Slaying Of Lubbock Man Is Investigated

Raymond Shook Found Shot To Death On Highway Near Midland Thursday

WEST TEXAS peace officers last night were continuing an intensive search for clues in the slaying of Raymond Shook, 46, Lubbock businessman, whose body was found in his 1947 Buick sedan on the Garden City highway in Glasscock county, 20 miles southeast of Midland, early Thursday morning.

The crime was discovered following a mysterious phone call about 6 a. m. Thursday to Ellis Funeral home at Midland that a man had been shot on the Garden City highway. The caller hung up without revealing his identity. Last night, more than a score of officers were tracing down a number of clues and had questioned several persons in hopes of gaining some definite information concerning the crime. However, early today no definite clues had been revealed.

Services Set Today

Funeral services for Shook, who resided with his family at 3217 Twentieth street in Lubbock, will be conducted at 3 p. m. today at St. Paul's Episcopal church with Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Plainview cemetery where both his parents are buried.

Pallbearers will be Eddie Henricksen, Leo Nunn, L. D. Nunn, Ed Pratt, Ervin Johnson, and Jerry Fulton, all associated with Shook Tire company, in which Shook had an interest with Fulton.

Clues Are Sought

Texas Rangers and other officers learned last night that Shook, after leaving San Angelo, had stopped at an all-night service station and cafe at Sterling City about 3 a. m. yesterday. While he was there, another man, about 27, also came in for coffee leaving a woman and child outside in a light blue 1946 Plymouth five-passenger coupe, according to reports from Midland.

After Shook left, the other man talked briefly with the cafe attendant and when Shook drove away the man also abruptly left the cafe in apparent pursuit of Shook.

Officers are seeking that man, who also told the attendant that he might go to Odessa and then on to Colorado. The license number of the Plymouth was not known.

Had Extensive Business

Jerry Fulton, manager of Shook Tire company in Lubbock, identified Shook's body. He said that Shook left Lubbock a week ago to go to San Angelo. Shook and his brother Melvin, of San Angelo, owned tire stores at Lubbock, San Angelo, Abilene and Sweetwater.

A service station attendant in San Angelo reported Shook, unaccompanied, drove into the sta-

Stassen Gains New Delegates

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen picked up another four—and possibly five—delegates today for the Republican presidential nomination.

This gives him 73 pledged and claimed without challenge in six states.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey gained one delegate to run his nailed down total to 126 and still lead the pack. It takes 548 to nominate.

Gains In Florida

The gains came from late tabulations of Florida's May 4 primary. Sixteen delegates in all were elected. The remaining ten elected ran unpledged and expressed no choice in advance.

Florida's 20-vote Democratic delegation is still unclassified, awaiting official returns.

Stassen is now firmly in second place in delegates already chosen. Senator Martin (R-Pa) also has 73, but they represent only early ballot unofficial pledges from Pennsylvania. There is talk that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) may get a large block from the Keystone state on a later ballot.

Like the Minnesotan, Dewey's delegates are spread over six states, but a big majority is made up of New York's 97. He now has: Fla., 1, Ky. 2, Neb. 1, N. H. 6 ,N. Y. 97, Oklahoma, 19. Stas-

Faint Signals Heard From Three Men Trapped In Mine

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 13 (AP)—The tapping of faint calls for help were heard through solid coal and rock today as rescue squads worked feverishly to bail out water trapping three miners 157 feet underground.

The trio—Charles Bashore, 42, Edward Heck, 42, and Peter Gordon, 35, all of Shamokin—have been trapped in their own independent mine since yesterday. Heavy rains flooded the mine shaft and cut off their escape to the surface.

Police Warn Auto Pickets On Violence

By CYRIL LINDROTH
INS Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, May 13.—Picket line flare-ups marked the second day of the nationwide strike of 75,000 UAW-CIO Chrysler employes.

Company charges that white collar workers were prevented by pickets from entering several Detroit plants brought a police warning that force will be used against illegal picketing.

Detroit Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy alerted police commando squads for action at the first sign of violence.

Pickets Charged

The company also charged that "unruly and irresponsible" pickets had prevented top management officials from entering two Detroit plants and plants in Marysville, Mich., and Kokomo, Ind.

In another picket line incident today, the union accused Grover Eads, manager of the Dodge foundry, of trying to invoke violence by repeatedly driving through factory gates at high speeds.

The union, bolstered by a rich war chest for its third round wage drive, continued to parade double picket lines about gates of nearly a score of closed plants, however.

State Law Ignored

The union, which seeks industry-wide pay boosts averaging 30 cents an hour, also faced possible intervention by Gov. Kim Sigler for violation of Michigan labor laws.

In calling the mass walkout Wednesday morning, the UAW ignored the Bonine-Tripp act which requires a majority vote of workers to legalize a strike.

Gov. Sigler said in Lansing he plans to force a test of the constitutionality of the law and also will offer his services as a mediator—"after both sides cool off a little."

Strike Fund Boosted

The union, meanwhile announced that its strike emergency fund may soon be increased to $8,000,000 from new contributions from members and assessments.

The 75,000 strikers, at the same time were losing nearly $800,000 a day in wages and thousands of other auto workers face layoffs as Chrysler supplier plants began curtailing operations.

Nearly 15,000 are to be made idle at Briggs Mfg. Co., principal body supplier for the strike-bound corporation, and additional thousands may be idled at 3400 other "feeder" plants.

Production loss of Chrysler cars and trucks was estimated at more than 5,000 a day.

HST Asks More Defense Funds

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 13.—President Truman today formally asked Congress for $2,434,441,000 more for America's defense program.

Congress has been expecting it since April 1, when the President said military requirements had been boosted since his March 17 message to Congress urging a draft, universal military training and expanded armed forces.

Budget Increased

He said the new program would cost about $3,000,000,000 more than the original budget estimate for the armed forces. This first estimate, made in January, was around $11,000,000,000.

Today's request for $2,434,441,000, plus the $725,000,000 asked for airplanes recently, plus a request for authority to enter into defense contracts totaling $40,000,000 bring to $3,199,441,000 the additional money asked for defense since January.

It brings the total defense estimates to over 14 billions for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

13 Believed Lost In Superfortress Crash

FRANKFURT, Germany, Friday, May 14. (AP) — The United States Air Force announced today that a B-29 superfortress crashed 120 miles northwest of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, with a possible loss of 13 lives.

The announcement, made at Wiesbaden, said one survivor was reported found. It added that nine bodies had been found and that four persons are missing

The ship was one of a flight which left Dhahran May 11 for Furstenfeldbruck, the American B-29 base in Germany.

Truman Opposes Ban Against Reds

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—President Truman came out today against outlawing the Communist party.

Splinter parties, he told a news conference, do no harm. He added that if there is plotting to overthrow the government, we have laws to take care of that.

Mr. Truman made the remark at a news conference in which he also said that prospects for world peace have not been changed by the American-Soviet exchange of notes on composing their differences.

Sides With Two GOP Leaders

The President got into the Communist angle when asked how he felt about a pending House bill, aimed at U. S. Reds, which would outlaw any activity designed to help create in this country a foreign controlled totalitarian government.

He wouldn't comment on that bill directly. He then added that he was against outlawing the Communist party. His stand thus was in line with that of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Gov. Dewey of New York, two Republican presidential aspirants. It was in direct conflict with the position taken by a third GOP runner, former governor Stassen of Minnesota.

Turning to another subject, Mr. Truman again said that he isn't going to give Congress the now-famous FBI letter on the loyalty of Edward U. Condon, government scientist.

It is a matter of principle, the

Europeans Fear East And West Gap Widened Over 'Peace' Note

By KINGSBURY SMITH

PARIS, May 13.—European observers tonight saw the gap between East and West widening with each side blaming the other on the Smith-Molotov conversations.

The Communists reacted with the expected propaganda line as indicated in the Paris Communist newspaper L'Humaite which called Secretary of State Marshall "the man who refuses peace."

The Soviet government on Monday disclosed the contents of a statement by Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, outlining American policy. Russia said the U. S. had offered to meet in talks with the Soviets, and Russia had accepted.

This interpretation of the American note was not borne out by United States spokesmen, who flatly said there was no point to further conferences until the Soviets showed a willingness by their actions to settle differences.

Top American spokesmen also said the U. S. would not meet alone with Russia to discuss matters which concerned other

Close Watch Set On British Aid Spending

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13—Economic Cooperation administrator Paul G. Hoffman said today there will be a particularly close check on American money spent by Britain's Labor government in the European recovery program.

He told the Senate Appropriations committee that close checks will be had every where. But he singled out Britain as being down for "strong conditions" for control on spending of U. S. cash.

Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) raised the question of the ECA attitude on the British Labor government. He asked if ECA will "foster or help" socialism.

Hoffman replied:

"I believe our business is to bring about recovery. If a plan came to us asking for 'X' dollars to modernize the steel industry, and the British government announced a nationalization plan for the industry, we would decide what results the action would have on the industry."

In such an event, Hoffman said he was inclined to believe the loan would not be a good risk while the industry was moving from private to public ownership.

Hoffman assured the committee that the United States will shut off aid in any country which uses recovery funds to produce war machinery for the Soviet Union.

He asked approval of the full $5,3000,000,000 authorized by Con-

Proposed Terms To Settle Mackenzie Park Suit Bared

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

TERMS of a proposed "compromise" of a suit against the city by Mrs. Mollie D. Abernathy involving title to most of Mackenzie State park and large damages were made public for the first time at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

No immediate action was taken on the proposed settlement. Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioner Clarence Whiteside, who took office last April 9, said they had not seen the suggested agreement previously and wanted to study it thoroughly.

E. K. Hufstedler, jr., another new member of the commission, was out of the city and did not attend Thursday's meeting but apparently has not seen the compromise proposal either.

Proposals Made Public

The proposed terms apparently were worked out more than two months ago, but nothing had been made public concerning them. The matter was one in which G. H. Nelson represented the city as a special attorney in the case. J. E. Vickers is Mrs. Abernathy's legal representative.

Terms of the proposition became public property Thursday afternoon when a communication from K. N. Clapp, chairman of the city parks board, suggested to the city commission that certain correspondence pertaining to the Abernathy matter should be made part of the minutes of the commission's proceedings. The correspondence consisted chiefly of letters from C. A. Bestwick, who then was mayor, to Clapp and the state parks board and the resulting replies.

This was the latest development in a matter which began about 12 years ago when the city paid Mrs. Abernathy $75 an acre for somewhat more than 300 acres of the land now embraced in the 549-acre Mackenzie State park. A few months after the purchase, the

German Girl, Baby Fly To Texas After Plane Smashes Car

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—A plane landing at La Guardia field struck an Army car and almost demolished it tonight but only shook up its occupants, a soldier, a German war fiancee and a baby.

The girl, 21-year-old Liesolotta Bach, of Weisbaden, and the three-month-old girl were able to continue their trip to Sherman, Texas, soon after the accident.

Airport officials told this story:

Girl Headed For Texas

The German girl arrived by plane today from Frankfurt with the baby, on her way to marry a Sherman, Texas, ex-GI. The Army took her to Fort Hamilton in Brooklyn for interrogation and then sent her back to the field in an Army car.

The driver, Pvt. Lee F. Farer, 24, of Louden, Tenn., went to the international terminal at La Guardia, where an official directed him to the domestic terminal.

The official told him to turn left at a traffic stanchion, but the soldier understood he was to turn left where a policeman was directing traffic.

He did so, and drove directly onto the loading apron in the path of a Northeast Airlines DC-4, landing from Boston. He said later it was raining so hard he didn't hear the policeman's frantic calls and whistles.

Propeller Slashed Car

Pilot Capt. Roderick Cote, of Melrose, Mass., swerved his plane in the air and the body of the plane missed the car.

But the blades of one propellor slashed through the car, barely missing the occupants and wrecking the vehicle.

The plane landed without trouble. The soldier and the girl stepped from the car unhurt. The girl and the baby were rushed to a hospital but immediately discharged when they were found uninjured.

The girl, who already had her plane ticket to Texas, was brought back to the field and left shortly on an American Airlines plane.

UN Presses Peace Effort

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 13—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and the Jewish agency hurled charges of aggressive actions at each other tonight in sharp protests to the United Nations.

The Trans-Jordan monarch, who has been reported ready to lead his British-trained Arab legion into Palestine when the British mandate ends tomorrow at 5 p. m., (EST), protested again Jewish armed organizations attacking Arab territories in Palestine.

Attacks Claimed Made

Shortly before the Trans-Jordan message was received here, the Jewish agency filed a complaint with the Security Council charging that King Abdullah's Arab legion had attacked Jewish settlements south of Bethlehem.

While the protests were coming in, the political committee of the second special Assembly on Palestine began work on urgent efforts to save Jerusalem from harm.

The committee received two proposals, one to put Jerusalem under a U.N. regime and the other to set up a U.N. mediator for Palestine. It decided to attempt to vote tomorrow morning, the full Assembly was called to meet at 3 p. m. (EST) in a desperate attempt to complete U.N. action before the mandate ends.

Various Steps Taken

Less than 24 hours before the British give up their mandate rule over Palestine at 4 p. m. (CST) Friday these steps were taken in the UN here:

1. The UN announced an American Quaker, Harold Evans of Philadelphia, had been agreed upon by Jews and Arabs for appointment as neutral mayor of the Holy City.

2. An assembly sub-group approved a temporary UN regime to protect the Holy City, particularly its most sacred places.

3. Another sub-group voted to suspend operation of the UN Palestine partition commission by June 1. It approved appointment of a UN mediator who would promote peaceful adjustment of the situation in Palestine if possible.

4. The Arab higher committee agreed to a truce for all of Jeru-

Police Probing Burglary Clues

Officers continued investigation last night of certain clues in the burglary of Bray's Campus Toggery, at 2422 Broadway, Wednesday night in which $2,000 to $2,500 worth of merchandise was taken. The estimate of the loot was made by C. B. Bray, proprietor of the store.

The toggery was burglarized of approximately $800 in clothing items about six weeks ago, Bray said. Two years ago he caught an intruder in the place and grappled with him, but the burglar escaped before police arrived.

Used Window To Enter

Taken in Wednesday night's raid were a great volume of shoes, trousers, shirts, sport coats, and other wearing apparel. Entrance was gained through a back window on a balcony. A night latch had been broken.

Bray had not unpacked much of the property taken. None of the loss was covered by insurance, he said.

Officers were also investigating reports of theft including a truck with a considerable amount of tools.

Ross Morris, of Avinger addition, said that his 1937 Chevrolet truck had been stolen Thursday, and that tools valued at $125 were in the back of it. There was no covering on the sides of the motor,

Electric Power Shut Off To South Korea

SEOUL, May 14. (Friday) (INS)—A long-standing American-Soviet dispute over Korean power resources reached a climax today when electric power generated in Russian-occupied north Korea was shut off to all users in the American zone to the south.

Switches were pulled in the Soviet zone at one minute after noon to cut off all power flowing southward across the 38th parallel, dividing line of the American and Russian occupation areas in the Asiatic nation.

South Korea depends heavily on power generated in North Korea, where the nation's major power sources are located.

Soviet Officer Walks Out Of Allied Meeting In Berlin

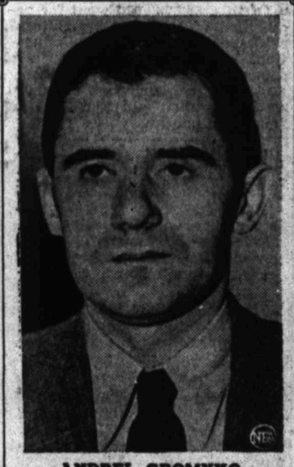

BERLIN, May 13 (AP)—The Russians walked out of the public Safety committee of the Allied Kommandatura today, one of the last functioning major committees of the four-power rule in Berlin.

Lt. Col. Kotischev, the Russian representative on the committee, gave no indication whether he intended to return for future meetings.

The waldout occurred as the committee was discussing the reasons behind the recent action of Wilhelm Schubert, Russian sector police chief, in offering his resignation.

Paul Markgraf, president of the Berlin police, was called into the meeting for question. At this point, Kotishev left the room.

"It is obvious this was planned," Kotishev said as he rose. He made no further comment.

Gromyko To Leave UN

(By International News Service)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 13—The Soviet Union abruptly ended the United Nations career of Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko tonight by replacing him with Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik.

The long-rumored change, effective in July, was disclosed in a letter sent by Gromyko to UN Secretary - General Trygve Lie.

Although the familiar Russian pattern is followed of leaving the reasons and intentions of the replacement vague—or its duration—Gromyko himself put a smile on his face and said he was first going to take "a holiday" in Russia after leaving Success.

Rumors Heard

The familiar, taciturn Russian told correspondents he "did not know" whether he would eventually return to the United Nations, here or in Paris next September.

Jacob Malik is an experienced old Soviet diplomat himself. Before the war he was Soviet ambassador to Japan.

The disclosure of Gromyko's replacement set afoot a wildfire of conflicting versions, ranging from his recall by Moscow due to failure to halt the U. S. drive in the UN against Communist expansionism to suspicion that Gromyko is slated for "the salt mines."

But inany case, his scheduled departure will remove from the Security Council the most hardbitten exponent of Soviet policies and ideology.

He has been the central figure of more controversies between the East and West than any other persen in the western hemisphere.

Although past experience frequently has shown that diplomats recalled to Russia by Moscow either disappear behind the iron curtain or are buried in menial posts, rumors at Lake Success have been current that Gromyko will get a bigger job in the Moscow regime.

He is also a deputy foreign

Peace Officers, Meat Workers Battle At Minnesota Plant

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn., May 13 (AP)—Police and sheriff's deputies battled with CIO Packinghouse workers today in an unsuccessful attempt to open picket lines around plants strikebound since March 16.

Several of the 17 officers were struck and two were knocked down by pickets' fists when they attempted to go through lines blocking the entrance to the Swift & Co. plant. Several hundred persons milled in front of the gate.

Gov. Luther Youngdahl said he will not permit violence to continue and that he will throw "the full force of my office behind efforts to help out this situation."

Arab Nations Mass Armies

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 13 — Reuters reported from Cairo tonight that Egypt has announced its troops will invade Palestine one minute after the end of the British mandate, 4 p.m. CST Friday).

The statement — first official Egyptian pronouncement on the Holy Land—reportedly was made at a news conference by the education minister.

He also declared that a state of siege will be proclaimed in Egypt at the same hour.

Protection Asked

Jewish agency sources, meanwhile, claimed that Arab legion troops are shelling Kfar Etzion and other settlements south of Jerusalem.

The UN Security Council was asked by the agency to take immediate preventive steps against Trans-Jordan.

Other Arab league spokesmen were threatening invasion of the Holy Land by Moslem regulars by Saturday and Damascus reports said the invasion of foreign Arab regulars will start five minutes after the midnight mandate expiration.

Ships Unload

As the time for the mandate's end drew near Jewish immigrant ships began unloading at Haifa without British restriction.

Zionist spokesmen said Jewish troops had occupied the surrendered Arab port of Jaffa.

Direct London-Jerusalem communications virtually were suspended.

Egyptian army officers were reported to have flown to El Arish on the Palestine frontier to plan the disposition of army units along the border.

British Withdrawing

The Egyptian army—which has a compulsory training system—is believed in London military circles to number 40,000 troops. However, additional funds were reported recently appropriated for frontier troops.

The British were withdrawing rapidly and already Jewish immigrants were starting to stream into Haifa without British interference.

Reports reaching London said that the steamer Andria loaded with 36° illegal immigrants from

Dope Is Seized In Texas Raid

GALVESTON, May 13. (AP)—Customs officers of Galveston, Houston and the border patrol Thursday completed what they termed the biggest marijuana seizure ever made in this part of Texas, netting approximately 100 pounds of the weed worth hundreds of thousands of dollars on the illegal market.

Complaints against three men were filed this afternoon before Mrs. Willie Coltzer, United States commissioner at Galveston.

One investigating officer said cigarettes (marijuana) containing thre to four grains were being sold in markets north of Galveston forf $1.50 each.

Guilty Pleas Entered

Eduardo Flores of Galveston is being held by the Galveston county jail under $5,000 bond on charges of illegal possession, concealment and transportating of marijuana in violating of internal revenue laws, and also of smuggling, in violation of costoms law. He pleaded guilty when arraigned.

Tom Garcia and Herman Leon of Houston, pleaded guilty to possession and transportation of marijuana and conspiring to violate internal revenue laws. They pleaded not guilty to smuggling. They are being held at the county jail under bonds of $1,500 each.

Alvin F. Scharff of Houston, customs agent in charge there, led the party of officers, which included some Houston city detectives, in a two-day investigation here.

Plan For Dixie Universities Shelved By One-Vote Margin

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13 — A dramatic 38 to 37 Senate vote today shelved the bill to give congressional approval to a southern plan for regional universities.

The vote was to send the measure back to the Senate Judiciary committee for further study. It was on the motion of Senator Morse (R-Ore.) who said he wanted to prevent segregation of negroes in the proposed schools.

When the roll call was first tallied, the count was 37 to 36 against sending the bill back. But during the recount, Senators Capper (R-Kans.) and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) arrived in the chamber with two "aye" votes. They swung the decision.

Texas Senators Connally and O'Daniel voted against shelving the southern plan.

Foes said the regional university plan would be used to meet recent Supreme Court decisions that negroes must be given equal educational facilities. They said it would permit continued refusal to admit negroes to white institutions and would be a device for continuing segregation.

Sponsors of the plan, however, denied that this was the purpose.

Problems Of All Mankind Are Centered In Ancient Palestine

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Just what is modern Palestine—its population, its industry, its finances and economics? Talbot Hood, London news manager of International News service, presents in the following dispatch a comprehensive description of the Holy Land which assumes a new place in history tomorrow when Great Britain surrenders her mandate to the United Nations.)

By TALBOT HOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 13 — Palestine, lying strategically at the crossroads between east and west, may be only a pinpoint on the map of the world, but its problems are the problems of all mankind.

Within its 10,400 square miles live about 1,900,000 persons—one third irreconcilable Jews and two-thirds irreconcilable Arabs.

Washed by the eastern shores of the Mediterranean, its other frontiers rub against Arab countries whose people threaten to spill over the borders in aid of their Moslem brothers.

Population Has Grown

The first census of Palestine, taken by the British when their League of Nations mandate began in 1922, listed a population of slightly more than three-quarters of a million.

The increase of more than a million inhabitants in the intervening years has been almost equally divided between the Jews and Moslems, with this distinction —about four-fifths of the Jewish gain came from immigration, while the Arab increase was due to a high birthrate.

There also are about 140,000 Christians in Palestine and 15,000 members of miscellaneous sects.

Although the Jewish community has recorded considerable progress in agriculture, it is essentially urban in character—in contrast with the Arab trend. At the beginning of 1946 the 27 Jewish urban settlements accounted for 74 percent of the total Jewish population.

The Jewish population is further concentrated in three large cities—Tel Aviv, Jerusalem and Haifa—and two small ones—Tiberias and Safad.

Largest City Is Youngest

The first all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv was founded near Jaffa only 35 to 40 years ago. Today it is the largest city in Palestine, with a population of nearly 200,000, and has its own port.

Tel Aviv has direct communication lines with all the heavily populated central Jewish regions, and is their economic center. Its proximity to Arab Jaffa potentially is its greatest strategic weakness but Jaffa now is almost deserted.

Jerusalem—sacred alike to Jew, Moslem and Christian—is another mixed city. Of its normal population of about 160,000, nearly five-eighths are Jewish. A small community of 1,500 Jews dwells within the old city.

As the center of the government, the national institutions and the Hebrew university, it has a high proportion of officials and professional classes.

Latest available figures list 444,500 acres of land in Jewish possession, nearly half of which was acquired by the Jewish national fund.

The Jewish agency and its financial instrument, the Palestine fund, and the Jewish national fund established a large part of the agricultural settlements.

Jews all over the world have voluntarily subscribed the money for the Jewish national institutions.

Some idea of the extent of this voluntary help is revealed by the fact that in the quarter of a century ending Sept., 1945, they had spent $176,808,000.

Of this, $68,000,000 went for acquisition of land and agricultural settlement, $48,400,000 on education, health and social welfare services, $15,200,000 on industry and urbar. settlement, $15,200,000 on immigration and $9,200,000 on labor and housing.

Alleged Negro Slayer Gives Self Up To Houston Blind Man

HOUSTON, May 13. (AP)—When Davis Harrison, 35-year-old negro decided to give himself up yesterday for allegedly shooting another negro, he didn't bother to ask for a cop.

Harrison walked into the lobby of the criminal courts building and stopped the first man he saw.

"I give up," he said. "I shot a man."

Without hesitating, the man took Harrison by the arm and marched him ti the sheriff's office. The negro was charged with assault to murder.

District Scouters Hold Monthly Meet

Troop zero, composed of scoutmasters of the Plainsman district of Boy Scouts of America, met in a regular monthly roundtable session Wednesday night at Scout park, with guests present including troop committeemen, institutional representatives, and members of the district committee and neighborhood commissioner's staff.

The group of 58 men present enjoyed a hot-dog dinner prepared by Herb Teal, camping and activities chairman, and a committee composed of Walter Wilson, Arnold Weed and Lonnie Crowder.

S. C. McCarty, organization and extension chairman, gave a report on the status of scouting in the Plainsman district, stating that nine new units have been organized since Jan. 1 and that five others are in the process of organization.

Demonstrations Put On

Sam Henry, jr., senior patrol leader for troop zero, called on patrols to take over and put on demonstrations of fire-building by bow drill and flint and steel.

