CULBERTSON TO AID IN FRAMING BILLION DOLLAR CORPORATION

BEING ORGANIZED TO PROMOTE FOREIGN TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES.

REPRESENTATIVE BANKERS INTERESTED IN MOVEMENT

Designed To Broaden Export Market And Relieve Country Of Surplus Stocks.

Special to The Times.

CHICAGO, ILL., Dec. 11.—J. G. Culbertson, head of the Wichita Motor company, was today made a member of a committee of representative men of the nation's business to formulate the details of the organization of America's new billion dollar corporation to pull the country's foreign trade out of the rut. The formation of the corporation moved rapidly.

Bankers, farmers and industrial leaders meeting here voted to organize the corporation under the federal reserve act and the Edge law, by adopting the report of the resolutions committee urging such a step. The corporation will have an authorized capital of $100,000,000 and will be capable of expanding to the extent of a billion.

The report of the resolutions committee, presented by Waldo Newcomer, Baltimore, declared the conference "recognizes the necessity of meeting the present critical situation with respect to domestic and foreign trade, especially the export of agricultural products, raw materials and manufactured goods, so urgently needed abroad."

Continuing the report said: "The foreign trade financing plan, as approved by the American Bankers' association, will serve the prosperity of the United States by permanently strengthening the country's foreign trade position.

Require Longer Credit.

"Foreign buyers require longer credit than can be supplied under our present system, and are prepared to furnish adequate collateral."

The committee said that the organization would result in broadening the export market, relieving the country of surplus stocks of all kinds, which will result in stabilized prices, "and will have a special tendency to encourage production, thereby insuring labor of steady occupation."

The report, as adopted, stipulated that the extension of credit should be confined to countries where there is a stable government and where "there is an assurance of integrity of purpose."

The operations of the corporation also should be confined, according to the report, "to financing for the benefit of future foreign trade."

It was agreed that a committee of "representative men be formed," giving due consideration to geographical districts and various lines of agriculture, industry and finance to organize the corporation.

Fred I. Kent of the Bankers' Trust company, of New York, addressed the conference, declaring that the congestion of the foreign trade was at the bottom of the trouble.

Should Have Labor's Support.

Robert Hawes of St. Louis declared that the proposed corporation should have the backing of organized labor throughout the country.

John McHugh of New York City was named chairman of the committee to work out details of the corporation. Other members included:

Herbert Hoover, Paul Warburg, New York; John S. Drum, San Francisco; James B. Forgan, Chicago; F. O. Watts, St. Louis; Louis E. Pierson, New York; Charles E. Fabin, New York; Arthur Reynolds, Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago; T. I. Kent, New York; J. G. Culbertson, Wichita Falls, Texas; Phillip Stockton, Boston, and Oscar Wells, Birmingham, Ala.; J. K. Barnes, Duluth; A. P. Bedford, New York; Herbert Myrick, Springfield, Mass.; Alex Legge and Joseph Defrees, Chicago; John S. Lawrence, Boston; E. M. Herr, Pittsburgh; Roy D. Chapin, Detroit; John J. Raskob, Wilmington, Del.; Peter W. Goebel, Kansas City; Thomas S. McAdams, Richmond; John Sherwin, Cleveland, and George Edward Smith, New York.

The conference adjourned after naming the committee.

The committee met immediately after its appointment, to draw up the permanent organization.

Underwriting of the $100,000,000 necessary to launch the corporation was subscribed at today's session of the conference.

Members Deported Party of Radicals Active in Russia

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Members of the party deported nearly a year ago on the "soviet ark" Buford, with Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, have attempted to blow up officials of the Russian soviet government, according to information received today at the department of justice. The advices said Orodowsky and Arthur Kalies were in jail at Moscow for attempting to plant bombs in a building occupied by the general executive committee of the soviet government there.

Schnabel, formerly head of the Union of Russian Workmen, the reports said, had been killed by the Japanese in Siberia, while engaged in railroad work there. Peter Branky was reported to have entered the ranks of the communist party and to be associated with the international propaganda bureau at Petrograd.

Hyman-Perkins was said to be employed in Odessa, both the Schatz brothers in Kiev, Rushernoff working in the soviet bureau at Moscow and Paul Kovaloff working on a tug boat near Petrograd.

Mexican Soldiers Rout Revolution

LAREDO, Dec. 11.—Brigadier General Pablo Gonzales and Brigadier Ireno Villareal, former officers in the Carranza army, who crossed into Mexico near Zapata with a small party of self-styled revolutionists several days ago, were routed by Mexican federal troops near Guerrero, Tamaulipas, yesterday, according to reports received here today. Two men of the band were captured. Gonzales, Villareal and the remainder of the band escaped to the American side of the river.

MYSTERY IN CASE OF CLARA BARTON SMITH IS NOT YET SOLVED

HOT TRAIL REPORTED SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN ENTIRELY LOST.

DISCREDIT THE REPORT ORIGINATING IN DALLAS

Ardmore Officers Have No Information In Which They Can Place Credence.

ARDMORE, OKLA., Dec. 11.—The whereabouts of Clara Barton Smith, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Jake L. Hamon here recently, remained as much a mystery here tonight as during the 30 days she has been sought throughout the country and in Mexico, according to officials here interested in the search.

The "hot trail" which she was reported to have taken from an unnamed Mexican hamlet through El Paso to Fort Worth, where she was expected to confer with attorneys yesterday in regard to the Hamon shooting, seems to have become a cold trail, Russell R. Brown, county attorney, who filed the charges against her, said tonight.

Mr. Brown said he had absolutely no information in which he could place credence as to the whereabouts of Miss Smith. He said the latest news he had received pertaining to the young woman's movements, which he felt sure was authentic, was the report of her being in Waco, Texas, several days ago.

Both the county attorney and Sheriff Buck Garrett stated late today that no further news since her failure to appear in Fort Worth yesterday had been reported to them.

A report current here today to the effect that Sheriff Garrett had been notified by Fort Worth authorities that Clara Smith was on her way to Ardmore and within forty miles of the city, was denied by the sheriff late today. Attorney Brown also declared he had received no such communication.

WARRANT CHARGING WIFE ABANDONMENT IS ISSUED

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Dec. 11.—A warrant charging wife abandonment, was expected to be served today at Vacaville, on Frank Hamon, nephew of Jake L. Hamon, according to announcement here by Justice of the Peace Frank O'Brien.

The warrant charges Hamon deserted Ruth Hamon, who he married after his divorce from Clara Smith Hamon, wanted in connection with Jake Hamon's death.

APPLICATION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION FILED

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 11.—An application for letters of administration on the Missouri estate of the late Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, was filed in the probate court of St. Louis county, at Clayton today by Frederick E. Miller, public administrator for the county.

Miller explained a life insurance policy said to amount to $200,000 which Hamon carried with a local company, will be paid in Missouri and therefore becomes a part of Hamon's estate in the commonwealth of which any county administrator may file for letters of administration. Miller does not know if Hamon had any property in the state, he said.

BOND IN ANY AMOUNT AVAILABLE AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10.—Still denying that Clara Smith, alleged slayer of Jake L. Hamon, is concealed in Fort Worth, attorneys McLean, Scott and McLean insisted this afternoon that they are expecting her on every train or hourly by automobile from El Paso. They stated that bond in any amount has already been arranged for the woman to be furnished immediately upon her surrender.

WONDERFUL TRIP SAYS GOVERNOR-ELECT NEFF

Invites President Obregon To Attend Inauguration Ceremony At Austin.

LAREDO, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—"We have had a wonderful trip and nothing could have been finer than our reception by the Mexican officials and people everywhere," Governor-elect Pat M. Neff declared today on his arrival at the Texas border after a 12-day tour of Mexico. Mr. Neff and the party attended the inauguration of President Obregon in Mexico City. While there he invited President Obregon and the governors of the states of Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Chihuahua to attend his inauguration ceremonies at Austin, January 15.

Mr. Neff declared that he would do all in his power as governor to put an end to revolutionary propaganda such as was spread for several months previous to the recent Mexican elections.

MAKES THE LARGEST BUSINESS DEAL IN HISTORY OF WORLD

RECENTLY SIGNED WITH RUSSIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT BY VANDERLIP.

TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

Denies Reports That He Carried A Letter From Senator Harding To Lenine.

VANDERLIP SAYS:

Chinese government is about to recognize Russia.

Russia does not want American sympathy, but American locomotives.

Russian army and navy will never rest until all Japanese are under the ground or under the sea.

Stories of atrocities and red terror are propaganda. Moscow is as quiet as a June day of the banks of the Wabash.

Sufficient oil in Kamchatka to furnish all of western United States and Canada.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—A quiet little man, modest in manner and bearing walked down the gangplank of the liner Aquitania onto American soil this afternoon, bearing in a portmanteau documents covering the biggest business deal in the history of the world. He was Washington D. Vanderlip, 56, American mining engineer, who recently signed with the Russian soviet government a contract covering all commercial rights in the vast territory of Kamchatka involving about $3,000,000,000.

This contract will not become effective, he said, until the United States government resumes trade relations with Russia. This, he emphasized, does not necessarily mean political recognition of the soviet government. He does not intend to take up this matter directly with the state department, but does plan to do "some missionary work" in this country.

Vanderlip denied reports he had carried a letter from Senator Harding to Lenine and said he had never met Harding.

"Our future attitude toward Russia will be governed by public opinion," Vanderlip said. "It is entirely up to the American people as to whether they wish to get the cream of the great business opportunity in Russia or take skimmed milk after other countries are through. France already has formed a commission to investigate the possibility of resuming trade relations with Russia, and it is well known that Great Britain is about to take this step."

Chinese to Recognize Russia.

According to Vanderlip the Chinese government is about to extend political recognition to Russia. He said that just before he left Moscow he was given a letter from Foreign Minister Tchitcherin showing that an official Chinese delegation had just concluded preliminary negotiations for recognition of Russia, under which the soviet government would undertake to return to China all territories seized under the old czarist regime and to repay all indemnities similarly exacted.

Vanderlip bore a message from the soviet government to the American people, declaring "Russia does not want American sympathy, but American locomotives," and that the Russian army and navy will never rest until all Japanese are under the ground or under the sea." In explanation of this latter statement, he said the Japanese are still holding a great portion of the territory involved in his deal but that the Russians are steadily driving them out.

While preparing to explore the eastern Siberian coast 24 years ago for a British syndicate he was shipwrecked on the shores of Kamchatka and soon learned of the vast coal and petroleum deposits there, as well as the extensive fisheries in the adjacent waters. Last summer he succeeded in interesting a group of Los Angeles business men in the project of exploiting this rich country, he said, and started for Russia in July. He met M. Krassin, bolshevik trade representative, in Copenhagen, and through him paved the way for a conference with Premier Lenin and other soviet officials. He was in Moscow six days, during which time he talked with more than fifty financial advisers of the government, including several former imperial noblemen.

Quiet in Moscow.

"When the deal was completed an agreement was reached that none of the industries in Kamchatka should be run on the soviet plan. Bolshevism and communism will soon die in Russia and will be replaced by a republican government, but the leaders of the new government will be the same as those heading the soviet government," he said. "They have won the confidence and love of the people. All the stories of atrocities and the 'red terror' are propaganda. While I was in Moscow it was quiet as a June day on the banks of the Wabash."

Vanderlip arrived in London three weeks ago. He said he was immediately besieged by manufacturers, oil merchants and members of parliament, all of whom wanted to invest in his concession. He said one group offered to buy half of his contract, while other offers were made to underwrite the whole deal.

Oil in Large Quantities.

Vanderlip said there was sufficient oil in Kamchatka to furnish all of the western United States and Canada and that his backers planned to erect their main refineries in Seattle.

