ANOTHER ERROR

Again we have committed an error. And the only explanation we can make is that we looked kinda cross-eyed like!

In our story about vocational agriculture and 4-H boys feeding out lambs, we stated last week that Floyd and Lloyd Spurgers were feeding 4 mutton lambs, with Tom Wilton as the breeder.

The lambs being fed by the Spurgers twins were secured from John Rae, and we omitted the fact that Billy Wilton is feeding 6 mutton lambs from the Tom Wilton flock.

This error was entirely our own and was not intended to discredit any of the boys or the breeders.

A GUARDED PROPOSAL

Lorenzo Dow, an American evangelist who went to Ireland in 1799 to endeavor to convert the Catholics of that country to Protestantism, was a bold spirit in many respects, but it appears that he was extremely cautious in matters in which women were concerned.

His tentative proposal of marriage, written to a young woman of his acquaintance, is a masterpiece of conservatism. He wrote as follows:

"If I am preserved, about a year and a half from now I am in hopes of seeing this northern country again; and if during that time you live and remain single, and find no one that you like better than you do me, and would be willing to give me up three years out of every four for travel in foreign lands (for if you should stand in the way I would pray God to remove you, which I believe He would answer) and if I find no one I like better than I do you, perhaps something further may be said upon the subject."

It is safe to say the young lady could hardly have gotten a breach of promise verdict on the strength of a letter like that.

HOW MANY ARE A FEW?

In a somewhat light vein the Christian Science Monitor once asked and discussed the question, "How many are a few?" No conclusion was reached, as there appeared to be no definite authority which might be cited to establish the answer.

Later a correspondent in Newark called attention to the fact that a small Scotch boy had found the answer long ago, according to a story which may be briefly related thus:

The boy was entitled to a "few apples" as a prize for memorizing more verses of scripture than any other member of his Sunday school class, whereupon the teacher gave him three apples. The boy demurred, asserting that he should have eight apples. Pressed for his authority the lad triumphantly produced it from no less a source than the Holy Writ, quoting Peter, third chapter, 20th verse, which says: "Few, that is, eight souls were saved by water."

His contention being incontrovertible, the boy got his eight apples. And, therefore, if anyone should ask, "a few" means eight.

Presbyterian Meeting Begins Tonight

Rev. B. D. D. Greer, D. D. of San Antonio is expected to arrive to day and will preach the opening sermon of the Presbyterian revival meeting tonight. Rev. Greer conducted a meeting for the Presbyterians last year and made the acquaintance of many Eldoradoans. The meeting will continue ten days with Dr. Greer preaching each evening at 7:30. Morning services will begin on Monday, and be held each day through Friday at 10:00 A. M.

Mrs. Luzelle Hicks will be in charge of the music. She is an experienced choir director and soloist. Mr. Wilkinson tells us, and a good song service is assured. There will be special music each evening.

On next Sunday morning the 25th anniversary of the organization of the Mayer Presbyterian Church will be celebrated. The record of the organization of that church will be read and special recognition given to all the charter members still living. The youngest descendant of that church will be baptized.

Following the morning service on Sunday there will be dinner on the "grounds." Members and friends of the church are invited to come and bring a basket lunch.

P. T. A. TO HOLD BENEFIT PARTY AT HOTEL SATURDAY

Members of the Eldorado P. T. A. have announced that their benefit forty-two party, which was postponed last week, will be held on Saturday night of this week. The party will be at the Eldo Hotel, beginning at seven-thirty.

The entire public is cordially invited to attend. Proceeds from the party will go to benefit the local organization.

M. A. TANT TAKES CHARGE OF COSDEN STATION HERE

M. A. Tant, formerly of Brownsville, this week took over the management of the Cosden Station, formerly operated by R. C. Morgan and Son.

Mr. Tant, who is a brother of Mrs. Clyde Keeney's, is known by a large number of Eldorado people. He was in the drug business at Brownsville and stated that his wife and baby will join him here next week.

"We expect to render an up-to-the-minute service, and we invite the public to visit us at any time," Mr. Tant said.

McCLARY SECURES AGENCY FOR MOORMAN MINERAL STOCK FEED

Announcement was made this week that L. B. McClary has secured the agency for Moorman's Mineral Feeds in this county. Their home office is in Quincy, Ill.

