Des Day Is Set Saturday

Freezer Be Awarded Local Firms

In the series of trades days will be awarded Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in the Plainview Hardware, a home freezer will be awarded.

Keith Flowers received the console last week and Borden was selected to participate in the contest for a prize, a 1953 Chevrolet.

Largest crowd of the season attended the trades day last Saturday in front of the Truck and Tractor Co. Main Automobiles were from the railroad track and hundred yards north of the building. In fact, it was blocked on the highway about thirty minutes by the crowd.

Prizes to be given away in the series are a home automatic washer, Deep television set and the information as to the program will be secured from any person who is participating in the program.

Special Bargain On Amarillo Daily News

Beginning Aug. 1, the Herald will take subscribers to the Amarillo Daily News at the special reduced rate of $3.95 for a full year. This is for mail subscription. Monday through Saturday and colored comics are included each week with this offering. Anyone who already a subscriber may regard the expiration date.

Wheatheart Contest at Fair

Blankets will be sent out to civic organizations in the North Plains area for the annual "Wheatheart of the Nation" contest to be held during the North Plains Fair on August 22.

The Wheatheart committee Tuesday to lay final plans for the contest. Members of the committee are Harold Hudson, Paul Loftin, co-chairmen, Bert, Gene Akers, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Jess George, Mrs. H. P. Richardson.

Prizes in the contest this year will appear in bathing suits. In previous years, the final prize has been done in formal wear.

The contest will be held Saturday night, August 22, at the North Plains Fair in conjunction with a musical program by Ray Price and an entertainment group from the Grand Ole Opry of Nashville. A dance will follow the contest and Wheatheart contest.

"Miss Perryton" contest will determine this city's entry in the Wheatheart contest will be Friday night, August 21, at county warehouse preceding square dance scheduled on Fair program.

Dollar Day Is Tuesday, July 28

Tuesday is Dollar Day in Perryton.

In addition to the many bargains offered by Perryton merchants, the Chamber of Commerce is giving away ten silver dollars to persons who answer their phone Tuesday with "Hello, This is Dollar Day in Perryton."

If you answer your phone correctly all day, you may get a call from the Chamber of Commerce telling you that you have won a silver dollar for the right answer.

All merchants have agreed to have an extra special Dollar Day bargain for the one day only. Some of these bargains are listed on a page in this issue of the Herald.

Other Dollar Day bargains are presented by merchants who are cooperating to make this bargain event one of the biggest promotions ever sponsored locally.

FIRE DAMAGE—Bob Black points to the closet where the fire broke out early Sunday morning at his TV and radio shop, doing considerable damage to stock and fixtures. A number of new television sets and electrical equipment were heavily damaged.

Let Contract for Partition at Veterans Memorial Building

A contract was awarded Tuesday night to Arthur Morgan of Perryton for the construction of the center partition of the Veterans Memorial Building. The partition will be installed in time for the North Plains Fair on August 20-21-22.

The contract, for labor and supervision, was for $490. The cost of the materials, also furnished by the 400 Club, is estimated to be around $1,000.

The partition will be constructed in accordance with original plans and specifications for the building and the contract was approved by the Veterans Memorial Building Committee, composed of members of the American Legion and VFW.

This is the first expenditure of the 400 Club for community betterment and was voted as the first project to be undertaken by the club, organized several months ago. Other projects will

Golf Tourney to Be August 2

A city golf tournament has been set for Sunday, August 2, and local golfers who plan to enter the tournament are asked to turn in qualifying rounds this Sunday.

Carroll McClung of the Perryton Country Club said that scores may be turned in to him and that the tournament brackets would be drawn during the coming week for the Sunday tournament.

It is desired that scores for two rounds be turned in.

McClung said that the entry fee for the city tournament would be $1 and that golfers would be divided into flights, with medal score determining flight winners.

General Rain Helps Fields

Rains totaling .75 inch fell in the Perryton area during the past week, brightening the outlook for a feed crop in this area. Pastures have benefited from the recent rains and the prospects for both farmers and cattle-

Another rain fell in the Perryton area Wednesday night, coming in with a strong north wind. The moisture total recorded by KEYE late Wednesday was .93 inch. This brings the total moisture received in Perryton since July 8 to 4.80 inch and it was still raining as the Herald went to press.

men are considerably better than two weeks ago.

A total of .22 inch fell July 15, another .06 inch came last Thursday and rain measured at .47 inch came Saturday night for a total of .75 inch.

Fire Damages Local Firm

Fire early Sunday morning did an estimated $8,000 damage to the fixtures and contents of Bob's TV and Radio Shop at 13 SE 3rd Ave. Cause of the fire was undetermined, but it was believed faulty wiring set off the blaze.

The fire started at about 2 a. m. and the alarm was sounded shortly after that time. Firemen, working in the rain, succeeded in quenching the blaze, but the contents of the shop, including a number of new television sets, suffered heavy damage from the smoke and water.

Black said that the extent of his damage had not been determined, but that he was partially covered by insurance. The television sets and the electrical equipment used in the repair department were the greatest loss, he said.

Black had planned to move his shop a few doors down the street and was scheduled to have moved last week-end, but because of sickness, couldn't make the move.

PLAN SCOUT DRIVE—These three gentlemen are planning the Boy Scout fund drive which opens today with about 60 workers soliciting funds. Taken at the planning dinner Friday, the picture shows Vince Hobbs, field Scout executive; Max Boyer, drive chairman; and Mason Anderson, special gifts chairman.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 3—Here is the Herald Mystery Farm of the Air for this week. The first person correctly identifying this farm will receive a free subscription to the Herald. The owner of the farm will receive a mounted picture by calling at the Herald office for it. The Mystery Farm last week was the Harold Hawk farm 17 miles northwest of Perryton and 43 persons identified it.

Ballots Received for August 14 Wheat Acreage Referendum

August 14 has been set as the date for the national wheat referendum and the Ochiltree county PMA office already has the ballots on hand for the election.

This election will allow growers to determine whether or not they will approve rigid marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop. Approval of at least two-thirds of those voting is required.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has set a planting allotment of 62 million acres for next year's wheat crop, about 20 per cent less than was planted this year. State and county allotments will be apportioned on the basis of the acreage seeded to wheat during the preceding 10 years, with adjustments for abnormal weather and for trends in acreage.

Each farm's marketing quota will be the amount of wheat grown on its allotted acres.

All farms with an allotment of 15 acres or more will be subject to marketing quotas.

Ochiltree county farmers will be notified of their allotment for 1954 as soon as the county allotment is received and broken down by farms. Farmers have 15 days to appeal from the county allotment.

A recent ruling by the Secretary of Agriculture gives farmers in the disaster area, of which Ochiltree county is part, authority to plant all their land in wheat, with the provision that the excess acreage be plowed up before harvest time. Purpose of this ruling is to furnish a cover crop during the winter. The fields to be plowed up must be designated prior to seeding.

The marketing quota election will be held at three polling places, one for each of the county communities. Polls will be open August 14 at the school, courthouse and county warehouse.

Legion, Auxiliary Officers Installed On Monday Night

New officers of the American Legion and Auxiliary were installed Monday night at a potluck supper held at the Veterans Memorial Building. Mike McCully, 18th District commander from Clarendon, was the installing officer.

New Legion officers are Walter LaMaster, commander; John Stubbfield, first vice commander; Joe Champion, second vice commander; Gordon Shackelford, adjutant; Gale Rogers, finance officer; Anna Tevis, historian; Tommy Manning, chaplain; and John Dieball, sergeant-at-arms.

Scout Drive Opens Today

The annual Boy Scout fund drive for Perryton and Ochiltree county is scheduled to get under way today with a breakfast at the Hotel Coffee Shop for workers in the drive.

Max W. Boyer is general chairman for the drive, assisted by Mason Anderson, special gifts chairman and Dean McCutcheon, general solicitation chairman.

The general solicitation drive begins today, while the special gifts solicitation began last Friday. Goal for the drive is $2,800, the same as raised locally last year.

This amount is Ochiltree county's share of the $43,000 budget set for the Adobe Walls Council. The budget was drawn up on recommendations of the various Scout leaders in towns within the district.

It requires approximately $10 per year to keep a boy in Scouting and there are more than 200 Scouts in the Perryton area.

Walter LaMaster and Joe Erickson are sub-chairmen of the drive which starts today and each has six helpers with committees to work on the drive. These helpers include Jack M. Allen, Frank Shaffer, Coke Harlow, Sidney Jines, Harold Hudson and J. B. Whigham.

There will be approximately 60 workers during the drive which is expected to close by the end of the week, with most prospects to be contacted sometime Thursday.

Lawn Brown Spots May Be Grub Worms

Noticed brown spots in your lawn that won't green up despite repeated watering? Maybe you'd better check for grub worms—many unhappy home owners in Perryton have found these pests responsible for lawn destruction. The fat, white grubs are the larvae stage of the brown May beetle common to this area in late summer. The beetles lay the eggs under the surface of the grass and the grubs, when hatched out, live on the roots of grass and small plants until they emerge as beetles. Delbert Timmons, county agent says the best way to kill the worms is to apply chlordane dust to the affected areas and soak the dust into the soil. Lindane and chlordane sprays are also effective.

