CASES TAKE TRIP IN WET WEATHER, ENJOY GREENERY

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Case returned early this week from a pleasant, but wet, trip to Evanston and Washington to visit their daughters. They returned home thru the Appalachians on a 500 mile drive, and via the Blue Ridge Pike which is so highly recommended for its scenic beauty. They report spring everywhere, with an abundance of greenery and flowers and flowering shrubs and trees, especially in the Blue Ridge Mountains where azaleas, rhododendrons and dogwood were at the height of the blossoming season.

In eastern Tennessee they encountered lots of water. At Hamilton they stopped to see the new grandson, Wm. W. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams, born Saturday. The boy is the Adams' 4th child, the others being John, Kathie and Ann.

They stayed there only an hour as the water was rising fast over the road. They came on through Menard, then found themselves marooned 15 miles from Eldorado. Abandoning their car they rode by highway truck to Eldorado, where they spent the night, as Whitten's Draw was out Sunday night, closing the Mertzon highway.

When they finally got home they could hardly believe their eyes when they saw how the home ranch had greened up during their absence.

In spite of a few inconveniences caused by rain, they say they had never seen the whole country as pretty on their trips north and east.

Production Up; Prices Down For Turkeys

College Station.—Are there too many turkeys? High storage stocks and an expected 1957 record production add up to lower prices for turkey growers.

Scattered reports indicating severe losses in Texas turkey numbers cannot yet be accurately estimated, says Poultry Marketing Specialist F. Z. Beanblossom. Still more losses, however, are likely to occur through disease, he says. Unusual weather conditions are being tabbed with part of the blame.

Unless these losses are enough to influence total turkey numbers, Extension Economist John McHaney says producers may well expect even lower prices than they received last year.

The number of heavy breed poulters produced this year during January and February was 28% greater than the first two months of 1956, and light breed poult numbers were up 7% in a similar comparison. McHaney says there were 3% more heavy breed eggs in incubators this year on March 1, than a year earlier. Four per cent more light breed eggs were in incubators.

Production has increased while prices have declined for two years. Texas farmers produced 3,018,000 turkeys in 1955, marketing them for 28 cents a pound. Last year they produced 4,442,000 as compared to 76,679,000 turkeys for the nation. Texas farmers received about 24.5 cents a pound for their turkeys in 1956.

Soil Stewardship Week got off to a wet start in Eldorado last Sunday. Considering the kind of weather we had the supervisors were pleased with the crowd that turned out for the union service.

Mr. Leesch, chairman of the State Soil Conservation Board arrived on time in spite of the weather and gave us something to think about with plenty of food for thought.

Mr. Leesch pointed out that some of us may not be tillers of the soil, but our existence depends on it. All of us had better be interested he said. The land must produce if we are to live. The food producing value of the soil demands all our interest. "Poor land doesn't grow anything but poor people," Mr. Leesch said. People that are not on farms eat at the second table. In other words they eat what the farmer doesn't want—his surplus. As his surplus dwindles, less is going to be on the second table. The less the surplus the higher the price we are going to have to pay to put it on our table.

Land owners and operators, are you receiving your "Soil and Water" magazines? You can thank the local business men and supervisors for a year's subscription to this magazine. They hope that after reading this magazine for a year you will see fit to subscribe for another year.

Have you used district owned equipment in the past and failed to pay the little fee supervisors have set up for its use? The maintenance of equipment is expensive and the supervisors just can't keep up this equipment unless each person pays his part.

Bill Rountree, work unit conservationist, urges farm and ranch operators in the district to make every effort possible to rest pastures now.

Following continued rainfall, Rountree reports many seedlings of the good native grasses coming up among the weeds and annual grasses. Also, some regrowth has started in the high producing grasses. Rest is needed to let the seedlings establish themselves and allow the older plants to regain their needed vigor.

We know the undesirable plants are going to make plenty of seed to reproduce their kind — how about deferring so the palatable, nutritious and high producing plants can make seed in order to compete with these undesirable plants, Rountree says.

The $64 question is whether rain and wind, with man's help, will carry away soil faster than new soil is built!

Fort Worth.—Receipts at Fort Worth in the cattle division Monday were about 1,000 below a week ago as weekend rains slowed movement in the country. However, around the major marketing circle a seasonally heavy run was reported at more than 103,000 cattle and calves. This totaled 16,000 above a week earlier.

