"Like A Mighty Army", Shows April 7

A new dramatic film, LIKE A MIGHTY ARMY, the down-to-earth true story of a man in tune with his times, will be shown at First Baptist Church on April 7th at 7:00 p. m.

The social revolution among young people today is frightening in many of its aspects. Even the church is being seriously questioned as to its existence and activity. Instead of responding with bewilderment and fear, a handful of people in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida led by their dynamic young minister, Rev. James Kennedy, committed themselves to the principle of providing life-changing answers for the people of their community.

In nine short years the Coral Ridge Church has become one of the fastest growing congregations in the world, growing from 17 to more than 2,000 members and needing three Sunday morning services to handle the crowds.

This exciting true story has been made into the film LIKE A MIGHTY ARMY by Gospel Films, Inc., of Muskegon, Michigan. Starring in the role of Dr. Kennedy is Chris Robinson who is best known for his role as an Air Force Sergeant in the Television series, "Twelve O'Clock High." As Jim Kennedy, Robinson gives the best performance of his illustrious career.

LIKE A MIGHTY ARMY, an inspirational film for the family is released by Gospel Films, Inc., of Muskegon, Michigan.

We never know when a windstorm will strike the Plains — November 15, December 20, or February 20. Therefore, let us be prepared for the worst.

Gregg 35W is a fast maturing cotton; therefore the opportunities are good for a better mike on the bad years.

Staple-Lengths Of Gregg 35W

In a recent bulletin publishing the results of the Lubbock Clipping Office for the season (1973-74) it showed the staple lengths 31/32 or shorter to be 69% while the Gregg 35W from our farm was only 1%. All grades with staples 1-1/32 or longer for the area was 14%; while that of our Gregg 35W was 77%. All of our Gregg 35W was classed at the Lubbock Office.

Children May Find Sharing Difficult

Even with a full toy box, some children balk at sharing, one specialist says.

Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, discussed how a child learns to share--and how parents influence this learning process.

"A child learns what he lives. If he lives with greed, a child learns to be greedy and not to share."

"Children aren't born with built-in sharing," she continued. "Nor do they acquire it automatically at a certain age."

"Sharing actually requires daily practice--in judgment and in making choices about matters--in line, of course, with the child's age and understanding of things."

To help a child start learning to share, consider his point of view, the specialist advised.

She said that toys and other favorite objects offer security to some children.

"When a parent asks a child to share all his possessions, the child loses some security. That's why parents should be sensitive to the child's feelings--concerning toys or anything else."

"Sensitive parents listen when a child expresses his thoughts--to show him they value his ideas."

"Also they act with fairness and consideration, so the child knows he's important."

"When parents create a sympathetic atmosphere, a child draws nearer to them. As he sees them share feelings--and things, he wants to share, too."

Despite the simplicity--and sensibility, of these procedures, problems can arise, Miss Taylor added.

"For example, some children refuse to share anything because of a power-play with their parents. A child doing this is seeking limits or a framework in which to operate."

"In this situation, parents should exert parental power until such time when the child can make independent decisions," she said.

"Since using parental power to control children works only under special conditions, it must equal parental reward to bring about change."

Sharing isn't limited to a child's possessions--it also includes such things as chores, Miss Taylor pointed out.

"Parents 'battling it out' with children over chores and responsibilities should realize this war can't be won. Children have more time and energy to resist than parents have to force them."

"With chores--and other conflicts in sharing--parents must win the child over."

"They do this by using fairness and sympathy mentioned earlier. In addition, parents should state feelings and thoughts without attacking the child's personality and dignity," the specialist emphasized.

"They should avoid words, comments or name calling--such as 'stingy,' 'greedy' or 'hog.' Such terms create hate and resentment--complicating matters."

Although these changes don't occur overnight, the efforts do have their rewards, she added.

DEE STILES HOSPITALIZED LAST WEEK

Dee Stiles, young son of Mrs. Linda Pat McCormick, was hospitalized a couple of days and released last week in Amarillo, after receiving four pints of blood.

He had begun hemorrhaging earlier causing his need to be hospitalized to build up his blood supply.

Young Stiles has been doing real good for the past year, and had regained much of his strength. Mrs. McCormick moved to Amarillo last Saturday so she could be with her son more.

ATTENTION EARTH PIONEERS

Thank you for your letters and snapshots for my book. This is not a history book, but will include some bits of history contained in your past memories--the land, the town, the weather, etc. in pioneer days.

