Wonder how Mister Byrd is going to get along without football in the antarctic?

Still, the land of nothingness would be a great place for those who are just naturally "agin" everything.

It is fortunate that the fee system in law enforcement has been modified in this county. We're getting so good that officers would starve if they had to depend upon fees. By the way, we haven't heard anybody mention 3.2 beer "in a coon's age."

"Now is the time to buy" are words as familiar to most husbands as "now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of" etc.

Soviet Russia's U. S. S. R. was born amid the greatest ignorance. It is not strange that things which seem wholly incongruous and fraught with danger are accepted by the populace of that country.

Spread of truth in Russia will modify the form of that government. But no hands-off policy can spread the truth in Russia. Today we discuss recognition, which has seemed imminent for weeks but which involves much misunderstanding, prejudice, and many problems for both nations. Public opinion in this country is leaning toward recognition, but most everyone reserves the right to change his mind on short notice.

RECOGNITION
What to do with Russia diplomatically is a problem which Uncle Sam cannot dismiss with a shrug of his shoulders or the turning up of his nose. The U. S. S. R. is getting too big, too powerful, too stable for the world to ignore. We may not like it, but we cannot permanently isolate Russia. One by one, the major powers have seen that they could no longer postpone recognition because they wished to do so. Russia is a great country. Dumping of grain is one of her favorite means for obtaining money with which to buy machinery and mechanics' brains. Oil is another of her products. This community is vitally affected by what Russia does with her wheat and oil.

Recognition Issue
Thomas Jefferson laid down two principles on which recognition of revolutionary governments should be based. We have followed this outline, with a few modifications to the present hour—except in the instance of Russia. Jefferson said to be recognized, a government should have the approval of its citizens and be able to preserve order. Russia has both of these. We as a nation have reiterated these principles as recently as the De Céspedes regime in Cuba, which proved short-lived and thereby forfeited the right to recognition. Recognition has never depended upon trade prospects, debt payments, or fear of propaganda. Isn't it rather obvious that after 15 years of discussion, our government should make up its mind about the Soviet Union?

Prejudices
Recognition has been denied Russia for several reasons, all having to do with public opinion. It has been held as a club in favor of the American financiers to whom Russians owe money. Russia has held, and other nations than our own have agreed with her in their instances, that recognition must precede any debt discussion. Americans have felt that communism would be short-lived and that the Five-Year Plan could not succeed. But a new generation of Russians is growing up in communism, knowing nothing first-hand of capitalism, and presumably holding the firm conviction that the new experiment in government is a success. At any rate, Russia is surprisingly stable. The best parallel example is that of the American democracy, similarly set up by a

Roosevelt Ready To Act In Solving Mid-Western Farm Revolt

PROPOSAL FOR PRICE FIXING IS CONSIDERED

TO AMELIORATE RURAL CONDITIONS AT ONCE

By The Associated Press
PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was said to be ready today to act in the face of unrest among farmers. What he might do if decided was not disclosed, but Representative Truax (D., O.) after a conference, said he had taken a proposal to the chief executive for price fixing. Truax quoted the president as confident the farm revolt would be adjusted. Truax proposed minimum prices of a dollar for wheat, 7 cents for hogs and 10 cents for cattle. Meantime, the farm adjustment administration took cognizance of the declaration of a national strike by the farmers' holiday association and the embargo laid on wheat by the governor of North Dakota. It announced that it was speeding up a study of plans to ameliorate rural conditions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Sen. Nye (R., N. D.), told reporters today he understood from reliable sources that leaders of organized farmers are contemplating invasion of towns in the middle west to tear down the NRA eagle from stores. He said "the Blue Eagle has become a red flag" to poverty stricken farmers and that revolt against it was inevitable.

The Blue Eagle has become an indication of higher prices for things farmers must buy while their projects are still selling far below production costs, he said.

One Killed And Five Injured In Refinery Blast

LONGVIEW, Oct. 20. (AP)—One man was dead and five others injured, two probably fatally, as a result of an explosion last night which wrecked a still in the refining plant of the Gregg-Tex Gasoline corporation, near Longview.

Jack Thomas, 30, died in a hospital. T. P. O'Neal, 29, and A. B. Willis, 31, both burned seriously and injured internally, were not expected to live.

Others hurt were E. E. Brent, 38; Eddie O. Sills, 28; and Edward Barber, 56.

A first explosion in the compressor still in the plant knocked the men to the floor and before they could get out of the way, a second blast demolished the still.

Clark Sample, Texas head of the corporation, which is owned by Shreveport, La., interests, said the cause of the explosion had not been determined and he could not estimate the amount of damage. The plant, completed two months ago, cost $250,000.

JONES TO NEW MEXICO

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20. (AP)—Clifford B. Jones, regional public works advisor, will leave tonight for Santa Fe, N. M., to meet with the public works advisory board of New Mexico. The board will hold a hearing Monday at Santa Fe for delegations which have submitted applications for projects in that state and for prospective applicants. Miguel Otero Sr., former governor of New Mexico and under the provisional government, is chairman of the board.

I HEARD—

This one going the rounds this morning—"Being told to write an essay on a mule, a small boy turned in this effort—The mule is a harder bird than the guse or turkie. It has two legs to walk on and two to kick with, and wears wings on the side of its head. It is stubbornly backward about coming forward."

The boys at the postoffice being called out this morning because Chief Jno. V. Andrews' long red underwear hadn't arrived.

Not Worried

A big, boisterous ray of sunshine chased away the clouds of gloom when H. C. Hopson chuckled his way to the stand in the Senate banking and currency probe. The little matter of a subpoena to produce his company's records and the scoff of Chief Counsel Prescott failed to put even a dent in the smile of the vice president of Associated Gas & Electric company, shown above at the hearing, after he was sought for weeks.

JOHN N. GARNER, FARLEY HONOR ALAMO HEROES

Wreaths Are Placed At Shrine Of Liberty

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Vice President John N. Garner and Postmaster General James A. Farley brought flowers today to the Alamo, Texas' shrine of liberty where Travis, Bowie, Crockett and a handful of patriots perished nearly 100 years ago.

The national dignitaries, winging their way to Uvalde, Garner's home town, where a reception awaited them later today, found San Antonio almost on a mass to salute the democratic leaders. Not only did the civilian populace come out, but the army presented arms as the party drove through Ft. Sam Houston where 2,500 men are stationed. It is the largest army post in the United States. Just before the ground troops paid honors to Garner and Farley, the big planes carrying them landed at Randolph Field, the West Point of the air, where those in the aviation branch paid their respects.

Again the nineteen gun vice presidential and cabinet officer salute boomed, as it has so many times since Garner and Farley started their good will round of the nation's

FORTY-YEAR OLD COSTUMES LENT TO LITTLE THEATER FOR DRAMA

COSTUMES that will be worn in "Gold in the Hills, or The Dead Sister's Secret," Little Theater play to be presented at the city auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings, will be a strange sight to the younger generation, but a familiar one to those who can remember the styles worn in the 1890's.

Search for appropriate costumes has taken Miss Peggy Arnold and other members of the Little Theater to LeFors, Mobetie, and several rural residences, and she has collected a pile of wide-striped, big checked suits for men, a large picture hat that was actually worn in 1896, dresses with wisp waists, trailing skirts and puffed sleeves. Wayne Hutchins who will play the part of Pete the Rat in a Bowery scene in the second act will wear a suit worn by his father when a young man, and Wayne said it was just a fit.

A former active member of the Dallas Little Theater who has attended several rehearsals said last night "This production is not going to be one of those plays that is advertised as the best ever pre-

GERMAN CONQUEST OF AUSTRIA GOING AHEAD

VIENNA, Oct. 20. (AP)—Orders to shoot to kill Nazi demonstrators were issued today to the police of Dornbirn in the Vorarlberg district to impress the populace with the seriousness of the situation. The federal police commissary warned the Dornbirn populace that henceforth any one refusing to halt when ordered to do so by the police will be fired on.

In the recent revival of Nazi activity there has been a tendency shown by the population of some towns in Styria, Vorarlberg and Carinthia to enjoy the demonstrations rather than prevent them.

In the Styrian town of Weiz, where streets, houses and billboards suddenly blossomed with Swastika (Nazi) emblems overnight, former Burgomaster Reithofe and his wife were forced by gendarmes to scrape them off.

Nevertheless, the hoisting of Nazi flags from factory chimneys and decorating whole trains with Swastikas has continued.

Germany sat back today, apparently satisfied that any future suggestions as to her participation in disarmament would have to come from other countries.

The semi-official Wolff news agency said Germany withdrew from the League of Nations because that body "had become an anti-Fascist mass meeting and a platform for Jewish and Marxist oratory."

Observers in Geneva said Germany's withdrawal from the League was more seriously serious than her withdrawal from the disarmament conference because they believed political tension would be increased by the former step.

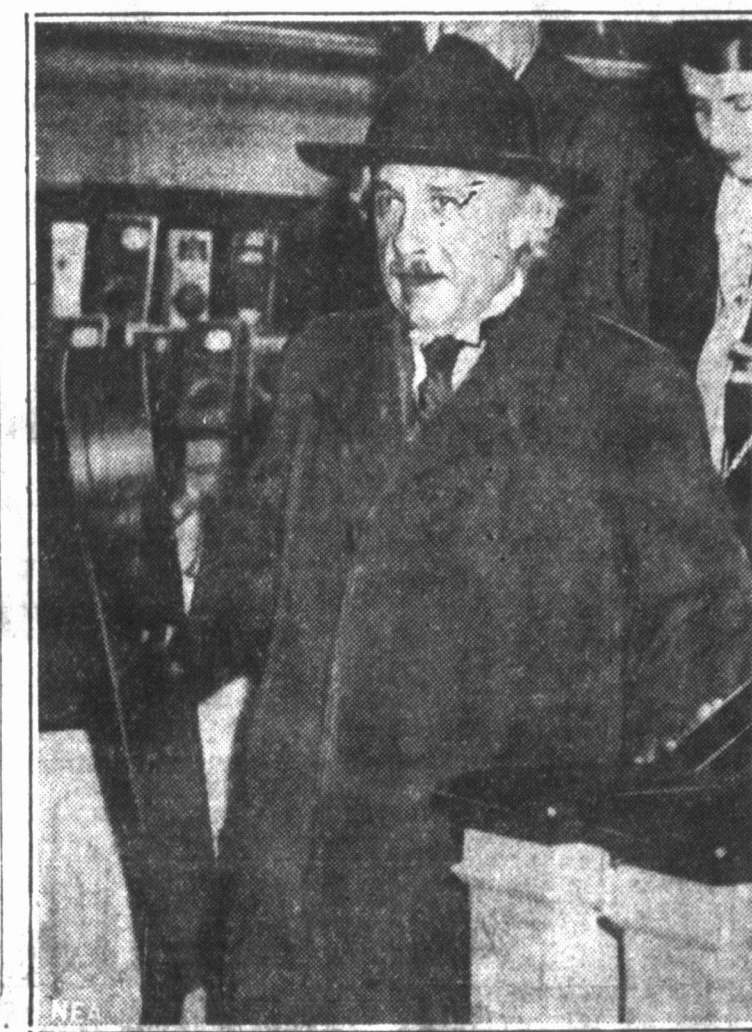

The Austrian government decreed the immediate dismissal or railway employees "who further anti-government movements." Meanwhile, the socialist journal "Wahrheit" stated one-tenth of the Austrian army has deserted to Germany.

An investigating committee of Jack Gregory, Frank Allison, and Jim Poolas was appointed by the Pampa Restaurant association at a meeting in the Schneider hotel last night. The committee will hear reports on violations of the NRA code and make investigations.

W. J. Smith and C. P. Buckler were speakers at the meeting. They urged acceptance of the code and clarified many points that had not been clearly understood in the past.