Trade at Fort Worth developed along fairly active lines and slaughter cattle and calves were mostly fully steady, with some calves strong. Stocker trade was very active as the out-of-state representation from the Cornbelt and the Western States were active. Prices ruled strong to unevenly higher on replacement calves and yearlings.

In the sheep yards the offering was about 2,500 above a week ago, but the trade was active and strong, with some sales of lambs 25 to 50 cents higher. Milk fat lambs topped at $21.50, and old crop shorn lambs topped at $18. Both slaughter and feeder interests were active, and both feeder and breeding types of replacements cleared at strong rates.

Roads Damaged

A colossal countywide job of road repairs faced the crew of D. C. Ratliff, county road engineer, as ranch roads throughout the county were in need of immediate repairs as a result of almost daily washouts by rampaging draws. To avoid complete isolation for some ranchmen, the road crews were kept busy throughout the 30-day rainy spell making necessary repairs to washouts, which in most cases were knocked out again the next day.—Ozona Stockman.

New Ball Ground

Plans are being made to construct a baseball field immediately east of the American Legion building in Bronte. The land which belongs to the city, lies between the Legion hall and the old city park. Both city and school officials, as well as sponsors of Little League and other ball teams, are interested in the project.—The Bronte Enterprise.

"Crazy" Fox

A. A. Shelton, who ranches to the south of Sanderson, was attacked by a "crazy" fox near his ranch home last Friday afternoon. Shelton stated that he was certain the fox was rabid, because of his actions and condition and his complete indifference to the dangers of man or dog.—Sanderson Times

4-H Boys and Girls Go To District Camp

Camp Stewart, near Kerrville, is the scene of a big bustle of 4-H boys and girls of District Seven this Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. More than 200 4-H'ers, 50 adult men and women leaders, 45 Farm and Home Extension agents and the West Texas Utilities life guard crew from Abilene are attending this, the first joint 4-H camp for boys and girls. "Conservation" is the theme and the watch word for the camp. Adult leaders and agents are directing their hours of work toward the area of leadership.

On arriving, club members were assigned to one of five groups. Group members stay together and before the camp is over will have a chance to participate in all the subject matter divisions. Wild life conservation, range conservation, entomology, 4-H records and awards, and swimming are the five activities which will be given detailed treatment for boys and girls. Adult leaders and county and Home Demonstration agents will attend sessions covering these headings: How to Plan with Boys and Girls, How to Involve Club Members and their families in the 4-H program, Duties of Adult leaders, in 4-H work, and How to work with other leaders doing the same work.

On getting home each boy and girl attending will write a story on "My Trip to the 4-H Conservation camp." The two winning stories of the district will be awarded a year's subscription to the National Geographic magazine, as compliments of Federal Cartridge Co. Reports will also be made to the county commissioners court, Lions club, Home Demonstration council and any other organizations which might be interested in hearing what 4-H camps teach and how they are organized and carried out.

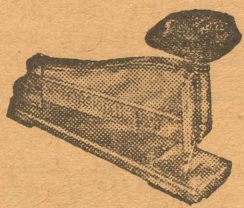

Hollis McCormick is representing 4-H Fathers of the County and will be the adult leader for his sons, Phil and Buzz, John McGregor and Ray Lewis Ballew. Mrs. M. H. Woodward is the adult leader for her daughters, Gail and Joyce, and for Linda Jones, Judy McGregor, Genelle McCalla, Kathy Sauer and Martha Ellen Topliffe. Mrs. Joe Kreklow is representing the Extension Service and will conduct a leader program for the duration of the camp on Role of the Organizational Leader. Adult leaders, Home Demonstration and County Agents will make up this group.

'Thought For The Week Ministerial Alliance

"Something for Nothing"

Why do so many people watch the $64,000 Question and other "give-away" programs? It is simply this: People want to get something for nothing. That is why people gamble, bet on races of all sorts, take chances on get rich quick deals, etc. More money is lost by people every year in such deals than is taken in robberies, burglaries and in other ways. Is there such a thing as getting something worthwhile for nothing? Yes. The most worthwhile thing in the world is spending some time alone with God each day that he may make known his great love for you.

George Bernard Shaw once said, "America can survive only by some law which would shut each of us up alone in a room for a day each week with nothing to read or hear so we would be forced to meditate. We wonder if that was not God's idea of the Sabbath Day. Go into the church of your choice when no one else is around and give yourself a chance to hear what God has to say to you. —James L. Spencer.

