I'm sure readers enjoyed reading "nosin" last week, and finding something refreshing for a change. The guest columnist was Mrs. Anna Johnson, who volunteered to fill in, in the absence of yours truly. Anna spent many a long hour at the news desk of the News-Sun a few years back... and we're indeed thankful for those lovely folks who come to our rescue occasionally... Thanks a million Anna...

 I spent last week visiting in the old homeland with Polly, Jr. and other relatives, returning to Earth Sunday...
 In Tulsa, Polly gave me a personalized tour of the 13 story DX-Sunray Building where she works as file clerk on the 8th floor... After she parked her car on the roof-top of the 4th floor, she showed me around, staying close by my side... Actually, I think she was afraid I might get lost since there are approximately as many employed in that one big building as there are residing in Earth... It was fun, but then it's nice to be back where you know all the people in Earth...

 Most Earth-Springlake area folks found a cellar Sunday night week and hovered quietly among friends and neighbors until the tornado sighted nearby had passed over... Then on the following Wednesday a black funnel sneaked across country to strike Hale Center and Cotton Center, our neighbors to the southeast, causing death and destruction, leaving the progressive little city in shambles, while its stunned population began digging through the rubble to find its dead...
 Our hearts are so saddened by this terrible disaster... But... at the same time, it serves to make us here in the Earth-Springlake area just a little more thankful as we awaken each morning to find everything intact... And thankful too, as we tour the countryside to see the most beautiful crops we've had in years, undamaged thus far by hail... We have been so fortunate indeed... We here in this little spot, called Earth...

 Carolyn Hamilton's theme song these days is "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" since son, Butch is playing ball this year for the first time... This week there's double activity around the Hamilton home, with Butch attending Bible School and playing baseball...
 Fact is, mom and dad Hamilton have to "stay on the ball" in order to keep abreast with activities and chauffeur Butch on these various activities...
 Ho-hum, seems there's not much time left this day and time to rock and fan on the front porch...

 The four lads who returned from Ruidoso Friday night, following a weeks vacation, were seemingly glad to get back to home cooking... Although chef, Thomas Gregory was outstanding at the frying pan, eventually anyone gets tired of hamburger meat...

 We had a happy surprise this past week when we found a future journalist "poppin up" in this community at the ripe old age of 10... The discovery came when the following hand written report of a "dog fight" was brought in by the lad:
 A fictitious dog fight took place Saturday afternoon at Carroll McDonald's house. The fight was a long hard fight against the McDonald's and Holder's dogs. During the fight Mickey Price, Allen McDonald, and Monty Price were either bit or scraped trying to stop it. Both dogs put up a equally good fight. The fight ended by the two dogs being pulled apart.
 How's that for reporting? Do you suppose you and I were interested in journalism at that age???

 We miss from our midst several familiar faces who has long been a part of the landscape of Earth... like say, Beth Deat, Marilyn Coker, Karen Bannon, Rocky Cain, and others.

Bond Election To Provide Springlake With Sewer System Called For June 26

The Town Council of Springlake met in special session June 7, 1965 to introduce a resolution and order to schedule a bond election, June 26, 1965, to provide the town with a sewer system.

The following members were present at the meeting of the council: Mayor Floyd Crawford, Aldermen Jimmie Stephens, C. C. Hoppings, and Howard McClure, constituting a quorum.

The resolution, and order, was introduced, seconded, and adopted, to hold a bond election June 26, 1965 for the resident qualified voters of Springlake, who own taxable property and who have rendered the property for taxation.

The propositions are as follows: No. 1, For or Against, "the issuance of $44,000 sewer system revenue bonds and pledging the revenues of the town's combined water works and sanitary sewer system to the payment;" No. 2, For or Against, "the issuance of $30,000 general obligation sewer system bonds and the levy of a tax in payment," As to each of the propositions, the voter may mark out the statement for or against the proposition, so that the statements remaining shall indicate the way a voter wishes to vote.

Mayor Floyd Crawford stated, "This will be a completely new set-up for the town of Springlake. There is no city sewer system at the present time."
 "Springlake has been a town since the time of their charter, approximately ten years ago. Each family has been responsible for their own individual sewer system during this decade. As Jim Stephens, Alderman, said, "We're hoping we can get it through; it will be a good thing for the city, from the standpoint of health, sanitation, and for the general welfare."

Boundaries of the sewer system will run north to south in the city limits, and east to west in the city limits.
 Mayor Crawford said, "Taxes will not have to be raised to pay for the system." The figures stated will be those of combined water bond and sewer bond financial expenses.

Lamb County Put In 18th District

Lamb earlier had been removed from Rep. George Mahon's 19th Congressional District to the 18th District, represented in Congress by Walter Rogers of Pampa.