Moorman's Mineral Feed is a highly recommended sheep and cattle feed, and Mr. McClary anticipates quite a demand for this feed in Schleicher county.

Charles Ratliff, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff.

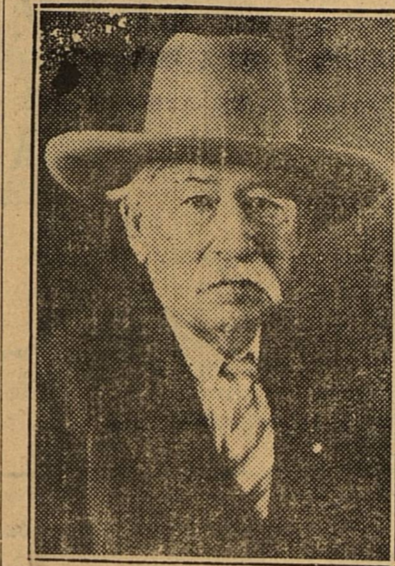

A. K. Bailey, County Pioneer, Dies Saturday

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT BAPTIST CHURCH

A. K. Bailey, one of the few pioneer residents of this county, passed away at his home in Eldorado at eight o'clock last Saturday morning, following an illness of several weeks. Mr. Bailey recovered from a serious illness about a year ago, and for several months was seen on the streets visiting with his many friends here. He again became seriously ill some three weeks before his death.

Mr. Bailey, who was 88 years and 9 months of age, was born in Harris County, Georgia, on January 17, 1849. He moved to Grayson County, Texas, from Louisiana in December, 1873. He became a trail driver and drove cattle from North Texas to Independence County. On one of these trips the herd was attacked by Indians. The Indians were driven off and most of them killed, Bailey getting a good saddle and blanket off one of the ponies.

Prior to coming to Schleicher county, Mr. Bailey served as a peace officer of San Saba county during the period of "the mob" in that section. While in San Saba, he met and married Miss Martha Harkey, took up a farm on the San Saba River and became interested in pecans as well as livestock farming. While serving as a peace officer, he handled the difficult situation of "the mob" which was active in San Saba, Llano and surrounding counties, without bloodshed.

Mr. Bailey came to Schleicher county in 1901 and participated in the "land rush" of that early day. He often recalled that Schleicher county men got the best of the deal, and succeeded in keeping most of the outsiders out. In 1901 he moved to this county and filed on school lands in the Vermont Pasture. He was one of the last survivors of those who filed in the Vermont Pasture lands.

Rev. Leggitt And Rev. Clark Leave For Conference

Rev. J. W. Leggitt, pastor of the Eldorado Methodist Church, accompanied by Rev. F. G. Clark, left last Wednesday morning for San Antonio, where they are attending the annual West Texas Conference.

Rev. Leggitt was selected to serve with Rev. W. B. Wheeler as statistical secretary for the San Angelo district during the conference. They will have charge of compiling all church statistics during the conference, which will be printed in the conference minutes.

The conference will continue throughout next Sunday night, and since the pastor is away there will be no preaching services at the local church. Sunday school will be held at the regular hour.

Appointments for another year will be read at the close of the conference on Sunday night. Rev. Leggitt carried a very favorable report of affairs and work of the local church for the past year.

To Hold Revival

Dr. B. D. D. Greer, of San Antonio, is expected to arrive today and will preach at the opening service of the Presbyterian revival tonight. The revival will continue over a period of ten days.

Dr. Greer conducted the revival here last year, and is known to many Eldorado people.

An "Achievement Day" Journey

EDITOR LEARNS RIVERSIDE CLUB DOES THINGS IN BIG WAY

Last Tuesday afternoon, we were invited to the first Achievement Day event of the Women's Home Demonstration Clubs of this county. So, in company with Mrs. Gordie Alexander, Mrs. E. E. Menges and Miss Margaret Stewart, home demonstration agent, we "lit out" for the Riverside Club.

After a tour that is conservatively estimated at 42 miles, over roads, some of which reminded us of the trip those "Out our Way" cowboys of daily newspaper cartoon fame take to the chiropractor's office, we arrived at the little historic town of Ft. McKavett. From there we went to the home of Mrs. L. L. Tisdale, kitchen demonstrator for the Riverside Club.

