ELDORADO — SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1955

NUMBER 20

Spotted Rains Fall Recently; Parts of County Still Dry

While parts of Schleicher county remain bone dry, spotted rains have brought hope to some farmers and ranchers of the county, as the result of scattered showers and downpours of the past week or two.

The City of Eldorado had 2.20 inches of rain in half an hour Saturday night, the rains extending a few miles west, south toward Sonora, north in an irregular pattern toward Christoval and east to the Rudd and Menard Highway areas.

Driving was dangerous on the highways for a short time Saturday night in the vicinity of Eldorado and several cars ran off the streets and highways because the downpour was so heavy that drivers could not see the edge of the road.

Farming areas of Reynolds and Bailey Ranch, which had hoped for rains for late planting, were left bone dry as they watched the rain clouds form and disperse near by without visiting them.

While the rains did much good where it fell, it is generally agreed that it fell too hard for maximum penetration. Here are a few scattered reports:

Bible Schools To Follow Closing Of Public School

With the approach of the summer vacation season the various churches of Eldorado with Sunday schools are making their usual plans for vacation Bible schools. Several are starting theirs as soon as school closes and others will have theirs later in the summer.

Workers in the various churches have been attending training institutes and in other ways preparing to assume their places as leaders in the schools. The movement has grown over the years and local churches have able corps of teachers to take over the administration of the schools.

While some do not have their plans ready to announce, the following have a fairly complete schedule worked out, and others will have theirs ready soon:

Methodist

Mrs. Palmer West, superintendent of the First Methodist vacation Bible school releases the following plans for the school:

Classes will be held each morning from 9 to 11 beginning May 30 and closing June 10 with a program that night. Kindergarten leaders will be Mrs. Frank Van Horn, Mrs. W. A. Shuller, Mrs. Dick Preston, Mrs. Roger Luckenbach, Mrs. Raymond Schrank, Mrs. Earl Yates, Mrs. Joe Ed Hill, Mrs. Henry Speck Jr., Mrs. Everett Warren, Mrs. Jim Martin, Mrs. Bill Wyatt and Mrs. Glen Parker.

Primary leaders will be Mrs. Jerry Hartgraves, Mrs. Bill McCravy and Mrs. Jack Shugart. Junior leaders will be Mrs. E. G. Donaldson, Mrs. Bill Lester and Mrs. Albert McGinness, assisted by Ann Ballew, Dale West and Mary Tisdale.

Mrs. Dwight Wiedenmann, incoming WSCS president, will be in charge of refreshments and Mrs. W. H. Hale will be music director. Rev. Morton will be general assistant.

First Baptist

A vacation Bible school for ages 3-16 will open at the First Baptist Church May 30 and will close June 10, with the preceding Saturday designated as Preparation Day, at which time there will be parade, registration and refreshments.

While a complete list of workers is not available this week, the officials and department heads have been selected to include the following:

Principal: J. C. Hancock
Intermediate: Mrs. John Stigler
Primary: Mrs. J. C. Hancock.
Beginner: Mrs. Ruth Finnigan
Nursery, for three's and under, with paid attendant.

Presbyterian

The First Presbyterian vacation Bible school will begin May 30 at 8:45 with classes each day from 8:45 to 11:00 a. m. Mrs. Wilson Page is general superintendent of the school and music director for the kindergarten and primary departments. Mrs. Jack Jones is in charge of the kindergarten department and will be assisted by Mrs. Pat Finley, Mrs. Paul Page, and Mrs. Bill Lindsey. Mrs. Jack Mowrey is in charge of the primary class, assisted by Mrs. James Page, Mrs. R. J. Page, Mrs. S. E. Jones Jr., and Mrs. Richard Jones.

Mrs. Edwin Jackson will have charge of the junior class and will be assisted by Mrs. W. C. Hixson and Mrs. Frank Baker. Mrs. James Page will be music director for the junior department. Mrs. Pete Ringle and Mrs. John Williams will have charge of refreshments.

