Dean Reported Ready To Link Nixon Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen, assigned to take over investigation of the Watergate case, "orchestrated the torpedoing" of an earlier effort to look into financial aspects of the political espionage-sabotage episode, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said today.

"The President should promptly remove Mr. Petersen, or anyone else from the Department of Justice, as chief investigator and instead appoint an outside, uncompromised and unimpeachable citizen in whom the public has confidence," Reuss said in a statement.

HIGHER-UPS

Reuss is a member of the House Banking Committee. He said he suggested the investigation Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., undertook last August, focusing largely on transfers of funds among persons involved in the Watergate and between banks in this country and Mexico.

Reuss termed it "an investigation of possible law violation by those higher-ups who were behind the men caught in the Watergate with their burglar tools.

Reuss said, however, that the investigation soon ran into the refusal to talk of important witnesses, including former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans, and that Patman called the committee to meet Oct. 3 to authorize subpoenas "before evidence could be destroyed and perjured testimony manufactured."

But Reuss said that on Sept. 29, Petersen wrote the committee saying that "The public interest in a prompt and successful prosecution may be imperiled by widely publicized hearings held at this time."

READY TO SING

"The move was successful," Reuss said. "On Oct. 3 the committee, by a 20-15 vote, turned down the chairman's subpoena request."

Petersen's letter, citing past cases of conviction overturned on appeal because of pretrial publicity, argued that "the basic rights of the defendants to a speedy, fair and impartial trial may be jeopardized by prejudicial publicity or the delay engendered by it."

White House counsel John W. Dean III was reported ready to testify before a federal grand jury that other presidential aides were involved in the Watergate affair.

Over the weekend it was revealed that two top White House staff members, H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman, have hired a lawyer to represent them in the case.

In another development, The Washington Post quotes sources today as saying President Nixon was told by members of his own staff last year that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and Dean probably were involved in both the wiretapping of Democratic party headquarters and a subsequent coverup.

Nixon, said the Post's sources, responded, "Give me some evidence."

Mitchell, former campaign director for Nixon, testified last week before a grand jury investigating Watergate. He told newsmen afterwards that he had heard discussion of wiretapping plans in the 1972 campaign but disapproved them.

Dean reportedly has been named by former Nixon campaign aide Jeb Stuart Magruder as among those present at a meeting where bugging of the Democratic headquarters was planned.

Dean, presidential counsel, conducted the initial investigation into the case, which was followed by Nixon's statement that no White House aides were involved. Nixon said April 7, however, that he had learned of major new developments pointing to the truth in the case.

"In a perhaps misguided concept in protecting the people around the President, he (Dean) has been caught up in questionable activities," a source close to Dean said Sunday.

News Of Bomb Threats Disclosed To Mitchell

By JOHN EDWARDS

Learning about two previously undisclosed courthouse bomb threats aggravated strained relations between the County Commissioners Court and Sheriff A. N. Standard Jr. this morning.

Supporting a deputy sheriff's request to attend an army bomb school, Standard had revealed receipt of two false bomb threats about three months ago.

"That worries me," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said. "The paper says we had (two) bomb threats in the last three months and the (county) judge doesn't know anything about it."

Standard later appeared and told the court his office was told on two separate occasions about two weeks apart that a bomb was on the elevator.

STORIES FALSE

Finding no bombs, his office dismissed the report as false. "We tried to handle it discreetly and make sure we handled it securely, too," Standard said.

Discussion between the sheriff and court was cordial. But, in Standard's absence, Mitchell criticized the sheriff's office for not evacuating the courthouse.

Mitchell indicated he did not consider the training necessary. Expert teams dealing with explosives daily could be flown here in a short period of time, he believed.

"He's going to forget what he learned," Mitchell said of the deputy.

Standard previously had mentioned several local incidents in recent years. Mitchell, expecting a homemade bomb detonated at the American Legion Hall, said: "I've been here 30 years, and this is the first bomb I've heard of."

MATTER TABLED

There was disagreement on the availability of local bomb experts, and the matter was tabled for further investigation. Deputy Sheriff Richard Doane had requested three weeks off and $100 for transportation.

On another subject, the court let a proposal die for lack of a motion.

NOT BUDGETED

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, had requested the court allow her to hire a Vocational Office Education student to help during the summer vacation months. She said the number of legal instruments filed in her office had increased.

Mitchell mentioned the matter was not budgeted and said he feared other offices would want the similar summer help.

ROAD WORK

The road department could be ready to start the summer seal-coating program by about May 1, Marvin Hanson, road administrator, told the court.

Patching sunk below the road level on county roads as well as state maintained highways, and a crew must precede seal-coating crews re-patching.

Members of the court felt diesel coming through a pipeline to Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. would alleviate previous shortages. But Mitchell, nevertheless, appointed Commissioners Simon (Cy) Terrazas and Jack Buchanan to locate an additional tank.

Work on a caliche road through the H. E. Tubb subdivision is finished, Hanson said. He told Buchanan it took five days to construct the approximately mile-long. Tubb furnished caliche.

During a long discussion, members of the court blamed the manufacturer, county mechanics and operators for problems with a year-old maintainer. Having those less rough on machinery work with other operators was suggested.

Shower Stops Easter Rite

The early Sunday morning Easter Sunrise Service at the amphitheatre was halted during the middle of the first hymn by pouring rain and hail.

Rev. Carroll Kohl, St. Paul Lutheran Church pastor who helped organize the 6:45 a.m. service, said approximately 200 people came to hear the evangelist singing group Sonrise.

"It had been raining before we started, and everyone brought blankets, umbrellas and things," said his wife. "We thought it would stop after a while, but after the second verse of the first hymn, it started pouring."

The event had to be cancelled to prevent damage to the expensive sound equipment brought by the singing group.

Rev. Kohl said that several churches and individuals in town took up spontaneous offerings later that morning to give to the group to help defray advertising expenses.

POOR GENIUS — Gregg Wellman, a 14-year-old University of Michigan freshman, has been turned down for a scholarship. U-M officials said scholarship funds are reserved for the "disadvantaged" and not the gifted. His mother, Mary Ann Wellman, said her son, Gregg, who has over a 160 I.Q., was treated as an "oddball" by his grade school teachers.

Ministers Plan Return To Commission Meeting

A delegation of local ministers will submit petitions bearing some 2,500 names to the City Commission at its 5:15 p.m. meeting Tuesday in an attempt to completely do away with sale of beer and wine in the city on Sundays.

Present city policy allows Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages from noon to 1 p.m. only. Some 500 people endorsed a petition turned in to City Hall several weeks ago urging extension of sale permission throughout the day on Sundays.

A group of church leaders appearing at the last City Commission requested time to collect their own signatures calling for keeping the present policy in effect plus prohibiting the one-hour sale period now allowed.

"I'm very confident that the commissioners will make a decision in our favor," said Ralph Williams, Church of Christ minister and leader in the anti-Sunday sale drive. He recalled another anti-liquor drive in the past in which the Commission was "impressed by the number of signatures we collected in a short time."

Williams said the majority of the 2,500-3,000 signatures were gathered after church services and at religious group meetings, although some signatures were collected in a door to door campaign.

Also to come up for Commission consideration is possible enlargement of the upcoming street seal coat program and possible application for federal funds to establish a detoxification unit in Big Spring.

City Manager Harry Nagel explained that a 10-bed center is needed for rehabilitation of alcoholics.

"The alcoholic is sick and jail isn't the place to put him," Nagel said. He noted that the unit could be financed up to 90 per cent by federal funds and could provide up to 21 days of care and counseling for drunk alcoholics.

Commissioners will also discuss a possible motel occupancy tax and charter revision and will consider a Disabled American Veterans request to lease land for a possible DAV hall.

Wreck On SP Slows Rail Service West Of Here

Local T&P railway officials have been informed that through freight service to El Paso likely will be restored on the Southern Pacific lines by tonight.

Work crews mopped up the wreckage of a 104-car freight train this morning after some 40 derailed cars spilling burning liquid over a broad area of desert country at McNary's Pass about 60 miles east of El Paso Sunday.

Local service over the T&P, of course, continues uninterrupted.

The fire threatened a section of Interstate 10 for a time.

Firemen from the Army's Ft. Bliss in El Paso and Sierra Blanca and Fabens, Tex., responded to the call for help. The pileup occurred in an isolated section of desert brush, ravinea and sand.

A spokesman for the railroad said the train apparently jumped the rails on some rough tracks. tracks.

A Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said either alcohol or gasoline pouring from the ruptured tanks caught fire and poured into a ravine, which carried it within about 200 yards of Interstate 10.

He said state patrolmen kept traffic moving on the highway to prevent sightseers from stopping.

The DPS spokesman said there were no reports of injuries or death in the derailment or fire.

Such trains normally carry a crew of about five men, a railroad employe said.

Because of its isolation, the wreckage and fire never were a threat to any residences or other buildings, the DPS said.

A railroad spokesman here said the freight carried liquid latex, alcohol, diesel fuel, chemicals and "dangerous liquids." He did not further identify the cargo.

Atlantic Alliance Blueprint

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger said today President Nixon seeks to build a new Atlantic Charter with America's European allies this year, based on an easing of economic frictions and on the continued presence of U.S. forces in Europe.

The President's chief foreign policy adviser outlined a blueprint for a revitalized Atlantic alliance in an address prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press, presenting the administration's first major policy statement in what Nixon has called "the year of Europe."

The blueprint, Kissinger said, "is not an American prescription but an appeal for a joint effort" to agree upon "a clear set of common objectives . . .

"The historic opportunity for this generation is to build a new structure of international relations for the decades ahead. A revitalized Atlantic partnership is indispensable for it."

Kissinger said Nixon is holding a series of talks with leaders of such Western European allies as Britain, Italy, West Germany and France because he believes that the political, military and economic issues "must be addressed at the highest level."

"The United States proposes to its Atlantic partners that, by the time the President travels to Europe toward the end of the year, we will have worked out a new Atlantic Charter setting the goals for the future," Kissinger said.

A cornerstone of the charter is the continued presence of U.S. forces in Europe. Kissinger stressed this when he told the gathering of editors:

"The President has asked me to state that America remains committed to doing its fair share in Atlantic defense. He is admantly opposed to unilateral withdrawals of U.S. forces from Europe."