It is believed the final code for that classification will be signed next week. The local code has already been drawn up.

MORGAN CHUCKLES AND STATES HE'S IN QUANDARY ABOUT BANK LAWS IN HIS FIRST INTERVIEW

Banker Gushes About England But Is Mum on U. S.

BY MORRIS WATSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP)—J. P. Morgan, America's most noted banker, was in a quandary about the new banking laws as he returned to the Berengaria from a sojourn of three months in Europe. "It is the business of banks to obey the law," he said, "but I don't know yet what that means."

Morgan's interview was the first he ever granted to ship news reporters.

He talked enthusiastically about improvement in England but declined to comment on the NRA or anything that had been going on in his own country.

"Don't you see," he said, "I want to get the feel of the water and talk to those who do know what's going on."

"Do you feel," he was asked, "that private bankers will have to concentrate on investment banking rather than commercial banking as the result of the new banking law?"

"When I went away three months ago," he replied, "I said I didn't know what the new laws meant and that we would have to find out first and then do whatever we are supposed to do."

He was told that another banker had stated the new banking law was "impossible" and would have to be rewritten.

"If it makes banking impossible then it is hardly worth while to have banking, is it?" he said.

Morgan was extremely affable and he frequently chuckled, often letting a chuckle stand as his only answer to a question. He explained his former reluctance to grant interviews with "I never could see the sense in seeing the boys when I had nothing to say."

In declining to discuss any phase of the NRA he said "I don't know enough about it."

"England is getting on very well," he said. "Improvement certainly is well set in there. The heavy industries are showing improvement and the whole feeling there is that things are better and improving."

"The seasonal unemployment has not taken place. The railroads have shown an improvement and the basic industries are getting better."

JONES STIRS AUDIENCE AT STONE EVENT

Big Crowd Hears Congressman Deliver Address at New Post Office.

THE corner stone is laid, plumed and leveled and ready to bear the weight of the Pampa postoffice building which rapidly will rise to hide the steel skeleton of the structure.

Workmen of the Stibbard Construction company lowered the stone yesterday afternoon before a big audience after Congress Marvin Jones, Mayor W. A. Bratton, Postmaster D. E. Cecil, and Paul D. Hill, the latter representing local veterans, had placed the mortar.

The ceremony followed a short concert by the Pampa high school band, directed by Prof. Roy Wall-rabenstein, and introductions of those on the speakers' platform. Mayor Bratton as master of ceremonies introduced Postmaster Cecil, who presented Mr. Hill. The latter thanked the congressman for his work in behalf of veterans and the Panhandle people in general. Mr. Jones praised Mr. Jones for always being responsive to appeals and for getting results. E. W. Walker, superintendent of construction, was introduced and was thanked for using as much local labor and materials as possible.

Congressman Jones made a stirring speech on religious and political liberty, stressing the necessity for religious tolerance, freedom of the press, and intelligence of the people. He lashed out at radicalism, dishonesty in high financial circles, and indifference of voters, citing that the ballot was more potent than bombs and fiery speeches. He appealed for unselfishness in local, national, and world affairs.

First Kiwanis Election To Be Held on Friday

The first nomination of officers of the Pampa Kiwanis club will be held at the regular meeting next Friday. President McGrew appointed the following members on the nominating committee: Paul Hill, Lee Waggoner, Jim Collins, Reno Sisson, Judge Willis, and Dr. R. M. Johnson.

The program today included a brief history of the club from the time it was organized in Pampa in August, 1931. The first president of the club was John Studer, who has been succeeded by Paul Hill and Pete Post. Each of the past presidents made a brief talk on the history of the club while they were president.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of Kiwanis in Pampa has been helping underprivileged children. More than 100 have received operations and other medical attention to make them normal, healthy children.

Prof. Martin Baze of the Hopkins school became a new member today.

Visitors included Miss Norwood, Siler Faulkner, Kiwanian Harper of Amarillo, and Prof. Castleberry.

ICKES SAYS A LOW COST DAM ON WOLF CREEK MIGHT BE APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Advised by army engineers that low cost dams in the drought area of the Southwest were not economically justified, Secretary Ickes, public works administrator said yesterday the matter of requests for funds for a number of small projects had been closed.

Those under consideration were mostly earth structures to cost approximately $1,000,000. He said the decision of the engineers, however, would not apply to a number of low cost dams in sections outside the drought area.

Although he said engineers were only lukewarm on the matter, Ickes added that construction of a low cost dam at Fort Supply, Okla., might be approved as a relief project.

WOODWARD, Okla., Oct. 20. (AP)—The Wolf creek project which Secretary Ickes has indicated may be the only reservoir to be built on

DECLARATION IS EXPECTED LATER TODAY

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURE IS PROMISED BY ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP)—Commodities and stocks rallied briskly this afternoon coincident with rumors of prospective recognition of Russia by the United States. Wheat at one time was up the limit of 5 cents a bushel while shares climbed $1 to around $3, though gains in both markets were only partially held.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—An exchange of correspondence between President Roosevelt and the unrecognized Soviet government will be made public late today at the White House.

The correspondence opens the way for new trade relations and points the path to ultimate recognition, but it was emphasized in official sources that it does not constitute recognition now.

Arrangements have been made at Moscow and Washington for simultaneous release of the exchange of letters at 4 p. m. EST.

This is the first move by the United States toward diplomatic dealing with the Soviet since the establishment of the communistic government in 1919.

MOSCOW, Oct. 20. (AP)—Unconfirmed reports circulated here today that President Roosevelt had made a direct overture to Michael Kalinin, president of the U. S. S. R., looking toward recognition.

The report said the Russian executive had expressed the Soviet government's willingness to consider the question.

According to this unverified information, Kalinin had responded in cordial terms, leaving Washington to set the time and the place for the negotiations.

Youth Dies On Scaffold After Refusing Liquor

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Oct. 20. (AP)—Offered all the whiskey he could stand in his walk to the gallows, Dallas Eagan, 40, steadily and alone climbed the 13 steps on the scaffold here today and was put to death for the murder of Williams J. Kirkpatrick of Battle Creek, Mich., in a Los Angeles holdup last July.

Eagan refused spiritual guidance after first talking with a Presbyterian minister and then with the Rev. William J. Meade, Catholic priest.

WOLF CREEK, originating in Lincoln county, Texas, (Panhandle) is only about 100 miles long. It is the only creek in the Texas county and drains a large part of Woodward county, Okla., and much of Ochiltree county, Texas.

A 5 or 10 inch rain on the watershed of the creek within a week would fill Wolf to its banks. The water pours into Beaver creek at Supply, in the northwestern corner of Woodward county. But normally, the surface stream of Wolf is only a trickle. Beaver runs into North Canadian river, which passes Oklahoma City at the eastern edge.

When Wolf and Beaver, creating overflow for a few days, a flood crisis is created along the North Canadian, whose banks are not great enough to handle the flow.

A USELESS LAW

The governor has approved a bill passed by the legislature making it unlawful for school trustees to inquire into the religious affiliations of applicants for positions as teachers. To allow such matters to influence the selection of teachers in the public schools is clearly contrary to the spirit of our institutions, but whether such a practice can be stopped by the passage of a law is subject to serious doubts.

In cases where the religious affiliation of applicants is a matter of interest, ways will be found to make the inquiry. Besides, one's religious affiliations, even his views on matters of religion, are not easily kept secret. If an applicant's affiliations are unknown at the time of his first election they will be revealed shortly and trustees can exercise whatever prejudices or preferences they may have at a subsequent election.

The whole subject is trivial. In a democratic country, where freedom of religion is supposed to be an inherent right, the selection of public school teachers on the basis of their denominational preferences borders on the ridiculous. And yet, religious freedom has its limitations. No matter how tolerant a people may be in the general acceptance of the term, there are legitimate bounds to tolerance. For example, Christians of whatever sect would hardly approve of the selection of a Buddhist teacher in the public schools. Certainly, a Christian would have little chance of securing a position as teacher of children in Mohammedan or Buddhist countries. These considerations serve only to emphasize the fact that nothing much will come of the new law. Where the subject is not of interest, it will be of no effect. So we have another law such as a Don Quixote might applaud.—Vernon Record.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP)—Stocks spurted today following a spirited rally in grains and reports of American negotiations with the Soviets looking toward early recognition of Russia. Although cereals lost part of their gains in the last hour, and equities dropped back moderately, the close was firm with gains of 1 to 3 or more points predominating. Transfers approximated 2,800,000 shares.

Tomorrow they will go to other sacred historical ground, to Houston, near where, shortly after the Alamo fell, General Sam Houston and his army routed General Santa Ana, at the head of the Mexican army and obtained independence.

Garnier and Farley, escorted by Mayor C. K. Quinn, members of the city and county governments and other dignitaries, made straight for the Alamo after the army branches had had their ceremonies.

There, in the midst of a great throng they placed wreaths and bouquets of brilliant flowers at the entrance to the old church which was baptized with the blood of the heroic band that defended it vainly—less to the last man—against an overpowering army.

Civic organizations later paid their respects at a luncheon and the party planned to re-enter their planes at Kelly Field, still another army aviation center.

A verdict for the plaintiff, with judgment approximating compensation for full disability, was returned in 31st district court yesterday by a jury in the suit of T. L. Anderson against the Traders and General Insurance company. Payments will be about $15 for 400 weeks under the judgment. Anderson was injured in a fall from an oil derrick while running casing.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (AP)—A quick advance whirled grain prices up late today the extreme limit allowed for any 24-hour period, the market afterward suffered violent swings backward, wiping out much of the gains.

New buying of wheat for government sponsored agencies was largely responsible for the upturns, together with reports that President Roosevelt had been asked to fix a price of $1.28 for July wheat on the recognition of Russia by the United States and that a big export business had been done today in wheat from Canada.

Wheat closed flurried, 2-4 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 3/4-1 1/2 up, oats 1 1/2-2 1/4 advanced, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 10 cents.

CARD THIEVES

AMARILLO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Junius P. Smith held good cards in a bridge foursome last night, but he lost his hat anyway. A sneak thief removed it through a window, not more than 10 feet from the bridge table. Mrs. Tony Harlan lost her purse in a similar manner at another party, as Amarillo's bridge thief, or thieves, continued prowling.

CRITICIZES FORK

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 20. (AP)—"Irish Tommy" Griffin, who conducts a helping hand mission for the poor, complained today that some of the government's salt pork being distributed to the needy by the local relief administration was "not fit for a hog to eat." Dr. Walter H. Miles, city health director, inspected several slabs of the pork which had been given Griffin's wife and declared the meat was not fit for human consumption.

44 NEW PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The public works administration today allotted $5,243,378 for 44 non-federal construction projects in 2 states which officials said would provide 33,897 man-months of quick, direct employment.

OUT OUR WAY

QUESTIONNAIRE OKEYED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Senate stock market investigators decided today after an executive session with brokers and counsel for the New York stock exchange to obtain information on market practices through questionnaires submitted to brokers instead of thru the exchange. In view of the exchange's refusal to distribute the questionnaire, the committee decided to go ahead otherwise.

UPHOLDS STRIKE

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 20. (AP)—Gov. Chas. W. Bryan today upheld the principles of the farmers' strike for higher prices as equally justifiable with the national administration's attempt to confine buying to blue eagle signers, but said he could not approve any physical interference with commerce.

TO CLOSE ARGUMENT

LONDON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The British government has decided to issue a white paper tonight which officially will close the controversy between Sir John Simon, the foreign secretary, and Konstantin von Neurath, the German foreign minister.

Dr. Lawrence M. Gould, who was named to earn his degree in economics at the University of Michigan, graduated in command of the Board of Economic Warfare.

"Isn't that a good sign for all of us?" questioned one of his interviewers.

"Do you want me to prophesy?" "Yes."