Parade Entries Needed at Fair

Entries are being solicited for the North Plains Fair parade, to be held on Saturday, August 22, and the Home Demonstration clubs of Ochiltree county agreed Tuesday at county council meeting to have a float from each club.

Prizes of $50, $35 and $15 will be given this year to the float displaying the most originality. Coke Harlow and G. K. Rupprecht are parade chairmen. The chairmen said Wednesday that in the Santa Fe miniature train had been secured and that they were trying to get the Amarillo Air Force band to lead the parade. A number of riding clubs from the area will be present.

Protest Tough Feed Policy for Disaster Aid

Committee Sends Telegram Tuesday To State Office

The Ochiltree County Drought Relief Committee added another protest Tuesday to the mounting stack of telegrams and letters received at the state PMA office in College Station over the "pauper's oath" provision of the federal disaster aid program.

The regulation, dispatched to Texas county drought relief committees during the week-end, requires that a cattleman must declare himself financially unable to buy feed on the open market before he can receive the half-price feed being shipped to drought areas.

"This provision will rule out 90 per cent of our applicants," a local spokesman of the drought relief committee said.

Approximately 1,500 tons of emergency livestock feed have been ordered for Ochiltree county and the local committees in charge of distributing the feed wonders what to do with it if the unpopular regulation is in force.

News of the regulation came from a telegram signed by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture J. Earle Coke. His telegram said that to be eligible for cheap feed, a farmer or stockman must have less than a 30-day supply of feed for his foundation herd, and that he must not have the financial ability to remain in business and maintain his herd unless he can purchase feed at prices lower than the market.

One carload of feed has been distributed in Perryton to farmers and ranchers who could not qualify under the questioned provision.

Practically every county in Texas has protested the rule and it is felt that this provision will be countermanded in the near future.

White House Firm Observes 55 Years of Service

White House Properties, with seven lumber yards in the Panhandle including the one in Perryton, observes 55 years of service in the lumber and building business this year under the leadership of the founder, B. F. Tepe.

Tepe started the B. F. Tepe Lumber Co. in 1898 at Canadian. It was incorporated as the Tepe-Hoover Lumber Co. in 1907 and became the White House Lumber Co. in 1910. Several years ago the company became White House Properties.

Jay D. Pritchard, the Perryton manager, has been with the firm since 1936.

Tepe was born in Kansas City, Kansas in September, 1873. He moved with his parents to Dodge City at the age of five and in 1890 he went to Oregon and California, working in a sawmill there before returning to the Plains in 1890, where he

Two Oil Locations Announced for Perryton Area

Fifteen families of the Baker and Taylor Drilling Co. moved into Perryton last week preparatory to starting drilling operations on the Sun Oil Co. deep test on the Melvin Wilson land in Beaver county.

The new location is two miles north and two miles east of Gray. The well was spudded in Tuesday. Contract depth is reported to be 8,500 feet.

Another deep test location was announced Sunday by the Texas Co., the No. 1 Rentrow in Texas county. This location, in 27-1n-19, is about five miles north of the A. R. Hogland ranch in the northwest corner of Ochiltree county.

Depth of the well will be 7,800 feet.

Anderson, Navy Secretary Has Career of Hard Work

VERNON (AP)—Robert B. Anderson, the Texan who will be secretary of the Navy in President Eisenhower's administration, is a man who has no fear of tackling a job new to him.

He has demonstrated it more than once, but there is probably no better example than one from his youth when he was a 19-year old teacher of Spanish, history and mathematics in the Burleson, Texas high school. The boys of Burleson High wanted to play football so much they were willing to buy their own uniforms and equipment.

The school asked him to coach the team. He knew no more about football than did any other casual spectator of the sport. But he took the job and bought a rule book. He took the basic formations from the rule book—showing up on the practice field with diagrams he had copied on pieces of paper out of the book—and went on from there.

So did Burleson High School that year, which was 1929. His team was undefeated.

"Yes, I coached right out of the book," he said in an interview. But he spent more time minimizing his accomplishment and pointed out that neither he nor his team nor the teams Burleson played knew much about football.

There isn't a cocky attitude in his makeup. He is a tall, quiet man—he stands 6 feet 1—but limps a little from polio, which he had when he was 3. His rimless spectacles give him a professorial air.

After his brilliance as a lawyer and an executive, his neighbors in Vernon are most likely to talk about "Bob's humility."

"Bob's strictly a head-table man in caliber," says W. H. Wright, a friend and business associate, "but you are just as likely to find him sitting in the back of the hall with the rest of the folks."

Others report that he has been abashed by the deference he has gotten from the Navy since he was named its secretary a few weeks ago.

On an occasion when he arrived at an airport to board a Navy plane, he noted an officer standing at attention and saluting. A witness of the scene recalls that Anderson was all but apologetic as he said: "Never mind that, fellow. I don't know anything about that stuff."

It will undoubtedly be weeks and perhaps months before the Navy finds out exactly what kind of a new boss it has.

"I will move and talk only after study," he says.

In the judgment of those who know him, the last thing the new secretary is likely to become is a narrow, partisan advocate of the Navy in the defense Department. As one friend puts it, he is "an over-all picture man."

The speech Anderson made at the Second Annual Texas Congressional Forum, held only two weeks after the election, bears out this estimate.

"Certainly of dominant importance to America just now is the full acceptance of the knowledge that we are at war and the resulting decisions must be made because of it," he said.

The Korean activities in whatever terminology you choose are nevertheless an actual war.

"We are being compelled to look forward for a long, long time to the maintenance of a system of defense designated first to deter the Soviet Union from deliberately initiating a general war and secondly, to protect as much of the rest of the world as possible from Communist aggression and, finally, to keep ourselves in such a state of preparedness as to be able to win a general war if we find it not possible to avoid it."

Anderson supported Eisenhower for election, but he remains a Democrat, or as he puts it, a Democrat for Eisenhower.

There are a number of reports or rumors about how he came to the attention of the new President, but he declines to discuss them. "I had met General Eisenhower once," he did say. "A year or two ago in Washington."

The new secretary is 42. He was born on a farm near Burleson, in Johnson County. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Anderson, still live in Johnson County on a farm near Godley.

He is married and has two children, James Richard, 16, and Gerald Lee, 12.

Anderson served as state tax commissioner and as chairman of the Texas Unemployment Commission under Gov. James Allred. He is a past president of the Texas Mid Continent Oil and Gas Association. He is a deputy chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. The State Board of Education has twice elected him chairman.

THE PARCHED EARTH—Sunbaked and with great cracks in the soil, this stubble field offers little pasture for these dairy cattle on a farm northeast of the little town of Cagillion, Texas, near Dallas. The condition of this field is typical of farm and grazing land in the North Central part of the state which has had little if any rain for a month. But conditions in this area are better than in West Texas counties declared drought disaster areas.—(AP Photo)

For more than 10 years he has been manager of the Waggoner estate, a ranching and oil empire started by W. T. Waggoner, now dead. The empire operates the second largest ranch in Texas—stretching over six north-west Texas counties—produces and refines oil and tills thousands of acres of farm land.

Anderson is taking a leave of absence from the estate to serve in President Eisenhower's administration.

Many authorities believe there is no reason for thinking that the Vandals resorted to objectless destruction in their great raid on Rome in 455, which modern use of the term "vandal" implies.

Heater Kills Woman, 85

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—An 85-year-old woman was burned to death in the living room of her home while her husband, also 85, sought help at a firehouse next door.

Mrs. Frances Mosher accidentally set her clothing afire when she tripped over a portable oil heater. Her husband, Alfred tried vainly to beat out the fire then ran next door to Engine Company 14.

Firemen quickly put out the blaze but Mrs. Mosher was beyond aid.

The fact that the festival of St. Valentine has been linked with lovers is believed to be accidental, resulting from the fact that the festival is observed in early spring.

Three-Minute Hats

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes the average man three minutes to buy a hat. If he is accompanied by a woman, the purchase takes 12 minutes.

The reason a man takes so little time is that he usually has something definite in mind, reports a hat firm (Adam) which made a statistical study. Some other findings:

Complications arise with a male shopper only when a hat is out of stock.

When a woman goes along, she insists her escort try on several. Not only is each hat discussed thoroughly but the man has to try several ways of wearing each one.

Study Moslem Divorces

MALAYA (AP)—Moslem divorces at the rate of 40 in every 100 marriages have caused concern among religious leaders.

The State Council of Religion and Malay Customs has named a six man committee to study the question and make recommendations to check the growing divorce rate.

Generally wives are cast away without any financial benefits or future support in Moslem divorces.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

By—VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—While Governor Allan Shivers was considering what the state could do to aid drouth-beset farmers and ranchmen, he received a report saying that he can declare an emergency and get a $5 million program going.

The report came from Attorney General John Ben Sheppard who, on the governor's request, had been digging into the legal aspects of the situation.

Action is authorized, said Sheppard, by the state civil protection act of 1951.

Much could be done without calling the Legislature into session, said the report, and there are other things that could be done only by legislative authority.