But Nixon's assistant for national security affairs added that "we owe to our peoples a rational defense posture, at the safest minimum size and cost."

Showers Localized

An April shower that washed the city for Easter boomed across a limited area here Sunday morning.

In a few places the rainfall was sufficient to try for planting, but for most farmers, it was wait just a bit longer.

In Big Spring reports varied from .65 in the south portion (with one measurement of .85), downward to a trace at the U.S. Experiment Station, .36 at the Texas Electric Switching station at the northeast edge and .20 at the Colorado River Municipal Water District pumping station just north on the Snyder highway.

Lomax, in southwestern Howard County, had half an inch, but most in that area was only about a quarter.

North of Big Spring the rainfall fell off rapidly.

However, a CRMWD gage showed half an inch at Colorado City, and the TESCO Morgan Creek (Lake Colorado City) gauge showed .82 and the one in town 1.6 inches.

None of this was enough to make streams run appreciably.

DESEGREGATION

Busing Fuss Under Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights lawyers and attorneys for a Southern school board argued today that the Supreme Court for the first time should approve busing across school district boundaries in pursuit of desegregation.

The dispute began its journey to the high court with a federal district judge's order to consolidate the predominantly black schools of Richmond, Va., with the predominantly white school districts in adjacent Henrico and Chesterfield counties.

That order was issued in January 1972 by U.S. District Court Judge Robert H. Merhige Jr. and would have required busing of about 78,000 pupils across city and county lines.

In a 5-1 decision last June, the U.S. Circuit Court at Richmond reversed that order. The appellate court said Merhige had no authority to cross district lines to cure segregation within the Richmond school system.

The Richmond School Board had argued that pupils were moved across boundary lines to perpetuate segregation and that those lines should be crossed for desegregation.

Arguing with the school board to have the appellate ruling nullified and Merhige's order restored is the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund. The Virginia State Board of Education and the Nixon administration support the circuit-court ruling.

GRAND RAPIDS

Similar lawsuits affecting metropolitan-area schools are pending in Detroit and Grand Rapids, Mich.; Dayton, Ohio; Durham, N.C.; Wilmington, Del.; Hartford, Conn.; Buffalo; Atlanta; Boston; Indianapolis, and Louisville.

The Supreme Court was told in briefs that during the 1970-71 school year, about 9,000 black pupils in Richmond were attending 13 schools that were at least 90 per cent black, while there were four all-white schools. Chesterfield and Henrico schools were completely segregated until the mid-1960s.

Run Enemy Ambushes

SAIGON (AP) — A river convoy reached Cambodia's capital today with cargoes of fuel and rice after running enemy ambushes on the Mekong River.

One South Korean-registered tanker in the eight-vessel convoy was hit by mortar fire. One crewman was killed and three wounded.

Six of the vessels were petroleum tankers and the other two carried cargoes of American rice to help replenish dwindling supplies in Phnom Penh, whose main roads have been cut by Cambodian guerrilla forces.

The convoy was first attacked near the South Vietnamese-Cambodian border after starting out on the 60-mile journey. The vessels made it past this attack without damage or injury.

95 Families Flee Gas Eruptions

WILLIAMSBURG, Mich. (AP) — Another 10 families were evacuated from their homes today as natural gas eruptions continued in and around this tiny northwestern lower Michigan community.

The eruptions began last Wednesday and about 95 families have been forced to leave their homes.

New eruptions of the potentially explosive gas were discovered near the nearby town of Acme, about four miles southwest of the original field of geysers.

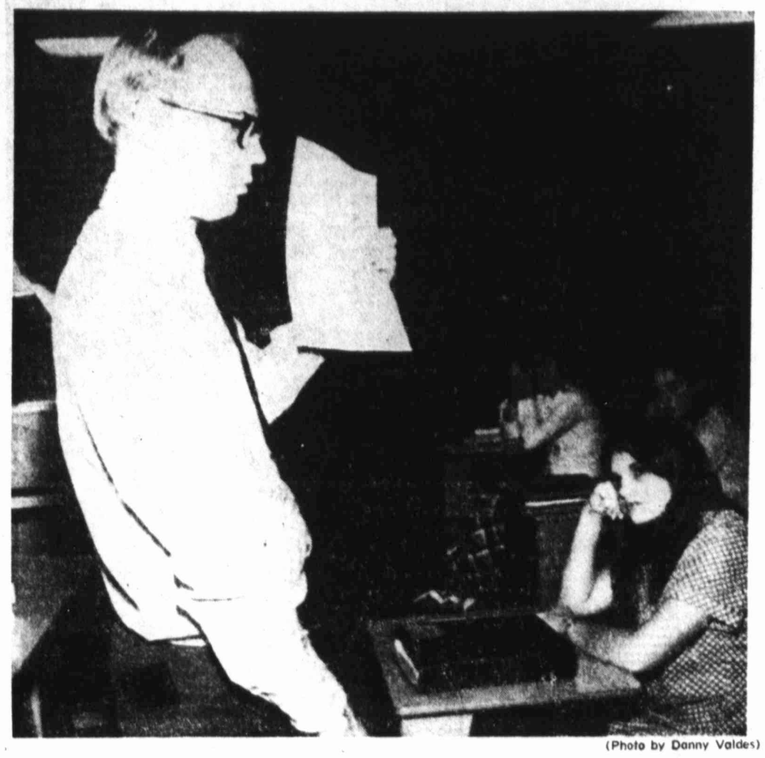

State officials have said the gas is part of a several billion-cubic-foot pocket several thousand feet below ground. It is being pressured into porous limestone, which results in the surface eruptions.

Voters Awaiting Merger Election

Balloting likely will be heavy in both communities in the school consolidation vote at Flower Grove and Klondike, which takes place next Monday. Polling places will open at 8 a.m., and close at 7 p.m.

Approval of the proposal would mean that the top six grades in each community would attend classes at Klondike, the lower six grades at Flower Grove.

Although the two communities are only a few miles apart, Klondike is in Dawson County while Flower Grove is in Martin County.

GOLIAD

Egg Thrown 75 Far Feet

By LINDA LESTER

In the local Optimist International Oratorical contest last Tuesday at the high school, Phyllis Morris, a seventh grade Goliad student, won first place in the girls' division. Five girls entered the contest. Three were high school students, and the other two, Jerry Davey and Phyllis, were from Goliad.

The speech topic was: "Listen, World." The speech had to be between four and five minutes long. Phyllis gave her speech on the youth of America. She will not compete in the district contest in Midland April 27.

There will be a track meet May 10 and 11 with Goliad and Runnels track girls competing. The meet will be in the afternoon at Blankenship Field.

Goliad science teachers are forming a science club for the students next year. Its goal is to help promote science interests and activities. Thirty-seven students attended the first meeting.

Boys' PE classes will start softball this week. They will also have wrestling intramurals. Girls' PE classes are running track.

RUNNELS

Elections To Be Held This Friday

By PHYLLIS HART

School officers and cheer leaders for the 1973-74 school year will be named in an election set for next Friday. In addition, ninth grade representatives will be chosen.

The Student Council reconvened Tuesday to cement final plans for the balloting and, while in session, detailed suggestions for each student who has projected his or her name for places on the ballot.

It was revealed during the session that the council grossed $64.75 from the sock hop conducted in the school gymnasium.

Other matters brought before the council concerned the kind of prizes which will be given to the grade that emerges as top winners in the recent paper drive. The drive was conducted Wednesday and Thursday and evolved into a contest between seventh and eighth graders.

Novel ideas about awards for winners were introduced. One was a proposal that the winners be allowed to chew gum in class all day. A second would have permitted those finishing in the cat bird seat the prerogative of taking radios with them to advisory, and being allowed to play games.

Then there was a plan introduced for a Slave Day, wherein the losers would perform services for the winners throughout an appointed day.

The school tuberculosis test will be offered students April 26. It is designed especially for all seventh graders and those recent additions to the eighth grade.

The girls' PE classes are going to stage a program May 7. Purpose of the program will be to show parents of the students some of the things that have been accomplished during the school year.

The Runnels art department will have examples of its work on exhibit in the Howard County Junior College library after classes resume Tuesday. This is a part of the college's Fine Arts Festival, which endures throughout the month of April.

Most students do not realize the many hours put in by Runnels' maintenance personnel to keep the buildings and grounds looking presentable.

Part of the Runnels plant consists of the building which has been used longer continuously for classes than any other structure in Big Spring as it was once the high school building, but constant work and care by the maintenance personnel keep it operable.

Everything from falling ceilings to exploding boilers has occurred within the structures down through the years but the physical properties at Runnels remain in good shape and are regarded as a valuable asset to the Big Spring Independent School District.

Tens of thousands of students have walked down its corridors since the school first opened and many of these are scattered throughout the world. Most will always remember Runnels and how important it was to their lives at one time. The maintenance personnel deserves thanks and perhaps a day set aside in their honor.

Pay $200 For 'Little Lulu'

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The dog-eared, dime store comic books read and reread as youths were selling for up to $200 each at the "world's first underground comix convention."

"The original 1939 Batmans are really hot items," said one seller, who was busily swapping an early "Little Lulu" for a "Captain America."

"Their value is really nostalgia," said cartoonist Mike Royer. "Underground comix are now where it's really at."

About 1,000 people crowded about the exhibit and sales booths Friday on the University of California campus here.

They leafed through the old titles and contemporary underground offerings like "Trash Man," "Dealer McDope," "Young Lust," "Mothers' Oats" and "Freak Brothers."

Clay Geerdes, a convention organizer, summed it up: "There are still among us those who habitually sneer and put down the comix, people who have become jaded and who have long forgotten what it was like to put on a red bath towel and run around the back yard pretending to be Superman or to climb around in an oak tree as Sheena, Queen of the Jungle."

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Partner opens with one club and you hold:
♠J952 ♡Q653 ◇Q1065 ♣7
What is your response?

A.—We are disinclined to pass partner out in a bid of one club where there is any reasonable excuse for bidding. Partner may have a second suit consisting of hearts or spades and a better result will be obtained if he is afforded the opportunity to show it. A one diamond response allows for this contingency.

