TRAIN PLUNGES INTO CREEK, 40 TO 50 DROWN

Snow Following Rain Handicaps Rescue Workers in Their Effort To Reach Bodies of Many Victims

CASPER, Wio., Sept. 28. (AP)—Between 40 and 50 persons perished in the wreck of Burlington passenger train No. 20 last night, it was estimated at 11:30 o'clock today on reports received from private and official sources. Out of 28 Pullman passengers 26 are known to be safe.

It was stated by railroad officials at the scene of the wreck at noon that it would be impossible to remove the coaches from the creek to recover bodies until the waters recede. Reports that one coach had been raised were denied.

One railroad official at noon placed his estimate of the dead at 25.

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28.—Arrival of daylight this morning saw the beginning of work toward recovery of bodies from Burlington passenger train No. 20, Casper to Denver, which last night plunged through a bridge into a raging torrent in Coal creek, 15 miles east of Casper, causing as as yet unknown death list of passengers.

Several bodies had been removed from partly submerged cars at an early hour, but names of victims are still lacking and the full casualty list probably will not be known until waters from the cloudburst recede to the point where coaches now completely submerged can be entered. It is understood that the first bodies removed were to be taken to Glen Cross, a small station east of the scene of the wreck across the Platte river from Glen Rock. It is probable that several bodies were washed down stream and will never be recovered.

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28.—Estimates of the number of persons who lost their lives last night when Burlington passenger train No. 20 plunged into Coal creek, near here, differed at 7 o'clock this morning. The lowest figures placed the dead at 25. A railroad telegraph operator at Glen Rock, near the scene of the wreck, and who assisted in the rescue work, said he thought the death list would mount to 100.

All rescue work had to be temporarily abandoned at 2 o'clock this morning. It began snowing about that hour after 24 hours of continuous rainfall.

The scene of the wreck is about 14 miles east of Casper, about two miles west of the Big Muddy oil field, and about seven miles west of Glen Rock. The next flag stop for the train across the culvert through which it plunged into Coal creek is Lockett.

ROAR OF WATER COULD BE HEARD THREE MILES

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28. (AP)—Burlington passenger train No. 20, bound for Denver which plunged into Coal creek early last night went into a raging torrent causing a loss of life estimated early this morning at approximately 40 persons.

The roar of water over cars in the stream could be heard for three miles. What ordinarily is a dry creek during the summer was suddenly swollen into a torrent by the heavy rains of yesterday.

A track walker had inspected the culvert over Coal creek less than an hour before the Burlington passenger was due. He reported everything all right, although the stream was rising.

About 9:10 p. m. the train swept around a curve and plunged into the stream. Apparently the locomotive got clear across the culvert before it gave away under the weight of the heavy train. Then it slipped back into the water and both engineer and fireman were killed.

One passenger car buried in the stream was swept 100 yards out into the Platte river, Wyoming's largest stream. It is believed that all occupants of this coach perished, because by the time rescuers could give any aid the water had completely buried the car as it turned over on its side. Platte river is more than a mile wide at a point near the wreck.

Probably only four sleeping car passengers lost their lives by drowning. From 20 to 24 passengers were rescued from the top of the sleeper, which was partially submerged in the stream.

Neither the Cheyenne nor Casper sleepers went into the stream.

Rope Used in Rescue.

A rescue train from Casper arrived at the scene of the wreck at 11 p. m., and immediately it was seen that the chance of rescue was by means of a rope arrangements strung from the east bank.

There were from 20 to 24 persons on top of the sleeper, all begging to be rescued.

The most thrilling portion of the rescue scene then ensued. A big cable rope obtained at the Big Muddy oil field was thrown over to the marooned sleepers. With the

GERMANY IS MUCH CONCERNED RESULT FOREIGN SITUATION

BERLIN, Sept. 28. (AP)—Chancellor Stresemann and the members of his cabinet were less concerned today over the Bavarian situation than as to what the immediate future holds in store for the government with respect to the impending new adjustment of its foreign relations.

With Adolph Hitler and his "fascisti" following subdued for the moment the Berlin government is satisfied that the Bavarian authorities in collaboration with the commander of the federal troops will be able to control the situation there.

Chancellor Stresemann has resumed active contact with the envoys of the entente and was in conference last night with the English and French ambassadors and the Belgian minister. The subjects presumed to have been discussed were the questions of the early resumption of formal negotiations and the attitude of the allied powers toward the German reparations proposals of June 7. The government, it is said, has presented two candidates for the German ministry at Brussels.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT TO PROTECT NEGROES ORDERED FROM TOWN

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 28. (AP)—Following reports to the state executive office that a group of citizens of Mitchell county had warned the supervisor of a state convict camp near the scene of the reported attack by an escaped negro convict on an aged white woman Wednesday, to move the camp by noon today, Governor Morrison announced that he had ordered troops to the county and that law and order would be maintained if it is in his power to do so.

NEGRO LABORERS ARE DEPORTED FROM TOWN

SPRUCE PINE, N. C., Sept. 28. (AP) Mayor A. N. Fuller announced today he would ask Governor Morrison to send state troops here so that negro laborers deported yesterday by an armed mob after an attempted attack on an aged white woman by a negro may be brought back safely to continue work on public improvements. The forced exodus of the negroes was reported complete today and spokesmen for the mob which routed out nearly 100 negroes from construction gangs in the vicinity and placed them aboard freight trains declared they would never permit another negro to enter the town.

Mayor Fuller said today that it was necessary that the improvements continue and since no white labor is available, the negro workmen must be brought back.

JURY HAS NOT AGREED IN DR. YARBROUGH CASE

MACON, Ga., Sept. 28. (AP)—The jury which Wednesday took under consideration the fate of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, charged with riot in connection with the flogging outrages in Bacon, had had the case 40 hours when they resumed their deliberations this morning.

Persons familiar with the courts here say this is probably the longest period any Bibb county jury has been out without sending for the presiding judge.

BELIEVE BAVARIAN ARMY IS ABLE TO HANDLE SITUATION

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 28. (AP)—The city of Ferdinandovo was occupied today by government forces. The communist revolutionary elements thus lost their last center of resistance. The occupation was made possible by the capture of Berkowitza Wednesday night, this success opening up the way to Ferdinandovo.

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—With both the central and Bavarian governments cooperating for the maintenance of order in Bavaria, advices from Munich say that the possibility of an outbreak by extremists factions is regarded as remote. A body of troops, believed to be large enough to cope with any situation, has been assembled in Munich.

The appointment of Dr. Von Kahr to a dictatorship was apparently decided upon by Premier Von Knilling's government as a precautionary measure in view of the restiveness occasioned by the termination of the passive resistance and the fear that separatist action in the Rhineland would threaten Bavaria. Both the premier and Dr. Von Kahr emphasized that the proclamation of a state of emergency and the establishment of a dictatorship were not intended as affronts to Berlin. Bavaria sought only to safeguard herself.

Although Bavaria gave her approval to the decision to cancel passive resistance, the Von Knilling government found certain features of Chancellor Stresemann's proclamation distasteful. The head of the reich cabinet did not, in the opinion of Bavaria, stress the illegality of the occupation; nor did he recognize Premier Von Knilling's demands that the Versailles treaty be termed null and void and that Germany should not negotiate directly with France and Belgium.

The ultra nationalists felt much the same way.

Meanwhile Dr. Von Kahr and General Von Lossow, cited as military commander in Bavaria, according to the reich, are said to be working together to prevent ultra national agitation. Inasmuch as Von Lossow represents Dr. Gesseler, the newly appointed executive authority, he is superior to Von Kahr.

DENIES HE PLEDGED SUPPORT TO COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON., Sept. 28.—Wayne B. Condition of Man Wounded in Dallas Battle Is Serious

DALLAS, Sept. 28. (AP)—Sidney Welk, wounded in the gun fight in Dallas county jail Wednesday night in which Willis Champion, assistant jailer, and C. E. Gaines, convicted postoffice robber, were killed, was in a serious condition early today, according to officers. Birdshot penetrated his lungs and the wounds, first believed trifling, have become dangerous with possibility of complications.

Welk continued his silence as to how pistols came into the possession of himself and Gaines. He was indicted yesterday for the murder of Champion in the attempted jail delivery. He was under 40-year sentence for the slaying of Tom Wood, deputy sheriff, in a raid on a still near Garland. Gaines was under death sentence for the slaying of G. W. Street, postal clerk, in the robbery January 14, 1921, of the Jackson street postoffice station.

Sheriff Dan Harrison and District Attorney Shelby Cox said this morning they had no definite information as to who smuggled the guns to Welk and Gaines or as to the identity of the person said to have slowly circled the jail Wednesday night in an automobile while the fight was in progress.

Walter S. Ward Is Acquitted of The Murder of Clarence Peters; Prosecution Denounces Defendant

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 28. (AP)—Walter S. Ward today was acquitted of the murder of Clarence Peters. The jury had been in deliberation exactly three hours and four minutes. A moment before the jurymen filed to their seats Isaac N. Mills, chief defense counsel, stepped over to Ward's seat and quietly shook hands with his client.

After the verdict had been announced the attorneys polled the jurors individually while spectators broke into unrestrained shouting, jumping and dancing around. In a minute Ward and his wife were surrounded by a wild crowd which tore the late defendant from the embrace of his brother, Ralph. Ralph had kissed him on both cheeks when the foreman spoke.

By Universal Service.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 28. —Tomorrow is the thirty-second birthday of Walter S. Ward, and the young millionaire baker probably will spend the morning listening to the charge to the jury that is trying him for the murder of Clarence Peters, the ex-marine, who was killed by Ward May 16, 1922.

Justice Wagner of the supreme court will read the charge which means life or death to Ward, and by night fall it is believed that Ward will either be under sentence enough to cope with any situation, has been assembled in Munich. to die in the electric chair, on his way to a long term in prison, or a free man, back home with his wife and two small children.

The summing up of the state was a dramatic event in which Attorney General Sherman, himself but slightly older than Ward, thundered malediction upon the young millionaire who has "slain an unarmed man, a cowardly murderer."

The packed court room thrilled to the drama of the state's demand for a life for a life, and the jury sat as though frozen while the attorney general tore at the defense or rather the attack of the defense on the part of the accused man, or acted in tragic silence, with his deputy, Thomas O'Neil, the killing of Peters as claimed by the state.

Sherman pivoted the whole case of the state on the declaration that the revolver which Ward claimed had been used by Peters to fire at him before he killed the marine, was in reality the property of Ward, having been given to Ward by Police Chief Cody on Christmas, 1921.

"If this is not the gun that Chief Cody gave Ward," cried the attorney general, his long, slim fingers passing back and forth over the weapon held over the rampart of the jury box, "then why did the defense not produce that gun?

"Walter Ward lied. He planted his gun. Peters was unarmed. Ward shot him down without warning."

"Again, I remind you this case is undefended. He said he wanted a trial. We gave it to him. Why does he still fear the truth as he has always feared it?

"I am not here because of a situation I created. When I examined the evidence against the defendant, I determined Walter Ward should be brought to trial on that evidence, and I recommended that.

"Gentlemen, I can ask for nothing save a verdict of murder in the first degree.

"I do not believe Ward an innocent man. Where would an innocent man have headed his car within an hour after the shooting—yes, sooner? To the nearest authority in law.

"Was it guilt or innocence that kept Ward from coming forward until four days after the crime? What finally forced him in? Why, the identification of his victim. Every paper was removed from Peter's body. Why, if he had not been identified by the authorities, do you doubt this man, Ward, would have let him go to his grave unknown, unidentified, just an inconsequential person, he, Walter Ward, had found it necessary to shoot through the heart and remove from his path?"

The attorney general spoke for three hours and a half, interrupted now and then by violent objections from the defense counsel, but Justice Wagner invariably ruled that the matter of evidence and fact rested wholly with the jury and its recollection of the testimony and the bearing of various incidents upon the main fact, the killing of Peters.

In closing Mr. Sherman said:

"If Ward's father, George S. Ward, was conducting an investigation of the alleged blackmail plot, and if that investigation was helpful to his son, why isn't George S. Ward here?"

STATE RANGERS TO AID INVESTIGATION SLAYING OF YOUTH

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. (AP)—State rangers stationed at Marshall have been directed to investigate the slaying of Otis Ballard, 18 years old, at Mount Pleasant last Monday night, it was learned today. A state ranger yesterday was dispatched to join in the inquiry into the affair, it was stated. Young Ballard is reported to have been brutally killed near midnight and his body hid.

BELIEVE YOUTH KILLED AND HIS BODY HIDDEN

WINFIELD, Texas, Sept. 28. (AP)—Officers today continued their search for Otis Ballard, who disappeared Monday night and who police believe was killed and his body hidden. Four white boys and a negro are in jail at Mount Pleasant in connection with the affair. A large iron bludgeon covered with blood and hair, found by searchers yesterday, added mystery to Ballard's disappearance.

When last seen alive Ballard was at a school house at Mount Pleasant. An automobile rushed away from the school about that time and it was discovered that the young man was missing. Blood was found on the school grounds.

TENTATIVE AGREEMENT STATEMENT OF FACTS IN ANTI-TRUST SUITS

It is planned to call the cases the latter part of October or early in November in Travis county district court.

"SHORTY" CRAMER STARTS ON FLIGHT; 1744 MILE TRIP

HOUSTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Parker D. "Shorty" Cramer took off this morning at 6 o'clock, begining a flight from Ellington Field here to Bradford, Pa.

Cramer hopes to complete the 1744 miles in approximately 13 hours. He is attempting to break Scotty Crocker's record in his famous non-stop flight from the gulf to Canada.

Cramer had not been heard from at 10:30 o'clock.

After leaving Houston he planned to fly over Monroe, La., pass south of Memphis, sail over Bowling Green, Ky., and strike Chillicothe, Ohio, and Beaver Falls, Pa., thence to his destination.

Cramer has attempted to make the trip several times in the past month, but "hard luck" prevented him from getting out of the vicinity of Houston. Engine trouble, water in his gasoline and failure of his pumps to function were his last troubles.

OIL COMPANIES TO BE SUED BY STATE IF TAX IS NOT PAID

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. (AP)—Names of Texas oil companies that have not paid the balance of the 2 per cent gross oil production tax for the quarter ending July 1, will be certified to the attorney general with request that suits be brought at the close of this month, it was stated at the comptroller's department today. Several of the largest producing companies in the state have not yet paid the entire tax.

Oil companies must pay the 2 per cent tax for the entire quarter ending in July, although the new act did not become effective until June. The department yesterday received payment from the first of the larger companies, the payment amounting to nearly $25,000. Other firms have threatened to contest the attorney gengral's ruling.

WASHINGTON VOTE SEEN AS MENACE TO REPUBLICANS

FURTHER REDUCES ALREADY PRECARIOUS MAJORITY IN LOWER HOUSE.

MAJORITY DOUBTFUL IN ANY DEPENDABLE SENSE

Result Must Be Accepted As Reflecting Lack of Popularity For Administration.