The Jack Elders have in their yard a stinkhorn, a very poisonous mushroom not native to the country. It is 6 or 8 inches high, shaped like a horn, coral-colored, with cap on top. When the sun hits it, it gets hot around it. It looks like it's made of foam rubber, and is hollow inside. It's quite a novelty as it hasn't been seen here before.

Has anyone noticed the new dandelions—dwarf variety, and orange in color, in a few lawns in west Eldorado? These seem to be coming in from the north, as that is where they thrive. They are more of a pest than those tall lemon-colored ones we have here, as they spread fast and thick.

One is inclined at first to think them pretty, not realizing that they can be a nuisance. We're predicting that they will be all over this country in a few years.

Old timers recall when this area had no mesquite or cedar. All most of these pests need is a start—then they'll take over.

YOUNG COUPLE WED ON FRIDAY IN HOME CEREMONY

In a home ceremony attended by the immediate family Friday afternoon at 5:00, Miss Jane Mund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mund, became the bride of Jack Browning. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell Heaner, pastor of the Methodist Church of Eldorado.

The bride wore a dress of pink taffeta under white lace, fashioned with a fitted bolero. She carried a white Bible topped with pink carnations and pink satin streamers.

She was attended by her younger sister Becky Mund, who wore pastel blue. The groom's attendant was Guy Whitaker, a fellow coach in Eldorado high school. Mr. Mund gave his daughter in marriage.

When the couple left Eldorado shortly after the ceremony, the bride was wearing a lavender pink cotton dress.

The bride was graduated from EHS with the class of 1948, and from Baylor University with the Class of 1952. Since receiving her degree she has taught in the lower elementary grades at Eldorado, Taft and Corpus Christi.

The groom was graduated from Ranger high school and attended Howard Payne College. After two years of service he returned to Howard Payne and completed work on his degree. He has been teaching in the schools of the state and the past two years he has been coach in Eldorado High School.

The couple are making their home in Crosby apartment No. 4 since their return last night from a trip to Corpus Christi where the bride closed out her teaching year.

Coach Browning will be in charge of the new swimming pool here this summer.

Handbook On Lawns Is Extension Publication

College Station.—A beautiful, well-kept lawn adds to the material value of a home and is a basic requirement for an attractive yard. Too, says E. M. Trew, extension agronomist, a properly established and well-kept turf gives an aspect of spaciousness, provides a cool, restful cover, and prevents soil blowing and washing.

Establishing and maintaining a beautiful home lawn requires careful management just as do growing or pastures, points out the specialist. As an aid to those interested in establishing a new lawn or renovating an old one, Trew has revised Texas Agricultural Extension Service publication, B-203, Home Lawns, and it is now available at the offices of local county extension agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

METHODISTS TO OPEN VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL

Methodists will hold their vacation Church School Monday thru Friday from 8:30 to 10:30.

Workers are:
General director, Mrs. L. V. Newport.

Kindergarten: Mrs. Henry Speck Jr., Mrs. Billie McCravy, Mrs. Dwight Wiedenmann.

Primary: Mmes. Earl Yates, Gerald Hartgraves, Raymond, Schrank, and Donaldson.

Junior: Mrs. Albert McGinness and Mrs. Ray Campbell.

On Saturday there will be a vacation church school picnic, and on Sunday night there will be commencement.

The Tom Dempsey family have moved back to Eldorado.

The Jack Brownings have rented Crosby apartment No. 4.

Ruby and Elsie Lee Harper and Mrs. Ora Hunter, all of Santa Anna, are spending the day with their sister-in-law and brother, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Harper.

James Clark and Chas. McLaughlin Jr., have returned from Austin where they attend the University and expect to be employed this summer by Sinclair.

BACK FROM SONORA

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Willoughby are back home on their ranch after an eventful month.

While Mrs. Willoughby was in Washington, D. C., attending the convention of DAR, at which her niece Ann Cole of Tulsa was a page, Mr. Willoughby broke his left arm in a fall from a horse, and was admitted as a patient to the hospital in Sonora, for a 5-weeks' period of hospitalization.

Mrs. Willoughby was called home and has spent her time in Sonora, as Buckhorn Draw has been on a rampage during the rainy season, closing the ranch road. They arrived home Tuesday by going through Baugh's pasture.

The telephone line is also washed out and must be replaced on the Willoughby and adjacent ranches.