Q. 2—Neither side vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AQJ75 ♡J10952 ◇K3 ♣5
East opened with one heart.
What do you bid?

A.—We are in favor of a bid of one spade. While normally it is not recommended that immediate action be taken when most of your strength is in the suit that has been bid ahead of you, in this case your principal strength is not hearts but spades. By passing you may find yourself completely shut out of the auction if responder should bid two of a minor and opener supports that suit.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQ109 ♡9 ◇AJ ♣AKJ98
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♡	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ◇	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six no trump. Stopping short of seven may appear the height of cowardice. However, despite the possession of all the aces and kings you can't count 13 tricks. In fact, the bidding labels the hand as a potential misfit and even a contract of six may not be a laydown. The safest slam prospect appears to be no trump since a bad break in one or even two suits may be withstood there, whereas a bad trump break could doom a suit contract.

Q. 4—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠Q973 ♡108 ◇KQ952 ♣K10
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Dble.

What do you bid now?

A.—Redouble. A hand that is average in high cards [10 points] with support for partner qualifies as a redouble. Particularly in view of your previous pass, partner can hardly look for more than this in the way of honor strength.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQ98 ♡AJ543 ◇Q ♣Q9
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	3 ♣	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Our choice is a bid of four clubs. Partner must have a very substantial suit to insist upon it in the face of your showing a major two suiter. A rebid of three hearts might tend to make partner lose interest since it would sound merely as an effort on your part to force him into showing a preference which he has once refused to do.

Q. 6 — Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AJ93 ♡Q1063 ◇A6 ♣K97
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—You have just about a minimum opening bid and a rebid should be chosen which will not give partner an impression of strength. Resist, therefore, the temptation to bid two no trump. Such a call describes a stronger hand than this. The suggested bid is two hearts.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK97 ♡42 ◇AJ10864 ♣5
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	2 ♣	2 ♡	3 ♣

What do you bid now?

A.—With this very fine hand a free bid is in order and our vote is for three diamonds. Partner will recognize this as a step forward, since you were at liberty to pass the three club bid around to him. A rebid of three spades at this point might prove awkward because of the bidding space thus consumed.

Q. 8—Partner opens with two no trump and you hold:
♠KQ532 ♡K4 ◇J3 ♣J872
What is your response?

A.—Your hand counts 10 and partner has a minimum of 22, which adds to within a point or two of slam. However, with this unbalanced hand we prefer first to show the five card suit and then follow up with a raise of the no trump if partner returns to three no trump. Our vote is, therefore, for three spades.

TEEN FORUM

SUBTERFUGE: (Q.) I really do like Brenda. She likes me too. But her parents are strict on her. So she goes to the library and I meet her there, and we go to a movie. Then she goes back to the library, and then home.

She hasn't told her parents about me. I want to meet them and let them know me. I am not bragging, but I am on the student council and have other important jobs at school. I honestly believe that if they knew me they would let Brenda go out with me and she wouldn't have to go to the library to see me.

Another factor is that the kids at school have found out about us and are talking. I am afraid that if the faculty knew what Brenda and I are doing it might not look good to them.

Still another thing is that Brenda has been having an affair with her uncle. She wants to stop it, but he is the one who takes her to the library to meet me and takes her home afterward. Please help me. — Entangled in New Jersey.

(A.) You have already hurt yourself. Unless Brenda and you turn around and start going in the right direction, you are almost certainly headed for a lot of trouble.

Insist that she take you to meet her parents.

Insist that she drop this dirty business with her uncle.

If she doesn't agree to both of these conditions, and follow through on them, drop her.

* * *

TIME TO START: (Q.) I have to do something. I am 17 and have never had a date with a girl or kissed one. I know I am shy, so please don't tell me that. — Help (!) in Oklahoma.

(A.) You will probably be more confident with a younger girl. You are junior or senior age. Make friends with a sophomore girl who appeals to you.

First you smile at her a few times, then you introduce yourself to her, then you talk to her a few times, then you call her on the phone a few times, then you ask her for a date.

It is simple. Other boys around you are doing it all the time. Get busy. Today.

Efficiency Study Urged

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Price Daniel Jr. has suggested a private study of ways to make the House of Representatives run more efficiently.

Daniel asked Rep. Joe Allen, D-Baytown, chairman of the House Administration Committee, to look into the idea. Daniel recommended using the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, an independent research group that already has studied House operations.

Daniel used some of the group's ideas in his reorganization of the House this session.

Larry Margolis, executive director of the conference, said the study should cover both the House and Senate. But Daniel said Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby is not interested in such a study.

Los Angeles Man Goes On Rampage, Kills Six

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The gunman pointed to his latest victim and asked a horrified service station attendant who witnessed the killing: "Do you know if anyone wants some of that?"

An otherwise peaceful Easter Sunday in a predominantly black neighborhood was shattered by a man wielding a .20-gauge shotgun. The 90-minute shooting rampage left six persons dead and ten wounded at eight locations, authorities said.

"He walked in and asked for Butch," recalled James Morrow, 35, a coworker of Raleigh "Butch" Henderson, a service station attendant who was gunned down. "Butch turned around and he just started shooting."

A preliminary investigation indicated the shootings may have been "a planned sequence — something he thought out, or at any rate did in a kind of order of priorities," said Sheriff's Lt. Charles Elliott.

"At any rate, we believe he knew all or most of the people he killed."

Officers shot and wounded William Ray Bonner, 25, an unemployed service station attendant, during a shootout that followed a chase by sheriff's deputies. Bonner was booked for investigation of murder, officers said. He was reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital with gunshot wounds in the leg.

Persons killed in the afternoon shooting spree included Bonner's grandmother, girlfriend and a 12-year-old girl, sheriff's deputies said.

Most of the wounded were reported in critical condition.

At least one and possibly two of the wounded were hit by crossfire when officers surrounded the gunman at an intersection and exchanged some 40 shots before wounding him and taking him into custody, authorities said.

The cause of the shootings was under investigation.

The shooting rampage started at Bonner's home, where a female visitor was fatally shot and two teen-agers were wounded. It then spread through the surrounding neighborhood. The gunman made quick visits to two gas stations, two liquor stores and two other homes — all within a one-square-mile area — leaving dead and wounded as he went, deputies said.

Furr's Net Income Up

LUBBOCK — Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. continued its steady, profitable growth in net income and sales during the first quarter of 1973, Don Furr, president, reported Saturday.

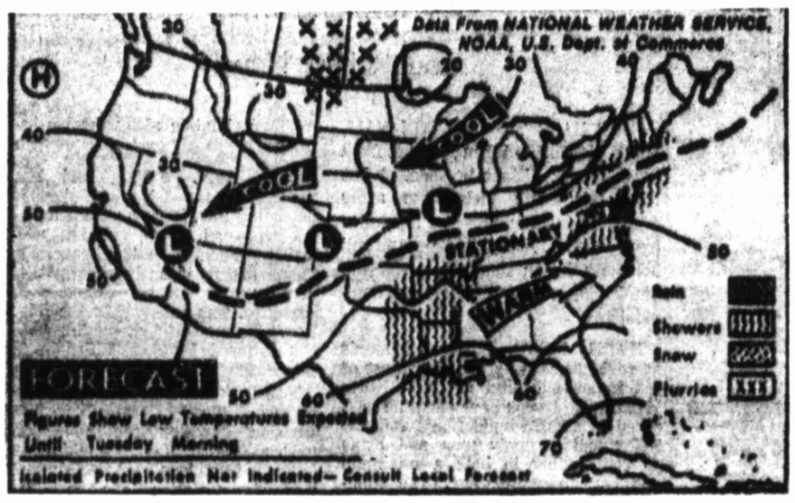

For the quarter ended March 31, Furr's had net income of $406,846, an increase of 39 per cent over the first quarter of the prior year. Per share earnings were 17 cents, compared with 14 cents per share in the first three months of 1972. The company had about 15 per cent more shares outstanding in the first quarter of 1973 as the result of a common stock offering in April 1972. Sales of $8.6 million were 23 per cent higher than in last year's first quarter.

4 In 10 Polled Link President With Bugging

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Forty one per cent of the American people feel that President Nixon knew in advance about the Watergate bugging attempt, according to a recent Gallup Poll.

The survey found that 83 per cent of those questioned had heard of the Watergate case, showing the incident has become known to an "extraordinary number" of persons, a Gallup spokesman reported on Sunday.

The spokesman said that more than four in 10 of those interviewed felt that the President had prior knowledge that an attempt would be made to conceal electronic surveillance equipment inside the Democratic National Headquarters last June. Another 32 per cent felt Nixon had no advance knowledge, while 27 per cent had no opinion or had not heard of the case, the spokesman said.

Need For Justification

Key agencies which have been subjected to charges from members of the House Appropriations Committee will have an opportunity during this legislative session to answer the criticism.

Another stinging attack was lodged recently against the Texas Water Quality Control Board and its director, Hugh Yantis. Legislators objected to the partisan lobbying by one board employe, also to the quality of performance of the agency and its director. The board's dedication to water quality control was called into dispute.

The Legislature's obligation to justify public spending is clear. Spot attacks sometimes appear needlessly severe, but such methods are frequently the most effective way to get a problem flushed into open discussion sufficient to make valid value judgments.

If the commission and the board can defend their work, legislators will be aware of that, too.

House Appropriations Committee members have been doing the state a distinct service in challenging programs and performances of tax-funded agencies.

The challenges should be taken seriously enough to get suitable reviews that will enable the legislators to justify continued funding.

Under sharp challenge is the Texas Industrial Commission. Peg for the attack is a recent Texas Research League report calling into serious question the commission's performance. Some of its junketeering was sharply criticized. The commission will have opportunity during this legislative session to answer the criticism. More of this will be beneficial.

Now Let's See, Two Plus . . .

The people of the United States can be forgiven if they are unable to follow Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan's figures. If a 10.7 per cent wage and fringe benefit increase for 500,000 rail workers is "well within reasonable guidelines" set by the administration at 5.5 per cent, then we must all be culturally deprived, arithmetically speaking.

The new contract with rail unions provided for a 4 per cent wage increase next Jan. 1. The remainder of the 10.7 per cent would be an increase in fringe benefits, the most important being an agreement by the railroads to assume a greater share of the payments their employes make every month to the Railroad Retirement Fund — an increase in take-home pay of $72.75 a month this year and 47.50 a month beginning next January.