By MARK SULLIVAN
Political Correspondent of the New York Tribune and Wichita Daily Times.
Copyright, 1923, by the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The result of the isolated congressional election in the state of Washington is accepted here as a menace to the Republicans, although there are aspects of it that minimize its accuracy as a barometer. It reduces by one the already extremely precarious majority the Republicans have in the lower house.

SULLIVAN

Indeed it is doubtful if it can be said that the Republicans have a majority of the lower house in any dependable sense. There are not less than 25 members who are Republicans nominally, but who, when the house meets in December will follow the leadership of LaFollette more closely than that of Coolidge.

LaFollette, so far as he has power, is as likely as not to swing his strength to the Democrats in electing officials of the new congress and in many of the issues that come up. When this Washington state election is looked upon as a barometer of the popularity of the Republican administration it must be described as discouraging to that party. The district is an unusually representative one and is accepted here as a typical cross section of present western sentiment. It includes some wards of the city of Spokane containing the homes of laborers and of retired farmers and the two counties outside Spokane contain garmers and some mining communities. Politically, the district is evenly balanced. During the past four years it went Republican once and Democratic once.

There is some comfort for the Republican disaffection. The primary election for the choice of the Republican nominee had been hotly fought, had been very close in the outcome, and ultimately has been settled by an appeal to the courts. Such a situation is sure to result in some Republicans expressing their pique by voting the Democratic ticket. Nevertheless the outstanding fact is that the Democrat won and that two of his most important appeals were advocacy of a government guarantee of $1.75 a bushel for wheat and advocacy of the selection of federal judges, including justices of the supreme court by popular vote. The Democratic national leaders do not endorse these issues as theirs and there is no likelihood of the party generally standing for them throughout the country. They are, however, an index of popular feeling in some parts of the west, and the result of the election must be accepted as reflecting lack of popularity for the Republican admnistration, and a menace to the Republican party in 1924.

COUNTY AUTHORITIES INVESTIGATING DEATH FIVE YEAR OLD CHILD

CORSICANA, Texas, Sept. 28. (AP)—County authorities today were investigating the death of Melton Rodgers, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rodgers, whose body was found in the Frost tank yesterday after a three hour search. The child's head was bruised which led to the belief of foul play. The boy had wandered away from home with his three-year-old brother. The latter was found playing near the tank.

The cause of the death of Melton Rodgers remained unsolved at noon today. Some officers advanced the opinion that the injuries on Melton's head were caused by some barbed wire through which the child would have had to crawl to reach the tank and that he fell into the water and drowned.

The coroner's verdict has not been rendered and officers are continuing an investigation.

REPORT LABOR BECOMING INCREASINGLY RESTIVE

LONDON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Labor is becoming increasingly restive in the face of the prolongation of the Ruhr problem and the spread of unemployment.

With a view to trying to get its demands met labor is doing its utmost to force the government to convene parliament which has adjourned until November 17. A joint meeting of the trade union council and the labor party executives yesterday passed a resolution urgently calling upon Prime Minister Baldwin to summon parliament immediately. Such a step was asked because of the "extreme gravity of the situation in Germany with its inevitable effects on the state of trade and in view of unemployment."

State Supreme Court Rules That Proposed Election Call Is Legal; Gov. Walton Asks for Rehearing

BATTERY A GUARD RETURNS TO ENID

ENID, Okla., Sept. 28. (AP)—Battery A, local detachment of the Oklahoma national guard, arrived in Enid at 6 o'clock this morning from Oklahoma City, where the unit has been on duty since the entire state was placed under martial law by Governor Walton. The battery has been demobilized and officers and men who live outside of Enid have started for their homes.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 28. (AP)—The legal barriers separating members of the lower house of the state legislature from an opportunity, in the near future to consider impeachment charges against Governor J. C. Walton were doubled today when George F. Short, state attorney general, upon orders from the governor applied to the state supreme court for a rehearing of a case decided late yesterday which had declared legal a state-wide election set for October 2.

Opponents of the governor had hoped to place on the ballot an initialed question providing for a constitutional amendment that would authorize them to meet without the governor's call. This question is still in litigation, but an effort is being made to obtain a decision before tomorrow night, the deadline established by the state election board.

Now, with not only the one question, but the entire election again before the court, hope waned rapidly among the legislators.

The legal tangle was increased late in the day when Campbell Russell, instigator of the petition involving the legislature, filed with the supreme court a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Mr. McAlester to place the question on the ballot. The court went into immediate conference.

Belief that the martial law regime in the state is to be lifted or modified soon grew today when it became known that orders had been issued to Colonel W. S. Key, military commander of Oklahoma county, and Colonel J. B. Sledge, attached to the local military headquarters, relieving them from duty. No assignment had been made for successors, it was understood.

Campbell Russell, former chairman of the state corporation commission and known as one of the governor's bitterest political opponents, who was arrested Wednesday in a hotel lobby while distributing literature attacking the executive, was acquitted on a charge of disorderly conduct in city court today.

SHAWNEE, Okla., Sept. 28. (AP)—Homer McKown, grand cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan at Maude, Okla., and W. W. Price, a member of the Maude klan, were released from custody here today after a brief hearing in superior court at which they agreed to answer questions put to them by a military court at Maude.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 28. (AP)—An alleged account of how the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin of Lawton, former pastor of a church there, who was removed by his congregation because he had performed a wedding ceremony in a bathing pool with the principals attired in bathing suits, had been persecuted by a masked mob which on two occasions beat him almost to death, was revealed here today by Governor J. C. Walton.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 28. (AP)——The iron hand of the military descended today upon another county in Oklahoma as warning was given by Governor J. C. Walton that more stringent martial rule is in store for other sections if "invisible government" in the state can be put down in no other way.

Upon the appeal of more than a score of residents of Sulphur, the governor late last night ordered military occupation of Murray county, where the civil authorities, some of whom are said to be controlled by the Ku Klux Klan, are charged with having neglected to prosecute persons responsible for numerous mob outrages.

Violence and bloodshed may result from the "deplorable conditions" existing in the county, the petitioners declared in asking for the establishment of rigid martial law. The persons and property of those not members of the Ku Klux Klan, they asserted, are unsafe under the "reign of klan officers."

Governor Walton declared today there will be no end to military rule in the state until mob violence and masked depredations cease.

"Martial law is being tightened instead of loosened," he said in denying rumors that a modification of military regulations is in prospect.

Change Is Expected.

Despite his statement the belief persisted in well informed quarters that a decrease in the scope of martial law can be expected within the next few days.

This opinion was strengthened by a perceptible lessening of public tension which has prevailed since legislative opposition first cropped out against the official acts of Governor Walton.

A legal fight to determine whether they are empowered to hold a special session without a call from the governor was started late yesterday by the 77 members of the lower house of the state legislature whose attempt to launch an impeachment investigation was blocked by state troopers acting under orders from Governor Walton.

They applied in district court here for an injunction to restrain national guardsmen from interfering with meetings of the house. Agreeing to essay no further action until a final decision, but pledging to convene again on call if the ruling is in their favor, the legislators were returning to their homes today to await the outcome of the court battle.

To U. S. Supreme Court.

The case will be threshed out in United States supreme court before it is finally settled, both sides agreed.

Hearing on the petition for injunction was set for next Tuesday morning.

Before the legislators disbanded they issued a statement addressed to the people of Oklahoma, explaining their attempt to convene and the resultant court action.

Interest in the situation shifted to Tecumseh today where Homer McKeown, grand cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan at Maude, Okla., will be tried in superior court on a charge of contempt of court.

The grand cyclops and W. W. Price, both of whom are prominent Maude business men, were arrested late yesterday after refusing to testify before a military court of inquiry in connection with the flogging of a school teacher at Maude in 1921. They had been implicated in the whipping by witnesses previously interrogated, but when they were called to the stand both refused to answer questions, according to officers of the court.

They were denied bail and spent the night in the county jail at Tecumseh.

Election May Be Held.

Possibility existed today that a way would be opened to the house members for a meeting without awaiting the outcome of a long court fight. A constitutional amendment to give them authority to meet without call by the governor may be voted on at a special election October 2. The election was declared valid by the state supreme court late yesterday, but there still remains legal barriers to be cleared away before the amendment affecting the house can take its place on the ballot with five other measures that have been approved by the court.

An initiated petition providing for the amendments making it possible for a majority of the members of the legislature to call a special session was protested by Governor Walton, who appealed from the decision of R. A. Sneed, secretary of state, on the ground that there were not sufficient signatures on the petition. Sneed had held the petition sufficient. The supreme court dismissed the governor's appeal, but upon his application late yesterday granted a new hearing. No date has been set.

FLOODS ARE RAGING IN WYOMING STREAMS

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Sept. 28. (AP)—Swollen by terrific rains the waters of Big Goose and Little Goose creeks left their banks early this morning and dashed over wide sections of Sheridan. Scores of residents in the river bottom sections began packing their belongings preparatory to moving to places of safety. The water is standing one to three feet in various sections of town.

DECISION IS ACCEPTED BY GREEK GOVERNMENT

ATHENS, Sept. 28. (AP)—It is understood that the Greek government has decided to accept the decision of the allied conference of ambassadors awarding the Greek indemnity deposit of 50 million lire to Italy. A note to this affect will be handed to the French minister today, it is expected. The note will also express regret that the ambassadors conference did not await termination of the international inquiry into the Janina massacre before taking its decision.

INVOLUNTARY PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY FILED

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Failure of the New York stock exchange house of Robert H. Marshall & Co., was announced from the rostrum of the exchange this morning.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed later, estimating liabilities at $2,000,000 and assets $2,340,000. James R. Sheffield was appointed receiver under bond of $25,000.

The firm as at present constituted was organized July 18, 1919. It is composed of William R. Simonds, who is the board member; Robert P. Marshall, Clinton Graham and Francis B. Mallaby.

The firm office of the firm is at 71 Broadway. It has no out of town connections.

SARAZEN AND HAGEN MEET IN PRO FINALS

PELHAM MANOR, Sept. 28. (AP)—Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen, by virtue of easy victories in the semi-final round Friday, will meet Saturday for the Professional Golfers Association title. LONGSHOREMEN GET INCREASE IN WAGES; AFFECT 30,000 MEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 28, (AP)—The compromise wage increase offered by the Steamship Owners affecting 30,000 longshoremen, checkers and other employes, has been accepted by the International Longshoremen's Association, it was announced today, thereby averting a threatened walkout.

The longshoremen's increase is from 70 to 80 cents an hour and from $1.07 to $1.20 per hour for overtime. The checkers' wage scale will be increased from $6.40 to $6.80 per day. They also will receive $1.20 per hour for overtime work. The cargo repairmen will receive the same increases as the longshoremen.

According to Joseph A. Ryan, vice-president of the longshoremen, all but a small minority are satisfied with the new wage scale.

The agreement will be signed during the day.

Business Council Discusses Placing Of Signs in Sections Where Two-Hour Parking Limits Obtain

A motion for the placing of parking regulation signs in the business district of Wichita Falls, where parking is prohibited and regulated by time limits, was made before the regular weekly meeting of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce at the Kemp Friday noon. The matter was referred to Frank Queisser of the automobile committee and he was instructed to investigate possibilities and submit a report. The question of trouble being experienced by visitors in the city during fair week was suggested by John Bradley and that also was referred to Mr. Queisser.

George Gutzman suggested that the attention of building owners in Wichita Falls be called to signs which are being painted on some of the beautiful brick and stone buildings in the city. He pointed out the fact that the fronts of several of the buildings were unsightly. His suggestion was referred to the civic development committee.

Hubert M. Harrison, secretary of the council, told of the plan to build a railroad from Waurika to Ringling, plans for the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, the irrigation meeting at Ardmore, the landowners' meeting at Iowa Park October 9, Fire Prevention Week beginning October 7, the coming to Wichita Falls of the United Advertising Corporation of Texas and the contemplated plans for the opening of a division office in Wichita Falls of the state highway department to handle road maintenance work.

Discussion of Office.

County Judge B. D. Martin endorsed the work of the highway department in planning to locate the headquarters here and suggested that a warehouse and office space be donated them as they requested. R. A. Penick moved that a committee be appointed to confer with representatives of the highway department and find out their needs, but Bert Bean questioned the proposition, stating that the department was maintained by taxpayers and he did not see why a warehouse and office space should be donated. He declared that the state should locate the office in the best place and as it is maintained by taxpayers, an effort to get the office should not be made, otherwise the operation expense should be greater. This being the case, he pointed out, they should rent their warehouse and offices in the city best located.

T. P. Duncan, chairman of the council, who presided, appointed a committee of three, Bert Bean, R. A. Penick and Fred Couper, to investigate the matter and confer with officials of the highway department.

Jim Barnard told of the present plan to pave Indiana street, and reminded the council that the paving hearing was scheduled for Friday night before the city council. Bids for brick paving will be opened.

T. A. Rogers told of the move of the publicity committee in raising $1,000 for the general fund of the Texas division of the American Legion for the special train to the San Francisco convention. He stated that it was not the policy of the publicity committee to sponsor special advertising schemes and that the money would be raised by donations.

TEMPERATURE RANGES FROM 76 TO 82 DEGREES

A hard south wind, which threatened to switch around and become a cold fall norther, blew up early Thursday night. The storm, however, blew itself out during the night, and Friday morning dawned clear and calm. The temperature at 6 o'clock Friday morning, as the minimum for the day, was 76 degrees, according to the thermometer at the home of George Simmons, 1406 Broad street. The temperature was 82 degrees at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

No change in weather conditions was reported at any point in this section of the state, according to dispatchers' reports Friday, and the temperature seems to be rising everywhere. There has been very little wind within the past 24 hours.

BRIDWELL-HEYDRICK GET SECOND LARGE WELL IN TEN DAYS

Bridwell and Heydrick Thursday finish their No. 3 Carter, block 52, Geraldine townsite, Sunshine pool, with an initial production of between 650 and 700 barrels per day, making the second big producer brought in by that company during the last ten days.

The top of the pay was picked up at 1575 feet, which after being drilled into a few feet, started to flow by heads and is at present swabbing over 700 barrels.

CASING IS SET ON SEMI-WILDCAT TEST OF MAER AND STANIFORTH

Casing has been set by Maer and Staniforth on their semi-wildcat test on the Dr. E. J. Motherlin ranch, about one-half mile west of the proven area of the Sunshine pool. The sand was picked up at 1375 feet, the same depth as that of the Hester-Hawkins and Gwynne wells on the Carter land in block 52. The bringing in of a producer at this point would be the means of opening up some exclusive territory for future drilling.

Buster Morgan Chosen Leader High Pep Squad

"Pep" for the high school was officially started Thursday afternoon, when Buster Morgan was elected yell leader by acclamation at a pep meeting held in the auditorium after school. After the election "Bus" responded and yells were given on the spot, consisting of "fifteen" for team, captain, coach and various members of the squad.

The newly elected pep leader stated in a short talk that he expected a large percentage of the high school student body to turn out in organized groups for the game Saturday when the Coyotes meet the Nocona squad on the home field. New yells and songs are to be written, and it is the intention of the enthusiastic members of the high school to put more "pep" into school life this year than ever before.

