FAMBROUGH CHEVY DEALERSHIP NOW OPEN FOR BUSINESS

In an opening announcement on page 5 of this issue of the Success, A. P. Fambrough states that his new building on Highway 277 is about completed and that he is now open for business. He states that he plans a formal opening soon.

Land on which the new establishment is located, lies north of McCormick's drive-in grocery. Lots were bought from Reed Oil Co., Ralph Fowler and Cramer Sofge to make a large unbroken area for building and parking space.

The business is named Fambrough Chevrolet Company. A nice stock of new pickups and passenger cars has been received and the vehicles are on display on the yard.

Mr. Fambrough is busy getting his help lined up—a parts man and welder, W. C. Seale, is on the job. Mrs. Fambrough expects to help with the books, and a search is on for a mechanic. Also remaining to be done is some work on leveling and caliching the grounds, and glassing in of a show room at the front.

Mr. Fambrough announces that he made his first new car sale last weekend.

TRAINING SCHOOL HELD FOR GIRL SCOUT LEADERS

Miss Mary Ella Moorhead, field director for Girl Scout leadership training, was here Tuesday to conduct a training school for local leaders.

She presented information on flag etiquette and spatter painting, and taught the group three folk dances. The meetings were held in the Corral. Present were three leaders and two council members. At 3:00 Miss Moorhead met with Mrs. McCalla's 3rd grade Brownies.

The Frontier Board meeting will be held here Sunday.

RANCHERS HAVE CHANCE TO CONTROL RABIES

The Commissioners' Court of Schleicher County met with E. G. Pope, Fish and Wildlife Field Assistant, January 14 about the possibility of control of foxes, racoons, and skunks in the county to check the rabies outbreak in the county that has been unbroken for the past year.

It was agreed by the court that County Agent W. G. Godwin would contact each land owner in the county by letter and questionnaire to be mailed back to the Agent's office to determine if producers would co-operate and put into effect this type of program by February 1, 1957 or as soon after as possible.

The program is to be cooperative between the Commissioners' Court and the Fish and Wildlife service, whereby the court will secure the meat and poison to be used as bait. The fish and wildlife service will prepare and instruct and distribute the baits to producers at a central point, as soon after February 1, 1957, as possible.

All questionnaires must be answered and in the County Agent's office by January 31, 1957. —W. G. Godwin, County Agent.

NOTICE

The Eldorado Woman's Club will meet Tuesday the 22nd, in the home of Mrs. Edwin Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McDonald of Buchanan visited relatives and friends in Eldorado Tuesday.

Post Script

Quite a few from here who attended showing of Giant last weekend in San Angelo were interested in seeing Mrs. Dick Lawhon of Marfa, formerly of Eldorado, who appeared in the barbecue scene at which the bride was greeted by guests. She was in the background as guests were shaking hands with the bride.

Eldorado got into the act with others, when President Eisenhower visited at San Angelo on a three-state drouth inspection tour.

Jim Runge was one of 21 Boy Scouts who formed an honor guard to greet the President on his arrival. Joy Dodd, High School student, representing the Home Makers, had the supreme honor of shaking hands with him twice.

Then too, Cecil Meador, in the role of cowhand on a ranch, demonstrating pear burning, shook hands with the President, with whom he posed while pictures were being made. His picture appeared with that of the President, on the front pages of the Dallas News and the Standard Times, and also over T.V.

Schleicherites were among the many thousands who were at the airport and who watched from their cars as the President left on his tour of "drouthy" Tom Green ranch land. Quite a few had the opportunity of seeing him, and report it quite a thrill.

There seem to be more sick foxes around recently. The P. F. Case ranch was visited by a sick fox, which an employee had seen and reported—it was killed after it had been skulking around in the yard during the morning.

Carrol White killed one in his back yard at his ranch in the Rudd Community, and not long afterward killed another.

It is pointed out that everyone should be on the watch for foxes acting abnormally.

A new resident in Eldorado is W. C. Seale who has moved here from San Angelo and has gone to work for Fambrough Chevrolet Co. as a combination parts man and welder. Mr. Seale reported Tuesday that he expected to have his family here by the first of the month. The family consists of a wife and five children—one of school age and four of pre-school age.

The Riding Club announces two coming benefit events: a polo game March 3, at 2:00 p.m., here, with sale of a saddle, and a dance Saturday night at Fort McKavett. Both events are scheduled to raise money for the proposed trip to Florida.

The Military

A visitor in the county, in the home of William Jarrett and other relatives, was Aubrey Jarrett, with the Navy. He left Wednesday, after a two weeks' leave, and expected to report to Port Hueme, California for assignment to the Philippines.

