Weather...!

The big news of the weekend was the rain and the E Club getting stranded, both of which we've tried to cover in this paper.

—ps—
High points on the weather Monday morning:

Menard is center of worry, with creeks on rise. Big Lake highway taking care of heavy thru traffic Sunday as Sonora-Ozona highway closed. Mertzon highway closed — San Angelo highway nearly closed, but waters receding.

With Big Lake road closed again Monday, all west traffic routed through San Angelo. Meckel bridge damaged for third time in week. Menard watershed gets big rains. Most of high water just over line on Big Lake highway. Head of San Saba river running high, with draws up at Cooper Gas.

Two draws on the Rudd road have been out, causing inconvenience to Sinclair and other employees in Huldale, who had used the road as a detour. Plant Supt. Chas. Clark was away from home Sunday and had to return via Christoval.

Mrs. Bud Russell (Katherine Davis) and family, whose home was flooded several years ago, phoned that they were evacuated when water reached the lawn, then it

Two Automobile Mishaps Occur On County Roads

Two accidents took place during the past week in Schleicher county, both of which involved out-of-county vehicles, and were investigated by Sheriff Orval Edmiston, his deputy Jack Jones, and the highway patrol.

A one-car accident took place yesterday morning on the San Angelo highway when a car driven by Roy Morgan of San Angelo went through a fence and into a pasture in the Huldale area.

Morgan was taken to a San Angelo hospital where he was believed not too seriously hurt. He worked for San Angelo Iron and Metal Works.

A more serious accident took place on the Menard highway last Friday and involved two cars. Site of the mishap was near Webster's, 25.9 miles east of Eldorado.

Mrs. Carl Nabors of London was driving a '56 Dodge heading this way and was passing a car on a hill, it was stated, when she met a '55 Buick coming from the opposite direction, driven by a man named Harris from Odessa who was accompanied by his wife.

The Dodge made a complete turn and landed on its wheels while the Buick landed on its top.

Mrs. Nabors was accompanied by Mr. Nabors who was riding in the front seat and there was another man of about 20 asleep in the back seat. All were taken to the Sonora hospital for treatment. Mrs. Nabors suffered a crushed chest and Harris sustained a broken back. The others were less seriously injured. The two demolished vehicles were towed in to Eldorado.

NEW DEALERS HERE FOR DESOTO AND PLYMOUTH

In an advertisement which appears on page six of this issue, Peters and Montgomery announce that they have been appointed authorized dealers for the De Soto and Plymouth line of passenger cars. Two of the new models are now on display in the firm's showroom, and the public is invited to come by and look them over.

PAY RAISES VOTED BY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Several pay raises were voted by Schleicher County commissioners when they met Monday of this week. All road hands were raised $20 a month, and Fenna Whitten, Jud Brannan, Fred Gillaspay and John Hamm were also raised the same amount effective May 1st.

The court voted to hire extra road hands at $260 per month to repair roads damaged by floods.

Other routine business was taken care of.

Mrs. Elizabeth Powell took her grandchildren home to Midland after a visit here, and had some trouble getting home because of high water.

Lifesaving Class Is Now Going On At Pool

A class of 18 high school boys and girls of age 16 and older have been meeting since Monday at the new county swimming pool for a lifesaving course.

Bob Burkart and Joan Fudge are in charge, and they are giving the standard Red Cross Senior course in lifesaving, at the class meetings from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock each day. Those who successfully complete the two-week course will be given certificates and badges and will participate in the program at the pool this summer. Some will serve as life guards.

Since the pool was completed only this spring, this is the first year for it to be in use, and a more complete program, including Junior lifesaving, will be worked out later, it was stated.

The pool is under the supervision of Jack Browning, and is not yet open to the public.

Personnel have strongly discouraged anyone's using the pool while it is unsupervised.

On May 25th, the day after school closes, the pool will be open to the public. Further details will be announced later.

