Eagles Hold Sonora To One Touchdown

The Eldorado Eagles last Friday night took on their old-time rivals from Sonora and played them to a standstill for three and one-half quarters. The score might have been 0-0, but for the fact that the Eagles relaxed a little and allowed the Broncos their only tally in the closing moments of the first quarter.

After that it was nip and tuck for three long scoreless quarters. The Broncos threatened seriously on several occasions, but a number of lost fumbles proved to be costly just when they were about to hit pay dirt.

The game ended on a spectacular note as Sonora fumbled on the Eldorado 4 with 12 seconds left in the game. Then John Robledo, the Eagles' left halfback, broke loose for 40 yards on the last play of the game.

The Eagles played a spirited game all the way, and are expected to be top team in their district—6-B.

A total of 1340 spectators attended the game.

Irion Gas Will Be Tied In To Pioneer Gathering System

A gas purchase contract covering the purchase of gas from wells in the Ketchum Mountain field in Irion county, has been signed between Pioneer Gathering System, Inc., and Sinclair Oil and Gas Company. The announcement was made Wednesday, September 10, by Burton P. Smith, president of Pioneer Gathering System.

The gas purchased by Pioneer Gathering is to be produced from wells which have been heretofore flared for lack of an available market. Pioneer Gathering, a subsidiary of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, is already buying gas in this area and delivering it to Permian Basin Pipeline Company.

To tie the wells to its system, Pioneer Gathering has made application to The Federal Power Commission for the construction of 2 miles of 2 5/8 inch pipeline. Construction is expected to start this fall and the company expects to begin delivery by January 1st, Smith said.

County Again Visited By Heavy Week-End Rains

Oil News

Oceanic No. 1 Meckel set surface casing last week at 535 feet and resumed drilling. The well is close to the highway and a short distance from Lavelle Meckel's house. Tucker has the drilling contract. Early this week they were at a depth of 2740 feet in shale.

Standard Oil of Texas, Lula Lee Wilson 3, well No. 6, set 8 5/8 in. surface casing last week at 650 feet. Bickerstaff & Tibbets Drilling Company have the drilling contract and were digging yesterday at 3278 feet in shale and lime. Most of the crew men are working out of Eldorado.

The Pan-American No. B-1 Mittel in the Neva West field, which blew out last Wednesday night, finally managed to kill the gas flow, and drilling has been resumed and will continue to the contract depth of 6400 feet.

The well blew out with gas last Wednesday night at a depth of 4502 feet. Operators intend to test out this pocket at a later period in their operations.

Humble has abandoned at 5464 feet its No. 1 A. T. Cheaney, sec. 4, block I, GH&SA survey, 4 1/2 miles southeast of the Otto pool in Schleicher county.

Jocelyn-Varn No. 1 Thomson Estate were about 5,900 feet in shale and lime early this week.

Schleicher Deepening

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. has filed application to deepen to 4,700 feet for tests of the Ellenburger at the No. 8-A Virgil J. Powell, five miles northwest of Fort McKavett.

Original application was filed as a 7/8-mile northeast outpost to the Tillery field with a contract depth of 4,400 feet to test the Strawn.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of 2-A-AB&M.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Georgia Springstun and other relatives is her sister, Mrs. Pauline Adams of Fulton, Calif.

Rains over the past week-end which extended up through Tuesday dumped from 2 to 5 1/2 inches of moisture on Schleicher county farms and ranches and brought jubilation to ranchers and apprehension to cotton farmers.

A norther came to this area late Tuesday and clear skies and sunshine were in evidence yesterday. The September rains have put ranch conditions in fine shape, providing great assistance to pasture grasses and newly planted small grain. It has resulted in a slow week for the cotton farmers; many of whom had arranged for cotton pickers, only to have them sitting around idle.

The books at the gin here showed a total of 90 bales yesterday—a gain of only 60 since that time last week.

Henry Moore in the Reynolds community had collected a crew of about 60 Mexican nationals last week, and reported that it was barely possible that they may be able to resume picking on high ground this (Thursday) afternoon, provided the weather remains clear.

Some of the rain totals over the 3-day spell were:

Clarence Johnson	5.10
E. H. Dannheim	5.15
D. C. O. Wilson	2.00
Henry Moore	2.50
Thompson T-Circle	3.50
Howard Derrick Ranch	2.20
M. H. Crabb	5.00
Jack Wade	3.00
Cooper Gas	7.10
Milton Faught	3.25
M. W. Jones Ranch	4.65
City Eldorado	4.00

Lions Club Meets

The P-TA and Lions club picnic next Tuesday night will take the place of the Lions club meeting next Wednesday, it was announced at yesterday's meeting of the club at which Ed Meador presided.

