New Wheat Growers Must Get Allotment For 1950 Acreage

Operators of farms on which wheat was not seeded for harvest from 1947 to 1949, but on which wheat will be seeded for harvest in 1950, must request a 1950 wheat acreage allotment. This statement was made this week by Edward L. Brown, administrator of the local AAA office.

Wheat farmers who neglect to get wheat allotments assigned to them will be penalized by the loss of government price support.

The requested 1950 wheat acreage allotment must be submitted in writing by the owner or operator to the county committee, Brown said. Persons requesting such "new" wheat acreage allotments should go to his office or get in touch with the local committeemen and file such a request. The closing date for receiving of these requests will be no later than the normal seeding time for this area.

"It is to the advantage of the wheat grower to attend to this matter," said Brown. "I will be glad to answer questions and give assistance on filling out these wheat acreage requests."

10th ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED BY LOCAL STORE

E. H. Coulter is celebrating his tenth year of business in Eldorado with an anniversary sale, announced in his ad on page 3 of this issue of the Success.

Mr. Coulter opened for business in July, 1939, in the Damon White building, now occupied by Page Drug, starting with a dry cleaning business and a small stock of men's wear.

In 1942 he moved to the Johnnie Isaacs building now occupied by REA, and three years later bought the Dick Lawhon building, which he now occupies.

During the war years shortage of help forced the proprietor to discontinue selling men's wear, but during the past several years Coulter has again been building up his stock of men's wearing apparel, featuring nationally known brands. He has also remodeled and improved the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Coulter operate the store, with the assistance of Doug Yates and Mrs. Nettie Spurgers in the dry cleaning department.

Mr. Coulter states that he is offering merchandise at bargain prices to show his appreciation for the generous patronage he has received for ten years, and to make room for new fall stock.

Gospel Services To Begin Saturday At Church of Christ

A series of gospel services will begin Saturday night at the Rock Church of Christ with Bro. Marshall Davis, minister of the church, doing the preaching. W. A. Turner of San Angelo will be song leader for the services.

Services are scheduled to begin each night at 8:15 and will close Sunday night, July 24. On Sundays, services will be at 11:00 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

Each Sunday afternoon during the revival there will be a special singing service at 3:00, led by Mr. Turner, and a number of out-of-town singers are expected.

On two Sundays, July 17 and 24, the congregation has planned to have a basket dinner, which will be held in the memorial building at noon. Everyone in the community is invited to attend any of the services.

Should Crop Residue, Grassland, Be Burned?

Farmers and ranchmen should carefully consider the effects and consequences before willfully burning any crop residue or grassland. The returning of crop residue or grass litter to the soil is one of the best means of helping Nature keep our soil in a permanent productive state, according to personnel of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district.

The continuous removal of crops of feed and cotton from our cultivated land over a period of years takes large quantities of plant nutrients that nature required many years to build. Burning not only hastens complete removal by destroying plant nutrients, but the soil is left bare and erosion will greatly hasten depletion. Organic matter in the soil is very essential to maintain fertility, increase water holding capacity, and provide necessary biological activity.

Besides the losses in hay or pasture and in nitrogen, burning destroys the partly decomposed plant material and organic matter that protects plant roots, holds water and improves the physical condition of the soil. Underneath the grass on land which is protected from fire is a dense layer of litter. This litter forms a protective carpet, readily permeable to water at the same time cushioning the soil against the impact of falling raindrops. The residue of dead grass also retards evaporation and gives a protection from temperature extremes and thus makes conditions more favorable for the development of worms, beneficial insects, and micro-organisms within the soil.

It has been estimated that it takes Nature from 500 to 1,000 years to build one inch of topsoil. By burning and taking everything from the soil year after year the soil is left in such a condition that it takes erosion by water or wind only a few years to destroy this inch of topsoil.

The amount of crop yields and quality of such yields are a reflection of the soil on which they were grown. The destruction of the soil by erosion means the destruction of the farmer and ranchers capital investments.

The Joe Wagley family visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams at Eldorado, Okla., during the holiday week end.

Schleicher Ranchers Contribute To Fund For Mohair Research

Schleicher county sheep and goat raisers are among those who are contributing to the $10,000 fund which will aid in mohair market research. Fred Earwood is the committeeman named from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association to contact men in this county.

The research project is a cooperative project between the Association and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A total of $30,000 will make up the fund to finance research into manufacturing and marketing problems connected with mohair. The cooperative agreement and the contract were signed in Washington on July 1.

"A contribution which is in reality an investment"—that phrase, used by TS&GRA president Sayers Farmer, sums up the work of the project. All men are urged to turn in their contributions as soon as possible.