"I won't prophesy," he chuckled. "I prefer to prophesy after the event."

He would not discuss Germany's defection from the League of Nations and the disarmament conference.

"Universal statesmanship," he said, "is not my business."

He was asked, also about the court of inquiry into salaries received by bankers and corporation officials.

He snapped: "I'll not comment on that."

"Is there anything you can think of, Mr. Morgan?"

"I can't think of a thing that I want to say," he replied.

Relief Officials Are Due In City

H. D. McCrum and A. W. Elrod, state representatives of the Texas relief and rehabilitation commission, were to be in Pampa this afternoon conferring with Mrs. W. H. Davis, administrator of the Gray county board of relief and employment.

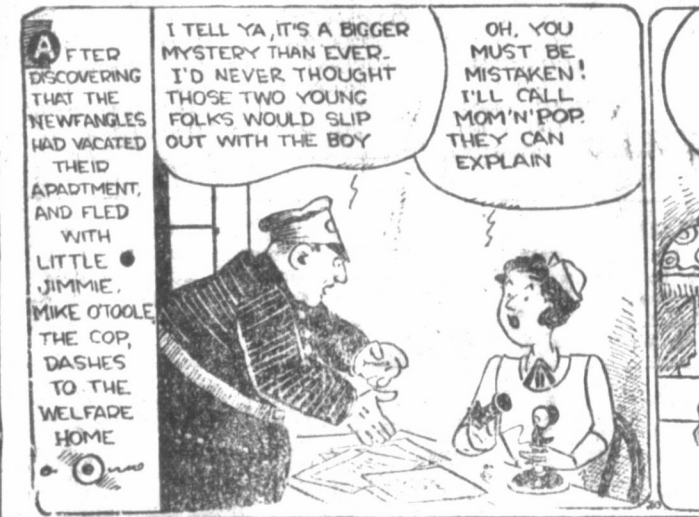

The relief situation in Texas is still in turmoil and contradictory orders are being received that need clarifying. The local office has been operating within its budget despite the mad scramble in Austin.

MID-WEST FARM REVOLT IS MOST SERIOUS CHALLENGE TO N.R.A.

NATION-WIDE STRIKE IS SET FOR SATURDAY

FARMERS ARE SAID TO BE LOSING FAITH IN PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—N.R.A.'s most serious challenge was seen by some administration officials today in Nebraska's open outbreak of rumbling farm discontent and the strike called by the national farm holiday association.

Immediate official comment was lacking, but some authorities felt Keith Neville's resignation as chairman of Nebraska's N.R.A. board because of "the manner in which the program is being conducted in agricultural states," created an emergency threatening the corner stone of the industrial recovery program—national unity.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20. (AP)—A new agricultural "farm war" burst forth today in the calling of a nation-wide strike by the National Farmers Holiday association.

The strike proclamation, setting noon Saturday as the hour when farmers again will begin to withhold their products from market, sharply criticized the national administration, listed many grievances, and outlined the course to be pursued.

The decision to protest actively against low prices for a "cultural products" was reached at a secret conference yesterday of officials of the Holiday association which says it has 2,000,000 members in 24 states.

The proclamation stated that "after months of patient waiting," farmers were "fast losing confidence in the administration."

But despite the criticism directed at the administration, the farmers said they still stand ready to support it in "any program that will recognize the farmers' fundamental right to ask for an increase of the cost of production."

The strike will continue, the proclamation declared, until "our farm products bring the cost of production and until we are refinanced under the terms of the Frazier bill."

Among the first to endorse the proposed strike was Governor William Langer of North Dakota, whose embargo on shipment of wheat from that state took effect Thursday.

An N.R.A. code for agriculture was demanded by the Holiday association instead of the administration's plan for reducing acreage and food surpluses.

Establishment of minimum prices to insure cost of production for farm products and a national moratorium on foreclosure and dispossession were demanded of the national administration, which was accused of "sparing for time to bring us needed relief."

Argentina imported greater quantities of beverages, tobacco, chemicals and pharmaceutical products during the first quarter of 1933 than in the same period last year.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: Caroline Leigh leaves her cousin, Jim Randal, hiding in Hale Place, his boyhood home, while she goes to London to look up Nests. Nests says Jim is her husband, that he stole the famous Van Berg emeralds, and shot Elmer Van Berg. Jim's memory is gone, except for flashes of the past. One thing he recalls is drinking with Van Berg; now Caroline learns from a woman on the train that the police are taking finger prints from the glasses. Caroline follows the woman from the train, and learns Van Berg kept a book containing all his friends' finger prints. But, says Mrs. Rodgers, one page was torn out.

Chapter 27 DIRE TRUTH

Mrs. Rodgers watched Caroline turn away and begin to go down the hill. Then she took a step towards the stile, but almost in the act of taking it she swung about like a boat when the current catches it. She called.

"Miss Caroline! Miss Caroline!"

And Caroline came back. She didn't want to come back, but she came.

"I mustn't miss my train," she said.

"There's time," said Mrs. Rodgers, and took her by the sleeve.

Caroline turned cold with dread of what she was going to hear.

"Miss Caroline," said Mrs. Rodgers.

Caroline's eyes besought her.

"My dear, you'd best know and have done with it. That torn out page—"

"Oh, no!" said Caroline. "Not!"

"You'd best know it, my dear. Mrs. Henry's not 'inter, and it's what she seen with her own eyes. She took perlicker notice, because there wasn't no name signed on that page."

"No name."

"No name, my dear—nothing but the finger-prints and two great big initials getting on for a couple of inches high. She took perlicker notice, and when the book was found pushed down behind the bookcase like I told you, she took a look at it, and that there identical page was gone. I s'pose I didn't ought to tell you what the initials was, but what's the good of bawking the bread if you don't take it out of the oven?"

Caroline tried to pull her sleeve away, but she couldn't speak. Mrs. Rodgers' voice boomed in her ears.

"Mrs. Henry won't talk unless she's asked, and it's not for me to say whether she'll be asked or no, but if so be she is, she's bound to tell the truth—not that she or any one else around these parts 'ud want to get a young gentleman that was well-liked, and his family respected, into trouble."

"But there's a name that 'as been mentioned, and Mrs. Henry's own nephew—Willie Bowman, that's been his caddy at golf many and many a time afore he went off to foreign parts—Willie seen him in the drive getting on for midnight, and hasn't told no one, only his aunt and me."

"And what were you doing, Willie?" she says, and of course he hadn't got a word to say, she knowing same as everyone else that he's carrying on with that flighty piece, Gladys Garrett, down at the Cricketer's Arms."

Caroline's head swam. Through a jumbled whirl of irrelevant anecdote something horrible advanced upon her. She wanted to run away, but she couldn't.

Mrs. Rodgers dropped her voice to a penetrating whisper.

"It was Mr. Jim Randal as Willie seen—and the initials on the tore out page was J. R."

Caroline's mouth made a soundless "Oh!" There was no sound, because she did not seem to have any breath. She pulled away from Mrs. Rodgers and ran down the hill, as if by running she could get away from Jim's name.

The clock of St. Mary Magdalene's church struck half-past 12 as Caroline turned into Grove Road. The things that Mrs. Rodgers had told her were all locked away in a dark secret cupboard at the back of her mind. She wasn't going to let herself look at them or think about them until she and Jim could look at them together.

What she had got to do now was to be sensible and practical and businesslike. She had to prove from the entry in the register that it wasn't Jim who had married that horrible Nests woman on July 25th. It stood to reason that it wasn't Jim, but she had got to prove it.

Well, one glance at the register would do that, because she would know Jim's writing anywhere, and she was quite sure that the entry wouldn't be in Jim's writing.

She found the office quite easily. An elderly clerk incured her business. He had a pale plump face, and reminded her of one of those fish which flap slowly to and fro behind the plate glass of an aquarium.

The light in the office was almost as opaque as water, and he had the pale unwinking stare of a fish. He had a voice that matched, high and weak.

"Please may I see an entry in the register? It's a marriage—on the twenty-fifth of July."

"Last?"

Caroline did not take his meaning. She looked at him with bewildered eyes.

"Please may I see the register of marriages for the twenty-fifth of July?"

"Last July?"

"Yes—oh, yes."

She stood and waited. She wasn't afraid; she kept insisting on that. There was nothing to be afraid about—there couldn't be. She was going to see Jim Randal's signature, and it would be the signature of a stranger. There wasn't the very slightest possible doubt about that.

She saw the clerk turn the pages of the register—big, stiff pages thick with the names of men and women who had gone adventuring into marriage through this drab back door. Perhaps if you loved someone very much, you wouldn't notice the line-oleum and the smell of disinfectant.

"Here you are," said the clerk in his high weak voice. He stood aside and pointed at the left-hand page of the open book.

Caroline, a little dazed, looked down at the names. She saw Nests' name first—"Nests Williams, spinster." And then—"James Riddell, bachelor." It wasn't Jim's writing—of course it wasn't. What odd writing it was—like a child's. No, it wasn't. A child wrote round hand. This was more like shaky print. She looked up with a puzzled frown.

"What funny writing!"

"What!" said the clerk. "Oh, that? Written with his left hand, that was, on account of having his right arm in a sling—motor-cycle accident, I think he said."

Caroline's heart jumped. She didn't quite know why. Jim hadn't got his arm in a sling. Jim hadn't had an accident. Jim hadn't written that signature. Why didn't she feel all happy and triumphant? Why didn't she even feel relief? Why did she feel as if there was something horrid just round the next corner?

The clerk was speaking, and she tried to give him her attention.

"If you want a certified copy, it will be five shillings."

Caroline flamed. A copy of this abominable lie? She made her voice gentle and polite with a terrible effort.

"No, thank you."

The flame died down. She felt businesslike and rather tired. Jim Riddell's address was given as 14 Saracen Row. Nests Williams' as 3 Grove Road. His father's name was James Riddell, too; but father's name as Fionna Williams. She wrote down both the addresses and asked to be directed to Saracen row.

"Third to the left, second to the right, and third to the left again," said the clerk.

Caroline turned back at the door. "Do you remember this Mr. Riddell—could you describe him?"

"The clerk's pale, prominent eyes looked at her without intelligence. "He had his arm in a sling."

"Oh, can't you tell me what he looked like?"

"Why," said the clerk, "we get them coming in all day. I shouldn't remember about his arm if it wasn't the writing—said he'd never signed his name with his left hand before, and you can see what an awkward job he made of it. If it wasn't for that, I wouldn't remember him."

"You can't remember him at all. Not whether he was dark or fair, or short or tall?"

"No, miss, I can't—and you might take that to mean that there wasn't anything very much to remember. You take my meaning? I might have remembered red hair, or a squint, or bandy legs, or anything over six foot or under five, so you may take it he was just one of the average lot—and as I said before, they keep on coming in. What with births, marriages, and deaths, they keep coming in all day, and after a bit you stop taking notice."

Caroline went out feeling very much discouraged.

Tomorrow, Caroline checks up on Nests' past.

The suit was filed by Bryan residents after their daughters were refused the privilege of registration.

LEAGUE 'JEWS AND MARXISTS' PEEVED NAZIS

AGENCY GIVES REASON WHY GERMANY QUIT LEAGUE

BERLIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—Germany withdrew from the League of Nations not only because of the "failure" of the world disarmament conference, but because the league had become a forum for "Jews and Marxists," it was asserted today in a statement by the semi-official Wolff News agency.

The statement followed close on the heels of the government's official notification to the secretary of the league at Geneva that the Reich was withdrawing in accordance with plans announced a week ago.

"The league of Nations lost the right to represent the civilized world because it had become an anti-Semitic mass meeting and a platform for Jewish and Marxist petitions," the statement asserted.

"Germany will no longer participate in such assemblies which are a caricature of international cooperation."