The Lions club is to provide the tea, coffee, and potato chips for the picnic.

Joe M. Christian made announcement regarding the Boy Scout Council fund drive which is coming up Oct. 21.

Billy Edmondson of Midland is being sent to Guatemala on geographical business.

Funeral Is Held Saturday For A. J. Atkins, 81

Funeral services for A. J. Atkins, 81, a long-time city and school official and church worker in Eldorado, were held here Saturday afternoon. Mr. Atkins died in a San Angelo hospital late Thursday, where he had been taken the day before.

Alfred James Atkins was born at Dalton, Georgia, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Atkins. He later moved with his family to Moody, Texas, where he attended high school. On Nov. 30, 1898, he married Dora Lee Rice at the bride's home in Moody.

Following their marriage, the couple moved to Georgetown, where he entered Southwestern University, completing his education there. They later returned to Moody where Atkins was appointed rural route mail carrier for the second route established in Texas, the first having been at Hillsboro. On the route, Mr. Atkins drove a trim, well-equipped hack, pulled by a team of red mules with striped legs. The hack was fitted with neat pigeon holes for the mail, and carried stamps for the convenience of the people on the route.

While at Moody, the young mail carrier also learned the lumber business, working in the yards there at odd times when off duty. In 1907 they moved to Miles, where he became manager of the Sidney Smith Lumber Company, and also worked up four rural mail routes which were recommended and approved by a government inspector. All these routes are still in operation.

In the depression which followed, the lumber yard was sold, and the couple moved once again. They came to Eldorado in 1910 where he became manager of the West Texas Lumber Co., owned by the late B. B. Hall, where he stayed until 1928. In that year he was appointed Eldorado post master, with his daughter, Mrs. H. T. Bird, as assistant. He held this position for five years.

In 1935 he was elected to the position of city secretary, city and school tax assessor and collector. He also served the city as municipal judge for a time.

Early in December of 1948, a large crowd of friends and relatives called on the Atkinses at their home here on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Atkins became members of the Methodist church early in life. Mrs. Atkins died in 1953, and the Dora Lee circle of the First Methodist church in Eldorado is named after her. Mr. Atkins was Sunday school superintendent in the First Methodist church for many years, and at the time of his death was superintendent emeritus. He was recently elected a steward for life in the church.

In recent years Mr. Atkins had served as school tax assessor and collector, and retired from that position only this past February.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. H. T. Bird of San Angelo; a granddaughter, Mrs. Robert E. Horn Jr., also of San Angelo, and two great grandchildren, Judy and Bobby.

Funeral Held Saturday

Funeral services for Mr. Atkins were held in the Eldorado First Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 3:00. The Rev. Roy B. Shilling Jr., of Mertzon gave a prayer, psalm, and obituary. The Rev. Russell Heaner, pastor of the church, gave the sermon. Two selections, "Have Thine Own Way" and "Lead Kindly Light" were given by a women's choir.

Interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery under direction of Johnson's Funeral Home of San Angelo. Pall bearers were Roy Phelps, Orval Edmiston, Leslie Baker, E. H. Sweatt, Lum Davis, and T. P. Robinson, Jr.

Community Choir Is Continuing Rehearsals On Christmas Cantata

The Messiah rehearsal was held during the regular time last Tuesday night at 7:30. Director Paul Goodwin says: We had 20 to attend to learn the chorus "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings." This is a fast moving chorus with much feeling. Thus far we have learned two choruses, the other being "And the Glory of the Lord."

We meet for sectional rehearsal for the first 45 minutes, fifteen minutes to relax and then thirty minutes of concentrated group rehearsal. We have a good time singing together and learning one of the greatest oratorios ever written. If you would like to join this choral group, we would love to have you. We need men to help with bass and tenor. We need the ladies voices also. If you can't read music and would like to sing, we teach you the music. Don't be afraid to try. We meet this Tuesday at 8:00 o'clock. This is the only time we will meet at that time due to the P-TA picnic. The regular rehearsal is at 7:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church. Officers of the choir are:

Director: Paul Goodwin.
Assoc. Director: Mrs. James Page
Pianist: Mrs. Joe M. Christian
Organist: Mrs. James Page.
Decoration: Mrs. Roy Phelps.
Program: Louise Kuykendall.
Robe chairman: D. J. Yates.
Phone Committee: Danell McCormack, Mrs. Luke Thompson, Mrs. Fay Watson.

Publicity: Bill Gunstead.
Be sure and come Tuesday night for our third rehearsal.

Definite date for giving the cantata has not yet been selected, but will be between mid December and Christmas.

