Another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hull of Tyler, arrived Saturday after a visit to Carlsbad. Mrs. Hull remained here for a week's visit with her parents.

Mrs. Hymer will be remembered as Dorothy Maxfield, a former teacher in the Eldorado schools.

Scout National Jamboree Will Open Tomorrow

All is in readiness at Valley Forge, Pa., for the formal opening tomorrow of the Fourth National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America, which is expected to attract at least 50,000 Scouts and leaders from all over the nation.

Jim Runge and Tom Meador of Eldorado were included in the contingent from Concho Valley Council who left by train from San Angelo Friday night. Concho Valley's 74 Scouts and six leaders were due to arrive at Valley Forge Tuesday of this week and take a trip to New York City before Friday's official opening of the Jamboree.

President Eisenhower is expected to speak at a program tomorrow night which will launch the week-long Jamboree.

After the close of the event, the West Texas Scouts will visit Niagara Falls, Detroit, and Chicago before returning to San Angelo on July 23rd.

Iran Road Proposal Meeting Is Scheduled

(Ft. Stockton Pioneer, July 4)
A July 8 meeting between the highway committee of the Fort Stockton Chamber of Commerce, members of the Iran city council and the Crockett County commissioners court is scheduled in Ozona. The three groups will discuss the possibility of constructing a road approximately 26 miles across the northern part of Crockett county, extending east from Iran to an intersection with FM 33 about 20 northwest of Ozona.

The Fort Stockton chamber of commerce and the Iran council have gone on record in favor of the proposed road, which would give Iran a direct link to Eldorado and the east, while the Crockett commissioners have so far shown little interest in the project.

They must okay it by purchasing fencing and right-of-way before it can be built. They turned down a similar proposal on the road six months ago, saying they could see no value to Crockett county from such a road. It would allow motorists to bypass Ozona, the Crockett County seat.

Iran city councilman W. R. Lanehart and Crockett County commissioner W. T. Miller met here late last week for preliminary discussion concerning the road. Miller at that time indicated he might vote in favor of the highway. The proposed road would run through his precinct.

Following the scheduled meeting in Ozona next Monday, the Pecos County commissioners and the Iran council plan to meet with state officials in Austin sometime between July 10 and 22, said County Judge Paul Counts.

Visiting Mrs. H. F. Webb here over the Fourth were her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Webb of Ozona and her niece, Dolores Ann Elbracht of Odessa. Also visiting Mrs. Webb were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Sweeten of Ozona. Mrs. Webb is visiting this week in San Antonio.

Eldorado 4th of July Events Prove Unqualified Success

Luedecke Day has come and gone!

Events were carried out as scheduled last Thursday, the Fourth of July, when over 3,000 West Texans observed General Alvin Luedecke Day here. A full day was held in honor of one of the county's most famous native sons.

The weather was the traditional 100-above 4th of July weather, but it didn't seem to wilt the enthusiasm of the crowd—and there were no accidents to mar the events of the day.

An informal come-as-you-are coffee from 8:00 to 9:30 in the morning launched the Day, with the general's EHS Class of 1923 as hosts.

At 10:30 a flight of jets signaled the start of the parade in General Luedecke's honor. Floats depicted the various periods of his life, from babyhood, through school days here, A&M college days, Randolph days, and his period in the Far East Command in World War II. Included were the drill team from Connally AFB, the band from Webb AFB, an airplane which was towed, and a flag color guard.

A surprise came when one of the hovering helicopters or "whirly birds" came to a landing in the street in front of the post office, raising a cloud of dust reminiscent of other dusters of recent years here.

At noon, Lions club members and Legionnaires turned to with a will to distribute free barbecue with trimmings to about 2500. The crowd was considered second only to the 5,000 who came to the formal opening of the West Texas Woolen Mill in 1941.

Orland Harris did the barbecue.

ing, and Don McCormick was general chairman of arrangements for the barbecue.

