Jim Runge Applies For Boy Scout Jamboree

Filing application recently to attend the Fourth National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America was Jim Runge, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Forrest Runge of northern Schleicher county. The event will be held next July at historic Valley Forge, Pa., and Jim will be one of the 74 boys from over the 23½ counties of the Concho Valley Council who will attend.

Attracting Boy Scouts and their leaders from every state and many foreign countries, the National Jamboree has become one of the biggest events in Scouting. Those attending live together, exchange skills, swap home-town products, and learn about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

Jim has been in Eldorado Scouting for about five years, including three years in Cubbing in which he earned his Webelos. He has the First Class rank and is serving the local troop as Senior Patrol Leader.

Last summer he was one of the three elected from the troop to the Order of the Arrow, the national honorary camping organization of the Boy Scouts.

He is in grade 7-A in the local school system, and attends St. Mary's Episcopal church where he serves as acolyte and is working on his God and Country award.

Besides Scouting, Jim has been active in 4-H work and has participated in several grass judging contests and other events. He attended an electrical show shortly before Christmas in San Angelo for 4-H members.

Concho Valley's contingent will again charter a special train for the trip. Itinerary of the trip includes Dallas, Shreveport, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Washington, D.

Valley Forge was the site of a National Jamboree in 1950.

While three Jamborees have been held previously, it was not until the most recent one, in 1953, that the local unit was represented. David Steen and Ernest K. Nimitz attended the event, which was held on the West Coast.

The first such gathering was held in Washington, D. C., in 1937.

Post Script

Edwin Jackson, Schleicher county Democratic chairman, came in this week to show us the invitation he received to the state inauguration scheduled for the 15th of this month in Austin.

The elaborately-printed booklet, which is gold-embossed and purple-tassled, lists all activities including the parade, the inauguration ceremony at noon, the concert and reception late in the afternoon, and the several inaugural balls that night. In addition the booklet contains historical information, pictures and biographical sketches of Gov. Price Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramesy, lists of inaugural committees, and Texas governors from 1846 to the present.

This week's State Capitol column which is to be found elsewhere in this issue, states that 40,000 of the invitations were printed and sent out over the state, and that this year's inauguration is to be the most lavish ever.

Jene Moore has completed drilling of a water well test and has abandoned it as a failure.

Next Tuesday is the date set to test the well on Victor Sauer's. While the samples look favorable, there will be no report on the well until it has been tested. It was drilled to 400 feet.

Equipment is expected to arrive soon to test a water well on Clyde Keeney's. The test is about 2 2/3 miles from the present producer. Water is standing 85 feet deep in the hole, and it is hoped that it is another good producer—though there is nothing definite on that until the testing is done.

Mrs. Jack Elder is starting work on a picture which she is painting, to be used behind the baptistry of a new church which will be dedicated in Odessa in February. The picture is 7 by 10 feet—so large that the canvass had to be specially ordered. If anyone is interested in seeing Mrs. Elder at work, she is painting at her gift shop, and says "lookers" don't bother her at all.

The Highway Department has been surveying along the street from Eldorado Motor Company on south to a point in Lum Davis's pasture. We haven't found out why—probably just to get preliminary information possibly leading to routing of the highway that way some day.

Everyone is reminded to take care of his cash requirements in Eldorado tomorrow, as the bank will not be open Saturday. This is the first week of the new closing schedule.

Local Riding Club Promoting Florida Trip For Polo Team

The Eldorado Riding Club breaks the big news of the year: the polo team is going to Florida!

At a meeting late last week the club met and voted to make every effort to enter the events. This is an open tournament, to be played March 21 thru 24 at Smyrna Beach, Florida; the official title is Palmetto Polo Tournament for World Championship Palominto Polo Tournament for World Championship Title.

Voting to go is not the end of the players' troubles. Transporting of ten players—five to play and five for subs—with their respective horses, will be an expensive trip, and the polo boys are already at work devising plans to raise a goodly amount of cash. They are considering such events as polo games, ropings, sale of a saddle, and other schemes, which will be announced as plans are made and dates are set.

It is tentatively planned for the group to go to Florida two couples to a car, each with two-horse trailer—this will make five cars and trailers.

It is understood that the club is meeting again tonight to make further and more definite plans. There will be many more meetings, and practice every Sunday until tournament time.

The Riding Club were runners-up last year, which Schleicher County considered unusually good—then this year they won Western State championship!

There is only one place more to go to go up, and that is Florida. The boys are going to try their best to get there—if they can't raise the money they can't go. The whole county is behind them as they start on this project. World polo championship is at stake!

Fiery Truck Accident Monday Claims Life of Dial Mercer

Dial Mercer, 35, resident of Eldorado much of his life, driver for Haley Transport, died in his flaming truck Monday night on the Stiles Lane road a mile west of Mertzon. The body was badly burned in the fire from the oil which the transport had been carrying.

There were no eye witnesses to the tragedy. Another driver, Russell Sallee, was following a short distance behind Mercer, and reached the scene minutes after the accident occurred. He found the trailer torn loose from the cab, overturned, and in a mass of flames.

As reconstructed from tire tracks and location of debris, the truck had gone into the borrow ditch at a turn, plowed along the ditch a distance, and plunged into a pasture, and then fell back into the ditch. Glass, a tool box, and a mirror indicate that the cab, as well as the trailer had been in the pasture.

Mercer was known as an experienced driver, and had been employed by Haley several times. At the time he started driving a Haley truck again last September he had been recovering from an oil-field accident. He was a former driver in a Goodyear tire test fleet.

Dial was born September 25, 1921, in San Antonio, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mercer. He attended elementary school in San Antonio, and later attended school in Eldorado. He was a member of the Fundamental Baptist Church.

He served in the Air Force from 1939 to 1945, and spent 19 months in Europe during the war.

