Higher Gasoline Taxes Notion Refuses To Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton said today that the Ford administration may go along with an increase in the gasoline tax in an effort to reduce fuel consumption.

"It could be part of a package," of energy legislation being considered by the White House, Morton said.

ECONOMY SAGGING

Interviewed on NBC's "Today" show, Morton said the tax increase could be used to pump money back into the sagging economy.

But one of the problems to be considered, he said, is: "How do you get the tax money back into the economy in an equitable fashion?"

"I think we have to look at the other alternatives first," he added.

Although President Ford has condemned it to death, the notion of a fuel-saving gasoline tax refuses to die.

With many of the President's top energy officials still talking up the gasoline tax, Ford may yet find the proposal among their forthcoming recommendations. The officials suggest that when he sees their other proposals, Ford may decide the gasoline tax isn't so bad after all.

Ford has ordered his administration to bring about a reduction of one million barrels a day in the nation's oil consumption by the end of 1975, preferably by voluntary cooperation.

TAX CREDITS

But the White House acknowledged a few days ago that voluntary efforts were proving inadequate.

The administration, heading for cabinet-level energy policy talks at Camp David next Saturday, is known to be considering such moves as mandatory automobile mileage standards; tax credits for purchasers of economical cars or, conversely, weight and horsepower taxes; import restrictions; fuel allocations and as a last resort, gasoline rationing.

Morton and others who favor the alternative of a high gasoline tax argue that it would be a less painful way to cut down fuel consumption.

It might not even cost a careful driver any extra money.

THAT CHRISTMASY EFFECT — Yule decorations downtown took on a little more seasonal look this morning when fast-melting snow fell in the area. A total of .06 of moisture was measured prior to 8 a.m., and quite a bit of rain and snow fell after that hour. Last night's low as 26 degrees. Early risers said the snow started about 4 a.m.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President may have to allocate steel and shipyard space to the construction of offshore oildrilling rigs, says Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton. Morton's warning was matched by E. Douglas Kenna, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who predicted that energy developers and other industries face a fierce competition for available investment capital. The dual warnings of a coming contest for money and materials emerged during the first day of public hearings in preparation for Ford administration energy policy proposals.

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)- In a takeoff on the Boston Tea Party, a band of New Hampshire residents has dumped make-believe sugar into the Merrimack River in a "sugar party" protesting the high price of the sweetener. About 20 persons, many of them elderly, took part in the opening move of what the sponsoring New Hampshire Community Action Program Directors Association said would be a boycott of sugar. The make-believe sugar, actually sawdust, was dumped into the Merrimack from a bridge. "We couldn't afford to dump sugar in there," said Richard E. Kelley, association president.

Compromise Over Joint Tax Appraisal Office Looming

By JOHN EDWARDS

A compromise over establishment of a joint tax appraisal office was born in a heated meeting of city, county, school and college officials Monday afternoon, it appeared.

Although only one of the governing boards, county commissioners court, was fully represented at the meeting, those present did seem willing to let Howard College pay the salaries of appraisal office workers with funds from all four agencies.

Whether the commissioners court would agree to appointment of non-elected officials to the appraisal office board was not clear, though. Governing boards will consider terms of the proposed contract and will meet together Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 2 p.m. again in commissioners courtroom.

D. A. Brazel, who chaired the committee which submitted the first joint tax office contract proposal, started by telling of his experience mediating in labor-management disputes.

The county proposal that two county officials serve while other governments have only one each "imples that you're not as intelligent as these other agencies."

"The city is willing to withdraw as the contractor . . ." Brazel said. "In the interest of harmony, we're not willing to become prostituted and submit to you."

Brazel claimed the city was willing to accept Howard College or the Big Spring school system as the agency paying salaries with combined funds.

Each governing body should be permitted to name either an elected or non-elected delegate to the tax appraisal administration board, Brazel claimed.

During the last board of equalization hearings, Brazel said members of "this commission" said "you're running for office and not about to change the tax structure in this county."

Brazel had identified himself as spokesman for the city, public schools and college, but two others said he was not.

Eddie Acri, mayor pro tem, said "his good friend" Brazel did not speak for him. "Who gave him authority to speak? I don't know."

"I am speaking for the city because I was on that (tax appraisal) committee," Brazel replied.

Later, Harold Davis, a college trustee, said: "As far as I know, we haven't requested anyone to represent us at this meeting."

Acri told commissioners court: "I would support the contract you proposed, except for that one stipulation that you have two people and not one."

Acri presented the court with a written memo labelled from the city manager to the council. In this memo, objections to the county's proposal were listed, Acri said.

"This memo is against almost everything in there," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said.

"It's my understanding both of your people (on the committee) voted in favor of" the first contract proposed, Mayor Wade Choate said, referring to Commissioners Jack Buchanan and Bill Crooker.

Commissioners court, sitting as a body, rejected the first proposal, the audience was reminded.

"How would this school district feel if Coahoma came up and interfered with their taxes in any way," Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas said. He was comparing this to the City of Big Spring appraising tax values in rural areas.

After arguments over this analogy subsided, Councilman Harold Hall turned to the issue of elected or non-elected officials serving on the joint board. "We're political and we're subject to political pressure," Hall said.

"You're got the guts to carry the load and the heat" connected with political office, County Judge A. G. Mitchell said. "if you don't, get out of it."

"You later need to be able to keep the heat off this board," Hall said, later.

"This man right here (pointing to Robert Massengale, city finance director) is more qualified than all five of our people" on city council, Hall said later.

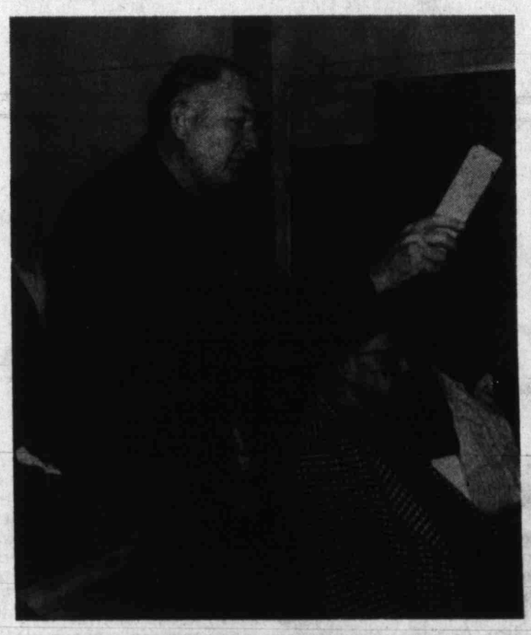

Hall said the non-elected officials are "experienced, they're professionals they're trained" in taxes.

The city plan gets "away from the voice of the people," Terrazas said.

"You've got no voice on it at all" now, Hall countered. He spoke of Southwestern Appraisal, the firm which will be setting tax values here until Dec. 31.

The government bodies have yet to work out a plan which suits everyone.

BUCKING NATIONAL TREND

No One Here Singing Blues Over Business

By TROY BRYANT

Texas is enjoying substantially better times than the rest of the nation in the present recession and Big Spring is experiencing substantially better times than the rest of Texas, according to the latest unemployment figures and other key indicators.

Unemployment in Big Spring edged up to 0.9 per cent from 0.8 per cent a year ago while the Texas jobless rate jumped up slightly from 3.8 per cent a year ago to 3.9 per cent for October. Nationwide, the unemployment rate is over six per cent.

The trend follows the typical Texas reaction to the national economy in that it may not boom as much as other parts of the nation, but in recession, it does not recede so much either.

Other indicators show that retail sales, bank deposits, and building is booming in Big Spring, and that new car sales are holding their own as compared to recent years.

FEWER JOBLESS

The Big Spring unemployment rates are better than surrounding cities, as Midland-Odessa showed an increase from 2.3 per cent to 2.6 per cent in the past year; Abilene showed a decrease from 2.2 to 1.9 per cent in the past year; Lubbock had an increase from 2.0 to 2.1 per cent in the past year and San Angelo showed a decrease from 2.8 to 2.4 in the past year.

Other areas of the state show as much as a 14.8 per cent unemployment rate in Laredo, a 10 per cent unemployment figure in the McAllen-Pharr-Edinburg area and 7.5 per cent in Texarkana. Fort Worth and El Paso jobless rates were about 5.4 per cent.

One reason that Big Spring and Texas has not been as hard-hit as other parts of the nation is that the industries which have been having the most trouble recently are not located in Texas or Big Spring.

The auto industry is one of the major sufferers in the recession as new car production is down from 8,936,631 units made from Jan. 1 to Nov. 23, 1973, to 6,871,151 units made from Jan. 1 to Nov. 23, 1974.

CAR SALES UP

New car sales in Big Spring, however, are not hurting as much as in the rest of the nation, and in most cases, business is even better than it was last year. New car sales dropped from 240 for the month of November, 1973, to 190 for the month of November, 1974, but the bulk of the difference coincided with a bumper cotton crop in 1973 which caused a rash of new car buying. The 1974 new car sales are slightly better than 1972 figures.

Those small, economical cars are the hardest hit among new car sales in Big Spring, with the luxury type cars enjoying their best year ever. One new car dealer, who handles all types of cars from the smallest to the largest, reported that the larger and more expensive the car, the better they are selling.

Another dealer, who handles only small imported cars, saw his sales drop from 15 units in November, 1973 to only one car sold this November. Fortunately, that dealer also sells used cars, which are selling well.

Of all the dealers polled in Big Spring, only Quality Volkswagen refused to reveal its sales figures.

BUILDING BOOMS

The construction and guilding industry, suffering serious declines in other parts of the nation, is enjoying a substantial boom in Big Spring.

According to city records, building permits increased 172 per cent for the first eleven months of 1974 over 1973. A total of $3,029,847 in construction took place in the first eleven months of 1973, increasing to $8,243,855 for the same period in 1974.

Portions of construction on the $7 million hospital were issued permits during the first eleven months of 1974, but the bulk on the increase came about by an increase in home building.

SALES, DEPOSITS UP

Bank deposits with the four Howard County banks showed an increase in total resources by more than 22 per cent form $82,552,007 on Oct. 15, 1973 to $101,432,178 on Oct. 17, 1974 and deposits increased by 23 per cent from over $74 million to over $91.5 million.

Retail sales took a jump of approximately 24 per cent about $15.6 million in retail sales took place in April, May and June of 1974 as compared to $12.7 million during the same period in 1973.

The figures are estimated from gross city sales tax figures released by the City of Big Spring.

The only discouraging aspect of Big Spring economy is the much publicized fact that the nation is in financial trouble, causing some buyers to hesitate about making that new car purchase or about buying a new home or a new washing machine. But, as these figures prove, Big Spring is well insulated from other parts of the country and effects of booms or recessions in the nation's economy are delayed and not as substantial as in other parts of the country.

Christmas Cheer sounded more like "bah! Humbug!" today as not a single gift was reported for the traditional fund.

First contribution of $15 came in Monday, but Tuesday found the cupboard bare.

Time for having a part in this is now less than two weeks away, so if you can help, please — please — send in gifts as soon as possible so the Herald can gratefully acknowledge them.

Federal Funds Sought For Scurry Project

The city council approved removal of the traffic light at W. 4th and Douglas, which has been covered for several weeks, when they met in City Hall this morning.