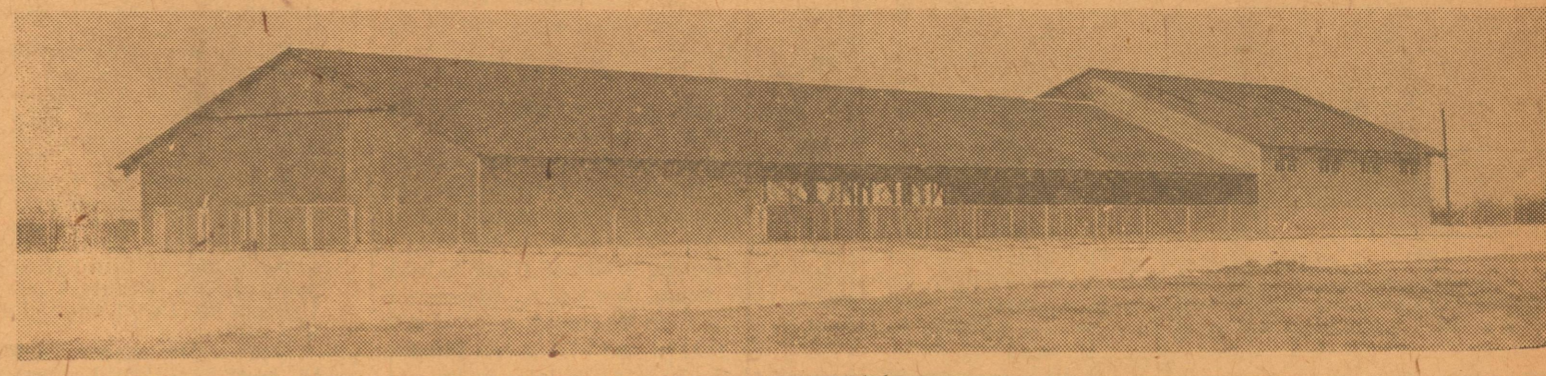

New Babies

Born, December 21, at Fort Worth, a son to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Poynter. The baby, who has been named William Lee, has a sister Pamela Gail, age two. He is a grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Adams of San Angelo and Mrs. Bill Doren. Mrs. A. L. Jones of this city is a great grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kurowski of Chicago are the parents of a daughter, Sandra Elizabeth, who weighed five pounds at birth and whose arrival occurred January 1. The young mother is the former Eloise Watson. Grandparents are Pomp Watson of San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kurowski Sr. of Chicago. The Kurowskis have a daughter Suzanne, age 12. The mother of the young babe lived here in her girlhood, making her home with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jones.

A daughter who weighed seven pounds and one ounce was born at 11:00 Monday morning in Huds-peth Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Joiner, who also have a son, Wayne Evans, age 14 months. Grandparents are Mrs. T. F. Green and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Joiner.

NEW CAMERON MGR. ARRIVES TO REPLACE PARIS BURNHAM

Paris Burnham, manager of Wm. Cameron & Co. here for nearly two years, has been granted a two-year leave of absence by the company which he will spend at Texas Tech completing work on his engineering degree.

The Burnhams and their young son Leigh expect to move to Lubbock at the end of this month. Mr. Burnham has been a member of the Eldorado Lions club and Mrs. Burnham has been active in the Junior Woman's club, serving this year as president. She directed the choir of the Methodist church here for several months.

Already on the job at the local yard is Mr. Burnham's successor, F. V. Everett, who has been with Cameron's for the past ten years and comes here from Gladewater. He has also been with the company at Palestine, Carthage, and Seminole, and in Palestine, Gladewater, and Seminole, he belonged to the Lions club. He is transferring his membership to the Eldorado club.

Mrs. Everett, her mother Mrs. Sarah Green, and the Everetts' 15-year-old son Vernon expect to join Mr. Everett here soon, where Vernon will enter the Freshman class in the local high school. An older son, Browder, attends the University of Houston, and Mrs. Everett's son, Robert Adair, is married and lives in Beaumont. The family are Baptists.

Mr. Everett will assume his duties as manager here on Feb. 1st, and he expects to move his family into th Pat Joiner house in Glendale as soon as the Burnhams vacate it.

JOEL TOM MEADOR WILL ATTEND NAT'L SCOUT JAMBOREE

Joel Tom Meador, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Meador, is lined up to go to the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America at Valley Forge this July, in addition to Jim Runge as reported in last week's Success.

Tom is a member of Troop 34 at Ballinger, which is in the Tri-River district, where he attends school and is in the 7th grade.

He is a Life Scout and has completed his requirements for the Eagle rank, which he will receive at his troop's court of honor to be held in February.

HARTGRAVES IS FEATURED IN STAR TELEGRAM

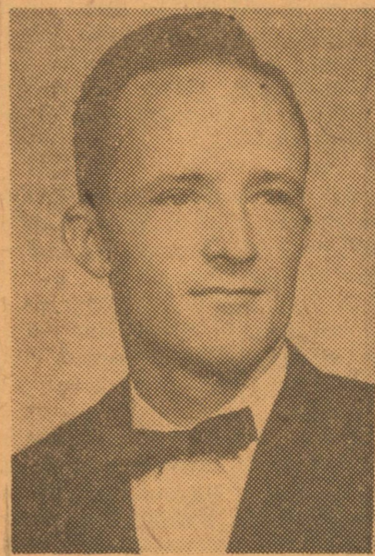

Featured in a recent issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram was Gerald Hartgraves, Schleicher county rancher. Front page pictures showed him cutting liveoak to feed his cattle, which have been feeling effects of the drouth. The story ties in with the President's trip to this area to study the drouth states' problems.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

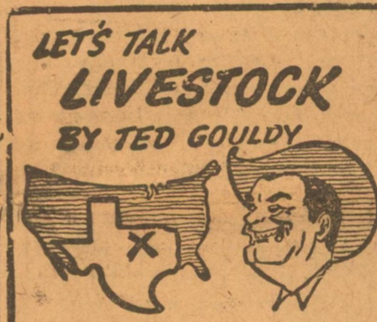

Dr. B. O. Wood, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in San Angelo, was speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Lions club. He discussed the life of Billy the Kid. Guests included F. V. Everett, who will succeed Paris Burnham as Cameron manager here on February 1st.

Mrs. J. A. McCollum returned Sunday from a two-weeks' visit in London. Her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Terry Jetton of Junction brought her home.

Beef Cattle Group To Meet Jan. 28
Perry Lunsford, president of the Texas Beef Cattle Improvement Association, announced from his Dallas office this week that the annual meeting will be held at

The board of trustees of the Schleicher County Rural High School district met Monday and formally accepted the new livestock building, southwest of Eldorado, adjoining the football field. The building, which is about 50x207 feet in size, was built by Joe B. Thorp, contractor from San Angelo.

"Schleicher County Agricultural Center" was adopted by the board as the name for the new structure. A dedication, with open house and appropriate program will be held on Saturday, January 26th. Details of the program will be given in this paper next week.

The new building fills a long-felt need for a structure of this kind for livestock shows and sales, and its construction at this time of drouth demonstrates faith in the future of the livestock industry, and the determination to continue its promotion.