Funeral Is Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Fundamental Baptist Church, with burial in the Eldorado Cemetery under direction of Ratliff.

Pallbearers were Jack Halbert Jr., Orval Edmiston, Dick Jones, Pat Finley, Edwin Childers and Russell Sallee. Officiating pastors were Rev. Cliff McDougal, former pastor here and now pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church at Burnett, and O. D. Heflin, of San Angelo, present pastor. A quartet furnished music.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, Sidney and Hondo and Richard of Eldorado, his mother, Mrs. Mae Mercer of Eldorado, and a sister Mrs. A. G. Clark of Eldorado.

INVESTIGATION IS UNDER WAY HERE ON VANDALISM

Vandalism broke out in Eldorado Saturday night, when the three large plate glass windows which compose the front of Jack Hext's food store were broken, and damage was done to car tires.

Jack Hext discovered the window damage when he stopped at his store Sunday morning. Sheriff Orval Edmiston was called and investigation, which is still under way, began.

The windows measure 102x72 inches each and were insured. Bids on replacements were to be submitted yesterday. Cost was estimated between $300 and $600.

Damage to cars including cutting of tires on two cars and cutting of two tires on a boy's bike—all in the Glendale area.

Another Dry Hole Limits Local Field

Shallow oil field fortunes near the city of Eldorado continued on the deflationary side this week.

Four W Oil Co., No. 1 T. P. Robinson was plugged and abandoned Monday at 3123 feet. A drill stem test made on Sunday proved to be negative.

R. H. Murray No. 4 West was waiting on orders at noon yesterday. The operators took a core Tuesday from 2195 feet on downward, and it was reported that they recovered only 6 feet of pay formation, as compared to about 20 feet in wells No. 1 and 2. Crew members were expecting yesterday to get orders to set casing and attempt to complete the well as a producer.

Western Drilling Co. was getting ready to set up a rotary on their location on B. E. Moore, where a spudder has completed surface hole.

Four W Oil Co., has sent in a spudder to make surface hole on their No. 1 J. H. Luedecke. The location is 330 feet from the south and east lines of this property, and it is a north offset to the B. E. Moore.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

Eldorado Lions had a program yesterday given by C. F. Beckett, manager, and Al Butt, assistant manager, of the Tire Test Station of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., in San Angelo. Mr. Beckett discussed the testing which goes on and Mr. Butt showed slides.

Next week's program will feature Dr. B. O. Wood, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in San Angelo, who will discuss "Billy the Kid."

Herman Phillips is Lion of the Month for January.

Plan Valley Forge Scout Jamboree

Official Poster of Fourth National Jamboree

Fifty thousand Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from all parts of the nation and some from other lands will camp together at the Fourth National Jamboree July 12-18.

A 1,500-acre tent city is being prepared at historic Valley Forge in Pennsylvania. It will have its own water supply, electricity, telephone service, post offices, and other services for

(Ed. Note: The national office of the Boy Scouts of America at New Brunswick, N. J., has released the following preliminary information on the 1957 National Jamboree which Jim Runge of the Eldorado troop will attend with the contingent from Concho Valley Council.)

America's youngest, newest and busiest city for over 50,000 persons will team with excitement next July 12 to 18. At the moment it doesn't exist.

A 1,500-acre tent city will house the Fourth National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America at historic Valley Forge in Pennsylvania. In it boys from all walks of life, of all races and creeds will live together, exchanging skills, swap hometown products, and learn about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

"The purpose of the jamboree," says Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, "is to strengthen the program of the individual unit and to provide an opportunity for boys to be associated with Scouts from all parts of their own country. This living together in a spirit of brotherhood and friendship is one of the continuing objectives of our movement and the basis upon which we undertake this gigantic task."

About 100 special trains and hundreds of busses will transport Scouts to the Jamboree. Railroads are giving jamboree participants special railroad rates and assisting in planning routes so that Scouts may visit leading cities and scenic spots before and after the jamboree.

Contingents will arrive during the three days before the jamboree opening date, July 12. Three days will be needed to speed the Scouts home after the jamboree closes the evening of July 13.

The jamboree campers will be at least 12 years old, holding Second Class rank or higher. The jamboree is a self-sustaining enterprise made possible by the $50 jamboree fee paid by each participant.

National, state, and local health and protective agencies are co-operating to give the jamboree a health and safety record better than the average city of 50,000 population. Doctors from Home areas will travel and live with the contingents. Each jamboree Scout and Explorer is checked by a physician at home and again upon his arrival at the jamboree.

Each night, radio-controlled trucks will deliver fresh dairy products, meat, fruit and vegetables to commissary refrigerators. It will be high-quality food, bought by the carload, to fit well-balanced menus. Troops will get their food and cooking supplies before each meal at sectional commissary tents. Jamboree campers will cook their own meals and share the daily camp chores. Each patrol or crew member will share such tasks as fire builder, cook, and "cleaner upper."

Thanks to the use of over one million paper plates there won't be a dishwashing problem.

The jamboree camp inhabitant will have plenty of time to pick up camping techniques through inter-camp visits, displays, campfires and demonstrations. There will be excursions to historic shrines in and near Philadelphia.

Sunday, July 14, will bring one of the most impressive thrills to the jamboree. In several religious services, each conducted in designated areas simultaneously, the more than 50,000 boys and leaders will worship according to their own faiths, all united in the freedom of their right to worship God.

The sprawling tent city will be governed by the Scout Oath and Law and administered by teams of national, sectional, and troop Scouting leaders. Scoutmasters and their assistants are being carefully selected locally for the responsibility and honor of jamboree troop leadership.

Boy Scout officials report excellent progress to preparing the site at historic Valley Forge. Already completed is a stage 300 feet wide and 100 feet deep in front of a natural amphitheatre that will hold about 55,000 jamboree campers and guests. Spectacular programs are planned for the opening evening, July 12, and the farewell program on the evening of July 13. Outstanding Americans will participate in both programs.