Floyd County, which had been moved to the 18th District in the original redistricting plan, was moved back to Mahon's district before the Senate and House approved the bill.

In state redistricting action, Sen. Andy Rogers 30th District (including Lamb County) was combined with Sen. Jack Hightower's 23rd District.

The plan, approved by both houses of the legislature, would force a runoff between the two if both wished to remain in the state legislature as senators.

It is uncertain at the present time as to the special education teachers. The School Board is awaiting information from the Department of Health and Welfare where they have a letter filed.

Bill Mann stated, "At this point, without knowing the status of the new teachers who will be hired, we don't have anything official, concerning the teacher's pay raises, from the Texas Education Agency. We have not received any final figures, but expect these soon."

EVERYBODY AND THEIR DOG attended "Appreciation Day" at the Earth Elevator. Apparently everyone had fun except for all the poor dogs who were allowed to tag along so they could be plunged into a barrel filled with water mixed with Purina Chemicals. This was a joint affair "Appreciation Day" for customers and "Dog Dippi'n' Day" for the pooch. Shown dipping a dog on this dog dipping day, is dog dipper (assistant manager) Bob Bell.

National Flag Week

National Flag Week is to be observed from June 13 through 19. This is an important event at any time; it is vitally so today.

The purpose of the Week is formally defined as "The inculcation of the meaning of true Americanism into the minds and hearts of our citizens..." And true Americanism has nothing to do with liberalism or conservatism, with one's political or economic beliefs, or with sects and factions of any kind. It lies in devotion to country, and to those eternal principles of freedom upon which it was founded and which are the source of its strength and greatness.

In some circles nowadays, patriotism seems to be regarded with contempt. Highly vocal groups of young people, within and without the colleges, pay lip service to our enemies, even and covert alike, and violently denounce the efforts of the government to honor our commitments and to halt the forces of slavery. It is generally believed that this is communist inspired. But, whether it is or is not, it perfectly serves the ends of communism and of all those who would bring another Dark Age of oppression upon the world.

Let the Flag fly high during its Week---and let all know that the overwhelming majority of Americans, differ as they do on problems and issues, revere it, and revere all that it stands for.

Better Gas For Less Money

Writing in the March issue of Esquire, Walter Sanford Ross deals at length with something almost everyone uses--but few of us know much about--gasoline.

Mr. Ross tells of the vast amount of research that has gone into gasoline improvement and of the intense competition that forces all the producers of it to constantly fight to keep their place in the sun. He describes the driving practices which waste gas and those which make the most of it. He clarifies such esoteric matters as octane ratings and compression ratios, which are inextricably related. And he reports on differences between brands and grades.

Most important, from the viewpoint of the motorist, is what he has to say about price and performance of today's gas. In his words, "A curious thing about gasoline, it's so cheap. Take away the taxes, and the average price of a gallon of gas is about twenty cents. Distilled water costs about sixty-five cents a gallon..." And gas has been getting cheaper, during years when almost all other prices have been rising. The general price index rose more than 13 per cent between 1953 and 1963--in the same period gas went down more than four per cent.

In the field of performance, Mr. Ross tells us, today's motor-car premium gas is more powerful than that used in World War II fighter planes. Putting it another way, "A 1950 gallon could move one ton of car for 28.9 miles at forty miles per hour. A gallon of 1960 gas could move the same weight 47.8 miles at the same speed."

In short, the oil industry has provided us with better gas for less money and, Mr. Ross believes, will keep right on doing so. Few enterprises can say as much.

Mrs. Polly Middleton returned home Sunday, following a visit in Tulsa and Holdenville, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Marie Bock, of Truth or Consequence, N. M., was dinner guest in the home of Mrs. H. H. Hamilton Sunday.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. R. E. Barton last week were her granddaughter, Janice Sterling, and a friend, from Lubbock, and Mrs. Mae Moss, of Oklahoma City.

After sorghum has emerged, spray Atrazine to control weeds and grasses.

The idea is to spray Atrazine 80W herbicide right after sorghum has emerged, but before weeds are 1 1/2 inches high. This one application, moved to the weed root zone by rainfall, will control most annual broad-leaved weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season.

Control of weeds and grasses in sorghum with Atrazine can greatly reduce the need for cultivating. And so your crop goes through the entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients.

The results of weed control in sorghum are higher yields and lower production costs. And you can now graze or feed forage to livestock from treated sorghum fields 60 days after Atrazine application.

Contact your local supplier now for Atrazine 80W herbicide.