THE VINSON WILDCAT — ELDORADO'S CURRENT HOPE

The only drilling operation anywhere close to the city of Eldorado at this time is the Moore No. 1 Vinson, which is located about 1 1/2 miles northeast of town. It has been promoted by R. H. Murray, the owner of two shallow wells just west of Eldorado.

At 5:00 p.m. yesterday the operators reached the depth of 4840 feet on the Vinson, and stopped drilling and began making preparations for a Schlumberger test.

Club's Weekend Fishing Trip Encounters Experiences Not Bargained For

By COACH JACK BROWNING

Members of the "E" Club of Eldorado High school started a fishing trip Friday that will be long remembered but maybe never completed.

After arriving on Devil's River about 3:30 Friday afternoon, on the Horace Fawcett ranch on which is located Dolan Falls, camp was set up and members along with Orland Harris, Milton Harris, Patton Enochs, and Coaches W. A. Algood, Guy Whitaker, and Jack Browning set out to catch fish in clear dry weather, in the most beautiful fishing water ever seen by this writer.

Several fish were caught by casters that afternoon. In the meantime Coaches Algood and Whitaker along with Pat Enochs put out a sizable trot line. Curtis Stockton and Jimmie Whitten also put out a good trot line before Orland called us to supper.

After a very good supper many boys went to bed, but several members of the group went fishing. Along about 8:30 or 9:00 p.m., a big black cloud appeared at the head of the Rio Diablo. Orland states at that time that he didn't think it would rain in our camp, but that we should get off the river by eleven o'clock in case of a small rise on the river. Gentlemen, she rose. After all hands were cleared of the river banks and got back into camp, Mr. Harris' prediction of no rain in camp proved to be wrong as a little shower started. Stockton, Whitten, and Coach Browning, not to be defeated by a little rain, went back to the river to fish for a while. Just as they had settled down to some good fishing, the bottom fell out. We don't know exactly how much it rained that night, but we know it rained a quart because we had a fruit jar that size to fill up pitting out in the open. During the night everyone was fairly comfortable as there were several tarps available.

Saturday morning the weather was clear but the river was on a little rise of about 3 or 4 feet and the fishing wasn't too good, but by noontime the river was down and most everyone started fishing. Coach Algood and Pat found their trot line but there weren't any fish on it. Stockton's line was tangled up somewhat but there was a fish on it weighing in the neighborhood of 10 pounds.

Saturday afternoon Stockton and Coach Browning put a trot line completely across the river and baited with worms and shrimp, and during the night they took off 16 nice catfish. Pennington and Kuykendall along with Herman Phillips put out two lines and Coach Whitaker put out two throw lines just below Dolan Falls.

Everything was going nicely. There was a full moon and the fish were biting until about 2:30 a.m. Sunday when Milton spotted what he called some little "coastal clouds." Then it started sprinkling. At this time Orland Harris, Stockton, Phillips and Coach Browning were fishing about a mile down river from camp. Orland stated that we should go to camp and by the time we got our lines out of the water and our coffee pot emptied it was coming a "stump floater."

On the way back to camp it slacked up a bit and we met Kuykendall coming to join the group. Then when the group reached camp, it seemed as if the monsoon season was upon us. Stockton, Browning, Whitaker and Kuykendall took the two boats and took their lines out of the waters.

Sunday morning after discovering that it had rained another quart, the decision was made to break camp and go to the highway, a distance of some 18 miles Camp was broken and the pickups (a total of six) were packed and driven to higher ground. It seemed sort of useless to start out with them as we could only have driven about a hundred yards to where the road was washed out about 30 feet wide and ten or twelve inches deep.