OCHSNERS RAINED IN

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Ochsnor visited the Harold Scherz family in Sonora longer than they had intended!

They drove down after church Sunday for dinner, then all drove through the hill country in Rocksprings, Leaky and Junction, then near Sonora drove into a cloud-burst.

Water was curb deep in the streets of Sonora, sirens were blowing, and many were out watching for signs of flood.

Fortunately, though five inches fell in Sonora, the heavy rains was not widespread. The highway to Eldorado being closed, they spent Sunday night with the Scherzes and were able to get through Monday.

An outstanding builder of homes tells you...

How Savings Bonds can help you build your DREAM HOME

"Maybe an American family starts with a dropped handkerchief. But somewhere along the line, even before the ring, the dreams start. One of the big things in those dreams is a house of your own, a house that's just the way you want it. And for more than a million American families a year, that dream comes beautifully true when they first cross the threshold of their wonderful new home.

Mr. George S. Goodyear,
President, National Association of Home
Builders

"We've learned plenty from home buyers about what they want in houses and a little bit about how they save that first down payment. Many of the people with whom I've talked found the easiest and surest way to save was by regular investment in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds."

It's easy to understand why. By putting money in Bonds, people are less inclined to spend it until they've reached their goal. And Bonds are a safe, sure investment. The U. S. Government guarantees your principal in Savings Bonds—up to any amount—and the rate of interest you receive.

If you're saving for the home of your dreams, why not do it the easy way by regular investment in U. S. Savings Bonds? Start today either through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or by buying Bonds often where you bank.

PART OF EVERY AMERICAN'S SAVINGS BELONGS IN U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

ELDORADO SUCCESS

Swimming Pool Construction Took Nearly A Year

Opening of the new swimming pool to the public for the first time Saturday will mark the culmination of over a year of work on the project by Schleicher county commissioners court.

Following approval by voters of a $35,000 bond issue for the pool early last year, the county acquired all of Block 6 of the West addition, comprising 4.9 acres, for the pool location and park area. Contract for construction of the pool itself was let to Hayden Sales Construction Co. of Junction.

Preliminary work in the area included clearing of mesquite brush, and the running of water and sewer lines to the pool site, as well as caliche paving of several blocks of streets leading in.

As completed, the pool is modern in every respect. It is 50 feet wide at the shallow end and tapers down an 32½-foot length to a 30-foot width at the other end.

A separate shallow pool near the dressing room building is for the use of the youngest children. There are chairs for two life guards on duty.

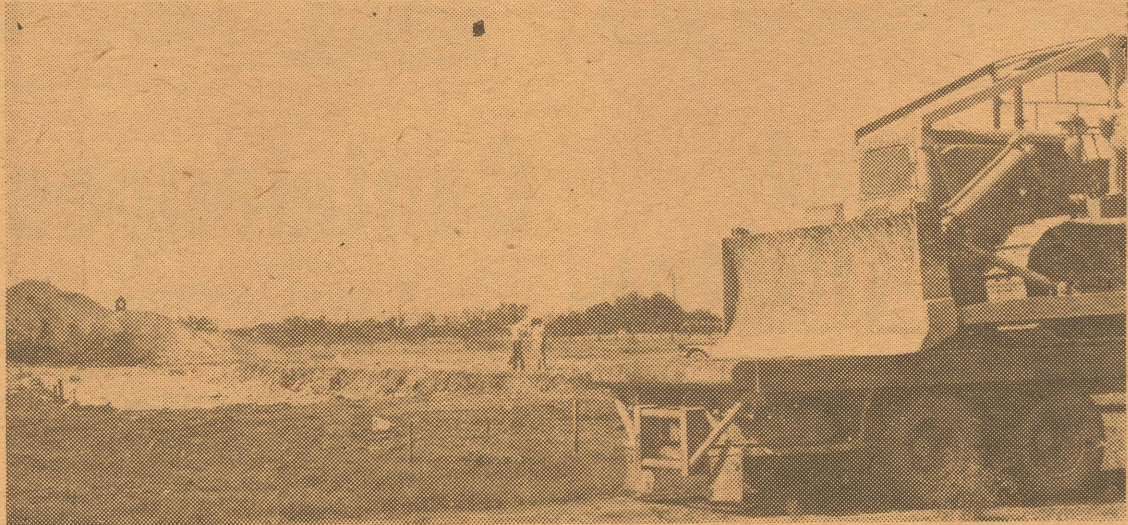

Whenever the pool is in use the water is circulated constantly through a filter system which keeps the water clean—much cleaner, in fact, than the old system of draining and refilling a pool every few days. The entire pool is fenced in, and fencing also encloses the filter ponds and the entrance to the pump room.