Being the only person present who was classified in the masculine gender, we were more or less a silent witness to the proceedings. But anyway, the ladies, club members and visitors, assembled presently and Miss Pat Talbot, club president, was in charge of the short business session. The members set Nov-

Huge Walnuts Produced By Means Of Grafting

A. J. Roach Raises Large Specimen From Tree In Yard At Home

A walnut tree in the A. J. Roach yard, which was once an ordinary creek walnut, is this year producing some of the largest walnuts in these parts. Mr. Roach says that the tree is well loaded this year, and the large walnuts are a result of grafting.

He stated that the tree was between 15 and 20 years old, but only a few years ago he had the English walnut grafted to it. The result is the large walnuts which have been grown this year.

Mr. Roach stated that several similar trees are at the C. C. Doty place, also.

Second Grade Has Program At Meeting Of Eldorado P. T. A.

A program including songs, readings and dances by the pupils of the second grade was presented at the second meeting of the Parent Teacher Association in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 19.

At the business session Mrs. Leslie Baker, chairman of the membership committee announced that there were now thirty-six paid members with at least eight probable additions by the first of next month.

Mrs. John Williams reported on the finance committee and announced that a benefit bridge and 42 party would be given.

The theme of the program for the afternoon session was on Health and Mrs. Brown, Tom Green County health nurse gave a very interesting and instructive talk on this subject. She pointed out the need of a county health nurse and impressed the fact that every effort should be made in securing one for our county in order to protect the health interests of our children.

Locals Chalk Up 102-0 Score Against Yellow Jackets

Eagles Break All-Time Record,

Coach Weldon Bynum's Eagles soared to a new record, Saturday afternoon, defeating the Menard Yellow Jackets 102-0. The Eagles playing 35 men, every available player on the bench, hit pay dirt on almost every attempt. The Eagles hammered out 15 touchdowns and 12 extra points to smother the visitors.

Eldorado kicked to the 20-yard stripe and Menard returned to the 45. Menard tried three plays, one a completed pass for two yards, punted to the Eagles 45. On the first play G. Nicks ran to the 22-yard line. Here B. Williams put the leather across for the first tally. Meadors' try from placement was good. The Eagles were not long in getting the ball back again. Starting on the 31 yard marker G. Williams carried the ball to the 12 where Nicks went over for the second score of the game. Meadors' kick was perfect. After the kick off, Menard tried a pass which was intercepted by B. Williams on the thirty yard stripe. In the next two plays Meador hung up the third touchdown of the game. G. Williams' try from placement was good. Here many of the regulars was replaced by the subs. The subs had little trouble in scoring when Menard punted, behind their own goal line, the ball stopping on Menard's one foot marker. George Whitley hit the line for the score. McCormick hit the line for the extra point. After the kick off the regulars came back into the game. Failing to pick up a first down Menard punted out on the 47 yard marker. George Williams.

CAUSES OF CRIME

In their efforts to find an explanation for the increasing prevalence of crime, many thoughtful persons have concluded that the tendency to burden the public with a multiplicity of laws may account for much of the lawlessness which now prevails. Speaking before an international convention of police chiefs, Dr. Carlton Simon said: "We can limit and harass human freedom to such an extent that even the normally balanced individual feels that he is oppressed and will seek unlawful means of expressing his personality."

Through the operation of innumerable laws and the activities of government agencies employed thereunder we are restricted, inspected, spied upon, investigated and caused many unnecessary annoyances which are resented by a people who love freedom.

If more attention were paid to apprehending and punishing real criminals, while allowing greater freedom from harassment to respectable citizens, we should doubtless have a more law-abiding and happier citizenship.

JUST A MERE INCIDENT?

In government language, it is merely incidental that the government is spending $190,000,000 to go into the hydro-electric power business. There can be no other interpretation in the recent telegram to the Tennessee Valley Authority on the occasion of the dedication of Wheeler Dam, when the following message went out from the White House.

