Police Barricade London Streets Against Sinn Fein Attack

OFFCERS PROBE PLOT TO INJURE PUBLIC EDIFICES

Parliament Closed When Strange Man Is Held After Arousing Suspicion of Malice.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The capture during raids in Ireland of Sinn Fein documents alleged to give details of a conspiracy for damaging government buildings in England was said today in police circles to be the cause of the erection of the formidable barricades which have been put at the entrances to Downing street and King Charles street.

After the erection last night of barriers eight feet high to exclude the public from Downing street, and the adjacent Charles street, the houses of parliament were closed to the public today, and many persons coming up from the country were refused admission.

This official action followed the detention of a strange man in the outer lobby of the house of commons yesterday. Although no official statement has been issued, the Evening Standard says it has reason to believe the decision to close the houses to the public has an important bearing on sinister Sinn Fein activities in this country

Coolidge Asked To Confer With Senator Harding

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, vice president-elect, here to attend the Amherst alumi dinner tonight, announced that Senator Harding (the president-elect, had invited him to confer with him at Marion, Ohio, "some time in December."

Coolidge did not say what the nature of his conference with Senator Harding was to be, although it was generally presumed that it was in connection with the president-elect's "consultation with the leading minds of the country" on national and international problems.

Constable Morgan Selects Deputies

Frank Morgan, who, on December 1, assumes the duties of constable of the Wichita Falls precinct, has chosen for his deputies, L. M. Estes, Tom Landis and former City Patrolman Butler.

Estes and Landis have been in the employ of the Shelton Detective agency for the past year.

Patrolman Butler has been a member of the local police force for the past ten or eleven months.

Estes, Landis and Butler will succeed Deputies Spiller and Belcher, the men who headed the recent fatal raid on a Kemp-Munger-Allen field gambling den, and who have made a name for themselves on a number of other difficult and nerve-trying pieces of work during the past few years.

RESUME WORK ON ADAMS DEEP TEST

COLEMAN, Nov. 27.—Of interest to the oil fraternity this week is the announcement just made here that the Texas-Arizona Oil Company has resumed work on its deep test on the Adams tract near here, which has been in a state of desuetude for some time.

The well is now 2780 feet in depth, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Fuel for stoking is brought from the Pennant gasser.

Aged Men Want "Risque Scenes" Cut From Films

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 27.—Elimination from motion pictures of bath tubs, women who smoke cigarettes, barefooted girls who wade in brooks, "rough house" scenes in which bowie knives and six-shooters predominate, and "all instruments and portrayers of crime, loose morals and unclean lives" is the object of the Ethical Motion Picture Society of America, whose organization here with 115 charter members was announced today.

Most of the charter members are elderly and many of them are women.

MAY APPOINT HULEN HEAD OF GUARD BUREAU

Commander of Thirty-Sixth Division Brigade Mentioned as Likely Chief of U. S. Militia.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Washington Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov 27.—Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen of Texas, ranking officer in the Texas National Guard, and commander of a brigade of the Thirty-sixth division overseas, is one of the three National Guard officers who have been prominently mentioned to succees Maj. Gen. Jesse McI. Carter as head of the militia bureau in the war department.

Under the act of June 4, 1920, congress provided that after the first of January the president should nominate a National Guard officer to head this important bureau and rebuild the National Guard of the nation into a strong instrument of warfare to be ready should the country again go to war.

The National Guard officer to take the place of General Carter will be the first ever to have held the place, which heretofore has been filled by regular army officers. He must be a man of national vision for the militia is being built from the ground up in 48 states.

O'Ryan Is Mentioned.

Besides the name of Major General Hulen, the names of Major General O'Ryan of the New York National Guard, who commanded the Twenty-seventh division overseas, and Brig. Perry Harrison of Minnesota have been mentioned.

No intimation has come from the White House as to whether President Wilson would nominate a National

New Ruling on Enforcement Is Given by Judge

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A decision handed down by Federal Judge Garvin today established a precedent in prohibition enforcement cases by ruling that it is not necessary to appeal to United States commissioners in case of alleged violations of the enforcement act.

Judge Garvin held that the district attorney had the right to file an information with the United States court against persons arrested for enforcement law violations without going before a commissioner, as is the common practice at present.

AKANSAS MILITIA TO BE REORGANIZED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 27.—Governor Brough today issued a proclamation creating a committee on safety and public welfare to aid in reorganization of the National guard in Arkansas, calling on the people of the state to co-operate with this committee and stating that he would ask the next legislature to provide for maintainance of the guard by taxation.

Hold Teller of Reserve Bank on Charge of Theft

HOUSTON, Nov. 27.—A charge of abstracting and misapplying funds of the Houston branch of the federal reserve bank of Dallas, was filed here today against J. R. Shapard, paying teller, and he was held to the grand jury in $2,500 bond.

The complaint charges that $10,000 was misappropriated on March 30.

Shappard was arrested at the bank. Records of the United States marshal's office show he entered a plea of guilty before the United States commissioner.

NAVY APPROPRIATION FOR JAPAN INCREASED

TOKIO, Nov. 26.—The Jiji Shimpo announces that the next naval estimates of Japan will be 500,000,000 yen, an increase of 150,000,000 yen oven the previous statement. The newspaper asserts that the increase is due mainly to the higher costs of maintenance.

There will be Sunday movies in Wichita Falls this winter after all. They will be shown at the Olympic theater every Sunday evening in connection with a community-wide devotional service under auspices of Rev. F. T. Dotson of the Church of Good Shepherd (Episcopal).

The first one will be given tonight. The picture is "The Street Called Straight," taken from Basil King's story. A short devotional service, a 15-minute sermon and the picture will make up the program. The meeting is open, not only to Episcopalians, but to the public generally.

HEARING ON ANNULLMENT IS STARTED

Nevada State Attorney Files Motion to Have Decree Granted Mary Set Aside.

"America's Sweetheart" and Owen Moore Charged With Conspiracy in the Original Action.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 27.—Arguments began in the district court here today to quash the suit the state filed to set aside the divorce the state granted Mary Pickford from Owen Moore. Miss Pickford since her divorce was granted March 2, has married Douglas Fairbanks and in the state's petition was referred to as "Gladys Moore, known as Gladys M. Fairbanks."

The motion was argued before Judge Frank Langan, who granted the original decree. Judge Langan refused to accede to a request made by Attorney General Fowler that he withdraw from the case.

The proceedings today did not go to the merits of the controversy as raised by the state, namely, that Mary Pickford's divorce decree was obtained as a result of fraud and through collusion between herself and Owen Moore.

The matter came up today on a motion to quash the service of summons on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction because the parties in interest all were served outside the state.

Attorneys on both sides admitted that no matter what Judge Langan's ruling shall be, the case will be carried to the state supreme court on the points involved in today's hearing.

McCluskey Gas Flow Increased

The Panhandle Refining company's No. 2 McCluskey has increased its gas flow to 50,000,000 cubic feet, according to Saturday evening reports from the field. Further drilling is being suspended until tankage can be erected, and the immense flow is coming from only about a foot of sand, drilled at approximately the same depth as the sand from which the No. 1 McCluskey made a several hundred barrel oil well.

The No. 3 McCluskey, at 2,100 feet, is now making between 800 and 900 barrels, according to the reports received from the field at the same time as the above.

REPORT 24 ON BOARD VESSEL ROCKS DEVOUR

Radio Message Says Barge Struck Giant's Graveyard Instead of Isle; Cutters Yet Stand By.

By Associated Press.

ASTORIA, Ore., Nov. 27.—A radio message picked up today at North Head states, Captain J. K. Tibbetts of the Santa Rita thinks the barge W. J. Pirrie struck Giant's Graveyard Rocks instead of James Island. The Santa Rita and the coast cutter Snohomish are still standing by.

The message said there were 24 persons on the barge, including Captain A. B. Jensen, his wife and baby.

Giant's Graveyard Rocks are about 10 miles south of James Island and are off the northwest corner of Jefferson county, Washington. The Santa Rita was forced to cast the barge adrift yesterday in a storm.

No Trace Found

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 27.—No trace of the barge W. J. Pirrie, reported ashore near James Island, off the Washington coast, had been found early today, according to a wireless message from the coast guard cutter Snohomish, which went to the aid of the stricken vessel.

PETROLIA MAN HURLED 105 FEET FROM MAIN; ANOTHER LOSES SIGHT

Thrown 30 feet in the air and a distance of 75 feet, L. E. Webb,, foreman, employed by the Lone Star Gas company, was instantly killed Saturday morning when the six-inch, high pressure gas main between this city and the Petrolia gas field broke while repairs were being made. Webb's body was horribly mangled.

J. B. Thorton, L. O. Gee and Ben Chambers, employes, who were helping Webb, were thrown a considerable distance from the scene of the accident. One of Thornton eyes was blown out and it is believed that he will loose the sight of the other eye. He was badly bruised about the body and doubt was epxressed as to his recovery Saturday night. Gee was also badly injured.

Both were driven to the Methodist hospital in this city. Chambers's injury, although painful, were not serious and he was removed to his home in Petrolia. J. Kech, another employe, who was standing near the scene of the accident, was not injured.

Effect Noted Here.

Information regarding the accident was received here shortly after 11 a. m., Saturday, a few minutes after the accident occurred. H. McLaughlin, general manager of the North Texas Gas company, phoned the field at that time, when the gas pressure here dropped on account of the bursted main.

Two Merkle & Lunn ambulances were rushed to the scene, where physicians from Petrolia were at-

STIR CAUSED BY CHURCHILL AT PACT MEET

Council Members Take Deep Interest in Arrival at Geneva of Army Intelligence Officer.

By Associated Press

GENEVA, Nov. 27.—The arrival here today of Major Marlborough Churchill, chief of the military intelligence division of the general staff of the American army, which, so far as appears now, has no real significance except to himself and his department, has created a mild sensation in League of Nations circles. The United States has been on the lips of almost every spokesman in the assembly of the league and probably in the minds of every delegate.

The hope that the United States will some day join the league is unmistakeable. The entire work of the assembly has visibly been directed so as not to prejudice the most important questions at issue regarding the league covenant, and so as to leave the way open for the United States to have her say in its eventual revision.

The appearance during this assembly of any official or unofficial representative of the American government was the last thing hoped for. Major Churchill, consequently, was all the more an object of attention when his presence here became known.

The sub-committee considering the admission of new members has been unable to complete its work on account of objections to both Bulgaria and Austria by neighboring states. Rumania, Greece and Jugo-Slavia are still standing out against Bulgaria, while Czecho-Slovakia has not yet consented to the admission of Austria.

ITALIAN DEPUTIES APPROVE TREATIES

ROME, Nov. 27.—The chamber of deputies today approved the treaty of Rapallo regarding the Adriatic problem by a vote of 221 to 12.

Forty-two deputies abstained from voting.

WORK OF CHANGING PHONES PROGRESSES

The work of changing the telephone equipment of Wichita Falls to the automatic system is keeping up with the receipt of supplies, and present indications are that the change can be made by early spring, as was announced by the manager, C. C. Kirby, several weeks ago.

In addition to the change of the entire system from the central board to automatic, more than 500 new instruments are to be installed before the first of the year, this demanding a great deal of extra work before the local exchange will have caught up with the construction schedule.

SHERIFF-ELECT WILL GO AFTER BIG FISH FIRST

Smith's Policy to Chase Highjackers, Thieves and Criminals; Leaves Misdemeanor to Cops.

George Hodgins Selected for Chief Deputy and Line-up of Assistants Already Worked Out.

"We are going after the whales and pick up the minnows only incidentally. We will expect the city police to take care of the misdemeanor crew."

That's the way Fred Smith, sheriff elect, who goes into office Thursday, outlined his policy in an interview with The Record News Saturday. Mr. Smith also announced a line-up of deputies. George H. Hodgins, formerly employed in an executive capacity by the Wichita Mill and Elevator company, will be chief deputy.

"I expect to occupy my men principally in a war upon highjackers, bootleggers, proprietors of the professional gambling table, thieves and other more serious offenders," Mr. Smith continued. "I have already laid a plan of campaign against those who would terrorize the oil fields.

One Law for All.

"The law will be enforced absolutely the same for every man. Such things as petty personal gambling and immorality among women will be handled when we run across it. But I believe that in the city the police department has that well in hand. I think that the sheriff's department will have its hands full in trying to make Wichita county a bad place for offenders of the criminal variety."

The line-up of new deputies so far includes only one man who is now serving under Sheriff McFall. That man is Jack Miller. Willard H. Wallace, formerly a deputy under McFall, will be one of Smith's selections. He will be jailer.

Other new assistants to Mr. Smith

'THE CITY THAT FAITH BUILT'

RANGERS SMASH FOUR STILLS, ONE THE BIGGEST EVER FOUND IN NORTH TEXAS; HOLD 2 MEN

Four whiskey stills, with a total capacity of 110 gallons, all of which were about to be started on the day's "run," were seized Saturday morning by Texas Rangers and federal agents in a raid on a shack on the John and Jeff (Waggoner) ranch, ten miles south of Electra. A. P. White and W. L. Wright, who were caught by the officers after a lengthy chase, were brought to the county jail here and charged with operating stills.

More than 5,900 gallons of corn mash, a quantity of coloring, a large amount of sugar and molasses, and about five gallons of corn whiskey were also found in the shack which housed the "whiskey making machines."

The stills and whiskey were brought to Wichita Falls and are held as evidence. Other paraphernalia and ingredients were destroyed.

H. P. Brady, commanding the detachment of Rangers here, Bill Laye, a ranger, Jim Allen and J. M. Hubbard, deputy United States marshals, left here early Saturday morning in an automobile to make a general investigation of the country between here and Electra.

Haste Attracts Officers

After getting about a half mile from the ranch house on the Waggoner property, they came upon a shack, situated a few yards back from the road. Only passing interest was accorded the small building and the officers were about to pass on when their attention was attracted to two men who left the back door of the shack in a hurried manner and appeared nervous in their haste to get out of sight.

Their suspicions aroused, the officers headed their car in the direction which the two men were taking across

CABINET HANDS RESIGNATIONS TO DE HUERTA

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 27.—All members of the cabinet of Provisional President de la Huerta today tendered their resignations in order that Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the incoming executive, who will be inaugurated Dec. 1, may have a free choice in naming department heads. It is probable these resignations will be accepted as the last official act of the provisional president.

General Obregon, who left for the country yesterday for a rest of several days, has steadfastly refused to give details relative to the personnel of his cabinet. He has asserted he will make the announcement of his selections on the morning of Dec. 1.

Newspapers of this city which have been speculating daily on the make-up of the new ministry are agreed that Provisional President de la Huetra, who has been slated for the chief post of the cabinet, secretary of the interior, will not take that portfolio, but may become secretary of the treasury. It is generally believed, however, his persistend illness will cause him first to take a course of medical treatment, after which he will resume his duties as governor of the state of Sonora, which is now being administered by a provisional government.

May Reappoint Calles.

Gen. E. Plutarie Calles, at present minister of war, is regarded as the most probable choice for secretary of interior and General Benjamin Hill, now serving as commander of military forces in Mexico City, probably will be the new president's selection for minister of war. Rafael Eubaran Capmany, former Mexican minister to Germany, is most frequently mentioned in connection with the portfolio of foreign relations, as is Alberto J. Pani, former Mexican minister to France, as head of the department of commerce and labor. Gen. Antonio I. Villareal, present secretary of agriculture, may be named to succeed himself, while Gen. A. Guirre may take over the department of communications and public works and Jose Vasconiolos may become secretary of public instruction.

The vanguard of inauguration excursionists arrived here yesterday from Kansas, headed by officials of the Mexico and Orient railway.

Expect Fall in Mexico.

Several special trains are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Newspapers have speculated whether Senator Albert B. Fall of New Mexico would come to Mexico City, following orders by Robert Pesqueira, confidential agent of the Mexican government in Washington, who instructed border consuls not to vise the senator's passports. Editorial opinion reflects the belief that Pesqueira has at least committed a diplomatic blunder which is most unfortunate at this moment. He is expected to arrive here this week, ostensibly for the inauguration ceremonies, but several journals assert he is on his way to Mexico City because his confidential mission looking toward recognition of Mexico at Washington has ended. It is intimated he will not be named to conduct a similar mission for the Obregon government. Some reports state Senator Fall will arrive here Sunday.

Visitors Here For Christmas Shopping Tour

Christmas shopping in this city by residents of surrounding towns has begun, according to G. V. Allman, general ticket agent at the Union station, and Mrs. Mary Davidson, day Travelers' Aid secretary. According to Mr. Allman, there has been a distinct increase in the number of tickets sold to residents of neighboring towns who are returning to their homes from shopping trips in the stores here.

The advance guard of Christmas shoppers is much in evidence among the waiting travelers at the station, according to Mrs. Davidson. Men carrying small engines, wheelbarrows and other toys vie in numbers with the women shoppers, who usually carry the results of their shopping expeditions in traveling bags.

PUBLICITY BOARD INSPECTS MOTOR COMPANY PLANT

The publicity committee of the Wichita Chamber of Commerce visited the local plant of the Wichita Motors Company Saturday. The committee saw about 45 minutes worth, ate a factory meal and at the conclusion of the inspection trip the personnel of the committee was addressed by Jack Culbertson, president and general manager of the company.

Not the least of the features at the Motor Company that appealed strongly was the battery of automatic typewriters operated in the export department, that turn out letters, each written on a real honest to goodness typewriter, at the rate of 200 words per minute per machine.

When the committee was present, Spanish letters were being written. The world map in the export department, with small tacks showing the various countries where Wichita trucks are in use, together with an approximation of their number, was another interesting feature to the committee and some time was spent recalling school days when geography, as well as readin', ritin' and 'rithmatic, was one of the sources of worry of mind and vexation of spirit—the old days when life was ahead and the frame was not adding surplus flesh to be toted around!

Enormous Stock Carried

The stock carried by the Wichita Motors Company inspired comment. Huge bars of steel weighing hundreds of pounds that cost from 15 to 75 cents per pound almost staggered the mind in contemplation of the investment required. Stacks upon stacks of pneumatic and solid tires, each costing enough to buy a dozen silk shirts at mid-war prices emitted a dollars and cents aroma. The pounding of the automatic rivetter, as the lot rivets were made snug to the steel frames of the trucks was more or less fascinating.

There's a lot, whole lot, about making a motor truck that is interesting, as well as educational. A plant like the Wichita Motors Company cannot be covered, except superficially, in the time limit at the disposal of a busy committee of business men. Only the high places were touched and these but lightly.

Annual Payroll $300,000

At this time the payroll of the Wichita Motors Company runs about $300,000 per year. The stock on hand at the plant inventories is about two and half million dollars in value. The present capacity of the plant is about 3,000 trucks per year. The Wichita Motors Company is one of the oldest motor trucks manufacturing companies in the United States.

Nearly a thousand motor truck companies have been organized and have either failed or gone out of business since the first Wichita truck was made. The local truck company has never been reorganized financially and Jack Culbertson has been its directing head from its first year.

At the conclusion of the cursory inspection of the motor plant the committee ate lunch at the cafeteria maintained by the company. Exactly the same meal that is served the employes at 35 cents each, was served the committee. The peach pie was voted to be as good as mother used to make.

Members of the committee were particularly interested in the housing accommodations provided by the factory for its employes—a work in which the factory took the lead when the congested conditions attending the oil development made the housing issue serious for local industries.

Spend $50,000 on Houses

The factory now owns houses which represented an investment of $50,000. These houses are rented to the employees of the factory at surprising figures—the three-room cottages bringing $2.50 per week, four-room and six-room, $4.50. In addition to this the factory owns barracks in which single men may room at a cost of $2 per week. Ten new five-room bungalows have recently been built. They rent for $30 per month.

The trip to the motor factory is one of the trips being taken by the Chamber of Commerce committee in the course of an exploration into the industrial resources and possibilities of Wichita Falls, the ability they have to serve the Wichita Falls trade territory, and the value of the products made, the latter, if satisfactorily demonstrated, receiving the official "O. K." of the organization.

Those who were with the committee Saturday were: Tom Bergin, Hubert Harrison, Miss Gertrude Deppen, F. L. McCoy, John Murphy, D. C. McCaleb, C. G. Manuel and C. F. Carter. Mr. Harrison's small son also accompanied the party. The party was shown through the plant by W. O. Beeman, assistant treasurer of the motor company, and D. J. White, secretary to the president.

SUGAR MARKET IS QUIET, UNCHANGED

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Raw sugar continued quiet and as no further business was reported, prices were unchanged at 4¾ cents for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.76 for centrifugal.

The demand for refined continues light. Prices were unchanged at 8.75 to 9.00 for fine granulated.

Trading in sugar futures was only moderately active, but prices were firmer on covering and trade buying. Prices at one time were 5 to 28 points net higher, December showing the maximum gain, but realizing near the close caused a setback and final prices were 4 to 10 points net higher.

California to Watch Traffic With Airplanes

SAN FRANCISCO.—The prohibition of stunt flying over large crowds and a uniform set of air traffic regulations will be sought in legislation to be placed before the California State legislature for enactment at its next session through a committee of representatives of the American Legion, Pacific Aero Club, Allied Fliers and airplane business firms.

One of the proposed sections of the new laws will require the numbering of planes. Air experts have been meeting with Walter T. Varney, one of the pioneers of aeronautics on this coast and mapping out a campaign to be carried through to influence the passage of the air traffic legislation. The air traffic ordnance of this city is expected to be revised and placed into effect. The laws proposed to be placed before the state legislature will conform to those established by the International Association Aeronautique.

An ordnance against stunt flying over large crowds was passed by the city council of Berkeley, Cal., recently, owing to stunt flying staged over the stands at the University of California-Washington State College football game.

"Mlle. Verdun" Aristocratic Artillery Mule

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—No recruit is full fledged in the Fifteenth Field Artillery, Second Division, Camp Travis, Texas, until he is permitted to groom and doll up Mlle. Verdun, aristocratic army mule, who was born on the famous Verdun battlefield in France and earned her gold stripes on the other side of the Atlantic.

Mlle. Verdun had some difficulty getting into the United States, but the veterans of the Fifteenth artillery managed it somehow. Many army mules and most of the horses were sold abroad, but the boys of the Fifteenth refused even to consider the loss of their mascot. She disappeared one bright day and was not seen until the Fifteenth reached the United States.

Mlle. Verdun, according to Adjutant General Harris, first saw the light of day, rather of night, at 3 a. m., April 16, 1918, just four hours after her dam had finished hauling shells for Battery E, Fifteenth Field Artillery. Not a major offensive did the Second division pull off that the long-eared mascot was not in the center of it.

Texas Girls Get Carnegie Medals

AUSTIN, Nov. 27.—The University of Texas girls, Lucile and Bess Crouch of Yoakum, both have the signal honor of possessing Carnegie medals. The girls won the medals for their service in rescuing a woman from drowning. The incident occurred at Port O'Connor in September, 1913.

"There's nothing to tell," said Lucille Crouch when asked how she and her sister won the medals. "Bess and I just happened to be in swimming late one afternoon when Mrs. Hunt—yes, it was Mrs. L. C. Hunt of Victoria—came out to the end of the pier and called to us that she was coming to join us. The current was rather strong and Mrs. Hunt couldn't swim very well. As soon as she was in the water she began to drift with the current.

"I soon saw that she needed help, so I told her to hold on to me. I tried to get her back to the pier, but the current was too strong. I then called Bess. Together we swam to the shore, supporting Mrs. Hunt with little difficulty."

In the fall of 1914 the Misses Crouch were presented with the medals and $2,000 cash. The money, to be received in $500 lots, was designated for use in educational purposes, and it is being employed in payment of their University expenses.

The new ornamental street lighting will be completed on two streets and ready to turn on before Christmas according to information from the contracting company. The two streets which will probably be completed are Ohio and Indiana. The circuits on these streets are already completed.

J. Porterfield of the General Electric Company, which is furnishing the material for the work, has been in the city several days in connection with the installation of the system. He expressed himself as well pleased with the manner in which the work was being done and the inspection carried on by the city engineer's department.

JUDGE DECLARES ACTION OF LABOR UNION WILL HAVE NO EFFECT ON CHILDREN WORKERS

Commenting upon the action taken Tuesday night by the labor council in adopting a resolution protesting against alleged violations of the child labor law in Wichita Falls, County Judge J. P. Jones in a statement Saturday declared that it will have no effect upon his attitude in the future relative to granting permits to children to work when he finds that cases justify it.

Judge Jones said that a copy of the resolution had not been presented to him but that when this was done he will make no effort to accept or reject the protest of the council.