A Senior Lifesaving course has been going after school at the pool for the past two weeks, with 18 high school students participating, and with Miss Joan Fudge and Bob Burkart as instructors.

Jack Browning, a coach in the school system, is pool manager.

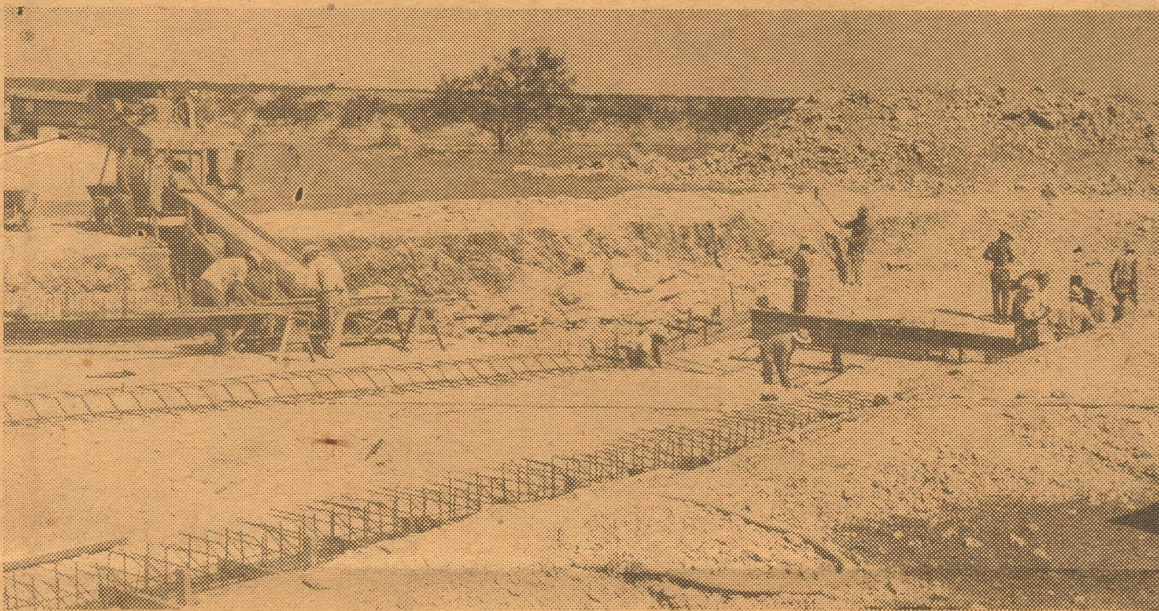

In addition to the new swimming pool, the park block is also location for Legion Field, which was moved a while back from its location north of the court house block.

This photo made last June shows unidentified onlookers in the center background looking at the large excavation which later became Schleicher county's new swimming pool. That's the belfry of St. Mary's Episcopal church visible over the top of the large pile of earth in the left background.

By August, workmen were busy putting reinforcing steel and pipe in place and preparing the forms.

Earlier hopes of having the pool in operation by late summer of last year were by this time faded.

The filtering system called for the laying of an intricate network of pipe before pouring concrete.

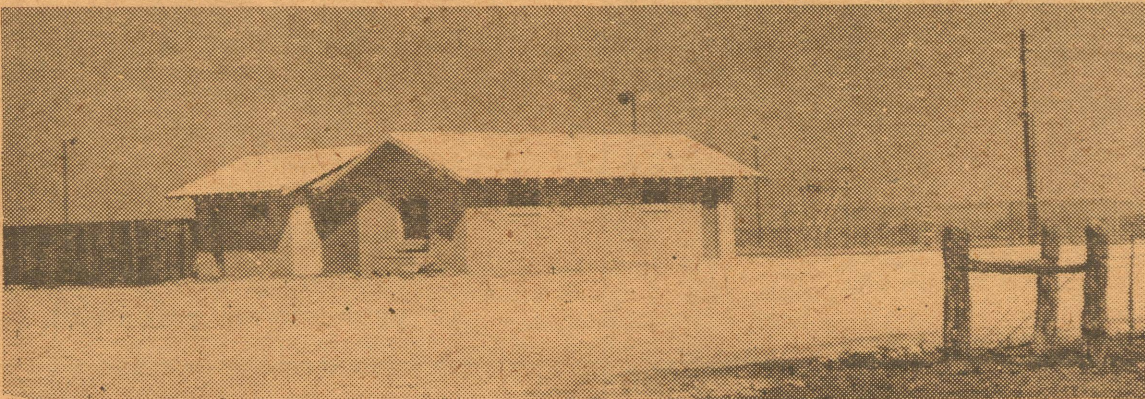

Later photo shows, pool taking shape, following pouring of concrete and painting stripes. A life-