Men Here To Demonstrate Correct Wool Handling Ways

Of interest to this wool growing county is the movement to teach ranchers better wool preparation, so that growers may receive the maximum of consideration from buyers. Methods of proper preparation shown ranchers include how to put up wool uniformly, similarly graded and prepared.

The incentive wool program has brought demand for these improved methods to the front. There is at present a premium for correct preparation, which will bring additional returns to the ranchers.

While there has always been some emphasis on this phase of the sheep industry, the program has received added impetus this year with the availability of A&M trained help. Billy Kidd Jr., of Menard and Pat Cooper of Fort Stockton, along with County Agent Godwin, are going around over the county where shearing is under way, and pointing out improvements in proper wool preparation. Cooper will continue on here thru some of next week, while Kidd will work in and out of the county as needed.

Such subjects as tying, bagging, picking up fleece and other routine phases of sheep shearing are being taught on various ranches where the shearers are at work.

The lambing season is practically over, and the sheep shearing season is at its height this week.

It would seem, judging from the phases covered, that the correct methods save money for the grower—a fact which has great significance especially in these times of drought.

DANCE RECITAL SET FOR TUESDAY, MAY 24

The dancing class taught by Mrs. Buster York, instructor from Mrs. Wanda Bingham's school of dancing in San Angelo, will present a recital in the school auditorium May 24 at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

ATTENDS MEETING

Rev. James Spencer spent Tuesday in San Angelo attending a sub-committee meeting on religious education, held at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church. The committee spent the day preparing a manual of operation for the religious education committee of the Presbytery.

Eastside Baptists Designate Sunday Afternoon, May 22 For Dedication Ceremonies

Members of the Eastside Baptist Church invite the public to attend dedication services Sunday for their new church building. The services have been set for 3:00 Sunday afternoon to enable all church goers in the community to attend if they desire to do so.

Dr. Clifford Nelson, missionary worker from Brownwood, and well known pastor who was formerly First Church minister here, will be the guest speaker, and there will also be other guest speakers who will have part on the program.

The music will be under the direction of John W. Brown, choir director, who will also act as program chairman. Mrs. O. L. Woodward local florist, will have charge of floral arrangements.

The construction and completion of this place of worship has held the interest of many who have watched the growth from a mission, which had its beginning in November, 1953, with attendance of 12, into an independent and self-sustaining church, formally organized in October, 1954, with present membership of over 85.

States a member, "Love has been a revolving factor in the erection of our building. Our membership, aside from financial help, actually furnished most of the labor. From the depths of our hearts we are grateful to those outside our group who gave generously of time & money along with prayers and good wishes."

Services began in the new building Easter Sunday with 94 in Sunday school. Previously elected officers assumed the same duties in the new church. They are:

Clerk: Mrs. L. B. Kersey.
Treasurer: L. B. Kersey.
S. S. Supt: A. D. Farris.
T. U. Director: E. T. Turnbow
WMS Pres: Mrs. E. T. Turnbow

Deacons: A. D. Farris and A. M. Nixon.

Ordination services for new deacons are scheduled for the near future.

Inspection of the new completely air-conditioned building will be a feature of the Sunday afternoon program of events.

FAMOUS TEXANS' RECIPES

Glamorous Cattle-Raiser Picks Beef and Kidney Pie

Greer Garson

Fort Worth—Beef and Kidney Pie, a legacy from her native England, wins praise for Texas' most glamorous cattle-raiser, Greer Garson.

The casserole is admired by the celebrated actress's Texas friends almost as much as her prize winning herd of all white beef Shorthorns which she imported from Scotland.

Miss Garson, wife of Dallas oil executive, E. E. Fogelson, exercised her rights to Texas citizenship five years ago when she purchased the small pure-bred Shorthorn herd and began to expand it. Currently, Mrs. Fogelson is engaged in a cross-breeding experimental program with the object of producing a new type of beef.