At least $5 million could be raised, said the attorney general by means of contributions from the cities, counties, and local government agencies, including water and other special districts; by using the balance in the governor's deficiency appropriation and by calling upon the public to put in $500,000.

"It is our opinion," said the report, "that you are authorized to mobilize and utilize the manifold services, equipment, and facilities of existing state agencies and political subdivisions to assist in a drouth relief program."

The federal government is speeding up the job of getting money to Southwestern farmers and ranchers.

President Eisenhower asked Congress for $15 million to finance a lending program. The Department of Agriculture already had $16 million available for the purpose.

It was expected that local committees would be ready to pass on loans by the end of the month.

Application blanks were being sent to Farmers Home Administration offices and, in some instances where the demand for loans will be heavy, to banks and Production Credit Administration offices.

Meanwhile, the United Livestock Producers Association, with members in five states, decided to send two association officers to Washington to ask for direct federal price supports on cattle.

The representatives are S. E. (Eck) Brown, president of the association, and O. H. Finch, Sr., a director, both of Dalhart.

Brown berated the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association for its "inability to work for the best interests of all livestock growers, big and little alike, to relieve price conditions."

The T&SCRA is opposed to direct federal price supports on cattle.

South Texas politics and the name of George Parr, sometimes called boss of a big part of that area, came up in a Supreme Court hearing on whether District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice should be ousted from his position.

Eleven lawyers who practice in Judge Laughlin's 79th district charged, among other things, that the judge had ordered ballot boxes and election material delivered to the sheriff of Duval County, Parr's nephew. Clint C. Small, representing Laughlin, told the court, "Apparently those who want Judge Laughlin removed were more interested in keeping George Parr from seeing the election returns than they were in prosecuting election irregularities."

It was the view of State Senator William H. Shireman, speaking for those who want to oust Judge Laughlin, that delivery of the election material to Parr was "in itself a corrupt proposition, making it possible for Parr to know how the voters voted."

The Supreme Court will study a case involving the entire procedure of the Texas Employment Commission in computing employers' taxes for unemployment compensation.

The court granted a writ of error to Todd Shipyard Corporation, which had sued for recovery on $106,260 in unemployment taxes paid from 1948 to 1951. The rate, the corporation contended, was higher than it should have been.

Judge J. Harris Gardner in district court here ruled for the company, but his decision was reversed by The Third Civil Appeals Court in an opinion by Associate Justice Robert G. Hughes, who said that if the Todd claim were upheld, charges and rates of every other firm in the Todd category would have to be recalculated and federal recognition of the state employment law might be withdrawn.

Despite Texas' efforts to improve its state hospitals, those institutions are still overcrowded and suffering from a shortage of doctors.

So says Dr. James A. Bethae, new executive director of the system, who had just completed an inspection tour.

At Rusk, the situation is particularly bad, the doctor said, with about 400 patients sleeping on mattresses placed on the floor because there is a lack of space for beds.

Dr. Bethae made his report to the state board for hospitals and special schools. The board voted to inspect the hospital system after its next meeting in August.

Another state system—that of prisons—is going into the cattle business in a big way.

The system has 73,000 acres of land, unaffected by drouth, in the gulf coast area.

Announcing that the system will buy 1,500 head of cattle, French Robertson of Abilene, Fairman, said that cotton has long been the chief money crop, but there is an expected 25 per cent acreage reduction next year, and "we must look to something else."

Prison-raised cattle have fed the inmates for the past two years, Robertson said, and the new herd will be operated for revenue, not for feeding prisoners.

Texas may have three governors next month.

Governor Shivers will be out of the state while attending the national governors conference, of which he is chairman, in Seattle.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey will hold the title during Shivers' absence. If Ramsey leaves Texas' borders, the job will fall to Senator Jimmie Phillips of Angleton, president pro tempore of the senate.

It has been a custom to let the president pro tem. serve as governor for a day.

Joe C. Carrington of Austin has been appointed by the governor to serve a year as chairman of the Texas Committee on Alcoholism, created by the last legislature. After the first year, committee members will select their own chairman.

The law providing jail sentences on the first offense for driving while intoxicated is valid, Attorney General John Ben Sheppard ruled.

WARRIORS THEN AND NOW

The law calls for a mandatory 10-day jail term, plus $100 fine on conviction, but the judge has authority to put the offender on probation for six months.

D. C. Gillaspie of San Antonio is trying to overthrow the Texas drivers responsibility act.

His contention that it is unconstitutional has been denied in county court at law, the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, and the Texas Supreme Court.

Gillaspie's attorney, Ronald Smallwood, says he will carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

SHORT SNORTS: Arkansas' suit to nullify the law that returned the tidelands' ownership to the states is "political" in the view of Attorney General Harold E. Fatzer of Kansas, president of the National Association of Attorneys General, whose position coincided with that of Texas Attorney General John Ben Sheppard. More parking space can be provided in the capitol grounds without destroying their beauty, says Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano, member of the legislative state planning committee. Henry Fox, widely known as the "Circleville Philosopher" said in an Austin speech that everything about the drouth is not bad—it has put people who don't have sense enough to get out of the rain on an equal basis with everybody else.

...with a JOHN DEERE-VAN BRUNT Grain Drill

Haphazard planting costs money . . . the seed bill is higher . . . time and labor go to waste . . . and grain profits take a beating. Don't pay the cost of poor planting—do a fast, uniform job of seeding your crops with a John Deere-Van Brunt Grain Drill.

The accuracy of John Deere-Van Brunt Drills is famous the country over. The proved seeding mechanism, jackknife spring pressure on the furrow openers, and the low-wheel design are advantages known to thousands of successful grain growers everywhere.

Get complete information on the John Deere-Van Brunt way of planting for bigger harvests. Come in soon.

Small fry love toasted bread cubes in a cream soup, under a poached egg or as a base for creamed vegetables, meat or fish. To prepare the cubes, cut soft bread into small squares. Arrange the cubes on a cookies sheet and place in a slow oven; turn the bread occasionally and toast until golden brown on all sides.

President Warren G. Harding was the first U. S. President who could drive his own car although official guards would not permit him to do so during his term in office.

Vampires were believed to be ghosts who lived at night to suck the blood of living persons and controlled such activity through the dead body.

Legion Meets
Texhoma Friday

The American Legion junior team will play a league game with Texhoma at the local park Friday night, with game time set at 8:30 p. m.

The Legion team is undefeated in league play in the North Plains Junior Legion league with victories over Gruver, Beaver, Guymon, Hooker and Balke.

The team also has two victories over Hedley and have lost but twice this season, both times to the Amarillo Legion team, heavily spiked with the championship Amarillo Sandie baseball team.

Sales Ring Will Open On Friday

The first "after harvest" sale at the Perryton Cattle Commission Co. will be held Friday, July 24, starting at 1 p. m., owner J. O. Carter has announced.

A machinery and miscellaneous sale will be held Friday, with any type of articles accepted for consignment.

joined his family in Canadian.

He did carpenter work for several years, until on November 21, 1898, he bought the Canadian Lumber Yard. In 1900, a lumber yard at Miami was purchased and one in Amarillo was added in 1906. The Amarillo yard was sold in 1908 to open yards at Pampa, Glazier and White Deer.

The Tepe-Hoover Lumber Co. put in a yard in Old Ochiltree in about 1907, when the town of Ochiltree gave the company five business lots to obtain a lumber yard there.

Homer Tepe, brother of B. F. Tepe, was the first manager of the Ochiltree yard. Then Chas. W. Callaway was the manager at Old Ochiltree and continued as manager when Ochiltree, and the White House Lumber Co. moved to Perryton in 1919. Callaway went back to Canadian in the early 1930's as manager of the Canadian yard. He resigned several years ago to establish his own lumber yard in Canadian.

Tepe moved the home office of White House Properties to Pampa several years ago.

SELF-PROPELLED LAWN MOWERS—Doyce Mallett, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Mallett, is shown with three self-propelled lawn mowers who are keeping the Mallett lawn free of weeds this summer. The sheep neatly clip the grass and eat the weeds and the portable pen is moved each day. Mallett says this method of lawn mowing beats the pushing type and all he's out is water for the animals.

Four Men Go
For Induction

Four men, including two volunteers, will be sent for induction Monday by local Selective Service Board No. 95. This is the only draft call for July, with no physical examination call received.

Those scheduled for induction are volunteers W. C. Walker of Follett and Jerry Leon Bowling of Spearman; Ray Junior Martin, Spearman; and Andrew Franklin Morris, Higgins.

Four men will be inducted from the local board on August 27.

Firms Reserve
Space at Fair

Six more Perryton firms have reserved commercial exhibit space at the North Plains Fair, and there are still a number of spaces available, reports John Mayfield, fair secretary.

Reserving space this week were the A&B Motor Co., Equity, Certified Wheat Growers Assn., Wheat Improvement Assn., Perryton Motor Co., Foote Truck and Tractor Co., Perryton Implement Co., North Plains Electric Coop. and Stewart Printing Co.

Commercial exhibit spaces rent for $50 for large spaces and $30 for smaller ones. This rent pays for the space during the three days of the fair.