Then, declaring that the official notification leaves no doubt of Germany's attitude, the state continued:

"The new exit from the league is the logical consequence of the failure of the disarmament conference which, formally independent, in reality was only an instrument of the league."

Reviewing failures in the league's history, the statement said the Sino-Japanese conflict had raised doubts everywhere concerning the league's efficacy and had hastened Germany's decision to withdraw.

Besides the negative results of the disarmament conference, the decisive factor was the impression of the last League of Nations meeting—where a number of states, in violation of all usages and with the sole desire to pose, made attempts to interfere with internal German politics," it declared.

CUBAN RIOT SCENES ARE SHOWN IN L'NORA THEATER'S NEWSREEL

Hectic scenes of riots in Havana, Cuba, photographed by Joseph Gibson, New York staff cameraman of Universal Newsreel, who was shot four times in the legs a little later, are to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily News-Universal newsreel at LaNora theater.

While mounted troops charge the mobs and machine guns rake the streets with bullets, Reds flee in all directions to safety after attempting to hold a gigantic mass meeting. Meanwhile troops stand guard over the Hotel Nacional, following a siege of the building, in which 80 men were killed before its defenders, most of the deposed army officers, surrendered.

Other important news events included in the current issue are scenes in Chicago as President Roosevelt addresses the American Legion convention; views at Pease, England, where Hubert Scott-

Paines speedboat, Miss Britain, III is wrecked by a blast; appalling views at Morgan City, La., where engineers set a huge bridge afloat and move it into position; remarkable views of the proceedings in the Supreme court at Leipzig, Germany, where communists stand trial on charges of burning the famous Reichstag building; exciting scenes in Chicago as Martin Nelson wins a $5,000 marathon swim; a rare scene in New York City as Babe Ruth pitches to victory in a ball game with the Boston Red Sox; and unusual views of "Machine Gun" Kelly and his wife arriving in Oklahoma City by airplane to face charges of kidnapping.

There are now 2,158 airports and landing fields in the United States, 703 of which have night lighting equipment. Thirty-one of the fields are private.

FORCED TO LAND
MIDLAND, Oct. 20. (AP)—Capt. A. F. Hegenberger, trans-Pacific flier, escaped injury when he was forced to land on Sloan Field here late yesterday after a cooling fluid line to a starboard motor broke. He was unable to make the ship's retractable landing gear work but the plane was damaged only slightly. He planned to take off today to continue his trip from San Diego to Brooks Field.

TEXAS LEADS IN BANK BURGLARIES IN '32 AND '33

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (P)—Despite the depressing effect of bank closing, the underworld profession of bank robbery flourished in the United States during the year ended August 31, the American Bankers' association revealed today.

Unlike numerous other businesses, both legal and outside the law, its earnings curve did not run off the lower edge of the chart. It did, however, drop.

"When one considers that numerous banks were closed, the recession in turnover or volume of return was not great," said James E. Baum, deputy manager of the association's protective division.

With a foreword that he was no alarmist, Baum gave out this information:

"During the organization's fiscal year, bank and trust companies in the nation suffered 516 holdups and 95 burglaries, and the loot was $2,402,277.

Most of this was covered by insurance, Baum pointed out. Some was recovered and some was in the form of non-negotiable instruments which enriched the criminals not at all.

The previous fiscal year, there were 554 holdups and 77 burglaries. Total loot, $3,568,373.

The casualty list—Criminals, bank employees and bystanders killed or wounded during robberies or attempted robberies—mounted from 176 to 281 over the period for which figures were available.

California led the rest of the nation in bank holdups, with 63. The year before, Oklahoma topped the list with 58. This year Oklahoma dropped to 30.

Texas and Kansas reported the most burglaries in 1932-33—10 each. The former forged ahead in 1932-33 with 17.

NEGRO HANGS AFTER A SUICIDE ATTEMPT

COLUMBUS, Miss., Oct. 20. (P)—Jesse Patterson, young negro farm hand, was hanged in Lowndes county jail today, several hours before the scheduled hour of execution, paying the death penalty for the axe slaying of Mrs. Trona Hayes Crosby, of Lowndes county and Tuscaloosa, Ala., last June.

Patterson, who confessed to slaying both Mrs. Crosby and her husband, Hugh D. Crosby, in order to steal their automobile for a trip to Birmingham, went to the gallows with a ragged gasp in his neck, inflicted late yesterday in a vain suicide attempt.

Jail officials here explained that the early morning execution was decided upon to avoid any demonstrations.

Joseph V. McKee, independent democratic candidate for mayor, she was absent from McKee headquarters, where it was said she was at home ill with a cold.

H. J. Keck of Childress spent the day with friends in Pampa.

BROKER HUSBAND OF BIOGRAPHER OF F. D. R. SUICIDES

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (P)—Herbert B. Lederer, 44, broker and husband of Isabel Leighton, biographer of President Roosevelt, committed suicide today by hanging himself in his apartment.

Lederer was a customer's man employed by the brokerage firm of Edward B. Smith and company.

Miss Leighton recently resigned as head of the women's committee of the NRA drive in New York City and now is active in politics.

Lederer's body was found by a maid, who occupied quarters in another part of the building, when she went to the apartment to prepare breakfast for Lederer and his wife. The body was hanging from the kitchen transom by an electric iron cord.

Miss Leighton recently was appointed vice-chairman of the independent citizens committee for "Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, October 22.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord... For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon everyone that is proud and lofty, and upon everyone that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low;... and the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low; and the Lord shall be exalted in that day" (Isaiah 2:5, 12, 17).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Job said: 'I have heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear; but now my eye seeth Thee.' Mortals will echo Job's thought, when the supposed pain and pleasure of matter cease to predominate. They will drop the false estimate of life and happiness of joy and sorrow, and attain the bliss of loving unselfishly, working patiently, and conquering all that is unlike god" (page 262).

FRENCHY DOMINGUE MAY PLAY ONE YEAR OF STAR FOOTBALL

May Help Texas Aggies Win Over T. C. U. Saturday; Frogs Hold Jinx.

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Perhaps Frenchy Domingue, Texas A. and M. halfback, will give his critics a shock and play a full season of star football.

When Frenchy starred several weeks ago against Tulane, critics interpreted the fact he had played his one outstanding game of the season that he would be only a mediocre player the remainder of this year.

It has always been that way for Domingue. A great game against Tulane and then an ordinary season against Southwest conference competition. Since his game against Tulane's powerful Green Wave aggregation, the Aggie halfback has continued to carry on. Today, he is pacing the conference scoring race with five touchdowns, six points after touchdowns, and one field goal for a grand total of 39 points in four games. He is playing hard, aggressive football that is netting results for the entire Aggie team.

If Domingue can continue as he has started, it means Coach Madison Bell will realize touchdowns on a boy in whom he has refused to lose faith even in the face of bitter criticism.

Having starred so far, Domingue for the first time will enter the game Saturday against Texas Christian a featured star of the present, and not just a player who starred against Tulane.

A Real Jinx
There is no doubt Texas Christian holds a gridiron jinx over the Aggies. Whether the Aggies will be able to shake it off Saturday is a difficult forecast to make.

The Aggies have boasted several powerful teams the last eight years, but regardless of their strong offense they have scored on the Christians but twice, two touchdowns in 1926 and one in 1929. They have scored only twenty points in eight years against Texas Christian compared to sixty-one scored by the Horned Frogs. In several of these past years the Aggies were favored as they will be favored Saturday.

The Aggies have clicked in four non-conference combats. They are on the high road to an undefeated season providing they can smash the jinx Texas Christian has over them. Saturday at Fort Worth an expected crowd of twenty thousand will see if the Aggies, with Frenchy Domingue primed and ready, can turn the trick.

Only 35 per cent of department stores which operate restaurants do so with the expectation that they will return a direct profit, a recent survey revealed.

Exports from the United States to Palestine last year were double those of 1931, motor cars leading the list of purchases.

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

Some people just can't seem to learn. Old Erasmus Tack at Amarillo had to pick 100 pounds of Gray county cotton two years ago when the Harvesters defeated the Sandies and now he is ready to pick all the cotton in Gray county if the Sandies don't win by at least 20 points this year. Well, Tack, I'll just make a little bet with you. I'll pump all the oil produced in Potter county if Amarillo beats the Harvesters by 20 points. How's that for an even bet. There are hundreds of acres of cotton in Gray county and, according to stories originating in Amarillo, there must be hundreds of oil wells in Potter county, so things should be even.

Amarillo has a fair team and no one is denying it. That passing attack is the talk of the state and everyone is looking forward to seeing it used on Harvester field. However, the aerial attack is not keeping Harvesters' mentors from preparing for a ground attack as well. Blair Cherry has in the past stayed on the ground and this year's circus is something new. It is a cliché that he is not depending on it entirely. This Mahuron boy is dynamic with the pigskin under his arm, and big Beale is also no slouch. Corbett, if he doesn't get a smacked head with old Tack patting him on the dome, should also be dangerous on the ground because he is fast and shifty.

Dick Hughes' idea of stopping the Amarillo aerial attack with butterfly nets will have to be abandoned. In a ruling, Roy Henderson, director at Austin, says that he doesn't think nets have ever been a part of football equipment and therefore cannot be used against Amarillo. Other local fans are "wrecking" their brain thinking and it may be that an idea will be presented that will meet the approval of the state body.

The idea of making the November 11 game a homecoming affair is gaining momentum daily. Ray Wilson is receiving enthusiastic support and plans to call a meeting next week to discuss the idea pro and con. There are hundreds of former Pampa high school students who would like to return to Pampa for a day if they thought they could meet old classmates again and talk over old times when Pampa was just a "wide place in the road."

NURMI AND WIFE SEPARATE OVER GREAT FINN RUNNER'S DEVOTION TO ATHLETICS AND TO TRAINING

Wife Avers Athlete Should Never Marry

HELSINKI, Finland, Oct. 20. (AP)—Paavo Nurmi and his bride of less than two years have separated and, despite denials, it has been learned Mrs. Nurmi already has taken steps toward obtaining a divorce and custody of their year old boy, Matti.

The Associated Press correspondent interviewed the wife at Turku, native town of the world famous foot-racer, and verified the reports that the couple disagreed on Paavo's interest in athletics as well as on the future of their son whose feet caused disappointment to a father anxious to develop another runner in the family.

"I have never engaged in athletics and they do not interest me," said Mrs. Nurmi. "I have never seen Paavo run. For me, he is a man, not a sportsman. His concentration on athletics at last forced me to go to the judge for a divorce. You see, an athlete should never marry, unless he is willing to forego much of his activities."

"Marriage is a matter for two people but to Paavo it seems there is nothing else but the track and his training. An athletic star is anti-social and it seems he cannot think of anything but himself. I was aware of this when I married Paavo because we had kept company for years. I even once broke off our engagement for that reason but Paavo promised to leave athletics so I could not refuse him. I should have known better."

"Every day some sporting leader would call upon him and persuade him to engage in some athletic activity. His friends said it was ridiculous for him to quit at the top of his form. Paavo kept his promise to me for only five days but I am not vexed because I should have known that it was impossible for him to live without his running."

"If he is not allowed to train every day he becomes so nervous that one cannot understand him. My belief is there are very few people who really know him at all. He is a restless spirit who cannot stay long in the same surroundings or the same job."

Nurmi has steadfastly refused to comment on his separation or the possibility of divorce, although friends say there is not much chance for a reconciliation unless Paavo gives up athletics altogether. Recently the runner denied he intended to turn professional.

Wolfe City Man Robbed of $100 And Then Slain

GREENVILLE, Oct. 20. (AP)—W. C. Webb, 45, Wolfe City flour mill employee, was shot and killed by an unknown person last night or early today. His body was found this morning 200 yards south of the mill with bullet wounds in the heart, head and back.

