Four Scouters Attend District Meeting Tuesday

Four Eldorado Scouters attended the annual banquet meeting Tuesday night of the Twin Mountain district of the Concho Valley Boy Scout council, which was held in the ballroom of the Cactus hotel in San Angelo. Attending from here were W. T. Whitten, Gus Love, W. G. Godwin, and Bill Gunstead.

Reports for the year were heard from various committee chairmen, and several unit leaders received awards.

J. B. Morris, professional Boy Scout worker who recently returned to this council after a 5½-year absence to be assistant Scout executive, was introduced. He will serve the Twin Mountain district for the time being.

Several Explorer Scouts and their leaders gave a report on the Canadian canoe trip they took last summer, showing slides taken in the trip. E. A. Brodhead, superintendent of the Sonora school system, was one of the leaders. Last summer was the first time this council organized such a trip, and another is in the planning stage for next August.

This same group of Explorers gave the closing ceremony for the meeting.

ELECTION ECHOES

In a village election in a rock-ribbed Republican Vermont, one Democratic vote was discovered before the tabulation had been completed. Election officials stopped to ponder this marvel, then decided to complete the count. Another Democratic vote turned up. "That settles it," said one official, "That dad-burned fool voted twice."

Businesses To Observe Thanksgiving Day Here

Most businesses in Eldorado are open today, Thursday, although this is the day nationally designated as Thanksgiving, and will close on the 29th in order to go along with the school holidays of the 29th and 30th.

The post office is closed today, and other federal employees are off. It is understood also that most colleges in the state are observing this weekend as the Thanksgiving weekend.

Next Thursday will see the town, including the bank, closed.

With W. G. Godwin presiding, the club voted to keep the 12:05 starting time. Gus Love gave a report on the annual banquet of the Boy Scout district held Tuesday night in San Angelo.

Rev. James Spencer brought a message in connection with Thanksgiving. Next week's meeting will consist of a choral group, and a treasurer's report will be given by Mrs. Mabel Parker, Schleicher county treasurer.

conference lay leader of the Southwest Texas conference. He has been a member of the Methodist church for 50 years and has had just about every lay job in the local church from bell ringer and organ pumper to board chairman and church school superintendent. While he has had a wide business career as advertising, sales and district manager in the electric products field, he says that he now devotes most of his time to church and civic activities.

West Well Is Assured Producer; Flows By Heads After Swabbing

As the Success prepared to go to press late last night, there was a great deal of interest in the new shallow oil well on the C. C. West section adjoining the west side of town. The history of activities for the past four days is as follows:

The R. H. Murray of San Antonio and Pico Drilling Co., of Breckenridge No. 1 C. C. West, est., 3-4-mile due west of Eldorado was swabbing into tanks early this week at a rate of about 3 barrels per hour.

The 20 ft. pay section is from 2193 to 2213 feet. An 8-foot section was perforated—from 2193 to 2206 with 8 shots per foot, and then treated with 500 gallons of acid. Swabbing got under way Sunday evening and after the hole had been cleaned out, swabbing was done into the storage tank, at an estimated rate of 3 barrels per hour.

By Monday evening operators were of the opinion that the well was good for at least 50 barrels a day on the pump, but it was decided to experiment further in an effort to improve it. On Tuesday, the operators removed the tubing and re-entered the hole with torpedo gun and perforated 6 more feet opposite the pay section—making a total of 14 feet of perforations. This was treated with 1000 gallons of acid during the forenoon yesterday—Wednesday. The well then kicked off without swabbing and was turned into the slush pits while it cleaned itself out. It was turned into the tanks about 1:00 p. m., and a growing crowd gathered to watch the flow.

It flowed by heads at a rate of about ten barrels an hour . . . the swabbing unit was used part of the time.

A Thomerson bulldozer was on the lease, clearing location and slushpit for an offset 933 feet south.