FLAG DAY

Behold, its streaming rays unite,
One mingling flood of braided light:
The red that fires the southern rose,
With spotless white from northern snows,
And, spangled o'er its azure, see,
The sister stars of liberty
Then hail the Banner of the Free,
The starry flower of Liberty!

Sec. Freeman Approves Memo Of Understanding

Orville Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, recently approved the modernizing of the Memorandum of Understanding between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Lamb County Soil Conservation District. Freeman also commended the governing body of the District for their progressive action in updating the soil and water conservation program in the District. He said, "This is an important initial step in helping private landowners move forward effectively with their resource conservation and development effort."

The Lamb County SCD Board, realizing that the original program and plan of work was outdated since 1946, updated the document. This SCD program and Plan of Work will be their guide and the guide of many others who are interested in conservation. The document was recently published by the banks of the District and copies are available in the lobbies of the banks.

Secretary Freeman pointed out in a letter to the Supervisors that the primary responsibility of resource development and conservation rests with the people who own and operate the land. The USDA provides its assistance to the people under arrangements which are designed to encourage leadership and initiative of local people.

The greatest conservation movement in history is taking place on the privately-owned land in the United States. A nation-wide resource development and conservation program on private lands has been accelerated during the past quarter century through soil conservation districts. The districts, organized under State law, stimulate local initiative and are governed by elected landowners and operators. Since 1937, every State has enacted soil conservation district legislation. There now exists some 2,900 local conservation districts which include 92 percent of the Nation's privately owned agricultural land. This includes 96 percent of the farms and ranches in the nation. Widespread public attention was attracted to the need for soil conservation on privately-owned lands largely as a result of dust storms in the Great Plains and gullying in the humid east in the early 1930's. Soil Conservation programs authorized during this period had a major objective over coming this menace.

During the 1940's, much progress was made through the evolution of the concept of soil and water conservation and the conservation objective. The objective of using each acre of agricultural land within its needs for protection and improvement was evolved.

During the intervening years, it became recognized that soil and water management are inseparable and the soil and water conservation concept of leading conservationists has come to mean increasing agricultural income and efficiency through proper land use; protecting land against all forms of soil deterioration; rebuilding eroded and depleted soils; building up soil fertility; stabilizing critical runoff and sediment producing areas; improving grasslands, woodlands and wildlife lands; conserving water for agricultural and municipal as well as other uses; proper agricultural drainage and irrigation; and reducing floodwater and sediment damage for benefits to the public as a whole.

Modern resource conservation includes the planning and treatment of complete watersheds as resource units. That job is to coordinate the management of crop, range, and forest lands, and the treatments of water-courses in the upper watersheds to minimize the damage of floods and sedimentation, and to improve the quality and regularity of water supplies. Soil and water management contributes to the rate of national economic growth, stimulates the economy of local communities, and contributes basically to the development of rural areas.

The motivation for modern conservation and wise resource management is derived from people. Conservation and resource-use programs are for people. They have far-reaching effects upon their prosperity--their jobs--their diets--their health--their recreation--their culture--and their lives.

"If you insist on keeping a place in the sun, you'll surely get some blisters."

Tower Introduces Bill To Remove S.O.L. Over Foreign Workers

This week, on Monday, introduced in the Senate a measure that removes from the Secretary of Labor jurisdiction in determining when a state needs foreign agricultural workers. My Bill would place that responsibility with the state agency having primary concern with agricultural policies. In our State this would be the State Commissioner of Agriculture.

The bracero program, under which Texas farmers, ranchers, and consumers benefited for many years, was not renewed this year. Last year more than 200,000 foreign workers, most of them from our good neighbor Mexico, entered the United States to help harvest crops. This year only about 1,500 have been allowed to enter. The results are well known. In California, for instance, valuable crops of strawberries were plowed under because of the labor shortage. Prices to consumers on many farm produce items have almost doubled, but the added money did not go to farmers. Rather, the added cost reflects, in many instances, additional labor costs. In 1950, of each $312 spent on food by the average American, the farmer received only $133. And apparently the trend is continuing.

The Texas Employment Commission bulletin for the Brownsville, Harlingen, San Benito area, and for Starr and Hidalgo counties, indicates that "the possibility of a farm labor shortage exists for harvesting spring vegetables." As all Texans know this is a region of heavy agricultural production, and a farm labor shortage here will hurt consumers far and wide.

I do not believe there is a single Texas farmer who would employ alien workers rather than domestic workers if those domestic workers were available for employment. But if they are not available, I do not believe we ought to allow crops to rot in the fields with the resultant price increase to consumers, just because the wheels of the federal bureaucracy move so slowly.