When asked to name her favorite beef recipe for the Texas Beef Council's "Famous Texan" collection, Miss Garson narrowed it down to three, each expressing her personality. The publishers plan to include all three in the book which is now being compiled.

Rich in taste, delicate in spicing, the following recipe serves six.

Beef and Kidney Pie

2 pounds top sirloin (or tri-angle) cut 1/2" square

- 2 beef kidneys cut 1/2" pieces
 - 4 ounces chopped onions
 - 1 tablespoon flour
 - 1 clove garlic chopped
 - 2 tablespoons tomato puree
 - 1 cup sherry (or dry red wine)
 - salt, pepper, thyme, parsley to taste
 - 1 bay leaf (optional)
 - 1/2 pound mushrooms, fourthed
 - 1 egg, beaten
- Saute beef rapidly, remove from pan, drain. Saute kidneys, drain off excess grease and water. Combine beef and kidneys; return to pot; stir in onions and brown. Blend in flour, chopped garlic, tomato puree and wine. Add enough water to cover, mix in seasonings, and simmer two hours. In separate container, saute mushrooms; add to beef and kidney mixture when cooked. Pour into baking dish; cover with

Pie Crust Dough

- 3/4 pound flour
 - 3/4 cup cold water
 - 6 ounces salted butter
- Combine flour and water; spread dough on table. Place butter in center. Fold dough over the butter (like a book). Roll it with rolling pin. Fold it twice and let rest 20 minutes; fold it twice more and wait 20 minutes and repeat the process a third time. Roll dough out 1/4-inch thick and cover the beef-kidney mixture. Brush top with beaten egg to give a golden color to crust. Bake in moderate oven (350°) for about 30 minutes.

OVER 300 BARRELS PER DAY FOR OHIO

Ohio Oil Company's No 24 Thomson in the Huldale field has been completed as a producer and is regarded as one of the better wells in the field. According to an official R. R. Commission potential test, completed this morning, the well produced 302.66 barrels for 24 hours on 1/4 inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 562 to 1. There was 2 tenths of 1% water.

Ohio men are pleased with the new well and it is possible that another location may be announced before long.

The Military

A stock deal of interest to Schleicher county is the sale of 63 head of Henry Moore's registered Angus heifers to R. B. Neblett of Alexander, La., proprietor of Inglewood Plantation there. The heifers were loaded out Sunday and reached the plantation Monday. Mr. Neblett was here last week to make the deal.

Jack Shugart invites the public to attend open house at the new residence he has completed in the Benton addition. This is the first house in the Benton tract, which Shugart purchased some time ago and which is being provided with city utilities, complete with sewer.

The rains of the past weekend have been spotted and did not cover nearly all of the county. Much of the farm land was left high and dry. Wettest spot was probably in the ranch country in the Mrs. M. M. Reynolds neighborhood, where water holes were full, drains running high and some damage done to fences. Mrs. Reynolds says it is the most water she has seen in ten years, and that she hopes to raise a crop of cane because of it. Five separate rains and showers visited that area within a few days.

Jack Shugart is contracting the work for the new three-bedroom house which Cameron's are putting up on the lot which they bought from Gene McCalla. The work is well under way, foundation having been completed early this week. It is being built according to FHA specifications.

We'd just completed writing our rain story Wednesday morning, when it clouded up again and rained, in spots of course, throughout the county. Around three quarters of an inch in Eldorado gave the ground a good soaking after the heavy rains of the weekend. Henry Speck got his first rain, a nice 1.3 inches, as did also his son Possum, and an area in the Kaffir community. Glenn McDonald received 1.5, Elizabeth Powell .50, and Henry Moore Ranch 1.5, while Victor Sauer got only .20. It was welcome everywhere it fell and Schleicherites are at last getting optimistic about it all.