In the afternoon program, Luedecke received a citation from Maj. Gen. T. C. Odom, commander of the San Antonio Air Material Area. He also received a second oak leaf cluster to his Legion of Merit. Rep. O. C. Fisher was master of ceremonies for the program held on the courthouse lawn.

Formally opening the new Schleicher county swimming pool in western Eldorado, a bathing review was held starting at 4:30. Jeannie Mund won first in the beauty contest, and there were swimming and diving exhibitions. The pool manager, Jack Browning, was in charge.

This is the first year for the new pool to be in use. Voters approved a bond issue only last year for the facility, after which the county acquired all of a block in the West addition for the pool location.

Banquet

"I'm going back to Washington to go to work—and after this day nothing can stop me," so said Gen. Alvin Luedecke at the banquet which concluded L-Day on the Fourth. Two hundred were present at the dinner, including visiting dignitaries and old friends of the General.

Joe Mueller Christian introduced Ed Meador as MC, and he in turn, introduced Congressman O. C. Fisher, Mrs. John Luedecke and Mrs. Alvin Luedecke, mother and wife of the General respectively. J. Earl Rudder, land commissioner, and Congressman Olin Teague, intimate friend and A&M classmate. Don McCormick, of the Bev. Mc-Cormick post of American Legion, presented the General with a life membership in the post, and Joe Christian, substituting for Joe Andrews, who is ill with malaria, and Charlie Trigg who was attending Lions International at San Francisco, presented him with honor membership in Lions International. He also recognized Ernest Hill as an outstanding Lion, mentioned past accomplishments of the club and read letters of endorsement from high ranking government officials.

In his address on atomic energy, Gen. Luedecke expressed his appreciation to his home community for the honor accorded him. In reviewing past events he stated that in answer to the question as to why he chose the Army for a career he said that he did not think he would make a good farmer, that his chosen engineer's course had produced an oversupply of engineers, and that air plane power, just emerging from its infancy, seemed to promise most.

He discussed the seriousness and scope of the fall-out problems and the extent of the work being done to cope with it, and pointed out the problem of development and control of atomic energy in peacetime. He devoted some time to tracing the history of laws pertaining to atomic energy and listed the various organizations concerned with it.

JULY 4 EVENTS RECORDED BY "TEXAS IN REVIEW"

Independence Day celebrations step into the spotlight on "Texas in Review," Humble Oil and Refining Company's weekly television program, during the week of July 15. Highlight will be presentation of a medal to a distinguished Texan for outstanding service to the nation.

A special ceremony at Eldorado honors Major Gen. Alvin R. Luedecke, a native son, who receives the Legion of Merit medal during the program. At Seguin, fireworks, a parade, and selection of "Miss South Texas" make July 4th a memorable occasion.

The festive mood continues as the Humble camera moves to Jacksboro to record the colorful centennial celebration of Jack County. History and present day life in the county will also be featured. At Mineral Wells, TV viewers will tour the 'Crimemobile' currently traveling the state, with its 1,000,000th visitor. Another feature will show the organization and function of the State Bar of Texas, which has headquarters in Austin.

Ministerial Alliance Elects New Officers

The Eldorado Ministerial Alliance met last week in the study of the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. S. R. Smith as host pastor. Several items of business were discussed, among them were: a city-wide revival, securing the appearance of Mr. R. G. LeTourneau in the city, and erecting church signs on the highways.

Officers for the new year were elected as follows: the Rev. R. R. Heaner, president; the Rev. Alanson Brown, vice president; and the Rev. James C. Spencer, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the alliance will be on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 11, at 3:00 o'clock at Saint Mary's Episcopal Church.

Rhonda Sproul, a patient at Gonzales Warm Springs, spent the holidays with her family, and her father, Carroll Sproul, took her back Sunday.

PHONE RATES, AGAIN!

Representatives of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest met with city officials and interested citizens Tuesday afternoon to discuss the phone company's proposed rate increases for Sonora.