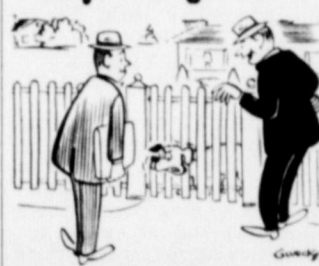

In a recent exchange of letters, Secretary of Labor Wirtz assured me he is working with the Texas Employment Commission to meet the labor needs of Texas growers. But time is running out. We must act and act quickly.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Middleton: It is my understanding that the Legislature of the State of Texas has placed the Counties of Lamb and Bailey in the 18th Congressional District. If this action finally becomes law and safely withstands court tests, the 18th Congressional District will be constituted of 30 counties including Bailey and Lamb. In the past I have received many communications and requests from people living in these two Counties and have always been most pleased to be of aid or assistance in helping to solve the problems of our area. The Honorable George Mahon, who has so ably represented you throughout the years, is a very close personal friend of mine and we have worked together to the end that the best interests of our section of the State be best served. We shall of course continue to do this. I shall look forward with great pleasure to an early opportunity to visit with you personally. Sincerely yours, Walter Rogers, M.C.

You get ease and convenience of operation . . . really accurate performance and reliability with the MF 144 and MF 146. And these are the reasons why:

- FAST 3-POINT HITCH MOUNTING hitches to any tractor with Cat. 1 or H 3-point hitch in a minute or less.
- EXTRA HIGH CLEARANCE High transport clearance makes that trip to the field faster and safer--high working clearance means you can cultivate high crops late in the season.
- POSITIVE, EVEN PENETRATION across the full width of the implement because the full floating gangs (with individual gauge wheels) operate independently.
- ACCURATE CONTROL An adjustable row pointer allows you to follow the row exactly and 18" sealed bearing guide coulters ensure straight follow for close cultivation.
- BRAWNY, BOX BEAM FRAME of 3 1/2" square welded tube is lighter yet more rigid than a solid bar.

Local Students In Washington, D. C. See Ceremony At Gravesite

Witnessing a solemn wreath-laying ceremony at the gravesite of the late President Kennedy June 9th was Alicia Gallows of Earth and Bob Coker of Springlake, winners of a tour to Washington, D. C., sponsored by Bailey County Electric Cooperative.

Perhaps the highlight of the 10 day trip, the simple tribute to President Kennedy was also observed by more than 60 young Texans and chaperones representing 29 other rural electric systems on the tour.

Alicia and Bob arrived in Washington June 7, and the next morning at a special Congressional breakfast they met members of the Texas Congressional delegation. Later in the day they visited the Capitol building, Library of Congress, Supreme Court, National Archives, headquarters for the National Rural Electric Cooperative, U. S. Department of Agriculture building and several Washington monuments.

Winners of an oratorical contest on the subject of the contributions of rural electrification to this area, Alicia and Bob learned about rural electric systems in other states when they visited NRECA headquarters and the Department of Agriculture, of which the Rural Electrification Administration is an agency.

Many more thrilling sights and scenes are in store for them during the remaining five days of their tour.

Jerry Been, a student at East Central College, Ada, Oklahoma, returned home recently.

Mrs. Myrtle Clayton Tells Of Her Trip To Central America

Mrs. Myrtle Clayton, Springlake, accompanied by Mrs. D. C. Lindley, Mrs. E. G. Brunson and Mrs. J. R. Coens of Littlefield left May 14th for a tour of Central America. The group stopped at historic Natchez, Mississippi, where they enjoyed a tour of the Antebellum Homes; it is here that the old South still lives.

At New Orleans, La, the group met Mrs. Zella Yowell, Administrator of Fort Logan Hospital, at Stanford, Kentucky, and Mrs. Jewell Brantson of Picaune, Mississippi and six other ladies also who were making this same tour. It was a congenial dozen who went aboard the SS Yaqui for a wonderful, lazy vacation, to visit where people are twenty years behind our progress, a land of hammocks, and from 12 o'clock to 2 o'clock siestas and food growing at one's feet.

Easter Sunday morning we stood on deck as we came within 3 1/2 miles of Cuba-being aware that it was the sister ship of the SS Yaqui that was buzzed as she traveled this way, in December 1964. Looking toward the rugged coast line of Cuba and seeing San Antonio harbor you could not avoid having an uneasy feeling.