Adoption of a resolution of this character, he said, was based on his action several months ago in granting a permit to a young girl, who appeared under the labor age, to work in a local laundry, and which was probably brought to the attention of labor leaders through the efforts of a deputy labor commissioner of the state to have the permit recalled.

Going into the details of the occurrence, the judge explained that he was approached by the girl for a permit to work so she could buy medicine and food for her mother who was at that time confined to her bed with a serious disease. The permit was issued after investigations by the judge showed that the small family was in urgent need of provisions and medicine, and that the young girl was her mother's sole support.

Shortly after the girl began work in the laundry, a state agent on one of his regular rounds of inspection found her and "took up" her permit, demanding that she stop work at once.

The judge said that when he found this out, he explained the case to the state agent and informed him that he was not the judge of Wichita county and that he had no right to take up a permit which had been issued without first discussing the case with county officials. The conversation finally ended with the result that a new permit was issued the young girl.

This is only one of many instances of similar character, the judge explained, where he has found that it is necessary to stretch the state laws a trifle for causes of humanity.

"There has been no promiscuous issuing of permits to children under the labor age," Judge Jones asserted, "and those that have been allowed to go to work through my order were either in sore need of food for themselves or were the sole support of a sick mother or father. I do not think that the public will take exception to my resolve to continue issuance of these permits according to my best judgment after taking into consideration the welfare of the child applicant and his or her dependents."

It became known Saturday that Judge Jones has been approached several times during the week by citizens of the city who have approved the stand which he takes after learning the circumstances which led to the protest resolve.

WHEAT OPTION DEALERS UNDER FIRE.

Frank Kell, federal reserve banker and owner of a chain of grain mills, declares that the price of wheat is lower today than the cost of production. He blames the drop to this bottom on two things:

A condition.

A class of men.

The "Condition" is the absence of a protective duty on wheat and wheat products. The class of men are the grain market option dealers—"wheat gamblers," Mr. Kell calls them. Because there was no tariff on wheat dealers on the Chicago and New York boards of trade were enabled to hold the great Canadian wheat crop of this year over the heads of Americans and sell not only the United States crop but a large part of the Canadian harvest short, Mr. Kell believes.

It is to be noted that Mr. Kell is not objecting to any slice in the price of wheat as compared with its war-time level. Long before the national readjustment of prices, which is now still in progress began, Mr. Kell was declaring that "we must get back to normal." He contends that the adjustment on wheat prices has gone farther than conditions justify and that the superdrop in the staple has been brought about by lack of protection and undue advantage taken by stock gamblers at the expense of the American farmer and miller.

And here is the remedy he suggests:

"In order to protect a great number of American farmers who grow wheat and the milling industry, one of the greatest industries in the United States, it will be necessary not only to quickly remedy our tariff legislation but necessary as well to have enacted immediately a bill prohibiting the dealing in options on the necessities of life, including wheat."

The option dealer bases his defense on the claim that he is not responsible for drops in prices. He argues that price fluctuations are due to national conditions over which he has no control. In this connection he points out that though numerous men have tried to dictate markets that the successes have been so few as to be notable by-words in the language of Wall street.

The option dealer goes on to base his claim on usefulness on the assumption that his specialized work places him in possession of information bearing upon market conditions much faster and more accurately than the individual buyer of wheat can hope to obtain. In the way, he concludes, the grain pit does not make the price of wheat, but simply reflects it quicker and more accurately than the information would develop without it. This assumed service, the dealer's defense continues, lends a sense of stablization and security to the ultimate buyer.

But Mr. Kell's assault is not the first that has been brought against the grain pit. Frequently it has been assailed along with the activity of kindred dealers in other great American staples. Both the magnitude of Mr. Kell's private operations in the milling industry and his experience on government agencies established in connection with the regulation of wheat during the war, commend his position as worthy of most serious consideration.

NEW YORK'S STATE OF ANARCHY.

That the Wall street explosion in which 37 lives were lost, was a murderous by-product of building-trades corruption and criminality is more than an interesting theory. The Evening World supports its case with a chain of circumstantial evidence from which few links seem missing.

Although nearly two months have elapsed since the explosion, Mayor Hylan's police department has accomplished but little more than demanding a secret-service fund to detect anarchists, though it must be said in fairness that yesterday, for the first time, it was able to announce definite progress. There never was a scrap of evidence to show that the explosion was the result of a Bolshevist plot or that it was due to a revolutionary conspiracy. That theory was advanced by the police because it requires neither facts nor intelligence to ascribe any crime of that kind to the Reds whether the Reds had anything to do with it or not.

The Evening World finds a motive in the desperation of workmen who were being starved to death by the tryrannous practices of Brindell. That these workmen, all of them of foreign birth, should have finally in their desperation taken the law into their hands can readily be understood, although their reasons in no way exculpate the guilty. It leaves the whole situation comparatively simple, however, if the account be verified.

The explosion was not a challenge to government. It was not an attempt to destroy the financial district of New York or any banking house, but, in all probability, a criminal method of reprisal against the Brindell oligarchy. As usual in such cases where misguided men seek to enforce their own processes of justice by violent methods, only the innocent were killed and maimed. Nobody against whom these frenzied workmen had a real or fancied grievance suffered either physical or financial injury.

Brindellism has reached its full flower under the Hylan administration. Mr. Untermyer and the Lockwood committee are now engaged in emancipating the New York taxpayers and rent-payers from the clutches of this infamous system of graft and tribute, and the revelations of The Evening World in respect to the Wall street explosion should provide new incentive for the most searching investigation that can be made. But they demand as well the immediate attention of District Attorney Swann and the grand jury.

There can be no extenuation of such crime, nor can labor organizations be permitted to fight out their quarrels in the public streets at the sacrifice of the lives of innocent persons. The Evening World has made it possible for the public authorities to get at the bottom of this massacre. They must do the rest and must be held to a strict accountability if they temporize further.

Murder has become almost a conventional offense in this community, and the incompetence of the police defies description. In addition to the Wall street explosion, with its 37 victims, there have been 104 other murders since the first of the year in which no arrests have been made, and the police are without evidence that is of any value.

That is the kind of police service the people of New York have been paying for while the building grafters have been robbing the public treasury through their control over contracts and construction. New York has been reduced to a state of semi-anarchy. No help can be obtained from the city hall. If none can be obtained from the criminal courts building, the next appeal must be made to Albany.—New York World. (Dem.)

TOO MUCH ZEAL

He who grasps too much holds little. The proverb is recommended to some of our worthy but too zealous dry friends. The Council of the Board of Benevolence of the Methodist Episcopal Church recommends that the protection of the American citizens who "in foreign lands are doing that which has been outlawed at home;" that is, selling and buying the forbidden juice. Why worry about the wicked Americans abroad? Prohibition energy should be concentrated on our unterrified millions of home outlaws.

Then here is Mr. Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, expatiating on the designs of that body on the new congress:

The Anti-Salon League is committed to a measure to define misconduct in office of a Federal officer. Certain officers (the Federal judges) hold office for life or good behavior. There is no standard set for what is lack of good behavior. Some officers are refusing to do their duty and enforce the law, and there is no machinery to reach such officers and relieve them of responsibility. Such a law ought to be passed.

That is, Federal judges sitting in cases under the Volstead act must make decisions satisfactory to the Anti-Saloon League or be removed from office. If the Anti-Saloon League continues to manifest this burning zeal, entirely innocent of discretion, common sense and humor, it will not succeed in enforcing prohibition. It will merely disgust moderate and sensible men and women.—New York Times.

Editorial Digest

THE ROOT CABLEGRAM.

Disclosures of the cablegram sent by Elihu Root last August urging the Republicans not to abandon the Versailles treaty and declaring that the League of Nations was not dead has brought forth sympathetic comment from a large section of the American press. The majority of the newspapers feel that Senator Harding, despite his statement to the effect that "the League is deceased" should be guided by Senator Root's advice "to keep the Treaty, modifying it to meet the requirements of the senate reservations and the Chicago platform and possibly in some other respects." Most of the writers commenting, however, are those with Democratic leanings.

Some newspapers, the Youngstown Vindicator (Dem.) among them, consider that in the Root statement there is indication that—

"There is a deep split in the Republican ranks and it will tax every resource that Harding can command to bring together the opposing viewpoints of Root and the Republican friends of the League on one hand, and the 'irreconcilables' on the other."

There is no basis for a quarrel, however, the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle (Rep.) assures its readers, unless either Harding or Root "abandons the Republican platform" and the St. Louis Democrat (Rep.) declares that "there is nothing but gossip to justify the assertion that there is a difference of opinion." The New York Tribune (Ind.) feels that the telegram has been given a "false interpretation and that "between Senator Harding and Mr. Root is no necessary opposition of view," although the Nashville Banner (Ind.) thinks "some Democrats regard the publication of the Root telegram * * * as the opening gun against the forces within the Republican party who will attempt to destroy the league."

This sentiment is reflected in the Springfield Republican (Ind.) which, like the Syracuse Herald (Ind.) finds, the situation at least "perplexing." The Brooklyn Eagle (Ind. Dem.) thinks it presents but two alternatives:

"Mr. Harding in the Presidency will soon have to decide with those Republicans who hold to the Root view that we should enter the league with reservations fully protecting the Nation, or whether we shall venture upon an experiment which Mr. Root, after close contact with conditions abroad considers not only impractical but as certain to bring chaos and entire loss of results of the war and general disaster involving the United States."

Hope is expressed by the St. Louis Post Dispatch (Ind.) that now the campaign is over, that men like Root and Taft "will succeed in impressing upon the President-elect "America's grave responsibility in averting the menace confronting the world, by framing the American policy in the interests of civilization."

The New York World (Dem.) is pessimistic. It agrees with Root and declares the content of his telegram to be the truth, but it despairs that it will have any effect. It says:

"There was good advice in Mr. Root's telegram to Senator Harding, but there is nothing to show that Senator Harding followed it during the campaign and his most recent remarks indicate that if he had learned anything from Elihu Root he has already forgotten it."

Confident that despite the varying statements during the campaign, the Columbia (S. C.) State (Dem.) is sure that the United States will take its place at Geneva with the other powers. It explains Harding's reasons for previous attacks on the League:

"It was known some months ago that Root had warned Harding that he could not kill the league and that we should eventually have to join it. He had to keep the East thinking that the league would be salvaged and the Johnsonized West fooled to the point of believing that Harding was sincere when he declared the league 'dead' and de-'ceased'."

The only solution of the problem now, the Manchester Mirror (Dem.) believes, is for the pro-league Republicans to unite with the Democrats, for "the average Republican editor knows that Root is right and so do the first-rate men in the Republican party:

"But Harding has listened to Borah. He went ahead, saying the league was dead. When he was elected he spoke of it as 'deceased.' He has gone over to the Borah side. He has, it is reported, concluded to exclude Root from his cabinet and there is every reason to suppose that as President he will be guided by Johnson, Borah, Smoot and Penrose, with the other near-statesmen whom Mr. Harding sided with before and after the election."

The fact that Harding "declared against the league absolutely and proposed a separate peace in his Des Moines speech after the receipt of the cablegram" is sufficient evidence to the Fort Wawyne Journal Gazette (Dem.) to prove that "he sought an open and defiant break with Root," and that the two men are as wide apart as the poles. That this is the case, and that "Mr. Root's clear vision is regarded as senility," the Greensborough News (Ind.) considers "the most discouraging news of all."

However, all of the writers do not take as serious a view of the situation for the Manchester Union (Ind. Rep.) sees very good reasons why Mr. Root might not be called upon, as Secretary of State to frame the foreign policy of the Harding administration. "It is not necessary," it points out, "to imagine or fabricate a quarrel between the President-elect and the intellectual leader of the Republican party, nor to transform difference of opinion as to whether or not the existing league is fully alive into a full fledged row, in order to explain why Mr. Root may not have a cabinet position."

Though not as sympathetic with Mr. Harding's pre-election utterances, the Oregon Journal (Ind.) does not feel that conditions are past mending. After re-affirming its belief in the Root viewpoint, the Journal adds:

"The campaign is now over and bygones should be bygones. There is no longer need to fight the league to make a campaign issue. * * * The thing to do is to look the situation squarely in the face, salvage it from all partisan considerations and do everything possible to yet deliver the world from chaos by giving the league the authority and influence of American leadership."

At least one voice in strong opposition to the Root viewpoint is raised in the columns of the Steubenville Herald Star (Rep.) by their overwhelming vote, and it believes, the people registered their desire to "stay out" of the league, and the subject matter of the "belated" telegram is valued "at nil." It continues:

"Mr. Root has been mentioned as a possible appointee as Secretary of State * * * but unless he has changed considerably in his opinions since last August he is eliminated from any consideration in connection with that office.

Reviewing a rhymed geography in the Literary Review, Samuel McCoy says, "In the next three couplets Mr. Van Waters achieves a batting average in poetry that exceeds .450. He fans out a rhyme no less than three times." Mr. McCoy knows more about poetry than he does about baseball. Three fans out of three times to bat doesn't make a batting average of .450.

From a sport story: "There were five knockouts, each in the first round, in the preliminary bouts at Columbus hall last night * * * the proceeds of which will go toward building a new floor."

DOG HILL PARAGRAFS

BY GEORGE BINGHAM.

Everybody was sitting around the postoffice stove this morning in a comfortable attitude, and there had been nothing at all of a disturbing nature until Washington Hocks came in and lit his oldest pipe.

Mrs. Jeff Potlocks says rainy weather has its advantages, as husbands are so much easier to keep track of when it's muddy.

The people of Bounding Billows are up in arms over the article published in last week's Tickville Tidings to the effect that Bounding Billows is so small Yam Sims had to back his mule out of town before he could turn around.

Dog Allowed to 'Tote' Gun and Grimace at Law

Joe—he's a mere dog, but one with more national publicity than most people may ever hope to get—is permitted by police orders to carry dangerous weapons in the city limits without being disturbed. Joe can trot down the street with a "forty-five" in his mouth and laugh at the law.

And it all happened through Joe's latest feat, duly sworn to by Patrolman White.

The officer was standing at Scott and Eighth streets when he missed his gun. He had just come to work. He handed his empty scabboard to Joe and asked:

"Haven't you forgot something?"

Joe took the scabboard and ran back to the patrolman's room in a Seventh street hotel. He ran up to the landlady with the empty scabboard. She knew that the patrolman often sent the dog back for something that he had left behind, so she let him in the room. Joe howled and leaped up with his front paws on the table and then the dresser until he found the gun.

While the landlady held the scabboard preparatory to putting the pistol in it, Joe seized the gun in his teeth and ran off. He started back over the route to his master and delivered the gun.

Police Chief Huff has given orders that Joe is at all times to be allowed to carry a gun.

LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel

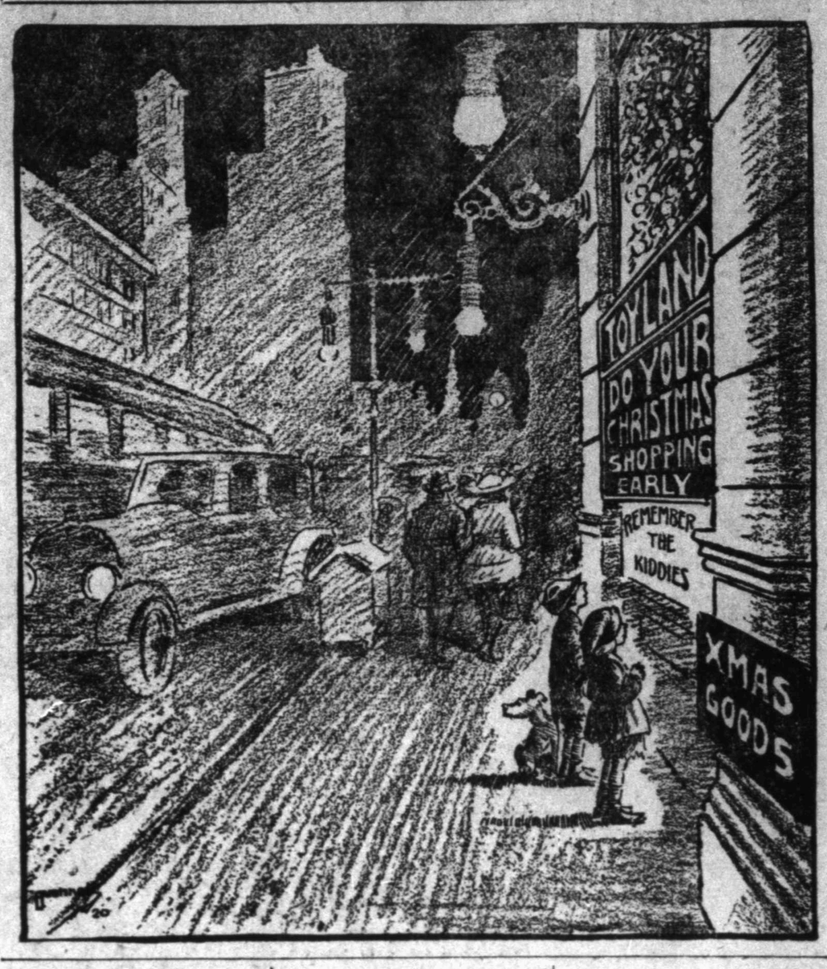

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It cannot be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

If the bowels do not act regularly, assist them with an occasional dose of Herbine. It is a fine bowel tonic and laxative. Price, 60c. Sold by your druggist.—Adv.

HITCHCOCK BLAMES PANIC ON FAILURE OF CONGRESS TO GIVE APPROVAL TO VERSAILLES PACT

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS,
Washington Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcok of Nebraska, leader of the administration forces in the contest for the ratification of the Versailles peace treaty in the senate, today asserted that the failure of the senate to ratify had crippled the confidence of the country and brought about the present business panic.

"Until we cross the line and get business established we can't begin to restore permanent relations or bring about satisfactory conditions with the rest of the world," Senator Hitchcock said.

Hitchcock said the doubt caused by the refusal of the senate to accept the League of Nations and adopt a peace treaty resolution is paralyzing the great nations. This business depression may be partly psychological, but the effect is just the same as if there were real cause for lack of confidence.

Europe Having Hard Time.

"But the fact is at the present time Europe finds it more and more difficult to pay for what she buys in the United States. Even within the last year there has been a notable fall in the exchange of every country we export to. The French franc is not worth as much as it was at this time 12 months ago, nor is the British pound, nor the exchange of the Scandinavian or other countries. This makes it difficult for us to export.

The Western farmer, with hogs, cattle, wheat and carn to sell, Senator Hitchcock explained, is threatened with an actual loss on his crops, and is desperate. Corn that cost 60 and 65 cents to grow is selling for 50 cents. The same is true of cattle and hogs. Similar conditions, he said, exist in manufacturing districts of the East.

Hitchcock gave three reasons why the uncertainty—the real doubt—caused by the failure of the senate to ratify is playing havoc with business in the United States; First, the European nations cannot pay cash for the exports they would take from us; second, they cannot get the raw materials they need from this country to manufacture the finished products of their factories, and, third, the bankers are afraid to extend credits while conditions are unsettled.

We Have Raw Material.

"Doubt has caused stagnation," said he. "We have the raw materials to sell, but foreign nations cannot purchase them without money or extensive credit. Unable to get the raw materials, they cannot pay in manufactures. Bankers have the money, but they will not extend credits while conditions are unstable. This is the situation that confronts us," Hitchcock explained.

"Until our place with other nations is established and peace with Germany is proclaimed, we cannot have settled conditions. Confidence has been stricken by partisan politics. To win an election the opponents of the League of Nations have crippled the entire world, already in desperate straits.

"Great doubts have been created by the two years' delay in the senate. The world is in doubt about these things: When the United States is going to make peace with Germany, if at all; whether she is going in the League of Nations; if the world is to have peace or have other wars, and if this country is going to stand alone or go with other nations. Doubt as to the answer of these questions is at the root of the troubles in the financial world.

Europe Is Starving.

"The matter has passed out of the realm of idealism and is now a vital business problem. We have a great surplus to sell, while people in European countries are starving. Our mines, our factories and our farms are stocked with the things needed abroad, but our would-be customers cannot buy them.

"Could the treaty be ratified tomorrow, I believe the psychological effect would be so great that business would start up again and move gradually into a busy stride. It is a practical business proposition, not altruistic.

"Something must be done to relieve present conditions in our own country. It is dangerous for the farmers of the West to have to keep their products or practically give them away; with Europe hungry for food and shivering for clothes, grain and meat, and cotton producers in the United States have no market for the year's crops."

NEW EQUIPMENT TO GIVE ADDED POWER

Announcement has just been made by P. A. Rogers, manager of the Wichita Falls Electric company, that sufficient equipment has been installed in the power plant to prevent any further breakdown in power.

One large and five small turbine engines have been installed and the power of the one large one or of the five small ones is sufficient to run the city.

LIGHTING CONTRACT WILL BE PASSED ON

The form of contract to be entered into by the city for the furnishing of power for the new ornamental lighting system on downtown streets will be agreed upon Monday afternoon at a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce street lighting committee, a committee from the city council, and representatives of the Wichita Falls Electric company.

Ditch Machine Excavating for Sanitary Sewer

More than 200 feet of the sanitary sewer ditch on the South side has been completed, according to information from the city engineer's office. The excavation work for the ditch, which is five feet wide and 20 feet deep, is being done with the ditching machine which arrived here last week. The excavating machine is said to be one of the largest operating in the state. Two hundred feet of 39-inch sewer line has been laid in the ditch, which will empty into the Big Wichita river near Holliday creek.

The sanitary sewer, when completed, will relieve the present sanitary sewer outlet. The new line will handle about 40 per cent of the total sewerage of the city and be large enough to provide an outlet for future demands in that section of the city.

On the North side the city now has two ditching machines in operation. A large part of the 24-inch line in that section has been laid. The two machines lay on an average of 100 feet each day.

New Enterprises To Be Considered Monday Morning

Final action on the part of the Chamber of Commerce with regard to industrial enterprises which are considered as likely Wichita Falls acquisitions, will be largely determined at a Monday morning meeting of the organization's industrial bureau, according to Hubert Harrison, secretary.

Among the enterprises which will be considered will be the proposed tractor factory, an institution for the manufacture of caskets and undertakers supplies, a manufacturing bakery, and a hat factory.

Both the latter concerns are now operating here in a small way, but seek enlargement.

Prospects for the location of the casket factory here are considered especially good, and it is looked on as promising a desirable asset to local industry.

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILES GLUT INDIA MARKET

LONDON.—India is glutted with American motor cars, according to a report which has been received here from Bombay.

The report states that 900 American cars are at present lying at the Bombay docks unclaimed. Most of the motor car firms are said to be reducing their prices and that this is particularly so of the firms handling American cars.

The importation of English cars is said to have practically ceased, the manufacturers declining to meet the reduced prices of the American cars.

TURKEY CROP PAYING BETTER THAN COTTON

COLEMAN, Nov. 27. — Assertion is made by a large number of farmers here that they are realizing more from the sale of turkeys that they raised as a side line than from their cotton, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. In the last 10 days more than 1,500 dressed turkeys have been shipped, bringing around $5 each. Many farmers will give more attention to this end of husbandry next year.

SOLDIER GETS "BONUS" OF $50,000 IN CASH

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Because he served in the American army during the great war, James P. Hasapis, native of Greece, is $50,000 richer today.

Hasapis, who is a brass foundryman at the Southern Pacific shops here, sent a picture of himself, in uniform, to his mother and to his godfather, in Greece. The latter replied by placing the $50,000 in a bank in Greece for Hasapis, in recognition of his god-son's services to his adopted country.

Hasapis will continue to work in the railroad shops.

CHIROPRACTIC
Relieves Infantile Paralysis

BOB HERBERT
This photograph was taken Monday, Sept. 15, 1919. It shows Herbert, rosy and well, whereas two months ago he was a helpless cripple.

Dear Doctor:

Between the 12th and 13th of July this year our little boy, Herbert, 3 years old, twin brother of Bob, in the photograph, was taken sick with high fever and pains in the back of his head and spine. In a few days he was paralyzed in his lower left limb and also his spine. So complete was the paralysis that he was unable to turn over or sit up in bed. The doctor we had attending him said it was infantile paralysis.

The fever and pain had started in his right hip when we called you four days later. You stopped the pain in the right hip after the first adjustment, and after the second Herbert could sit up in bed. And after your eighth visit he stood up in bed and made two steps by holding to his grandmother's hand. And a few days later when you came to adjust him we had to go out in the yard to get him, where he was playing with the other children. We must confess that we were skeptical when we first called you and had it not been for the persuasion of my sister, who was visiting us at the time and knew something about the wonderful science of Chiropractic, no doubt we would not have called you, and just think what the results would have been! Our precious little Herbert would have been a cripple all his life. As it is now, we have him restored to us. We assure you that we can never thank you enough for what you did for our child, as our whole life is wrapped in these two boys.