City Attorney L. W. Elliott deemed financial statements accompanying the request incomplete for just and fair analysis. City officials asked that financial information be supplied by the company before any action is taken on the request of the commission.

A compromise rate schedule seems likely at this time with both City and Company anxious to reach an amicable agreement. —Sonora Devil's River News.

Local Riding Club Buys Building For Club House

The Riding Club has bought the Calvary Baptist church building for a club house and has engaged a mover to put the building on a new foundation at the arena grounds.

The building is only a few years old and will not require extensive changes to make it suitable for a club house. The members are doing their own work on the foundation. It will be remembered that the building was built several years ago by the Calvary congregation from materials they had salvaged from the old Nicks house in western Eldorado that they purchased and dismantled.

To accommodate the arena and the club house the Riding club has leased 3 1/2 acres from the school under long-term contract. Spectator stands, the arena and other improvements are already in place and the new building will provide the meeting place for social affairs which the club has needed.

"It's costing us money and we'll have to get busy," says one of the members this week.

The club announces that there will be another roping Saturday night and invites the public to attend.

Broilers A Favorite Of Backyard Chefs

College Station.—Cooking out of doors is a popular pastime that has been enjoyed for a long time but chicken broilers have only entered the picture in recent years. Young, tender broilers when cooked one to one and a quarter hours provide excellent barbecue, according to Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist. Either fresh or quick frozen birds, ready-to-cook, are satisfactory for barbecuing.

In the way of equipment, Schlamb says that portable barbecuing outfits or electric outfits may be used but simple equipment such as a metal rack set up on four bricks standing on end will do. The flavor and aroma of the meat is unchanged.

Charcoal or briquets are most popular for fuel, but good dry hardwood works well. In either case, the specialist advises letting the fire burn down to the coals. Have the coals no higher than 2 inches and replenish if needed. The grill should be 12 to 20 inches above the heat source. Low, even heat is the secret.

The heart of a good broiler is a spicy, savory sauce, says Schlamb. The Poultry and Egg National Board has developed a simple sauce made of 1/4 cup of water, 1 cup vinegar, 1/4 pound butter and 1 tablespoon of salt heated together. Different people may prefer different combinations of these ingredients.

The real fun of a chicken barbecue, beside the eating, is in the cooking. Halved birds are ideal, but they may be quartered if smaller portions are desired. Brush the birds with sauce, laying the skin side up, advises Schlamb. Do not pierce the skin. Keep the fire low to avoid scorching and cooking too quickly. Turn the birds every 10 to 15 minutes and baste each time. To test for doneness, twist the drumstick. It turns out of the thigh joint readily when the bird is done.

Broiler barbecues can be made to fit any crowd, and you don't have to be an expert chef to turn out a fine barbecued chicken. Try it on your next outing, suggests Schlamb.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blaylock had as week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Nick Nikolauk and son Mike, and Don Moseley, all of Waco.

Mrs. L. O. Tomlinson and son Tommy returned Saturday to their home in San Angelo after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker.

Crop Residue Utilization
By Lloyd B. Johnson

Crop residue utilization is one of the most important soil and water conservation practices in use today. Even though crop residue utilization ranks high in benefits to the soil and good crop production, it can be applied with little effort and expense. Crop residue utilization is the management of crop residue and other vegetative material so as to leave a protective cover on the surface of the soil.

Farmers in the low rainfall areas realize that they need all the rain they receive to produce good crops. Good rains however, do not always guarantee good crops. Crop residue utilization used in combination with other soil and water conservation practices will help assure better crops.

Crop residue utilization used with contour farming and level closed end terraces assures the farmer of the maximum amount of soil and water held on the land.

The crop residue serves as an umbrella for the soil. This umbrella is different from others in that it helps the soil to get wet rather than keep it dry. The force of the raindrops are broken when they strike the crop residue. This prevents the rain from packing the soil and causing it to seal over, whereby it would take up water at a slower rate. After the raindrop is cushioned by the residue it is held on the soil allowing it to go into the soil. By holding the water on the soil longer more of it goes into the soil.