We sailed across the Caribbean into the rough Atlantic 3 1/2 days and 4 beautiful star-lit nights and docked in Kingston, Jamaica, a country of 97 percent black people of African descent. Only 3 percent is white population and this was soon recognized. The Jamaicans have a democratic form of government, a President and Senate and Legislature. In 1962 this little nation became independent, with the British relinquishing all rights. In case of serious trouble they will rely on the help of the Western Democracies. Jamaica is a tropical country, shaped like a long jagged spine of mountains set in a ring of plain, with numerous rivers, with Jamaican women standing out in the water washing their clothes all up and down the rivers, drying these clothes on the banks of the rivers or on shrubs and plants. They are very white and clean clothes. However, I still prefer the automatic. These people have lived through the age of slavery, emancipation, and trying times under the Crown Colony, which were turbulent years, now independence.

the canal as it cuts the distances of the world and shortens the commercial ties of Europe, Asia, and America. There stands today, a huge statue of Balboa, explorer and head of the first established government in the lands of Panama. Extensive study and prolonged delays and the French giving up, the United States in November, 1903. A treaty was ratified between the U. S., and Republic of Panama for the construction of the canal, and it was our own Army doctor, Gorgus, who came to Panama, saw the infestation of mosquitoes that were transmitters of yellow fever and malaria, which was retarding the work on the canal. Dr. Gorgus came, conquered disease and established a strict quarantine. We were subject to be searched by quarantine officials.

work. Day laborers get 35¢ per hour. Though bananas are a $1,000,000 industry here, some of the people never have contact with the outside world, except when they come into the harbor. There are no flies, or no cats, so there is no need for screens.

The people of Elemente had just closed their three day banana festival and as we left the ship to tour this island we saw their festival floats. The main float was a Singer sewing machine from the U. S. This machine is the desire of every native woman. The cock-fight, and bull fight climaxed their festival. Here as in other places we visited, there was the selling of lottery tickets, men and women, both selling them.

When we are enjoying our 11 o'clock Sunday morning service in America, these people go to the town square to witness the lottery drawing, always hoping to be a winner.

Thousands of colorful parakeets come swarming to the coast line in the evening and return to the interior in the morning.

Our return was lovely, back over the peaceful blue Pacific the Canal and to Tampa, Florida through then to New Orleans. Here we saw Chalmette, National Historical Park, where Andrew Jackson won from the British the greatest American land victory in the war of 1812. And our future freedom crossed the world's longest bridge on Lake Pontchartrain and saw the Tung orchards near Picaune, Mississippi. In March this year Tung nut party was $89.40 per ton, higher price than Castor beans, this Tung oil is used in paint. We also saw the 140,000 acre reservation where Saturn boosters designed at Houston and New Orleans will be tested. This is an immense government project. The rock-testing stands are 40 stories high, man made canals, modern offices, scientific laboratories and many dollars spent for some time to come.

The fire drills we had to practice at sea were very detailed and were not taken lightly by officers and crew. The food was excellent, so good that I gained 10 lbs, that I have just taken off since returning.

Our captain was ill during the voyage, when we docked on Wednesday he entered the hospital at New Orleans, died and buried on Sunday. I know now what it means when I hear that the courageous captain never leaves his ship.

As true Americans it was good to get our feet back on good ole American soil and we were all glad to see Lamb County again.

At Balboa we shopped at Jan Himel's. This is similar to Neiman - Marcus of Dallas. Thought we would buy charms for our granddaughter's charm bracelets, changed our minds, the charms were $9.00 each. Here in the Canal Zone we did not feel the freedom that we had felt in Jamaica. Our guides never left us at any time, in stores and when we were on the street, we avoided crowded streets, kept the doors locked in our car door. We were driven by Balboa High School, where Old Glory was torn down and windows broken out such a short time ago, our flag is bravely waving there today. We saw beautiful private homes of noted people and Hollywood Stars, Raymond Novero, Margee Fontaine and others. The beautiful exclusive Hilton Hotel, Boy Scouts International building, Banks of many nations, also Millionaire's Row, with landscaping which was out of this world. Lottery tickets are sold everywhere here.

"As Seen In Earth"

By Carolyn Hamilton

Good morning! And aren't these summer days wonderful! The Middletons took May's 1965 issue of West Texas Publisher by storm this month! The family's picture was on the cover; Polly's "nosin" on graduation was given an entire page of the magazine, and Phil's picture was among the West Texas Press Association families going to college. What a tribute to a family that deserves all the honors!

Welcome home to Janice Holt, just returning to the News office from college in Arkansas. Such a sweet person! Bible Schools are in full swing—such fine leaders, workers, and interested youth.

Many college students are home. Good, seeing young, smiling faces again!

Baseball, baseball!—If you wonder where most of the young boys are, they may be seen in suby activity at the ball park. Congratulations, Wilma and Doodle Taylor! Welcome to the Club! So happy for you.

Have you seen the beautiful L. J. Welch home north and west of Earth? Isn't it fabulous! A real story-book home in a modern design.

Lots of activity at the Swimming Pool.