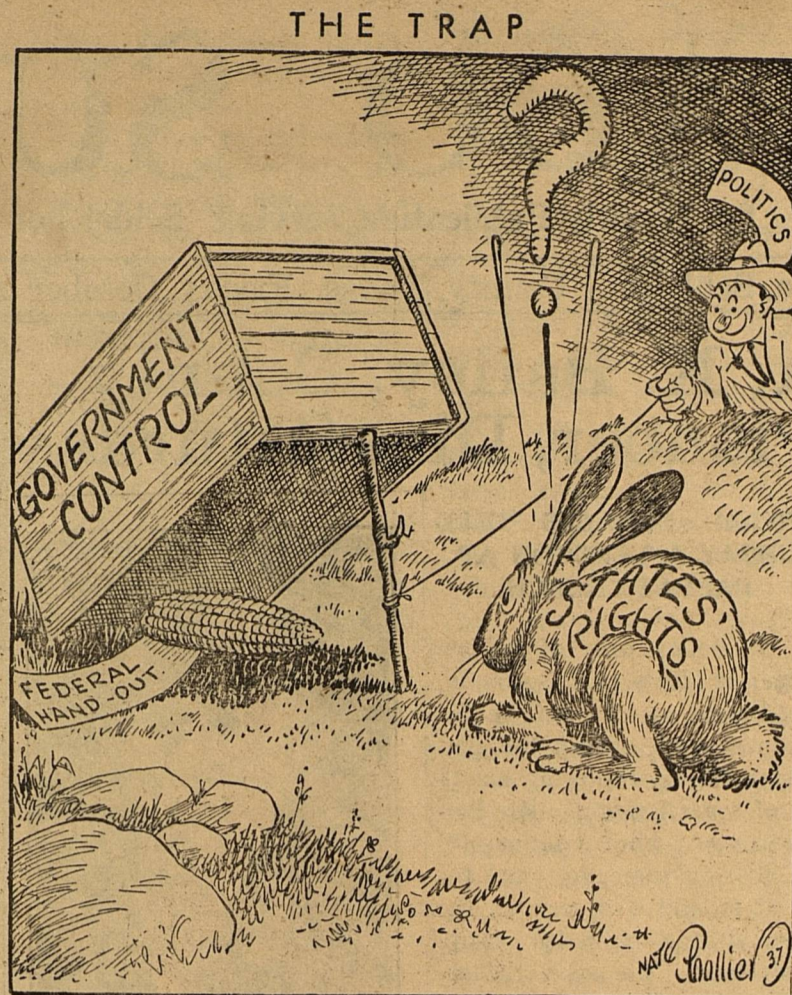

"Through unified control, the Tennessee River is stepped up for navigation and, in the reverse order, stepped down for flood control. At the same time incidental generation of power by these steps provides a means or reimbursing the government in large measure for the money expended for the development and control of our inland waterways.

The estimated cost of the eleven dams that will comprise the TVA's project is $520,600,000. Of this sum it is estimated that the navigation and flood control program would have cost only $330,600,000 separately. Thus $190,000,000 was added to the cost to enable the government to go into the business of developing power in competition with private business.

To speak of this expenditure and its purpose as "incidental" is certainly taking liberties with the English language.

THE PRICE OF SPEED

As everyone knows, speed is the great highway killer. The motorist who drives at an excessive rate endangers not only his own life, but those of everyone else on the public streets and roads. He can offer but one "excuse" for his conduct—that super-fast driving gets him to his destination sooner.

The truth is, the minutes we save by excessive speed are pitifully few in the light of the risk involved. A short time ago a test was made in Chicago. A radio announcer was told to drive his car on an eight-mile trip through heavy traffic, observing not only every traffic regulation, but every rule of courtesy. At the same time, a police officer followed the same route under instructions to take every risk and reach the destination in the shortest possible time. Twenty-three minutes later the reckless driver pulled in at the stopping point. The safe, supposedly slow driver, who had taken no risks at all, got there exactly two minutes later.

We have all met the motorist who makes a trip in a length of time that required him to risk a hundred lives, and then spends twice the amount he saved over a normal, safe passage, boasting about it. None of us are so busy none of us have so great a need for saving a few minutes or a few hours, that we can afford the "price of speed."

