NEW SLIDING SUGAR SCALE IS PREPARED

SMOOT BELIEVES BILL WILL BE READY BY AUGUST 26

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee, announced today he was preparing an alternative sliding scale sugar tariff proposal under which the fluctuating duties would be based on raw sugar prices instead of refined sugar quotations.

At the same time he said he believed the tariff bill would be ready for submission to the senate by August 26, a week after that body is scheduled to reconvene

Many of the witnesses at yesterday's hearing objected to the sliding scale as submitted holding it based the duties on the wholesale price of refined sugar at New York Smoot said it would make little difference if the duties were based on raw prices as the principle was the same

CRUDE OIL GIVEN FREE LIST AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Senate Finance committe republicans today approved retention of crude oil and all of its by-products including gasoline, on the free list in the tariff bill.

Crude oil is also non-dutiable under the House bill. A number of independent oil producers have sought a tariff on petroleum and its by-products with a vie wto lessening importations of cheap oil from Latin-American countries which they hold competes with coal for fuel purposes.

NOMINEE NOT RACE ISSUE

MISS DAFFAN SAYS '30 CAMPAIGN HAS NO BEARING ON VOTE

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 8.—Selection of the democratic nominee for president in 1932, "will not be and should not be a direct issue" in the 1930, campaign. Miss Kate Daffan of Ennis, candidate for governor, told Mrs. Claude De Ban Watts of Austin, president of the State Woman's Christian Temperance Union in reply to a questionnaire sent all gubernatorial aspirants.

She is opposed to barring from the 1930 primaries anyone—candidate or voter—who did not support the party presidential choice.

Not Necessary

"It is now necessary, as I see it, to discuss the democratic nominee for president in 1932, other than to say that I will favor for president and for every other office, a candidate who unequivocally stands for the maintenance and enforcement of all prohibition laws," she stated.

She said she opposed control of the democratic party by "any individual anywhere, or by any group of individuals anywhere."

She favored removal from the statutes "what is left of the rule of evidence law passed in 1925." this is the search and seizure act.

She declared in favor of "the exercise of the individual right of conscience."

Brownwood Youth Is Drowned Last Night

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 7 (AP).—Hilton Hinson, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hinson of Brownwood, drowned in the Lakewood swimming pool here last night. The boy slipped on the concrete edge of the pool, striking his head against it as he fell.

WOMEN DON'T SUIT HIM

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ernest Alheim likes the United States all right—as a place to live; but the womenfolks over here don't suit him.

His dislike of American femininity was so strong that last year when he decided it was time he was getting married he went clear back to Germany to get his wife. Her name was Kunigunde and with her Alheim had visions of great happiness in setting up a real old-world household in this land of flappers.

But no sooner had they arrived in Chicago than Kunigunde started a campaign to be like the rest of the women in the neighborhood. One by one she adopted the short skirt, the boyish bob, and sun-tan dress and all the other items so distressing to Alheim.

The end, apparently came yesterday when Kunigunde was awarded temporary alimony in a separate maintenance suit. Alheim was in court, but not to contest the action—he filed a $25,000 suit against the woman who taught his wife English and started her on the way toward Americanization.

DALLAS MAN FATALLY SHOT

BERT McLEMORE HELD FOR SHOOTING OF A. E. FERGUSON

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 8.—A buckshot blast fired from the doorway of his rural grocery near here killed Austin E. Ferguson, about 53, last night and authorities today held Bert McLemore.

McLemore surrendered soon after the shooting, which occurred at Irving, Dallas county. He made a statement at the Sheriffs office.

Officers said Irving residents told them that McLemore was fired at with a pistol near there recently. He and Ferguson were said to have been enemies for some time.

Cook Is Acquitted Of Printing Charge

AUSTIN, Aug. 8. (AP)—Frank W. Cook, Austin printer, was acquitted of charges growing out of appearance of the Blunderbus, anonymous paper dealing with University of Texas student life, by a jury in county court late yesterday.

He had been fined $100 in justice court for printing and distributing obscene matter and appealed to the county court. The first trial resulted in the jury failing to agree.

It was alleged that the paper, which contained spicy accounts of supposed escapades of university students, was printed in Cook's printing shop.

HICCOUGHING MAY BE FATAL

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 8 (AP)—Fifty-nine days of an incessant hiccoughing had reduced an eighteen-year-old girl's strength to such a low ebb today that physicians entertained doubts of her recovery.

Miss Vera Stone began to hiccough at her home at Ripley, Tenn., last June. Unalarming then, the malady persisted. Recently she entered a hospital here.

Hundred of "cures" suggested by newspaper readers have failed to help the girl.

Miss Stone talks freely but must pause at intervals to hiccough. She loses much sleep. The wracking and repeated shocks have numbed her arms and hands.

AGED KANSAN KILLS WIFE; OTHERS DIE

TWO WOMEN ARE FOUND DEAD TODAY IN HOME

(By Associated Press)

LAWRENCE, Kas., Aug. 8.—Fred Erb, 75, shot and killed his bedridden wife, also 75 years old, here today, explaining that he could no longer bear the thought of her suffering.

Relatives took a revolver away from Erb when he attempted to shoot himself after the slaying.

The woman had been an invalid for three years. The couple had been married 58 years. They came here from Ponca City, Okla. about a year ago.

MURDER AND SUICIDE CAUSES TWO DEATHS

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 8 (AP)—The bodies of Mrs. Burt Wilson, 36, and her daughter, Madeline, 17, were found early today in the girl's room in the Wilson home. Police expressed the belief the mother killed the daughter and herself with a .32 calibre pistol found in the room.

Mrs. Wilson had been suffering from a nervous attack, police were told.

DR. ECKENER'S DREAM REALIZED IN START OF WORLD CRUISE

BY W. W. CHAPLIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NAVAL AIR STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 8.—As a band played "It's A Long, Long Trail," the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin lifted into a starless sky at 12.04 Eastern daylight time, this morning, and set majestically forth on the first airship flight around the world.

It was a little later than Dr. Hugo Eckener had planned to get away,

Regardless of the two routes the huge Graf Zeppelin follows on its return trip across the United States, Lubbock townsfolk will have an opportunity of viewing the trans-Atlantic derigible as it makes the last leg of its round-the-world trip from Los Angeles to Lakehurst N. J.

Either Amarillo or Abilene will be on the course of the mammoth airship in its flight across the United States as it will take a southern route. Local air enthusiasts can reach either place within four hours.

some delay having been caused by a plumber's apprentice from Trenton, N. J., who had acquired big ideas about stowaways.

Thrown In Brig

After the aspiring stowaway, Morris Roth, had been safely deposited in the navy brig, and a thorough search had convinced officers that another youth seen lurking close to an open cargo port had been frightened away, affairs moved with complete precision.

Four hundred blue clad sailors lugged at ropes dropped from the enormous frame of the mistress of the ocean skies. The Zeppelin stirred with a sound like a great sigh and moved slowly stern-first from the hangar. And then the band burst into melody:

"It's A Long, Long Trail A-Winding

"To The Land of My Dreams."

WAREHOUSE CRUMPLES DURING RAIN

LIGHTNING IS BELIEVED CAUSE; SEVERAL ARE INJURED

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Aug. 8. — A white man was killed and a white man and three negroes were known to have been injured when the wall of a warehouse being built here was struck by lightning and collapsed today.

The dead man was Charlie Perry, about 45, a tinner. Two negroes were in a hospital in a serious condition.

The men were employes of the Smith Brothers Paving company, who were doing construction work in front of the building. They had sought shelter from rain in the unfinished warehouse.

About 150 yards of wall ten feet high came tumbling to the ground. Workers searched the debris for other persons who might have been pinned beneath the crumbling wall.

Between forty and fifty men were working in the part of the building that fell. The long concrete and steel structure crumbled with a deafening crash.

T. M. Davis, building contractor, said he was certain none of his workmen had been buried in the wreckage.

MAN HUNTED FOR SLAYING

JOHN HEATH IS WANTED FOR DRY AGENT'S DEATH

(By Associated Press)

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 8 (AP)—John M. Heath, Detroit elevator engineer, wanted for questioning in the death of Richard J. Sandlands, prohibition agent, was being sought along the Canadian side of the border today.

District Inspector Sidney Oliver of the Provincial police said he believed Heath was in hiding in one of the border communities. He said Heath was arrested several weeks ago by Provincial officers off Riverside, Ont. Oliver said Heath was fined $200 at that time for having a case of beer aboard his power cruiser.

Neck Broken

Sandlands' body was recovered fro mthe Detroit river yesterday. An autopsy showed his death had been caused by a broken neck.

Several days after Sandlands disappeared and while search was being made for him, the United States authorities received word through an attorney for Heath that Sandlands had boarded the Heath power boat and that he and Heath had fallen overboard during a scuffle.

PROFESSOR'S TALE OF HIX DEATH HEARD

ARGUMENT CAUSED HIM TO STRIKE HER, HE TESTIFIES TODAY

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug 8.—Dr. James H. Snook wept on the witness stand as he told the jury in his first degree murder trial today how he killed Theora Hix.

As he approached the telling on the fatal minute when he struck the first hammer blow on the girl's head the steady voice faltered, his eyes filled with tears and he cried openly.

Struggles For Speech

For more than a full minute he sat struggling for speech and dabbing at his eyes with his handkerchief.

Dr. Snook testified that he struck the first plow to protect himself from an attack by the girl as they sat in his car parked on a lonely rifle range.

The blow stopped her, he said, and she jumped from the car shouting: "Damn you, I'll kill you, too."

Her purse was in her hand, and the defendant, fighting for his life, from the witness chair declared he thought she had a pistol in the purse and was leaving the car to shoot him.

Struck Her Again

"I was sure she was going to shoot me. My only thought was to stop her. I sprang after her and struck her again."

"Dr. Snook at any dime that night when you struck the first, second or third blow, did you intend to kill Theora Hix?" Max Seyfert, defense attorney, asked.

"Heavens no, she was a good friend of mine. I never thought she would do it."

As he answered the question, Dr. Snook's voice broke again, he pulled off his nose glasses and rested his head in his hand, while he wiped the tears from his eyes.

Voice Very Low

His voice was so low that attorney's on both sides asked for the reply to be read by the court re-

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 8—The Charlotte Observer today says a "New Niagara' is planned in the mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee by the Aluminum Company of America which will spend $125,000,000 in development of hydro-electric projects.

Through eight separate dams electrical power exceeding in magnitude the energy now generated by Niagara Falls will be created. Seven of the eight projects named in the newspaper story will be in western North Carolina and the other in Tennessee.

The projects in their totality are said to represent "one of the largest and most ambitious power developments in the United States" and will require years to execute.

NEW BILL TURNS WHEN WASHED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Washing powder and water have caused one of the new five dollar bills to change its original green to a shade of gold but no concern is felt by treasury officials as a result.

The bill was presented at a Beaumont, Texas, bank, and its alteration in color caused officials to believe at first it was counterfeit. A treasury representative visited Texas to inspect the currency.

Henry Herrick Bond, assistant secretary of the treasury, said today the investigation indicated the money had been sent to a laundry in a shirt and had been washed thoroughly in a solution used for cleaning clothes.

"We don't expect much of the money to be subjected to that treatment," Bond said.

WOMEN FINANCIERS WIN UNIQUE SUCCESS

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Emma Claus and Florence Keller, sailing together on the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's "Good-Will Tour" of Northern Europe, are a gratifying proof-positive that out in Gary, Indiana, success has a bigness about it that allows professional rivals to be the best of personal friends.