On the strength of the new oil play, B. E. Moore yesterday leased his 160 acres in sec. 79 at $25 per acre. This place adjoins the tract on which the new West well is located. There is considerable speculation regarding the Payne Robinson place which joins Wests on the east. A major oil company has the lease on Robinson's and it expires early in December. Predictions are that several more rigs will be running in the area within the next two weeks.

According to word at 8:00 o'clock this (Thursday) morning swabbing and testing will continue today.

Wildcat Scheduled In Northeast Schleicher

Alvin C. Hope of San Antonio and Midland will drill a deep wildcat in northeast Schleicher County, 29 miles northeast of Eldorado and 5/8-mile south of the Tom Green County line. It will be the No. 1 Upton & Upton. The project will be drilled with rotary to 6,000 feet. Elevation is 2321 ft.

Location, on a 40-acre lease, is 2,164 feet from the south and 476 feet from the west lines of 20-H-GH&SA. It is 2¼ miles west-northwest of the depleted one-well B.M.B. (Canyon) field, which was opened by Delta Gulf Drilling Co. No. 1 Boyd, finished in May, 1952, for a daily pumping potential of 48.6 barrels of 34.6 gravity oil through perforations between 4416-36 feet. The project encountered no fluid in the Ellenburger, topped at 5,130 feet on elevation of 2328 feet.

It is also 2¼ miles east and slightly north of Tucker 1 Upton, wildcat failure abandoned May 12 at 5780 feet.

Everyone in Vocational Agriculture is working hard this week as this rounds out the 12th week of school and this is test week.

The radio team is working on their program for the Concho District contest at San Angelo, Wednesday. The subject they will present is "Proper Range Use." The members of the team are Farris Nixon, Ernest Nimitz, Sherrill Dannheim, and Jimmie Whitten.

A group from Eldorado and Sonora visited the Ranch Experiment station Monday, November 19th. The ministers of Eldorado churches sponsored the trip. Those from Eldorado to make the trip were: Rev. Spencer, Rev. Hancock, Rev. Heaner, Rev. Harralson, W. G. Godwin, Bill Rountree, and Oliver Burk. Those from Sonora were Rev. Al Brown and Rev. Marshall. They met Mr. Doure of Israel at the Experiment Station, who made the tour with them. Group came to the conclusion that our range land is being mistreated; as a result it is sick and will eventually lead to a sick people on the land.

Plentiful Foods For December Are Listed

College Station.—Potatoes, canned sweet corn and broilers and fryers are featured on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's December plentiful foods list.

These products are in the heaviest supply in relation to normal holdings at this season in all of the trade territories surveyed in the southwest as well as on a national basis, says the chief of the southwest food and distribution division, John J. Slaughter of Dallas.

Meats and other protein rich foods also continue to dominate the plentiful list. Such holiday favorites as turkey, pork, beef, canned tuna, fish sticks, frozen haddock and ocean perch fillets, dry beans, peanut butter, eggs, milk and other dairy products are all listed as being in heavy supply.

Fruits listed for December include winter pears, dried prunes and canned purple plums. Vegetables, other than those featured, include onions and cabbage. Rounding out the list are rice, lard and dates.

There's been a lot of doing around to decide which Thanksgiving Eldorado will observe. As far as we can tell this morning, the majority of the businesses, including the bank, will close the fifth Thursday, and remain open today.

A deciding factor here was the school—it's taking next Thursday off, with the ensuing weekend.

EAGLES LOSE 37-6 TO SONORA BRONCOS IN FINAL DIST. TILT

Hopes of the Eldorado Eagles for top district honors were shattered last Friday night, when they proved to be no match for George Johnson and his galloping Sonora Broncos. The Eagles lost by a score of 37 to 6 in a game that drew crowds of people from all the neighboring counties.

Johnson scored all 37 points for his team. Eldorado's touchdown came after the game actually was finished. A Sonora penalty was called on the last play of the game just as the time ran out. Fans and sideliners swarmed on the field. The officials sent them all off again and penalized Sonora five yards for offside and gave Eldorado one more chance. Reyes Robledo raced 28 yards to the touchdown.