Bill Postma, scout executive, announced the opening of Camp Post on May 30 and open house at the camp on June 20. Neighborhood commissioners staff announced that their monthly meeting for June would be held at Camp Post on June 9.

Herb Teal announced that the next all-district pow-wow will be held in late July.

The meeting closed with the scoutmasters forming the "living circle" and singing taps under the direction of Willard Edgett, scoutmaster of Troop 4.

Final Services For Tahoka Woman Set At Stephenville

TAHOKA, May 13 (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Lena A. Britton, 61, who died at 2:30 a. m. today in her home here from a heart ailment, will be conducted at 10 a. m. Sautrday in Stephenville, her former home.

Rev. Luther Norman, minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ, is to officiate at the services. Burial will be in Lingville cemetery near Stephenville under direction of Stanley Funeral home of Tahoka. The body will be taken overland Friday in preparation for services Saturday.

Surviving are the husband, C. C. Britton, of Tahoka; three daughters, Mrs. Craigg Young, of Fort Worth; Mrs. T. A. Lawson, of Stephenville, and Martha, of the home; one son, N. E. Britton, of Carlsbad, N. M., and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Britton was born Oct. 21 1886. She was reared in Erath county, near Stephenville, where she and Mr. Britton were married in 1906. The family moved to Tahoka in 1942.

COLUMBUS AND RUBBER

Columbus saw South American Indians playing with rubber balls 300 years before rubber was brought into commercial use in Europe, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. Europeans first valued it to rub out pencil marks, not for its elasticity.

WHY FEEL OLD AT 40, 60 OR MORE

Why be the victim of the older years? If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a method that may change your whole outlook on life. Why not try and regain the pleasures of living you once enjoyed? Why be discouraged—why not regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? Many men are obtaining amazing results with Caltron Tablets. Women too, find Caltron helpful.

AMAZING RESULTS WITH MERTOX TONIC

Mrs. Ben Grossman of Houston writes us as follows:

"For a long time I have had occasional billious spells. My head would hurt and I would vomit my food. My last spell was very severe and I just thought I would die. My appetite was poor and I couldn't sleep at night. I was so troubled with my limbs stiffening just before I would have a spell of gas and bloat. I would be dizzy and I would have a severe headache. My food soured and it just seemed as if everything was wrong with me. To anyone suffering like I was, I recommend Mertox highly."

This splendid medicine, containing 25 ingredients, works fast to eliminate poisonous matter from your system. Helps to build rich, red blood. Relieves constipation within a few hours and helps to create a more rhythmic bowel action. Get Mertox. Compound today from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

Several Organizations Mapping Legislative Program For 1948

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 13 — While Texas Democrats work up to a fever pitch in a party dispute, a number of organizations are quietly planning the attack they will spring on the 51st legislature.

It's warmup season for that portion of the legislative processes known as the "pressure groups."

Rural roads is one issue on which it is known there will be down-the-line fighting next session.

Other topics, most of them old ones to state lawmakers, include the "basic science" proposal of the Texas Medical association, the so-called "fair trades" act, old age pensions and unitization of oil fields.

Teachers Problem Seen

What teachers will ask for, or whether they will make a concerted drive similar to the one they made before the 50th legislature, is not certain. Last session, they gained a $2,000 annual minimum salary law and $55 per capita apportionment.

But farm-to-market road advocates have made the first step in an intensive campaign they hope will bring them $100,000 to wage a legislative fight.

At a meeting recently the Texas Rural Roads association voted to hire a full-time executive secretary and lobbyist at Austin and will return to the capital city on May 22 for a follow-up meeting.

State Fund High

The keynote of the rural roads battle was advanced by Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the state democratic executive committee. He compared their coming fight to one made by teachers in 1947.

"There was just as much sentiment for a farm-to-market road program, but everybody went running off in different directions," said Calvert. "If that happens again, you're not going to have a program."

The campaign is expected to be a particularly intensive one in view of the healthy condition of the state's general revenue fund. The surplus may run as high as $80,000,000, since it was $64,000,000 as of May 5. That's the highest in history.

The state medical association has met, too, and decided to press its "basic science" bill again before the legislature.

The bill, which passed the house last session but was not acted upon by the senate, would require every practitioner of the "healing arts" to pass an examination in basic sciences covering several subjects.

It's a sore spot with chiropractors, who say the bill is aimed right at them.

Provisions Another Problem

On another front, lawmakers will face a bill which has been coming up for air every session since 1931. It's the so-called "fair trades" bill.

The act was passed by the senate last year, but bogged down in a house committee.

D. A. Shipwash, president of the Austin Retail Grocers Association, said his group would fight again for its enactment. It would establish a floor on prices, to be set by the manufacturer. Opponents label it as a price-fixing bill.

Old age pensions also are sure to face legislators again; The Texas Pension association, in fact, asked Gov. Beauford Jester to call a special session to increase assistance payments.

However, the Governor said it wouldn't do any good because a constitutional amendment would be required to increase old age pensions and a special session cannot pass an amendment. Such action can only be taken at a regular session.

The 50th legislature in 1947 boosted assistance payments to the $35,000,000 constitutional limit.

Oilmen are going to bat for passage by the 51st legislature of the unitzation bill, providing for cooperative development of oil fields.

They say it will allow maximum recovery of crude from an oil pool.

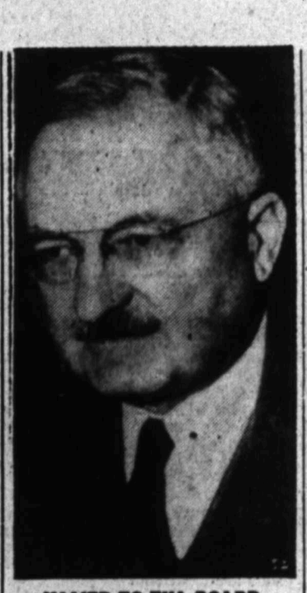

The bill passed both houses in 1947, but failed to get by the wire just as the session closed when a conference committee of the house and senate failed to agree on portions of the bill.

Opponents fought the bill mainly on objections to a section providing for exemption under unitization agreements of oil companies from the anti-trust laws.

Another piece of legislation which was announced recently will be offered next session is one to abolish poll tax payments.

State Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg said he will sponsor the bill, and planned first to try to get the backing of the state democratic convention at Brownwood May 25. Though his is not an organizational fight, it is expected that several groups will come to his aid in support of the measure.

There'll undoubtedly be a number of other bills offered by organizations. The planning season is on.

Radical Change In Combat Techniques Are Foreseen As Planes Fly Higher And Faster

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 13 — Designing and building jet-propelled warplanes is only half the job of preparing future defense in the sky. Military men are pondering what high speed, high altitude flight means to combat maneuvers.

The simple fact is that fighting tactics must be changed. Both speed and height increase the space required for aircraft turns. "Dog fighting," which called for sharp turns, virtually disappeared between the two great wars as aircraft got heavier and faster and flew higher. It is gone completely from the future.

The faster a plane flies and the higher it flies, the more it resembles a rocket in regard to control. Rockets either have preset control, automatic target-seeking controls, or are remotely controlled.

Radar May Guide Pilot

Piloted planes are unlikely to have preset controls to the extent that a pilotless missile might have. Nevertheless, some tactics already under study call for the plane to be directed by radar from takeoff, and the pilot to be guided to his objective.

Pilots of jet planes are well aware of the difficulty of making turns at high speeds and of a tendency to mushiness in the controls at high altitude.

At 50,000 feet, the air is only one-seventh as dense as at sea level. This means that under similar conditions, an airplane has only one-seventh the support at 50,000 feet. The pilot obtains more lifht when at high altitude by flying faster or increasing the "angle of attack;" that is, pulling up the nose.

Some engineers, using a theoretical 10,000-pound fighter with 600 miles an hour speed as a basis for calculating, figured that a force 21 times the weight of the plane could be exerted in flight at sea level, but that only three times the weight (or three "G's") could be exerted at 50,000 feet.

Requires More Space

Unofficial estimates of the difference in size of the arc needed to turn range up to 40 times. Some estimates are that it requires only three or four times as much space at high altitude But everyone agrees that it takes appreciably more.

Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl, Marine Corps flier who holds the world speed record at 650 miles an hour, says flight speeds above 600 miles an hour means great difficulty in hitting an attacking plane and many complications in actual fighting.

For example, it will be necessary to identify a plane as an enemy, to aim and fire before it is possible to see it with the naked eye. The obvious answer is electronics, or "radar" as it is usually called.

Head-on attacks, such as were not uncommon during the recent war, probably would be suicide. In addition to the short time allowed for decision, the wider turning arc would make it next to impossible to avoid hitting an approaching plane—or the debris if bullets caused it to disintegrate.

Side attacks also present serious problems because the deflection or "lead" would have to be greater than is possible with present sights.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✓ STOMACH GAS
✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that 8S8 Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the 8S8 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 8S8 Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is 8S8 Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people 8S8 Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of 8S8 Tonic from your drug store today. 8S8 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

WILL BE MISSED

WEST Texas State Teachers college and Canyon certainly will gain at Lubbock's loss when Lewis Stoelzing and his family move there late in the summer. Are you likely noticed in the papers, Stoelzing has resigned as band director at Lubbock High school to accept a job as director of the orchestra at WTSTC.

Stoelzing, who is a dead ringer in looks for movie star Fred MacMurray, breathes, thinks and sleeps music. He was instrumental in having the membership of the Lubbock High school band made open to girls this year. He has established elementary training in the Lubbock Public schools, knowing that the High school band would be no better than the talent of its members and those who had studied since grade school would have a lot of know how by the time they enrolled in high school.

The young man, who came to Lubbock when he was discharged from service in the Army Air Forces, has served as concert master of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra since it was organized two years ago. William A. Harland, director, in speaking of Stoelzing's new job said he wished him all the luck in the world. "The symphony will miss Lewis a lot," he continued. "We've appreciated his help in getting us started and hope he'll come back and play some more concerts with us."

UNDER CANVAS

THERE'S a new book we'd like to read, "We Called It Culture," written by Victoria and Robert Ormond Case, which is said to probe the origin and history of the old time Chautauqua. Anyone whose memory can reach back to the early 1920's can recall the gaily colored Chautauqua pennants strung across Main street, the big brown tents, the placards that promised entertainment uplift.

The season tickets embraced everything from appearances of the leading orators of the day to Swiss bell ringers. For twenty years the American people packed the tents every summer.

ALTHOUGH we must have gone to them here each summer we remember only two instances: Hearing Ruth Bryan Owen lecture and hearing a chaplain who had served in World War I speak on "I Hate War." That was long before a president was to say those three words and they were to be twisted into a sarcastic jibe by those who disliked him.

As that young man stood there that afternoon, before a audience gasping for breath in the hot July air and expending useless energy in fanning, he spoke with such seriousness we have never forgotten him. I hate war, he said, because of what it does to the minds of men and because of what it does to the hearts of men and because of what it does to the souls of men.

He well could make a similar address today.

Ke know that the ironclad contracts induced some business men to guarantee the promoters against loss and that there were those who thought the Chautauqua was a racket. But recall there were no radios in those days and that bit of culture under canvas helped to satisfy a great craving for musical and cultural pursuits.

A review of the book says the Case volume brings the full text of the lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," which Russell H. Conwell repeated an incredible 6,000 times without wearing out his audience.

McElroy-Stephens Vows To Be Read

Miss Clovis Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Stephens, and Reuben Earl McElroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McElroy, all of Tahoka, will be married this morning at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinty in Tahoka. Luther Norman, minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ, will perform the service before an altar banked with spring blossoms and greenery.

"I Love You Truly" and "Till the End of Time" will be sung by Mrs. O. B. McElroy and Miss Bobbie Cowan who are to be accompanied at the piano by Miss Pat McGinty. Traditional wedding marches are to be played also.

The bride will wear a white linen two piece dress with white accessories and will carry a bouquet of spring flowers. For something old, she will wear a pin belonging to her grandmother and for something borrowed, she will wear a gold choker belonging to Miss Rose Mary Nelms, maid of honor.

O. B. McElroy is to be his brother's best man.

Miss Stephens is a graduate of Tahoka High school and attended Abilene Christian college. At present she is employed at the Tahoka clinic. Mr. McElroy, a carpenter, is a veteran of World War II. The couple will be at home in Tahoka after a wedding trip to points in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

It's Calendar Day!

Attending were Mesdames John McKinzie, L. L. Garrett, W. G. Tarrance, Boyd Millsap, Elmer Harris, Oscar Ragland and C. W. Trippe. Plans for a breakfast to be given May 27 at 8:30 a.m. at Mackenzie State park were made. Mrs. Garrett will be hostess.

Parent-Teacher Association Units Conduct Final Meetings, Installations Thursday

Final meetings of the year were held Thursday afternoon by four Parent-Teacher association units in the form of installation teas and programs.

The Roscoe Wilson tea and program were given in honor of the school faculty. Each faculty member was presented a May basket filled with handkerchiefs; Mrs. O. L. Byrd, who made the presentations, read an original poem. "May Baskets." Retiring officers were wearing corsages presented to them by the faculty.

A highlight of the program was the presentation of a life P-TA membership to Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal. The retiring president, Mrs. Thomas J. Settle, received a gift from the P-TA.

Mrs. E. S. Smith of Lorenzo, president-elect of the Fourteenth P-T district, conducted an installation ceremony assisted by Mrs. Alvin Hamm of Lorenzo, district corresponding secretary, and seven children, Alfred Strehli, Ellen Hendricks, Marsha Ann Maxey, Sara Katherine McCorkle, Byron Edwards and David Hughes. Mothersingers, directed by Mrs. Charles Moeser, offered two numbers.

The program was opened with a talk on P-TA objectives given by Mrs. J. E. Hartley, City P-T council president. Certificates were awarded to a number of members who have completed adult education courses in home and family life and visual education. A committee appointed for the purpose of auditing P-TA books is composed of Mesdames L. L. Beck, Dave Sherrill and Kirby Nutt.

At a tea which followed, Mrs. Smith presided at the tea table which was laid with a white cloth and centered with red roses. Approximately 225 persons attended.

PRINCIPALS ARE SPECIAL GUESTS

Principals of Lubbock Elementary schools were special guests at a tea given Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. B. Speck, 304 Fourth, by Special school P-TA.

Miss Evelyn Jones reviewed the book, "Out On A Limb," and Mrs. T. F. Wiesen, vice-president of City P-T council, reported District P-T meeting held in Anson recently.

Mrs. Arch Harper was at the tea table which was decorated in a green and pink color scheme. Assisting with serving was Mrs. O. B. Gee.

Sixteen persons attended. Mrs. L. L. Miller was another guest.

PUPILS PRESENT MUSICAL NUMBERS

At the East Broadway P-TA installation tea held at the school Thursday, musical numbers were presented by pupils of Mrs. Loula Daniel. The installation service was directed by Mrs. D. L. Jones.

The 45 persons attending were served tea by Mrs. J. L. Edwards.

SERVICE IS LED BY MRS. LEMON

Mrs. George Lemon installed McWhorter P-TA officers at a meeting held Thursday at the school. Following the installation, numbers were presented by the Choral club under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Wilpitz. A business session was conducted, also.

Approximately 100 persons called. A tea hour was held after the program.

O. L. Slaton Ninth Grade Plans Picnic

The ninth grade of O. L. Slaton Junior High school will attend a picnic tonight from 6 until 8 o'clock at Mackenzie State park, according to an announcement made Thursday afternoon by G. E. Dawson, principal. Those who attend may go to the amusement park or participate in games planned by a faculty-student committee.

Only students with drivers licenses should take cars and cars are to be remained parked all during the picnic, stated the principal.

1911 Club Meets With Mrs. Whyburn

An afternoon meeting of 1911 Needle club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. M. Whyburn on Tech campus.

Mrs. A. B. Cunningham was cohostess and others attending were Mesdames T. W. Stoneroad, Granville Johnson, D. D. Cross, C. B. Townes, R. T. Bucy, John King, W. O. Stevens, T. R. Prideaux, G. H. Nelson, A. B. Conley, Floyd Beall, F. R. Friend, Joe Jackson, W. P. Clement and W. T. Gaston.

ANTI-RED BLOC PROPOSED

Police Force And Elimination Of Veto Urged As UN Changes

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Advocates of immediate revision of the United Nations charter urged Congress today to give it a police weapon and to kill the big power veto.

Witnesses before the House Foreign Affairs committee spoke out against any policy to appeasement toward Russia. Several of them proposed a union or federation of peace-losing nations, with or without Russia.

Wouldn't Scrap UN

None favored outright scrapping of the United Nations.

Ely Culbertson, the bridge game expert, openly questioned the action of Secretary of State Marshall in defending what Culbertson termed an "important" United Nations. He said American leadership must answer when Russia masters the secret of the atomic bomb.

Culbertson said he was peculiarly qualified to discuss American-Soviet friction because he was reared in Russia, his father was an American mining engineer and his mother was the daughter of a Russian Cossack general.

Other witnesses called also for a similar program: To kill the big power veto in the UN Security Council, control atomic weapons and armaments, and set up a powerful international police force. They included Anson T. McCook, chairman of the American Legion's foreign relations commission; William L. Batt, industrialist, representing the United Nations council of Philadelphia; and Robert J. Bishop, Orlando, Fla., vice president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

NABISCO SHREDDED WHEAT

Ask for NABISCO—always in the familiar Niagara Falls package—the 12 biggest whole wheat biscuits you can buy!

How to make flaky, tender pie crust every time!

APPLE CRUNCH PIE

(Makes 1—9" pie)

DOUBLE-CRUST PASTRY	APPLE FILLING
2¼ cups sifted flour	6 large tart apples
1 tsp. salt	¾ cup sugar
¾ cup Crisco	½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ cup water	⅛ tsp. salt
CRUNCH TOPPING	1 tbsp. flour
1 tbsp. Crisco	1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tbsp. sugar	1 tbsp. Crisco
3 tbsps. flour
⅛ tsp. salt

All Measurements Level: Sift flour and salt into bowl. Remove ¼ cup of flour and mix with water to form a paste. Cut Crisco into remaining flour until pieces are the size of small peas. Add flour paste to Crisco-flour mixture. Mix and shape into a ball. Divide. Lightly roll half of dough in a circle about 12" in diameter, and ⅛" thick. Line pan and trim edges even with edge of pan.

Pare and slice apples. Combine with other ingredients. Fill pan. Roll out remaining dough in 10" circle. Prick for steam vents. Place over apples. Fold over lower crust. Flute with fingers to seal. Brush with milk. Sprinkle with topping ingredients blended together until crumbly. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) for 40-45 minutes.

CRISCO COOK BOOK—64 pages of tested recipes, beautiful full-color illustrations, is yours for 10¢ in coin and a Crisco label (any size). Mail to Crisco, Dept. E, Box 837, Cincinnati 1, Ohio. Offer good in continental U. S.

"Crunchy on top...flaky on the bottom... M-M-M... It's Apple Crunch Pie!"

"That juicy, sweet-smelling Crisco apple pie was really something! One taste of its golden, flaky, melt-in-your-mouth crust—and my family insisted I was a genius.

"You can bet I didn't tell them the genius was simply new, improved Crisco and Crisco's wonderful pastry method! Even a beginner can get flaky, tender pie crust every time with pure, all-vegetable Crisco and Crisco's sure-fire pastry method. There's no chance of soggy or tough crust. Just sure success—tender, digestible pastry every time!

"And to think the Crisco pastry recipe was staring me in the face all the time . . . right on the label of my Crisco! The pure, creamy Crisco I've always depended on for light, fine-textured cakes and digestible fried foods. (9 out of 10 doctors, you know, say Crisco is easy to digest.)

"But I've learned my lesson! Starting now, that wonderful Crisco is my one-and-only shortening for pastry, too. I've found Crisco makes everything taste better . . . fried foods, cakes and m-m-marvelous pies!"

SCHRAM RAPS CREDIT CONTROLS

Stock Exchange Head Sees No Slump 'If We Keep Our Heads'

WASHINGTON, May 13 (INS)—Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock exchange, declared today that there is no depression ahead "if we keep our heads."

Schram testified before the joint Congressional Economic committee in opposition to legislation imposing tighter controls on credit, requested by the administration.

He declared that greater inflation also is unlikely unless "Congress permits the budget to become unbalanced again."

The nation, he said, has "emerged from the period of shortages."

High Margins Opposed

The stock exchange head protested against high margin requirements on stock and said they were "clearly discriminatory in the one market that is non-inflated."

Schram contended that if stock market requirements are relaxed, it would help the bond market. He explained that the stock market then would provide a better means of industrial financing and that insurance companies, now resorted to for industrial financing, would have more money for the bond market.

Schram declared there was no such thing as "absolute stability" in a dynamic economy, but he added that if business psychology is not unduly depressed "I see no reason why a large volume of goods cannot be continued to be produced and taken off the market."

First Graders Give ERP Chief Backing For Vital Mission

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—With lots of loving effort and very little mispelling, the first graders of Colfax school, South Bend, Ind., have given their blessings to Paul G. Hoffman and his European recovery program.

Hoffman made public 19 letters from the Colfax six-year olds, the only congratulatory letters he has released out of thousands sent to him since he became boss of of the economic cooperation administration.

And from Stephanie Pawlak: "Mr. Truman took you away from where my daddy works. Maybe that is because you are such a kind man. Mr. President awt (sic) to know we pray for you."

There were a few specific suggestions to help out the recovery program. All were carefully read by Hoffman, whose Studebaker corporation plant at South Bend employs the fathers of some of his well-wishers. For instance:

"Could you send the children what need help a cow? Please let us know how we can help. Colfax school wants to help." This was from "Your friend, Joyce Eisenhar."

Gloria Simmons asked:

"Are you giving the poor little girls any dolls? We would like to share our dolls with them. Don't get sick when you get on the boat."

Soviets 'Play Up' U. S. Rejection Of Talks

MOSCOW, May 13 (AP)—Soviet-American relations dominated the news today in Russian newspapers and on the radio.

All papers published a synopsis of Secretary of State George C. Marshall's news conference yesterday and President Truman's statement of the day before concerning the diplomatic exchange last week between Ambassador Walter B. Smith and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

All of them also carried Henry Wallace's open letter to Prime Minister Stalin and accounts of his address at Madison Square Garden, New York, Tuesday night, including his six recommended measures for improvement of relations between Russia and the United States.

The Russian people thus were told, in the Truman-Marshall story, that no two-power conference on Soviet-American relations is contemplated by the United States.

Rites For New Mexico Man To Be Held At Whiteface Church

Funeral services for Carl Depauw, 38, of Elida, N. M., who died unexpectedly at his ranch home near Elida late Wednesday as a result of a heart attack, will be conducted at 2:30 p. m., today at the Whiteface Baptist church.

Interment will be in Levelland cemetery under direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home, who brought the body overland from Portales, N. M., Thursday.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Vodine, and two sons, Roger and Rodney, all of Elida.

ACTRESS SEEKS DIVORCE

HOLLYWOOD, May 13 (INS)—Film Actress Leslie Brooks today filed suit for divorce from Anthony Shay on cruelty charges. She sought custody of their small daughter.

Superfort Wing Prepares To Move To Air Base At El Paso

FORT WORTH, May 13 (AP)—Moving day for the 97th wing of B-29s, being transferred from the 15th Air Force command at Smoky Hill AF base, Salina, Kans., to the Eighth Air Force command at Biggs AF base, El Paso, will start Sunday, Col. Thomas J. Dubose, deputy Eighth Air Force commander, reported today.

The move will involve 250 officers and 1,500 enlisted men of the 97th, under command of Col. G. L. Robinson.

Four-engined transports from Carswell AF base, Fort Worth, will go to Salina Sunday to assist the 14 B-29s of the 97th in loading up gear and men, in preparation for the flight Monday to El Paso.

Colonel Dubose pointed out that the 14 B-29s now in use by the 97th will be augmented later, to the full quota of 30 or more planes for a wing, as the newly authorized 70-group air force begins expansion and planes are taken out of storage "cocoonage."

The 97th spent the winter in Alaska flying training missions and returned to Smoky Hill only a few weeks ago.

PRISON GETS STUCK

LANSING, Kan. (U.P.) — When Jim Morris escaped from the Kansas State Penitentiary after serving 20½ years, he made his get-away in a prison truck. The prison got its truck back after it was abandoned in Kansas City. First, though, it had ot pay a $4 storage bill.

Farley Calls On Democratic Chiefs To Get Behind Truman

HARTFORD, Conn., May 13 (INS)—James A. Farley called on Democratic leaders today to stop "pussy footing around" and give President Truman the "vigorous support" he deserves.

The former Democratic national chairman told a news conference that the President "has done very well in a time of trial and tribulation."

He charged that Henry A. Wallace, the third party presidential candidate is "performing a great disservice to the country and the people" by "sowing dissention when unity is needed."

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barocentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

MRS. IDA ZWALLY

AFRAID TO EAT SOLID FOOD BEFORE RETONGA BROUGHT REAL RELIEF

Had About Given Up Hope Of Ever Feeling Good Again Says Life-Long Resident Of San Antonio. Suffered From Sour Stomach, Restlessness, Aches And Pains.

"I regret that I didn't know about Retonga years ago," declares Mrs. Ida Zwally, life-long resident of San Antonio, who lives at 1416 Burleson St. A member of the Calvary Baptist Church, Mrs. Zwally is the mother of five children. She gratefully continues:

"I was afraid to eat solid foods and lived on soups and broths. What little I did eat seemed to turn sour in my stomach and cause gas that would bloat me so at times I thought it would cut off my breath. Throbbing aches and pains shot through my shoulders and the small of my back so bad at times that I just had to let my housework go undone. I felt so jittery and restless that at nights it was all I could do to get short naps. I had to take strong laxatives nearly every night and they got to where they did little good. I had just about given up hope of ever seeing another day when I would feel good. It looked like I would just have to go on suffering.