ORDER OF DE MOLAY HOLDS ITS QUARTERLY ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Philip Pink was elected to the office of junior councilor of the order of De Molay at the quarterly election of officers of Hope chapter, held at the Masonic Temple Thursday night. George Rose, former master councilor, will retire from office next week at the installation of new officers, and will go into the ranks of the past master councilors.

The other two officers who filled the senior and junior councilors' chairs rotated in the regular order of the lodge. Edgar Smith became master councilor for the coming three months, and Joyce Williams, formerly junior councilor became councilor, by rotation.

WICHITA DONS HER BEST GARB TO GREET T-O FAIR VISITORS

Wichita Falls is ready to welcome the many out of state visitors during the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition to be held October 1 to 7, inclusive. The city already presents a gala appearance as all the downtown streets are decorated with flags and banners. The various civic organizations are cooperating with fair association officials to make the exposition the greatest of the southwest, according to C. H. Verschoyle, fair secretary.

Information received by the fair association officials is that a mammoth crowd will be here each day of the fair. Visitors will be here from practically all of western Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico and north and northwest Texas.

The great variety of attractions and amusements being offered is proving a wonderful attraction. According to the advance guard of the concessionnaires and showmen, the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition is being recognized as equal to other fairs and expositions of the middle-west circuit.

The cattle and poultry exhibits are a subject of much comment, as no other fair in the southwest will have a larger or more complete list than the local fair. The running horse races are attracting turfmen from many states, and several horses valued at $15,000 to $25,000 each will compete in the races during the race meet to be held as one of the feature programs of the fair.

ART GALLERY AT FAIR TO BE OPEN DAILY FROM EIGHT A. M. TO SEVEN P. M.

Members of the Wichita Falls Artists' Club will act as hostesses during the fair to visitors in the art gallery, which will be in charge of Mrs. Ed Lauderdale, art superintendent.

The Fine Arts Building has been cleaned and repainted. The many paintings are being hung about the wall so as to give visitors a chance to study the paintings from every angle.

Tuesday being Wichita Falls day the the fair the Art Gallery will remain open until 11 o'clock at night. All artists of the various fine art clubs, and the Wichita Artists' Club are asked to be present on Tuesday night, Mrs. Lauderdale stated.

FRAUD WARNING!

House-to-house solicitors are claiming to sell Phoenix hosiery in various sections of the United States. Sometimes they show alleged credentials in which the word "Phoenix" is prominently displayed. Their plan is to secure a dollar deposit, promising that the hosiery will be sent by mail, and the balance collected by the postman. And that is the last their victims ever hear of them. They pocket the dollar and disappear. In a few instances, however, they have delivered some makeshift hosiery, worth about half the price.

These canvassers are outright frauds, for Phoenix hosiery is sold only through retail stores. As Phoenix is a leader in sales everywhere, and is probably the best known line of hosiery in the world, these peddlers are trading upon that reputation to defraud the buying public.

REWARD

United States Post Office Inspectors and the Pinkerton National Detective Agency are now searching for these defrauders, and are working on several such cases.

We will pay liberally for information that will lead to the arrest of any of these unauthorized solicitors. If you are approached by any person offering Phoenix hosiery and seeking a deposit of money, please notify a Phoenix dealer, or your city's "Better Business Bureau," or if there is a Pinkerton agency in your city, notify them. Also telegraph us collect.

We issue this warning as a protection to the public, as well as ourselves, that no one may innocently purchase imitations for genuine Phoenix hosiery.

Unscrupulous and fraudulent house-to-house hosiery canvassers are daily mulcting the American public out of thousands of dollars. Beware of them.

New System of Tax Collection Will Be Given Trial This Season.

Payment of 1923 taxes will begin Monday morning at 8 o'clock. October 1 is the date which marks the opening of the tax paying season throughout the entire state.

Mrs. R. E. Huff will be honored with the first poll tax receipt to be issued here this year, while her husband, R. E. Huff, will have the distinction of being the first man to secure an exemption certificate. This is a custom which has been adhered to for many years, in fact ever since Wichita county was organized.

Judge J. E. Jones, former county judge, and Mrs. Jones, will secure exemption certificates Nos. 2 and 3, while Guy Raley, county tax collector, will get poll tax receipt No. 2. This same order has been adhered to for many years.

Due to the fact that the Texas-Oklahoma Fair opens next Monday morning, and since many farmers from various parts of the county will be in the city, it is believed that the collections for the first day, as well as for the first week, will be heavy.

The new system of collecting taxes, inaugurated by Guy Raley, the present tax collector, will be given its first trial this year. The system is believed to be a great improvement over the old one and it is sincerely believed by all officials that it will assist materially in expediting matters and will also be highly instrumental in keeping down the long waiting lines that have been in evidence each year.

Under the new system, a power of attorney appears on the back of the duplicate tax statement, whereby farmers who are unable to come to the court house can designate some person for the community to pay all taxes as well as poll taxes.

Each taxpayer in the county will receive or has received a statement of his taxes in duplicate. Instructions are that both shall be brought in the collector's office where one will be kept as a permanent record for the office, while the other becomes a tax receipt when the seal of the office is placed upon it.

BOX SOCIAL WILL BE GIVEN FRIDAY NIGHT AT CASHION

A real old-fashioned box social will be staged at the Cashion school Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. An entertainment has also been prepared and will be staged during the evening. A number of Wichita Falls people are expecting to attend the event and some are planning to furnish a box of "eats."

The proceeds from this event are to be used in purchasing play ground equipment and a Victrola for the school.

The school is located eight miles from the city on the Burkburnett-Wichita Falls paved highway and preparations have been made to accommodate a large crowd.

This social event will be the first one held in the new building, which was completed a week before school opened for the present term.

TWO BOYS HELD IN JAIL, OTHERS OUT ON BOND

Two of the four boys arrested Thursday in connection with the taking and demolishing of Orville Bullington's automobile are being kept in the county jail. The other two were released on bond late Thursday afternoon. Charges were filed against all four, three of them in juvenile court and the other in the county court at law.

Delinquent Tax Payments Are Increasing Daily

"Threats bring results," according to City Clerk W. E. McBroom.

Large numbers of people are calling the city clerk and the city delinquent tax collector's office daily and inquiring about their taxes, Mr. McBroom declared. The response came in answer to newspaper articles declaring that the city intended to file suit against all delinquents.

Reports from the delinquent tax collector's office show that a number of delinquent taxes were being paid Thursday and Friday and a large number of telephone calls had been received from citizens inquiring about their taxes.

A rush is expected October 1, as a number of people have signified their intention of paying their taxes on that date.

If the $40,000 delinquent taxes are not collected the city will be forced to borrow money for operating expenses, McBroom declared. At present the city is paying interest on money borrowed, because taxes were not paid promptly.

SABBATH SCHOOL FOR TEMPLE ISRAEL TO OPEN

The Sabbath school of Temple Israel will open for the season Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. All parents are urged to have children present.

DECISIONS BEING EXPECTED IN MANY CASES OF COUNTY

The Texas court of criminal appeals, which has been in summer recess for the past two months, will convene next Wednesday morning and local attorneys are expecting decisions to be handed down in many criminal cases now on appeal from Wichita county.

Fully a score of cases had been submitted on appeal before the court went into recess in July and it is understood that during the past week the members of the court have been at work.

Several important questions, on which cases were appealed, will be settled when the decisions are given on the cases now pending before that body.

Equally interested in the reconvening of the court are a number of prisoners in the county jail, who have been unable to perfect appeal bonds and who have been spending the summer vacation of the appellate court in the county bastile.

ANOTHER GOOD AUDIENCE GREETS EVANGELIST AT FLORAL HEIGHTS BAPTIST

Thursday evening there was a goodly audience at the big tent, Tenth and Kemp. After a song service the evangelist spoke on Heaven, basing his remarks on Jo. 14:2d.

"Nothing earthly abides, change and decay are constantly showing their work," he said. "But the heavenly city hath the foundations and it abides. Many of us have loved ones awaiting us over there. What a joy when we shall be reunited over there. As to place, heaven is where Jesus is. It will be a place of rest. No tired ones there, no weary, over-worked pilgrims. The company will be glorious. Abraham, Moses, Daniel, Paul, John. What a glorious company. We shall all know each other there. Christians ought to know each other here. Heaven will be a place of worship and service.

"The beauty and glory of heaven are beyond the power of language to describe. Only those whose names are written in the lamb's book of life will enter there.

"There will be no sorrow, no funeral services, no hospitals, no tears, no deaths, no parting—all these will have passed away. No farewells up there."

Eight persons came forward for membership, four for baptism and four by letter.

Services will be held Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

MAN WHO PROPOSED TO OPERATE CHAIN STORES RELEASED TO HIS FATHER

A man from Dallas, who formerly operated a butcher shop in Oak Cliff, and who was arrested by police Thursday after he had attempted to sell a mortgaged automobile and after he had caused considerable stir among Wichita Falls merchants, when he proposed purchasing several meat markets and operating them as chain stores, was released to his father by police at a late hour Thursday. According to the officers, the man is demented. His father was notified and immediately came to Wichita Falls to get his son.

The fifteen-year-old boy, who was brought here from Dallas by the man, was also returned to his home.

LETTER FROM LESLIE FRESCOTT (CONTINUED).

Some way, little Marquise, I have so many things I want to get clear in my mind, so many things I must tell to someone that I seem to be writing you letters all the time lately.

Ever since that night at the restaurant Jack has been so queer. He has been alternately in the highest of spirits and down in the depths. Junior has been quite ill, poor little tad, and between him, my housework and trying to keep Jack from exploding, I haven't even had time to go and have my beads restrung.

Since that night Jack has not mentioned them. I took them out of my jewel case today, and oh, how beautiful they are. I have never seen any as lovely. They are perfectly matched and so milky white. I played they were real and had once belonged to you.

I called up the manager of the restaurant and asked him if the other one had been found. He said it had not, so I guess I shall be one pearl beat short all my life. Perhaps when I take them down to the jeweler he may be able to match them.

The next day after we dined at the restaurant, Ruth came over to see me. Poor girl, she is very unhappy. Her husband is not only spending most of his time with Edith Chapman, but he is neglecting his brokerage business, and besides, Ruth confided to me, she thinks he is gambling in stocks. He is so moody and irritable.

"Leslie," said Ruth solemnly, "I wonder if a man understands that when he is unattentive and unkind to his wife there is always another man who is ready and willing to pay her the attention he withholds?"

"Ruth, you don't mean—" I began.

"That is exactly what I do mean," she interrupted. "I am only human, dear, and although I think I am as good as any other woman, yet I do not believe that any wife can go on still loyal to a man who continually makes her unhappy, even if that man be the one she has promised to love and honor. If she thinks he does not love her any more and she knows he is not honorable and some other man tries to make her happy, there is going to be trouble somewhere.

"Leslie, I don't know how to say it to you, but I wish you would warn Jack against Harry. It is terrible thing when one finds that one's husband is not fair in his business dealings."

"But Jack has no business dealings with Harry."

"Are you sure? I heard him telephoning Jack yesterday and I heard him say, 'Well, unless you want to be sold out, old man, you will have to come across with more margin.'"

I don't understand that, for Jack really has no money to spend whatever. He told me he spent his last commission before he got it. I hope he is not gambling in stocks. In the first place, he has no money to do it with, and in the second, if his firm should find it out they would discharge him immediately.

TRAIN PLUNGES INTO CREEK IN WYOMING

head light of the locomotive of the relief train playing on the scene, the slow process of rescue in this manner proceeded. Men, women and children went hand over hand from the sleeper to the east bank, a distance of more than 150 feet. Several times women lost one half hold of the rope only to regain their balance and save themselves from dropping into the sweeping waters.

After their perilous trip across the water several women fell into a dead faint and had to be carried to waiting cars. A man carried a baby in his arms from the marooned car to the bank and almost miraculously effected a rescue.

Few Seriously Hurt.

Of the injured brought to Casper this morning few are seriously hurt.

No bodies have been recovered from the wreck because of the raging stream and constantly rising water.

It was still raining at the scene of the wreck early this morning. Only one sleeper was left on the track where it had been derailed at the brink of the stream. Occupants were sleeping in the car.

Undertakers left Casper at 3 o'clock this morning to search the wreckage for bodies. Undertakers also have been notified at Douglas to cooperate in finding bodies. The sheriff and deputies left on the same special train for the scene to assist in the work of extracting bodies from the wreckage.

The police in Glen Rock have been notified and will cooperate in preventing any robbing of the bodies. Cities down the Platte river have been notified to be on the lookout for floating bodies or bodies washed ashore. It is believed that it would be 24 hours or more before many bodies can be taken from the submerged cars because of the high water. Most of these drowned may have been washed out of the cars because of the terrific current of the stream.

Lloyd A. Jackson, an engineer, considers himself a lucky man today. Yesterday afternoon he refused to answer the call boy, stating that he did not want to take his regular run out of Casper because of the heavy rainfall and dangerous condition of the railroad. As a result Eugene Spangler, not the regular engineer for this run, took out the Denver train. He is reported among the missing and it is believed that he was killed in the wreck when his locomotive plunged backwards into the stream.

UNABLE TO CARRY ON RESCUE WORK AT NIGHT

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28. (AP)—At least 70 persons are believed to have lost their lives and more than a score of others suffered injuries some of them serious, when Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train No. 30 plunged through a bridge 14 miles east of Casper last night into Cole Creek.

The wreck occurred at an isolated spot near Lockett and it was not until hours afterward that some of the details of the accident became known here.

The train plunged into Cole Creek, swollen to many times its normal depth because of cloudbursts and heavy rains, and passengers were engulfed in the raging torrent that poured through the channel with little or no chance of escape.

A wrecking crew sent from Casper found upon arriving at the scene of the tragedy that the work of attempting to rescue those caught in the crash was practically impossible during the night because of the darkness and flood conditions.

Early this morning no list of those who perished had been obtained. Five cars and the locomotives dropped into the river.

Rescue Work Difficult

An official message from the scene of the wreck last night told of the difficulties under which the rescuers were working and held out little hope for many passengers known to have been in the coach and smoking car. The engine crew, the baggage and the mail employes are also believed to have lost their lives, the engine and coaches being completely under water.

Seven doctors from Casper attended the injured and reported that there was none dangerously hurt.

The rescue of eight persons, including women and a baby was one of the most spectacular features of the wreck. A rope was run from the passenger coach to the glen rock side of the creek and the eight made their way to the shore by working their way over the rope, hand over hand.

An unidentified man remained on the coach to the last directing the rescue and made the last trip by himself, carrying an infant with him.

First News of Disaster

Dan J. McQuaide of Denver, Colo., a passenger, was the first to give news of the disaster and he announced that in his opinion at least 100 lives were lost. Other survivors were of the same opinion and the night Burlington dispatcher here when told of McQuaide's statement said that the loss "would be at least 50."