Webb, who resided near the mill, left his home about 7:00 p. m. yesterday, telling members of his family he was going to the mill to talk to men on the night shift. After several hours search was started and the body discovered.

Webb's revolver, which had not been discharged, was found near his body. His pockets had been emptied and approximately $100 which he is said to have carried was missing.

A note, partly undecipherable, was found on the body. Authorities were able to make out the words: "If I am found murdered tonight, white man did it." They expressed belief that the note had been placed on the body by the assailant to divert suspicion.

Webb had resided in Wolfe City for 20 years and been connected with the mill several years. Members of his family said he had no enemies they knew of.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Harold.

BRIDGE PARTIES OF WEEK ARE GAY WITH HALLOWE'EN COLOR

CLUB HOSTESSES USE MOTIF OF SEASON IN DISTINCTIVE ENTERTAINMENTS RECENTLY

FIVE GROUPS PLAY IN HOLIDAY SETTING FOR GAMES

GRINNING Jack-o-lanterns, black cats and witches presided at a number of week-end bridge parties that have been outstanding. Hostesses are using variations of the Halloween theme simply or elaborately in their party settings.

Mrs. A. B. Goldston achieved a striking arrangement for a Queen of Clubs party yesterday afternoon, using chrysanthemums with the holiday decorations.

Her long dining table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a huge pumpkin, from which streamers extended to favors for the guests.

Tables Stress Scheme. Tallies and score pads were decorated with pumpkins, and tables were laid for the refreshment course with Halloween cloths, napkins, and dishes. The motif was carried out even in refreshments, with Jack-o-lantern canapés the center of interest on each plate.

When the favors were taken from the table, Mrs. E. M. Conley found that hers was tied securely to the pumpkin. The centerpiece was opened, and revealed a shower of gifts for her.

Mrs. Max Mahaffey received high guest prize, and Mrs. R. S. Lawrence high club. Cut favors, vases of flowers, went to Misses Jack Dunn, Howard Buckingham, and I. B. Hughes.

Special guests were Mesdames Roy Wight, J. M. Lybrand, Frank Perry, Dunn, and Mahaffey. Members playing were Mesdames Conley, O. H. Booth, A. M. Martin, Charles Cook, Neil McLaughlin, Carl Boston, M. A. Graham, H. D. Keys, Hughes, Buckingham, and Lawrence.

Linger Longer Party. Pumpkin faces carried out the holiday note when Mrs. Sug Cobb was hostess yesterday to the Linger Longer club. They grinned, tallies, score pads, and table markers. Pumpkin-faced dolls with black and orange bonnets were given as favors. Shaded lights were the only room decorations.

Pie with whipped cream, cheese balls in pumpkin shapes, and coffee were served after the games, which Miss Frances Finley made high score. Mrs. Clyde Oswald received the cut and Mrs. Jack Baker the grand slam award.

Mmes. R. C. Brumley and T. P. Hollingshead were club guests. Members were Misses Mary and Martha Sneed, and Finley; Mmes. C. P. Chandler, Oswald, and Baker.

Merry Mixers Play. Black and orange made gay table and room decorations at the home of Mrs. Weldon Wilson, who was hostess to the Merry Mixers club yesterday.

In five games, Mrs. Ed Mazey scored high and Mrs. Earl Powell low for members, and Mrs. Shelby Gantz high for guests.

A two course luncheon was served to a table of guests, Mmes. Earl Station, C. E. Kennedy, Tom Blair, and Gantz, and the following members: Mmes. C. D. Hunter, G. L. Greene, J. T. Morrow, Otto Patton, O. L. Bassham, Noel Reynolds, John Weeks, Joe Berry, T. G. Green, Fowler, and Mosey.

New Club Entertained. The new Delta Hands bridge club was entertained by Mrs. Tex Berry yesterday, with Halloween colors marking all appointments.

Mrs. Leroy Nelson was winner of high score award. The refreshment course was served to a guest, Mrs. Ray Eason, and Mesdames Clifford Jones, A. C. Mickleff, Marvin Harris, Homer Sprinkle, L. N. Atchison, and Nelson.

Le Bon Temps Club. Rooms were bright with orange and black when Mrs. Ed Mazey was hostess to Le Bon Temps club Wednesday afternoon. She used appointments with the traditional Halloween figures for the games of contract.

Mrs. G. L. Greene scored high.

GHOSTLY SCENE ARRANGED FOR PARTY BY GIRLS

Camp Fire Girls Are Entertained At Club House

Lighted Jack-o-lanterns and shaded candles cast ghostly shadows over their club house and made a fitting Halloween setting for a party given by Tatapocho Camp Fire Girls Wednesday evening.

Girls were costumed as witches, goblins, and ghosts. Before unmasking they went to the homes of Mrs. V. E. Fairness and Mrs. T. F. Smalling, to visit and sing.

A treasure hunt, stunts, fortune telling, and other games were enjoyed at the club house. Katherine Ward, Jessie Marie Gilbert, and Henna Beckham served jello pumpkins with whipped cream, chocolate cat cookies, and candy.

After the party the girls climbed into a hearse and were delivered to their homes by Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Bo Barrett.

Members present were Kathleen and Roberta O'Hara, Mildred Pearce, Edith and Henna Beckham, Mary Seeds, Jessie Marie Gilbert, Wanda Earl Aucutt, Jessie Muriel Farmer, Betty Jo Anderson, Katherine Ward, Helen Harris, Kathryn Covington, Catherine Culberson, Shirley Johnson.

Science Aids Bride Who Would Please Her Mother-in-Law

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (AP)—For the bride who wishes to get along with her mother-in-law and be happy, science has come forth with a few suggestions. Here they are:

Don't criticize her "old-fashioned" ideas.

Don't try to reform her methods of household management.

Don't (out loud) resent dealings she has with her son.

Don't begrudge waiting on her.

Don't belittle her real or fancied ailments.

Don't forget to practice tolerance, always.

If the bride will just do these things all will be well with her relations with her mother-in-law, said Dr. E. W. Burgess, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago.

He arrived at his solution by studying the answers to 6,000 questionnaires sent to married couples to find out how persons can be happy and married.

Officers of Girls' Class Are Elected

Officers for the year were elected recently by the Glad Girls intermediate class of the Central Baptist church.

Mary Helen Gilstrap was named president, Frances Coffey vice president, Sybil Taylor secretary and treasurer, and Ruby Scalet social chairman.

Mrs. Lewis Bridge is teacher of the class.

Civil and governmental airplanes in the United States consumed 54,058,431 gallons of gasoline and 1,568,928 gallons of oil in the past year.

Gets $25,000 A Year For Life

SETTLING DOWN to enjoy domestic comforts may be all right for some girls, but for Claire Luce, above, glamorous blond dancer, a stage career is more important. And so Broadway's former cigarette girl, now performing in a musical show in London, has agreed to part with her multi-millionaire husband, Clifford Warren Smith, and accept a settlement of $25,000 a year for life. They were married five years ago.

Compromises

Ernest T. Weir, above, steel company chairman, after challenging authority of the National Labor Board, agreed to a compromise in the strike at his Weirton, W. Va., steel plant, whereby both employers and employees abide by results of an election of delegates to treat with the corporation heads, ending the strike.

Students Report Fire Week Work

Reports of fire prevention week activity made by pupils of Horace Mann school show a busy week spent in reducing fire hazards at homes.

Pupils reported that they cleaned up 166 yards, 93 garages, 38 alleys, 57 basements and attics, and eight barns.

In addition to this work at home, the students presented fire prevention programs at school, and made posters urging care to prevent fire damage.

Needlecraft Circle In Meeting Thursday

The Needlecraft Sewing circle was entertained in the home of Mrs. J. B. Smith Thursday afternoon. Ribbon sandwiches, cookies, and hot chocolate were served after the hour of work.

Guests were Mesdames Earl Phillips, Jerry Lockard, Orin Colvin, Willie Shehen, Calvin Slocum, Paul Hughes, Jack Morris, and S. A. King.

W. B. Joynes of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, is visiting with friends in Pampa for a few days.

Liberal

The word "crusader" in its highest sense best describes Louis D. Brandeis, associate justice of the United States supreme court, shown above in a new photo. A champion among champions of liberal thought and action, Brandeis has won shining fame that will go far in history.

It is said of him that he never has been found in error on a point of law in his decisions. His facts and his logic are annihilating, his wit, perhaps, a wittier influence than any other member of the court.

Justice Brandeis, now 77, was named to the supreme court in 1916 by President Wilson. Confirmation was granted by the Senate after a struggle rarely exceeded in bitterness in that body.

Sandwiches, cake, and cocoa were served after the games.

Class members present were Misses Albertine Schulke, Charlotte Rhea Malone, Edith Lane, Pauline Gregory, Pauline Barrett, Elaine Croft, Muriel Horner, Jean Gillespie.

Their guests were Aaron Hunter, Skeet Hansa, Floyd Stevens, Claude Oliver, Glen Reed, Clyde Green, W. M. Mumford, LeRoy Malone.

Japan Is Irked At Germany For Race 'Insult'

TOKYO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Japan has added her voice to those raised in protest against Nazi racial discrimination.

The government and the people of Japan, said a foreign office spokesman in discussing the protest, are "highly indignant at Germany's branding us inferior."

Germany's attention has been called, he added, to "the fact that speeches of Nazi leaders and legislation by the German government have specified discriminatory treatment of the Jews, negroes and other colored races—banning mixtures thereof with the German race."

Even in the United States, the spokesman went on, Japanese are not subjected to the same treatment as negroes; yet Germany has linked them in the same category.

The spokesman said the vice minister of the German foreign office had promised careful consideration of the Japanese protest.

Older Men Will Be Used in Work On County Roads

County Commissioner John Haggard received word from Austin this morning authorizing him to continue using older men on the welfare list for light work on county roads not designated as state or federal highways. The telegram said that 75 "man days" more would be allowed.

Through the efforts of Commissioner Haggard and local clubs, permission was received to give older needy men work even before the relief budget was approved. The men started cutting weeds along the roads, cleaning out bar ditches and culverts and doing other useful work.

A time limit was set when the work started but that time has been extended.

Norman Orchestra To Play For Dance

Joe Norman and his popular orchestra will return to Pampa Saturday night to play at a dance at the Pla-Mor auditorium, starting at 9 o'clock. Joe has decided that he can sing as well as direct an orchestra and, according to Pampans who have heard him in action, he is a pretty fair crooner.

The public is invited to hear the orchestra and Joe, especially. No admission will be charged to hear the popular leader and dance tickets will be only 5 cents. A big time is assured everyone by the Pla-Mor.

While turning through copies of the Petroleum Engineer magazine at the public library, Mrs. Jim Stroup found a picture of her husband. It was an old photo, taken about 1911, showing Mr. Stroup with a drilling crew in Burma. In another section, she found a later picture of scenes in South America well known to her. She and Mr. Stroup were in South America for several years. He is now an employee of the Phillips Petroleum company.

Looking Backward.
The Dallas News reminds us that had our government been regarded as we regard Russia, "the United States would not have been recognized, for it would not and could not pay debts and it did try to spread democratic theories among the monarchies of Europe, much to their consternation." But, say many persons, recognition would bolster communism and menace our own form of government. We doubt it. We know of nothing which will modify Russia's government more quickly than contact with other governments commercially and diplomatically. Isolation and persecution are bulwarks of radical movements and governments. True, Russia uses propaganda and may continue to do so; why cannot we retaliate in kind? If, as we believe, we have the best form of government, why not be friendly with the Russians and try to convince them? And as to their Godlessness, isn't neighborliness the first instrument of Christian evangelism? Russia is "wide open" for dissemination of true religion, being interested in what the world is doing and thinking but being denied—both by the Soviet Union and through the contempt of Uncle Sam—a presentation of the true status of world finance, government, and religion.