Coal is so plentiful, he said, that much of it is actually on the surface, and he predicted he could be able to sell coal in San Francisco for $4 a ton.

Following in a list of the men Vanderlip said were backing him, all from Los Angeles:

Harry Chandler, publisher of the Times; C. F. Braudt, vice-president of the Title Trust company; W. D. Stewart, president of the Union Oil company; E. L. Whitier, oil operator; J. F. Sertori, president of the Security Trust and Savings company; T. E. Gibbon, retired attorney; H. Jayne, president of a chain of grocery stores; T. W. Braun, head of a chain of groceries; T. Hellman, vice-president of Hellman & Brothers; Les Phillips, vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Bank, and J. E. Fishburn, president of the Merchants' National Bank.

GRIDIRON DINNER IS A POST MORTEM ON PRESIDENTIAL RACE

GIVES POLITICIANS OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THEMSELVES AS OTHERS SAW THEM.

FRONT PORCH MEETING AT HOME OF HARDING

Vice-President Marshall Presented With Large Silver Gridiron in Token Of Regard.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The thirty-fifth annual dinner of the Gridiron club was made the occasion tonight of a post-mortem on the presidential election, the purpose being to give the politicians and some of the statesmen present an opportunity to see themselves as others saw them during the campaign.

One of the episodes was a front porch meeting at Marion, Ohio, set to music with such characters as Senator Harding, Harry M. Daugherty, former Senator Weeks, Al Jolson, W. J. Bryan and "Slush Fund Rumor" participating.

Mr. Daugherty stalked the front porch in the role of Koko, the lord high executioner, while there was a rumpus when the "Slush Fund Rumor" invaded the Harding lawn. During the skit Will H. Hays sang plaintively to the republican candidate a political parody on "Then You'll Remember Me," only Mr. Hays' request was "So please remember me."

In another episode a crystal gazed, reading the political future, saw President Harding sending the League of Nations to the alien property custodian. The gazer also announced that the crystal revealed President Harding receiving from Samuel Gompers the key to the backdoor of the white house and returning it with a note, saying:

Changes the Lock.

"May I not, my dear Mr. Gompers, ask you to keep this key as a souvenir? I have changed the lock."

The seer revealed that Harding was at work on a message to congress. He said he could not give the text, but assured an inquirer that "the style will not cause any intellectual inconveniences."

The crystal seer also found former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis applying for the job of publicity director under Harding, but his services were declined.

Mark Anthony Hitchcock delivered his famous oration over the body of the league covenant, following closely a historical model. He explained that he came to bury the covenant, not to praise it.

Chief among the interested witnesses to the post-mortem were Vice President Marshall, to whom the club presented a large silver gridiron as a token of its regard. A similar gridiron was sent to the white house as a gift to President Wilson, who was unable to attend the dinner.

MASS MEETING OF JAPAN SOCIALISTS ROUTED BY POLICE

TOKIO, Dec. 10.—The first attempt to hold a mass meeting of socialists representing all parts of Japan was broken up by the police today. Five hundred persons attending the meeting, but of these about half were plain clothes policemen. In addition two hundred policemen in uniforms were present.

When the first speaker commenced his address an officer ordered the crowd to disperse and it obeyed, the socialists singing revolutionary songs. Ten of them were arrested and thirty were detained provisionally. Reports were in circulation that the socialists had met privately and inaugurated the Socialist League of Japan.

"Old Man Gloom" Executed in the Shreveport Jail

SHREVEPORT, LA., Dec. 11.—Under direction of the Noble Order of the Brotherhood of Gloom Chasers, recently organized here by business and professional men, "old man gloom," was executed in the parish jail this afternoon and, his funeral, led by a band and followed by a regular hearse, was participated in by a mammoth outpouring of citizens. On the tombstone there was placed an epitaph announcing that Old Man Optimism has become supreme.

SMALLPOX OUTBREAK AT WALTERS, OKLA.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Dec. 11—An outbreak of smallpox at Walters was reported by W. D. Lewis, state health commissioner, today. Lewis said that he had a specialist will go to Walters immediately to conduct an investigation.

PROTRACTED DEBATE PREVENTS A VOTE ON IMMIGRATION BILL

HOUSE POSTPONES MATTER TO MONDAY FOLLOWING AN AGREEMENT.

WAR FINANCE CORPORATION MEASURE ALSO GOES OVER

More Liberal Credits By Reserve Board For Farmers Provokes Extended Debate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Final decision against any legislation looking to deferment of the income and other tax payments due December 15 was reached today by the senate finance committee. The full committee thus ratified an earlier decision of the republican members.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Final disposition in the house of the Johnson bill providing for practically complete stoppage of immigration for one year, was postponed late today until Monday. House leaders reached an agreement to bring the bill to a vote on that day, having found it impossible to complete debate today.

Those in charge of the measure had hoped for final action today, but opposition, chiefly to provisions affecting farm labor importation allowed for six months periods from Canada, New Foundland, Cuba, and Mexico, and to other sections prohibition admission of relatives of citizens except those of blood kin, developed such strength as to compel abandonment of the plan and adjournment to Monday.

Only one amendment of general importance was adopted today. It broadened the restrictions on relatives to include brothers and sisters, not more than 21 and 16 years of age, respectively, who would be admitted upon application to the secretary of labor by an American citizen.

An amendment by Representative Parrish, democrat, Texas, authorizing the secretary of labor to fix the length of time Mexican farm laborers could remain in the United States was voted down 39 to 22.

INFORMAL UNDERSTANDING FOR A VOTE ON MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Protracted debate prevented a vote in the senate on the joint resolution directing revival of the war finance corporation as a relief measure for farmers. Recess was taken until noon Monday, with an informal understanding that a vote would be taken not later than 3 o'clock on that day.

Objection to that section of the resolution which would direct that the federal reserve board provide more liberal credits for farmers marked the debate today. Senator Smoot, republican, of Utah, gave notice that he would move to strike out the section, and Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, said he would ask for a separate vote on it.

Senator Pomerene, democrat, Ohio, said he would not "help wreck the federal reserve board," and Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, declared that section of the resolution was a "very direct and unjust criticism of the board and not based on facts."

Senator Gronna, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the resolution, denied that criticism of the board was implied.

"The senator from Virginia," he said to Senator Glass, "has a right to his own opinion, just as I have a right to mine."

The offer to postpone action until Monday was made by Senator Gronna at the close of a speech by Senator Thomas.

Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, offered during the day a substitute in the form of a concurrent resolution which would declare the sense of congress to be that the war finance corporation should be revived and asking the federal reserve board to co-operate with it. He did not discuss it.

BILL WOULD SUBSTITUTE THE ONE-PIECE SALE TAX

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Substitution of a one-piece sale tax for the excess profits and most of the excise levies is proposed in an amendment to the revenue act introduced today by Representative Mott, New York, a republican member of the house ways and means committee. Sales aggregating not more than $200 a month would be exempt.

Among excise taxes Mr. Mott favored repealing are those on automobiles and automobile accessories, sporting goods, candy, art objects, motor boats, medicines, drugs and perfume. The luxury taxes on wearing apparel also would be abolished as would the tax on theatre admission and on soft drinks, beverages and ice cream.

Mr. Mott estimated that the sales tax would net an annual revenue of nearly one and a half billion dollars, about offsetting that now received from excise taxes he proposed to abolish.

HOUSE VOTES UNANIMOUSLY TO CURTAIL CHRISTMAS RECESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The house voted unanimously today to curtail its Christmas recess in order to take up the annual appropriation bills without delay. On motion of Representative Mondell, the republican leader, the house agreed to adjourn on Thursday, December 23, and reassemble the following Monday instead of adjourning for two weeks as heretofore.

OKLAHOMA REPUBLICANS WILL MEET TO CONSIDER A SUCCESSOR TO HAMON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 11.—The republican state central committee will meet in Oklahoma City at 2 p. m., December 20 to consider recommendations to the national committee to fill the vacancy of national committeeman from Oklahoma, caused by the death of the late Jake L. Hamon of Ardmore, according to a call issued late today at republican state headquarters here by John D. Appleby, secretary of the committee. Mr. Appleby said the call was issued upon instructions received from J. A. Harris of Wagoner, state chairman.

Bryan is Invited For a Conference

MARION, OHIO, Dec. 11.—President-elect Harding has invited William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state in President Wilson's cabinet, to confer with him here on December 17 in regard to the plan for an association of nations.

MIAMI, FLA., Dec. 11.—W. J. Bryan said today he had accepted the invitation to confer with President-elect Harding on the proposed association of nations. Mr. Bryan expects to leave for Marion tomorrow.

EXISTING SLUMP IN BUSINESS ONLY THE NATURAL TRANSITION

SUCH IS STATEMENT OF CHAS. M. SCHWAB, THE STEEL MAGNATE.

SEVERER THE STORM THE QUICKER IT WILL BE OVER

Declares Nothing Could Be Healthier Than Very Condition Through Which We Are Passing.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Existing slumps in business is only the natural transition of industries returning to a normal basis from the speeding up of production made necessary by the war, declared Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, in an address here tonight at the annual dinner at the Pennsylvania Society.

"I want to go on record here," said Mr. Schwab, "as saying nothing could be healthier for American business than the very condition through which we are now passing. The severer the storm now, the quicker it will be over and the sooner we can emerge into clear weather and shape our course upon the sea of prosperity."

Commenting upon the status of unemployed laborers, Mr. Schwab stated that "the great need of the world today is to work hard and save."

Classes Idler as Slacker.

This he said, applied to men of means as well as working men. The man who fails to work was characterized as a "slacker" who deserves "no place among honorable men."

The foreign trade of the United States depends upon the power of business men to think "internationally," Mr. Schwab said, in advocating the plan by trusting in the good faith and productive power of Europe by sending raw materials and accepting in payment securities representing their producing activities.

He declared efficient production was the only guarantee of employment and higher wages.

"Never in our life time," said the speaker, "have the shelves of the world been so bare. At the moment, our export trade hangs by a slender thread. We are rapidly getting into a position where the whole world owes us money and yet cannot pay it."

Successful Tests New Machine Gun; Remarkable Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Successful tests of a new machine gun firing half-inch bullets with at least double the range of calibre 30 machine guns now in use, was announced today by the war department. The new weapon gave "remarkable results," the statement declared.

John M. Browning, inventor of the Browning machine gun, used during the world war, collaborated with war department experts in development of the new gun. The tests determined "unusual possibilities," the announcement said.

Mechanical details were withheld, but it was stated that the new weapon had a maximum rapidity of fire of 700 shots per minute, and an efficient minimum of 400 shots a minute. The gun is water cooled and weighs about twice as much as the calibre .30 Browning.

Preliminary tests indicated that the gun was extremely accurate even at long ranges, the grouping of the shots being good and penetration satisfactory, the statement said, adding that defects encountered in the calibre .30 Browning had been to a large extent overcome.

TWO MEXICANS HELD FOR CUTTING AFFRAY

One Man Is Killed And Two Seriously Injured On Train Near Granger.

GEORGETOWN, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—A Mexican named "Sisaague," who ran amuck in a Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway passenger coach near Granger, Texas, yesterday, and killed one man and seriously injured two others, today was formally charged with murder on one count and with assault to murder on two counts. Another Mexican, who is believed to have assisted Sisaague to escape from the train, was charged with murder after the fact. The complaint gives his name as "Surino." Physicians said Sisaague is not of unsound mind. Both Mexicans are in jail here.

Eye witnesses here today said Sisaague began slashing passengers right and left because he overheard a remark by an American regarding the mixing of "white and Mexican" passengers in the coach.

RESOLUTION ASKS A REPRESENTATIVE ON DISARMAMENT

PRESENTED IN SENATE AND ADVOCATED BY SENATOR WALSH OF MONTANA.

REFERRED TO THE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

First Mention Of The League Since Reconvening Of The U. S. Senate.