To Kansas City
As Speaker for Flower Group

Elvin McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McDonald of Gray, left Monday for Kansas City, Mo., where he will speak to the Gloxinia and Begonia Society on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Elvin will visit Peggy Schulz, co-editor with him of The Gloxinian, American Gloxinia Society magazine, in Minneapolis.

He appeared on a television show in Oklahoma City when he spoke to a group of flower lovers in that city.

Elvin, a junior in Balke high school is founder and secretary of the American Gloxinia Society and edits The Gloxinia, official magazine of the society. He has an article published in Better Homes and Gardens as well as several other national magazines.

Legion Meets Texhoma Friday
Anna Tevis who underwent heart surgery at McKinney, Texas Wednesday, July 15, is reported to be much improved. Her mother, Mrs. S. P. Tevis, is in McKinney with her.Creep Feeding
Said Profitable

Creep feeding of calves will be a profitable practice for stockmen during current drought conditions, especially with cheap feed secured through the government disaster relief program, according to county agent Delbert Timmons.

Creep feeding will put more weight on the calves, help the mother cows, and conserve grass. Timmons says. Fat calves are bringing from 6 to 8 cents more per pound on the market than thin calves, he adds.

A good mixture for creep feeding is one-half oats and one-half corn, adding 10 lbs. of cottonseed meal per 100 lbs. of feed. Timmons says.

JANE WYMAN with one of the three men (Ray Milland) soon to be her arms all starring in "Let's Do It Again" coming to the theatre Tuesday, July 28. Just wait 'till you see that "Go Girl!"

'S Do It Again' Stars man, Milland, Aldo Ray

Wyman, Ray Milland and Aldo Ray, have combined to make a screen musical which gives the trio to the abundant talent of the trio. It comes to the theatre on Tuesday-Thursday.

Wyman, in her first all-time role as a retired songstress reportedly through "Let's Do It Again" a high-powered singing and romancing performance that will be a revelation to those fans who only remember her as the eloquent mute of her Academy Award-winning "Johnny Belinda" performance. Milland, as her errant song-writing husband, also rides wide, high and handsome in "Let's Do It Again," in a role reminiscent of such delightful comedies as "The Major and the Minor," and "Lady in the Dark." Aldo Ray contributes another of his hilarious interpretations of a good-natured illiterate, this time an Alaskan millionaire who thinks with his fists.

Horse Racing Story Features Keel, Bergen

"Fast Company," starring Howard Keel, Polly Bergen and Marjorie Main, comes Friday and Saturday to the Ellis Theatre.

It is a fast-paced story combining laughs, romance and horse-racing excitement. It tells of a girl who inherits a race horse only to find that he is on the second-rate Gyp Circuit. After falling in love with her trainer, she learns that he has been scheming to get the horse from her.

The novice owner decides to race the horse herself and after a number of action-filled experiences, she winds up with a good horse and a repentant trainer.

Three Loves Told In Film

One of the year's most impressive all-star casts was assembled for "The Story of Three Loves," a three-in-one picture coming to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Unusual in its unfolding of three varied romantic interludes, the first involving a brilliant London impresario and a ballerina, the second a young American who meets the girl of his dreams in Rome, and the third a famous aerialist who finds both love and a new partner for his act in Paris. The cast boasts such headliners as Pier Angeli, Ethel Barrymore, Farley Granger, James Mason, Agnes Moorehead and Moira Shearer.

Leland Horne Moves to Seattle From Vermont

Leland G. Horne, director of the Children's Home in Burlington, Vt., has resigned, effective July 1, to take a position as assistant state director of the Children's Home Society of Seattle, Wash.

The Children's Home Society is a state-wide agency providing institutional and foster home care for children. Other services include an adoption placement and care of unwed mothers. Horne's primary responsibility will be fund raising and supervision of the four child-caring institutions maintained by the society.

A graduate of Perryton high school and Texas A & M College, Horne served as a Navy officer during World War II. He is the son of G. I. Horne of Perryton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gibson have chosen the name Vance Wray Gibson for their son born Monday, July 20, in the Shattuck Hospital, Shattuck, Okla. The baby weighed 7 lbs., 1 oz. Maternal grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hearn. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gibson of Pittsboro are paternal grandparents.

Veterans Forum

Q. I'm a World War II veteran back on active duty, and my National Service Life Insurance policy is under waiver. Will I get my insurance dividends all the same?

A. No. National Service Life Insurance policies do not participate in dividends during the period when such premium waiver is in effect.

Q. Will my service at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point count toward my entitlement for Korean GI Bill training?

A. No. The time you spent as a cadet at West Point does not count toward your entitlement for training under the Korean GI Bill. The same rule applies to those who attend the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis and the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut.

Q. I am a disabled World War II veteran, and I've just finished Public Law 16 training. Will VA now find me a job?

A. The law does not give VA responsibility for finding employment for disabled veterans. However, if you wish VA will refer you to an appropriate State of Federal employment agency for this purpose.

Q. What happens if a Korean veteran doesn't apply for GI term insurance within 120 days after his separation from service. Is there any chance of his getting it after that time?

A. No. Under the law you must apply and pay your first premium within 120 days after you leave the service. If you wait longer than that, your chances of getting the insurance are gone for good.

Fonda, Darnell In Western

Starring Henry Fonda, Linda Darnell and Victor Mature, "My Darling Clementine" comes Sunday-Tuesday to the Ranger Theatre.

Set in the colorful southwest of the 1880's, the film, based on actual historical incidents, unfolds one of this country's most exciting chapters of flaming hate, violence and romance.

Fonda is cast as the fabled Wyatt Earp, the gun-fighting marshal who cleaned up Dodge City while Miss Darnell is seen as a cafe singer.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS OF THE ESTATE OF B. S. ELLIS. DECEASED

Customers Pick Location

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—W. H. Sawyer's customers can blame themselves if they don't like the location of his new lumber yard.

When the lumber merchant discovered city traffic re-arrangements would probably force him to move, he decided to ask his customers to help him pick a new location. In less than a month, he had 1,656 answers, and suggestions were still pouring in.

Harry Wilson, Tark Cook and Charles Pattison spent the week end in Lubbock visiting at Texas Tech. and with Leland Drennan.

"Truth" is the subject of this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches. "Thou art the God of my strength: O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me" (Psalms 43:2, 3), reads the Golden Text. According to the Lesson-Sermon, such prayer enlightens thought and lets into consciousness the healing, saving Christ-light.

The term "light" is often used to signify revelation or inspiration. With this viewpoint, Mary Baker Eddy discusses the passage from Genesis (1:5): "And God called the light Day, and the darkness He called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day." She says "All questions as to the divine creation being both spiritual and material are answered in this passage, for though solar beams are not yet included in the record of creation, still there is light.

This light is not from the sun nor from volcanic flames, but it is the revelation of Truth and of spiritual ideas. This also shows that there is no place where God's light is not seen, since Truth, Life, and Love fill immensity and are everpresent. Was not this a revelation instead of a creation? (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 504).

Villages Get Electricity

ATHENS (AP)—The first of four large electric power-producing plants is scheduled to go into operation this spring, bringing electricity for the first time into mountain villages which for centuries have depended on the oil lamp for light.

The plant is located at Aliveri, on the island of Euboea, lying off Greece's east coast and connected to the mainland by bridge. It will be powered by lignite which is available in quantity on the island.

The other three plants, situated in northern Greece and the Peloponnes, will depend on newly-harnessed water energy for their power.

All four projects were started with money grants totalling $10,000,000 from the Mutual Security Agency plus reparations from Greece's wartime enemy, Italy.

Tourist Bird Watcher

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Dorothy Doughty came to New York from England to look at the birds. Her business is making certain figurines of birds in various settings. On reaching New York she headed for the Bronx. Later she moved on to Washington. She planned to see the migration of warblers to the Gulf Coast.

proposed by Postmaster General Summerfield. Strong opposition will be encountered in the Post Office and Civil Service Committee; much general opposition on the floor. This may be a way to pay its way; that increasing this from three to four cents is making the average letter writer subsidize big magazines and periodicals.

FOREIGN AID: The pressure is on to prevent further cuts in the foreign aid program. The President had recommended 5.4 billion dollars. This was trimmed by the House to just under five billion dollars. It was raised by the Senate to 5.1 billion. This was the authorization. The big worry now is whether or not the appropriations committees will make further cuts in providing actual funds. Incidentally, the Senate raised the House version by more than 150 million dollars. This raise alone is more than has been asked in the way to be used for loan purposes in meeting the drought disaster.

THE TAX MORATORIUM: Last week I mentioned the fact that a tax moratorium had been voted by the House for the whisky distilleries on whisky still in storage. The moratorium is for four years and it is estimated that it involves approximately 185 million gallons of liquor. At $10.50 a gallon tax, it would indicate that the collection of over 2 billion dollars was postponed for four years. While at the same time, it was argued that the excess profits tax, which could only bring in 800 million dollars, had to be extended to balance the budget. The issue is so hot that the Senate committee will probably table the bill. The admissions tax on movie theaters will be repealed by the time you get this letter, or soon thereafter. This tax repeal bill was brought out under a closed rule. This means that the bill can not be amended on the House floor. It must be accepted or rejected as written. I regretted this rule as there were several amendments that I think should go on to give some tax relief to some who are equally in distress.