Did you ever live in a dugout in Earth? Describe? Do you have an old letter of interest concerning Earth? An old diary? Please list each member of your family, give ages.

Was there a land office located in Earth at the time the Halsells made land available for sale? Name of it? Did you know Mr. Halsell?

How did Earth (or Springlake) look when you moved there? Was it lush with native grass? Tell about the wildlife then. The weather. What your family did for recreation.

Please give humorous incidents. And please send your letters and snapshots!

Sincerely, CAROLYN HAMILTON (Mrs. Clarence) Drawer Q Clarendon, Texas 79226

Sulser To Tour With McMurry College Band

The McMurry College Band will begin its annual invasion of West Texas and New Mexico Thursday (today). Director Roger Rush will take his 71 musicians to Sweetwater, Amarillo, and Morton in Texas, to Hobbs, Artesia, Roswell, Ruidosa, and Albuquerque in New Mexico. Among the talented musicians is a former Earth-Springlake student, Carl Sulser, son of Mr. and Mrs. son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sulser of Earth.

The McMurry Band stays in step with the times. Along with the usual horns, clarinets, and euphoniums, packed in the band truck will be an electric guitar played by Derven Rodgers and an electric bass played by Jamie Hargus.

The roaming Indians will also carry with them a program blending tradition with today. They will play John Philip Sousa's "Black Horse Troup March." But such moderns as Carl Orff with "Carmina Burana," Serge Prokofieff with "Marche Pour La Spartakiade," Gustav Holst with "Moorside March," and Ralph Vaughn with "Sea Songs" are represented.

The religious nature of McMurry is reflected in John Constantine's "Festival of Hymns," a medley of Stephen Schwartz' songs from the musical "Godspell," Alfred Reed's "Sacred Suite," and William Schuman's "When Jesus Wept."

Other composers are Peter Menzin, Scott Joplin, Scott Claude Smith, John Tatgenhorst, Gordon Jacob, and Paul Wear. Rush will first pickup his baton for a 9 a.m. program April 4 in Sweetwater High, and again at 7:30 p.m. April 4 in the First United Methodist Church of Hobbs, New Mexico.

The McMurry group will play at 12:30 April 5 at Artesia High. That afternoon they will conduct a 3:30 p.m. band clinic at Goddard High in Roswell, followed by an 8:00 p.m. concert at New Mexico Military Institute Ballroom sponsored by the Goddard Band.

They will also conduct a clinic and concert April 6 at Ruidosa High.

Sunday, April 7 will find the McMurry Band playing for an 8:00 a.m. service at Carlisle Plaza UMC in Albuquerque and a 7:30 p.m. service at Polk Street UMC in Amarillo.

They will end with a 1 p.m. program April 8 at Morton High.

"The Concert Band is one of five major musical ensembles at McMurry College," says Rush. "Our band program itself includes the Indian Marching Band, the Lab Band, and various wind ensembles."

Director Rush, who did his graduate work at North Texas State University, has shown a lively interest in many types of music since coming to McMurry two years ago from New Mexico Military Institute. He also plays in the Abilene Philharmonic.

Watering Critical For House Plants

"Improper watering techniques probably cause the highest percent of home plant failures," says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

This is especially true during the winter months when plant growth is slow because of low light intensities. Frequently additional water and fertilizer are applied to try to make the plant grow large and healthy.

Actually, plant leaves produce very little food at this time and thus the plant cannot grow rapidly.

"If the soil is kept saturated with water, little or no oxygen can reach the roots," explains the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Roots need air as well as water. Lack of oxygen causes the plant's small feeder roots to die and eventually the plant succumbs.

"Never water plants by rule of thumb, such as every other day or twice a week," cautions Janne. "Once the soil is thoroughly moistened, water plants only when they need it."

Supply sufficient water so it runs through the potting soil into the saucer below. This helps prevent the accumulation of soluble salts in the potting soil.

"Experience will help in determining the moisture content of soil from its color and feel," adds Janne. "Plants in a cold room need less water than those in a warm, dry atmosphere. Flowering plants and those with much foliage require more water than those without blooms or with very little foliage."

Clayton Asks Study In Fertilizer Licensing

Rep. Bill Clayton, (D-Springlake), today asked the House Agriculture Committee to begin an immediate investigation into the possibilities of establishing state-wide licensing requirements for fertilizer dealers.

Rep. Clayton, who recently led a state investigation into the current critical shortages in agricultural fertilizers, reported that such licensing provisions may be the only effective means of monitoring fertilizer sales and transactions.