Several men and women managed to crawl from the coaches which plunged into the river and clinging to the top of the cars, screamed for help, according to Henry Wyatt of Casper, who was a passenger in a Pullman car which plunged half way into the river and remained standing on end. "Nothing could be done to save them," Mr. Wyatt declared, "as the river was a raging torrent.

"There was no scrambling or commotion, everybody just set to work opening the windows and getting out. A Pullman porter passed me a rope with which he dragged me up on the bank and I counted six others besides myself who escaped.

"It appeared that a cloudburst had occurred recently as the river receded two feet before I started back for Casper.

"One of the cars in the river, about 25 feet from the bank, appeared to be only half under water, whether this was the chair car or the smoker I do not know."

According to previous reports, the smoking car was crowded with men. The local ticket agent reported that he had sold 86 tickets from Casper for this train which was made up here and was bound for Denver.

FIRST BAPTIST CHOIR WILL GIVE CONCERT ON SUNDAY EVENING

The choir of the First Baptist Church, under the direction of R. Vaughn Ray, will sing a special concert Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The chorus numbers have been taken from "Rodeheaver Chorus Collection." Mr. Rodeheaver's works include standard sacred music, and are used by many of the outstanding choirs of the country.

Soloists for the concert are Mrs. Lois Parker, soprano, and Mrs. Louella B. Thompson, contralto. Being among the leading vocalists of Wichita Falls, their singing is assured of unusual appreciation.

The program includes a special number by the Shrine quartet, one of the select musical organizations of the city.

All accompaniments will be played by Mrs. F. B. Collard, one of the most appreciated organists before the local public.

Texas "Yankee" Masters Glass Blowing Art of the Belgians

Glass blowing as a fine art was for years considered something entirely belonging to the Belgians. But before the war a Yankee learned the art. He was with a circus that carried a glass blowing troupe. When war broke out the Belgians returned to their native land to fight. Later the Yankee went across and fought in Flanderfields. He is Charles Cain, a native of Texas. In Texas the word "Yankee" implies a man who comes from the north, but everywhere else in the world a "Yankee" is a citizen of the United States.

MOTHER ASKS BODY OF GAINES BE CREMATED

DALLAS, Sept. 28. (AP)—The body of Charles E. Gaines, postoffice bandit under death sentence, who was shot to death Wednesday night in a desperate attempt to escape jail here, will be cremated if it is possible to follow the wishes of his mother.

She telegraphed from Indianapolis today asking that the body be cremated and the ashes forwarded to her and requested that no unnecessary expenses be incurred. Undertakers holding the body informed her there was no crematory at Dallas, the nearest being at San Antonio and St. Louis. Further word from the mother is being awaited.

ASSISTANT COUNTY JAILER IS BURIED AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Sept. 28. (AP)—Willis Champion, 40, assistant county jailer, slain in line of duty Wednesday night when C. E. Gaines and Sidney Wells, convicted felons, attempted unsuccessfully to break jail, was buried here today. Simple services at the Champion home preceded the Masonic burial service at the cemetery.

Hundreds of persons, including city and county officials, were at the cemetery. Nine members of the Ku Klux Klan, all robed and hooded except the leader, deposited a cross of red roses on the already large heap of floral offerings at the close of the ceremony.

H. Beasley. Beasley asks members of the commission created by the last legislature authority to close the matter by agreeing to withhold claims amounting to $9,000 for lands on which the stations were located. Quarantine stations in controversy are located at Galveston, Sabine, Aransas Pass, Point Isabel and Laredo.

FAMILIES MOVE TO HIGHER GROUND TO ESCAPE FLOOD

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 28. (AP)—Families in the lower section of Wichita and vicinity were moving to higher ground early today to escape flood water of the Little Arkansas river and Chisholm creek following recent torrential rainfalls. S. P. Peterson, federal meteorologist, forecast the flood crest here would be reached about noon.

Lowlands 15 miles north of Wichita began to overflow from the Little Arkansas last night and several families were reported to have fled to higher ground. Warned by government officials families in the southwest section of Wichita began preparations at midnight to vacate their homes.

Officials feared flood waters from a drainage canal which flows through the center of the city might cause considerable damage in the residence section. Although it was predicted the Little Arkansas would go out of its banks north of Wichita, no overflow was anticipated from the Big Arkansas. The two rivers join here.

Crop damage was not expected to be heavy as virtually all fall crops had been harvested before the flood. It was feared, however, that inundated wheat fields would have to be replanted.

Burke was anchorman and tied the rope about his body. The rival classmen won the event and dragged Burke and companions for a distance. Burke's stomach and intestines were ruptured.

His parents were in London when they learned of his illness.

Sweeping Democratic Victory in Special Election in Michigan Is Gratifying to Chairman of Party

By JAMES R. NOURSE,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The sweeping victory of the Democratic candidate in the special election held in the fifth congressional district of Washington last Tuesday was declared by Chairman Cordell Hull, of the Democratic national committee today to be a forecast of Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign.

The election was the first test of the Republican slogan, "Stand by Coolidge," he added, and the result is a distinct repudiation by the voters of that slogan.

Mr. Hull's returns indicate that Judge Sam B. Hill, the Democratic candidate, will have a majority of about 1,000, having succeeded in overturning a Republican majority of 2,372 in the 1922 election.

The Democratic victory is deemed specifically significant because the Republicans made their campaign on national issues and the Republican candidate made personal appeals to the voters to stand behind the president. Democratic success under these circumstances is regarded by Chairman Hull as particularly gratifying. His statement said:

"This election was recognized by Republican managers, state and national, as a test of popular preference, and was emphasized by their speakers and workers in a desperate effort to prevent a repudiation of the national administration. The Democratic victory is significant also in that it was achieved in a district whose population represents a cross section of the west, including wage workers and farmers in about equal number.

The result may be taken as an index of western political sentiment generally.

"The Republican candidate has attributed his defeat to the fact that the producers are more or less desperate, and no doubt balloted for what they thought would benefit them.' His statement applies with equal truth and force to the producers all over the west, who have been brought to a desperate condition by Republican policies dictated by the special interests which prey upon all other interests.

"Dominant Republican national leadership has been condemned in this district as elsewhere and the voters have shown they realize that the same hard boiled, reactionary special interest group of Republican politicians which had a stronghold on the Republican party and the Taft administration, as they have had on the Republican administrations since, are in complete control and domination of the Republican party and the federal government today. They realize that despite the change in the presidency there has been no change in the reactionary leadership of the Republican party nor in the attitude of the predatory interests which control it.

"This first Democratic victory under the Coolidge regime is just a continuation of the Democratic victories recorded in local and congressional elections since 1920."

OTHER NAVAL OFFICERS EXPECTED TO TESTIFY

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 28. (AP)—All of the 13 naval officers named defendants by the court of inquiry investigating the destroyer disaster off Honda, Cal., September 8, who had not already told their versions of the wreck in which 23 enlisted men perished, were expected to testify at today's session of the court.

Two of these were Lieutenant Commanders Walter D. Seed and Richard H. Booth of the U. S. S. Fuller and U. S. S. Chauncey, respectively.

It was announced that the inquiry probably would continue into the latter part of next week with a number of corroborative witnesses scheduled to take the stand.

FOUR TEAMS OBTAINING FUNDS FOR AMERICAN LEGION SPECIAL TRAIN

Four teams of two men each were at work in the business district Friday soliciting $1,000 to pay Wichita Falls' part of the expense of the special train from Texas to the American Legion convention in San Francisco next month. The plan decided upon was to ask 100 business men to donate $10 each. The following committees have been assigned to the following buildings:

F. A. Rogers and Sam Beattie, City National Bank building; Joe Hatchett and Marvin Smith, Waggoner and Morgan buildings; Luther Hoffman and Edgar Mann, Staley building, and Jim Barnard and Al Ellis, First National Bank building.

CITY ATTORNEY GOES TO AUSTIN SATURDAY ON MUNICIPAL GAS CASE

W. E. George, city attorney, will leave Wichita Falls Friday night for Austin, where he will confer with members of the state railroad commission. He will request a continuance of the hearing of the Municipal Gas Company of Wichita Falls which has been set for October 8, in order that the city may have more time to prepare testimony.

The hearing was requested by the gas company in order that they might charge citizens of Wichita Falls a 50 cent service charge in addition to their gas bill, monthly. The city of Wichita Falls is protesting the charge.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—adv.

REASON SO MANY 'PIMPLE' CURES FAIL

Salves and lotions come and go, one after the other, hoping to hit the right thing which might cause them to get results for people who suffer from skin troubles. Most of these concoctions don't even heal the outward effects, much less take away the cause of the disease.

Do you think so little of your delicate skin as to allow yourself to become the subject for these experiments? By all means use only the thing which has stood the test of time and public opinion. Black and White Ointment has not only stood this test, but you are sure of it—when you know that it is selling at the tremendous rate of nearly two million packages a year.

The way it is economically priced, in liberal packages, has helped to make it so popular, along with its dependability. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it. —adv.

DEATH OF WOMAN AROUSES SUSPICION TO INVESTIGATE

RYE, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The death of Mrs. Charles Webb, New York and Philadelphia society woman, which, it was learned last night, has aroused the suspicions of several Westchester county officials, will be thoroughly investigated in an effort to discover its cause, the authorities said today.

Mrs. Webb, who was said to be wealthy in her own right, died Tuesday in the fashionable Westchester-Biltmore Country Club after an illness of three weeks.

Dr. William J. Myers, her physician, declined to issue a death certificate on the ground that death followed certain unnamed mysterious circumstances.

Several relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hunter of Devon, Pa., who were with Mrs. Webb at the time of her death, and cognizant of the alleged mysterious circumstances surrounding it, demanded that an autopsy be performed. Medical experts were summoned and instructed to determine if any lethal poisons were in the body.

The result probably will not be known until tomorrow.

The greatest secrecy prevails at the home and among the dead woman's relatives and friends. Mr. Webb, who was with his wife throughout her illness, could not be found at his home, his office or his club.

Mrs. Webb's private fortune is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000. It was said changes in her will had been made just prior to her death.

Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado, has 200 mountain lakes.

Graduate Nurse Finds "The Perfect Remedy"

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy." Is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

BUNCOMBE FOR THE FARMER.

In a signed article in Farm and Fireside, George Martin, the editor of that publication, declares that the tariff law now in force costs the American farmer and his family $301,000,000; that is, the farmer is forced to pay out, on account of the tariff, that much more than he receives in benefits from the tariff.

"Tariff is buncombe," says Mr. Martin, who goes on to tell how the term "buncombe" originated. "It was back in the 16th congress," he writes, "when they asked Hon. Felix Walker of Buncombe county, North Carolina, just why he was making a speech and causing all the delay when the question had been called for the house. Several members gathered around and begged him to desist. Whereupon Honorable Felix stood upon his rights and hotly informed his word-weary colleagues that he had been sent up there by the good people of his district, and he was bound to make a speech for Buncombe. Nowadays the frank congressman wouldn't need to go to the trouble of so elaborate an explanation. He could talk about the tariff! We have come to a pretty pass by making politics of buncombe—i. e., of tariff. But now you ask:

"Doesn't the tariff represent any benefit to agriculture? Well we wouldn't say that. The wool tariff represents a gain to our wool growers of $37,500,000 per year. It costs farmers who buy woolens $27,300,000 per year. So the net gain to agriculture is $10,200,000 per year. The sugar tariff represents a gain to our beet and cane growers of $45,800,000, but it costs all our farmers an increase of $48,100,000 on all sugar they buy in order to keep sweet on the farm. Adding up one side and down the other, the farmer as a producer gains from the present tariff—the agricultural schedules—a total of around $125,000,000. But when he goes to buy, that's where he gets it in the neck. The American farmer pays every year an extra $426,000,000 on the things he buys because of the tariff. So he is really out of pocket $301,000,000—actual, hard, 60-cent farm dollars—as his net gain from the tariff which Fordney, McCumber, et al., said would help him so much.

"Ouch! Treason! Lese majesty! Scoundrels! Ingrates!

"Yes, we know they'll say that. But they can't call us anything worse, because they know we've got the facts. We got them from the American Farm Bureau Federation. We have quoted figures carefully compiled by the research department of the world's biggest farm organization. These figures have caused a good deal of pain in the region of the stomach of the Republican party organ, but we haven't seen them successfully disputed, nor even sensibly attacked."

Mr. Martin then goes on to quote the statistics gathered by the American Farm Bureau Federation and argues that the $301,000,000 difference between the benefits and costs of the tariff to the farmer is only a small part of the cost because of the practice of pyramiding costs in the selling price of domestic goods on the "Pittsburgh plus" plan about which much has been written.

THE FAIRS OF WEST AND NORTHWEST TEXAS.

Amarillo this week is holding the first big fair ever held in the Panhandle of Texas. Reports indicate a splendid exhibition with an attendance that has exceeded expectations.

Down at Abilene new attendance records are being set at the West Texas fair. Abilene has been ahead of other West Texas cities in the establishment of her fair which has been getting better and better year after year.

Next week will see the opening of the second annual Texas-Oklahoma fair in Wichita Falls. There is confident expectation that this year's fair will even exceed that of last year which all who attended must admit will be going some.

San Angelo's annual fair is soon to be held.

For several weeks many columns of The Times have been filled with accounts of fairs at Childress, Vernon, Seymour, Haskell, Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Electra.

All of these regional, county and community fairs are bringing together splendid exhibits and fine entertainment for the people. They must certainly be a spur to effort in many lines of art and industry. They bring together the people of sections and communities. They provide diversion and entertainment. The fairs of Northwest and West Texas are of an unusually high class. They are performing a useful service. More glory to them.

In a small town the stray dogs get you and in a large town the stray bullets get you.

Rockefeller is giving away nickels, but can get more.

WHERE MOST OF US CAN AGREE.

Whatever bedtimes of Jack Walton and the Oklahoma legislature all right thinking, law loving folks must hope that the investigation at Tulsa will continue until a gang of men there are in the penitentiary, where they belong, and a number of complaisant, incompetent and unworthy officials are removed from office. If that much is done a great victory will have been won for law and order and for duly constituted government, whatever else may happen.

JUST FOLKS

—By—
EDGAR A. GUEST

I DID NOT WEEP.

I did not weep to see him dead
Because upon his face
I saw a smile of glory spread,
A touch of Heavenly grace.

And though my form he could not see,
I fancied that he knew
That I was there, and spoke to me
The way he used to do.

I fancied that I heard him say,
Who battled long with pain:
"A miracle occurred today,
And I am well again!

"I did not cough last night, and wake
From fever's restless sleep
To wait to see the morning break
And hear the wagons creep.

"And I am well and I am strong,
And glad am I today,
The burden I have borne so long
Has now been put away."

And, standing in that darkened place,
The smile of long ago
Which God had left upon his face
Told me 'twas better so.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE OPEN HEART.

The world's heart has been opened by the great catastrophe in Japan.

That is the life of the heart—to open when there is the call of love, or pity, or need. And then to close and nourish when its great work has been started.