First Christian Church

The Reverend R. C. Brown, formerly of Muleshoe, Texas, has been named to replace Rev. Robert L. Chaney as pastor of the First Christian Church of Eldorado. Rev. Brown is a graduate of Texas Christian University and is very well known for his work in organizing and setting up churches as a functioning body. Mrs. Brown works very closely with the church in women's and young people's organizations.

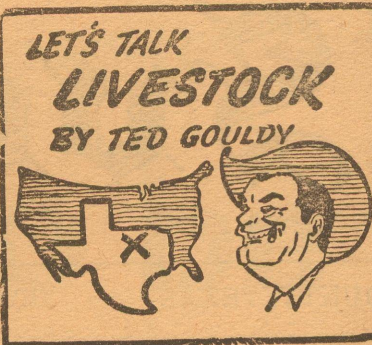

Rev. Chaney resigned to move to Houston. Mrs. Chaney and son have been there for several months due to illness in the family. Rev. Chaney plans to accept a church at Houston in the near future.

A meeting is planned for Thursday, Sept. 18 (today) in the home of Mrs. Charles Young for the purpose of organizing the Christian Womens Fellowship. The meeting is scheduled for 1:00 p. m.

New starting time for church will be Sunday morning worship at 9:30 with Sunday school following at 10:30. Sunday and Wednesday night services will begin at 7:00 o'clock.

S. S. Man Due Here October 10

F. Neil Tarvin, field representative of the San Angelo Social Security office, made his regular visit to Eldorado last week. His next scheduled visit here will be on Friday, October 10. He will be at the court house on that day beginning at 1:00 p. m.

Fort Worth, Sept. 15.—Fears expressed in the trade last week that excessive runs of cattle and calves might arrive at points around the major marketing circle proved unfounded Monday. The twelve major markets showed over 14,000 fewer cattle and calves, although Fort Worth had nearly ten percent more.

Trade developed along active lines on most cattle and calves at all points, although the feeder trade was inclined to shy away from heavyweight yearlings and feeders steers unless some concessions in price were accomplished. Stocker cattle and calves suitable for pasture purposes were in broad demand at all points.

At Fort Worth, the stocker trade was very active and again there were both large and small stockmen from all over the Southwest seeking replacement cattle and calves. Cattle and calves were active and fully steady with some sales on calves strong to 50 cents above the low close of last week. Fed steers and heifers were in small supply and sold at firm rates. Cows and bulls were active at strong prices throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips and family visited Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and son in Odessa over the week end, going on to Carlsbad New Mexico, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Phillips and son, and also all went through the Caverns. They returned home Sunday night. Mrs. Annie Craig, who had been visiting with John and family in Odessa, returned home with the Phillips family. All report a very enjoyable trip.

Money, Family Harmony

College Station.—Family discord often is due to failure of all family members to agree on financial practices, according to Mrs. Elsie Short, extension specialist in farm and home development.

The effective operation of any family as a unit is influenced in part by the kinds or arrangements it makes to handle financial matters and by the attitudes of family members toward those arrangements. Close family relationships may be developed when there is mutual understanding and agreement in regard to the use of money.

Planning income, expenses, and family goals and making the plans work may not be an easy assignment at first. But families who have earnestly worked at it for several years say it strengthens family life, provides good training for the children and helps to save money, energy and time.

Extension bulletin, "Money — Family Style," gives practical suggestions for managing family income. Copies are available from your county extension agent.

Baptist District Program Set For Sunday, Sept. 21

Brownwood.—Seventy-two Baptist churches in the 17-county and nine-association District 16 will participate in a Christian Education Day observance to be held Sunday, September 21, the first such district program to be held within the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The observance, which will place outstanding guest speakers in each participating church, is sponsored jointly by the BGCT's District 16 and Howard Payne College.

"This is an education program, an attempt to inform the Baptists of the district of the work of the institutions they support," said Dr. Clifford Nelson, District 16 mission secretary, and Dr. Russell Dennis, director of the HPC promotion and alumni offices, who are chairmen for the observance, emphasizing that no offering for the institutions will be taken in any of the services.

Time To Consider Winter Pastures

College Station.—Most of Texas has had a good pasture year, but winter pastures will still be needed to supply green grazing while summer grasses are dormant, reminds E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Winter pastures reduce the cost of wintering livestock and help maintain growth and production, points out Trew. He says many dairymen have reported net returns of $25 to $50 per acre from winter temporary pastures.

Winter pastures pay off from the soil standpoint, too, says the specialist. They cover the soil and prevent washing and blowing and the roots add organic matter.