The victory gave the Broncos the title in District 8-A and they will play the winner of District 7-A, which is Big Lake, by virtue of their victory over Iraan.

Cecil Mac Walston, 16, when hunting out at Sam Henderson's, killed an 8-point buck with a bow and arrow!

All of the practicing these boys and men have been putting in is beginning to pay off.

Roy Lynn Love, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Love, killed a 6-point buck Sunday out at the Mayer ranch. That was the third day of the hunting season.

We have never regarded this drought-prone area of southwest Texas as a place where apple trees would do any good, but it evidently makes a difference who is growing them. Mrs. Ida Neill, deputy county clerk, brought us a bag of apples which were grown in her back yard, that looked as good as if they had come from a professional apple grower — maybe that's exactly what she is.

Especially interesting to A. T. Wright are recent Associated Press reports to the effect that one of the Union gunboats sunk in Galveston Bay during the Civil War may have been recovered.

Wright's father, a 16-year-old boy from Seguin was with the Confederate army that sank the Union gun boats when Galveston was recaptured.

An official of a Houston dredging firm states that his crew may have discovered the boat. A rigging block, bits of ship timbers and an ancient Colt revolver and scabbard were recovered.

Two federal gunboats were sunk and another captured in these waters.

The three Humble stations in this area—McKavett, Station A and Station B, continue to pump at capacity load, with no change in company orders. A new man at the McKavett Station is D. R. McGara, from McCamey, a vacation relief man, who will later be assigned permanently to McKavett, replacing one of the other men.

Operators were testing yesterday on a new irrigation well on the Mikeska place, the former Marvin McDonald farm. The equipment broke down while testing was going on yesterday. The Mikeskas' son Wayne is arriving about December 1 to make his home on this place.

When this well has been tested the equipment will be moved over to a new well on Moores—it's awaiting testing.

A total of 1133 bales of cotton had been ginned up to 5:00 Wednesday evening.

Publication Available On Cotton Irrigation

College Station. — High Plains cotton farmers should find the information given in a new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication, B-838, Guides in Cotton Irrigation, most helpful in setting up their plans for another crop year.

Authors of the new publication are E. L. Thaxton, Jr., assistant irrigation engineer, at the Lubbock substation and N. P. Nelson, irrigation engineer, ARS, Lincoln, Nebraska but formerly of the Amarillo Experiment Station.

Covered in the bulletin are the results of studies conducted at Lubbock and Tulia on the use of irrigation water by cotton. The research workers found that cotton yields in pounds of lint per inch of water were about the same for all moisture levels studied but in general, the high moisture levels are the most profitable.

They say that because cotton can use varying amounts of water efficiently, it is an easier crop to irrigate than grain sorghums. They emphasize that the most important irrigation is the one done before the cotton crop is planted. Getting water stored in the soil for the upcoming cotton crop, they say, can go a long way toward supplying the moisture required for maximum crop production.

Recommendations are listed in the bulletin on water management, cultural practices, along with brief statements on methods of irrigation and fiber quality.

Copies of the publication are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Pass It On

Have you had a kindness shown? Pass it on!
'Twas not given for thee alone— Pass it on!
Let it travel down the years, Let it wipe another's tears Till in heaven the deed appears, Pass it on!

The words of this hymn, "Pass It On" were written by Henry Burton, a Methodist minister, born in England, later came to America with his parents and settled in Illinois. Later he returned to England to preach in the churches there more than forty years. An incident that happened to his brother-in-law, a Mr. Mark Pearse, gave rise to this hymn. As Mr. Pearse was returning to England from Holland aboard ship, thinking he had paid all his fare and expenses, he was confronted by a steward who presented him with a bill. Explaining that he had no money with which to pay, he was asked for his name and address. Upon giving his name, the steward removed his cap and extended his hand, explaining: His mother had once been in great need, and Mr. Pearse's father had befriended her. He thought he might never have a chance to repay the kindness, but now he could. He would pay the bill himself because of his gratitude. And he did. When Mr. Pearse landed he related to his father what had happened. His father said "See how a bit of kindness lives! Now he has passed it on to you; remember, if you meet anybody who needs a friendly hand, you must pass it on to him."

