break up larger pieces. Cook over low heat until done, seasoning with salt and pepper as desired. Cook asparagus in boiling salted water until just tender. Make cream sauce as follows: In saucepan melt 5 tablespoons margarine. Stir in 5 tablespoons flour, mixing until smooth. Gradually add 2 1/2 cups milk, stirring constantly until sauce boils and is thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

When corn bread is done, cut it into squares. Split each square and place lower half on hot plate. Cover with cooked sausage, then with top of corn bread square. Arrange 3 or 4 stalks of asparagus on top of corn bread, and pour cream sauce over. If desired, garnish each serving with a strip of pimiento or a dash of paprika. Serve hot.

Texans Lead An Interesting Life

By BRUCE HENDERSON The Associated Press Texans have been getting themselves in and out of interesting fixes lately. At Fort Hood, Pvt. Louis Pettinelli looked for a place to change a half-dollar. He wanted to make a phone call. He got taken to post exchange, where surprised him because it was 2 a.m. and the exchanges open later.

More Soil —

Land which has sufficient stubble to protect it from blowing provides a satisfactory condition for grass plantings this fall. For blue panic, a clean seed bed should be prepared by running a sweep down the middles before the grass is seeded.

Now while everyone is planning for the coming year is a good time to think of things in relation to their importance; put first things first. The dust storms the last seven springs convinced everyone that if dryland crop production is to continue on the South Plains, more attention must be given to providing vegetative protection throughout the year.

Band Trouble

It happened as the high school band returned from a marching concert in Mt. Vernon. The band buses were well under way after stopping to recover and to clean a big brass horn which had fallen from the roof of the second bus.

The vehicles had traveled several hundred yards and were up to about 20 miles an hour when Band Director Tommy Hendricks, in the first bus, was called to the rear window by shouts of band members.

He took one look at the second bus. There was Kelly, on the roof, who had been marooned there since the bus got underway without anybody's noticing him fastening down the instruments.

Hendricks ordered an emergency stop, and the boy's figure was seen from a vantage position atop the second bus and climbed down.

"It was just cold up there," said Kelly. He plays the bass drum.

He may or may not have got cooled off as fast as Mrs. W. Daniels, whose mishap is told by Winston Gardner in the Kilgore News Herald.

Mrs. Daniels went fishing in a boat on a lake. She snagged a four-pound bass. While her husband helped her land the best everturn, she went in head first. "She was pretty mad at first," said Daniels, who managed to stay in the boat, "but the water cooled her off."

Back fishing

Gardner reports that Mrs. Daniels went to the family lakehouse changed into dry clothes and went right back to fishing.

QUICK ONION SOUP

Onion soup is one of the most famous French delicacies—and it has wide popularity here in America, too. Here's a short-cut method for making this tantalizing onion soup.

- (Four Servings) 1/2 cup margarine 3 large onions, sliced thin 2 cans consommé (11-oz. size) 1 1/2 cups water Salt and pepper 4 slices French bread 3/4 cup grated Parmesan OR cheddar cheese

Melt margarine in two-quart sauce pan. Simmer onion slices in margarine until delicately browned. Add consommé, water, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer five minutes. Toast bread until crisp. Put slices of toast into individual soup bowls or into soup tureen. Pour soup, with onions, over toast. When bread rises to top, sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Serve at once.

New Provisions Designed For Benefit of Persons Over 65

A social security representative will be in Littlefield at the Employment office at 1:30p.m. on March 23 and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

Men and women under 65 who have been totally disabled for at least six months and who have worked in jobs covered by social security for a substantial time may benefit from an entirely new provision in the Social Security Act. John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock, Texas, social security district office said today.

This amendment applies equally to those who are now disabled and to those who become disabled in the future. Similarly, some retired workers who are now receiving monthly social security checks may be favorably affected if they are still disabled as the result of a disability which began before they reached 65.

This does not mean that cash payments based on disability are now possible under the social security program," Mr. Hutton cautioned. "It does mean, however, for the first time, that periods of prolonged disability will not count against some wage earners or self-employed persons in figuring the amount of their average monthly wage on which old-age and survivors insurance payments are based."

Mr. Hutton explained that under the social security law in effect before the 1954 amendments the average monthly wage had to be figured from a specified starting date until the worker became 65 or died. Those who could not work over a long period of time because they were disabled had their average earnings reduced by these periods of no earnings or of low earnings. In addition, the months of disability also had to be counted in figuring whether or not the individual had worked sufficiently long in jobs covered by the social security law to be eligible for any old-age or survivors insurance benefit.

"Under the new law, average earnings and eligibility requirements will not be affected by the period of disability," Mr. Hutton said. "In effect, this means that the amount of the social security benefits at death or at 65 would not be impaired by inability to work during lengthy disability periods."

Qualification for use of the "disability freeze" depends on these factors:

1. The worker must be totally disabled by a medically-determinable illness, injury, or other physical or mental impairment which can be expected to be of long-continued and indefinite duration. This condition must have existed for at least six months, and he must still be disabled at the time of filing his application for a determination of disability.

2. The worker must have been employed or self-employed for a substantial period of time in occupations covered by the social security law before onset of his disability. A "substantial period of time" means 5 years of coverage out of the 10 years before the disability, of which time 1 1/2 years of coverage must have been in the 3 years prior to disability.

