Acres Measurements Start On County's 143 Farm Units

Eddie Brown, Schleicher County Production and Marketing administrator, is in general charge of measuring of Schleicher County's cotton acreage, a project which will require a total of about six weeks' time.

Four crews, all local men, and each crew composed of two, are working the county. They started June 8 on the job and hope to finish the work by early July.

Schleicher County's acreage, as allotted, is a little over 6900 acres. Measuring of 143 farms will be required before the entire project is completed. Of these 50 had been completed by Monday morning. Brown emphasizes that a farmer or his representative must be present before the cotton can be measured.

Operators who have overplanted their allotments will receive a notice from the county committee and be given 15 days to dispose of excess acreage. After plowing up the excess, the farmer will report it and put up a fee of $2 per farm or $1 per plot, which is greater, to have the farm rechecked.

Should the farmer believe an error has been made in his measurement, he can deposit $5 per farm and $2 per lot for measurement. If the first measurement is wrong, the deposit will be refunded, provided the error is sufficient to bring the farm into compliance.

The county committee will establish a cotton yield on overplanted farms based on the last five years' production. Penalty for overplanting will be the cotton yield multiplied by the excess acreage, multiplied by 50 per cent of parity price on middling 7-8ths cotton June 15.

Revival To Open At Rudd Church

The opening time is 3:30 p. m., Sunday. There will be no Sunday night service but the pastor will continue the revival at night thru the remainder of the week, closing it Friday night.

The public is invited to attend any or all of these services.

Mr. and Mrs. Savola Bolt and Nelva June, who recently moved to Mason, visited here Friday.

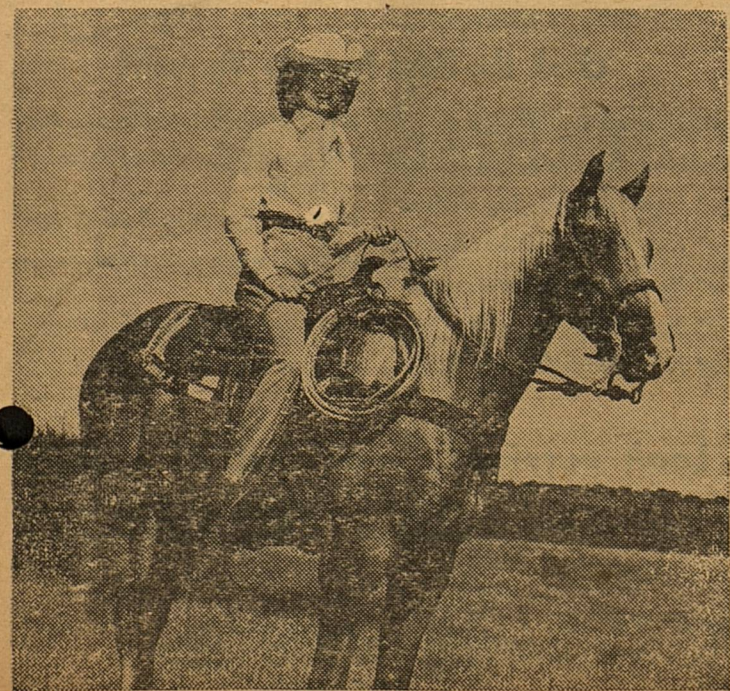

New Tourist Courts To Be Built in Eldorado

Keno Ogden will put up a new six-unit tourist court on the Robinson lots which he owns, according to announcement made by Mr. Ogden today.

The courts will be located on the 170x130 foot corner near the business district, and adjoining the Wiedenmann hospital building at the south. The row of units will start at the north corner of the lots, and go west, then south, leaving the corner intact at this time.

Material used will be tile. The units will be connected with double garage between each two cottages, and will be modern throughout. Jack Shugart is in charge of the work.

Some material has been bought from the schoolhouse which is being dismantled. The work on preparation of the lots for the construction of the units is already under way. These lots are one of the most desirable business locations in Eldorado, and their development will make a nice addition to the business district.

Miss Louise Livingood, petite and beautiful student of Hardin Simmons University will represent Stamford at the Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held July 1st, 3rd and 4th, at Stamford.

More Population Figures Released

The city of Ft. Stockton has shown a gain of 1317, and Pecos County has increased by 1692, according to census figures recently released. In 1940 Ft. Stockton had a population of 3294, making this year's figure an increase of 40 per cent.

States the Ft. Stockton Pioneer: "Both county totals and the city figure are disappointing to many people—especially the failure of the county to reach 10,000 and provide for separation of the offices of tax assessor-collector from the sheriff's."

Ozona and Crockett county have no official figure as yet. The Ozona Stockman comments as follows:

"Since no local crew chief nor local enumerators were available to handle the census taking job in this county, there is some misgiving here about the outcome of the county. A crew of women enumerators from McCamey was sent here early in the census taking period to make the count while later Wayne Snader was employed to complete the enumeration."