"Save ten minutes—take a life." That should be the motto of the driver who "opens her up" on every possible occasion. Speed and speed alone is the dominating factor in the great bulk of the nation's serious traffic accidents. Look at it from your own point of view and from a purely selfish standpoint—is it worth it?

SCABIES ERADICATION REPORT

There was employed in San Angelo District for the month of September, three State men, and three county men who spent their entire time in an effort to eradicate scabies infection, and a total of approximately $444,300, was expended by this Department in its regular Eradication Program.

277 herds, and a total of 48,416 sheep or cattle were inspected or dipped. 414 head of sheep were classed as exposed on account of being imported into Texas and dipped to comply with Texas Scabies Law.

The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas will continue the work in the San Angelo District from imported infection, and affording the necessary scabies certificates demanded by other states on live stock moving from Texas.

The above work was conducted under the supervision of H.H. Cospser, Supervisor of Scabies Eradication Work, San Angelo, Texas. Note. There were employed in San Angelo District three county paid men which are not included in the above expenditure.

Mr. Average Farmer

Any man owning 275 acres of land worth about $18.70 an acre can consider himself an average Texas farmer. The 137,600,000 acres devoted to farming in this state are divided into over 501,000 farms, which range in size from tiny patches to tracts covering thousands of acres. The average farm, valued by the 1935 census at $5,137 is worth almost exactly the same amount as in 1910. Between that time and the present the highest value was in 1920, when Mr. Average Farmer was worth $8,486.

A certain African tribe discourages long-winded speeches by requiring all orators to stand on one foot while sounding off. A fine idea, but a better one would be to compel them to stand on their heads.

An old-time ball player avers that the term "charley horse," applied to diamond artists who develop a kink in the leg, originated at Sioux City, Ia., some 40 years ago, when an old broken-down horse named Charley hobbled about dragging the diamond.

A list of noted one-eyed men published in a current magazine includes the names of Jefferson Davis, Lord Nelson, Wiley Post, Floyd Gibbons, "Pussyfoot" Johnson and "One-Eyed" Connolly—famed respectively as President of the Confederacy, British admiral, around the world aviator, war correspondent, prohibition crusader and gate crasher.

When the Wasco Indian chief Duc-Sa-Hi built and operated a ferry across the Deschutes river in Oregon back in the 60's for the convenience of early settlers he little thought that his humble though useful service would have lasting commemoration. But such came when a new $50,000 bridge at the ferry site was dedicated in his honor.

Progress toward civilization is noted among the Batak inhabitants of the Dutch East Indies, who formerly were cannibals, given to eating enemies taken in war, as well as old people of their own tribe. Now, it is said, they have forsaken that primitive custom, and eat dogs instead.

The wisest of men get fooled once in a while. An object treasured and proudly exhibited for 20 years by the Smithsonian Institution as "the world's oldest ear of corn," reputedly grown in Peru, has been found to be merely a cleverly moulded piece of baked clay.

Among recent silly stunts was that of Raymond Phelps, a crippled young rancher of Colorado Spings, who climbed Pike's Peak on his hands and knees to its 14,000-foot summit in 13 hours. But the temporary notoriety achieved may have been sufficient recompense for the patellar wear and tear involved in the laborious climb.

Many novel excuses have been

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin.—Responding to a personal plea from the floor by Speaker Bob Calvert to compromise and bring out a tax bill, the house of representatives settled down to work this week. It passed, after three days of hectic debate, an omnibus tax bill increasing natural resource levies 25 per cent instead of the 46 per cent specified in the original bill, and sent the measure to the senate.

Then the house tied into Emmett Morse's bill to legalize sale of liquor by the drink in wet counties, after approval by voters at local option elections. Two days of bitter debate ensued. The bill finally passed, 65 to 49.

Austin was agog with whispers of a "trade-out" between advocates of the liquor bill and the Allred "more taxes" bloc. The liquor forces were in position to block action on the tax measure, but Morse gracefully stepped aside until after the tax measure was disposed of, thus lending color to the trade-out rumors.