"My son personally recommended Retonga to me. It's hard to believe that any medicine could give anybody the relief that Retonga gave me. Now I can eat solid foods and anything I want without a particle of fear. Those annoying aches and pains have let up, I no longer take strong laxatives, and I sleep restfully all night long. It is a grand thing to feel so good again. No one can be more thankful that I am for Retonga. I just wish I could personally tell everyone suffering as I did about this grand medicine, for I feel that everybody ought to know about Retonga."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to bring you relief, your money will be cheerfully refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores. Adv.

Hubbers Trounce Lamesa, 7-4

Russell Hurls Eight-Hitter For Win; Fowler Gets Homer

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Cotton Russell, definitely on the spot last night at Rosenthal Field, hurled an eight-hitter against the Lamesa Loboes as the Lubbock Hubbers won their third victory over the Loboes, 7-4.

Chick Fowler, who has been hitting the ball hard to lead the Hubber attack, belted a first inning circuit clout with Jackie Wilcox on base to send the Hubbers into a lead they never relinquished. An additional run that inning and three more in the third clinched the game for the home forces before a paid crowd of 1,242.

Russell had excellent support last night, with Frank McAlexander hogging all the glory. The Lubbock third sacker fielded his position flawlessly, with the exception der hogging all the glory. The Lubwith several spectacular stops.

Makes Good Stop

He started off with a routine pick up and throw to first in the second frame, then made a much harder play in the third to retire Lamesa. Again in the fourth he made a sparkling play to end the Lamesa inning and in the fifth he brought a good hand from the crowd on a fine stop and throw on Walt Buckel's hard grounder.

Another routine stop and throw to first ended the Lamesa sixth inning, but it was a spectacular backhand stab in the eighth that brought the crowd almost to its feet. Buckel was on third and Bob Murphy was at bat. Suddenly he lashed a screamer down the line. McAlexander was over on it, but the ball was hit so hard he couldn't get in front of it. He stabbed with his glove, came up with the ball, recovered and threw Murphy out at first by a step to retire the side.

The Hubbers led off with a trio of runs in the first, getting two on Fowler's homer. Virgil Richardson then doubled through second, the ball hitting Tony Fiarito in the head and going into rightfield. Time was called, but Fiarito, who was playing his first game after being out with an injured ankle, stayed in the game. Don Moore promptly singled to bring in the third run of the inning.

Three Runs Scored

Three more runs trickled across the plate in the third on four hits. Richardson led off with a triple to rightfield and came in on Moore's second single of the game. Frank Boothe struckout, but McAlexander came through with a single that scored Moore, who had taken second on Don Douthit's flub of his hit. Cotton Russell then aided his own cause with a double to rightfield.

The final Lubbock run crossed the plate in the fifth. Charley Scarborough walked and went to second on Russell' sacrifice. After Wilcox had grounded out and Fowler had walked, Manager Jackie Sullivan brought Scarborough in with a single to centerfield.

Lamesa had scored one run in the first on a double and single, but Russell held the losers in the palm of his hand after that. They picked up a lone hit in the second, another in the fourth and then were held hitless until the eighth, when Buckel's single was wasted.

Lamesans Stage Rally

But in the ninth they broke loose. Fiarito struckout to lead off the inning. Manager George Sturdivant walked, James Skidgel doubled him to third and Eddie Skrabacz brought both runs in with a hit to left field. When Fowler fumbled the ball, Skrabacz went to second.

Douthit singled to McAlexander, the third baseman losing the ball on a bad hop that hit him in the face, Skrabacz taking third. Buckel popped to McAlexander to relieve the pressure, bringing Chris Haskins to the plate. Haskins sent a hard ball to handle to Wilcox, who came up with it and threw to first, the ball bouncing in the dirt and being fumbled by Richardson That allowed Skrabacz to score and a run still was on the bases. But Russell bore down and made I. B. Palmer hit into a force play at second to end the game.

Tigers Trounce Red Sox, 21-9, In Boys Club Pee-Wee Tussle

Hugh Carlin's home run and double paced the Tigers of the Pee-Wee league to a 21-9 triumph over the Red Sox Thursday afternoon at the Lubbock Boys club diamond. Cecil Thompson led the Sox with a triple and a bingle.

The Yankees, led by Billy Presley's brilliant mound job, edged the Dodgers, 8-5, in a Midget league contest. Presley struck out 13 batters in his hurling stint.

Chris Van Cuyk Notches Win As Cats Shut Out Missions

FORT WORTH, May 13. (AP) — Chris Van Cuyk, 20-year-old Fort Worth left-hander, received credit for his third straight shut out here tonight as the Cats blanked the San Antonio Missions, 2-0.

He held the South Texans to four hits but required help from George Brown after walking the first two batsmen in the ninth.

It was Fort Worth's fourth straight decision over the Missions, who have yet to win a game from the Cats this season.

Hogan Will Inspect Club Layout Here

Fred Hogan of Midland, sectional committeeman for the United States Golf association, and who will be in charge of the qualifying round for the National Open slated June 1 at Lubbock Country club, will visit the club Tuesday to inspect the course, officials have announced.

Accompanying Hogan on the inspection tour will be Shorty Hornbuckle, pro at Odessa, Warren Cantrell of Midland and Chick Trout of the Lubbock Country club. The group will make suggestions concerning the layout and rules and restrictions which will apply to the qualifying round.

Local golf officials also warned that any players eligible to enter the qualifying round must mail their applications to the U.S.G.A. office in New York so that the forms will be received there not late than Monday.

TILT SET AT CHAPMAN FIELD

Lubbock Westerners To Battle Brownfield Cubs Here Today

Lubbock High's undefeated Westerners, leading the District 1-AA baseball championship race, will go after their seventh consecutive victory at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Chapman field against Brownfield's last-place Cubs.

The Westerners hold a narrow one-game margin over the runner-up Golden Sandies of Amarillo, as a result of Lubbock's win over Pampa Monday afternoon and the Sandie triumph over Plainview Tuesday, but the Westerner nine needs four more conference decisions to eliminate any possibility of a deadlock for the crown.

Martyn May Start

Coach Fred Taylor will probably start ace Lefty Jackie Martyn or Morris Turner, dependable right-hander, on the mound for the local schoolboys. Martyn won his first district appearance this season against Borger, but had to be relieved in his second attempt against the Bulldogs. Denny Davidson, top hurler of the Westerner staff with three victories, pitched five innings of Monday's tussle with Pampa and will probably not see action unless he is needed in a relief role.

The remainder of the Lubbock lineup is slated to follow the batting order in recent games, with Bobby (Rip) Griffin at third base; Billy Tatum, shortstop; Charles Galey, second base; Jack Alderson, center field; Dorrance Guy, first base; Dwight Moore, left field; Royce Jones, right field; and Bill Wylie, catcher.

Alderson is currently leading the Westerner regulars at the plate, with 10 hits in 24 times at bat for an average of .417, but Griffin holds the runner-up slot with 10 hits in 25 attempts for a .400 tally.

In another district encounter today the Pampa Harvesters invade Amarillo for a tussle with the Golden Sandies. Saturday Borger goes to Pampa and Plainview journeys to Brownfield.

The District 1-AA standings:

TEAMS—	W	L	Pct.
LUBBOCK	6	0	1.000
Amarillo	5	1	.833
Pampa	3	3	.500
Borger	3	3	.500
Plainview	0	5	.000
Brownfield	0	5	.000

Henry Wins Top Honors In Meet

Billy Max Henry, slender Westerner cage star, copped first place in the high jump, second in the low hurdles and ran a lap on the winning mile relay team to gain high point honors in the senior division of the first annual Lubbock High intra-mural track and field meet Thursday afternoon at Chapman field.

Henry had gained first places in the high hurdles and broad jump in the first half of the meet Wednesday, to tally a high of 19¼ points.

Wayne Stroud paced the pointmakers in the Sophomore-Junior High division of the event, chalking up 19 points on wins in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the discus, second in the broad jump and fourth in the shot put.

Winning teams in both divisions will be announced later this week, Coach Marlin Hayhurst announced, since total points had not been compiled last night.

The complete results of Thursday's events:

100-Yard Low Hurdles

Ralls Softball Nine Drubs Levine's, 20-9

RALLS, May 13 (Special)—The Hot Flames softball team last night turned in a lopsided 20-9 victory over the visiting Levine's softball team of Lubbock, as Sam Houcher pitched 10-hit ball.

Cliff Mayo had a homer for Levines and Jester picked out a pitch to his liking for the Hot Flames nine. Nine runs in the first two innings established too big a lead for the Lubbock nine to overcome and Ralls went on to add to the score.

Levines will play a practice game Sunday afternoon at 2 at Wagner Field against another Industrial League team.

The line score:

Levines	102	000	6—	9	10	5
Hot Flames	360	320	6—	20	16	3

McCaughan, Mayo and Harrison; Houcher and Clanton.

District 6-B Games Slated

The baseball championship of District 6-B will be decided Saturday afternoon at 3:30 at Rosenthal Field when teams from Shallowater and Frenship collide for the title.

In a battle for third place, Roosevelt will meet New Deal, both of whom were eliminated in the semi-finals, Roosevelt by Shallowater and New Deal by Frenship.

Off the basis of the season's record, the Shallowater Mustangs will be heavy-odds favorites to cop the bunting. Coach C. E. Booze's nine has gone through a 12-game schedule with only one loss. Last year the Mustangs upset Lubbock High school for the district championship and went on to the state tourney.

Boast Good Records

Their opponents, Frenship High school, had an impressive record of nine games won an dtwo lost under the tutelage of Coach B. M. Lyde. The team will be fighting not only for the title, but also to avenge 20-3 and 8-7 lickings by Shallowater earlier in the season.

Roosevelt High school also had a good record, with eight victories and three defeats in its first year in baseball competition under Coach O. C. Tomlinson.

New Deal, under Coach R. F. Hollingsworth, also played its first year of baseball and came out with a record of four games won, five lost.

Admission 50 Cents

Elimination play in the district began May 7 with Roosevelt beating Cooper 8-4, Shallowater trouncing Ropesville 20-4, Frenship edging Idalou 4-3 and New Deal drawing a bye.

On May 8 Frenship beat New Deal 16-11 and Roosevelt dropped a heartbreaking 6-5 game to Shallowater. This game went nine innings before being decided, all the others going the regulation seven.

Admission to the game will be fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for students, with the public invited to watch the doubleheader.

Players Are Listed

Members of the Shallowater squad are Wynn, Weber, Arnold, Sport, Murray, Clark, Fowler, H Clark and Rucker.

The Frenship squad consists of Allen Swinford, Jimmy Hall, Olv Hitt, Delmont Linker, L. C. Childress, Joe Randolph, Earl Dean Gillit, Duane Preston, Donald Edwards, Ray Gillit, Earl Swinford, Danny Dowgar, Thomas Schroeder, Aubrey Worsham, Delman Green, Madera Dale and Rodney Roper.

The Roosevelt squad has Paul Hammett, Tommy Durham, James Daniel, Billie Trotter, Carol Dean Curry, Norman Speer, Donald Searsy, Leon Trotter, Dale Ray and Billie Cooper.

Members of the New Deal squad are Bumpass, Beavers, Holbert, Utley, Henry, Jordan, Gentry, Christer, Emery, Snider, E. Harkey and F. Harkey.

Earl Sande Is Cleared Of Narcotics Possession Charge

NEW YORK, May 13 (INS)—A federal grand jury in Brooklyn today cleared Earl Sande, renowned jockey - trainer - owner, of a charge of illegal possession of narcotics.

U. S. agents had charged that the famous "handy guy" had violated the narcotics law in an incident at the Jamaica race track that caused the Jockey club to ban him from New York tracks for 60 days.

The announcement of U. S. Commissioner Edward E. Fay that the complaint had been dismissed has no effect on the 49-year-old Sande's suspension by the track moguls. The Jockey club previously announced that its ruling would stand no matter what decision was reached by the grand jury.

Giants Blank Cards, 5-0

Ray Poat Allows Only Two Hits

ST. LOUIS, May 13 (AP) — Ray Poat pitched the New York Giants into first place in the National league today by shutting out the erstwhile leaders, the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-0 on two hits.

A single by Enos Slaughter in the second inning and a double by Red Schoendienst in the third were the only blows yielded by Poat, who walked only three batters and fanned three.

For five innings, Poat and the Card's Red Munger were engaged in a scoreless mound duel.

The Giants scored their final two runs in the ninth on four singles and a walk at the expense of Ken Johnson and Gerry Staley.

PIRATES BEAT PHILS

PITTSBURGH, May 13 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates snapped a four-game winning streak of the Philadelphia Phillies tonight, defeating the Quakers 5-1 before a crowd of 29,789. Bob Chesnes, Pacific Coast rookie making his first start in the majors, received credit for the win although he had to be relieved in the seventh.

HURLER IS DELAYED

BOSTON, May 13. (AP)—Measles contracted by Dixie Anne, his six-year-old daughter, will delay pitcher Tex Hughson's start for Texas to join the Austin club in the Big State league. The Red Sox optioned the former star right-hander yesterday with the hope that his ailing throwing arm, which has been twice operated upon, would improve in a hotter climate. Cloverlake Dairy Scores Upset Triumph Over Thomas Nine, 7-6

The Cloverlake Dairy softball team turned in a surprising 7-6 victory over the Thomas Tinkers last night at Jumbo Webster field to win their fourth game in a row in the South Plains Softball league.

In the nightcap, the Baldridge Bakery nine poured it on the hapless Golden Light Coffee crew, 21-1, behind the three-hit hurling of Loy Hubbard.

The Tinkers started the first game off as though they were going to run away with the contest, denting the rubber four times. That more than offset the single tally that the Dairy crew shoved across in their half of the inning.

Then Cecil Hale tightened and set the Jewelers down almost in order for the next three innings. During that time the Dairy nine kept pecking away at the lead. They scored once in the second to make the score against them 4-2, added another in the third to make it 4-3 and then went into the lead with two in the fourth.

Before the Jewelers could score again, the milkmen made it 6-4 with a counter in the fifth. Tinkers matched this in their half of the inning to trail 6-5 and the two teams exchanged runs in the sixth for the final reading of the score.

Neither team could score in the seventh and the Dairy walked off with their fourth consecutive game, although outhit, 10-8.

Doc Blanchard led the Dairy team with three singles in four trips to the plate, while Vic Ray and Whistle Banks each had two hits. A. J. Collier led the jewelers attack with two singles and a fourmaster.

The second game was strictly no contest, with Baldridge dominating the play all the way. Hubbard never was in danger, with his mates getting to Bobby Young and Dewey Carr for 19 safeties throughout the seven-inning struggle.

The bakers hit four home runs during the game, the largest number to be hit in any one game so far this season. One of the circuit drives was by the winning pitcher, Hubbard.

The line score:

Bluebonnets Leading Texas Loop With Seven Victories

SAN ANGELO, May 13 (Special)—It doesn't take any head scratching to see why the Bluebonnets of Lubbock are perched atop the Texas Softball League standings after the first month of play.

Combine the batting power of the Bluebonnets' big foursome—James Abbott, Willis James, Ralph Earhart, and Roy Butler—with the brilliant mound work of Jackie Neel and G. W. Warden and the story is almost complete.

James, Abbott, and Earhart have nine hits each to lead the loop and Butler has eight—which gives the quartet 35 base hits, including 16 for extra bases and three home runs.

Neel has won four and lost none and Warden has three wins and one loss. Warden has a no-hitter and has fanned 41 and Neel has whiffed 49.

Guy Watts of Monahans rates right at the top of the pitching list with three wins, one loss, two shutouts; one no-hitter, and 42 strikeouts. Bert Hester of Ragsdale has won three, lost one, has one shutout, and 37 strikeouts.

The tw loop leaders collide in this week's round of Saturday night doubleheaders. Bluebonnet of Lubbock travels to Monahans where it will probably be Jackie Neel against Guy Watts. Ragsdale stays at home and meets Brownwood in an exhibition. Crane moves into Lubbock to meet Baldridge, Nathan's of San Angelo goes to Forsan to play Cosden, and Odessa's Elks take the road to Stamford.

The standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Bluebonnet	7	1	.875
Monahans	4	2	.667
Ragsdale (San Antonio)	5	3	.625
Crane	3	3	.500
Cosden (Big Spring)	3	3	.500
Nathans (San Angelo)	3	5	.375
Baldridge	3	5	.375
Odessa	2	4	.333
Stamford	2	6	.250

Big City Track Meet Set Today

DALLAS, May 13 (AP)—Texas' big city schools start a new deal in athletics tomorrow, with one and possibly two state records due to fall in the first annual City conference track and field meet.

Darrow Hooper of North Side (Fort Worth) is a heavy favorite to break the new discus mark set last week in Austin by Byron Townsend of Odessa and Faulkner of Paschal (Fort Worth) may crack the pole vault record established in 1933 by Earle Meadows of Central (Fort Worth).

Tomorrow's meet inaugurates the City conference, made up of schools from San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth. This will give the Interscholastic league four branches—City conference, Class AA, A and B.

Hooper has bettered by nearly 18 feet the 155 feet, 8½ inch record Townsend set. In a dual meet at Dallas recently he threw the discus 173 feet, two inches. His city meet shot put mark of 55 feet ¼ inch is also expected to top this event.

Faulkner, a one-time student of Meadows, has topped 13 feet this year and has bettered by far other high school jumps this season.

Sweden's export or iron ore in 1947 amounted to 8,500,000 tons, but it is estimated that this year the figure can be increased to 10,000,000 tons.

Federal Judge Shortens Bank Robber's Term By 20 Years

WACO, May 15 (AP)—Francis Marion Hooper, jr., convicted of the $12,350 robbery of the First State Bank at Bremond, will serve 25 years instead of 45 under terms of a revised judgment by Federal Judge Ben H. Rice.

Judge Rice today ordered a 20-year sentence on a second count to be concurrent with a 25-year sentence on the first count. Hooper is serving his sentence in the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison.

Connie Mack Sure Athletics To Finish In First Division

PHILADELPHIA, May 13 (AP)—"The Athletics will finish in the first division and are capable of winning the American league pennant," Connie Mack said today.

Sitting in his Shibe park tower office, the genial baseball veteran prepared his strategy for the important four game series with the New York Yankees opening in Yankee stadium tomorrow.

"If we can split even in New York with the tough Yankees there's no telling how far we'll go," said Mack.

The 85-year old Philadelphia leader said "hustle and the ability to take advantage of every opportunity regardless of how small," is the reason for his club's present 10 game winning streak and lofty first place perch.

"Some player always seems to come through just when we need it. For example, take Sam Chapman night before last against St. Louis. Two out, none on in the ninth and Sam hits a homer. It ties the game and then we go on and win in the eleventh. It's unpredictable baseball that wins pennants."

Qualifying For SWC Track, Field Meet Is Scheduled To Open Today

HOUSTON, May 13 (AP)—Texas A. & M. and the University of Texas hope to out-maneuver each other here tomorrow for positions of advantage in Saturday's thirty-fourth annual Southwest conference track and field meet.

The two teams have won 26 of the previous meets and outcome of tomorrow's qualifying preliminaries in eight, and possibly nine, of the 16 events will have important bearing on the anticipated tight race between the two schools for the team championship Saturday afternoon.

Texas, improving rapidly in recent weeks in field events, is favored to take eight first places Saturday to only four for the Aggies. Arkansas is considered the leader in two with Texas and Rice looking to close battles in two others.

Such a lineup would give the Longhorns an advantage over the Aggies but they would need numerous points for second, third and fourth places for protection. The Aggies would have to do likewise to overcome the handicap.

Both schools will be after as many qualifying spots as possible tomorrow.

PLAYERS ARE SOLD

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 13 (AP)—The Oklahoma City baseball club of the Texas league today announced outright sale of right handed pitcher Jess Bramlett to Dallas of the same circuit. In other deals the club: Sold Aubrey Davis, utility player, to Midland, Texas, of the Class D Longhorn league.

Jack Sisco Quits As Gridiron Official

WEATHERFORD, May 13 (AP)—Jack Sisco, controversial figure of Southwest conference football last fall, said today that he was withdrawing from the officiating field.

Sisco, target of a bottle shower at last year's Texas-Oklahoma game and who floored a fan with a punch to the jaw after the Southern Methodist - Arkansas game, said he was quitting "for business reasons."

"My automobile business has grown until it requires all my time," he said. "I had to neglect it last year to do officiating."

He has written the Southwest conference to cancel his agreement for the five games he was scheduled to work next fall and is writing a dozen high schools the same thing.

Sisco was named "southwesterner of the year" by the Texas Sports Writers association for "his courageous stand against drinking and gambling in collegiate sports."

Eleven-year-old Vic Zachary, a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Zachary, 1615 22nd street, is in seventh heaven today, or pretty close to it.

Vic is a rabid baseball fan and has been ever since he was old enough to follow the National Pastime. One of his favorites is Don Black, outstanding hurler for the Cleveland Indians.

So when the Ohio ball club came to Lubbock April 9 to play the New York Giants, Vic looked up his idol. They had quite a talk, during which the youngster asked Black for one of his old gloves. The hurler's reply was a brief "we'll see."

Tuesday Vic received a package in the mail. When he opened it, there was a brand new baseball glove. Enclosed was a note that read: "Well, Skipper, here's that glove. Best of luck to you. (Signed) Don P. Black."

Longhorns, Aggies Meet In Crucial Series At Austin

(By The Associated Press)

Texas and Texas A and M open a two-game series in Austin today and the Southwest conference baseball title rides on the outcome.

A and M, trailing Texas by half-game, needs a clean sweep of the series to cop the crown. Texas, which has a postponed game to makeup with the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, can split and still take its second consecutive title by beating Texas Christian.

Bobby Layne, closing out his college sports career, will probably start on the mound for Texas today. He'll be after his 28th conference victory without defeat.

Earl Beesley, ace of the Aggie mound corps, will probably start for the Aggies.

Gunmen Caught In Gang Hideout

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13 (INS)—Three gunmen surrendered meekly to a huge San Francisco police squadron today after carrying out a night of terror during which they shot two policemen and held eight persons captive for more than six hours.

The Trio, believed responsible for many of the spectacular robberies in San Francisco during the past year, were found in a Lake street gang hideout with three women who were arrested.

The negro owner of the house and four other persons, including another woman, were arrested later as part of a sweeping roundup of gang suspects.

Eight guns, including a submachine gun and .303 rifle, were seized along with large amounts of ammunition, two hypodermic needles and three syringes of the type used by narcotic addicts.

Businessmen Are Held

The capture was carried out by a force of twenty picked policemen personally led by captain of inspectors James English. It brought to a successful end one of the biggest but briefest San Francisco manhunts in a decade.

The gunmen are Clifford Hall, 25, white, and Louis Fortier, 40, and Chester Fortier, 24, brothers and negroes. All were identified by their victims. The Fortiers confessed.

Their night of violence began as a complicated robbery scheme. When the scheme went awry they held captive and terrorized two business executives, the businessmen's wives and the four children of the two families. In addition, they kidnapped one of the families.

Approached by police at dawn as they still held their eight captives, they shot and seriously wounded the two officers and escaped to the Lake street house where they were caught at 11 a. m.

The wounded policemen are Sgt. James Erickson, 38, and Patrolman Charles G. Fowlie, 30. Each was shot three times. At San Francisco hospital the condition of Fowlie was grave. Erickson's condition was fair.

gress and said the need "is as real and as urgent today as when the Congress authorized expenditures of this magnitude."

Hoffman said one of the major objectives will be to place the European countries on a sound financial footing.

Hoffman said he intends to spend as little money as possible for relief.

Committee members also questioned Hoffman closely about the food situation in Europe — and why ECA proposes to spend $2,273,900,000 of the $5,300,000,000 for food during the next year.

Hoffman said there was overproduction in Europe today similar to that in the United States in 1933. He blamed this condition on "clogged channels of trade, a lack of dollar exchange, and the need for very quick correction of the fiscal situation.

"Our dollar is needed," he said, "to underpin the financial structure of these countries." The money of these countries, he added, will become sound only after production has been revived.

Southern Schools

They said it had been proposed as far back as 1935 and that it has been contemplated, for example, for graduates of white Florida colleges to use an Alabama veterinary school for postgraduate work. This would save Florida the expense of running an institution itself. The pattern could be repeated elsewhere.

If the 15 states set up regional universities for negroes—or for whites—they would need approval of Congress, supporters of the plan said. Senator Morse argued such approval was not needed under the constitution.

Anyhow, Morse said, if the Senate didn't send the bill back to the committee he would seek an amendment to forbid segregation in the schools. He said he also would try to add to the bill other civil rights proposals such as have stirred the wrath of southern lawmakers when they were made by President Truman.

Before the vote, Senator Russell (D-Ga.) told reporters that to send the bill to committee "would be killing the plan for this session."

STASSEN PUTS OREGON DRIVE IN HIGH GEAR

PORTLAND, Ore., May 13 (INS)—Harold E. Stassen put his final campaign for Oregon votes into high gear tonight, convinced that he is leading Gov. Dewey in the nation's hottest race for Republican delegates.

Minnesota's GOP presidential aspirant was hopeful campaign managers would work out the day and hour he and Dewey will meet in a coast-to-coast radio debate on Communism before starting his final swing around the Beaver state.

Controversial details included the number of radio networks that will handle the debate and whether or not the debate is to be held behind closed studio doors or in the uproar of public forum.