Water Well Repaired After Breakdown

City water well No. 2 had a major breakdown in the lubricating system Thursday and was out of commission several days last week.

New parts came in Sunday from St. Louis and Houston, upon order by the city officials, who decided to change over from the oil lubricated bearings to water lubrication.

An adequate water supply is provided this summer with the two wells in efficient operation.

City paving has been protected by killing of the Johnson grass on the streets by spraying.

Alleys have been sprayed with DDT, following up the city's recent clean-up campaign.

MASONS TO INSTALL

The Masons will have installation services Saturday night, according to announcement made by Lodge members.

MRS. STEVENS' FATHER KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens left Sunday for Nacogdoches where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Stevens' father, J. E. Stack, who was killed in a car wreck near Hattysburg, Mississippi, early Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Stack has recently made his home in Meridan, Miss.

Callan Graham Announces For Second Term

Callan Graham of Kimble County State Representative for this district, has announced that he is a candidate for a second term subject to the Democratic primaries next month.

Graham, now serving a first term is a member of five major house Committees, and was among the ten members selected by the Speaker of the House to serve on the Legislative Council, which is considered the most important interim committee of the Legislature. It acts as the research agency for the legislative branch of the government, studying current problems and making recommendations to the Legislature when it convenes. By reason of his work with the Council, Graham was sent to Chicago last fall to represent Texas in a conference of representatives from the other states studying mutual problems of state government.

Graham was reared in Kimble County, where he now resides and practices law. He is 36 years of age, married and father of 3 children. During the last war he was a pilot in the Army Air Forces, and served overseas for 14 months in the China-Burma-India theatre.

During his first term in the Legislature he became known as one of the leaders of the group fighting for greater economy in government. However, after the state ran out of money for the State Hospitals for the mentally ill and other afflicted wards of the state, Graham introduced, handled and passed the hospital financing program during the Special session of the Legislature last winter.

In making his announcement for a second term, Graham said he knew that he had made mistakes during his first legislative service, but he felt that the rich experience of his first term would enable him to render a more valuable service to the district in the future. "Experience and seniority mean a great deal in the Legislature," Graham said, "just as in every other field. My only promise is that I will give the job my very best efforts, that I will continue working for a reduction in spending, and that I will profit by the experience and the mistakes of my first term. Believing that I can make the district a more effective and useful Representative during a second term, I solicit the vote and support of every person in the district."

Hall Writes Thesis On School History In Schleicher County

Weekend visitors in Eldorado were Wyndell Hall and his family who are spending the summer in Sul Ross, Alpine. Mrs. Hall is working toward her degree, and Mr. Hall expects to complete his Master's this summer.

His thesis subject is "The History of Education in Schleicher County." He has been compiling an interesting amount of material on Schleicher County schools, including history and pictures. His thesis will bring the story of Schleicher County education thru the era of the one-teacher rural schools, and will give the steps taken through annexation on to voting of new bonds for a new school plant and putting up of the new school, which serves the entire county.

He has had to search in many places, from newspaper files to kodak albums to compile his material, "but it has been most interesting, and people have helped me in every way they could—and I've learned a lot about Schleicher County schools," states Mr. Hall, who is jubilant over nearing the end of his task.

Former Minister Honored By Family

Rev. J. D. McWhorter, known to many people here as a former Methodist minister, was honored on Fathers Day and his 78th birthday with a family reunion and barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Dean in Robert Lee Sunday. Mrs. Dean is a daughter of Rev. McWhorter and he has resided in her home for the last year and a half.

Rev. McWhorter, a native of Mississippi, plans to visit his birthplace this month leaving by plane from San Angelo on his first plane trip. He will also visit a sister at Kosciusko, Miss.

Rev. McWhorter was a pioneer Methodist preacher, coming to Texas in 1910. He has served churches in Sterling City, Ozona, Barnhart, Veribest, Eola, Eldorado and Mertzon. He retired several years ago after 45 years in active ministry.

He has a daughter, Katherine E. Parris, living in San Angelo, and a son, J. D. McWhorter, Jr., in Sterling City. He also has 5 grandchildren.

Place Improved

The Weatherly Kinsers are buying half of the Finley Estate place, and are carrying out a series of improvements on the house.

They recently put new windows in the sleeping porch, installed new kitchen cabinets and made other interior repairs. They are now adding a new garage and breezeway.

County May Not Join New Telephone Co-Op

The local co-op telephone committee, composed of Gene Edmiston, W. V. Lux and J. F. Runge, also Co. Agent W. G. Godwin and Ford Oglesby, attended the West Texas co-op meeting held June 19 at the Cactus Hotel in San Angelo.

U. E. Rogers of Menard was elected permanent chairman of the group. Compilation of totals revealed the fact that there are 3,740 potential users in the 15 counties represented in the organization. This would be one of the largest telephone co-ops in the state.