The rate of infiltration of water into the soil is very important in soil and water conservation. Soils that are kept in good physical condition by the use of crop residue take water into the soil much faster than those low in organic matter. This is of utmost importance. The rain needed to make a good crop can be lost by runoff. If the soil is in poor physical condition and does not take water fast enough After the water is stored in the soil, crop residue continues to help conserve it. A good cover of crop residue reduces the amount of moisture lost from the soil by evaporation. The residue again acts as an umbrella, keeping the hot sunshine from striking direct against the soil. By shading the soil and keeping it cooler, loss of moisture by evaporation is reduced to a minimum.

Wind erosion is much less on soil covered with good crop residue than on bare soil. The residue reduces the velocity of the wind at the ground surface. Furthermore the residue prevents the wind from striking the ground directly, and therefore keeps it from picking up much soil. In addition, the decaying plant litter improves the physical condition of the soil. The soil is kept more porous and develops a mellow condition that lessens running together and cracking.

Crop residue (grain stubble and straw) should not be turned completely under, but should be mixed in with topsoil in such a manner that much of it remains exposed.

Farmers of the Eldorado Divide soil conservation district have a better opportunity to leave good crop residue this year than in several years. By practicing good crop residue utilization in combination with the other needed soil and water conservation practices, farmers can make a little water go a long way.

All families who have milk cows and are drinking the milk should be sure that they are free of TB and Bangs disease. Both diseases are carried in the milk causing tuberculosis and undulant fever in people.

To those that are interested in getting these tests run call 24281, county agents office. If a sufficient number respond, the cost of these tests is greatly reduced. All tests are given by a qualified veterinarian.

Green scum can be killed on stock troughs, reservoirs or ponds with Bluestone (copper sulphate). Use one ounce to 8,000 gallons of water or one level teaspoonful for 1,500 gallons of water. Dissolve the proper amount in a few gallons of water, in a wooden bucket, stoneware, or enamel container. Stir the solution in the water to be treated as thoroughly as possible.

In recent checks on the cotton insect population, there were found to be quite a few small, black hopping insects about the size of a fleahopper. In spite of rather heavy infestations in places, these insects did not seem to be causing any appreciable damage.

Positive identification of these insects places them in the family Miridae and of a type not known to damage cotton. From observations in cotton fields, it appears that these small insects do more good than harm, although it is not known for certain what these miridae feed on.

Heavy infestations of these insects need cause no alarm, and the field should not be sprayed solely for the control of them.

The kinds of meats preferred by the people of Texas and the United States may be quite surprising to most producers, although it varies by localities in the state and the nation.

For instance 60% of the families in Texas preferred beef. Chicken, the next most popular choice, was preferred by 17% of the families. Veal was preferred by 9%, fresh pork 6%, with 2% preferring cured pork. About 4% preferred fish. Practically none preferred mutton and a small percentage had no meat preference.

Some of the things that influence meat preferences are family income, race of people in the vicinity, education and methods of cooking.

How Savings Bonds
can help you build your DREAM HOME

"Maybe an American family starts with a dropped handkerchief. But somewhere along the line, even before the ring, the dreams start. One of the big things in those dreams is a house of your own, a house that's just the way you want it. And for more than a million American families a year, that dream comes beautifully true when they first cross the threshold of their wonderful new home.

Mr. George S. Goodyear,
President, National Association of Home
Builders

"We've learned plenty from home buyers about what they want in houses and a little bit about how they save that first down payment. Many of the people with whom I've talked found the easiest and surest way to save was by regular investment in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds."

It's easy to understand why. By putting money in Bonds, people are less inclined to spend it until they've reached their goal. And Bonds are a safe, sure investment. The U. S. Government guarantees your principal in Savings Bonds—up to any amount—and the rate of interest you receive.

If you're saving for the home of your dreams, why not do it the easy way by regular investment in U. S. Savings Bonds? Start today either through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or by buying Bonds often where you bank.