PRICE SUPPORTS FOR CATTLE: A tremendous grass roots movement is afoot to place price supports or a floor under cattle. This is a decision that must be made by the Secretary of Agriculture who presently has the authority to invoke such floor or supports. The proposal to adjourn Congress by July 31st does not leave sufficient time for Congress to work out a mandatory program on this subject.

THE FARMERS: So much attention was paid to the cattle business on the drought question that the little farmer was almost forgotten. Most of the laws concerning credit in the disaster program apply to the farmer as well as the cattleman. I have called this to the attention of the House several times during recent weeks and have also tried to impress upon the House that the credit should not be limited to a select few. There are many young people, and especially veterans, who have been hit by this disaster and who have not been in the business long enough to establish themselves as well as they would have liked. They are sons and daughters of farming and ranching people and it is their business. They should not be discriminated against.

The proposed regulations concerning eligibility for emergency feed are highly unsatisfactory. These may be changed before

Hooker Trims Blue Sox, 11-2

The Hooker Cardinals avenged two earlier losses to the Perryton Blue Sox Saturday night by pounding out a 11-2 victory at the local park before the largest baseball audience of the season.

The classy Cardinals teed off on Sox pitcher Jim Cain, imported from Borger for the pitching chores against Hooker, and brought in five runs on six hits in the first inning. This five run bulge gave the Cardinals more than enough lead and they protected the lead for pitcher Milt Cooper, who had a 1-hitter going until the ninth.

First hit off Cooper came in the fifth when Melvin Williams rapped out a double to center field. No more hits were allowed until the ninth when Dudley Hargrove hit a triple. Forky Holland had a double and Tuttle had a double. While Hargrove and Holland scored, the Sox were 11 runs behind before starting their ninth inning rally and were too far behind to catch up.

Singapore Restricts Immigrants

SINGAPORE (AP)—New immigration regulations will bar entry into Singapore to all persons wanting to enter the colony for the purpose of seeking employment.

Controller of Immigration J. L. J. Haxworth said "The colony can no longer afford the flow of fresh immigrants." He explained there were no restrictions in the past because vast quantities of labor were required to develop the country. The ever-increasing local-born population now can be depended upon to supply all labor requirements.

Singapore now has a population of 1,000,000. Experts estimate this will be doubled by 1970.

Pusan Thefts Troublesome

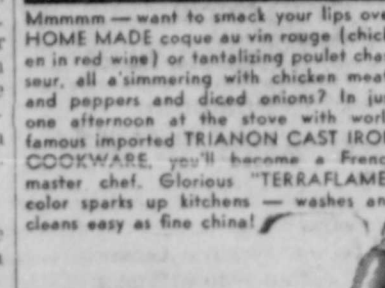

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—U. S. Army port officials say that cargo pilfering in the important southwest Korea port of Pusan is of "serious proportions." Korean cargo handlers were notified by the Eighth Army recently that pilfering is a matter of "vital concern" to the Allied command.

The statement, signed by Col. Ralph B. Garretson, commander of the Seventh Transportation Unit, answered a protest by the Korean cargo checkers union in to the fatal shooting Feb. 21 of a Korean cargo handler by an American soldier.

Best Kind of Aid

This North Plains area has been dry, extremely dry, for many months, which is no news to anyone who lives here. The wheat crop was largely a victim of drought and wind and the feed crop had a hard time getting started during an extremely hot and dry June.

The federal government moved in to help farmers and ranchers. This area was included in the drought disaster region where the FHA loans were made easier and Congress enacted legislation to make surplus feed available.

While that aid was materializing, the North Plains got the best kind of assistance from another direction during the past ten days. Rain, honest-to-goodness moisture, fell in good amounts in Ochiltree and Beaver counties, making the agricultural outlook take on a much brighter hue since July 1.

Many fields of milo and maize will produce forage for livestock if not matted enough for combining this fall and the pastures have taken on a new green look which has been missing for a couple of years.

The arrival of that oft-predicted hour when the Plains would become the "Great American Desert" has been postponed again in this area and the gloom-peddlers have once more returned to the sidelines.

The Drouth Is Bad—But Not That Bad

Texans have been the target of a good deal of needling lately because they have been driven to ask for federal aid in overcoming the effects of prolonged drouth in the western half of the state. Some commentators, especially those who bitterly opposed Texas' efforts to get back its tidelands, have taken seeming delight in twitting Texans over the alleged abandonment of their adherence to the states' rights principle in the face of adversity.

Such needling, even if it causes some smarting, can be endured. What is harder for Texans to endure is the treatment the drouth situation is receiving at the hands of some who profess to be their friends—or at least to have no axes to grind. Some of the reporting of drouth conditions—in newspapers of wide circulation—has been highly exaggerated and in some cases irresponsible.

In an effort to dramatize the plight of the drouth region, pictures of isolated conditions have been presented as typical. The impression thereby is left with those who have no way of knowing otherwise that the whole of West Texas from the northern Panhandle to the Rio Grande has been converted into one great sand waste. In fact, one television commentator pictured all West Texas as returning to the status of "the Great American Desert."

In some instances this coverage has descended to the level of mawkish spuriousness. A television news program on the visit of President Eisenhower to Amarillo opened with an obviously posed picture of a handful of West Texas youngsters lifting their arms in supplication toward the camera.

There is no reason to minimize the severity of the drouth and its cumulative effects. It is real, and the hardship it imposes is real. Help to tide over those who are hit by it is needed. But there is no reason to overdraw the picture. Specifically, there is no justification for the conclusion that West Texas is due to revert to desert status. The same cry was raised during the "Dust Bowl" days of the thirties, and since that time West Texas has produced some record-breaking crops and has enjoyed the greatest agricultural prosperity it has ever known.

Though suffering, West Texas is not in extremity. Come the rains, as they eventually will, and the area will rebound with that extraordinary capacity for recovery that always has characterized it. Rain has worked miracles in West Texas in the past, and it will work miracles again. Where then, we wonder, will be those who now show such readiness to write it off as a vast and irremediable desert?

Ft. Worth Star-Telegram

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Halsey and Joe Ray left Saturday for a two weeks visit with Mr. Halsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Halsey of Lomita, Calif.

A year is 365.2422 days long although for convenience in time-keeping we have 365-day years adjusted by 366-day leap years.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Sidney Jines of the Jaycee entertainment committee of the North Plains Fair is looking for a 12-ft. portable stock tank to borrow. The tank will be used to rig up a boat ride deal for the kiddies during the fair and to date a tank of the right size has been hard to locate. Anyone having a tank that could be loaned for this purpose is asked to tell Jines about it.

They say grass never grows on a busy street—but we don't know how this saying applies to weeds. We know one thing—if some of our Main street weeds are not chopped pretty soon, they're going to be so big that it will take axes and saws to get them down. There are several lots on Main that lend a pretty disreputable look to the business district and there are even weeds growing in the sidewalk cracks in front of several stores.

A woman approached us the other day and asked us to "put something in the paper" about a bunch of kids that were running her crazy. Said these youngsters have tramped out her flower beds, throw rocks at the house, then sass her something awful when she speaks to them about it. We are not about to get involved in a neighborhood controversy by naming any names, but you might check around and see if it might be your youngsters that are disrupting neighborhood friendship.

We learned from Pappy Powell that son Raymond plans to play professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles this fall and will report to the Eagles' training camp as soon as he finishes the Marine Corps officers training camp this summer. Raymond is slated to play linebacker and halfback and will see double duty, Pappy informs us. For the uninitiated, Raymond was one of Perryton high school's most distinguished football stars from 1945 to 1948 and finished a college career with the Oklahoma Sooners last fall.

A story in the Herald last week concerning the shipment of CCC wheat to local Equity elevators failed to list the 1953 harvest accomplishments of the Twichell Equity elevator, managed by Jim Rice. At Twichell, the elevator received 48,000 bushels of 1953 wheat, sent nearly 30,000 bushels to Huntton and nearly 10,000 bushels to the Perryton Equity elevator, marking up one of the busiest harvest operations in the county this year.

The various class secretaries in charge of inviting former students of Perryton high school to the PHS reunion planned for August 19 seem to be having a lot of difficulty in locating their classmates, judging from the number of visitors we have had at the Herald from secretaries seeking addresses. Mrs. Ronald Dieball, who was Miss Wilma George of the class of 1933, reports that of the 59 members of the 1933 graduating class, only 12 live around here now. The others are scattered from coast to coast.

When we mentioned last week our trip to Amarillo to see the President and the governors and mentioned an unsuccessful attempt by Bill Lance to see the Secretary of Agriculture, we plumb overlooked telling about a man who achieved his goal and shook hands with President Eisenhower. That was Charley Hobbs, the current county Republican chairman.

Charley was in the Herring Hotel on the day the President arrived, and he was introduced to Ike by Jack Porter of Houston, along with about a dozen other Panhandle GOP leaders.