That Schleicher County may be one of the few, if not the only one, of these 15 counties not joining the group is indicated by preliminary surveys of this county. Most of the survey cards returned to the committee by rural telephone users show that the majority of the people would like to see county-wide service, but were satisfied with their own present service.

The present telephone system is far advanced over phones in other areas, and it is not the intention of the co-op to solicit subscribers who are satisfied with the present service or those receiving adequate service.

The committee, which is still operating as a temporary committee, do not recommend that Schleicher County join the co-op at this time, this decision having been arrived at by study of the survey cards. They would, however, like to continue a survey of the county at present, to secure the data on telephones to be used for educational purposes and for future educational reference. No contracts or deposits are solicited.

J. L. Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Ratliff and daughter Carolyn have gone on a two weeks' vacation trip to the West Coast. They will do sight seeing on the trip and visit Mrs. Ratliff's brother in California. Carolyn expects to spend the latter part of the summer in camp.

WEBSTER TEST IS SPUDDEN IN; ROTARY IS HERE

The rotary took over Monday on Schleicher County's newest wildcat, on the Johnny F. Webster place 25 miles northeast of Eldorado.

A farmout from Southern Minerals, the test is being put down by George D. Morgan, E. M. Wahlenmaier et al. The rotary was brought in by Western drilling, who have drilled a large number of Schleicher County wells, especially in the Page field.

The test is in block 8, in the northwest corner of No. 5, TW&NG RR survey.

Nearest production is in the Page field about 14 or 15 miles southwest of the wildcat.

A trucker, Red Sayles, formerly employed by Western Drilling here and now living in Odessa, is the only one of the old employees back in Eldorado. All of the crew members are new men.

Another wildcat of interest to Schleicherites is located on the R. M. Thompson Estate ranch, which lies in Schleicher and Sutton counties. The test is just over the line in Sutton county. It is on Block A, HE&WT RR Survey, Sec 67, 660 feet from east and 660 feet from south, in the southeast corner.

It is to be drilled by Clarence L. Norsworthy and Lone Star, as a farmout from Sinclair Oil and Gas Co.

The Skelly No. 3 Jackson in the Eldorado Field has passed 6,000 feet.