I was impressed by two items that appeared in the newspapers recently. One said that Japan's misfortune would set her back twenty years. Another that the American fleet was steaming at full speed to aid the suffering and starving on the unhappy island.

Japan's fallen and crushed cities and homes will rise again, greater than ever. Her people will be made courageous thru woe—and it won't take her any twenty years to become convinced that there are friends all about her.

I am glad that the American fleet went to help and to build and not to destroy. It shows that fleets can be made to be of great service to humanity.

Misfortune and calamity make kinsmen of us all.

When everything is coming our way and success smiles particularly wide, we are apt to forget and grow self-centered and selfish. But when we are shoved into the very pit of adversity, we see afresh. And then it is we know we have hearts with doors to them.

The open heart of the world is much more important to mankind than "the open door" for the flow of gold and commerce.

Many a stricken heart in Japan will open with a flow of appreciation and gratitude as those battleships steam into port. And every time you open your heart for the giving of happiness to others, you may be sure that love and happiness will fill it to overflowing again.

Keep your heart open. Even let the unworthy in. If you make it warm and beautiful enough, no one can possibly depart unworthy or unhappy.

CAMPERS.

The careless campers in my grove betray their lack of taste; they cook things on a patent stove in most unseemly haste. They open cans of soup and beans and throw the cans away; they strew the ground with wasted greens, old papers, junk and hay. They sometimes set the grass afire, or scar the priceless trees, until I rise in martial ire and hand out lines like these. When autos first began to chase before my poor abode, I said, "My grove's a resting place for pilgrims of the road. It will be free to all who past, to all good people free, and they may lie upon the grass and drink nine cups of tea. And doubtless in the caravan there'll be at times a cove who'll say, 'Now bless the grand old man who lets us use this grove!' That grove is barred to tourists now, barred is that pleasant dell, since campers rounded up my cow and stole her new brass bell. Still come the chooing caravans, an endless, busy drove; but they can't leave their old tin cans around my sacred grove. In fifty years from now, perhaps, the tourist tribes will know they ought to gather up the scraps and clean up ere they go.

Hail Papyrus!
Two dictators—count them.
Firmness pays.
Mr. Rockefeller's day.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1923, The Star Co.)

Papyrus, great English race horse, should land from the Aquitania today. Everything is ready, special padded automobile, specials landing plank covered with heavy matting, finest stable with even temperature, food imported and water also. A fine horse is a noble creature. It represents ambition in the animal world, and deserves fine treatment.

Perhaps the angels above will contrast the welcome to the horse Papyrus and the welcome we give to some poor mother with half a dozen children landing at Ellis Island.

All we can say to such angels is: "The immigrant mother is not amusing, or very swift, or very profitable."

Germany waited long before developing her dictator. Now she starts with two, one in Bavaria, one in Berlin, both army men.

With the Ruhr resistance collapsing, workmen dissatisfied, Catholic South Germany ready to secede from Protestant North Germany, evidently Germany believes the job too big for the peaceful harness-maker Ebert. Blood and iron will have to take care of this situation. Meanwhile the allies "watch."

It pays to be firm. Ask Mussolini. Some Italians were murdered in Greece. Mussolini said:

"I want fifty million lire damages."

There is no proof against any Greek. It is certain Greece didn't want the Italians murdered. But Mussolini gets his fifty million lire.

Ambassadors to the league decide he must be paid, because Greece lacked agility in hunting the murderer.

The ambassadors might have decided otherwise had Greece possessed a Mussolini, or had Italy not been eight times as big as Greece.

On Wednesday John D. Rockefeller celebrated the sixty-eighth anniversary of his first job, in a commission house. He held for three years and a half, having walked the streets of Cleveland six weeks in hot weather to find that job.

"But for the discipline I got in those three and one-half years, I might now amount to nothing."

Young gentlemen who think success too slow, because they have been in the same place six months, observe Mr. Rockefeller's three and a half years at dull work on a small salary. Also remember Napoleon, who told the young lieutenant, complaining of slow promotion:

"I was a lieutenant for seven years. But you see I arrived."

John D. Rockefeller Jr. celebrated the happy occasion by giving ten thousand dollars for the production and distribution of insulin, the new remedy for diabetes. A good modern financial fashion is celebrating anniversaries by doing something for people in general.

Judge Gary, head of the big steel company, exhibiting at a country fair, wins several prizes for large vegetables. Financially speaking, he long ago won first prize for large vegetables. He "grew" United States Steel.

Judge Gary's farm breeds only the "mule foot" hogs, supposed never to get hog cholera. If only mule foot hogs were on farms, and no mule head men in business, what a wonderful world. Judge Gary doesn't say it, but probably thinks it.

Carnarvon's brother is dead; more food for superstitious. The other Carnarvon, who dug into the tomb of Tutankhamen, died naturally. Some insect bite produced blood poisoning.

The Carnavon brother said, when his brother opened the tomb, "Something dreadful will surely happen to our family." He died naturally, like his brother, from complications following an operation. Still, the superstitious will believe that a Pharaoh, turned to dust, reaches out with his curse through 3,500 years.

Our Turkish friend, Kemal, who made a great come-back, defied England and France, and beat Greece, is in a local trouble, with business bad and finances strained. The remedy is war. Attack somebody, beat the big drum, say the nation has been insulted, arouse the patriotism that likes to fight and the cupidity that makes money in war.

In the Philippines, General Wood is using the army to fight locusts that eat the crops. That's the kind of war that armies should make and the only kind that they will make, when the earth becomes civilized.

Government flying machines are now spraying forests to protect trees from pests. In France, flying machines replant denuded mountains. That work will go on when war, as a killing trade, will have been long forgotten.

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man had six packages to mail, and a number of stamps to do it with, as follows:

1 package, requiring 48 cents.
1 package, requiring 32 cents.
1 package, requiring 17 cents.
1 package, requiring 15 cents.
2 packages, requiring 12 cents.

He had the following stamps: six 15 cent; one 12 cent; two 10 cent; one 4 cent; three 2 cent. How did he arrange the stamps on the various packages?

Yesterday's answer:

TRLSONDDURFENCE

By inserting the letter "F" at 11 different places, the above line may be formed into the sentence:

THE LESSEE NEEDED REFRESHMENT.

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 28. (AP)—Mr. Khambatta, a Bombay merchant, having idle time on his hands, recently wandered out to the races with the idea that he might put down a bet if anything looked good to him.

He saw Kleitje, in the second race, and the records showed that not a single person had backed him, even for place. Mr. Khambatta bought a ticket to win, paying 10 rupees. The animal came in one and three-quarter lengths in front. Mr. Khambatta was given 17,100 rupees, over 1,700 to one, after the mathematicians had spent an hour working out a correct answer to the odds of the totalizer.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Hope Ranger, daughter of wealthy parents, disappears, after having luncheon at the Plaza with her best friend, Lucia Thorne. Hope promises her mother that she will phone to her from her tailor's at 3 o'clock.

Evening comes with no word from Hope. Mrs. Ranger feels alarmed and calls Hope's father from a dinner engagement. At first Mr. Ranger has no misgivings, but after it seems impossible to find trace of his daughter through her many friends he too feels alarmed.

Ranger calls Eustice Higby, his attorney, who is a warm friend of the family, and asks his assistance in locating Hope. Higby goes to the Thorne residence to question Lucia.

Now Go On With the Story

It seemed for a time, though, that his promised interrogation of Lucia would not have to be deferred; for on reaching the house, he rang repeatedly without arousing any response, and when a sleepy servant finally appeared to answer the bell, it required all his powers of persuasion to gain admittance.

But when Mrs. Thorne came down and he had explained the nature of his errand, she readily grasped the situation, and as soon as Lucia could make a hasty toilet, sent her into the room alone.

The girl, he had to confess, seemed appalled at the news her mother had brought her and genuinely alarmed for Hope's safety.

Hope had been in fine spirits at luncheon, she said, and they had talked of a dozen things—Lucia's recent trip abroad, clothes, mutual acquaintances, both men and girls, their plans for the summer. She had teased Hope about two or three men, but Hope had merely shrugged her shoulders and laughed. "I'd be lonesome, Lucia," she had said, "if some one wasn't anxious to pet me; but marriage? I haven't seen the man I'd marry yet, not for a farm." When they parted, it was with an arrangement to see each other the next afternoon, and Hope had given not the slightest suggestion of anything unusual on hand. She had said something about going to the tailor's, and possibly doing a bit of shopping before she went home; that was all.

This left Higby no recourse to appeal to the police; and here he proved himself, on one score at least a true prophet. The five thousand dollars reward he offered furnished all the incentive required to set the department going at full steam.

Within 12 hours the movements of Hope Ranger were known to a certainty from the time she left her father's door at 25 minutes after 12 until a quarter past three that afternoon.

Leaving home, she had walked down the east side of the avenue. At 15 minutes to one o'clock, she had stopped at a florist's and bought a gardenia. Then she had crossed at Fifty-ninth Street and met her friends at the Plaza, had gone with Lucia Thorne into the dining-room, remained there an hour, and left the Thornes at 10 minutes past two. At half after two, she had bought a veil in a millinery and dressmaking establishment on Fifty-seventh Street, and had been recognized and called by name by the saleswoman. From there she had gone to a bookstore and asked for a book which she had previously ordered.

She was next seen at the soda-water counter of a fruit-and-sweets shop, where she ordered a maple sundae. It was then exactly 10 minutes after three, the clerk being able to fix the time so definitely from the fact that just after he had set Miss Ranger's order before her, a disturbance had been created by a customer at the cashier's desk over a question of correct change. The altercation had become so heated that the manager of the place had been summoned.

Miss Ranger, like every one else in the shop, had turned to watch the incident, and then, when it had been settled, she finished her sundae and went out.

And from that point, the investigators ran into a blank wall.

After four days of assiduous effort on the part of the police department, aided now by an army of private detectives, no clue had been unearthed to indicate what had become of her or whither she had gone.

Mrs. Ranger was by this time under the care of physicians, ill from grief and worry; and her husband, his face lined and haggard, his straight shoulders bowed, looked 10 years older. Even Eustace Higby showed the effects of the strain.

In desperation they decided to make the facts public, and every newspaper in the country was filled with descriptions of the missing girl.

CHAPTER IV

Ranger's pipes are known all over the world. Buy a pipe—clay, calabash, meerschaum, briar-root or what-not, and in whatever part of the globe—and the chances are ten to one that, "Ranger & Co., Makers," will be found stamped on it.

The factory and salesrooms occupy a block on Seventh avenue near Fourteenth street, and there, as a matter of habit, Ranger continued to go daily in the attempt to win some surcease from anxiety by absorbing himself in the accustomed routine.

So ready was he to listen to every wild story or suggestion offered him that it had been found necessary to post guards before his office door to protect him from the invasion of cranks and impostors.

Thus, one morning, number one of the cordon peremptorily halted a caller who had attempted to stroll by him, and who now, with too much assurance to be pleasing said that he wished to see "Ranger."

The off-hand manner, as well as the lack of the prefix of "Mister," annoyed the guard. Neither did he find the stranger's appearance prepossessing. Dark, lean, his clothes unpressed, his hat tilted, the man swaggered before him.

He laid his hand on Ranger's shoulder.

"Ranger, eh?"—with heavy sarcasm. "Well, I got to tell you that the boss is busy this morning and can't see anybody—even you."

The visitor shifted his hat to another and more irreputable angle, took an old pipe from his pocket and began to fill it.

"You're new here, my lad; that's plain. But, if you're in doubt take my name, either to Frank Bryan or Lorring himself."

The guard scowled, but wavered in his decision to throw the man out. He trusted his own impressions more that he did this airy curtainly of welcome. Yet the fellow seemed so confoundedly sure.

He covered his hesitation with truculent repartee.

"Well, s'posin' I do? Who shall I say it is that wants the boss—Lloyd George or Herbert Hoover?"

"Neither." The man flicked a raveling from his sleeve. "He'll probably see me quicker if you give it to him straight. Just say, my good man, that Juarez Charlie is here."

Juarez Charlie! In the face of such a designation, number one felt his original estimate of the man fully justified. And yet there was something in that dark, obscure glance, in the leering smile on the glib mouth that overrode his settled judgment. Uncertainly he scratched his jaw.

"I don't know but what I'll take a chance on you," he finally decided. "You ain't so much worse than a lot I've had to let get by. But listen here"—with a return of authority—"if I get in wrong, you had better not call me chasing back, and if they don't want you, I'll just naturally wipe up the street with you."

As he came into the presence of Ranger's private secretary, Frank Bryan, the impulse that had led him to take in the name of the rakish visitor weakened, and he stood shuffling his feet, uncertain what to say.

"Mr. Bryan, sir, there's a—a party out there, that wants to see Mr. Ranger. He said to tell you or Mr. Ranger that Juarez Charlie—"

"Juarez Charlie!" the secretary snapped. "Why didn't you say so? Show him into the private office at once."

The bewildered guard returned to his post.

"This way, mister," he beckoned with disgruntled civility.

"Never mind." He waved number one aside. "I know the way."

He passed on, a privileged character, exchanging a word or two with different employes in the outer office and nodding familiarly to others; for, rolling-stone adventurer though he was, grafter and swindler as he was suspected of being, Juarez Charlie was welcome here to come and go as he pleased.

He and Loring Ranger has been boys together.

More than once the successful manufacturer had urged his old associate to take a position with him, offering Charlie his choice either inside the factory or on the road; for it was Ranger's firm belief that the vagabond, if he would only devote himself to it, would make an incomparable salesman.

But Charlie always evaded these efforts at rehabilitation.

His especial gifts were various; perhaps the less said about them the better. He employed them when he felt like it and when opportunity offered; loafed when he felt like it; traveled constantly about the country—sometimes first class, sometimes in company of yeggs and hoboes—boasted that he had a more comprehensive knowledge of the United States than any other man within its borders, and regarded life on the whole with a cynical, good-humored philosophy which no exigency could daunt or misfortune overwhelm.

There was an unwonted tug of sympathy at Charlie's wrinkled heart, and on a sudden impulse he stepped over and laid his hand on Ranger's shoulder.

"Tough luck, Lorry!" he said huskily. "But don't give way like this, old boy. Brace up; it isn't—it isn't as if your little girl were gone for good."

The friendly touch, the sincerity of feeling in his tone, brought an unexpected response. A tremor ran through the manufacturer's bent frame; then, with a groan, he dropped his head in his hands.

"It's no use, Charlie." His voice came brokenly. "No use to try and deceive myself. She is gone for good."

He turned away to hide his working face, then twisted round and began to talk rapidly. Here at last was some one to whom he could lay bare all that was in his mind.

"Look at the facts, Charlie. Look at the facts. It's a month yesterday since Hope went away—was taken away, I mean—and in all that time not a word from her—not a word of her. Only this horrible silence—like a thick black curtain meeting me everywhere I turn.

Street Singers Get Good Pay

LONDON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Street singers in London and the other large British cities find their occupation so remunerative that they have refused offers of $50.00 a week to appear on the stage.

