Just sharpen your pencil— and there you are!

ACROSS this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor.

Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own.

Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car?

Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering?

Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little.

Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power.

Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—or on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick.

Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace?

Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks?

And is there an automatic drive*, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving?

Yes, sharpen your pencil—and there you will be, in a Buick.

Whether it's a SPECIAL, a SUPER or a lordly ROADMASTER, you'll be driving the big buy of its price class, and getting a rich bonus of driving comfort, driving thrill and "fashion-first" styling.

But you have to make the first move. You are the one who has to find out. How about starting now—with a call on your Buick dealer?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

PECOS COTTON HARVEST GETTING INTO HIGH GEAR

Harvest of Pecos County's multi-million dollar cotton crop is getting into high gear in all parts of the county this week, with the most favorable outlook of recent years for a decent balance between supply and demand in the labor field, with quality high, and prices at highest levels since the fabulous years immediately after World War I.

Yesterday at 10 o'clock the Fort Stockton Co-operative Gin Association plant turned out its 61st bale of the season. Cotton is beginning to open in quantity in all of the county's producing areas, and five gins are ready for a busy season.

Within a week to ten days picking will be in full swing, with numbers of gins likely to be on a full-time schedule of operation. Pickers are in much better supply than last year because the crop has been smaller—as well as earlier—in south and central Texas, and because the demand for pickers is not so heavy in the South Plains country as it was last year. —Fort Stockton Pioneer.

NEW OIL FIELD ROAD PROPOSED AT OZONA

The Crockett County Sheriff's Posse, numbering approximately 100 Crockett county men on its membership roster, Tuesday night went on record as favoring the opening of a paved road over the shortest distance on a direct route from the Todd and Vaughan fields into Ozona.

A committee was named by Posse President Miller Robison to study the means of bringing about the construction of such a road, whether it will classify as eligible for inclusion in the farm-to-market federal aid road building program and what action the community should take to get the project started at the earliest possible moment. —Ozona Stockman.

HIGHWAYS OPEN AGAIN

Highways leading south and west out of Robert Lee are open again. Repairs were made on the river bridge 3 miles west of town last week after an H & L truck plunged through the worn out floor. A rise of several feet in the Colorado River made it impossible to use the low water crossing at the south edge of town and traffic has detoured through Bronte. A temporary crossing was restored Tuesday. Pouring of the new cement floor of the river bridge was completed Monday. Guard rails will be installed and The Observer has been advised that the repaired bridge will be opened to traffic next Wednesday. —Robert Lee Observer.

DEDICATION DATE IS SET FOR NEW MERTZON CHURCH

The new building for the Methodist Church will be completed and furnished, ready for use, the 24th of September. The opening service will be at 11:00 Sunday morning of the 24th, a barbecue dinner at the City Park, and open house in the afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00. The Rev. Fred J. Brucks, District Superintendent of the San Angelo District of the Methodist Church, will lead in the service. —Mertzon Weekly Star.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH STARTED AT BRONTE

A new Baptist church will be built in Bronte, according to an announcement made this week by Rev. V. D. Price, pastor of the church.

The new structure is estimated to cost about $30,000, but the exact figure is not known, since the members decided to hire the work done and buy the materials themselves rather than contract the job.

The new building will seat an estimated 400 persons. The auditorium will be 36 by 59 feet and will have a balcony. The two-story education building will be 36 by 70 feet. The structure will be an L-shaped building with the auditorium forming one wing and the education building forming the other. —Bronte Enterprise.

Couples Honored

Two couples were honored with a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunstead Saturday evening, beginning at 7:00. The dinner was given in honor of Mrs. William Sauer, who was celebrating her birthday, and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson, who were celebrating their third wedding anniversary.

A chicken dinner was served, and there were two decorated cakes. After the dinner, gifts were presented to the young people.

Present were Gertrude Sauer of San Angelo, Mrs. Bertha Wilson, Bill Gunstead, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Sauer of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunstead.

Getting Fall Pullets Into Production

COLLEGE STATION—Poultrymen should be doing the jobs now that will mean more fall and winter egg production and getting the laying houses ready should be high on the list, says J. C. Williams, assistant extension poultry husbandman of Texas A&M College.

Williams recommends that the houses be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected to remove all possibilities of diseases or parasites. He says that the buildings may need repairing and some of the hinges on the doors, windows, or shutters may need to be replaced or adjusted.

He points out that clean windows let in more sunlight, which is a source of vitamin D for the layers.