There will be other Scout shows in sectional areas. Campfires and daytime demonstrations will give each Scout a chance to show his stuff or be entertained and instructed by the other fellow's skills.

Valley Forge Park is owned and maintained by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which invited the Scouts to camp there. After the jamboree the Scouts will have the grounds restored to their original condition.

Survey parties are allocating 1,292 troop camp sites each 90 by 90 feet. There will be 38 sectional camps each comprising 34 troops of 37 Scouts or Explorers and three adult leaders, and also a sectional staff of 40 leaders.

The Scout city will have its own water, electric power, and telephone systems, post offices, fire department, medical facilities, and even its own trading posts.

Mrs. Frank Bradley has returned from Midland, where she visited from New Year's to Sunday night with her son Bob and his family. Those driving to Midland after her Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Etheredge, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ballew and son Ray Lewis.

The Fred Logans hear from their son James, stationed in Korea, that he has completed a special course. He has been in service one year January 11.

I thought For The Week Ministerial Alliance

Are you a friend of the Communists? What is a Communist? In the modern sense he or she is a person who does not believe in God, who will not recognize the fact that there is a God, that man is the highest good if he is in charge and the state for all others.

As you read this, think of your affiliation with your church. Are you a member of it? Are you in good standing? Do you attend worship, Sunday School, the other organizations to which you should belong? If you are supporting your church to the best of your ability then you are no friend of the communists. But, on the other hand, if you are not interested in the work of the church, if you do not carry your part of the load you are no friend of Jesus but you are supporting the cause of the Communists. What is to happen to the Communists? The same thing will happen to their friends. The Bible has been proven to be true over and over again and not once to be wrong and we read (Acts 4:12) "There is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved (except Jesus Christ)." —Rev. James L. Spencer.

STORY NO. 4

Buy, Scare or Kill Him -- That's The Duval Rule For Successful Bossism

By--FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.--The first thing any smart dictator does is destroy the freedom of the press. Dictatorship, whether it be called Nazism or Bossism, and a free press cannot exist together.

In a later article I want to tell you how the press played an indispensable role in the collapse of the Duval Duchy.

But right now I want to talk about Manuel Marroquin, who was beaten because his little newspaper published things the boys didn't like. It's a lot like other beatings I've seen in other places, halfway around the world.

The first Nazi storm trooper I ever saw was at a Hitler birthday rally in the Berlin Sports Palast. He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted, wearing a Sam Brown belt over his neat khaki shirt. On his left arm was a swastika, emblem of good luck. At his side hung a dagger in its sheath.

Hundreds of his fellows were scattered about the huge hall, all smiling, all good natured, selling photographs of Der Fuehrer and copies of "Mein Kampf."

My storm trooper worked in a bakery not too far from my home. I knew him well. He was a bit on the rotund side, jolly, and he wouldn't hurt a fly.

This was long before Hitler came to supreme power in Germany.

Hitler made his grand entrance—and a man near me laughed at the strutting little bantam rooster with the funny moustache.

My mild-mannered baker was on him in a second, beating him in the face with his fists, tearing his glasses off and flinging them in the aisle. Another storm trooper moved in, deliberately crunching the glasses under his heel, his dagger drawn and pointed at the man who was being beaten.

Nobody in the vicinity moved, and the ovation for Der Fuehrer roared on. The storm troopers hustled the man out. My mild-mannered baker returned in a few minutes, jovial, smiling, selling his pictures of Der Fuehrer.

The first pistolero I ever saw was just the other day in the Windmill Cafe in San Diego, Texas.

He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted and wearing a neat khaki shirt. Belted to his side was a .45 in a holster.

That same day I tape recorded the story of Manuel Marroquin, publisher of a little political paper called "New Duval," a paper dedicated to the destruction of the dictatorship of George Berham Parr.

The incident, the parallel with

Nazi Germany as described by Marroquin, occurred just a few weeks before I talked to him. Here is his story, taken directly from the recording:

"I was sitting in the San Diego Cafe drinking coffee with the school superintendent, Hernando de Pena, and two Daily Echo (the newspaper in Alice, Texas) reporters, Jake Lewis and a sports writer, a new fellow from Laredo named Dubose, when Mr. Amaya (Manuel Amaya, San Diego Chief of Police) came to the door. I could see Mr. Garza (Amado Garza, a San Diego policeman), his deputy, standing behind him.

"Mr. Amaya said 'Come out, I want to talk to you.'

(The line between Jim Wells County and Duval County runs through the middle of the San Diego Cafe. Marroquin followed Amaya outside, being careful to move to the Jim Wells side of the line and about six feet from the East wall of the cafe. It was about 9:30 at night.)

"I asked him (Amaya) 'Why do you want to talk to me.' I was watching Mr. Garza because he had his gun out in his hand. "Then all of a sudden, Wham! He (Amaya) hit me across here (indicating a livid partly-healed scar on his cheek) and I was bleeding bad. My glasses were gone.

"He (Amaya) said 'You talk too damn much in your paper.'

"I said 'That's no way to settle things. What don't you like about my paper? You can sue me for libel if you want to.'

"He said 'I'm going to kill you' and I said, 'Oh no you're not.' Then I turned and walked away and Mr. Garza said 'Come back, you coward.' I kept on walking. I was so hurt inside that I couldn't talk any more."

I've often wondered what happened to the man in the Sports Palast in Berlin when the storm troopers got him outside.

I asked Marroquin why he had taken the beating so meekly, why he hadn't fought back. This is his answer, again taken directly from the tape:

"I would have got killed right there."

As John Ben Sheppard puts it, the Duval pattern is that of any other political dictatorship, Nazi, Communist or just plain old American-style "Bossism" run wild: If you can't buy him, or scare him—kill him!