Both young Miss Claus and Mrs. Keller are high up in the financial world, and compete for clients. Miss Claus is the only woman bank executive in the middle west, is manager of one bank, assistant to the president of another and director and secretary-treasurer of a third company. Mrs. Keller is assistant secretary-treasurer of a competing bank, and manager of the life and fire insurance departments of a subsidiary company. Both began in menial jobs and are self-made successes.

"Our work gives us so much interest in common, we find that friendly rivalry is most stimulating," Mrs. Keller laughed at anyone's being surprised at their friendship.

"Emma could sell shoestrings to a woman who wears pumps," a friend once said admiringly of Miss Claus' driving salesmanship ability.

"Nonsense," she retorted. "I must believe utterly in what I sell. My work is a thrilling pleasure to me because I believe in women's need of financial security and I enjoy selling good investments."

Miss Claus started as a stenographer while in high school in her small home town in Indiana.

"I worked up in a law office until I was secretary for the best-known lawyer," she explained her career's course. "For seven years I held that job until one spring day I realized I was in a rut. I resigned that day, picked Gary as the best place to start a high-powered career and was packed and on my way before the end of the week."

In her decisive manner, Miss Claus picked out banking as the field she wanted, selected the bank she liked, applied for any beginner's job they had, and was hired on the spot. Her concentration and ability made such an impression that in six months she had been pushed right along into an assistant cashier's position.

Interested in women and in investments, also, she made an ideal saleswoman. In one campaign of 15 teams, Miss Claus, single-handed, brought in 25 per cent of the entire business developed in the drive.

Maybe it is just the case of a square peg in a square hole. Maybe, however, Miss Claus inherited some of her staunch ability from her clergyman father who believed so thoroughly in his work that he was a tremendous power for good in his community.

"To sell things one should have complete faith, first," Miss Claus outlines her technique. "Next, an ability to go to the heart of things. Third, confidence in yourself. Of course personality counts."

Her friend, Florence Keller, started as a telephone operator. Not satisfied to let her "voice with a smile" be her only asset, she started out to sell insurance on the side. To her amazement she sold enough the first week to enable her to leave her switchboard. Now she sells fire, life, accident, automobile and any other kind of insurance she feels newcomers and old-timers need.

In addition, Mrs. Keller has found time to run a charming home, bring up a 16-year-old daughter, who is a credit to her mother, and take a run to Europe every now and then for recreation. Work that suits you, a hobby and family and friends who understand, though they may try to beat you at business," is her recipe for a good life.

FIRST BALE ARRIVES

COLORADO, Aug. 8 (AP)—The first bale of cotton of this section, grown by N. E. Browne, was sold here today for 22 1-2 cents a pound.

La Raza is the first Spanish language newspaper in Chicago, where there are 185,000 Mexicans and Spanish.

Theirs is self-made success. Florence Keller, left, once a telephone operator, now is assistant secretary-treasurer of a Gary, Ind., bank. Emma Claus, right, rose from stenographer to become a manager of one bank, assistant to the president of a second and secretary-treasurer of a third in the same Hoosier city.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

There are times when I wonder, not at the many divorces, but at the many marriages that hold in spite of all manner of things.

There are wives who nag and are extravagant, wives who are miserable housekeepers, who never learn to cook. And those wives who never seem to consider their husbands have any rights after the children come, but always make him give up everything for them.

And there are husbands who scold and tyrannize, flirt and whine, need more mothering than a dozen children, and never give a word of appreciation for anything. Who act as if every cent the wife spends on clothes for herself was a useless extravagance, although he would have to pay a housekeeper ten times what his wife gets, and the housekeeper could leave if she didn't like the job.

And still the tie holds, and a love deeper than all the irritations of daily living can kill, makes them real comrades under all the surface bickerings.

WONDERING: I agree with your husband. The girl is simply infatuated with an older man, as kids of that age often are. He can't help it, and if I were you I'd not take it seriously. She's to be pitied that she doesn't have better sense than to show her feeling. In a month or so she will probably be over it and in love with a boy her own age. Try to treat her as nicely as you'd want someone to treat a silly little sister of yours.

"DEA RVIRGINIA LEE: Am just another 17-year-old girl asking your advice. I am in love with a boy who is 20. This boy is going on a long trip in about two weeks. Do you think if he really loved me he would leave when he didn't have to? His old girl is living in the city where he is going.

"ANXIOUS RED."

People have to take vacations, my dear, even if they are in love, and they usually go out of town if they can. I suppose you're afraid he will renew his friendship with the old girl friend, aren't you? If he is that fickle he isn't worth loving, is he?

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a wife with four children. For the last two years my husband has been staying out until 12 and 1 o'clock and some times all night long. I have been a good and faithful wife for 16 years and I want to know if I wouldn't be right in leaving him and going to live with relatives, and won't he have to support the children? A TROUBLED WIFE."

In view of the fact that your husband neglects you and spends his time in undesirable places and talks badly to you, I suppose you could get a divorce. Go to the domestic relations court and ask advice. Does he provide for you and the children? I always hesitate to advise a woman to get a divorce, especially where there are minor children. Going to live with relatives is usually bad business. You might wish a thousand times that you had stayed in your home, even under the present unhappy circumstances. Your husband would have to support the children, but collecting alimony is pretty hard work, too. These are the reasons I would ask you to talk with some one outside your family before you take any steps. Isn't there some chance, too, that your husband will reform and be more as he used to? You say it is only the last two years that he has been going out.

G. Z.: If the fact that your fiance's relatives died of tuberculosis is the only thing that prevents your mother giving her consent to your marriage, tell her to talk with a doctor. It is known now that T. B. is not inherited, although a tendency toward it may be. The knowledge that it is in the family would make a person careful of their health so that the disease would not get a foothold, and would tend to make one cautious in case of any symptoms that might indicate lung trouble. Taken in the first stages tuberculosis is curable, and the fact that the young man seems perfectly healthy should reassure her. However, he should have a very thorough physical examination before marrying.

LONESOME: So you have learned so early that men are fickle? Well, there are boys that are true, just as there are girls both true and false. You'll find after awhile you will forget this boy, although I know now that you think it is real, not "puppy" love.

PEGGY and JOYCE: There is nothing you can do except see that the boys enjoy themselves when they are with you.

Congressman Visits With Army Official

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 8 (AP) —W. Frank James, chairman of the military affairs of the House of Representatives, conferred with Major General William Lassiter, commander of the Eighth Corps Area today regarding housing conditions at Fort Sam Houston and other army posts in the area, especially in regard to the $2,170,000 building for the local post.

Congressman James is on an eleven week air tour of all the army posts of the country.

Treasure Hunt Is Staged Last Night By Two Couples As Society Function

Adding another affair to the series of informal social events of the season, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Quillen and Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. McAfee entertained last night with a treasure hunt, having as their guests about twenty-five local couples.

The treasure was located by Mr and Mrs. Alvin Hendricks, Carl Patton and Mrs. J. A. McCalvey. Guests met at the Quillen home at the beginning of the evening and returned there after the hunt for light refreshments.

Mr. And Mrs. J. L. Martin Celebrate Golden Wedding In Supper Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin, 220 Third street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a supper at their home last evening from 6 to 8 o'clock when 70 relatives and friends assembled to extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin are each 76 years old.

They have lived in Lubbock 14 years, arriving here when the city had but 3,000 or 4,000 population.

"Work and constant consideration for each other's happiness afford the surest means for marital success," the couple.

City's Swimming Pool Is Protected

The Tumble N swimming pool, owned and operated by the City of Lubbock, is doubly assured of sanitation through chlorination and constant refilling, Dr. Y. J. Aiken, who has charge of the city laboratory, announced today.

"We are complying with all regulations of the state health department," he said. "The local pool has a capacity of 375,000 gallons and 30,000 gallons of fresh water are run in daily."

Man Charged With Murder For Fire

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 8, (AP)—Art Glover, named by police as the brains of the arson blast plot which killed three firemen early Monday morning, was arraigned on a charge of first degree murder in justice court today. He was returned to the county jail without bond.

White Dove Season Is Opened Today

AUSTIN, Aug. 8. (AP)—The white wing dove season in Texas opened today as a result of a law passed by the forty-first legislature delaying the season's opening from July 1 to August 8. Shooting of the doves is prohibited after October 31.

Philadelphia is hardly a suburb of New York, but 175 residents of the Quaker City commute to the metropolis daily.

Texas Billy Goat Goes To Replace "Captain Bones"

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 8 (AP)—"Billy the Kid" leaves his ancestral hills here today for the effete life of Washington under the guardianship of Secretary of State H. L. Stimson.

Billy, a goat offered up by the secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association, goes to replace the celebrated "Captain Bones," the secretary's former pet somehow not retrieved by the official after he arrived in Washington from the Philippines.

The new delegate to the capital was said to have been named for the famous outlaw after successful exhibitions of pugnacity among his fellows on a ranch 65 miles from the nearest railroad.

HONORS REQUISITION

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—Governor Moody today honored a requisition sought by Arkansas authorities for the return of Ray Love, who escaped from the Tucker state farm in November, 1928, while serving a 21year sentence for bank robbery in Crawford county.

Love is now in jail at Ballinger.

BRUSSELS (AP)—The 250th anniversary of the discovery of Niagara Falls was commemorated in Belgian newspapers which reminded readers that a Belgian, Louise Heunepin was the first white man to see the famous cataract.

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—In an effort to create forests in Morocco the government has offered an annual premium of $4 an acre for tree planting. The trees must be oaks, beeches or pines and number at least 200 to the acre.

Guide Posts to Value

AT THE top of old Dorfchenberg, not far from the black forest, there is a wilderness of pines where forty-one trails converge. Even experienced hikers were helpless in this maze of paths until kindly peasants carefully marked each trail with a guide stone.

Through the maze of modern products advertisements guide you straight to merchandise of full value. Advertisements save your money by indicating worthy goods. Advertised products do not vary in quality. Ask for them by name.

Study Avalanche and Journal advertisements carefully and you will be repaid. Take notice of them and you can cut your budget. That means money for a growing savings account, a trim new Parisien hat, or enough to repaint the kitchen. You will be surprised to find how that extra value in advertised products tucks away pennies in your purse. Advertised merchandise gives more value dollar for dollar. Avalanche and Journal advertisements are your guide to that increased value.

NEW HIGHWAY ROUTE MOTORCADE IS PLANNED

CITIES WILL SEND GROUP TO PORTALES

TOUR OF NEW ROUTE TO BE HELD AUGUST 26, STARTING HERE

Delegations from all cities along the route of the proposed Lubbock-Elida-Portales highway will be invited to leave this city for a boosters tour of the planned route August 26, George E. Lance, president of the Morton Chamber of Commerce, announced here late Wednesday while in conference with officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

"Our plans at this time call for one of the largest representations of this immediate area ever gathered for a goodwill tour," said Mr. Lance. "It will be an inaugural trip over the entire route and all who can and are interested are urged to join up and begin preparations now for taking this trip."

500 Expected

According to Mr. Lance 544 persons are expected to make the tour. Thirty cars have already been promised from Morton, 30 from Levelland and he is seeking 40 from this city. All cars will cary an average of five persons. He also will seek arrangements whereby bands from both Levelland and Lubbock will be included.

E. B. Ribble, president of the Portales Chamber of Commerce, and Sam See, secretary, have announced that the Portales Chamber of Commerce will entertain the trippers with a big barbecue when they arrive in that city.