A weed burner has been on duty on the Santa Fe tracks in this locality during the past week. The equipment has consisted of motor with burner, followed by a car of water. Weeds burned in this way include only those on the track itself and a foot or two at the sides.

Work has been completed here and the equipment left Saturday for San Angelo.

We have had a number of nice compliments on the special edition we put out last week in connection with Gen. Alvin Luedecke Day. The issue was a sellout, although we made a number of extra copies. Belatedly, we would like to acknowledge some of the help we received. Mrs. John Luedecke gave us free use of pictures and background material on Gen. Luedecke's career. Mrs. R. L. Ballew compiled the information on the 1928 EHS class, with the class picture, and Joe M. Christian gave us the material on the "Woolen Mill opening."

And last, but not least, the merchants of Eldorado made the edition possible with their support.

Carpenters have gone to work this week at Huldale, building forms for foundations—thus marking the beginning of construction work by Pioneer Gathering System. They are to have a compressor station located close to the Sinclair gasoline plant, and in due time there will be a pipeline to carry away residue gas. Sinclair, too, will have some construction work to, including treating units, and extensions to their gathering system.

THANKS!

We, the family of Maj. Gen. A. R. Luedecke, would like to take this means of thanking all the clubs, organizations, and any persons who took part in making the preparations, and carrying out the plans for the 4th of July celebration in honor of our Al. Mere words cannot express our appreciation and the gratitude we feel. Many thanks, especially to the Lions club, from whence the plan originated. Again, we thank all of you from the bottom of our heart. Mrs. J. H. Luedecke and family. 1t*

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Trade Displays Strength

Ft. Worth.—Northern markets Monday reported a paucity of stocker and feeder cattle and calves, and a higher market for finished beefs. At Fort Worth more than half the cattle and the calves were stockers and feeders and they sold on a strong to 50 cents higher market on the basis of the good news from the north. Numerous loads of fleshy steers and yearlings sold in the $20 to $21.75 bracket, well above last week's values on such cattle. A few good calves sold from $20 to $23, and choice kinds were lacking.

In the slaughter department, practically no mature steers were shown and other cattle and calves returned steady prices. Some sales of bulls and canner and cutter cows were unevenly higher.

Good and low choice yearlings and heifers drew $19 to $22.50 with medium and lower grades at $12 to $19. Fat cows cashed at $12.50 to $14.50, while canners and cutters drew $9 to $12.50. Bulls cashed at $12 to $16.50.

Good and choice fat calves sold from $19 to $22, and plain and medium sorts sold from $14 to $18.50. Culls sold around $10 to $13. Medium and good stocker steer calves sold from $19 to $23, and good to choice feeder steers and yearlings cashed at $18.50 to $21.75, some 800-pounders at the higher figure. A few stocker cows were reported from $10 to $14.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams were their children Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thornton and Susan of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Williams and son of Abilene.

EAT MORE GREEN VEGETABLES

College Station.—So many kinds of green vegetables can be bought at the market these days that there is really no excuse for a diet not adequate in needed vitamins, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists.

Diet studies show that nutrients most frequently found in inadequate amounts are calcium, which is supplied by milk, and vitamins A and C which fresh green vegetables can help to supply.

Dark green leafy vegetables, yellow vegetables, and dark yellow fruits such as apricots, yellow peaches, yellow meated plums, and cantaloupes, are all good sources of vitamin A. These vegetables and fruits, eaten raw or properly cooked, also supply substantial amounts of vitamin C.

Not all green vegetables have the same food value. The intensity of the color and the part of the plant from which it comes are clues to its vitamin value. In general, the greener the vegetable the better it is as a source of vitamins. Dark green leaves may carry several times as much of some nutrients as the green stalks, pods or immature seeds.

Cook green vegetables quickly for best quality. Use a cover on the pan to speed cooking and cook until vegetables are just tender and still slightly crisp. Long cooking makes vegetables limp and changes color and flavor.