That night Marroquin went to his home on the Jim Wells County side of the line. He didn't sleep. Instead he sat up all night with his Winchester across his knees. In Berlin during the Hitler terror people didn't sleep either.

The next day Marroquin was formally charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest. He was acquitted in court. A Jim Wells County court.

Let's take one more parallel case—and there are literally hundreds that might be cited. We'll consider Manuel Sanchez, a grocer. He's a Latin-American and his name is Spanish. The name is curiously close to that of Don Quixote's roly-poly squire in the famous Cervantes satire. But this Sanchez, also a roly-poly man who weighs over 400 pounds, isn't tilting at windmills.

Manuel Sanchez' name might have been Schultz and he might have lived in Berlin. His experience would have been the same.

Sanchez' sin in San Diego was to vote—and talk—against the machine of George Berham Parr.

Sanchez' business was placed under a strict boycott. He was threatened. People on relief (and these are many in Duval, particularly at election time) were ordered not to trade with him. His business was ruined. He might just as well have had "Juden" soaped on his window and storm troopers posted at his door.

In Hitler's Germany the terror hours were at night. It was a favorite sport of the storm troopers to route suspected enemies of the Reich out of bed, line up the family and glare powerful flashlights into their eyes. The troopers would say nothing, just stand back of the lights. Sometimes this would be repeated night after night for weeks. Eventually some member of the family would crack and blurt out a confession. The next stop would be a concentration camp.

Manuel Sanchez and his family were subjected to the same treatment in a modified form. Parr's bully boys would drive up to the Sanchez home at night and throw the blinding beams from strong flashlights into the faces of Sanchez and his family, into the frightened eyes of Sanchez' mother, who was ill. Sometimes George Parr took a personal part in these expeditions.

Hitler's storm troopers didn't bother to get search warrants when they pulled a raid. Parr's men at least went through the motions. Parr's sheriff obtained an illegal warrant and ripped Sanchez' store apart in a search for alleged narcotics. Sanchez was smart enough to get witnesses. No narcotics were found.

The story of a dictatorship cannot be fully told except in terms of living people—and we could go on and on with stories of Duval, each story with a counterpart in the Germany that I knew, the Germany from which I escaped. There's the story of Cristobal Ybanez who was personally beaten by Parr who swung a rifle at his head. But why go on?

Manuel Marroquin's story illustrates the pattern. A smart dictator and a spunky newspaper don't mix. That's one of the big reasons why the Duval machine broke down, as I'll tell you about in another article.

This installation will mark the beginning of the second club year for home demonstration work in Schleicher county. The work was actually begun in August of 1955 with the first slate of officers serving about 18 months so the new officers might begin their duties at the beginning of the new year.

There are seven clubs in the county with a total of 98 members. The 1957 Home Demonstration work plan includes: Citizenship, Civil Defense, Education, Health and Safety and 4-H leadership as subjects to be studied and practices to be put into action.

During the past year club women have studied various subjects, including duties as a juror, constitutional amendments, safe driving, allocation of tax money, civic improvements, teenage delinquency and home improvement.

The past year's activities include the improvement of the Corral, for the use of the Schleicher County young people, as the leading work project; the 1955 County Christmas party as the main social event and the market day sale held in July 1956 as the only financial project of the year. The council and clubs sent two representatives, Mrs. Carrol White county council chairman and Mrs. Jim Williams county TH-DA chairman, to the state and national convention in San Antonio in 1956.

The 98 club women and Mrs. Kreklow feel that they have had a profitable and enjoyable year and invite any Schleicher County woman who is interested in this work to join one of the seven clubs: Cooper Gas, Town & Country, Glendale, Good Neighbor, Reynolds and Rudd clubs, all of which meet in the day time, or the Earn & Learn clubs which meets at night for the convenience of working women and any other woman who is not free to meet with a day time group.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fambrough drove to Kerrville with their son Arthur Jr. who returned to his school work at Schreiner. He will return soon to Eldorado and will enroll as a sophomore in Eldorado High school. The Fambroughs' daughter Mrs. Harold Pinkerton and baby of Lamesa have returned home after a holiday visit in the Fambrough home.

An over-night visitor in the Josh Ewing home was their son Josh Jr. of San Antonio, who was returning to his work as engineer on the new Pecos River Bridge near Sanderson.

Mrs. L. T. Dannheim had as weekend guests her sister Mrs. Minnie Gage of San Angelo and her grandson Lawrence Dannheim and his wife of Ozona, who also visited other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Doyle and two daughters and son of Sweetwater were visitors in the Claude Doyle home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elder took their daughter Nancy Jo back to Texas University and on their way stopped in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hight of London spent the weekend with their son Wiley and his family.

Visitors from Menard, Hext, and other places joined with local singers at First Singing on Sunday afternoon at the Memorial Building. A good crowd attended. The next singing will be February 3.

A family dinner and get-together at the home of the J. T. Jacksons in Menard County was held Sunday afternoon. Present from here were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stockton, Nancy Jo Jackson and Peggy Spencer.

Guests of the A. J. Halberts were Mrs. Halbert's cousins Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winston of Prentiss who were on their way home Wednesday from attending a funeral at Monahans.

Rev. S. W. Harralson returned Saturday afternoon from Burr Ferry, La., where he and his family visited relatives. While there the pastor conducted a Congregational Methodist revival at Burkville, Texas.

Attending services Saturday and Sunday at the Primitive Baptist Church were Rev. Nallon of Quemado, the pastor, and eight Primitive Baptists from Fort Worth, who joined with Eldorado members in attending the church sessions.

Carolyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Luckenbach, has been visiting her grandparents at Mason since New Year's.

BETTY BULLION WEDDED RECENTLY TO HOUSTON MAN

Miss Betty Grace Bullion, daughter of Mrs. Clyde Roberts of McCamey, and Mr. F. A. Bullion of Brownwood, became the bride of James Cordell Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Watson of Houston in a double ring ceremony read by the groom's father at his home in Houston at 8 p. m. Dec. 28.