Two Group Meetings Scheduled In August

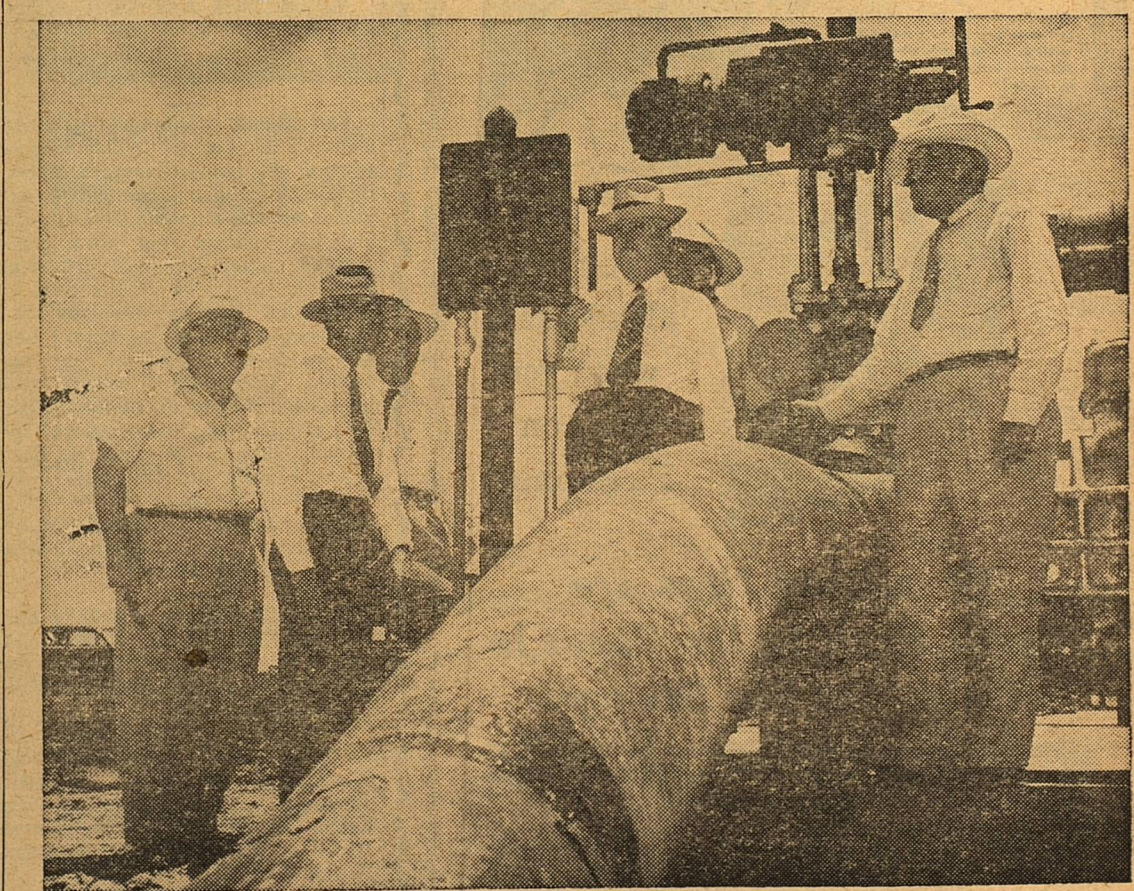

The second week in August promises to be a busy one in Eldorado with two groups holding meetings in the Memorial building.

The second Tuesday in August, (Aug. 8), will be the date for the Hill Country Firemen's Convention. Local firemen are making plans to be hosts to a large number of visiting delegations at that time.

The Annual REA meeting usually held the second Tuesday in August, will be held August 10, Thursday. The later date was chosen because the Memorial building had been spoken for by the firemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thigpen spent Sunday in San Angelo visiting Ollie Young and their daughter Mrs. Hayden Lewis.

New Pipe Line Now Delivering Oil

The first oil from Kemper Station in West Texas arrived Tuesday June 13 in Satsuma, 20 miles north of Houston, through Humble Pipe Line Company's new 18-inch line—which was built through Schleicher county in February. R. V. Harrahan, president of Humble Pipe Line Company, pushed the button that opened the valve that allowed the oil to flow to tankage. Other Pipe Line executives present for the opening ceremonies were: O. Q. Lomax, vice president; A. E. Payne, superintendent of the Southern Division; W. E. Sangler, assistant superintendent; H. C. Evans, Tomball District superintendent; and H. H. Hetzler, chief engineer at the Satsuma station.

The oil was started from Kemper, near Big Lake, on May 25, while construction was still going on at the eastern end of the line. The oil was moved slowly toward the coast for it was displacing water that had been run through the lines at high pressure for testing purposes. It took 576,211 barrels of oil to fill the line.

Construction of the direct 370-mile line began on December 13, 1949, and was completed on May 23, 1950. The line, which cuts 52 miles off the old route, passes thru sixteen counties: Reagan, Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Kimble, Gillespie, Mason, Blanco, Hayes, Travis, Bastrop, Lee, Fayette, Austin, Waller, and Harris.

In the past, the oil was moved through a system of small lines that "just grew" as new fields were discovered. This led to inefficiency and top-heavy operating costs. In the face of these rising costs, increased postwar competition, and the need for additional capacity, the new line was called for. It is expected that this line will reduce operating costs and place Humble in a better competitive position among other carriers by having a shorter route, larger pipe to carry more oil, and fewer pump stations. Several innovations were used in the construction of this new $15 million pipe line. For crossing rivers the pipe was coated with a thick layer of special cement to make it lie stationary in ditches dug or blasted in the river beds. Special four and six-unit gang drill rigs were used to drill shot holes for explosive charges.

Soon to be put into operation is the longest microwave radio relay system in Texas. This communication system is virtually a telephone system without wires. Messages sent by dispatchers will be beamed across country through a series of repeater stations.

Present capacity of the line, with only the Kemper station pumping, is 85,000 barrels of oil a day. With the addition of three intermediate stations at Eckart, Ft. McKavett, and Warda, 135,000 barrels a day can be delivered. This is nearly three times as much as the old system carried.

Sterling City Rodeo Opens Next Week

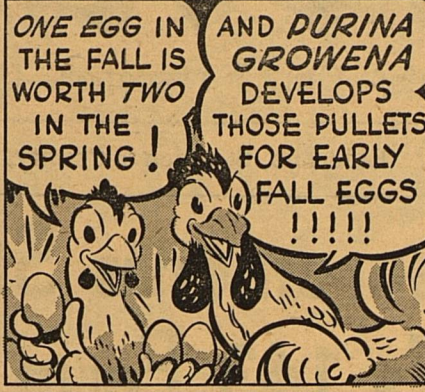

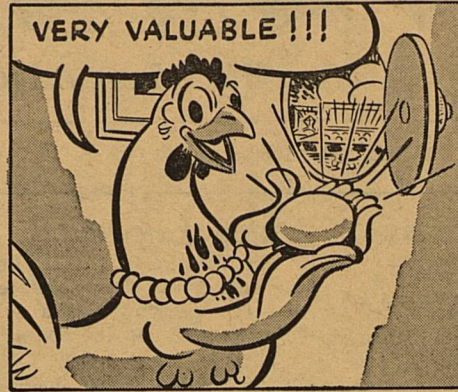

The Annual Sterling City Open Rodeo will be held June 27-28 with both performances at night. Attractions will include bare-back and saddle bronc riding, bulldogging, calf roping, bull riding, barrel racing, and match roping. There will be a dance both nights following the performance with a free barbecue at 5:30 p. m. on June 27. The rodeo is open to everyone.