GENEVA, Dec. 11.—Japan cannot reduce her armaments so long as the United States is increasing hers, Viscount Kikujiro Ishii of the Japanese delegation declared at a meeting of the armaments committee this afternoon, when questions of disarmament were under discussion.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A resolution requesting President Wilson to appoint an American representative to meet with the League of Nations commission considering disarmament, was presented and advocated in the senate today by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana.

After some discussion the measure was referred to the foreign relations committee. It was the first mention of the league in the senate at this session.

Senator Walsh told the senate that it should take cognizance of the invitation of the League of Nations council despite the recent American note stating that because this nation was not a member of the league, the president did not feel justified in even de facto participation in disarmament discussion by the league commission.

Says Reason Adequate.

The senator said the president's reason as given was "utterly adequate" and open to misconstruction.

"It should make no difference whether we are or are not a member of the league," said Senator Walsh, who declared that the American people were interested in joining in any movement looking to world-wide disarmament.

Senator Walsh said the "almost inconceivable sum" of nearly $1,500,000,000 asked this year for the army and navy would give grounds for an unjust suspicion that America had imperialistic designs and added that he would like to "test the temper of both houses" of congress on the disarmament proposal.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee, asked that the resolution go to that committee.

DISARMAMENT OF WORLD MUST BE SLOW AND GRADUAL

GENEVA, Dec. 11.—Disarmament of the world must be a slow and gradual process, is the decision reached by the League of Nations assembly committee which has been deliberating on the question more than three weeks. The opinions of leading members of the commission are that neither the political situation nor public opinion is yet ready for full realization of that object.

In fact, even beginning the reduction of armaments is not considered possible by the commission at the present time.

Accordingly the program which will be presented to the assembly is to proceed in three stages. The first involves an agreement between the powers to make no further increase in armaments. The second will provide for a gradual reduction on a basis which will be laid down by the armament commission of the council of the League of Nations.

The third will provide for general and complete disarmament when it may be found that the situation permits it.

Long and Confused Debate.

The covenant of the league again gave rise to a long and confused debate in the assembly this afternoon. The question was how to choose the four elected members of the council. The committee, which decided the most important point by only one majority after long and difficult discussion, proposed that the terms of those members be limited to two years and that members shall be eligible for reelection for two years more, then ineligible for reelection during the succeeding four years. This provision is intended to facilitate access to the council to all members of the league.

Another provision which was more stoutly contested apportioned the members among the different countries, Europe and the Americas getting three and Asia one. This provision is held to be contrary to the covenant, which provides that the assembly shall "freely" choose the members of the council, while apportionment would tie the hands of the next assembly.

DISPUTE BETWEEN CHILE AND BOLIVIA IN LEAGUE

GENEVA, Dec. 11.—A dispute between Chile and Bolivia in the League of Nations assembly today has raised the possibility of the withdrawal of one country or the other from the sessions.

The dispute arose over the submission to the assembly of the Tacna-Arica case, which involves those northern provinces of Chile taken by Chile from Peru in the war between the two nations nearly forty years ago, in which Bolivia also was involved.

DISCOVER PLANT FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF BOMBS

DUBLIN, Dec. 11.—A plant for the manufacture of bombs was discovered during an early morning raid today in a bicycle repair shop in Parnell street in the center of Dublin.

Large quantities of arms, ammunitions and explosives were seized.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

WASHINGTON, December 11. Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

West Gulf States: Generally fair and moderate temperatures. Considerably colder probably toward close of week.

GIRLS' CLUB OF THE HIGH SCHOOL MAKES SPLENDID PROGRESS

The Girl's Club of the Wichita Falls High school has been progressing rapidly of late in it's efforts toward the improvement of English and literary standards, not only for themselves but for the entire school as well. The club, which is the only one of it's kind now organized for girls in this city, started the year with a large membership and plenty of enthusiasm, but this has not prevented constant progress in all lines of activity in which the young ladies of the institution have indulged.

A membership of 126 girls out of a possible 250 in the school is not a bad record in itself, and an average attendance of 75 at all of the weekly meetings is still more remarkable. This is accounted for by the meritorious programs presented on each occasion and by the excellent leadership of Miss Juanita Kinzie, faculty sponsor of the club.

At last week's meeting, which was featured by a piano solo by Mrs. F. R. Collard and by a number of algebraic conundrums by Prof. Presson, instructor of mathematics at the high school, plans were laid for the vesper services to be held in the Episcopal church at 4 o'clock, Sunday, December 19. This is an annual custom of the club and is regarded as one of the important events of the year.

Blind Musician to Give Final Concert On Friday Evening

A farewell concert is to be given next Friday, December 17, by Prof. H. Krumpeln, the famous blind musician whose many concerts in this city during the past year have delighted thousands of music lovers. Prof. Krumpeln is to leave shortly for Dallas, where he will assume active direction of an artists' musical college.

Prof. Krumpeln, who is totally blind, came to this city a year ago after appearing in concert in all of the great musical centers of America. New York, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and Kansas City are included among those in which he has appeared as organ and piano soloist, his stay in Wichita Falls being limited only by the success which he attained in the organization and direction of the Conservatory of Music to which he has devoted his time. This institution, started on a small scale, has constantly grown in numbers and merit and is being given up by Prof. Krumpeln only because of the larger field for work offered by Dallas.

The blind virtuoso is a master of practically every musical instrument known, despite the fact that he has been without the sight of his eyes since the age of seven. He is proficient on all types of wind and string instruments but attains his greatest fame on the pipe organ and piano. Before coming to this country just before the outbreak of the war, he played in many of the cathedrals of Europe and on numerous occasions has given command concerts before the royal courts of England. He was solo organist at King Edwards memorial in Westminster Abbey in 1907 and has appeared before the present King George of England and the Prince of Wales. His tours of Europe have included concerts on the organs in the famous Rheims and Cologne cathedrals.

Friday night's concert will be composed of selections on a number of different instruments. It will be free to the public but a free will offering will be taken at the conclusion. This will be the last chance of local music lovers to hear Prof. Krumpeln and a large crowd is expected. The concert will be held in the First Methodist church, South, Tenth and Lamar. The program will be as follows:

1. Organ, March—"Stars and Stripes Forever" ..... Sousa
2. Concert accordeon solos, "Sextette from Lucia" ..... Donizetti "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore" ..... Vedri
3. Ocarina solo, "Humoresque" Dvorak
4. Piano solos, "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" ..... Liszt Song, "The Golden Calf" ..... Gounod
5. Bagpipes, Scottish War Music ..... Selected
6. Auto harp solo (by request) "The Rosary" ..... Nevin
7. Organ, "The Light Cavalry Overture" ..... Franz Von Suppe

ODD FELLOWS TO CONFER THE FIRST MONDAY NIGHT

The first degrees will be conferred on a large number of Odd Fellows at an important meeting to be held in the lodge rooms Monday night, according to announcements made Saturday. A large attendance is expected at the meeting, for in addition to the conferring of degrees the yearly report is to be made.

The new by-laws, which include among other things, provisions for a larger membership charge and a slight increase in dues, are to be instituted on January 1st, next, and will be discussed at this meeting.

The Odd Fellows Encampment which should have been held last Thursday night but which was postponed out of courtesy to the Knights of Pythias Dokeys will be held on Tuesday night of this week. Work in the degrees, followed by a smoker will feature this meeting and nothing but A-1 excuses will be accepted for absences according to Odd Fellow officials.

CHIROPRACTORS SUED FOR $35,000 DAMAGES

Luther Carpenter Files Petition in District Court Against Black And Black.

A suit for $35,000 damages against the firm of Black and Black, chiropractors of Wichita Falls, was filed in the 89th district court late Friday by Luther Carpenter. He alleges that he has been damaged to this extent and prays the court for $25,000 personal damages and $10,000 exemplary damages.

The plaintiff alleges that on or about April 15, 1920, he was suffering from a pain in the leg and hip, and that being attracted by the defendant's claims he went to them for treatment.

He recites further in his complaint that the defendants took an X-ray examination and informed him that they would be able to cure him in fifteen days. He states that for four months he took their treatments and that his condition became worse. He alleges that he told them that he thought it best to seek other attention, but that the defendants told him that he must use more patience.

The petition goes on to say that in a short while he discharged the chiropractors and paid them $300 for their services, and that he then went to his home at Byers, Texas, where upon consultation with a physician he was ordered removed to a sanitarium in Fort Worth.

At the sanitarium the plaintiff states that an operation was performed and it was found that the bone from the knee to the hip was decayed and that portions of it had to be removed.

The plaintiff states that he was 24 years of age at the time he sought services from the defendants and that he weighed 185 pounds. He charges that he suffered great physical and mental pain as a result of the negligence and carelessness of the defendants.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED NEAR BRADLEY'S CORNER

W. P. Smith, aged nineteen years, was placed under arrest at Bradley's Corner Saturday afternoon when found in possession of a Buick roadster stolen from the street near the opera house ten days ago from C. F. Carter. When brought before the officers here he stated that he knew the car was stolen, but that a man by the name of Stevenson had given it to him. He stated that he had met this man, who had told him Stevenson wasn't his name, a month ago, and at that time told him that he would bring him a car some day, but that it would be a stolen car. Smith says that two weeks ago he brought the car, and that he, Smith, had been driving it since.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IS OVERRULED IN KOONS' CASE

A motion for a new trial for Bert Koons was overruled by Judge F. A. Martin of the 89th district court late Saturday afternoon. The defendant's counsel presented to the court that there were witnesses who would testify that Koons had eaten dinner with them the day that the alleged theft was said to have been committed. Koons was found guilty of the charge of stealing two mules by a jury and was sentenced to serve two years in the state penitentiary. After the motion was overruled the prisoner was sentenced. Notice of appeal was given by the attorneys representing the defendant.

ALLEGED OWNERS OF STILL PLACED UNDER $1,500 BOND

John Skagg, alleged to be the owner of the still which was captured Friday night, was placed under a bond of $1,500 by United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz Saturday, after the defendant had waived preliminary hearing.

Saturday afternoon, U. S. Deputy Marshal Jim Allen brought in Peter Heinzelmann, the aged man in whose house the still was found. He professed innocence of the entire matter, stating that the men had represented to him that they were going to make a light beer for Chirstmas, and that at that time they would pay him well for the use of his house.

The aged man was allowed to go on his own recognizance. The two men who were brought back by the officers Friday night, Carl Heinzelmann and Otimar Stock, were each placed under a $200 bond.

PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF CARRYING A PISTOL

V. M. Grisson pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying a pistol before Judge Guy Rogers of the county court of law Saturday, and he was fined $100 and costs. It was stated that he had exhibited the firearms while in a dispute with another man. The other man, officers stated, was nursing a bump on his head.

OVER $50,000 TAXES PAID SINCE FIRST OF THE MONTH

Tax payers have been steadily coming into the county tax collector's office since the first of December. Since that time the tax collector has taken in $54,213.59. This is an exceedingly large amount for the first ten days in December, but it is expected that this record will be overreached before the end of the month as December has invariably proven to be a heavy month in the payment of taxes.

During November and October Mr. Tittle collected $50,991.35, which makes a total of $125,210.94 collected since the payment of 1920 taxes was begun.

ELEVEN PASSPORTS ISSUED DURING THE PAST TWO DAYS

United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz reports an exceptionally heavy business in passports to Mexico. During the past two days, eleven applicants were taken care of in the federal office. In each instance the men were going to Tampico. The cost of a passport is $10, of which amount one dollar is paid to the local office and nine dollars submitted with the application.

CHIROPRACTOR CASES TO BE CALLED NEXT MONDAY

The forty-two cases against the chiropractors in the city will come up for trial in the county court of law beginning next Monday morning. The cases were originally set for Friday of this past week, but due to the absence of the defendant's counsel from the city, Judge Guy Rogers postponed the cases until Monday, December 13.