Mrs. Lamon Bell of League City, grade school friend of the bride, was matron of honor, and Leland Watson of Houston, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore an off-white brocaded gold trim dress of acetate taffeta. It was street-length with capped sleeves, and the sweetheart neckline was set off with scattered pearls and rhinestones. The skirt was flared. She carried a new white Bible topped with purple orchid. She wore an old penny in her shoe and carried a borrowed blue handkerchief.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The three tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Clarence Watson, and Mrs. Herman Stewart, aunt of the bride, served punch to guests. The couple left for a wedding trip to Galveston.

The bride graduated from Eldorado high school in 1945, and attended Texas State College for Women in Denton. She received a BA degree in general education and a Master's degree in library science. For six years she served as librarian at the Butz school in Fort Stockton, and for the past two years she has been librarian for the San Jacinto elementary school in Odessa.

The bridegroom attended schools in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee, and is presently a painting contractor in Odessa where the couple will reside.

Methodist News

The Committee on Attendance of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism met Tuesday night in the pastor's study to perfect plans for the church attendance campaign which is being waged from New Year's to Easter. A record is being made by the committee of the attendance of all of the members of the church, including both the morning and evening services every Sunday during this period. The attendance at the morning service for the first Sunday was 140, and these names are on file and being checked on the record by Bill Brooks. Mrs. Jud Brannan is chairman of the committee, as well as the commission.

The Nelson Attendance Plan was used for the first time last Sunday morning at Sunday school. It was also "all out family Sunday," and 155 people were present for Sunday school. This was very close to the record attendance of 160 which was set last October. The present enrollment is 164. Those who were present for this first Sunday are urged to keep their attendance perfect. Those who were not present are urged to come next Sunday so that they will have only one Sunday to "make up." Every person is given a booklet with his name on it and each week he is given a stamp to go in the book. The stamp has a different message each Sunday and illustrates the sermon which the pastor will preach that morning at the eleven o'clock service.

A combination meeting was held in the educational building of the Sunday school committee on attendance, the commission on education, and the workers conference. Mrs. Palmer West is chairman of the committee on attendance; Gerald Hartgraves is chairman of the commission on education, and Bill Gunstead is church school superintendent and head of the workers conference. Refreshments were served.

The sub-district M. Y. F. will meet Sunday afternoon, Jan. 13, at 2:30 at Day Memorial Church in San Angelo. The meeting will include both the senior and the intermediate MYF's. Mrs. R. R. Heaner is the counselor of the senior MYF and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson are the counselors of the intermediate MYF. All members of both groups are urged to be present. Cars will leave our church at 1:30 and there will be plenty of room for all who go.

The PTA meeting scheduled for next Tuesday will be on mental health.

Mrs. Robert Page left Thursday for Center to visit her brothers and sisters for ten days.

Mrs. Tom Johnson returned Monday evening from Wichita Falls, where she spent Christmas holidays with her daughter Mrs. O. R. Burden, who brought her home.

Hugh McAngus of Kerrville was here on business Friday, Saturday and Monday. Other guests in the Aaron Steward home were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luckey of Sonora, who spent Sunday here.

Mrs. Rex McCormick and Mrs. Mae Tisdale had as guests recently the former's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson.

John I King had as dinner guests on the ranch Monday Tom and Sam Jones and Ben Hext of Schleicher County and Cleve Jones of Sutton County. All went on to Brady to attend the funeral of a friend, Charlie Gray.

Guests of the Audrey Williams family were their nephew, Bill Carwile and his wife of an Angelo, who were here during the week end.

Circle No. 2 of the First Baptist WMU met at the home of Mrs. Richard Cheatham, six members attending. The program on stewardship was carried out with Mrs. Cheatham in charge, assisted by Mrs. L. M. Hoover and Mrs. Bill Blaylock.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Turnbow and children of Barnhart spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turnbow.

Mother of C. O. Neff Is Buried In Junction

Mrs. D. M. Neff, mother of C. O. Neff of this city, died January 1, 1957, in Junction, where she made her home.

She was born Cora Elizabeth Powell, in Viola, Arkansas, April 20, 1883. On December 4, 1903, she was married to D. M. Neff, who survives. To this union were born six children. A daughter preceded her in death, and those surviving are T. J. of Burlison, A. W. of Corpus Christi, C. O., Eldorado; Ray, Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. H. C. Alsop of Junction. Surviving also are 16 grandchildren, seven greats, five sisters and two brothers. She had spent the past 22 years in Junction.

The funeral was held on Thursday, January 3, at First Baptist Church, Junction, conducted by Rev. Mantooh, assisted by Rev. Moss. Burial was in Junction.

All of the children and all brothers and sisters were present at the funeral.

Mr. Neff accompanied his son C. O. and his family to Eldorado, and expects to make his home here.

Mrs. J. H. Wagley and son Joe were in Cisco Thursday attending the funeral of Mrs. E. B. Anthony of near Happy, oldest sister of the late J. H. Wagley. Mrs. Anthony died the preceding Monday, following a stroke sustained 16 days before.

The Anco Club had a 42 party at the Memorial building Thursday night with three tables playing. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the games.

Circle No. 3 of the First Baptist Church met Monday with Mrs. J. C. Hancock. The program was on stewardship. Refreshments were served to 8 members and 3 visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Trigg returned Sunday from an 8-day trip to New Orleans where he was an official at the Sugar Bowl game New Year's day.

Rev. J. C. Hancock, pastor of the First Baptist Church, sprained his ankle in a fall from a porch recently. The accident happened when he was leaving a farm residence where he was making a pastoral call.

W. W. Williams is again occupying the Tiny King house, which he and his wife recently bought.

Miss Ina Mae Lightsey of Mertzon spent the weekend in Eldorado with friends.