Dude Creasy of Gatesville will furnish the stock. Twenty calves will be roped, ten bulls dogged, ten bulls ridden, and ten to fifteen broncs ridden at each performance. Entry fees are $10, calf and bulldogging; $5, bull and bronc riding; and $5, barrel race. Premiums will be added to entry fees for prizes in each event. Entries close at 2:00 p. m., on June 27 and should be made for both nights.

Those who are not performers will be welcomed to enjoy the barbecue, dances and rodeo performances.

RANGE CONTEST 4-H WINNERS TO GET PRIZES
As examination time draws near six boys are in the running for prizes in the range management contest, sponsored by the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District.

The winners of the contest are to be determined Tuesday, June 27, and the prizes awarded on Wednesday, June 28 at the Lions Club barbecue at noon which will be held in J. H. Wagley's east pasture.

Judges for the contest have been selected by supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District.

The contestants selected a pasture of range land which he has used as his project for the year. He had an aerial view of his project, on which he outlined the different types of land, such as deep valley soil, ordinary uplands and the thin hills and ridges, in order that he might have an idea of the project's capabilities.

These boys' projects will not be judged on the productivity of the land, but on the information he records and accuracy with which he handles his records.

The types of grasses present in his pasture are recorded and condition of the pasture, whether it is excellent, good, fair, or poor. He also watches and records the weights of the livestock, the amount of rainfall and its effect on the pasture, and he also collects a group of grasses and identifies each. The boys have air-dried grasses and figured their weights of production on the per-acre basis.

The winners will be boys who have the best notebooks, make the highest grade on the written and oral examination are best on grass identification, and have the best grass display.

Manufacturing Firms Are Listed For Texas

Austin, June 20.—What company in Texas manufactures barn paint? In what Texas cities are children's clothing factories located? What is made in Texas, and how can we find out just where it is manufactured? So that an accurate and up-to-date listing of Texas manufacturers will be available, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research is compiling a new edition of its Directory of Texas Manufacturers.

The 1950 Directory, the seventh edition since 1933, is expected to be completed during this fall. It will chart the many changes and expansions in Texas manufacturing that have taken place since the publication of the 1947 Directory.

The new Directory will include manufacturers only. It will classify the factories by cities and by products. The name of the executive officer of each firm, the date of establishment, street address, products manufactured including trade names, territory served and the number of employees will be shown.

Questionnaires to be used in obtaining the information have been mailed to individual manufacturing plants, to chambers of commerce, and to postmasters in towns listed in the 1947 Directory. Texas manufacturers seeking new outlets for their products are urged to return their completed questionnaires to the Bureau or to the local chamber of commerce so that the name of their firm will appear in the new buyers' guide for Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jackson had as their guests over the week end Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beal and daughter, Ethel Mae, of Austin.

SECRETARY GETS LETTER FROM VIRGINIA WOMAN

The Sonora Lions Club secretary has received the following letter from a woman in Virginia:

Marshall, Virginia

Dear Sir: I have written this letter so many times but each time I have been gently but firmly rebuffed. However, this time I hope the story I receive will be different.

I am a white female, with two children ages 6 and 8, a boy and girl, who is looking for a place on a ranch if possible, or a small town. My heart feels like it will surely break if my plea isn't heard and headed somewhere in the West. Please, sir, let me explain that it isn't money I am seeking but only a home in the West and some means of support.

We love horses and that's why a ranch is my first desire. Time is growing shorter each day and I am no closer out there than I was ten years ago. I have no money. That is why I am trying so desperately to find a place before I try to make a trip.

Let's say I'm in the same general "boat" a displaced person is. Why then, can't we pure Americans find places we seek? I can type, take shorthand, bookkeep and file, although I'm plenty rusty on all of them. But sometimes a rancher needs one. I can ride a horse too, and I'll be plumb proud to have a chance to help round up. There are lots of things and I hope somehow you can help me locate something.—Hopefully, Frances P. Pashby.

Old School Building Coming Down, Look Before Loitering!

"Please—tell them to look before they get close to the high school building," says John Petty, foreman of the crew which is dismantling the old structure, who stresses the fact that a dismantling job is dangerous work at the best, and there is always danger of falling material if the bystander is not cautious.

With most favorable weather and barring unforeseen difficulties, the project may be completed in thirty days, but it may take more time than that. Sixteen men are on the job, most of them carrying, stacking and pulling nails from lumber and other material. For the reason that the company hopes to sell a great deal of the salvage, the work is necessarily slow, as the material must be prepared for delivery to the buyer.