Members of the board of education are: Kenneth Cheek, Henry Moore, Gerald Hartgraves, C. O. Dewey, Henry Speck, Joe Christian and Bill Lester. Administrative: T. E. Holcomb, superintendent; Joe R. Andrews, principal.

Hilton Hotel, Fort Worth, Jan. 28.

Lunsford says the meeting is open to anyone interested. This is the group that seeks to improve quality by testing herds with a view to breeding towards heavier weaning weights, greater inherent ability to gain, etc. Though the stress is on hereditary factors in the main, any methods which also improve quality and gainability are tested, too.

This work has been labeled one of the most important steps to more profitable production yet launched.

Local Girl Meets the President

On Monday morning, Joy Dodd personally welcomed President Eisenhower as he came from his tour of the drouth stricken areas in and around San Angelo. She, representing all Future Homemakers of America for this agricultural district, was a member of the youth welcoming committee composed of boys and girls in 4-H and FHA and FFA. The Future Farmer of America was Wayne Estes of Blackwell and the 4-H girl, Mary Beth Schooler of Robert Lee and 4-H boy was Wayne Sharp of Knickerbocker.

The group was escorted by Police Hogg to the Goodfellow Airforce Base where they, with other dignitaries awaited the president's return from the tour. Here they became increasingly aware of the importance of this office as the secret service men and members of the White House and local press performed their routine tasks.

Alas the awaited moment came as cheers announced his arrival. After a formal introduction to the youth committee, the president led in conversation with the four excited youth leaders. It was during this conversation that in spite of the honor and dignity of his office, he was noted to be interested in his country citizens regardless of age. His well-known smile and sense of humor showed through in his conversation with this group.

Following this he entered the press room for a brief period to return again and bid farewell to his many admirers and fellow countrymen as he made his way through the crowd to his plane where he continued his trip.

Needless to say, this was an exciting and never to be forgotten experience for Joy, the others on the youth committee and to the thousands of others in this area.

Accompanying Joy to San Angelo was her sponsor, Miss Dana Ray Owens, and Joy's grandmother Mrs. Walker.—School Reporter.

OIL INTEREST CENTERED ON MOORE TEST

Activity centering around the shallow oil pool at Eldorado has been limited to two operations this week: the Moore and Luedecke tests.

Since activity started early last November, this is the first time there have been no operations under way on the C. C. West section, where R. H. Murray brought in the discovery well.

R. H. Murray No. 3 West was abandoned as a dry hole around the first of January, and Murray's No. 4 West was abandoned last week at a depth of 2,242.

Under way at this time is the Western Drilling Co. No. 1 B. E. Moore, a southwest stepout from the C. C. West discovery. Passing 2000 feet early this week, the operators cored from 2044 to 2144. There were no shows in this section, and yesterday evening another 50-ft. core was being taken, which would put it at 2194.

A report on this core was unavailable at 8:00 o'clock this (Thursday) morning.

Hanusch Bros. in the meantime were digging surface hole on the J. H. Luedecke place, where the Four W Oil Co. is scheduled to take over with their rotary. This well will be a north offset to the No. 1 Luedecke.

Prospector On Page

Tucker Drilling Co. of San Angelo has announced location for a 7,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Schleicher County, seven miles southeast of Eldorado. It will be drilled as the No. 1 Bert Page by a company rig.

Location, on a 640-acre lease, is 660 feet from the south and east lines of 44-L-GH&SA.

HEXT REBUILDS HIS STORE FRONT

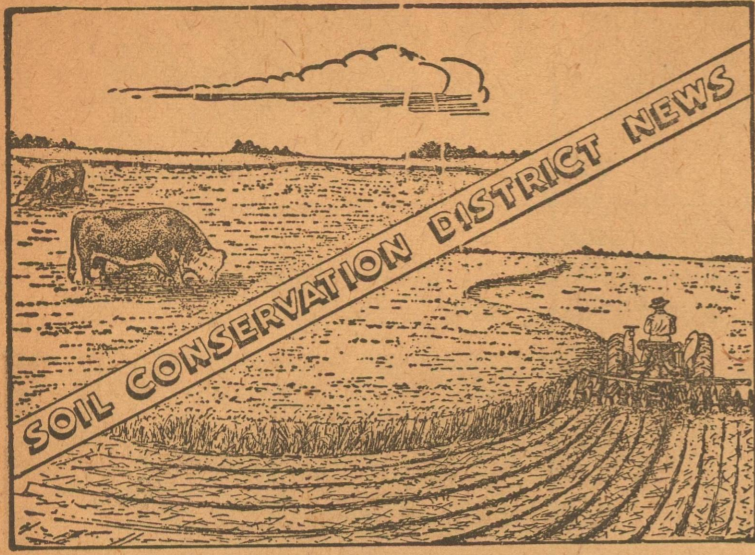

Jack Hext, Eldorado grocer, is changing the style of his store front while he repairs damage done by hoodlums who threw rocks through his three front windows, recently.

The windows will occupy only half as much space as before, and the lower part of the space will be made of brick.

Investigation of the vandalism is still under way, but no arrests have been made.

Mrs. Charles Orr of Brownwood arrived here Wednesday to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Williams. They will be joined later by Mr. Orr during the week end.

The Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district needs the assistance of every local business firm to assist in the program of disseminating information on Soil and Water conservation. As a matter of fact soil, water and plant conservation is everyone's job. You cannot render a complete public service if you neglect supporting the program of your local soil conservation district.

Have you ever asked a supervisor of your local district what you could do to advance the district's conservation program? They would be glad to know that they have your support.

The district would like to see every land owner and operator a conservation farmer or rancher. Have you worked out a soil, water, and plant conservation program for your farm or ranch? Local soil conservation service technicians will be glad to work with you in working out a conservation plan for your place. This is how SCS technicians assist the local district.

What plans do you have for holding the water we receive in 1957 in order that you might receive maximum benefits from every inch that falls? It's the rain you keep that counts.