In Austin, Rep. Clayton stated, "In conjunction with the study on licensing provisions, I plan to initiate inquiries into several other areas where outstate government may not have fulfilled its obligations to the farmers and consumer public of Texas. I am asking the Fertilizer Control Institute at College Station to re-evaluate their reporting and recording methods to find out why there was so little forewarning of the shortage differ so drastically from the actual amount of fertilizer available in Texas."

Clayton expressed his concern over the alleged exportation of fertilizer products in Mexico, products which then apparently are shipped to Texas and sold at a much higher price. Clayton stated his office is asking for coordination of an investigation into these questionable exports with the Agriculture Commission, the Attorney General's office and the House Agriculture Committee.

Rep. Clayton also reported that in furtherance of his campaign to find solutions to the fertilizer shortage, he would be petitioning the Council of State Governments to determine if there is any legislation in any state that might be used as a model for Texas in controlling deceptive trade practices in fertilizer dealings. The Council will meet in Florida in May.

Rep. Clayton urged all persons with information or questions on the fertilizer situation to contact him or the Department of Agriculture at 512-475-6666.

Use Care In Selecting Yard Care Firm

In spring, a homeowner's fancy often turns to thoughts of a lush green lawn, spreading trees, colorful flowers, perhaps even a bountiful vegetable garden.

Sometimes this is just wishful thinking. But sometimes armchair gardeners decide to make their dreams a reality by hiring a yard care service.

In many cases, these firms are established, reputable members of the business community. They provide a useful service to homeowners, who because of lack of time, physical incapacity, or a low level of energy or interest, do not want to do their own yard work.

Many homeowners find they are actually saving money and getting a better job by hiring a yard care firm with the specialized equipment to do the work properly.

Expert gardeners advise persons who are tempted by such ads to investigate further. If the plant size is not stated in the ad it usually means the plant is a cutting or a newly-rooted plant which may fail to survive.

The origin of the stock should be checked, too. Many plants sold from nurseries in other states are unsuited to Texas weather.

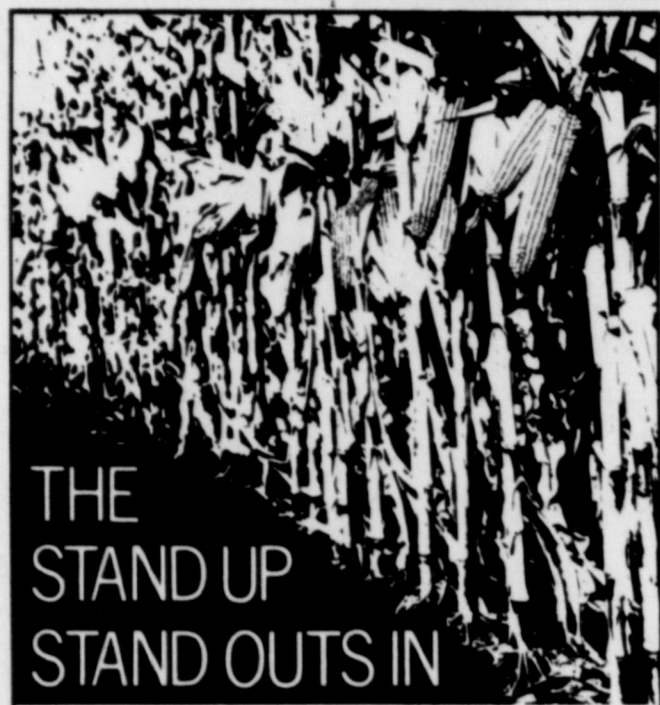

But Attorneys in my Consumer Protection Division warn that some yard care services are run by itinerant "con men" who appear each spring to prey on homeowners, then leave for another town after extracting a substantial sum of money for work that may be incomplete or unsatisfactory.

They advise persons who may be contemplating a yard care service to check with at least three firms for a cost estimate, to investigate the company they select to make sure it will stand behind its work, and to withhold part of the total payment until the work is completed to the terms of the agreement.

If solicited by a yard care specialist who appears on the doorstep, homeowners should remember that they can cancel any contract for $25 or more which they enter into with a door-to-door salesman. They have up to midnight of the third day to notify either the salesman or his firm in writing of the desire to cancel.

Other consumer gardening problems may concern ordering plants or seeds by mail. Many old, reliable firms have been in the mail order nursery business for decades. They supply top-quality, healthy garden stock and have a standing policy of either replacing any plant that doesn't grow or refunding the purchaser's money.