Folks, when that little walk started, all of the boys were pretty happy because they said if they had to walk all the way to the road and didn't get home until Sunday night they weren't going to school Monday. Well, we started at 9:30 a.m. Sunday; at 12 Noon we were across the draw from Horace Fawcett's ranch house. He flew over in his plane and dropped us a note telling us to stay on high ground and that we might be able to get across the draw late Sunday night or early Monday morning. In any event he would have food for us Monday morning. A new camp site was set up; Pat built a fire and the boys started toasting the bread that we brought with us. Sunday afternoon the draw was checked for a distance of about 4 miles for a place to cross but no one came up with a likely crossing place so we moved our camp down to the edge of the place where we eventually crossed and most everyone went to sleep. Pat Enochs stayed awake all the time keeping an eye on the water. At 11:30 p.m. Sunday Pat and Curtis awakened everyone with a problem. We could either cross the draw then, or wait another day or two as there was another black cloud coming down the draw.

The decision was to cross the river, so we hit the water holding hands. Water never got over waist deep on anyone except Farris Nixon and he was hitting bottom about every 30 feet. At 12 midnight, we reached the Fawcett ranch house, where we called Mrs. Harris. Then we started for the highway. Joe Stanford is to be highly commended as he walked the seven miles with one shoe missing because of a blister about the size of a half dollar on his heel.

The group started arriving at the Meiers Ranch on the highway about 2:30 a.m., where they bedded down in the sheep barn until morning. The last group of Enochs, Stanford, Steward and Nixon arrived about 3 a.m., just before we had a little shower. It only rained an inch that nite.

When we got up Monday morning Mr. Meier's foreman came and told us to get ready to eat as they were cooking breakfast for us. Just after we finished breakfast, Ed Hicks and Jack Griffin arrived in Orland's truck to bring us home.

In order to get home we went to Rocksprings, then toward Uvalde, to 35 miles south of Junction, back to Junction and on to Sonora and Eldorado.

All of the boys seemed sort of happy to get back home, and on Tuesday they were all back in school and Pat was back to his records at the court house.

Anyone who would like to offer any advice on how to get the pickups out or would like to help, come Saturday, contact Orland or Coach Algood as an attempt will be made at that time to rescue the transportation and gear.

From a Boy's Viewpoint by Jimmie Whitten

The members of the "E" Club who went on the annual fishing trip Friday gained an experience that they will remember for a long time. Due to nightly rains, the Devils River overflowed its banks, and the roads became impassable Sunday morning. All members of the fishing party started walking to the nearest house to phone. A large draw that was running very deep halted their progress. By this time most of the members were becoming foot weary and hungry after the long hike without food. Flying an airplane, the owner of the ranch, Mr. Horace Fawcett, spotted the group and dropped a note telling of the road conditions.

The draw was crossed at midnight, Sunday night, after the high water had gone down enough. Using the phone at the rancher's house the group called Eldorado and told them that all members were safe.

The group decided to continue walking until the highway was reached. A shearing barn by the highway was reached just as another rain started. The next morning breakfast was served by the owner of the ranch, a Mr. Miers. After the breakfast a truck driven by Jack Griffin and Ed Hicks brought the group back to Eldorado, bringing the twenty mile hike to an end.

The pickups and all equipment were left on high ground. A group will return to get them when roads dry.

Members of the group were: Coaches Browning, Algood and Whitaker, Patton Enochs, Orland Harris, Milton Harris, Curtis Stockton, John Meador, David Kuykendall, George Sofge, Jimmie Whitten, Bob Steward, Cecil Walston, Dick Runge, Voy Mitchell, Jimmie Harris, Herman Phillips, Ken Pennington, Rony Kerr, Bobby Jeffrey, Domingo Pina, Robby Waldron, Farris Nixon, Joe Stanford, Donnie Smith and Dan Griffin.

The long-anticipated rains finally arrived. Haven't they been wonderful? Just wish the land had been covered to the point that the run-off would have been slower and much clearer. There is no way of knowing the number of tons of topsoil that have been moved in this area within the past few weeks. You know they tell us it is the force of the rain drop hitting bare ground that starts the soil to erode. By having a cover on the land more moisture would have been retained in the soil. We all know the best water reservoir we have is underground.

Now that the rains have come the prospects of producing a good crop are better than they have been in many years. The stubble from these crops can increase the amount of water that the soil will hold, if it is left on the land to do this job. Now is the time to make plans to leave some of the much needed organic matter in the soil.