Grass has always been an important conservation crop. The Soil Bank program has made it more important. For conservation, profits and productivity, district supervisors recommend your serious consideration of grass in your conservation program.

Grass acts as a protective cover of our top soil. It cushions the falling rain; it filters soil out of the water which moves into our streams, and with grass, streams run clear.

For those who are pitting, the district recommends complete rest through the growing season to receive maximum benefits. Pitting now and letting livestock run over the pits between now and the time the rains come will cut down on the efficiency of the pits tremendously. A small investment in some good seed to plant at the time the pitting is done would be worth some serious consideration. Pits help to get water into the ground. Buying and planting good seed in the pits will be insurance that you will get some good grass seedlings which will make the most efficient use of the water. Pitting is not a cure-all and cannot perform miracles. A good job of resting, deferring, proper use and reseeding will give pitting a good start toward doing what it is supposed to do.

Have you notified the district supervisors that you would like to have a soil conservation district sign for your farm or ranch? If six or more of the signs are ordered they can be bought for $2.00 each. These signs will serve to notify that you are cooperating with your local soil conservation district, and they can also be used in giving directions to your farm or ranch.

Do you have land heavily infested with mesquite? What are your plans for controlling this? It takes three times as much water to grow a pound of mesquite as it does to grow a pound of grass. Would you like to see a trial root plowing of mesquite in our district this year? If so why not talk to one of your district supervisors?

We hope for Supervisors Ben Hext and J. Forrest Runge a safe and informative trip to and from the annual meeting of Texas Soil Conservation district supervisors. The meeting is to be held in Tyler, January 16-18. Ervin L. Peterson, assistant secretary of USDA is to appear on the program, as well as other top speakers interested in soil, water and plant conservation.

Suggestions For January

1. Buy seed—it will cost more later.
2. Give those terraces a maintenance plowing.
3. Check the advantages to you in conservation reserve of the Soil Bank program.
4. Prepare seed beds for pasture grasses to be seeded next spring.
5. Decide now to take better care of your land in 1957.

For land owners who are going into the conservation reserve of the soil bank program, the district recommends that the first year be used to plant the land to a crop which will grow cover and litter preceding the planting of perennial grasses. See your local SCS technicians for assistance in planning and applying conservation work on your land.

"Civilization is perched on a three-legged stool—water, soil and plants. If any of the supports fail, civilization will topple off."

of January and next week full directions and recipes will be given.

Jimmie Whitten, member of the state 4-H club council, will attend the Honor Award Banquet to be held in the North Terrace of the Gunter hotel in an Antonio on Friday evening, February 8. The honorees and their leaders will be guests of the exposition February 9th.

Jimmie's outstanding record won this award when submitted to the state office.

Seven grain sorghum hybrids, developed co-operatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be available to farmers planting in 1957.

Planting seeds of these hybrids are white, but the commercial grain crop produced will be red. In general the higher the number of the hybrid the later is its maturity. The hybrids will produce 20 to 40% greater than varieties of the same maturity under most conditions. The plants show superior seedling vigor, rapid growth, more uniform height and maturity.

The hybrids are RS 590, Texas 601, RS 610, Texas 611, Texas 650 and Texas 660.

Seed from these commercial grains should not be saved and planted, since most of the yield increase will be lost, and the plants will be highly variable in seed color, maturity and other characteristics.

Bob Thurmond, Extension Engineer, College Station, Texas, visited with irrigation farmers on irrigation problems January 10.

In the morning, Mr. Thurmond toured the C. R. Keeney and Perry Mittel farms offering suggestions to the improvement of irrigation problems.

In the afternoon irrigation was visited in the Reynolds community at the Henry Moore farm. Those present were: Ray Bruton, Henry Moore, Gene Moore, Wallace Joiner, Perry Mittel, Nick Jurecek, George Mikeska, Lloyd Johnson and Don Mikeska.

"Pre-irrigation is of utmost importance after soil has been properly prepared for maximum yields, the group was told by Mr. Thurmond. The soil deep plowed will probably hold 2 1/2" of water per foot in the soil zone to be used in July and August. It would be impossible to properly wet the soil zone in its entirety after planting."

Cultivation, pre-irrigation, insect control, fertilizer, water, and the proper timing of each step are a must for large yields.

To err is human, but if the eraser wears out before the lead, you are over doing it.

Mrs. L. Wheeler was quite ill last week but was recently reported to be improving.

STORY NO. 5

Duval Methods Closely Parallel Repression in Hitler's Germany

By--FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.--The Parr family, ruling dynasty in the malodorous Duchy of Duval, was in the boss business long before Adolph Hitler was ever heard of in my native Germany.

Hitler was painting bad picture postcards and living in a Vienna flophouse while Tsar Parr was running things high, wide and handsome in this sun-seared section of Texas.

As a German, and reputedly a bit of an expert on dictatorships (I've seen the Red kind and the Brown, or Hitler, kind), I've been asked to look at Duval from that point of view. I came, I saw and I shuddered. Duval was too much like home.

Lest anyone consider a Hitler Germany-Parr Duval comparison as an invidious one, remember that I'm making no such comparison. I don't have to. History beat me to it.

Let's look at a curious, and disquieting, situation in Germany at this moment. Then we'll look at an interesting incident just a few months ago in the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

In West Germany "ex"-Nazis are being brought to trial on all sorts of charges harking back to the days of Hitler, war crimes, theft of public funds, graft, political murder.

A few years ago these same men were mousy, quiet, biding their time. Today they're arrogant, truculent, threatening.

In court they thunder at the judge and thunder at the jury, daring them to convict. The day is coming, and soon, they shout, when the "right" will triumph, when the hated foreigner will be thrust from the sacred soil of the Fatherland. On that day true Germans will know what to do. They'll punish the enemies within and the enemies without.

This courtroom strategy is working like a charm. The frightened jurors are acquitting the Nazi bully boys one after the other.