Jack Shields, local state highway patrolman, gave a bunch of boys an exciting trip last Wednesday, taking seven youngsters to Boys' Ranch and Amarillo in a Ford station wagon loaned by Gene Akers of the A & B Motor Co. The group visited Boys' Ranch, and while in Amarillo had the rare experience of being locked up in jail by one of Shields' friends on the Amarillo police force. Making the trip were Charles Kelley, Kim Thomas, Danny Witt, Bud Osborne, Richard Nowlin, Don Neufeld and Jud Shields.

From time to time, we receive a news release from the Social Security people in Amarillo, advising people to check on their SS account at the branch office. Last week we talked to a fellow who said he wished he had checked on his a long time ago. Said that he had worked as a carpenter and had paid social security off and on since 1937, but when he retired a year or so ago, he found out that not enough of his social security money had been paid in by his employers to qualify him for any benefits from the fund.

He assumed that the money was being paid in, but it wasn't, and now he doesn't have any way of proving that social security was withheld from his pay. Having worked for a number of years, most of them now scattered or disbanded, he might as well not have paid any social security, since he can't locate them.

The catalog of the federal supply service discloses that the government in 1952 bought 366 miles of red tape, consisting of 8,950 spools of the stuff, 72 yards to a spool, five-sixteenths of an inch wide, of cotton, at 53 cents each, and that this was used exclusively to tie up documents for storage. There are now enough tape bound documents in files and warehouses to fill up seven buildings the size of the mammoth Pentagon. Who cares?

Reverend and Mrs. R. L. Cooksey and son David of Blackwell, Texas were luncheon guests of Mrs. Cooksey's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loftin, Thursday, Rev. and Mrs. Cooksey and son have been guests of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Loftin of Spearman since Monday.

Wolf Creek Philosopher Some People Tire Easily

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has been affected by the summer heat, his letter this week implies.)

Dear editor:

With the world in the shape it is, with unsolved problems stretchin' out from here to Korea and back again, the drought, inflation, Russia, etc., it's odd how some people find time to spend energy and money on some minor problems, but I was readin' in a newspaper last night which I picked up in the bank in town that mornin' and will sign a note for it if required to where a group of scientists up in New York have been conductin' lengthy studies into the problem of why people get tired while workin'.

Usin' highly scientific instruments and complicated charts and figures, they've been goin' into factories and checkin' on workers, tryin' to find out why they get tired. At last report, they were still workin' on the problem and ain't ready yet to come out with the answer.

I don't want to interfere with anybody else's racket, but I will be glad to conduct such a scientific survey out here on my farm for a much smaller fee than those scientists are chargin'. Furthermore, it won't require any expensive layout for a laboratory, equipment, or scientific measuring devices.

I already got all the equipment necessary out here, consistin' of a tractor and an unplowed field, not to mention a hoe, plenty of weeds in the garden, an axe, saggin' fences, saggin' gates, un-patched roof, stuck windows, rickety steps, stuck hole digger, wire stretchers, etc.

All I ask to be furnished is somebody to examine while he works. I'll figure out a system where he can swing by me on the front porch in his rounds of work every hour, and will guarantee to come up with the correct answer.

The reason I know I will come up with the right answer is that I already know it. I know why people get tired while they're workin'. I ain't gonna come right out and lay the facts bare yet, but after years of testin' myself I believe I have figured out the answer.

And after I get the facts established, I will then back off and let science figure out a deeper problem, which is why, once you get tired of workin', you stay that way. I don't want science to remedy this feelin', I've had it for years and find it agrees with me. All I want science to do is to establish a reasonably acceptable theory of why a man is entitled to stay tired if he wants to. It'd be a handy thing to hand to people when they come up and kick you on the foot while you're restin' under a shade tree in the summer time.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

State Fair to Show Texas Drouth Crisis

The State Fair of Texas will attempt to serve as a unifying force in the current drouth crisis by pointing up the state's overall water problem during its 1953 exposition, Oct. 10-25.

James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager, said features of the fair that will have bearing on the drouth will include:

1. A giant "agriculturama" that will explain the water resources problems of the state as a whole as well as those of its diverse areas, prepared with the cooperation of the Texas A&M System.

2. A grass nursery exhibit which will include grasses capable of withstanding long drouths with experts from the Texas Research Foundation on hand to answer questions.

3. Texas Water Conservation Day, Oct. 13, which will be a highlight of the Texas Water Conservation Association's ninth annual meeting in Dallas, Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

The dramatic three-dimensional "agriculturama" will illustrate how Texas farmers are attempting to meet their important water resource problems. Each of the 12 Extension districts of the state will have an individual exhibit which will depict the relation of water to agriculture on a regional basis.

"The State Fair was founded in 1886, the year of Texas' most devastating drouth to date," Mr. Stewart said.

"Since that time, Texas farmers and ranchers have learned a great deal about irrigation, dry land farming, soil conservation and other progressive agricultural techniques. The fair has contributed to Texas agriculture by introducing farmers to contour plowing, seed selection, crop diversification and modern farm

Harold Hawk Farm Home Shown In Second 'Mystery' Series

The Herald's second Mystery Farm is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawk, 17 miles northwest of Perryton, and the farm was identified early Thursday morning by Glen Johnson.

The Hawk farm, which totals 3,200 acres of cropland with about 900 acres of grassland, lies close to the Ochiltree county corner which borders on Hansford county and Texas county, Okla.

It was previously owned by Mrs. Hawk's father, the late Tom Hogland, who settled the ranch in the early 1900's and ran cattle there for years before it was broken out to cultivation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawk have lived on the place for about 10 years, moving there from a home in Perryton where they lived during the 13 years Mr. Hawk was manager of the Farmers Cooperative.

Mrs. Hawk has lived in Ochiltree county since 1916 and her husband came here in 1926. He attended school in Salina, Kansas and lived in Kansas and Oklahoma before moving to Perryton. Mrs. Hawk is a graduate of Perryton high school.

They have three daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Fuller, Barbara and Sandra.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Methodist church, Farm Bureau and Flying Farmers and has been a licensed pilot since the 1930's.

In fact, Harold received nationwide note back in the '30's when his picture and a story appeared in Popular Mechanics and several farm magazines. He and Howard Holt rigged up a pair of shrink machinery.

"The fair this year, as it has been since 1886, will be the showcase of the agricultural and livestock improvements, conditions and problems of its era," Mr. Stewart said.

"In addition, the livestock premiums totaling $79,336 at this year's fair should prove a great incentive to western breeders in the drouth-stricken area to hold their foundation herds together," Ray W. Wilson, the fair's livestock manager, pointed out.

The State Fair livestock shows, he explained, consists of foundation stock, not range cattle.

Milk Enters Politics

MANILA (AP)—The birth of triplets on Catanduanes island off the southeast tip of Luzon touched off a local political issue which threatened their survival.

The head of the local social welfare commission refused to issue relief milk to the triplets. He claimed the voiding of President Elpidio Quirino's controversial emergency powers prevented him from doing so.

The impoverished parents of the triplets—all girls—next turned to the Red Cross branch in Virac for help. But it had run out of stock.

Then a commercial firm in Manila heard of the plight of the harassed parents. The firm sent 192 tins of canned milk and it was delivered by a Philippines Airlines plane, free of charge.

Air Conditioning For Birds

MANGUM, Okla. (AP)—Every one goes for air conditioning now, even the birds.

Claude Miller checked his air conditioning system and found a nest of five baby birds atop the machine.

Before Miller could get the air, he had to give the birds the air. He put the nest in a cigar box; taped it to the side of the conditioner.

Lucky Deer

GRIMSBY, Ont. (AP)—The automobile came off second-best in collision with a deer near here. Damage to the car was more than $100 but the deer was seen to run away and jump over a fence. The car's two occupants were unhurt.

MR. AND MRS. GENE KING

Leatherman-King Wedding Vows in California on June 26

A reception followed the wedding. The bride's mother received the guests in a navy blue crepe gown with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother was gowned in blue nylon with matching accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Mrs. Earl Washmuth was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Glen Overstreet served the punch and Mrs. W. I. Parks cut the cake.

The couple honeymooned at Newport Beach and points along the coast.

The bride attended Perryton elementary school and graduated from Bell Gardens high school this spring. The bridegroom graduated from Essex Missouri high school. He is serving in the United States Navy.

Fifty relatives and close friends attended the wedding.

Arthur D. Jepson played wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Charles Parks in "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a ballerina gown of Chantilly lace with a strapless bodice and a fitted bolero.

A bouquet of seed pearls held the finger-tip veil of the bride. She carried a white Bible with white orchids and a small bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's attendant was Miss Beverly. She wore a dress of white nylon net and carried a bouquet of white carnations and orchids.

Richardson served the wedding feast as best man and was seated by Earl and Gordon Nail.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schuster, 1409 South Colgate, celebrated their seventh birthday Thursday, July 16, with a party at her home.

Virginia Sue and her guests were entertained with moving pictures during the afternoon.

After the honoree had opened her gifts birthday cake and ice cream were served.