LONE STAR TEST ON PINSON LAND IS SPUDDING IN

Announcement is made of a Lone Star Producing Co. location in Schleicher county—a 6500 foot wildcat, 2 3-4 miles from the Tom Green County Line.

The test, to be known as Lone Star Producing Co. No. 1 Clint Pinson, is 660 feet out of SE corner Sec. 69—M—GH & SA. The Phillips No. 1 Weddell, a small pumper completed last year from 5630 to 5700 feet, is 3 3-4 miles east and 3-4 miles north of the Lone Star wildcat.

Southern Minerals No. 1 J. F. Webster is drilling below 3,000 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Dixon and son Dennis spent Saturday, Sunday, and Monday at Brady attending the Jubilee. With them were Mr. Dixon's brothers, Gordon Dixon and his wife, and Chester Dixon.

CITY PUTS NEW SPRAYER TO USE; DDT MIXTURE USED THRUOUT CITY

The city of Eldorado placed into operation the past week a new Bean 200-gallon combination spraying and fogging machine.

This equipment is powered with a 20 horse power 4-cylinder engine, propelling a triple cylinder totally enclosed pump capable of discharging a spray or fog at as much as 800 pounds pressure. It is equipped for taking care of as many as three hose-lines for spot spraying and includes a fogging boom which will discharge and evenly distribute a fine mist over a wide area while in operation at speeds up to twelve miles per hour.

In addition to spraying and fogging for fly, mosquito, and other insect control, the machine may be used as auxiliary fire fighting equipment, particularly in extinguishing grass or trash fires.

The city received its first fogging with this equipment last Thursday, when 800 gallons of Toxaphene and DDT laden material was released, covering the entire business and residential districts as well as the Latin American area. City authorities contemplate periodical fogging and spraying during the summer months in a campaign to materially reduce flies, mosquitoes, and other disease-carrying insects.

Inquiries have been coming in to the County Agent's office and to other offices throughout Eldorado, in regard to possible harmful effects of DDT. Articles have been published in the Success on this subject. The Federal Security Agency and the U. S. Department of Agriculture have issued a statement on this subject, which is as follows:

"A number of statements have been published during the last several days which have misled and alarmed the public concerning the hazards of using DDT as an insecticide.

"DDT is a very valuable insecticide which has contributed materially to the general welfare of the world. It has been used with marked success in both the control and prevention of such insect-borne diseases as malaria and typhus and of insects which are destructive to crops and injurious to livestock and infest homes.

County Agent Conducts Count

Cotton insects were present in all forty fields of cotton where infestation counts were made recently by the county agent, W. G. Godwin.

Cotton fleas were the most abundant, but not in count enough to justify poisoning. The count was 6% for the county. In the latter part of the week cotton fleas were letting up.

Square worms showed an average count of .4% infestation.

In two fields the honey dew aphid was causing damage but was taken care of by beneficial insects.

Boll weevils were present in only four fields.

The cotton flea should be poisoned when 25% to 35% of the squares are damaged, and the boll worm when 4% infestation is reached, Godwin advises.

Smallwoods Buy Cooper Station

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smallwood announce the purchase of Don Severns' Cooper Station, now renamed Smallwood's Cooper Service Station. They have already taken over the business. Mr. Severns will continue to supply the station with Cooper tires.

The family moved here late in the spring, and are occupying Mrs. Henry Mercer's house. Mr. Smallwood is an Ice and Ice Drilling Co. employee. The couple have one daughter, Tommy Louise, 12, who is attending a Stamps singing school in Odessa this week. She will enroll in the Eldorado school next fall.

The Smallwoods were business callers Wednesday in Ozona, their former home.

Leo Jeffrey and his mother and sister are building a new house, using part of the material from their old residence. The house will have six rooms and bath, will be rock veneered, and is on the site of the old house, which has been partially dismantled.

Lions Celebrate Installation With Banquet, Ladies' Night

"Our one hope for world peace is a powerful world government," Major Stephen H. Crosby, Jr., told members of the Eldorado Lions club and their ladies at the Installation Night Banquet Thursday night in Memorial hall.

Major Crosby, a survivor of the Bataan death march and now of Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, was the speaker for the evening. He discussed factors leading to the fall of the Philippine Islands early in the war, and his subsequent experiences as a prisoner of war in the hands of the Japanese.

Japanese control of the air over the Philippines was instrumental in bringing about the surrender of the American troops, Major Crosby emphasized. Describing the Philippine defenses, he said he saw the "home front dissolved in rubble" because they had lost their air superiority.

The Major then described his following "forty-two months under the rule of a master people."