Boil green vegetables in lightly salted water, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ to 1 cup water (depending on cooking time). Bring water to a boil, add vegetables, and put cover on pan. When water boils again, reduce heat and cook until just tender.

News From Our Neighbors

Hotel Sold For Debt

Curtis E. Norman of Brady purchased the Bevens hotel at a public sale Tuesday for the amount of the indebtedness against it—$24,403.46.

The sale was held at the entrance of the courthouse at the behest of R. T. Trail, for the benefit of Norman, of a deed of trust securing a promissory note originally given by Mrs. Maude Bevens Green.

Asked what he planned to do with the hotel property, Norman told The News he does not expect to make a profit, but only to get out of it what he had in it.

He expressed the desire to work with the people of Menard toward making the property into something worthwhile for the community, such as a hospital or convalescent home or a combination of the two. —The Menard News.

Ahead of Time

Supt. Garland Black said this week that school officials had paid off the 1950 series of school bonds. The balance was $9,000. The amount in full was not due until June 1, 1965, but school officials felt it wise to pay them off at this time. —Bronte Enterprise.

Back For Revival

Rev. Roy B. Shilling Sr. of Mission, former pastor of the local First Methodist church, will be the visiting preacher at a revival at the First Methodist church at Midkiff slated to begin Sunday, July 21, it has been announced by Rev. L. A. Speer, the Midkiff pastor. —Big Lake Wildcat.

Hay Barn Burns

Fire caused by combustion destroyed a barn 100 by 38 feet containing about 2500 bales of hay at the Moneyhon Dairy last Friday afternoon. All the feed was lost. The hay was of the alfalfa and sudan variety. The barn was located about 100 yards from the dairy.

George Moneyhon said the hay was completely insured and the barn, built in 1948, partly insured. —Mason County News.

Back To The Drouth

The first six months of 1957 brought a 15-year record (excepting flood year 1954) rainfall of 14.26 inches in the town of Ozona and above the 20-inch mark over most of the ranch country in the county outside the city.

But, as is usual with Texas weather, the last 20 days has seen a complete reversal, and blistering hot sun and dry winds have sapped the drouth-recuperating land of its bountiful moisture, withered the record weed crop and wilted the grasses, which were struggling to make a comeback after ten years of drouth. —Ozona Stockman.

Wallace Joiner and family have moved to the Buchanan house.

Bob Ratliff, student at the University, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ratliff.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Martin Jr. of McCamey visited here recently.

Lee Hinson of Houston visited recently with Mrs. Annie Craig and A. R. Parker and Billy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Martin spent the weekend in Kerrville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jo Ed Hill and children are vacationing in Galveston and Fort Worth.

PRESTONS TAKE TRIP

The Preston family have returned from a three weeks' vacation trip to Mexico, making the trip in two airconditioned cars. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Preston, their mothers, Mrs. Carl Preston of San Angelo and Mrs. Geo. Allspaugh of California, and three of the Prestons' four children (Patrick did not go).

The vacationing party went to Nogales, Ariz., then on down the west coast of Old Mexico, stopping at many picturesque small towns on their way to Mexico City. They stopped in Salbillo, Monterey and other scenic spots before returning home through central Mexico. They report the mountain and gulf scenery very beautiful. They arrived home Saturday, bringing reports of a most enjoyable outing.

Humphrey, proprietor of George Humphrey Motors, Eldorado, and Woody Mason, partner, Woody Mason Motor Company, Ozona, were elected here last week by 16 fellow Ford dealers from 13 counties in west Texas as their representatives to a Ford dealer district council meeting in Dallas starting July 10. They will be joined at the Dallas meeting by two delegates from each of the other 10 dealer zones in the area covered by Ford's Dallas district sales office.

It has been announced that Brother Louis Holt will preach our summer revival. It will start at the night services August 11 and will run through the 18th. It is our earnest prayer that everyone will make a special effort to attend these services.