They discussed other traffic problems with the city traffic engineer and agreed to place a yield sign on the south side of Lancaster at 4th to replace the stop sign to allow a flow of traffic. They also approved changes at FM 700 and Goliad and tabled action on possible tests to see whether to remove traffic lights north of the viaduct on the Lamesa Highway.

The council also did away with the city appraisal contract, approved a new contract with changes, changing the contractual agent to Howard College, if they would accept. Council members used the basis of the county contract, but agreed they would only accept a four man board with each governmental unit to select its own member to the board, not bound by an elected official.

The council approved this on first reading with Eddie Acri abstaining and refusing to vote, saying, "I want to wait and see what the county and the college will want to do."

SPECIAL MEET

The council set plans to delete the regular meeting Dec. 24 if possible. They will meet in special session next Tuesday at 2 p.m. with other governmental bodies to discuss the tax contract.

In other action, the city approved Scurry Street all the way to 24th requesting federal funds for paving, but were not clear on whether this could be added to the federal project. It has been approved to 15th Street.

They approved an emergency reading of an ordinance abandoning an alley in Block 6 Coronado Hills addition where a residence is under construction.

The council granted city administrators permission to advertise for bids for 1400 feet of fire hose and awarded the bid approved in the previous meeting subject to early purchase of the fencing for the tennis court to be stored and installed next spring.

AWARDED BID

They awarded a bid on the home at 11th and Abrams to Gerald Harris on a bid of $1750 if it can be moved in 15 days and $2151 if it is moved within 30 days. The purchase price changes for the new owner with the number of days for moving because the city is needing to get into the area to prepare for paving.

Carlisle Robison was named to the Detox Steering Committee, replacing Paul Soldan. A final reading of an ordinance amending the zoning ordinance on property owned by Chrane Motor Co., was approved.

The council also approved the tourism and convention minutes which included details of the college gun show, approval of obtaining 5,000 more bumper stickers and an announcement that Mike Paul of Gamco is designing a children's coloring book on Big Spring.

Harry Nagel, city manger, reported on investigating the possibility of obtaining federal funds for transit project. They are to look into a possible shuttle bus service that might include stops at Webb and Terminal and possibly UTPB. More information will be obtained with a report back to the council.

Nagel also said that at the request of the steering committee, they were to ask for more detail in industrial expense reports.

Acri reported on a recent statewide utilities committee meeting held in Dallas.

All councilmen were present including Mayor Wade Choate, Mrs. Polly Mays, Harold Hall, Charles Tompkins, and Acri.

SEEKS SIXTH TERM — Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley announces in Chicago Monday that he will seek a sixth term as mayor of Chicago. Daley has been mayor of Chicago for over 20 years and is seeking a record sixth term.

Daley Predicts 'Great Victory'

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard J. Daley will be running again for mayor of Chicago, an office he has held since 1955.

And, as usual, he predicted "a great victory."

Daley appeared Monday before the Democratic party committeemen representing the city's 50 wards and declared, "I will be a candidate for reelection."

It ended months of speculation that because of a mild stroke he suffered in May, because of his age, and because of the indictment and conviction of many top Democrat aides and friends, Daley would choose this time to announce his retirement.

Daley, 72, will be the regular party candidate for mayor in next February's primary election.

For the first time as mayor, Daley faces a primary battle.

Independent Alderman William S. Singer, has been campaigning for the primary since October 1973. And four other Democrats have announced they are candidates: former State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan, state Sen. Richard Newhouse, attorney E. Duke McNeil and businessman Edward Allen.

Republicans have not selected a candidate.

Jake Pickle Gets Backing

Texas Democrats in the U.S. House of Representatives will back Rep. J. J. (Jake) Pickle, Austin, for a place on the enlarged Ways and Means committee. Elected recently to his seventh term, he was chosen over Rep. Bob Eckhardt, Houston, who has seven years in the House, and Rep. Charles Wilson, Lufkin, who is completing his second year. Rep. Wilson protested the choice based on seniority, claming "you can't go on Ways and Means until you're 60" (Pickle is 61).

Currently, the only Texas Democrat on the potent committee is Rep. Omar Burleson, who represents this (the 17th) district. Rep. Bill Archer, Houston, is a Republican member of the panel.

Selection of members of the Ways and Means panel is left up to the entire membership of party cacus, or 291 in the case of the Democrats.

The Texas delegation also decided to back Rep. Richard White, El Paso, for a seat on the Appropriations committee, and Rep. Abraham Kazan, Laredo, for a spot on foreign Affairs. The Texas group also agreed to support second committee assignments for Eckhardt, Rep. Henry B. Gonzales, San Antonio, and Rep. Barbara Jordan, Houston, Eckhardt is interested in being on the Interior and Insular Affairs committee, and Gonzalez wants to be on the Small Business and Currency panel. Two new Texas members, Bob Krueger, and Jack Hightower, Vernon, New Braunfels, have asked for the Agriculture and Commerce spots.

Man's Probation May Be Revoked

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III Monday filed a motion to revoke probation being served by Willie Roy English, 35, 508 N. San Antonio St.

English is serving a 10-year probated sentence for sale of marijuana. Now, he is accused of the Oct. 17 theft of a $12 coat belonging to Douglas Henry and carrying a prohibited weapon, a pistol, Dec. 8.

Police said they arrested English while the defendant was walking near Northwest Fifth and Northwest Lancaster Streets at 2:15 a.m. Sunday.

Trial Period For Test Exemptions Is Set Up

By MARJ CARPENTER

A trial period for exemption on semester examinations was set up for the spring semester by the school board after a lengthy discussion of its merits when they met Monday at the board room.

Purpose of the program is to increase attendance and decrease discipline problems. Students who will be exempt will have no more than three excused absenses, have no unexcused absences, have no more than three tardies, be making a passing grade at exam time and be in good standing in the office of the dean of students.

Objections were raised by Jerry Jenkins, who maintained that sometimes we bend over so far to be nondiscriminatory to one group of students that we discriminate against another. "For instance, actually we are discriminating against an A student who might be sick more than three days."

The board agreed that there were faults in the plan but maintained that it had increased attendance in schools that have tried it and "when you increase attendance, you increase education."

Dan Wilkins asked if they thought attendance was more important than the exam and the answer by the educators was "yes." The vote carried with Jenkins voting "no."

TAX CONTRACT

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent of business, and Dr. Emmett McKenzie, superintendent, reported on the tax meeting that afternoon.

The board heard a report that the city and county would approve the junior college as the contractural agent in the tax appraisal contract. The board agreed with this. However, they discussed other means.

After lengthy discussion, th board agreed to offer a new plan of setting up a new entity, called an Ad Valorum Tax Appraisal Board with all four governmental groups this serving as the contractural agents.

The board further agreed that each board should be able to name its representative in the way it sees fit. They added that since it was getting so late in the year, if this agreement failed to work out, the trustees would abide by their original contract with the city.

In other action, they awarded a bid for 30 tons of fertilizer for 50 acres of school grass and lawns to John Davis Feed Store on a low bid of $5,367.90.

New teachers hired by the school include Thomas Ament, hih school metal trades; Miss Dana Sue Langston, high school art; Miss Madeline Dianne Lopez, unassigned, and Mrs. Lillian M. Wheat, remedial reading.

The resignations accepted include four maternity leaves for Mrs. Martha Barton, Lakeview remedial reading; Mrs. Mary Wolff, Washington Elementary; Mrs. Martha Green, Washington Elementary; and Mrs. Carol Phillips, high school business. CHURCH INTRUDER

Second Time Around, Compassion Prevailed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Rev. H.A. Boone and his congregation were upset when a burglar broke into their church for the first time, rifled boxes set aside for missions and took a bath in the baptistry.

The second time around, compassion prevailed.

Police said the Mars View Christian Church was first entered Saturday night and the intruder found a stack of boxes with food, clothing and other items destined for missions at Christmas time.

GRAPE JUICE

They said he ate a healthy meal from canned goods, then took off his old clothes, grabbed a bar of soap and hopped into the church's 3-foot-deep baptistry.

After that, he dressed himself with new clothes from the mission packages and had another snack on bread and grape juice the church uses in communion services.

It was believed the man then took a nap in a back pew (an alarm clock was found there), brushed his teeth with toothpaste and a toothbrush from mission bundles and rinsed his mouth with mouthwash from mission bundles.

The Rev. Mr. Boone said nothing valuable was taken from the church.

DEAR FRIENDS

Sunday night the church was broken into again. All the intruder did this time was eat a little more communion bread, use the toothbrush and leave a note that read:

"Dear friends, I'm sorry if I inconvenienced you in any way and that I had to enter the church the way I did. I'm desperate and hungry with nothing to eat and no place to sleep. Please forgive me, Joe. P.S., May God bless you all."

When the note was found, the Rev. Mr. Boone and his congregation decided to leave a note of their own. It read:

"Dear Joe, we're very much concerned and want to help you No one is mad that you broke in. If you come again, please call us at the following number...."

The Rev. Mr. Boone said he's "really hoping Joe comes again. We'd like to help him in many ways and even give him a job. For one thing, we can use a night watchman."

Briscoe Back In Mansion

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe has returned to the Executive Mansion here to recuperate from a kidney inflammation after his discarge from Nix Hospital in San Antonio, an aide has confirmed.

A spokesman for the hospital said the governor would be under restriction for 10 days and would not be allowed to have visitors. Briscoe was released from the hospital Monday afternoon in satisfactory condition.

Briscoe was en route to Houston Thursday from his Uvalde ranch when he developed the kidney problems. His plane was diverted to San Antonio where he was taken to Nix Hospital.

Civil Docket Bigger In District Court

The Howard County 118th District Court civil docket grew a little and the criminal docket emerged a little trimmer at the end of November, a statistical report to the Texas Civil Judicial Court shows.

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III started the month with 161 cases pending. Indictments were waived in 10 cases and 16 cases disposed of through guilty pleas.

At month's end, District Judge Ralph W. Caton's office counted 155 criminal cases pending, including 52 non-marijuana drug cases.

Probation was granted in nine cases, but the court also revoked three probations. Altogether, five persons were sentenced to prison.

In civil action, Caton disposed of 52 cases, including three in which a jury entered a verdict.

Attorneys filed 62 new cases. So the docket, which contained 1,075 cases Nov. 1, held 1.085 Nov. 39.

Caton, while presiding over juvenile court, found one youth delinquent. Added to the caseload were two cases. Yet to be decided were five cases.

On probation at month's end were eight juveniles, and Caton had 31 cases under advisement.

The district judge presides in juvenile courts in Martin and Glasscock Counties, where both he and Moore also have jurisdiction in 118th District Court. Most of the workload is in Howard County, though.

THEFTS

Dorothy Pearce, 1603 E. 5th, reported the theft of two bicycles.

Ronald Jackson, 1310 Wright, reported theft of a motorcycle and five tires.

Ed Pierce, 101 Owens, reported theft of a 12 volt battery.

Lee Burklow at Big Spring Produce, 201 N. Austin, reported theft of a tool box and tools valued at $1,000.

Dr. John Key, 538 Westover, reported theft of a motorcycle Sunday afternoon. It was recovered by police one hour later near the water tower.

Gene Miller, 1311 Lincoln, reported theft of a 1972 red Pontiac. An alert police dispatcher saw it at a closed filling station as she was en route home and it was recovered.

Gas House Lounge was broken into and $350 missing. Entry was gained through a window on the northwest side.