Weeds

A good number of people are asking questions about weeds these days. For example: Why so many weeds? Should I get rid of the weeds so the grass can grow? Why are there so many undesirable plants?

In analyzing the situation, Bill Rountree, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, assisting the district, says this worrisome problem of the range, such as the rapid encroachment of weeds, and large numbers of annuals, is nothing more than the result of an over-abundance of moisture and plant foods which are not being used by grasses because the stand is too thin or the vigor is too low. It's true the weeds will use some moisture, but their shading effect and cutting down on evaporation has a tendency to offset the moisture they use. These annual weeds and grasses help open the soil to help get more moisture in the ground and prepare the land for the grass to come in. "There's no short cut from bare ground to good grass production," says Bill Rountree. Nature puts cover there in the form of weeds and undesirable grasses to help hold soil and moisture in order to begin to bring the range back to eventual higher production.

The encroachment of weeds onto grass lands is a problem where the production of grass has been reduced. After all—unless the pasture has been deferred—what kind of vegetation has been going to seed for the past several years? Has it not been undesirable plants that the few stock you left in that pasture would not touch? Yes, there's no question but what the undesirable plants of our ranges have built up a large supply of seed to germinate and use our moisture in the more favorable rainfall years. The ratio of good grass seed on most of our ranges as compared to the undesirable seeds is too far apart.

If annuals or long-lived weeds encroach onto our grass lands it is a sign that the full forage value is not being produced from these lands.

A good range management program needs to be set up over the years to allow the higher producing more palatable plants to increase on our ranges. Do you have a range management program set up for improving your range?

Correction: in regard to the Ministerial Alliance meeting which was scheduled to be held Wednesday morning, May 15, at 9:30 in pastor's study at the First Methodist church. This is to advise that the plans and preparations were made for Soil Stewardship Sunday instead of Soil Conservation Sunday as previously reported. May 26 through June 2 has been declared nationally as Soil Stewardship week.

Beginning on the fifth Sunday after Easter and continuing thru the following Sunday, the 172 Texas Soil Conservation districts will join with the other 2550 SCS districts of the nation in observing Soil Stewardship week.

The picture "With Our Own Hands" is to be shown at the local Lions club program Wednesday, May 29, 1957. This film is on the facts, figures, and science of watershed protection coming to life. It is the step-by-step process for establishing a pilot watershed project, played by actual Soil Conservation district supervisors and others, in this 16-minute, full-color sound film.

Wednesday night the regular monthly conference meeting was held preceding a prayer meeting. The new summer hours are: Sunday night, Training Union, 7:00 p. m., church, 8:00 p. m., and Wednesday prayer meeting 7:30 p. m. We voted to have the nursery open for prayer meeting and choir practice every Wednesday night. Reporter.

Put Fish In Those Lakes, Say Senators!

The long-dry tanks and ponds of Texas farms and ranches—most of which are now filled with water from recent rains—can be restocked with game fish, Senators Ralph Yarborough and Lyndon Johnson have announced.

The two Texas senators said they had been informed by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service that "fish for restocking are available and orders can be filled without delay."

This is the procedure for securing fish, as outlined to the Texas senators by the Fish and Wildlife service:

1. The land owner makes application for the fish from the federal fish hatchery nearest him. There are five federal hatcheries in Texas, at Austin, Fort Worth, San Marcos, Burnet and Uvalde.
2. The application is sent by the hatchery to a regional office at Albuquerque, N. M., for processing.
3. Upon application approval, the fish are delivered.

More and more people in the 21st district are becoming dubious about the need and extent of foreign aid, or the way it is being handled. The ratio at present runs about 3 1/2-to-1 against the program, whereas in a similar poll taken three years ago the opinion stood about 5-to-3 for it.

Many of the answers indicate a willingness to go along with absolute essentials, including technical aid and proper loans, but are convinced (and I think properly) that entirely too much wasteful spending is involved in the way it is being handled.