"A lot of it is sold as it comes down," states Mr. Petty. Local people have been buying the 2x4's, 2x6's, flooring and other salvagable material. As it is all seasoned and most of it in good condition, there is ready market for it.

In especially good condition are such materials as the shiplap, flooring and the main supports of the building. An outsider who cannot estimate amounts of material used in a building of this size will be interested in knowing that there will be about 20,000 feet of flooring, which will bring 7 cents for one-inch material. The 2-inch will bring 8 cents, as will the 2x6's, if they are under 20 feet in length. There will be higher prices charged for such material as 2x6's over 20 feet in length, of which there are some throughout the building. These, of choice Louisiana pine, will bring about 10 cents.

The average man-in-the-street will be surprised to learn that there are about 60 doors and 100 windows in the building, all of which will be sold. Window frames will be sold also as frames or as dismantled material, according to their condition.

The tar paper which covered the roof is waste material, but supporting materials can be used. The workmen started with the roof and to date they are still working on the top floor. When the window frames and other such material are removed, workmen will be ready to start tearing down the top walls. They expect to salvage most of the brick, which breaks away from its retaining cement when the supports are removed.

The foreman brings out this interesting point: there is more waste at the start of a particular phase of the work. When they start to tear up the floor, the first two or three rows of boards will be wasted, because they will break when the workmen are making the start—as an example.

The crew completes each job as they go. Roof, walls, floors, of the top floor, will all be completely dismantled in that order. As could be expected the work gets easier as the men work downward.

Of less value to the general public than the lumber will be the odds and ends which would be a part of any school building. The blackboards may never be blackboards again, but as they are of treated material they can be used in place of sheet rock in certain types of construction. The desks are old, and bear the initials of two generations of Schleicherites; they will be moved to San Angelo, from where they may be sold in old Mexico—or there may be no demand for them.

A welding shop in San Angelo bought all of the pipe in the building, without knowing in advance how much there would be. The radiators, which are outmoded because steam heating is expensive, may be sold for junk from San Angelo where they are stored. Some plumbing fixtures from the old school's restrooms will have a ready market as used commodities.

The contract made by the B and E Salvage Company of San Angelo includes a complete clean-up job. This will involve trucking all materials away from the site: the unsaleable material to a junk lot, and useable material to buyers or to San Angelo. With favorable weather, the job will probably be completed in August, well ahead of the school opening date.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor, Ralph Taylor and Mrs. Earl Parker and boys spent several days last week south of Llano on a fishing trip. They were joined Tuesday night by Earl Parker and returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. H. F. Webb visited in Ozona from Thursday to Saturday with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Webb. Mrs. O. C. Webb returned home with Mrs. H. F. Webb Saturday and spent the day.

INSTALLATION FOR LIONS CLUB NEXT MONDAY

Monday night will be officer installation and Ladies Night for the Eldorado Lions, who will hold their annual installation meeting at the Memorial building, beginning at 8:00. A good program is promised. Discussion of this meeting and perfecting of plans for the event occupied part of the business session, when the Lions met in regular session yesterday noon. There was also discussion of the 4-H Field Day planned for Wednesday at the Wagley pasture, with Lions assisting.

Another Lions Club project was mentioned but not discussed yesterday because of the absence of the project chairman, Fred Watson. This is renovating of the Fair Park barn, for a 4-H barn. It is hoped to raise possibly $3500 for the purpose of repairing and improving the structure, making it useable as a 4-H feeding barn. Marking of streets for parking of cars is another project marked for Lions Club attention.

A fifteen minute report from returning conventioners concluded the meeting.

Work In Congress Slowing Down For The Summer

By Cong. O. C. Fisher

For two weeks now the House has mostly marked time, passed a few bills and watched the Senate for signs of activity that would point to an early adjournment.

Right now the best guess is that the session will end about August 1st, but that will depend on the Senate which always lags behind the House on legislation. There is no debate limit in the other chamber and some of the Senators are prone to be long-winded at times. Only last week one energetic Senator talked for 12 hours on one bill without sitting down.

The Senate leadership has promised another attempt to bring up the FEPC and how much time they will kill on that is anybody's guess.

It's a funny thing. With some Democrats and some Republicans eyeing the November election and the negro and CIO votes, they spend hours blaming each other for not passing an FEPC bill, while very few if any of them sincerely believe in the soundness of this vote-getting scheme. The proposal is kicked around and extolled as a panacea, and the crocodile tears that are shed by its sponsors would turn a small desert into a verdant forest and almost float the battleship Missouri.

The House last week passed another rent control bill, continuing controls over rentals for 7 months. I voted against this measure. The war has been over for five years and I cannot justify arbitrary controls over what one segment of business enterprise can make while not doing the same to others. Why discriminate? If it's a good thing to control what a duplex owner can make on his investment, then why isn't it a good thing to control what a wage-earner can make, what a farmer or a sheep or cattle raiser can make? In other words, why pick on one group of our citizens who must, in operating their business, pay more for wages, more for the food they eat, more for repairs, paint, taxes upkeep and so forth?