UTPB Golf Course, Duck Pond Draws Fire

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas House Appropriations Committee chairman says a golf course and a duck pond at the University of Texas-Permian Basin raises a "serious question" of misrepresentation and should be investigated.

Rep. Neil Caldwell, D-Angleton, Monday sent a letter to director Tom Keel of the Legislative Budget Board requesting an investigation of the projects at the Odessa campus.

QUESTIONS

Caldwell said some questions of accountability, if not legality, should be answered about the financing of the two campus projects. He said there was also the question of misrepresentation to the House Appropriations committee at a meeting on March 7, 1973 when UTPB president B. H. Amsted denied that public funds would be spent on the projects.

Ret. Marine Corps Brig. Gen. H. W. Wise has been relieved of duties as executive director of development at UTPB after blowing the whistle on the golf course and duck pond expenditures.

Amsted has reassigned Hise to a temporary task in viticulture, which is the cultivation of grapes.

PUNISHMENT

Hise said he considered the reassignment "punishment" for revealing that state money would be spent on the campus golf course. Hise estimates that it would have cost about $200,000.

Amsted said at first the reassignment was not related to the golf course probe, but later added, "I would prefer to say that his reassignment could have some relation to the matter, due to his dissatisfaction with certain facets of his position."

Hise said he was transferred to the grape project within three days of going to the UT system regents with evidence that Dr. Amsted had lied under oath.

He has been directed to submit his findings on the grape study to Amsted Dec. 15.

When contacted in Austin, Hise said he was on his way to Texas A&M to talk with Dr. Hollis Bowen there about viticulture.

When asked what he knew about grapes, Hise replied, "Nothing."

Dentist Is Sued Here By Patient

Pat Savell, Knott, is seeking $36,500 in 118th District Court from Dr. John Key because of injuries alleged in tooth pullings.

The petition filed this morning claimed first the dentist pulled the wrong tooth. Then, Dr. Key had to pull both the bad tooth and another.

A membrane to a sinus duct was broken in the second dental operation, the petition claims, and the plaintiff has undergone hospitalization.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠.

West made what appeared to be a risky switch to defeat South's heart game. However, there was no element of danger in the move—he had been "told" to do so by his partner's play of the cards.

After South opened the bidding with one no trump, North checked on his partner's major suit holdings by using the Stayman Convention. When South showed a four-card suit, North did not have quite enough to go to game. He showed his interest by raising to three hearts and South, who had an absolute maximum no trump opening, continued on to four.

West led the queen of spades, and declarer won in his hand to lead a low heart towards dummy. West followed with the queen, taken by dummy's ace. On this trick, East played the five! The ten of hearts went to West's king, and East completed the echo by playing the three. After careful thought, West shifted to a low club and East ruffed. No matter how declarer turned, he still had to lose a trick in each minor suit for down one.

What induced West to shift to a club, which could have cost a trick had declarer started with the ace-queen bare? East's play in the trump suit.

By playing high-low on the first two rounds of trumps, East signalled to his partner that he held three trumps. However, the trump echo conveys more than just that On this hand, it cannot be of much use to West to know that his partner has three trumps. That was an inference available from the bidding. The trump echo conveys the additional information that the player has the ability to ruff. It did not take West long to work out that the only suit his partner would be able to ruff was clubs. Hence the shift.

Without the ruff, declarer has no trouble making the contract. He can win any return, draw the last trump and concede a club and a diamond in addition to his trump loser.

Shaky Relations

The United States' relations with its neighbor to the north has been trading on rather shaky ground lately. While the two nations obviously share many common interests and goals, self-interest, if not selfishness, appears to be the order of the day.

Recently, President Ford restricted livestock and meat imports from Canada to match similar restrictions put on U.S. cattle and beef imposed in August by the Canadians. The United States said the restrictions would be lifted on a dollar per dollar basis if Canada lifted its restrictions.

Now Canada has proposed a drastic reduction of its crude-oil exports to the United States, beginning Jan. 1.

In announcing the new policy on Nov. 22 Canadian Energy Minister Donald S. Macdonald said the initial cutback would be to 800,000 barrels a day, a substantial drop from the current level of more than 977,000 a day. Further reductions would be expected. Macdonald implied. He indicated that all exports would be halted by 1983.

Canada apparently is prepared to take care of itself first as the world demand for energy sources increases. And Ottawa has remained noncommital on the question of sharing its reserves of energy with the United States. A Canadian government report issued in June 1973 said only that "Canada's oil and gas contribution to total U.S. oil and gas needs in the year 2000 could range from zero to 12 per cent.

There is little the United States can hold as an incentive to get Canada to reconsider. It would appear that while Washington and Ottawa eventually may settle their agriculture differences, the question of sharing continental energy resources will remain a continuing source of friction.

Tree Thief Gets Justice

Some people will steal anything under any conditions — an unfortunate fact of life that always seems to be emphasized during the pre-Christmas season.

The Associated Press reported Wednesday that some 2,500 Christmas trees earmarked for shipment to U.S. military personnel overseas were stolen from a site near Nevada City, Calif. The trees are part of a 5,100 shipment belonging to Operation Christmas, a project started in 1967 to provide trees for overseas military families and units.

The overseas families will get their trees, however, because employes of the U.S. Forest Service spotted the stolen trees Thursday being sold at a roadside lot near Truckee, Calif. One "Scrooge" was taken into custody by police, and the trees will go back for Operation Christmas.

It obviously took some doing on the part of the thieves to cart off the trees with an estimated three big turcks needed for the job.

And it wasn't penny-ante theft, either. The trees have an open market value of some $17,500.

Now the trees will go overseas and the thieves probably will spend Christmas in jail — where they belong.

The Disincentive

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

The military has driven a lot of people to drink. And, at least, that's a better excuse than many people have.

IT'S EASIER to understand how military men become addicted to the grape — or the grain. To soothe the nerves, dull the loneliness, drown the fear.

Unfortunately, when those things are done, a man sometimes finds he's developed a desire that can only be quenched by another cocktail.

THE UNITED STATES Air Force has long recognized the problem and is stepping up its efforts to do something about it. The following information is from the Nov. 29 issue of The Prairie Pilot, the excellent weekly published at Webb AFB.

Under the headline, "Booze Crackdown," the AFNS story from Washington said, in part:

"Major commands have reported some positive actions in the Air Force's fight to control alcohol abuse.

"This past summer the Air Force vice chief of staff sent a letter to all commanders of major commands and separate cooperating agencies telling them to assure their local policies support Air Force alcohols abuse control objectives.

"SOME OF THE actions reported by some U.S. Air Force commands include: no selling of hard liquor during normal duty hours, no more two-for-one drinks, "happy hour" decreased, no hard liquor in base recreation centers, and no beer in dining halls or in airman dormitories.

"In additions, some commanders and supervisors have been urged to discourage the use of such terms as "attitude adjustment," "social lubricant" or "the right way to start off a weekend" when referring to the consumption of alcohol.

"Some commanders have reduced periods in which alcoholic beverages are sold at discounted prices, particularly during hours following work shifts when people drive home.

"REGULATIONS have been supplemented as well. (One was changed to discourage the sale of double shots, solicitation for orders before closing, drinking competitions, free drinks and serving "Zombies.")

"Crossfeed information on preventive methods was given to all bases within some commands. Some of the methods included: use of open mess facilities for cultural participation such as art shows, craft displays and events that attract families; use of pay-as-you-go bar rather than the open bar concept; restricting drinking practices at Commander's Calls, and eliminating two-for-one drinks at "happy hours."

"PRACTICES SUCH as expecting newly promoted personnel, "first solo" pilot trainers, hole-in-one golfers, etc., to buy drinks is being discourages as well." Unquote.

That's what the Air Force is doing to discourage drinking, and I'm sure the other branches of the military have similar campaigns.

Does anyone have ideas that might work in a similar program for us civilians?

My Answer

Billy Graham

I got engaged last Christmas to a 21 year old man. My mother didn't like him, however, and she broke up our affair. She's just afraid I'll get married too young (I'm 18). But here's the rub — she got married late — age 32, left my father 11 years later, and now informs me that her husband isn't even my real father. What right then has she got to tell me anything? B.C.

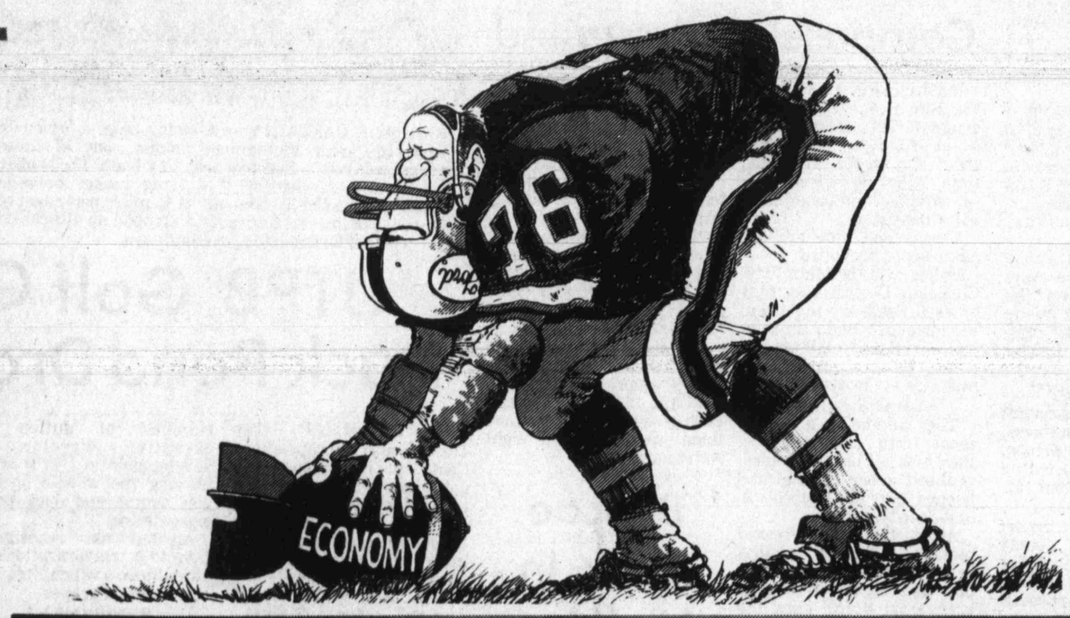

I don't blame you for being disillusioned about a domineering mother who lacks the personal example to support her opinions. But don't add your rejection to her to all the other abuses she has already experienced.

She knows she has no moral leg to stand on. Perhaps you are one of the last hopes she has though, for a stable family relationship.

Try to treat her with respect and a forgiving kind of love. Let her know you do consider her advise, but as a mature individual, are going to make your own decisions.

Meanwhile, consult some good friends or a marital counselor on the matter of marrying this man. If the objective views of others parallel your own, go ahead.

The Christian always has the promise of James 1:5. That says if we want wisdom to make decisions, we have but to ask, and God gives it without reproach.

Latest Fashions

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There is good news in the fashion world. If you really want to be a well-dressed woman this year, you can either go to Dior, Halston, Givenchy, Cardin, Bill Blass or Goodwill Industries.

IF YOU don't find what you want at Saks Fifth Avenue, I recommend the Salvation Army. What was going through the minds of the fashion designers this year is anybody's guess, but ugly is now beautiful.

I'm not certain how all these great minds arrived at the same tawdry clothes, but if they don't sell this year you can't blame it on the recession. In the best of times no woman in her right mind would spend $350 for a dress when there is one exactly like it in her grandmother's trunk.