Henry Burton heard the statement and the words "Pass it on" kept ringing in his mind. So he wrote the words to the great hymn. How many of us remember such kindness shown us, or our loved ones? How many of us are truly "passing it on" to others? Remember the words of Jesus, "Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbor unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that showed mercy upon him. Then Jesus said, Go, and do thou likewise." Luke 10:36,37.—J.C.H.

Austin.—Texas' 56th Legislature will have much of its work cut out for it by January 8. State agencies and public and semi-public groups by the score are busy drawing up desired changes in state laws. Almost every day brings one or more public appeals pinpointing some proposed enactment as vital to state progress. Some want certain laws liberalized. Others want them tightened. Many departments of state government seek new or increased appropriations.

Examples in the news: State Board of Education wants $50,000 a year for the next two fiscal years for education and rehabilitation of mentally retarded. Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools wants the state cigarette tax providing $5,000,000 a year for its building program continued two more years. Contingent on this, it asks $11,000,000 for building improvements in the next biennium.

Texas Prison Board wants some $5,500,000 for new building and staff needs resulting from an 80 per cent jump in prison population. Texas Law Enforcement Conference wants 29 law changes aimed at updating criminal detection and trial procedures. Typical items: set up a statewide file of fingerprints of convicted felons, allow drunk driving convictions upon scientific blood tests, provide public defenders for defendants without funds, etc.

Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce wants to institute annual legislative sessions with annual and more substantial salaries.

Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers wants a 10-point program involving improvement of the school system and teacher salaries, strengthening of laws concerning juveniles, banning of common law marriages, sale of narcotics to children and sale of fireworks.

Costly Change

At an approximate cost of $1.00 per vote, Texans have approved a plan to aid the permanently disabled. It was the third time in history the Legislature had fumbled its calendar in setting a constitutional amendment election. Eight amendments were taken care of with the general election. But the ninth, by error, was dated for a week later.

Confused or short of funds, nine counties held no election. Another held it a week early. In all, some 200,000 straggled to the polls. Estimated cost, $200,000.

Under the amendment, qualified persons will receive $58 a month, $20 from the state, balance from federal funds.

NAACP Seeks Move

Next encounter between the state and the NAACP will be in Tyler district court Dec. 3. NAACP will then seek to have the site of future hearings changed from Tyler to Dallas or Austin.

Last month in Tyler, Dist Judge Otis T. Dunagan granted a temporary injunction against operation of the NAACP in Texas. Defendants gave oral notice of appeal. Since, the organization abandoned appeal efforts and asked for a full trial on merits. If it loses this, the injunction becomes permanent.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said his staff already is at work preparing and that he "earnestly hopes" the trial can be completed in December. Shepperd will be succeeded by Will Wilson on Jan. 1.

Oil Boost Okayed

Texas' December oil allowable will be 3,442,592 barrels daily—an increase of 75,503 barrels a day. A 16-day producing pattern was set by the Railroad Commission, compared to 15 days in November.

Several major companies had urged 17 to 19 producing days because of disruption of supply lines from the Middle East. But representatives of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners contended crisis needs could be met with surplus oil in above-ground storage.

In announcing the 16-day pattern, Comm. Chmn. William Murray said the commission could issue a half-month emergency order later if necessary.

State Wins Tideland

State Supreme Court added to Texas' public domain in a case setting the boundary between tidal and landholder's property.

"Highest tide of the year," not "average high tide," determines the dividing line between tideland and coast land, ruled the court. In the test case Texas gained 4,986 acres of mud flats along Laguna Madre north of Port Isabel. Eventual result, said Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, will be the gaining of hundreds of thousands of acres and millions of dollars for the permanent school fund.