London is flooded with these singers but they seem to prosper even above the noise of the traffic. Often they appear in groups of five and six and sometimes they literally line up along the curbs of the principal thoroughfares.

TIRED FEELING SURE SIGN OF TORPID LIVER

Touch Up Liver Tonight With Pepsinated Calomel—Tired Feeling and Biliousness Will Be Gone By Morning.

Nothing kicks back so quickly as a disordered liver. Pepsinated Calomel will give quick relief by thoroughly stimulating both the liver and kidneys, thus eliminating the poisons that are doing so much damage.

Calomel is recognized as practically the only medicine that will reach the liver. Others may relieve constipation, but they fail to touch the real cause of the trouble. However, ordinary calomel is so drastic in its action that many have deprived themselves of its liver cleansing power until they became acquainted with Pepsinated Calomel, which is not ordinary calomel. Because of its fine English Calomel it cleanses the liver thoroughly with no discomfort. It cannot nauseate or gripe.

Palace Drug Store and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. (Adv.)

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently. Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry.—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S.

ACCEPTANCE OF INVITATIONS TO MEETS RECEIVED

County Judge B. D. Sartin and Irvan Denton, county tax assessor, are receiving replies to the invitations sent out to judges, commissioners and assessors to attend the annual state gatherings to be held in this city at the court house next week.

Judge Sartin received a communication from a judge in east Texas Friday morning in which the judge said that he and all of his four commissioners would be present for the two-day session of the convention, October 5 and 6.

A large number of county tax assessors have replied to the invitations sent out by Mr. Denton and it is evident that the assessors' convention to be held October 3, 4 and 5 will be largely attended.

Both associations will hold their meetings in the county court house.

J. B. Wheeler Is Convicted in Two Cases at Graham

J. B. Wheeler, formerly manager of the branch house of the Petrolia Supply Company at Graham, this week entered a plea of guilty to two charges of embezzlement at Graham before Judge H. R. Wilson of the 90th district court. A two-year sentence was applied in each case.

Constable Frank Morgan of this city chased this defendant all over the southern part of Texas before he was apprehended. Mr. Morgan worked on the case for two months and finally located the man and brought him to Graham where he was turned over to officers.

It was charged that he embezzled sums of money from his employers on two different occasions. Just before the discovery of the alleged misappropriation of funds was discovered Wheeler disappeared from Graham, which accounted for the chase over the state.

State Highway Engineer Will Return Monday

D. L. Hogan, an engineer from the state highway department of Austin, who was here Thursday, making a preliminary inspection of the new proposed route of the Seymour road, left Thursday night for other duties. He will return next week, probably Monday, to make further surveys.

On his next trip to this city Mr. Hogan will be accompanied by an engineer from the federal highway department and the two together will in all probability take several days in making a thorough survey of the old route and the new proposed route to the diversion dam.

The proposed new route of the road must first meet with the approval of the state and federal government engineers before the county can proceed with the road improvements. The new route of the road will branch off from the old route at a point eight miles from Wichita Falls and will from that point proceed across Wichita river and continue on a direct line to the diversion dam.

MRS. EDITH BERRY IS RELEASED; MAKES BOND

Mrs. Edith Berry, who was convicted in the 89th district court four months ago on a charge of violation of the state prohibition laws and sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary, Thursday afternoon perfected bond. It was reported to the police that the affray grew out of the damage to some pipe occasioned when Gray's automobile was driven into the pile of piping.

FORT WORTH RECORD IS DISTRIBUTING 4,000 COPIES A DAY HERE

W. S. Morrison, road man for the Fort Worth Record, is in Wichita Falls this week assisting Ned McDaniel Jr., local agent for the Record, in the distribution of sample copies of the Record here. Four thousand copies of the Record are being distributed daily here this week to acquaint the people of Wichita Falls with the merits of the Record.

Mr. Morrison is unable to account for the delivery of a bundle of papers to the home of a resident on Monroe street earlier in the week. "Our purpose is to have every copy of the four thousand go into the hands of a reader," said Mr. Morrison, "and certainly we do not want more than one copy left at any residence. We have no copies to throw away."

SHERIFF GOES TO EL PASO FOR JOHN HINTON

Sheriff W. W. Murphy left Thursday evening for El Paso, where, it is understood, Arizona officials will deliver to him Johnny Hinton, convicted in the local district courts on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. His punishment was fixed at five years confinement in the state penitentiary. Hinton perfected bond after notice of appeal was given. The higher courts affirmed his case and when the mandate was received here, he could not be apprehended. He was arrested in Arizona three weeks ago. It is probable that the sheriff will take the prisoner direct to the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"The wool market has been well sustained during the past week, although the volume of business may have been slightly less than in the preceding week. A few descriptions, notable lambs wool, medium to low accureds and medium to low noils are slightly stronger, but generally the market is only steady. The goods market shows little improvement from last week so far as worsteds are concerned. Some additional business in woolens and knit goods is in evidence. A little buying of the new fall clip in Texas is reported at from 30 to 32 cents mostly.

"Mohair is still sluggish and without material change. Some buying of new fall clip is reported in Texas at 40 to 45 cents."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

UNDER THE GROUND

Story by Hal Cochran — Drawings by Lee Wright

After Jack had looked all the stones over he asked Ruby Lips what was done with them. "Here comes Mother arth now," replied the little girl. "She will show you." And Mother Earth took Jack to another place where long chains, bracelets, watches were hanging on poles.

"This is where we put the jewels into the gold chains," explained Mother Earth. And Jack watched her pick out pretty gems and hand them to little workmen. These workmen would hammer them into the chains, bracelets and watches. Then they were finished.

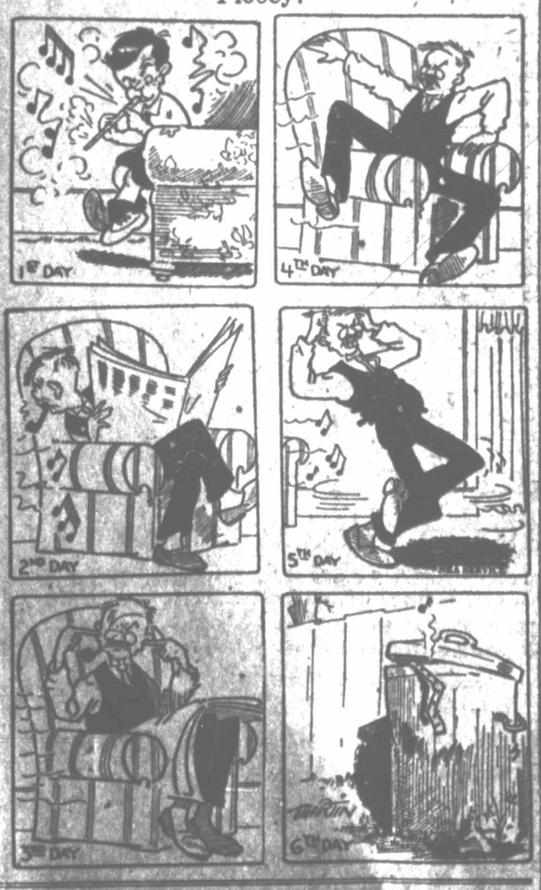

Jack was very much surprised to learn that practically all of the beautiful jewelry that people wear comes out of the ground. "And would you like to see what this ground looks like when we first start looking for gold and jewels?" asked Mother Earth. (Continued.)

Health Hobbies—What's Yours?

Fads and fancies in foods and fasting, come and go like the seasons.

Every once in a while some new idea on how and what to eat to make you strong, wise or beautiful sprouts in the brain of someone with a food hobby. Many of us at once proceed to try to carry it out to the best of our eating ability.

All that is necessary to be well and healthy, and do life's work at its happy medium, is to use a little common sense and let hobbies and fads go their way.

The scientist and physician are pretty good guides to follow in all matters pertaining to normal health, and what to use to the best advantage as real body building and sustaining foods.

For instance, there is the going without breakfast hobby. It may be, as has been stated in this column, that thousands of people eat too much, but a nourishing breakfast is a sure cure for a grouch and a necessary meal for those who toil and spin.

The hot water fad is another—water internally, externally and eternally. We all admit the value of water, but hot water as a beverage has no real value, and it is best to use it as little as possible.

Sour milk is another hobby. It possesses no nutritive properties that are not contained in sweet milk.

Other faddist values may be dismissed as mere fads, without more comment.

Then there is the carrot fad. There is no reason why carrots should make you more beautiful than tomatoes or string beans, but they are a good food.

The idea that hard breads crusts will make you have beautiful, curly hair prevails in many parts of our country—but there is nothing to it, though crusts are good exercise for your teeth. Another fad is that fish are brain food. It takes brains sometimes to catch fish and that is as far as fish and brains count.

An old uncle of mine always carried a horse-chestnut in his pocket to ward off rheumatism. He never had it, but the horse-chestnut has nothing to do with rheumatic conditions.

Says Mexico Needs Schools

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 28. (AP)—The future of Mexico lies in the establishment of 7,000 primary schools throughout the republic according to Enrique Corona, of the Department of Public Instruction. He declared that of the 14,000,000 inhabitants of Mexico, 3,970,000 are illiterates and that 4,000,000 of these illiterates cannot even speak Spanish, but cling to ancient Indian dialects.

COCHRAN SOLE WICHITA FALLS SURVIVOR AT FORT WORTH

Golding Beaten in Second Round By Bryan Heard After Extra Hole; Cochran to Meet Collett Munger

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28.—Two of Wichita Falls' six golfers who qualified for championship play in the River Crest invitation tournament here survived the opening round play Thursday, but only one of these two got by the second round.

Tommy Cochran played into the third round by eliminating Howard Van Zandt, of Fort Worth, in the first round, 3 and 1, and Clarence Hubby, of Waco, in the second round, 6 and 4.

Dudley Golding, the defending titlest, was eliminated in second round play by the veteran Commodore Bryan Heard, of Houston, in a gruelling match on the nineteenth hole. Golding was one of the favorites of the tourney and his defeat came somewhat as a surprise, though Heard is recognized as one of the most dangerous players in the state. Golding survived the first round by defeating J. M. Caldwell, of Fort Worth, 2 and 1.

Others Are Eliminated.

The other four Wichita Falls players who made the championship flight were eliminated in the first round, all having the misfortune of drawing tournament favorites. R. E. "Bob" Alexander gave Collett Munger of Dallas a close run of it, losing 3 and 1. S. L. "Red" McDowell was forced to bow to M. L. "Happy" Massingill, Fort Worth champion, who tied for the medal honors Wednesday, 7 and 6. George W. Rappy was defeated by Heard, 6 and 4. L. T. "Bobby" Burns carried J. Y. Ballard of Fort Worth to the nineteenth hole before being counted out.

Cochran meets Collett Munger Friday in the third round play.

The first upset of the tournament came Thursday in the first round when O. S. "Ossie" Carlton Jr., of Houston was eliminated by Fred M. Cahoon, of Fort Worth, 2 and 1. Carlton is the Texas champion and tied with Massingill for the medal score Wednesday in the qualifying round.

Other second round results follow:

James Kennedy, Tulsa, Okla., defeated Mack Thompson, River Crest, 3 and 2.

J. Y. Ballard, River Crest, defeated M. C. Rall, River Crest, 1 up.

M. L. Massingill, River Crest, defeated John Drake, Austin, 6 and 4.

CATS AND TWO TRAINS OF FANS DEPART FOR SOUTHERN LOOP CITY

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28.—Confident of winning the Dixie championship before they return to Fort Worth, members of the Fort Worth baseball club, champions of the Texas League, occupied a special car on a special train of fourteen cars which departed at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon for New Orleans where they will play the third game of the series with the New Orleans Pelicans, winners of the Southern Association championship, Saturday.

Two special trains carrying Fort Worth fans pulled out of the station amid cheers of thousands unable to attend the New Orleans games. The New Orleans team, with several baseball fans from that place, left for the Crescent City Thursday morning on special trains. Each team has won one game and the manager of each team is confident of victory.

FRIEL BELIEVES URBAN SHOCKER WILL NOT BE ADJUDGED FREE AGENT

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—Bill Friel, business manager of the St. Louis Americans Friday expressed the belief that Urban Shocker, leading pitcher of the team, who is reported to have filed a petition with Baseball Commissioner Landis charging the club with breach of contract and asking that he be declared a free agent would be unsuccessful.

Friel said that Commissioner Landis had no jurisdiction over the case of Shocker, who was suspended recently when he refused to accompany the team east without his wife.

Friel added that the pitcher has been returned to good standing, but if he refused to play he would be suspended again.

JOHN M'GRAW'S LATEST $100,000 DRAWING CARD

MOSE SOLOMON

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Ladies and gentlemen—

Allow us to present Mose Solomon, until recently holding down the first sack at Hutchinson, Kas., in the Southwestern League.

He's now appearing here under the able direction of Mr. John McGraw.

Mr. Umpire, call the game!

"But where is Hutchinson?" you ask. Now that's a foolish question.

Don't you remember you heard all about it back in 1912 when "Smoky Joe" Wood turned back Jawn's Giants? And don't you know Babe Adams, veteran Pirate pitcher, and Ivan Olson of the Dodgers once wore its colors?

And Mose says he's going to keep the town in the limelight. If he keeps on going the rate he was when he packed his trunk and started for New York, he certainly will.

His bid for big league honors lies in his hitting. He was batting .402, with 17 home runs, when Howe's latest statistics were promulgated. And since then, he banged out a couple more homers.

Gossip has it that McGraw paid $100,000 for Mose, knowing he'd be a good drawing card.

Solomon's home is in Columbus, Ohio.

TY'S CLAN CROWDS INDIANS FOR THE RUNNER UP PLACE

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The Cleveland Indians went down to defeat before the Tigers in Detroit Thursday by the score of 5 to 4. The Tigers made their big play in the fifth inning when they wrote up four tallies in a row, taking the lead by one run.

The Yankees trimmed the Red Sox in Boston, 8 to 5. The American League champions started off with a bag in the first frame, taking three runs, hooked three more in the third, and the final pair in the eighth inning.

In the National League Pittsburgh lost to the Cubs, 5 to 2. O'Farrell and Miller rounded out the circuit in one sprint for Chicago, while Grimm pounded a homer for the Pirates, who lost the game in the first when three runs crossed the plate. The Braves defeated the Phillies. Other teams were not scheduled.

Lefty Groves, of the Baltimore Orioles, junior world's champions, and winner of the International League pennant this season, defeated the world champion New York Giants, 4 to 3, in an exhibition game. Jack Bentley, former Oriole star, was on the hill for the Nationals.

Billy Evans Says—

Connie Mack plays hunches so long as they are based on a certain amount of fact.

Perhaps no manager in the history of baseball works out his decisions in a more logical manner than Connie Mack, famous leader of the Philadelphia Athletics. Despite this fact, Mack is inclined to play hunches. But his hunches as a rule have a reason back of them.