LOCAL POSTOFFICE NOW PREPARED FOR THE HOLIDAY RUSH

Assurance has been given by Postmaster Ed Howard that the local postal department is amply equipped to render prompt and efficient service during the rush of Christmas holidays and that none of the delays and congestion occasioned last year by lack of room will be experienced within the next two weeks.

That the volume of business handled this year will be fully as large, if not larger, than that of last, is a foregone conclusion, according to Mr. Howard, but this is causing him no concern, for the present force of clerks have room and facilities which will permit of the despatching of all outgoing and incoming mail as fast as it is received at the post office. A few extra wagons may possibly be added to the present number to aid in the distribution of parcels and Christmas mail to various distributing centers of the city, and a slight increase in the clerical force may be necessary, but these can easily be had if needed.

Seventy-Five Employes.

At the present time there are about 75 employes of the postal department in this city on whom will fall the burden of caring for the floods of mail that congest the system every Christmas, and if given sufficient room and equipment with which to work this force will be able to easily care for this city's needs. The same number were employed last year, said Mr. Howard, but were cramped by lack of room and consequently were unable to prevent considerable congestion.

The new annex was not completed last year when the peak of the holiday business arrived and the main building was completely swamped with parcels. The new addition was merely the shell of the building, having only the walls, floor and roof completed, but in spite of this it was pressed into service as a warehouse and aided to some extent in the disposing of parcels.

This year, however, the situation is different. A competent force with ample working facilities is in complete readiness to handle everything from tin horns to live stock, and unless some unforeseen emergency arises no trouble will be experienced by residents of Wichita Falls in sending and receiving their parcels.

STUDENTS WILL HAVE ELEVEN DAYS VACATION

Holiday Will Extend From Thursday, December 23 To Monday, January 3.

From Thursday, December 23, to Monday, January 3, has been set as the time limit for the Christmas holidays this year for the students and teachers of the Wichita Falls schools. This decision was reached at a meeting of the school board held last Friday evening.

The vacation period will last 11 days, including two Sundays, Christmas and New Years days, and will liberate over 5,000 students, instructors and officials from the grind of school work. By being excused on Thursday residents of this city who will be affected will be given time over Friday to prepare the Yuletide festivities and will permit teachers who live out of town time to reach their homes.

New Years days, falling as it does on Saturday, precludes all possibility of granting extra days of grace before reopening of the schools, but with one day in which to become accustomed to writing 1921 in place of 1920, the school authorities believe that no kick will be raised over the short length of vacation.

MRS. HARRIS LEAVES CITY AFTER VISIT WITH SISTER

Mrs. George H. Harris of Snyder left for Nashville, Tenn., Saturday after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Joseph L. Mayfield, here. Mrs. Snyder will be accompanied from Nashville to New York City by her daughter, Miss Francis Snyder, a Ward-Belmont student, and Wm. J. Harris, her son, of Harvard. Several other Harvard young men, classmates of yong Harris, will be with the party.

NEGROES HELD UP ON THE OLD LAKE ROAD

Report Loss Of Three Shot Guns When The Two Men Were Frightened Away.

Walter Pointer and two other negroes were held up on the old Lake road at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon by two men who approached them in a five-passenger Ford car. The two men took three shot guns from the negroes and had started to search them further when another car was seen coming and the robbers jumped into the car and drove away.

The negroes, according to their story, had been out hunting and were returning to the city when the two men stopped them. They said they thought the men were officers and the first thing they asked was to let them look at the shotguns. This request was complied with and at the point of the one gun the men made them give up the other two.

A report was made at the sheriff's office here and the sheriff with three deputies went out in search of the two men.

DELPHIAN LITERARY CLUB WILL HAVE SOCIAL MEET DEC. 15TH

The Delphian Literary club met at Kemp library Wednesday at 3 o'clock, with Mrs. Livingston Fain, leader, in an interesting study program.

"Woman's Changing Ideals" was a paper read by the leader, Mrs. T. R. Boone discussing "Women in Industry," and Mrs. T. M. Alexander, "Woman's Political Rights and Duties." Mrs. Alexander also made a report from the State Federation meeting in San Antonio last month. Those present included Mesdames Alexander, Bert Bean, T. R. Boone, E. B. Carver, Harry Davis, Livingston Fain, Leonard Grayson, J. C. Humphrey, Abe Marcus, J. J. Perkins, W. F. Robertson, Marvin Smith, P. B. Smith, M. M. Walker, F. R. Collard, and Earl Clayton and Miss Lillian Fain.

The December 15th meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Clayton, 1908 Huff avenue, and will be a social meeting.

LEARN OF A FRIEND OF JOHN HAMILTON

Information Is Received From War Department And Message Has Been Sent.

A telegram from the war department at Washington was received Saturday by Chief of Police Huff which may lead at last to the location of relatives or friends of John Hamilton, the alleged automobile thief who was killed while resisting arrest by four city officers last Monday.

The telegram came in reply to a query sent by the chief several days ago as to what information was listed with the adjutant general in regard to Hamilton's home and friends. A. Paul Maitry, 3167 Tower avenue, Superior, Wisconsin, is given as the closest friend of Hamilton, and messages to that address have been sent by Chief Huff in hopes of gaining information for which he has sought during the last week.

No disposition of Hamilton's body, which still lies in the Hines undertaking morgue, will be made until definite word is received from the northern city.

EXAMINATIONS HELD POSTAL POSITIONS

Expect To Secure Sufficient Number To Meet Demand Of Local Office.

Civil service examinations for postal clerks and carriers were held in the local high school Saturday morning, twenty men appearing for the tests. Out of this number it is believed that enough will successfully pass their exams to enable postal authorities in this city to fill all clerical positions in the local department with regular certified employes.

At the present time a number of positions in the postoffice are held by non-certificate workers who were pressed into service by the lack of registered civil service authorities. From the large class which appeared for the examinations Saturday, Postmaster Howard hopes to secure enough to relieve all non-certified workers in the postal department of the city.

These new additions to the force will be all the more welcome in view of the plans which Mr. Howard hopes to materialize between now and the first of the year, including the enlargement of the free delivery service in the city. With the installation of concrete crossings at many of the unpaved street intersections of town, federal permission will probably be granted for the introduction of daily mail deliveries in sections now devoid of such a convenience.

Districts in the western part of the city, notably those lying along Taylor, Fillmore, Grant, Buchanan and Pearl streets, are now dependent on general delivery or postoffice boxes for their mail, neither of which is satisfactory when it is considered that this part of the city has grown more rapidly within the past five years than any other single section. Should he receive the required permission from Washington to start free delivery in this section, Mr. Howard will assign four or five new routes and institute the greatly desired service.

There is no more important duty that you owe yourself during the coming year than to build up a savings account as protection for your future. Start one now in the City National Bank of Commerce with a dollar or more. The bank pays 4 per cent interest and offers you the safety of the largest bank in West Texas. 213-1tc

The Slaughter of the Innocents

"Three and a half million children call to the heart and resources of America for these daily supplies, not available in their own countries, that are vital to their survival and to the rebuilding of their physical well-being."

"Our resources will be exhausted in January.

"We must not step aside and permit the spectre of death, in the form of hunger and cold to haunt these helpless ones this winter, yet we can not continue without help . . .

"This is a charge on the American heart, and America can not fail in her solicitude for these little ones.

"Twenty-three million dollars must be raised without delay, and remembering the new heart you put into the Commission for Relief in Belgium in the dark hours of 1916, I come to you again."

(Signed) HERBERT HOOVER.

In immediate response the following editorial was published in The Literary Digest of Oct. 30th:

WHEN JESUS CHRIST CAME upon the earth, nearly two thousand years ago, to save all mankind, his mere coming seemed to interfere with the material interests of a few people of that period, notably King Herod, who promptly decided to dispose of this "interloper," and sent forth his soldiers with orders to slay all the children of two years old and under. Thus was consummated the most atrocious crime against innocent childhood ever committed up to that time. It has come down to us through all the ages in song and story, and master painters have pictured it on marvelous canvases.

Today passing in review, as we look out through the windows of our comfortable homes in this great and happy land, are three and a half millions of helpless children, the innocent victims of the greatest war that has ever afflicted humanity. It matters not, as we gaze in the direction of these children, that our eyes must stretch across three thousand miles of ocean, we still can see them and we still can hear them, if we wish to do so; and we can not help hearing the tragic appeal in their voices and seeing their tiny arms stretched out to us, and their searching eyes looking into our souls, as they say, "Help us, or we perish." And if we fail to listen to this great call of three and a half millions of God's helpless children; if we close our eyes and ears to this great demand of duty, we shall be just as guilty of the "slaughter of the innocents" as was Herod, nearly two thousand years ago.

In these lands, swept by death and filled with tragedies too deep for tears, a sum of human suffering is being written greater perhaps than for all ages gone by. The mind grows numb and the heart sick from a constant recital of tales of such tragedy as it is difficult to believe the twentieth century could hold.

And so, when we received a letter from Mr. Hoover telling us that America must not allow death in the form of hunger and cold to come to these 3,500,000 helpless children our soul was stirred and the hot blood surged up in our heart. We felt it was our imperative duty to use all the power God has given us to aid this noble-hearted American in continuing the work of saving human lives to which he has devoted unsparingly, and at great personal sacrifice, his tremendous energy and administrative genius during the past six years, in which time he and his American colleagues have administered two billions of dollars of relief funds from all parts of the world with a total overhead expense of only three-eights of one per cent., with no remuneration to the American directors. Now he asks us all to help save the children who are in imminent danger of starvation this coming winter.

There they are, in the midst of wrecked homes, and farms, and factories; in cities crowded with masses of refugees without sustaining food for children, through the destruction of live stock; seeds for planting, raw materials, tools, and machinery gone; great areas with everything burned or looted, or smashed; vast unemployment for workers; no means of subsistence; a land of economic ruin, of mutilated life, and lingering death; and in the midst of it all—the little children.

In long lines they are waiting at the American food-kitchens. Will the food be there for them? Will they be turned away? There are no happy, healthy faces in those long lines—not one. You have seen rags and barefooted children, but never so many little boys and girls literally dressed in tatters. Soon it will be very cold, and for those bare little feet and legs and arms there is nothing at home to put on.

Hollow faces and shrunken bodies are so common that their real condition does not become evident until we inquire more closely, and then we find that most of them are from one to five years back in their growth. Children of eight years old have not reached the normal size of two and a half. They are just learning to stand alone. Others almost as old can not yet stand on their feet. Their arms, and legs, and spines, and chests are twisted and warped. The flesh and skin are shriveled on their bones. It is surprising that life can still exist there. If they can have food they will gradually regain their health and strength, but with most of them it is a question of now or never. Starvation and tuberculosis will not wait.

In Poland alone a million five hundred thousand such children must be cared for. In Latvia and Esthonia the people are living mostly on a diet made from potato-flour, oat-flour and sawdust. In Czecho-Slovakia, in Hungary, in Austria, and in other countries of central and southeastern Europe, two millions more are in dire need of food; and who stops to ask regarding creed, or race, or nationality when a little child is starving? Children are just children the world over, and the great American heart is big enough to care for them all.

But the appeal now is not for all. The three and a half millions of children in immediate danger of starvation, if this organization fails, who MUST have food at once, are only a fraction of the total number. The hungry children of those destitute countries have been examined by competent physicians, and only those whose wasted little bodies are reduced to the minimum weight, and whose endurance of hunger has reached the end which merges into actual starvation, are admitted to the American kitchens and given one meal a day. It is hard to turn away thousands of hungry boys and girls—to hear them ask, pleadingly, "Do I weigh too much?" Am I not thin enough?" "Can't I come any more?" But this restricting of food to the extreme cases is compulsory, because there isn't enough for all.