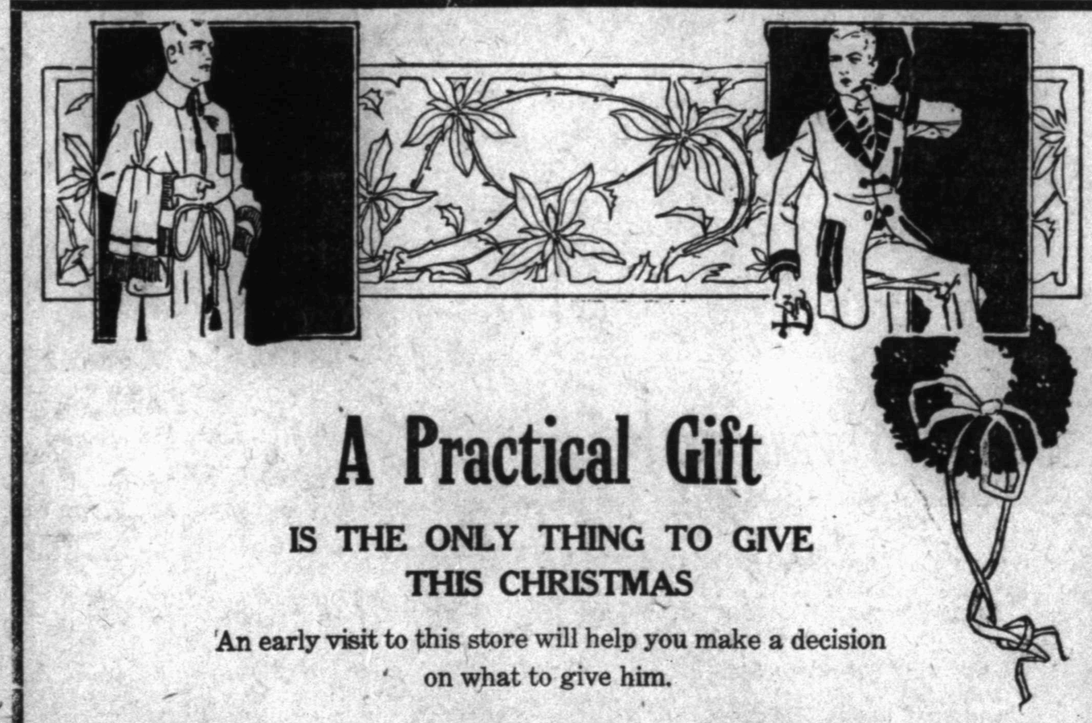

Trusting that you may make use of this letter so that other mothers may see and read it and have their loved ones restored to them sound and well, with best wishes we remain, very truly yours,

(Signed) MRS. O. K. DISMUKES,

NAVY ELEVEN DEFEATS ARMY IN BIG GAME

POLO GROUNDS, Nov. 27.—The navy defeated the army, 7 to 0, in their annual football game today, making the series stand eleven-all.

The navy made a touchdown early in the fourth period by a steady advance of 40-yards after recovering a poor punt of the Army's.

Three plays at the end of the third period gave the Navy a first down on the Army's 22-yard line as the fourth period opened. Then three plays resulted in a touchdown, Koehler scoring on a double pass. King kicked the goal.

The Navy, after receiving the kick-off then marked straight down the field but lost the ball fourteen yards from the Army's goal.

The Army never had a chance in the second half but approached the Navy's goal in the first half near enough on three occasions, to try for field goal.

Discarding modern aerial attacks, the navy relied on the battleship tackle smashes from a close square formation, so efficiently that after the touchdown was made, another was prevented only by a fumble 19 yards from the army's goal.

"Come eleven" had been the navy slogan in preparation for the annual service game and eleven came, meaning the eleventh victory for Annapolis football teams over West Point, which makes the series now stand even.

In the first half the navy never had the ball in the army's territory and the army was near enough to the navy's goal to score by kicking three times.

The break of the game came near the end of the third period. A punt by the army from its own 34-yard line went outside and netted only 12 yards from the line of scrimmage. A forward pass of eight yards and a six-line buck by Conroy gave the navy a first down, 22 yards from the Army's goal as the fourth period opened.

Then came the change of tactics, with Koehler full back. When the game ended the navy had the ball on the army's 42-yard line.

The strength of the navy's line plunging game may be realized from statistics of the game. In 55 rushing plays, the navy gained a total of 136 yards net, of which 88 yards were gained in 22 plays in the last period. The navy earned first down 12 times and just half of these downs were in the last period. Of 11 forward passes which the navy tried, three were successful to a gain of 38 yards.

The army in 34 rushes made a net total gain of 61 yards. Of its 12 forward passes, four were successful for a total gain of 31 yards. The army earned five first downs.

Poor punting and penalties kept the ball in the navy's territory throughout the first half, notwithstanding that the navy rushed the ball farther and gained more by the forward pass. But the army was not strong enough to take advantage of scoring opportunities.

Dartmouth Wins From Washington On Forward Pass

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 27.—Dartmouth today smothered the University of Washington by brilliant forward passing and won, 28 to 7. Three of the Dartmouth touchdowns were made directly through forward passes, Robertson to Jordan. The fourth was made on a line buck following a successful overhead attack.

Washington's lone tally came in the first quarter, when Abel blocked a punt and carried the ball over.

BREAKS RECORD FOR STEER BULLDOGGING

FORT WORTH, Nov. 27.—For the third time since the beginning of the Fort Worth fall rodeo the world's steer bulldogging record was broken at the coliseum this afternoon.

Shorty Kelso of Horse Creek, Wyo., threw a steer in the fast time of 9 2-5 seconds, thus beating the time made by Slim Caskey of Wichita Falls, who finished in 11 seconds Thursday night and 10 3-5 seconds Friday night.

Martin Gersh to Seek to Get Gym Built in Wichita

Wichita Falls is to have one of the finest gymnasiums in the state, that is, if the plans of Martin Gersh work out successfully.

Gersh, like other sport lovers of Wichita Falls, sees the need of a first-class gymnasium or athletic club here and is planning to devote his entire time to the organization of the project and teaching business men and others of Wichita Falls, the art of calesthentics.

If Mr. Gersh is successful with his plans, the gym is to be equipped with swimming pool, basket ball court, rings, horizontal bars, and other first-class equipment.

Spudder Skipper To Return Today

Walter Salm, Spudder boss, will return Sunday morning from a two or three weeks scouting trip through two or three of the Southwestern circuits, during which he has signed a number of likely young fellows for a spring tryout, according to information coming to J. The details of the trip of the Spudder chief are not known here, pending his return.

FIGURES SHOW TEXAS IS BAPTIST STRONGHOLD

According to a Baptist survey of Texas, recently completed by Dr. F. S. Groner, secretary of the Baptist State Mission Board, there are more than 400,000 white American Baptists in that state. Counting the Baptists of foreign tongues and those among the negroes the Baptist strength of the state is in excess of 600,000.

The service rendered by the City National Bank of Commerce is based on experience, and is governed by the desire and purpose that it shall be a really constructive force in promoting the progress and success of the Wichita Falls district and of its people.—Adv.

GIANTS PURCHASE BRILLIANT INFIELDER

Goldie Rapp.

"Goldie" Rapp, infielder purchased recently by the New York Nationals from St. Paul, is ripe and ready to shine in the big show. That's the dope from the Minnesota city, where Rapp pastimed last season after being released by the Cincinnati Reds. 'Tis said the Giants paid $15,000 in cool iron men for Rapp and will also turn over two players. Red fans are thinking that Pat Moran pulled a boner in letting Rapp go last spring. If Goldie delivers for McGraw Pat'll get an awful panning.

Austin Sportsman Seeks to Run Off Polo Match Here Between 6 Strongest Teams of Southwest

Efforts are being made by George Miller, polo player of Austin, to promote a polo tournament between teams representing Wichita, Kansas, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls.

Dallas and Wichita Falls are bidding strongly for the tournament and it is likely that it will be held here, because of the excellent condition of the playing field and also on account of the central location which Wichita Falls affords.

The Dallas Polo Club team which is scheduled to meet the local team on the 19th, will arrive on the 18th, and purchase six or eight of the local club's ponies. The Dallas club mounts are considered very poor, this being one reason for their poor showing against the Wichita Falls team last Saturday and Sunday. The local club now has eighteen ponies, all of them considered good.

The Fort Sill team, considered one of the strongest in this section of the country, will meet the local quartet here, shortly after the first of the year.

HIGH WINDS UP FOOTBALL WITH BUT TWO LOST

The Wichita Falls High school team Thanksgiving Day closed the 1920 season of Northwest Texas inter-high school gridiron meets with a record of but two defeats throughout the entire season which commenced early in October. The single defeat was met with at the hands of the Electra eleven in the last game of the high school series. The Electra team outweighed the locals several pounds and had the added advantage of playing together in representing the Oil City high school for three consecutive seasons.

Coach Cantwell, of the locals, declared that the 1920 team was the best that ever bore the standard of the Wichita Falls High School, and predicted that the team next year would sail through the series with nothing but victories attached to their credit.

Basketball, the sport of winter months, is being entered into with a vim by students at the high school and practice has been going on for about two weeks. It was reported when practice began that no changes would be made in last season's regular line up. The schedule is now being worked out by members of the Athletic association and is expected to be made public within a few days.

The girl students have also officially adopted basketball and are expected to have a strong team this year. They have also been out for practice regularly.

Quite a number of high school boys and girls entered the Record News tennis tournament here several weeks ago and since then have made known their intentions to continue the sport of the racket and net. Several youthful aspirants are playing in the consolation tournament which is underway here now.

WOMEN TO GET CHANCE TO SEE YANKEE APOLLO

"Yes, the women of the city are welcome to see Apollo pose and I am sure that if enough requests of this nature follow those already received that we can get him to put on a physical culture exhibition before the wrestling match."

That's what Manager Crosbie of the Wichita theater said Saturday when asked in regard to the collection of letters from feminine admirers of Young McFadden, who is said to be the most perfectly built man in America, in connection with his match with Henry Irslinger at the theater Tuesday night.

McFadden had been billed as an added act for the vaudeville show this week and a sort of advance man to work up interest in a coming wrestling go here. But Mac is "there" with the science and hard muscle as well as the beauty of his physique. He has pinned to the mat the shoulders of many a "leading light" of the wrestling game. Jack Hobson is his latest victim. Hobson lost to McFadden at Ogden, Utah, recently in two straight falls.

Pet Brown regards him as worthy of his mettle—and the fans who follow the catch-as-catch-can sport know Pet as one of the best of the middleweights. Brown will take on McFadden in Houston Wednesday night.

Incidentally that shows that McFadden at least believes he is in the pink of condition. Wrestlers are few and far between, it matters not how good they are, who will sail into two difficult goes within 24 hours of each other. Brown will have to sandwich in a long and tiresome railroad trip between the matches.

At the conclusion of his contest with Irslinger here, which probably will wind up at about 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night, he will get on a train for Fort Worth, catch another train out of that city for an all-day ride to Houston. He will have just enough time to grab off a mouthful of chow in Houston before he goes to the mat with Pet Brown.

Another thing Mac must be confident of is that Irslinger can't hurt him much.

Irslinger has yet to be defeated here. Through his victorious trip through the West and his success over one of the more meritorious of claimants to the American middleweight title, Irslinger claims the Yankee crown at his weight.

The Police Gazette, which is edited by Richard K. Fox, a recognized authority on sports, says that there is no middleweight champion in America. It adds that there are a dozen claimants to the title. Irslinger probably can back up his claim as well as that of a number of others.

Through the matches which Manager Crosbie is putting on here it is probable that he will very soon have opportunity to wear through the list of claimants, provided that Wichita Falls sport fans will support the game as well as they have done in the past.

If Irslinger can establish a generally recognized claim, or do better and positively eliminate all worthy contenders, the national advertising would assure him a fortune and bring to Wichita Falls, as his home, a vast amount of attention from the great newspapers of the East and the authoritative sporting magazines.

Boston College Finishes Season Without Defeat

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Boston college maintained its record as one of the few undefeated elevens of the country when it turned Georgetown back on a muddy field today, 30 to 0. Its scoring was made on varied plays. Captain Urban made the first touchdown on a 20-yard run after a forward pass of 15 yards from Kennedy soon after play started. Fitzpatrick, kicking from the 28-yard line, added a field goal in the second period.

O'Brien, playing a strong defensive game throughout, became an offensive factor in the fourth period, when he blocked a Georgetown punt for the second time, caught the ball as it bounded off his chest and ran 20 yards for a touchdown.

Roderick and Liston added touchdowns when the Boston college attack of line plunge, long run and forward pass beat Georgetown's tired line back in the closing minutes of play.

CANDY UTILIZED TO FATTEN PIGS

CHILDRESS, Nov. 27.—Candy makes pigs fat. At least that is what Lewis Brothers & Cunningham, swine raisers, will tell the inquisitive. They bought more than a ton of candy from the King company of Fort Worth recently. The confection was some that had run together during the warm weather and was not delectable enough for kiddies. The pigs that get this candy munch it pretty much as the kids would, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Why You Get the Most Value Here

You know that the price of anything is based on what it costs; you know the best materials and highest grade labor cost more than cheaper stuff. You know that, given best materials and best work, the manufacturer who can produce a large quantity, can do it for less cost than one who produces a small quatity. These are simple facts.

THEREFORE:

AIRSHIPS WITH WIRELESS WILL LOCATE SEAL HERDS ON ICE FLOES OF ARCTIC

LONDON.—The River Thames has been the starting place of many a novel venture, but surely of none more novel than that which set sail recently in the steamer Alconda for Newfoundland.

On board the Alconda were four non-rigid airships which are to be used next Spring in a first attempt by means of aerial observation and wireless telegraphy, to direct the course of the steamers which set out each year from St. Johns in search of the seal herds which come drifting down on the ice from the far north.

The expedition, which has been organized and is being taken over by Frank J. Tippen, consulting engineer and constructor to the Newfoundland government and a well-known expert on the design of large commercial airships, is a very complete one.

Three of the four airships are of the sea-scouting type, which, during the war, did such valuable work in the detecting of enemy submarine craft and earned the nickname of "blimps."

The fourth is a larger airship of the same type, driven by a couple of Rolls Royce engines.

The party includes two airship pilots, of whom the chief of Captain Williams, an officer who distinguished himself during the war in airship work over the North Sea.

In addition there is a wireless expert, while the party also includes the necessary engineers and riggers.

The airship station in Newfoundland will be established at Bewood on the Exploits river. Here a permanent hangar will be erected, with a hydrogen-producing plant, and the base will also comprise a wireless station and meteorological department.

Probably two of the airships will be employed in the first seal locating test, which will be made early next year.

They will fly out over the North Atlantic and keep in touch during their observations by means of wireless with the fleet of sealing steamers which puts out to sea each year from its base at St. Johns with the intention of intercepting the vast herds of young seals congregated on the moving ice.

Health Officers Transferred.

Arrest Wife of Wealthy Grower For His Murder

FORT VALLEY, Ga., Nov. 27.—Mrs. F. E. Elmer, former wife of Fred D. Shepard, wealthy peach grower, was arrested here today on a warrant charging murder after doctors John Funke and Edgar Everhart had testified at an inquiry into the death of Shepard.

Dr. Funke, Atlanta pathologist, testified before the coroner's jury investigating the death that poison was found in the viscera.

Dr. Everhart testified that he found no poison on his first examination but when additional organs were presented to him after the body was exhumed, a second time, he found corrosive sublimate. He named bichloride of mercury as the poison and said that fifty grains had been the dose.

Dr. Funke also testified that poison was found in the viscera. Mrs. Elmer was preparing to depart for Macon with her attorney when the warrant was served.

Mrs. Elmer, who was present at the investigation, was arrested as she left the courtroom on a bail trover for the recovery of the property of Shepard, of which she took possession upon his death.

FIRE CHIEF RULES RUBBER HOSE FOR STOVES DANGEROUS TO LIFE AND GOODS AND LEGAL OUTCAST

Rubber and other improper gas connections, recently the cause of a number of deaths here and responsible for a great many fires during the past few years, will have to go, says Fire Chief McClure, who is planning a house to house inspection of the city to eliminate this nuisance. The chief has recently employed an inspector whose principal duty it will be to make this thorough inspection, by which he expects to cover every residence in the city.

The reason such an inspection has not been made before, says the chief, was the belief that the sole penalty against menaces of this character was that imposed by insurance companies on properties where it was maintained.

Recently however, as told by The Record-News of Wednesday, the chief resurrected an old ordinance which provided for a fine of not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars for such violations. Armed with this authority, the chief plans vigorous measures to stamp out these sources of danger.

To take the place of the forbidden connections, the chief has approved of a semi-rigid connection carried in stock by one of the local hardware stores.

For the information of the gas users of the city, the chief has asked that the ordinance, which was published Wednesday, be again printed. It follows:

Section II.—All gas fittings used in any such homes, building or structure, shall be of safe design, all pipes shall be wrough iron and all fittings maleable iron, brass or bronze, shall be free from all defects and shall be installed without the use of lead pipe, calking tool or rubber hose connections of any kind. Every connection of pipe and fittings shall be made by the joining by means of thread of iron pipe, or iron, brass, or bronze fittings. No shoddy or defective pipe or fitting shall be used, and no paint, cement, preparation or dope of any kind shall be used on said pipe or fittings to close cracks, openings or defects, except that pure white lead shall be used on the threads of every joint connected.

Section III.—Every piece of pipe, fitting or fixture hereafter installed in the city of Wichita Falls, shall be approved and inspected by the city gas inspector before any gas shall be turned into the same and the said inspector shall test the line and fittings by means of a low pressure spring gauge or steam mercury gauge at a pressure of ten pounds to the square inch for 15 minutes. No gas shall be turned into the line or fittings either by the gas company or the fitter, or the consumer, until the same has been so tested and approved by the inspector. Any violation of this provision shall constitute a misdemeanor and any person guilty of such violation shall be puished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars.

Section IV.—Whenever any alterations or repairs are made in any line of gas pipe leading from service box to any house, residence or structure or any fittings therein, except setting stoves or lights and necessary fittings, the gas shall be turned off and shall not be again turned on until inspected as provided in the preceding section and approved and any person violating the provisions of this section shall be subject to the same penalty as provided in the preceding section.

EXPECT BANKS' HELP IN COTTON EXPORT SCHEME

Wichita Falls banks are expected to line up with the cotton export corporation at a meeting Tuesday of locl bankers, which has been called by C. W. Reid, vice president of the City National Bank of Commerce. Mr. Reid, who is a former president of this division of the Texas Bankers Association, recently attended a Dallas conference at which the details of the new corporation were gone into.

Following expected favorable action by the local bankers, the matter will be taken up with the other bankers in this district. Several of the local banks, it is announced, are already practically committed to a stock subscription in the export association.

The export association is composed of bankers of the states of Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. Its principal office will be in New Orleans. Its organization came about for the purpose of extending credit which would aid in the marketing of cotton abroad with the extensions of the credit which would make possible a resumption of this business, and a stabilization of the market in this commodity.

It is planned, however, to organize the corporation so that its efforts will not be limited to cotton alone, but can be directed toward the marketing of any other distressed commodity. Banks of the three states interested have been subscribing to the capital stock of the concern very readily—three per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank being the usual subscription.

"Merely the organization of the corporation will, I believe, have a very beneficial psychological effect on the cotton market," said Mr. Reid, in discussing the organization.

A number of experts from the Texas office of the organization will be in attendance to go into the details of the work of the new concern with the local bankers Tuesday, Mr. Reid added.

City National to Give Bonuses for Faithful Service

Faithful service on the part of its employes will be rewarded at the end of the year by the City National Bank of Commerce, as has been the custom for the past two years, by the presentation of a substantial bonus, proportionaate to the amount of salary received, it was announced at the bank Saturday.

The bank has been one of the leaders of local industry in its efforts in behalf of its employes—a feature of which is the cafeteria maintained for its employes in the basement of the bank building, where they may obtain a meal which would ordinarily cost a dollar for from 45 to 60 cents.

The girls' rest room of the bank is fitted up with every convenience for the use of its women employes. The men's recreation room, provided for when the bank was opened, is to be furnished within a short time, it is stated.

DANIEL GASSER SHOWS FIFTEEN MILLION FEET

The No. 2 gasser of the Camp Oil and Gas Company on the Daniel tract showed a production of 15,000,000 cubic feet according to a guage made by the Noble Oil and Gas Company Saturday. The well, when it first came in a week ago, was estimated as a 10,000,000-foot producer. The well came in unexpectedly at a shallower depth than the No. 1 of the company and it was necessary to mud the gas in the hole pending the anchoring of the casing.

With the hole filled with mud and water Friday, the well blew itself in when bailed down 300 feet. The well cleaned itself in three heads throwing the mud and water thirty feet over the crown block for several minutes. The Texhoma Oil and Refining Company were connecting to the well Saturday and also to the O'Dell well on the Head tract a half mile south of the Camp lease. The O'Dell gasser according to officials of the company, was showing a production of three and half million cubic feet, according to a guage made at that time.

At least two other wells in the proven gas area of the field will be drilled in during the coming week. The Texhoma Oil and Refining Company and the Invader Oil and Refining Company have set and cemented casing just above the gas sand.

The Noble Oil and Gas Company are connecting to the Texanna No. 2 which was brought in last week with an initial production of 31,000,000 cubic feet. The same company tube the gas from the No. 1 Texanna the discovery gasser of the field.

Insist on genuine Ford parts for your car. Mail order houses, stores and many garages sell imitation—counterfeit parts which have not the quality of the genuine Ford parts, but the Authorized Ford Dealers as well as the Authorized Sales and Service Dealers sell only the genuine Ford-made Ford parts. You are safe with them, while your car is mighty unsafe if repaired with imitation parts. The real Ford parts are made from the same properly heat-treated steel as their counter-parts in the Ford car. Every part is heat-treated according to its use. Depending upon the service they perform, Ford parts are tempered to insure the longest life. Tested after almost every operation while being manufactured, these parts present a vast difference from those not manufactured under Ford supervision. Counterfeit parts range from 30 to 75 per cent below the quality of the Ford standard. Don't take chances; demand Ford parts, they're safer. MAY APPOINT HULEN HEAD OF GUARD BUREAU

Guard officer to succeed General Carter or will leave the nomination to President Harding. The law simply says that the nomination shall be made after Jan. 1, and there is a belief that Mr. Wilson will leave the matter to his successor.

Generals Hulen and O'Ryan are democrats, though not active in party affairs, and General Harrison is a republican, though like Generals Hulen and O'Ryan he is not a politician. It is generally agreed, however, that the head of the militia bureau is no place for a politician.

Despite the fact that the nomination will probably be left to President Harding, it is thought here that General Hulen has an excellent chance for the place. It is pointed out that President Harding will as a matter of policy appoint a number of southern men to posts of high importance and that here is a chance to give recognition to the south in an office essentially non-political.

Although it is hoped to eventually build the National Guard to a strength of 425,000 men as against 300,000 for the regular standing army and the authorized National Guard strength for the present year is 182,724 men, the present strength of all the Guard units in the country is only 62,903 and more than a third of this strength is in three states—New York, Texas and Pennsylvania. New York has 8,582; Texas, 6,953 and Pennsylvania 6,560.

Even though numerically they have the greatest strength of any states, Texas has only 43 percent of its authorized strength; Pennsylvania, 49 percent and New York, 41 percent. Illinois, the third state in the Union in population has not started the reorganization of militia to take the place of the splendid organization which formed the Thirty-third division and trained at Houston before going overseas.

Ohio, the fourth state in the Union has only 2,977 of its present authorized strength of 13,184 men. Some of the smaller states here done much better. For instance Wyoming has 453 of itsauthorized strength of 560 men, or 97 percent. Seven states and one possession have more than 60 percent of their authorized strength. Besides Wyoming they are: Porto Rico, 1,388 or 1,641 or 85 percent; Utah, 542 of 715 or 75 percent; Rhode Island, 821 of 1,86 or 76 percent; Minnesota, 3,620 of 5,196 or 70 percent; Oklahoma, 2,805 of 3,813 or 68 percent; Maine, 1,286 of 1,991 or 65 percent; Oregon, 1,375 of 2,152 or 64 percent.