Eldorado is quite chesty over its total of around 3.2. Skies are clear this morning.

On the gloomy side we are obliged to report that there are farms in the Bailey Ranch community where the dust has still not been settled.

Baccalaureate Sunday
Rev. James A. Spencer was speaker at Baccalaureate services which were held Sunday night in the school auditorium, the high school choral furnishing the baccalaureate music.

Other pastors who had part in the program were Rev. O. D. Cox, Rev. J. C. Hancock and Rev. Nihil Bulkley. Barbara Spencer played the professional and recessional. In his sermon Rev. Spencer predicted that the class would be successful in life as they had been to date as students. He pointed out, "Those who make early choices wisely will be the men of the five talents."

He developed the theme that to be successful there must be three major choices: choice of life's mission, choice of life mate, and choice of life's master. The first two, he stated, lie ahead, and the last named has probably been made.

Requests For Birth Certificates Pile Up In Late Summer

Austin.—Most people are partial to months of late summer and fall. But not State Health Department birth record keepers. To the staff of the department's bureau of vital statistics, August through October is the roughest time of the year.

The reason: parents who know their children must have birth certificates before they can enter school for the first time but who put off making requests for certified copies until the last minute.

Last year bureau personnel processed more than 40,000 requests during those three months. For a limited staff, that means hours of night and week-end work without overtime pay.

Bureau personnel shudder when they think of the estimated 227,000 kids who will be eligible to enter the first grade in September.

Many of them have copies of birth records already and will create no problem. Others live in areas where local school boards do not require proof of age before admitting the child to the halls of learning. But the majority don't have certified proof of age, despite the fact that they live in areas where school officials insist on such proof. It's this category that gives bureau statisticians and clerks sleepless nights.

Says Bureau Director W. D. Carroll: "We're ready to give immediate service to applications which come in before the fall rush."

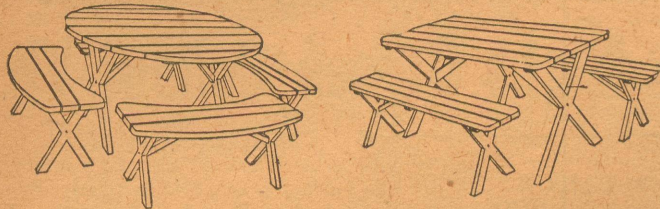

"All we need is the child's name and date and place of birth, and the mother's maiden name and the name of the father," Carroll said. That information, together with the statutory fee of fifty cents, will buy anyone a copy of their birth certificate — provided the bureau has the certificate on file.

There's just one more thing: if you don't want to write to Austin, check with your local registrar. Chances are he can supply the record for you. In either case, do it soon. That fall bind can get mighty tight.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. King and Dianne and Lee Halbert spent Friday in Coleman, where the Kings were house hunting, and Saturday in Abilene, where they visited relatives.

Cottonseed Products Cause Off-Colored Yolks In Hen Eggs

College Station.—Eggs having off-colored yolks usually can be traced to hens fed cottonseed products. Such eggs appearing in Texas retail markets in recent weeks are objectionable to consumers.

No more than five per cent cottonseed meal in a hen's ration may cause yolk discoloration, particularly if the eggs are stored, Kermit F. Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist, says. Discolored yolks appear motley, olive to greenish-brown or even black in color.

Most cases of such yolks are traced to hens having access to cattle or hog feeding operations where a cottonseed product is being fed. In other instances, the hens are eating cottonseed or cottonseed hulls used as nesting litter.

"Some farmers mix their own poultry laying rations and use cottonseed meal unaware of its influence on yolk color," Schlamb says.

Poultry scientists at Texas A&M College do not recommend its use in laying rations and advise shell egg producers to check any supply of cottonseed products that may lower egg quality by affecting yolk color.

To detect this condition, break one or two of the suspected eggs and expose them to ammonium hydroxide gas for several hours. If the characteristic mahogany brown or black color appears, it's reasonably certain that hens are eating some form of cottonseed product, Schlamb concludes.