And these neediest ones can not reach the kitchens through the cold winds and the snow barefooted and in the pitiful rags which form only a partial covering for their bodies. They must have clothes. Each outfit consists of one pair of warm woolen stockings, one pair of boots, and a little overcoat. This one meal a day, and these boots, stockings, and little coats can be supplied only if we give them. If we do not, the slaughter of the innocents by cold and starvation will be appalling.

Among the more than two million men and women who will read this page there is not one—there can not be a single one—whose heart will not respond gladly and eagerly to the challenge of this great need. We are asked, you with us, to cooperate with Mr. Hoover in raising twenty-three million dollars to feed and clothe these children and save them from death this winter. It can be done! THE LITERARY DIGEST knows its readers and the deep earnestness, the quick sympathy, the great-hearted generosity they always show when any real human need calls to them. You have never been called upon in vain. We are counting on you now with a great confidence. We know, also, how truly you represent the American spirit, which beats in the hearts of a hundred and three million more in this big land of plenty, a spirit which leaps ready at every such call, and is never weary in well-doing. We are not a hermit nation, isolated from the world, when suffering and want cry out to us from anywhere under the sun. A great, a beautiful, and heart-sustaining hope supports these stricken people—America will come to their relief. For in the far places of the earth, where famine stalks, one name and one alone is synonymous with rescue and hope—and that name is America.

The small individual unit of ten dollars will provide the coat and boots and stockings and one meal a day for one child this winter. We urge our readers—we urge every one whose eyes are on these words—to give quickly as many of these units as possible, to buy for themselves that precious and priceless thing, the life of a child—as many of them as they can, and every one will be a shining star in an eternal crown. It was the Divine Love of little children, who came to earth as a little child, and who reigns now as the King of Glory, who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me." He does not forget, nor fail to reward.

So deeply do we ourselves feel the urgency of this great need, knowing all the facts, that we should feel a heavy burden of guilt if we did not go beyond anything we have felt possible heretofore in order to save these innocent children from suffering and death. Therefore, THE LITERARY DIGEST will start this fund with the sum of $25,000 to feed and clothe twenty-five hundred little boys and girls this winter. What an inspiration it will be to all of us—what an inspiration and example to many thousands who may be uncertain how much to give—if in the very first week there shall be a great shower of checks for $1,000, for $5,000, for $10,000, as well as a deluge of smaller amounts, to send the fund rolling on toward the necessary twenty-three millions. Let us all see again what the father's heart is like in this great rich land of America. Let us have again a wondrous revelation of the heart of American motherhood. Let us have a great outpouring of love and helpfulness in the name of Him who said, "Feed my lambs!"

President-Elect Harding, in a Great-Hearted Response, Sets an Example for all Americans

In the midst of the flood of telegrams, telephone calls, and election returns pouring in upon him from every part of the United States, Mr. Harding turned from it all to write and dispatch the following telegram from his home.

THE LITERARY DIGEST, NEW YORK CITY— Marion, Ohio, November 4, 1920.

I have just now read your splendid appeal to the people of America in behalf of three and a half millions of unfortunate children in Central and Southeastern Europe who are the helpless victims of the Great War. Because such a movement for relief reveals the true heart of America, because it bespeaks an American desire to play a great people's part in relieving and restoring God's own children, I want to commend and support your noble undertaking. In seeking God's blessing for ourselves I am sure He will bless us the more abundantly if we share our good fortune in acts of sympathy and human fellowship. I wish you a success which will reveal anew the unselfishness of our great people. I am forwarding you my check for two thousand five hundred dollars by mail today.

(Signed) WARREN G. HARDING.

Make all checks payable to "The Literary Digest Child-Feeding Fund" and mail them direct to The Literary Digest. Every remittance will be acknowledged, and the Literary Digest will be responsible for every dollar contributed, to see that it goes, without one penny deducted, to the purpose for which it is given. TEST "SEA HORNET" TYPE OF MOTOR BOAT

Can Be Converted In Few Minutes Into a Deadly Torpedo Boat.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A high powered motor boat, which during times of peace can be carried on battleships as a service launch and in war converted in a few minutes into a deadly torpedo boat, was demonstrated here today in the launching of the first vessel of the new naval auxiliary known as "type A-3, sea hornet."

The vessel is designed to form an important part of America's coast defense and the launching took place in the presence of more than a hundred regular army and national guard officers, as well as representatives of the navy and the governors of New York and New Jersey.

The "sea hornet" type was conceived during the war and was held as a navy secret, its operation being prevented by the armistice. It is a twin screw 600 horsepower motor boat, 55 feet long with a hinge bow which drops from place. In the bow is a 21-inch torpedo, carrying in its war head 600 pounds of high explosive. Two additional torpedoes are carried as well as six depth bombs. When in operation as a war craft the "sea hornet" which carries a crew of four men, sinks until but a little more than one foot of the hull is above the water line.

The plan of the inventor and those interested in the invention is to have the boat operate in squadrons—or rather "swarms" against enemy craft.

The sea hornet launched today was christened Mrs. W. B. Sheaver, wife of the inventor.

WARNING THAT INFLUX OF ALIENS IS SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Warning that the influx of aliens from central Europe "is serious and dangerous" and that the state department has information to prove the existence of a real emergency was given to the house today by Chairman Johnson of the immigration committee during debate on his bill proposing a year's restriction of all immigration to the United States.

The state department had handed him enough paragraphs from its consular officers reports to serve as a warning.

"Because certain consular officers report an excess of Jews seeking passport vises at certain places, this bill has to be assaulted as an anti-Semitic bill," continued the chairman. "Not so. I care not whether the influx is Jewish, Moslem, pagan, Buddhist, Christian or what not. The country does not want it. It brings too many who are anti-government and anti-God."

SEVEN GERMANS ARE CAUGHT IN ATTEMPT TO CROSS RIO GRANDE

LAREDO, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—Seven Germans, including one woman, arrested Thursday night while attempting to cross the Rio Grande into the United States near Laredo, will be held pending deportation proceedings, immigration authorities announced today. In county jail here they told officers it was their intention to make their homes in this country and that there was no "ulterior motive" in attempting to cross the border secretly.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS AN ATTACK ON YOUNG GIRL

CARTHAGE, MO., Dec. 11.—Mystery surrounds the assault upon Miss Della Sharp, circuit court deputy clerk, near her home last night. Four men rushed her, tripped her when she attempted to flee, and kicked her and struck her while she was down, according to her story told today. A neighbor, E. W. Kidder, rushed to her rescue and was shot through the shoulder as he grappled with the men. The girl's assailants escaped in an automobile.

She issued a statement saying political enmity was suspected as the motive for the attack. Although badly bruised, her injuries are not regarded as serious.

TABLOIDS

Some "Possum" Dog.

DALLAS, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—"Skillet" hasn't taken any blue ribbons yet, but he's revived interest in possum hunting around these parts. "Skillet" treed nine gallons of moonshine in a hollow tree. Sheriff Harston confiscated the "corn" but the dog's owner says the "booze" hound isn't for sale.

Lapse of Memory.

NEW YORK.—William Garth had a stroke nine years ago and forgot he had $26,199 in a bank here. He remembered it today and found $16,000 left. A bank clerk is alleged to have the rest. He is jailed.

Flashlight Trouble.

CLEVELAND.—Henceforth A. M. Lemay will keep his flashlight locked up. While exploring his yard last night a policeman arrested him and held him in a cell for three hours.

Sea-Going Bungalows.

ROCKAWAY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—The sea-going bungalow has been found. High tides attacked three of the undersiung dwellings early today and when neighbors awoke they saw the trio making good headway, bound in the direction of Europe. They were unoccupied.

"Tim" Mallory of Tulsa, representative of the Skelly Co., will be in Wichita Falls for several days on business.

OWNER OF HOUSE BOAT IS HELD FOR MURDER

Results From Fatal Wounding of Sheriff and Death of a Farmer.

LEPANTO, ARK., Dec. 11.—B. S. Chambers, owner of a house boat in Little river here, was being held in the Lepanto jail today on charges of murder in connection with the fatal wounding yesterday of W. R. Shields, a deputy sheriff and the death of Boss Todd, a farmer said to have been killed aboard Chambers' boat Thursday night, while posses continue search of the countryside for another man, Charles Jones, alleged to have been implicated in the shooting.

Feeling here is intense and announcement was made that Chambers probably will be removed late today to the jail at Jonesboro for safe-keeping.

Shields was shot and killed when he went to Chambers' house boat to arrest Jones on a liquor charge. Chambers surrendered later in the day after a posse set the house boat afire by throwing gasoline on it and igniting it with Roman candles. Jones escaped.

J. B. Blanchett, city marshal of Lepanto, was fired on last night when he came from the jail in answer to jeers from a bystander. He was not injured. His assailant escaped.

TWO NEGROES BURNED TO DEATH AND THREE INJURED IN EXPLOSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Two negro workmen were burned to death and three others injured in an explosion of 100,000 pounds of powder at the naval powder factory at Indian Head, Maryland, yesterday, it was announced today by the navy department. The cause of the explosion has not been determined and no estimate of the loss was made.

ORGANIZATION OF THE TEXAS COTTON GROWERS SALES AGENCY PERFECTED

HOUSTON, Dec. 11.—Organization of a Texas cotton growers sales agency designed primarily to arrange for the marketing of low grade cotton from Texas in Germany, was effected at a meeting here today. Fred Roberts of Corpus Christi was made president and Fred W. Davis, state commissioner of agriculture, vice president. Davis was quoted as saying that after his office expires at Austin he will go to Germany to handle that end of the business of the agency.

MORE THAN HUNDRED DOLLAR A YEAR MEN HAVE THEIR REUNION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—More than a hundred of the men who served the government at $1 a year during the war, returned to Washington today for their second annual reunion, confident that the process of readjustment from war to peace was going forward satisfactorily.

Former members of the war industries board met to organize a permanent society, purely, the leaders said, to perpetuate war time friendships. At the same time, however, the opinion was expressed that the formal discussion of this group, which is to meet annually, would lead to a broader understanding of business problems.

While all industrial and commercial leaders in attendance were diplomatic in their expressions, they were also conservative. Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, declared the reasons were obvious why this country should soon be a normal forward moving basis. Everything the nation has to have is found within its borders, he said, and its railroads had felt no recession in business and foresaw none.

A similar expression came from Alexander Legge, general manager of the International Harvester company. He said he was concerned about the decline in farm commodity prices which has left the farmer "dazed" but believed that relief would come soon, although it would be gradual.

Bernard M. Baruch, former chairman of the war industries board, asserted that there was "nothing to prevent the country from experiencing prosperity." He warned against "too much pessimism," saying that the worst of the troubles were over and that the pessimistic tone should not now be overdone.

Money Saved for Funeral Expenses Was Counterfeit

ELKHART, IND., Dec. 11.—Money laid away by Walter Moody for his funeral expenses was found by bankers to be counterfeit today after it had been spent to meet burial costs for the man, who died a week ago.

The money, in new twenty-dollar bills, had been in the Moody home for sixteen years. Moody's widow, who became his second wife years after he set the money aside, will have to make good the loss.

SPECIAL OFFICER AT PORT ARTHUR KILLED

Slain While Driving With His Family On Principal Business Street.

BEAUMONT, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—Dick Hamilton, special police officer, was slain at Port Arthur tonight while driving an automobile down Proctor street, Port Arthur's principal business thoroughfare. Hamilton was at the steering wheel. His wife and children were in the car at the time. Suddenly a large automobile drove alongside of him. A shot rang out and Hamilton fell away from the wheel while his automobile crashed over the sidewalk into the fence before Mrs. Hamilton could stop the engine. The large car continued. Speeding by the home of a relative of Hamilton's a short distance ahead, another charge of shot was fired through a window. The officers tried to give chase but were outdistanced by the slayer's machine.