This is not to say that railroad employes are not entitled to the wage increase, or increased fringe benefits. It is just to inquire how someone looking out of the window thoughtfully can come to the conclusion that total benefits of 10.7 per cent can be reconciled with the administration's asserted intention to limit wage increases to 5.5 per cent.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

One of the many revolutions of our time has taken place in church music. In our congregation, the old hymns like "Rock of Ages" have been pushed aside by newer tunes. Young people particularly seem responsible for this. What is your reaction? F.G.J.

I say "Thank God" for anything that moves people nearer Jesus. Music, of course, has phenomenal ability to affect people's moods, and indeed their whole life.

Luther said, "Music is the art of the prophets, the only art that can calm the agitations of the soul; it is one of the most magnificent and delightful presents that God has given us."

Surprisingly enough, a song that is about 200 years old has become a favorite of many now. I mean "Amazing Grace". What if the rhythm and the style of music be different from what the original composer intended? The message is the important thing. I'm told that many of the songs that young people favor today are "message" songs. Perhaps God can use them to lead folk to repentance and faith in Christ.

I agree that the church music revolution can go too far too fast. However, why not try to keep the best of the old and learn the best of the new?

Writing A Resume

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The executive job market is booming again, with perhaps 5,000 new openings a month in the $15,000 and up category, but a lot of applicants are writing themselves into the discard heap.

These otherwise accomplished executives haven't mastered the simple art of writing a resume that will give the facts clearly and concisely, says William Breitmayer, who scans thousands each month.

ABOUT 15 per cent of those received by Breitmayer, president of Executive Register, "are messy and illegible, are shoddy quality machine copies, or simply are so poorly written that even we can't make head or tail of them."

It's understandable, says Breitmayer, whose company computer processes the applications for its corporate clients, that an executive, like anyone else, would find it awkward to write about himself.

"When a successful person severs relations with a company it's like a divorce, even if he initiated the action. He feels on the defensive and he doesn't present his best. He finds it difficult to tell a straight forward story."

THE SAME curious phenomenon has been observed elsewhere, too. When 40-plus clubs were formed in 1970 to help find jobs for idle executives aged 40 or more, it was found that resumes were one of the major obstacles.

It was discovered that men and women who were masters in dictating business letters to secretaries were helpless when it came to writing objective reports on their own careers, especially without a secretary's aid.

Since Breitmayer, whose headquarters are in New Canaan, Conn., with offices in New York and San Francisco, makes his living by supplying computerized data on executives to his corporate clients, he would just as soon not have to toss away several hundred resumes each month. And so he sets some guidelines:

—The first item should be a brief, personal sketch that gives the reader a feeling of knowing a little bit about you. Include date and place of birth, marital status, children, address, telephones, height, weight, health, foreign languages.

—THE SECOND ITEM should be your educational background, with the names of each institution attended, majors studied, and the date each degree was awarded. These two items should use no more than one-third of the first page.

—Provide specific details on your career, starting with your present or most recent position and concentrating on the most recent 10 years.

List the name of the company, and the city and state where employed. Describe your responsibilities in each job clearly, showing the chain of command through which you reported as well as functions reported to you.

Figures on the size of the company and your part of it, including sales, numbers of units or people, will help give weight to your story. Give the specifics, but keep it brief and stick to the main points.

AN EMPLOYER is interested only in the "what" of your jobs, not in your own qualitative judgment of how well you did them. Try not to force your words. Be straightforward, and let the reader decide for himself.

—Speak for yourself. Resumes produced by resume writing firms fall into a set pattern which is recognized and downgraded by employers. Since you pay their bill, resume writers describe your virtues too extravagantly.

—Reproduce your resume professionally. Don't try to save money by typing your own resume or by using carbon copies or cheap machine reproductions. Have it typed professionally and reproduced on offset.

DON'T CROWD the page but use enough white space so that it can be read easily and quickly. Underline titles and company names. Use short sentences and paragraphs.

Remember that you want the reader to say: "This person has put together a simple and clear statement of what he has done, and where and how he has done it. Therefore, he must also be well organized and effective."

Thanks For Nothing

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Has your income doubled in the last 10 years? Well, your federal taxes have.

According to the Tax Foundation, federal taxes for the 1974 fiscal year, which starts July 1, will average $1,179 for every American, more than double the $582 they were a decade ago.

It was hard to tell what time it was in 1880. Although Daylight Saving Time had not then been heralded, there were 50 different standard times in use in the United States.

Do you have any idea where the following common everyday phrases came from? "Thanks for nothing. . .To give the devil his due. . .A peck of trouble...Every dog has his day...A finger in every pie...Let the worst come to the worst. . .A wild goose chase. . ."

Well, every one of them came from a single book, "Don Quixote," written more than 350 years ago by Miguel de Cervantes.

Christopher Latham Sholes, who in 1873 invented the first successful typewriter, also composed the sentence that has been connected with it ever since: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party." Sholes, who sold his valuable patent for only $12,000, later commented wryly: "All my life I have been trying to escape being a millionaire, and at last I think I have succeeded."

Quotable notables: "I hate mankind for I think myself one of the best of them, and I know how bad I am." — Samuel Johnson.

Nature notes: Many people think snakes are slimy; actually their skins are clean and quite dry. Wasps have a better sense of smell than you do and use it to hunt food. Although the wild turkey usually prefers to escape its enemies by running through cover, it can fly quite well. If your child had an appetite like a mole, he could eat his bodyweight in food once a day.

Know your language: Do you know why that little platform on the mast of a ship is called the crow's nest? Because the ancient Vikings actually kept crows in a container on such a platform. When the ship became lost, they would release a bird and follow it toward land. American whaling ships in the last century perched a member of the crew in a barrel fixed to the headmast to act as a lookout.

Worth remembering: "Be not disturbed at being misunderstood; be disturbed at not understanding."

'Skip' Is Extra Systole

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr .Thosteson: I am 23 and have led an active physical life — sports, hard work, etc

Recently I became aware that my heart seemed to be skipping some beats now and then. I went to a doctor who said my heart sounded fine, and advised an electrocardiogram just to be sure. The ECG showed I had nothing wrong.

The doctor said many people have hearts that skip beats, and it is nothing to worry about. Is there any medical explanation for a supposedly healthy heart that skips beats? Nerves? Tension?

Would vigorous physical exercise be detrimental to a "skipping heart"? — J.H.

The "skipping hearts" hardly ever are really skipping, but when people become engrossed in watching (or feeling) their own heart beats, they invariably think beats are being skpped.

What is actually occurring is a break in the usual rhythm. Instead of the normal beat, beat, beat two beats come close together, compensated by a slightly longer pause after the second one.

It's sort of beat, beat-beat . . . beat. Technically it is known as an extra systole, a systole being a contraction, or beat, of the heart. The extra one pops in, and the following pause makes up for it.

Folks miss noting the extra beat, but become scared by what they think is the skip, or missing beat.

This doesn't mean anything to a healthy heart — which you have — but it may be significant in certain types of heart disease.

You ask if nerves and tension have anything to do with it. Indeed yes! In some folks, tobacco also can lead to these extra systoles. And in quite a few, too much stimulant can do it — coffee, tea, cola drinks, or stimulant drugs which a person may be taking for one reason or another. Just the worry over the skips — once a person has noticed them — is sufficient tension to keep the trouble going in some people.

No, physical exercise and hard work aren't going to do any damage to your heart. In fact, keeping you physically busy very likely will keep you from thinking about your heart, and then it will settle down to regular rhythm all by itself. The extra beats disappear with activity in a normal heart.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion of treating carcinoma of the prostate with female hormones? How long will it last? I have not had a biopsy, just a hard spot on the gland which my doctor says is a 70 per cent indication of cancer. — G.L.C.

This has been one of the extremely successful methods of treating cancer; it was, if I remember rightly, the first successful cancer treatment by chemotherapy — that is, by chemical action rather than surgery.

I can't give you any specific time over which the treatment is effective, but it is measured in years. Quite a good many years. Maybe you do or maybe you don't have cancer. But if you do, you have reason to be thankful that this harmone treatment was discovered.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If a person uses dye, coloring or whatever on he hair will it affect the brain? If so, why symptoms are there? — Mrs. N.B.S.

This is a popular but mistaken notion that keeps going around. What you use on the surface of the skin isn't going to get inside the brain.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Why On Sunday?

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another:

Quick, Henry, the transquilizer!

W. C. FIELDS, the celebrated comedian, once said of members of the Fourth Estate:

"All you newspapermen are nosy. A pack of poltroons who laugh at heartaches. A murder sends them cheering to the nearest saloon. Scandal makes them glow all over . . ."

Is that what most people think of newsmen?

* * * *

ONE OF THE great unsolved mysteries of our times is why things always go wrong on Sunday

Drainpipes clog on the Sabbath, when there's not a plumber within 40 miles of a telephone. The roof starts leaking. The television set goes out. The car won't start. The air conditioner develops a cough.

The house seems durable as an Egyptian pyramid six days a week. On Sunday, it falls apart.

If you get through to a repairman's headquarters, you hear a recorded voice say with great enthusiasm and warmth: "This message is taped. Please call again Monday."

The odds are six-to-one against lights blinking out, refrigerators going on the fritz or the bathtub running over on a Sunday, or are they? It seems the other way around.

* * * *

THE QUICKEST thing about some people is their tongue. Their mouths work faster than their brains. The trouble is, they often say things they haven't even thought of yet.

* * * *

EVERYONE WANTS variety in their lives, and there's nothing wrong with that, but it's the monotony that puts meat on the table and bread in the bank.

I heard a vacation described recently as something you take when you can't take what you've been taking any longer.

* * * *

ISN'T IT true that the man who smiles when things go wrong usually has found someone else to blame?

If there is an organized dope-selling ring here, and I don't doubt it, there's only one sure way to break it: send it by parcel post.

Gloomy Outlook

By Rowland Evans

And Robert Novak

FIRE BASE TRUONG SON NAM, South Vietnam — When seen not from Washington's distant perspective but from this South Vietnamese army (ARVN) mountain outpost a few miles from enemy lines, the "ceasefire" hopefully begun Jan. 27 seems the unmistakable salvation of the Communists.