Warm Weather Brings Summer Insects To Spread Disease

Austin.—Flowers and leaves are not the only things that pop out when the weather warms up. Dr. Henry Holle, state health officer, says you can expect flies, mosquitoes, chiggers, ants and spiders; if not at home certainly the first time you go on a picnic.

The mosquito is a famous carrier of malaria. Its eradication, both because of the discomfort of bites and because the bites spread disease, is advisable. Mosquito bites itch intensely, and the more you scratch them the more they itch. The itching can be lessened if you wash the spots with soap and water or alcohol, and then apply a soothing lotion.

Around the yard and on the farm mosquitoes breed in puddles of water by the roadside, in water that accumulates in furrows, in gardens, in street gutters and sagging house gutters. And they'll make their home in an old can, flower pot, bottle, or any other place where water is standing. After a rain is a good time to look around the yard and empty water out of any containers you find.

Such diseases as typhoid fever, tuberculosis and dysentery are known to have been spread by flies. It is important to protect the whole community from flies and for everyone to take measures to get rid of them.

At home, put garbage in a metal, leak-proof can with a tight-fitting lid. Flies breed in filth and the food they find in and around garbage cans. If they get into the house, they will carry germs to your food, and even to nursing bottles and the mouths of babies. Good window screens and doors will keep flies outside if you teach your children to close the doors quickly when they come in or go out. The yard, chicken houses, stables, and other likely breeding places should always be kept clean so that flies cannot find food and want to stay around. Clean, sanitary homes, alleys, and places of business do not attract flies.

Chigger bites are more troublesome than mosquito bites. If you take a bath after you have been exposed to them, you will wash off most of the larvae before they burrow into the skin. Sulphur dusted on the legs and ankles will prevent many bites.