Leave Aug. 26

Schedule for the motorcade is to leave Lubbock at 6:30 o'clock, August 26, arriving in Levelland at 7:45, Morton at 9 o'clock, Elida at 11 o'clock and Portales at 12 o'clock. The return journey to be made in the afternoon.

INVESTIGATION OF LETTER MADE

DALLAS, Aug. 8 (AP)—A police investigation of the so-called "blackhand" letter received by W. J. Reid, former municipal radio station manager, threatening him with death unless he dropped a suit against Police Commissioner W. C. Graves will be begun today, Chief of Police Claude Trammell said.

Trammell previously declined to accept the threat note from a police reporter, saying Reid himself should present it if he wanted an investigation.

Reid, who had been serving on a jury, later telephoned a request that the investigation be conducted and that the chief accept the letter from the reporter.

This Trammell agreed to do.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The car kept speeding down the hill and Clowny said, "I've had my fill of this queer ride. Let's all jump off. I fear I'll break my neck. If we should hit a curve real quick. Oh my, the thought just makes me sick. I know that we would suddenly be thrown into a wreck."

"Oh, don't keep shouting," Scouty cried. "Some way to stop this should be tried. I wish that we could find a break that very snugly locks. Your plan to jump is very wrong. We'd best stay here where we belong. I'm sure that I don't care to land upon some pointed rocks."

So, while the bunch held on real tight, the car whirred on with all its might. It reached a sudden curve and almost jumped right off the track. The little wheel just thumped and thumped, and 'round about the Tinies bumped. "Another jolt like that," said one, "and it will break my neck"

They rode for half an hour or more, each wondering just what was in store. The trains hung to the left side and then tipped o'er to the right. Said Coppy, "Say it seems to me that in an awful fix we'll be if night comes while we ride along. 'Twill take all things from sight."

Then Scouty jumped and said "wait here! I'm leaving, and there's naught to fear. I'm going to climb atop this car and see what I can do." And while the small car swayed and squeaked out of a window he soon sneaked. Said Clowny, "Do whate'er you can. We'll leave our fate to you."

Soon Scouty cried, "For goodness sake. I've found a wheel that works a brake." He eyed the wheel a moment and then reached it in one hop. 'course right away he turned it fast. Then suddenly he yelled. "At last I've found a way to save us. Look. The train's begun to stop."

(Clowny scares the other Tinymites in the next story.)

APPLICATIONS ON BUS LINES GET HEARING

STATE RAILROAD BODY HEARS FIVE PLEAS FOR CHANGES

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 8.—Sitting for the second day, members of the state railroad commission together with Mark Marshall, director of the motor transportation division, took up a docket of the five applications concerning motor bus operation Wednesday.

Applications on the docket were: W. S. White and J. T. Ramey to operate a bus line from Cooper to Mineola via Sulphur Springs; C. M. Hannon to operate a line from Greenville to Wolfe City; R. F. Flumlee to sell and transfer one-half interest in a line from Fort Worth to Krum to J. B. Banks; The Southland-Red Ball bus lines, West Texas Coaches, Southwestern Transporation company, Texas-Oklahoma Coaches, Red Ball Motor bus company and the Sunshine bus lines to extend service in Dallas by operating through a station located at Commerce and Lamar streets in addition to maintaining the operation out of the Union station; The Southwestern Transporation company made application to increase and decrease fares and change schedules on several lines including ones from Texarkana to Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Pleansant to Tyler, Tyler to Marshall via Gladewater, Tyler to Waco via Corsicana, Tyler to Lufkin, Alto to Nacogdoches, Tyler to Henderson, Greenville to Denton, Farmersville to Dallas via Wiley, Fort Worth to Graptvine and from Grapevine to Wiley.

The applications were taken under advisement by the commission and decisions will be rendered later in Austin.

Horns Of Famous Lead Steer Of JA Ranch To Adorn Museum Of Panhandle-Plains Historical Society

(Special To The Journal)

CANYON, Aug. 8.—The horns of the longhorn steer, Old Blue the famous bell steer that led so many JA trail herds north to Dodge City, Kansas, have come to rest in the museum of the Historical Society at Canyon through the loan of the executors of the Adair Estate, T. D. Hobart of Pampa and Henry C. Cooke of Dallas.

For years they have hung above the door of Clinton Henry's office, the present manager of the ranch. Old Blue was born in the Nueces country of Texas. He was brought to the Panhandle as a young steer and was selected by Colonel Goodnight as a lead steer. Every night upon the trail the bell which had rattled around his neck all day long, guiding the steers that followed him was muffled. The clapper was released by a cowboy of a morning and as soon as the bell started ringing the herd knew that it was time to move and set out upon the trail of Old Blue.

He accommodatingly led these herds into the shipping corrals at Dodge City, but always turned back down the trail with the cowboys when they again started for the ranch. He was led 250 miles to the JA's, walking with the stride of a horse. His last years were spent on the ranch, independent in his old age because of the period of usefulness which had earned him these rights.

The horns measure four feet from tip to tip.

Dallas Awarded 1930 Reporters Meeting

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 8 (AP)—A. L. Funk, Mexico, Mo., was elected president of the Southwest Shorthand Reporters' association at the closing session of the organization's 15th annual convention here Wednesday.

Kerr Sanders, Fort Worth, Texas, was chosen vice-president and James G. Manning, Olathe, Kas., secretary-treasurer.

Dallas, Texas, was selected as the 1930 convention city.

Immediate Relief From Indigestion

WARDWEAR TIRES

a 10,000-mile guaranteed tire at the lowest price ever known!

29 x 4.40 Balloon $5.05

THE Standard WARDWEAR – while it is our lowest priced tire – is made in the same factories, has the same fine design and carefully supervised construction, as our first-quality RIVERSIDE line.

We emphasize this fact because it is important. Too many motorists are today being confused with price-and-quality comparisons which are deceptive. Many manufacturers insist on calling "first-quality" what are actually their "second-line" tires—and suggesting that their prices are lower than Ward's by comparing them with the prices of Ward's first-quality lines!

This sort of "tangled talk" should be straightened out. All such comparisons should in reality be made only between leading makers' second lines and the WARDWEAR. When they are, Ward's prices will always be found to be lower.

In buying your tires, therefore, don't be misled by offhand "claims" of any kind. Insist on getting the FACTS. Do not be induced to pay first-quality prices for second-quality tires. Do not be satisfied by less than a definite, specific guarantee, backed by the manufacturer, for 10,000 miles of service. Do this, and you will reach but one conclusion: that WARDWEAR prices save you MORE, and WARDWEAR quality is guaranteed to serve you BETTER, than any other tires in their class!

Visit your nearest Ward Retail Store ... examine these splendid-value tires for yourself. Tremendous sales volume, and distribution to the car-owner direct, explain why we can give you such remarkable guaranteed performance at such unusually low prices.

We carry all sizes of tires and tubes to fit all cars —at proportionate savings.

RUTH'S BAT IS BACK IN ACTION; CUB'S LEAD IS CUT

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

A protracted hitting slump has been broken by Babe Ruth this week as the Bambino began to swing his war club with old-time effectiveness. Facing an almost certain reduction in his fat salary because of his lengthy illness and failure to gain his stride, the baseball idol of the major leagues proved Tuesday and Wednesday that plenty of base hits and home runs are left in his rusty club.

An idea of the Babe's worth to the New York Yankees may be gained from the fact that in two days his big bat was responsible for 12 runs. In the second game of Tuesday's double header with the Washington Senators, the Yankees triumphed 8 to 0. Seven of the eight runs scored by the New Yorkers were batted in by Ruth. Two home runs produced these seven tallies; one came with the bases jammed and the other with two aboard. In yesterday's twin bill at Philadelphia, the Bambino accounted for five runs as the Yanks divided the day's program with the league-leading Athletics.

If Colonel Ruppert's high-salaried star keeps up this pace, he may be rewarded with that $100,000 contract that he is said to be asking for, and there are few fans who do not hope to see the Bambino get his raise.

The fact that Ruth is the best known and most popular of all major league illuminaries doesn't keep Art Shires from giving Babe the razzberry just as if he were a rookie. The former Waco first sacker, who has become a national figure as the Chicago White Sox first baseman, says that he considers the day lost when he fails to get the goat of some diamond celebrity.

When the Babe came puffing down to first the other day at the Yankee stadium, Shires stepped over and said:

"What's your name—Durocher?" Isn't that quite a drive for you.

Ruth had just slammed a fly so far out into center that the fielder was forced to go back against the fence to make the catch and it took two relays to get the ball back to the infield.

Durocher is notorious for his weak hitting and seldom gets the ball beyond the infield, and the Babe didn't exactly appreciate Shires' remark. Ruth didn't swing on Art but the Texan was given a stare that would have made any but Shires slink back into the dugout.

The Great Shires, as he is known, at one time had his name linked in New York with that of Durocher who was considered somewhat of a "wisecracker" until the cocky Texas made his big league debut.

"Durocher just isn't in my class," confided the Great Shires, "why I rode him so hard the other day that Huggins asked me to lay off and give him a chance."

Ten Lubbock golfers are planning a trip Sunday to visit with their fellow linksmen of the Lenaware Municipal course. Two successive triumphs over Snyder has given the locals plenty of confidence and even Oscar Lykes believes he can bring back a Plainsview scalp. In fact, the rotund Irishman has already notified Walter Sykes to get his best golfer in shape and he promises to meet him with one arm tied securely behind him.

Jack May, one of the most consistent golfers of the local club, probably gained more satisfaction from Bob Peck's triumph over Grady Higginbotham for the City Open title than any other man in town. It will be remembered that Peck gave May a nifty golf lesson in the semi-finals of the tournament and after the final match Jack doesn't feel so badly over his defeat. Incidently Peck was shooting par golf throughout the tourney and would have been a tough foe for just about any golfer that might have been imported.

Peck has won the admiration of the entire Lubbock populace by refusing to endorse Lucky Strikes and a certain brand of toothpaste that we hesitate to mention because of publicity reasons. That's the sort of champion that we've been looking for since Red Grange turned professional.

SCHMELING - SHARKEY BOUT POSTPONED BY CAREY

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—William F. Carey, nominal head of the Madison Square Garden corporation, announced last night that the vexatious Schmeling-Sharkey bout, tentatively scheduled for next month, had been definitely abandoned.

Instead the Garden will match Tommy Loughran, retired light-heavyweight champion, against Sharkey at the Yankee Stadium in a 15-round bout Sept. 16.

Announced Retirement

Following his decisive triumph over Jimmy Braddock, Loughran announced his retirement from the light-heavy class and began serious preparations in quest of the heavyweight crown vacated by Gene Tunney.

Loughran asserts he was far from his best form in the battle with Braddock because of the weight limit and that he can easily meet the requirements for the top class.

The Yankees on Sept. 16 will have finished their September home stand against the western clubs and will be playing their final visit in the West.

Found Obstacles

Carey gave no reason for the abandonment of the Schmeling-Sharkey fight but it was presumed he found the obstacles placed in his path by the New York State Athletic Commission would be too great. The German heavyweight contender is under contract with his former manager to met Phil Scott this month and the commission ruled he must live up to this contract before he could meet Sharkey.

The garden executive promised a later statement detailing his plans for employing Schmeling.

He Wasn't Doin' Nothin'

Mr. William McGowan, the pride of Wilmington, and my favorite umpire, was standing like the great Napoleon at third base during the first series in Washington between the Senators and the Detroit Tigers. It was Bucky's first visit to Washington as the manager of a rival club and a goodly crowd was there.

If was a dull game and our William hadn't had a decision to make. He was thinking of other things. But Campbell, the umpire behind the bat was plenty busy.