A Long Road

With but nine more days to go at the weekend, however, both measures faced a rocky road in the senate, with the final outcome problematical. The senate, if it passes the tax bill, will certainly scale down the rates, so that the yield of five millions estimated under the house bill, will be cut sharply. But the best guessers were of the opinion that the senate, unless the house passes its bills cutting expenditures of state departments upwards of $5,000,000 annually, will never approve the omnibus tax measure. And the outlook in the house for the expense cutting bill was decidedly not hopeful.

Bitter Debate

The liquor bill stirred up the bitterest debate in years. Debate was shut off, but house dries, led

Health-Wrecking Functional

PAINS

Severe functional pains of menstruation, cramping spells and jangled nerves soon rob a woman of her natural, youthful freshness. PAIN lines in a woman's face too often grow into AGE lines!

Thousands of women have found it helpful to take Cardul. They say it seemed to ease their pains and they noticed an increase in their appetites and finally a strengthened resistance to the discomfort of monthly periods.

Try Cardul. Of course if it doesn't help you, see your doctor.

by Bryan Bradbury, of Abilene, Harry Graves of Georgetown, Dallas Blankenship of Dallas, W. E. Jones of Jourdanton, Ross Hardin and others, filibustered for hours, making ringing prohibition speeches under the right of members to speak at any time on "personal privilege." The record vote by which the bill finally passed will undoubtedly be a potent document in next July's legislative primary races, and many a member will find this issue when he comes up for re-election. Morse's bill, as finally amended by the house, would yield $2,500,000 annual revenue, carrying a 20 per cent sales tax. What the senate will do with it is problematical, but if the senate wants to avoid action on tax bills, the bill will furnish a fine vehicle for endless debate in the upper house. Dries insisted the governor will veto the measure, if passed by the senate, while wets were equally confident he wouldn't turn down $2,500,000 new revenue. A court test to clear up the dry contention that the bill violates the constitutional inhibition against open saloons is certain, if it becomes law.

Thompson Is Honored

The interstate compact of oil states broke a precedent and unanimously re-elected Ernest O. Thompson, Texas rail commissioner, chairman for another year, at its Houston session, in recognition of his fine work as America's No. 1 oil conservationist.

"Texas does not want to make money out of war," Thompson told the oil man. "We do not desire to sell our oil to be used for the production of misery and death. We want plenty of oil to defend our own country, but we certainly do not favor increasing the allowable to permit Japan to run China off the map." And, with a fourth of the world's supply of potential oil reserves, the Texas commissioner's attitude may be a deciding factor in the Far Eastern conflict.

Rates Affect West Texas

Upon the outcome of litigation on trial in Austin district court this week will depend continuation this year of emergency drouth relief freight rates on livestock feed to 34 West and Southwest Texas counties. The railroad commission ordered the rates continued and the railroads seek an injunction to avoid the one-third reduction. District Judge Roy Archer withheld decision pending a conference between livestock men and rail officials this week, at which it is hoped a compromise may be worked out.

While at the Tisdale home, Miss Stewart judged fruits and vegetables which had been canned by the club women, making some constructive criticism of the canned products, and selecting two jars which were brought back to Eldorado to be entered in the county-wide contest.

From the Tisdale home, we went to the home of Miss Pat Tolbot, wardrobe demonstrator. There we were greeted by one of the most spooky of spooky scenes. A sign was placed on the door to the effect that everyone takes a holiday once a year and the spooks were in charge—we would be entertained if we did what we were told to do.

Inside, the only light was from the dim glow of a few candles and that furnished by a flickering fire in a huge fireplace. A number of witches, with shaking hands and tottering walk, had us register and hunt a chair in the darkened room. Then we were ushered into another room, one by one in most instances, where the achievements of the demonstrator for this year were noted. Amid such surroundings and activities, we dared not try to imagine what was coming next.

Anyway, Miss Talbot had done quite a lot of improving and "achieving" herself, if such terms are permissible. In this room such necessities as hat boxes, hat racks, shoe racks, belt racks—and just racks—had been added. The room had been papered and painted in colors that blend very attractively.

Our spooky hostesses decided it was time for fortune telling. One of them passed a large pot around, and another read the fortunes as they were drawn from the pot. We were favored by being allowed to draw two of the little do-dads from the pot.

Our first one read: "I see quintuplets waiting for you. The stork will bring them down the flue!"