Chigger Season Again

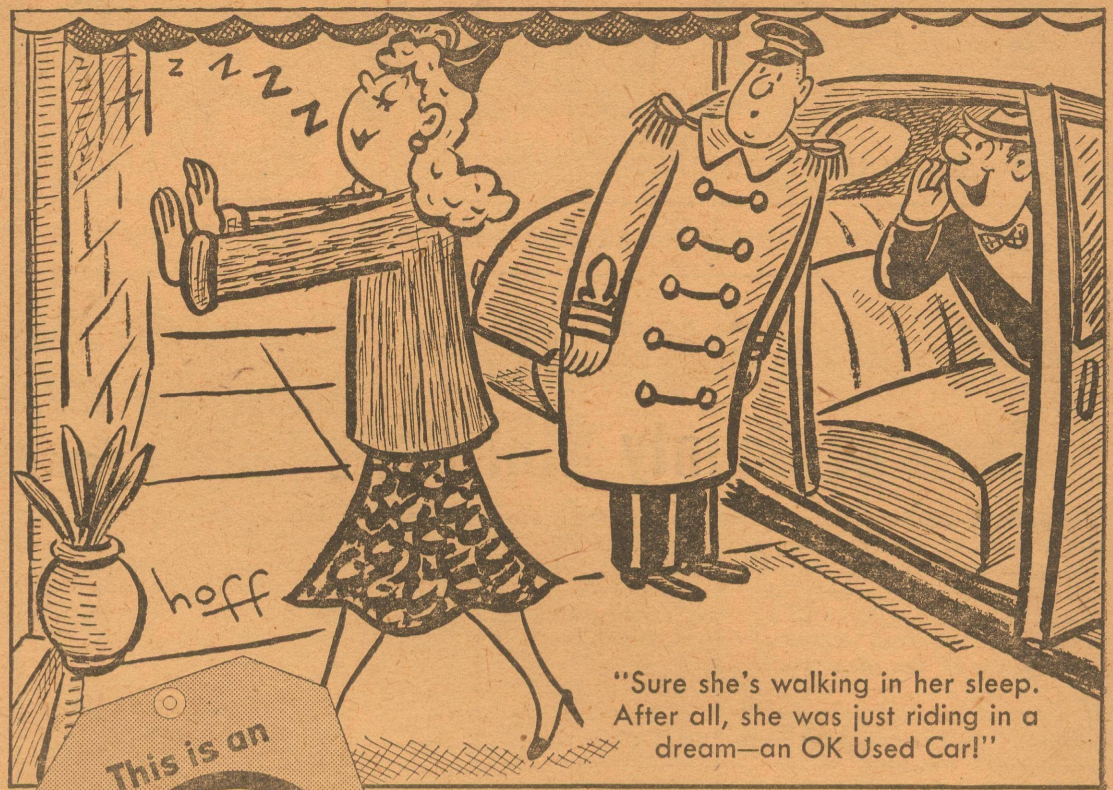

College Station. — Chiggers can deal even Texans a lot of misery.

Although it wouldn't be practical to control the pests all summer, entomologists say that 50 to 75 cents worth of toxaphene or chlordane will kill the red bugs on the average home lawn for about seven days. Such a scheme is suggested to anyone planning an occasional picnic, party or other out-of-doors activity. Or apply the insecticides to areas where the family sits or plays in the yard.

One pound of five percent dust of either of the insecticides applied to 1,000 square feet of lawn area is recommended by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The dusts are available from most feed, drug and grocery stores.

Sulphur has long been a popular chigger killer but toxaphene and chlordane are more effective, say entomologists.

Vacationers Urged To Take Precautions For Safety In Water

College Station.—The number of drowning fatalities in Texas streams and lakes is running far ahead of last year.

"Folks can't afford to forget their rules for water safety," cautions the Texas farm and ranch safety committee. "The opening of swimming pools, along with the call of the streams, rivers and lakes, places added impetus on the necessity of safety in the water."

Of the 80,000,000 people who are expected to go for a swim this year, some 7,000 will drown.

Many drownings are caused by over-confidence, the committee says. "Too often people who have little swimming knowledge venture into deep water to show off their partially-developed skills and end up in trouble."

Select a safe place for swimming, preferably one supervised by a lifeguard, the committee advises. Don't go into deep water unless you are a seasoned swimmer, and then don't stay in too long. Before diving be sure the water is deep enough and free of obstructions.

Never swim alone. Don't enter the water when tired or overheated, and wait at least two hours after eating to take a dip.

And, know how to save a drowning person and how to apply artificial respiration. The committee's final advice to the aquatic-minded: think first of safety and then enjoy your swim.

Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District

Benefits of Pitting
Robert and Jim Martin recently pitted about 160 acres of their rangeland for better moisture penetration and range improvement on their ranch 28 miles east of Eldorado.

Robert said, "I have rested this pasture for about two years and as yet I haven't received the kind of improvement I want to get on these areas. The land is so sloping and bare that when it rains it seals over and runs off. I believe by pitting it will break the crust and moisture will penetrate better. I want to get moisture in the ground where something will grow and I can get cover on these areas."

The pitting was done on the approximate contour and with a district pitting machine. Max Schrader, soil conservationist, assisting the district, helped Robert and Jim by running the contour lines and assisting them in picking out sites which would better respond to pitting.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Taylor spent the weekend on their farm in Hamilton County.

Rev. Morton Completes Three Years Here; Goes To Conference Monday

Rev. Doyle Morton

Rev. Doyle Morton, pastor of the Eldorado Methodist Church three years, will leave Monday for San Antonio to attend the 98th session of the Southwest Texas Methodist Conference. Elton McGinness plans to attend conference as delegate. W. G. Godwin is alternate. Rev. Morton will spend Monday attending sessions of the Commission on Minimum Salaries, of which he is chairman.

The committee on which Rev. Morton serves has helped handle assistance for 43 churches in the conference in which salaries have been below subsistence level.