He concluded with the statement that "In our world there exists no organization for world government," and the warning that we should remain "...too strong to be attacked."

Major Crosby was introduced by Lion Charlie Trigg.

The meeting was held in the basement banquet hall of the new Memorial building. Lions colored of purple and gold were carried out in table and window decorations. Daisies and zinnias decorated the tables. The programs were printed in purple ink on gold paper.

President C. A. Reynolds called the meeting to order, to start the evening. This was followed by the group singing "America" and repeating the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Rev. J. M. Hays gave the invocation, followed by group songs led by C. F. Jones, with Joe Kreklow at the piano.

President Reynolds then greeted the assembly and welcomed members and guests. Lion Palmer West introduced the guests present to the members. Special guests present included Mrs. Crosby, wife of the guest speaker; Col. Roberts, commander of Goodfellow Field, and Mrs. Roberts.

Several musical selections were rendered by the Lions club quartet, composed of Nolan McDonald, Ervin Mund, C. F. Jones, and Mrs. Gus Love. This was followed by more greetings from President Reynolds and Major Crosby's address.

Officers Installed

Following the program, new Lions club officers were installed. Ernest Hill, installing officer, charged each of the new officers to learn his duties and to attend regularly.

Lion Hill recognized the new directors, Joe Edens, Bob McWhorter, W. T. Whitten, and W. R. Bearce, and gave each a complete copy of their duties as outlined in the constitution. He reminded them that they had had "authority to overrule action of any officer or any member of the club."

Other incoming officers were W. M. Patterson, president; J. H. Mace, first vice president; Lum Davis, second vice president; Carrol Ratliff, third vice president; Joe Wagley, secretary treasurer; Roy Shilling, Lion tamer; and Ray Hudgens, tail twister.

C. A. Reynolds was presented with a past master's pin.

One of the most coveted awards of Lionism was presented to E. W. Brooks. It represents ten years of perfect attendance.

Awards recognizing their work on membership drives were given to Lions C. C. McLaughlin, Ed Finigan, W. M. Patterson, Lum Davis, Jack Hext, and Joe M. Christian.

Outgoing officers were C. A. Reynolds, president; Ernest Finigan, first vice president; J. H. Mace, second vice president; W. M. Patterson, third vice president; C. C. McLaughlin, secretary-treasurer; Palmer West, Lion tamer; and Eddie Brown, tail twister.

Yesterday's Meeting

Lion J. H. Mace was in charge of this week's meeting, also held in the memorial building.

Ernest Hill installed Roy Shilling as lion tamer.

Reporting from the clean-up committee, Carrol Ratliff stated that the residential pick-up service, for which a water meter assessment was recently voted, would probably start about August 15. The town will be divided into zones for this purpose.

Lion Roy Shilling presented a charter for the Cub Packs which the club is sponsoring. F. O. Prochaska is cub master and R. J. Alexander is assistant cub master.

Palmer West, fire chief, announced that three firemen will leave Sunday for a short course at A&M. Elton McGinnes, W. F. Edmiston, and Bob McWhorter will attend.

Officials Move Out—Carpenters Move In

The main floor of the Schleicher County Memorial Building is providing accommodations for Schleicher County offices and office holders because of a renovating project now underway in the courthouse.

The office furniture has been removed, to the bare walls, and is now in place on the main floor of the memorial building, and in the library rooms. The renovating of the courthouse interior will require about 30 days, during which time County Judge C. L. Meador, Jr., asks that no one request use of the Memorial Building rooms.

A major part of the renovations will be laying of a new floor in a variegated terrazo, a durable new material similar to tile and made of marble, granite, and concrete. This material is said to be durable enough to outwear any ordinary building. The interior of all of the downstairs rooms will be refinished also. It is understood that the courthouse improvement bond recently voted may not furnish funds for renovating the other floors of the building at this time.

Many passersby have mentioned the beauty of the Schleicher county courthouse, which has been undergoing sandblasting, to remove the cream-colored paint and restore the original finish, which now blends well with the Austin stone of the new Memorial Building. The newly landscaped grounds surrounding the new building are doing well in spite of heat and drought.

4-H Club Teams Compete in Contests At Sonora Show

Schleicher county 4-H club boys competed in plant identification and wool and mohair judging at the Sonora Wool and Mohair show June 29 and 30. County agent W. G. Godwin is leader of the group.

The plant identification team won third place. David Powell was fifth high individual of the entire contest, scoring 297 points out of a possible 300, and Jack Mund was seventh with a score of 296.

As a team the scores ran: David Powell, 297; Jack Mund, 296; Jack Stanford, 268; team total, 871.