For each five birds, he advises providing one nest and at least three inches of feeder space per hen. Watering facilities should provide each 100 hens with from five to eight gallons of water a day, and each hen needs at least eight inches of roosting space.

Litter also is important, and Williams recommends that it be from four to six inches deep in order to keep the moisture in the house down. Wood shavings, sand, cane pulp, ground corn cobs, shucks, straw or other kinds of litter can be used. The kind of litter is not so important as long as it will absorb moisture.

He says that the time to place birds in their winter laying quarters is when they have come into about 20 per cent production. Since they will remain in the range shelters until they reach 20 per cent production, some nests must be provided there.

Three square feet of housing space per hen is enough for the lighter breeds such as Leghorns, but Williams says that four square feet will be needed per bird for the heavier breeds.

He says that he personally prefers to keep laying hens confined at all times. His reason is that, since plenty of space is being provided in the house for every bird to be comfortable during extremely bad weather and plenty of feed, water, roosting space and adequate ventilation are being furnished, it is unnecessary to turn them out of a house when all conditions inside of it are favorable for maximum production.

Williams points out that many poultrymen are using night lighting because they have found it profitable. When properly used, the light will cause the egg production to occur in the fall and winter months when egg prices are highest. Williams reminds poultrymen that one precaution to be taken in using evening lights is to dim the lights for four or five minutes before they are completely turned off in order to allow the birds to find the roost before the lights go completely out. An automatic switch is convenient for this purpose.

Treat Grain Seeds For Smut and Blights

COLLEGE STATION—Planting time for winter grain crops is at hand, and E. A. Miller, extension agronomist of Texas A&M College, reminds farmers that there are several precautions to take in preparing for seeding the grain.

First, he advises getting good seed of the right varieties, and he suggests that farmers contact their local county agents in regard to the best varieties for their particular counties. Secondly, he recommends cleaning out any weed seeds and smut balls which might be present in the seed, and thirdly, he recommends treating the seeds with chemicals. These last two precautions help guard against noxious weeds such as bindweeds and blue weeds and grain diseases such as grain smuts, seed rots and seedling blights.

Miller states that the disease which wheat growers need to guard against most is stinking smut. This smut is hard to recognize in the field except by its foul odor and the somewhat greener color of the infected grain heads. The kernels of infected plants change to smut balls, and when the grain is combined, these smut balls are broken open and millions of black spores are scattered over the healthy wheat seed. If the seed with spores on them are planted, a good crop of stinking smut will develop next spring where the grain should be. Smut reduces the yield in the field and smutty grain is docked on the market.

Oat and barley smut, however, is easily recognized by the black, barren heads in the field. According to Miller, the stinking smut of wheat and also oat and barley smut can be controlled by mixing one-half ounce of either the new improved cerasan or the new chemical called cerasan M per bushel of seed.

He says that loose smut of wheat also leaves empty black heads in the field. Chemicals do not control this smut, but it can be controlled by a difficult hot water treatment. However, Miller suggests that it might be better to get clean wheat seed from growers who were not bothered with loose smut last season.

Farmers are now faced with a new oat disease which the plant doctors call helminthosporium blight. Miller says that this new disease affects the roots and stems of oats, causing weakened stems, which results in lodging. Oat varieties that are attacked by this blight are some of the Victoria crosses, including Fultex, Rustler, Ranger and Victor Grain. The same treatment is recommended for this disease as for stinking smut of wheat and oat and barley smut, however, it may not give as complete control as it does on smut.

Miller states that treating the grain seed with chemicals is inexpensive insurance against losses from grain diseases, and against further losses from dockage on the market.

Iron Better Cottons
On the Wrong Side

COLLEBE STATION — Shiny spots from ironing which are frequently seen in cotton dresses, especially dark cottons, can be prevented by ironing the better cotton garments on the wrong side and then finishing on the right side, says Mary Routh, extension clothing specialist of Texas A&M College.

A garment may either be allowed to dry just before the desired amount and then ironed, or it may be allowed to dry completely and then sprinkled before ironing. Miss Routh says that warm water is best for sprinkling because it spreads through the cloth more easily than cold water. Home management specialists recommend a bottle with a sprinkler top for doing a quick but thorough job.

Miss Routh says that, since any moisture left in the cotton fabric will cause it to pucker and wrinkle, each part of the garment should be ironed completely dry as the work proceeds.

Double thickness such as waist bands, hems, and seams should be ironed well on the wrong side and then finished on the right side with light, quick pressure of the iron.

To avoid small creases at the seams, Miss Routh advises pulling the seams straight and smooth and holding them at a slight tension to keep them straight while ironing, being careful not to stretch. Pressing with the thread, or grain, of the fabric avoids sagging results.