HERE NEAR South Vietnam's present northern border (just west of the imperial capital of Hue), North Vietnamese troops have used the past three months to build roads and airfields and resupply men and arms — contributing to both a minimum and maximum strategy. The minimum strategy: forming a Vietcong nation in the wilderness. The maximum strategy: preparing a lightning thrust eastward to split ARVN forces, capture Hue and truly win the long war.

Whatever the Hanoi politburo's eventual strategy, it can thank the Paris agreement for instant rehabilitation. North Vietnam's understrength, malaria-ridden troops have now been rested and reinforced. Their habitual ceasefire violations undeterred by the ludicrously feeble international control machinery, the Communists have transformed the military situation along the northern front.

BRIG. GEN. Le Van Thanh, commander of the 1st ARVN Division defending Hue, is gloomy. Sipping hot tea from an army canteen, while artillery boomed in the background, Thanh told us in an interview at this outpost: "We can only react in this ceasefire. The enemy has the initiative." Thus restricted, the 1st ARVN has suffered 1,000 casualties during the ceasefire.

Freed of air harassment or ARVN patrols, North Vietnam's 324B Division opposing the 1st ARVN moves freely. Heavy additions of tanks and artillery have been brought here in violation of the Paris agreement.

MOST WORRISOME, however, is the loss of ARVN's complete air domination. With U.S. air support removed, South Vietnamese planes will encounter heavy new antiaircraft artillery (including eight SAM pads illegally installed at the Khe Sanh base). Lenthening the Khe Sanh airstrip as well as building two new strips in the Ashau Valley can speed Communist supplies but also suggests Hanoi might introduce MIG jet fighters into this northern sector.

The threat here is wholly military, not political. The 1st ARVN remains South Vietnam's finest regular division, local boys from Hue fighting hard to save their loved ones who have been fiercely anti-Communist since the 1968 Tet massacre.

YET, A sudden massive attack could send the 1st ARVN reeling. "It would be most difficult to stop," a worried Gen. Thanh conceded — a view echoed to us by his famous corps commander, Lt. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong.

HANOI, HOWEVER, does not have enough troops here now for such an offensive. The warning signal will come if additional regiments are sent south. This raises two portentous questions: would the Communists risk resumed bombing by President Nixon — and would President Nixon in fact resume the bombing?

Why Do Folks Kick Tires?

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — It's almost a tradition to kick the tires of the car you're thinking of buying. But why?

Experts at Goodyear think it all began back in the early 1900s when the "clincher" tire was used on cars. This tire was held tight against the rim by clamps, and you kicked it to see if it was properly fastened and inflated. Tires in those good old days lasted about 50 miles on average, Goodyear notes. By contrast the company's newest tires are guaranteed for 40,000 miles, so kicking them doesn't really make much sense . . . unless you're superstitious or frustrated, the experts say.

Word To Wise For Consumer

"Beyond any doubt, the greatest engine ever invented for the discovery of truth."

JOHN HENRY Wigmore, famed legal authority, was not talking about such modern devices as the lie detector or truth serum. He was talking about the ancient art of cross-examination — that is, the use of careful, patient questioning to get at the facts.

You as a consumer can put this "engine" to good use every time you go shopping. Asking the right questions about a product can do wonders toward helping you get your money's worth.

BUT ONE vital distinction should always be kept in mind — the distinction between questions of fact and questions of opinion. This distinction is a key to your legal rights as a consumer.

Suppose you ask, "How much weight will this water bed support?" This is a question of fact. The seller is legally bound to give you accurate information.

BUT SUPPOSE you ask, "What do you think of these water beds?" That is a mere question of opinion. The seller can say "They're just great!" or "They make you feel 10 years younger!" without incurring any legal responsibility at all. The law assumes — realistically — that a seller is likely to exaggerate his enthusiasm and that a buyer is likely to take such statements with a grain of salt.

SELLERS ARE well aware of the difference between the two kinds of questions. The stockbroker who assures you that a certain stock "has a terrific potential" (matter of opinion) will probably choose his words more carefully when you inquire about the company's dividend record or outstanding debt (matters of fact).

Consider an actual case. A customer buying a short-wave radio asked the salesman whether it would get broadcasts from Rome. The salesman assured him it would.

BUT IT wouldn't. The customer demanded his money back, and a court ruled in his favor.

"The radio, so far as getting Rome is concerned, is a failure," observed the judge. "The warranty is breached."

AUSTIN DENTIST, HIS WIFE, FOUR CHILDREN DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Blast Kills Seven In El Paso Apartment Complex

By The Associated Press

Easter Sunday violence sent the death toll soaring in Texas during the holiday weekend.

Two of the worst tragedies were an El Paso apartment complex explosion which took seven lives and a private plane crash in which six members of an Austin family died.

Altogether there were at least 46 violent deaths between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, also including 19 traffic fatalities, six drownings and six homicides.

GAS LEAK

Firemen blamed a natural gas leak for the sunrise blast which reduced seven apartments in an old brick veneer structure near downtown El Paso to rubble and also injured eight other occupants. They listed the dead as newlyweds Ruben and Celia Padilla, both 17; John Gardner; Rafael Aguirre, 30, and his son Rafael Jr., 5; Maria Aguirre, believed to have been the wife of Rafael Sr., and Miguel Vallas Jr., 5.

Witnesses said the Beechcraft Bonanza plane in which Dr. Jack Lyon, 38, an Austin dentist, and his family died apparently exploded in flight before it crashed Sunday in a ranch pasture eight miles outside Dripping Springs. Those killed with Lyon on a flight home from McAllen were his wife, Georgann, 34, and four children—daughters Allison, 11, and Mindy, 8, and sons Jack, 6, and Mike, 3.

These were among the other victims:

Randolph Myers, 14, of Universal City was killed early Sunday when a sand dune caved in and buried him near Port Aransas on the Gulf Coast. The youth was identified by a constable as the only son of Lt. Col. Armand J. Myers, recently released by the Communists after being held a POW in Southeast Asia.

HE WAS ALONE

Russell H. Shell, 72, of Dallas was killed Sunday when his car struck a concrete bridge support off Dallas' South Central Expressway. He was alone in the car.

Robin Sharp, 9, of Brownwood was shot to death Sunday while on an Easter outing with her family at Santa Anna Lake. Officers said the little girl was killed by a bullet from a .38 caliber pistol when another child took the weapon from an auto glove apartment.

An unidentified girl, reportedly 2 years old, drowned Sunday when she fell into the Rio Grande near Eagle Pass. Witnesses pulled two other small girls from the river.

ELECTROCUTED

Dennis Snow, 11, was electrocuted Sunday in the small North Texas town of Bells where he lived. Officers said he was climbing down a railroad embankment with other boys and touched a live wire apparently knocked down by recent storms.

Clinton Melvin Blaine, 24, of Coleman was killed late Saturday when he alighted from his car to help a stalled motorist. A third vehicle plowed into the two automobiles, killing Blaine and injuring 11 other persons. The accident occurred on Texas 206 northeast of Coleman.

Sandra Richardson, 32, of San Antonio was killed Sunday when two cars collided on a rain-slick street.

'BURGLAREE' CONSIDERED — Angelina, played by Gerry Reece here, attempts to wack the learned judge, Walter Wallace, with a book when he suggests her fiancee could marry her first and a lover second. Kenneth Roach (right), her counsel in "Trial by Jury," after some thought, recalls that is "burglaree." Joseph Dawes, bailiff, with a cane, looks unconcerned in this scene from the comedy operetta. "Jury" is being presented free at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the HCJC auditorium.

Nude Patrol Views Mixed

STINSON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "We're not here to book anybody," said Deputy Sheriff Paul Hughes as he and his horse, Clem, patrolled a stretch of coastline noted for its nude sunbathers.

"I'll ask them to cover up, I'll say please, I'll do almost anthing to make them put their clothes on," Hughes said Sunday.

Hughes is a member of a daily patrol which the Marin County Board of Supervisors last week ordered to enforce laws against public nudity at Muir Beach, a few miles south of here on the rocky coast north of San Francisco.

"A lot of sightseers were clogging the roads around here," Hughes said. "That's what the community is trying to stop as much as anything. It's the gawkers."

Hughes, who stays in contact by walkie-talkie with nearby patrol cars, made no arrests Sunday and said none was made Saturday—the first day of the patrol, which is to continue through Labor Day.

"Everybody has been very cooperative," he said. "I don't think there is really any resentment."

At least one sunbather disagreed.

Bond Sales Still Brisk

U.S. Savings Bonds sales in District 4 and in Howard County are ahead of schedule, according to Larson Lloyd, district chairman.

Burglars Busy Over Weekend

An undetermined amount of change was taken and $100 worth of damage was done to a cigarette machine at the Grady Harland Mobil Station, 1000 Lamesa Highway, early Sunday morning.

Damage estimated at $20 was done to the Fina Warehouse, 513 E. 1st St., and $20 in cash was taken Sunday morning.

Two sewing machines valued at $750, two adding machines and an undetermined amount of other articles were taken from 1001 Scurry Sunday afternoon.

D. E. Heffington, 1412 W. 3rd St., reported burglary to his house Sunday afternoon. A portable television, track shoes, transistor radio and binoculars were taken. Estimated total value was near $68.

Sullivan's Fina Station, 1003 Lamesa Drive, reported the front door of the business was open at 12:49 a.m. today and that an apparent burglary had occurred. A small amount of cash had been taken along with candy, gum and cigarettes.

Trailer Missing

A green, five-bale cotton trailer belonging to Harvey Fryar is missing, Deputy Sheriff M. L. Kirby said. It was last seen at the Fairview gin.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief from Such Burning Itch and Pain in Many Cases.

The burning itch and pain caused by infection and inflammation in hemorrhoidal tissues can cause much suffering. But there is an exclusive formulation that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from this itch and pain so that the sufferer is more comfortable again. It also actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation and infection.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients in New York City, Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center reported similar successful results in many cases. This is the same medication you can buy at any drug counter under the name Preparation H®.

Preparation H also lubricates to protect the inflamed surface area and it doesn't sting or smart. In fact, it has very soothing qualities which make it especially helpful during the night when itching becomes more intense.