Trade Relations.
Russia, according to M. Litvinoff, commissar of foreign affairs, is ready to spend 5 billions in the United States in the next five years, if credit terms can be arranged. But recognition must precede credit. Russia needs metals, textiles, rubber, machinery, railroad equipment, agricultural products, ships, and miscellaneous merchandise. She has 160,000,000 inhabitants. Russians admire American-made products and are "starved" for our well-advertised merchandise. . . . If we force Russia to be self-sufficient in manufacturing, we will have lost a potential customer of great importance. The Soviet Union is paying its recent debts scrupulously. Some comparisons. We as Americans have not liked modern Russia. We have not understood the U. S. S. R., nor do the Russians understand us. But, for that matter, we are not on very good terms with the Japanese. There is much about the attitude and program of Mussolini that we do not like. Most Americans are out of sympathy with the radicalism of Hitler. The French and their ideas of Uncle Sam Shylock are not to our liking. We may yet be aligned with Russia in a war involving Japan. We do not know. Much of our pre-world war preparedness was based on jingoism with Japan as the villain. But it was Germany we fought. Predictions are never certain. . . . It is virtually certain that Uncle Sam is going to recognize Russia within the next five years. Postponement costs us business and complicates the world diplomacy which already is eddying and swirling in giddy fashion. . . .

And if we recognize Russia eventually, now is as good a time as any to consider the practical problems, results, and things to be gained and lost by extending that relatively simple but enormously important state relation. We as a nation can-

JOHN GARNER PLEASED WITH TEXAS 'VISIT'

MOST EXTENSIVE TRIP IN STATE MADE BY VICE-PRESIDENT

BY R. W. BARRY.

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (P)—John Nance Garner, vice president of the United States, was flying today toward his Uvalde home, taking with him a party of democratic notables. Ringing in his ears were cheers that had been given him on the most extensive trip he ever has made in his state. With him was James A. Farley, postmaster general of the United States, and others high in the country's affairs.

Garner remarked that he never had traveled in Texas much, and "that is something I'm sorry I'm ashamed of."

As he started home to play host to the Farley party he had turned from "Cactus Jack" to "Happy Jack." It was apparent he was immensely pleased with his experience of showing himself to Texans who had never had an opportunity to snatch a glimpse of him.

Garner and Farley were given two rousing receptions last night, a United States senator, 12 of the state's congressmen, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, hundreds of democrats and thousands of just plain citizens turning out to pay their respects.

A hotel banquet was attended by hundreds and later at the state fair of Texas visitors listened while the distinguished guests talked from a platform in the center of a great bowl.

The Garner-Farley party will stop in San Antonio, site of two of the army's greatest military plants—Fort Sam Houston and Randolph Field—to receive honors from democrats there. Thence to Garner's home town for a stay and then to the ranch of R. W. Morrison, far in the brush and cactus country of Southwest Texas for an overnight rest.

Auto Plant Strikers Demand Union Recognition

More than 10,000 striking die and tool makers and their supporters massed in Clark Park, Detroit, to hear their leaders demand recognition of their organization under the NRA. The strike, in Detroit automobile plants, has extended also to Flint and Pontiac motor factories. The throng is shown above, listening to a speech coming to the auditors through amplifiers.

U. S. MAY RECOGNIZE RUSSIA, AND REDS MAY JOIN LEAGUE

Actions of Germany And Of Japan May Be a Deciding Factor in Relations.

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY.

GENTVA, Oct. 20 (P)—Reports that the United States is studying the question of recognition of Russia awakened new hopes in international circles here today that the U. S. S. R. may be induced to join the League of Nations.

There have been clear indications, it was recalled, that the league is flirting with Russia and Russia with the league.

Statesmen of the world were impressed with the address of Sir Arthur Henderson of Great Britain before the international peace association several days ago in which he linked the United States with Russia, calling them "partners in that great adventure of organization—peace."

They were struck also by Henderson's noticable tribute to the Soviet Union for its weighty contributions to peace efforts in adhering to the Kellogg pact and in its non-aggression and conciliation treaties. With her eastern neighbor, Japan, resigned from the league and her western neighbor, Germany, potentially abandoning the Geneva conference, international circles are wondering whether the world will not see an evolution in international politics with Moscow marching definitely toward Geneva.

It is believed that France will urge such a step. For years it has been said at Geneva that if the life of the league ever were imperiled the United States would help save it.

In some quarters, it is pointed out that Norman H. Davis of the United States in his declaration of American aims at the disarmament conference, May 22, announced if substantial reduction in armaments was achieved the United States was prepared to contribute in other ways to the organization of peace.

League circles appear confident that Washington, while carefully avoiding political meddling and embroilment in Europe's quarrels, nevertheless will push steadily for the consolidation of peace.

The Montgomery, Ala., cotton market on June 1, 1933, was up 400 points or $20 per bale higher than on the same date in 1932.

A piece of drill pipe struck more than two miles below the earth in an oil well near Carlingo, Cal. Dynamite was used to blow it out.

Beaumont, Cal., banks have started night banking to accommodate workmen on the Los Angeles metropolitan water district tunnel.

IL DUCE SAYS ROOSEVELT IS ALSO DICTATOR

'BROTHERS UNDER THE SKIN', THINKS
MUSSOLINI

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (P)—Politically, Roosevelt and Premier Mussolini are, in the opinion of Il Duce, brothers under the skin, Gilbert T. Hodges declared today.

Hodges, chairman of the board of the advertising federation of America, addressed the advertising club of New York, reporting on a recent conversation he had with Premier Mussolini in Italy.

"The premier asked about our American parliaments," said Hodges, "and I told him they had abdicated in favor of Mr. Roosevelt."

"I told him they apparently were glad to pass the responsibility over to the president."

"Well," replied Premier Mussolini, "doesn't that make Mr. Roosevelt a dictator?"

"I told him that it looked a little that way to me and he appeared to think so, too."

Hodges said the premier was keenly interested in President Roosevelt and the NRA program and wanted to know how it was progressing.

The secret of Il Duce's power, Hodges declared, lay in his intelligent use of advertising.

"He is a natural-born salesman and unequalled as a showman," he continued. "He first perfected his plan and then he utilized every form of advertising to gain the support of the people."

Hodges said that the success of Mussolini's plan gave him "great confidence in the ultimate success of the NRA."

"I believe," he asserted, "that President Roosevelt understands the force and value of intelligent advertising better than any previous president, and that he is selling his plan to the people by the liberal use of every form of advertising."

The Southern Baptist convention has adopted a budget of $605,000 for foreign missions for the current year but estimates its income will not exceed $500,000.

Sky High Gasoline Quality

Photograph of one of the Phillips sky-writers 10,000 feet over the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition. Other Phillips sky-writers performed at the International Air Races, which featured the 100-mile unlimited free-for-all for the $10,000 cash purse and the Frank Phillips Trophy, offered by Frank Phillips, President of Phillips Petroleum Company.

"HIGHEST TEST" AND anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline

EVERY speed and stunt plane at the International Air Races... every passenger plane in the country... fighting planes and private Pullmans of the air... all use high test gasoline!

When you wonder how to get air-plane-engine efficiency out of the motor in your car, remember that "Highest Test" is the distinguishing characteristic of Phillips 66.

Every time you PHILL-UP with PHILLIPS, you get this higher test, plus higher anti-knock, plus CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. This is an unbeatable trio of premium qualities which cost you not a single penny of premium price.

Just one trial tankful will prove that this greater gasoline is different. And you can see this advertisement is unlike others, because we give you definite figures instead of indefinite claims. The figures at the left tell you accurately how high the test is, give you the exact anti-knock rating.

There is real zip and go in every drop of this quality gasoline, extra pep and knockless power. Longer mileage, too. No injurious chemicals to attack cylinder walls. No surplus gum to stick the valves. No excess carbon to foul the plugs.

Every gallon is scientifically pre-adjusted to match the weather when and where you buy it. That is how CONTROLLED VOLATILITY insures full power and mileage despite any changes in climate.

Because Phillips always gives exceptional value, sales of Phillips 66 products in the last twelve months averaged more than one million four hundred and forty-nine thousand (1,449,000) gallons per day. And these figures are headed steadily upward, as thousands of new customers discover the improvement in performance which proves that it saves money to get gas at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

Two Executed In Oklahoma's Electric Chair

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 20 (P)—A young slayer from the hill country, Ted Patton, paid the extreme penalty with a negro attacker at state's prison here early today.

Patton, who killed his 19-year-old boyhood chum, Robert Hall, died in the electric chair five minutes after the shouting negro, Charles

Dumas, had been pronounced dead. "There's the chair," he said, half to himself, half to Warden Sam Brown. "If the same thing was to do over again, I'd have to do just what I did."

The 25-year-old Sallisaw youth claimed he killed Hall in self defense in a fight after Wall had made improper advances toward a girl. But the state said young Wall was shot to death for his car and money in April of 1932.

Dumas, condemned for attacking a young white girl near Atoka, shouted to more than 100 officers and witnesses: "I feel fine; I'm ready to go. I got nothing against nobody."

TO POLLEYS, A SON

Seven-Four Boy Born to Manager Of Murfee's Inc. and Mrs. Polley Today

"New," said H. L. Polley this morning, "I've got to get down to work." That was after he had, with characteristic fatherly pride, announced the birth of a 7-pound son at Pampa hospital. Mrs. Polley and baby, named John Dowdle, are doing well.

"Where I'm a-going," there's no white side and no black side," he added, shaking hands all around.

WEEK'S READING MENU GIVEN BY LIBRARIAN—WIDE CHOICE

Suggested reading for adults who like thoughtful works is suggested by Mrs. James Todd Jr. for this week.

Her literary "menu" follows:

FICTION

TWENTY YEARS A GROWING, by Maurice O'Sullivan. Written by a young Dublin policeman, the story of his boyhood on the Blasket Islands off the coast of Ireland. Read this book; it will live and will help you to live also.

TRAVELLER'S LIBRARY, collected by W. Somerset Maugham. A remarkable omnibus of over 1,700 pages containing the best recent writings of Englishmen, numerous short stories poems and essays, an ideal book.

LITTLE MAN WHAT NOW?, by Hans Fallada. A poignant story of a young married couple in Germany, and their struggle to survive.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY

OUT OF MY LIFE & THOUGHT, by Albert Schweitzer. Throughout the book we come face to face with the wonderful life of Schweitzer, and realize that the essential element in life is Christianity.

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF ALICE B. TOKLAS, by Gertrude Stein. She did not want to tell her story in first person, so chose to let her book appear to be about her friend. Her book will long be read and considered a classical work.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF ANDREW CARNEGIE, material collected and compiled by Professor John O. Van Dyke. This book is a very memorable record written in Mr. Carnegie's own words and buoyant style. The coming generation will appreciate it more fully than we of today. The book portrays his great inspirations, his distributions of wealth, his passion for world peace, and his love for mankind.

PSYCHOLOGY

SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY, by Kimball Young. The reader will find this volume rich in descriptive illustrative materials, much of it drawn from contemporary life. There is no better way to reveal the mechanism of personality than to observe it in its present social milieu.

ANALYZING CHARACTER, by Katherine M. H. Blackford, M.D. Ignorance and lack of definite purpose, are the two prime causes of misfits in life. Blackford's book on character analysis is an aid to man in his striving toward perfection and happiness. A book that every one should read, then take their place in life accordingly.

COMING OF AGE IN SAMOA, by Margaret Mead. This book is a psychological study of primitive youth for western civilization. The book shows the adolescent age is not necessarily a time of stress and strain, but that cultural conditions make it so. It is a book from which we can draw conclusions which might bear fruit in the training of our adolescents.