Now let's get back to the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

Red-headed George Berham Parr, of Duval, has been hailed before the jurors and questioning him is Sidney Chandler, assistant to Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Chandler doesn't get very far with the Duke. Parr stands on his constitutional rights, invoking the "Fifth Amendment"—that a man may remain silent if his testimony might incriminate him or even tend to incriminate him. Then the jury adjourns and Chandler mops his brow in frustration.

"Sidney," Parr said, "I've got something to say to the jury." Chandler, curious, told him "Go right ahead."

Parr turned quietly to the jury and eyed each man in turn. He knew each man by his first name, and he reminded them of that. One grand juror was a Parr tenant, another an employee, several owed him money.

Then Parr's voice rose in fury to a crescendo. He shook his fist in the face of each man, shouting that soon there would be a new State government in Austin, a new government in Washington—and George Parr would again be firmly in the saddle. Then there would be a reckoning, a settling of scores.

One grand juror described the scene to me this way: "He yelled and screamed so loud you could hear him in Alice ten miles away." County employees came out of their offices and stood on the stairs outside the Grand Jury Room, listening in awe. Parr's harange went on for twenty minutes.

"I respect you as Grand Jurors," he raged, "but only so long as you sit in this room. Outside of this room I don't have to respect you a G... D... bit, not a damn bit. Outside of this room I do as I please. Remember that! Remember that, all of you!"

That Grand Jury, white-lipped and frightened, listened—but right there the parallel ends. Unlike the cringing juries in Germany that jury in Duval braved the threat of wrath to come and voted thirty-one indictments against members of the Parr machine.

We'll take just one more example of intimidation, an effective weapon in the hands of any efficient political boss or any dictator. Here in San Diego those terms are interchangeable.

On Monday, July 16, my writing partner and myself sat in the court room in San Diego, District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin presiding. The suit, brought by Manuel Trevino and Manuel Olivares, was to contest the results of last April's civic elections in San Diego when Parr forces captured four out of five seats on the city council.

The action was of particular importance because if it succeeded in unseating one of two Parr men, Alberto Garcia or Leopoldo Sepulveda, the Duke of Duval would have been stripped of his private army, the San Diego police force.

Here's the way it works: Never in its long and stormy history has San Diego had a police department. None was needed because the sheriffs of Duval County and Jim Wells County, together with their deputies, were well able to handle things to the taste of George Berham Parr. At one time Duval County alone had as many as 200 deputies, gun-slinging pistoleros. Some people put the figure as high as three hundred.

But Parr no longer controls the sheriffs. So the San Diego council dutifully gave him a police force with Manuel Amaya, former deputy sheriff, as chief.

Amaya and his constables are officially paid $50 each per month. Under Texas law a peace officer must be paid at least $40 per month from the public purse before he has the right to pack a pistol.

I have talked to these men, sat with them in the Windmill Cafe, favorite haunt of Parr supporters. They eat well, dress well, have their own cars and show no signs of poverty. Yet their official pay is less than $12.50 per week. Parr reputedly makes up the difference out of his own pocket.

I watched these men in action in Judge Laughlin's court room that hot and sleepy afternoon.

It was a job of straight, out and out intimidation of witnesses. One lone Texas Ranger, Wiley Williamson, sat near the judge's bench, keeping a wary eye on the scene.

Parr's policemen, their 45's loosely holstered, circulated about the big room, here whispering into the ear of a witness, there patting another on the back, digging playful knuckles into the ribs of yet another.

The policemen were smiling, jovial, friendly. But the witnesses weren't smiling. They had fright written all over them.

Through a Spanish interpreter the witnesses, dozens of them, were sworn in as a group. Then the questioning began, with the interpreter relaying the questions and answers. It was amazing how much the witnesses couldn't remember. Their voices were hardly audible.

They couldn't remember, for example, whether they'd ever been convicted of a crime and so lost their right to vote. Or whether they'd received pardons from the governor and so regained their civil rights. One after the other they shuffled to the stand, and one after the other they "could not remember."

My partner and I were in the courtroom for but part of one afternoon of the four day hearing. That was enough to see Parrism in action.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Laughlin ruled that one Parr man, Leopoldo Sepulveda, had lost his seat to Manuel Trevino. The election of Alberto Garcia was confirmed, but the anti-Parr forces now had a three to two majority on the city council. The case was immediately appealed, the Parr man keeping his seat for the time being.

Thus George Berham Parr keeps his police force.

(Note: since this article was written another election was ordered by a higher court and Parr lost control of the city government. Thus his last means of keeping his pistoleros armed was taken away. Earlier he lost control of the Commissioners Court after a months-long series of court battles with Attorney General Shepperd, and saw his old enemy Donato Serna installed as Duval County auditor after more than a year of resistance which took the case up to the Texas Supreme Court. Putting an impartial man in the county auditor's position, Shepperd explains, was the key to blocking Parr from the misuse of county funds. The San Diego city government was Parr's last ditch, from which he is now evicted.)

Roberta Finklea returned home to Amarillo last week after a holiday visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Emmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Kent Stanford and daughter of Andrews spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truett Stanford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ochsner and son John Dorr of Athens have returned home after a weekend visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Ochsner.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

The annual 4-H FFA show will be held January 26, 1957, at the Schleicher County Agricultural Center from 9:00 to 10:30 a.m. There will be two classes of lambs, fine wool and crossbred, to be placed according to market grades, choice, prime and good.

The top three lambs of each class will compete for champion lamb of show and Nathan's Jewelry trophy.

There will be a class of Rambouillet ewes judged and exhibited. Champion ewe will receive a 4-H or FFA jacket from the Ratliff store. Each boy will be judged on showmanship, the winner to receive a spurclip donated by N. F. L. A., Sonora, Texas. There will be a special class in which each boy will show for the best trimmed lamb, the winner to receive a spurclip from West Tex. Woolen Mills.