In the matter of working his pitchers, Mack often goes contrary to the usual routine. He doesn't always work his men in regular order. It is not at all unusual for him to pick the spots for his twirlers.

Years ago when Cy Morgan was one of Mack's best pitchers, Morgan was never asked to work against the Detroit Tygers, particularly when playing in Detroit. It seemed that whenever Morgan started against Detroit, something always turned up to spoil his game and bring about the Athletics' defeat. Pitching Morgan against Detroit invariably was a wasted effort and Mack soon reached such a conclusion.

On the other hand, Morgan was always very successful against the Cleveland club. The Cleveland team didn't like spitball pitching and Morgan boasted a very deceptive delivery of that type. Cleveland always bothered Chief Bender, while he enjoyed great success against Detroit. This offered Mack a chance to pick a spot for Morgan.

On a western trip Mack would always call upon Morgan to work the first and final games of any four-game series played at Cleveland. He would so arrange his pitching selections to bring this about. For pitching twice in four days against Cleveland, Morgan would always draw a four-day rest in Detroit. Bender would make up for this break in the regular routine by working twice against the Tygers.

Mack's present pitching plans call for a somewhat similar arrangement. Ed Rommell is very successful against Cleveland while Detroit makes trouble for him. During a recent swing west of the Athletics, Rommell worked twice against Cleveland and won both games. Pressed into service as a relief pitcher at Detroit he failed.

It is a well known fact that certain clubs always bother certain pitchers. Mack works on the theory that it is foolish to tempt fate by working a pitcher against a certain club simply because it is his turn, when that club happens to be the pitcher's jinx. It is a phychological fact that a pitcher working against a club that he fears never goes at the top of his game.

Take Joe Bush, leading pitcher of the American League last season. Bush lost only seven games during the season and four of them were to the tail end Boston Red Sox. No matter how well Bush pitched against Boston, something would always turn up to undo his efforts. These peculiarities of baseball are impossible of explanation. They simply are a part of the uncertainty of the game that makes it so popular.

Connie Mack is a firm believer in psychology. That is why he is willing to play a hunch, provided it is based on a certain amount of fact and common sense.

Coyotes Make Opening Bid for Texas Gridiron Championship Saturday Against Nocona High

The Coyote football squad plays its first game of the year Saturday afternoon when it meets the Nocona aggregation on the new field, located just outside Athletic Park. The two coaches and 40 men who comprise the squad are waiting with anxious hearts for the whistle to blow, signifying the opening of the contest, and the eleven men picked from the squad to start the game are especially preparing themselves to test the ability of the red and black grid machine.

A light practice was the extent of the workout Thursday afternoon. For the greater part of the period the squad went down on forward passes, with practice in breaking up punts and intercepting passes. Tyson, Shaw, and Baldwin, the Coyote kickoff men also tried out their long distance boots. The linemen worked at all manner of line bucking, both on the defense and offense. However, Coach McCallum was careful that no injuries resulted from the roughing.

Several Injuries.

Preceeding the real practice, the coach led the Coyotes through thirty minutes of skull work, discussing the various ways of using one's head. The players were required to make out interscholastic league blanks sent out by the University of Texas, and the insleigibility list was read. A half hour session of signal practice ended the work for the afternoon. A lighter workout probably will be the order for practice on the day preceeding the battle.

Several players are out with minor injuries, and in many cases those injuries are sufficient to keep the boys out of the opener. "Shorty" Chewning, star halfback and three-year letter man who was to have lined up at righthalf, probably will remain on the sidelines, while Ed Powell, a new man, takes his place. Homer Doke, scheduled to work at left guard, may be forced to warm the bench Saturday afternoon if his knee, which has been badly wrenched, does not improve.

Probable Lineup Announced.

However, for the most part, old letter men will start the game, with the exception of Smith, 200-pound tackle, who plays his first year on the local team and who works as running mate to Gerald Coffey. The tackle positions seem to be well fortified. West, who recently returned from Houston in time to register for the 1923-24 school year, will open at his old position, center.

According to Coach McCallum, the probable lineup for the game will be: Cameron, right end; Coffey, right tackle; Copeland, right guard; West, center; Doke, left guard; Smith, left tackle; Waggoner, left end; Deems, quarterback; Ed Powell, right half back; Stringer, left half back, and Baldwin, fullback.

FRANK CHANCE NOT TO PILOT RED SOX AGAIN

By Universal Service.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Frank Chance will not manage the Boston Red Sox next season.

President Bobby Quinn, who with others, bought the club this summer from Harry Frazee, made this announcement Thursday night.

One reason given for not renewing the one year contract with Chance was that many Boston fans still insist on believing Frazee retains an interest in the club, despite statements to the contrary. Frazee signed Chance after he had been in retirement for a decade.

Quinn would not say who would be the new manager, but said he had two men in mind. Lee Fohl, recently deposed manager of the Browns, is believed to be one of the men.

EXTRA PRELIMINARY IS ADDED TO LEGION CARD

Another interesting number has been added to the card of the American Legion boxing show for Saturday evening, when Simmons of Henrietta meets Ferguson of Amarillo, and Country Boy Lance of Gainesville meets Speedy Binyon of Alvord in the main events of the program. The additional match will be between Sailor Williams and Willie Martin, welter weights of this city, and reads as the main preliminary.

The Legion promises a big double-final entertainment that tends to be the best exhibition of boxing ever seen in a local ring, according to the lineup of participants on the card.

COMPOSITE SCORE SHOWS CATS-PELS EVENLY MATCHED

A composite box score of the two games thus far played in the Dixie series show the Panthers and Pelicans to be well matched. In games won the clubs are even with one each. The winning pitchers were Stoner for Fort Worth and Robinson for New Orleans, the losers were Martina for New Orleans and Pate for Fort Worth. In runs scored the Pels are one to the good, with four to three for the Cats. New Orleans has compiled 11 base blows to 10 for the Texas champs. Kraft has hit the only home run in the series and he is the leading batter of both clubs, with three hits in five times at bat.

EXPRESS OFFICES ARE FILLED WITH EXHIBITS TO BE ENTERED AT FAIR

The local express offices are practically filled each morning with exhibits and various products consigned in care of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition, which opens here Monday and continues until late Sunday night, October 7, according to C. H. Verschoyle, fair secretary.

The exhibits and displays are being placed in order for the opening, Monday, October 1. Oklahoma and New Mexico counties have shipped their exhibits. Most of the Texas counties will have their displays ready for inspection at the hour of opening Monday morning.

More than twice as many counties are exhibiting this year as were entered in the fair last year. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce aided in having the New Mexico counties exhibit here in place of other expositions in other parts of the state.

American-made goods, including cooking utensils, and office supplies, were displayed at the recent seventeenth annual fair at Johannesburg, South Africa.

First regular theatrical company seen in America came from England in 1752, landed at York, Va., and opened a playhouse at Williamsburg, the capital of the province.

Sarazen Plays into Semi-Finals By Spectacular Win Over Barnes; Hagen and Cruikshank Victors

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY
Universal Service Sports Editor.

PELHAM COUNTRY CLUB, New York, Sept. 28.—Little Gene Sarazen, a son of the Caesars, and "Long Jim" Barnes, of a fighting Cornish clan, put their splendid all in skill and courage into their battle in the fourth round of the professional golf championship of the United States Thursday, and victory went to Gene by one up at the thirty-sixth hole.

The deep wells of courage in Barnes were levied on all day long, and they were deep beyond saying. Gene was called on for his all in courage in the last nine holes, when a lead of four up at the 27th hole was knocked down by the ever fighting Jim. The match was squared by Barnes at the 35th hole.

There a 516 yard hole, he was on the green with two brilliant shots and sank a 25 foot putt for an eagle 3. Gene had hooked into the rough and made a game bid, but it was not enough.

Now it was either man's match. On the high tee at the 36th hole Jim drove straight and true over the hill that blinds the home green. A hook, a slice, anything but straight and true would ruin Gene now. He addressed the ball confidently, and it went as Jim's did.

It went better, on the green, while Jim's was on the side of the hill, 30 feet from the green. Jim tried hard to get in, or very close to the cup, but the ball overran to two feet in the grass on the other side of the green. A thing of steel, Gene putted 35 feet, the ball stopping 30 inches from the cup.

Tough One to Lose.

Jim must sink that difficult 18 footer not to lose. He tried, and was short two feet. Then he sat down and waited. And Gene sent the ball right into the cup, and it was all over.

A little later Jim said:

"It was a tough one to lose," and his lean, tanned face crinkled into a smile of a good loser. It certainly was—and a splendid one to win. Of those last 18 holes, Barnes shot 70, four under par, and Sarazen one under. In the morning round Gene had a 71, three under, and Barnes a par 74. Gene was three) up then.

Better putting saw Gene winning the first hole of the match, with a birdie 4, and after Jim evened it at the sixth by a fine putt, Gene won the eighth and ninth by excellent putting and a splendid drive on the ninth. He was on the green with his drive in the ninth, the first time it has been done in the tourney, and sank the ball for a birdie 3, to be two up.

Gene continued to be a little better on the green in the incoming nine, and became 3 up. The approach shots for the green of Jim were much better than Gene's at the 19th and 20th in the afternoon, and he made two birdies to become only one down. Gene shot much better for the green at the 21st, and was one up. A 30 foot putt on the short 146 yard twenty second made Gene 3 up. Both were in the trap, but Gene had a good lie nearer the cup at the twenty-sixth, and took the hole with a par 4.

Hagen Also Wins.

On the thirtieth hole Gene flubbed his mashie to get over a little rise on the green, and Jim went over for a par 4 to become three down. Gene sliced his second iron out of bounds at the thirty-first, and Jim executed brilliantly to get on and sink the ball for a birdie four, making him two down.

Barnes got his second shot up to 12 feet of the pin at the thirty-third, and ran it down for a birdie three. It was great golf, indeed. At the 17th Gene hooked into the rough, Barnes got on with two beautiful shots, and ran down a 25 footer for an eagle 3, to a par 5 for Gene. This squared the match. The rest had been told.

Walter Hagen put out the veteran Fred McLeod, five and four, making his work look easy.

The internationally famous Joe Kirkwood of Australia went down before George McLean, the local player, five and four. McLean, who beat Willie Ogg in 38 holes Wednesday, went after everything and surprised by putting out the hard fighting Joe.

Bobby Cruickshank was required to go 19 holes before eliminating Willie McFarlane.

It will be Sarazen and Cruickshank and Hagen and McLean Friday to see who will play for the big title Saturday.

CONTESTANTS BEGIN TRAINING FOR TITLE BOUT AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 28.—With the McTigue-Stribling fight less than a week off Columbus has begun preparing—to take care of the greatest crowd ever to assemble in the south to witness a prize fight.

It also will be the second heavyweight titular classic ever held south of the Potomac.

McTigue arrived Friday with his sparring partners. He opened training quarters near the driving stadium where the fight will be held next Thursday and crowds flocked to watch the Irishman at work.

The youthful challenger, bronzed by the sun, also broke camp at Warm Springs, Ga., and moved to quarters near those of the champion.

Ben Smith, veteran trainer, now has the 18-year-old youngster in tow, Smith taking charge of Stribling's camp Thursday.

Captain Bob Roper, a heavyweight of A. E. F. fame, also arrived and tops the list of punch catchers. He donned head gear after the new camp had been straightened out and entered the ring with the challenger.

KEEN COMPETITION FEATURES EXHIBITS AT HASKELL'S FAIR

HOWARD DISTRICT AWARDED FIRST PLACE RURAL SCHOOL DISPLAYS.

MRS. N. J. SMITH WINS CULINARY DEPARTMENT

Success of Fair Far Exceeds Expectations of the Management.

By Staff Correspondent.

HASKELL, Texas, Sept. 28.—Clouds which for awhile threatened to interfere with the celebration and to dampen the enthusiasm of the large crowd of visitors who are attending the Haskell County Fair and Rodeo failed to halt or effect in any way the farmers and visitors from other places who poured into the city during the morning hours for the second day of the celebration. At noon the clouds had blown over and the weather promised to be ideal for the various amusements and events scheduled.

Judging in the poultry and art departments were continued Friday morning and the final awards in all departments will be made before the end of the day. Visitors entertained themselves Friday morning, in the exhibit hall, at the band concert given by the Jayton band on the court house lawn and at the carnival attractions on the midway.

Special Attraction

Bills were on the streets Friday morning advertising an extra attraction at the rodeo, Friday afternoon, "Hackberry Slim" Johnson, producer, has announced a merchants' roping contest with only Haskell merchants competing. Among the merchants scheduled to participate in the event are Hardy Grissom, Booth English, Virgil Hudson, Henry Alexander, Bob Robertson and Earnest Sutherlin. Aside from the special attraction, the regular program of rodeo events and Indian war dances will be given as scheduled at the afternoon and night performances.

A big street dance on the south side of the square is carded for Friday night. The dance will open with a grand march and the population is expected to take part. Virginia reel, swing games and other square dances for benefit of the old timers will be a feature of the program. Liberal prizes are offered for the most graceful couple in both round and square dances.

Preparations are being made by fair officials to entertain the largest crowd of the three day event here Saturday. Special entertainment and feature attractions are being planned for the Saturday celebration which is expected to excel that of the two previous days in attendance.

LARGE ATTENDANCE ON OPENING DAY THURSDAY

By Staff Correspondent.

HASKELL, Texas, Sept. 28.—Thursday, opening day of Haskell county's second annual fair and rodeo, exceeded the fondest expectations of fair officials in every respect. Attendance was in excess of anything that had been hoped for and the daily program went off as scheduled with everything in their favor. The weather man was kind and with the exception of a strong breeze which interfered slightly with the roping and rodeo events, the day was an ideal one. With the continuation of favorable weather, fair officials' expectations for a record breaking attendance on the remaining two days are the best. An estimate on the crowd Thursday was that it exceeded that of any day of the celebration last year.

Judging in the agricultural and culinary departments started Thursday afternoon with the keenest competition in all classes where awards were made. In rural schools' displays Howard district was awarded first place; Midway and Mitchell school district took second and third. Honorable mention was given the Cliffe, Rule and Roberts exhibits. The school exhibits included agricultural products, canned goods, needle and art work and were arranged in an attractive manner which caused favorable comment from the visitors who crowded the building throughout the day. Judges in the school exhibits were B. L. Jackson and T. L. Hiner of Rule, and Dr. J. C. Davis.

Awards Announced.

Mrs. N. J. Smith was awarded first place in the culinary and canned goods department over some 75 entries in this class. Second place was won by Mrs. H. J. Hambleton and Mrs. Fred Sanders took third place. Judges in this department were Mrs. J. L. Odell, Mrs. A. F. Neal and Mrs. R. L. Cate.

Awards in the agricultural contests were made as follows: Cotton: Best 25 bolls, J. B. Hester; best stalk, T. V. Harris; best peck of lint cotton, J. M. Lawson.

Corn: Best single ear white dent, J. B. Hester; best single ear, any variety, V. H. Lane; best 10 ears, any variety, V. H. Lane.