Other predominant viewpoints, disclosed in the tabulations, recently completed, show that increases in postal rates are favored by a 54 to 39 ratio, with almost universal disapproval of privileges now enjoyed by advertising and junk mail.

By a 10-to-1 vote, opinion is against any relaxing of our restrictions on immigration, and by nearly 2 1/2-to-1 the people do not want any part of Federal aid for local school construction.

With around 12,000 returns of the questionnaires received and tabulated, the job is just about over. It has been a pleasant undertaking and the cooperation of the people has been most gratifying. By cutting corners I was able to get this job done at a personal cost to me of only $500. I am still reading the comments on the returns, all of which are interesting and helpful. They add greatly to the success of the project.

I wish space would permit some quotations from the comments. I have on occasions quoted from some of them on my radio reports that are heard on eight stations in our district each week. Perhaps I will do that one more time before closing the books on this year's questionnaire.

Three Future Farmers Apply For Degrees

Three Future Farmers of the Eldorado FFA chapter are applying for their Lone Star Farmer degrees. The local Future Farmers making application for Lone Star degrees are Jimmie Whitten, Dick Runge, and Bobby Williams.

This is the highest degree that is issued by the Texas Future Farmers Association. The degree is determined by the leadership ability of the applicant and the amount of money he has made from his supervised farming programs for the last three years. The record books for at least three years is presented to three committees for checking. Our record books have been checked by the district committee. The Area committee will check them on May 30. If the area checking committee passes the record books they will be checked by the state checking committee in June.

The Lone Star Farmer Degree will be given in July in Fort Worth at the State FFA conference.

There are some 30 FFA members and 4-H members planning to enter Crockett County Range Contest to be held in Ozona, May 18. We would like as many adults to attend from Schleicher County as would.

The market calves that the boys have on feed are doing fair. Some are making good gains and others are just making fair gains. We will try to get a complete report on the calves next week. —Reporter.

We don't know what to think of reports that there was a little tornado passing over Eldorado with the high winds of early Monday morning—a few have reported having seen it! Nothing was reported at the sheriff's office on that.

In case local residents were a little jittery during the big blow early Monday morning, we'll assure them that it's been 54 years since we had a tornado.

It came roaring in May 9, 1903, as reported by Mrs. Mattie Cozens. She had just returned from a picnic, and it struck at around 9:00 p.m.; their house was one of several damaged. It came from the southwest, as we are told they nearly always do, and is the only one the town is known to have had. Of course Eldorado was smaller then.

There's been a total of 13 inches of rain since April 20 on the Henry Mittel estate ranch; 8 inches in a week at Tom Henderson's, with some hail, and it's been too wet to shear—they got out Tuesday when the draw receded. L. Kent reports a year's total of 8 inches. Twelve Mile water hole was still high Tuesday at the head of the San Saba, and water was pouring toward Menard.

Dick Preston reports 8½ inches of rain on the ranch in a week, and 16 inches since the 28th of April. Bob Anderson reports 13.72 inches as a total for this year.

Here are some Sinclair Oil & Gas changes in personnel: John Clevenger, who was dist. supt. of Big Spring, has been promoted to assistant division supt. at New Orleans. He has been replaced by Bob Bonnell, who was promoted from assistant at Odessa to district superintendent at Big Spring.

Humble has closed Station A and men employed there have left Eldorado—also Station B is closed. The McKavett station is still pumping—but the men have been nearly marooned by all of this high water.

National Guardsman Thad Thomson III was one of the men who helped with flood relief work in San Angelo last week.

on the James Williams farm, 2½ miles east of town was twisted and blown down by the high winds Monday morning. The tower is now being rebuilt.

An interesting point was that workmen digging holes for foundations found the soil wet to a depth of four feet.

Heavy rains have slowed down work on the Rock Church of Christ, on which foundation has been laid.

Wanted by Home Demonstration Club, red verbena plants for planting at the post office island. Leave them at city hall, or call Mrs. Kenneth Cheek at 24281 for pick-up.