Mrs. Vida Krecklow, CHDA, has graciously consented to contribute to this column regularly with news of Home Demonstration work in the county. This, I am sure, will be welcome to the reader and offers more variety of subjects to be included in the column.

At one time no one thought of fresh, green vegetables until garden time. Now all is changed. The drought has just about made gardening impossible and the trucking and frozen food industry now furnish fresh green vegetables the whole year. Vegetables can be good as well as good for you. In a vitamin conscious age it is good to know that green and yellow vegetables furnish Vitamin A, which have to do with the eyes and good condition of skin. All kinds of greens and the yellow colored vegetables furnish this protective substance. It happens however, that it is an easy thing to destroy vitamin A by using the wrong cooking methods. It can be dissolved in water and if a vegetable is cooked in lots of water and boiled hard for a long time the vitamins have vanished before the food gets to the table. Rule one then for cooking most vegetables would be: use little or no water. This method is now being demonstrated in all Home Demonstration clubs in the county for the month

I thought For The Week
Ministerial Alliance

Do you think the "Golden Rule" is enough to live by? There are a great many people who say they live by it and seem to feel that it is enough. What do you think? Our Lord did not think so. What is it? "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets." (Matt. 7:12).

But he did not say that it was the gospel and it is only by believing the Gospel of Christ that a person is saved. If you believe that you WILL attend church worship and do the things that our Lord commands. Yes, the golden rule is divinely inspired but it is only a by-product of real Christian living. Read Romans 1:16 and 10:9. —Jim Spencer.

Health Letter
Austin, Jan. 17—Quickening concern over lagging polio vaccinations was in evidence this week as state health authorities reported just slightly over 10 percent of the Texas population under 20 years of age has received the full course of three shots.
"And the start of the 1957 season is just a brief three months away," State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle reminded.
The polio season usually begins in mid-April in Texas.
Dr. Holle predicted the relative number of cases among teen agers and young adults would steadily increase because many persons in these age groups discount the possibility of falling victim to the disease and thereby fail to take the protective shots.
"The facts are that about 29% of all polio cases last year occurred among persons over 15 years old," the commissioner said. "Moreover, polio among persons of these ages is more highly fatal than it is in younger ages."
Dr. Holle said "fair" progress has been made in vaccinating infants and youngsters of grade school age, but that unless high school and college students quickly avail themselves of protection through vaccination, "the heaviest percentages of future cases will affect them."
He said the vaccine is now in plentiful supply, "but it doesn't do any good in the bottle." National vaccine supply sources have indicated that enough of the protective fluid is on hand to vaccinate anyone desiring it, regardless of age.
As the year ended, a total of 732 cases of polio in its paralytic form had been registered in Texas for 1956. Of that number only 48 were reported as having received at least one shot. Only two had received all three shots.
Dr. Holle also appealed to parents of children who had received one or two shots to be sure the youngsters completed the third shot on schedule.
"The vaccine may give over 90% protection when all three shots are administered as recommended."
The recommended sequence calls for the second shot to be given a month after the first, and the third shot seven months after the second.
The commissioner called for a concerted drive throughout the state to get "all Texans—from infancy to amaturity and beyond" to begin the three-shot series at once.
"It is a major medical miracle that so many people have been vaccinated in such a short space of time, but we cannot rest on that laurel with less than 10% of the job done and with another polio season coming up," the commissioner said.

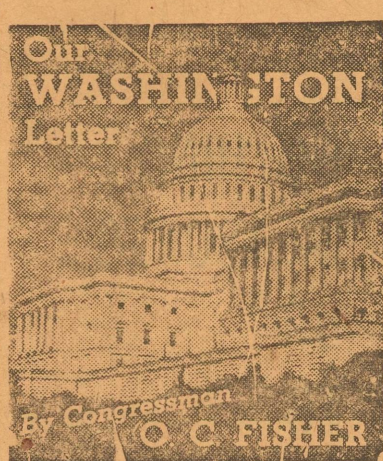

Lecture Scheduled

GEORGE CHANNING
Heard in a free lecture on Christian Science next Thursday will be George Channing, who is a graduate of Brown University and who studied law at Yale.
He served in World War I, being appointed a corporal upon entering. He took a course at Saumur, France, in the Field Artillery, and upon graduation received a commission as 1st Lt. Coast Artillery Corps, U.S.A. Reserves.
For ten years he was in newspaper work, which included two years as city editor of the Seattle Star. In 1934 he was made a teacher of Christian Science, and was appointed in 1938 to membership on the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

In 1940 he was called to Boston to serve as First Reader of the Mother Church. A year and a half later he was selected to serve as a Trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society. He was appointed to membership on the Board of Lectureship again in 1944, and served in that capacity until January 1, 1949, when he was appointed editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals, that included the Christian Science Journal, Christian Science Sentinel, and the Heralds of Christian Science.

In 1951 he was appointed manager of Committees on Publication, an office comparable to a public relations post for the religion of Christian Science throughout the world. In June, 1953, he was again appointed to membership on the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

The drought, and its impact on the economy of the Southwest, was aired last week in the House on the eve of President Eisenhower's unprecedented inspection trip to the drought-stricken area of Texas.
Spearheaded by Congressman Poage of Waco, the ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture committee, which handles all drought-aid legislation, a dozen other members of the House joined him in introducing two bills designed to accomplish two things:
1. To expand a government-sponsored deferred-grazing program in disaster areas; and,
2. To authorize government aid in setting up a protein feed emergency program.
Under existing law the only feed program, useable by stockraisers to help preserve foundation herds, is grain from government stockpiles and a hay program, a joint Federal-State deal. It is hoped that by some arrangement the government may be helpful in providing some protein feed, particularly during the lambing and kidding season this spring, and to aid the cattle people during that same period.
The deferred grazing proposal originated with the State Drought Committee of Texas, and would permit landowners to defer any grazing on lands for a minimum of one year, in order that grasses and other vegetation may have a chance to be gradually restored before being consumed by livestock. That cover serves a natural and necessary purpose of holding water, preventing run-off, and reducing evaporation. Such a soil conservation practice, if generally carried, will restore the affected lands to normalcy much more rapidly, once the rain comes.
A dozen of us discussed all angles of the problem on the Floor of the House, after the bills were introduced. The next step will be for the Department of Agriculture to determine the advisability of the proposals which will be done in a report to the Committee on Agriculture. Hearings can then be held and an attempt made to push the legislation along.