ECONOMICS

THE CRISIS OF CAPITALISM IN AMERICA, by M. J. Bonn. Professor Bonn is a German economist of high rank who has intimate knowledge of American life and institutions, having spent several years here as a lecturer and exchange professor. The book deals not only with the economic depression but with the crisis of private Capitalism in America.

LITERATURE

THE LIBERATION OF AMERICAN LITERATURE, by V. F. Calverton. In a sense, this book is as much a study of American culture as it

Radio Waves From Stars Picked Up

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Radio waves which have been travelling through space for 40,000 years, apparently from distant stars, are picked up with an antenna shown here by Karl G. Jansky of the Bell laboratories.

The waves are electro-magnetic undulations about 50 feet long. On a radio set tuned to 14.6 meters they register as a faint, sizzling sound.

For more than a year Jansky has been picking up these celestial signals. Their uninterrupted buzz suggests that they are not calls from intelligent beings somewhere else in the universe.

They appear to be a newly discovered type of radiation from stars. Jansky suggests they may originate in the extreme turbulence of stars much younger than the sun.

Like a wind which never varies, they come the year round from the same fixed point in space. This source is the massive center of the milky way, 40,000 light years from earth.

It is possible, Jansky told the New York electrical society and the amateur astronomers association last night, that the waves picked up on his receiver are the radiations directly from these distant stars. It is also possible, he said, that the waves may be only secondary rays set up in the earth's own atmosphere when the star rays strike the electrified, or ionized, layers of air from 150 to 300 miles overhead.

Auto Accident
Death Rate Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—A rising death rate from automobile accidents in Dallas and Houston, and a sharp downward trend in El Paso, are noted in a current report by the bureau of the census.

For the four weeks ending Sept. 30 five deaths were reported from Dallas, one more than for the same period of the previous year; in Houston the figures were six as against five for the 1932 period. El Paso, on the other hand, reported only one death, while in the same

TRIAL NEAR END
Lubbock, Oct. 20 (AP)—Evidence in the trial of Vert A. Readlimer, 27, for the slaying of Stokes Campbell, a Floydada high school senior, probably will be completed this afternoon. Arguments are scheduled Friday morning. John Eudy, 17, Campbell's companion at the time of the slaying, testified Campbell was calling for help and had his hands in the air when the elder Readlimer began shooting.

Garner Worried
Over Pecan Rust

UVALDE, Oct. 20 (AP)—The telephone rings and telegrams pour in to Uvalde at all hours, but the problem that is worrying Vice President John Garner is that rust has developed on his own patented humble pecans this year. The nuts have lost the gloss which made them winners in many pecan shows throughout the southwest last year.

With the fingers stained from hulling the first of his 1933 crop, Mr. Garner is spending a lot of time trying to discover what could have caused the blight to his pecans in such a dry summer. "Pecan trees," he says, "should get their maximum watering in the winter months—December, January and February. Then it is that their roots do their best growing and get ready to supply the food for the leaf and fruit growth that is required during the summer."

B. M. Hampton of Newport Rich ey, Fla., published his first book of poems and celebrated his ninety-second birthday about the same time.

Trust To a Woman's Judgment!

When it comes to foods she seldom makes a mistake. She knows quality and she knows value. She knows where to get the most for her money and she gets it. That is why so many housewives trade at our stores every day. That's why, this week, we particularly invite to visit our stores these women who have yet to learn how good and yet how reasonably priced are the foods sold here. We know that when they do learn these things, their judgment will bring them back as regular customers.

FOUR HARVESTER REGULARS TO BE OUT OF GAME TOMORROW WITH INJURIES

BOYS WILL BE OUTWEIGHED 8 POUNDS EACH

TWO BACKFIELDS WILL BE ABOUT EQUAL IN WEIGHT

A howling pack of Lobos descended on Pampa today as Coach Dexter Shelly brought his Cisco football team to town. He had his big pack on leash and had a hard time restraining them. They were howling to get at the Harvesters at Harvester park at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Admission will be 50 cents.

The Lobos will outweigh the Harvesters eight pounds to the man and will send a first string against a patched lineup that will see four Pampa regulars on the sidelines.

Ray Eldridge, letterman guard, will not start the game because of injuries received in Shawnee last week. Bert Stevens, flashy little halfback, will also be out of the game as the result of a bad cut on the scalp, suffered when he collided with Lloyd Hamilton in the Shawnee game. Leslie Sartin, mid-guard halfback, injured his knee in scrimmage Wednesday and will probably be out of the game. Big Miles Marbaugh, fullback, will be the other regular on the sideline. He injured a shoulder in scrimmage Wednesday.

Bill Haner will be started in place of Eldridge and Bill Dunaway will replace Stevens. Harold Gregory will get the call at the other halfback position and Orville Heiskell will start at fullback. Captain Jess Patton and Monroe Owens will be at end positions and J. R. Green and Hazel Mackie will be the tackles. Robert McAuley will be the other starting guard. Roscoe Pinnell will be at center. Lloyd Hamilton will call the signals and carry the power. The Harvester backfield will average only 143 pounds to the man.

The green and gold will be outweighed eight pounds to the man but the charging ability of the team has shown this year should offset the difference in weight. Every man on the Harvester squad has been charging hard in past games, with improved timing.

Dunaway will probably do the passing in place of Marbaugh. He is better on short passes than the elongated fullback who specializes in long heaves. Gregory and Dunaway will divide the punting duties with Gregory probably getting the first call.

Cisco will have two players weighing 180 pounds, one at 190 pounds and two 155-pounders in the line. The biggest man in the backfield will weigh 160 pounds and the smallest 135 pounds, which makes the two backfields nearly even in averduis.

Both elevens will be fighting for a second win of the season. Cisco has one win and three losses while the Harvesters have one win, one tie and two losses. The Harvesters were favorites up to Wednesday when their stock dropped because of injuries. Cisco now has the edge on the odds.

METEORS THAT HONK

KANSAS CITY (AP)—For a half hour, the Sun-Treaders club, an amateur astronomy group, stood atop an apartment hotel counting what they thought a shower of orionids.

Then one of the "orionids" honked. Mixed in the count with the celestial shower were wild ducks, their wings made luminous by city lights.

HARVESTERS HANDICAPPED BY INJURIES FOR CISCO GAME

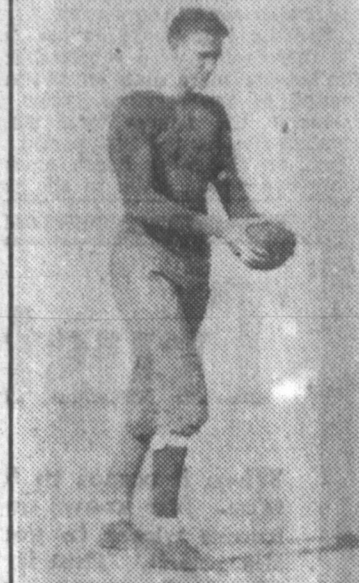

STEVENS

MARBAUGH

Four Harvesters will be sitting on the sidelines tomorrow afternoon when the Cisco Lobos meet the Harvesters. Big Miles Marbaugh, fullback, will be nursing an injured shoulder that will probably keep him out of the game. Bert Stevens, halfback, will be on the bench with a bad cut on his head. Bill Dunaway will be in the starting backfield in place of Stevens. He is a good punter and passer. Roscoe Pinnell, Hopkins boy, will perform the center duties, while

Orville Heiskell goes to fullback. Pinnell has proved powerful on defense this year and is also improving offensively.

MICHIGAN AND OHIO STATE IN FEATURE GAME

BIG TEN TITLE MAY DEPEND ON RESULT

BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—On the theory that one man's guess is as good as another's, here's the way the outstanding games on the week-end football schedule look in advance:

Michigan-Ohio State—Michigan piled up 60 points against Michigan State and Cornell; Ohio State 95 on Virginia and Vanderbilt. The Big Ten title may rest on the result, making it tough for both teams as well as the prognosticators. Stringing along with the champions, a timid vote for Michigan.

Army-Illinois—A young fellow named Les Lindberg may turn this intersectional duel into an Illinois victory. The highest Army team in years has not faced a major foe yet while Illinois spilled Wisconsin last week.

Pitt-Minnesota—A vote for Pitt's rampaging Panthers but only after a terrific struggle with one of the Big Ten's most powerful elevens.

Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech.—Howard Harper has primed Carnegie for this game, building his hopes on a sturdy line and clever passing attack. Notre Dame, unimpressive in its first two games, will need to show improvement or take a beating.

Princeton-Columbia—Two of the East's major powers collide here with Columbia's experience perhaps more than offset by the Tigers' man power.

Alabama-Tennessee—Some southern critics have labeled Alabama a "perfect team" and this coupled with Tennessee's defeat by Duke last week, inspires a hesitant ballot for the Crimson Tide.

Fordham-Boston College—Boston College usually is one of the East's finest defensive outfits but this looks like the spot for Fordham to avenge last week's 3-0 defeat.

Southern California-Oregon State—There's nothing to do here but to trail along with Southern California's men of Troy.

Yale-Brown—A pair of strong defensive teams, neither of which has shown much scoring power so far. If there's an edge at all, it seems to belong to Brown although the Bruins apparently are not as formidable as a year ago.

Kansas State-Nebraska—This one may decide the Big Six championship and Nebraska is the indicated choice.

Chicago-Purdue—Chicago has made a come-back under Clark Shughnessy but it's doubtful whether the Maroons are ready for Purdue yet.

Iowa-Wisconsin—This one should determine whether Iowa's victory over Northwestern was a real sign that the Hawkeyes are about to regain their former standing in the Big Ten.

Texas Christian-Texas A. & M.—Looks like this might be the year Texas A. & M. can overcome the Horned Frogs' jinx.

Northwestern-Indiana—Northwestern should follow last week's "moral victory" over Stanford with an actual one over Indiana.

Georgia Tech-Tulane—A "basketball" score may come out of this one and, at considerable risk, let's take a chance on Georgia Tech.

Clemson-Texas—The Gentlemen from Shreveport have been tough on Southwest conference teams for several years, explaining this vote for Centenary.

Southern Methodist-Oklahoma A. & M.—Out of the hat, a ballot for the Mustangs.

MITCHELL WILL SEE LUBBOCK, BORGER AND PLAINVIEW PLAY

Plainview Game With Pampa May Be Played Here; Bulldogs Rated Strong.

Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters drove to Hale Center this morning and planned to see the Plainview high school football team in action this afternoon. The trip was made especially to visit his mother, who is ill at her home in Hale Center.

The coach planned to leave Plainview after the game this afternoon and drive to Borger, where the Lubbock Westerners and the Borger Bulldogs play tonight at 8 o'clock. Borger is hoped to give Lubbock a stiff battle.

Plainview is really feared by Pampa coaches. The Bulldogs have lost only one game this season and it to Amarillo. The team has scored 134 points in three games, which shows plenty of power. The eleven is the biggest in the conference and is coached by two of the best known mentors in the state. Plainview downed Borger 28 to 0 last week and Borger is not being taken lightly.

There is a chance that the game with Plainview will be transferred to Pampa. The decision was to be

Oklahomans Pray Before Each Game

Smooth Tires Are Dangerous in Winter Season

Smooth tires and slippery pavements are a combination that causes a great majority of automobile accidents in the fall and winter season.

In case of emergencies requiring a quick stop, automobiles with smooth tires will skid considerably farther than those equipped with new tires with sharp road-gripping tread.

There is also the ever-present danger of side slipping when brakes are applied to wheels equipped with smooth tires. This driving hazard is practically eliminated with new tires.

Then there is the inconvenience of tire changes in cold or rainy weather—always a strong possibility with worn tires. This inconvenience is best insured against with new tires.

The fact that the wear is much slower in cold or wet weather than in summer makes it possible to enjoy the safety of new tires throughout the winter when weather is most severe and at the same time have tires almost like new for the following summer.