Tidelands, according to law, belong to the state. Income is earmarked for education.

Grain Crops Skid

Texas 1956 grain crops will be substantially less than last year, but better than expected earlier. A 28-million bushel corn crop is forecast by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. This compares to 49 million bushels in 1955. Sorghum is expected to hit 98 million bushels, a drop of about one third. Rice is set at 46 million bags, a 15 per cent decline.

Even so, forecasts showed an optimistic upturn since the last estimates a month ago. Another bright spot: USDA expects citrus production to run more than 50 per cent above last season.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Chapple had as guests during the past weekend their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. McBurnett and daughter Suzanne of Odessa.

Elvis Parker and his son Floyd Phillip came in Monday morning with an 8-point buck which the boy had shot in Sutton county.

Mrs. A. E. Kent had as a weekend guest her grandson Tom Kent of Monahans. This week her daughter Mrs. A. P. Waldrip and grandchildren Kent and Perry are visiting her.

Mrs. Burl Pringle and son David of Midland have been visiting in the home of her sister-in-law Mrs. Alfonsa Orsak. On Sunday all visited in San Angelo with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pringle.

On Monday the Orsaks visited in Big Spring with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Englert and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Christian. The Christians have bought a residence and day nursery there.

Here for the weekend as guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell were her daughter Mrs. Walter Rae and husband and children Lee and Susal, of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hall and Barbara spent the weekend here, attending the game and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Mackey.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There'll Always Be An "Expert"

Drove out to see how they're getting along with the new super-highway that's going to pass through town.

While I was there a fussy little guy—a spectator, like me—came up to the foreman on the job and started making all sorts of suggestions: "Shouldn't it go a little farther left there? ... Why don't you bank the curves more? ... Those ditches are awful close" ... and so, on and on.

The foreman took it as long as he could, then asked politely, "How does she look for length?"

From where I sit, free advice is called "free" because it's usually not worth much. That little fellow was typical of the kind of "expert" who can't resist getting in digs—about how you work, what you wear, why you happen to prefer a glass of beer with your supper. People like that don't mean to be troublemakers ... but the road to real intolerance is paved with their good intentions.

TWO BLADES OF GRASS
— where one grew before

We have many blessings to be thankful for on this THANKSGIVING DAY. We haven't suffered bad storms. We haven't had epidemics of the dread diseases. We have not had hungry people lined up before "Soup Kitchens." Many blessings have come our way — this THANKSGIVING DAY.

Because of adverse conditions caused by the lack of rainfall, all of us must double our efforts ... we must make TWO BLADES OF GRASS grow where one grew before.

We, in the West Texas Utilities Company, are doing this very thing. We have spent, in the past 10 years, 56 million dollars on new equipment and installations. We are looking at both today and tomorrow, forming plans and working to keep ahead of the needs for electric power in the area we serve. We have confidence in West Texas and its people; we know they will do their best to make TWO BLADES OF GRASS GROW where one grew before.

Engineer Advises That Farm Machinery Should Be Winterized

College Station.—A hard freeze can play havoc with auxiliary motors, tractor engines and sprayers unless they have been properly winterized, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

Auxiliary motors should be cleaned; the crankcase drained and refilled with new oil and the motor run for a few minutes to coat all surfaces with oil. The radiator should be drained and flushed with a reliable radiator cleaner and then flushed again with clear water.

Remove the spark plugs. Give them a good cleaning and adjust and oil before replacing them, says Ulich. The upper cylinder walls should be lubricated while the plugs are out. Drain the fuel tank and allow to air dry. Cover the end of the exhaust and breather pipes to prevent moisture from entering the motor. Clean and charge the battery and store it where it will not freeze.

To winterize spray equipment, the engineer advises flushing the entire system. All drain plugs should be removed and the pump operated for a few minutes. Open all valves while the pump is running to release any trapped water and remove and place all valve balls in oil. Drain the oil from the pump and flush with kerosene; refill the pump with new oil. Grease and turn shafts to distribute the grease on shafts and bearings and hang hose so all water drains out.