The Wool and Mohair team consisted of David Powell, Jack Stanford, Winfield Fry, and Truett Kent Stanford. As a team they did not place among the first four places. David Powell was the fourth highest individual in this contest.

PUMP IS HEART OF WATER SYSTEM; SHOULD FIT NEEDS OF HOME, STOCK

Schleicher county ranchers are well aware that the water pump, which works for family and livestock under all conditions, is the heart of the farm water system. There may be quite a few things the rancher can do without, but a good water supply is a necessity.

The water supply is much more dependable if the rancher has a water pump which fits the special needs of his home and his stock. There are three different types of electric water pumps that are in general use on Texas farms. The shallow well pump, the lowest priced one, is best suited for wells with a water level of 15 to 28 feet below the surface.

The plunger type, deep well pump is used when the water level is deeper than 22 feet. The cylinders that lift the water in this type are lowered to within 20 feet of the water. It can be used for wells of any depth, but is especially adapted to deep ones.

The third type water pump is the jet pump, used for either shallow or deep wells. The jet pump does not have to be directly over the water source, which is an advantage.

If you are planning to buy a water pump this year, it may save you some money to buy the kind that will best fit your farm needs.

A Little Extra Salt Required In Summer

AUSTIN.—A deficiency of salt in the human system can cause serious consequences, and for this reason Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer advises every person whose work is such that it causes excessive perspiration to add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water taken during the day.

Farmers, mechanics, carpenters, construction men and all others whose work causes them to sweat profusely are in danger of having their body salt content seriously depleted, and as a result may suffer from heat cramps or heat fag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat, and when the thermometer hits the high register, the human body may lose as much as 40 to 50 grams of salt during a single day.

In many industrial plants, workmen are furnished with and urged to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Many find this a pleasant way of taking extra salt, but others prefer to add the needed amount of extra salt to their food and drink.

"Take your extra salt in any manner that is agreeable," says Dr. Cox, "but take it. Heat cramps are very painful and exhausting. They are characterized by cramps in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases there may be nausea and vomiting. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until a deficiency exists; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp."

According to the State Health Officer, it is a wise precaution to keep the body supplied with salt, and thus avoid much possible suffering and loss of time from heat cramps.

Jimmie Bulger, who is attending school in Austin, Buddy Fowler and Miss Billie McGary of San Angelo visited Sunday with Jonnie Lee Dickens.

MONEY AND ENERGY CAN BE SAVED BY INTELLIGENT MEAL PLANNING

Many Schleicher county housewives have become a little weary of meal planning during the hot summer months, and are in favor of menus with the minimum of cooking. The following suggestions should enable homemakers to stay out of the kitchen much of the day.

Baked Dishes

Cooks who bake hot biscuits or cornbread for dinner can save time and fuel by making another oven dish to cook at the same time. An easy dish is frankfurters baked with moist bread stuffing.

In preparing the franks, a quick bread stuffing is made of grated onion browned in hot drippings and combined with chopped parsley and seasonings along with the bread cubes. Just enough moisture is added to hold the mixture together.

Make a cavity for the stuffing by partially cutting lengthwise through the frankfurters. When filled the franks are wrapped with a slice of bacon and fastened with toothpicks. Place the stuffed franks in a shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour.

For other stuffings equally as tempting with the franks, consider well seasoned mashed potatoes, a sweet pickle relish or a strip of American cheese. These are also wrapped with bacon and slowly baked.

An oven dish which has become a standby for Texas cooks is meat loaf, which can be varied in a number of ways and which can be cooked at the same time as hot bread. A tangy sauce can turn cold sliced meat loaf into a real treat.

Among the numerous meat loaf sauces are prepared horseradish folded into whipped cream and seasoned with sugar and salt. Or a mustard sauce, made with prepared mustard, mayonnaise, paprika, sugar and salt; or slightly whipped currant jelly mixed with chopped mint leaves and grated orange rind.

Meat loaf may also be combined with a sauce of chopped cucumber added to whipped cream with assorted seasonings as cayenne and celery seed. Another appropriate combination is made of sliced stuffed olives in a cooked cream sauce along with chopped green pepper and canned peas, or a barbecue sauce made extra tangy with minced clove garlic and Worcestershire sauce.

Quick Lunches

With bacon in the refrigerator, a housewife can prepare a good, quick lunch or supper with an unusual touch for hot summer days.

Stuffed bacon rolls are one excellent choice. Bread crumbs are combined with chopped celery, green pepper and onion, seasoned and moistened with beaten egg and milk, then rolled up in the bacon and broiled.