Grains and seeds: Best gallon winter wheat, Ferris ranch; best gallon spring oats, Ferris ranch; best gallon field peas, J. B. Hester.

Grain sorghum and forage: Milo maize, red, Ferris ranch; milo maize, white, G. M. Ward; kafir corn, Doc Adams; feterita, Carl Cearley; sorghum, one bundle, Andrew Josselet; Sudan grass, Ferris ranch; kafir corn, bundle, Dave Parnell; Sugar, one bundle, Ferris ranch; millet, one bundle, Ferris ranch.

Vegetables: Bull peppers, okra, turnips, beets and radishes, Mrs. R. E. Lee; tomatoes, cashaw and pumpkins, Mrs. J. B. Hester; watermelon, T. P. Huff; pumpkin yams, J. D. Kemp; white yams, J. B. Hester; tobacco and egg plant, Tom Holland.

Life Size Model.

One of the features of the agricultural exhibit which attracted particular attention was a life size model of a white face steer modeled out of the red and white feterita and kafir corn seed, grown on the ranch. The model was perfect, even to the ranch brand, and attracted considerable attention from the visitors at the exhibit hall during the day.

Judges in the best decorated vehicle contest announced their decision Thursday afternoon after several hours of discussion. It is rare that a fair parade is made up of as many beautiful and attractively decorated floats and automobiles as participated in the opening event of the fair, the parade Thursday morning. Harpham Cotton Company won first place on a cleverly decorated coupe which portrayed every stage of the cotton industry from the field to the mills. F. G. Alexander was awarded second prize on a unique and attractively decorated automobile; the Magazine Club took third money in the contest. Aside from the number of well planned and decorated floats in the opening parade, the old settlers on the chuck wagon and the early pioneer family in the covered wagon attracted special attention. Every phase in the growth and development of the civic and community life was portrayed in the parade and pageant. Miss Elion Clifton, mounted on a Kentucky bay and attired in feudal armor, headed the parade. She was followed by Mayor R. C. Roach and the city officials with the six ex-mayors of the city.

A 25-piece band from Jayton, which won special recognition at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in San Angelo recently is assisting the Haskell band in furnishing music for the event. Band concerts were given at intervals on the court house lawn during the day.

Rodeo Attraction.

H. A. "Hackberry Slim" Johnson, rodeo promoter, and some 25 expert riders and followers of the western sports, entertained the crowds at an afternoon and night performance. Many of the riders who have won recognition at previous fairs in this section are entered and means that prize money will be available to experts only. Both performances were well attended and included steer roping, steer riding, bronco riding, fancy roping and wild cow milking. Contestants were numerous in each event and eliminations were made by narrow margins. A strong breeze, accompanied by some sand interfered to some extent with the roping contests and prevented the setting of any unusual time records.

In addition to the regular rodeo attraction, Johnson introduced Captain Baldwin Parker and his Indians from Indianola, Oklahoma. The entire company of Indians appeared in native costumes and proved to be one of the feature attraction of the evening entertainment. Two youthful war dancers who are with the company and in chief's costume were specially popular with the crowd. The Indian dances will be continued as an attraction during the three days of the fair.

Dance at Elks Club.

Dancing at the Elks club and the midway attractions furnished amusement for the crowd who could not be accommodated at the evening rodeo performance. The dance at the Elks club was open to the public, complimentary of the citizens of Haskell.

Nothing is being overlooked by fair officials and Haskell citizens to furnish entertainment and add to the attractiveness of the exposition for the visitors who are in attendance. Prospects are the best for a record breaking crowd here Saturday, according to fair officials, as many farmers who can oly spare one day from their cotton crops will attend the fair on that day.

NEWSPAPER IDEALS VERSUS NEWSPAPER FOR PROFIT

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. (AP)—It is important that editors of honest newspapers not be bound by chain of politics and faction and equally important that they be not tied and cluttered by the pink ribbons of the world of fashion or society, declared Colonel Robert R. McCormick, co-editor of the Chicago Tribune, in an address before the Medill School of Journalism here last night.

Colonel McCormick spoke on "The Newspaper for Ideals Versus the Newspaper for Profit." He stated that the newest thing in government is the newspaper.

"Honesty in news presentation and in editorial expression not only coincides with a newspaper's financial condition, but is indispensable to it, he said.

WILL URGE ADEQUATE PROVISIONS FOR NAVY

PORTLAND, Oregon, Sept. 28.—Adequate provisions for building up and maintaining a well balanced navy, based on the treaty framed at the international conference of limitation of armaments, will be urged on President Coolidge and congress by the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

At its conference here yesterday a resolution to that effect was adopted. It declared that "the present strength of the navy of the United States, in other than capital ships and destroyers, is seriously below that required to maintain a well balanced navy and the other major naval powers have a vast superiority in cruisers, submarines and other vessels."

Store Burglary Of Week Cleared By Boy's Story

Through statements made by two of the young boys arrested Thursday in connection with the Bullington automobile episode, county officials have cleared up the burglary of the grocery store at Eighth and Lamar streets of a few nights ago.

Juvenile Officer W. G. Bralley, who placed the four boys under arrest, appeared before the county attorney Friday morning with one of the boys, stating that the boy wanted to come clear with a number of things.

In his statement he told of the burglarizing of the grocery store and also cleared up a number of other petty cases which have been a source of annoyance for the past month. This boy's story was corroborated in detail by the second boy. Several other arrests are expected on the strength of the two statements.

FRENCH ARE OF OPINION POPULATION IN THE RUHR WANT TO PROLONG FIGHT

DUSSELDORF, Sept. 28. (AP)—The impression voiced by French officials here is that the population in the Ruhr is taking a stand against the government's capitulation and is in favor of continuing the fight against the occupation without assistance from Berlin.

The idea is gaining ground among the French functionaries that opinion in the German population of the occupied area is beginning to swing vigorously against the government's capitulation. It is even feared in some quarters that German opinion is likely to crystallize into a definite movement to try to continue the fight.

COTTON MARKET

Local Cotton Market.

Receipts: Fifty bales; middling 27 cents.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 4 to 15 points on more bullish private crop figures and firm Liverpool cables. The weather news, however, was considered more favorable as it was believed that the tropical storm was not likely to strike inland and the opening advances to 28.56 for October and 28.64 for December met considerable southern, western and local selling. This gave the early market an irregular appearance and uncertain as to the showing of next week's government crop report was increased by the wide range of the private estimates. Four of these were published with condition figures ranging from 46.1 to 52 and crop indication figures from 9,785,000 up to 11,467,000.

The market turned firmer, owing to the continued firmness of Liverpool and the forecast for unsettled weather with lower temperatures in the western belt. Houses with Liverpool connections were good buyers here, while there was scattered covering on the advance which sent prices up to 28.95 for October and 28.26 for January later in the forenoon, or about 27 to 30 points net higher. Prices were within a few points of the best around mid-day. Two more private crop reports were issued one of them making the condition 51.8 and the other 49.

The market showed continued firmness during the middle of the afternoon on further coverings or scattered trade buying. October sold up to 29.00 and January to 28.43 or 32 to 34 points net higher and prices were within a point or two of the best around 2 o'clock.

Cotton futures closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—Better cables than due and telegrams from Texas predicting hugs end of the month clearances from the ports of that state put the price of cotton strongly higher today, December rising to 28.17 in the first hour. At this level the list showed gains of 25 to 28 points over yesterday's close. Several private crop reports appeared, but they had no great influence as the indicated crop figures they carried ranged from 10,434,000 bales up to 11,467,000. Galveston wired that 20 ships would clear Texas ports Sunday, the end of the month. It was predicted several days ago that end of the month foreign shipments of cotton out of Texas would amount to 255,000 bales.

The tone held very steady. Indicated crop figures as low as 10,142,000 bales caused some buying, but the small supply of contracts rather than the demand supported values. In the trading up to 11 o'clock December traded up to 28.28 with the list showing gains of 30 to 34 points.

The gradual advance continued and in the trading up to 12:30 o'clock December sold as high as 28.37 where the list stood at net gains of 34 to 38 points. Ruling comment was that steady trade buying was being felt and was being met by only a small supply of contracts.

Cotton futures closed steady at net gains of 13 to 19 points.

Chicago Grain.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Confronted with new bullish estimates of the Canadian crop wheat took a decided upturn in price today during the early dealings. The fresh figures regarding Canadian production were credited to the Northwestern Grain Dealers' Association and were 55,000,000 bushels, more than the Canadian government's latest returns. Continued notice of Washington plans for farm relief counted likewise in favor of the bulls and so, too, did strength of corn and oats. The opening, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c higher, December 1.05¾ to 1.06 and May 1.10¾ to 1.11 was followed by material gains all around.

Subsequently profit taking sales led to price setbacks, which, however, were only transient. The close was firm, ¼ to 1⅛c net higher, December 1.06¾ to 1.07⅛@¼ and May 1.10¾ to 1.11.

Corn opened with September delivery touching a new high price record for the season. Wet weather was an incentive to buy. After opening unchanged to ¼ to ⅜c up, December 72¾ to ¾ prices scored a general upturn and then reacted somewhat.

It was estimated that farm reserves this fall were the smallest in 20 years with one exception. The close was firm, ¼ to 1⅛c net higher, December 72¾ to 73.

With big shorts covering, oats started unchanged to ½@⅝c higher, December 42¾ to ⅞ and later showed a general advance.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to the provision market.

STOCKS AND FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Considerable irregularity developed at the opening of today's stock market with the usual industrial leaders showing a heavy tone. Baldwin dropped 1¾, Studebaker 1 and United States Steel and Pan-American yielded fractionally. Jones Brothers Tea dropped 1 point to a new low record for the year. Tobacco Products opened 2 points higher.

Jones Brothers Tea extended its loss two points, but soon made up its loss and started for higher ground. The general list also showed good signs of recovery. Delaware & Hudson, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Bethlehem Steel Car and Pressed Steel Car showing gains of 1 to 2 points. Foreign exchanges opened irregular, German marks improving slightly to 60 cents a hundred million, despite the reichsbank statement showing a weekly increase of more than two quadrillians in note circulation.

There was scattered selling of railroad stocks, Northern Pacific, Pere Marquette, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, Ann Arbor, preferred and Western Pacific common and preferred falling 1 to 2 points. This was offset by steadily rising prices in other sections of the list. Gains of 1 to 2 points were registered by several of the oils, steels and sugars. Closed irregular; sales 600,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Directors of the United States Gas & Electric Company have declared an initial dividend of 33-36th of one per cent on the new preferred stock for the period July 20 to October 1, putting the stock on a 5 per cent annual basis. The dividend is equal to approximately 87 cents on 64,994 shares of the new preferred outstanding.

The regular dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock of the Shaffer Oil & Refining Company for the quarter ended September 30, has been omitted by the board of directors because of the unsettled condition of the industry.

Considerable switching from the shares of low priced western carriers into stock of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is reported by commission houses and probably accounts for the rapid rise in the stock on declaration of a common dividend.

Hunting is engaged in nearly all the year in Cuba, there being plenty of deer, wild board, crocodiles, ducks and other game.

It's all a matter of taste

A MAN can kiss a cow if he wants to—after all it's nobody's business but his own.

A man can use valve cups that fail to deliver the goods, year after year—his own pocketbook is the one that suffers.

For 15 years oil men everywhere have known the name Darcova as a mark of the valve cup that wears longer and pumps more oil.

Those who buy valve cups with the ultimate cost in view are boosters of Darcova. Those who prefer to save five cents at the time of buying and waste labor, oil and money at the time of using, are satisfied with substitutes.

It's all a matter of taste.

Electra Community Fair Among Most Successful Exhibitions in History of Fairs in West Texas

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 21.—The second Electra community fair, which closed at 9 p. m. yesterday, was ample proof of the efficiency of cooperation in community enterprises. The fair was purely local in its scope, and was successful beyond the most optimistic hopes of the committee in charge. Even the cold drink stands and amusement booths were operated by local women's organizations, no professional concessions being permitted.

The variety and excellence of the exhibits in all departments was the subject of much favorable comment, and the success of the fair is due in no small measure to those who brought their work and produce for display.

The display of women's and girls' art, needle work, canned fruits and vegetables and culinary delicacies was especially large and comprehensive. This department was under the general direction of Miss Georgia Lansford, county home demonstration agent, and it was largely through her efforts that such a good showing was made. The superintendents of the various departments were: Mrs. T. M. McClendon, home-made conveniences; Mrs. N. D. Cooper, canning; Mrs. Grace Jennings, culinary, and Mrs. A. O. Wittenbach, textiles. Included in the women's department were a number of interesting heirlooms, antiques and curiosities. The style and cut of a baby dress, said to be 53 years old, attracted much attention. What is claimed to be the smallest completely equipped saddle in the world was shown. It is small enough to be easily carried in a man's coat pocket, but is an exact replica of a cowboy saddle. This curiosity will be shown at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair at Wichita Falls.

Agricultural Exhibits.

The agricultural exhibits, in charge of T. M. McClendon, were representative of farm products in Wichita county. Excellent corn, wheat, cotton, alfalfa hay, watermelons, cantaloupes, all kinds of vegetables and other products were displayed.

In the swine pens were shown fine Poland China and Duroc Jersey hogs. One boar in particular, a 21 months old Poland China owned by Asa Boaz, drew much wondering comment. This hog weighs 900 pounds, and according to his owner, is still growing.

Several high grade milk cows were shown by the N. J. A. Lee and North Side Dairies. A good class of beef cattle were also entered. A. L. Robb and J. A. Bradley were in charge of this department. N. D. Cooper was superintendent of the horse department, in which there were several good entries.

Perhaps the most complete exhibit of the entire fair was the poultry department, under the supervision of H. C. Obenhaus. Practically every breed of chicken was shown, as well as good pens of ducks, geese and turkeys. Several pairs of pigeons were entered.

The most amusing of the athletic contests, which were held both days, was the tug of war between the merchants and farmers. A round dozen of each were on the opposing sides, but the horny-handed sons of toil were too much for the business men, as is attested by the number of blistered hands to be found among local merchants today. The farmers were treated by the losers at one of the drink stands.

The awarding of premiums was finished late yesterday afternoon. The ribbon-winners in all classes are as follows:

Quills for pens were once so popular that immense flocks of geese were raised for the purpose, Saint Petersburg (now Petrograd), Russia, furnishing England with as high as 37,000,000 quills in a single year.

Summer conditions among office workers are much more healthful, with open windows and fresh air circulating agencies are closed and the air becomes hot and stagnant, says a medical observer.

Placing the hands in cold water 30 minutes caused the blood in the vein at the bend of the elbow to drop several degrees, said Leonard Hill, eminent British physiologist, in a recent report on whether letting cold water run on the wrists is effective in cooling one.

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. Everett E. Hunt of Belzoni, Okla., who has three children and never any sickness, and Mrs. F. B. Kuklanski of Prosser, Wash., always give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative," and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are physics that never should be given to children — calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a coal-tar drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which concentrate the blood and dry up the saliva. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeling by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Syrup Pepsin.