Section foreman C. O. Meador and his wife moved to Sonora Monday, vacating the section house. As the job will not be replaced, one of the Mexican workers has been moved to Sonora and the other to Christoval.

During the high water work trains have come out to Christoval but the first one came one through Wednesday to Eldorado.

Buckhorn draw, which runs thru Jim Willoughby's place, has been half a mile wide. Mrs. Willoughby has been driving up from Sonora, where Mr. Willoughby is hospitalized, to bring supplies to the help, who waded out in the water to get them. On Milton Baugh's and H. Speck's some fences are out.

Buck Davis has been hospitalized for about two weeks in a Houston hospital. Persons wishing to send him a card should address it: J. W. Davis, 4234 University Blvd., Houston 5, Texas.

BUILDING TO BE AVAILABLE DURING STORMY WEATHER

County and city officials announce this week that the Memorial building will be opened and lights turned on at night to anyone desiring its shelter during stormy weather.

Whit Smith, who is now night watchman for the city of Eldorado, will be given a key to the banquet room of the building for such use.

New Babies

Born, a son, Thursday at the hospital in Sonora, to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hanusch, who have a daughter Judy, age 3. He weighed 7 lbs and 15 oz., and has been named Walter Ray Jr. Grand parents are Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Yardley, Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanusch, Eden, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Haynes, Dublin, and A. C. Walbrick of Georgetown. Mother and babe are staying with the Freeman Yardleys for the time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Turnbow had as guests their nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Landon Turnbow and baby. Landon, a former Eldoradoan, was returning from overseas where he spent 18 months and was on his way to camp in Tennessee.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Oliver Teele's grade school choral group presented several selections at yesterday's meeting of the Lions club.

Ed Meador presided over the brief business session, and bumper strips advertising Lufedecke Day here July 4 were sold to the members present.

Guests were Tom Davis of Sonora, Rev. Clifford Nelson of Brownwood, and Ray Tisdale of San Angelo.

Next week's meeting will feature reports from the delegates who spent the first part of this week in San Antonio at the district convention.

Andrews, principal.

Jimmie Dell will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the editors, "in recognition of past accomplishments and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come."

The Reader's Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout the United States and Canada to the highest honor student of the graduating class.

HERE'S WHERE THE COOL COMES FROM

THIS IS THE GRILLE OF A PARAMOUNT EVAPORATIVE Air Cooler

Multi-Directional Grilles Air Volume Control

The dramatic lines of these new air conditioning grilles are enhanced by truly functional construction. In Capri models, eight adjustable plastic directional grilles allow the user to instantly select any one of scores of different combinations of air direction control to suit the most exacting comfort requirements. For added convenience, all models are equipped with push button controls that insure immediate ease of change from stop to start through cooling and ventilating.

For the most complete possible control of air volume, all coolers feature the new fingertip air volume control. In a split second, this remarkable control will adjust cooling or ventilating in any desired volume from a soft whisper of air to full capacity. Whether you choose the glamorous Capri 4045-5 or the skillfully crafted model 4042-5 and 3035-5 coolers, you're assured quality and design established with years of cooling experience. All package models come complete, equipped with factory installed water recirculating pump and float valve. All electrical connections are complete.

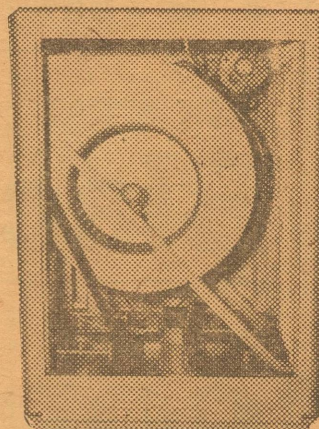

HERE'S WHAT MAKES THE COOL

TWO SPEED MOTOR-Controlled Cooling

Full cooling capacity for hot torrid days to a soft caressing whisper for moderate days or late evening is at the user's command with fingertip control of the special two-speed motors on all Essick-built coolers with a "2" following model number. Depending upon temperature conditions, with two-speed motors, the cooling can be varied to suit the personal desires and requirements of the individual user and provides the last word in modern comfort.