Shortly afterwards R. F. Spence surrendered to police officers here. He declined to make a statement. He was carrying a shotgun at the time.

Oscar Spence, a brother of R. F. Spence, was killed by Hamilton at Port Arthur on November 3. Oscar Spence was said to have been resisting arrest at the time. Hamilton had gone to serve a warrant in connection with the theft of some whiskey.

Hamilton was holding a special commission under Chief of Police Pete Williams, the law and order society's selection for the post, who was about two months ago appointed to the position.

WHOLESALE PRICES OF FRESH MEAT CUTS REACH LOW LEVELS

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Wholesale prices of fresh meat cuts, both beef and pork, reached the low levels of the pre-war period with the close of business this week, Armour and company announced today in a public statement. Beef prices, the last to be readjusted, declined to the lowest levels of the year this week, according to the statement, which continues:

"Lower prices for livestock which resulted from declines in feed stuff and from excessive receipts of stock in all markets have had marked influence on the wholesale selling price of all meats, resulting in a level of prices which are below that ruling in 1914 in many instances."

Shipment of Stills Seized by Officials Belong in Mexico

TEXARKANA, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—Under an order issued today by United States District Judge W. L. Estes, a large quantity of small stills which were seized by federal officers here last January and which since have reposed in the vault of the federal building, were released to an agent of mineralogists and mining experts in Mexico for shipment to their original destination. The officers who made the seizure supposed the stills were for illicit purposes.

It was only recently that the consignee in Mexico discovered the whereabouts of their long overdue shipment. The equipment was designed for use of mining engineers in assaying laboratories.

"AT LAST—A REAL JOB AND REAL MONEY!"

"And if only I'd started earlier, I could have had them five years ago. I didn't realize at first what spare time study would do for a man. Taking up that I. C. S. course marked the real beginning of my success. In three months I received my first promotion. But I kept right on studying and I've been climbing ever since."

Every mail brings letters from some of the two million students of the International Correspondence Schools telling of advancements and increased salaries won through spare time study. How much longer are you going to wait before taking the step that is bound to bring you more money? Isn't it better to start now than to wait five years and then realize what the delay has cost you?

One hour after supper each night spent with the I. C. S. in the quiet of your own home will prepare you for the position you want in the work you like best.

Yes, it will put it up to us to prove it. Without cost, without obligation, just mark and mail this coupon.

GROUP OF LOCAL BUSINESS MEN WILL RAISE BIG GUARANTEE FOR WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

KETONIN AND IRSLINGER MAY MEET HERE IN TITLE EVENT.

MONTANA WILL BE HERE FOR RETURN BOUT DEC. 28

Local Opinion Divided As To Outcome Of Next Match Between Henry And Bull.

As predicted in The Times over two weeks ago, the chances for a world's championship wrestling bout to be held in Wichita Falls look exceedingly bright. When Waino Ketonen wired the local management that he wanted a $2,000 guarantee to come here, things looked dubious. But when the great amount of interest that has been shown here in wrestling recently was noted, a group of well known business men in the city decided to take things into their own hands, and it has been learned from an authoritative source that the guarantee will be raised.

The owners of the theatre will give over the entire receipts to the wrestlers, and should the amount then fall short this group of men will dig down in their own pockets to make up the deficit. That's how anxious they are to see a real championship affair. However, it is doubtful as to whether they will be forced to dig down, as fans from near and far will be on hand to witness the match and the receipts should total well over $2,000.

Pet Brown's statement following his match with Henry Irslinger in the opera house last Tuesday night is said to have clinched the bout. Pet said that he did not believe there was a 158 pound man in the country who could throw Irslinger, and Pet ought to know. He labored for over two hours before he was able to pin Wichita's championship aspirant to the mat. The afternoon before the match, Brown weighed 186 pounds with his clothes on, while Henry tipped the scales at only 169. That difference in weight was Pet's hole card and he knew and admitted it. He claimed that Irslinger is the greatest bona fide middle weight wrestler he has ever met. Coming from such a source, that statement carries great weight.

Irslinger Had Fractured Rib.

Those who saw Tuesday night's bout will remember that Irslinger was apparently bothered with his side soon after the match started. He rubbed it several times, and it was evident that something was wrong. He consulted a doctor the next day and found that his last rib had been fractured. The accident occurred after about 15 minutes of wrestling, so in addition to giving away more than a dozen pounds Irslinger kept his shoulders off the mat for two hours in spite of a crushed rib. His side at present is all strapped up and it will be several days before he will be able to do any intensive training.

Ketonen, who has been mowing down all opposition since he recaptured his title from Mark Howard of the Pacific coast, has decided to make a short tour of the south, and while in this section of the country will be handled by the Gulf Coast club. The local management has already been in touch with the club, the headquarters of which are in Houston, but no definite arrangements have been made. January 10 has been set as a tentative date and all articles are expected to be signed in the near future. Irslinger will have to make 158 pounds, but will have no trouble in doing so as that is his normal weight.

Montana Here December 28.

Bull Montana and Henry Irslinger will hook up here in a return engagement December 28. Manager Crosbie had to do some considerable heckling to get Bull to come back, but by arranging a match for him with Sailor Jack Woods for the 29th in Childress and another with Pet Brown in Temple a few days later, Bull wired "O. K." He has agreed to throw Sailor Woods in an hour in Childress.

There are many among the local fans who think that Bull was lucky to get his fall out of Irslinger here on his last appearance, and then there are those who believe that Bull would have gained the odd fall had he not been injured when Henry tossed him over his head. At any rate, it was a great battle while it lasted, and the next match should be even greater. A defeat at this stage of the game would be disastrous for Henry, but nobody realizes this more than Henry himself.

WICHITA HIGH GIRLS WIN BUT BOYS LOSE OPENER TO BELLEVUE

Fair Sex Saves Day For Locals By Handing Visitors 27 To 9 Lacing.

The Wichita High school basket ball season was ushered in Saturday afternoon when the local teams divided a double header with the Bellevue high squads on the local grounds. The Wichita girls' team took the measure of the Bellevue misses in the first game, 27 to 9, while in the battle between the boys' outfits Bellevue came out on the long end of a 31 to 25 score.

The Wichita girls made good their threat of wiping out the defeat administered by Burkburnett last week. They had things their own way from the first and left little doubt as to the final outcome of the game. The Bellevue girls fought with spirit, but were outweighed and outclassed. Miss Donagan for Wichita was the main luminary of the game, running wild beneath the baskets and tossing in counters at will.

In the game between the boys, the Bellevue quintet plainly showed better team work than the local five, but fell down considerably on basket shooting. Wichita, on the other hand, made good a large number of her shots, but displayed no team work to speak of and gave a woeful exhibition of defensive play. Practically all of Bellevue's points were made on short shots from beneath the basket, which by proper guarding, never would have been possible. Time and again the Wichita defense was drawn nearly to the center of the court, allowing the Bellevue forwards to scoot down the sides and into position for easy shots.

Harper and Johnson, the local forwards, were confronted with two real guards in the persons of Priddy and Davis, the Bellevue defensive pair, and, in view of the fact that they were compelled to help out considerably at the defensive end of their own team, played excellent ball.

The game was fast and occasional flashes of real basket ball were exhibited by both teams, but a multiplicity of ivory above the shoulders of the officials interfered seriously with the work of both teams. Fouls were called entirely too close to permit fast basket ball, and many of the penalties inflicted on both sides were without foundation. At one time Bellevue was allowed a free throw because the umpire contended that the official scorer had announced the score near the close of the game. Either team could have won the game on free throws which they missed.

The local quintet displayed real ability in spite of it's defeat, the offensive end showing up exceptionally well. Harper and Johnson both shot with fair accuracy and opened up with speed. However, the defense must be strengthened, for had Bellevue shown the ability to hit baskets that they should have they would have buried the locals.

The scores:

Girls.
Wichita Falls 27		Bellevue, 9
Fultz	RF	Smith
Donagon	LF	Walker
Holland	C	Thornton

America Will Send First Polo Team to England Next June

America is to be represented in England next June by a sextette of clever, hard riding, aggressive polo players, when the international championship matches at the famous Hurlingham polo field are held. H. L. Herbert, secretary of the Polo Association of America, announced last week that Louis E. Stoddard, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., J. Watson Webb and Devereux Milburn were the regulars selected to represent this country. Charles C. Rumsey and Earl W. Hopping will be the substitutes.

In the senior championships, held in Meadow Brook, L. I., last fall Stoddard played at No. 1 on the Rockaway team, while Htichcock, Webb and Milburn played at No. 2, No. 3 and back respectively on the Meadow Brook team. Rumsey played at No. 1 on the Meadow Brook team while Hopping was at No. 2 on Rockaway.

Mr. Herbert also announced that 50 ponies were being shipped to England. In speaking of the polo situation here in America he declared it to be in a most flourishing condition. He said that at many army posts, especially in the south, the game was being played extensively. Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, being one of the most active centers.

"PANTS" ROWLAND TO HAVE CHARGE OF COLUMBUS CLUB

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Clarence Rowland, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, today was appointed manager of the Columbus American Association team. The announcement was made by the Thomas E. Wilson Company, which recently purchased a half interest in the club.

Rowland will have complete and absolute authority over the club, with the idea of making it the strongest team in the league, it was announced.

ROWSON WILL BE ELIGIBLE TO PLAY FOR CHRISTMAS

FORT WORTH, Dec. 11.—News that half back Rowson, star ground gainer of the Texas Christian University eleven, would be permitted to play in 1921 by the Texas inter-collegiate association, was received here this morning and will mean a crack eleven next year, Coach Driver said. Rowson was first debarred at Thursday's meeting in Dallas, then yesterday this action was rescinded. He had not been permitted to take part in the last half of the 1920 season, because he attended A. and M. last year.

Players Planning to Revive Former Fraternity to Get Salaries Raised

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The cleaning process which, it is supposed, will speedily be applied to professional baseball may not be confined exclusively to the part of the employing or financing end of this sport. The parties of the second part (i. e., the playing profession) plan to do a bit of cleaning on its own hook. But this will be figurative cleaning.

It will be the sort of "cleaning" associated with the shorn lamb of Wall street or the untutored victim who falls into the hands of a race track tout. A figurative laundry process calculated to wash out the raiment of the magnates from as much gold as is possible to pan, while the magnates on their part are purging the sport of undesirables. In short, in the interests of liberal increases generally in the scale of major and minor league salaries, a new union is being drummed up by the playing fraternity.

To Resurrect Fraternity.

This will be nothing more than a resurrection of the defunct Players' Fraternity, of which David L. Fultz, now president of the International league, was the head in the piping times of war between the Federal league and organized baseball. The settlement of this particular war left the union high and dry.

A prominent major league player has asserted that the resurrection of the Players' Fraternity had been practically assured. For very evident reasons he wishes his identity withheld for the present. He produced certain documentary evidence to substantiate his claim that more than half the major league veterans had agreed to come in on the new deal, and that throughout the minor leagues the percentage of unionism was even more pronounced.

Because of the "outlaw" field of marketing services in the days of the Federal league there was not the same chance as now exists for a combine of the promoters to keep down salaries.

Stars to Hold High Offices.

The reorganized fraternity, it is said, will be run by active ball players. These will be stars of the very first magniture, whose will, very naturally, will carry great weight with the magnates. There are four or five gate attractions whose loss would be a greater blow than the money-making magnates dare consider for a moment. It is these Titans of diamond activity who must command the respect of the profession who will be given the high offices of the new union.