The other one was: "You are so fair of face, a lovely mansion you will grace."

We thought they were just a little overdrawn for predictions of our future—but then who are we to question one who has mastered the art of fortune telling?

Refreshment time came, and the witches busied themselves in various pots, plates, etc. Coals of fire were shoveled to the front of the fire place, and a huge pot of steaming liquid was placed thereon. She who tended the pot said it was made from black widow spiders' legs, and as she poured she admonished all of us to drink "before the paper cups wilted." It tasted just like hot chocolate! Sandwiches, potato chips and cookies were served along with the drink.

The only usual thing about the whole matter was that when the refreshment period was over it was time to go home. So we all departed, exclaiming that we had been to one of the most unusual and unique Achievement Day events we'd ever experienced.

Club women present were: Miss Pat Tolbot, president; Mrs. L. L. Tisdale, Mrs. C. J. Murr, Mrs. Geo. Rodgers, Mrs. W. H. Whitworth, Mrs. Marvin Baker, Mrs. Herbert Swift, Mrs. Raz Spoon and Mrs. Herman Morgan. Visitors were Mrs. Herbert Mears, Mrs. D. L. Griffin, Mrs. Jim Pullen, Mrs. Gordie Alexander, Mrs. E. E. Menges, Miss Margaret Stewart, and he who is responsible for this outburst.

A WONDERFUL DAY

We had a wonderful day last Sunday at the Baptist church. The largest crowd in Sunday school for several weeks was present. Also the preaching services, both morning and evening, were well attended.

One of the outstanding crowds was present in B. T. U. Last Sunday night was family night, and the largest number of adults attending the night services at the Baptist church since our meeting was present. We had three additions during the day.

"Prescriptions A Specialty"

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

The last week of the special session has rolled around and throughout the State there are sightless eyes, withered hands, and helpless baby arms raised in supplication to the Legislature of Texas. There are others going about the daily classroom duties of educating the youth of the State, bending under the weight of years, and wondering "if" a retirement system will be set up for the teachers.

These are the ones who have watched the legislative session from a distance. Unable to come to Austin, some unable to vote, they have waited patiently for the Legislature to do its duty and raise revenues for old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, dependent children, and for the teachers' retirement fund.

There has been another group stalking the corridors every day since the session began, crowding the legislative galleries and intently watching the efforts to raise revenues by taxing the pipe line companies, the oil, sulphur, and other natural resource groups.

It has been the biggest, most powerful lobby Texas has ever witnessed in Austin. It is confidently and complacently awaiting the verdict of "no taxes." Meanwhile the destiny of our unfortunate people lies in the hands of the Legislature.

The people have been told that I want to lay heavy taxes upon all the people. That is not true. A "hullabaloo" against this session has been raised and the cry swelled in volume that social security program voted by the people. When did this "hullabaloo" first arise? I'll tell you when it was!

After the Legislature voted these appropriations and went home last June, every one knew men that we were going to have another session in September to raise the money to pay the bill. But when I announced six or seven weeks ago that I was going to recommend taxes on the big pipe line companies, and others who have been growing pompous and prosperous by draining our natural resources—then the hue and cry started.

When I said that I had recommended these same taxes before, that the program had been scuttled and that I was going to find out at this special session who was running Texas—that's when the selfish interests, through their mouthpieces, started a campaign of propaganda.

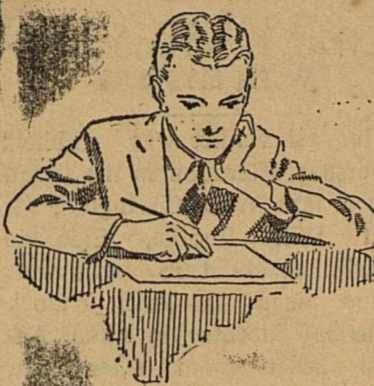

They tried to make real estate owners believe that the people's program would raise their taxes; but they overlooked the fact that I had helped to lower these property taxes to the lowest point in over twenty years. They announced a great taxpayers march on Austin. 68 marchers finally rolled into Austin in Cadillacs and limousines, headed by a man whose chamber of commerce organization receives two thousand dollars a year contribution from the sulphur company alone.