Give all machinery a good cleaning; pack bearings to seal out moisture; remove belts and canvases and store in a dry, rodent-proof container and apply a rust inhibitor to all polished surfaces such as plow moldboards and sieves. While this job is being done, Ulich suggests a close inspection of all machinery for broken, bent or worn parts. Repairs or replacements can be made during the winter.

Winterizing farm machinery and equipment can save valuable time and money in addition to adding years to the serviceable life of the equipment, says Ulich. Too, the present cost-squeeze is such that farmers just cannot afford losses which can be prevented.

Hints On Management Of Winter Pastures

College Station.—Recent rains in many areas of the state have been sufficient to germinate and start growth of dry planted winter pastures. Too, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, plantings can still be made but late plantings mean less grazing. However, he adds, a little grazing is much better than none.

Management practices followed will determine to a large degree the amount of grazing which winter pastures will provide, points out Trew. Small grains and annual clovers should not be grazed until the plants have developed root systems sufficient to keep them from being pulled up by grazing animals. Upright type plants such as Alamo oats and Goliad barley should be 8 inches high before being grazed. The prostrate types such as Mustang oats should be from 4-6 inches high before they are grazed.

First year plantings of broome, orchard, fescue or perennial rye unless irrigated or on very fertile soil should not be grazed. The first season's growth of these perennials may be taken as hay in order to give the plants an opportunity to become established.

When winter pastures are ready for grazing, Trew says to graze the plants down fast and evenly then move the stock to another pasture. Rotate the grazing for maximum forage production. Stock on winter pastures should continue to get dry hay. The dry feed will help control blout.

Fertilizing is a very important part of management. After grazing down the plants, Trew recommends a top dressing of 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen an acre if moisture conditions are good. This practice usually pays big dividends in increased growth and Trew reports that some stockmen topdress their pastures twice.

As an aid in managing the winter pasture, the specialist suggests that a copy of L-258, Winter Temporary Pastures, be obtained from the local county agent.

Mrs. Tom Johnson and others here Friday had as guests Mrs. G. L. Lewis and daughter Mrs. Blake Duncan and Mrs. C. T. Womack of San Angelo.

Mrs. S. E. Jones Jr. and family spent the weekend in Sutton County at the ranch home of her aunt, Mrs. J. S. Holman.

LEAVES MAKE GOOD COMPOST FOR GARDENS

College Station. — If properly handled, the leaves which are now falling and cluttering yards and gardens can give a boost to next year's flower or vegetable garden, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist.

It may be easier to burn them but the extra time required to put them in a compost pile will return big dividends, explains the specialist. Use the compost next year to increase the organic matter in the soil or for mulching flowers, shrubs or vegetables, he says. Organic matter increases the soil's ability to hold water and plant nutrients and makes the soil easier to work. Mulches are valuable for controlling soil temperature and conserving moisture.

Making a compost pile is an easy operation. Scrap lumber or a few feet of net wire and four posts will take care of the enclosure, says Thornton. Then start with a six inch layer of leaves—and for the four foot square enclosure—dissolve a cup of commercial fertilizer, either 8-8-8 or 5-10-5, in water and sprinkle the solution over the layer of leaves. Keep adding these alternate layers until the pile reaches the desired height. Leave the top layer somewhat saucer shaped as an aid for holding water on the leaves. Cover the pile with a shallow layer of soil.

Decomposition of the leaves will be speeded up if the material is turned and water added at regular intervals. In areas where the soils are acid, Thornton suggests adding a cup of lime to the fertilizer.

Lights Needed In The Poultry House

College Station.—Laying flocks need at least 13 hours of good light every day if high egg production is to be maintained. Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, says research has shown that the effect of light which enters through the hen's eye and is carried to the pituitary gland stimulates the production of the hormones which activates the egg producing process and keeps the rate of lay high.