Long overdue re-survey work on the Colorado river and its tributaries will get underway this year by the Corps of Engineers as a result of some funds for that purpose included in a current appropriation bill.

I appeared before the Appropriations committee two months ago and made an appeal for some money to begin this and other survey work, including not only the Colorado but also the Nueces, the Guadalupe and other streams and their tributaries. Money included in the House bill was retained in the measure by the Senate.

The Engineers inform me this work will require at least two years to complete. It will, on the Colorado, include a study of the need and feasibility of flood control projects on the main Colorado and on such tributaries as the San Saba, Llano, Pedernales, Pecan Bayou and all others that create flood problems of any magnitude. The chief of engineers has informed me that under established policies there will be no survey work of just individual streams such as the San Saba or the Pedernales or the Llano. The plan calls for a comprehensive survey of the entire Colorado River basin and all tributaries.

In the meantime the Reclamation Bureau is intensifying its study of the water situation in Texas. Harry Burleigh, the reclamation engineer for Texas, is doing special work in Washington now, studying detailed plans for water conservation on Texas streams. Senator Lyndon Johnson is plugging for this program.

I thought For The Week
Ministerial Alliance

"Ye are the light of the world," so spoke none other than Jesus Christ. When we study the similitudes of the believer as set forth in Matthew's Gospel, we see then that the word light as Jesus set forth in this great text is very important.

Mr. Webster says of light: that it is the essential condition of vision; the opposite of darkness, an emanation from a light giving body, as flame or fire.

Now when Jesus compared the Christian to light, he set forth in that same thought that he would light the world. The light would be as a guide post or light house on or near the breakers of life. We think of the old song, "Let the lower lights be burning." We may often feel that our tiny light doesn't count for much, and yet combined with the countless millions of others like that we see that they do count.

A few years ago Dr. Billy Graham, while holding the great Dallas revival, used an illustration of light. He was trying to show the people of Dallas how strong they would be if they would unite under the banner of Jesus Christ. Each person the last night of the revival was given one match and told to keep it in readiness. After stressing the need for letting your light shine Dr. Graham asked that every one hold their match in hand. Then he asked that all watch him as he was going to turn all the lights out in the great Cotton Bowl and then strike hit match. This he did. Then he asked that everyone strike their matches. People who were there said that his match was hardly seen, and yet when the eighty thousand struck at one time flared up it was as some great explosion.

How great we would be if we would let our light so shine. —J. F. Dossett.

The Tommy Posey family spent the holidays at Comanche and attended the Brady Jubilee.

OBSERVER POST
COMMENDED HERE
FOR GOOD WORK

The following letter came to Mrs. Nolan McDonald, Post Supervisor, GOC Post at Eldorado, Texas as a result of Aircraft Flash call she made to the filter center in San Antonio, on July 3, 1957 while acting as ground observer on that day:

"Dear Madam:

I wish to thank you for your aircraft flash call on Wednesday evening, 7/3/57. I was the acting supervisor of shift D-7, when your call came into the filter center. Without such calls like yours we volunteers here at the filter center are of no value. If all of our observation posts were as conscientious as your post, we here would be kept busy at all times. You, the volunteers on observation posts throughout our area of responsibility, are the lifeblood of our G. O. C. program. Thank you again for your calls, and please keep them coming.

"Respectfully yours, /s/ C. W. Kent, Supervisor."

It is believed that many people in our community do not realize the importance of this phase of civil defense. We are now operating with less than thirty observers with some doubling or tripling up on their days during the month. We need more ground observers! Call or see Mrs. Nolan McDonald, telephone 22931, or Elizabeth Ballew, if you are interested in becoming a part of the Ground Observer Corps in Eldorado. It takes such a small part of your time and can do untold good.

There will be an area wide Air Defense Exercise between the hours of 2 o'clock to 6 o'clock on Sunday, July 14, 1957, at which ALL OBSERVERS are requested to be present at the times indicated below:

2:00 to 2:30 Elizabeth Ballew, Mrs. Clyde Keeney, Mrs. Norman Hodges.