It is impractical, of course, to establish a union scale of wages. There is but one Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, George Sisler or Grover Alexander. But the new union purposes to operate under the idea of groups or classifications. It is planned to have salaries increased generally about 50 per cent. The fraternity will decide each year the rating of value as to its individual members by a process of statistics and observation. The Goliaths of the game are expected to be the last to sign each year (and yearly contracts henceforth will be the rule) only after the smaller fry have been guaranteed the rights voted them in salary rating by the fraternity board.

Few Players Have Signed Up.

The season of 1920 was the most successful, financially, baseball has ever known. It was so successful the magnates generally are now grumbling over the so-called exorbitant taxes that will have to be turned back to the government. The players figure that whatever increases they may be able to jimmy out of the hard-fisted magnates will cost these champions of clean sport little more than 50 per cent of the advance, as part of the overhead or operating expense will be exempted from the taxable sum.

Comparatively few players not held for next year by term contracts have been re-signed for next season. These were the aging veterans who could not be blamed for protecting themselves. But the big kick-back, the backers of the fraternity declare, will come early in the new year, after the new contracts have been mailed out. Unless salary terms offered are generously increased (in keeping with last year's profits) there is to be a big kick-back. The players are so determined to get in further with the melon cutting the fraternity idea may be carried to the extent of a general strike, if necessary, to carry the point.

WICHITA POLO CLUB ALREADY PREPARING FOR BIG TOURNAMENT

Final Word From Dallas Club Expected This Week—Fine Mount Bought By Jennings.

Warren Jennings, leader of the Wichita Falls Polo club, is awaiting final confirmation from the Dallas club relative to the match billed for Call Field next Sunday. Although the match is practically assured, definite word has not yet been received.

Jim Minnick and his band of rough riding cowpunchers have signified their intentions of taking part in the big tournament to be held here shortly after the first of the year and they promise to make competition keen. The team will represent the Lazy X ranch, a few miles south of Crowell. Minnick is well known in the polo world as a breeder of fine horses and is a past master at the game himself. He and his crew are a bunch of cup hunters and they usually get what they go after, according to Jennings.

Jennings took a trip to the ranch last week and purchased what he claims is the best pony he ever threw a leg over, and Warren has thrown his leg over many a piece of horse flesh. He states that his smooth line enabled him to talk Minnick out of the pony.

Jack Nelson, another member of the club, also purchased a couple of ponies last week, one of which was ridden by Slim Caskey when he shattered a few world's records for bulldogging at the recent Fort Worth rodeo.

All told, the Wichita Club now has 25 ponies which represent the equine factor of the game nearly as ably as the players do the human factor. All the ponies will be conditioned and trained by the players so that when the tournament gets under way everything will be in readiness for serious work.

The regular practice match between club members will be held at the Call field grounds this afternoon and an exceptionally good game is looked for as all the regulars but one will be on hand.

BLUE LAW REGARDING SUNDAY BALL CAN BE REPEALED IN JANUARY

Texas Ruling Will Be Of Little Good, However, If Congress Sanctions Proposed Bill.

It wasn't so long ago that many of this country's so-called "wise birds" shouted from the house tops that this country would never go dry and that nothing in that form could be put over on the Land of the Free. This was going on while the Eighteenth amendment was in its infancy. Just how far these birds missed their guess is now a sad but well known fact. Another movement is on foot at present that should be halted before it is too late.

The reformers now appear to be organized to make Sunday baseball a thing of the past. Just when these reformers will lay off is hard to tell, but it is up to the patrons of all sports and all baseball fans in the country to make them lay off before they wreck a large portion of the minor leagues in the country and take away the recreation that a large portion of the working men are able to enjoy only on Sunday.

Legislature Can Help.

Latest reports from Washington lead one to believe that congress will not entertain such a law, but latest advices from Texas seem to indicate that Sunday baseball is in a bad way in the Lone Star state. If the law is upheld or nothing is done by the state legislature in its January session, it will be a solar plexus blow to the Texas loop. That fact cannot be impressed too strongly on the Texas fans. It would come pretty close to putting the league out of business. If the "we-don't-worry" attitude is assumed the blue measure may be upheld.

The liquor interests refused to take prohibition seriously until it was too late and it behooves the baseball moguls to do a bit of lobbying now. A delay may prove costly. They must remember that in many states where the majority sentiment was against prohibition legislation, legislators betrayed the sentiment and ratified the Eighteenth Amendment.

West Always Liberal Minded.

The West has always enjoyed the reputation of having a liberal minded public. It has felt secure in the liberties it has enjoyed and to date there has been no evidence of a plan of campaign to combat the assault. Texans do not seem to realize that it is pretty near time to grip the bull by the horns. Of course, it is possible that the recent ruling of the court of appeals may not be as drastic as it seems, but nevertheless, there is a movement on foot throughout the United States to put the ban on Sunday baseball.

Many sport writers over the country have predicted that within five years professional boxing will be barred in every state in the union and they now fear that professional baseball will have all the kick taken out of it unless these bigots who are proposing the blue laws are kept in their cages. Anyway, eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

NATIONAL AGREEMENT WILL BE RATIFIED AT FUTURE MEETING

LANDIS, PEPPER AND TOOLE WILL DECIDE UPON FORM OF DOCUMENT.

DRAFT QUESTION WILL BE SETTLED AT LATER DATE

International League And American Association May Balk At Proposed Plan.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Major and minor league committees engaged in drawing up a new national baseball agreement early tonight delegated to Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, George Wharton Pepper of Philadelphia and John Conway Toole of New York, the task of deciding upon the form of the document. The trio met tonight and discussed the provisions of the tentative agreements that were presented to the committees today and will submit their report to the joint committees tomorrow. The general conference of the committee, which lasted all day, was attended by representatives of all the major league clubs except St. Louis and Chicago of the American league. Absence of President Ban Johnson of the American league occasioned some surprise and much speculation, until Judge Landis said the mixup regarding the proposed joint meeting of the two major leagues and the absence of President Johnson here today were due to him.

He explained that in his opinion it would be impossible to get through with the preliminary work before next week and for that reason he notified Presidents Johnson and Heydler that the joint session would be held in Chicago next Saturday. Before leaving Chicago, Judge Landis said President Johnson declared that anything the judge decided upon would suit him.

Joint Meeting Saturday.

Later Judge Landis announced definitely that the American league meeting would be held in Chicago next Friday, and that the joint ratification meeting would probably be held there Saturday, or, if delayed, either in Chicago or New York after New Years.

When the major and minor league committees met to take up the new agreement tentative drafts were submitted by President Heydler of the National league and John Conway Toole, attorney for the National league. The principal difference between the two was that the Heydler draft included the administrative details while that presented by Mr. Toole omitted these details, which he suggested might be incorporated in a separate agreement, thus leaving the code which is to be the general government of baseball in such form that it would cover minor league as well as major league baseball. Mr. Toole pointed out possible complications involving minor leagues under the proposed agreement presented by Mr.

Heydler, there was virtually unanimous agreement relative to the draft presented by Mr. Toole, which provided for either of the final forms of agreement, one to be between the two lesser leagues with provisions for admitting the minor leagues as an association, as a party of the agreement, and the other a three party agreement, the parties being the National and American leagues and the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues.

The plan suggested by Mr. Toole provides for a commission proposed by Judge Landis and the presidents of the National and American leagues as advisory members. Representative of the National association also would be a member in a similar capacity, if the minor league associations elect to come in under the agreement.

Landis to Have Final Decision.

Mr. Toole explained that provision is made for the settlement of disputes between two major league clubs or between major and minor league clubs, in the following manner: If the dispute to be between a club of either major league and a minor league club, it shall be acted upon by the minor league representative and the representative of the major league involved. In all cases, however, decision reached in such cases shall have the approval of Judge Landis. He is to make the decision in any case where the representatives whose leagues are involved fail to agree.

Under this plan President Heydler would have the say in which the National league or any of its clubs is not concerned and likewise President Johnson would not be called upon to sit in a case unless the American league or one of its clubs were involved.

It was announced that the committee was of one mind regarding the principle of drafting players from leagues of lower classification by those of higher classification.

The committee representing minor leagues, however, declared that it would not be able to bind all minor league clubs to a draft proposition unless a fair and satisfactory price were agreed upon.

In this case, the Baltimore club of the International league was mentioned, it being known that President Dunn of the club would not agree to any draft proposition.

Two Leagues Oppose Draft.

Secretary John H. Farrell of the National association, said he understood the American association and the International league, as organizations, were opposed to drafting of players, but it was thought that before the final session some amicable agreement will be reached upon this point.

It is understood that the class AA leagues will hold out for a price of $7,500 for players drafted from their clubs by the majors, but club owners of the American and National leagues have stated their opposition to such a high price because of the fact that players who have proved stars in the class AA circuits often have failed to make good in the major leagues when given the opportunity.

President Fultz of the International league, discussing the draft, expressed the opinion that such an agreement would not be binding on the clubs of his league, even though it were approved by the minor league committee. Other baseball men, however, did not agree with President Fultz's point of view and expressed the opinion that if a new national agreement is signed by the National and American leagues and the National association, all the last named would be bound by its provisions and those who failed to recognize these agreements would become outlaw leagues.

It is likely the draft question will be settled definitely as it relates to the International league at the meeting of that organization Monday.

Minor Leagues Pleased With Landis.

The minor leagues had no voice in the selection of Judge Landis as high commissioner of baseball, but their committee insisted that the proposed new agreement contain a provision which will give them a voice in the selection of a successor to Judge Landis in the event of his resignation or his office being made vacant by any other reason. The minor league representatives made it plain that, while taking this stand, they were pleased with the selection of Judge Landis and would have voted for him had they been given the opportunity to do so. Judge Landis agreed with the minors' viewpoint, and as there was no objection, it is likely the provision in the new agreement will give all parties to the agreement a voice in selecting the high commissioner in the future.

Judge Landis said he had not yet selected his secetary because he cannot afford to make a mistake in the appointment.

Latest From the Majors

Chicago.

The biggest event in Chicago during the week was the arrival of Johnny Evers to take charge of the Cubs. "Jawn" is said to have more real friends in the Windy City than any player who ever wore a Cub or White Sox uniform and over 1,000 fans attended the banquet accorded him upon his arrival. President Veeck is signing up all the young blood he can get his hands on and is planning to send Evers to the training camp in Pasadena with the full roster of forty players.

President Comiskey of the White Sox returned to Chi during the week after a vacation in the north woods and decided to send his club to Waxahachie, Texas, to train. He thinks he has grabbed a star in his new first baseman, Earl Sheely from the Salt Lake club and it has already been doped out that John Collins will play the outfield next year with Sheely guarding the initial corner. Other players recently signed who will attempt to fill the vacancy created by the "fate tempters" are George Bubser, former Chicago semi-pro player; Harry Haney, an outfielder from Florida and a pair of pitchers named McWhorter from the Virginia State league, and Jorgenson, a farmer collegian.

New York.

The Hornsby yarn is still popular around the Giant camp, but the Giants are still without him and are very apt to start the season the same way. McGraw has his hooks out for Rabbit Maranville and the chances for snapping up the Brave shortstop appear more favorable. Gotham fans sure would like to see Gancroft, Frisch and Maranville heaving the old apple at George Kelly. Rapp will fit in nicely, however, in case the deal does not materialize. The Giants will train in San Antonio again.

The Yankees made a game effort to land Joe Dugan from the Athletics by offering Wally Pipp, but Connie Mack would not fall. The Huggins crew is still looking for a training camp, though it is practically certain that Shreveport will get the call.

Philadelphia.

Connie Mack has signed up practically all his 1920 team and is better off in this respect than the majority of other managers. He made it evident during the week that he would not get rid of Dugan or any other good man on his club, though he would like to have Pipp cavorting around first. If he does not get Wally, he has decided to give Griffin another chance. Griff did not play the game at first he was capable of last year, and Connie will give him one more shot at the bag.