The use of two-speed motors will increase the use of cooling equipment as much as 50%, as there are many days when full capacity of the cooler is not required and, unless the cooler is equipped with a two-speed motor, the cooler is turned off and the users are deprived of many hours of comfort.

Be sure and ask us to show you the advantages of the two-speed motor.

West Texas Utilities Company

West Texas Utilities Is Partner In Atomic Energy Research Project

Houston.—The Texas Atomic Energy Research foundation last week announced the signing of a contract with General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation for a four-year, 10 million dollar jointly sponsored research program in the field of controlled thermonuclear reactions. The private electric utility companies operating in Texas recently organized the Foundation to consolidate and make more effective their participation in the development of atomic energy in the United States.

The announcement was made by the Foundation's president, W. A. Parish, who is president of Houston Lighting and Power Co., one of the utilities supporting the foundation.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission, in a letter addressed to Parish stated, "I regard this as a significant demonstration of the vitality of the pioneering spirit in American enterprise. The evidence of interest in this area by privately financed research in spite of the long-range character of the problem is in the best tradition of the progressive business."

The thermonuclear research will be carried out at General Atomic's new multi-million dollar John Jay Hopkins Laboratory for Pure and Applied Science located at the northern edge of San Diego. Research work is already under way. The staff and laboratory now include more than 150 scientists, engineers and technicians.

Electric utility companies supporting the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation includes the West Texas Utilities Company. The group of privately-financed electric utility companies operating in Texas has not requested any government funds to support the research program. It hopes, however, to work closely with the Atomic Energy commission on any program undertaken.

Broilers are on the plentiful list now, which is another way of saying that they are cheap too. It usually works that way as those of you know who have a lot of anything to sell.

Buy up a few, put them in the freezer, and leave one out to be tried as

Lemon Barbecued Chicken
Chicken (frying size)
Salt
Pepper
1/2 cup Butter
3/4 cup Lemon Sauce.

Have chicken drawn and cut into serving pieces, or, if quick-frozen, thaw according to directions on the box. Rinse in cold water and dry. Season with salt and pepper. Melt butter in skillet and brown chicken skin side down. Turn and brown. Pour sauce over chicken pieces. Cover and cook slowly until tender about 30 to 40 minutes. Arrange chicken on platter and pour sauce over pieces.

Lemon Sauce
Yield: 3/4 cup

1 small clove garlic
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup salad oil
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons grated onion

About this time of the year, everybody seems to get in a rush. The end of school, shearing, farming and all those rushing spring things. The more we have to do the better our time had better be organized. For your own sake and the family's happiness, try to save yourself from all the stress, strain and frustration you can. Try putting in more thought and less action into a day. Combine as many jobs as you can. Think ahead in house work and save trips and steps. In cooking, double the recipe and freeze half of it. You can make two meat loaves with no more trouble than one. Make fruit cobblers or deep dish pies for dessert. They are more quickly made and easier stored and served than individual plate pies.

If you are a neat kitchen worker you have already saved yourself a lot of energy. Did you know that irritation, frustration, and "not getting anywhere" will tire a person quicker than the hardest work in the world? Did you know that standing takes more than 11 times as much energy as sitting?

There is one thing to remember about simplifying your work, your days or any section of our lives. That is that it must be done by the person involved. All the books and teaching in the world won't help if their suggestions are not put into action.

Rust stains on porcelain enamel can sometimes be removed with lemon juice. Apply liberally and rinse thoroughly. For more stubborn rust stains, extension home management specialists suggest using oxalic acid—1 teaspoon oxalic acid in one cup of hot water. Rinse immediately with ammonia solution. Then, rinse well with water. Caution: Oxalic acid is poisonous. Handle it carefully. Label it "poison" and keep it out of reach of children.