Since the light rays to be effective must hit the eyes of the birds, Wormeli says it is important that lights be placed so the entire house is well lighted especially over the feeders and waterers.

He suggests that clear 60 watt bulbs set six feet above the floor and 14 feet apart be used. A clean 12 inch shallow reflector used with each bulb will help give better light distribution. The use of an automatic timing switch is also suggested for these can be easily set to take care of the changing daylight hours. Too, Wormeli points out, that lights are needed on cloudy days. A light intensity of at least one foot candle power at the hen's eye level is recommended as the minimum requirement for laying hens.

Wormeli says that some poultrymen use both morning and evening light periods to maintain the 13-hour length day. If the hens are on the floor, he says, a 15 minute period of dimmed lights is recommended as a signal for the hens to go to the roosts. With pullets starting their lay in late summer or early fall, it is best to wait until production slackens slightly before starting the use of lights to lengthen the day. Turn on the lights, he says, as soon as there is a slight slack in production. Waiting too long may cause a slight molt and a heavy drop in egg output.

The use of artificial lights to keep the hens on the job for 13 hours a day is a necessary management practice for keeping egg production high throughout the year, and profits up, says Wormeli.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Monday, December 3 will be the last day for ranchers to apply for drouth emergency hay for the remainder of the year 1956. Miss Gainell Belk or Mrs. Kenneth Cheek will take your application at the court house.

In drouth feeding of cows and heifers ranchers should feed at least the minimum roughage requirements. One pound of roughage per 100 pounds of body weight is the absolute minimum for the function of the digestive system. Two pounds of roughage per 100 pounds of body weight meets all the energy requirements. One pound of grain can be substituted for two pounds of roughage.

Feed adequate protein for proper digestion, especially when feeding low quality roughages. If dry grass or roughage is ample, feed two pounds of 41% protein cake or meal per head daily. When grain is substituted for a part of the roughage, feed 1½ pounds of protein per head daily. Grain will not substitute for protein.

Feed extra phosphorus in a good mineral mix or use a half-and-half mixture salt and steamed bone meal, free access.

Vitamin A requirements should be watched especially for cows and calves. If a deficiency should show up, a good grade of alfalfa or alfalfa pellets should be fed.

Only the best and most productive cows will pay. Start feeding before cattle become weak and thin. Calves should be put on a creep as soon as they will eat.

In Emerson's Day the world might have beaten a path to the door of the man who made the best mousetrap, but today it takes advertising enough to convince the people it is the best, with street and house number given, and mention made of parking space for cars while the trap is being examined.

Shrinkage plays an important part in marketing of livestock. Often the producers bypass themselves out of a chance to get the highest net profit for livestock. But they don't have to. They can bargain just as shrewdly as the buyer even though their experience in major sales doesn't equal his. All records should be kept on shrinkage experience by the producer. Here are some points:

(1) The highest price per pound doesn't necessarily mean the highest profit per animal. A lower pound price can be more profitable when the buyer is allowed to subtract too many pounds for shrinkage. (2) If cattle sold with a pencil shrink is weighted early in the morning the buyer is getting the benefit of two shrinks. That may be a better deal for him; a worse deal for you. (3) If animals are moved off the ranch and weighed on scales the livestock shrinks some more. It's up to you to allow for this. Shrinkage records do this. (4) Weighing away from ranch involves certain incidental expenses. You pay them. You have the right to allow for them in considering a price.

Check the four points above with your shrinkage experience records. Definite examples will be given later—because the rancher forgot to allow for two shrinkages instead of one.