guard's chair is up, and the small circular window will later give an underwater view into the pool from the pump room under the diving boards.

dressing rooms and check room. The fenced in pool has a diving board in place, as well as lighting fixtures. Wooden fencing at left encloses shallow pool for young children.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

A week or so ago the Home Demonstration agents of District Seven met in Fredericksburg for a Foods and Nutrition conference. The world of nutrition is being enlarged constantly. More and more people are leaving doctors' offices with diets instead of prescriptions. Today there is little reason for the average person to be ignorant of the important part that food plays in family diets all the way from the baby to the so-called senior citizen.

All 17 Home Demonstration agents and two foods and nutritional specialists gave demonstrations and illustrated lectures to the group which was meeting. Briefly these are some of the gleanings from the instructive sessions.

Nutrition is the science that deals with food at work—food on the job for you.

Modern knowledge of food at work brings a new kind of mastery over life. When you and your family eat the right food, it does far more than just keep you alive and going.

The right food helps you to be at your best in health and vitality. It can even put off old age, which should interest lots and lots of people today. Any person well fed, I don't mean richly either from a money or caloric angle, from babyhood on has a more likely chance to enjoy a long prime of life than one who hasn't. Don't close your mind to what's going on in the food and nutritional world today, it may mean the difference in feeling good or just being barely able to make it when the energy of youth has been used up.

One of the best friends that we have in the food world is protein. Protein was named from a Greek word meaning "First." Nearly a hundred years ago it was recognized as the main substance in all the body's muscles, organs, skin, hair and other tissues. You get top rating proteins in foods from animal sources, as in meat, poultry, fish, eggs, milk and cheese. Vegetable proteins come from soy beans, nuts, dried peas and beans. In the young, proteins build and give the child something to grow on. In the adult, proteins do the repair work and aid in the general up-keep of the body. No rancher or 4-H club boy feeding a herd or a show animal would work out a protein-free ration and expect animals to thrive. Yet we expect more from our own neglected diets.

Sue Hawthorne, H. D. Agent from Sweetwater added this interesting and humorous analysis of the make up of the average man. She says the average man contains:

As much hydrogen as is found in 70 quarts of water;

As much iron as is found in a small nail;

Enough iodine to make a drop of tincture of iodine.

Sufficient calcium for making slaked lime to whitewash a small chicken coop;

Enough fat for seven bars soap;

Enough phosphorus for 2200 match tips;

Sufficient magnesium for a dose of magnesia;

Enough sulfur to rid a dog of fleas;

As much sugar as it takes to fill one sugar shaker;

Sufficient potassium to explode a toy cannon;

As much oxygen as there is in 15,000 quarts of air.

The 4-H girls' club of Eldorado had quite a verbenas setting out not long ago in doing a part of their share of community beautification. Genelle McCalla, president of the club, had nearly more helpers than hoes and spades until somebody went for some more. Josephine Woodward helped in the role of the adult leader for the occasion and agreed with me that leading isn't all it takes to get work out of boys (some boys were forced to volunteer) and girls; it takes a careful proportion of leading, pushing, bribing (popsicles from the ice house) begging, and bragging to get a job done. But then doesn't it for all of us? And when it's finished everybody is so pleased that it is wonderful. We all hope it won't be long before the island in front of the post office will be so pretty with red verbenas that every tired bone will be forgotten and we can take on something else.

Here's a solution that will cut greasy film and make your windows sparkle. Take 6 quarts warm water, add ¼ cup household ammonia and ½ cup white vinegar. Apply with a sponge, rinse and polish with a chamois or pieces of old sheets or pillow cases (lint free). The vinegar and ammonia will cut the dust and film on windows and mirrors.

Guests of Mrs. Mae Mercer recently were Edna Lee Grunewald and son Sidney Mercer and daughter of Hondo. All visited in San Angelo Saturday.