Prices, too, are still lower on most sizes than they were a year ago and there is every indication that prices will be higher next spring.

Three-fourths of the nation's forest area is east of the Rockies.

HORNED FROGS AND AGGIES IN CRUCIAL GAME

FARMERS CONFIDENT OF SMASHING JINX OF 8 YEARS

BY BILL PARKER.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

The undefeated and fighting Aggies of Texas A. & M. and the champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs have their touchdown guns loaded and will "shoot the works" Saturday in the lone Southwest conference championship game.

It will be homecoming for the Frogs. It will be featured by the annual football trip for the thousands of A. & M. cadets. It will have all the crucial setting necessary, and the game is expected to draw a capacity crowd of 20,000 people.

All Southwest conference members will play Saturday. At least three of the combats looms as colorful toss-up affairs, but for the keenest of interest and competition the Aggies and Frogs get the nod.

The University of Texas plays Centenary college at San Antonio where 10,000 people are expected to attend. Southern Methodist meets Oklahoma A. & M. in the final big game at the Texas State fair stadium where attendance is expected to hover around 10,000.

The undefeated University of Arkansas Razorbacks go to Shreveport to battle the powerful Louisiana State eleven. The Rice Institute Owls are en route to Omaha, Neb., to play Creighton. Coach Morley Jennings' Baylor Bears remain at Waco to entertain Simmons university.

Having been under the spell of a "Frog jinx" the last eight years in which they have scored only three touchdowns, the Aggies are confident of marching off the field Saturday with a victory over the Frogs. The Aggies haven't scored on the Frogs the last three years. Texas Christian doesn't boast the powerful championship team that swept through an undefeated 1932 season but there's still T. N. T. touchdown punch behind the Christians versatile attack. Texas Christian's defense must stop French Domingue, galloping halfback and leading conference scorer with 39 points. The Aggies must stop Charlie Casper, the Frogs leading scorer, and a threat every minute he is in the game.

The University of Texas Longhorns face a Tartar in Centenary, who won last year, 13 to 6. The Longhorns, in their last two games, lost to Nebraska, 26 to 0, and Oklahoma University, 9 to 0. They are hoped to suffer their third straight defeat when they meet Centenary.

The Centenary crew left Shreveport Thursday night, 30 strong, for San Antonio.

Southern Methodist's battle against Oklahoma A. & M. will mean another substantial test for Coach Morrison's sophomore team. The Mustangs opened their conference campaign last week with a 13 to 7 decision over Rice. The victory instilled plenty of confidence in the youngsters who like to fill the air with passes. Robert Wilson, the Mustangs' slippery halfback and leading scorer, is in perfect condition for the Oklahomaans.

The Rice Owls whipped Creighton last year, 41 to 7, but expect a tougher game this season. Baylor doesn't expect trouble taking the Simmons Cowboys.

Uzcudun Given No Chance In Carnera Bout

ROME, Oct. 20 (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun is conceded little or no chance of beating Primo Carnera in their heavyweight title fight here Sunday, but the Basque and his managers, outwardly at least, are unperturbed.

Paulino and his handlers insist that Uzcudun is a good financial risk and state their opinion that the veteran Spaniard will wear "da Freeman" down to his own size in the first ten rounds and then wallop him over the last five, perhaps even knock him out.

The wish seems father of the thought in this connection and Primo faces the issue confidently. He boxed ten rounds with Harold Mays of Bayonne, N. J., and Arthur Huttick of New York at Sequals yesterday and did some road work as well. Paulino, at Rome, worked six rounds against a pair of sparring mates and wound up with rope-skipping and calisthenics.

Carnera was to wind up training today and make the trip to Rome by airplane Saturday.

Uzcudun doesn't expect trouble taking the Simmons Cowboys.

WEST TEXANS STILL LIKE SAME TYPE OF MELODRAMA THAT WAS POPULAR HALF A CENTURY AGO

SWEETWATER, Oct. 20. (AP)—The same type of melodrama which was popular half a century ago, when "villains were villainous and heroines pure," still is packing them in for Harley Sadler, whose big tent theater has become an institution in West Texas.

Modern opera may be staging a comeback and ultra-modern drama may be equally as popular on Broadway, but to the West Texas show man, who did a million dollars worth of business during his first few years under a tent, they don't mean a thing. To Sadler there is no "modern trend," and "human nature then and now, is pretty much the same."

Sadler, it should be understood, is not still playing "The Face on the Bar Room Floor," or any of its contemporaries. His plays are selected from the latest stage hits. But by the time they are offered to the public, any questionable or sexy lines they might have contained originally have been supplanted by the humor of the type associated with red-haired "Toby" characters.

His audiences hiss and boo when the villain "places the blame" on the hero, women scream when the baby is kidnapped or the "scoundrel" makes off with the farmer's daughter, and there is spontaneous applause when the favorite son returns in time to save the homestead from foreclosure.

Sadler's show attracts a motley crowd—day laborers, and bankers, truck drivers and college presidents, oil field roustabouts and ministers. "Many of my customers never see any other theatrical production except those I present," Sadler said. "I am in the show business and want to make money. Reforming is not my objective. But I prefer clean shows and I believe my patrons like them clean."

Motion picture competition, or any other kind, for that matter, has meant little to Sadler. The economic strain of the last three years has reduced his income, but he boasts that he has a better company today than in more prosperous years and, although his prices have been reduced, he plays to few empty seats.

"I have been playing to the same people with my own company for more than a decade," said the sandy-haired comedian. "But I always go back with new plays and better talent than before."

Legion Museum Being Built In State Capital

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—Work is progressing toward the construction and equipment in Texas of an American Legion memorial museum, devoted also to history and natural history. The museum will provide a permanent home for the Texas Legion and its auxiliary.

The proposed institution has been made a possibility by the passage by congress of the Connally-Pattman bill authorizing the U. S. mint to coin for the committee 1,500,000 Texas Centennial silver half dollars. It is proposed by the Legionnaires to sell the half dollars at $1.00 each, the net return of $750,000 for the structure and its equipment which will be handed over to the state of Texas upon its completion, as the American Legion's gift to posterity.

The board of regents of the University of Texas, President H. Y. Benedict, and a special museum committee composed of two regents and one member of the faculty are cooperating with the Legion committee in the endeavor.

The board also officially tendered a site for the museum, its location to be determined later. It is the intention of the leaders in this movement to have the museum ready for service and inspection by the public early in 1936, which year will mark the 100th year of the Independence of Texas.

President Roosevelt tendered the pen which he used in signing the coinage bill as exhibit No. 1 for the museum.

The objects of the museum are to furnish a suitable place to preserve records, relics and discoveries of the past and to house them in such a way as to be useful to students of history.

Meeting Held By Oil Field Workers

A meeting of Pampa local union No. 235 Oil Field, Gas Well, and Refinery Workers was held Thursday evening at the court house. The meeting was called to order by the temporary president. An interesting talk for the good of the order was given by one of the members. Election of officers was gone through and those elected were given a rousing vote and reception.

There were references made relative to the other various unions springing up over the city and their

GALLANT SIR RACES TODAY

Inaugural Handicap At Arlington Downs Pays $46 For a $2 Ticket.

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Oct. 20. (AP)—Beautiful Arlington Downs, having proudly held its legalized pari-mutuel system inaugural yesterday, settled down today to the remaining twenty days of racing with satisfaction that yesterday's estimated crowd of fifteen thousand people like their horses fast and their finishes close.

Today featured the appearance of Gallant Sir, one of the nation's finest thoroughbreds. Gallant Sir was listed for an exhibition gallop between the fourth and fifth races. Yesterday it was Gay World, the recent winner of the Chicago derby, that galloped in an exhibition.

With promise of clear weather and a fast track, seven races, each for six hundred dollars, were expected to thrill another banner crowd.

The fifth race for three-year-olds and up over a distance of one and one-eighth mile was on the feature spot with Scimitar favored.

Scimitar is a nine-year-old campaigner who is now a stake horse. He is owned by H. O. Mikel and has been claimed four times but each time Mikel reclaims him.

The rich inaugural handicap yesterday was won by Bender First who rewarded his supporters with the biggest prize of the day. Under the pari-mutuel system he paid $46.20 for a $2 ticket, $4.60 to place and $7.50 to run third. Bender First, a field horse, was in a contending position from the outset. He put on a driving finish to beat Tina Contant and W. T. Waggoner's money getter, the two favorites. Bender First paid his owner a grand total of $1,410.

The first race under the legalized pari-mutuel system yesterday saw Altmark, a hot favorite, win with ease over six furlongs. The race on, it was a day of thrills and new experience for thousands of Texans who at first did not understand the betting system but soon learned through explanatory loud speakers. The $50 straight window got little play but the three-way combination window and the "place and show" windows were crowded throughout the seven races.

Brady Seen By The Only Man Who Knew Him

AMARILLO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Criminals make mistakes even while trying to be careful, which accounts for Bob "Big Boy" Brady, one of the life-termers who recently escaped from the Kansas penitentiary, being in a Tucuman, N. M., hospital under police guard.

Brady was arrested on information furnished by Amarillo officers, and the local police were tipped by a man "who knew him when."

The outlaw approached Amarillo with an empty gasoline tank. It is the theory of officers that he had driven from Frederick, Okla., where a bank was robbed earlier in the day. Bank officials have identified him. He probably approached from the east or southeast, but he drove half way around the city and stopped at a filling station on the western edge of the town to avoid officers.

Working at the filling station was, perhaps, the only man in Amarillo who would have recognized Brady. The attendant was living in Liberal, Kansas, when Brady received his life sentence as a habitual criminal.

relation to each other. An apprentice system was discussed and will be put on an operating basis as soon as practicable. A vote of thanks was extended to the various county officials for their co-operation in the movement. Divisional meetings were discussed and will be gone into further on next meeting. This was the best meeting so far and the union expects every member to meet at the same place next Thursday at 8 p. m. At the request of the local NRA compliance board another member was appointed to represent labor in the field on this particular committee.—Reporter.

Radical Group May Break With President Grau

HAVANA, Oct. 20. (AP)—Threats of a new crisis faced the troubled regime of President Ramon Grau San Martin today.

They loomed in the prospect of an impending break away by the militant and powerful ABC radical society—one of Grau's strongest supporting arms when he took up the reins after the overthrow of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

They were intensified by reports of unrest bred of labor difficulties throughout the island, the spread of 84 of malaria cases in the city of Havana, trouble concerning the imprisonment of officers captured in the national hotel battle.

The ABC (not to be confused with the ABC student organization of which it is an offshoot) is disgusted with the government's proceedings," said Armanda Rodas, leader.

"It lent its support disinterestedly and got nothing from the participation. Now it is withdrawing." Even after this, however, efforts were continued to patch up differences.

Meanwhile, further emphasizing the government's difficulties, a spokesman for the nationalist announced they refused "all participation and responsibility in this government."

Library Board Orders Books For Winter Reading

An order for about 85 of the best current books of fiction, economics, science, and other subjects was recommended to the city commission yesterday afternoon by the library board.

Members of the board attending the meeting were Mrs. C. P. Buckler, president; Mrs. B. E. Finley, Mrs. A. A. Hyde, A. M. Teed, and Olin E. Hinkle.

The books will average $2 each in cost. The number of adult patrons is steadily growing. The library will be closed at 1 p. m. on Saturdays in the future.

Clear Up, Like New, By Taking Black-Draught

"I have used Black-Draught off and on for about three years," writes Mrs. Maud Van Deusen, of Collinsville, Okla. "I have had dizzy spells and bad taste in my mouth. My complexion would get muddy, and I would be 'all down and out.' In such cases, I take a dose of Black-Draught every other night for about a week and it seems to clear me up and make me feel better in every way."