But They Got On Him

Suddenly a voice pooped out from the Detroit bench. It was George McBride talking. He is the Detroit coach.

"Get out of there, Campbell," he shouted, "and let Connolly in there or let that Blind Tom on third call 'em."

Our William, the Blind Tom on third base, spread his hands out for time and went right over to the Detroit bench.

A Great Man for Baths

"You can have an early bath, McBride," he said. "Get out of the park."

McBride got up and sulked toward the club house and our William started back to third base in the manner of General Pershing.

But he had marched only a few feet when he heard another voice from the Detroit bench. The voice gave him this message:

"You'd better take a bath yourself. You haven't had one in a month."

Our William turned around and beleered.

"Was that you, Harris?"

And Bucky pleaded guilty.

Bucky Got a Bath Early

"Out to the showers for you, too," McGowan ordered, and out went Bucky.

When the Bucky was passing behind Campbell at the plate he called Campbell something that deeply offended the umpire and he wrote to the boss about it and the league president set Harris down for three days.

The press tore the hide off McGowan when it was announced that the Detroit manager had been put out of the series.

And as our William says:

"What the hell, I didn't turn him in. I ran him out of the ball game, but it was Campbell that made the report. That's the way things are for an umpire. The next time I saw Harris he said—'Hello, Bill, how's things?' And I said—'Things are pretty good, Bucky.' The customers up there don't know what is said on the field, but they always put the umpire in the grease."

He's a Swell Fellow

Here's another letter about that crucial situation in Cincinnati:

"I would like you to publish in your column the following: What is your general opinion of Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Is he all that the Post readers and fans say he is? I think that is all true. He is no good. The Cincinnati Reds have the hardest playing team in the league and there is not a player on the team who can't hit if they had a new manager who is not so lazy.

GOLF TITLES IN QUANDARY

PITTSBURGH NATIONAL CHAMP REVERSES DOPE IN SCORE

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Prospects of ending the two-year-old reign of Carl Kauffman, golfing Pittsburgh clerk, as champion of all National public links iron wielders were not so bright today.

Without much ado or effort, the champion demonstrated he was on edge to defend his crown in the 36-hole qualifying test by combining two rounds of 77-74 for a 151 total, which gave him a tie for the tournament medal with two comparative unknowns—Patsy Tiso, a 19-year-old student from New York, and Milton Soncrant, a Toledo mailman.

Kauffmann's rounds were the steadiest of the record field of 140 which attempted to qualify.

Forest Park, the championship course, was a jinx for most of the entrants. Long rugged and spliced everywhere by trees and water holes, it was so difficult that a total of 159 strokes, 15 more than par, were enough to gain a berth in the championship flight.

The survivors represented 16 cities in 13 states.

MacDONALD SMITH WINS LONG ISLAND

SALISBURY PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP).—MacDonald Smith, who has won many minor golfing tourneys from coast to coast, but never a major crown, has tucked the Long Island open title in his already well filled bag with an aggregate 72-hole medal score of 86. Second to Smith came Gene Sarazen, long-hitting former open king.

But two strokes separated the Scot and the one time Italian caddy boy when the curtain rang down. Gene who knows the fruits of the major golfing victories, established a course record of 66 over the long No. 4 championship course. The Carnoustie "Bra Laddie" confined his scoring to old man par, never straying far from perfect figures.

Seven strokes behind Smith and five rearward to Gene came George Voight, North Hills amateur and until Smith breezed in with his 286 the titlist. He won the crown in 1928.

EIGHT YOUTHS BATTLE FOR JUNIOR TITLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP).—The battle for the Western junior golf championship today was a matter for decision over the Lagrange Country club course among eight youngsters—four from Illinois, two from Michigan and a pair from Missouri.

Fred Lyon, of Pontiac, Ill., a member of the University of Illinois golf team this spring, was paired for his third round match with Joel Shepherd of Kalamazoo, Mich. Lyon, the qualifying medalist, was favored to defeat the Michigan player, and appears an almost certain finalist.

Bill Redmond, Joliet, Ill., who was runner-up to Lyon in the qualifying round, was to meet George Baker of St. Louis.

Paul Jackson of Kansas City, who has made several attempts to take the title, had a tough opponent in

VERSATILE CATCHER IS AID TO TEAM IN HIS FIRST SEASON

If the New York Yankees were rolling along to another pennant (it would be their fourth consecutive one) this season, much would be written about young Bill Dickey, sensational yearling catcher who is proving a great aid to Manager Miller Huggins in his desperate drive to overtake the fast-flying Athletics. But, as things are, Dickey is rated just another great find.

This is Dickey's first full season in the big time and he appears to be the best looking first-year man in the American league. Not since Mickey Cochrane broke into the business with the Athletics several years ago has such a catching prospect made his appearance in the league.

As it is, Dickey has it on Cochrane in the slugging department. Only recently Bill achieved the feat of making six hits, including three homers, in six straight trips to the plate.

A number of others have made six consecutive hits but only Ty Cobb, the retired Georgian, has gotten three homers in six consecutive hits.

Dickey has also proved that he can stand up against left-handed as well as right-handed pitching, and that he has versatility in his clubbing, registering homers to every corner of the lot.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8—Pablo Dano, 110, Filipino flyweight, won an unpopular ten round decision from Chato Laredo, 110 1-2, flashy Mexican from El Paso, Texas, in the main event at National Hall last night. The fiery Laredo fought a defensive fight until the eight round when he uncorked a whirlwind attack that had Dano in trouble to the closing gong.

FIVE NETMEN FACING TASK

TWO ENGLISH PLAYERS PRESENTING STIFF OPPOSITION

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—America's seventh, eight, ninth, eleventh and thirteenth ranking tennis stars still remain to shoulder the task of stopping the British bid for singles honors in the Meadow clubs invitation tournament.

In addition to Fritz Mercur, Bethlehem, Penn., No. 7; John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif., No. 8; Julius Seligson, New York, No. 9; Berkeley Bell Austin, Texas, No. 11, and Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., No. 13, a sixth young American still remains in the running—Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore. The dope calls for his elimination at the hands of Mercur in the quarter-finals. It was Jacobs however who produced the principal surprise of yesterday's play by defeating Donald Cram of Nashville, Vanderbilt university star, who in the previous round put out John S. Olliff, England's indoor champion.

Bell Downs Harrison

Bell, who had his hands full defeating Bradshaw Harrison of the University of Oregon, 6—2, 9—7, is drawn against Norman Farquharson, of Cambridge, one of the two remaining English contenders, while Mangin faces an even tougher antagonist in "Bunny" Austin, English Davis cup ace.

AUSTIN YOUTH IS TOURNEY FAVORITE

DELAFIELD, Wis., Aug. 8 (AP)—Karl Kamrath, Austin, Texas, and Hugh MacArthur, San Diego, were favored today to reach the finals of the Western junior and boys' tennis championship because of their showing yesterday in eliminating Nate Ganger, Cleveland, and Charles Davis, Oklahoma City, respectively.

Others who still had a chance at the junior title were Bill Schommer, Milwaukee, Willie Jacobs, Baltimore, John Sheldon, Chicago, and Kendall Cram, Nashville, all of whom had yet to play their quarter-final matches.

Rockne To Look On Bright Side Of Football

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—Knute Rockne has become an optimist Rockne, whose prospects for winning football teams at Notre Dame, usually cause him to speak in a melancholy manner before a season opens, now will "present a more or less radiant picture of my prospects," he told a group of coaches at the Northwestern university summer school yesterday.

"Pessimism as applied to football," Rockne said, "has been worked to death. It is time to swing back the other way and accept our problems with a more cheerful outlook."

NORTHERNERS WIN; SPUDS' LEAD INTACT

SOUTHERN CLUBS FARE BADLY IN CONTESTS IN TEXAS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the final phase of the southern teams' invasion of the north country starting today, it appeared safe to announce officially that any last faint hopes held out by fans in the lower end of the state for a second half pennant had become defunct.

The southern clubs did well enough that Houston and Waco appeared distinct threat—but it has become apparent in the space of a week that the real power lies north of the middle. Of 12 games played in the series closing yesterday, Waco was the only southern team to win a decision. Three series were swept by the powerful triumvirate Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Shreveport.

Spudders Must Stand Up

The line-up for the last of the intersectional contests found the disappointing Buffs at Wichita, Beaumont at Fort Worth, San Antonio at Dallas and Waco at Shreveport. The Spudders cannot afford to falter against the Bisons, as the Cats are only a game and a half back and in the throes of a victory streak that reached seven straight yesterday.

In winning their eighth verdict in nine starts against southern outfits, the Cats again came from behind to trim the Buffs, 11 to 7. Six runs in the eighth inning drove Paul Wachtel to the showers. The Buffs scored all their runs off Charlie Sullivan in the first four frames, but were stopped cold thereafter by McCabe.

Spuds Win 3rd Straight

A seven-run spree in the fourth was sufficient to give the Spuds their third straight from Beaumont 8 to 5. Steengrafe had the Shippers well fooled with the exception of Easterling, who belted two homers one with a mate on.

The Sports swept into third place by threshing the demoralized Indians, 11 to 7. That made 14 straight thumpings for Pat Newman's warriors.

Old Joe Martina again demonstrated his ability to humble the Cubs in the rubber game at Dallas. Although rapped 16 times, at least once every inning, the veteran oyster merchant had the Prattmen hypnotized when they had mates on base. Ten blows off Stein and Thurman, combined with three Cub errors, made it an easy matter for the Steers to win, 7 to 3. Five May runs were unearned.

Deakyne Expected To Get Appointment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP) — Brigadier General Herbert Deakyne, assistant chief of army engineers, who today became acting chief with the retirement of Major General Edgar Jadwin, is expected in army circles to receive the permanent appointment to that post.

Going on the inactive roll as he reached his 64th birthday, the retiring chief becomes the only lieutenant general on either the active or retired list. General Jadwin also was the first army officer to be retired with that rank since Nelson A. Miles, famous Indian fighter.

YANK-MACKS FEATURE OF MAJOR TILTS

TEAMS SPLIT TWIN BILL ON WEDNESDAY: PIRATES WIN

BY WILLIAM J. CHIFMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With all but two of the National league teams in transit from west to east yesterday, the spotlight rested upon the double clash of the Yankees and the Athletics in Philadelphia. More than 40,000 Quaker City fans crowded into the park and countless other thousands languished disappointed in the streets outside as the leaders gained an even-break with the runners-up in the first two-thirds of what some deem a crucial series.

Led by Babe Ruth who hit his twenty-eight with three on base, the Yankees exploded four home runs about the ears of Athletic pitchers in the opening game to win by 13 to 1, only to see the Mackmen run off with the second by 4 to 2, leaving Connie Mack's margin of eleven and one-half games unmolested.

Babe Poles One

The Babe hit his four-run homer with one out in the second. It was the Babe's second homer with the bases filled in successive games and the twelfth such blow of his career.

Roy Sherid deserved a better fate in the nightcap, his second complete game of his major league career of one season. He entered the home half of the eighth with a 2 to 1 lead over George Earnshaw, but three hits, two of them doubles, and a fumble by Lazzeri gave the Mackmen three runs and the game. Connie Mack sent Bob Grove in to pitch the ninth just to remove doubt that the game was over.

Cleveland Halted

At the meeting between the Indians and Tigers in Cleveland, Dale Alexander treated himself to four hits which helped the Bengals to halt Cleveland's rush toward third place with a 14 to 4 victory. As a result, the tribe fell from a tie with the Browns for the third rung.