Trew advises planting at the regular time in the fall, even if it is necessary to dust the crop in. He points out that operators who have dry planted in the past were ahead when rain did come, because the plants came up, grew off and gave grazing much sooner than where seed were not sown until after the rain.

The use of fertilizer can't be overlooked, for it will pay big dividends when needed, says Trew. A soil test is the best fertilizer dollar that can be spent, for this is the best way to determine the type and amount of fertilizer that is needed.

If the crop has to be dusted in, the specialist advises putting down the fertilizer, too. He says it won't be lost, because if rain doesn't come for the winter pasture, the fertilizer will still be there for use by the succeeding crop.

Varieties of plants to use varies with different sections of the state. Trew advises contacting the local county agent for this and other information about winter pastures.

Miss Annette McCauley spent last Tuesday night with the James L. Spencers on her way to enroll in Texas-Tech. She is a niece of Mrs. Spencer.

Visiting here with relatives recently were Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Moore and Sonny. The Moores returned to their home in San Antonio and Sonny has returned to Baylor University at Waco.

WHILE SHE READS THE NEWS... YOU CAN BET...

She reads the Ads

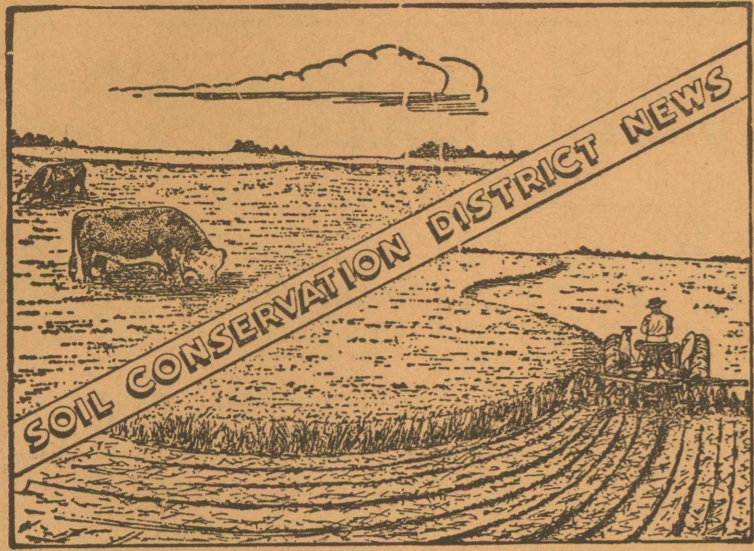

According to the U. S. Bureau of Advertising, ADVERTISING ranks first with women, over all other newspaper content, for interest and readership! Women actually read ads in preference to anything else in the newspaper. (For that matter, ads rank third with men for readership!) And reading the newspaper is a favorite habit with American women.

So, if you have a product to sell—display it in an ad in your local newspaper. If it's for the home, write it to the housewife's point of view. For, more than anyone else, she'll read it. And, more than anyone else, she's the one who does the buying for the family!

Mrs. Housewife is your NUMBER 1 Prospective Customer . . . and she LIKES to read newspaper ads.

Although the Texas State Soil Conservation District law has only been in effect since 1939, 173 soil conservation districts have been organized taking in 97 per cent of the State. There are more than 187,000 landowners or operators who have detailed conservation plans for their land and are otherwise cooperating with their local Soil Conservation District. These district cooperators operate more than 96,000,000 acres of land. All this has been accomplished on a strictly voluntary basis without any form of compulsion. Some ask how and why?

Soil conservation work in Texas is carried out in a similar manner to the way we educate our young people. Texas law authorizes local people by petition and election to organize independent districts that are subdivisions of the state. Each Soil Conservation District is governed by a five-man board of supervisors elected by local landowners. These elected supervisors are responsible for working with all local interests in the development of the district's plan of work. The district supervisors by agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture obtain the technical services of the USDA Soil Conservation Service to assist landowners in planning the most practical use of each acre of his land as well as the needed measures to maintain and improve the soil's productive capacity. A conservation plan includes such measures as management of rangeland to maintain a cover of desirable grasses, the provision of sod waterways for the disposal of excess water from terrace outlets, the use of cover and soil improving crops on cropland as well as engineering measures such as terraces and flood detention structures.

The district supervisors also by agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture and the individual federal agencies have the assistance of the Extension Service in promoting its program, the ASC in assisting in the financing of conservation practices, the State Game Commission, the State and National Forest Services and other state and federal agencies.

The Texas State Soil Conservation Board composed of five elected landowners performs the State level administrative functions to make the district program effective. The Board coordinates the work of the districts to effect a unified state program. The State Board and its employees assist local supervisors with any problem they may have.