There's no other formula like Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.

TUMBLING ACT — Philadelphia Phillies second baseman Denny Doyle (15) does a flip while unsuccessfully trying to field a hit by St. Louis Cardinals batter Jose Cruz in the third inning of the first game of a doubleheader in Philadelphia Sunday. Philadelphia won both ends of the doubleheader.

Boston Celts Are On Ropes In Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics won the first three periods Sunday afternoon—but the New York Knicks came back to take the next three, and a 117-110 double-overtime decision over the Celtics.

The victory in Game 4 gave the Knicks a commanding 3-1 lead over the Celtics in their National Basketball Association Eastern Conference playoff finals, and they can wrap it up by winning the fifth game Wednesday night in Boston.

The Los Angeles Lakers, ahead 3 games to 0 in their best-of-7 Western Division playoff finals against the Golden State Warriors, can finish that series tonight in Game 4 in Oakland.

SECOND IN ROW

Over in the ABA, Indiana has taken its second consecutive Western playoff crown by defeating the Utah Stars in six games, while the Eastern Division finals' winner will be decided Tuesday night. Kentucky and Carolina, each with three victories, meet in Greensboro, N.C. for Game 7.

"I have never seen a game in so many stages," said Walt Frazier, who scored a game-high 37 points, including 15 in the furious fourth-quarter rally which saw the Knicks erase a 16-point deficit.

"In the first half I was bad, in the third quarter I was worse," said Frazier. "After three quarters, when Boston led 72-56, I just wanted to get it over with.

"It's a good thing you can't quit, because we would have conceded the game right there. It looked like a lost cause."

Not so. As Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn said later, "You have to be 20 points up in the last quarter to beat New York — and we were only ahead by 16."

Boston, hobbled by the absence of team captain John Havlicek, sidelined by torn muscles in his right shoulder, simply ran out of gas in the final period. Heinsohn was unable to substitute as freely as he would have liked, and his regulars were obviously tired in the late stages. Boston guards Don Chaney and Jo Jo White and center Dave Cowens all eventually fouled out.

MATCHUP

The key matchup in the late going proved to be Frazier against White. The Celtic guard had 34 points for the game, but was scoreless in the two overtimes. Frazier, meanwhile, hit 10 points in the extra periods and seemed to get stronger as the game went along.

"Jo Jo simply ran out of gas," explained Frazier. "I was able to move in closer and work on White one-on-one, because he was tired and had five fouls."

Rookie John Gianelli also gave the Knicks a big boost in the latter stages, coming off the bench to score 10 points and battle Cowens—who finished with 33 points—off the boards.

Boston had held an 85-77 lead with four minutes to go in regulation time, but the Knicks reeled off 10 straight points to go in front.

Duncan Boyer Wins Local Tournament

Webb's John Disosway was forced to withdraw from the first annual Big Spring Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament after recording a 66 Saturday, enabling Duncan Boyer to breeze to victory.

The two had shared the lead at the end of 18 holes. Boyer, a perennial championship contender, pieced together a 68 in perfect weather Sunday for a two-day total of 134.

The victory was worth $200 in merchandise to the Abilene player. He finished two strokes ahead of Odessa's youthful Scott Stegner, who went around in 68 both days.

Stegner qualified for $150 in merchandise.

Pancho McNabb, Midland, wound up all alone in third place with a 140. McNabb was only two shots off the pace after the first 18 but slipped to a 72 Sunday. His efforts gained him $100 in awards.

Three players, all from out of town, came home in 141 to tie for fourth and each reaped $75 in merchandise. They were Danny Walters, Abilene; Gary Travis, Levelland; and Donnie Johnson, Lubbock. Travis is the son of Coach Buddy Travis of South Plains College and a former Big Spring resident.

Four other players came in at 142 and each became eligible for $30 in prizes. They were Richard Barker, Lubbock; Ronnie Broadrick, Big Spring; Jeff Nieto, Dallas; and Mark McCraney, Big Spring.

The day's finest round was reported by Danny Walters, who toured the course in 66. Only three of the field of 48 were able to shoot in the 60s.

Six of the original field withdrew for various reasons. Outside of Disosway, only Jay White of Lamesa was considered a contender. He had a 68. Belton Brunson, Big Spring, withdrew after only nine holes due to an injury.

The new format of the tournament proved to be popular and may be adopted by other tournaments in the area. It seems assured that the local tournament will be locked in for April in the future.

Nicklaus Wins With Final 68

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — "Oh, that's fun," Jack Nicklaus said. "That's the whole thing."

"That's what this game is about. Here was Lee in a spurt and then I made birdies on three of the last seven holes.

"That's the whole thing—responding to a challenge, playing the way you want to play, doing the things you want to do, and winning. On the other hand, if you lose, it kills you."

Nicklaus had just scored a record fourth career victory in the $200,000 MONY-Tournament of Champions, a golf event he ranks right behind the big four of the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and PGA.

"When I was able to come back like that, with three birdies on the last seven holes, well, that's the way to finish a tournament. I'm doubly pleased about it because my other two wins this year were both marginal, in playoffs."

The Golden Bear, who stretched his season's leading money-winning total to $146,604, fashioned a rallying four-under-par 68 on the tough, demanding, 7,114-yard La Costa Country Club course. He had a 72 hole total of 276, 12 under par.

Trevino, who actually took a two stroke lead at one time, couldn't hang on. His 67 was the best round of the warm, sunny day but his 277 total was one stroke too much to record the victory he needed to become pro golf's fourth $1 million winner.

"Well, there's next year," Trevino said. "I've always said Nicklaus is the greatest golfer in the world. Any time I can beat him, I'm lucky."

But the challenge seemed to serve only as a spur to the 33-year-old Golden Bear who now is the season's first three-time winner.

He wedged to about a half foot for a birdie on the 12th hole just as Trevino was three-putting for bogey on the 13th. That was a two-stroke swing in Nicklaus' favor and suddenly they were tied.

Trevino birdied the 15th just as Nicklaus did the same on the 14th, but Jack went ahead to stay on the 15th where he punched his approach just to the left of the flag. The ball sucked back to pin high and he had a little four-foot putt for birdie. Nicklaus made it and had the margin he needed.

Trevino picked up $23,404 for second and pushed his career earnings to some $985,137. Only Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper have gone past $1 million in a career.

Jim Colbert was third with a 69-281 and Chi Chi Rodriguez was next with 69-282. Both made brief runs at the leaders, but faded back and left the duel to the game's two greatest players.

Bases-Choked Homer Boosts Tribe To Win

By The Associated Press

Whoever said that anyone with a bat in his hand is dangerous certainly wasn't referring to Ron Lolich or John Vukovich . . . until Sunday.

Lolich, a 26-year-old Cleveland outfielder, had failed to hit in his one previous at-bat this season and came into the campaign with a lifetime mark of 182 and only two home runs in 88 trips.

But he stepped to the plate with the bases loaded and two out in the bottom of the ninth inning and crashed a grand slam home run off Boston's Sonny Siebert to give the Indians a thrilling 8-7 victory in the first part of a doubleheader. The Red Sox came back to take the nightcap 5-2.

Vukovich's statistics were even worse than Lolich's. The 25-year-old infielder spent part of the 1970 and 1971 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies and showed a meager .164 average in 225 at-bats with nary a home run—or even a triple, for that matter.

So it was a distinct surprise when he unloaded a three-run homer off relief ace Sparky Lyle in the seventh inning that lifted the Milwaukee Brewers, who obtained him in an off-season trade, to a 4-3 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox, losing 8-4 before winning 6-1; Baltimore defeated Detroit 5-3, Oakland edged California 3-2 in 10 innings and Minnesota beat Texas 6-4.

Home runs by Rico Petrocelli, Reggie Smith and Carl Yastrzemski helped the Red Sox open the 7-4 lead that Lolich wiped out with one swing. Oscar Gamble and Jack Brohamer also homered for the Indians.

The Red Sox sealed the nightcap with four runs in the fifth inning, highlighted by Tommy Harper's two-run single. Charlie Spikes homered for the Indians.

As befits an .042 hitter, which was his pregame mark, Milwaukee's Vukovich wasn't thinking home run when he came to bat with two runners aboard and the Brewers trailing 3-1, even though he'd had a single earlier in the game.

"The way I've been swinging, a home run was the farthest thing from my mind," he confessed.

A five-run second inning featuring Carlos May's three-run homer powered the White Sox over the Royals in their opener.

In the nightcap, the Royals slammed five doubles, two by Steve Hovley, to gain a split.

Left fielder Willie Horton was both hero and goat in the sixth inning of Detroit's loss to Baltimore. He doubled home the lead run in the top of the frame and then made an error on Don Baylor's single in the bottom half that allowed three decisive runs to score.

Mike Schmidt Jumps On Gibson 'Cripple'

By The Associated Press

Bob Gibson pumped and pitched. It was right down Mike Schmidt's valley—a juicy fastball inside.

"I was looking for something there," said Schmidt after hitting a two-out, ninth-inning home run off the Old Master Sunday to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and a sweep of their doubleheader.

Schmidt, who also got a hit as the Phillies won the opener 4-2 behind Steve Carlton, didn't find Gibson an easy mark until the ninth.

"He was everything I ever dreamed he would be," said the Phillies' rookie. "But he threw me down and in and that is the pitch I hit out of the park."

How does a rookie feel hitting one out off the Cardinal star?

"I never remember being this excited about anything," said Schmidt, who only got into 13 games last season.

The Phillies' victories gave them a three-game sweep of the Cardinals and put them over .500 with a 7-6 record—euphorious status considering last year's disastrous 59-97 record.

In the other National League games, the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2; the Houston Astros nipped the San Diego Padres 4-3; the Cincinnati Reds beat the Atlanta Braves 6-3; the Montreal Expos defeated the New York Mets 2-1 in the 10th inning of the first game of a doubleheader, then lost the second game 13-3, and Pittsburgh and Chicago split a doubleheader with the Pirates winning the opener 10-4 and the Cubs the nightcap, 11-3.

Before Schmidt won the second game Hoilywood-style, Carlton won the opener in his usual style—power pitching.

The Cards scored two early unearned runs off Carlton, but the big left-hander stayed calm and won his third game in five decisions as Bill Robinson and Larry Bowa each knocked in two runs.