Washington defeated the Red Sox at Boston by 4 to 2, and the Browns and the White Sox were traveling.

The only activity in the National league was at Forbes Field where the Pirates nosed out the Giants by 4 to 3 in the ninth and shaved a more or less inconsequential half game from the margin of the Cubs. The Bruins now top the National field by seven full contests.

FOUR PITCHERS FROM ONE TEAM

Four pitchers have jumped from the semi-pro team at East Douglas, Mass., to the American League. They are Wesley Herrell of the Indians, Irving Hadley of Washington, and Haskell Billings and Rufus Smith of Detroit. Billings starred when he first reported, but has been used but little, while Smith has been placed in the minors. Ferrell appears right now to be the prize of the quartet.

TECH STUDENTS TO MAKE STUDY OF OLD INDIAN RUINS IN NEW MEXICO

Leaving Lubbock Friday the class in Indian Culture of the Southwest, of Texas Technological college, will have a five-day field trip to Santa Fe and other New Mexico points, Dr. W. C. Holden, instructor in history department of the college, announced Wednesday.

Dr. Holden will head the tour.

At Santa Fe the class will inspect the museums and places of historical and archaeological interest. Trips will be made out from the city to the cliff dwellings at El Roto de los Frijoles and Puye. A number of pueblo ruins will be observed.

Aside from these, visits will be made to some of the modern pueblos. On the return trip to this city a stop will be made at the ruins of the Pecos pueblo.

Approximately 20 students will make the trip, and the party plans to return next Tuesday.

AUGUST 1 CONDITION IS 69.6 NORMAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP).—A cotton crop of 15,543,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight is indicated for this year on the condition of the crop on August 1, which was 69.6 percent of a normal, the Department of Agriculture announced today.

Last year's crop was 14,478,000 bales of 500 pound gross weight, while the August 1 condition was 67.9 per cent and the August 1 ten-year average condition is 67.3. The indicated crop is estimated on the basis of teh acreage in cultivation July 1, which was 46,695,000 acres, less the 10-year average abandonment.

The condition of the Crop on August 1 and the indicated production, in 500-pound gross weight bales, follow:

State	August Cond.	Indicated Crop
Virginia	77	46,000
North Carolina	68	787,000

As the ex-professor sat shaken and trying to go on, Prosecutor John J. Chester, jr., suggested a recess which the court allowed.

The story was the climax to Dr. Snook's account of his 3-year love affair with the medic co-ed.

It had carried them to the New York Central rifle range where they sat in his parked car arguing because he intended to leave town to visit his mother at Lebanon, Ohio.

The girl attacked him, he said, as the argument grew in intensity.

Contradicts Contention

He contradicted the contention of the state that he had given the girl a sandwich containing an emotional stimulant. Miss Hix, he said, had the sandwich when she got in his car and gave it to him as they drove to the range.

Dr. Snook said he went home from the scene of the killing and that he slept that night.

He identified a blood stained dress Miss Hix wore the night of her death and claimed ownership of a knife. He said he found it on the floor of his car the morning after the killing.

"Doctor Snook, under oath, if Theora Hix's jugular vein was cut, did you cut it with this knife?"

"I do not know," the witness replied.

GRAF ZEPPELIN

More Truth Than

And the old song in this playing contained as much truth as poetry. For this flight around the world was a dream that had been burning in the heart of Dr. Eckener, the ship's commander for many years. Before the ship was walked out of the hangar, the 22 passengers were put aboard, 21 men and one woman. As the ship was drawn into the open the upper structure of the hangar was revealed like a great spider web, the web where the little plumber's apprentice had been caught like a fly as he prepared to let himself down by a rope to the narrow runway along the top of the Zeppelin's silvered frame. It seemed as the ship left that a score of lightning bugs had been trapped in the web for sailors with flash-lights were still crawling about the lofty rafters looking for other possible stowaways.

Takes Off Quickly

Once in the open commands followed in swift succession and despite one slight delay when a rope tangled and had to be straightened out the Graf was in the air sixteen minutes after it cleared the hangar door.

An hour later to the minute it passed over Times Square and so headed up the coast for New Foundland and the great circle route to Germany and its first stop on the world flight.

At Cape Race, N. F., Dr. Eckener expected to head his craft once more over the ocean that it had already crossed three times and will cross again after copletion of the world flight less than a month after its takeoff.

Course Is Routed

From Friedrichshafen the course lies over the Siberian wastes to Tokyo where refueling will be followed by a flight to Los Angeles across the Pacific and then, the fuel tanks once more replenished, the Graf will cross the United States to the end of its long, long trail here and the realization of Dr. Eckener's years old dream.

The Graf's passengers when she left were a mixed crowd. There were two titled Britishers, Lady Grace Drummond Hay and Sir George Hubert Wilkins, both acting as reporters; William B. Leeds, American millionaire husband of the former Princess Xenia of Russia, who was just "going along for the ride," Lieutenant John Richardson, official observer for the American navy, his superior Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, who took the trip as a reporter, and various business men, reporters and photographers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—They called her a flapper, with her short skirts, rouged lips and bobbed hair. They said she was blazing a jazz-mad path on the very edge of the eternal abyss.

And now look what she's doing—rearing the healthiest crop of babies since Cain and Abel wriggled their tiny toes in a sand pile just outside the Garden of Eden.

In the 10 years since those early days of the post-war period, when moralists were everlatsingly predicting a gloomy future for the younger generation, the flapper has grown into womanhood, married and had babies, just like others of her sex have been doing for centuries.

That this first crop of "flapper babies" is far healthier than that reared a generation ago by the modern girl's caustic critics is revealed in a study of mortality rates of millions of babies throughout the nation by the American Child Health Association.

Babies born to these modern young women have three times the chance of survival as did youngsters born to the sterner mothers of a quarter century ago.

In 1900, there were 19.8 deaths per 1000 among children one to four years of age, while in 1925 the rate was only 6.2 per 1000. And 162.2 of every 1000 babies under one year old died at the beginning of the twentieth century, as compared with only 72 deaths per 1000 in 1925, the last year for which the figures are available.

Even the much-discussed increased "expectancy of life" in recent years is due, not to longevity of adults but to the increased chances of survival of infants and young children.

The mother of today may spend her money freely on clothes, pleasures and "fads", but she is also spending it in better care for her babies, in the opinion of Dr. S. J. Crumbine, general executive of the Child Health Association.

"The higher economic status of young people today is a vital factor in making healthier babies," Dr. Crumbine declared.

"The modern mother may go in for cigarets, cocktails and gay life in this so-called jazz age, but, generally speaking, she is living better, has better recreation, is better informed on health subjects and is therefore rearing healthier babies, despite whatever other traits she may have acquired."

A 10 per cent increase in wages means a 10 per cent decrease in mortality in many diseases, according to Dr. Crumbine.

"The young woman of today is better informed than her mother was on baby-care. The modern mother learns proper care of herself in the pre-natal period. She is able to have the best of care at child-birth. She gives her baby wholesome, pasteurized milk. She takes it to a doctor at regular intervals for examination, thereby preventing disease gaining a hold upon the child."

The mothers freedom of dress, short skirts, scant underclothes and penchant for fresh air and sunshine is reflected in her care of her children.

"A scant generation ago," Dr. Crumbine said, "many babies were virtually smothered in long dresses and kept in close, unsanitary rooms. Today, they are being developed into robust youngsters by plenty of fresh air, wholesome milk, health-giving sunshine and proper clothes."

Successful campaigns against disease such as tuberculosis and diphtheria and the vast amount of health information disseminated by hundreds of health agencies throughout the nation ply important parts in making young mothers and their babies, healthier and happier, the doctor said.

In Manhattan and the Bronx in New York City health campaigns have saved the lives of 417,726 babies under five years of age, statisticians estimate, by decreasing the mortality rate from 76.5 per 1000 in 1891 to 17.6 per 1000 in 1925.

Herbert Hoover is president of the American Child Health Association. It compiles and studies infant mortality rates, aids in birth registration campaigns, promotes community organization for child health, sponsors National Child Health Day, holds national conferences on health education and conducts demonstrations in teacher training institutions, promotes national campaigns for clean and safe milk, publishes health literature for professional and lay groups, gives general advice on child health matters and maintains a world-wide correspondence and advisory service through its professional staff.

She wears fewer clothes and maybe she smokes cigarets—but her babies are three times healthier than those of a generation ago.

She's not the old-fashion type of mother, but she's doing a swell job at rearing the kids—and health statistics prove it.

AMARILLO IS TO OPEN UP COLLEGE

AMARILLO, Aug. 8 (AP)—D. W. Boitnott, president of the South Park Junior college, Beaumont, has accepted a conditional two-year contract as head of the Amarillo Municipal Junior college at a salary of $5,000 a year. His employment is contingent upon election the latter part of this month to determine whether the college will open this fall.

Should the election carry, college work will start September 23. Seven rooms on one of the ward schools will house the enrollment this year.

RAIN REPORTS

the experiment station, three miles east of Lubbock, showed a precipitation of .27 of an inch.

Slaton, Brownfield, Tahoka, Crosbyton, Abernathy and Plainview reported only dust-settling showers.

The rainfall extended south of Lubbock about 8 miles, and fell interspersley in the northern portion of the county.

"Some sections of the South Plains have been aided considerably bi last night's rains, but the offering was not widespread enough to encourage much optimism, said County Agent D. F. Eaton. "Lubbock county was benefitted in strips."

Reports follow:

Amarillo—Heavy rains, falling intermittently for the last two days, have been of inestimable aid to the crops.

Plainview—A light shower in and around this city was of only dust-settling proportion.

Hale Center—Light shower fell here.

Silverton—One-half an inch of rain fell here and crops are benefitted appreciably.

Littlefield—A two-inch rain estimated here. [illegible] given great boon.

Levelland—Heavy downpour here. No estimate as to extent could be reached.

Morton—Rain started falling here at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and continued during the night. Reports from other sections of Cochran county state that the precipitation is general.

Slaton—Moisture offering here was too light to be of benefit.

Brownfield—Light sprinkle, mere dust-settler, fell here.

Dallas Man Greatly Surprised At City

"Lubbock surpasses all my expectations," said V. V. Henry, for 34 years a resident of Dallas, while visiting here today with Mr. and Mrs. Euclid Renfro.

"The climate here is remarkable," he said. "One can certainly spend a restful vacation in this city."

Hotels, office buildings and business structures are creditable for any city, he pointed out. With wonderful educational facilities and churches Lubbock will long remain the cultural center of West Texas.

SLATON MAN IS HURT BY WIRE

S. T. Wadley, of Slaton, sustained a severe injury about the neck when he was struck by a wire while working with a line gang of the Texas Utilities company this morning between Olton and Hart.

The wire cut a gash several inches long behind his ear and the upper part of his neck.

He was rushed to the Lubbock sanitarium, where his condition is not thought serious, according to an announcement at 2 o'clock.

MAURETANIA BREAKS OWN MARK

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Cunard liner Mauretania passed Ambrose Lightship at 10:36 a. m. (eastern daylight time), today, completing the crossing from Cherbourg in 4 days, 22 hours and 44 minutes. The time was 3 hours and 50 minutes better than her own record, but 5 hours and 2 minutes behind the time of the champion North German Lloyd liner Bremen.

Speed

The Bremen crosses the Atlantic in less time than any passenger liner ever crossed it before. As it docks, announcement is made that American shipbuilders are preparing to lay the keels of two new ships that will be even faster than the Bremen.