A great factor in the success of a Soil Conservation District is the support it gets from local organizations and firms such as Chambers of Commerce, Service Clubs, Women's organizations and churches. During Soil Stewardship week alone there were 2,225 sermons given by ministers of local churches. Over 1/4 of a million people heard these sermons. Sermons were also carried on 21 TV stations and 161 radio stations. Soil Stewardship week is fast becoming a tradition.

A Soil Conservation District is not an agency but is a local subdivision of State Government. What it does and how, rests entirely with the elected supervisors, except as they are limited by Texas Law.

How well the district supervisors are able to mobilize the efforts of state and federal agencies as well as individuals and local organizations and bring their resources and abilities to bear on the locally planned Soil Conservation district program determines the effectiveness of the district.

The necessity for such organization and effort is justified in terms of the extent to which soil and water resources contribute to the welfare of people. They supply the necessities as well as the comforts and conveniences of life. Soil and water supply us with food, clothing and shelter and more than half the raw materials upon which industry operates. The total supply of productive land cannot be increased and its ability to produce can easily be decreased or destroyed. Man's ability to multiply his numbers and increase his needs through higher living standards are recognized by all. It is commonly agreed that the maintenance and improvement of the ability of each acre of land to produce is a necessity for the welfare of all mankind.

Soil Conservation Districts seek to do through cooperation, education, individual initiative and local determination what other countries seek to do by compulsion. Time will prove the wisdom of this course.

The Devils' Program
 None of us like to think of the Devil, consequently there are many who deny the existence of such a being. However, our Lord recognized him and if we are trying to follow in the way of Jesus the Nazarine we will also come into conflict with him. How does he work? Someone has suggested the following as his program:

1. Don't attend church worship at all.
2. If you do, get there late.
3. If you don't feel just right, or if you thing company is coming to see you, stay at home.
4. If you feel forced to go find fault with everything and everyone that you can.
5. Never accept an office of any sort. It is easier to stay out and criticize.
6. Get your feelings hurt if you are not assigned to a committee, and if you are, don't attend.
7. In a meeting if you are asked to express your views, don't do it. But, when you get away tell every one how it should be done.
8. When others volunteer to work accuse them of trying to run the church.
9. Don't give a penny more than you feel you have to.
10. Don't ever bother about trying to get others to come to church and Sunday school—let someone else do it.

Let's ask ourselves, "Whose side am I on?"—James Spencer.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

September is the second heaviest rainfall month in the year in Schleicher county. It is also regarded as the most erratic rainfall month of the year ranging in the amount of moisture falling from .13" in 1938 to 37.87" in 1936. September is exceeded in total moisture falling over the past 50 years by May with an average of 2.94" to 2.80" for September. August ranks third with 2.15" and April fourth with 2.02" over a 50-year period.

At present 3.23" of rain has fallen in the county up to 5:00 p.m. September 15th.

All of us want pretty shade trees in the yard next year and pecan trees that furnish shade and plenty of nuts. It is left up to the individual home owner during September and October. Do not spare the water during these months—because the leaves' buds, trunks and small branches have received the maximum growth. The root system of pecans and shade trees will spread and grow an unbelievable amount in these months insuring a healthy more vigorous nut and shade tree in summer of 1959.

The lawn will stand the winter better also.

Dry land cotton has made the maximum staple length and turn out for 1953. Looks like all Lankart will be 1" or better. Lankart No. 57, the number one recommended dry land cotton, is yielding excellently and the turnout is good.

The reason for this is: the cotton plant after blooming had sub-soil moisture for 40 days after blooming; the first 25 days is mostly devoted to fiber length and up to 40 days fiber quality was increased when fiber and quality is increased—plus the excellent gin machinery of Mikeska gin the turnout and quality has to be good.

Give your ginner a chance. Do not tramp or pick cotton wet under any circumstances.

There is a large wheat surplus in the United States in spite of the high efficiency of millions of housewives in burning toast.

Dove hunting has been excellent in the county this year—despite the fact that rains have put water in all pastures, making it unnecessary for them to come to water at the favorite watering place. Had the opportunity the other day to start to a favorite watering place, then noticed birds flying up a draw, and stopped to observe. Stepping out of the pick-up I had the fortune of dropping my limit before I could observe what it was all about—total length of hunt, about 10 minutes—killing 10 birds on the wing with 16 shots—a 63% average which is only fair.

Get your mice poison at the county agent's office. Mrs. Jo Woodward will be glad to see that you receive this effective poison: warfarin mixed and blended in corn chips with cooking oil. Warfarin will do you an efficient job if kept out at all times. The price