Mrs. Parish's Gift Shop is a very cheerful place.

Have you tried a "bicycle built for two"? I've seen several enjoying them... Those who-ones seem popular these days too.

Marion Hodge's roses were enjoyed by all of us.

Many are vacationing... And June is bustin' out all over...

Joe Embry, Farmer With A Purpose

Realizing that modern farming requires skill, capital, and hard work, Joe Embry uses a systematic method of farming Northwest of Earth. He wants to get the most for his investment and knows that good planning pays off in pride, respect and profit!

Embry owns and operates two farms near Earth and has developed a Basic Conservation Plan with the Lamb County Soil Conservation District. Middleton Family Featured In "West Texas Publisher"

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Middleton, Polly Jean, and Phil were featured in a family group on the cover of May's 1965 West Texas Publisher, West Texas Press Association official publication.

Quoting the publication, "This family foursome has spent many long hours working together in the production of the Earth News-Sun.

Publishers, Ross and Polly Middleton, with their two children, Polly Jr. and Phil, moved to Earth in 1954 and began production of the News-Sun. Polly, Jr. was at the time a seventh grade student and Phil was in his second year of grade school.

As the two children grew older, they helped around the shop in the Commercial Department gathering, stapling, and delivering printing jobs, finally advancing to other jobs requiring more skill.

Following graduation from High School in 1960, Polly Jr. enrolled in college in Gulfport, Mississippi. Her second year, she returned to Texas and entered Hardin-Simmons University. Following two years in college, she returned home to take over the job of bookkeeper and Typewriter operator at the shop, and was always on hand to do any type of art work necessary. She remained on the staff until recently, when she moved to Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Phil is currently employed as collection agent for the paper, working after school, and on Saturdays. He is graduating from high school this year. He will enroll in college.

On page 5, it was stated "Mr. and Mrs. Ross Middleton, who publish the Earth News-Sun are official parents of the senior class of Springlake-Earth High School of which their son, Phil, is a graduating senior. Polly, as Mrs. Middleton is known, gave her last word of admonition, but likely not her last one of commendation, in the May edition of the newspaper which honored the class." This introduction preceded from Nolin With Polly--including the poem "Equipment" by Edgar Guest.

This is quite an honor to the Middleton family. The Earth-Springlake area is indeed fortunate in having such a fine family in their midst.

Texas Highway Dept. Approves FM Construction

The Texas Highway Commission today approved the expenditure of $1,210,000 for construction of new Farm to Market Road mileage in District Five as part of the 1965 FM Road Program, announced District Engineer Oscar Crain of Lubbock. The District Engineer said 62.1 miles in this District will be involved.

Work authorized for this county is part of a 911.2 mile statewide farm to market road building program for 1965 as approved today by the Texas Highway Commission. The program will include 207 individual projects in 153 counties to cost an estimated $23.5 million.

The action brings the total designated FM system to 37,779 miles, of which 35,026 had been built by April 30. Another 773 miles were under construction on that date.

The farm to market road program is an annual road-building undertaking of the Texas Highway Department as provided by State law. Total cost of the 1965 program is approximately one-half million dollars in excess of the basic statutory requirement of $23 million.

With addition of the new miles authorized for construction by the Commission today, the total combined mileage of the entire State-maintained highway systems of the six New England States--Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

More than 8,000 busses carry nearly 456,000 Texas youngsters to classes over more than one-half million miles of streets and highways each school day.

The Texas Education Agency estimates that most of these young people travel over FM roads for a part or all of their daily trips to and from classes.

And nearly 50,000 miles of farm to market roads are traversed each day by rural mail carriers.

Approximately 71 per cent of the new farm to market roads approved today by the Commission presently are in use as school bus routes, and 68 per cent are used by rural mail carriers.

It has been estimated that a school bus can operate at least two cents a mile cheaper on a paved FM road than on a dusty or muddy county-maintained road. Through the use of these state rural paved roads mail service is improved and children are transported to school more safely and over greater distances at lower cost.

Traffic on the state's FM roads ranges from a low of 25 vehicles a day to 15,000 to 20,000 vehicles a day. The average is 330 vehicles a day.

Use of the modern FM system has taken an odd turn since it originally was conceived and initiated with passage of Senate Bill 287 in 1948. The aid at that time was to "get the farmers out of the mud," and enable them to get their produce and livestock to market.

Conversely, as the population movement has been into urban areas in the last decade and a half, city residents now have made "market to farm" roads of the FM routes as they seek weekend pleasure on the lake, in the hill country or at the seashore.

The farm to market road system in Texas now represents approximately 56.7 per cent of the designated 66,518 mile state-maintained highway system. Present projections call for an ultimate 50,000 mile FM road system in Texas.