A 100-passenger flying boat plans to cross the Atlantic by air. And one is tempted to wonder; is that gigantic airplane the forerunner of a new type of ocean transport that will eventually make these great ocean liners as obsolete as the caravels of Columbus?

Thus far airplanes haven't exactly demonstrated their safety and dependability in trans-oceanic voyages. The flyers who have made the trip have only proved that were very capable and brave; they haven't convinced us that the ocean liner is on its way to join the square rigged ship in the limbo of things that have been.

This, however, is an unpredictable world, and the new German seaplane is an amazing sort of device.

Imagine, if you can, an airplane with three decks, providing accommodations for 100 passengers, mounting a dozen motors and yet rising from the water as neatly and gracefully as a light scouting seaplane. To see a ferry boat take wings and sail off over the waterfront would hardly be more astounding. This new German plane, moreover, is essentially an experimental plane; what its descendants may be like is a matter for a gifted imagination.

Ever since men on the two sides of the Atlantic began to travel back and forth and ship cargoes to one another they have been obsessed by a desire for speed.

At the dawn of the last century the best ship could not get across in less than a month. Then the designers of Baltimore and Boston invented the clipper—a graceful, sharp-nosed sailing vessel that went like a race horse—and cut the time to a fortnight. Just as the clippers were being brought to perfection, the steamships elbowed them aside, cutting their time by hours and days. Before the 19th century ended the time had been brought under a week; and now the Bremen reduces it to less than five days.

But will this be low enough. Officials of the United States lines believe their projected liners will beat the Bremen's record; and you may be sure that the British builders will have some sort of answer, too.

And, meanwhile, an unbelievable, three-decked airplane sails over the ocean—and, if you are of a speculative turn of mind, you might give it a thought or two. It may do to the Bremen just what the steamers of 1850 and 1860 did to the Soverign of the Seas.

To be sure, the chances are that it won't. But this is an era in which almost anything can happen.

"Emotional Insanity"

An old familiar acquaintance—"emotional insanity"—is about to appear on the scene once more. This tried and true comrade of murderers is to constitute the chief defense of Dr. James H. Snook of Columbus, O., who is on trial for the murder of Miss Theora Hix.

Dr. Snook, it is said, will tell the jury that he does not remember just what did happen; and his lawyers will contend that this proves he was a victim of "emotional insanity" when the girl was killed, and hence is not to be held accountable for what he did.

It happens that three alienists have already examined the former university professor and have found him sane. But will that make any difference? You know it won't. The whole question will be raised again, there will be new alienists to contradict the first three, and all of us will get additionally disgusted with the way our courts handle the whole subject of mental responsibility for crime.

The Plainsman is interested in Texas Tech, both as a citizen and a friend of the college. Because it is a newspaperman's duty to pay attention to the major problems of the community in which he labors, this writer has watched with pleasure the work done for the school by the local member of the regents and those who have similarly sat along the sidelines will agree that Mr. Kimbro has been an ardent and a constant laborer.

In commenting upon Mr. Kimbro's resignation, President Horn summed the matter up in about as able a way as The Plainsman can imagine. "Mr. Kimbro," Doctor Horn said, "is a fine business man and has given much time, thought and attention in his capacity as a director. He has rendered valuable service to the college." There are none among us who know the facts who will fail to agree with Doctor Horn.

Public posts, at their best, are fraught with trials and tribulations and positions, such as that held so successfully by Mr. Kimbro, can only be filled by their holder's being unselfish enough to neglect their own business to attend to that of the state. Mr. Kimbro is deserving of commendation and filling the vacancy left by his resignation is going to be no easy task.

Finally that day came. Old Eli breezed up in front of the house in the same old car, got out and handed the bottle of ipecac to his wife.

The Army May Cut Expenses But It Won't Abolish That Romantic Cavalry, Still Essential, Rod Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—As soon as President Hoover had demanded some substantial reductions in military expenditures there were suggestions of eliminating obsolete or duplicating branches of the Army and quite a few persons thought: "Well let's get rid of the cavalry."

That idea does not set so well with the high officers of the War Department, who contend, with the concurrence of Secretary of War Good, that the cavalry is still indispensible and has not been made obsolescent by airplanes, tanks and motorized transport.

One reason the Army does not want to give up its cavalry is that so many army officers like to ride horseback and play polo. Secretary Good himself has a great fondness for the four-footed critters, dating back to his boy-hood days on a farm in Iowa.

Plenty of Reasons

But the Army offers enough other reasons for retention and strengthening of the cavalry, with officers of the cavalry themselves displaying the greatest mental agility in expounding and demonstrating them. Good has cited expert testimony to the effect that the World War would soon have been over if either France or Germany had possessed a sufficiently strong and mobile force of cavalry.

"Other arms may win battles; only cavalry will make them worth winning," said Lord Haig, and the argument of our own military men is that it would be dangerous to form fixed ideas of war from the World War's long period of trench warfare. No nation will voluntarily submit to a war of attrition behind barbed wire, and for wars of maneuver an army must have horse, foot and artillery, along with such modern improvements as planes and tanks.

Instead of dropping out of the picture to give way to armored cars and swift tanks, the cavalry expects to add these to its own units and thereby extend its radius of action and its fire power.

Whereas the air service is restricted by weather conditions in scouting work and reconnaisance, cavalry can be used at night and in all kinds of weather and also in thickly wooded territory, where enemy units might be hidden from aerial observation. Cavalry is also able to pick up important details, by minute searches and by questioning inhabitants, for instance. It may be able to operate when enemy aircraft frustrates ours.

Armored cars are considered more vulnerable than cavalry and they can be easily blocked. Tanks are unable to operate alone or to hold captured ground. They are liable to mechanical difficulties and are likely to be impeded by water, thick woods and boulders. Cavalry is never hampered by lack of gasoline.

"The capacity of an army for action is not shown until it gets off the roads," says a cavalry officer. "Weather conditions and lack of roads mean little to cavalry—it can carry on just the same."

In ordinary warfare, when a maneuver isn't rendered impossible by trench fighting with flanks resting on impassable obstacles, cavalry does its stuff by arriving quickly at the scene of action, spreading out over wide spaces if necessary, concentrating quickly, attacking suddenly by surprise and escaping quickly after striking a blow at superior numbers. It can cross rapidly through zones swept by fire, presenting a difficult target and arriving at close quarters with the enemy without destructive losses.

Even in the World War, despite the entrenchment on the western front, cavalry was active and often importanly successful. It covered the concentration, detraining and advance of the French, British and German armies. A Belgian cavalry division gave the Germans their first serious setback when it held up the advance of German cavalry on Brussels. French cavalry did valuable reconnoitering work against the first German advance. When the Allied and German armies were trying to envelop each other, cavalry corps galloped ahead in the so-called "race to the sea."

Hindenburg Used It

Early in the war cavalry maintained connection between separate armies or parts of an army. German cavalry figured most importantly in Hindenburg's overwhelming defeats of the Russians. Cavalry appeared to be the most important military arm of all in the operations in Egypt and Palestine. French cavalry cut off the retreat of the Eleventh German army in Macedonia and Italian cavalry staged some brilliant pursuit work on the Austrian front just before the war ended.

Cavalry officers are fond of quoting this statement of General Pershing in 1922, based on lessons on the war:

"There is not in the world today an officer of distinction, recognized as an authority in military matters in a broad way, who does not declare with emphasis that cavalry is as important an arm today as it has ever been."

NEW YORK.—There is considerable feminine anguish along Park Avenue because some anonymous arbiter has decided this season's debs shall be classified into groups A, B and C, according to general social fitness. Class or grade A is described as 'thoroughly nice not a prude but not a high brow, dances well, has athletic proclivities but these not essential; talks well and fittingly to suit the occasion;" grade B has A's general appeal but is prone to be found in company or situations which—er—reflect slightly; and C just won't do.

Going Places With Swan

Gilbert Swan

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8—I have been taking notes across the country on the various geographic attitudes toward women smokers.

One thing is certain—women are smoking from Atlantic to Pacific, but differently.

Hollywood, for instance, smokes with one eye over its shoulder to see who is looking. This is particularly true in film circles, where the girlies must keep an eye open for "their public." The idea obtains that a certain percentage of fans would be annoyed or shocked to learn that little Gertie de Puyster actually puffed pills. Now that I recall, there have been few pictures showing girls or women smoking, unless the purpose was to reveal flaming youth at its most reckless or worldliness on the past of some character actress. Which is rather funny when one sees so many nice grayhaired old ladies lighting up.

However, when Hollywood is by itself and among its friends, out come the cigarets—particularly at intimate parties. Little smoking is to be seen in the hotels, except at the after theater dances.

Two cities smoke openly and without reservation—San Francisco and New York. Whether at the Whitcomb coffee house breakfast table, the lobby of the St. Francis or the swimming pool tea room of Fairmont, the smoking is as casual as the coffee sipping.

Chicago, which should be metropolitan in such matters, is actually a bit cagey. Several of the large hotels frown slightly, and look quite as suspiciously as though ginger ale and cracked ice had been ordered. Down through Pennsylvania, West Virginia and southern Ohio, smoking begins as soon as the younger generation gets out of eye shot of the elders. Also there is smoking at private—and sometimes public—dances and parties. In Cleveland I saw few women smoking in hotels, but most of them smoke in their homes.

There still remains a certain timidity about public smoking in scores of places, for that matter.

The broad-beamed, sturdy little craft with their purple-gray sails, their nets and gaffs and faded blue tints, go put-putting out into the bay long before the city is awake. Along the wharf, market stands fairly burst with the produce of the sea.

Here and their, the fat cauldrons boil crabs, as roadside stands make hot dogs. Hundreds of householders arrive by auto to make their purchases, and tourists drop by for a crab or shrimp cocktail. By noon, the market place is a colorful pageant of workers and visitors.

The Italian fishermen, back with their day's catch, begin to spread their nets and unload their cargoes. Little knots of people gather about to see what the waters have given up. Thus it goes until nightfall, when the hundreds of small craft are back in their snug berths and the fog lays its cool blanket over the scene.

Where most cities have their orange juice stands, and such, San Francisco has sea food counters. They are as native to the city as Lotta's fountain or the Stevenson memorial. They are operated along Market street in connection with the cigar stands and a drifting crowd of passers-by park upon stools for their daily cocktail of oysters, clams and crab meat. It is one of this town's distinctive innovations.

Crops About Normal In Five Counties

SPUR, Aug. 8.—(Special)—Very little of the early feed will make an average yield, throughout the counties of Crosby, Dickens, Kent, King and Motley, however, late feeds are looking about normal. The cotton crop of Dickens county, is very spotted with better crops in Crosby Motley and the north half of Kent counties. King county crops are needing rain badly. Many of the farmers of Dickens are going to plant millet for a catch crop, as the growing season is too short for the maturity of other crops.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Practical Urinalysis (Part III)

In the two preceding papers I discussed many points about the urine which I think you should know, judging from your letters.

As I explained before, I am not attempting to make laboratory experts of you, but I want you to be worried, if necessary, so that you can have an examination, and I don't want you worried needlessly, as many of you apparently are.

Urinalysis is a very valuable aid in the diagnosis of disease, and a scientific physician always has this done. If the urine is normal, it rules out many conditions.

Today I am going to tell you of an abnormal constituent of the urine—sugar—because in the next paper I am going to give you a simple test for it which you can do yourself. If you find you have this condition, you must, of course, go to a competent physician, who will have a more complete test made, etc.

Abnormal Constituents of the Urine, Glycosuria. By the term glycosuria is meant sugar in the urine.