The new Congress, amid world tensions and political dust-settling, got off to the usual start last week. The House was organized in an atmosphere marked by harmony, while over in the Senate a group of political-minded Senators went through the motion of trying to attract negro votes by hankering for a change in rules that would clear the track for some vote catching civil rights bills. They were soundly licked but their purpose was served.

In fact, I don't know what these chronic, professional civil righters would do for an issue at election time if their bills should be enacted. Just like some professional labor leaders who use the Taft-Hartley Act to keep union drives stirred up to a fever pitch. On at least two occasions in the past 7 years amendments to Taft-Hartley were cleared for passage, designed to water down the alleged harshness of that law, only to be blocked by labor leaders who apparently did not want to lose a good talking point in the law as it is.

The President's address on Saturday was the first time in modern history that a President has appeared before a joint session of the Congress preceding his annual State-of-the-Union message. Calling for an expression from Congress giving him as Commander-in-Chief authority to use troops, if need be, to prevent Russian aggression in the Middle East, the President was well received.

I plan to vote in favor of the resolution when it comes up for action in the House. The main point now is that favorable action will show American strength and unity to the Russians and add to the President's prestige in world conferences and negotiations that will be occurring in the future.

This being our first Newsletter in 1957, I extend to all my friends my best wishes for a pleasant and prosperous New Year. Let us hope and pray for relief from the devastating drought. Surely, surely, this year will see a change for the better. Let me renew my desire that each of you write me when I can be of any possible service to you at this end of the line.

P-TA MEETING IS SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY

The Eldorado PTA will have their monthly meeting Tuesday, Jan. 15th at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Luke Thompson Jr., will be the program leader for the evening. The topic for the January program is "We the People Invest in Education." An informal panel discussion will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Sidney Bolding of San Angelo. The panel will be made up of Eldorado business and professional personnel as well as school parents. After the panel discussion the program will be open for questions and discussion of interest to those present.

Mrs. Bolding is the immediate past president of Sixth District P-TA and has been in Eldorado for numerous other P-TA programs.

The nursery will be provided in the Home Economics department for anyone who wishes to leave their children there during the program.

Mrs. Bolding will meet with a group of interested parents Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 15th, at 3:30 p.m. in the High School clinic room. This group will include Mrs. Luke Thompson Jr., mental health chairman, Mrs. Jerroll Sanders, home and family life chairman; and members of the P-TA who will be contacted to help organize study groups in the various school-age levels. The study groups, when they are organized, will work to improve relationship between people—parents and children; parent and parent; teachers and children; parents and teachers. This will be the means for promoting one of the primary aims of the local P-TA—to better understand ourselves and thereby improve relationships with others.

The evening meeting will present the plans of the afternoon committee meeting and it is hoped that every parent, teacher, or interested citizen of our community will be present to take part in the discussion and study so that we will be able to make our community a better and happier place in which to live.

School News

Mrs. Charles E. Love has been employed for the remainder of this year as a teacher of one section of the Latin-American first grade. Due to an over-crowded condition in the Latin-American first grade it was necessary to create a new section of this grade. Some fourteen pupils have been moved into the school-owned house formerly occupied by the Wyndell Halls. Furniture and equipment were moved from the other first grade section. This has more equally divided the teaching load of the first grade teacher and will assure more individual attention which is very important to beginning students.

The Eldorado Eagles participated in the Big Lake basketball tournament last week end. The Eagles won their first game in the first round. They defeated Barnhart without too much trouble, 42-32. Curtis Stockton hit 13, David Kuykendall 12, and Herman Phillips 8.

In their second game of the tournament the Eagles lost a close game to Class AA Crane 40-35. The Eagles were ahead 20-17 at the half but could only hit 15 points the last half. The difference in the game came at the free throw lane, Eldorado hitting only 35% while Crane hit 60%.

The local team defeated Class 3A Lakeview Tuesday night 51-29. David Kuykendall was high point man for the Eagles with 18. Earlier the Lakeview Chiefs defeated the Eagles by one point.

Fredericksburg, a Class 2A team, will engage the Eagles here tomorrow night for a boys and girls game. The first game starts at 6:30.

The Eagle B team defeated the Lakeview B team 38-34, Tuesday night; Donny Smith heading the Eagles with 16 points.

The show season is on us now. The Schleicher County Sheep Show is scheduled for January 26th. The boys that are feeding lambs for the shows are beginning to trim them and shape the lambs for the shows. We have two boys who have entered lambs in the San Antonio show this year. They are Jimmie Whitten and Billy Williams.

The grass team is beginning work again in preparation for the Fort Worth and San Antonio contests. We hope to get a first place at one of these contests.

The feeding and show barn is almost completed. The fence for the feeding pens is being constructed; it will be completed within the next week or ten days.

GOOD NEIGHBOR H. D. CLUB

Mrs. Ben Hext was hostess to the Good Neighbor Home Demonstration club when it met January 3rd with seven members present. Candy making demonstrations were given; peanut brittle by Mrs. Thomas Baker, and divinity by Mrs. Truett Stanford.

The place of the next meeting of the club will be announced.

Delbert Edmiston is again on the sick list.

HERMAN PHILLIPS IS BEST CITIZEN FOR JANUARY

Herman Phillips was elected best citizen of the month by the Student Council, and as best citizen he will represent the school at the Lions Club meetings.

Herman is active among his classmates and faculty. He has been active in sports participating in football, basketball, and track. He won the Bud Hall most valuable player award and American Legion Sportsmanship award for 1955, and was elected captain for 1956.

He has won the scholarship award for his class in the 7th grade and the 9th grade. He was elected most popular boy last year.

Complying with the request of the Eldorado Lions club that "a good citizen of the month be picked from the high school and this student be brought to Lions Club and designated as honorary Lion of the month," the student council selects a student for this honor each month.