A bacon grill is another tempting main dish. Pineapple rings, asparagus bundles and cooked potato halves are arranged on the broiler rack and brushed or dotted with butter. For additional flavor the asparagus and potatoes may be sprinkled with grated cheese. When the bacon is crisp and the pineapple and vegetables are browned and heated through, they are attractively arranged on a hot platter for serving.

Outdoor Fare

Of course, it's always fun to cook outdoors over a picnic fire or barbecue pit, and the children love it.

Unusual picnic fare might be meat balls threaded on picnic forks or sticks, alternating with plump pickle or onion slices. Each person can cook his own over the coals until the meat balls are well browned and completely done.

Plenty of relishes, such as carrots, radishes, cucumbers and tomato slices should be included along with potato salad. Baked beans go nicely with the meat balls and they can be served in their baking dish. Juicy peaches or pears or other fresh fruits provide an easily managed dessert served along with luscious cup cakes baked, iced and carried right in the same pan. A thermos jug of iced tea completes the picnic meal.

That Hot Dish

Although crisp, cold salads and tall, cooling drinks appeal to everyone most during the summer, the housewife must make sure that her family gets some hot foods each day.

A meal with one hot dish can be just as refreshing and often more satisfying than a light salad meal. For the one necessary hot dish the homemaker can serve a vegetable, meat or combination of both. Broiler meals, including meat, vegetables and fruits, or casseroles with the meat and vegetable in one dish are all pleasing and are little work.

House Approves Bill To Aid Housing

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
So far as Congress itself was concerned, only two things happened last week. The House passed a previously-approved Senate Housing bill, and the Senate balked on the Administration's drive for repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

On the Housing front, the House did about what the Senate had already done and okayed a bill calling for the building of nearly one million houses, and authorized a take of $400,000,000 annually from the federal treasury to help pay the rent bills of those occupying the new structures with an estimated total running beyond $16 billion. In addition, there will be administration costs throughout the future.

The crucial vote on the housing measure came on an amendment to leave the slum clearance provisions in the bill but to cut out the provision for the building of the new houses. On that I voted for the amendment to strike the housing section out. It was a close vote, with the housing advocates prevailing by a vote of 209-204.

And it was a highly important vote. Some of the advocates of federalized housing admit that it means something new in America—a form of socialism which we have never experimented with before on a comparable basis. It sets down a precedent and a broad policy for a major government activity in the future. It means that perhaps throughout the future Uncle Sam will be helping to pay the rent bills each month for millions of Americans. All agree that the one million housing units will be wholly inadequate if the Government is to furnish houses for all the low-income people. It will mean several million additional ones will have to be built in the future, if this new policy is to be carried out.

Texans voting to strike federalized housing out of the bill were: Bentsen, Burleson, Fisher, Gossett, Lucas, Mahon, Pickett, Poage, Reagan, Teague, Thomas, Wilson, and Worley-13.

Voting for Federalized housing were: Beckworth, Combs, Lyle, Patman, Thompson, and Thornberry.-6

The new housing program marks a departure from methods of government aid, even during WPA days. In depression days it was insisted that those who got government checks at least do some sort of work, some even raking leaves, etc., where other types of work was not available. But in order to qualify for government payments on rent bills under the new housing law, the tenants will not even have to rake leaves or mow their own lawns. They will only have to show they are making but a limited amount.

The Senate upheld most of the Taft Hartley law and refused to yield to the demands to repeal the provision against injunctions obtainable at the instance of the President to delay strikes where the national health and safety are involved.

This action brought forth a broadside from both the AFL and CIO leaders, both demanding that the Government be allowed no injunctive authority whatever to stop or delay any kind of strikes under any conditions. They both said that if the new bill is to retain the right of the government to use injunctions, then they would demand that the President veto the measure. They then went on to say they would declare political war on every one of us who refused to vote to repeal the Taft-Hartley law, and undertake in that way to change the complexion of the Congress and better the chance to get what they want.

On the labor front, old John L. Lewis is still holding the spotlight around Washington. They say if a long coal strike is averted it will be a miracle. Some CIO leaders who are very unhappy because Congress did not repeal the Taft-Hartley law, are threatening a series of major strikes. Some think they would like to see this in order that they could then blame it all on the Taft-Hartley law. The director of CIO organization, Allen S. Haywood, said in Columbus the other day, "there may be some giant strikes." He said the CIO demand "shorter workdays, shorter work weeks, higher wages, better houses, better hospitals, better pensions."

A rather unique strike has been going on in Washington since June 1. Five thousand carpenters struck for an increase in hourly wages. They now receive $2.40 an hour and they are striking for $2.50.