Garry Maddox slugged a three-run homer and also doubled to lead the Giants past the Dodgers. Jim Barr and Randy Moffitt combined on a five-hitter.

Roger Metzger singled home the winning run to cap a three-run rally in the sixth inning as Houston beat San Diego.

Dave Concepcion drove in four runs with a homer and double and Ross Grimsley survived three Atlanta home runs as the Reds beat the Braves. Johnny Oates, Dusty Baker and Darrell Evans hit homers off the Red ace.

Tim Foli's two-out single in the 10th inning scored Boots Day from second base and gave Montreal its first-game victory over New York. In the nightcap, Jim McAndrew won his first game of the season with relief help from George Stone as the Mets exploded for their highest run total this year.

Steers To Visit Midland Tuesday

MIDLAND — Big Spring tries to even up its standing in Dist. 5-AAAA second half play here Tuesday when the Steers visit the Midland Lee Rebels for a 4 p.m. battle.

The Steers, 1-2 in the second half and 11-9 on the year, broke from a two-game slump in their last outing Thursday and whipped Odessa Permian 13-12. Ricky Steen homered twice to pace that win, just as he had done in an 11-6 decision over Lee in first round play.

Steen, with seven home runs, and outfielder Gilbert Pesina, the district's leading hitter with a .630 mark, lead the Steers at the plate, along with second baseman Willie Williams, and pitcher-catcher Orlando Olague.

Another standout performer for the Steers, catcher Bruce Felts, is back in the lineup after a three-week absence due to a knee injury which he suffered in the first Lee game.

RELIABLE — One of the Big Spring Steers' most trusted performers is Bruce Felts (above), one of the catchers in coach Larry Horton's camp.

The Rebels, 2-0 in the second half and 8-8 on the season, are led by Randy Ward.

In other action around the district Tuesday, San Angelo hosts first half champion Midland, Abilene is at Odessa and Abilene Cooper entertains Odessa Permian.

Three Circuits Open Tonight

Play opens tonight in the National, International and Texas leagues as Big Spring Little League action hits full swing.

In the NL opener, the Braves and Yankees collide, while the Sabres and Talons get things stated in the International League and the Cubs take on the Tigers in Texas League play.

All games start at 7:30 p.m.

The American League is already three games into its schedule, and continues action tonight with a battle between the Jets and Colts.

Hubert Green Hangs On To Win At Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —Young Hubert Green says he didn't even think about the disaster of two years ago when it looked like he again would blow a seemingly safe lead in the Tallahassee Open Golf tournament.

"I just kept plugging away," said Green, 26, after salvaging a one-stroke victory Sunday in the $75,000 event for Professional Golfers Association players who did not win last year and qualify for the Tournament of Champions.

A wide approach shot and a missed putt on the 17th hole sliced Green's three-stroke lead to one shot over runnerup Jim Simons. But Simons, 22, barely missed an eight foot putt on the final green which would have sent the fifth annual tournament into sudden death.

In 1971, Green blew a three-stroke lead in the last round as he watched Lee Trevino charge by for the victory. That propelled Trevino toward three championships in an 11 week span. Ironically, Trevino lost the Tournament of Champions in California Sunday by one stroke.

Green's 71 Sunday gave him a 72-hole total of 277, 11 under par. Simons, of Butler, Pa., took $8,350 home for second place with a final round 70 and a 278 total.

McWilliams New Coach At Ector

ODESSA — Joe McWilliams, 29, an assistant at Lubbock Coronado High School, has been named head basketball coach at Odessa Ector High School at a starting salary of $10,800 a year.

He succeeds Albert Oglesby, a former Forsan High School athlete, who resigned the position March 15.

Oglesby's five-year coaching record at Ector was 106-39. He guided his team to a state championship in 1972. Last season, Ector was 14-14.

McWilliams formerly played basketball at Lubbock Dunbar High School and west Texas State University. He will teach Social Science at Ector.

McWilliams will also coach football on the junior varsity level at Ector. He coached in junior high at Amarillo before moving to Coronado, where he served one year.

Easter Special Boosts Astros By San Diego

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astro shortstop Roger Metzger's single in the sixth inning here Sunday did little to help his anemic .074 batting average, but it did beat the San Diego Padres.

Metzger said the single which drove in the decisive run to give the Astros a 4-3 victory was only his fifth hit of the year and could be called an Easter special.

"I think I've figured out why I have such a slow start at the plate every year," Metzger explained. "I've been giving up hitting for Lent."

The clean shot over shortstop Derrel Thomas' head gave Houston its fourth win in a row and marked the first time the club has ever won its first five games in the Astrodome.

With the Astros trailing 3-1, Bob Watson extended his hitting streak to 14 consecutive games with a double to right in the sixth. Jimmy Wynn walked, then John Edwards, pinch-hitting for catcher Larry Howard, smashed a game-tying triple that caused a major collision in the Padres' outfield.

Jerry Morales charged to his right with his glove outstretched and for a split second had the ball in his mitt before slamming into leftfielder Leron Lee. Lee stayed down for a 10-second count but was able to stay in the game.

"I thought for sure somebody had it but I looked up and saw it pop out," Edwards said. "It's just the kind of break we need once in awhile."

Then Metzger calmly stroked the ball into shallow leftfield for the winning run.

"For some reason I was really relaxed," the Astro shortstop said. "I was looking for a fastball and I got it. I've left people on bases a lot of times this year, I know. It's all right to be a pretty good fielder, but you have to pick up the hitting some now and then. This ball club's just too good for us just to squeeze by."

Winning pitcher Jerry Reuss, now 3-0, was squezzed throughout the game before being relieved by Jim York with two on and two out in the ninth. York promptly put out the fire.

Reuss said everywhere he looked during the game he saw yellow Padre uniforms. "All I saw was yellow. There was somebody everywhere. I was inconsistent the whole game. There were either a couple of runners on base or I was behind the hitter."

The best stuff, however, belonged to Padres starter Fred Norman, who held the Astros to one run and one hit in four and two-thirds innings before limping to the dugout in the fifth inning after pulling a muscle in his right leg while covering a throw at first base.

Gary Ross, who relieved Norman, got the loss and is now 1-1.

Colts Decision Hawks, 4 To 3

The Colts surged for three runs in the second and added one in the third to edge the Hawks, 4-3, in American Little League competition here Friday night.

Johnny Hobbs is back as manager of the Colts for the 22nd year. His coach is Dean Christensen.

Jerry Robinson is manager of the Hawks while Jerry Barron serves as coach.

First inning singles by Mike Evans and Gregg Henry and a triple by Jimmy Newsom got the Hawks off to a 2-0 lead but the Colts came back to take the lead in the second on safeties by Randy Roberts, Ricky Daniels, Mark Sunday, Scott Vick, Brent Odom and Terry Howell.

Mike Evans went all the way on the mound for the Hawks while Daniels, Mike Workman and Terry Howell divided pitching time for the Colts.

Big Fifth Wins For Star Nine

A four-run fifth inning propelled the Stars past the Pirates, 6-3, in American Little League play here Saturday night.

Each team garnered three hits but Brad Martin of the Stars was tougher in the clutches. He also delivered a triple in the fifth with the bases loaded and himself managed to score twice.

The Pirates led, 3-0, going into the fourth.

Killebrew, Braun Pace Twins To 6-4 Victory

BLOOMINGTON (AP) — April has never been a big month for Harmon Killebrew home runs. And the last two seasons, it's been a month that Steve Braun has spent riding the bench for the Minnesota Twins.

But Killebrew and Braun improved their April images Sunday as their bats carried the Minnesota Twins to a 6-4 victory over the Texas Rangers, a three-game series sweep and into first place in the West Division of the American League.

Killebrew, No. 4 on baseball's all time home run list, slammed his first homer of the season—542nd of his career—to get the Twins started off Ranger starter Dick Bosman, 1-3.

Braun collected three hits, drove in three runs and scored twice.

"Bosman was pitching a heck of a game," said Twins Manager Frank Quilici. "He wasn't giving our hitters many good pitches . . . Harmon went up in the fourth and got hold of one. It was like a hypo—things started happening."

HOROSCOPE

CARROL RIGHTER

TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Unique and unusual results can follow whatever activity you now place in motion, so be sure you do not insist on routine and usual conditions. A big chance to show your true talents and special aptitudes at an up-to-date mature nature.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Relatives, acquaintances and allies now understand your needs and go all out to show you their generosity. Discuss a problem quietly and honestly and get right results. Keep sober and avoid accident.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Find more up-to-date system for handling work at hand and get it done in half the time. Cooperate more with higher-ups and co-workers, too. Some new discovery can pep up your health considerably.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Delve into some new kind of amusement that could give you a great deal of pleasure, added vigor. Some new attitude will bring more rapport with closest ties. Stop being so opinionated.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you use more modern methods, mechanical gadgets you can get all these tasks behind you much faster and with less wrist juice, more accuracy. Prove your loyalty to associate. A greater use of imagination is wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you first get proper tools ready, you can then fly through tasks ahead of you easily. Listen to the ideas of co-workers. They can be most helpful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget those unimportant tasks and be off to the places that give you real incentive pleasure. Later in the day get into that creative work that expands your horizons considerably. Impress others with your inv apility.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use a more modern approach if you want to improve the conditions of your home, with the help of family ties. More time should be given to the personal side of life. You are just in right mood for that today.

SCOPPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Do those things that bring you the active assistance of good friends and allies so that there can be more success and rapport in the future. Improve routines. Evening is fine for working on your favorite hobby.

Baylor Exes Pedal Tuesday

Baylor alumni were urged Saturday by Judge Ralph W. Caton to "Ride a Bike for Baylor."

Baylor exes have been asked to assemble Tuesday after 8 a.m. at the Holiday Inn for the "pedal-off", at 8 a.m. to benefit the Student Foundation Scholarship Fund.

"We have not set up a group breakfast as such," said Judge Caton, chairman of the activity here, "but as many who can are asked to gather in the coffee shop and be ready to ride at 8 a.m. All Baylor exes and friends of Baylor are urged to come — and bring your bike."