The official sessions will open at 9:00 Tuesday morning at Travis Park Methodist Church, with Bishop A. Frank Smith presiding. Preceding the conference there will be a 500 plate dinner for Marvin A. Childers, chairman of Methodism's Judicial Council and a Travis Park layman. The council gives official interpretation of acts of the General Conference, and its decisions are final.

Two sessions of the council have been held in Texas, one in San Antonio in 1951, and another at Perkins School of Theology last year. He will retire from the council next year in Minneapolis.

The conference will concern itself with the proposed hospital program, board meetings, and election of delegates to the Jurisdiction Conference to be held in New Orleans in 1956.

Pastoral appointments will be read over Radio Station WOAI, San Antonio, at 10:30 p. m., Friday May 27, following the reading of the slate that afternoon.

Sunday Activities

Rev. Morton will read a resume of his annual report at the morning service here next Sunday. Finances are in good condition, expenses have been met and a record for year's attendance has been set in the Sunday school.

Sunday night at 6:30 there will be a fellowship supper, honoring the new members who have joined the church this year. This will be followed by the study book "Crowded Ways" which will be taught by the pastor.

All Methodist pastors, whether they move or not, will be back in their pulpits May 29 for the closing service of the conference year.

Screw Worm Problems

College Station.—Branding, de-horning, castrating and other seasonal livestock jobs may open the way to screw-worm infestations unless effective controls are used. Stockmen are advised to be on the alert for these costly insects and to treat all fresh wounds on livestock, infested or not.

One application of EQ-335 smear should do the job, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist. Large wounds may require a second treatment. EQ-335 contains lindane which gives a lasting killing effect. Apply the smear directly to the wound, then put a small ring around the opening.

Screw-worms increase rapidly once present. If headed off from the start, a lot of trouble and needless loss can be avoided, Garner says.

Mr. and Mrs. Glyndon Aldredge and baby of Abilene spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Mitchell.

Thought For The Week Ministerial Alliance

Final Accounting
Hebrews 9:27 "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment."

Let us face the fact with utmost seriousness. It is a day of judgment and punishment. It is also a day of deliverance and reward. There have been many days when the Lord revealed himself in terrible judgment against the ungodly and when he stretched forth his arm to redeem and vindicate his people. But there is coming the great and awful day—the day of the Lord's return. The Lord will come in power and glory. His coming will mean the execution of God's wrath against all the workers of iniquity and the glorious reception of all believers into the everlasting kingdom of the Father. When? Nobody knows. The Saviour has commanded us to be ready. This we can do only by faith and faithfulness. The day of the Lord is coming. What a blessed hope for all Christians.—J.C.H.

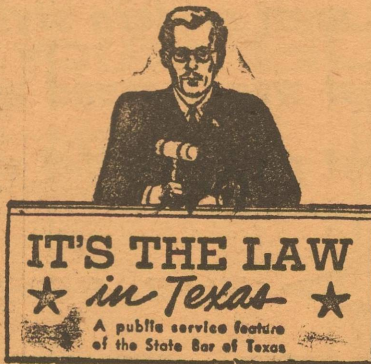

Brush Eradication Is Never-Ending Fight

Jacksboro.—"Brush control is a never ending fight in Jack county" says Ralph Wolfe who lives in the Jermyn community. "We've used more than 12 different methods of control within the past 12 years."

Latest method to go to test in the county is the "Bazooka," an injector type gun used in treating mesquite and oak trees. Range specialists report the bazooka needs more testing to find its proper place in the field of brush control. Sodium arsenate, ammate, 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T, coal oil and silvex are materials used in frills and on stumps of trees in the north central Texas county. Mechanical means employed in recent years include the ax, saw, bulldozer and cable, bulldozer and chain, burning and the latest method, tree injector. "Bulldozing followed by goats to keep the sprouts grazed down probably is the most popular method of oak tree control in the county," says J. W. Hulsey, county agent. "Coal oil still does a good job on mesquite."