I AM speaking from personal experience. The other day my wife came home with a box. In it was a dress I had seen in "War and Peace" (the war part), a hat from "Bonnie and Clyde" and boots that were worn in "Doctor Zhivago."

After she put them on she said, "What do you think?"

"Don't tell me. You got a job as a scrubwoman at the Pentagon."

"This," she said haughtily," is 'the droop look.' It is a la mode for the winter."

"YOU COULD have fooled me. Are you sure the Russians aren't paying us back in clothes for all the wheat they bought from us?"

"I don't expect you to understand the fashion. The designers are sending us a message."

"The same one we sent Custer?"

"There is no sense in being surly about it. If you don't like the outfit, just tell me."

"IT'S FINE, except that they forgot to sew the hem. It's down to your calves."

WASHINGTON — Good news being scarce in these times, it is pleasant to report that both Republicans and Democrats in the House of Representatives resolved their differences without any bruising battles and in a way to encourage the hope that the incoming Congress will function with greater responsibility.

THE REPUBLICANS by a large majority reelected Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois chairman of the party conference. He is an able moderate who has repeatedly demonstrated his independence and forthrightness.

The Democrats elected Rep. Phillip Burton of California to the comparable position. While his strong liberal views caused tremors on both sides of the aisle with the fear that he would lead a big spending drive, Burton is not a wild man. His election was evidence of the challenge to the old guard conservators of the status quo.

THANKS TO an assist from the Tidal Basin Bombshell, the power that Rep. Wilbur Mills has exercised through his chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee is curbed. Through that office Mills will no longer determine how the other chairmanships are parceled out. With pressure from the 75 freshmen Democrats, Mills may even be forced out of the post in which he has exercised close to despotic authority over the structure of federal taxation.

The Democrats have alot to cheer about. Hungry dissidents, egged on in gleeful anticipation by the press, have been predicting that the mini-convention in Kansas City would end up with a fight so shattering that the pieces would be all over the floor when the real convention meets in 1976. This would anticipate a repetition of 1972 when left-wing activists clashed with conservatives to insure defeat and open the way to the Nixon landslide.

THERE IS EVERY reason to believe that the anticipated fist fights and walkouts will not occur. The language in the compromise charter eliminating the quota system that stirred so much unhappiness whil not please either the left or right of center. But with some grumbling, they will accept the conclusion of the majority. Democratic National Chairman Robert S. Strauss, the architect of the charter, has received support from a wide sprectrum of party leaders. Liberals like George McGovern and Morris Udall, and centrists like Senator Henry M. Scoop Jackson and Terry Sanford of North Carolina are supporting him.

THEIR MOTIVES are no mystery. With the debacle of two years ago still fresh in memory, they want to win in '76. Another rending, bruising fight would guarantee a repeat of the breakdown that let Richard Nixon walk in to the accompaniment of unprecedented campaign corruption and the evils of Watergate.

THE COMPROMISE should diminish the power of the moguls of organized labor. Al Barkan, who dispenses the largess of COPE as the agent of George Meany, has consistently fought any compromise with the activist left and he is unhappy with the language of the charter. But at least three major trade unions are on the other side of the fence, injecting competition into the scene that Meany would like to dominate.

No-Holds-Barred Talks

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Some prominent members of the National Association of Manufacturers met this month with journalists in a no-holds-barred discussion of business-media relationships and other concerns.

Here are some highlights, randomly selected, of the meeting.

Donald Gaudion, chairman and chief executive of Sybron Corp., Rochester, N.Y. who had just completed a year as NAM chairman:

Society is interrelated, he begins, drawing with chalk on a green display board. He draws five boxes arranged in a circle and names them technology--economic, media government, religion, education.

All related to and depend upon the other, he said. "One falls and another is damaged."

One of the groups is growing faster and more independently than the others, Gaudion states. He points to the technology-economic box, which includes the business community, and suggests businessmen must understand they have helped throw the relationship out of synchronization.

J. Stanford Smith, chairman and chief executive of International Paper, opens bluntly: "We have honest differences with the press," he says, "But we respect its intelligence and integrity." He has before him a large notebook, carefully documenting his differences with the media.

Smith is concerned with profits. "Industrial expansion must come from retained earnings, and retained earnings are shrinking as a per cent of Gross National Product," he says, arguing that reporters should put earnings in perspective.

This nation faces a capital shortage and it doesn't help matters if the public thinks corporations are unconscionably profitable. "We need an understanding of profits," he says. Profits are needed to attract capital.

Harold A. Shaub, Campbell Soup Co. president, is given his three minutes to state his views, and he too exceeds the limit. "The food business probably has as many critics as any other industry," he states.

Shaub says he is concerned about misunderstandings. "The United States has the finest food producing system in the world," he states, but he warns "we don't have the capacity to feed the world."

Shaub says he opposed wage-price controls but that he thinks they're coming. During the nation's most recent testing of controls, he says, prices went up 1 per cent a month. "The damn thing is counterproductive."

Campbell does business in many foreign countries with wage-price controls "They've not worked in this country, not worked in other countries. We've got an education job to do because the people in this country want them."

William F. Martin, chairman of Phillips Petroleum Co., believes the country urgently needs a federal oil policy. The oil industry is quite frustrated, he says. "We don't know what is expected of us."

Martin also is concerned about the reporting of profits. "Why does the press not put in the return on assets?" he asks. To do so would be more meaningful, he suggests. It would demonstrate that profits aren't exhorbitant.

Too Little, Too Late

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The dramatic and profound power realignment in the House of Representatives was symbolized the day before Thanksgiving when Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas sidled up to Rep. Philip Burton of California in the well of the House while debate droned on a few feet away.

MILLS ADVISED Burton he now was most agreeable to increasing the membership of his Ways and Means Committee, long fixed at a mystically immutable 25, with six new members. Just such discreet whispers and eleventh-hour compromises retreating from publicly fixed positions were commonplace during Mills' reign as the most dominant force in Congress.

But this time, it was poignantly different. Burton was no sceptered baron in the congressional feudal system dominated by Mills, but rather a relatively junior, 10-year Congressman with no position at all in the House Democratic hierarchy. Nor was this one of Mills's masterfully timed retreats. Burton and other reformers had decided to expand Ways and Means by 12 members, not six, to break Mills's power as chairman. Mills had offered too little too late.

STILL, IN that brief whispered conversation in the well of the House, Mills showed some old form as a congressional power broker. In approaching Burton, Mills was displaying his instinct for power, fully aware that Burton would not only be elected chairman of the Democratic Caucus for the new Congress but would become its dominant figure and perhaps the next Speaker. In offering to add six new seats to his committee, Mills was simply flashing his old pragmatic realism.

At that point, his tragically ludicrous appearance on the stage of a Boston burlesque house was only three days hence. Nobody — probably not Wilbur Mills himself — knows whether his eleventh-hour failure to preserve at least a modicum of his power contributed to that humiliating act of self-destruction.

NOW, MILLS'S days as Ways and Means chairman are probably ended, perhaps by his resignation to avoid caucas punishment. But even before his futile conversation with Burton and his inexplicable Boston trip, Mills's reign had ended.

Contrary to mutterings within the dwindling band of Southern conservative Democrats that Mills made possible liberal reforms by his high life, the truth is that this week's caucus resolution was assured by the election of 75 overwhelmingly liberal freshman Democrats. That guaranteed ending Mills's reign and the long dominance of his committee.

ALSO ASSURED was the election of Burton as caucus chairman over moderate Rep. B. F. Sisk of California, a transplanted Texan close to Mills and other Southerners. "The loser wasn't Bernie Sisk," commented one senior House Democrat. "It was Tip O'Neill."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Those wonderful Little League folks in Williamsport, Pa., who told us baseball is too good for girls, have now ruled that it's too good for foreigners too. Because non-American teams were so uncivilized as to win the last five Little League "world series," they'll be banned from now on.

Not Weak Kidneys

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there a remedy for weak kidneys? I am 69 and quite a few people have told me this goes with age.

When I lift anything heavy or laugh heartily I wet my underpants a little. Also if I am just standing ironing, I can have the same reaction. Is there anything a person can take for this? — N. P.

The only thing you can "take" for it is some good advice.

"Weak kidneys" by the way is not the right term for this trouble. Actually it is a matter of poor muscle control of the bladder — not the kidneys at all — and that can come along with age.

One thing you should do is have your doctor check to see whether you have a cyctocele, which is a relaxation of support of the bladder that in turn puts more burden on the bladder control muscles.

Cystocele is seen fairly frequently in women who have had several children. Sometimes a pessary will give sufficient support. But should surgery be necessary, it is not a fearsome type of surgery, so don't fight shy of it if you need it.

Another thing you can do in this situation is strengthen the bladder muscles by exercise — contract your muscles as though trying to stop urination. It takes some time, but you can tone up those muscles.

Another simple but helpful trick is to get in the habit of urinating a bit more frequently. That will take some of the pressure off the bladder.

A final tip well worth keeping in mind: this type of dribbling can also be a symptom of diabetes. Get yourself tested for that.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My grandson, 8, still wets the bed and wets his clothing during the day. He has been examined by the family doctor who now advises spanking. Would appreciate your advice — L. E. C.

I just can't agree with the spanking idea at all — and since the problem is in daytime as well as at night I would strongly urge a more searching examination by a specialist (either a pediatrician or urologist) to see whether some physical problem is involved.

I would also suggest reading my booklet on bed-wetting (send 25 cents and a long stamped, addressed return envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy) but you will find that before going into specific methods of handling bed-wetting, my advice starts with a thorough physical examination. I do not recommend punishment. Children with a bed-wetting (or day-wetting) problem don't do it for pleasure, and punishment doesn't help them.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The might God, The everlasting Father, The Price of Peace." (Isaiah 9:6)

PRAYER: Father, may we be able to claim the victory offered in Your Son now at the Christmas season, for we ask it in His name. Amen.

CLAIMS HE WAS ILLEGALLY WIRE-TAPPED

Texan Asking $31 Million

HOUSTON (AP) — A San Antonio man who claims he was illegally wire-tapped by a telephone company security agent is asking for $31 million in damages from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in a federal court petition made public Monday.

The petition, a second amendment to an action filed earlier by Michael Clegg of San Antonio, was placed with the federal court here Friday and became part of the public record Monday.

INDICTED

The suit claims Clegg's telephone was monitored "for a period of in excess of four months and probably longer" by Billy B. Hubbard, a security agent for Bell in Houston. Clegg, it claims, was arrested and indicted as a result of the wiretap information.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co legal officer James W. Shatto said Monday that federal law permits Bell employees to monitor conversations when there is reason to believe the company is being defrauded through use of telephone.

'BLUE BOX'

Clegg was convicted late March of using a multi-tone generator, a so-called "blue box", to place unpaid long distance calls. The conviction is currently under appeal.

Hubbard said in testimony during Clegg's trial that he listened in on Clegg's conversations just long enough to determine the parties who were talking. He said he recorded only the "salutations" in order to get proof the calls had been completed.

Shatto said it is a matter of company policy not to record the entire conversation when a telephone line is being monitored, but he added that the federal law does not forbid the company from recording the complete conversation.

INFORMANT

Clegg's petition also alleges that an unnamed informant was used "as part of a conspiracy to illegally investigate the plaintiff (Clegg)."

The suit asks $1 million in actual damages and $30 million in punitive damages.