Alimentary or Physiological Glycosuria. After eating a large amount of candy or sugar or other concentrated sweets, there is a rapid increase of the sugar in the blood and some of it will be eliminated in the urine. (If this happens very often, it undoubtedly will lead to true glycosuria or diabetes.)

Emotional Glycosuria. It has been found that after great emotion and shocks, sugar may appear in the urine, but this is temporary. (There is no doubt that mental stress and strain increases the sugar in the urine, if diabetes is present.)

Milk Sugar not infrequently is found in the urine of women during pregnancy and nursing. (It may also occur in nursing babies.) This fact is always held in mind by an expert for it is normal, and does not mean diabetes.

Diabetes Mellitus. When sugar is found in the urine persistently, the patient has diabetes mellitus (usually spoken of simply as "diabetes".)

Diabetes is due to an inflammation, acute or chronic, of the pancreas, in the great majority of cases, [illegible] sooner or later be inflamed by the sugar.) The pancreas may be injured by absorption of the poisons, or the germs themselves, from acute or chronic, general or local infections. It may also be injured by overweight and the wrong diet, which brings on the overweight. Authorities on diabetes state that fully 85 per cent of diabetics are overweight before manifesting diabetes. (This is one of the reasons I write so much on the prevention and cure of overweight.)

In very rare cases there may be constant sugar in the urine with no symptoms of diabetes. However these cases have to be watched constantly to see that true diabetes does not develop.

Diabetes Insipidus

Diabetes Insipidus is a rare disease, in which there are symptoms of true diabetes—great thirst, great appetite and other abnormal symptoms, and very large amounts of urine, but it contains no sugar. The cause is not really known. In some of the cases a disturbance of a gland in the skull—the pituitary—has been suspected, for medication made from the gland seems to help.

IMPROVED METHODS URGED IN MARKETING FARM PRODUCTS

BY ARTHUR M. FREE, Congressman from California

(Arthur Monroe Free was born at San Jose, Cal., Jan. 15, 1879. He is a graduate of Stanford university where he obtained an LL. B. degree. He began his law practice at San Jose in 1903. From 1907 to 1919 he was district attorney of Santa Clara conty. Elected to congress in 1921 from the eighth California district, he has been returned each term since. He is a Republican.)

The primary task of the Federal Farm board should be to work out a system of closer distribution between producer and consumer.

ARTHUR FREE

Speaking as an organizer of two co-operatice associations and as counsel for another, I favor creation of common selling agencies for a state as, for instance, for northern or southern California in order to enable assembly of mixed commodities for direct shipments in carloads instead of more expensive less-than-carload lots. Each intermediate handling adds commission with increased price accordingly to the consumer.

Fifty times as much canned fruit, for instance, would be consumed in this country if the intermediate marketing costs were eliminated, and the price thus made cheaper in the final market. I know of one instance where a can of tomatoes was handled so many times intermediately that seven commissions were collected in the procers of marketing.

The trouble with the farmers today is that they are forced to sell their products as soon as the products are harvested. The Federal Farm board could advance to the co-operative organizations of these farmers, to secure to these farmers sufficient money, under loans secured by their crops, so that the co-operative organizations could advance to the growers the greater part of what the crops are worth and then hold these crops until they can be marketed in an orderly way so as not to glut the market.

I know something about co-operative organizations. I organized two of them and was counsel for another and I know their troubles. There has been too much thought given to production by all our agencies, including the department of agriculture and not enough study given to marketing and distribution. The thought has been to increase production generally, and there, generally the study has ended, without adequate thought as to the marketing.

The co-operatives must be taught to co-operate in the interest of the farmers for whom they are organized. The tendency today is for each co-operative organization to go its own way with respect to marketing its own products.

Spur Has Largest Group At Cloudcroft

SPUR, Aug. 8.—(Special)—Word has just been received that Spur has the largest delegation of any town represented from Oklahoma, New Mexico, or Texas at Camp Mary White, Cloudcroft, New Mexico. Many of the mothers of the girls from Spur are enjoying the outing and scouting with the girls, and this training with the girls will mean much in keeping the Scouts interested, as additional effort will be made by the mothers to see that their girls learn the real merits of the Scout program throughout the coming year.

Mrs. T. W. Wigham, captain of Spur Scouts has charge of a division of the work at the camp this summer, with this added experience she will be able to accomplish much more with the local Scouts another year.

U. S. STEEL REACHES NEW HIGH RECORD TODAY

SHARES RISE IS FEATURE OF MARKET

COMMON GOES TO 217½ ON OPEN TODAY; OTHERS GAIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Establishment of a new high record by U. S. Steel Common at 217 1-2, an overnight gain of 2 1-2 points, featured the opening of today's stock market. Eastern Kodak showed an initial gain of 3 points and General Public Service 2 1-2. Opening gains of a point or two were registered by Bethlehem Steel, Wright Aero, Radio, Columbia Graphophone, American Tobacco, New York Central and New Haven. A. M. Byers dropped 3 points, Stone & Webster, 2 and Pan American B 1.

Discount Rate Retained

Detention of the 5 1-2 per cent discount rate by the Bank of England, following recurrent rumors that the rate would be raised and draw funds from the New York market, brought a flood of buying into the market in the early trading. "Bears" who had sold stocks freely earlier in the week, rushed to cover and were forced to compete with buyers of long stock who had held off until the rate uncertainty was removed.

Early buying centered largely in a selective list of Public Utility, Steel, Copper, Motor, Motor accessory and railroad shares. U. S. Steel quickly crossed 218 to another new top and the so-called "independent steels" rallied in sympathy.

Short Selling Influences

The rise in the power stocks received much of its impetus from short selling which had assumed large proportions following the break in the Public Utility stocks in Chicago earlier in the week.

Coppers were in brisk demand on reports of an increasing foreign demand for the red metal, and a subsidence of fears that the domestic price wold be reduced.

Foreign exchanges opened irregular, with sterling cables quoted slightly lower at $4.85.

WASN'T ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK

Takes Orgatone And Now Feels Like A New Person —Can Do Her Own Housework.

The remarkable merits being obtained by the use of Orgatone is further evidenced in the case of Mrs. Alice Welch, of 1616 Ninth street, Lubbock, Texas, who is telling the story of her recovery from a serious complication of troubles, said:

"A little over two years ago I began having trouble with my stomach and would get so tired and fagged out. I couldn't get through with my housework, without having to stop and lie down to rest. Everything I ate disagreed with me and what I did eat would lie in my stomach undigested and formed gas and my heart would palpitate like it would jump out of my body. I had liver trouble, too, and had severe pains in my back and side, and I felt tired and sluggish and the least excitement would upset me. I was badly constipated and was so nervous I could hardly sleep and many times I lay awake all night long suffering and worrying about my condition. I was getting so pale and thin, all of my neighbors was noticing it. I was tired and worn out all the time, and never felt like doing a thing and was just losing interest in everything.

"Orgatone had helped so many local people I decided to try it, and I honestly feel like a new person, and can do all my housework without the slightest trouble. I noticed an improvement right after I began taking it. I eat anything I want, and have been relieved of that burning sensation in my stomach, gas has stopped forming and the pressure has been relieved so my heart does not palpitate as it did. My nerves are quiet and my sleep is delightful and refreshing. I am so much better and stronger that I can do all my housework, without getting tired and fagged out, and don't have to stop and rest as I did. I am now convinced all my troubles were caused from a disordered stomach, and Orgatone has done me more good than anything I have ever taken and my relief is due to nothing else but this great medicine—Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store, who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

DECLINES ON COTTON FELT

RAIN REPORTS SEND PRICES 4 TO 10 POINTS LOWER

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8. (AP)—The cotton market opened quiet and slightly lower in response to disappointing Liverpool cables. Traders evidenced a desire to hold off and await the government report due at 10 o'clock. Initial trades showed declines of 4 points and prices eased a point or two additional after the start to 18.74 for October and 19.85 for December, or 5 to 6 points net down.

Some belated short covering developed and at the end of the first hour the market was quiet and fluctuated around yesterday's closing levels.

Just before trading was suspended for reception of the official figures October sold at 18.93 and December 19.13 or 12 to 14 points above yesterday's close. This advance was attributed to final covering by shorts.

The indicated crop of 15,543,000 bales as given in the report was larger than the trade expected and resulted in heavy selling and by mid-season October had slumped to 18.32 and December 18.54 or 59 to 61 points below the early highs.

OPENING IN NEW YORK 6 TO 8 POINTS DOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP)—The cotton market today opened 6 to 8 points lower. Prices turned firm right after the opening on trade buying and covering but pre-bureau liquidation continued. There was a little selling on reports of showers with lower temperatures in the Texas Panhandle. This soon supplied the early demand and prices by the end of the first half hour were 9 to 10 points net lower with October selling around 18.81 and March 19.27.

The market stiffened up on covering later in the morning. Before trading was suspended to receive the government report, October had advanced to 19.00 and March to 19.40 or about 4 to 9 points above yesterday's closing quotations. The report making the condition of the crop 69.6 and the indicated crop of 15,543,000 bales, was above expectations, however, and there was heavy general selling when the market reopened with October selling down to 18.50 and March to 18.95, or about 40 to 45 points below yesterday's closing quotations and half a cent below the high levels of the morning.

GRAIN ADVANCES SLIGHTLY TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP).—Scantiness of future delivery offerings did much to turn the wheat market upward today after a wavering start. Reports of large business in flour southwest tended also to strengthen wheat values.

Opening unchanged to 7-8 off, wheat later scored a material advance all around. Corn and oats went higher also, with corn starting 1-4c down to 1 1-8c up, and subsequently showing a decided general rise. Provisions kept steady.

FACES DOOM

Dewey's Flagship May Be Scrapped And Sold

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8 (AP)—Unless congress passes a measure to preserve it, the historic Olympia, Dewey's flagship at the battle of Manila Bay, will be scrapped and sold for junk.

This, in the opinion of officials at the Philadelphia navy yard, is the significance of a recommendation to the secretary of the navy by a board of inspection which inspected the famous cruiser. She has rested here in honorable retirement since her last proud job—that of bringing the body of the unknown soldier back from France.

"The board believes," the recommendation reads: "That the best interests of the department would be served by removing the Olympia from the navy list, either by sale or by such other disposition as may be warranted by her historical value.

Cowboy Preacher Is Drawing Big Crowds

Rev. T. A. Goode, cowboy preacher of the Nazarene church, continues to draw large crowds to his series of meetings at Ropesville, according to reports today.

The cowboy preacher, reared near Roby, headquarters at Long Beach, Calif., has preached throughout the United States.

"I drove trail herds through Lubbock long before the South Plains began agricultural development," he said today. "Lubbock's growth has been marvelous, and there is every reason to believe that this will be a city of 50,000 population within a few years."

H. M. Goode, father of the preacher, was government inspector of cattle at Crowell several years ago.

DUBLIN (AP)—Dr. Walter Starkie, a fellow of Trinity college, has started for Italy with no money but carrying a fiddle with which he intends to support himself while collecting material for a history of the gypsies of south Europe. He went to Italy first because the clans gather there each year in honor of their patron saint.

New York's negro population has increased four times as rapidly as the white during the last ten years. There are now more than 250,000 negroes in that city.

NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT GROUP PLANS STUDY OF PHASES OF CRIME

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. — The National Law enforcement commission, as a result of its preliminary study of crime conditions in the United States during the past four months, today decided to pursue its investigation into eleven different phases of the problem.

Of the subjects to be surveyed, which range from the causes and costs of crime to the work of police and the courts, prohibition will be the only law to be specifically studied. In investigating the various phases of lawlessness and law enforcement the commission has been divided into eleven committees.