The attitude of these people may well be judged by the leader they have chosen in the Senate against taxes for the needy. He is the same man who last year voted for a sales tax upon the poor; and then, when an income tax on the earnings of the rich was proposed, walked the floor and ranted that it would ruin Texas.

I'm not the only chief executive criticized for calling special sessions. When a few days ago President Roosevelt called a special session of Congress to help the farmers, he said: "I know that many enemies of democracy will say that it is bad business, bad for the tranquility of the country, to have a special session. . . ."

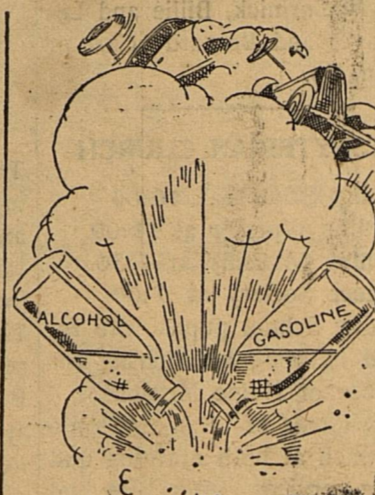

I'm glad the President has called Congress to try to do something for the farmers of the nation; and I have no apologies for calling this special session to help our own needy.

I say that when we have placed a just tax upon our natural resources, 85 per cent of which goes outside the State, when we have passed an income tax levied upon the earnings of twenty pipe line companies who made over seventy-eight million dollars net profit in one year, when we have done these things, then it will be time to talk about a sales tax.

I didn't have to call this special session except for my conscience, I could have taken the easy route; and then these special interests would have called me great. But I've gone about the State, and I've seen misery and want.

I've done my part. I've called this Legislature in special session and made my recommendations. For these things I shall continue to fight. But the destiny of our unfortunate people lies in the hands of the Legislature.

Reproductions Of Famous Paintings To Be Added To School

Art Program Being Sponsored By San Angelo Standard-Times

An art program is being sponsored by the San Angelo Standard Times for the purpose of bringing to the people of Texas reproductions of famous paintings by old masters.

The paintings are to be allowed to come in groups of four each week to the schools and parents at the price of forty-six cents a group. This school expects to get the entire group of forty-eight which will come out weekly for twelve weeks. The school children are expected to learn as much as possible about these paintings. The method to be employed in the school in teaching the children about the paintings will consist of starting the first four in the lower grades, and allowing them to stay for a week in these rooms, and then letting them come up, these being replaced by the next weekly group. When all forty-eight have been received, each room may choose some picture they like especially and may hang it in their room a week or two.

Enlistment Of 100 "Sea Soldiers" To Be Received

Again Marine Corps Headquarters at Washington, D. C. has allotted a large quota of new marines to the Southwestern Headquarters. That the Marine Corps is well satisfied with the type of young men coming from the Southwestern states and their decision to secure more of the same material, is apparent in this order.

These new "Sea Soldiers" will be sent to San Diego, California, for training, where numerous vacancies on board new heavy cruisers and aircraft carriers will await them on completion of their initial training.

EVENT IS SURROUNDED WITH MYSTERY

Inquest verdict was withheld Thursday afternoon in the shooting of Mrs. W. J. Covington, 38, and Will Boothe, Eldorado ranchman, about 35, who were found dead at 7:45 o'clock Thursday morning in a San Angelo hotel room where Mr. Boothe had registered four days ago. Funeral arrangements had not been made.

Mystery surrounded the shooting except for the statement of Robert Ducoty, son of Mrs. Covington by a previous marriage. He told Hugh Jackson, who was conducting the inquest, that he went to the show and when he returned, his mother and Mr. Boothe were talking in the room. He said he went to sleep about 12 o'clock and that when he awakened this morning he found both dead. Mr. Jackson was continuing the investigation this afternoon.

A bullet had entered the left temple of the woman and had come out on the right side, where it was found entangled in her hair. There were powder burns on her elbow and on the left temple in front of the ear. The bullet had entered the right temple of Mr. Boothe and had come out above the left ear, the missile being imbedded in the wall of the room. Officers took the clothing and other articles belonging to the two, but there were not notes or papers to give a reason for the act. Officers also took two bullets.