Those present were Denna and Bobby Cook, Roy Lynn Stollings, Lynn and Glenn Pattison, Ann Beck, Sandra Peterson, Kay Brown, Linda Jean Ann, Billy and Evelyn Collins, Sandra Allen, Steve and Diane Urban, Vivian and James Duke and the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Groves, 605 Grinnell, were hosts at Sunday, honoring their daughter, Linda, who recently returned from duty with the Navy.

NEW YORK (AP)—Because twenty-month-old Tessa Lowe, born in Switzerland of American parents, had never seen the United States, her parents simply tied her ticket and passport to her coat and shipped her off alone to Brooklyn via a Swissair plane.

The child took the trip in stride but complications set in after she reached the Brooklyn home of her grandparents. Because of the six-hour time differential, the first few days Tessa slept most of the day, then was wide awake and ready to romp at 3 a. m.

The child's father, David Lowe works for an American advertising firm in Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sugep and children Mary Sue and G. W. of Hereford spent the week end with Mrs. Sugep's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dodson.

RAYMOND POWELL

MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, Quantico, Va.—Raymond Powell son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Powell of Perryton, Texas, is among the 2500 candidates now undergoing officer training at the Marine Corps Schools here.

Candidate Powell is a member of the Marine Corps' Platoon Leaders Class. Members of this group train for six weeks during two summer vacations from college. Successful candidates are commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve upon their graduation from college and serve on active duty for two years.

The Perryton officer candidate is a student at Oklahoma University. He graduated from Perryton High School.

Members of the Platoon Leaders Class receive intensive training in military tactics, leadership, and military organization. College students enrolling in this Marine Corps program are trained only during their summer vacations. Upon receiving their commissions, they are eligible for further intensive training at Marine Corps specialist schools.

FINE QUALITY AT FAIR PRICES

Perryton Lads In Boys' Ranch Western Band

Jimmy and David Gaundier, brothers from Perryton, Texas, are both members of the newly organized western band known as the "Rag-A-Knots" at America's First Boys' Ranch, Amarillo, Texas. None of the boys can read a note of music, but they turn out some fine music just playing by ear.

Take every kind of instrument from a Jew's harp, referred to by the boys sometimes as a bottle opener, to some kitchen table-spoons and quite an assortment of musicians including a leader who doesn't play anything and it is amazing what the boys can come up with.

Both Jimmy and David play guitars in the band and Jimmy also is a vocalist giving out with Western and hill-billy melodies.

The band has already performed for a number of programs at various clubs and organizations and appeared on several radio and TV shows. In addition to playing the boys have a few comedy acts and they always go over with the audience in a big way. David Ash, 13, is the youngest member of the band and he serves as the Master of Ceremonies and introduces each member of the band, usually with some witty comment thrown in. He roves around with a guitar almost as big as he is and usually joins Jim Gaundier in his vocal talents.

Sixteen year old Eddie Stephens, the piano player, is the oldest in the group. Other members are Bruce Craddock, who has been playing the guitar about two months, Dick Graham who leaves the steel guitar at times to furnish some comedy for the band and is becoming well known for his version of "Hound Dog in the Window," Cy Garnett and James Chambers, harmonica players and Joe Brown, who beats out rhythm against his thighs with two tablespoons in each hand.

Their leader is Earl Smith who is a 20 year old ex-Rancher and now a staff member at the Ranch. Earl can neither read music or play an instrument, but he keeps all the boys together, adjusts the mike and sees that everything goes along smoothly for the band.

The boys hear a tune on the radio or on a record and then they will practice it and change

Caustic Tars, Not Nicotine, Harmful To Most Smokers

STILLWATER — "Smokers can change their brand of tobacco once a week, but they shouldn't be deceived by eminent medical authority advertising, for it's not the nicotine content of tobacco that irritates the throat," says Dr. H. P. Johnston, Oklahoma A&M college organic chemist.

Any harm that results from smoking, with the exception of rare cases in which people are allergic to nicotine, is caused by it to suit themselves. They will play as often as their schedule at Boys' Ranch will permit.

the formation of caustic tars from incomplete burning of the cellulose in tobacco, Dr. Johnston explains.

Therefore, the difference in amount of irritation cigarettes cause depends on the speed at which one smokes. The faster the cigarette is smoked, the greater the irritation, he warns.

"There is no question that smoking over a long period of time does irritate the throat to a certain extent," he says. People who have smoked for very long generally have dry throats, cough more often than usual and cannot shout as they may have before they began smoking.

More heavy smokers die early in life than non-smokers, but heavy smokers are generally nervous people under a great deal of pressure who die early in life anyway, he says. People, Dr. Johnston believes,

Manager of Perryton Yard

So that you may know us better

White House is happy to give you a . . .

Brief History of the Organization

For 55 years the White House Properties has worked continuously to further the growth and welfare of the Top of Texas.

In 1898 B. F. Tepe organized the firm under the name, B. F. Tepe Lumber. He has been one of the leaders who have guided the business in its growth and service so that now White House Properties includes seven yards in the Panhandle and one in Odessa. Panhandle yards of White House Properties are located in Pampa, Booker, Follett, Miami, Perryton, Shamrock and Spearman.

As White House Properties grew the firm adapted itself to meet challenging business conditions and opportunities. In its development White House Properties changed its name four times: B. F. Tepe Lumber from 1898 to 1907; The Tepe-Hoover Lumber Company from 1907 to 1910; The White House Lumber Company from 1910 to 1949; and White House Properties from 1949.

Through the years White House Properties expanded its facilities to provide greatest satisfaction for its patrons. At one time it operated 15 yards. Later various business conditions caused the company to reduce the number. White House Properties learned that by consolidating its efforts to obtain the greatest efficiency it is able to offer more service and greater values with eight yards than with 15.

Employees who provide the services of White House Properties and the years they joined the firm are: B. F. Tepe of Pampa, 1898; Cecil Fitzgerald of Booker, 1930; J. B. Woodington of Pampa, 1935; Jay D. Prichard of Perryton, 1936; Joe Ruess of Odessa, 1937; Ed Hutton of Spearman, 1942; Buck Worley of Pampa and Frank L. Gracey of Miami, 1946; E. B. Bowman of Pampa, 1948; Leroy Riffel of Follett, 1951; and Curtis L. Chasteen of Shamrock, 1953.

And now may we continue to serve you?

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

TO KEEP COOL is a goal at this time of year. Architects contend that we should rebuild our houses—or remodel them. They say your house is built has to do with the sweat of the sun.

Of course, most architects like to see us start from scratch and build anew. But it's our money that's in question. We can keep cool about while we crib some of the old ideas to make the old fill the bill.

One step that can be taken to keep homes cooler in summer is to use new plans—66 of them—submitted in the recent nationwide architectural competition sponsored by the Carrier Corp. The contest was to find the best house designs for year-around air conditioning—designs that would keep homes comfortable all kinds of weather and at the same time keep operating down.

Some famous architects, a husband and a housewife—Mrs. M. Gilbreth of "Cheaper by the Dozen" fame—decided to share in the prize money. When the plans were displayed in the Waldorf-Astoria, all were out.

It seems that combatting heat in summer is as important as checking heat loss in winter. The architects tackled the problem in various ways. Walls and many of the windows of the houses were without windows.

Overhanging eaves sheltered windows facing south. They were planned so the shadows would fall on the ground in the sun is high in summer, yet admit a wide sunlight six feet or more from the house when the sun is in the winter sky.

Windows were envisaged close to the house especially near the front corner to cast shade on the house on hot afternoons. These would be deciduous trees, which losing the leaves in the fall would let some warmth of the sun come through in winter.

Roofs were obviously of light colors, near-white or aluminum, to reflect heat from the sun.

Cross-ventilation was forgotten about, because that is no longer needed with modern air conditioning.

To apply all of these principles to an old house would be next to impossible. But much can be accomplished in the direction of each of them. For instance:

WINDOWS—If they face the sun, awnings, especially the types with ventilating outlets, should go far toward providing shade of the overhang kind. Double glazing also is known to reduce the heat gain through glass.

TREES—Fast growing varieties properly placed will do much to keep any house cool.

ROOFS—Various types of roofing are available in very light colors. Asphalt shingles are now made in pastel shades. White marble chips have been tried on flat or low-pitched roofs. Aluminum, of course, is a major reflector. A coat of light-colored paint makes a noticeable difference on a dark or black roof.

CROSS-VENTILATION is still of vital importance to a house lacking air conditioning. Adequate fans, attic fans, attic ventilating louvers rid homes of accumulations of warm daytime air and draw in cool evening air. Blower type fans focused toward ceilings will dislodge the pockets of warm air that collect above door openings.

INSULATION is a must. It is so comparatively simple to insulate the ceiling of a house, or the walls and ceiling of a finished attic, leaving a ventilated air space above, that almost any householder can tackle this job. One point to bear in mind is that an air space almost invariably increases the efficiency of insulation.

WHAT'S THE DEAL BOSS?—Sad-faced Jake, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown, Jr., of Beaumont, Tex., agrees that an equal-day has arrived for dogs in Beaumont. The city's rigid new dog law went into effect July 1, requiring all dogs to be penned or leashed. (P Photo)

ANNOUNCEMENT

I am pleased to announce the formulation of plans which, when carried out, will result in being home practically all the time. As soon as possible I will move my office downtown and return my family to Perryton.