2:30 to 3:00 Fred Gillaspay, Kenneth Hicks and C. C. McLaughlin.

3:00 to 3:30 Mrs. E. N. Edmiston, Bryan Edmiston, C. F. Dacy.

3:30 to 4:00 James Williams, James Sallee, David Kuykendall.

4:00 to 4:30 G. F. Cales, Jimmy Wayne Harris, Voy J. Mitchell.

4:30 to 5:00 Gus Love, Bill Gunstead, Margo Mittel, Eldon Calk.

5:00 to 5:30 W. R. Bearce, Larry Boyer, Willie Luedecke, Mrs. Delbert Taylor.

5:30 to 6:00 Joe Charles Christian, Dwight Wiedenmann, Dean Williams, Walter Ray Donaldson.

The Post is located at the usual place, the telephone booth on the west side of the court house lawn. This will take only thirty minutes of your time and it is very important that you be on the job at the designated time.

Is hoped that many of the aircraft coming over on that day may be followed from observation post to observation post, thus establishing sound track continuity. This can be done only if all aircraft are reported.

Home Demonstration
Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

It's a lot more fun to look forward than to look back, but some times it doesn't hurt to do a little reflecting. Such as I did Monday. Two years to the day I started as Home Demonstration Agent for Schleicher County. It's been a short 2 years. But such nice years, satisfying years. Such wonderful people to work with and for. And don't try to get around it—the people are first, the people are the all of it. Only in pure science are the people left out and then when it seems that a project has left the people out, the scientist himself emerges as a personality.

In 4-H club work we talk a great deal about the whole boy and girl. We know that a boy may have a wonderful feeding project or that a girl makes a beautiful dress, and that if he or she fails in her relationship with people the project becomes a pretty empty affair.

In Home Demonstration club work we try hard to see the whole family, the whole house, the whole homestead, the whole ranch, the whole farm, the whole life. We know that isolated jobs put together form the workings of the big parts. Every demonstration is planned so as to be a sum of the total. All the bread we've been making wasn't made with a blue ribbon in mind; a hungry and appreciative family is what we really had in mind. And you get over 100 women trying to make better bread and the quality of eating will pick up. Or get 25 or 30 girls helping cook and keep the house and the living becomes a little easier for that many families.

Anita Runge attended the National Convention of the American Home Economics Association held the last of June in St. Louis. She very thoughtfully sent me copies of many of the convention speeches. Reading them is really better than hearing them. You can go back, stop and think, and then read on. The finest talent in the most exciting business in the world, Home Economics, delivered these speeches. Actually they make exciting reading. Such as this one on laundry trends; a home maker can now or will be able to get:

1. Fabric softeners to add to the rinse water.
2. Heavy duty liquid detergent that will work just as well in cold water as hot (now, before you say I don't believe it, remember that a detergent is not soap).
3. Cold water soap that works in hand laundering for fine wools and cashmeres.
4. Low sudsing detergents—especially good for washer-dryer combinations.
5. More foolproof chlorine bleaches.
6. Starches that are instantly ready.

It's barbecue time. So says a representative of a well known cereal company and she says to try this trick.

Cook the biggest "hot dog" in the world, a whole bologna—the kind used for sandwich meat, studded with cloves and glistening with a brown sugar and mustard glaze. Easy to do and inexpensive, it will feed quite a crowd. Serve with potato salad and the usual relishes and you have a good back yard supper. Here's how to do it:

- Barbecued Bologna
- Score a whole bologna as you would a peeled ham, only deeper.
 - Stud with cloves and baste with a glaze made by combining
 - 1 cup brown sugar
 - 2 tablespoons prepared mustard (the kind in jars)
 - 1/3 C. vinegar
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind.
 - Keep basting while bologna is cooking in oven or over barbecue fire. Cook slowly about two hours. Glaze is good on ham too.