Besides, individual States have authority to pass state laws controlling rents if they feel they are needed, Texas voted to abandon rent controls a year ago and is getting along very well without Uncle Sam imposing federal controls down there.

This being a political year, and Washington being the center of politics, trends are being closely watched and activities of political groups scrutinized these days.

Last week Phil Murray, boss of the CIO, called his 300 political leaders to Washington to whip them into a frenzy and daunch a million dollar drive for his political war chest.

The CIO leader told his Political Action Committee (PAC) the money is needed to elect a pro-labor Congress this fall and to defeat those who favor the Taft-Hartley Act. The latter, you will recall, makes labor unions subject to the same labor laws as employers.

Thus far this year the PAC has had a low batting score in primary campaigns, and they are obviously smarting from these set-backs. Money-raising attempts have been very disappointing to them. Their success in November will have a strong bearing on their 'welfare state' program and the question of whether we are moving toward a labor government in this country. Walter Reuther, a promising CIO leader, favors an outright Labor Party, but others frown on the idea at this time.

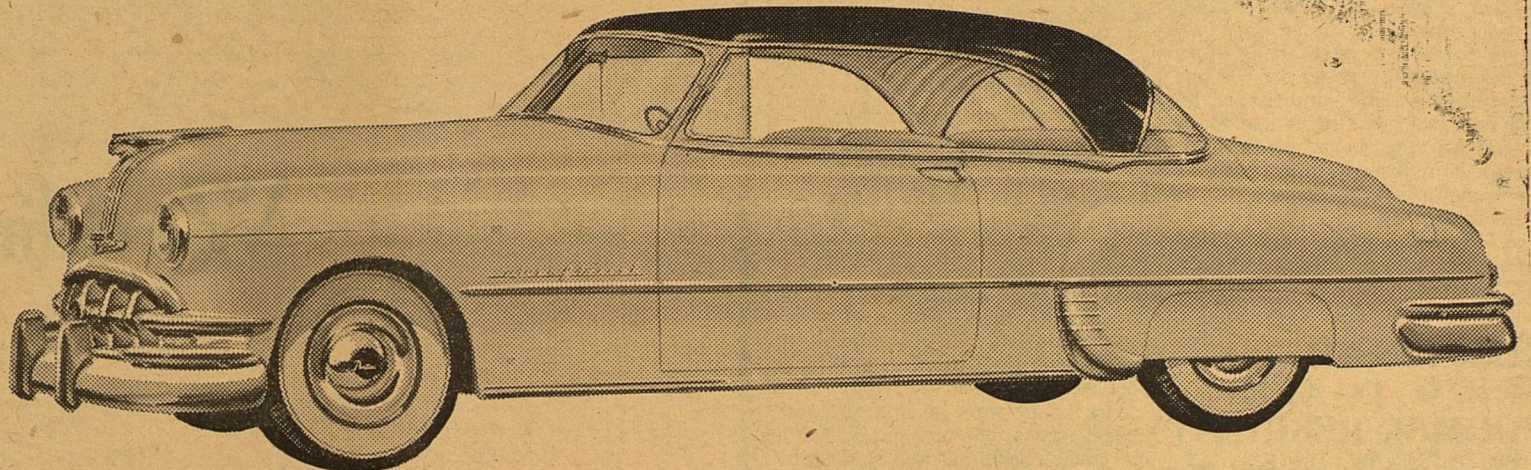

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Yearout of Hobbs, N. Mex., left for home Wednesday morning after a two day visit with their daughter, Mrs. Andy Nixon and her family in Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Barber, Mrs. J. C. Crosby and Mrs. Chris Dosse spent Sunday with their parents, Mr and Mrs. Archie Wright.

Thrips Damage Heavy To Flowers, Shrubs

The infestation of thrips on flowers and many ornamental plants is particularly heavy this year in many sections of the state. These insects are so small and move so fast they are hard to see unless the infestation is so heavy that they may look like dust. Right now they are damaging summer flowers and the berries on many ornamental plants that make the plants beautiful next winter, says Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A & M College.

She points out that the insects often cause roses and other flowers to dry up before the bloom opens. They cause wilting and browning of the petals of many flowers. They do not eat holes in the leaves nor petals and since they are hard to see, their presence is often detected by the damage that shows up on the plants and blooms.

When the petals dry around the edges before the bloom is fully open or dry spots appear on the petals of some flowers or the rose buds look dry and fail to open fully, then it is pretty certain that thrips are at work in your flower garden. The damage is caused when the thrips suck the cap out of the plant or flower. Young nandina berries along with other ornamental berries are often attacked by thrips. The young berries may turn a light color but will darken and then fall.