1. The good citizen is selected on the basis of: Scholarship, creditable grades in all subjects; leadership, personality, self control, ability to assume responsibility; Character, truthful, loyal, unselfish interest in school, community, and nation; service, cooperation, courtesy, consideration of others.

2. Once a month each high school class nominates a student for the good citizen award on the basis of the above criteria and presents the student's name to the student council.

3. The best citizen of the month is selected by the Student Council, which is composed of representatives from the student body.

Are you
as wise

as you were in '47 ?

Part of every American's savings belongs in
U. S. Savings Bonds

If you hold U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that mature this month you can give yourself a pat on the back for the wise buy you made. For every three dollars you invested in 1947, you have four dollars now. (And, had you spent that money 10 years ago, chances are whatever you bought would have been long since worn out.)

Today you can be even smarter. All you do is just hold onto those Bonds. Keep them for another ten years and you'll get $1.80 for every dollar you put into them. For example, a Bond you bought for $37.50 will pay you back $67.34! And the best part of it is you don't have to do anything but keep your Bonds. No papers to sign. Not even a visit to the bank is necessary.

Remember this, too! Savings Bonds are one of the safest investments you can make. Your principal is guaranteed safe up to any amount—and your rate of interest is guaranteed sure—by the United States Government.

So keep the Savings Bonds you have now and add to them either through Payroll Savings or by buying Bonds where you regularly bank.

Every Savings Bond you paid $75 for 10 years ago

is worth $100 today . . . will be worth $134.68 in 10 years more.

The board of supervisors of the district in their regular monthly meeting Friday, January 4, made out their calendar of events for the year 1957. Included in their plans will be a trip to Brady to look over the Brady Creek watershed and flood control structures. They also plan to visit the Sonora Experiment Station and see the deferred-rotation grazing setup they have been carrying on for the past several years.

Supervisors made plans for making out their annual report. This includes accomplishments, field tours, sponsoring contests, and different things which will advance the soil conservation program.

Supervisors Ben Hext and J. Forrest Runge plan to attend the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts meeting to be held in Tyler the 16th, 17th and 18th of this month.

The coming Ft. Worth Press "Save the Soil and Save Texas" awards program came in for considerable discussion. Supervisors voted to give prizes locally for the four best essays written on the subject, "Youth's Stake in Soil Conservation."

District cooperators, would you like to have a district sign for your farm or ranch? If so, turn in your order to one of the district supervisors. The signs are 16 x 24 inches and have the name of the soil conservation district and the farmer's or rancher's name printed on them. Where six or more signs are ordered the price is $2.00 each. Supervisors also plan to buy some 3 x 5-foot signs showing entering and leaving the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district.

The hunt is on for the district's outstanding soil, water, and plant conservationist.

"The ultimate motive of soil conservation is human conservation."

Temple. — Water-short Texas towns are waking up to the opportunity of adding to their water supplies through the Department of Agriculture watershed protection and flood prevention programs in the Trinity and Colorado River watersheds and in local projects assisted under Public Law 566.

State Conservationist H. N. Smith of the U. S. Conservation service reports growing interest on the part of municipalities eager to pay added costs to provide needed water storage behind floodwater retarding dams.

Smith explained that the dams are designed as detention structures primarily. Their purpose is to slow down floodwaters and release them automatically at a rate stream channels can hold. Each dam must first be justified on the basis of its usefulness in flood prevention. Water storage for any purpose other than flood prevention must be secondary and in keeping with state law.

Applications for SCS help under the comparatively new Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566) now total 113, Smith reported. Modification of the Act has made it easier for municipalities and special purpose districts to make use of the program in meeting local water needs.

In the new watershed protection program, municipalities or other authorized organizations can build water storage into a floodwater retarding structure by paying the difference in cost, Smith explained. The city of Kaufman, in the Kaufman-Van Zandt Soil Conservation District, was the first Texas city to take advantage of the water-storing opportunity.

Added capacity of 1834 acre feet was built into a floodwater retarding structure on Big Cottonwood Creek, a small watershed in the big Upper Trinity flood prevention program.

The 1834 acre feet of storage—nearly 600 million gallons—was provided at a cost to Kaufman of $18,114.

Smith said construction has started on a similar project near Coolidge, Texas, to provide 355 acre feet of storage for that city in the Pin Oak Creek watershed program.

In the new watershed protection program the government can lend up to $5 million for periods of as long as 50 years at a rate of about 2½%. The loan is retired on an annual basis. There is no such loan provision in the older Upper Trinity and Middle Colorado flood prevention program.

SCS is authorized by the new law to cooperate with local subdivisions of government in building structures up to 5,000 acre feet of floodwater detention capacity. Additional storage up to 25,000 acre feet in total capacity can be provided for municipal water supplies.

A city or water district must use its own engineer or employ one to determine water needs and suitability of the watershed and the proposed structure for a municipal supply. The local engineer may redesign the dam to include the additional storage, or the city or water district may use SCS engineering help and reimburse the agency.

Smith explained that the objective of the locally sponsored watershed program is to give protection to land, crops and property against flood damage. Soil conservation treatment of land in the watershed is fundamental. It insures a long period of usefulness for the floodwater retarding structures by reducing sediment carried by runoff into streams and reservoirs. It also benefits the farmer and rancher through more efficient use of land and available moisture.

Austin.—Austin is in its every-other-January whirl. Inaugural festivities on the 15th will climax two weeks of fanfare traditional to the premiere of a new state administration.

Stepped-up tempo in the Capitol began New Year's Day when scores of new officials took the oath of office. It redoubled this week as gavels banged in another Legislature.

Next week thousands more will arrive to "dance in the new governor." Their 1957 inaugural invitations were unusually elaborate—gold-embossed and purple-tassled. Forty thousand were printed.