Stassen contends that the public not only should see and hear the debate but should have opportunity to participate as they did in the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Dewey has held out for "dignity" that the issues may be argued without interruption by hecklers and applause.

15 Alaskan Ice Pool Ticket Holders To Split $150,000 Pot

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 13 (INS)—Fifteen ice pool ticket holders were enriched by a total of $150,000 today when ice in the Tannana river broke at 1:13 p. m. (EST) at Nenana, Alaska.

The prize was the largest in the 32-year history of the classic, but a greater number of winning ticket holders cut individual winnings to about $10,000 each.

Four of the winners held combination tickets with others which cut their take to a few hundred dollars each.

Five hundred persons lined the riverbank at Nenana to watch the ice give way. School was dismissed earlier today when word came that ice movements made a breakup imminent.

The breakup came with a sudden roar tossing big chunks of ice up on the river bank.

Jean Cox, Warren Ruehm, Tory Marsh, William Fonken, M. N. Curry, Charles Johnson, Werona Swartwood, Tony Frank, Mrs. Selma Fars and George Carty.

Addresses of the winners were not immediately available.

Diplomatic circles interpreted difference in American - Soviet views and the line taken by the Communist press as serving to widen the breach between Moscow and the West.

The Soviet intimation of bilateral conferences with the United States resulted in at least one stormy scene involving western allies.

When W. Averell Harriman, roving ambassador for the European recovery program, arrived at French Foreign Minister Bidault's office for ERP discussions Tuesday afternoon, an angry Bidault met him.

Harriman Scored

Authoritative sources said Bidault berated Harriman in no uncertain terms for what he considered America's secret diplomatic approach to Russia.

Bidault's words indicated the furious indignation felt by both the French and British governments over Washington's making an overture to Moscow without notifying her western allies.

Bidault, who reportedly was visibly shaken, spoke to Harriman as probably no foreign states man had ever spoken to him before.

Bidault Calmed Down

He expressed astonishment at what he considered the American government's shocking lack of consideration for her allies.

The Frenchman reportedly made it clear that he felt such tactics might be expected from the Kremlin, but not from the White House.

Informants said that Harriman was so taken aback that finally he said:

"Mr. Minister if the Soviets' purpose in publicizing the exchange of notes was to create dissension among the western allies they certainly seem to have succeeded in your case."

Bidault's misapprehensions were finally calmed Tuesday night at a dinner given by U. S. ambassador to Paris Jefferson Caffery when Bedell Smith, on a fishing trip in France, added his assurances that no unilateral action was intended.

The Jews are expected to proclaim their state effective one minute after the mandate's expiration.

Moshe Shertok, foreign minister-designate, declared in a Tel Aviv news conference:

"We are determined not to let a vacuum arise for one split second. It is now or never."

An Arab communique issued in Damascus claimed 800 Jews were killed or wounded in the battle at Bab El Wad, a narrow gorge through which the highway from Tel Aviv reaches Jerusalem.

This choke-point is 15 miles west of the Holy City. Temporary Arab control of it has cut off the feeding of 100,000 Jerusalem Jews dependent on supplies from coastal Tel Aviv.

The new state's attitude toward Russia, Shertok said, naturally is influenced by Russia's favorable vote in the United Nations for a Jewish state. This attitude equally is true of Australia, New Zealand and others favoring the Zionist regime.

Shertok said U. S. State department officials had made "informal representations" to him about the prospects of what might happen when the Jewish state is proclaimed. He did not disclose these views.

City Commission

city transferred title to all the area to the state parks board. This resulted in the designation of Mackenzie as a state park.

Agreement Said Violated

A condition of the sale made by Mrs. Abernathy was that the land never was to be used for anything except park purposes. In the course of time, the city drilled some water wells on the tract.

Mrs. Abernathy claimed this violated the sale agreement, so she filed suit against the city last year. She demands return of the land, which has increased enormously in value, and alleged damages from water drilling which have been estimated as high as $500,000. Nelson was retained as a special attorney for the city soon after the suit was filed.

A few months ago Vickers appeared before the commission and outlined terms of a settlement which, he said, might be acceptable to Mrs. Abernathy. The terms he mentioned then were considerably less liberal than those revealed Thursday.

Paving Sought

But, as explained at the time, Mrs. Abernathy has large acreage, said to total approximately 400 acres, adjoining Mackenzie. Vickers said she is interested in developing this area as residential property, hoping for its early inclusion in the city limits. To proceed with any such development, water and outlets would be necessary.

So, under the "compromise" now proposed, the city would:

Build a large water main to the edge of Mrs. Abernathy's property; she would have to take care of any distributing pipe that might be laid within the tract.

Build a paved highway nearly half a mile in length to provide one outlet for the property, at a cost estimated at $50,000 or more.

Third Outlet Asked

Build a graded road to provide another outlet.

Provide a third outlet through Mackenzie park which eventually would be expected to add enormously to the traffic volume, and the resulting hazards, in that public playground.

If these utilities should be provided, it would be the first promotional real estate development to be so favored since the beginning of the war emergency, if not in the history of Lubbock.

The commission's immediate reaction to the terms, as disclosed Thursday was something less than enthusiastic.

Other business transacted at the five-hour session, while mostly routine, included several actions of much importance.

Pipe Purchase Authorized

Among other things, the commission authorized expenditures exceeding $200,000.

By far the largest item was approximately $158,000 for the purchase of about 11 miles of cast iron pipe to be used in extending water lines. Included were 20,000 feet of six-inch pipe, 30,000 feet of eight-inch, and 4,000 feet each of 10 and 12-inch.

The purchase was from the National Cast Iron Pipe Co., whose bid was the highest of five submitted. The deal was made, however, because of a guarantee of delivery within 20 to 30 weeks as compared with 20 months and longer required by other bidders.

Fittings Bought

Other purchases included:

Ninety tons of fittings for the pipe from the Dallas foundry at $208 a ton, a total of about $18,720; 120 pairs of pants, 60 wool shirts, 160 poplin shirts and 60 summer caps for the police department, from the Fechheimer Bros. Co., of Cincinnati, for $3,753; 11 electrical transformers costing an aggregate of about $17,400 which were divided among Graybar Electric co., Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing co. and Line Material co.; and 600 meter rings and lids from the Dallas foundry for $1,344.

The commission also authorized the erection of additional power line connections to Municipal airport at an estimated cost of about $4,750 and directed City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., to invite bids for the laying of numerous sanitary sewer connections expected to cost around $11,000.

Bus Route Merger Okayed

Other business transacted included:

Transfer of the east side of Avenue Q between Third and Fourth streets from a residence-apartment house zone to a retail business zone, as recommended by the city zoning commission.

Refusal of a request from the American Business club for permission to distribute circulars from an airplane over the city advertising the annual ABC rodeo.

Referral to the city recreation council a petition requesting flood lights for at least one softball diamond.

Refusal of two requests to place benches carrying advertising at bus stops.

Authorization to Lubbock Bus co. to consolidate its Sixteenth street-Tech and Fourth street bus lines.

Gas Report Asked

Rejection of an offer to sell to the city for $125,000 the water rights under 536 acres of land belonging to Walter Stanton, with Stanton retaining all title to the surface.

Instructions that the police department be directed to prepare a listing of all loading zones, to the end of eliminating those which actually are used as "private parking places."

Adopted a resolution asking "responsible officials" of West Texas Gas co. to appear before the commission and report on what is being done to insure adequate gas supplies for Lubbock next winter.

Named Mayor Rodgers, Commissioner Hufstedler and A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce, to visit Dallas in an effort to find what progress is being made by the War Assets administration and the Civil Aeronautics authority in disposing of South Plains Army Air field. The city has asked the agencies for a large part of the installations at SPAAF.

Clues Sought In Shook Slaying

tion about 2 a. m. Thursday, filled his car with gasoline, and left, officers said.

Officers said that Shook had checked out of a San Angelo hotel shortly before stopping at the station. A bell boy assisted him in taking personal effects to his automobile.

Body Returned To Lubbock

Officials said that Shook must have been killed between 4:30 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Shook's body was brought to Rix Funeral home from Midland yesterday afternoon.

The victim was found lying in the front seat of his car with his feet almost on the ground on the right side. A bullet had passed completely through his chest, rupturing the heart.

Officers said that he could have stopped along the road to sleep, since the car was about two feet off the highway and the parking lights turned on. The ignition switch was also turned on, they said, and the vehicle headed toward Midland.

More than twenty officers searched the scene of the tragedy yesterday and hundreds of yards in all directions, but found no murder weapon or other significant clues.

Robbery Seen As Motive

Shook's billfold had been taken, and his left pocket turned inside out. His watch was not missing, but officers said they believed robbery may have been the motive for the shooting.

A Midland deputy sheriff said there was some evidence that Shook was not slain in his automobile.

The bullet went completely through the body, and was reported found in his clothing.

Furthermore, there was evidences, the officer said, to support belief another car had been parked behind the death automobile.

Shook's clothing had been sent to experts at Austin last night for examination for gun powder marks and other evidence, according to Sheriff Ed Darnell of Midland. A considerable amount of blood was found on his clothing but very little in the car, it was reported.

Roads Are Blocked

Walter Teele, Glasscock county sheriff, Sheriff Ed Darnell of Midland county, Sheriff Zimmerman, Midland's Chief of Police Jack Ellington, numerous deputies sheriff, and state highway patrol officials arrived soon after the body was reported found. State and Midland city mobile radio transmission units were at the scene, and blocked roads radiating in every direction.

Shook, it was said, was known to have carried large amounts of money. It had not been established whether he was carrying much money when last seen alive.

In addition to his business holdings, Shook was owner of land in Hale county, and has business holdings in New Mexico.

He was described as "well to do."

Survivors are the widow; two children, Sandra, 14, and Ray Milby, 16; three sisters, Mrs. J. M. Wells of Lubbock, Mrs. M. M. Herring of Dallas, Mrs. W. J. Patton of Clovis, N. M.; two other brothers, C. A. Shook of Plainview and O. B. Shook of Ruidoso, N. M., and a half-brother, R. A. Tims of Waco.

Defense Funds Asked

er Martin, said military expenditures must be considered in connection with their effect on the national economy, and that a close watch would be kept on such spending.

He said Secretary of Defense Forrestal will review the entire defense program twice more this year—in September and December.

This is how the extra money, asked today, would be spent:

The Air Force will get $221,794,000. With this, it plans to increase the number of aircraft in active inventory to 10,297 first and second line planes. It includes funds for direct and indirect support of the 70-group Air Force program.

New Divisions Seen

The Navy would receive $669,354,000 over its previous budget total. It would use the extra money to increase naval and Marine personnel from 501,138 to 567,651, to increase the naval air arm, and bring the fleet to the active strength that has been authorized for peacetime operations.

The Army would receive $1,542,307,000 over its original estimate. This would be used to boost the year-end strength of the Army from 460,000 officers and enlisted men to 790,000.

New divisions also would be equipped.

Rites Set Saturday For Wife Of Lubbock City Policeman

Mrs. Bula Lee Hayes, 33, of Lubbock route 5, wife of city policeman Hugh Hayes, died in West Texas hospital at 6:25 p.m. Thursday. She had been ill for about 10 days, and the cause of death was said to be from a heart ailment.

She had been a resident of Lubbock for ten years.

Funeral services will be conducted at Plains Funeral home chapel at 3 p.m. Saturday, with Rev. McCarty, of Calvary Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in Lubbock Memorial cemetery.

Survivors besides her husband, are two children, Durwood and Vivien; her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, Paris; a brother, Melvin Williams, Lubbock; two sisters, Mattie Mae Hayes, Lubbock, and Audie Wilmouth, Paris; a half-sister, Clara Covington, Seymour; and a half-brother, Jesse Williams, Paris.

Attorney Accused In Narcotics Case

LOS ANGELES, May 13 (U.P.)—A prominent attorney, arrested in his Beverly Hills home, was accused today of leading a widespread narcotics smuggling ring.

A vice squad raided the home of Attorney Henry Fischer, 39, last night. The raid ended an investigation that began a year ago when he suddenly moved his law office into an expensive suite from a one-room shack behind a main street barber shop.

Claimed Head Of Group

Lt. Ray Huber charged that since then Fischer had built up an organization with peddlers working through Mexico and Southern California, hired 15 narcotics runners and energetically defended 35 narcotics violators.

Fischer was arrested shortly after vice squad men said they closed a deal for half an ounce of heroin with Wade Matthews, 28, described as a runner. Both men were booked on suspicion of violating the state narcotics act.

Huber said he made arrangements with Fischer to buy the Heroin. Two undercover men who stayed with Fischer said he called Matthews and told him to deliver the narcotics, as Huber requested, to two men parked at an intersection.

The men, both police sergeants, said Matthews drove up, circled the block three times, then parked three blocks away. He was arrested when he told the policemen who he was.

On hearing that the deal was completed, one of the undercover men gave Fischer $400 in marked bills. Huber said he returned to arrest Fischer and found the marked money in his pocket.

Official Opening Of Casket Company Is Held Here Wednesday

More than 100 persons from a wide area of West Texas and New Mexico gathered here Thursday for the official opening of the Lubbock branch of the National Casket company, located at Twenty-eighth and Ave. F.

The company has just finished construction of a 100 by 60-foot showroom factory and warehouse and has made provisions for expansion of the plant in the area.

Raymond Loving, formerly of Dallas, is manager of the new branch, Bentley Young of Dallas, manager of Texas with headquarters at Dallas, announced at a barbecue party staged at the plant for funeral directors last night. Mrs. Loving will be office manager and Johnny Freeman Edwin Jennings are salesmen for the Lubbock house.

Featured speaker at the barbecue was Porter Loring, San Antonio funeral director. Other talks were made by Jerry Crain of Dallas, president of the Texas Funeral Directors association; Ernest Wheeler of Portales, N. M., president of the New Mexico Funeral Directors association; and Mrs. Anne Eberly of Big Spring, president of the West Texas Funeral Directors association and A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock chamber of commerce.

Young and Elmer Johnson of Louisville, Ky., manager of the Louisville branch and former mayor of Louisville, also made talks. Johnson predicted a great future for the Lubbock branch. The company's headquarters are in Boston.

The BUSY SIGNAL is working overtime these days

Telephone users are hearing the "buzz, buzz, buzz" of the busy signal oftener than they used to. Why? There are more telephones and more people calling than ever before. That makes telephones and telephone lines busier than ever.

Sometimes there are so many calls going through the dial equipment in the telephone office that it can't handle any more. That, too, means more work for the busy signal.

Some folks have asked if the busy signal ever means a telephone is out of order. Almost never! It simply means that the dial equipment or the line or the telephone is busy, and asks you to please hang up and try your call again a little later.

Old Planes War On Crop Pests

CALEXICO, Cal., May 13 (U.P.)—Some 25 former war pilots are operating converted Army and Navy training planes in what is probably the largest crop dusting campaign in the world.

The 25 planes can dust 25,000 acres a day and the 500,000 acres in Imperial Valley are dusted at least once each year. Some sections are dusted twice and even three times a year.

The work is dangerous because the pilots fly only two to four feet above the ground, but only three planes have cracked up in the past year and no pilot has been injured.

The poison used in the spraying is the war-time developed DDT powder, which is used in five and 10 per cent strengths.

Attack Successful

The planes can apply the spray at the critical moment when the soil is wet and other equipment can't get on the field.

The aerial attack on the millions and trillions of bugs, worms and insects that inhabit this rich agricultural district is successful in all but one case. That is the aphis, which carries mosaic, a virus that attacks melon. The problem is the object of research by California universities and experimental stations.

The pilot must do all the dusting either in the early morning or late in the afternoon. He starts at dawn and flies till 7 a.m. and again at 4 p.m. until dusk. About 500 acres can be handled in one shift, with a cost to the farmer of about $2.50 per acre.

Three Dustings For Lettuce

Lettuce is dusted first for cutworms, then for green worm and loopers, and a third time for thrip.

The thrip is also dangerous to the melon.

Flax requires one application per season to control the beet army worm. Beets require three treatments per season. Most of the cereal grains require no dusting.

Recently, 3,000 acres of cotton were dusted below the border in Mexico. The treatment was so successful that next season 40,000 acres of cotton will be given the aerial treatment.

Camp Bowie Land To Be Used For Agricultural Purposes

BROWNWOOD, May 13 (U.P.)—Agricultural lands will be carved out of Camp Bowie, the big wartime military reservation near here, and at least 260 veterans have asked to buy twenty of the tracts.

John Sharp, manager of the surplus land disposal office of the Houston Federal Land Bank, has mailed the blanks and instructions to the applicants. The 20 tracts, all that is left out of 119 tracts originally offered to holders of higher priorities, are to be put up for sale to these veterans at fixed prices.

The plots range from .19 of an acre at $15 to 305 acres at $6,000. Several tracts have residences already on them, and others are on paved roads or highways.

A public drawing is to be staged to determine ownership. The rest of the 120,000 acre reservation will be put up for sale at a later date, Sharp said.

Stassen And Vandenberg Making Impressive Gains In GOP Race

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 13 — Harold A. Stassen and Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg have both gained in popularity throughout the rank and file of Republican voters as choices for the Presidential nomination.

The latest survey by the Institute among Republicans finds Stassen in the lead for the second consecutive time, with Governor Thomas E. Dewey pushing him and comfortably ahead of the rest of the field. Senator Vanderberg runs in third place in this pre-nomination G.O.P. popularity derby, displacing General Douglas MacArthur who runs next, followed by Senator Robert A. Taft.

GALLUP

The majority of the interviews in todays survey were conducted before the Ohio primary and therefore do not reflect sentiment since that election. The effect of that check on Stassen's series of primary sweeps, and the corresponding tonic to the campaign of Senator Taft, will be determined in new surveys which are now in progress.

The coast-to-coast standings of the various candidates were found to be as follows among voters who classified themselves as Republicans: A comparison with a similar survey reported April 25 is also shown.

	April 25	Today
Stassen	31%	37%
Dewey	29	24
Vandenberg	10	13
MacArthur	16	12
Taft	9	8
Warren	2	2
Jos. Martin	1	1
No Choice	2	3

To be placed in proper perspective today's poll results should be analyzed with the following points in mind.

1. A nation-wide test of popularity such as this cannot be construed to indicate how any given candidate will run in a primary in an individual state.

The record of recent primaries shows very clearly that the popularity of the various G.O.P. candidates varies from state to state. Thus, Stassen who won the Wisconsin primary had previously run a poor second to Governor Dewey in the New Hampshire primary. In Nebraska and in Pennsylvania, Stassen had the lead, but in Ohio he achieved, in the eyes of most observers, only a draw with Taft.

What the national polls of the Institute attempt to do is to conduct an informal nation-wide "primary" in which a cross-section of all the voters in the Republican party have a chance to speak their minds not merely on one or two candidates, but on all the candidates.

2. As every political observer knows, primaries are no indication whatever of how the delegates to the nominating convention will cast their ballots.

History shows that candidates who won the primaries before convention were often passed over by the delegates. Similarly, the fact that any candidate is popular in a public opinion poll prior to convention-time is no indication whatever that he will necessarily be nominated.

THE rise of Stassen's popularity over the past few months has been charted in the regular polls conducted by the Institute, and is shown in the following table.

	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	To-day
Dewey	38%	34%	29%	24%
Stassen	15	15	31	37
MacArthur	14	19	16	12
Vandenberg	6	13	10	13
Taft	15	12	9	8

New Catholic Bishop Is Seated At Austin

AUSTIN, May 13 (AP)—A 57-year-old prelate, who has spent his entire priesthood in Texas, took possession Thursday of the newest diocese of the Roman Catholic church.

The most Rev. Louis Joseph Reicher, D. D., LL.D., did so amid the splendid ceremony of the church; but he assumed authority humbly.

High dignitaries of church and state were in St. Mary's cathedral for the formal seating of the bishop and for the Solemn poltificial mass that followed. The most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, archbishop of San Antonio and ranking bishop of Texas and Oklahoma, was the installing officer. The most Rev. Christopher E. Byrne, bishop of Galveston, who ordained Bishop Reicher to the priesthood 30 years ago and consecrated him to the episcopate last month, celebrated the mass.

The cathedral, its sanctuary enlarged and beautifully remodeled, was filled with spectators.

Gov. Beauford Jester and Chief Justice J. E. Hickman of the Supreme court occupied the front right pew. Former Gov. Dan Moody and Mrs. Moody were seated behind them. Others of the state courts, the legislature and state departments were present.

Immediately after the installation, and before the opening of the mass, Archbishop Lucey turned to the spectators, lay and clerical.

"Bishop Reicher will rule over you as shepherd and father in all justice and charity," he said. "The little people of his flock, the least of the brethern, will be close to his heart."

Farmer Who Makes Own Rain Says Plan Beats 'Dry Ice'

By CLAUDE RAMSEY
United Press Staff Writer

ELSA, Tex., May 13—Making rain by seeding clouds with dry ice doesn't interest W. A. Harding, owner of the unique Evergreen Farms.

For the past 11 years he's been making two and a half inches of rainfall a day.

Harding does his rainmaking on his 1,800-acre farm, where he grows alfalfa and sudan grasses for dehydration and manufacture into chicken and horse feed and vitamin pills for humans.

His is the only form in the world, Harding believes, that operates full-blast 24-hours a day, seven days a week, year after year.

Continual sprinkling, harvesting and dehydration is going on at the T-shaped farm in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Every 24 hours the sprinkling system lays down two and a half inches of rain on a 120-acre block. The next day aother 120 acres are showered.

By providing plenty of rain, Harding is able to cut his alfalfa 10 times a year, his oats and other small grains three or four times.

His oats are cut when eight inches tall, alfalfa at 16 inches. The harvesters barely clear the soil as they snip off the plants.

"We cut while the plants are tender and have their greenest protein content," explained Harding, one of the real estate men who "opened up" the Lower Rio Grande Valley after World War I.

The alfalfa and oats are conveyed into trucks and hauled to the dehydrator, where they are fed into a telescopic drum furnace 24 feet in diameter.

Temperatures of 1,750 degrees Fahrenheit bake out the moisture. Then a hammer mill, grinding at 3,600 revolutions per minute, chops the stalks before they're sucked through a fine screen.

The finished product is a pastel green flour, as fine as a housewife's baking flour. The entire dehydration and grinding process takes less than three minutes.

Most of the sacks of green flour are shipped to Kansas City, where they are mixed either with poultry feed or processed into vitamin pills for human consumption.

"The best thing about this farm is that we contract for our production a year in advance," explained Harding, who last year turned out 8,000 tons of dehydrated cereal grasses and alfalfa.

"Our soil is getting richer, too, because of the alfalfa, although we fertilize the oats and sudan grasses."

JUMPING THE SOUND

Official time-keepers at track meets start their watches when they see the smoke rise from the starter's gun, since sight travels faster than sound and the smoke is visible before the sound of the gun's fire reaches the timers' ears.

Drunk's Nose Dive Spoils Test For Alcoholic Movie

MILWAUKEE, May 13 (U.P.)—One "actor" was a complete flop at a movie premiere attended by Milwaukee police.

Given screen tests were eight motorists arrested for driving while drunk. They were told to walk a straight line, do a finger-to-nose test, and pick up a coin from the floor—all in technicolor.

One flopped his role by falling on his nose in picking up the coin.

MUFFINS ARE STOLEN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13 (AP)—A police reported today Mrs. Ada Friend, 43 was slugged on the jaw by a purse snatcher who fled with a bag she was carrying. It contained one dozen muffins.

During an eclipse of the sun in Siam, the people traditionally beat drums, gongs, pans and do other things to make a racket, the tradition being that a demon is swallowing the sun and must be fightened away.

Solution To Education Problems In Texas Sought By Officials

AUSTIN, May 13 (U.P.) — The State Department of Education is open for suggestions on what can be done about "human erosion."

That's the term state education officials use in connection with the small number of students enrolled in grade school who never finish a high school education.

Out of every 100 white students, for instance, who enrolled in the fifth grade in 1939-40, only 43 graduated in high school classes of 1947.

Of that number, the department figured, 36 entered a university or college after leaving high school.

"Where are the other 64?" state education officials ask.

And the number of negro students who go the whole stretch is even smaller.

Little Progress Shown

Only 10 of those, the state department of education said, entered college.

These statistics on the holding power of Texas public schools were contained in the first publication of the state department of education official monthly booklet, "With Texas Public Schools," since pre-war days.

The publication, printed under tendent L. A. Woods, directed the attention of educators particularly the direction of State Superintendent L. A. Woods, directed the attention of educators particularly the direction of State Superinly to the problem of "human erosion."

"What can we do about this loss?" educators were asked.

Texas was inspired to make its survey by statistics released by the state superintendent of Minnesota.

The figures for Texas show that little or no progress is being made in keeping school-age children in the classroom until graduation from high school.

The high school graduating classes of 1937 represented only 35 per cent of white students who began fifth grade studies in 1930-31.

No Solution Offered

The figure for negro students was 17 per cent.

In the 1939 high school class, 48 per cent of the white students who enrolled in the fifth grade in 1932-33 were graduated.

Again, the percentage for negro students was much lower, at 20 per cent.

The department of education's bulletin had no solution to offer as it merely listed the statistics. But the department is hoping that classroom teachers, superintendents, and others directly interested in Texas schools can provide an answer.

The department's bulletin also touched on these education questions:

A questionnaire answered by 849 four-year high school systems showed that 473 teach Spanish and 376 do not. A total of 152 districts also reported "some type" of segregation, the bulletin said. The questionnaire was sent out by Thomas S. Sutherland, executive secretary of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Other Problems Stated

The public school system was named as the "only" agency capable of educating Texans in the use and conservation of wildlife resources. The landowners should be given proper information about wildlife "that they may know how to provide for its increase and welfare," said Everett T. Dawson of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. "This can only be done by starting with the landowner when such a landowner is in the public school."