Rainfall Is Light
The year 1956 has passed into history; and the lack of rainfall recorded some horrible stories upon the pages of time. The drought was the most devastating the first 10½ months of the year when we received 5.7 inches of rainfall, according to unofficial records maintained by the Soil Conservation Service at Robert Lee. A total of 12.2 inches were recorded in 1956. —Robert Lee Observer.

Holidays Are Set
Seven 1957 business holidays were set by businessmen at a meeting last Friday in the Enterprise office. The days include six regular holidays and a two-day close-up next Christmas.
Holidays also included last Tuesday, Jan. 1. The others are: Thursday, May 30, Memorial Day; Thursday, July 4, Independence Day; Monday, Sept. 2, Labor Day; Thursday, Nov. 28, Thanksgiving Day; and Wednesday and Thursday Dec. 25 and 26, Christmas. —Bronte Enterprise.

Facts On Irrigation Are Given In Publication

College Station.—"Thinking of Irrigation" is the title of a publication just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and it is available without cost from the offices of local county agents or from the Agricultural Information office, College Station, Texas.
Extension Irrigation Specialist R. V. Thurmond, the author, has listed in concise form the most important considerations for those contemplating an irrigation program for their farm. Illustrations are used to emphasize and clarify the facts listed.
Such items as water supply, soils, crops, methods of applying water, equipment and planning and designing the system are covered in the publication. The final test comes, says Thurmond, when these cost factors are all added together—water cost, extra equipment, taxes, maintenance, fertilizer depreciation, interest on investment and labor—and compared with the expected increased income derived from irrigation.
To be profitable, the engineer emphasizes that income must be increased enough through the use of irrigation to offset the additional costs. Installing an irrigation system should not be looked upon as a short time proposition, but as a change in farm management and operation which will affect farm production and income for a long period of time, says Thurmond.

Mrs. Gerald Hartgraves was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club at her home, two tables of members playing. Prizes were won by Mrs. Joe Andrews, Mrs. Bob Sykes, and Mrs. Paul Page. The hostess served a dessert plate.

Mrs. J. H. Wagley had as guests recently the late Mr. Wagley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dixon of Dimmitt.

Fifteen members and two guests were here at the Tri-County Council of Parent-Teachers meeting in Eldorado last Thursday.

Visitors recently in the Clyde Keeney home were Dick Lee, retired businessman, and Mr. Carter, oil man, both of Dallas. Other visitors in the home were Mrs. Keeney's brother Yater Tant, who is conducting a Church of Christ revival in Del Rio, and the pastor and his wife, the Gary Swains.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sauer and Paul and Louise of Van Horn arrived late yesterday to visit relatives and friends in the county.

Grace Crosby Weds In Home Ceremony Sunday Afternoon

In the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Crosby, Miss Grace Rae Crosby became the bride Sunday afternoon of Audie Lindsey, son of Mrs. J. D. Lindsey of Longview, and the late Mr. Lindsey.

The Rev. J. C. Hancock, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the double ring vows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, she wore a winter-white chiffon faille veil, her pink hat was trimmed with seed pearls, and she wore patent leather opera pumps, and carried a white Bible topped with white snap dragons and carnations, and centered with a pink removable corsage of pink carnations with white streamers.

Miss Minnie White of San Angelo was maid of honor. She wore an aqua taffeta dress.

Bing Crosby of Christoval, brother of the bride, was best man. A reception was held in the home after the wedding. Decorations were baskets of white gladiolas and snap dragons. The table was centered with the bride's prayer book and candles. A miniature bridal couple topped the two tiered white cake.

Mrs. Bing Crosby of Christoval, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the cake, and Miss Minnie White of San Angelo served punch.

A graduate of Eldorado High school, she attended SAC one year and San Angelo Business college a year. She has been employed in San Angelo.

The groom attended school at Longview and served four years in the Navy. The couple will be at home in San Angelo, where the groom is employed at the T. V. Radio Lab.

Guests were from McCamey, San Angelo and Sonora.

MRS. AUDIE LINDSEY

CHRISTIE IS SIX

Honoring Christie St. Clair on her sixth birthday, Mrs. Gene St. Clair and her mother Mrs. Lillian Crosby entertained 35 children with a party at the Memorial Building Tuesday afternoon.

The children broke pinatas and played games, after which a birthday cake, topped with six candles, was served.

Austin.—Texas' 55th Legislature is down to business with a "first things first" agenda.

House members agreed to Speaker Waggoner Carr's plea to give top priority to appropriations. A $2 billion appropriation bill is proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. It would require no new taxes. But it does not include such strongly-backed items as the teacher pay raises.

Members of the House Appropriations committee, headed by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, already have begun their dollar-by-dollar deliberations. Said Speaker Carr, as they began, "You are the key to the whole session."

A host of other controversial problems will be pushing for attention. Among them:

1. Long-range, state-wide water conservation. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Water Resources committee, is asking for prompt action. Sixteen bills, two constitutional amendments were presented by the committee.
2. School integration. Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs circulated a Texas Manifesto which pledged signers to support legislation to help preserve school segregation.
3. Election code revisions. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas proposes a law requiring a run-off between top candidates in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large. He wants it passed on an emergency basis to apply to the upcoming race for Price Daniel's place. Republicans are protesting vigorously.
4. Lobby control and legislative ethics. Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Daisetta says he will introduce a bill requiring lobbyists to file monthly financial reports.