Ten states are apparently content to let the reorganization of their National Guard wait until other states have demonstrated that it is possible to reorganize and maintain the guard at a strength approximating the requirements of Federal recognition. Delaware, Louisiana, Nevada, New Hampshire and West Virginia declined outright, while Illinois, Indiana, the Dakotas and Montana have not asked for Federal recognition.

General Carter, the present chief of the militia bureau, is an officer of long and highly efficient service. He has gathered around him officers, regulars and National guardsmen, whose heart and sold are in the welfare and progress of the National Guard. General Carter has the energy to match every effort on the part of a state to bring an efficient military organization into being, plus tact and patience. He criticizes constructively and not in a faultfinding way, but he does not criticize unless he stands ready to name the remedy. He welcomes personal correspondence—touching the welfare of the service—from all National Guard officers.

Whoever succeeds General Carter, whether it be General Hulen, General O'Ryan, General Patterson or some one also not yet talked of, will find that he has been called to a big job which has been filled by a big man.

BOY SINGS NOTES HIGHER THAN MANY OPERA SONGBIRDS

Robert Murray.

Robert Murray, twelve-year-old boy from Tacoma, Wash., is now in New York, where he is being prepared for a tour of the country to show his wonderful voice. Critics say the boy sings clear notes higher than many of the famous opera stars. He's a real boy, having made a thorough study of wireless telegraphy.

ASSOCIATE OF HAMON DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUND

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 27—James E. Lamb, of Ardmore, whose mutilated body was found with a bullet wound through the heart on the tracks of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad, six miles south of here last night, died as the result of a "gunshot wound self-inflicted," according to the verdict of a coroner's jury late today.

Lamb was a drilling contractor and had associated in business with Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, who died here yesterday from a wound received according to Frank L. Ketch, Hamon's business manager, from the "accidental discharge of a revolver" Hamon is said to have been cleaning Sunday night.

Members of Lamb's family testified at the inquest today. Mrs. Lamb said her husband "kissed the family goodbye" at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and asking his wife to pray for him, said: "Be sure to meet me in Heaven."

Lamb also asked for his revolver, according to his widow, and she said, as he took it, "You never can tell—I may have use for it."

Business associates of Lamb declared today he had seemed despondent in the last few weeks and they ascribe ill health as the cause for his despondency.

Constantine Is Without Advices From Home State

By Associated Press.

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 27.—Former King Constantine of Greece is without direct communication with Athens, according to his chief advisers here, who say they consider it would be unwise to use the telegraph, and, therefore, are working out a cipher code.

An Athens business man arrived here today, having left Athens immediately after the election. He gave Constantine pictures of events in Athens and reported a general demand in Greece for Constantine's return.

RANGERS SMASH 4 STILLS IN RAIDS

the open prairie. Upon looking back and seeing that they were followed, White and Wright broke into a run in an effort to outdistance the oncoming automobile.

Wright, according to Brady, no sooner had started to run than he whipped a pistol out of his pocket and continued to run with it in his hand, making no attempt, however, to threaten the officers with the gun. This action drew a fusillade of bullets from rifles and revolvers of the officers. No direct aim was taken, their intention being to scare the runaways into a halt.

Fears Instant Death

By this time the automobile had nearly caught up with Wright and a few second later, Jim Allen jumped out and caught him. At the time of his capture, so officers say, Wright was so scared that he could hardly speak. He insisted that he had "done nothing wrong" and implored his captors not kill him. When questioned later, he declared that he was not aware that he had drawn his gun and expressed surprise when he was told that it was taken out of his hand.

Meanwhile, all attention having been directed toward Wright, the man with the gun, White had succeeded in putting a good distance between himself and his pursuers. Brady started after him on foot, sending several shots from his rifle to zip menacingly over White's head, which seemed to have no visible effect upon him.

He was soon overtaken by Laye in the automobile. He appeared to be laboring under the same state of fright as was manifested by his comrade at the time of his arrest.

Chase Lasts Half Hour

After the chase, which lasted possibly 30 minutes, the prisoners were loaded into the automobile and forced to accompany the officers to the shack from which they had fled at the approach of the "law."

Upon arriving at the shack, what is said to have been the largest and most complete outfit of whiskey manufacturing equipment ever known to have existed in Northwest Texas, met the gaze of the officers as they stepped inside the door.

Last Run Sold Out

The stills and "material" filled the entire house, and burners under the four stills were each primed and ready for lighting. The men were reported to have admitted to officers that they were just getting ready to run off another supply of whiskey as they had just sold out all they had made on their last "run" with the exception of five gallons which were found in the house.

Work was at once started in destroying all the stuff which could not be brought back. By the time this was finished, the officers were wading through the four rooms of the shack in corn mash up to their ankles.

Upon arriving in Wichita Falls, the prisoners were taken to the county jail, and all "evidence" was stored in the marshal's office at the courthouse. Although no official announcement was made, it is expected that White and Wright will be arraigned before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz for examining trial Monday morning.

SHERIFF-ELECT WILL RUN DOWN BIG FISH FIRST

will be Bob Windham, former city policeman; W. H. Laye, who is now in the Ranger service on duty in the northwest Burkburnett field; H. Weaver, who is a physical giant; G. B. Scott, who has served as a patrolman on Tenth street beat; Police Chief Allen of Burkburnett. Mr. Allen will be deputy sheriff at Burk.

Other Possible Choices.

Ranger Leseur, now serving in the northwest Burkburnett field, was declared in courthouse circles to be a probability in the new line-up. Mr. Smith neither confirmed nor denied this.

Courthouse gossip also had it that Deputy Constables Spiller and Belcher, who go out of office when Constable J. B. Nail retires this week, may also be offered jobs as deputies. Mr. Smith declined to discuss this report.

The new sheriff has been an officer for more than seven years. He became a motorcycle patrolman on the city police force in April of 1913. During four years' service in this capacity he was twice seriously injured in discharge of duty. His leg was broken and his skull badly smashed Running against three opponents in the last race for chief of police here, Smith was elected by a substantial majority.

Learned Butcher Trade.

He was born in Matagorda county in 1878. His parents moved here when Smith was 6 years old. His early schooling was in the old Allendale school. The family first lived seven miles west of Wichita Falls. When they moved here after Smith became a man Smith went to work for G. W. Filgo. He learned the butcher trade.

He was married to Miss Eldora Denison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Denison. They have two children. Smith is a member of the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbor lodges.

ONE IS KILLED IN EXPLOSION NEAR PETROLIA

tending the injured men. Thorton and Gee were brought to the Methodist hospital here. Attending physicians stated that the extent of their injuries could not be determined until morning. Thorton had not entirely recovered consciousness at a late hour Saturday night.

According to reports from the scene of the accident, Thorton, in a semi-conscious condition, was attempting to crawl back to the place where the accident occurred, when other employes reached him. The gas was coming out of the broken main. Had he succeeded in crawling back, he would have met instant death.

Gets Full Force.

Webb, who has been employed by the gas company in the Petrolia field for ten years, was corking a leak in the six-inch main line when the accident occurred. Seated across the line, he received the full force of the 250 to 300-pound pressure per inch on the line at that point.

The pressure on the line is based on the pressure shown by the gauge here. At the time of the accident the gauge here registered 240 pounds.

Two joints of the line bursted, throwing pieces a distance of a hundred feet. Webb was thrown into the air. The other employes who were standing around Webb were blown to the side. The noise from the explosion was heard as far as Petrolia, a mile north of where the accident occurred. Other employes of the company who were working within a short distance of the accident rushed to the aid of the men.

Weakened Line Blamed.

Although no official report of the company as to the cause of the accident could be obtained Saturday night, it is presumed that the accident was due to a weakened line at that point. From information available, the leak was at a nipple joining a ten-inch line with a six-inch line. Webb was corking the leak and this, together with the possibly weakened line, caused it to burst the entire two joints, a distance of approximately 40 feet.

The victim of the accident, L. G. Webb, was one of the oldest employes of the company and was well known in Petrolia. He is survived by his widow, six daughters, a mother and sister, all living in Petrolia. After the accident the body was moved to his home there. Funeral services will be held in that town this afternoon. He was 42 years old.

J. B. Thorton, who is about 35 years old, lives in Petrolia. He has been employed by the company for some time. L. C. Gee, 23 years of age, is married and lives in Petrolia.

Gas Company Statement.

F. M. Lege Jr., vice president and general manager of the Lone Star Gas company, which owns the line on which the break occurred, told The Record News over long distance telephone from Dallas Saturday night that the accident was due, he understood, exclusively to a break. There was no fire, no explosion. The damage came only from the expanding gas pressure in the main.

Mr. Lege said that the gas company carries workmen's compensation insurance to protect its employes. The insurance company will have to pay for the injuries done the men, and not the gas company, if any recovery be sought for any such losses.

The Methodist hospital reported at midnight that Thorton was the more seriously injured. The exact degree of his injuries and those of Gee will not be known until today. Neither man was strong enough to talk.

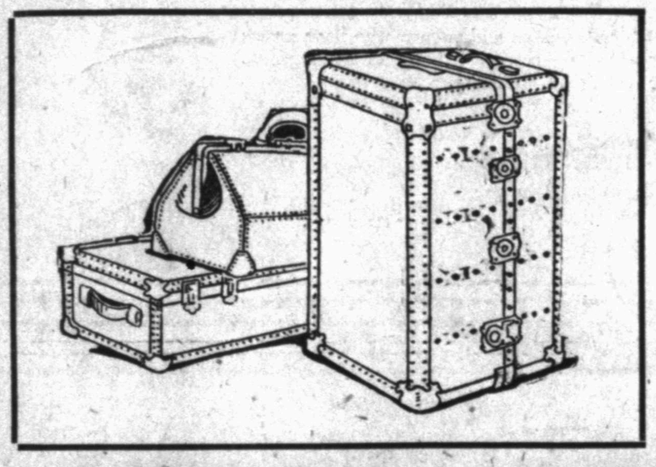

The hearing of both men in the hospital is temporarily affected by the detonation.

Playing Indians Child Killed by Gun's Discharge

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 27.—Wayne Cunningham, 6 years old, was shot and killed here Friday night when a pistol with which she was playing Indian was discharged accidentally, the bullet piercing her jugular vein.

Her 12-year-old sister, Nanette, was playing in the same room with her at the time of the accident.

The parents of the children were away and an older sister, Georgia, was in the kitchen with friends, making candy.

GRAIN COTTON

GRAIN MARKET STRENGTHENED BY COVERINGS

CHICAGO, Nov 27.—Heavy exports of wheat and extensive covering by shorts in corn and oats combined to strengthen the entire grain market today on the Chicago board of trade. Reports that British interests were giving exclusive attention to Canadian wheat and flour because of the condition of sterling exchange in the United States thus cutting off Canadian supplies for this country, was also a factor.

When the shorts started to cover an oversold condition was disclosed in all grains.

In the final thirty minutes wheat prices reacted on heavy offerings by Chicago interests, but when the decline reached 2 cents from the top, the buying power broadened and net gains of 2½c to 3 1-4c were registered. December wheat closed at $1.55½ to $1.55 3-4 and March $1.51 1-4 to $1.51½.

Corn showed net advance of 1 1-8 to 1 1-2c and oats of around 1-2c. Covering by shorts which had been carried on rather quietly for several days, became more open when foreign buying dominated wheat and prices in coarse grains were on the upgrade practically throughout the session.

COTTON SLIDES TO NEW LEVELS AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—Pressure to sell was again felt by cotton today and the market slid off to new levels for the season. The effect of the slump in interior spot markets yesterday was back of much of the selling but part of it was due to the unfavorable character of weekly revises of general trade.

After the middle of the session, a large volume of profit taking came from the shorts, with moderate buying for long account, brought about partial recoveries.

The market closed at net losses for the day of 20 to 37 points.

The feature that caused much comment was the fact that during the steadiest period of the session the distant months were at a premium over the nears, July standing at 14... when January stood at 14.27.

WEEKLY GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Wheat prices this week have come down with landslide force. Fifteen rural bank failures during a fortnight period in one of the biggest of the wheat-growing states, Nort hDakota, were more or less responsible. Compared with a week ago, wheat this morning showed losses ranging from 14¾ to 19¾ cents a bushel. Net changes in corn, however, varied from 1⅝c decline to ⅜c advance, and in oats from ⅝c setback to ⅝c gain, with provisions ranging from $1.50 fall to a rise of 15c.

Word of some distress on the flour trade at Philadelphia and in cotton at Liverpool attracted special notice and had considerable to do with the final collapse of the wheat market to $1.47 a bushel yesterday for March, as contrasted with $2.76 when trading in futures was resumed on July 15, last.

Acute weakness in the hog market with pre-war prices current had a depressing effect on provisions, but packers buying helped later to bring about rallies.

LIQUIDATION IS CHECKED ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The final session of the week in the stock market began with signs of a recurrence of the recent liquidation, but the movement was checked before declines made serious headway.

Much of the day's news was discouraging, embracing rumors of lower prices for steel products, another sharp break in cotton and additional bank failures in the northwest. Supporting orders in the better class of rails and industrials lifted the average of prices materially before the close. Sales amounted to 372,000 shares.

The clearing house statement furnished the surprise of the day, actual loans and discounts again showing only a nominal decrease despite the week's extensive outpourings of stocks.

Bonds were dull, but comparatively steady, reactions in no important instance being more than fractional, while some of the Liberty issues made net advances. Total sales, par value, aggregated $6,925,000.

TEST AT RICHLAND WILL BE PUT DOWN

SAN SABA, Nov. 27.—A 2,400-foot test for oil and gas is to be made on the Wilmore ranch as the result of an agreement made between W. J. Moore, owner of the ranch, and John H. Coley of Chicago, owner of the Mother Pool addition at Richland Springs. A thorough geological examination of the property on which the well is to be drilled inclines the parties to the belief that oil in commercial quantities is assured, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Excursion to the Rio Grande Valley

We will run our next excursion to the Valley on Sunday, Dec. 5 and return Friday, Dec. 10.

If interested in seeing this wonderful valley, where they grow three crops a year on the same ground, and where the flowers bloom in winter the same as in the month of May we will be glad to meet you and talk the matter over.

We go in Pullman cars and serve your meals on the train. We go by way of Galveston and spend most of the day Monday on the beach and give you a boat ride on the gulf; will arrive in the Rio Grande Valley Tuesday morning. There the party will take autos for inspection of the entire country.

You will be shown the richest farm lands in the world; lands that produce oranges, grape fruits and every other variety of citrus fruit, one to two bales of cotton per acre, 100 to 125 bushels of corn to the acre, 200 to 300 bushels of potatoes per acre, $1,000 to $1,500 an acre in tomatoes, cabbage, onions, etc.

This rich alluvial land is made to produce these tremendous crops by irrigation from the Rio Grande river and semi-tropical climate, a climate that excels southern California cooler in summer and warmer in winter. We will spend three days in looking this valley over.

We will give a very low rate for the round trip. If interested see me before the above date.

POLICE SEARCH FOR 'FACE' OF NIGHT PROWLER

The police are looking for a "face," that of a man who has been peering in the side window of the Central Bakery and Lunch Counter, 805 Ninth street, repeatedly at an early hour in the morning. On one of these occasions he poked a pistol through a hole in the window and twsted it around in menacing fashion.

Frank Clayton, one of the partners in the operation of the establishment, seized a rifle and pursued the suspect down the alley between Indiana and Scott from Ninth to Tenth. The rifle had no shells in it.

Early Saturday morning, a furnace adjoining the building and filled with papers and trash was set afire in some unknown manner. A customer in the restaurant told Mr. Clayton that he saw the "face" of the suspect peering in at the window just before the furnace pile blazed up. The flames were extinguished without damage to the place.

Clayton knows of no motive for enmity against him or the place.

The police have a good description of nothing but the man's head and face. They say that Clayton claims that he can identify the prowler.

Friends of Late Railway Magnate Wire Condolence

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 27.—Scores of telegrams and letters of condolence and floral arrays arrived here last night and today for Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, widow of the republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, who died here early yesterday. Mr. Hamon's death was the result of a gunshot wound, according to a statement signed by five physicians. His business manager has stated the wound was caused by the "accidental" discharge of a pistol Mr. Hamon was cleaning in his room in a local hotel last Sunday night.

The body will lie in state at Convention hall here from 8 a. m. until 2 p. m., Monday. Funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church and burial will be in a local cemetery. Many prominent republicans have sent word they would attend the services.

It was announced at the county attorneys' office that no progress had been made in the search for Clara Smith, charged with assault with intent to kill in connection with the wounding of Mr. Hamon.

Chicago Hunts Woman.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Chief of Detectives Charles Hughes tonight said he had wired the police of Ardmore, Okla., for a description of Clara Smith, wanted in connection with the death of Jake L. Hamon, and that detectives would be stationed at all railroad stations to watch for her. He said he also would start a search immediately to find out if she had friends or relatives here who might furnish information as to her whereabouts.

Percentage of Freight Raise In America Low

The percentage of increase in freight rates since 1914 has been less in the United States than in any other country, according to figures issued by the general offices of the M., K. & T. railroad lines. H. G. Smith, division freight and passenger superintendent of the local offices of the Katy, has received a memorandum giving in detail the rate increases for the larger countries during the last six years.

According to the report, which is based on statistics compiled by the British Board of Trade Journal, the United States is at the bottom of the list, with a total freight rate increase of 67 per cent between 1914 and 1920.

Austria leads in the percentage of increase, having raised her freight rates 390 per cent since the opening of the world war. Sweden is second, with an increase of 200 per cent. Both of these counties have government ownership and control of railroads.

Following are the percentages of increase credited to the various countries: Austria, 390; Sweden, 200; Switzerland, 180; France, 140; Norway, 150; United Kingdom, 101 to 114½; Holland, 70 to 140, and United States, 67.

CITY NATIONAL GETS SERVICES OF OLD BANKER

Th addition of T. A. Key, veteran Grayson county banking to the official force of the City National Bank of Commerce, was announced by C. W. Reid, vice president of the institution, Saturday.

A new and responsible position in the bank's official family has been created for Key. He is in complete charge of the inside organization of the bank, and its more than 100 employes, exercises a general supervision over all departments, including the auditing department, and is responsible for the general efficiency of the organization, and the service rendered by this organization to the public.

The creation of this office is in keeping with the practice in the larger financial institutions of the country, Reid pointed out in making this announcement. It enables the bank, in spite of the largeness of the personal of its organization, to retain personal touch with its customers, and render the same degree of service to the public as is possible in a smaller institution where all departments can be under direct supervision of the heads of the bank.

In securing the services of Key, who has been for 17 years with, and is still a vice president and director of the City National Bank of Whitesboro, the bank feels, it is stated, that it is exceedingly fortunate.

A considerable part of Key's work, it is expected, will be the continuation of the spirit of "esprit du corps" among the employes of the bank, with whom he plans to have frequent "family" meetings. His personal supervision over each employe, helping to determine in just what department each can render the bank, the public and himself the best service, is another part of the program. Key's family are now in Sherman, where they have lived for several years. He expects to move them to Wichita Falls soon.

TEXAS THIRD IN PRODUCING LIQUID GOLD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—October was a record month for petroleum production in the United States, the geological survey reported today.

A total of 39,338,000 barrels of oil were brought to the surface, an increase of six and a half million barrels over October, 1919 production.

There was a slight decrease in oil imports from Mexico and other countries during the month, but a decrease in general consumption as well, so that oil stocks in the country were placed at a figure half a million barrels larger on November 1 than on October 1.

Texas production for the month was 9,260,000 barrels, a notable increase over previous records, bringing that state to third place. California with 9,459,0000 barrels was first and Oklahoma with 9,345,000 barrels was second.

Woman's Purse In Blood Pool Worries Police

By Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 27.—A woman's purse in a pool of blood near the street railway tracks in Fifteenth street, on the eastern outskirts of the city, and a crimson trail as if a body had been dragged 20 feet from the tracks furnished a mystery today which the police are diligently striving to solve. Along this trail the police found other evidence which seemed to point to a murder, but thus far no body has been found.

A slip of paper in the purse contained the address "80 Continental building, Washington, D. C., on one side. On the reverse was written the name "E. Terry, former civilian service examiner." A card bearing the name of W. L. Reinert Clothing Company, 40 Gallia street, also was among the contents of the purse. There is no Gallia street in Baltimore.

"Better now than any time during the past few months. Next week I expect to be attending to my usual business."

It is just a year since Penrose was taken ill at Washington.

BANKS BROKE IF, I'M BROKE, SAYS WALL STREETER

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Allan A. Ryan, went to Washington today to confer with John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, after bankers and attorneys at a conference here decided on plans for the formation of a committee to inquire into Mr. Ryan's affairs.

Mr. Ryan is a well known figure in Wall street. He was involved in a sensational stock manipulation some years ago, following which he was expelled from the New York Stock exchange.

Mr. Ryan's comment on the report that the banks intended to take care of his assets to protect his obligations to them was "the story was inspired."

He denied that he was either in financial difficulties or facing them.

"If I'm broke," he declared, "all the banks are broke."

Mr. Ryan's reported intention to take up with Comptroller Williams his relations with the banks was interpreted in financial circles here to mean that he might start a war on the Wall street banks.

His conference with the comptroller was regarded as significant, in view of Mr. Williams' criticism of Wall street national banks for what he regarded as excessive rates for call loans made for stock exchange purposes.

The action of the bankers is said to be merely a protective one, taken to safeguard their loans and because the collateral on which the loans were made had decreased considerably in value through declines on the stock market.

Different representatives of banks, it is said, admitted that Mr. Ryan's assets were sufficient to take care of each bank in question, while other declarations were to the effect that Mr. Ryan's assets were much greater than his total obligations to the banks.

PLEBISCITE FOR SILESIA IS AGREED ON

LONDON, Nov. 27. — Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain, and Leygues of France, conferring until late this evening definitely settled the vexatious question of the upper Silesian plebiscite in a manner the heads of the two governments believe will forestall what they think is Germany's effort to pack the province with Germans for voting purposes.

Under the plan of the premiers the vote will be taken in several days, the status of a citizen to govern when he shall vote. It will be arranged that known citizens of the province whom the plebiscite officials are confident have lived there a number of years will vote on one day. Others who have lived in the province a shorter time will vote another day, while those recently settled will vote on still another day. Should the latter category swing the plebiscite in favor of Germany and the bona fide citizens vote against Germany, the allies are likely to declare the plebiscite void.

The Near Eastern question was postponed until the arrival of Count Sforza, the Italian foreign minister, on Snday. It will be take nup in one of the two conferences the premiers will hold Monday. The premiers decided not to invite Premier Venizelos of Greece, as they could discuss the situation with him as a private citizen.

Craig Sues for Damages Laid to Auto-Car Crash

Edward Craig, through his attorneys, Weeks, Morrow, Francis & King Saturday filed suit in Thirtieth district court against the Wichita Falls Traction Company for damages to his automobile on November 18 when it was alleged to have been struck by a street car at Ninth and Taylor streets.

The petition states that on the date named, Craig, who is engaged in the auto repair business, was pulling a stalled automobile with his own car and that when he got on the car track at Ninth and Taylor streets, he was unable to proceed with his tow owing to the bad condition of the street.

He declares that a street car was approaching at a high rate of speed and that he stood in the middle of the track so that he could be seen by the motorman in the light cast by the headlight, and waved a signal for the car to stop.

Instead of slowing down, however, the complaint avers, the street car continued to come on at a high speed and while going at the rapid rate, collided with his automobile, knocking it a distance of 20 feet or more, and practically demolishing it.

Craig claims that the agents of the company in charge of the street car "negligently collided with his automobile" and that the car was running "at an excessive and negligent rate of speed" and that the operator of the car "negligently failed and refused to observe warnings of the plaintiff and negligently crashed into his automobile."

It is charged that the auto was damaged to the extent of $1,500 and that the plaintiff is suffering a loss each day of $25, in the additional sum of $1,000 while the automobile is in process of repair.

TRUST LAWS NOT BROKEN BY FARMERS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Because farmers co-operative organizations are exempt from application of anti-trust laws, the department of justice has given no consideration to the campaign for the withholding of crops from the markets until prices advance, it was said tonight by Frank K. Nebeker, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

Nebeker's explanation of the department's attitude followed the recent statement of Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union that he understood that federal agents were attempting to obtain evidence for prosecutions in Kansas, Iowa and other middle western states.

The Clayton anti-trust act, Nebeker said, expressly provides that agricultural organizations, not having capital stock or conducted for profit, can not be construed as conspiracies in restraint of trade. Withholding of crops from market for personal profit Nebeker asserted, probably would not be held as organization profits.