The department reported that only 14 counties in Texas are absent from the roll of counties taking part in the 1947-48 school lunch program. A breakdown of schools participating showed 1,103 common schools, 1,308 independent schools and 37 parochial schools.

The bulletin urged that schools start planning now "for a well-rounded school health program for next year."

Movies Put Finger On Tipsy Drivers In California Town

POMONA, Cal., May 13 (U.P.)—Authorities here are boasting a new technique of wiring drunken drivers for sound, and capturing their inebriated characteristics with a motion picture camera.

Here's how it works:

An officer picks up an erratic driver who maintains that he has had only one beer. They go to the station where the driver is given a sobriety examination which includes the "line-walking test," the "pass-pointing" test and the revolving Rhomberg test which measures reflex action.

A doctor is present to check his eyes, speech, balance, gait, breath and general behavior. But that's not all—the driver's every word is recorded on a wire recorder, and every action observed by a 16 mm. camera. He is then booked, if pronounced drunk.

Pomona police say the effects of the movies and sound recordings work wonders in court if the driver claims he wasn't drunk.

Kiwanians Hear Exploration Official

Helmut Klaus, head of an exploration company here, discussed functions and importance of the oil industry to the world, and particularly to West Texas, in a talk before the Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday noon at Hotel Lubbock.

Klaus, native of Germany, who is soon to observe his 23rd anniversary in the United States, cited four functions of oil—power, lubrication, illumination and heat—as symbols of human actions and relations. For instance, the lubrication function symbolizes the art of getting along with one's fellowman and keeping a world running smoothly. Other functions were applied similarly.

Asked concerning average production per well in the United States, compared with the Near East, Klaus said that average per well production in the U. S. last year was 11.1 barrels, while in the Near East (Arabia) production averaged 4,108 barrels.

He is not uneasy about petroleum supplies, saying that production, high as it is at present, is only an infinitesimal part of underground storage.

Klaus was introduced by J. D. Hassel, jr., program chairman. Club President L. E. (Jack) Davis was in the chair, with invocation by Capt. Vincel Larsen.

Nine-Ton Statuary Of Horses To Be Unveiled At Austin

AUSTIN, May 13 (AP) — Five bronze mares, a stallion and a colt galloping hell-for-leather down a bronze mountain in front of Memorial museum here will be Texas' first major monument to the horses that helped conquer its wilderness.

The nine-ton group, the gift of the late Ralph R. Ogden of Austin, will be unveiled May 31. It will face San Jacinto boulevard in front of the Texas Memorial museum.

The heroic statuary is the work of A. Phimister Proctor of Wilton, Conn., and Seattle, Wash. He fashioned his model on the Tom East Ranch near Herbronville.

Holy Land On Brink Of Definite Showdown In Ancient Dispute

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

As Americans sit down to their evening meal today the able-bodied Jews of Palestine—men and women alike—will be standing to the barricades, determined to defend their newly - proclaimed homeland against anything the Arabs may unleash.

With the ashes of 2,000 years of homeless history bitter in their mouths, they have within the past few weeks consolidated their military hold on former Arab lands on which they intend to pick up the long-broken threats of national existence.

Arabs Also Ready

While the United Nations has backed and filled and backed again over what to do about Palestine, the Jews have proceeded under the noses of the retiring British governors to make a fact of the partitioning which the U. N. once agreed upon but was unable to enforce.

The question today is, can they make it stick?

Across the borders of Palestine are mobilized the forces of the Arab states.

If real war develops from the current guerrilla operations, pressures will be raised which will threaten the peace of the world.

At the moment, unable to agree on any direct action, the great powers are in the de facto position of letting the Jews and Arabs fight it out.

Showdown Is Seen

But world interests are too much at stake for that situation to last through any sort of long conflict. The oil sands of the middle East are too much at the cross-roads of the eastern and western worlds. Communism is too eager to step in anywhere there is disorder and governmental vacuum. The western nations are bound to try to protect their oil and strategic interests.

Despite all their threats, the Arabs may not be able to conduct a concerted campaign. There are jealousies among them.

Intensive pressure for an immediate truce will be brought against both sides in the few hours remaining before the British high commissioners sail away to end 31-years of British control. But the Arabs will agree to nothing that doesn't halt the Jewish proclamation of a new nation. The Jews show no slight indication of backing down.

Peace will hang by a very slender thread in the Holy Land tonight.

Kaye And Benny May Grab Top Spots In New Columbia Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 13—Listen to this! Any hour now Danny Kaye and Jack Benny are expected to sign a contract with Harry Cohn to make "Jacobowsky and The Colonel" on the Columbia lot, making this most interesting casting news.

Yes, I mean Danny and Jack in the hit that starred Louis Calhern and that marvelous actor, Oscar Karlweiss, on Broadway. Charles Vidor will direct them.

This is the story of a strutting officer, a girl, and a philosophical little Jew, tossed together for a few hours in a war-torn country. As I remember, it was a little bitter, a little poignant, with subtle comedy. I couldn't at first see Jack or Danny, those two out and out comics, in the two male roles. But there is a lot of pathos in Kaye's comedy — and Jack should be wonderful as the colonel in love with himself. That gag, on the radio, has paid off.

Play Gets Backing

So many things are happening, and all of them good, for Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson, to whom I talked long distance to New York.

Freddie says that he has all the finances he needs for his new company, which is important in these days when the banks are tightening the purse strings. He told me there is a strong possibility that "The Velvet Touch," his first independent picture with Roz, will go into the music hall.

I suspected Billy Wilder had a little plan up his sleeve when he left for Europe for a brief vacation. He's going to do his best to get into Palestine to shoot some scenes for a movie he is prepared to direct. Billy conferred with Barney Balaban, head of Paramount, and got his chief's okay to make a story, and he already has the basic plot.

Well, if Billy and Charlie Brackett make it together, and it's one-half as good as "A Foreign Affair," they'll have something. Oh, no, I'm not reviewing "Foreign Affair." I just saw a little bit of it, some of the scenes taken in war-torn Germany, and I'm ready to go all out and say there's no better team in our town than Brackett and Wilder.

Payne In Spotlight

Went backstage to see Mary Martin and she told me that she's leaving the "Anne Get Your Gun" company in San Francisco, and Dick Rodgers is trying to persuade Judy Canova to take her place and finish the tour.

"I'm so tired," Mary told me, "and I've had a sore throat for weeks, so Richard, Heller and I are going to drive in an open car, and go to our Connecticut farm by war of Canada."

I told Mary she didn't sing as if she had a sore throat, and Los Angeles audiences, usually cold, went all out for her.

Chatter in Hollywood: Is there anything to the interest John Payne and Joan Caulfield are said to have in each other? Both deny it's a romance, but those who have watched them working on the set of "Larceny" think differently.

Now Joan and John are making plans to appear together on the New England straw hat circuit in "Voice of The Turtle" this summer. They start June 10. First, Johnny will make a flying trip to see his family, who, I hear, are upset over the breakup of his marriage to Gloria de Haven.

May Make British Film

The expected fireworks in the Carole Landis-Horace Schmidlapp divorce may flicker out. I hear tell he's very interested in Nan Wynn these New York evenings and, goodness knows, Carole, who used to be a nightclub girl, has been very quiet in Hollywood.

Edmund Greville, the English director, who directed her in "The Noose" in London, arrived in Hollywood Sunday and he is talking with Carole about her next British movie.

In fact, Greville's mission to Hollywood is for the purpose of signing Carole to a three picture deal.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Winthrop Rockefeller and his bride are said to be negotiating with Gertrude Nieson to buy an island she owns off the coast of New England. Gertie, at one time, bought the Herman Oelrich's estate at Newport.

Our newest columnist is Gene Autry, who will have a daily column called "Horse Sense" on the order of the one Will Rogers wrote. Now everyone's getting into the act!

Brief Bits Of Local News

Captain and Mrs. Jack O. Standley are parents of a daughter, Janet Kay, born April 26 at Rodiquez General hospital, San Juan, Puerto Rico. Mrs. Standley is the former Kathryn Armstrong. Capt. and Mrs. Standley are making their home at present in Kingston, Jamaica, where he is stationed with the U. S. Air force. They expect to return to the states in November.

Rabbi Julius Kerman will preach on "God Versus the Golden Calf" at 8 o'clock tonight at the Sabbath Eve service of Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q.

Returning home Tuesday afternoon was Mrs. L. V. Cates of 2418 Ave. K, who has recently completed a four-weeks tour of East Texas and Oklahoma with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Owen of Dennison. Mrs. Cates visited friends and relatives in Denison, Tyler, Dallas, Sherman and San Angelo. She reported "mighty fine fishing" at the Roosevelt Memorial bridge in Oklahoma, where she stood in one spot and pulled out eleven crappies weighing from three-fourths to one pound each "in no time at all."

State Representative Preston Smith will speak on the prison reform bill tonight at 7 o'clock at Arnett-Benson Baptist church, 201 North Adams avenue, the talk being sponsored by the Pioneer Memorial Methodist church.

In a second hearing within two days, 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue Thursday awarded custody of a 4-year-old son to its mother, unmarried Margarita Arragon. The 18-year-old mother had testified that her father, who is serving a three-year penitentiary sentence for incest, was the other parent of the child. Contest of her action, in habeas corpus, was brought by a Latin-American family living near Monroe. The family had been caring for the child several months. The suit was precipitated when the mother returned from San Antonio for the child. Those caring for the child said they had learned to love it as their own.

A fine of $10 and justice court costs were assessed Thursday by D. W. Robertson after a trial before the court of a disturbance complaint naming Virgil Haney, 28. Haney waived a jury. The total assessment was $24.65, Robertson's records showed.

O. L. Roberts, 41, operator of the Sky View Garden at San Angelo and a brother of U. S. Roberts of Lubbock, was drowned in upper Ben Ficklin lake at San Angelo about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Resuscitation efforts failed to revive Roberts, who had jumped from a small capsized boat in which he and an employe of the club were returning from a picnic ground to Ben Ficklin park, where Roberts had left his car. Relatives explained that Roberts was unable to swim. Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. L. C. Killion of Amarillo, and the parents, Mr. Mrs. O. L. Roberts, sr., of Amarillo.

COUPLE GIVEN HOME

SUFFIELD, Conn., May 13 (AP) —An elderly negro couple were today comfortably installed in a new house, built, paid for and insured by their white neighbors to replace a home destroyed by fire., The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Wayne, were left homeless last January.

Idaho's first official highway took three years to build and was 624 miles long.

SO intrigued with the "Funny Cake" (April 23) we omitted the name of Mrs. J. V. Riley, McAlester, Okla., $10 winner for that recipe. Now, the laugh's on us.

If after serving bread dressing, the cry is raw! raw! instead of rah! rah! try this $10 suggestion of Mrs. David C. Thompson, Winnsboro, Texas:

TO insure complete baking of all ingredients in bread stuffing for chicken or roast, cook the chopped onion and celery in a small amount of MEADOLAKE MARGARINE before mixing the bread crumbs and liquid. Baked either in the fowl or separately you need have no fear of under-cooked onions.

$10 to Mrs. Harry Matthews, Clinton, Oklahoma for this summer supper special:

SALMON-MACARONI SALAD

1/3 cup salad dressing
1 8-oz. can salmon
1 teaspoon grated onion
1½ cups cooked green peas
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2/3 cup cooked macaroni
1 hard cooked egg

Flake salmon. Mash bones and return to mixture (a good source of calcium, you know). Chop egg and combine all ingredients, tossing lightly. Store in refrigerator for two or three hours to allow thorough blending of flavors. Garnish with egg slices.

HERE'S a little therapy prescribed for a $10 fee by Mrs. P. E. Campbell, Marlin, Texas, for your rayon and silk dresses, blouses or lingerie that have suffered a nervous breakdown. Soak 1 teaspoon plain gelatin in ¼ cup cold water, then dissolve over hot water. Add to 2 quarts lukewarm water and stir well. Use this as a last rinse, then iron as usual.

Plans Made For Texas POW To Visit Battleship Texas

DALLAS, May 13 (U.P.)—Members of the Texas Prisoners of War club will visit the Battleship Texas during their annual reunion June 19-20 in Houston, H. L. Pritchett, jr., secretary-treasurer, said today.

The retired battlewagon is berthed permanently near the San Jacinto battleground. Pritchett said the visit had been added to the program by John T. Jones, jr., Houston, reunion chairman, "and we hope fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz, as commander of the Texas Navy, will be able to be there with us."

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, honorary president for life of the Texas POW club, and Adj. Gen. K. L. Berry, his fellow prisoner of the Japanese, both are expected to attend the reunion.

Amon Carter, Jr., Fort Worth, president of the club, has requested commanding officers of all Army, Navy and Air Force installations in the state to grant three-day passes to former war prisoners in their commands to permit these men to attend the reunion.

"OLD LOOK" RETURNS

FARGO, N.D. (U.P.)—The "Old Look" has returned to high school girls' gymnasium classes here. After some of the girls had modeled old-fashioned "bloomer suits" in a pageant, they petitioned Hazel Dettmen, physical education director, to let them wear them all the time. They said they were more comfortable than glamorous, but tight, modern swimming suits.

Thriving Textile Business Started In Guatemala By Two Former Tech Students

From college in Lubbock to business in Guatemala has been the story of two of Texas Tech's graduates, one a home economics major and the other a business administration major, who have become engrossed in fabric work and started a thriving textile business in Guatemala.

They are Miss Louise Ohlenbusch, who is visiting in Lubbock, and Miss Joyce Dobkins, daughter of Mrs. Irma Dobkins of 2224 Twenty-seventh.

Life There Discussed

Miss Ohlenbusch, wearing a chartreuse hand-woven skirt with elaborate design made by Guatemalan natives in the factory she and Miss Dobkins operate, discussed life in Guatemala and the business she and Miss Dobkins have built up Thursday afternoon at the home of her brother, Albert B. Ohlenbusch of 1902 Twenty-fifth.

"It's fascinating," is the way she summarized the work. She found it fascinating immediately when she visited in Guatemala in October, 1945, because she simply remained to work there and did not return to the states until the following year, when she spent a vacation in Texas.

Natives Are Skilled

The two young women operate the Mayatex Fabrics factory, in which yarn is dyed, passed on to natives to do the hand weaving and make the designs in which they are skilled, then sent to the tailors to be made into garments, then either exported to different countries or sent to outlets in Guatemala City.

There are 22 looms in the factory.

Miss Dobkins went to Guatemala in July, 1945, with the plan of staying there and entering into the fabrics business. Prior to going to Guatemala, she had operated a gin at Dobbs City and had been one of the first three women in the United States to become a licensed cotton classer. She established herself in Quezaltinango, a city in the highlands or mountains of Guatemala and center of the weaving industry. The original plan was simply to send the yarn out to the natives in the mountains, where they would weave the fabric.

Others Went For Visit

In October, 1945, her mother, her sister, Miss Carmen Dobkins, now Mrs. Charles Drake of 2224 Twenty-seventh, and Miss Ohlenbusch went to Guatemala to visit. Miss Ohlenbusch remained to enter into business with Miss Dobkins. Miss Carmen Dobkins and Mrs. Dobkins returned to Lubbock. Miss Carmen Dobkins formerly worked in the business to find markets in the states.

Miss Ohlenbusch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ohlenbusch of New Braunfels, taught school three years at Portales, N. M., one year at Wolfforth and one year at Lawton, Okla., before going to Guatemala. Miss Ohlenbusch graduated from Texas Tech in 1940.

By the end of October, 1945, the two young women had decided to move from the city in the mountains into Guatemala City and to work out a new arrangement replacing that of sending yarn into the mountains for the natives to weave.

Installed Own Looms

They began to dye the yarn, first over a kitchen stove. They installed their own looms, employing natives to operate them. They expanded their factory, employing tailors to make the garments.

Now, a variety of garments is made, including sport clothes, shirts, bathing suits, skirts and others.

Discussing the natives, Miss Ohlenbusch said, "They are, to us, a very strange people, because they are so set in their customs and they don't want to change them." Frequently, when told how to do a task, they said, "It's not the custom."

Have Own Customs

After having heard that remark repeatedly, Miss Dobkins once told the "maestro," native in charge of the factory workers, that she could not get the work she wanted done and was hearing "It's not the custom" too often.

"Miss Joyce," the "maestro" answered, "every American has his own custom, doesn't he?" The two young women have found that answer cause for laughter when problems arise. They consider a sense of humor important.

A native never repeats a design in its entirety, said Miss Ohlenbusch. They plan the design as they work. They may in different designs weave a similar figure of a cat or a deer or other animal but the entire design will not be like any previous design.

Once, a weaver in the factory placed a design on an evening skirt which met enthusiastic approval of some of the young American women. He was asked to repeat the design. He made some others almost as beautiful, but none like the first. The design is placed on the fabric through attachments on the looms.

Patents cannot be obtained and any garment may be copied, said Miss Ohlenbusch. The factory in which she is a partner has developed one type of garment not yet made in any other factory, she said. That is the ballerina skirt, with elaborate designs usually in several rows around the bottom and design around the band at the waist. Some of the leading stores in the United States have sold some of the Mayatex Fabrics garments.

Miss Ohlenbusch came by plane to Brownsville, arriving April 9. She plans to leave Lubbock Friday. She will sail from New Orleans June 12 to return to Guatemala, spending three or four days at Havana en route.

WAITED LONG ENOUGH

SPOKANE, Wash. (U.P.)—The war interrupted things but when one swain appeared at the marriage license bureau, he found the license he had taken out in 1943 still awaiting him. The clerk explained that it wouldn't be necessary to go through the customary three-day waiting period. "Five years is long enough," the clerk said.

General Is Named New Chief Of Staff For Colombian Army

BOGOTA, Colombia, May 13 (AP)—Gen. Miguel San Juan, 50, became chief of staff of Colombia's army today.

He succeeds Gen. Carlos Vanegas Montero, who was appointed shortly after the uprising of April 9. President Mariano Ospina Perez appointed Vanegas military adviser to Colombia's United Nations delegation but Vanegas, former military attache in Washington and Rio de Janeiro, said he would decline the post and ask to be retired.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Oil Drilling Scheduled For Three New Mexico Locations

Following the recent deep discovery in Northeast Lea county, New Mexico, at Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Sawyer, locations for three new stepouts have been reported for immediate activity, with two of the ventures to be drilled by Mid-Continent and the third by Magnolia Petroleum company.

Mid-Continent No. 1-B U. D. Sawyer will be 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of the north half of section 34-9s-36e. That makes it a due south offset to the discovery.

Mid-Continent No. 1 Dessie Sawyer will be 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of the southwest quarter of section 27-9s-36e. It is a one-quarter of a mile west flanker to the new producer.

Magnolia No. 1-B Santa Fe-Pacific will be 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 26-9s-36e. That makes it three-quarters of a mile northeast of the Mid-Continent No. 1-A Sawyer.

Each of the new explorations are projected to at least 12,500 feet, to test into the pay section of the Mid-Continent No. 1-A Sawyer. That well flowed 996 barrels of 42.6 gravity oil in six and one-half hours through a one-quarter inch choke, from perforated section at 12,115-215 feet, which had been washed with 1,000 gallons of mud acid.

Officials Differ

Most geologists think the zone making the oil is the Devonian. However, some of the scientists are still of the opinion that it might be Ellenburger.

The No. 1-A Sawyer made a two hour flow Saturday of last week. In the first hour, flowing through a three-quarter inch choke it produced 170 barrels of oil. In the second hour it flowed through a one-half inch choke and made 110 barrels of oil.

Another two hour test was run Monday. In the first hour, flowing through a three-quarter inch tubing choke it produced 150 barrels of oil, with shakeout of one per cent drilling mud.

In the second hour, through a 32-64th inch choke, the oil yield was 130 barrels, with a cut of four-tenths of one per cent mud.

Operator representatives say the mud is coming from the space between the tubing and the casing, and not from the pay section.

Rig Moved Off

The rig is being moved off and the well will be put on regular production. It is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 27-9s-36e, and six miles east of Crossroads. The new discovery is 17 miles north of Tatum, and 12 miles southwest of Bledsoe, in Southwest Cochran county, Texas.

Skelly Oil company staked the first stepout to the new producer. It is that concern's No. 1 U. D. Sawyer, and is at the center of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 33-9s-36e, and one mile southwest of the discovery. It is to start drilling immediately.

Hunt Oil company, et al, No. 1 Allison, Southeast Edwards county wildcat, 18 miles southeast of Rocksprings, and in southeast corner of section 1, block DA-6, GC&SF survey, ran a one hour drillstem test at 5,541-5,623 feet.

There was a fair blow of air for 40 minutes and it then died. Recovery was 65 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The project is making more hole below 5,660 feet in line and shale.

Operator made a tentative call on the top of the Ellenburger at 5,424 feet. No signs of petroleum have been developed since that formation was entered.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 9-9 University is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat to try to develop production from the Wichita-Albany section of the lower Permian inside the Fullerton filed in Northwest Andrews, 15 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

It will be 660 feet from north and 810 feet from west lines of the south half of section 19, block 13, University survey.

That makes it a twin well to a producer from the Devonian, from pay bottomed at approximately 8,500 feet. Drilling will start at once. There are no wells in the vicinity which are now making oil from the Wichita-Albany.

Location Is Made

Sinclair Prairie Oil company and Cities Service Oil company have made location for their No. 1-76 University, to be a 3,300-foot wildcat in North-Central Crockett county, three and one-half miles northwest of the World field, and 15 miles southwest of Big Lake.

It will be 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from yest lines of the north half of section 27, block 7, University survey. Drilling is to start by May 15.

Sinclair has also made location for its No. 6-67 University, in the Midway Lane-Ellenburger field in Northeast Crockett county. It is 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of section 30, block 46, University. It is to dig to about 7,700 feet, and will begin immediately.

Well Is Completed

Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 3 Chambers County School Land fee, a one quarter of a mile south stepout from the closest Ellenburger producer in the Midway Lane field, and 1,980 feet from north and 1,851 feet from west lines of league 4, Chambers County School Lands, has been completed for a 24-hour potential of 1,651.28 barrels of 44.5 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1,610-1. The flow was through a one-inch tubing choke. The pay at 7,534-7,603 feet, had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Another Test Set

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-B Ellwood, North-Central Sterling County prospector, 14 miles north of Sterling City, attempted a drillstem test to total depth of 7,980 feet in an unidentified lime.

The packer failed. There was no test. Another attempt for a test is to be made immediately.

Hunt Oil company and Sohio Oil company No. 1 Sears, Northeast Nolan county wildcat, six miles southeast of Sweetwater, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 60, block 21, TP survey, ran a drillstem test at 6,223-86 feet, in the Ellenburger.

The tester was open one hour. Recovery was 4,710 feet of sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas. It is to be abandoned and plugged.

HEAVY VOTE IS QUESTIONED

UN Official Casts Doubts On Honesty Of Korean Elections

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, May 13 — The chairman of a special United Nations commission for Korea cast suspicion today on the honesty of last Monday's national election in the American occupation zone.

Shortly after the critical statement was issued by Chairman Yasin Mughir of Syria, the United States military police guard around the commission's Seoul quarters was doubled, apparently in fear of reprisals.

Violations Said Noted

Mughir asserted that UN observation teams had noted "a lack of privacy and secrecy" as well as "certain violations of the electoral law" during the balloting in South Korea.

The commission chairman indicated he believed the turnout of 92 percent of the eligible voters was grounds for suspicion as to the honesty of the returns.

Mughir admitted that "on the whole the elections were conducted very smoothly and on a fairly high level of organization and efficiency" but added:

"In fact, the efficiency was so remarkable that the figure of those voting reached a high percentage in a few hours.

"This, to my mind, should give rise to a certain degree of caution and reservation in our appraisal of that efficiency."

Mughir's statement was received with open bitterness in Korean quarters and the veteran rightist leader, Dr. Syngman Rhee commented:

"The Korean people are not very happy about this statement."

Rhee called Mughir "just a young college student who since his arrival has been acting in a very peculiar way," he added:

"His statement is sophomoric. I think the people will be deeply resentful of the reflection he has thrown on the election."

After Mughir's statement gained circulation it was noted that the guard around the commission's quarters was increased.

One MP said the detachment had been "more than doubled" and when asked why, replied: "I guess they're expecting trouble."

Ballot counting was continuing, meanwhile, with Doctor Rhee's "Korean Independence" party well in the lead for assembly seats. Rhee's party was credited with 56 of the 95 Assembly seats thus far filled. A total of 200 Assembly members are to be chosen to set up a Democratic form of government.

Lana Turner Holds Press Conference With Free Scotch

By GERALDINE HILL
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 13—Blonde Lana Turner, who outraged the British press last night, charmed it today—even though she kept newspapermen waiting 43 minutes to see her.

She did it with a big smile, a few shots of scotch and soda, and an apparent willingness to answer as many questions and pose for as many pictures as anyone wanted.

Today's performance was a complete reversal of last night, when she staged what one British newspaperman called "probably the strangest and most humiliating press conference yet held in Britain."

Couple Finally Arrives

Then she kept newspapermen waiting more than an hour, finally lost all but two of them in a chase through the corridors of the swank Savoy hotel, and then didn't answer any questions, closing out the conference in about two minutes flat.

Today the "Blonde Bombshell" agreed to meet the press again at the Empire theater. The newspapermen assembled, and then waited. They smoked and talked and waited. Several were about ready to leave when Lana finally arrived, 43 minutes late, on the arm of her fourth husband, Henry J. (Bob) Topping, the millionaire with whom she is honey-mooning here.