Increasing maintenance cost of the farm to market system has become a major budget item of the Texas Highway Department, some $21 million a year.

Total cost of the present farm to market system--including initial cost, improvement and betterment--amounts to about $830 million. Much of the increased cost of construction and maintenance of the FM roads has resulted from the higher-type construction and traffic service demanded by modern-day traffic. Some of the FM roads are four-lane, divided with paved shoulders and other refined features undreamed of 15 years ago.

The minimum construction requirements for an FM road are two lanes of 10 feet each, with 24 feet for bridge width and a minimum bridge load limit of 15 tons. This is sufficient to meet the needs of many through routes which link Texas farms and ranches with distant markets.

Postmaster Urges World's Fair Visitors To See Special Exhibit

Postmaster Harold D. Miller today suggested residents of Earth visit the special post office and exhibit if they attend the New York World's Fair.

Highlight of the display is the nation's most famous postal error, the 1918 twenty-four-cent airmail stamp with the up-side-down mail plane, the postmaster said.

In addition to original die proofs of the "mistake" and other philatelic rarities connected with the airmail event, the post office features an exhibit on the development of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Stamp, and a special branch of the Post Office Department's Philatelic Sales Agency, offering a complete stock of all commemorative issues now available.

Visitors to the modern postal installation will receive a free commemorative cachet envelope picturing the post office.

The most up-to-date postal equipment in use, and several experimental models, are installed in the World's Fair Post Office. One mechanism mechanically places letters on their long end, spots the stamp and, if necessary, flips the envelopes so that they are in the proper position and then cancels them.

Another device over 70 feet long, contains 12 stations from which postal clerks direct letters into nearly 300 bins as they separate the mail for speedy delivery.

The World's Fair Post Office processes approximately 250,000 pieces of mail each day. Visitors are able to see all operations from a ramp which circles the work area. A tape recorded commentary explains the action.

Twenty-one mail boxes from every area of the world line the entrance walk.

Local Youths To Attend Workshop

More than 100 Future Farmer of America members and vocational agriculture teachers will attend the third annual FFA Electric Workshop, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company, at the Episcopal Church Conference Center in Amarillo, on June 14-16.

Earth representatives at the workshop will be Danny Haberer and Jerry Anderson.

There will be five courses of instruction offered at the workshop, and the student selected as outstanding in each course will be awarded a trip to the National FFA Convention at Kansas City. Each boy who successfully completes the conference will receive a farm electrification medal from the Southwestern Public Service Company.

The courses of instruction to be offered are electric controls, farm motors, farm wiring, lighting and heating.

Included in the instructors will be W. E. McCune, director, Texas Farm Electrification Committee; Bob Jaska, supervisor, adult education program, Texas Education Agency; and Foy Page, farm electrification specialist, TEA, all of whom will come to the workshop from College Station, Kenneth Owen of Amarillo, Jamie Gage of Guymon, Oklahoma, and Tom Fields of Plainview are Southwestern Public Service Company specialists who will be on the staff of instructors.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kelley attended the funeral of O. L. Sanders in Littlefield Tuesday.

South Plains Council Summer Camps Open

Each year the South Plains Council offers Scouting in high adventure through Summer Camp. The Council operates two long term camps for the area Scouts.

Camp Post, located four miles from Post, Texas, offers an excellent swimming pool and aquatic program which is staffed by qualified life guards and swimming instructors. Non-swimmers get special attention. Scout Life Guard and the Mile may be earned by good swimmers. Lakeside boating and canoeing complete the full aquatic program at Camp Post. Scouts must have their Swimming Merit Badge in order to take part in boating, canoeing, merit badge or life saving.

Adequate adult leadership and instruction will be given to those pursuing boating and canoeing at the Lake.

Boys may earn Marksmanship merit badges and special BSA and NRA awards at Camp Post's well supervised rifle range. Archery and fishing are also special features. Advancement in Second and First Class ranks as well as explorer oriented activities will be stressed at Camp Post. Special help will be available from a well-trained Central Staff in all merit badge fields with emphasis on outdoor activities.

Meals are prepared by excellent camp cooks in a completely remodeled kitchen. A Scout is always hungry, and Camp Post campers will receive the finest meals possible, served in the spacious Dining Hall. Campers will also be given an opportunity to cook for themselves while camping at Camp Post. Food will be issued to the Unit from the Dining Hall, and all necessary gear and equipment will also be issued for these outdoor cooked meals.

A Unit should bring their cooking equipment if they prefer other than foil and tin can cooking. A Unit may decide what day, and what meals they would like to cook out.