This is the second multimillion lawsuit against Southwestern Bell within a few weeks.

James H. Ashley, a fired Bell executive, and the family of T. O. Gravitt, a Bell official who committed suicide, filed a $29.2 million suit in San Antonio last month.

Included in the allegations of the San Antonio suit is illegal wiretapping.

Clegg's 1972 arrest by FBI agents was part of a carefully timed raid that included other suspects in other cities. The Houston suit alleges that the arrests came about as a result of information from wiretaps on Clegg's telephone.

For the past 105 years of his 114 years, Reed has been on his own. About the time of his last birthday, June 28, he was hospitalized and forced to retire from his job in an iron foundry.

Youths Taken On Pot Count

Seven juveniles were arrested over the weekend for possession of marijuana.

Both city juvenile officials and school officials report that the use of marijuana appears to be on the upswing again in Big Spring after a decline last spring and early summer.

The arrests over the weekend included one 16 year old girl, two 16 year old boys, three 15 year old boys and one 14 year old boy. Lt. Jim McCain, head of the city's juvenile division, was conferring with each juvenile and their parents here today.

Archbishop May Go To Prison

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israeli court today convicted the Greek Catholic archbishop of Jerusalem of smuggling arms for Arab terrorists in Israel.

Msgr. Hilarion Capudji, a Syrian and the leader of about 4,000 Christians in the Holy Land, could get a maximum sentence of 35 years in prison. But legal sources said he probably would be expelled from Israel.

The Jerusalem District Court convicted the 49-year-old prelate on three counts: making contact with a foreign agent, the military commander of the Palestine Liberation Organization; carrying and possessing illegal weapons, and working for an illegal organization.

'I'M GLAD IT'S ALL OVER'

Free Her From Four Women Fugitives

WILLISTON, Fla. (AP) — "I'm glad it's all over," said Elizabeth Peeler after searchers freed her from four women fugitives who took her hostage in a prison breakout.

Weary-looking after a night in the woods with her captors, Mrs. Peeler, 54, was found unharmed under a tree Monday when the women convicts were captured. Mrs. Peeler, a supervisor at the prison, told reporters she hadn't been mistreated.

The four escapees were captured in rugged woods about two miles from this north-central Florida town. They escaped Sunday night from the Florida Correctional Institution after seizing Mrs. Peeler at knifepoint and stabbing a guard.

They were identified as Judith Sikes, 33, of Manatee County; Barbara Baker, 34, of Dade County; Carol Yeoman, 33, of Hillsborough County; and Louise Hunter, 32, of Alachua County. The Sikes and Baker women were serving life terms for first degree murder.

Four Are Selected As Veeps Of C-C

Daryle Hohertz, Clyde McMahon Sr., Dr. Clarence Peters and Don Reynolds were selected as vice presidents of next year's Chamber of Commerce by Ken Perry, incoming president.

He also named Clyde Hollingsworth as treasurer. Ralph McLaughlin, as immediate past president, rounds out the executive board.

Perry's one year appointees in addition to the newly elected board members are Hohertz, Hudson Landers, Jim Bill Little, Al Stevens and Dr. Charles Hays, Howard College president, ex-officio member.

The board was also shown prospective covers for a new industrial brocure, depicting Big Spring as the crossroads of West Texas in an industrial report given by Ron Mercer.

McLaughlin expressed the belief that the cooperative effort and financing of the industrial work by the City of Big Spring was one of the greatest cooperative efforts and successful project of the past chamber year.

The board was told that even though finances are at such that industry everywhere is more or less at a standstill that Big Spring has a couple of good prospects as soon as financing loosens up.

The board also discusses the possibilities of a shuttle bus service to the airport and heard an expression of concern by Bill Ragsdale, head of Captain Travel Bureau. Additional study is to be made on a shuttle bus service. McLaughlin said that Harry Nagle, city manager, said there may be a possibility of obtaining funding through the Permian Basin council.

The board also discussed contacts being made with small airlines in trying to obtain some type of airline service to Big Spring.

W. S. (Dub) Pearson reported on activities of the Century Club, which now has 92 members and will cut off membership at 100. The club sponsored a Christmas Bingo party at the base and also honored the Airman and NCO of the quarter recently. Col. Robert Owens expressed appreciation for the events.

Jimmy Taylor reported on an arts and crafts show, a college gun show coming up and the recent regional playoff game all sponsored by the tourism committee. Tom Locke reported on efforts in connection with the family counseling service. Don Reynolds reported on a local consumer price index to be set up through college economic clases.

Attending the meeting were Clyde McMahon Jr., Rene Brown, Perry, Col. Owens, Pearson, Dan Wilkins, Jimmy Taylor, John Taylor, Dr. C. B. Marcum, Terry Hansen, McLaughlin, Mercer, Locke, Johnie Walker, Ragsdale, Oliver Cofer, Winston Wrinkle, Landers, Ron McNeil, Hohertz, Ralph Brooks, Auriel LaFond, Jim Bill Little, Dr. Emmett McKenzie, Reynolds, Dr. Peters, Sevens, Bill Jackson and Ted Hatfield.

Hollon Slated For Appearance

A nationally renowned Southwestern historian will present a public lecture Friday at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin in Odessa in the first of the university's American Heritage Lecture series.

Dr. W. Eugene Hollon, Ohio regent professor of American History at the University of Toledo, will present his lecture at 8 p.m. in the West Lounge area of the main building.

His lecture will follow the installation of 14 UT Permian students and professors into a new chapter of the Phi Alpha Theta, international honor society in history.

Among sponsors for the American Heritage program are Ed Lawson, vice president of the First National in Stanton, and Jerry Jenkins, vice president of Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., Big Spring.

This year nobody has to go without a quality-built Valley.

Last year, even though we sold more Valley Center Pivots than ever before by a wide margin, we couldn't supply a lot of people who wanted them. This year that won't happen for five darn good reasons. Valmont and our dealers have gone all out to serve you.

We've raised our production enormously.

That covers the full line. Water Drives, Electrics, Corner Systems and the new Undertruss Water Drive. We've got the raw materials. Hundreds are being shipped and thousands more are moving through our plant.

We've expanded our plant.

It includes everything that means high quality and better service for you. Loading and shipping, tools and tooling, assembly and manufacturing, quality control and galvanized protection.

A big new expanded parts program.

In order to supply you with parts on a timely basis, we've set up a separate organization to do nothing else but look after the distribution, the inventories and the ready-to-go service you need.

The biggest service organization in the industry is doubling.

We've doubled the number of people who help you with system operation, system service and field maintenance, so you know we care about your success.

Your dealer organization is expanding too.

The biggest and most professional dealer organization is going to be bigger too. Our dealers have added trained installers, trouble shooters and marketing know-how. They're building their whole organizations to meet the rising demand for Valley Center Pivots. Sales, parts, service are ready. VALLEY.

CLARENDON — The Howard County Jayhawks overcame a 77-76 deficit with less than two minutes to play, and defeated the Clarendon Jr. College Bulldogs 84-77 in WAC action.

The win kept the Hawks deadlocked for first place in the Western Athletic Conference with a 2-0 record. The Hawks are now 10-3 so far this season.

Clarendon led 77-76 with only two minutes to play, and had two free throws coming. They were both missed and the Hawks' Johnny Harris came up with the rebound and hit wide open Lawrence with a court long pass who canned the go ahead points.

Clarendon shot and missed and Lawrence again took a court length pass from Harris and the Hawks led 82-77 before going into a stall in the last minute of play.

Lawrence came off the bench with six minutes left in the game to pace the Hawks with 10 points scored during that time. He replaced Larry Erves who fouled out after scoring the game high 24 points.

Alfred Gladden started his first game as a Hawk in the contest replacing starter Willie Young, who was suspended along with Darren Hodges for disciplinary reasons.

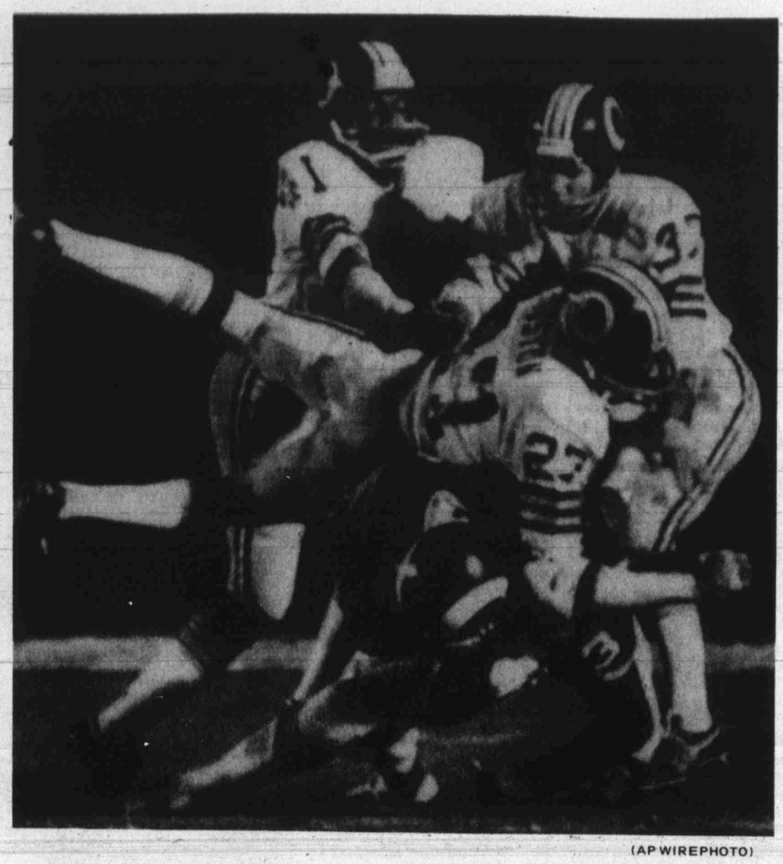

The Hawks will return to Big Spring for their next conference encounter Thursday night as they host New Mexico Junior College. NMJC has the best player in the conference, according to Hawk coach Harold Wilder, in 6-7, 225, Mike Russell, an All-American who played last year at New Mexico State.

College Powers Remain Unbeaten

By The Associated Press

Southern California gained the most ground and South Carolina lost the most prestige in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll.

The Trojans shot up four places to the No. 6 ranking after two victories last week, while South Carolina plunged eight spots to No. 13 after an upset.

Southern Cal was given 435 points by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters after beating Oklahoma State 107-88 and Utah 102-82. South Carolina, last week's No. 5 club, was beaten 90-84 by Oklahoma, one of three new teams in the Top Twenty.

North Carolina State, UCLA and Indiana continued to run 1-2-3, the same position they've had since the pre-season polls.

North Carolina State, the defending national champion, won three games last week and was awarded 39 first-place votes and a total of 936 points.

UCLA won twice last week to improve its record to 4-0, same as the Wolfpack, and gained 862 points for a solid hold on the runnerup spot. The Bruins were awarded three ballots for first place.

Indiana, winner of two games last week, including a 74-70 triumph over powerful Kansas, gained four first-place ballots and 734 points.

Louisville, which opened its season with victories over Houston and Dayton, jumped two places to No. 4. The Cardinals got three first-place votes and gained 598 points. Maryland, despite improving its record to 3-0 with two easy victories, dropped one place to No. 5.