She was no less than delectable in a gray sharkskin suit, with a sable thrown over one shoulder, and a white carnation in her buttonhole.

Photographers Take 'Shots'

"Please excuse our being late," Miss Turner said, with a big smile, while the reporters were still gaping. "We're a little mixed up on the time, and so on."

Then she ordered scotch and soda all around, and sat sipping her own while photographers and reporters went to work.

A reporter moved in close for an angle shot, and the blonde star said laughingly:

"Do you have to get that close this early in the morning. I look awful."

Strikers Return To Tractor Plant Jobs

PEORIA, Ill., May 13 (INS)—Some 15,000 workers began returning to their jobs today at the Caterpillar Tractor Co. in Peoria as a month-old strike ended.

The end of the walkout followed a collective bargaining election conducted by the National Labor Relations board.

The strike had been called by the CIO-Farm Equipment workers April 8. However, the FEW was not represented on the election ballot because its officers had refused to sign non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley act.

The AFL-United Auto workers, the CIO-United Auto workers and the independent International Association of Machinists requested the ballot on the grounds the FEW did not represent the workers.

The AFL-UAW received the highest number of votes—4,707. The total was 626 ballots short of a majority and a run-off election will be held later between it and the CIO-UAW, which garnered 2,656 votes.

The IAM polled 1,170, while 2,112 workers voted for "no union," as requested by the FEW.

STOPPED CRIME WAVE

When matches were made of phosphorous, they were highly poisonous and figured in a number of murder cases, accidental deaths, and suicides. The match murders stopped overnight when a match company perfected a formula for non-poisonous matches and gave it to all U. S. manufacturers.

Expert Says Good-Natured Cattle Like Grapefruit Diet

LAKE ALFRED, Fla., May 13 (AP)—Good-natured cattle can be fattened on a grapefruit diet.

But, an expert warned in a talk before cattlemen last night, it won't work if the animals have a trace of wildness. Dr. W. G. Kirk, vice director of Florida's cattle experiment station, said undue excitement seemed to disturb the wild ones. This keeps weight down.

The cattle like the taste of grapefruit—even more so if it's fermented a bit, he said. Dr. Kirk added that meat from grapefruit-fed cattle is as good as western beef.

Loose paint around checked and blistered places should be removed with a wire brush or scraper before repainting.

France Again Considers Plan Of Atlantic-Mediterranean Canal

By ROBERT D. GRAFF
United Press Staff Writer

PARIS, May 13—The Panama Canal would look like an irrigation ditch compared to a canal connecting the Atlantic and Mediterranean currently being considered by the French government.

The proposed canal would be deep enough to take the biggest battleship or aircraft carrier from Bordeaux on the Atlantic side 150 miles across the south of France to the Mediterranean port of Sete in 30 hours.

Such a shortcut would cut three days steaming off the present round-Gibraltar route. It also would provide an alternate wartime lifeline between the western allies and their eastern bases.

The canal idea is three centuries old and has been proposed many times before. Current "cold war" talk caused the plans to be hauled out and dusted off once again.

The big switch is the time and money required to dredge the ditch and to install its eight locks. French engineers estimate it would take 30,000 laborers eight years to finish the job, at a cost of $600,000,000. American capital is wanted to finance part of the digging.

Actually, a rowboat-size canal built by Louis XIV back in the 17th century runs along the proposed canal route. Engineers figure on widening it to 400 feet and dredging it to 40 feet to take any ship afloat, except perhaps for the Queen Mary.

Population Density Of U. S. To Remain Low, Experts Say

NEW YORK, May 13 (U.P.)—The United States, with a population density of 48 persons per square mile, is and will remain one of the least densely settled countries of the world, Metropolitan Life Insurance statisticians report.

England and Wales have 725 persons for every square mile; Belgium has 700. Statisticians figure that the United States in 1975 will have no more than 62 people per square mile.

Overall population density has increased 90 percent since 1900, they said, with California showing an increase of 563 percent as opposed to Vermont's four percent.

The most densely populated state is Rhode Island, with 700 persons per square mile. Following, in order, are Massachusetts, with 598; New Jersey, with 590; Connecticut, with 412, and New York, with 294.

Industrialist Finds 'Sure Way' To Make Money Out Of Cards

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 13—When it came to card games Walter Artzt was strictly a kibitzer.

So poker and bridge and pinochle and gin rummy players will regard it as bitter irony when they learn he has just made more money out of cards than a lucky player riding a lucky streak on his luckiest day.

Why, said Artzt to himself, while he watched his friends sweat over a hot poker table, are all the cards either red or black. A monotonous color scheme, he thought.

"Cards," said a learned friend when asked, "have been two colors for 91 years. Red for the heart and diamond suits. Black for the spades and clubs.

Then he resumed trying to fill an inside straight flush.

Artzt went back to kibitzing, because as one of the largest infants' wear manufacturers in the country (Lisle Mills, Allentown, Pa.) he is in the upper income brackets and not interested in winning a few dollars from the boys on Friday nights.

Thus his mind pondered idly a method of making some real money out of cards. At that moment, so he declares, one of the players mistook the red nine of diamonds for the nine of hearts, also red.

"I have it," Artzt announced.

The other players asked what it was he had.

"Wait and see," chortled the baby wear man.

Changes Colors

"And a couple of years later," he said, "they found out what I meant. I patented a deck of cards which has four colors instead of the traditional two. I kept the spades black and the hearts still red, but I switched from black to green for the clubs and from red to orange for the diamonds.

"Simple, eh? But I have a patent on it and it has sold over 500,000 decks already. Not only that, but there's even a new game out called 'four-color gin'."

At 43, Artzt's fertile mind already has produced 11 profitable patents, but he thinks his new cards will be the top money spinner of the lot. For card players chagrined because they didn't think of the idea first there is a small modicum of satisfaction.

Artzt is giving up kibitzing.

Nebraska Primary Voting Is Called Technically Illegal

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. May 13 (U.P.)—J. H. Sweet, editor of the Nebraska City News-Press, says that "probably 99 percent—perhaps all—of Nebraska's 2,024 precincts conducted illegal voting in the recent presidential primary.

"You didn't hear the 'Crier' yell, 'The Polls Are Now Open,' nor did a similar voice cry out: 'The Polls Are Now Closed,'" Sweet said, "yet that's the law.

"The Nebraska statue books still carry a law requiring that a town crier announce both the opening and closing of the polls.

"A proclamation, says John Law, shall be 'orally issued' when the polls are open in the morning, and 30 minutes before they close in the evening.

"But supreme court decisions say omission is only an error and errors do not invalidate elections. It takes a plain violation of law to do that."

More Milk Per Cow? Here's How!

The number of dairy cows in the United States has increased only 1% since 1940. In the same eight years, a 10% increase in population has added about 12,000,000 more mouths to feed. These new American appetites need plenty of dairy products. Where are they coming from? More cows? Certainly that should mean more milk. But to bring more cows into production takes time—three years or more. The other solution is to increase the average production of milk and butterfat per cow. On many farms, dairy production has been increased without adding more cows. Here's how:

1. Improve your pastures. Dairymen have a saying—"Grow more grass and make more cash!" Good grass is your best and cheapest dairy feed. Lime and fertilize. Control weeds by spraying and mowing. Reseed to improve grasses. These are all good pasture builders.

2. Handle your milk and cream efficiently. Mechanical separators reduce loss of butterfat and improve its quality. Give more careful attention to sanitation. Quick cooling and proper handling can help you sell milk and cream, of better quality, for more profit.

3. Eliminate cattle pests. New sprays, like derris and DDT, used on the herd and in the barn, can rid your cows of grubs, practically eliminate pesky flies and lice. These pests rob America of an unbelievable amount of milk each year. Iowa alone sets the loss caused by heel flies and grubs at nearly 250 million pounds of milk in one year.

4. Control mastitis and Bang's disease. They are serious enemies of milk production. Complete control of them could increase the nation's milk supply 20% or more. That would be one quart every day for 30,000,000 people.

5. Check with your neighbors. See what they have done to increase their herd averages. You can also get help from your County Agent, your Vocational Agricultural teacher, your State College Experiment Station, or your State Veterinarian.

Increase production with more milk per cow. And more milk per cow means more cash for you.

Standardbred vs. Crossbred Chickens

R. G. Jaap

by R. George Jaap
Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio

The relative merits of standardbred vs. crossbred chickens may be summed up in three words—not much difference. But this difference is more often in favor of the well-chosen crossbred.

The advantages of a good crossbred are: faster growth and more eggs. However, many a slip can occur in crossbreeding chickens which will make them inferior, market-wise, to standardbreds.

For example, to produce a suitable crossbred, both standardbred parental breeds must be of top quality. If one has a mediocre egg production, it is almost a certainty the resulting crossbred will be a poorer producer than the high-producing standardbred side of the family.

The fact that crossbreds usually are darker-colored may be a market disadvantage. Many markets pay a premium for white-feathered chickens. White Plymouth Rocks are not suitable for crossbreeding. If they are crossed with New Hampshires, dark-colored chickens will often result. Therefore, the premium for whites is lost. And the slightly faster growth rate of crossbreds may not make up this profit difference.

In color of eggs, the crossbred producer is also at a market disadvantage. Most egg-producing crossbreds lay colored eggs. Many markets pay more for white eggs. Therefore, the crossbred producer forfeits the profit on white eggs until crossbreds, which will consistently lay white eggs, are produced.

In certain cases, crossbreds may develop a greater susceptibility to disease than the better parent.

It is possible to develop crossbreds superior to the better standardbred strains. But determining the most suitable crossbreds is difficult because two different breeds are involved.

"It takes a big engine to pull a HEAVY Load"

This little engine is good for its purpose, but is not built to pull such a big load.
The larger engine is designed to handle large loads—efficiently, economically and easily.
Two-thirds of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River. Two-thirds of the meat is eaten east of the Mississippi. Bringing these two together is a job requiring a large engine.

That's why the country needs nationwide meat packers like Swift & Company. For with processing plants located where most of the livestock is raised, we can help bridge the gap between western range and the kitchen range. It is an important job, and we're proud that we are able to handle a share of it.

Martha Logan's Recipe for SUMMER SAUSAGE SCRAMBLE
(Yield: 2 servings)

½ cup chopped summer sausage (cervelat)	4 tablespoons milk

Melt butter in skillet. Add summer sausage and fry lightly. Beat eggs with milk and add. Cook gently, stirring carefully until just set (still moist). Serve immediately.

OUR CITY COUSIN

"Look, City Cousin, as friend to friend,
You milk a cow from the udder end!"

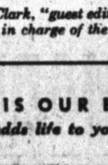

How you gonna care for 'em down on the farm?

Fresh, high-quality eggs grade better, bring better prices and help build consumer demand. Ideal eggs are large, fresh and clean. They are uniform in size and shape. Clear, thick whites, and firm, evenly colored yolks show good interior quality.

Top grade eggs begin with a good flock of layers, properly fed and cared for. Remove the roosters when breeding season ends—your hens will lay as well and infertile eggs keep much better. Keep the nests well filled with straw. Gather eggs two or three times a day . . . Never wash eggs! Use steel wool to clean the dirty ones . . . Keep them in a cool place—not over 60°. Sort them in the case according to color and size. Market them at least twice a week.

Remember, your best advertisement is to produce eggs which will reach the consumer fresh, clean and evenly sized. Quality helps make a better market for your eggs.

Soda Bill sez:

. . . if you bark at people all day you'll be dog-tired by night.
. . . it's funny how opportunities look so much bigger going away than when coming.

HAM & EGGS GO TOGETHER

N. R. Clark

Milk, cream, poultry and eggs brought producers a gross income of nearly 6½ billion dollars last year. That's big business!

Every family in the nation uses dairy and poultry products. These products are perishable. They have to be handled with care. It's a big job to process and distribute butter, cheese, ice cream, dressed poultry, and eggs in prime condition. It's a nationwide job—as broad and as long as America.

We have nationwide refrigerating and meat distributing facilities to serve both producers and consumers. It is economical to use these same coolers, refrigerator cars and trucks for dairy and poultry products.

The Swift salesman sells meat, poultry, eggs, cheese, butter and other products. In this way we can have one salesman for sixteen or more products, instead of sixteen salesmen each selling one product. The same goes for delivery, too.

If you were in business marketing many different products to the same buyers, would you have one salesman for each product? You would have each salesman sell many of your products. That saves money, effort, travel and the buyers' time. That's our way, too.

Rich Phosphate Deposits Found In Florida May Aid World Crops

By DALE M. JOHNS
United Press Staff Writer

BARTOW, Fla., May 13—The by-product of a 2,000,000-year-old disaster offers new hope to the earth's hungry people today.

Rich deposits of phosphate, urgently needed to fertilize soil drained of its productive capacity during the war years, lie here beneath the heart of Florida's citrus fruit belts. The deposits are near the resort towns of Winter Haven and Lakeland.

To help meet the demand for fertilizer, Noralyn, one of the world's largest phosphate mines, expects to begin full-scale production this month.

The ore, from which Noralyn will produce 1,500,000 tons of phosphate a year, comes from the bones and teeth of countless fish and mammal's destroyed by the convulsions of a planet's growing pains.

Scientists Explain

Scientists say the rise and fall of the earth's crust and the sudden descent of glaciers caused Florida's phosphate deposits.

Some 2,000,000 years ago, they explain, myriads of shell fish, sharks, manatee and whales lived in the warm tropical waters which covered Florida. The land emerged from the sea to meet the glacier age. Hordes of mammals, including the mammoth, the saber-toothed tiger and the three-toed horse, were driven southward to death from freezing and overcrowding.

Then the ice melted. Once more the Florida peninsula sank into the sea. The bones and teeth that remained were covered by earth, sand and clay. Later the land rose from the sea again and the peninsula of Florida remained.

Still to be found in the phosphate deposits are many fossilized remains, including teeth, jawbones and vertebrae of the mammoth, and sharp fish teeth, some larger than a man's hand.

Beds Near Surface

The phosphate beds average from 10 to 30 feet thick and lie beneath two to 30 feet of earth.

To recover phosphate, Noralyn, which was named for the mother of Louis Ware, president of International Minerals and Chemical Corp., used one of the world's largest draglines. It has a bucket that takes 30 tons of earth or ore at one bite.

When uncovered, the ore is flushed by streams of water into pipes which carry it to a "flotation" plant where phosphate is separated from foreign matter chiefly white sand.

After the phosphate is recovered, it is dried by giant oil burners and treated with acids so it will be absorbed easily by plant life.

Demand Brisk

During the war years phosphate production in the United States was about equal to the country's needs. With the end of the war, foreign demand rose sharply. According to the Department of Commerce, fertilizer supplies still are insufficient to maintain maximum crop yields all over the world.

Noralyn's capacity is described by Franklin Farley, vice president in charge of International's phosphate division, as double the amount of phosphate needed to supply the minimum needs of a country the size of Italy for one growing season.

That is equivalent to about one-fifth of the phosphate production in the United States. Florida phosphate accounts for 75 per cent of the domestic supply and nearly half the world production.

Grasshoppers Reported Serious Threat To Texas Farm Areas

COLLEGE STATION, May 13 (U.P.) — The annual grasshopper spree has begun, on a near-record scale.

H. G. Johnston, head of the Texas A&M college department of entomology, said today that young hoppers cover vegetation in a solid mass in many places.

A large part of the state is in for "the worst infestation in many years," Johnston warned.

The young grasshoppers now are swarming in ditch banks, along fence rows and railroads. Within the next week they will move into farm fields and begin chewing up valauable foodstuffs.

Johnston said the hardest hit portions of Texas appeared to be the blacklands from the Red River valley southward to Sequin and Karnes City and along the Brazos river bottoms from Waco to Bellville.

County agents in grasshopper areas have information on control measures, Johnston said, stressing that the time for field safety steps was running out.

Funeral Rites For Muleshoe Veteran Scheduled Sunday

Funeral services for W. M. "Max" Kersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Kersey of Muleshoe, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Morton First Baptist church, Rev. A. W. Blaine, pastor of Muleshoe First Baptist church, officiating.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral home of Morton. The body is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock at 7:30 a. m. Saturday from the Fort Worth graves registration depot, and will remain in Muleshoe until time for services Sunday afternoon at Morton. Kersey, a paratrooper, served in Italy and in the invasion of southern France, and was killed in France on Oct. 18, 1944.

Survivors include Mr. and Mrs. Kersey, two brothers, Charles and Ray, and a sister, Mrs. C. E. Geary of Borger.

Abilene Instructor To Take Arkansas College Position

ARKADELPHIA, Ark., May 13 (U.P.)—Joseph E. Redden of Abilene, Tex., will become director of the department of journalism at Ouachita college here Sept. 1, it was announced today.

Redden will also be in charge of the school's news bureau. He served with the army public relations department during the war, and prior to that worked as a reporter, copyreader and feature writer on the Atlanta Georgian.

Redden has taught journalism at Hardin-Simmons university in Abilene since the end of the war.

WASHDAY WONDER

It does what's never been done before!

IT'S TIDE

...you've never used anything like it!

TIDE does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! It's a true washday miracle, made possible through wartime research. You'll know you're using a completely NEW product the minute you make suds with Tide. Tide suds look different, feel different...and those wonder suds just laugh at hard water! Even in hardest water they billow up so thick and fast you'll be amazed!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

1. Washes clothes cleaner!

Yes, cleaner than any soap made! You'll get a real washday thrill when you see your first Tide wash. Everything comes cleaner—even children's grimy play clothes and men's heavily soiled work clothes. That's because Tide not only leaves clothes free from ordinary dirt, but actually removes dingy soap film as well!

2. Actually brightens colors!

Color brightness perks up like magic as Tide makes dulling soap film disappear. Washable prints and pastels actually come out brighter with Tide! Tide is really safe for your dainty washable colors!

3. Never "yellows" white things!

What a blessing for shirts, sheets, and pillowcases! No matter how often you wash them, no matter how long you store them, Tide can't turn them yellow!

4. Gives more suds—
Prove it in your dishpan!

Kind-to-hands suds! Faster suds! Longer-lasting suds than any soap in hardest water! Tide cuts grease like magic...washes dishes cleaner than any soap! No scum in the water! No greasy ring round the pan! No cloudy film on dishes and glasses! That's why they rinse and dry so sparkling clear—even without wiping!

GUARANTEE

Procter & Gamble guarantees that Tide will do everything claimed for it in this advertisement. If you are not completely satisfied, return the unused portion of your package to dealer, and the purchase price will be refunded.

House Approves Bill To Force Information From U. S. Agencies

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 13. —The House today passed, 219 to 142, a bill to force government agencies to give Congress "essential" information under threat of criminal penalties for officials who refuse.

(The vote, however, was 22 short of the two-thirds majority necessary to override a presidential veto. President Truman has indicated he will veto the measure if it should pass the Senate.

(Senate action, however, is regarded as unlikely in the rush to adjourn Congress before the Republican national convention convenes at Philadelphia June 21.

Two-Day Battle Ends

(House passage climaxed a two-day partisan battle. Republicans insisted that the legislation was required to pry needed information from the executive branch. Opponents charged that the bill would strike at the foundations of Democratic government.

(Before the measure was passed, the House rejected 217 to 145 a motion by Rep. McCormick (D-Mass.), minority whip, to send it back to the expenditures committee, from which it originally emerged.

(The House adopted an amendment to the bill offered by Rep. Brown (R-Ohio), exempting news writers from a provision applying criminal penalties to persons divulging information declared to be "confidential."

Slap At President

(The House action is admittedly a slap at President Truman. It would override his secrecy order on data relating to loyalty of government personnel.

(The legislation, however, would not affect the President. Rep. Wadsworth (R-N. Y.), insisted that it would not apply to any matters relating to foreign policy or national defense.

(But Republican leaders who jammed it through the House agreed that it would extend to cabinet officers on all other matters.

(Mr. Truman emphatically said at a news conference today he would not surrender to the House the letter of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover bearing on the loyalty of Dr. Edward U. Condon, leading atomic scientist and director of the National Bureau of Standards.

(He declared a higher principle was involved than the publication of a single letter, and added that Congress does not have the power to force the President to divulge confidential information.

HINTS TO MOTORISTS

When auto hose connections are renewed, a tight-fitting job can be had by getting hose a bit too small to be forced over the nipples of the tank and block. The ends of the hose should then be soaked in gasoline for an hour, causing them to swell enough to be slipped into place.

Thieves Market In Mexico City Proves To Be Bargain Spot

(By International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, May 13—Some random notes for unwary tourists:

The best bargains to be found in Mexico are in Mexico City's "thieves market," which flourishes each Sunday morning with goods displayed on sidewalk blankets. The grossly underpaid and consequently corrupt police look the other way. Exercise a little restraint—say, a week—and you can buy back what has been stolen from you . . . Also at bargain rates.

If you have a collision with another car, don't expect to have a tow car drag away the remnants of your once-princely heap. The cars must remain exactly as they came to rest, while a local magistrate hears testimony and fixes the blame. If you win the case in that court, you still can't call for a derrick. You must await the outcome of appeals to higher courts.

Libel Laws Loose

If you fire an incompetent servant in Mexico you must pay him or her three months' severance pay, plus 13 extra days' pay for the time off the servant normally would have had. . . The average American who maintains a home in Mexico pays $30 a month for a cook; $20 a month for a maid; $8 a month for a full-time gardner.

Libel laws are more or less nonexistent. The papers each day carry paid advertisements in which subscribers hurl ripe invectives at the government or at individuals or firms which allegedly have done them dirt. Most of the papers carry supplements in English. The study of English, by the way, is compulsory at the University of Mexico.

Most automobiles in Mexico are equipped with altimeters and compasses. There are no fixed rates or meters. You hail a cab, tell him where you want to go, then haggle over the fare to be charged. . . A. C. Blumenthal, about whom opinion is considerably divided down here, probably has helped more Americans of out of scrapes than the U. S. Embassy.

Worms Are Delicacy

Fried white worms are sold like popcorn throughout Mexico, and eaten with as much relish . . . Jose Arce, who used to hold back the thundering mob at the Stork club's room, now is brandishing his plush rope at Ciro's. Joe Owns a couple of apartment houses here . . . Ginny Hayes, the beautiful former follies girl who lives in Guernavaca with her husband, Teddy, former manager and trainer of Jack Dempsey, flies to John Hopkins today while thousands of their friends root for her full recovery.

Jockey Wins Thriller

Biggest sports thrill in a long time was the victory scored at the hippodrome de las Americas last Saturday by 63-year-old "Frenchy" Pinion—who rode his horse "Fate" to a fine win over the best Mexican jockey, Neves . . . Pinion came back the next day to try to win the 125,000 pesos handicap, but the old boy couldn't make it . . . He rode, incidentally, because he swears to high Heaven that you can't trust a Mexican jockey.

President Aleman showed up for the opening of Mexico's newest night club. Paolo, owned by an old pal . . .

Mexicans continue to wonder why the U. S. has sent more dough and physical aid to former enemy Italy, since V-E day, than to all of Latin America . . .The silver used in the slightest trinket at lovely old Tasco is more pure than sterling, and cheap as tin.

A timid motorist would never get his buggy across an intersection. You've just got to bull your way through. There are only a handful of traffic lights in Mexico (because the people refused to be intimidated by those blinking robots).

If somebody tries to cut you off, you dare him like a Matador dares a bull, and curse him with your horn. The profanity of horn-blowing is an art and every body understands it. Recently, devices if, when attached to an exhaust pipe could give off a sound like a bronx cheer, were ruled illegal. Seems that fellow whose car was so equipped gave a blast to a motorcycle cop, after cutting him off, and the cop drove up alongside him and shot him very dead at the wheel.

Chinese Girl Claims She Lived On Water Alone For Nine Years

NANKING, May 13. (AP) — The strange case of a 20 year old Chinese girl who said she lived on water alone for nine years was reported today by the newspaper Hsin Min Pao.

The newspaper said the public health director at Chungking had confirmed the report. The girl, Yang Mai, was said to have suffered no apparent ill effects.

Knights Of Columbus To Hold 1949 Convention In Laredo

WACO, May 13. (AP) — Texas Knights of Columbus will hold their 1949 convention in Laredo.

They picked next year's meeting place and elected Roy Conroy Scoggins of Houston to his third consecutive term as worthy state deputy at the final session of the state convention here yesterday.

Other officers named were M. J. Babin, jr., Port Arthur, secretary; Frank Crumley, Fort Worth, advocate; L. Perez, Rio Grande City, warden, and W. H. Billiemak, Edinburg, treasurer.

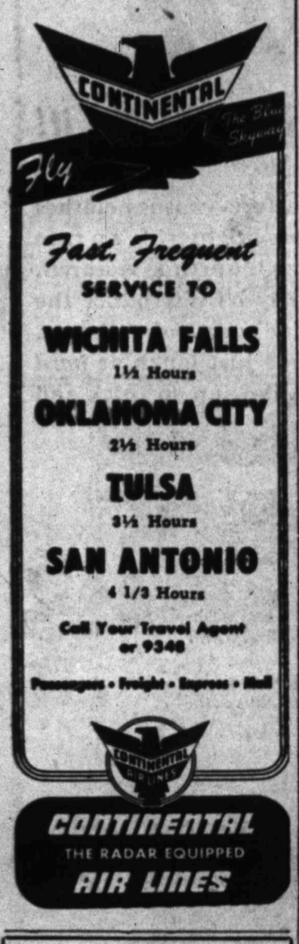

A prehistoric tree, the ginkgo, still survives today. It is planted often now in this country as a shade tree. The outline of its leaf frequently is found in glacial deposits in Alaska.