Other arrangements are similarly lavish. An hour-long parade will precede the high noon swearing-in ceremony in front of the Capitol. In the afternoon there'll be a band concert, then a reception at the Capitol. That evening Gov. and Mrs. Price Daniel and Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Ben Ramsey will lead the grand march of state officials and their wives at the chief inaugural ball at Gregory Gymnasium. From there the official party will make a round of the four other balls over town.

Citizens of Austin pick up the check for this biannual spree. Estimated cost this year: $15,000.

New Land Board
 Land Commr. Earl Rudder begins his first elective term with a re-organized board.

Sworn in with Rudder were William Gossett, El Campo banker, and L. E. Page of Carthage, former state commander of the American Legion.

A new constitutional amendment dropped the governor and attorney general as ex-officio members. Instead, the governor is required to appoint two "citizens at large," one versed in finance, the other in veterans' affairs.

Board members immediately went to work on the new $100,000,000 bond issue for veterans' land buying as authorized in the same amendment.

Wilson Promises State Support
 New Attorney General Will Wilson promised to "consistently support state sovereignty" in cases where federal-state authority is at issue. Wilson said his office would seek to protect school officials and students from violence and intimidation stemming from desegregation efforts.

He also promised to push completion of the Duval County and veterans land cases begun by his predecessor, John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd Bows Out
 John Ben Shepperd left the attorney general's office and headed for Odessa. He will be general counsel for extensive West Texas and New Mexico oil and banking interests.

And definitely no more politics, said Shepperd, who didn't run for re-election. He said he returned more than $11,000 sent him in one day only, for a U. S. Senate campaign.

Securities Change Sought
 A separate department to oversee sale of securities has been recommended to Gov. Allan Shivers by a committee he named to study the matter several months ago.

Securities are now regulated by divisions of the Secretary of State's office and the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Broader power for the state to deny or revoke licenses was also recommended.

Water Tax Okayed
 Last minute efforts are under way to firm up recommendations to the Legislature for financing Texas water storage facilities. A water use tax has been approved by the Texas Water Resources Committee. A proposal to levy taxes on fishermen has been shelved.

Sportsmen went gunning for the latter measure at a public hearing. They said the proposed levies on boats, motors and licenses would fall on a few, to benefit all; would discriminate against sporting equipment dealers; and would divert customers to other states. Chairman George Parkhouse of Dallas conceded later that the boating and fishing tax was dead—at least for the time being.

Given approval was a water use tax which would require a constitutional amendment. Uses subject to the tax would include irrigation and hydro-electric power, as well as others. Expected revenue was figured at nearly $2,000,000 annually.

Senator Parkhouse said he would also seek diversion of about $5 million a year from farm-to-market road funds.

NEW SHERIFF TAKES OVER AT OZONA

Billy Mills, elected Crockett county sheriff, tax assessor and collector in the 1956 elections to succeed V. O. Earnest, who had served eight years in the office, took over the office Tuesday, January 1. Sheriff Mills and his family will live in the jail residence and were moving in yesterday while painters were still busy finishing up a redecorating job on the interior.

Two new outside deputies and one new office deputy make their bow with the incoming sheriff. Oscar Groff, formerly deputy sheriff at Sonora and earlier a member of the police force and sheriff's department at San Angelo, will be the day deputy under Sheriff Mills. Night deputy will be Elmo Wallace who served as a deputy here for about two years under Mr. Earnest. Mrs. Groff is a registered nurse and has been employed at the Crockett County hospital.

Mrs. Gertrude Perry will remain as head office deputy. Assisting her will be Mrs. John Lockett, whose husband is game warden for this area. —Ozona Stockman.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Cathey of San Angelo spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cathey.

Perry Johnson has been hospitalized in San Angelo.

Industrial Development Meeting Set For Jan. 24

Abilene.—Program for the 4th annual West Texas Industrial Development Conference will be an A-to-Z presentation of community industrial development techniques, according to E. L. Buelow of Abilene, chairman of the industrial committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The conference is scheduled for January 24 in the Wooten hotel in Abilene. Opening session of the one-day event is at 9:30 a.m.

Only two speakers are to be presented this year instead of the usual six to eight.

The entire afternoon will be devoted to questions and answers and to group discussions.

Previous conferences have attracted upward of 250 persons each.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cash arrived here Saturday for a visit with Mrs. Cash's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harper, and they also visited with Mr. Cash's parents at Justiceburg. The couple have returned to El Paso, where he is on temporary assignment at Ft. Bliss.

Charles Hubbard has bought a Jack Shugart house in the north part of town, and moved there last weekend, vacating a T. H. Alexander rent house.

Guests of the Bill Lester family Saturday night and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hardy of Iraan.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens arrived home last weekend, after spending the holidays with relatives at Harlingen. While there both were on the sick list.

Mrs. Frank Meador and Mrs. Ed Hill went to Art Friday to attend the funeral of Rev. L. D. Hardt, former Methodist pastor here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Doyle drove to Brownwood to meet their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cunningham, of New Mexico. Betty and the couple's infant son accompanied them to Eldorado, while M. J. went to Dallas to visit relatives and conduct business.

While W. A. Schuller was visiting in Eldorado last weekend, he leased the grass on his place to Wilson Smith, and put the cultivated land into the soil bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan McDonald visited from Friday until Monday night of last week in Tucson, Ariz., with their son and his family.

Mrs. Elizabeth Powell has as guests her two grandchildren, Ross and Robert Graham of Midland. Mrs. Powell's son David has returned to Texas Tech.

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

If your choice is the Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. It has almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, about Ford's popular Ranch Wagon. This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, and smart interiors which defy muddy little shoes and drippy chocolate cones.

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim.

Better take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart . . . for work and power, it's an obedient slave!

New '57 Fords have toughest shakedown cruise in history!
 The '57 Ford broke 458 national and international records from 1 kilometer to 50,000 miles at Bonneville, Utah. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. This time included all pit stops . . . the greatest endurance feat of all time!