After Southern California, the rest of the Top Ten includes, No. 7 Marquette, 361 points; No. 8 North Carolina, 356; No. 9 Kansas, 319 and No. 10 Alabama, 271.

The remainder of the ranked teams: No. 11 Notre Dame; No. 12 Penn; No. 13 South Carolina; No. 14 Memphis State; No. 15 Purdue; No. 16 Michigan; No. 17 Arizona and the three newest ranked teams — No. 18 Oregon; No. 19 Oklahoma and No. 20 Providence.

New York Will Be Site Of Ali's Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali is the newest recipient of the Bronze Medallion, New York's highest civilian honor, and the heavyweight champion says the city will be the recipient of his first title defense.

"The city has been good to me" Ali said Monday after touring three of New York's five boroughs — Brooklyn, Manhattan and the Bronx — on Muhammad Ali Day.

"I'll fight in four months. My next fight has to be in the Garden."

Boxing insiders feel that Ali, who regained the title a decade after he first won it by knocking out George Foreman in Zaire, will defend against Ron Lyle of Denver in Madison Square Garden next March. A date being mentioned is March 3.

But Lyle wasn't mentioned by Ali, neither during his citywide tour nor in a an informal meeting with reporters afterward.

Instead he regaled his audiences — at Rikers Island prison, in schools, at City Hall and at a midtown hotel — with tales of how he was ready to fight Foreman and Joe Frazier in one night or take on Frazier in a fight to the finish with just one bell — to start the fight.

The pronouncements were, as always, greeted with cheers.

Ali was at his best in verbal sparring at Rikers Island and with Mayor Abe Beame at City Hall.

On Rikers Island, where he was seranaded by a jailhouse rock band playing an original compositon entitled "The Stingin' Machine," Ali greeted an audience of about 800 youthful offenders:

"I want to thank you for coming here today."

The remark drew loud laughter.

Ali also told his audience, many waiting to go to trial:

"Life is too short to be in a place like this. If you get time, do the time and say, 'Man, I got a hell of a lesson. I'll never come in here any more.'"

At City Hall, Mayor Beame presented Ali the Bronze Medallion and told him: "New Yorkers love a champion. And, in this City, you have always been a champion. The people cheered for you as an underdog, and the people roared for you as a winner."

"The royal treatment I am getting makes me feel like the first black president of the United States," replied Ali.

He also said, "Mayor Daley (Richard Daley of Chicago) gave me a medal, too. But his was gold."

Redskins Clip Rams, Dallas Eliminated

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Washington Redskins spoke in diplomatic chorus after they beat the Los Angeles Rams to gain a berth in the National Football League playoffs for the fourth straight year.

The Redskin win clinched them the last remaining NFL playoff spot and eliminated the Dallas Cowboys and the Detroit Lions from the playoffs.

Nobody on the Redskins' team, after Monday night's 23-17 triumph on national television in Memorial Coliseum, was saying they beat the REAL Rams.

It's no small wonder. The Redskins represent the nation's capital, and diplomacy is one of their strong suits, or at least it was Monday night. They realized they likely will be in Los Angeles again to play the Rams, champions of the National Conference West, in the first round of the playoffs in two weeks.

"It could be," said Coach George Allen of Washington. "We still have a chance to win the division if the Giants beat St. Louis."

The Redskins, three-point underdogs against the Rams, now 9-4, boosted their record to 9-4 and tied St. Louis for the lead in the NFC East on the passing of Bill Kilmer, who hurled three touchdown passes in the second period to give Washington a 20-10 halftime lead.

Allen, who worried about the pulled leg muscle of place-kicker Mark Moseley and the badly bruised — and possibly broken — right leg of middle linebacker Harold McLinton, called it a "costly" victory.

The Rams lost for the first time in 13 home games since Chuck Knox took over from Tommy Prothro, Allen's successor.

Quarterback Kilmer and ex-Ram defensive tackle Diron Talbert had nothing but praise for their potential playoff adversary.

"We had to win. We didn't want to wait until next week," said Kilmer of the Redskin emotions.

Kilmer, who completed 19 of 29 passes for 269 yards, added that the Rams Monday night, "I don't believe ... played up to their potential."

Allen said he was not surprised that the Rams tried — and failed — on a surprise pass by Mike Burke from punt formation in the second period, because Dallas had pulled that trick in the Thanksgiving Day 24-23 loss to the Cowboys.

"We were ready this time," said Allen, of Burke's pass that was broken up and gave Washington the ball on the Rams' 23. Four plays later, Kilmer threw a go-ahead touchdown pass.

Rams' starting quarterback James Harris, "woozy" from being hit by Redskin pass rushers late in the first half, sat out the second half as young Ron Jaworski ran the Ram offense. But the Redskins weren't going to get caught napping.

On Burke's pass, Knox said, "No one thing turned the game around. It was not a pre-designed play that was sent in. We split an end off and nobody covered him. The punter has the option to throw but the receiver went a little too far downfield."

Forsan Wins Over Stanton

FORSAN — Forsan Junior High took two games from a pair Stanton teams Monday night as the Forsan boys team kept their record unblemished with a 4-0 mark.

Randy Cregar canned 22 points for Forsan as they topped Stanton 48-26. Tom Smith scored 15 points for the losers.

In girls action, Forsan won 49-12 as Melissa Frank scored 13 points for the winners and two Stanton players, Rich and Horzog each scored four points.

The girls record is now 4-2.

The teams will again see action next Monday as they travel to Stanton for a pair of games.

Runnels Tops Snyder 50-32

SNYDER — Big Spring's Runnels Junior High School cagers upped their record to a 5-0 mark as they outclassed Snyder Travis 50-32, as each of the five Runnels players scored 10 points in the game.

Ysa Rubio, Danny Crosby, Oscar James, Freddie Pruitt, and James Williams each canned 10 points in the contest.

Jackson led Snyder scoring with 14 points.

The Runnels team trailed 8-6 after the first quarter, but scored 20 points in the second quarter to take a 26-14 halftime lead. Runnels led 36-24 after three quarters.

Runnels will next see action with Colorado City traveling to Big Spring Thursday.

GC Drops Jr. High Pair

GREENWOOD — Garden City Junior High dropped two games to Greenwood here Monday night, as the girls team fell 20-17 and the boys team lost 21-18.

Nancy Batla led Garden City's girls in scoring in their contest with 13 points while Greenwood's Ratliff scored 20 points.

In the boy's game, J. Garza led the scoring for Garden City with 10 points while R. Manning led Greenwood with 12 points.

The losses dropped Garden Cit's girls team to a 2-2 record while the boys are 0-4.

The admission price for each Sands Tournament session is 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. A full range of food will be served at the concesssion stand to be located inside the entrance of the gym.

The Sands Booster Club still has a long way to go before the $$$$ totals out to buy a much needed Mustang football scoreboard. Lil Anderson announced that interested contributors can deposit junk iron to help defray scoreboard expense at the north end of the high school stadium.

Telephone numbers that may be called to have junk iron picked up include 353-4442, 353-4575, 353-4848 and 353-4477.

In the latest Texas High School Girls' Coaches Association basketball poll, Forsan ranks No. 17 and Klondike stands atop the ladder. Klondike defeated Forsan, 37-33 in the Forsan girls; invitational championship game, Saturday night.

Klondike was Class B state champions in 1972 and state runners-up last season.

New tri-captains for the Big Spring Quarterback Club are Paschall Odom, Frosty Reynolds and Judy Robison. They replace outgoing Helen Hughes, Jim Baum and Joe Mathews.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT: The National Football League's annual college football draft will be conducted in New York Jan. 28-29.

Morton Plans To Stay With NFL Giants

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — When Craig Morton came East, he brought with him his cowboy boots, a hankering for action and a firing arm that hadn't done much firing.

But in their seven showdowns since he left Dallas, Morton and his new pardners on the New York Giants have been left standing only once.

And although the tall, transplanted Texan doesn't see himself as the good guy on the white horse come to save the damsel from the buzz saw, he isn't about to pack his bags and catch the next stagecoach out of town.

Morton says he's not sorry he made the move from the Cowboys, a National Football League playoff contender, to the Giants, who had lost five of six games before he arrived and are mired in the National Conference East cellar with a 2-11 record.

"I didn't regret moving. That's what I wanted to do. You don't regret something you want to do," the 11-year veteran out of the University of California says.

For too many years, as he saw it, Morton played in the shodow of Roger Staubach at Dallas. He had been itching to be traded.

His wish was fulfilled after the sixth week of the season when the Cowboys sent him to the Giants for a future draft choice.

Morton had thrown only two passes this season for Dallas, completing both for a total of 12 yards. With New York he has hit on 109 of 206 for 1,371 yards and eight touchdowns.

Morton moved quickly into the starting quarterback job that had been left vacant by the trade of the inconsistent Norm Snead to San Francisco. The newcomer provided offensive sparks that had been missing.

After losing to his old teammates, Morton threw two touchdown passes in his second game with New York, a 33-27 decision over Kansas City. But then the Giants lost in overtime to the New York Jets, dropped three more games on last-minute field goals and fell 20-7 to the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday on the rain-soaked, muddy natural turf of the Yale Bowl.

"Everybody expects miracles and miracles don't happen. No one man's going to turn around anybody. Everybody's got to get together and win," Morton, 31, said after the latest disappointment.

"It's not that we haven't tried the past few weeks," he added. "We've got to combine three phases of the game, defense, offense and kicking and we haven't done that."

But wide receiver Bob Grim said Morton has at least begun to turn things around for the Giants.

"He's a very good quarterback," said Grim. "He's done two things. One, he's instilled confidence in the offensive team and two, he's kept the other team off balance with his play calling.

"He's certainly contributed his share. There's no doubt about that."

Andy Robustelli, the former Giants' defensive end in his first year as the team's director of operations, said Morton has played as well as can be expected.

"We always look to do better. He's done as well as he can do. He's done a good job for us," a subdued Robustelli said after the loss to the Eagles.

Just how long Morton will be wearing the blue and red of the Giants is a debatable point.

He had signed to play with Birmingham of the World Football League next year. But his contract was reassigned to the Houston Texans, which switched cities and became the Shreveport Steamer.

Morton said he's not bound to the WFL because his contract allows him to terminate it under conditions such as a franchise shift.

Robustelli said he doesn't know what the WFL plans to do about the contract.

Meanwhile, the Giants are negotiating a three-year pact with Morton and "all parties hope to have it resolved before the end of the regular season," according to his lawyer, Marvin Demoff.

Despite the losses, Morton points to the tightness of the scores and says he's not thinking of pulling up his stakes again and getting on a steadier horse.

"I didn't come here to leave," he said. "I came here to play football and to win for them. We got to get it together."

Toros Top CC By 65-53

Big Spring High School's Freshman Toros took a 65-53 win over Colorado City here Monday night, as four of the Toros scored in doubles figures.

Kent Rice scored 15, Chippo Wright scored 13, Scott Wilder scored 12 and Dan Robinson scored 10 points in the game for the Toros. Gary Gieger scored 18 points for Colorado City.

The two teams were tied at 12 after the first quarter, but the Toros edged out a 37-24 halftime lead. They led 50-28 after three quarters.

Next action for the Toros is Thursday when they travel to Lamesa.

Mrs. S. A. (Dora) Ashley, 91, died in a local hospital at 1:40 p.m., Monday.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Wednesday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with burial to follow in Evergreen Cemetery in Stanton.