GOP Is Pledged To Peace Drive If Party Holds White House

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 13 — Speaker Martin pledged the GOP tonight to drive for permanent global peace "once we have control of the White House" and charged the Roosevelt and Truman administrations with "utter failure" in world affairs.

Martin, prominent "dark horse" presidential possibility, delivered a "little keynote" address as District of Columbia Republicans met to elect three unpledged delegates to the national convention.

Earlier, Martin, who has been named permanent chairman of the GOP national convention, conferred with Gov. Dwight Green, of Illinois, who will be the keynote speaker when the Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 21.

Green, "favorite son" candidate of the 56-member prairie state delegation, is in Washington conferring with GOP leaders, including Sens. Taft, Ohio; Vandenberg, Mich., and Saltonstall, Mass.

Martin declared that the GOP "once more is on the victory march."

The speaker declared:

"After every war, the people have called upon the Republicans to lead them into paths of peace.

". . . We shall not fail. Our victory at the polls next November is sure."

Pledges Solvent America

Martin pledged the Republicans to "a strong, safe and solvent America." He said that the Republican-sponsored tax reduction law was "a prime example" of how the GOP "kept faith" with the voters.

The Massachusetts leader added that "with a Republican in the White House, we intend to clean every last Communist out of the government."

Martin said he was "vastly encouraged by the trend of recent events in Europe." He said:

"The elections in Italy gave us all new hope that we can stop Communism with moral weapons."

"Must Be Ready For Worst"

Martin added that he felt "particular pride" in the Italian anti-Red victory because he aided in launching the letter-writing campaign by Americans of foreign extraction to relatives overseas urging defeat of the Communists.

The speaker said that the Republicans intend to see that America's foreign aid billions "shall be spent with the greatest possible efficiency and economy in helping liberty loving peoples abroad get back on their feet." Martin asserted:

"We face the fact today that we must be ready for the worst, while we hope, and pray, for the best.

". . . We must have adequate air power for an air age . . . to that end we have, over the political objections of the administration, voted funds for a 70-group air force.

Groundbreaking Ceremonies At University Of Houston Set

HOUSTON, May 13 (U.P.)—Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held on the University of Houston campus tomorrow for the $4,500,000 administration and classroom building which represents the first extensive post-war construction at the university.

The new building, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roy Cullen, will be named in honor of the late Ezekiel W. Cullen, often called the founder of the free public educational system in Texas.

Hugh Roy Cullen, wealthy independent oilman and philanthropist, is a grandson of Ezekiel W. Cullen, who introduced the bill in the third congress of Texas which established public education in the state.

Col. W. B. Bates, vice-chairman of the board of regents, will be master of ceremonies, and federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson jr., of the Fifth Circuit court will be among the speakers.

Tired, Aching, Tender Feet

In just one minute after an application of Emerald Oil you'll get the surprise of your life. Your tired, tender, burning feet will literally jump for joy.

No fuss, no trouble; you just apply a few drops of oil over the surface of the foot night and morning or when occasion requires. Just a little and rub it in. It's simply wonderful the way it helps all foot misery, while for feet that sweat and give off an offensive odor, there's nothing better in the world.

Royal Couple To Pay Paris Official Visit

PARIS, May 13 (INS)—Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, will arrive in Paris tomorrow for a four-day official visit. They will be heavily-guarded throughout.

Their main desire, however, is to escape officialdom for a few hours and slip into a Paris night-club—as other newly-weds do on a springtime trip.

French police working with Scotland Yard detectives already have made numerous "preventive arrests" in guarding against possible assassination attempts.

The Duke of Edinburgh knows Paris well, but this will be the first time for the heiress presumptive to the British throne.

A nightclub expedition — if the couple can manage it—will add to the worries of the police, who have worked out an elaborate security system.

A Scotland Yard chief inspector, referred to by Paris newspapers only as "the mysterious M. W." has been living quietly for more than a week in a Paris hotel.

He supposedly has tipped off the French on the identities of possible Jewish underground Stern gang members who might make an attempt on the life of the princess.

One report said French police worked out a "non-aggression pact" with Stern gang members in France, but that one suspected Jewish extremist still is being hunted.

The royal couple will have a crowded program from their arrival at the Gare Du Nord at 9:25 a. m. tomorrow until their departure Tuesday.

Floydada Host To South Plains Boy Scouts' Court Of Honor

A family style basket dinner and a district court of honor for Boy Scouts from Floyd and Crosby counties is this week's biggest event on tap for area scouts. The event is set for 7 p. m. tonight at the Floydada High school stadium, with all South Plains scouts and cubs and their parents invited to attend and "bring their own dinner." Floydada will furnish the lemonade.

Highlight of a specially planned program will be the presentation of full costume Indian dances by Chief Frank A. Runkles and his scouts from Troop 8 of Lubbock.

As national capitals, Ottowa and Washington have a lot in common geographically: each has its chief government buildings on a hilltop and each has a river and two tributaries.

State Solon Starts Drive For Speakership Of House

AUSTIN, May 13. (U.P.) — The stretch drive of state Rep. Durwood Manford of Smiley for the speakership of the House in the 51st Legislature was teed off at a banquet here last night.

Some 60 persons, including about 40 members of the House and candidates for the Legislature, attended the session.

Southern State Makes Bid To Become Future Cattle Center

YEMASSEE, S. C., May 13 (U.P.)—A preview of the south as the possible future livestock center of the nation can be seen at Brays Island plantation, near here.

For many years, some agricultural experts have contended that the mild climate in the south, with its year-round pasturage conditions and its fertile soil, is ideal for livestock raising.

Barns can be little more than sheds, for the mild winters do not demand the expensive insulation and artificial heating necessary in other sections. Also, the long growing season means more livestock food produced locally.

At a recent Aberdeen-Angus field day at Brays Island, believed to have been the first such field day in this state, 600 livestock producers from several southern states and a large group of "future farmers of America" boys had a chance to see a model of what can be done in the south.

Fertility Shown

There, on the 4,000 fertile acres, they saw an Aberdeen-Angus herd of some 200 beef cattle, with 100 calves due this year; they saw a modern dairy plant, with 140 head of pure-bred Guernseys, producing 150 gallons of milk a day; and they saw a poultry project that yields between 25,000 and 30,000 fryers and broilers a year, and 1,200 laying hens.

Each project is under the direction of an expert in his field, with the most modern equipment and building to work with.

The broad acres are green with alfalfa for hay, pasture land, oats, wheat, barley, and corn and ribbon cane for silage. Some barley, corn, mineral supplements and protein concentrates are purchased.

The plantation is owned by F. B. Davis, Jr., chairman of the board of the U. S. Rubber Co. Mrs. Davis manages the farm, which has been in production since 1937.

10-Year-Old Boy Believed To Be Youngest Owner Of Fire Engine

NAPA, Cal., May 13 (U.P.)—David Hotelling, 10, believes he may be the youngest owner in the United States of a genuine fire engine.

He submitted the only bid when the Napa city council offered to sell two pieces of antiquated fire equipment—a 1926 model rescue car and a 1914 pumper. David bid $25 for the rescue car. The council delayed briefly to check legality of the transaction, then awarded him the vehicle. David's father drove the fire truck home for him. Fire Chief Vernon Van Sant added a bonus by presenting David with an old fire hat.

David earned the $25 selling Christmas cards and doing odd jobs in the neighborhood. He's too young to drive, but still thinks he got the biggest bargain on earth.

He sits in the truck and plays he's a fireman.

Judge Tells Battling Couples To Keep Squabbles Private

ST. LOUIS, May 13 (U.P.)—Judge Vernon C. Oetting has tired of battling couples who kiss and make up before they get to court.

Judge Oetting ruled that hereafter a $3 court fee will be charged husbands or wives who get their mates arrested at night and decline to prosecute the next morning.

"It probably won't stop any fights," the judge said, "but at least the battles that get all the way to court will be good ones."

More Than 200 Are Entered In Derby

More Sponsors Are Signed By Club; Deadline For Entries Is May 18

With members of the Exchange club concentrating their efforts toward securing sponsors for every boy's car in the first official Soap Box Derby to be staged in Lubbock, Monday, July 5, thirty-three sponsors were added to the list Thursday.

In the meantime, the entry list in the Derby, the world's greatest amateur racing event, continued to climb and Thursday the count stood at 241 entries, the largest number of entries for a "first race city" in the 14-year history of the national boys' event.

The Exchange members, who are joint sponsors with the Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company in staging the first Derby in Lubbock, have taken on the task of securing sponsors for every boy's car in the race.

The sponsor's fee is $17.50, which finances purchase of wheels the axle sets, steering gear and materials for the cars. The boy must build the racer himself and not pay more than $6 in materials for its construction.

Deadline May 18

Only five more days are left in which youngsters of Lubbock and the area may enter the derby. Deadline for entries is Tuesday, May 18.

New sponsors added to the list Thursday included:

Dr. M. H. Benson, Bestwick Motors, Byron Jackson Pump Co., City Steam Laundry, Commercial Truck Co., Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam & Crenshaw, Culligan's Soft Water Service, De Luxe Cleaners, Dickinson Motor Co., Galbraith Steel & Supply Co., Haden Neon Sign Co., Dr. O. R. Hand, Dr. J. R. Harris, Jr., Dr. D. W. Haymes, Hearne Motor Freight Lines, J. D. Hinson Appliance Co., Hodges Bros. Hardware, Holsum Baking Co., Homer G. Maxey & Co., Household Supply Co., Jack O'Lantern Cafe, K. T. Machine Shop, Lang Transit Co., Lubbock Bowling Club, Lubbock Broadcasting Co. (KSEL), Lubbock Building Products, McKee Wholesale Co. Dr. James M. Reynolds, C. D. Shamburger Lumber Co., Southwestern Life Ins. Co. (Sam Henry Agency), Stubbs-Merrill Grain & Seed Co., and Tom French Co.

Additional entries in the Derby include: Wilson Browning Holden III, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Holden, 2004 Twenty-ninth; William M. Craig, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Craig, 2321 Eighteenth; Rudy Edison Wallin, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Wallin, 2307 Second; Bobby E. Mayfield, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mayfield, 103 Ave. W; Glenn Lee Davis, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Davis, 1312 Twenty-eighth; Billy Mack Breedlove, 14, son of R. W. Breedlove, route 7; Leathon Blackman, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Herrington, 2202 First; Joe Sam Bryant, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Bryant, 3312 Twentieth; Billy Charles McClure, 13, son of Mrs. Fred McClure, route 6; James Iven McKee, 11, son of V. M. McKee, Rt. 7, Billy Ray Vasek, 12, son of Mrs. Billie Vasek, Ave. F; and Murray (Boots) Wacsey, 13, son of Mrs. A. T. Wacasey, route 4.

Seniors To Get Averages Today

Lubbock High school seniors are journeying to school this morning with their fingers crossed, for at each classroom period today they will learn whether they have the required "B" average for the past nine weeks' work which will give them an automatic exemption from senior finals on tap next week.

Senior nine week examinations are set for Monday, May 17 Those exempt from finals are not required to attend school Monday morning; however, all students are required to report to guidance periods at 1 p. m., and remain for afternoon classes.

Seniors will also attend class Tuesday morning, May 18, and will begin checking out at 1 p. m. Tuesday through Principal Floyd Honey's office.

Eighteen week examinations are scheduled to begin on Wednesday for non-exempt seniors, as are regular nine week exams for junior and sophomore 8 and 9 o'clock classes. Senior exams will be given at regular class periods. Required to take the finals are those seudents having absences in excess of 10 per cent or more

Supt. Matthews To Attend Meeting Of School Officials

Supt. R. W. Matthews of the Lubbock Public Schools left Thursday afternoon for Dallas where he will attend a meeting of administrators of the larger school systems in the state. The meeting is to be held at the Adolphus hotel today and Saturday.

"The larger school systems of Texas have some problems which do not apply to the small schools, and this meeting is to help administrators work out some of those problems," Supt. Matthews said.

Schools to be represented at the meeting include those at Austin, Corpus Christi, Waco, Port Arthur, Galveston, El Paso, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Lubbock, San Antonio, Amarillo, Dallas, Abilene, Beaumont and Houston.

Pro-Truman Demos Hold Dallas Meet

DALLAS, May 13 (AP)—A group of Texas pro-Truman Democrats held a caucus at a hotel here today.

Harry L. Seay, one of those present, said the meeting was attended by "ten or fifteen persons." He said it was a "get together to see where we stand," and that "nothing definite" was decided.

One of those present was Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, leader of the pro-Truman group, Seay said. He named among others W. H. Kittrell, George Sergeant and W. O. Cooper all of Dallas; Joe Dibbrell of Coleman, Bert King of Wichita Falls, Paul Donald of Bowie, and Bob Sawtelle of San Antonio.

"We were just looking the situation over. We were just trying to find out where we are," Seay said. He said the group didn't have enough reports from over the state to make an accurate survey of Democratic politics in the state.

He was asked if the group discussed backing a candidate for governor or Congress. "The subject didn't come up," Seay answered.

State Demo Leader Opposes Jester Plan

Southern 'Bloc' Proposal Hit

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 13 — Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, today threw cold water on Gov. Beauford H. Jester's suggestion for a coalition of southern and western Democrats.

"I think we had better tend to our own business here in Texas at the Brownwood (state) convention," Calvert said tersely when asked what he thought of Jester's proposed strategy.

Calvert had talked to the governor earlier in the day.

Jester suggested two days ago that southern and western Democrats should join forces to take control of the national party from northern and eastern Democrats.

Jester Reports On Conference

Jester told reporters at a late afternoon conference he had talked to Calvert. He said they agreed it was probably "too late to do much about it (the coalition) this year."

The governor said he had suggested the matter "was something for the executive committee to consider." He believed the national Democratic convention at Philadelphia would be "a good place to feel out other states." Jester said Tuesday he had been working quietly on the South-West tie-up for several months and has been promised aid by at least three governors, with others showing interest.

Jester was asked whether the speech of Palmer Bradley, Houston attorney and the governor's personal representative at the Jackson, Miss., states rights rally, reflected his personal attitude. (Bradley lambasted Truman's civil rights proposals and declared the South was now defying Truman.)

"He's evidently speaking his own thoughts and his own position. I've made mine clear," Jester commented.

Report Made On Meeting

The governor said Jimmy Brinkley of Houston, another of his representatives to the Jackson, Miss., meeting, had reported on the proceedings there.

"He told me what took place. He carried out his mission. He observed and reported," Jester said, adding that Bradley has not yet reported to him.

Calvert told reporters he had not considered the possibility of seeking a Texas referendum on a proposal that Texas members of the electoral college withhold their votes from the party's presidential nominee if he endorses the civil rights program.

Placement of this question on the primary ballot for approval or disapproval by Texas voters has been proposed by Merritt Gibson of Longview, leader of the Texas

PRESIDENT'S WORK PRAISED

Dr. And Mrs. Whyburn Honored At Tech Faculty Club Dinner

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Dr. William H. Whyburn, president of Texas Technological college and Mrs. Whyburn were guests of honor last night at Hotel Lubbock at a dinner party given by the Tech Faculty club.

Although Dr. Whyburn, who has tendered his resignation to the directors of the college, is not scheduled to leave his duties for some months to come, the club took advantage of their last function of the current school year to pay its respects to Dr. and Mrs. Whyburn in a "farewell" dinner.

Official Farewell Given

Approximately 250 persons were present to hear T. C. Root, assistant to the president at Texas Tech, make the official farewell address to the president of the college. Root, widely known for his witty after-dinner talks, eased the gravity of the situation by interspersing his address with the usual number of pointed remarks on politics, society and life in general.

In a more serious mood, Root pointed out the advances made by Tech under the administration of Dr. Whyburn during his four years with the college. In conclusion, Root said to Dr. Whyburn, "We know that you are leaving us because of professional advancement and scholarship, and not because you dislike it here. Your departure leaves us with a definite feeling of loss—a loss engendered by the things which you have accomplished on the campus of Texas Tech. With you goes our deepest professional respect, our best personal regard and our sincere wishes for a long and successful life ahead of you."

Parting Gift Presented

Dr. Truman W. Camp, speaking in behalf of the club, presented the Whyburns with a parting gift, a beautiful set of matched table lamps. Dr. Whyburn, in accepting the gift, expressed his and Mrs. Whyburn's appreciation for the cooperation and treatment which they have received from the faculty at the college.

Edouard Blitz, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Blitz, presented four cello solos, accompanied by Mrs. Mamie Teal at the piano. Select-

Tech Co-Ed Reigns As Queen Of Cotton

Camille Stevens, Texas Tech co-ed, was crowned queen of the 1948 college Cotton Carnival last night in ceremonies at the Senior High school auditorium as cotton took its place among royalty.

Robert Hale, Phi Psi textile fraternity president, crowned the Carnival Queen and served as reigning king. The royal pair, attended by a court of six duchesses, were entertained with a show of cotton before a large audience of potential cotton shoppers.

Versatility of the South's honored plant was displayed as Texas Tech co-eds walked through the queen's court attired in the many fashions for summer. Everything for the wardrobe was shown from fancy beach wear to folds of fluff and lace for ballroom. A number of frocks for street and casual wear dominated the style parade.

The annual carnival was sponsored by Phi Psi. Duckesses included Delight Hardin, Avis Fuchs, Dorothy Brown, Mary Hartgraves, Thala Foster, and June Stine.

DALLAS MAN SHOT

DALLAS, May 13 (AP)—W. O. Bankston, 34, co-owner of Bankston-Hall motors, Inc., of Dallas, was injured seriously today by a single gunshot wound in the abdomen. Police said powder burns indicated the shot was fired at close range. They said they were unable to find the gun used, and Bankston could not give a clear account of what had happened.

Proration Order Is Seen For Panhandle Gas Field By Rail Commission Official

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, May 13 — It is pretty definite operators in the Panhandle gas field are going to get some kind of proration order, and that in the near future, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad commission, declared during a hearing of the commission here today. The chairman added that bickering with witnesses were halted when commission members said efforts were being made to discredit other witnesses.

The gas proration hearing in the Herring hotel will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Col. Thompson did not say whether the projected order would be a combined sour and sweet gas order or separate orders for each type of gas.

The hearing opened with testimony on weighted average prices of sweet pipeline gas to meet a Texas requirement for such action annually in determining the price to be paid for sweet gas used in the manufacture of carbon black. Price at present is 4.25 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Paul McDermott, presenting the Canadian river gas company argued against inclusion of sweet and sour gas in the same order, and threatened injunction proceedings if such a combined order were issued.

Testimony was heard from G. L. Knight and H. D. White of Phillips Petroleum company as to the division between the Hugoton field and the Panhandle field.

Oil, Dictator Of Political And Military Power On Earth, To Be Paid Homage At Tulsa Exposition

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., May 13—Oil, the quest which now makes pale the bygone conquest of nations and lands for gold or spices, will be paid its proper homage in Tulsa this week-end with the opening of the International Petroleum exposition.

Tulsa, as the "oil capital of the world," is the fitting place for this world's fair honoring the mysterious, magical liquid which now dictates the balance of political and military power on the earth. W. B. Way, general manager of the exposition, and Russell Hunt, Tulsa attorney who is serving on the mayor's committee for the show, estimate that about $250,000,000 worth of equipment and exhibits will be on display during the fair.

Russians To Attend

Oilmen from almost all of the United Nations, including Russia, gathered in Tulsa tonight for their study of war-born methods of plunging deeper into the core of the earth, finding new oil deposits, and creating more products out of the fabulous stuff.

The exposition reminds this particular traveller of a cross between Grover Whalen's late lamented fair in New York and a vast Hollywood set. There are 1,856 exhibitors and they range from tiny booths to 200 foot tall derricks (and all the machinery that goes with a derrick) which actually will demonstrate how the earth is punctured and how oil is squeezed out of the porous rock-sand which has imprisoned it for perhaps as many as 500,000,000 years.

One Drilled Too Deep

Exhibitors who have erected rigs have been warned not to probe too deep into the good earth of Tulsa. Back in 1940—the last such show—one ambitious fellow drilled a bit too deep and dam' near ruined the pretty exposition by striking oil. It is dangerous to kick loose even a pebble around Tulsa. The hotel Mayo refuses to put fire-axes around its hall for fear that somebody'll rap smartly on the lobby floor and bring in a gusher that would ruin the potted plants.

One of the more interesting exhibits is an exact duplication of the Drake well, the fabulous rickety old wooden shed and crude equipment which brought home the first well in the U. S. It was copied from the original, built by a civil war veteran-turned-promoter named E. L. Drake, near Titusville, Pennsylvania. From it sprang the incredible wealth of Rockefeller, and the whole bloom'n' business.

Many Model Rigs Shown

There are other models of early drilling devices around the grounds, some of them sitting side by side, dwarfed by the enormous structures used today. Rigs on exhibit are capable of digging close to 16,000 feet into the ground. For those who believe that we'll use up our oil reservoirs in a few short years there is one exhibit showing a cotton-rock mountain range—which points out that Utah, Colorado and Wyoming alone have enough oil in their shale rock to supply 300 billion barrels of oil. The U. S. uses more oil today than during the peak of the war, but the use is still under two billion barrels a year.

The exposition points out, too, that there are huge oil deposits far beneath drained-off and discarded deposits, and as Mr. Way put it, "the surface has only been scratched. This country could be producing twice as much oil right now, if we could secure enough steel for piping. In the years to come—with the proper research and engineering—we'll learn how to drill down 30,000 feet and lower for oil."

Mississippi State Man Joins Tech Staff

L. Burnell Smith, now completing requirements for a degree in dairy manufactures at Mississippi State college, will join the dairy manufacturing staff at Texas Technological college June 1 as superintendent of the college creamery, L. G. Harmon, acting head of the department, has announced.

An ex member of the international dairy products judging team from Mississippi State in 1947, Smith is a member of Alpha Zeta, national agriculture fraternity.

During World War II, the recovery rate for combat injuries was 96 per cent—due almost entirely to the availability of skilled doctors and nurses all along the chain of evacuation from the front to the Army hospital back home in the States.

Americans Received At Royal Party In Buckingham Palace

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—Socially prominent Americans were received at a presentation party in Buckingham palace today for the first time since before the war.

Squired by Ambassador and Mrs. Lewis Douglas, 30 of them, including 20 women, joined a throng of some 2,500 of many nations in the state apartments. King George, Queen Elizabeth and others of the royal family moved among the crowd.

There was practically none of the ceremonial of prewar evening courts. Instead of being presented individually to the enthroned king and queen, debutantes, diplomats, military and naval officers, their wives and daughters and the other guests met them as they strolled about the rooms informally.

Their presence counted officially as "presentation."

Americans invited to the party included:

Miss Jane Gregory Heyer, Houston, Tex.

TWO STUDENTS KILLED

NELIGH, Neb., May 13 (INS)—Two 17-year-old Neligh High school seniors were killed today in the crash of a private plane at the local airport. The victims were identified as Dale Hauptmann and Perry Hackett. Hauptmann was killed instantly. Hackett died at a Norfolk hospital this afternoon. It was not known which youth was piloting the plane when it crashed about 400 feet from the airport hangar.

Dinner To Honor 23 Electricians

Seven journeyman electricians and about 16 apprentice electricians will be honored at a dinner at 8 p. m. today at Asbury Methodist church for their attendance and general cooperation during their training periods in the apprentice training school here, Jerry Holleman, business manager of the local electricians union here, announced Thursday.

The training school, sponsored by the West Texas-New Mexico chapter of the National Electrical Contractors association and Local No. 359 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, includes four years of on-the-job training and classroom theory. The school, conducted as a part of the national apprentice training program, has been in operation for about two years.

Dallas Man Is Speaker

C. H. Culpepper of Dallas, area supervisor of the Bureau of Apprenticeship of the Department of Labor, will be principal speaker of the evening. He will present diplomas to the following men who have completed their training to become journeyman electricians: James C. Sharp, Cecil E. Manly, Alan A. Mackey, Wallace L. Huckabay, Leo L. Huckabay, Billie J. Hamilton and Garrett Fox.

Other speakers on the program will be: W. L. Ingram of Fort Worth, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; and Joe L. Reed, district supervisor of trade and industrial education at Texas Technological college.

Approximately 75 persons are expected to attend the dinner, Holleman estimated.

Four Persons Burn To Death In Minnesota Dance Hall Fire

UPSALA, Minn., May 13 (INS)—Three members of one family and a dance hall employe were burned to death today in a fire which swept the Upsala dance pavilion.

The victims were Donald, 21, Delores, 18, and Delbert Hippe, 16, and August Nordstrom, 48.

The parents of the Hippes, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hippe, Sr., escaped with Iver Peterson, another pavilion employe, by crawling out of windows.

The victims were asleep in living quarters when the blaze broke out.

White House Fire Hazards Described By Safety Expert

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 13—A fire protection expert said today there's nothing wrong with the White House that a lot of fire-proofing won't fix.

A. C. Hudson of Portsmouth, N. H., a member of the National Fire Protection association, said he wouldn't exactly call the President's home a "firetrap." There are so many guards around that a fire probably would be spotted without too much delay, he explained.

Appropriation Is Asked

But still and all, he said, there are plenty of fire hazards in the executive mansion and it will take a "substantial" amount of money to fix it up.

Hudson headed a committee of experts from the Fire Protection association who gave the lower regions of the White House a once-over yesterday.

They were asked for an "objective" opinion on the matter by Chairman Styles Bridges, R., N. H., of the Senate Appropriations committee. Public buildings commissioner W. E. Reynolds, who calls the White House the "worst firetrap in the country," has asked the committee for $50,000 to make it safe for presidents.