DO-IT-YOURSELF: GET THREE MEALS FROM ONE ECONOMY BEEF POT ROAST

If your family likes beef — and who doesn't — they will love this new design for living. Simply buy a full 6th and 7th rib pot roast, divide it, before cooking, into the several cuts illustrated above and prepare each in your family's favorite way. (1) Have your butcher saw through the rib bones above the eye of fat. Hold firmly to both ends to separate the rib-eye from the outside section. Cut rib bones free and trim lean meat off. Remove thin blade cartilage and backbone. (2) Then roll outside section, fat side out, into a pot roast and skewer or tie. Cook over low temperature with moisture for best results. (3) Slice the rib-eye into 1½ to 2-inch "country club" steaks which are tender enough to broil or, if preferred, swiss. Use bones for beef stock and lean meat for stew. Wrap or cover the cuts loosely if they are to be used within a few days; freeze them if longer storage is desired. At-home fabricating saves time and money, says the Texas Beef Council and provides three or four distinctively different dinners.

Something old -- Something new

--and something to help make dreams come true

Wondering what to give the bride and groom? Here's a gift suggestion for anyone who doesn't know the bride's choice of silver . . . isn't sure whether she prefers traditional or modern . . . or how many duplicates she already has. Our suggestion — a U. S. Series E Savings Bond.

Something old—It's an age-old problem: — the wants and needs of brides and grooms always exceed their means to fulfill them. But your gift of a U. S. Savings Bond will give them help when it's needed most.

Something new — Brides of history were given land or a fine fat pig. The modern practical wedding gift is a U. S. Savings Bond — a gift that will increase in value and reflect your thoughtfulness for many years to come.

Something to help make dreams come true — Every young couple has a favorite dream. Maybe it's a home of their own — a car — or their own business. Your gift of a U. S. Savings Bond will help bring this dream just that much closer. What's more, the Bond you give may be the young couple's first step towards a regular savings program of U. S. Savings Bonds. Savings Bonds are easy to buy. Just stop in at your local bank today. The teller will take care of your Bond request in seconds. And while you're there, buy a Bond for yourself, too. Or sign up for Payroll Savings where you work. There's no better way to make your own dreams come true.

FOR THE BIG THINGS IN YOUR LIFE, BE READY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

VISITING SPEAKER ADDRESSES P-TA AT TUES. MEETING

The Eldorado P-TA met Tuesday night at the high school auditorium at 7:30 to hear an address, "We the People, Give Thanks for Our Schools," given by Dr. Frank Royal, pastor of the South Side Baptist church in Abilene.

Mrs. Ed Meador presided at the business meeting before the program. A report was made on the mental health workshop in San Angelo in October, and it was decided that the P-TA will provide booklets for the teaching staff as well as the members of the Ministerial Alliance, to be distributed to interested parents explaining the need for a better understanding of mental health.

Mr. Holcomb announced that Dr. Willis A. Sutton, youth counselor for the high school students, will be in Eldorado Thursday, Dec. 13, and the school will set aside part of his time so he can talk with any parents who have parent-teenage problems they want to discuss with him. Anyone who wishes to talk to Dr. Sutton is asked to contact Mrs. Ed Meador or Mrs. Joe Christian in order to have an appointed time.

Announcement was also made of American Book week being observed in November and Miss Shelton, high school librarian, passed out a list of 40 books which should be read by every child before he is 16. Anyone wishing copies of this list may ask Miss Shelton.

Mrs. Teele's high school choral group sang the following songs, an Italian folk song, "Steal Away Home" and "Weary Blues." Penny Childress was the soloist with the group. The high school sextette sang "You Don't Know Me." Nancy Jo Jackson accompanied both groups.

Rev. Clifton Hancock was the program leader for the evening and he presented Dr. Royal. In his address Dr. Royal explained the reason for America's prominence in the world today stems to the American system of public education which is unique in the world. He maintained that not only in our schools, but in our homes, churches, and communities we must be constantly building character in our children and young people. Parents and teachers must set wholesome examples, give ungrudging love, maintain a fair but firm discipline, and provide responsibilities for the youth in order to build this character. The religious background is of prime importance to give them faith and to enable them to know the very basis of our lives.

The next PTA program will be December 18 at 7:30 and will present the annual Christmas program of Miss Teele's elementary school choral club.