Officiating will be the Rev. Dr. Claude Craven, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ashley was born in Llano County April 23, 1883. She married Sylvester Albert Ashley Aug. 1, 1906, in Fisher County. They lived in Martin County 33 years and in Stanton 25 years.

Survivors include two sons, L.A. Ashley, Big Spring, and Albert Early Ashley, Junction; three daugnters, Mrs. Viola May Owen, Abilene, Mrs. Leona Fay Howard, San Angelo, and Mrs. Willie Bell Campbell, Big Spring; two brothers, R. L. Walker, Colorado City, and F. I. Walker, Sweetwater; a sister, Mrs. Martha Finley, Bonham; 12 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be G. D. Sawyer, W. D. Chandler, Glenn Morreson, Delmer Hamm, Bill Westbrook and Stanley Bogard.

board decide who would represent it on the tax appraisal board.

Jack Watkins, president of the Big Spring Property Owners Association, said the board should be composed of elected officials and lines of communication from tax board members and other elected officials should be "direct and non shunted."

Non-elected officials are responsible first to other non-elected officials and some of tax board ideas might "never get back to elected officials," Watkins said.

Davis, speaking for some college trustees, commented: "The one's I talked to are not very favorable to changing their minds just because some other group (the county) wants it."

As a counter proposal, Davis suggested one elected and one non-elected official represent each of the governments on the tax appraisal board.

"The people that are doing the (appraisal) job now will be the same one's doing it," appraising property, Davis said.

What would the various boards agree to in a new contract?

No Big Spring school board members were present.

Emmett McKinzie, superintendent of schools, said he and Don Crockett, assistant superintendent of business, were to report back to the board. The two school officials made no comment during the meeting.

"We're not going to go for anything today," Jimmy Taylor, one of two college trustees present, said. "I've been on that trip once."

College trustees had been told the first proposal had been prepared with out dissension, Taylor said, and he relied on the committee.

Taylor said he had no chance to study the first proposal "other than to scan through it."

"I'm not going to vote on anything now until I've read it myself," Taylor commented.

Acri argued with Hall and Choate that committee members had not reported to city council. Brazel said that he had been in the hospital.

Would the county agree to any other agency handling tax appraisal office salaries, Davis wanted to know?

"I say no," Commissioner Bill Bennett said.

"Yes," Crooker said.

"I think it sould be limited to someone with parcels all over the county," Buchanan said.

Terrazas agreed with Buchanan — either the county or the college.

Mitchell declined to comment during the poll of commissioners court, because he would be out of office in 20 days.

"It's flat foolish for us to try to be individual tax appraisers," Mitchell said at one point. "We're talking about 20 to 30 thousand (dollars) that's going to go out in the wind if we don't" get together.

Mitchell said a good job of tax appraising had not been done here in 12 years. "This thing needs to be equalized one of these days," Mitchell said.

Brazel had claimed the joint organizaiton would study the "desirability" of reevaluation. "It doesn't call for an evaluation," Brazel added.

Correspondent Dynan Dies

PARIS (AP) — Joseph E. Dynan, 62, veteran foreign correspondent for The Associated Press, died today at the American Hospital in suburban Neuilly after a long illness. Dynan had been a foreign correspondent continuously for nearly 31 years.

Jail Cook Here Among Missing

The city jail is hunting its cook. A missing persons alert has been put out on Millard Webber.

He stands 6' 1", has grey hair and drives a 1966 four-door white Buick with the license number DNB 1990.

He had days off Friday and Saturday, but has not reported back to work. He had ordered groceries for the beginning of the week and also had paid down on a new television set, which indicated he planned to return.

Anyone with any knowledge about Webber is requested to call the police station.

Coles Honored At Reception

WESTBROOK — The Westbrook School Board is hosting a retirement reception honoring County School Supreintendent Roy Davis Coles.

The event will be held Sunday, Dec. 15 from 2-4 p.m. at the Westbrook School.

Other county school board members will also be guests, according to Supt. L. M. Dawson. Cole has served as county superintendent for 40 years.

Man Seriously Injured Here

James F. Gillespie, 55, of 2905 Hunters Glen, said to be in serious condition, was transfered to a Lubbock hospital after being injured in a three vehicle wreck at IS 20 and 350 at 5:24 p.m. Monday.

A vehicle driven by Mrs. Anita Vonceal White of Denver, Colo. struck the Gillespie vehicle and knocked it into a truck driven by Johnny Ray Baranski of Dell City, Okla.

Gillespie is suffering from head injuries.

Okay Four-Day Week At Ailing Star-News

WASHINGTON (AP) — News and business employes of the financially ailing Washington Star-News have voted overwhelmingly to work a four-day week at four days' pay in a move to avoid threatened job layoffs, it was announced today.

Members of the Star-News unit of the Washington-Baltimore Newspaper Guild voted 347 to 44 to accept the guild-initiated proposal, which a newspaper spokesman said will take effect sometime after Christmas.

Approximately 560 news and business employes of the paper will be affected by the 20 per cent cutback in work hours and weekly pay, he said.

The Star-News said last month that it had lost nearly $15.5 million over the past four years, including nearly $5 million last year.

Star-New publisher Joe L. Albritton, a Texas banker who took control of the paper in September, has indicated that the losses were continuing.

THE BALLROOM of Big Spring Country Club was the scene Sunday evening of a holiday buffet and dance attended by a large number of local and out-of-town guests. The black tie affair began at 6 p.m., and music for dancing was by the Populaires. Festive decorations were placed throughout the club; the focal point being the lighted Christmas tree in the foyer. Pictured is the host group, from left, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek, Mr. and Mrs. George McAlister and Rene Brown.

Poinsettias Set Theme For Dinner

Tables were decorated with holly and poinsettias when 60 members of the World War I Barracks and Ladies Auxiliary met Saturday for a Christmas dinner and business session in the Kentwood Center.

Gifts were exchanged from a lighted tree, and carols were sung, with Mrs. L. R. Mundt serving as pianist.

The auxiliary made plans to donate $25 to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Five auxiliary members went to the hospital Monday to decorate a tree in one of the wards. They were Mrs. Frank Mullican, president; Mrs. Frances Averitt, Mrs. Mary Waddill, Mrs. Dorothy Hull and Mrs. Pearl Hornbeck.

The next regular meeting will be Jan. 4 in the Kentwood Center at 12 o'clock noon.

Shower Fetes Ann Crawford

The home of Mrs. G. R. Robinson, 2619 Crestline Road, was the setting of a bridal tea honoring Miss Ann Crawford Saturday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Hostessses for the occasion were Mrs. Preston Harrison and Mrs. Robinson. Members of the house party were Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. B. M. Adams, Mrs. Jerry Dudley, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mrs. C. R. Wiley and Mrs. Harlan Huibregtse.

Decorations of the party rooms carried out the holiday motif. A Christmas arrangement of daisies, red carnations and blue spruce centered the refreshment table, which was laid with a white cutwork cloth. Appointments were of silver and crystal. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Dudley presided at the serving table during the afternoon.

Guests attended from Colorado City, Coahoma and Big Spring.

Miss Crawford is the bride-elect of Robert Turner of Savannah, Ga. The wedding will be solemnized December 28 in the First Christian Church with Ralph Beistle officiating.

Beta Kappas Hostesses At Silver Tea

A large number of members and guests were in attendance Sunday at the annual Silver Tea held by Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

The affair was held in the lounge and parlor of the Dora Roberts Student Union Building on the Howard College campus from 3 to 5 p.m. Traditional Christmas decorations were used throughout the building.

A program of Christmas music was arranged by Ms. Mary Skalicky, head of the Fine Arts Department of Howard College. Musical performers included Ms. Marilyn Newsom, Harlan Thornton, Ms. Barbara Pierce and Ms. Skalicky.

Hostesses for the tea were the chapter's officers and committee chairmen, headed by Ms. Mcvelda Rhine, chapter president.

Miss Williams Party Honoree

Miss Kay Williams, who will be married Dec. 26 to Don R. Sauls, was the honoree at a shower Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Russell Hoover.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Bob Simpson, Mrs. Alvin Shroyer Jr., Mrs. John Birdwell, Mrs. Joe B. Johnson, Mrs. Dean Ervin, Mrs. Alan Kernodle, Mrs. Edison Taylor, Mrs. Melvin McFall, Mrs. Pat Simmons and Mrs. John F. Smith. They were assisted by Miss Cynthia Smith, Miss Gina Simpson and Miss Jan Hoover.

Corsages of white carnations were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Don Williams; Saul's mother, Mrs. James Sauls; and the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Claude Williams and Mrs. J. B. Apple. Mrs. Ronnie Alderson, Lubbock, was an out-of-town guest.

The refreshment table, appointed with crystal and silver, was covered with a white cloth of embroidered linen and lace over a blue underlay. The centerpiece was a white Christmas arrangement made of a branched candelabrum with white tapers based in frosted branches on which were two snow birds.

The focal point of interest was a Christmas tree in the living room, and other decorations were poinsettias and candle arrangements. The gift table was covered with a white felt cloth bordered with ball fringe. Guests autographed an apron to be embroidered by the bride.

The wedding will be held in First Christian Church.

Tea Held For RSVP Group

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program held its annual Christmas Coffee Thursday in the All-Faith Tollet Chapel, Big Spring State Hospital.

A Christmas theme was used at the serving table. Mrs. A. E. True and Sue Dunn served coffee, punch and cookies.

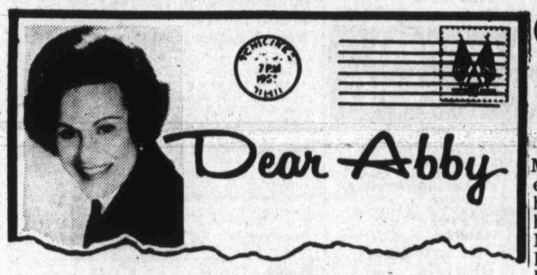

The coffee was held for all RSVP volunteers and senior citizens of Howard County. Several staff members of the hospital and Big Spring Nursing Inn attended, also.

UTPB Singers Will Perform

The first public concert of the University of Texas of the Permian Basin "University Singers" will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the UT Permian main lounge.

Has Holiday In California

Mrs. W. W. Ogle, 810 Johnson, spent Thanksgiving at Bodega Bay, Calif. She and her daughter, Elouise La Londe of El Paso flew to San Francisco to visit Mrs. Ogle's granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Layne of Livermore. The four stayed in a cottage by the bay during the holidays.

She Wins: Burns Is Grower Of His Hair

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having an argument and don't know whom else to ask, so you are nominated.

My husband says that Arthur Burns, Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, wears a wig. I say that's his own hair. Who's right?

C IN DETROIT

DEAR C: You are. If Arthur Burns wore a wig, he'd have flipped it long ago.

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many people look down on cocktail waitresses?

When I went home for Thanksgiving, my mother asked me to tell the relatives that I work in an office. (I'm a cocktail waitress.)

Abby, I am a 23-year-old unmarried woman and I've been on my own since I was 18. I still send a part of every paycheck home because my father is too sick to work, and I'm the oldest of six.

I've never been into drugs and I don't let guys use me like some of those so-called "respectable" government girls who hand out at the bars and go home with the first guy who buys them a drink.

Will you please do me (and lots of other respectable girls) a big favor and print this with your opinion?

DECENT IN D.C.