Nebeker also explained that the limitations of the appropriations for enforcement of the anti-trust law would seem to preclude action against the farmers, inasmuch as the act specifies that no part of the appropriations shall be expended for the prosecution of farmers who co-operate to obtain a fair and reasonable price for their products. The construction as to what is a fair price for the various farm products, Nebeker declared, would, however, probably govern in any specific case that might arise as it would seem that since the present laws forbid prosecution where the effort is to obtain a fair price, conversely attempts to obtain unfair and unreasonable prices would be contrary to the law.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 27.—In the first Russian Baptist church in the south, recently organized in Fort Worth, Tex., 21 young Russians, studying for the ministry and missionary service in the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, are actively engaged in an effort to win to Christ the 500 Slavic people who live in that city.

Divorce Defendant Asks Oil Sale Be Voided to Aid Her

Judge P. A. Martin late Saturday in Eighty-ninth district court continued the suit for divorce of Connor O'Neil against Emoree O'Neil until the opening of court Monday morning. Trial of the case began early Saturday afternoon.

O'Neil asks a divorce from his wife on grounds of an offense which he alleges she committed in November of last year. He also asks in his petition that the court incorporate in its judgment the contract of settlement, which is said to have been made between them as the outcome of a suit for divorce brought against him by his wife last year. The first suit, according to attorneys, was compromised when O'Neill signed the contract of settlement, which his wife was said to have demanded.

In the suit now on trial, Mrs. O'Neil has filed a cross action, seeking divorce from her husband on grounds of cruelty and ill treatment. In her petition she asks that the contract of settlement be set aside and that she be awarded half of her husband's property. She claims that her husband gave her only $1,000 at the time of their separation, out of $5,000 all the money he had at that time, which he obtained through the sale of his interest in an oil well.

Mrs. O'Neil also asks that the sale of the well be set aside and cancelled and that she be given half of her husband's interest in it.

You can play a thousand records with a single Sapphire Ball, without injury to the records or to the Sapphire Ball itself.

And the tone! You have never heard such marvelous, lifelike tone reproduction in a phonograph, unless you have listened to the genuine Pathe.

Yet the PATHE Costs no more than the ordinary PHONOGRAPH

WICHITA FALLS SOCIETY NEWS AND BRIEF MENTION

CIVIC LEAGUE PLANS CHARITY BALL AND WELCOME RECEPTION

Plans for two elaborate social events featuring Civic League activity for the month of December were laid at the meeting of the executive committee, held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Stone, 1400 Grant.

On Dec. 17 a reception will be held in the Kemp hotel ball room for new members, added to the League rolls by the recent drive. On Dec. 21 a charity ball will be given, also at the Kemp hotel, for the benefit of the Texas Childrens' Home and Aid society's local work, of which Miss Katherine Hendricle is the head.

The charity ball, the first affair of such nature to be undertaken locally, will be one of the premier events of the holiday week, according to the plans outlined at the meeting Saturday.

The local work of the Texas Children's Home and Aid society is so wide in scope, the Civic League points out, and is of such interest that they feel this will be a well supported event, and they hope to raise a generous sum by this means, to help along the work.

Mrs. J. W. Stone is chairman of the entertainment committee. She will be in charge of arrangements for both events. Committees will be announced later for the charity ball. A list of patrons and patronesses will be named.

All members of the Civic League and all their friends are invited to attend the reception Dec. 7.

The annual formal Thanksgiving ball, with the Elks as hosts, at their club rooms, Wednesday evening, was the social feature of the week, for the younger society set.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA GIVEN ONE ENCORE AFTER ANOTHER

By MABEL CARTER

A large and enthusiastic audience heard the second "open house" program rendered by members of the Musicians Club at the First Methodist Church, South, Friday evening, under the direction of Mrs. Walter S. Robertson, when the Wichita Falls Symphony Orchestra made their intial appearance before music lovers here.

The program opened with "Pomp and Circumstances" a number by the Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Ernest Katz with Mrs. Ben Bell as accompanist. The number was composed by Sir Edward Edgar, is majestic and irresistibly rhythemic and in the interpretation lost none of the pompous splendor for which it was rendered on the occasion of the coronation of King Edward.

The orchestra was composed of Ernest Katz, director, Violins, Misses Bernice Jackson, Marion Maer, Vivian Raley, Mrs. O. E. Nicholls, C. J. Templeton; violos, T. B. Greenwood; cello, Miss Annette Walsh, Mrs. A. H. Britain, M. A. Ellis, Messrs. Taylor and Boyer; cornets, Stonecipher; drums; Gouciers, kettle drums; Lawler, clarinet; Bauch, clarinet; Dunning, flute; Colonna, second violin; Edler, first violin; Lambert, trumpet; Sidwell, bass violin; Gilbert, trombone; Bolt, clarinet.

The organ numbers, "Supplication" and "Festal March" played by Mrs. F. R. Collard were artistically rendered and thoroughly enjoyed.

The Anthem-Short Te Deum in E flat by Dudley Buck, with Mesdames Albright, Mary B. Adams, sopranos; Mesdames R. E. Shepherd, R. A. Lyle, altos, R. E. Shepherd, Percy Evans, teons; John Bradley, John Martin, basso and the vocal duet, "Love Divine," "All Love Excelling" by Sir John Stamier, with Mrs. Mary B. Adams, soprano and Mrs. Percy Evans, tenor sung with religious fevor and received many comments of praise.

The piano solo, Scherzo in B minor by Chopin, played by Miss Joe Betsy Miller, the youngest member of the club, was brilliantly rendered and brought forth much applause. She responded with an encore.

"Unospire," by Lisst, interpreted by Miss Florence Sammons, was an artistic rendition. Her encore was well received. Miss Bernice Jackson, the talented artist violinist, played, Adagio Religioso by Vieuxtemps. Her playing was both soulful and artistic.

"Ava Maria" by Bach-Gounod, adapted to the First Prelude of John Sebastian Bach by Charles Gounod, is a deep religious number, and the smooth sustained legatic tones from the low medium to the high B natural was sung by Mrs. Walter S. Robertson with clarity and precision.

Piano duet, "The Ride of the Valkyries," by Wagner, rendered by Mrs. F. R. Collard and Miss Virginia Parks, was acknowledged with rounds of applause.

John Martin's singing of "Nature's Adoration," by Beethoven, was enthusiastically received. Mr. Martin possesses a high baritone voice of unusual beauty, and his singing of the Beethoven number was especially pleasing in one effect and interpretation.

The chorus, "I Waited for the Lord" (from Hymn of Praise) by Mendelssohn and "At the Cloister Gate," by Edward Grieg, was uplifting and soul inspiring and an artistic rendition from the standpoint of attack and shading. Singing in perfect rhythm and with surety of tone, the soloists, Mesdames George Thornburn, C. Y. Tully, R. A. Lyle and John W. King added new laurels to their crowns, each voice a favorite with the music lovers of Wichita Falls and justly so.

The chorus was composed of the following soloists Mesdames George Thorburn, C. Y. Tully, John W. King and Robert H. Lyle; chorus Mesdames Mary B. Adams, J. C. Mytinger, Fred Weeks, Merle Waggoner, Albright, C. F. Spencer, Ola Hamlin, F. C. Barron, R. E. Shepherd, H. M. Young, C. W. Beavers, W. M. Priddy and Misses Bessie Lee Bartlett, Elaine Jones and F. Webb.

Mesdames Ben M. Bell, F. R. Collard and A. J. McKnees, accompanists.

TAXABLE VALUE OF THIS STATE THREE BILLION

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 27.—Total taxable values of Texas from 1920 tax rolls are $3,385,000,000 according to a compilation of certified tax rolls of all but four Texas counties which have been received by the state comptroller, who estimated values of the missing counties from last year's rolls to be $5,000,000. Last year's valuations were $3,012,819,287.

The comptroller estimated that the state will have a balance of $4,420,758 in the treasury unexpended at the end of this fiscal year and that the tax rate of 22 cents fixed by the state board is high enough to yield this surplus. He bases his estimate on the following:

The tax board fixed the rate upon an estimate that taxable values would be only $3,320,000,000, that income from all other sources would be $7,661,496; and that proceeds from a 22 cent tax rate added to the $8,840,758 surplus in the treasury at the beginning of this fiscal year, would produce $19,211,726 to meet appropriations which have been made for the year. However, the comptroller estimates that the advalorem tax at the 22 cent rate on the new valuation will produce $6,330,000, income from other sources will be $9,250,000 and these added to the surplus will give the state $24,420,738 in credits to offset outstanding warrants and appropriations fixed by the comptroller at $20,000,000.

This fiscal year ends August 31, 1921 and appropriations made by the next legislature will be for the next two fiscal years. Taxes to meet them will be made from assessments during the coming calendar year.

PRESO RAISED IN PANHANDLE BUREAU SAYS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Proso or hog millet is about as successfully grown in the Texas Panhandle as any other small grains, the department of agriculture announced. For many years the department has been attempting to encourage the growth of proso. Its one use is as a catch crop to replace other grains, which have been destroyed.

Proso is the common millet of the old world, where it has been grown since times prehistoric as an important grain crop for human food. Russian immigrants probably introduced the millet into the United States. Whatever its value in European countries, proso seems to have no very important place in American crop rotation, the department said.

It may be produced in the Northern Prairie and Great Plains area, including Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming. The bureau of plant industry finds that proso is usually a failure in Kansas, Colorado and frequently in Utah. These areas and the Texas Panhandle are the only places it has been at all successful.

Music Contributes to Success

In Nation and Industry and Home

POETS and philosophers and women and children are not the only ones who pay tribute to music Strong, virile men of action are also among its most earnest advocates

Giants in mentality and force—statesmen who have helped shape the destiny of nations and the great captains of industry who have grappled with its difficult problems and through their indomitable will, their straight thinking and untiring energy have wrested for America the supremacy of the world—these men say music has helped them, that it is more than a pleasure, it is a force—a stimulant to achievement.

Charles M. Schwab is emphatic in his statement as to the value of music in aiding efficiency as well as contributing to the pleasures of life. Lloyd George, England's Prime Minister, finds absolute mental relaxation in music. Theodore Roosevelt, Frick, Carnegie, Pershing and a multitude of other men of large accomplishment have all testified to the practical value of music in daily life.

If you would increase your efficiency, if you would enjoy life, if you would bring pleasure to your family, equip your home with not only one, but several musical instruments. Buy a piano, a player-piano or a phonograph. Make your library of rolls and records as complete as your library of books.

NATIONAL GUARD UNITS HERE PUT IN GOOD ORDER

BY BOB CURRAN.

Following the report from its Washington correspondent—a story printed in this paper Saturday morning—that General McI. Carter had recommended the disbandment of 33 of the 50 national guard organizations in Texas, that he had severely criticized conditions existing in the Longhorn ranks, and that Troop E, stationed here, was rated "poor" and the local headquarters company only "fair," The Record News Saturday investigated the local situation. It was found that since the annual visit of the army inspector here both the headquarters troop of the Fourth cavalry and of the local Troop E have been to a large extent reorganized.

Troop E, for the first time in about a year, was assembled to attend the annual encampment at Camp Mabry in August, where the regular army officers in attendance as inspectors and instructors gave it a good rating for efficiency.

Since that time the regular army officer stationed in this district as inspector instructor made a special visit, approved the issue of horse equipment to the local troop, and promised the issue of horses to the local troop as soon as arrangements had been made for stables. These arrangements had practically been completed when the plans for reorganization of the guard halted them—it not having been determined whether the local units would be reorganized as cavalry or in other arms.

In either case, Major D. M. Perkins, who succeeded to the command of the Fourth regiment since the inspector's visit, and Captain John W. Naylor, who was later put in charge of the local troop, recommended to division headquarters that the local unit be disbanded, in order that the units to be reorganized could have a new start, without the disadvantages which have faced the local troop during the past two years.

These recommendations were submitted to a representative of the division headquarters, who was making a survey preparatory to the reorganization. By a disbandment of the local troop those men who came into the organization during the war, and who wish to get out, would be released.

It is also expected that the new organization will be wholly recruited among ex-service men, who would be slow to come into an organization the training of some of whose members was less advanced than their own—throwing their drills into the rudimentary and monotonous side of military training.

Several units of the new national guard, which will retain the designations, the flags and the history of the Thirty-sixth division, which was the war-time designation of the original Texas national guard division, are to be retained by the new organization. What arms the units to be organized locally will belong to has not been determined. As practically all of the local ex-officers and men prefer either the infantry or artillery, it is expected that these units will predominate, although it is believed that an aviation unit may be organized here, also.

Definite plans for the organization are to be discussed by a representative of division headquarters with local ex-service officers at a meeting to be called in the near future.

As an explanation of the poor rating given the local troop, and for the benefit of those officers who organized the local unit, and had charge practically for its whole existence, the present officers point to the local troop's lack of an armory and all of the facilities for carrying on any of the activities of the organization.

The unusual conditions obtaining in Wichita Falls during the two years of the oil development made this impossible, as the government allowance for army rent would not have sufficed the local organization for the rent of a single bedroom in Wichita Falls, much less an armory.

Following the adjustment of local conditions, and after he had taken charge of the local troop, Major Perkins presented the situation to the local Chamber of Commerce. The chamber offered to step into the breach and aid the organization in obtaining an armory. In view of reorganization plans, however, it was decided by the local authorities to let the matter slide over until the receipt of more definite information as to the reorganization plans.

The Ninetieth division, the Texas-Oklahoma national army division, is to also be reorganized under the new plan, being officered by its former personnel, who will go into the officers reserve corps, and by enlisted men assigned from the enlisted reserve corps.

TAX DODGERS ARE SENT TO JAIL

METHUEN.—The first city to punish tax dodgers and delinquents in this state is the "baby city of Methuen." Three of the city's well-known men who failed to pay up their back poll taxes were sentenced to the "debtors' wing" at the Lawrence house of correction. Two of them quit the jail the first day and the third worked out seven days.

The men were permitted more liberties than the regular prisoners, the only orders exacted outside of regular prison rules being that they keep their rooms clean. A plan is now afoot to jail Lawrence tax delinquents, and before the week is over several debtors to the city in tax will be tasting jail fare.

STATE MOTTOES

The state motto of Florida is "In God Is Our Trust," while South Dakota expresses a similar sentiment in "Under God, the People Rule." Nevada is patriotic with her "All For Our Country." Vermont has a like declaration in "Freedom and Unity," and Oregon briefly expresses the same idea in "The Union."

STOPS TRAFFIC ON CUSTOMARY ROUTE TO PARK

Work of laying pavement on the Wichita Falls & Northwestern railway crossing on the regular Iowa Park and Electra highway will necessitate traffic being discontinued on this route until the project is completed, according to an order Wednesday from the county commissioners court.

The court advised the use of the Burnett street bridge for travel in the Iowa Park direction and points west until paving in the railroad crossing section of the regular road can be completed.

J. M. Isbell, county engineer, said that work of paving the lake road will be finished within the next ten days, provided that existing weather contitions continue.

Two concrete mixing machines are kept working every day and a force of from 30 to 40 ment has been steadily operating in distributing the cement from the machines. Travel over the road after it is completed, it was announced, will be delayed for some time in order to leave it in the best state of preservation possible.

SEVERAL COMPLETIONS IN K. M. A. DISTRICT MARKETS; FEATURE OIL REPORTS

Completion of good wells in several of the various pools of the district provide interest for the latter part of the week in oil operations, the largest well reported being the No. 8 Munger of Art, Haynes and Cranfill, in the east part of Block 30, a 300-barrel producer from the regulation K. M. A. sand, 1750 feet, another item of interest from this part of the K. M. A. is the successful drilling a short distance further into the sand in the K. M. A. and Sibley Drilling Company's fifty-fifty well, increasing the production from around 75 barrels, to 200 barrels.

Block 41, the South K. M. A. pool, has another good producer, the No. 6 of the Block 41 Oil Company. Two other wells are reported from this south part of the pool, Hill and Roberts having a 65-barrel well of their No. 1 in block 21, and the Texhoma Oil and Refining Company's first well in block 16 is reported about a 35-barrel well. This latter named well is the first production in block 16, and provides a westward extension.

The Texhoma completions include a 75-barrel well for the Texhoma Oil and Refining Company, their No. 22 Mrs. M. J. Powell.

News from the gas pool, now developing into a really important phase of the oil developments, indicates that the O'Dell Oil Company's No. 1 H. Beach has increased it's flow from less than five to twenty millions, and that the Chisco No. 1 Beach, is making a million and a quarter feet.

K. M. A. Drilling Operations

Hill and Roberts are reported drilling around 1,000 feet in their No. 2 W. J. Logan et al, block 21, this well offsetting the Willis well in block 20. In block 41 the No. 7 of the Block 41 Oil Company is reported to have cemented casing.

In block 20 the Universal Drilling Company is reported preparing to drill their No. 2, offsetting their No. 1 Lewis, which was brought in a few days ago from the 1500-foot sand pumping around 175 barrels.

In this same block, the No. 1 Lewis of Smith et al, is reported preparing to shoot the 1760-foot sand. This test is reported to have encountered a showing around 1700 feet, presumably the sand which has been reported in the Kemp, Munger, Allen No. 6 Munger, and the Walker Consolidated No. 2 Ferguson, the former in block 30, the latter in block 22, both northeast of the Smith test. The sand at this depth gave no favorable indications, it is reported, and the hole was plugged back to the 1760-foot depth.

The block 21 test of Porter and Barnard which has been reported on the 1640-foot sand for a couple of weeks has not been successful in making a producer at this depth, according to reports. The No. 1 has drilled down to the 1750-foot sand, it is reported, and is preparing to test.

Temple and White Pool

The Parker ranch continues to be the object of much interest, the Temple and White and Tillicum producer maintaining a gratifying production, while the second test is on the sand and preparing to complete, and the Bill Rowe Oil Company's new test should be a producer before the first of the coming week, indications justifying the belief that a real oil pool is being opened up.

The two Cline tests have set casing, and a star is being moved on to drill in the No. 1 on the 20-acre lease, to the east of the discovery well. The No. 1 on the 50-acre lease, south of the discovery well. The No. 1 on the 50-acre lease, south, of the original well, is waiting on a star. Casing was set slightly below 1300 feet.

The first well is reported to have kept up a remarkably good production all through the month, putting better than 150 barrels daily averaged, into the pipelines during the time it produced in October, as well as supplying the oil to run the rig on the No. 2 and supplying other drilling rigs nearby.

This section is leading in new locations, and new drilling operations reported from all over the district. In addition to the three tests reported above as ready to drill in the following new locations, or new rigs have been reported. McDowell and Franklin, No. 1 B. Parker, block 12, Palo Pinto county school lands; Red Burk Oil Company, No. 1 M. Parker, block 8, Palo Pinto school lands; Flagg Oil Company, No. 1 B. Parker, block 19, P. P. C. S. lands; Keene and Garret, No. 1 M. Parker, block 21, P. P. C. S. lands; The Greater States Oil Company's No. 1 Munden is reported rigging up.

Archer County Operations

The Bissonet and Cezreaux No. 2 Parkey is still unable to complete according to latest reports, trouble still being encountered with the casing, which is reported set again, in cement. The No. 3 is reported drilling around 1500 feet. R. O. Harvey's test on the Ferguson, is reported drilling around a thousand feet, and the Bass and Dilliard No. 1, a nearby test, is reported drilling around 750 feet. The Bissonet et al No. 1 Riggs, is reported rigging up.

Texhoma's New Powell Well.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining Company's latest completion in the Texhoma pool is the No. 22 Mrs. M. J. Powell, making 75 barrels. This is in the north part of the Texhoma pool and the sand is the usual 1300-foot Texhoma depth. The Walker Consolidated's No. 1 Mrs. M. J. Powell is slated to be an immediate completion.

While the gas developments have in a measure overshadowed other operations in the Texhoma, because of the great interest in an adequate gas supply in this section, the district is continuing very active, with regard to drilling operations for the various producing oil sands, and a number of tests are reported on the sand, drilling in, or rigging up to pump. The Nos. 4 and 6 Daniels, of the Aggers Oil Company are reported drilling in, with No. 5 same lease on the sand.

The Stumpf Oil and Gas Co., is reported putting its No. 2 Beach, on the pump, and drilling around 1250 feet in its No. 1 A. H. Fowler, block 12 of the Red river valley lands. The Hobbs Oil Company's No. 21 Daniel is reported on the sand. The No. 2 Dodson of Wirt Franklin, offsetting the 150-barrel well completed by Franklin last week, is reported rigging up.

The test of the Texas Gusher Oil Company on the Livermore farm, south of Texhoma pool, is reported as making progress on testing out a sand drilled at 1680 feet. The Invader Oil and Refining Company's No. 9 Daniel, which has a deep sand, from 1760 to 1780 feet, is held up in testing on account of a fishing job, according to latest available information.

W. G. Skelly Well at Clara

The W. G. Skelly No. 2 Ramming, on the 30-acre lease south of the McCallister and Brown original well in this North Clara pool, is reported as completed, good for more than 100 barrels. Skelly is drilling several other wells on this, and a larger lease, in the vicinity.

The Forty-Nine Oil Company's No. 1 Ramming, north of the McCallister and Brown lease, and the furthest north the Ramming sand has been drilled so far, has drilled 30 feet of rich looking sand, according to latest reports from the field, from 1761 to 1791, and is now preparing to shoot the sand, and complete. The McBam Oil Company's No. 6 F. W. Prechel has not yet completed cleaning out after being shot.

K. and G. Well on Michna

A new well for the Kansas and Gulf Company on the Michna lease, block 819, reported good for 100 barrels, is practically the only new development reported from the Burkburnett northwest. There is no change in the status of the deep test in the north part of block 819, though the crew is reported still at work.

In the Burkburnett townsite pool the Magnolia Petroleum Company is reported getting ready to drill a new hole for the No. 13 Vancleave. The first No. 13 had been completed, and was making around 150 barrels, when it was junked, according to reports. This is practically the only new drilling being done in the townsite pool.

On C. Birk Tract

The No. 1 C. Birk of the Aldine Oil Corporation, east of the Arkansas Texas well which got a new 1830-foot sand, between Clara and the Bowers and Burk Cameron wells some weeks ago, is reported to have made some flows the latter part of the week being the first of the tests started after the strike of the Arkansas Texas, to show any material developments. The Arkansas Texas well is understood to be pumping about forty barrels now.

The Universal Company, which drilled a test on the Schroeder tract, block 828, is reported drilling around 1600 feet in their No. 1 Myers, block 830. The Schroeder test got an oil sand around 1900 feet, deeper than the other wells in this neighborhood, but trouble with the hole prevented testing. Another test is to be put down here, it is understood.

PUPILS AT TEXAS BUILD OIL REFINERY

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—One of the most accurate mechanical engineering jobs on record is being done in the shop department of the College of Engineering, University of Texas. The piece is a three-ton centrifugal oil refiner, being made on special order. When in motion this machine makes 2,000 revolutions a minute, causing the thick oil to gravitate to the outside and the thin oil to the center.

Each part of the apparatus has to be within one thousandth part of an inch in correctness or the machine is a failure. The machine is being made in the university shops, it is stated, because no other shop in this part of the state has the tools and necessary apparatus for the machine.

AUTHOR'S HEART WENT INTO FILM OF FAMOUS PLAY

The man who wrote "The Street Called Stright" first as a novel and now as a great motion picture is nearly blind. He put his heart into the story, but he will never be able to enjoy the photoplay as it is now possible for the rest of the world to enjoy it. The author is Basil King, who nearly lost his silght one Fourth of July when trying to rescue two small boys from a giant fire-cracker.

Alive with the spirit of good-fellowship, "The Street Called Straight" is a masterpiece of the photographic art. Seldom may fine pictures be seen on the screen or finer acting by people in high moments of self-sacrifice. It is not a drama of the rip-snorting type full of hair breadth escapes, but its quality is being talked about wherever pictures are shown.

"The Street Called Straight" reveals the kindly influence derived from the practice of tolerance and it seems even more sweet after the bitter experiences of the last five years and the sour taste of the very dear fruits that are the outcome of intolerance.

This production has an exceptionally able cast, with two women and two men in the leading roles. The characters are honest, straight-forward human beings, with all the passions and faults of their kind, and the honesty with which the author has imbued them guides their actions in a manner that saves those around them from sorrow and shame.

Lawrence Butt and Milton Sills are the two male leads and Naomi Childers and Irene Rich play opposite them. The portrayals of these four well-known actors and actresses are superb.

Mr. King, who helped produce this adaptation of his novel, says that neither the thought nor the essence of his story have been lost in its change from the written version to the photoplay production.