"Any worker under 65 who believes he qualifies under these conditions should get in touch with his nearest social security office to file an application for a determination of disability."

by MICKEY STERNENS

Preston Pointer was elected president of the Spade Farm Bureau Monday night, other new officers elected were Ted Hutchins, vice-president; Joe Prater, 2nd vice-president; Edward Mitchell, secretary-treasurer.

Jess Emmons is the director from Spade serving the last of his two year term.

Tax legislation, water legislation, seed laws and the gasoline tax, were the main topics at the Lamb County Farm Bureau board of directors meeting, Thursday night.

Jack Yarbrough, president gave a report on means being used in protesting the present water legislation and 2 cent gasoline tax, now before the House in Austin.

Policy Execution meetings are being planned for several communities to better acquaint the members of the Farm Bureau with the policies of the Texas and National Farm Bureau.

"These meetings will not be policy making meetings," says Jack Yarbrough "but, are to better equip the members when it is time to set policies again in Lamb County."

J. C. Hoover and Joe Dunn were officially added to the service staff of the Lamb County Farm Bureau, this week. They will assist Jack Wattenbarger in selling Farm Bureau Insurance.

Next week I will bring you a report on the Texas Farm Bureau Institute in San Antonio. Really looking forward to this event.

DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Living in Health

Lesson for March 20, 1955

ASCARIASIS is the name of a disease. It is caused by colonies of small round worms, parasites, named Ascaris. A Christian medical missionary who operates a hospital in Korea writes: "Reducing the number of people who have this debilitating parasite from 99% to 38% in one year, in our leper colony, is something to be proud of."

Dr. Foreman

It is sometimes said that many of the attributes often blamed on the Devil may possibly be more accurately credited to the lowly round worm that lives in comfort inside of most "Christians." This is just one single illustration of something many Christians do not realize: that spiritual health, mental health and physical health all go together.

Why Not Drifting

Christian living has many aspects. One of them is the importance of keeping a healthy body. Ascariasis seldom puts the patient to bed. Indeed the patient is seldom aware that anything is wrong with him, and yet his lack of ambition, his dullness of mind, his loss of dependability, may have their basis in his physical condition. So it is with all diseases, so it is with all physical inefficiency even when you can't quite call it a disease. It is a sin to be less healthy than you can be. It is assuming you can help it because your physical flabbiness leads to mental and moral and spiritual flabbiness too. This is not saying that every patient in a hospital is there because of his personal sins. But it is true that many of them are there precisely by their own fault. The point is, health of body is a Christian's responsibility, a duty he owes God, other men, and himself. And health of body will not come by chance, it will not come by drifting. It comes by doing. This is one of the whole Christian life, bottom to top. Paul says to his converts: "Every one of you should learn to control his body, keeping it pure and treating it with respect, and never regarding it as an instrument for self-gratification." (1 Thess. 4:4, Phillips translation.) Health begins in self-control comes only by working at

Why is Positive

It is true that the New Testament warns against spiritual sins as much as against physical sins. If not more so. But it is also true that there are plain teachings about virtues and vices of the body itself. Drunkenness, sexual sins of various kinds, are always listed out as spiritual dangers. Lust is the pure in heart, that is true. But those who are not pure in body are not pure in heart. Further, purity is not a negative thing. A virgin who had never touched a drop of liquor might yet not be pure. Repression of desire as the Bible knows and psychology on its own has also discovered, — sheer repression, with nothing to balance it, may be a bad thing. A driver was reading about how he eliminated some distance on a certain route by looking every week, and so saved some minutes on every trip. But he would not answer the question: "What do you do with those three minutes?" So purity of life means more than not squandering our energies and wasting our health, it means the energy we save, as God would have it used.

Who is in Charge Here?

The key question for health—physical, mental, and spiritual—is, who is in charge here? Is your body in charge of your mind, or is the other way around? But which mind is in charge here? Your lazy, sleazy, shifty mind, content with ignorance, asking only to be amused (for you have such a mind), or the mind that goes to higher things (for you have such a mind too). You carry with you all your life the mind of the brute, the mind of the child; do you have the right to a mature mind, to be mature. Who is in charge here, the brute, the child, or you? Above all, who is in charge of you? If the true answer to that last question is God, then the true answers to the others will be easier.

Water Program In Danger Says Water Committee

The citizens of Texas were warned that a constructive water program prepared by the Texas Water Resources Committee for the present session of the Legislature is in danger of being "hacked to death by selfish and special interests."

The warning came in the following statement issued in Austin Saturday by Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, chairman of the 9-man water committee:

"The constructive legislative program of the Texas Water Resources Committee today faces the certainty of being hacked to death if selfish interests are successful in attaching crippling amendments to some of the vital water bills of the committee now before the Legislature.

"Unfortunately some of the people back home are being misled by propaganda of interests who want to use more than their just share of public water and by others who want to gain control of the proposed State Water Commission in order to promote a program directed by a Federal bureau.

"It is up to the people and the Legislature to decide if a constructive program is to be adopted. The Texas Water Resources Committee has presented such a program in the eight bills and a constitutional amendment introduced early in the current session. Those