Each of those riding (and some of them who don't) will pay $20 for the privilege. All of this goes into the scholarship fund. Last year this was attempted on an impromptu basis from several points over the state and 22 $500 scholarships were given. This year, said Judge Caton, the Foundation hopes to award 20 scholarships of $750 each, perhaps more.

The Baylor Bike Cavalcade originates at six different Texas cities, and the one in which Big Spring exes participate starts Monday 8 a.m. in Odessa, picks up steam with a 12 noon rally at Midland and continues from here Tuesday morning with a San Angelo stop the next morning. Brownwood and Gatesville follow on Thursday and Friday.

Arrival is in Waco, home of Baylor University, is set for Saturday morning for a big downtown parade. Presentation of money raised will come at 1:15 p.m. just prior to the start of the traditional Bear Downs 50-mile bike races in the Heart of Texas coliseum. The spring football intersquad game is set for that evening in Baylor Stadium.

Midland Boy Dies Of Broken Neck

MIDLAND — An eight-year-old boy was killed Saturday during an Easter weekend trip to visit his grandparents in San Angelo.

Paul Baumgartner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baumgartner of Midland, fell while swinging on a gate in the backyard of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Spratt Hughes in San Angelo.

The child was rushed to a San Angelo hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival. He apparently suffered a broken neck in the fall.

He had gone Friday to visit his grandparents with his mother and sister, Michele. They were to have returned to Midland Saturday afternoon.

He was dead on arrival at a San Angelo hospital about 12:30 p.m.

He was a student in West Elementary School here.

Other survivors include his grandmother, Mrs. Maria Baumgartner of Cug, Switzerland.

Rash Of Thefts Are Reported

A rash of bicycle thefts over the weekend were reported to police. All the bikes were 10-speed boys' models.

C. G. Evans, 2614 Larry Dr., reported at 10:32 a.m. Sunday, that a 10-speed valued at $80 had been taken.

Felix Rodriguez reported at 10:57 p.m. Saturday that his car had been broken into while parked at 303 N. Benton. Eight-track tapes, valued at $200, were taken.

Thunderstorms, Threats Of Tornadoes In Texas

By The Associated Press

Drizzly weather hung on across the eastern two-thirds of Texas today in the wake of a stormy Easter weekend in many sections.

Meanwhile the stationary front which stirred up several tornadoes and widespread thunderstorms Sunday still hung stationary across the state from North Central through Southwest Texas but grew steadily weaker.

LIGHT DRIZZLE

Official observers looked for this frontal system to dissipate before another day passed. At the same time, however, they reported another one was moving toward the Panhandle-Plains sector from the west.

Fog was mixed with light drizzle over much of Central Texas this morning, and showers still moved through the north central and northeast parts of the state.

There was nothing like the severe weather which broke out in many areas Sunday, however.

One twister actually struck eight miles southeast of Baird in West Central Texas, but authorities said there were no injuries and the only damage was destruction of a garage and a shed. Sightings of other tornadoes were reported near Ballinger and northeast of San Angelo.

TORNADO WATCH

At one time a tornado watch covered 64 counties in a West and Central Texas corridor 140 miles wide centering on a line from 25 miles southwest of San Angelo to 20 miles northwest of Paris.

Heavy thunderstorms, sometimes packing hail, dumped briefly heavy rains on many areas.

By this morning skies were clear over the west half of the state and temperatures were generally mild. Early morning marks ranged from 50 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 78 at Laredo on the Mexican border.

Top readings Sunday afternoon went as high as 90 at Laredo. Waco and Wichita Falls were the coolest spots with maximums of 71.

Still more showers and thunderstorms were forecast tonight and Tuesday in West, North Central and Northeast Texas, and chances were seen for a little light rain in other sections.

Tourists Help In Tax Bite

AUSTIN — Last year auto visitors from other states and nations spent money in Texas equivalent to $136.40 for every resident Texan.

The Texas Highway Department's annual Visitor Industry Report, released today, revealed that out-of-staters left $1.6 billion in Texas during 1972. Calling tourism an "industry without smokestacks," Tom H. Taylor, director of the department's Travel & Information Division, described tourist dollars as "new" money.

Throughout last year the Highway Department tallied 16.6 million visitors who came to Texas by autos, campers, and other motor vehicles. Although the total was only about one per cent more than the previous year, the daily rate of spending increased by 21 per cent.

Taylor also commented on the benefits of tourist dollars in relation to state taxes. "The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research calculates that 8.9 per cent of every visitor dollar goes to state taxes," he said. "That means those out-of-staters paid more than $141 million of our taxes last year."

The detail report indicates that more than half of all auto visitors came to Texas for vacation reasons. The typical visitor spent six days in the state, and traveled an average of 1,122 miles in Texas.

MRS. JAMES TERRELL MORGAN

Couple United In Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. James Terrell Morgan are residing at 1509½ Scurry following their marriage Saturday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Earl Price, pastor, performed the ceremony before an altar enhanced with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and greenery.

The bride is the former Miss Cynthia Jean Price, daughter of Mrs. Betty Price, 1742 Treyway Circle, Corpus Christi. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jim King, 1010 E. 20th.

The bride was attired in a white, street-length dress of eyelet knit fashioned on princess lines with long sleeves and V-neckline accented with a bow. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held at the crown with a bandeau of daisies. She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations, chrysanthemums and babies'-breath showered with streamers.

Serving as matron of honor, the bride's mother was attired in a pink suit with which she wore a pink carnation corsage and white accessories. Jim King served as best man.

After the nuptial rites, the couple was honored at a reception in the home of the bridegroom's parents, where the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Billy Yezak of Bryan, served refreshments. The table was covered with white lace over blue linen, and silver candle holders with blue candles flanked a centerpiece of blue and white chrysanthemums. The wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride attended King High School in Corpus Christi. Morgan, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is employed by Coca Cola Bottling Company. The couple took a wedding trip to San Angelo.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Like so many others, I can't believe I'm actually writing a Dear Abby letter. My husband is having an affair with an 18-year-old girl. (He's 37.)

I found out about it three months ago. He promised to stop, but now he says she's pregnant and he feels an obligation to her. (What about his obligation to ME? We have four children 5 to 14 years olds.)

He spends every weekend with her and comes home to me during the week. He says if I don't like it, he'll stay with her during the week, too. Abby, I love him and don't want to lose him, yet I can't live like this.

He says he doesn't want a divorce or a separation. He just wants to go on like he is. How can I save our marriage?

CONCEAL MY IDENTITY

DEAR CONCEAL: You can't save your marriage without your husband's cooperation. He should see a lawyer about his legal obligation to the girl, then make a choice between you and her. If you let him continue to have his cake and eat it, too, you will wind up with the crumbs.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the brides who are always being criticized because they are late getting out their thank-you notes for their wedding gifts: My niece was married in September, and I did not receive a thank-you note for my wedding gift until mid-January. The reason: She had colored pictures made of herself and the groom and they wanted to enclose a picture with each thank-you. She didn't get her proofs from the photographers until December, and the pictures weren't finished until January.

I think this was a lovely gesture which more than compensated for the late thank-you note.

UNDERSTANDING AUNT

DEAR AUNT: You were more understand than most people would have been. I agree, it was a lovely gesture, but four months is about two months too long to wait for an acknowledgment.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In reference to non-Catholics attending Catholic services. I recommend that you warn them that we genuflect (kneel) before entering the pew. The first time I took my Methodist husband to church we nearly played leapfrog! R.T.

Human Courage Seen In America's Humor

A panel of speakers comprised of Mrs. O. T. Brewster, Mrs. Lance Williamson, Mrs. Tom Salter and Mrs. Garner McAdams presented the program for Guest Day of the 1905 Hyperion Club Thursday in the Big Spring Country Club.

"American Humorists" was the topic, based upon the year's study of man and his sense of humor. The subject was approached from the viewpoint of Americans as seen by the humorists.

Mrs. Brewster defined an American as a humorist with "a quip on his lips and a joke on his tongue." She said humorists such as Mark Twain, Bennett Cerf, Bret Harte and others sketch the spirit of Americans as they show the familiar frustrations of daily life and living.

"We laugh because we feel the chagrin and limitations that others feel," explained Mrs. Brewster. "It is the humble character that punctuates the workings of democracy, the power of the tycoon or the housewife. It is the attitude, the spirit of nobility that accepts the limitations, the flaws inherent in human nature and in human situations, then he rises above them and laughs. Laughter is full of courage, faith and hope. It is the very backbone of America."

Mrs. Williamson assumed the role of Will Rogers, Mrs. McAdams that of John Steinbeck and Mrs. Salter as H. Allen Smith as they developed humorous situations and discussions on timely topics as affecting the American way of life.

Mrs. Miller Harris, vice president, presided during a brief business session. She and Mrs. H. B. Reagan were elected delegates to the state federation convention in Brownwood May 8-10.

Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow was elected a Life Member, an honor conferred for long and distinguished service to the club. Mrs. Bristow is a former president of the club and has served in many other offices her years of membership.

Members and 17 guests were served refreshments from a tea table covered with a floor-length pink cloth, centered with an elongated arrangement of spring flowers.

Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Harris served at the table. Hostess was Mrs. G. T. Hall with cohostesses being Mrs. Ted Hatfield, Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. D. O Gray, Mrs. J. B. Sharp and Mrs. Ralph Smith.

Gardeners See Basic Arranging

Fundamentals of flower arranging were discussed Tuesday by Mrs. J. W. Trantham and Mrs. Dale Smith for After Five Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Dee Thomas, 1907 Mittel.

Mrs. Trantham made five arrangements using driftwood and fresh and dried flowers. She emphasized the importance of lines, crescents, trianges, circles, squares and horizontals in providing the proper balance in an arrangement.

Mrs. Smith, who arranges primarily with natural materials found in this area, made three abstracts using driftwood with modernistic appointments.

New officers for the 1973-1974 club year were announced. They are Mrs. Dealon Stanley, president; Mrs. C. E. Shive, vice president; Mrs. Tippy Anderson Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. O. O. Craig, treasurer; and Mrs. J. O. Allen, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Smith announced that local garden clubs will participate in the Howard County Fair slated in September with a two-day flower show. A flower show scheduled by the club has been cancelled due to inclimate weather.

The next meeting will include a salad supper and installation of officers, May 15 at the home of Mrs. John Hughes.