The picture was directed by Wallace Worsley, a man whose accomplishments in the motion picture world are well known, one who has definitely proven his right to claim a position among the famous directors of today by his splendid treatment of the theme offered by Basil King's novel. The splendid photographic effects were secured by Robert Newhard.

An excellent cast, including besides those already mentioned, Jane Sterling, Charles Clary, Alec B. Frances, and Lydia Yeamans Titus have given their talent to making "The Street Called Straight" one of the best productions of its kind.

HADES SCENES REPRODUCED IN TALMADGE FILM

Scenes in Hades, said to rival even the most fanciful of Dore's famous drawings, have been reproduced on the screen in Norma Talmadge's latest First National starring vehicle, "The Branded Woman," which will be shown at the Olympic Theatre, commencing Monday.

Because of the elaborate nature of the sets called for in this motion picture, which was adapted by Anita Loos and Albert Parker from Oliver D. Bailey's well known stage play, "Branded," Hugo Ballin was engaged to design them. The result has been an artistic triumph.

In addition to beautiful interiors for a private house in Paris and the Ritz Hotel, a fashoinable boarding school for girls up the Hudson, the library and other rooms of a wealthy New Yorker's home are some remrakable scenes in India.

The scenes of the Far East reveal an open market place and a slave-block, where Norma, as the heroine, is sold at public auction, with donkeys, camels and natives in picturesque costume lending a touch of "atmosphere."

But most remarkable of all are the allegorical scenes in Hades. One of these sets, which represents a dream of Norma's wherein she imagines herself dragged down by Society in a hideous whirlpool of slime and filth, from which she is rescued by the man she loves, was filmed in a huge pool discolored and apparently filled with horrible creeping creatures like the "slimy things that crawl with wings" in "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

So hideously realistic is this pool into which Norma plunges in a costly and beautiful costume, that the other members of the cast and the "extras" playing the roles of unfortunates caught in the river of lost souls, hesitated to enter the water until Norma herself plunged in.

SURGERY WITHOUT PAIN

Chloroform was not discovered by Sir James Simpson. It was the famous English surgeon, however, two sixteen years agter the anesthetic was first discovered in 1831, began his experiments. He boldly tried chloroform on himself and two colleagues to test its effect, and the three were discovered one day lying on the floor, apparently dead. They recovered and compared notes, and so chloroform came into general scurgical use.

DOES GOOD END JUSTIFY TRICK, STORY OF FILM

Is it cruel to deceive when the deception is for a good end? Which was better—to leave a blind girl blind—and believing her friends good and beautiful—or to give her sight, with the bitter shock of finding them common crooks?

Such are the problems unfolded in "Eyes of the Heart," which opens at the Empress Theatre for two days beginning Monday. It is the newest Mary Miles Minter production for Realart and was adapted from the popular Ladies' Home Journal series, "Blindness," by Dana Burnet.

As the blind girl whose restored sight brings a train of intensely dramatic revelations, Mary Miles Minter has a role entirely different from anything she has ever done. The struggle through disillusionment to happiness is said to be an especially rare piece of acting.

Certainly "Eyes of the Heart" satisfies the plea that an exhibitor give his patrons a "variety" of amusement. The play is entirely different from any previous Minter productions. The part of Laura gives the star a rare opportunity to prove to the motion picture public that she is really versatile and not a "one type" star.

Edward Burns, who has played leading man for Elsie Ferguson, Valeska Surratt, Olga Petrova, and other famous stars, is excellently cast as Mike, the young burglar whose love for the helpless Laura is the one true thing in his lawless life. Splendid character work is done by Lucien Littlefield as a pickpocket, and Burton Law, a Jewish pawnbroker, who finds that a kind heart interferes with business! Also in the cast are Fred Turner, Florence Midgley, John Cook, Wm. E. Parsons and Loyola O'Connor. The production was directed by Paul Powell with scenario by Clara G. Kennedy.

Film Fans Will See Russell Here

Film fans, the country over, have seen and admired William Russell, stalwart hero of innumerable photoplays, in many stories; they have seen him in dress clothes, cow-boy chaps, as a man of wealth, and as a human derelict; but, now they are to have a chance to see him in blackface, for during the action of "Hobbs in a Hurry," his newest photoplay, he disguises himsef as a Pullman porter, to be near the girl he loves.

Russell takes a full advantage of the fun possibilities that lie in such a makeup and laughs galore result as one watches him attempt to perform the routine duties of a Pullman porter. "Hobbs in a Hurry" will be shown at the Plaza theater on Tuesday.

MINERAL WELLS TO HAVE CURING PLANT

MINERAL WELLS, Nov. 27.—Contemplation of a sweet potato curing plant is being made by the local Chamber of Commerce. An effort is being made to get farmers and business men closer. It has been figured that the erection of a curing plant here would save between 50 and 75 per cent of the potato production annually, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. An active campaign will be put on to stimulate the growing of the tubers and to assure the erection here of a plant to store them.

LOVE FINDS ITS WAY OUT AND VILLAIN LOSES

The Majestic Theatre has a surprise attraction in its picture program Monday in presenting Constance Binney in a screen version of her recent stage success, "39 East."

To those who enjoyed the stage play the motion picture version will have an even bigger appeal because of the fact that situations have been supplanted for much of the dialogue, creating a lot of fine humor. The material has been presented in a high class and appealing fashion and all of the high lights of the stage version have been brought into the motion picture play. The characters who played on the speaking stage are the same in the motion picture play, with the exception of the role of Gibbs, played by the man who played the part of O'Brien in the original play.

Constance Binney, the featured player, enacts her role in a charming manner, and she will win a large number of followers. The cast is well selected and renders the star good support. The action of the play is for the most part within the portals of an exclusive New York boardinghouse. Some scenes are laid in Central Park and a number of interesting scenes in the theatre where Constance Binney performs a delightful dance.

Penelope Penn goes to New York, ambitious to earn sufficient money to pay for the college education of her three small brothers, but she finds the city altogether different from her expectations and so as a last resort becomes a member of a chorus and understudy to the leading lady. There is considerable gossip and speculation regarding the niceness of Penelope when boarders find her coming in at all hours. Added to this there is the attentions of young Napoleon Gibbs, who fell in love with Penelope the moment he met her. Gibbs tries to tell Penelope of his love, but only bungles matters to the extent that Penelope does not believe in his sincerity and rather trusts herself with the scoundrelly manager of the show. However, love has a little way of smoothing out misunderstandings and happiness comes to the two.

SOPRANO IRONS AND WASHES TO IMPROVE VOICE

Marie Rappold, the famous soprano of the Metropolitan, who will sing here at the Wichita theater Monday night under the auspices of the Musicians club, has conceived a unique method for improving the voice, the figure and the disposition simultaneously. Mme. Rappold's favorite indoor sport does all these things, she says. It is washing clothes.

"It is my pet hobby," she declared, laughing at the interviewer's growing astonishment. "You had not pictured me as a laundress in private life, I fancy. You expected me to describe some breathing exercises as the great panacea. But laundering is just as good as a breathing exercise and heaps more fun.

"My vice had its roots in childhood. When I was little, one of my favorite pastimes was washing my dolls' clothes. I was encouraged in this domestic tendency, which was, I believe, one of the few that I manifested, and a complete outfit, tub, board, wringer, etc., was given to me. But where my tale diverges from the ordinary is in the fact that I have never lost my infantile pleasure in washing. But I had precious little time to indulge it until I bought my farm in Calicoon, N. Y., a few years ago.

"There, on the third floor, is a small room with windows on three sides and the sunlight pouring in on the white tiles, a sort of glorified ice box, it resembles. The floors and ceilings are completely tiled in the best white material that could be procured in Holland, the sole furniture is two white porcelain tubs with burnished copper faucets, and a single chair. A snowy apron hangs ready for me on a peg and a pair of quaint sabots stand beneath it, so that I will not get my feet wet when I splash the water about.

"This is where I repair three times weekly. The exercise with the torso and arms is splendid for chest and abdomen and for my figure as well. I believe that everyone should do some one thing with the thoughtless concentration and physical absorption of a child, as it makes one fresh and merry. The modern science of psychoanalysis urges the value of this latter theory."

Business Men of Wichita Falls Believe Period of Depression In This Section is Now Passed

Wichita Falls' period of deflation is practically over, and local commercial and industrial institutions are on the firmest and healthiest basis they have enjoyed since the beginning of the war period. Business here is already giving indications of added strength, and the next few months will show a healthy movement in all lines of activity.

Such is the consensus of opinion on local business conditions expressed by bankers, merchants and manufacturers who have been approached in this connection within the past week. A new spirit of confidence and of self-congratulation for themselves and fellow business men on their present condition, with the feeling that locally the worst of the readjustment is over, was apparent with those in each branch of local commercial life.

This feeling was particularly apparent among bankers and merchants in connection with the conditions of local merchants, who, of course, were the first to be faced with the readjustment problem. "They are in fine shape," said one of the leading bankers. "They have cut down their holdings to the point required by the present situation and have their stocks at prices which are generously adjusted to present market conditions.

"They have reached this healthy condition through the entire willingness of every man of them to recognize the line of action he should take, and to do his part in bringing about this readjustment."

Banks Showing Strength.

Healthy conditions shown by statements of local banks on the last call, all indicating a decrease in loans and an increase in reserves, with only a slight part of the decrease in deposits which might be expected from the decrease in loans, it is pointed out, is an infallible corroboration of this statement of improved conditions. One local bank, for instance, showed a decrease in loans of more than two millions in a month and 10-day period preceding the last call, with only a corresponding decrease of $450,000 in deposits, regarded by local business men as an extraordinarily fine record.

In speaking optimistically of local business conditions, however, and the entering into an easier period, it is emphatically pointed out there is no chance of returning to the period of over-inflation which has just been gone through, with its high prices, its unlimited supply of money for speculative purposes for the asking. That, all are agreed, has passed with the war and its after period. What is expected is an easier condition, with plenty of money available for the needs of legitimate business.

Worse Yet to Come.

While holding this view of local conditions, most business leaders anticipate a worse period yet to come, in the country as a whole—particularly with regard to conditions in the industrial centers of the East and North. Better conditions, and the quicker readjustment in the Southwest are ascribed to the lack of the multitude of war-time industries, so apparent in the industrial parts of the East and North, and the lack of a large labor population who are bound to be out of whole-time employment during the period of readjusting those industries from war-time to peace-time activities. This has as yet been only partly accomplished there. In addition to this, it is pointed out that the Southwest is a producer of raw materials, for which there must be a steady demand, practically regardless of business conditions, and has facilities for feeding itself at home while conditions are resuming the normal. Wichita county is particularly fortunate in this respect, on account of the millions of dollars which are distributed within the county every two weeks from its oil production, giving local business a larger amount of ready money to carry on with than will be found in practically any other section of the country.

Buying Pleasure Cars.

Increasing amounts of business for the automobile men, particularly in pleasure cars, is regarded as another highly favorable indication of local conditions. This is apparent, not only in the higher priced pleasure cars, but in the lower priced cars as well. For instance, the Ford business, both in numbers of cars placed and the parts business, is the largest of any county, it is believed here, in the state.

There are not only a larger number of these cars under contract to come into this county than into any of the larger counties, but many cars are being placed here which were contracted for and not taken by dealers in other parts of the state. Various dealers in commercial machines report the largest business of any agencies in their district. In the matter of high-priced pleasure cars, one needs, to be convinced of the flourishing state of the business, only to take a Sunday afternoon drive around the city on Sunday afternoon, or on a holiday, when they can hardly fail to see from $50,000 to $100,000 of the higher priced cars whose newness, it can readily be determined, is only a case of the last week or two.

Study Program To Be Arranged By Ad Leaguers

Steps for putting an extensive study program into effect will be considered at Monday's Ad Club luncheon at the Kemp hotel at 12:10. It is one of the purposes of the club to afford its members who desire to do so, an opportunity to form classes for studying advertising in its various technical phases, and it is hoped to get this work under way at tomorrow's luncheon.

John Gould, who attended the meeting of the state committee of the Associated Advertising clubs at Waco last week, will submit a report upon what was done there.

A full attendance of all members is requested by President Daugherty. The luncheon will start promptly at 12.10.

CHARLIE GINS CUT PRICE ON GINNING COST

The charge for ginning cotton has been cut at Charlie, Tex., 21 miles from here, J. B. Jamieson, owner of two local gin properties, said Saturday in connection with a forecast that the scale would also be reduced here. Mr. Jamieson is interested in the Charlie property.

While he agreed with the Farmers' Cotton Oil company spokesman that labor and fuel costs here are so high that a cut in ginning charges is difficult to bring about without incurring loss, Jamieson insisted that he "believed a cut would be made in Wichita Falls before the end of the ginning season."

"We have the highest ginning scale here of any section in the state in so far as I know of," Jamieson said. "We are paying three times as much for fuel oil as we formerly paid."

The Farmers' Cotton Oil company pointed out that labor costs are very high and that there has been no reduction there in Wichita Falls. He said that fuel oil which formerly cost 80 cents per barrel costs him $3.50 now.

He declared that some Texas gins have ostensibly cut the ginning charge only to make it back by a reduction in the price paid for the cotton seed. The Farmers' Cotton Oil company has not cut the price it pays for seed. Neither it nor Jamieson have cut ginning charges here yet.

WEST TEXAS BRICK BOUGHT FOR DALLAS

COLEMAN, Nov. 27.—Another time the brick of West Texas has scored. The local brick plant has secured the order for the brick for the Magnolia Oil company's $1,500,000 office building at Dallas, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The quality of the clay here makes a superior brick or tiling.

The City National Bank of Commerce has seen many small Savings Accounts grow to substantial proportions through the regular addition of moderate amounts. For this reason the bank welcomes and appreciates Savings Deposits in any amount from $1.00 upwards.—Adv.

OWNERS REPORT CARS INCREASE OWN EFFICIENCY

More than 6,800,000 men added 57 per cent to their productive efficiency during the past year. More than 2,300,000 families have found it possible to live in the suburbs or otherwise improve their home surroundings. A working force equivalent to 1,600,000 laborers is being applied to farming. Such is the creative effectiveness of the passenger car, as reported in replies to thousands of cards sent to car owners.

This questionnaire, conducted by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, went to automobile license holders taken at random from the registration lists of ten widely diverse states: California, Iowa, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Texas, Virginia and Wyoming. The card asked the owner's occupation, the annual mileage, the amount of mileage used for business and for recreation, the amount used to supplement or in lieu of trolley or rail connection. It asked to what extent the passenger car increased the owner's business, and whether it affected his housing problem or living conditions. The present figures are compiled from answers to the first 10,000 cards of this survey which is being further extended until information on the uses of cars by all classes of owners is fully determined.

90 Per Cent Business Cars.

Ninety per cent of the owners reported that they used their cars more or less for business, while ten per cent stated that their automobiles were for recreation use only. The average increased efficiency of the car owner is 56.7 per cent. A number report but small gai nin productivity, but this is heavily overbalanced by the testimony of the farmers who have added nearly seventy per cent to their labor effectiveness, and by the doctors and salesmen whose business is doubled, tripled and in some cases quadrupled through use of the car.

Gain of 3,000,000 Men.

The use of the passenger car, accordingly has meant anet gain to industry of 3,000,000 men. There are more than 7,000,000 automobile owners in the country, each increasing his efficiency 56.7 per cent through the use of the car, making an addition to the business productivity of the country in excess of 3,900,000 workers. As there are between 800,000 and 900,000 men manufacturing and selling passenger cars, parts and accessories, there remains a net gain of more than 3,000,000 men. If one were to add the productive efficiency of the 750,000 motor trucks now in use a still greater gain would be shown.

Farmer Greatest Gainer.

The largest gian in productivity has been in farm life. There are 2,367,000 farmers owning cars. The answers from farmers reported 68 per cent increase in productivity of the owner or an addition equivalent to 1,609,000 hired men.

Big Relief in Housing.

Norman Angell in "The Great Illusion" predicted that war would be impossible because it would mean national suicide. But he did not take into account the infinite ingenuity of man. In America the passenger automobile has been the great factor in solving reconstruction problems. The cessation of building during the war has meant overcrowded conditions everywhere. But 3 7per cent of the car owners, 2,300,000 families, are finding the automobile a hel pin this situation, enabling them to live in the suburbs, and otherwise improving their living conditions.

The railroad and trolley lines which have been handicapped by war conditions are being relieved and supplemented by automobiles. Sixty-two per cent of the car owners report that they use their motor vehicles instead of traveling by rail or electric line. Over one-third of the total automobile mileage is used in this way.

Every Walk of Life Aided.

The passenger car has brought increased efficiency in every walk of life. The heaviest users are farmers with physicians and salesmen next in line. Contractors, real estate dealers, and insurance men find cars especially useful. Manufacturers and merchants are among the larger classes of automobile owners.

Among the other classes who answered the questionnaire were: bankers, carpenters, mechanics, architects, barbers, teachers, clergymen, whosalers, artists, undertakers, mail carriers, builders, plumbers, credit men, public accountants, government officials, tobacco brokers, lawyers, hotel men, theatrical men, oil men, superintendents of docks, musicians, miners, railroad executives, and others.

Banks Find Car a Utility.

Forty per cent of the bankers who replied to the question card found the car a help in their business. A Minnesota banker reports that the car has multiplied his business efficiency "ten times." Another writes: "Car use, even on pleasure trips, gives a banker much better understanding of his customers, particularly livestock customers." A third writes of his car's use in business: "I cannot do without it."

BLOW-OUTS FROM AUTO ROW

The automobile game in Wichita Falls the past week is holding up well, from all reports gathered from the dealers in the city. The sale of new cars reported compares favorably with those of the early part of the month and the cars received are a trifle above the average for the past few weeks. Second-hand cars are moving nicely and the expected "slump" in prices of these cars has not yet materialized. November, as a whole, should be one of the best fall months of the year, judging from all indications.

The Lloyd Weaver company reports the sale of a few Packards and an Essex for the past week, besides having several cars en route. According to Mr. Hall of this firm the single-six Packard is meeting with much favor in this territory and bids fair to uphold its reputation for twin sixes.

Many friends of C. O. Fritz of the local Marmon agency will be grieved to learn of his serious illness, which took him to Oklahoma City and, possibley to Mayo Brothers sanitarium in Rochester, Minn., the past week. Mr. Frizt has been ailing for some time and was accompanied by his brother, D. L. Fritz, local dealer. It is to be hoped that he will soon be among us again.

Jack Williams of the Loco-Cole company made a flying trip the past week to south Texas points and took with him four second-hand cars with drivers. Mr. Williams returned Thursday minus the cars, so we are led to believe that he sold them. This is one way of disposing of second-hand stock, and very effective, according to Mr. Williams.

O. H. Randle and A. O. Hickman, local dealers for Willard storage batteries, spent the past week in Dallas on a business trip. This trip was planned some time ago, but owing to the demands of the Willard on their time, it was not taken as soon as anticipated.

Among the many sales of the week reported is one made by the W. W. Tire company, which also handles the Wichita truck. They report the sale of one of these trucks, an Oil Field Special. The tire business is good, according to Mr. Cook of this firm, and although they would like to make Christmas presents for their customers in tires, they are afraid they will not have the stock to go around.

One of the many automobile men who spent Thanksgiving out of the city was J. E. Zinn of the Lloyd Weaver company, who went to Fort Worth. What his business was there we don't know, but we had not heard of any baseball games scheduled.

C. C. Randle, popular tire dealer, was in Burkburnett a few days this week to care for business matters. To quote Mr. Randle:

"They must have tires, and they want good ones, so I can't spent all my time in the city."

W. S. Haid of the Sanders-Haid company reports the sale of two tractors the past few days. One of these, a Cleveland, and the other a Yuba tractor have proven up wonderfully well in the past for this territory, and the outlook for spring business in this line was never better.

Homer Crawford of the Crawford Auto company, popular Velie distributor, spent a few days out of the city last week, but before he left he took time to sell a sedan, a touring car and a roadster. Now Homer is a busy man considering the number of Velies he has run in the back door and out the front the last week or so, but he manages somehow to keep a car or so ahead of the crowd for immediate delivery.

The show room of Nolen-Stringer has been a popular place of late for those interested in good-looking automobiles, thanks to the presence of one of the new Lincoln cars on display. Mr. Nolen states that this machine, which is new in Wichita Falls, is meeting with great favor by several hundred admirers since it has been on the floor, and the prospects for business in this car could not be better.

Cheaper Cars To Save Lives Of Some Makers

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26.—The low-priced car which many manufacturers have of late added to their high-priced line may pull them into the lead during the coming year, trades people believe. The conviction has grown that the anticipated revival of the automobile business may be delayed as regards the more expensive lines well into the coming year. Export trade revival is much impeded under present unfavorable and uncertain exchange conditions and the outlook prior to more certain international arrangements is not regarded as gratfying.

But while the foreign adjustment is being made the "bread and butter car" is being pushed forward by large producers in the apparent belief that the low-priced car will be selling at normal rates before the high-priced cars regain their stride. Notable examples of the supplementary line are the Packard with its $6,000 twin-six and $2,975 single six, the Chandler at $1,895 with the Cleveland at $1,435; the Hudson at $2,400 with the Essex at $1,595; the Studebaker big six at $2,150 with the light six at $1,485; the Nash six at $1,695 with the four at $1,395; the Chalmers at $1,795 with the Maxwell at $995; the Paige Lakewood at $2,795 with the Glenbrook at $1,770; the Overland Knight, $2,195 with the four at $895.

WANTS TO TAX AUTOS HIGHER

DETROIT, Nov. 26.—Secretary Houston's proposed plan to increase the Federal sales tax on passenger cars from 5 per cent, the present rate, to 10 per cent, and the tax on trucks from 2 to 8 per cent, has drawn a storm of protests from Detroit automobile and truck manufacturers.

"Absurd," "ruinous," "grand stand play," "insane," were some of the expressions emitted when word of the Secretary's proposal was received by leaders of the automotive industry.

Loudest among the protests were the motor car makers. It is proposed to boost their tax to 5 times its present figure.

"Just how Secretary Houston figures the automobile truck is a luxury, I don't know," said James Haslett president of the Signal Motor Truck Company. "Evidently it is three times as much of a luxury as a passenger car, at least the proposed increase in taxation is three times as much. America has an enormous potential market for trucks at present, to say nothing of the export market. But with tightened credit, we cannot help out industry with this necessary equipment. We did our best, cut our prices and accepted losses. Now comes this proposition to add to our losses an enormous burden of taxation. It can't be done, that's all."

Very Serious.

"The proposition would be funny if it were not so serious," said W. C. Rowley, vice president of the Federal Motor Truck company. "Sales are the goose that lays the golden eggs of government income. Such taxation at this critical time would kill the goose. Tire, steel and part makers immediately would feel the effect as prices rose and sales descended. It would be a fine recipe for a panic."

"The proposition carries no indorsement by the party really in power, and is ridiculous on its face," said Killiam T. Nash, secretary-treasurer of the Lincoln Motors corporation. "No sane man would put through such a measure, fraught with dangers, at such a time. Two million Americans will testify that the automobile is no such luxury as should be prohibitively taxed, and an equal number would rise with wrath at a measure which would take away their bread or butter."

SURVEY SHOWS AUTO INDUSTRY NEAR NORMAL

DETROIT, Nov. 26.—"The automobile trade has not been hit so hard as other lines of industry, in the present depression; it is already picking up, and all concerned are conservatively optimistic.

This opinion of the present condition of the automobile industry was given Thursday by Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Reeves has just completed a canvass of the principal sales agents of the United States. He came to Detroit to address the motor truck sales managers' convention in the Hotel Statler, Thursday night, and the Detroit Auto Dealers' Association, Friday night.

Will Improve.

"Christmas trade will stimulate the flow of money, and therefore the sale of cars," said Mr. Reeves. "The closed-car business gives signs of a very good season — perhaps not so good as the winter of 1919-20, which was phenomenal, but undoubtedly better than any other year. When the dealers close their books for the present year they will have made a very creditable showing," said Mr. Reeves.

"A canvass of twenty-seven districts in the country brings reports of four where automobile sales are falling back, six where there is little gain or loss, and seventeen where the trade is picking up. The South is the district showing a decline, while Massachusetts records 100,000 car sales for October," he said.

Will Be Slow.

"The depression is not over. Sales will be slow until after the January shows, then, the consensus of opinion is, the trade gradually will build up to slightly better than a normal level.

"We are coming to realize that the automobile business is almost a quasi-public utility. Every one is interested in it. It gets more publicity than any other line. And when there is a general depression of industry, the incidental depression of the automobile business, occasions much comment.

"We have had three periods of depression in the automobile trade before, in 1907, 1914 and 1919. Not one of them lasted more than ninety days. The present slump bids fair to run true to form."