At Tres Ritos Camp, which is located in the Sangre De Cristo Mountains of New Mexico halfway between Taos and Las Vegas, each Unit will camp on a mountain campsite surrounded by forest and mountain streams. Campfire programs, and various inter-Unit activities will add to the full program for Units at Tres Ritos. When evening approaches in the mountains, Scouts seem to welcome the opportunity to "hit the hay" after a day filled with various Scouting activities.

Outdoor type camping will be offered, where Units may operate from Tres Ritos as their base camp, get all necessary supplies, and camp up in the mountain areas. This will be a rugged challenge to test the camping skills of those involved.

Tres Ritos offers jamboree type cooking where all meals will be cooked outdoors, and will be cooked by Patrols. Food will be issued from the Camp Commissary Building. Paper plates, paper cups will be furnished, along with all the necessary items of food for the week. Each Unit should bring their own cooking gear, and mess equipment.

A beautiful archery range located in the meadow affords fine opportunity for archery enthusiasts. Conservation, relative to water, soil, and trees gives much emphasis to this important phase of the program. Pioneering, axmanship, compass, astronomy, cooking, hiking, and many other outdoor skills await the campers at Tres Ritos. Fishing is good, and every camper has this opportunity all during the week. Nature, and the identification of wild flowers, plants, and animals, and birds is also in

Poor Academic Record Major Reason Employers Reject Job Applications

The student's academic record-like his military service record and his credit rating-follows him wherever he goes, and has an influence on the kind of employment he can obtain and the kind of salary he can command, according to a report in the March issue of Finance Facts, a monthly publication on consumer financial behavior, published by the National Consumer Finance Association.

Reporting on an analysis of the job recruitment picture for 1965 college graduates, Finance Facts points out that "a poor academic record" is among the four most prominent reasons given by employers for rejecting a job applicant.

The other three are inadequate personality, lack of concrete job hand and a lack of enthusiasm.

Despite the emphasis on performance while in school, the college diploma is still money in the bank to the person entering the labor market, and its value continues to increase. Finance Facts says that college graduates hired by many of the country's larger companies in 1965 will receive about $600 a month, a salary increase of $100 a month over the past two years.

Advanced education is similarly rewarding, according to the study reported on by the NCFEA publication. Graduates holding a master's degree may command about $100 a month more to start than the graduate at the bachelor's level while a technically-trained Ph. D. can expect approximately $1,000 a month from among the business firms surveyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewie Jordan attended the funeral of Mrs. Floyd Shackelford, in Cotton Center, Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Clark returned recently from a visit in Amarillo with her two daughters and families. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rogers.

More at Tres Ritos. Tours of real old fashioned saw mill on the banks of the river is available. Hiking up mountain sides and seeing the various handiworks of nature is always available.

At the present time there are 50 units signed up for Camp Post with approximately 825 boys and leaders. Tres Ritos are 42 units and 600 boys and leaders.

Pack 614 plans to attend the camp June 27-July 4. Thirty applications have been sent in to date. Last year 29 of our local boys, and four couples of parents attended. They brought back 90 merit badges. The Scouts have their camping equipment in readiness, and are looking forward to this date. They will travel by school bus, which was purchased last year by the Scouts.

Application For Game Warden Deadline Is June 18

The deadline for receiving applications for the position of Texas Game Warden is 5:00 p. m., June 18, 1965, according to J. Weldon Watson, executive director, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

An applicant must be in good physical condition; a high school graduate; citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Texas for at least one year prior to the date of appointment.

Applicants must be between 21 and 40 years of age inclusive (as of March 1, 1966), be at least 5 feet 8 inches tall, without shoes, and must weigh at least two but not more than three pounds for each inch of height.

The appropriation bill as passed by the 59th Legislature provides a salary increase which would put beginning game wardens on a competitive basis with beginning law enforcement personnel of other agencies. Said Watson, "this progressive move should encourage more young men to seek a career in wildlife conservation."

Requests for applications may be sent to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

THRIPS

Thrips migrate to cotton from many other host plants. Their injury to young cotton causes malformation of leaves and shedding of small squares. This results in delayed growth and loss of fruit. Thrips damage usually occurs early in the season, but may continue in some areas.

ACTUAL LENGTH 1/15"

WHAT TO LOOK FOR Walk diagonally across fields from two different directions, and inspect plants. Thrips damage is light if the newest unfolding leaves show only a slight brownish tinge along the edges, with no silvering of these or older leaves, and only an occasional thrips is seen. Damage is medium if the newest leaves show considerable brown along the edges and some silvering on the underside of most leaves, and thrips are found readily. Damage is heavy if silvering of leaves is readily noticeable, terminal buds show injury, plant is ragged and deformed, and thrips are numerous.