DEAR DECENT: Cocktail waitresses are entitled to the same consideration and respect due to anyone who performs honest work for a living. The person gives dignity to the job — not the other way 'round.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the 16-year-old girl who feels herself better qualified to rear children than "old" people of 30 or 40.

When I was a scant two years older than this girl, I had a child. I was unmarried at the time.

I put the baby up for adoption. It was my own decision, and no one tried to influence me.

Now that I am mature and happily married, I can't begin to tell you how happy I am that I made that choice. It would have been unfair of me to have taken an innocent infant with me through the "growing up" process which took place between then and now.

I agree with you that having a child is a wonderful experience — but only when a woman is mature. How many teen-age girls do you think have this degree of maturity?

My parents taught me things when I was growing up that only an "old" 30-year-old parent could know.

LUCKY

DEAR LUCKY: Thank you for giving others the benefit of your experience. Very few unmarried teen-age mothers are sufficiently mature to handle motherhood.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Gift Shower Held Friday

A bridal shower honoring Miss Brenda Heard, bride-elect of Brian Boulter, was held Friday evening in the home of Mrs. J. C. McWhorter, 1714 Yale. Mrs. Paul Biffle, sister of the honoree, registered guests.

Corsages of white carnations were presented to Miss Heard, her mother, Mrs. Vernon Heard; her fiance's mother, Mrs. J. D. Boulter, Borger; and his grandmother, Mrs. Y. J. Boulter, Denver City.

Crystal appointments were used on a table covered with a crocheted cloth, and the centerpiece was of pink and white carnations.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Frank Parker, Mrs. D. W. Pierce, Mrs. O. B. Kirby, Mrs. Bill Eggleston, Mrs. Cecil Peurifoy, Mrs. Leslie Lewis, Mrs. Jimmie Jones, Mrs. Grover Wiley, Mrs. Norman English, Mrs. Avery Falkner and Mrs. Charlie Shanks.

The couple will be married Jan. 11, 1975 in Lubbock.

WEDNESDAY LUNCHEON

All older adults are invited to attend a covered dish luncheon Wednesday in the Kentwood Older Adult Activity Center, 2805 Lynn. The center will be open at 10 a.m. for table games and other entertainment, and the luncheon will be served at noon. Entertainment will be provided by the Tom Castle Band. The event will conclude at 5 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a covered dish, if possible.

Mrs. G. Ely Is Honored

Mrs. George Ely was honored on her 80th birthday Wednesday with a party in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marcus Smith, 709 E. 16th. A red and white birthday cake was served to 20 guests. The table was covered with a red damask cloth, and the appointments were crystal and silver. Mr. and Mrs. Ely first came to Big Spring in the early 1900's.

Texas is full of surprises. Like coal.

In certain areas of Texas there are sizeable deposits of a soft coal called lignite.

Several years ago Texas Electric, along with two other companies, began acquiring rights to some of this lignite because we saw that new supplies of natural gas and oil, our basic fuels, could become increasingly expensive and difficult to obtain.

Today, Texas Electric is using this lignite to generate electricity in our Big Brown plant near Fairfield. Two more lignite plants are under construction.

Using this lignite will help reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil. And one other advantage of using lignite for the generation of electricity is that it isn't being used extensively any other way.

But plants that use lignite cost a lot more than gas/oil plants.

While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if we could get adequate new supplies.

At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, DEC. 10, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are able to make long-range plans now that will assure success in the future. Loyal friends can assist you to make this a fine day for organizing your efforts towards a more solid and secure structure than in the recent past.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Talking over with kin how to handle joint matters more intelligently so the future will be brighter is wise. Follow your hunches.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Study paper work connected with your dealings with associates and make sure all is in order. Eliminate friction with co-workers.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan some time for improving any property you may have and increase its value. Make contacts that can add to your knowledge.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You may feel tied down to conditions prevailing and new activity is now advised. Employ the fine talents you possess.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you discuss a new plan with a clever family tie, you could achieve success with it. Sidestep one who is pessimistic. Be cheerful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Look for assistance from a good friend in an important business transaction. Make sure any statements you make are accurate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good day to plan how to improve your monetary position and to make necessary repairs to your property. Seek advice you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan whatever you wish to achieve in the future. An old friend gives sound ideas for your advancement. Be sure to follow through.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you carry out any promises you have made to others, and don't let time-wasters deter you from such. Be logical.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Listen to what a friend has to suggest as to why an associate is acting so, and you come up with the right solution. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle all that work ahead of you efficiently and accurately, since higher-ups are watching you. Don't neglect health treatments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Plan recreation for the future intelligently. You need to be more affectionate with loved one in order to get the response you want.

Bigger Checks Due Veterans

Big Spring area recipients of Veterans Administration student checks will soon be getting their share of some $300 million in retroactive allowance checks enacted by a recent act of Congress.

The law provides for allowance increases retroactive to September 1, 1974 of 22.7 per cent for most veterans, wives, widows, and children in VA training and 18.2 per cent for veterans taking vocational rehabilitation apprenticeship and job training.

A spokesman for the Veteran's Administration said that the checks will be mailed to the students at the earliest possible moment.

The amount of the checks will vary widely, but a single veteran who has been going to college full-time since September would get $200 in retroactive, in addition to the raise from $220 monthly to $270 monthly.

Grollman Here For Three Days

Dr. Arthur Grollman, well known lecturer and member of the faculty of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, will be at the VA Hospital here today through Thursday as physician-in-residence.

All area physicians are invited to attend the lectures presented daily in the second floor training room of the hospital. Today, Dr. Grollman discussed "The Malabsorption Snydrome", and "Gastrointestinal Infections."

On Wednesday at 11 a.m., he will lecture on "Digitalis: Therapeutic Use Of," and at 3:00 p.m. on "Asthma — Pathogenesis and Treatment."

His last lecture will be on Thursday at 11:00 a.m. when he will discuss "Obesity: Present Day Views as Regards its Pathogenesis and Treatment."

Dr. Maurice F. Crass, III, associate professor, department of physiology, Texas Tech University School of Medicine, lectured on "Normal Cardiac Energy Metabolism and Alterations in Eschemia and Infarction" at the VA Hospital on Monday.

Cotton Council Group Selected

LUBBOCK — Names of Texas delegates to the National Cotton Council's 37th annual meeting were announced today by state unit vice-chairman Don Anderson, Lubbock cotton producer.

The 39-member delegation will join representatives from other major cotton-producing states in setting guidelines for 1975 Council programs and policies at the February 3-4 meeting in Phoenix.

Texas delegates include:

Producers — Donnell Echols and Bill R. Reid, both of Lamesa; merchants — Idris Traylor and James Murdough, both of Lubbock; cottonseed crushers — Charles Goble, Levelland; cooperatives — J. W. Borders, Sweetwater, John Herzer and Dan Davis, both of Lubbock. Alternates included Joe B. Pate Jr., Lubbock, Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, and R. H. Whatron, among others.

Clean-up Drive Set Saturday

The Coordinated Vocational Academic Education Club (VOCT) of Coahoma High School will be involved in that city's annual clean-up drive Saturday from 8 a.m., until 5 p.m.

The club is encouraging residents to rid their property of unwanted leaves, trees, junk and litter.

VOCT teams will pick up trash if residents will call City Hall at 4-4422.

Chief Quits Alpine Job

ALPINE — Chief of Police Bill Hardaway has resigned his office "effective immediately" under pressure from the city manager's office and city council.

Mayor Dorothy McBride, first woman councilman and mayor of this city of 6,500 population, said the pressured resignation of Hardaway was "a long culmination of not keeping the men (officers) under control and of not properly disciplining the department."

In his resignation to the council, which was presented in a closed-door session at Tuesday's meeting, Hardaway stated "I resign the office of chief of police of Alpine, Texas, effective immediately for reasons the city council understands."

Mrs. McBride, who at first didn't want to elaborate on Hardaway's resignation, said, "It was a conflict between the council and the way he was running the office...it was a build up and it had been coming for a long time."

She added, "I feel it was a conflict between him (Hardaway) and the city manager (Bob Stevens)."

According to the mayor, Hardaway, who had been police chief here three years, said he plans to remain in Alpine. "And I hope he does remain here," she added.

The mayor said the council does "not have anyone in mind" to fill the vacant police chief's office, relating that Dave Duncan, who has worked as an officer for Alpine and had been a deputy sheriff in Marathon, is acting police chief. He assumed his duties Thursday.

Grant Renewal Is Asked For

Among the grants to be presented to the Permian Basin Regional Planning Council Wednesday at its monthly board meeting will be a renewal of the city's juvenile department with the city police.

Total request is $32,151 which is matched by $9,174.71, budgeted in the city budget.

The department has made great strides during the past year in the city in handling and investigating juvenile cases here. They have worked in cooperation with the county juvenile probation department and there has been a 20 per cent increase of cases cleared during the past year in juvenile division.

Other applications include a grant for the senior citizens center in Lamesa, a crime prevention unit for Odessa police, Permian Basin dual probation service for the 112th and 83rd district courts, Ector County's juvenile rehabilitation program and the Permian Basin regional communications project.

CAMPAIGN PROMISE

33 'Key' Employes To Be Fired Jan. 1

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-three "key" employes in the comptroller's office will be fired Jan. 1, the first day Comptroller-elect Bob Bullock takes office.

During his campaign, Bullock promised to reorganize the office, and he appointed a committee to evaluate top-level employes after he was elected Nov. 5.

PROTECT THEM

"They didn't recommend firing as such," Bullock aide Glen Castlebury said Monday, "but they gave Bullock their evaluations of the situation."

Bullock's announced policy of mandatory retirement at age 65 will affect only two of the 33 being terminated.

Of the 23 department heads in the 1, 0-employe agency, six are on Bullock's list of dismissals. The two who have reached 65 also are department heads.

Castlebury said Bullock was reluctant to release the names of those being fired. "His attitude is to protect them as far as possible," he said.

Castlebury confirmed in answer to a question that Hugh Edburg was one of those fired. Edburg ran against Bullock in the Democratic primary and made himself a public figure, Castlbury said.

LEADERS

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, 81, is retiring. During the campaign, Bullock referred to Edburg as "the No. 2 pencilpusher" in the comptroller's office.

The dismissed employes are "policymakers or leaders of large numbers of employes or in sensitive positions or receive high pay," Castlebury said. "We're not just throwing a bunch of poor people out into the street."

A letter from Bullock to the dismissed employes last Friday told them to take their accumulated vacation or leave time after Jan. 1 in order to give them more time to find new jobs.

Bullock said it would have been unfair both to those being fired and those who remain not to let them know as soon as possible, Castlebury said.

THEFTS

The Kent Oil Station, North Lamesa Dr., was reportedly burglarized early Saturday. Police received a call that the burglary was in progress at 5:53 a.m. Saturday, but when officers arrived, the burglars had already gone. Taken were stereo tapes, candy and cigarettes, valued at $200. Damage to the door and lock was set at $20.

Lyn Wallace, Thrifty Lodge, reported that someone took $250 worth of tools from the back of his pickup during the night Friday night.

H. W. Snyder, Yellow Cab, reported that a customer fled without paying for his fare at Northcrest Apartments on North Main Street at 12:25 p.m. Saturday. The unpaid fare was $2.35.

Manuel Moreno Renteria, 1200 Grafa, reported that someone stole his dark green 1957 Chevrolet two-door hardtop from the parking lot at Cotton Mize Miniature Golf at 9 a.m. Saturday. The keys were left in the ignition.