Not Affected.

The Reo Motor Car Company, the Dort Motor Car Company and the Federal Motor Truck Company maintain that their business has not been affected by the slump in the automobile vehicle industry. An official of the Federal company says that the company has been working diligently the past two months with a view of meeting just such a condition as confronts the industry at present.

"This campaign," he says, "we have been told by sales experts, is one of the most complete that has even been utilized in any industry, and we can truthfully say at this time that the campaign, only fifteen days old, is selling trucks at the present time at the rate of 300 per month for us, even in the face of present conditions. We have refused to accept the idea that business is going to be poor for any length of time. We have persuaded our entire sales organization that there is no need for them to stop working at this time, and they have been going harder than ever, and the results are telling in the orders.

Most Improve.

"We are not only confident, but we are sure that the truck transportation line is going to be good for 1921, for it's pretty good already."

Several days ago the Federal company began work on an addition to its plans which will increase its floor space by 60,000 square feet. This will give the plant a total of 330,000 square feet.

Several weeks ago the Reo Motor Car company announced officially it was enjoying the biggest production period in its history, and employing the largest number of workers. Now it is reported that this condition has continued, the company having orders for a long time to come. At the same time the Reo company has started one of the most extensive national advertising campaigns in its career.

The Dort Motor Car Company, another big producer of passenger cars, is said to be doing an excellent business. Several of its dealers and distributors have declared thta sales have been the best they ever had. Of course, this does not apply to all parts of the country. In the South, for instance, reports are current that sales of automobiles have decreased materially during the past month.

Signs of reviving production continue to appear at other Michigan plants. The Republic Truck Company at Alma is reported as producing 100 trucks a month, and disposing of about 200 vehicles heretofore carried in stock. It is said that the Liberty Motor company would resume full production this week. General Motors company and the Oakland Motor Car company at Pontiac will operate on 100 per cent basis on December 1. The Packard Motor Car company announces that it will shortly add materally to its forces of production of the new single six.

SOUTHERN TIRE COMPANY PLANS NOVEL CHANGES

The re-organization of the Southern Tire and Vulcanizing Company at 815 Tenth street, which was recently completed with a capital stock of $40,000 is expected on auto row to give Wichita Falls one of the best service stations in this section of the state.

According to Mr. Dodson, the manager, the plans call for several new and novel changes for this line of business in this section, including a drive-in filling station, larger salesroom, women's rest room and increased vulcanizing facilities, for taking care of their growing tire business.

The stockholders of this new company are H. D. Hemphill, W. H. Caldwell, Capt. W. S. Langford, Newton W. Maer, Dr. L. F. Stripling and H. A. Dodson. This concern, which has one of the largest stocks of automobile tires in the city, plans for big things in the near future whereby they will be in position to better their service to the motoring public. They believe that the prospects for Wichita Falls and the opportunities to be found here equal those anywhere in this line.

TWO RULES TO USE IN BATTERY BUYING

When it comes to buying a storage battery, the average motorist has to take a lot on faith.

However, there are two safe rules to follow which, if strictly adhered to, take all the uncertainty and guesswork out of buying a battery, placing it on the firm foundation of demonstrated facts, thus insuring complete satisfaction, according to Jack Speegle of the Exide Battery station.

The first rule to be observed is to inquire carefully into the reputation of the company manufacturing the battery under consideration, and the second is to find out what service it has rendered other motorists.

Thousands of motorists have solved their battery troubles for all time by applying this test to "Exide" Batteries, and in every case, the results have been eminently satisfactory. For in the first place, the "Exide" Battery is made by The Electric Storage Battery Co., the world's largest maker of storage batteries for every purpose. It is backed up by the skill and knowledge resulting from thirty-two years of manufacturing and engineering experience. And secondly, it has been the universal experience of "Exide" users that this battery is as good as human skill can make it.

Experience has also shown that "Exide" Batteries, owing to their compact, simple, rugged construction, require the minimum of attention and repair, but when adjustments are necessary, motorists have learned that "Exide" Service meets their needs in a broad-minded, liberal and efficient spirit that is unique in the annals of the automobile industry. This service is at the command of every motorist in the country—no matter where he lives and irrespective of the make of storage battery he uses.

The ECHO of YESTERYEARS

LINCOLN

—It is not strange that Motordom can scarce conceive it possible to excel the fine creations you now enjoy. It has been since the making of motor cars began. Hark back some twenty years. The motor cars of even then were marvels—for their day.

—As passing time brought forth its new achievements, each thrilled you with its new sensations—then you wondered how you endured the car before.

—Each new achievement seemed unsurpassable—until by genius it was surpassed. Each seemed the great finality—yet will not each see its glory wane?

—As the splendid mechanisms you have known roll on, it is only natural that they seem the ultimate in luxurious travel. And yet, the seeming of the ultimate today is but an echo of the seeming of yesteryears.

—For in the Lincoln car are revelations, new ease, new comforts, charms and fascinations which Motordom has never known before.

TRUCKS YANKS LEFT BEHIND IN EUROPE POPULAR

The thousands of American motor trucks which were dumped in Europe at the close of the war are serving at least one good cause for the American truck manufacturer, in the opinion of W. A. Olen, president and general manager of the Four Wheel Drive Auto Company, Clintonville, Wisconsin, who, with D. J. Rohrer and C. F. Folkman of the company's board of directors, has just returned from a two months' tour of Europe studying truck conditions.

These trucks are popularizing American motor transportation in European countries and are paving the way for the entrance of an increasing number of trucks in the European field in the future, according to Mr. Olen.

"Virtually everywhere I visited I found these old war trucks," says Mr. Olen. "They have been put into shape again, and are now in the hands of consumers where they are doing great work and giving a satisfactory service that promises to reflect favorable in the future sale of motor transportation to these countries."

"They are proving a great advertising medium and are acquainting European buyers with the strength and durability of American trucks. The service they are giving in the hands of consumers, is everywhere, as far as I could learn, most satisfactory, and the trucks are building up a bulwark of good will for future business.

"Among our distributors I found everyone enthusiastic over prospects for a healthy business. That there is a large potention market in European countries not only for motor trucks, but a great range of other mechanical equipment as well, was obvious. In many instances we saw man power doing work that in the country is done by machinery. Even the freight that is loaded aboard the steamer at New York by up-to-date conveyors is unloaded by man power on the other side.

"The high price of gasoline in European countries is an important consideration. We found, upon arrival in England that gasoline there was selling for 67 cents a gallon while in this country the price was 27 cents. For this reason buyers of pleasure cars and motor trucks as well are interested in obtaining the greatest gasoline mileage possible with their vehicles.

"In some of the countries of Europe labor practices the doctrine of "ca canny," which, in brief, means that the men do as little work as possible. Consequently there isn't the tendency to overload and speed motor trucks that there is here, which undoubtedly adds to their longevity.

"As a general thing prices of food stuffs and other commodities were from 10 to 25 per cent higher than in this country although the general business depression which has been experienced here is just coming on in Europe and prices in certain lines were already beginning to tumble. The reduction, however, is not so general as in the United States.

"That there is real need for the stabilization of exchange in Europe was apparent. There is considerable of the element of speculation in business transactions with other nations, and while it is doubtful if exchange in some of the countries will ever reach the pre-war levels again, when something is done to fix a more sound basis, buying activity will be greatly increased."

TELLS OWN BAD HABITS AND WINS ELECTION

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—Frankness was the keynote of the campaign which landed Perry A. Evans on the long end of the vote in the contest for county clerk of Rice county.

Instead of letting his enemies dig up the skeleton Evans flaunted the following in their faces on posters and in advertisements during the recent campaign:

"Some of the accomplishments of my early days were swearing, smoking, chewing tobacco, drinking booze, gambling, raiding chicken roosts and sucking eggs. Among other things, I have joined the church, backslid and started over again. I have been married thirty-three years, have six children and three grandchildren. Am still living with my first wife, and she has never threatened to get a divorce."

ATTORNEY SAYS JURIES TENDER HEARTED TODAY

Such is the opinion of John Davenport, county attorney, who has taken part either in association with Fletcher Jones, district attorney, or directly in the prosecution of a large number of murder cases in Wichita County during the last few years.

The court records seem to bear out his statement, at least as to the facts that the death penalty has been very rarely rendered. Veteran police officers can recall but two instances where the supreme punishment has been meted out here by the courts. Both the recipients were negroes. George Thompson was sentenced to be hung for murder. Another black was sentenced the same penalty for criminal assault.

Only one of these verdicts was craried out. After the scaffolding had already been built in the county jail for the execution of one of the negroes a reprieve came from Austin.

A bank robber who killed Frank Dorsey, cashier of a local bank, was arrested by the late Captain McDonald, famous Texas Ranger, and confined in the county jail. After the Rangers left the bank robber was gotten out of the jail by a mob and hanged to a telephone post in the business district.

This is one of the very few cases in the history of Wichita county where mob violence has been resorted to in carrying out a substitute for extreme punishment at the hands of the law.

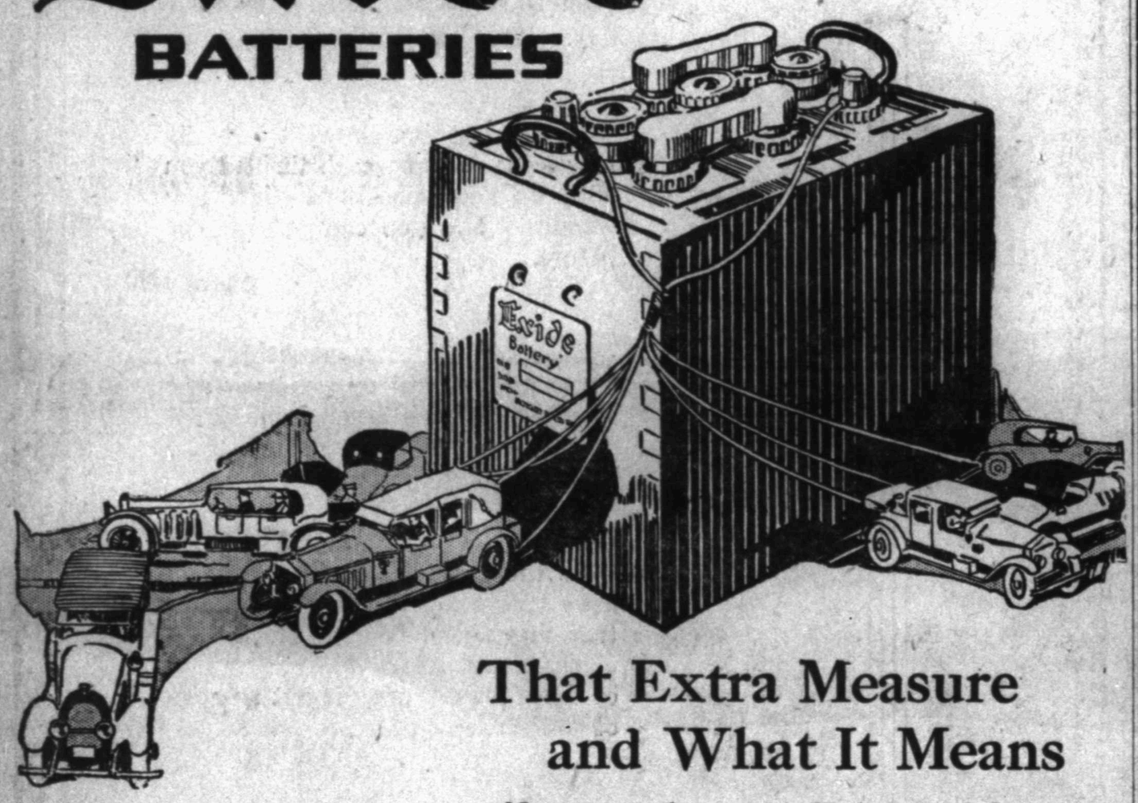

Mr. Davenport declares that in one recent case, which in his words, "merited the death penalty if ever a crime did," that eleven men on the jury were reported to have stood for a verdict that the prisoner be hung but that the twelfth man held his ground and finally swung the entire jury to a verdict of life imprisonment.

A great many Wichita Falls' housewives keep close track of household expenses by maintaining a Checking Account with the City National Bank of Commerce and paying all bills by check. This plan promotes economy and gives a permanent record of the expense of household operation.—Adv.

"LIGHT SIX"

Three years ago the Studebaker Corporation set out to design and perfect a superfine, small six-cylinder car. The eager desire on the part of the motoring public for the vibrationless power plant of the "six" in a car that was light enough and to give the maximum economy, and yet luxurious, was unmistakable.

The first hundred cars which were sent to various parts of the country for the final checking up wrote a new chapter in motor-car history. By reason of their performance alone, without advertising or sales effort, a country-wide demand was created of sufficient volume to absorb the factory production. And now this fine small car is ready for your inspection. It is a fitting mate for the Studebaker "Special Six" and "Big Six," which have made

FORD LOSES TO MAKE GAIN IN PLANT SERVICE

Henry Ford has found a way to strike a profitable balance. His recent readjustment of prices on the Ford line is shown to have entailed him a loss of $20 net on each machine that the Ford Motor Co. is now producing, but his service department production is based on a requirement of $40 for replacement parts from each Ford car now running. Further, there has been and will be no reduction in the price of replacement parts. Thus in stimulating the loss on first sales, he enlarges the market for later profits. These facts were made plain in statements by Ford executives before a gathering of Ford dealers from the Carolinas and Virginia, gathered last week at Charlotte, N. C., and indicative of methods by which the Ford company is acquainting its trade of the impetus to business which the recent price-cut was destined to furnish.

That each car now being turned out is sold at a loss of $20 to the Ford company was proclaimed by W. A. Ryan, who, as manager of sales for the company, naturally was one of the leading speakers on the program. The company is now producing 4,000 cars daily, said Ryan, leaving it to his auditors to figure out that this means a loss of $80,000 daily. Much of his message concerned some exceedingly timely advice to dealers about the value of being careful in the way that they handle used cars, particularly since the slump in used car values that has been induced by lower prices on some new cars.

But it was from E. P. Hobart, service manager of the Ford organization, that the trade learned of the silver lining to the Ford cloud. Hobart told his audience that Ford is making $165,000,000 worth of parts every year for distribution through that end of the business. This, he said, was based on an average figure of $40 per car, thereby establishing the rate at which it is figured Ford cars are expected to wear out every year. Incidentally, some of the more statistical in the trade lost little time in figuring from the amounts given that 4,125,000 Ford cars now in commission must be the basis for reckoning.

There will be no reduction in the price of parts, Hobart said. Increased freight rates and increased costs of production make this impossible, unless, as in the case of the complete vehicle, Ford is prepared to stand a definite ratio of loss on each part. By producing its replacement parts in the regular line of manufacture, Hobart reminded the dealers, the company already is able to keep its costs low, and they get the benefit of this. The present lowered price on the Ford car, even with its attendant loss, Hobart explained, was decided as preferable to the greater loss that would have followed a curtailed rate of production.

Of the new car, concerning which the trade has heard but vaguely, Hobart added little of information beyond the limits of trade surmise. The new car will not be offered, Hobart explained, until space shall be found for its production.

TIRE MAKERS SUFFER BY OWN EFFICIENCY

"Reputable tire manufacturers are suffering from a curious affliction," said H. A. Dodson of the Southern Tire and Vulcanizing company.

"During the last few years these companies have made notable advances in the production of tires of greater quality and durability," he said. "Today they are suffering because they actually builded better than they knew.

"Car owners who bought tires last year were beneficiaries of this advance in the industry. Their expectations for mileage in tire equipment have been exceeded. They are getting around 15,000 to 18,000 miles out of their tires, whereas they used to expect only from 6,000 to 7,000 miles.

"As a result, they will not be in the market again until this fall. Many of them may finish the season on their present equipment, although it is believed weather conditions will make for ideal motoring for an extended period this year.

"Other factors of course contributed to the recent slump in sales of tire equipment, but I believe the unusual mileage obtained is the principal reason.

"Tire dealers are looking forward to a busy fall and winter season on tire sales. Just as many people as ever are motoring, and the percentage of those on Firestones is growing."

NORWAY ENJOYS AMERICAN CARS

"American automobiles and trucks are so predominant in Norway that they give a distinct American touch to the street traffic," states Trade Commissioner Nels A. Bengtson of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, in a report just made public.

"American agricultural machinery is prominent in Norwary. In general the high quality of American tools and mechanisms is conceded, and the expression is frequently heard that American goods rank first in quality, but are somewhat higher in price than the same type of goods fro mthe United Kingdom, Sweden or Germany. The United States now ranks first in the trade in metal manufactures as a whole. Before the war Germany ranked first, the United Kingdom second, and the United States third," says the report.

WILBARGER OIL MEN AGAIN ON DRILLING WORK

By A. C. McCONNELL.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 27.—After many handicaps, cold weather, rains, bad roads and lack of fuel oil, operators are again pushing oil developments in Wilbarger county. It is the hope of many contractors to finish their contracts by the first of the year and they are redoubling their efforts now to make as fast time as possible before extreme cold weather sets in.

The Triangle Oil & Gas Co., which recently took over the contracts of the Buckeye National, will resume drilling on their No. 2 Streit, sometime this week, and the rigging from No. 1 Waggoner is being moved to the site of No. 3 Wharton, where a deep test will be made. No. 1, which is closed down at 2200 feet, will be deepened in an effort to make a producer out of a sand recently encountered.

The Gulf Production Co. and Staley-Greene are again drilling in the Sigler field. They have been shut down by a combination of troubles. They are practically offsets to the Sigler well which is holding up around 80 barrels daily.

The Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. has abandoned their Home Oil Refining Co. Paul Waggoner well at 2510 feet. They are still drilling the Guy Waggoner test. Sigler No. 2 has been junked at 2531 feet. Sure Pop Oil Co., Scott, has junked their No. 1 at 1835 feet, drilling new test. Wilbarger-Haley-King, (Gulf), junked, abandoned at 2150 feet. Waggoner Colony Oil Co., Kelly, junked, abandoned at 1985 feet.

The Sigler Drilling Co. of Vernon and Peoria, Ill., announce that arrangements are under way to put down a new test near the Wheat well. These companies are composed of Lloyd Sigler, Eli Wagler, Ben Kock and others, who opened up the Vernon oil boom. The Sigler company recently took over the Wheat well. It is removing the telescoped casing from the well. The Sigler company figures that this will cost them about $30,000. Heavy casing is on the lease and it will be reset at once. All speed possible will be maintained in an effort to make the Wheat well a producer by Christmas and claim the turkey dinner offered by the citizens of Quanah.

Another deep test will be started by the Koch Oil Co. as soon as material can be placed on the ground. Twenty-inch casing will be used on the hole which is to go down 3,000 feet.

Mr. Wagler, manager of the Koch and Sigler interests in Hardeman county, reports that a 112-foot derrick has been ordered for the Koch test, which will be put down on the Will Neal ranch, near the Wheat well.

Considerable detail work has been done lately in transferring leases from the Mid-West, Pennsylvania and Great Petroleum Co. interests formerly putting down the Wheat well to the new company. A large number of landowners in the neighborhood of the Wheat test donated one-half of their remaining acreage towards the completion of the Wheat test.

Basketeers at University to Have Good Team

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 27.—Basketball is arousing more interest and taking on a more serious aspect at the University of Texas as the beginning of the season approaches. With L. T. Bellmont as coach, the try-outs for the squad have settled down to actual training, working more than an hour every day, and taking occasional hard scrimmage practice.

A large number of letter men are back for this year, and several new men are showing good form, according to the coach. Additional material for the basketball squad will be available with the close of the football season, though it is not expected these men will report until after Christmas.

VARSITY PROFESSOR WRITES TWO POEMS

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 27.—In a recent issue of Contemporary Verse, an all poetry magazine of America, there appeared two poems, "Metaphysics" and "Imperfect Tribute," by Howard Mumford Jones, a member of the University of Texas faculty. Since their publication the poems have attracted a considerable amount of favorable comment.

Jones, who is professor of comparative literature in the University, had previously published a volume entitled "Gargoyle and Other Poems."

DEMAND FOR LABOR SHOWS BIG DECLINE

BOSTON.—Big declines in the demand for skilled and unskilled labor are shown in the figures for October, made public in the report of G. Harry Dunderdale, superintendent of the public employment office. Records show a decrease of 22 per cent in orders from employers as compared with September, and 42 per cent when compared with the orders of October, 1919.

Bankruptcy of Reckless Auto Driver no Plea

Bankruptcy or insolvency of the automobilist insured does not release the company from the payment of damages for injuries sustained or loss occasioned during the life of the liability policy, under automobile protection, and in case execution against the assured is returned unsatisfied in an action brought by the injured, or his representative, then an action may be maintained by the injured person against the company under the terms of the policy for the amount of the judgment in the action, not exceeding, of course, the limits of the contract.

Many insurance companies are prevented from extending good service on collision claims on account of their inability to locate the cars for the purpose of making examinations. It is suggested that when a claimant reports a collision accident he notify the insurance company, or its adjuster, just where the car can be inspected, and the telephone number if he has one, where the assured can be reached for further appointments. The fact that such information is not had occasionally creates dissatisfaction and loss of time both on the part of the company and the assured.

It is interesting to note that the collision clause under an automobile policy is very broad and concise. For instance, a recent claim was paid where a stone thrown by an unknown person hit and broke the windshield of an automobile and the company treated this accident as a valid claim under its collision coverage, inasmuch as the policy particularly provides that a collision with any object, moving or stationary, is deemed under the meaning of the contract to be a collision.

Another interesting claim which was recently adjusted occurred when a passenger in an automobile was thrown from his seat due to the hitting of a rut in the roadway. The contact between the top of the car and his head tore away the top, making a hole. The insurance company considered this a collision and repaired the damage.

BOUT ATTESTS WICHITA FANS PLAYED SQUARE

Remember that inglorious boxing match under the auspices of the "Sportsmen's Athletic Club," an organization which flourished until it came to put on its first bout and the manager got in jail on a charge of obtaining another man's property through irregular channels?

And the hat that was passed around with the resultant twenty-five dollars for the two boxers and the two managers?

Well, Billy Kleck, one of the boxers, and his manager, had enough out of their $12.50 to get back to Fort Worth, where they live. But the fans were wondering how Danny "Red" Sheehan and his manager, who live in Kansas City, were going to find the toboggan trail as soon as their $12.50 worth of railroad ride was exhausted.

And the fans sought of comforted themselves and insisted they were not so "hard-hearted" because the four-round exhibition that Kleck and Sheehan put up for the "hat" was not fast enough to carry a man very far back home.

And here's the proof that the unfortunate Kansas City exponent of the manly art and his manager didn't get so far away and didn't really have to wear out any shoe leather:

Dated out of Muskogee, Oklahoma, is the following Associated Press item:

Danny "Red" Sheehan of Kansas City knocked out Billy Kleck of Fort Worth, Texas, in the first round of a scheduled 15-round bout here tonight. The men are lightweights."

He wants to get rid of an uninvited guest.

Thoughts of the fearful consequences are restraning the head of the house from resorting to forcible ejection. The same cause is responsible for his refusal to kill the objectionable visitor.

In his desperation he is feeding it in order to keep it in good humor, while he tries to find an effective method for getting rid of the skunk.

She awoke suddenly and without apparent cause. She was a strong, healthy child.

The citizens of the city are now making up a fund with which to pay for the child's expenses in some institution with the hope that she may be cured.

STREET CLEANERS RAISE AWFUL DUST

MEXICO CITY, Mexico.—Street cleaning in Mexico City has not improved since the days o the Aztecs. The street cleaner has a long pole, at the end of which is fastened a bundle of twigs. With this he makes a fearful dust, but accomplishes only moderate results in the matter of cleaning.

When a piece of rubbish is large his broom moves it, but the dust merely takes wing for a moment, choking passersby in the street, and then settles down to its old place.

The men who wield the brooms look like descendants of the very men who had the job four hundred years ago, when the Spanish conquerors came, and for a few hundred years before that.

MAIL CARRIER WAS CHAINED TO MAIL BOX

EAST WEYMOUTH, Mass.—"Say, mister, there's a mail man chained to one of your mail boxes down the street," was the interesting bit of information brought to the superintendent of the East Weymouth postoffice by a small boy.

"What do you mean," demanded Superintendent Bert Rice, "one of my carrier chained to a box?"

"Well, they is one, that's all," insisted the boy, "an' if yer don't believe it come on down an' see."

As the two went through the door they met the letter carrier, but without his customary gray coat.

"It was raining hard," explained the unlucky carrier, "and I suppose that I didn't notice my keys were inside the box when I slammed the door and snapped the padlock. I just naturally chained myself to the box."