Using a sleeve board or sleeve pad on the end of the ironing board helps in pressing difficult parts of a garment. Best results are obtained by nosing the point of the iron around buttons and placing tiny rows of buttons face down on a soft pad and ironing on the wrong side of the material. Laces and embroideries should also be ironed on the wrong side over a soft pad.

A general order of ironing which Miss Routh suggests is—cuffs, sleeves, ruffles, collar, sash ends, blouse, and skirt. Any parts that are wrinkled in handling must be pressed again, and all dresses should be hung at once on hangers to allow any possible moisture to dry out before storing.

Dildine - Ellis

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the home of her parents, Miss Billis Jean Dildine became the bride of Lowell E. Ellis, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. J. M. Hays, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Eldorado.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Dildine of Eldorado. She attended Eldorado High School and was a member of the Rainbow Girls of Johnson City, Texas, before coming to Eldorado.

The bridegroom is the son and only child of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Ellis of Christoval. He graduated from Christoval High School and San Angelo Junior College. He served one year in the Navy.

For her wedding, Miss Dildine chose a green crepe dress and accessories. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and a white split carnation corsage. She carried a white prayer book topped with pale pink dahlias, for the something borrowed; for the something old, a linen handkerchief given her several years ago by an old lady now deceased.

Mrs. Herman Heckel, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a grey flannel dress with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Herman Heckel acted as best man.

The ceremony took place before the fire place which was banked with green leaves, marigolds, and a lovely arrangement of yellow and pink dahlias centering the mantel, flanked on either side with blue candles.

The blue and gold color scheme was carried out in the dining room. The table was laid with a lace cloth and bouquets of dahlias. The three-tiered cake was decorated in yellow and blue flowers. Blue napkins, with the bride's and bridegroom's names were used.

Miss Ramona Dildine served the cake and Lorraine served at the punch bowl. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will reside in San Angelo, where he is employed by the San Angelo Standard-Times.

TEXAS OFFICIAL SPEAKS AT AREA P-TA SESSION

Mrs. H. G. Stinnett of Plainview, first vice president of Texas Parent-Teacher Congress, was guest speaker at the District 6, P-TA, board session held Saturday at Hotel Cactus in San Angelo.

This was the first meeting of the new board which was elected and installed at the spring conference in Ozona. Mrs. Edwin Jackson of Eldorado, president, presided.

The morning hours were devoted to a study of the objects and policies of Parent-Teacher Association work. L. L. Martin, superintendent of schools at Crane, led the opening prayer and Mrs. Stinnett discussed objectives and policies, saying, "The P-TA organization is 53 years old. Surely any organization which has lasted this long must be worthwhile."

Following the luncheon hour, reports were given from various district vice presidents, council presidents, and committee chairmen. P-TA unit work is beginning throughout the district and each vice president and committee chairman outlined projects of each county.

Among vice presidents reporting was Mrs. Frank Potmesil of Sonora, of Sutton and Schleicher counties.

Mrs. Jess Walston of Eldorado was present as chairman of publicity.

It was announced that the spring conference will be held in Big Lake, the date to be set by the state P-TA. Plans were also made to charter a bus for district delegates to attend the state convention in Mineral Wells on Nov. 8-10.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kuykendall took their daughter Louise to San Angelo Sunday, and she went from there by bus to Ft. Worth for an indefinite stay.

GRANDCHILD FOR MUNDS

A grandchild who has been named William Jr., was born recently in Moline, Illinois hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. William Bosse of Rock Island, Ill. The baby has four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mund of Eldorado and Mr. and Mrs. William Bosse of Moline. The infant is the first grandchild for the Arthur Munds. The young mother, who attended TSCW and received her degree from San Diego State College, is the former Ruth Mund, a teacher in the Eldorado schools several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gill and baby of Smithville have moved to Eldorado, and are renting the garage apartment at the rear of Mrs. Clyde Galbraith's rent house. Mr. Gill who is a grandson of the Tom Whiteleys, is employed by the Hazelwood Brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gunn and son of Pearsall, former Eldorado residents, were weekend visitors in Eldorado.

Mrs. Wiley Hight has had as her guests her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Boatright of Coleman, who spent the weekend here.

—Eldorado Success, $2 per year.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Love recently were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Green, and Mrs. J. T. Houston and John Houston, all of San Angelo.

Mrs. E. L. Edmiston is reported making satisfactory progress after having an operation last Sunday in San Angelo.