It will take a little more time to carry out these plans so to reduce client inconvenience I expect to be home definitely on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays except those falling in the last week of the month. I will also try to be home as much as possible in between, especially during the first 11 days. During my absence I can usually be reached in Dallas at Logan 3477.

Country Fair For Madrid

MADRID (AP)—The First International Country Fair is to be held here in May in a vast enclosure with fine installations. Beside the Spanish exhibitors, France, Belgium, Germany, Holland, Italy, England, Sweden and Portugal are expected to participate with their cattle, agricultural machinery and fertilizers.

Sgt. Donald H. Vance, who has served in Korea with the U. S. Army for the past 16 months, arrived in Perryton, Sunday, to visit his wife, Mrs. Vance is the former Miss Jean Connor.

Have yourself a HEART-LIFT!

FROM deep inside you comes a new stir and sparkle when you take the wheel of a fun-filled car like this Buick Convertible.

You feel happier just to be in a car with the lift of larks to its styling—with the breeze-blessed airiness of all outdoors all around you.

It's a car that freshens your spirits with its sky-filled view—yet it can snug you in weather-tight shelter, when the need arises, with a mere finger-touch of hydraulic buttons.

But you get a heart-lift in this Convertible from something more than just its looks, or its versatility, or the push-button control of its top, its front seat and its windows.

You get it, too, from the sheer brilliance of its performance—

From the thrilling power of the great new Fireball V8 Engine found in every 1953 Buick SUPER and ROADMASTER—the modern and advanced V8 that reaches a new high in compression ratio—

From the new instant getaway of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo®—where you move from standstill to cruising pace in a quick sprinkling of seconds, and with truly infinite smoothness—

From the deep comfort of riding soft and even-level on all-coil-spring cushioning—of sitting in sumptuous luxury on really wide seats—of handling over two balanced tons of fine automobile with finger-tip ease and the gentle assist, as you need it, of Power Steering.*

We'll be happy to have you guest-drive one of these stunning new Buicks—and let you see for yourself how much fun and fine feeling it can add to life. Why not drop in for a visit soon?

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Walton Attends Floral School At Convention

FT. WORTH—Most people go to conventions to have a little fun, but a Perryton florist, Mr. Roger A. Walton of Boxwell Bros. Flower Shop, went to a convention last week to go to school.

A school of design boasting a faculty of the nation's outstanding floral designers was the feature of the 40th annual convention of the Texas State Florists Association July 13, 14 and 15 in Fort Worth. More than 1,000 Texas florists attended the statewide meeting.

In addition, Prof. Paul R. Krone of the Department of Horticulture at Michigan State College and L. J. Tolle of the Department of Floriculture at Texas A&M College conducted seminars on various phases of running an efficient flower shop.

Featured as instructors at the design school were floral specialists from New York, Illinois, Georgia and Texas, who brought the latest ideas in floral design to the convention.

Instructors pointed out that floral arrangements are not hodge-podge affairs but are actually problems in engineering.

They also reported that tradition is being discarded in bridal bouquets and that the old-fashioned bulky bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses is being replaced by the stylized bouquet designed for the individual bride. Pastel colors are replacing the traditional white, and many brides are making use of Happiness Roses, a red, velvety flower, in planning their wedding bouquets.

The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes in Alaska, part of a national monument set up by President Wilson, was formed after the eruption of Mt. Katmai in 1912.

Glen Johnson Wins Mystery Farm Contest

Glen Johnson was the first person to call the Herald and identify last week's Mystery Farm of the Air, correctly naming it as the Harold Hawk place about 17 miles northwest of Perryton.

There were 43 persons who called in to identify the farm, and not all of them identified it correctly. Some called it the Keith McLain, A. L. Swink, Archer Ranch, Herb Brillhart or Sonny Williams farms.

Among those with correct identifications were Johnson, Bud Fuller, Billy Sanders, Zack

Miller, Lester Norris, Gene Johnson, Mrs. Bill Moore, Martin Duke, Vernon Hawkins, Henry Fuller, Bill Drake.

E. A. Graves, Kenneth Cudd, Henry McDonald, Dan Archer, Jack M. Allen, Jack Atchison, Gene Akers, James Pitts, Ben Flowers, Marilyn Scott, Cecil Moon, Troy Bolerjack, Claude Cook, Mrs. Mike Downey.

Weldon Wright, Mildred Carnes, Larry Bell, Mary Burnett, Charley Johnson, Jane Headlee, Mrs. Carl Blackmore, Kenneth Allen, Prather Spradling, John Blunt, Mrs. Bud Fuller.

PROW DUFFER

By GARY NIXON
Teaching Pro at The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

I feel that golf swings are like finger prints. There are no two alike. No two people have the same coordination and build. The secret of good teaching is in the professional's ability to spot the type of action that fits the student and make modifications in the student's swing to fit that action.

Proper grip and stance are the two most important basic fundamentals to any sound golf swing. No golfer should be encouraged to emulate the exact swing of any good player. For instance, many people come to us with the idea that we can teach them to swing exactly like Sam Snead.

In practically all cases that would be impossible because of Sam's remarkable natural ability.

When Sam hits a golf ball with a full swing he will actually carry the ball on the club face for approximately four inches. All golfers will carry the ball on the club face for a matter of a few inches, depending on how much power they develop.

I try to encourage all golfers to swing within their limits at all times. Rhythm is more important than big surges of power. It enables the golfer to swing the clubhead on line with the target better, produce power in the hitting area, and in the final analysis, attain more accuracy as well as distance. It helps develop good timing which is so important in playing good golf.

Cleo Janzen Is Commissioned Air Force Pilot

WEBB AFB, Texas, July 16—Second Lieutenant Cleo C. Janzen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Janzen of Route 3, Perryton, was awarded the silver wings of an Air Force Pilot in ceremonies here today.

Do they seem to worry about the state of the savage soul while forgetting that kids in their own town don't have a place to play?

And how about your minister—does he sometimes preach but not practice understanding of all races and creeds?

If the answer is yes, move over to make room for professors in the School of Theology at Emory University, Atlanta.

To wake up sleepy churches, Emory announced a series of awards for progress in three fields: church, community and world. Prizes go to churches in 13 southern states.

LT. CLEO JANZEN
jet pilot will go on to 16' further training in fighter-gunnery tactics in preparation for his future role as a combat jet-fighter pilot. A 1948 graduate of Perryton High School, Lt. Janzen was employed with The Texas Company of Perryton before entering the US Air Force in 1951.

It has been estimated that only about 7 per cent of human physical variations can be assigned to cause other than inheritance.

It is believed that older mothers are more likely to have twins than younger mothers.

Wake-Up Church Prizes Spur Rural Activities

By MARGARET PRICE

ATLANTA—Does it sometimes seem to you that church people talk about a better life but do little to improve it?

The rural church in each of the 13 states showing "the most notable record of achievement" gets a $500 award; one of these, the "rural church of the year" receives an additional $500. There are many $100 awards.

The entries, 1,329 of them, represent 36 faiths. If the church people sending in their scrapbooks did nothing but answer the questions in the folder sent them by Emory, a good deal of time would have been spent.

They're asked about recreational facilities in their towns, the number of telephones, whether roads are paved and what the town does to promote better inter-faith, inter-racial and world understanding. Next, what's being done to improve community life and what is the church's long range plan? Some are doing a good job—others are taking only a few steps—but in many cases, these tentative moves represent a good deal, when you start to scratch.

In one town, a church committee got every eligible voter to register and arranged to have two doctors visit the town a week, the first physicians community has had.

Another campaigned successfully for better street lighting, a cleaner city dump.

One church sent a pastor to a conference in Oklahoma. Another heard two Negro ministers from the Gold Coast of Africa. Summer playgrounds, libraries and United Nations discussion groups have been set up.

Some of these things have been done anyway, but others the Church Development Program provided a spur.

Foundation set aside $12,200.

They're asked about recreational facilities in their towns, the number of telephones, whether roads are paved and what the town does to promote better inter-faith, inter-racial and world understanding. Next, what's being done to improve community life and what is the church's long range plan? Some are doing a good job—others are taking only a few steps—but in many cases, these tentative moves represent a good deal, when you start to scratch.

In one town, a church committee got every eligible voter to register and arranged to have two doctors visit the town a week, the first physicians community has had.

Another campaigned successfully for better street lighting, a cleaner city dump.

One church sent a pastor to a conference in Oklahoma. Another heard two Negro ministers from the Gold Coast of Africa. Summer playgrounds, libraries and United Nations discussion groups have been set up.

Some of these things have been done anyway, but others the Church Development Program provided a spur.

Foundation set aside $12,200.

The rural church in each of the 13 states showing "the most notable record of achievement" gets a $500 award; one of these, the "rural church of the year" receives an additional $500. There are many $100 awards.

The entries, 1,329 of them, represent 36 faiths. If the church people sending in their scrapbooks did nothing but answer the questions in the folder sent them by Emory, a good deal of time would have been spent.