Key Posts Assigned
Though new faces abound—56 in the House, seven in the Senate—honors, as usual, went to old hands. Sen. Otis E. Lock of Lufkin, veteran of nearly 20 years in the Legislature, was elected Senate president pro tempore. It is the top Senate honor, second in line to the governorship.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is a fourth-termer.

Rep. Max C. Smith of San Marcos, now in his seventh term, drew the important House appropriations committee chairmanship. Other key chairmen in the House are Frates S. Seeligson of San Antonio, revenue and taxation; W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, state affairs.

New Era

Secretaries will be heard, but not seen, this session. This and a number of other innovations are being tried out by the 55th Legislators. Formerly the lawmakers' secretaries, usually including many University coeds, were on and off the floor all during sessions. House members' secretaries had no desks of their own.

Now the house secretaries have basement offices. Their employers have new private telephones to call their secretaries, other lawmakers' desks and outside. But banished secretaries can console themselves with pay raises—up from $9 to $10 a day in the House, from $12 to $14 in the Senate. Both are paid seven days a week.

Even so, many observers deplored the passing of the secretarial "beauty parade."

House members also voted to permit radio and television broadcasting of their sessions.

Four Seek Speakership
Campaigning for Speaker of the House in 1959 already has begun. Candidates are Reps. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, Ben A. Glusing of Kingsville, Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and Will Smith of Beaumont. Decision will not be definite until after the 1958 elections.

Citizen Shivers
Gov. Allan Shivers steps out of the Capitol into multiple private business activities. He will continue to live in Austin where he will serve as chairman of the board of Western Pipe-Lines, Inc. He also will oversee his farm and ranch property at Woodville and the Sharv estate in the Valley.

His family moves from the mansion to a large rented home while remodeling of their next home, the 100-year-old Pease Mansion, is completed.

In his farewell address to the Legislature, Governor Shivers urg-

His departure closes a spectacular public career begun 22 years ago as a state senator from an East Texas district.

Erle Coche, Vice-Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, Fulton National Bank, Atlanta, Georgia; President, American Bankers Association

Today Americans earn more, spend more and live better than ever before in our history. And, to keep that prosperity healthy, I think each one of us should have a sound and balanced savings program.

I recommend that part of that program be regular investment in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. And here are three good reasons why.

- You're sure of your principal in Savings Bonds. Your investment is not subject to fluctuation.
- You're sure of your returns. Your Government guarantees both principal and interest to holders of U. S. Savings Bonds. And even after your Bonds mature, they go on earning for 10 additional years.
- You're sure of the future when you invest regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds. There's nothing like the feeling of security—that comes from a backlog of savings—including safe, sure U. S. Savings Bonds.

As a patriotic service, banks everywhere in our country sell U. S. Savings Bonds. Stop in regularly where you bank and make a payment on your own future security by buying a U. S. Savings Bond.

H. D. Council Installs Officers At Tea Monday

On Monday afternoon a tea, which combined a social hour and an installation ceremony, marked the beginning of a new year's work for Home Demonstration club women of Schleicher county. Eighty-three women represented the seven clubs of the county and each club had one member who acted as a cooperative hostess.

Mrs. Carrol White, council chairman for 1955 and 1956 poured coffee and Mrs. M. H. Woodward, incoming chairman for 1957, served cake to guests as they called. The refreshment table followed a "use what you have" theme and was attractively set with accessories that anyone could or might have.

The cover was indian jute, an imported fabric, but is more commonly called wool sacking, property of the Eldorado Wool Co. A piece of mesquite drift wood which resembled a horn of plenty in shape, served as a candle holder. Spilling out of the horn were red grapes on a bed of lemon leaves which were banked with other fruit. The coffee service included antique copper pots and kettles on a copper tray, with antique glass cream and sugar service. Green tapers and green napkins complemented the natural color of the table cloth and the two were highlighted by the copper service.

In the installation service Mrs. Joe Kreklow, county HD agent, lighted the candle of past chairman, Mrs. Carrol White, with a statement about the Texas Extension service and the encouraging help lent to its aims by women who loved their homes and their community. She further added that no work could be successfully carried on without the help and contributions made by each woman in the county. Mrs. White lighted the candle of the new chairman, Mrs. M. H. Woodward, who in turn lighted the candle of the new vice chairman. The ceremony included retiring secretary Mrs. Grover Lee Johnson and incoming secretary Mrs. Truett Stanford; retiring treasurer Mrs. M. L. Potter and incoming treasurer Mrs. L. C. McCalla. Mrs. Ben Hext was installed as parliamentarian and Mrs. E. H. Nixon Sr., reporter. Committees and their chairmen are: finance, Mrs. J. Forrest Runge; education, Mrs. Carrol White; recreation, Mrs. Bernard Carr; 4-H leaders, Mrs. Arch Edmiston; and reporters, Mrs. Buster Gunn. As the past officer retired she lighted the candle of each new person taking her office. A prayer for courage and strength to do women's work was repeated in unison and closed the meeting.

Representative Here Today On Social Security

Virtually all self-employed people are now covered by social security except doctors of medicine, according to Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo social security office. With the passage of the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act, the nation's social security system will now protect practically every family. About 200,000 professional self-employed were affected by this change.

Self-employed lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, and optometrists are now building old age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families. Net earnings for 1956, if they are as much as $400, will count toward social security insurance. The law requires self-employed persons in these groups to report their earnings up to a total of $4200 a year for taxable years ending after 1955. In most cases, first reports will be filed with 1956 income tax returns. This applies whether the work is in individual practice or in a partnership.

The 1956 Amendments also cover additional farm operators. Landlords who substantially participate in the management or production of a crop or livestock on land farmed jointly by themselves and renters or sharecroppers must report their farm income for social security if they had a net profit of $400 or more in 1956.

Neil Tarvin, field representative from the San Angelo Social Security office will be in Eldorado on Thursday, January 17, in the District Courtroom from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. to assist anyone with questions pertaining to the social security program.