Test plots where chemicals were applied from the air indicate that the airplane may have a place in Jack county's brush control program, Hulsey adds.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yates and children spent Sunday in San Angelo with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yates.

Individuals Responsible For Acts Of Agents

Suppose that you have hired Johnnie to cut your grass, and he runs your new mower into your neighbor's hedge thereby ruining the hedge. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are.

Or let us suppose that you find you need some supplies for the evening meal. You ask Johnnie, your neighbor's teen age son, to take your car and run to the store for them. On the way, Johnnie hits a pedestrian, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible. It is possible that you can.

In both instances, Johnnie was acting for you. His acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts.

You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned him to drive carefully and he did not.

The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

You may ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation.

You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. The action may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible.

In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval. For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business. If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

You may have agreed between you that neither of you would buy, without the other's consent, any items of merchandise costing more than $50. You did not give this information to salesmen who called on you. In your absence on a Thursday afternoon, your partner ordered merchandise for your store costing more than the $50 limit.

When the merchandise is delivered, you can not refuse to accept it because you can be bound by the contract of your partner. This is true in many situations, and the salesman is not bound by your partnership agreement because you did not advise him of the $50 limitation. As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The Presbyterian Church believes in predestination but not like the average person defines the word. We do not believe in fatalism, that what is to be will be and man has no part in it. That is not predestination. The starting point for predestination is "The Eternal Purpose of a Sovereign God." He is a God of love, righteousness, holiness and wisdom and his character determines the nature of his decrees and his decrees are both for His glory and man's greatest good. They initiate whatever comes to pass either directly or indirectly.

God is not the author of sin. He created a world in which sin was possible thru wrong choices of moral agents. This had to be so in order for man to be made in the image of God but God is not responsible for the sins we think up for ourselves. Even in the fall of man God has not taken away man's freedom to choose. God makes his love known to man but does not force him to accept salvation. Again, predestination does not depend on foreknowledge. Certainly God knows all things. But his purpose is primary. While God foreknows what men will do, he does not destroy their freedom to choose, yet ultimately rules and overrules to accomplish his purpose. But it must be remembered that no one who responds to the gospel is denied salvation.

Hospital Discussed

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting last Monday evening plans were discussed concerning a community and possibly county-wide meeting on the proposed hospital project planned here. No definite date for set at that time, but supporters of the movement are planning within the next week or two.

As the project now stands, blue prints of the structure are now in the making, and it is hoped that they may be completed sometime within the next week.—Eden Echo.

Blast Kills Two

Two men were fatally injured and a third received serious burns Friday afternoon in the Bakersfield farm community when butane gas escaping from a ruptured tank valve exploded.

Fire which followed the blast caused extensive property damage, destroying two bracer houses, the farm home of the L. C. Rejino family, a tractor, farm machinery and equipment, poultry and livestock, and the winch truck owned by H. F. Shellenburger of Fort Stockton.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

New Lighted Ball Park

A new ball park, complete with lights, grandstands, home run fence and all the trimmings was made possible Monday night when the city council met. Voting unanimously and with the recommendation of R. M. McCarver, superintendent of utilities, the council agreed to:

1. Furnish the city park near the swimming pool as a Little League baseball park.
2. Donate the transformers for lights, donate the wiring and the labor for installing the lights.
3. Buy poles, fixtures and bulbs, install them and bill them to the Little League, the city to be reimbursed by game receipts. The city's only requirement here is that a few citizens volunteer to underwrite cost of poles, fixtures and bulbs in case game receipts are insufficient.—Devils River News.

Tax Is Lowered

Sun Oil Company will get a decrease in its Coke County tax bill this year. The cut includes a 30% reduction in assessed valuation of the Millican field west of Edith, and a 5% cut in the Jameson field at Silver.