Fire Hazards Controlled

Hudson said the second floor, which the President's family calls home, and the first need rebuilding. A fire could start in the spaces between the walls or the ceiling and floor and become a good blaze before it broke out in the open, he said.

These spaces could be filled in with concrete for a "very substantial amount of money," he said, but without changing the appearance.

Hudson said the White House is "just like any old home — it was built entirely for appearances and not for fire safety."

New Federal Reserve Chairman May Decentralize Credit Policy

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The replacement of Marriner S. Eccles as chairman of the governing board of the Federal Reserve system by Thomas B. McCabe, Pennsylvania paper manufacturer, may prove to be a step in the direction of decentralization of control of national credit policy.

When the Federal Reserve act was adopted by Congress in 1913, it was definitely a compromise between those who wanted a strong central bank, on the one hand, and those who wanted a decentralized system, on the other, the actual setup is intended to achieve decentralization by having 12 regional federal reserve banks, instead of one central bank at Washington. Coordination is supposed to be achieved through the board at Washington.

This legislative compromise in part represented catering to the lingering popular distaste for a strong central bank surviving from Andrew Jackson's fight against the Bank of the United States. But in addition to that emotion, numerous financial students, including the late Carter Glass, co-author of the legislation, felt that the decentralized system better met the technical requirements of an economy as vast and differentiated as that of the United States.

Through dint of a strong personality and a persistent circulation of his own ideologies, Eccles, who remains a member of the board, tended in effect to create something of the reality of a central bank based on Washington directives, while in hearings before the Senate Committee on Banking before his confirmation, McCabe referred politely to Eccles's ideas, it can be said that McCabe intends, in so far as he is able, to restore more of the spirit of a regional system, with 12 banks.

Having himelf got his experience as a director and then as chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, McCabe thinks that the officers and directors of the banks should be encouraged to play a more active part in the formulation of policies. As a step toward implementing this concept, McCabe plans to spend about half of his own time in the field.

As a former chief executive of a successful manufacturing company, McCabe believes in discovering and using the talents of his organization, not being a partisan of domination by headquarters. As a bi-product of such an approach, McCabe thinks that the Federal Reserve will get grass roots support for new legislation when needed.

Eccles's penchant for extreme centralization is revealed in his formula for special reserves. This would apply a single formula to all parts of the country — agricultural, industrial and commercial alike, and would give little flexibility for regional variations.

Anyone who knows the two personalities — Eccles and McCabe — can recognize a fundamental difference in approach. Eccles runs toward directives from an all-wise top management. Somewhat frozen by commitments to the treasury, McCabe believes in giving leeway and flexibility to operators in this field, thinking of headquarters as a place for coordination.

If McCabe's policy prevails, he will be continuously alerted to rapid shifts of conditions by colleagues in the field.

On the other hand, Eccles tends in his intellectual habits to try to make the trend fit into a master plan.

President Truman, as a fence sitter, did not reappoint Eccles as chairman. But in failing to do so, the chief executive went out of his way to write Eccles how thoroughly he approved his fiscal and monetary policies, to which Secretary Snyder seemed cool.

College Veterans Are Warned Against Drawing Double Pay

AUSTIN, May 13 (U.P.) — The Texas Employment commission warned college veterans today against drawing GI subsistence allowances and $20 weekly unemployment aid at the same time this summer.

The TEC pointed out that veterans stand to lose their GI benefits if they draw both checks.

The commission reported that some 20,000 Texas veterans now are unemployed and are claiming the $20 weekly unemployment assistance.

The figure was 50,000 a year ago, and the June, 1946 high was 108,000.

Brownwood Preparing For State Democratic Convention May 24

BROWNWOOD, May 13 (U.P.) — Brownwood is having its face lifted so it'll present its best front to the huge crowd expected to attend the Democratic state convention May 24-25.

A city-wide cleanup campaign has been underway for more than a week. School children are being offered prizes for cleanup campaign posters.

In all, the city figured today, $3,000 will be spent for repairing and painting memorial hall, site of the convention, and $8,000 for a stream-line new street sweeper.

Meantime, party leaders disclosed that five special trains will bring part of the delegates here. The all-Pullman trains, in which delegates will sleep, will be run from Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston-Houston, San Antonio and from points west of Brownwood. Every home in the city which has a spare room is being listed by a convention committee.

In 1858, Queen Victoria chose Ottawa, then a city of 20,000, as the seat of government of Upper and Lower Canada. It became capital of the New Dominion in 1867.

UNION IN EUROPE

It Is In The Cards

WHILE Winston Churchill did not originate the idea of a "United States of Europe," he has become the foremost champion of the proposal during the period seemingly marked by greatest gains for the plan.

The idea of a United Europe is almost as old as European history. Conquerors like Charlemagne, Napoleon and Hitler almost achieved it. While they typified everything inimical to democratic freedoms, they still visualized a continent where people would think of themselves as Europeans rather than as Britons, Frenchmen, Italians, or other nationalities.

The school for which Mr. Churchill has become the leading advocate has the same vision, with two fundamental differences: he would accomplish union through voluntary means instead of force, and he would create a great democracy instead of a gigantic totalitarian state.

But this idea of a great European democracy goes back several centuries. Probably no one knows who first suggested it. The American Revolution strengthened sentiment for it. But never before apparently has there been such mass thinking in Europe as to the possibilities in the idea as that which has followed World War II.

Most authorities agree that some such union is almost inevitable, although they disagree widely as to when such problems as differences in languages, national rivalries and prejudices, and others can be minimized sufficiently to permit a unit which might survive. Some thinkers feel that anything like a United States of Europe is generations in the future. Mr. Churchill contends that the time is ripe right now.

History must determine which school of thought is to prevail. But, if and when such a union is achieved, none is likely to deny Mr. Churchill credit for probably having done more than any other individual to hasten to fruition one of the great ideas of history.

Silly Suggestion

A STRONG contender for rating as the silliest scheme of the week is the proposal by Rep. A. G. Klein, of New York, a self-styled "Roosevelt Democrat," to issue a $3 bill honoring the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. Not even Mr. Klein suggests such a bill would serve any useful purpose. He just wants to issue $3 bills as a "memorial."

Except for a very few gushers of the Klein stripe, the warmest admirers of the late President are likely to look with the strongest disfavor on the proposal. Surely they would be the first to insist that any memorial should be useful, rather than ridiculous.

Fortunately, the scheme is not likely to receive much consideration. It is not the sort of thing which should be allowed to waste the time of Congress.

The ballot is not the cure for all of our problems. Look at some of the things that have been elected by ballots.

ONCE again it was morning.

Surprisingly she had slept well, soundly. And she wakened to the smell of coffee perking in the kitchen, the crackling of fresh logs in the fireplace, the sounds Rush made moving about the kitchen.

She stretched under the light covers, yawned and stretched again. She blinked against the bright sunshine that streamed in through the open windows. She yawned widely and rolled over.

Rush was standing in the doorway looking at her. She looked back at him, a straightforward unafraid look, and she thought to herself, I'm going to pretend I don't know. I'm going to pretend everything is just the way I want it to be, just the way I thought it was going to be. I'm going to close my eyes and then, when it comes . . .

"Good morning, darling," Rush said. "Sleep well?"

"Wonderfully," she announced, sitting up. "That coffee smells heavenly."

"Bacon and eggs coming right up," he told her and went back into the kitchen.

It was difficult for her to believe, as she and Rush took their breakfast trays to the big screened porch that overlooked the lake, and sat there eating bacon and eggs and hot toast and hotter coffee, that they were not just a couple of ordinary people, a man and wife off for a few days alone, happy and healthy and enjoying themselves. Part of the difficulty in believeing it, she realized, lay in her reluctance to believe evil of Rush; indisputable as the evidence was, every fibre of her being ached to deny it. But wanting something—even as dreadfully as she wanted to believe Rush—wasn't enough. She couldn't change the facts.

IT was almost noon when Rush suggested the canoe ride. They'd just been lazing around all morning, lying on the hot sand in their bathing suits, soaking up the sunshine.

"Haven't been canoeing for ages," he said thoughtfully, scowling into the sun. "Do you suppose I could manage one?"

"Probably," she said tranquilly. "Probably you could." If her heart beat a little faster there was no way he could know it.

It took him an hour to lug the canoe from the boathouse where it had been stored, clean it all out, find the backrests, hunt for pillows.

All the while he was getting ready she kept lying on the sand, thinking to herself, When he's all set I won't go. I'll say I don't like canoes, I'll say I don't feel up to it. I'll say . . .

And then Rush was saying, "O.K., honey, let's go," and she was getting to her feet and walking across the sand to the dock. It was as though she were hypnotized.

She said, as he helped her into the canoe, "Don't go out very far, Rush. I don't swim well, you know."

He flashed her a strange look.

"You're not going swimming, angel puss," he said. "You're going canoeing."

It was fun, at first, going up the waves with one sweep of the paddle, then dow them. It was like a midget roller coaster; it didn't take your breath away the way a roller coaster did but it gave you the same gone feeling in the pit of your stomach.

Then it happened.

The only odd thing about it was that, when it came, it was so unexpected.

* * *

RUSH said, "Look at the freighter," in the most natural tone in the world and she turned around to look. The freighter was there, highlighted against the blue sky; she looked at its black hulk for a moment and then turned around to say something to Rush and found him leaning toward her, handing her a cigaret.

Something as simple as a cigaret.

She stretched forward to take it and, incredible as it seemed, Rush was suddenly jerking out of his seat, falling forward. She knew she screamed as he touched her, she knew she didn't conceal the terror she felt, and then they were floundering in the water.

In some small part of her brain she thought, This is it. Here we go.

Except there was something wrong.

This was the journey she was to take alone, Rush wasn't supposed to go with her. Yet here he was, floundering beside her in the water. She wondered about that.

But then she had time only for fighting. The waves, which had been fun to ride over, became personal implacable enemies.

She went under and gasped and strangled and came back up and saw the canoe floating upside down only a short distance away.

"Ann! Ann!" It was Rush shouting to her but she went under again before she could make out what he was saying.

When she came up this time she was winded and choking and close to exhaustion.

Beside her ear Rush said, "Ann!"

"Ann, here." He was holding out his arm.

She gave a great sob and reached for him, felt the strength of him, felt the great kicking as his feet tread water, churning it up.

"I—you—it wasn't—another minute—" she gasped the words out.

"Shut up!" He held her close. "You silly fool, don't you know—"

She opened her eyes and looked at him. His face was filled with fury. She heard him say, "Oh, ye gods! Ann!" and then slowly, inexorably, he drew her down under the water.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

WELL, this goes to show that you just can't know everything!

Here is part of a note I received this morning from Hollywood, Calif.

Not having any great confidence in the genuineness of Hollywood cowboys, I verified my correspondent's statement in my dictionary and, by golly, he's correct.

BRANDEIS

"I read your articles religiously every evening in the Hollywood Citizen - News," he writes (and I mention this part because why shouldn't I give myself a little free publicity?), "so got quite a kick out of your article a few days ago where you mention a long-horn steer coming down Route 6 with his wife and daughter'.

"You evidently don't know that a steer is an animal that, as a bullcalf, has been prevented from ever becoming a husband.

"You may hear from some of your Texas readers. They will get quite a laugh out of it. You will just have to be a little more careful with your livestock."

As I said before, I checked on it and the man is right.

But maybe the cow and calf that accompanied the BULL down the road were his sister and niece. And I dare my Hollywood livestock expert to correct me on that!

Incidentally, here is my public chastisement of the editor who read my column, for not having noticed the error. Editors are supposed to be omniscient—and let Louis Messolonghites (that's the syndicate editor who reads my stuff) look up that word in the dictionary!

Incidentally, Mr. Messolonghites—who inspite of his last name, is a good American from Zanesville, Ohio—is the bane of my life.

He edits several of the columns published by my syndicate, so naturally he has become quite sour on life.

And on Wednesday, the day on which he reads my columns for the whole week, he seems to be the sourest.

Whenever the phone rings on Wednesday I answer it with fear and trembling.

"That's Louis," I say to my wife. Fortunately it usually isn't Louis. But sometimes it is.

He starts with a dulcet voice. "Good morning," he says, "how's the weather out in Connecticut?"

And then it comes.

"You know that column you wrote about Truman?"

"I certainly do," I answer, "and I think it is a darn good column!"

"It is. But you know you are not allowed to use that kind of language in print."

Then he reminds me of the rules. Nothing we write must be libelous. It must be accurate and in good taste.

Otherwise, anything goes. This is a Free Press, you know.

So then Louis and I argue for ten minutes (the syndicate pays for the telephone charge)—and the argument finally ends with my writing another column—such a one as this.

Now don't ask me what column Louis killed to make me write this one. I won't tell you.

But I'm glad he slipped up on that steer.

(Ed Note: I took it for granted that that particular steer was a stepfather.—L.M.)

With Governor Dewey as a possible running-mate, the question now confronting G.O.P. strategists who want a winner is whether the president pro tem of the Senate will accept the nomination.

TUCKER

"Van" does not want it. He would prefer to continue as the key senatorial director of our foreign policy as chairman of the senate Foreign Relations committee.

But, despite his age and ill health, Capitol Hill now believes that he will undergo a sacrifice which neither he nor Mrs. Vandenberg would make of their own free will, if he is drafted.

WIN: In pointing toward their possible Philadelphia choice for the top prize, Republican strategists believe that Senator Vandenberg is the only man who can swamp the man in the White House without any ifs, ands or buts.

They think they can defeat President Truman with almost any nominee save Senator Taft, but they look upon the presiding officer of the Senate as their best bet.

On both domestic and foreign issues, the big, G.O.P. master-minders figure that they can "win with Vandenberg." They believe that midwestern Republicans antagonistic toward the Truman-Marshall-Vandenberg foreign program will vote for Senator Vandenberg as against Henry A. Wallace or any other Democrat.

FACTORS: In their anxiety to produce a 1948 presidential winner, the G.O.P. bosses now dismiss such normally compelling factors as Senator Vandenberg's age and heart condition, as well as the invalided Mrs. Vandenberg's preference that the two of them take it easy in the evening of their life.

If "Van" should decline a nomination which can be his on a Philadelphia platter, these will be his reasons. But the want-a-winner faction may force him to accept the presidential nomination.

RAMBUNCTIOUS: It is quite obvious that Harold E. Stassen, despite his primary showings, will not be the vice-presidential candidate if Senator Vandenberg should head the ticket.

As a matter of fact, the new pro-Vandenberg movement within inner G.O.P. circles is designed partially to wipe Harold out of the political panorama.

For one thing, Senator Vandenberg has not liked the Minnesotan's rambunctious tactics ever since they served together as American delegates to the United Nations organization meeting in 1945. Without any success, Mr. Stassen tried to steal the international show from Vandenberg, who was more ambitious then than he is now.

PROBLEM: Assuming that Senator Vandenberg will be the Republicans' presidential candidate—and he can have it if he wants it—the Republicans' next big problem, as they recognize, is to select a running-mate.

The two favorite vice-presidential candidates on a Vandenberg-headed ticket, of course, are Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts and Governor Earl Warren of California.

Whether the back-room Republican strategists decide that they must cater to votes west of the Rockies or east of the Appalachians may determine whether Speaker Martin or Governor Warren will be the vice-presidential nominee.

Note: It seems to make no difference to G.O.P. slatemakers that Speaker Martin, privately, and Governor Warren, publicly, have said again and again that they would not accept a vice-presidential nomination.

SLATE: Strangely enough, Governor Thomas E. Dewey's political stock is rising, despite his misadventures at the primary polls. There is a general belief among politicians at Washington that a Vandenberg-Dewey ticket would sweep almost every state north of the Mason and Dixon line.

If the man at Albany would consent to run with the man from Grand Rapids, Mich., provided that the back-room boys can persuade Senator Vandenberg to accept the first-place nomination against his and Mrs. Vandenberg's primary and personal desires, the anti-Truman slate as of today should be Vandenberg, Dewey, Martin or Warren, with "Van" having a big lead in the presidential derby, and the 1944 nominee in the second slot.

WALLACE: A. T. of Columbus, O., for instance, asks how many Roosevelt New Dealers have cast their lot with the leader of the third party. Several questioners want to know whether Mr. Wallace served in World War I or II.

Answer: A careful check of Mr. Wallace's supporters shows that only a few members of the official Roosevelt family remain in his camp. The only ones I can discover are Rexford Guy Tugwell, former Under Secretary of Agriculture and later Governor of Porto Rico; Lee Pressman, once with Agriculture and subsequently counsel for the C.I.O.; Clarke Foreman, an erstwhile Ickes aide in Interior; and C. B. (Beany) Baldwin, another Wallace subordinate in the D. of A.

WARNED: He has few of the prominent labor leaders who usually endorsed F.D.R. privately or publicly. The most outstanding is Harry Bridges. Such well-known members of the colored race as Singer Paul Robeson and Joe Louis back him but the race's best known spokesman, Walter White of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, has warned that votes for Mr. Wallace would only help to elect "reactionary Republicans."

None of the leading newspapers that preferred F.D.R. to any of his four opponents have declared for the Iowan. His principal journalistic reinforcement comes from the Communist Party's Daily Worker in New York.

Many of Mr. Wallace's old friends have expressed sympathy for most of his views on economic and social problems, but they confess that they cannot agree with or stomach his pro-Russian policy. They think that he has permitted his bitterness toward President Truman to lead him astray on foreign issues.

Mr. Wallace did not serve in either conflict. As editor of his father's farm paper and supervisor of agricultural activities, he was deemed an essential worker in 1917.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep for 20 years nowadays. Someone with a portable radio would wake him.

Robinson Crusoe should have been content on that island. He didn't have to contend with a minority group.

MONOPOLIES CLAIMED AIDED

Action On Railroad Bill Hit

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—They do these things around here in the shank of the evening—and quick.

Reference is to the way the House, bowing before a great industry and its highly financed lobby, whisked through in exactly three hours and five minutes by the clock the so-called Bulwinkle-Reed bill to exempt the railroads from the anti-trust laws and set up a sort of private government in the Association of American railroads.

STOKES

Only two hours were allotted for debate, a rather short period for a measure that affects our economy, including the often forgotten consumer, as have few bills in recent years. The House passed the same measure two years ago in the same way, taking a couple of hours of an afternoon. That provoked a great outcry from those conscious of its threat to the public. But the great private interests behind this and other similar measures have become emboldened meanwhile, and apparently so have those who represent them in this Congress. They are getting hard-boiled.

* * *

Other Actions Hit

It was, in fact, a rather bad day in the House for the public.

For, just before it took up the railroad bill, that legislative body voted to prevent further expansion of TVA to meet power needs of household consumers, farmers and industries, including important national defense industries, in the Tennessee Valley. It rejected an amendment to the governor corporations appropriation bill that would have provided $4,000,000, requested by President Truman, to start work on another steam plant to produce additional power.

That was a big victory for the private utility lobby now set up here under direction of Puercell L. Smith, president of the Association of Electric companies, who gets $65,000 a year and, judging from results, is worth every cent of it to his employers.

This was the first outstanding triumph of the utilities in their campaign along a wide front in this Congress to check further expansion of public power. Ultimately, if successful, it will reach into other areas, as was manifest by the support for TVA from other sections where there are great public power projects, and all at the expense of the lowly consumer who doesn't have any 65,000-a-year men working for him.

The vote was 152 for the amendment, 192 against.

But fewer still stood up against the railroad lobby. It was the same familiar corporal's guard—53 this time—that has been standing firm, though in vain, against successive raids in this Congress by monopolistic interests. They were overwhelmed by 271 votes for the measure.

The Bulwinkle-Reed bill now has been approved by both branches of this Congress. The Senate passed it earlier this session. It failed there in the last Congress, after the House had approved it, getting caught without action toward the end of the session. The only hope to kill it now lies in one man, President Truman. He is expected to veto it. He is thoroughly familiar with its purposes from his long experience with railroad matters as a senator on the Interstate Commerce committee. Whether his veto will stand up remains to be seen. There were enough votes to override a veto in both branches in its passage in this Congress.

Solon Scores Campaign

As chairman of an Interstate Commerce subcommittee that exhaustively investigated railroads, their financing and lobbying activities, Mr. Truman exposed lobbying tactics which also were referred to during House debate this week by Rep. Ed Gossett (D. Tex.).

The latter said supporters of the measure spent a million dollars in their campaign on its behalf. He described how "they have gone up and down the land getting resolutions passed by Chambers of Commerce." Another technique, revealed here some months ago from records of the Association of American Railroads, was to enlist important men back home influential with members of Congress to bring pressure upon them. That is especially effective in an election year.

During House debate it was also pointed out how exemption of railroads from anti-trust laws will be an open invitation to other great industries to seek the same exemption, and it was explained how this bill, if it becomes law, will stop two pending anti-trust suits, one brought by the state of Georgia against the Pennsylvania and other railroads, now pending before a Supreme Court master, and another brought by the Justice department against western roads.

This measure is much bigger than merely a railroad bill, affecting allied interests. It has been demonstrated in government testimony and suits how other great industries, including oil and cement, join with the railroads to fix transportation costs for the purpose, according to Wendell Berge, former chief of the Justice department's anti-trust division, of maintaining "the industrial status quo and to prevent a new enterprise from competing with the industrial monopolies."

In brief, the old monopolistic "freeze-out" that raises and keeps up prices of all sorts of things that all of us have to buy.

Nine week examinations for 10 and 11 o'clock junior and sophomore classes are on tap for Thursday.

On Friday the seniors will picnic all day at Buffalo lake while juniors and sophomores take nine week examinations for 1:35 and 2:40 o'clock classes at 1 and 2 p. m. respectively. Regular guidance periods on Friday have been cancelled and test periods moved up in order that juniors and sophomores may check in books beginning at 3 o'clock.

Juniors and sophomores will take 18 week examinations on Saturday, May 22, according to the following schedule:

9 a. m.—English.
10 a. m.—Mathematics.
11 a. m.—History.
1 p. m.—Science.
2 p. m.—Languages.
3 p. m.—All others.

The commencement sermon will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 23, in the high school auditorium, and commencement exercises will be held at 8 p. m. Monday, May 24, on the west side of the new Tech stadium.

Report cards will be issued to town students at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, May 25, following which failures will be rescheduled for classes for the next year. Bus students will receive report cards at 1 p. m. the same day.

Rapid industrialization of India took place during World War II. More than a million tons of steel a year are now produced there.

MARKET CONTINUES COMEBACK
NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)— The stock market today negotiated its fastest push in three weeks to reach a new average 21-month high.

Selected rails, industrials and utilities overrode relatively heavy profit cashing on the lengthy drive and closed up fractions to 2 points. Minor losses, however, were plentiful.

Buyers still were inspired by business optimism on the other hand, accounts were trimmed by those who were a bit bearish over the Washington-Moscow diplomatic confusion, the Chrysler strike and other labor difficulties.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite advanced .4 of a point to 69.1, a peak since Aug. 30, 1946.

Transfers of 2,030,000 shares compared with 1,830,000 Wednesday and were the largest since April 23.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Cotton futures drifted lower in quiet trading today. The market was influenced somewhat by evening-up operations in May and switching into later months, anticipating the expiration of trading in May contracts at noon Friday. Commission house and loval selling was stimulated by reports of favorable rains in Texas and Oklahoma where the cotton crop needed more moisture.

Direct confirmation of Thursday's report that France will be an early buyer of cotton was lacking and traders were disappointed over reports that private Japanese cotton credit agreement will not be completed until some time next week.

Futures closed 70 cents a bale lower to 30 cents higher than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, May 13 (AP)—Grains were lower most of the session on the board of trade today, although they rallied shortly before the close. Some of the late buying in wheat was traced to mills and reflected sales of flour to Holland.

Wheat closed ½ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.47 ¼-½, corn was 1 ¼ to 2 cents lower, May $2.29 ½-$2.30, oats were ¾-1 ⅝ lower, May $1.15 ½, and soybeans were 7 to 8 cents higher, May $4.04.

County Judge Rules Will Giving Baylor $750,000 Is Valid

SAN ANTONIO, May 13 (AP)—County Judge Charles W. Anderson today upheld the validity of the joint will of Dr. Henry Houston Ogilvie and his wife that contained a bequest of $750,000 to Baylor university.

The validity of the document was contested by the widow, Mrs. Raymond Briggs Ogilvie.

Baylor university was the second beneficiary in the will which granted the main portion of the fortune to the doctor's daughter, Virginia, who died in 1946. Ogilvie died last year.

The widow sought to have the will set aside on grounds that Ogilvie was under unusual mental and physical stress when the joint will and trust agreement was executed in 1938.

The will provided $600 a month above expenses for the widow to be taken out of the estate. In event of the death of Mrs. Ogilvie the entire estate was to go to the daughter. And if the daughter died without heirs the estate was to go to Baylor.

New officers of the club for the coming year, named by the nominating committee and elected by acclamation were: S. M Kennedy, jr., president; William Whittington, vice president; Miss Kate E. Rogers, secretary; and Miss Jane Watson, treasurer.

The new officers will succeed the following out-going officers: R. L. Mason, president; Dr. T. Earl Hamilton, vice president; Alan Gunn, treasurer; and Mrs. Addie Belle Mauzey, secretary.

"Texas election laws inferentially authorize such a referendum on platform matters but not on the electoral college voters," Calvert said he believed.

Military nursing on a professional level was born in the Crimean War, 1885, the culmination of the dreams and efforts of Florence Nightingale, founder of all modern professional nursing. The mortality rate of war wounded at that time was 44 per cent. After four months of bedside nursing, this extravagant waste of human life was reduced to the minimum of two per cent. Miss Nightingale's success in demonstrating the importance of qualified nurses in wartime set the pace for the training of nurses to care for civilians in peacetime.