To control the heavy infestations that are showing up this year, Miss Hatfield recommends the use of either a dust or spray on the infested plants every week or ten days. During rainy weather, the applications of the insecticides should be more frequent. She recommends the use of a dust or spray containing 10% chlordane or 10% toxaphene or 5% DDT. Be sure to use a wettable powder if sprays are used instead of an emulsion. A dust widely used by commercial rose growers for controlling the rose thrip is composed of 3% DDT and 3% chlordane. She says these insecticides can be purchased at most feed and seed stores, and she adds that your local county extension agents will be glad to furnish any additional information that you may need in order to control not only thrips but other flower garden insect pests.

Lieutenant Governor Candidate Is Here

Sen. G. C. Morris, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was in Eldorado on Wednesday (yesterday) in the interest of his candidacy.

The State Senator is making an intensive campaign in accordance with his promise when he announced his candidacy that he would see the voters in most Texas cities.

Sen. Morris is from Greenville. He is campaigning for Lt. Governor in opposition to the general sales tax and proposing a reduction of governmental costs through reorganization. He has a continuous record of 16 years of public service.

He served eight years as state representative, eight as state senator, president of the Texas Senate, and Acting Lieutenant Governor for seven months following the death of Governor Beauford H. Jester.

Sen. Morris is best known for his support of education, old age assistance, REA Co-ops, rural roads, soil and water conservation and governmental reorganization. He was the first chairman of both the Texas Legislative Council and the Legislative Budget Board.

Since he led the 1942 fight against the sales tax, he has been the recognized leader of the anti-sales tax forces in Texas. Senator Morris is author of the 1941 Omnibus Tax Bill which supplies funds for Texas schools, farm-to-market roads, teacher retirement and old age assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Doyle, Mrs. Kenneth Doyle and Joy and Mrs. Richard Bilhartz and Ricky visited Sunday in Roby with Milton Doyle and family. Mrs. Bilhartz left Tuesday for her home in El Paso. She has been visiting here.

Mr and Mrs. Delbert Edmiston and family spent the week end with Mrs Edmiston's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McDaniels in Odessa.

Directions Given For Pphid Control

Small grain producers in Texas are familiar with the green bug that has during the past few years done much damage to their crops. There is also a similar bug, that causes plenty of trouble in the flower garden. According to Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A & M College, those that attack flowers, shrubs and trees are also called aphids or plant lice.

She says they are usually green in color, but may also be orange, gray or even black. Their color gives them a good camouflage and as a result they often go unnoticed until damages begin to show up. They usually feed on the tender twigs and under the leaves. The leaves on some of the plants when damaged turn yellow and some curl. The aphids that attack chrysanthemums are usually black in color.

Although aphids are very small, they have a high resistance to most insecticides and are therefore difficult to control. DDT, chlordane or lead arsenate will not kill them. Nicotine sulphate, also called black leaf 40, is still the best all-round home remedy. Miss Hatfield says that one and one-half teaspoonsful of nicotine sulphate mixed with one gallon of water and applied as a spray will usually control them. She cautions against getting the spray too strong for it will burn the leaves of the plants. You should be sure that all parts of the plant are thoroughly covered with the solution, especially the top and underside of the leaves.

One of the newer insecticides, lindane, gives great promise for the control of aphids but it is not generally available at this time.

She says a heavy infestation of aphids may take enough sap from the plants to weaken them seriously. They may cause flower buds or berries to drop from the plants. Plants weakened by attacks from aphids may die during extremely dry or cold weather.

She suggests that you make periodic checks of the flowers and shrubs around the place and if aphids are found, that you immediately put into use the recommended control measures.

Accuracy Is Vital In Social Security Quarterly Reports

Some workers in Schleicher county are not getting credit for the social security taxes they are paying, according to George D. Clark, manager of the San Angelo social security office.

Employers are required to file reports every three months, showing each employee's name, social security number, and total wages for the quarter. A few employers continue to file reports without furnishing social security numbers for all employees. Some reports are incorrect because the employer makes a mistake in copying the worker's number.

"A few of the mistakes made in reporting wages can be corrected in our central office," Mr. Clark said, "but most of them require correspondence or personal contact with the employer or the worker. If we don't succeed in correcting the error, the employee loses credit for his wages. This may reduce the amount of the benefit which the worker or his family will receive. In rare cases, it might eliminate the benefit altogether, since benefits cannot be paid unless our records show enough wages for the worker to qualify.

The employee can help the Social Security Administration to keep accurate wage records by taking care of his social security card, and by showing it to his employer whenever he starts on a new job. The employer can help by reporting the worker's name and number exactly as they appear on the card. Workers should be required to present official social security cards, since numbers stamped on metal plates or copied on scraps of paper frequently turn out to be incorrect.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Ballew and Ray Lewis and Ann went to Lubbock Saturday, and Ann remained for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Bridgeman.