The subjects to be surveyed were announced by the commission as follows:

The causes of crime; statistics of crime and criminal justice; police; prosecutions; courts; penal institutions, probation and parole; prohibition; juvenile delinquency; criminal justice and the foreign born; lawlessness by government law enforcing officers, and the cost of crime.

Miami, Fla., likes tourists—even touring birds. The city has been presented four bird baths and drinking fountains for the benefit principally of migratory birds.

Popularity.. begins with a Clear Skin

IT'S the person with a clear, smooth, lovely complexion that usually wins.

To be sure, not much is said openly about skin eruptions, but secretly they influence many important affairs. Personal likes and dislikes are quickly formed.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. A clear skin makes everyone more attractive.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low —that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

S.S.S.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of those unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

S.S.S. helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Healthy blood makes the body strong and resistant to disease.

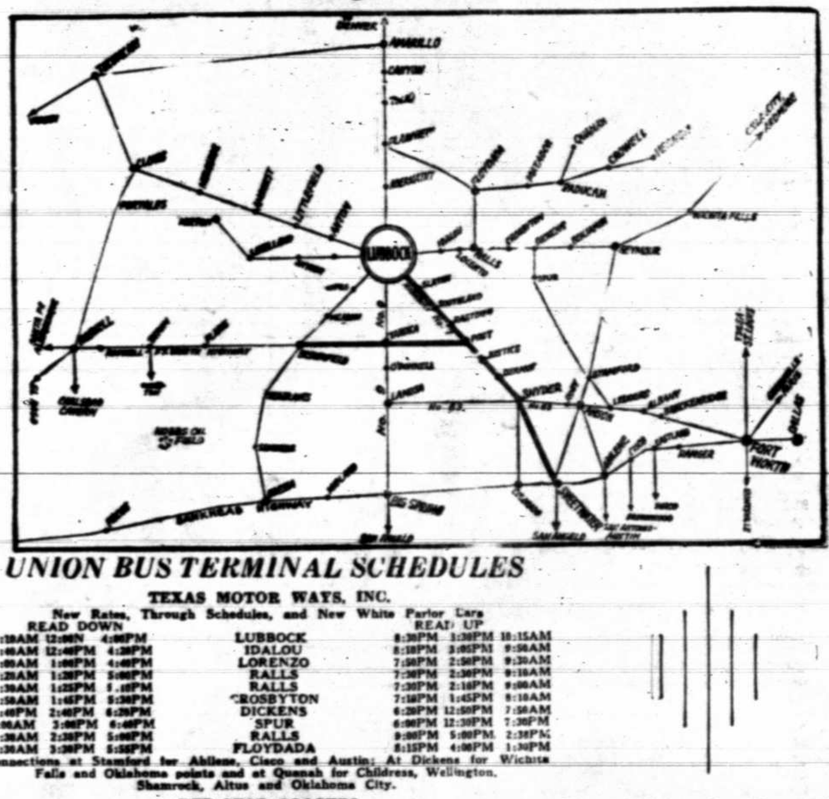

Without plenty of rich, red blood there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

If you are troubled with so-called skin disorders or if the count of your red-blood-cells is low, take a few bottles of S.S.S. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the remedy, which is made from fresh vegetable drugs, and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

SEARCHLIGHTS AID ZEPPELIN IN TAKING OFF ON AROUND-THE-WORLD TRIP

In the brilliant glare of a battery of flood lights, the Graf Zeppelin took off early today on the first leg of its flight around the world. A battery of searchlights played on the huge craft as 400 blue-clad sailors tugged at the ropes which brought it from the hangar at Lakehurst. The striking photo above shows how the huge craft looks under the play of the stream of lights.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK

By virtue of an order of sale issued out of the 99th District Court of Lubbock County, Texas on July 19, 1929, on a judgment rendered in said Court on June 27, 1929 in cause numbered 3623 on the docket of said Court, in favor of Temple Trust Company against J. I. Noah, Myrtle Noah, and W. C. Cook for foreclosure of a lien to satisfy an indebtedness of $539.96 and in favor of Lubbock National Bank against, J. I. Noah, Myrtle Noah, W. C. Cook, and T. T. Easter, Jr., for foreclosure of a lien to satisfy an indebtedness of $1,100.58; both of said amounts bearing interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from date of judgment; and for costs of suit; the lien to that in favor of Lubbock National Bank; the said order of sale being directed and delivered to me, as sheriff, I did, on the 27th day of July, 1929, at eleven o'clock a. m., levy on Lot No. Twelve (12), Block No. One Hundred Two (102), Overton Addition to the city of Lubbock in Lubbock County, Texas.

And on the third (3rd) day of September, 1929, the same being the first Tuesday in the said month, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m., at the Courthouse door of Lubbock County, Texas, in the City of Lubbock, I will offer for sale and sell, at public auction, for cash all the right, title and interest of the said defendants in and to the said property.

WITNESS my hand, this 27th day of July, 1929.

WADE HARDY,
Sheriff, Lubbock County, Texas.

NO INCREASE TO BE MADE IN TAX RATE

FLOYD COUNTY'S CARD TO REMAIN SAME IN COMING YEAR

(Special To The Journal)

FLOYDADA, Aug. 8.—Although considerable additional money will be available for the use of the commissioners' court in Floyd county next year there will be no increase in tax rates, according to the statement issued by County Judge Wm. McGehee. An increased tax valuation in the county which will amount to more than $2,000,000 will provide sufficient funds to take care of the county's obligations and as a result the commissioners have set the total county rate at the same amount as last year which was fifty cents.

The following tax rate were fixed on the $100 taxable values: First class rate, two and one half cents; Second class or road and bridge fund, rate twelve cents; Third class or general fund rate twenty-five cents; Fourth class or building fund ten and one-half cents. In addition to this a special road tax of fifteen cents was levied on all taxable property in each of the commissioners' precincts of the county.

School taxes were also levied for the common school districts of the county. These average ninety-five cents, divided as follows; sixty-seven cents for maintainence purposes and twenty-eight cents for bond purposes.

Citizenship Papers Returned To Texan

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—Citizenship was restored today by Governor Moody to C. E. Hollywood, convicted in Dallas county of maiming. He served a two year sentence in the state penitentiary for the offense.

The governor also allowed furloughs to Russell Ahrlett, convicted of violating the prohibition law in Llano county and sentenced to serve two years, and Jim Briscoe serving a five year term for murder from Henderson county.

Power Valuations Of Nation Being Taken

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The federal power commission has initiated an examination of valuation estimates of hydro-electric power companies upon water power projects throughout the nation.

This became known today as the result of work of Charles A. Russell, who took over the newly created office of solicitor to the commission a month ago, in formulating opinions for the guidance of the body's chief accountant in passing upon the valuations. The commission, according to its records, faces the adjudication of $1,000,000,000 in valuation claims which are under dispute.

Attempt To Be Made For Picture Record

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 8 (AP)—Captain W. W. Stevenson, holder of the world's record for long distance aerial photography, and his pilot, Lieut. J. D. Corkville, landed their plane here today and prepared to try for a picture of Mount Ranier 120 miles from here. Captain Stevenson said he doubted that his attempt here would be successful, as forest fires have sent smoke high into the air.

TO CELEBRATE

Comfort Is 75 Years Old Soon; Has No Jail

COMFORT, Aug. 8. (AP)—This little German town on the Guadalupe which has no jail and no police force—not even a justice of the peace, will hold its seventy-fifth birthday celebration August 18.

The settlement really won't be three-quarters of a century old until September 3, but the birthday party was moved up a few days in order to avoid conflict with one of the county affairs in the Hill county.

A parade and pageant depicting each quarter century of the town's history will feature the observance.

Comfort, 50 miles northwest of San Antonio, was once the county seat of Kerr county, but it was included in Kendall county when that county was created. It is on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad.

Plans Being Made For Guiding Fliers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Representatives of army, navy and commercial aviation and the Federal Radio commission today formulated a working agreement on the allocation of radio channels for the use of fliers.

Under the agreement the radio compass to guide aviators in flight will operate uniformly on a frequency of 375 kilocycles. Upon arrival at landing fields plans will be directed by radio on a 278 kilocycle frequency. The international distress signal of aircraft will be 500 kilocycles, the same frequency as now used by ships.

Tech Student Hurt In Wreck Last Night

Miss Jessie Lee Watson, 1714 Fourteenth street, student of Texas Technological college, sustained a fractured collar bone last night about 9:30 o'clock when the car in which she was riding was struck by another car in the 2200 block on Nineteenth street.

She was taken to the Lubbock Sanitarium for treatment.

Reports to the police station stated that one of the cars was driven by H. H. Henson while the other was driven by W. H. Vice.

Bond To Resign As Assistant Treasurer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Henry Herrick Bond of Waltham, Mass., will retire as assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs on September 1.

He announced today he was tendering his resignation to President Hoover and planned to resume the practice of law.

Bond was appointed by President Coolidge November 7, 1927.

PARIS (AP)—Trying to ride first class on a second class subway ticket is the favorite Parisian sport. Ten thousand persons are caught at it each day and made to pay extra fare. How many escape detectives is not known.

TRIP BEING PLANNED TO FOWL FARMS

LOCAL MEN TO JOURNEY TO POULTRY PLANTS IN TWO CITIES

Lubbock and Lubbock county is planning a motorcade, of citizens interested in poultry, to Wichita Falls and Bowie. They will inspect the Weeks Poultry Colony and Johnson Poultry Farm, at Wichita Falls, and thte Johnson Poultry Farm at Bowie. The latter is said to be one of the largest poultry farms in the United States and, without doubt, the largest in Texas.

The Weeks Poultry Colony is established about a year ago, near Wichita Falls, is the only institution of its kind in the Southwest, and is patterned after the colonies established by Charles W. Weeks in California.

Those planning to make the motorcade from here are, R. B Galloway, poultry specialist of the Panhandle Lumber company; J. R. Newman, of the Economy Mills; D P. Eaton, county agent; George H Moore, Al Hill, editor of the South Plains Farmer.

Anyone else interested in joining this group, to leave Lubbock next Thursday afternoon, are being asked to call up the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce offices and leave their names.

Water Survey Asked By Harlingen Man

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—H. L. Chapman of Harlingen today asked the board of water engineers in a presentation that he be given six months to investigate the feasibility of diverting waters of the Rio Grande near Rio Grande City for an unannounced use.

The presentation was made so Chapman might have a prior claim if an investigation brings a decision to use waters of the stream.

Pollard Leading In Virginia Election

RICHMOND, Aug. 8 (AP)—Dr. John Garland Pollard had a majority of 66,475 votes over G. Walter Mapp, his nearest opponent for the democratic nomination for Governor of Virginia when returns from 1324 of the state's 1681 precincts had been tabulated today.

PLANS MADE FOR COCHRAN'S FAIR

Plans for the Cochran County Fair, dates of which are September 26, 27 and 28, are progressing at a rapid rate, according to George E. Lance, president of the Cochran County Fair association.

One of the features of the fair this year will be terrapin races. These races will be held each day with a big derby on the third day, at which time prizes, aggregating 50 for first, 25 for second and 15 for third place winners, will be given.

Tucker To Mail Out Game Laws Bulletin

AUSTIN, Aug. 8 (AP)—Will J. Tucker, state game, fish and oyster commissioner, today completed a compilation of state game laws which will be mailed about September 1 to sportsmen throughout the state. About 15,000 copies will be distributed.

The pamphlet will contain changes made in game laws by the forty-first legislature.