Why is a Packard Always "New"

"New Models" perhaps only in so far as a change in body design is concerned; probably only a few accessories added—or a "new feature" in the motor, transmission or rear axles.

No big worth-while change; nothing vital—yet enough to wipe out overnight 20, 30, even 40% of the market value of older models of the same makes.

But Packard design is fundamental with the car. Even to the experienced eye, it is indeed hard to tell just how old a Packard is.

Ask some of your friends who drive Packards. Many a Packard that you would mentally label as "new" has been in constant use for four, five, six years or even longer.

Packard believes that it is futile to put a temporary dress on a car whose mechanical parts will last for six years or longer.

It believes that lasting good taste is more satisfying than mere novelty—and it is surely a better investment.

• • • •

When you buy a Packard your investment is free from unreasonable depreciation. As evidence you need only consider the ready market for every used Packard, and the "used car price" is proportionately higher than any other car we know of.

Data Relating to Speedway at At Los Angeles

To drive 250 miles on the Los Angeles Speedway it is necessary to make 200 laps of the big taile and a quarter bowl. This enormous basin, with arrangements for taking care of 100,000 people, is not only the finest plant of its kind in the country, but likewise the fastest track in the world.

Points in the championship standings are arbitrarily awarded by the American Automobile Association to certain races on certain tracks and the Los Angeles Speedway is the only track in the country which has been awarded two championship races. The total number of points awarded the Los Angeles Speedway is equal to the total awarded for the famous international 500-mile race at Indianapolis. Add the points shown below to the present standings of the drivers as shown elsewhere and you will have the final championship standings for the 1920 season. Chevrolet, Milton, Murphy and Ralph De Palma still have a chance for the title. Following are the points awarded in the Thanksgiving Day 250-mile race:

First	500
Second	260
Third	140
Fourth	40
Fifth	50
Sixth	35
Seventh	25
Eighth	15
Ninth	10
Tenth	5

To date there have been four championship races, the 250-mile event on the Los Angeles Speedway Thanksgiving Day being the fifth and final event of the 1920 season for which championship points are awarded. The standings of the drivers at the present time follow:

Gaston Chevrolet	1030
Tommy Milton	930
Jimmie Murphy	805
Ralp De Palma	605
Rene Thomas (France)	520

SAYS OIL INDUSTRY MUST CONSERVE AND USE SCIENCE TO FIGHT SLUMP IN OUTPUT

By ARTHUR D. LITTLE,
Chemical Engineer, Cambridge, Mass.

All the world knows that this is the day of petroleum, but what is the time o' day? Does the clock mark the forenoon, high noon or afternoon? Have we gone on the petroleum basis with a reasonable assurance that the petroleum reserves will enable us to honor the inevitable demands upon them, or are we presently to find ourselves committed to a petroleum expenditure hopelessly beyond the powers of nature herself to meet?

These are questions of vital import to every nation and to every individual. Their answer must be found, if anywhere, in the facts set forth in the following. However remote your interest in petroleum may seem to you to be, you will find these facts bear directly upon your own activities.

The petroleum industry, to a truly remarkable degree, has shaped its own course in production, transportation, in channels of utilization, even in the matter of finance. None has so frequently during its development, compelled public attention by the recurrence of the spectacular. Today the corusca tions which have marked its progress are culminating in the greatest boom in the history of industrialism.

Oil a Necessity.

The part played by oil in the war is familiar to all and there is no need to do more than recall that it energizes a whole new system of warfare on land and sea, in the air and under water. Meanwhile, it was only a step from an oil-burning navy to an oil-burning merchant fleet; and when this latter was instituted the oil interests were ahead of all others to see that the step was taken in no half-hearted fashion. Similarly, when the regularly constituted transportation system failed, the oil interests were quick in making the most of the opportunity to demonstrate the advantages of their own self-constituted system. When coal broke down oil was promptly projected to fill the break. So at every turn oil was to the fore. In public estimation it entered the war an incident to pleasure and emerged a necesstiy of first rank.

No other industry has ever developed such a field of usefulness in so short a period. In promoting a field of usefulness second to none, the oil industry has assumed an economic responsibility second to none. More and more economic need is coming to be regarded as taking precedent over industrial privilege. The war contributed largely in developing this service concept of industry; but it was in process before the war and may consequently be expected to become more rather than less pronounced as time passes.

U .S. Uses Two-Thirds of Output.

Thus far our American needs have been met from American sources supplemented by imports from Mexico. The domestic yield represents about two-thirds of the world's petroleum output. Only a very little is exported crude. For all practical purposes this may be taken as fairly representative of the relative status of refining as well as production. A large export business in refinery products has been built up, however, so the relationship does not continue to hold good, even in a general way, for consumption. To generalize the situation still further, the United States habitually accounts for about two-thirds of the petroleum produced and refined and one-half of the petroleum values consumed by the world.

America's One Supply.

In America two-thirds of the world's production is recruited from seven major areas or fields. The Appalachian field is the country's oldest and most consistent producing source. Production in this field has been on the down grade and its rate today is little more than half that of the maximum when the field was in its prime. The Lima-Indiana field is the second oldest American source. This field was discovered in 1886, reached its crest of production 10 years later and has been on the decline ever since. The Illinois field was discovered in 1905, reached its producing prime five years later and has fallen steadily in the course of the past ten years.

The gulf coast field was discovered in 1900, reached its apparent prime five years later and started on a decline until 1903 when the bringing in of new pools renewed its youth. The Rocky Mountain field is undoubtedly in its youth and susceptible of extension, but oil structure on a large scale such as that responsible for the Appalachian and Mid-Continent field is lacking. The California field was added to the list of producing sources in 1898 and has been steadily increasing in importance ever since, with the exception of 1915 from causes due to the war. The limits of the field can not be said to have been entirely bounded, but more than passing significance is to be attached to the general flattening of the curve of production since 1913.

The mid-continent field was actually discovered some two years earlier than that in Illinois, but in assuming its true role it is the latest and greatest of the country's producing sources. What has been said of the great California field bids fair to hold even more assuredly true of the still greater mid-continent source. Production here has been forced, but this can not continue and the production curve is due to begin tapering downward, following the course of the three fields to the east. A great deal of oil from Mexican fields feeds into the American market, so the outlook for Mexico has to be considered along with that from the seven domestic sources, but Mexico is an uncertain element in the American petroleum supply of the future.

Output Is Declining.

From the foregoing it develops that of seven domestic sources, three are declining; one is an unknown quantity, and the two greatest are at their best. The only hope of maintaining our present rate of supply, let alone the present rate of growth, looks out abroad to the known Mexican fields and to Central and South American possibilities in general. Mexico may meet the requirements, but the situation there is uncertain geologically as politically as politically. Central and South America are still more uncertain geologically and scarcely less so politically.

The industry, since it can not go on expanding, quite obviously can not go on meeting, in full, the responsibilities it has assumed. From an era of phenomenal expansion it emerges to find itself suddenly face to face with the need of retrenchment. Essentially the petroleum industry today is a motor fuel industry. It is here that shortage first asserts itself and it is on gasoline that the industry must primarily in an effort to fulfill its obligations. The automotive fuel requirement is an economic necessity which must be met, which can be met only by the oil industry, and which the public will exact of the industry.

The present boom with its wild orgies of extravagant competive effort indicate what is to be expected wtih every successive advance in the utilization of oil and as the successive evidences of shortage accrue. This outrageously wasteful forcing of production can only drive the resource into its early decline.

Industry Must Meet Economic Responsibility.

The oil industry is face to face with the issues of its remarkable career even in respect to motor fuel. In making the most of its opportunities for expansion, especially in connection with war, it has assumed economic responsibilities far in excess of what it can hope to meet. Some of these, the less essential, it must now get out from under in order to meet the other and more essential ones. In the public eye the industry is essentially a transportation industry. In this respect effectiveness in the oil industry is no less direct and no less essential in its bearing on public welfare than in the case of the railroads, and the price of failure in the one may be seen in the history of the other.

That the industry should be left to run its wasteful course into such an eventuality is unthinkable. The oil ndustry, with its unco-ordinated wastefulness, must give place to a chemical co-ordination which will make the most of what remains of the petroleum resource and work out what is requisite to supplement it in the chemistry of other sources.

They arrived a day late and have been three days on the receiving ship Southery enjoying an easy life and waiting further orders.

The Bureau of Navigation has directed them to return to New York and ordered the ship held there until every gob is on deck.

NASH FOUR
$1395 with Cord Tires
f. o. b. Milwaukee

It is a quality motor car, light in weight but strongly and finely built to endure the hardest service.

Like the Nash Six, it has two conspicuous and outstanding features—unusual power, due to its Nash Perfected Valve-in-Head Motor and really exceptional beauty of design and finish.

Notable, too, is the low operating cost of this car.

Tests covering many thousands of miles have demonstrated that the Nash Four is unusually saving of gasoline, oil and tires.

The character of the Nash Four may be judged not only by sturdy excellence of construction but in the fineness of the many important details which make for superior comfort and convenience.

It will be produced in a new Nash factory at Milwaukee, a plant specially constructed and equipped to produce this car.

When operating at full capacity, this new plant will equal in volume of output the present big Nash factory at Kenosha, where 50,000 Nash Sixes are being built this year.

We will welcome the opportunity to show you the Nash Four at your earliest convenience.

BATTERY FIRM CHANGES HANDS IN THIS CITY

The controlling interest of the Wichita Falls Battery company, local distributors of Willard storage batteries, 814 Scott street, has passed into the hands of J. W. Maupin and W. L. Hawkins, it was announced Saturday. The new owners take possession immediately.

Mr. Maupin is well known in the city for his activities in the automobile field, and the success of the new organization is generally predicted.

Mr. Hawkins is also well known in Wichita Falls. He was in the grocery business heretofore.

They have obtained the services of J. S. Morton, an expert in storage batteries, who comes to their firm from the Willard factory, and who will have charge of all battery repairs.

Higher Freight Rates on Grain Ordered Dec. 11

Increased freight rates on grain and grain products will go into effect on southwestern railroads December 11, according to a bulletin received here by traffic offices. The advance will be from one to two cents per pound to New Orleans, Memphis and Vicksburg. It will affect wheat, oats, milo maize and kaffir corn.

In addition to this raise, published to go into effect, is the raise of 3c per 100 pounds which resulted from the cancellation of proportional rates about four months ago. It is also in addition to the 35 per cent increase authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission on Aug. 26.

The increase on grain would include not only shipments to Memphis, Vicksburg and New Orleans, but also all Southeastern points, inasmuch as southeastern rates are based on a combination basis at the Mississippi river crossings.

YOUNG COUNTY BEING WATCHED AS WEEK ENDS

Operations in several important Young county tests are at the "watchful waiting" stage as the week closes, with the Panhandle Refining company's No. 2 McCluskey providing the only actual development so far this week, and expected to provide even more important developments at any time. The No. 2 was drilled into the 2,540-foot sand, from which the No. 1 is producing, and a strong flow of gas was encountered, making it practically impossible to drill further at present. The well is reported to be making between 25,000,000 and 50,000,000 cubic feet and spraying oil.

Indications on Friday, according to reports from the field, were that the well might blow itself in as an oil well, and preparing for this contingency a 1,500-barrel flow tank was being erected. Drilling further into the sand would be impossible, except with small tools, it is stated. The outcome of this well is being closely watched, since this section now gives promise of being the most active new field in North Texas.

Practically every South Bend test that has been drilled has encountered more or less gas at various depths, and one gas well, the Roxanna's No. 1 Goode, has been completed, but none of them have ever developed such a flow as the new Panhandle well.

There have been no new reports from the No. 3 of the Panhandle on the McCluskey lease since the middle of the week, when the well was reported to be flowing at the rate of 900 barrels a day.

The Gulf Production company has made location and is reported moving the rig on for its first Young county test, immediately south of the McCluskey-Panhandle lease, on the M. V. Keller property.

The Seaboard Oil and Gas company is also completing rigs for two tests close to the newest South Bend sensations, the Oklahoma Petroleum and Gasoline Company well, and the Panhandle wells. One of these tests is on the M. K. Graham, the other in the McBreyer lease. The Oklahoma Petroleum and Gasoline company is also preparing to put down several more wells in developing its property on which the No. 1 was drilled.

On the J. J. Scott lease the Panhandle Oil and Refining company is reported held up slightly under 2,500 feet, waiting on some drilling material. The No. 2 is still a location.

Snowden and McSweeney, No. 1 Graham, waiting on 5 3-16 at 3,750 feet.

Kansas and Gulf Oil company, No. 2 Donnell, drilling around 4,560 feet.

Texas Holding company, No. 1 A. J. Ernest, drilling around 2,000 feet.

Panhandle Refining company, No. 5 McCluskey, location.

Panhandle Refining company, No. 6 McCluskey, location.

Panhandle Refining company, No. 7 McCluskey, location.

Colcord and Colcord, No. 1 M. K. Graham, set casing at 1,920 feet.

New Domain Oil company, No. 1 Graham, rig.

Merill Oil and Gas company, No. 1 A. C. Hunt, still fishing around 4,000 feet.

'JAKE' BECOMES POPULAR DRINK IN OIL FIELDS

In an anonymous communication to The Record News a resident of Burkburnett decries the prevalent use of Jamaica ginger and other supposedly medicinal concoctions familiarly known as "jake." According to the writer the use of the "jake" as a beverage is becoming more common daily, the users having no difficulty whatever in purchasing any quantity that might be desired.

The writer states that the city of Burkburnett and surrounding section has an average of men and women daily who are under the influence of the drug in varying degrees of drunkenness. He estimates that the city and county jails would be unable to hold the users of the drugs if officers arrested all the users of the "jake."

According to the writer users walk into a drug store and buy the "jake" without any pretense of secrecy. The usual price is 75 cents a bottle and that quantity of the drug will cause drunkenness in most cases, he says.

The complaint of the Burkburnett resident has also been made in this city. Apparently it is the general observation of many citizens that drugs are being increasingly used by the former drinker of intoxicating beverages. A majority of the drunks that are brought into the local police station have been drinking jake rather than bootleg whisky or some other drink classed as an intoxicating beverage.

MANY cars that cost far less than the Willys-Knight, actually cost far more in the end, because their owners are being continually assessed for instalments to pay for adjustments, replacements, and repairs. The famous sleeve-valve motor of the Willys-Knight is so mechanically perfect and so free from complications, that the first cost comes pretty close to being the only cost of owning it.

MARMON 34

Every time a MARMON 34 is demonstrated we ask you to make a comparison between this and any high-priced car.

To buy a car by accepting generalities is the old way of buying. It has been superseded by a new and easier way of vital comparisons. MARMON welcomes it and we don't hesitate in making this the basis of demonstration.

We have all sorts of records—averaging these facts, the results show that the MARMON 34 can be operated on high gear at a walking pace; that it will readily go 65 m. p. h.; that it will accelerate from 10 to 50 m. p. h. in 17 to 19 seconds; that on hill climbing it can start on a better than 8% grade at 5 m. p. h. and accelerate to 35 to 40 m. p. h. at 1,000 yards. These are Touring Car tests, fully equipped and with driver and observer.

We have on our floor for your inspection this same MARMON which has proved its worth—and proved it by comparison—in the Coupe, Roadster and Touring Car design.

MINIMUM WAGE IS NO INCREASE FOR GIRLS HERE

Investigations as to local salary conditions on the basis of a comparison with the blanket minimum wage of $12 per week for women employed by telephone companies, laundries, factories, and mercantile establishments in Texas, which was promulgated at a meeting of the Texas Industrial Welfare commission recently at Austin, tend to show that the average minimum wage of women employed by the various concerns here is considerably above $12.

In setting the wage, which is made to become effective in February, 1921, Labor Commissioner T. C. Jennings dissented from the majority of the commission in the establishment of the minimum under the contention that a survey of the board has disclosed that the average living cost for women in Texas industries is $13.40 per week and that the minimum should be set as high as the living cost.

Answering the objection, another commissioner declared that the commission did its best under the existing law and that it desired to put the law into effect before the next session of the legislature so that body would have an opportunity of observing its workings before attempting to amend it as was suggested by the commission.

According to reports from the manager of the local branch of the Western Union Telegraph company, which employs a number of women and girls, the minimum weekly salary paid their employes is over $16, the average being $20 per week.

Although the Southwestern Bell Telephone & Telegraph company, which also employs a number of women, declined to make public any figures as to their scale of wages, officials declared that their minimum was higher than that as established by the commission.

Figures, likewise, could not be obtained from different laundries and mercantile establishments and commercial industries, but in every case it was made clear that none of their women employes received as small a weekly wage as $12.

Wichita Falls has been charged with being a "high" town. Indications at present are that wages now being paid are in reality "higher" than those of the same figure paid a year ago, as experts who have examined conditions here recently declare that living costs have decreased 25 per cent during the past several months.

Many concerns here employ women department managers and welfare workers whose business it is to see that the welfare of the employes is cared for. In some cases the concerns have established cafeterias, with food at cost, and housing accommodations in good homes, for their women employes. Various other means are employed by the majority of employers here to make living conditions as pleasant and at the same time as economical as possible.

The same comparison relative to salary conditions may be made in regard to apprentices, or beginners in the work. The commission set an apprentice rate of 15 cents per hour during the first six months and 20 cents per hour during the second six months.

In accordance with the law now in effect, employes are allowed to have only a certain number of apprentices, which are to be engaged when an agreement between the employer and employe can be reached on a salary. No definite beginner's salary is now included in the law.

With living conditions here as high as they were, concerns were forced to take on what apprentices they require at a salary of practically the same amount which was an average among experienced help elsewhere, and according to statements from heads of concerns here recently, this practice is still in effect. The apprentice here, however draws a much lower salary than an experienced employe.

More people were baptized in the Baptist churches of Germany during 1919 than in any previous year in their history. This does not include the 1,000 Russian prisoners baptized.

TEXHOMA GAS FIELD SHOWING PRODUCTION OF 100,000,000 FEET PER DAY, REPORTS SAY

A daily capacity of more than 100,000,000 feet per day is an estimate—regarded as conservative by many operators—of the newly opened Texhoma gas field. It was estimated by one of the large oil operators intimately acquainted with the development of the field—showing the field to be a tremendous industrial asset to this or any other city, and, with proper care, likely to be one of the greatest factors in local industrial development during the next 10 years.

In its present partially developed state, with only nine producing wells, its producing capacity already exceeds any possible demand which industrial Wichita Falls is likely to put on it for years. The wells are practically all pinched in, as there is no present demand for the great amount of natural fuel which they are capable of producing.

The estimate given above is based on actual gauge of the producing capacity of the various wells. It is asserted that none of these wells have fallen off appreciably from its initial gauge, and that some have even increased their flow.

The largest of the producers in the field are the two Texanna wells on the Dodson, each rated at better than 30,000,000 feet, and the Jupiter, or Camp No. 1, also on the Dodson, which has made as high as 37,000,000 feet. The others, which are considerably smaller than these mammoth producers, but which are still large gas wells, are the two Jones wells on the Rexford, the Chisco, O'Dell and Staley wells on the Beach, and the other Jupiter on the Dodson.

The gas sand runs from the O'Dell well on the Beach to the northwest about two miles, the Jones wells on the Dodson marking the present northwestern limits of the pool. The pool is not defined so far, with completions, due within the next few days, promising both additional production and extensions in several directions.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY BUILDS CORPORATION "EXPERTS"

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 26.—The corporation experts are being developed in the University of Texas by means of a novel class in the Department of Business Administration. The class has organized into an imaginary corporation and each student has supposedly invested $100,000 in corporation stocks.

The class is required to write to the corporation in which they were supposed to have invested for bulletins and circulars in order to keep up with the business. The market is down at present, according to investors, and the class is much concerned over the possible loss of their money.

At the end of the term each student is required to make a full report on the promotion of their company, a statement of the present status of the company, and a graph sohwing the fluctuations in the market.

CONGRESS TO BE URGED TO ADOPT MATERNITY BILL

International News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Announcement has been made by the League of Women Voters that it will urge congress to pass at the wigter session the Sheppard-Towner bill for maternity and infant protection. The bill is being sponsered in the senate by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas and in the house by Congressman Horace M. Towner of Iowa.

In making the announcement the league said it was aware that the last session of a dying congress is little hospitable to legislative innovations, and that this congress is particularly uninterested in making new appropriations.

The league, however, asks for immediate action and is mobilizing the forces that bustled through the Nineteenth amendment through 36 states. The league is demanding haste, it was said, because they learned to beware of off-years in state legislatures. Twenty-five special sessions of legislatures had to be called to ratify the suffrage amendment inasmuch as few states held regular sessions in 1920.

New Mexico Baptists have increased the number of B. Y. P. U.'s in that state by 33 1-3 per cent, and the number of Sunday schools by 43 per cent during the past year.

MAYOR AND COUNCIL ON JOB AT NOTHING PER TO RUN AFFAIRS CALLING FOR $3,000,000 OUTLAY

There is one concern which is overseeing the installation of about two and a half million dollars of improvements in its holdings here this year and at the same time carrying on an annual business something like half a million dollars annually.

That concern is the City of Wichita Falls. The Record-News knows of no private company or person which is investing that amount of money in local improvements this year. Those firms which spend as high as a half million dollars per year as a regular outlay, in addition to improvements, are very few.

And what might be termed the president-manager and board of directors of the municipal investor is Mayor Cline and the city commissioners. When the average income and value of the time of these men is considered it might be said that they work practically gratis.

The two and a half million dollar outlay is going into the purchase of the water company, the building of sanitary and storm sewers, an extended system of paving, better parks and playgrounds, improvements in the public hospital, to name only the principal jobs.

The city's regular business, payrolls, upkeep and current expenses, costs about $500,000 per year.

The council is "sold" on the business manager plan. Mayor Cline says they advocate it. But rather than "pass the buck" to a newcomer while the city is making a vast expenditure of the people's money, the mayor and commissioners are staying on the job for almost "nothing per."

Not a bad bunch, even if their principal occupation is listening to cussing from citizens. That's the lot of every city officer.

TEXAS CATTLE SHIPMENTS ARE BEING REDUCED

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS,
Washington Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Only 2,216,636 cattle were handled through the 68 principal public stockyards of the nation in October, as compared with 3,013,970 for the same month last year, the department of agriculture today reported.

For the ten months ending October 31 18,415,780 cattle moved through these 68 stockyards, as compared with 19,775,291 for the same period last year, a decrease of 1,359,511, or 6.9 per cent. These figures seem to bear out the statement of live stock men that the cattle business is stagnant.

The fall-off was more noticeable at Chicago than elsewhere. October movement of cattle through the Chicago stockyards amounted to 328,975 head, as compared with 464,159 for the same month last year. Only 205,490 cattle were slaughtered by the Chicago packing houses, as compared with 316,310 for the same month the preceding year.

Texas Yards Feel Slump.

All Texas stockyards showed the effects of the slump. Receipts at Fort Worth in October amounted to 95,987, as compared with 120,355 for the same month of 1919. Local slaughter in Fort Worth in October, 1920, was 51,792 and in October, 1919, 59,356.

A total of 13,018 cattle were handled through the Amarillo stockyards in October compared with 17,745 in October of last year. Local slaughter at Amarillo, however, increased from 228 in October, 1919, to 263 in October, 1920.

Only three other Texas towns—Dallas, San Antonio and El Paso—are listed among the 68 principal stockyard cities. Receipts at Dallas for October of this year were 588, as against 909 last year; San Antonio dropped from 35,795 to 20,030, and El Paso from 15,499 to 9,538.

Of all the principal stockyard cities Oklahoma City seems to have suffered worse. Movements through the stockyards at Oklahoma City fell from 66,926 in October last year to 36,240 this year, and slaughter in its packing houses dropped from 39,184 to 17,691 head, a decrease of more than 50 per cent.

Seek Reason for Decrease.

Department experts are studying the figures from Amarillo, Fort Worth, San Antonio and El Paso. These four cities are the gateways to the cattle ranches of Texas, and movements through their stockyards forms an index as to what is happening in the industry. The department is seeking to find the reason for the big decrease.

Receipts of horses and mules also fell off at Amarillo, Fort Worth and San Antonio, the only Texas cities listed in departmental records as horse and mule centers. At Fort Worth only 2,610 horses and mules were received in October, as compared with 9,910 for October last year.

Hog receipts at Fort Worth, Amarillo, Dallas, El Paso and San Antonio showed a different result. At all these stockyards receipts of swine were larger in October this year than for the same month last year. For the nation at large, however, receipts of hogs at the stockyards was 326,628 or 10.3 per cent less than for the some month last year.