The biggest piece of news from the National headquarters was that President Baker had signed "Wild Bill" Donovan to manage the club next year, succeeding Gavvy Cravath. National league devotees in the Quaker city were glad to learn that Gavvy had caught on as manager of the Salt Lake club.

St. Louis.

The Cardinals are pipanning on taking 22 rookies to Orange to train, in addition to the regulars. It has been rumored that Heinie Groh may go to the Giants next season as he is not over-popular with the "powers that be" in St. Louis. He is expected to hold out again this year as he did last and Ricky will not stand for a repetition of last year's tactics.

A formal announcement of the new manager for the Browns is expected to be made at the American league meeting. The present dope has it that Fohl and Rowland will be at the helm although a dark hose is apt to be sprung.

Cleveland.

The spit ball rule is worrying Cleveland fans in that, if put into effect, it will just about ruin their mainstay, Stanley Coveleskie. As far as Cleveland is concerned, the fate of the world depends upon permission being granted the Polander to expectorate on the pellet. No definite announcement as to a training camp has yet been made.

Cincinnati.

Mystery is at pesent surrounding Redland. According to the latest dope, five of the former Champions are due for the axe before they leave for Cisco to train. No names have been announced yet, but there will be a grand uproar when the announcement does come. Garry Herrman is looking for a strong come-back after last year's off season.

Washington.

Baseball moguls in the capitol city are watching the blue law action with great interest. In fact, congressmen have been interviewed more of late than have the baseball heads. Thus far, the bigots are reported as having received nothing but the icy stare and the congressional leaders interviewed are of the opinion that the Sunday law will not be passed.

Boston.

The outlook for Mitchell with his band of Braves is more promising than the one Stallings had in 1914, but is nothing to brag about at that. President Grant is willing to dispose of any player on the team, including Rabbit Maranville, providing the general makeup of the team will be benefited. A few deals should be forthcoming in the near future.

Harry Frazee is busy denying rumors that the Red Sox club is being or has been sold. There's nothing to any one of them as far as Frazee is concerned although he would probably sell if he got his price. Who wouldn't?

Pittsburgh.

The Pirates, like the Giants, are trying hard to land Maranville and are talking of using George Whitted in the deal in some manner. Like the Rabbit of Boston, Whitted has worn out his welcome in Pittsburgh and would welcome a change. The Pirates are reported as having a wealth of material that could be used in trades and could give several men for one star.

Detroit.

Whether or not Ty Cobb will assume the managerial robes is the principal topic of conversation in Tygerland. Ty has until the fifteenth of this month to decide. If the Georgia Peach passes it up Clarence Rowland has been mentioned as a possibility. At any rate, Jennings' successor will be watched with more than passing interest.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO BANQUET WEDNESDAY

Number Of Outside Attorneys Are Expected—John C. Kay To Be Toastmaster.

Members of the bar association of this city will meet in a get-together banquet Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the Kemp hotel. Attorney John Kay will act as toastmaster.

Plans and means will be discussed for expediting the trial of cases and relieving the crowded dockets which are now confronting each of the three courts. It is expected a plan will be devised which will be recommended to the three district judges.

Plans are to the effect that a permanent organization will be formed at this time which will hold a monthly social meeting.

The banquet Wednesday night was planned for the purpose of bringing together the 125 or more members of the bar in this city. The program for the event will be announced Monday and it is expected that a number of lawyers from out of town will be in attendance.

SUNDAY BLUE LAW

If your face should not be long
You'll be pinched.
If you sing a merry song
You'll be pinched.
Should you be so indiscreet
As to whistle on the street,
By the copper on the beat
You'll be pinched.

If you smoke a cigarette
You'll be pinched.
If you make a friendly bet
You'll be pinched.
If you play upon the links
Or indulge in any drinks
You'll be flirting with the jinx
You'll be pinched.

If you tell a funny joke
You'll be pinched.
If your jimmy pipe you smoke
You'll be pinched.
It will be a mortal sin
If at anything you grin,
And they'll surely run you in—
You'll be pinched.

If to church you fail to go
You'll be pinched.
If you witness any show
You'll be pinched.
If you see a game of ball
Or upon a lady call
Or do anything at all,
You'll be pinched.

DEMPSEY TO DEFEND TITLE NEXT TUESDAY IN GO WITH BRENNAN

Men Have Met Before And Another Victory Is Predicted For Present Champion.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Jack Dempsey will be in the spotlight's glare here Tuesday night, when he defends his title in a 15-round renewal of hostilities against Bill "Knockout" Brennan. The fact that a decision will be rendered makes the event of championship importance, although it is considered entirely unlikely that the pile driving hitter from the far west will require 15 rounds in which to prove his superiority.

Brennan gave Dempsey the best fight put up by any of the champion's opponents, when it is considered that he lasted six rounds and went part of the way with a broken ankle. During the course of this battle Brennan, it was said, was hit on the jaw so hard that the impact twisted him sharply around, shattering a small bone. Bill, hobbled through taking many a resounding wallop and was slowly being shattered to a pulp when the referee decided that Brennan's ankle condition would not give him a chance and he stopped the slaughter.

This bout was one of the earlier ones in Dempsey's 1918 dash toward fame. Jack had previously knocked out that poor old hulk, Jim Flynn, and a nonentity, Homer Smith. Brennan surprised the talent by landing heavily on Dempsey several times and it is this fact that induces his manager to figure him a possible winner.

Brennan Hard to Put Away.

Brennan has fought some good bouts. He is tough and rugged and when in condition is hard to put away. He is a native of County Mayo, Ireland, and is 27 years old. He has been fighting seven years. His record contains plenty of knockouts of "weak sisters," but there is nothing in his list of engagements to justify a belief that he can stop a topnotch performer like Dempsey.

Brennan can take a tremendous beating and he will enter the ring better trained than for any of his previous contests. Fame and fortune surely await him if he can whip Dempsey, as the winner is to fight Jess Willard March 17 for the title and will undoubtedly also get a whack at Georges Carpentier.

Apparently there is no thought in the mind of either Dempsey or his manager that he will lose either to Brennan or Willard. One preliminary to the main event will be a bout between Kid Norfolk and Big Bill Tate, Dempsey's sparring partner. Norfolk is very much smaller than the giant Tate but is clever.

Want Ads on a Cash Basis

Classified Advertising in the Wichita Daily Times is on a cash basis except to real estate firms doing a considerable volume of business.

It will be impossible to accept want ads over the telephone, as much as the Times would like to accommodate its readers.

Because we cannot accept classified advertising except when accompanied by the cash is not meant that we question any one's credit.

TRY FOR JUNIOR ACCOUNTANT MAY, 1921,
AND FOR SENIOR ACCOUNTANT, NOVEMBER, 1921.

April 15 to May 15 is the period during which one-fourth of the year's business changes, re-adjustments, and building up of staffs are made.

If you have a faculty for figures and the crude stuff for the making of an accountant, there is just about time between now and April 15 next year for you, through suitable intensive training during your spare hours at home—to qualify for a junior accountancy position that will pay at least $35 a week.

And ample time to qualify before October, 1921, for position of senior accountant, auditor, or income tax expert, at a salary of at least $75 a week—with possibilities of more than twice that amount.

It is only a question of raw ability and industry, a resolute purpose to devote five spare home hours a week to intensive training in accordance with the most successful business training system ever devised, under the tutelage of a corps of eminent certified public accountants who are renowned as practical teachers.

We have given hundreds of ambitious earnest men and women the start that put them over the top, and have their records to point to with just pride. We can do as much for you if you are made of the right stuff. It is worth your while to investigate.

No. 9685—C.
CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
The State of Texas, County of Wichita. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon the Gasoline Refining Company and Fred Penn and Philip Martin by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county to be and appear at the next regular term of the 79th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in January A. D. 1921, the same being the third day of January A. D. 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 3d day of December A. D. 1920, in a suit brought on the docket of said court No. 9685-C wherein The Inter-Ocean Oil and Refining Company is plaintiff and the Gasoline Refining Company and Fred Penn and Philip Martin are defendants, and said petition alleging that on January 16, 1920, defendant Penn executed a promissory note to J. E. Brasfield in the sum of two thousand ($2,000.00) dollars payable six months from date with interest from date at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, that plaintiff is the holder of said note and that the same is now due and unpaid to the plaintiff's damage in the sum of two thousand, one hundred and thirty ($2,130.00) dollars; that on January 16, 1920, defendant Martin executed a vendor's lien note to J. E. Brasfield in the sum of four thousand ($4,000.00) dollars payable six months from the date with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, that the plaintiff is the holder of said note and that the same is now due and unpaid to the plaintiff's damage in the sum of four thousand, two hundred and eighty-six ($4,286.00) dollars; that between the dates of December 23, 1919, and June 6, 1920, plaintiff advanced monies and furnished labor and material to the defendant, the Gasoline Refining Company of the value of seven thousand, two hundred and seventy-seven ($7,277.70) dollars and seventy cents, that the same is now due and unpaid to the plaintiff's damage in the sum of seven thousand, two hundred and seventy-seven ($7,277.70) dollars and seventy cents. Plaintiff prays for judgment against the defendants in the sum of thirteen thousand, six hundred and ninety-three ($13,693.70) dollars and seventy cents for costs and for general and special relief. Herein fail not, but have before said court at its aforesaid next regular term this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 4th day of December A. D. 1920. A. F. Kerr, District Clerk. By Eunice Jackson, Deputy. TIMES DAILY MARKETS

New York Stocks—Grain and Provisions—Cotton—Livestock

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The cotton market was only moderately active but nervous and irregular today. Traders were conflicting influences in the news which increased the disposition to even up accounts for over Monday's government report, but spot houses were buyers of near months and after selling off to 15.62, January advanced to 15.88, or 5 points above last night's closing quotations. That delivery closed at 15.82 with the general market closing steady 7 to 30 points lower.

The market opened at a decline and weakened under scattering Wall street and local liquidation.

There was also southern selling accompanied by talk of an easier basis but pressure was not aggressive and the market rallied, on covering, and trade buying. January was relatively firm and the strength of this position had a steadying influence on the later months in the late trading.

Reports of progress with plans for financing export business and of increased activity in some of the southern mills were encouraging features in the day's news, but during the earlier trading were offset by unfavorable trade reports from New England and bearish week-end statistics. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was 167,540 bales, against 358,266 last year.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11.—A typical pre-bureau market prevailed in cotton today with prices depressed to a small extent practically throughout the session as the result of a small volume of liquidation from holders of long contracts, mixed with rather cautious short selling on the view that the government crop estimate Monday had to be at least moderately bearish. Toward the end shorts were inclined to realize profits and their buying caused almost a complete recovery. The close was at net losses of 4 to 7 points.

Liquidation of long contracts was felt in the early trading and the unfavorable tone of general trade news also had its effect. The opening was lower.

The tendency to decline was checked by a private crop estimate of 12,227,000 bales not including linters, and added steadiness came late in the day from hope of favorable progress by legislation to revive the war finance corporation.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Short covering was the main sustaining influence in coarse grains today, but the market showed a heavy undertone and eased off quickly on any good buying. The general run of news was somewhat unfavorable to holders. At the finish wheat was 1 to 4¼c above the previous close, with December $1.65 and March $1.59 to $1.59½; corn was unchanged to ¼c lower; oats a net gain of ½ to ⅝c and provisions ranged from 10 to 25c higher.

Reports of a liberal export demand for wheat with an oversold condition due to a decline of 20c from the high point of Monday, made an active and higher market. Houses with seaboard connections were good buyers. Greece taking 400,000 bushels.

There also was heavy buying by shorts. December showed considerable strength and gain on March.

Sample values showed little change and premiums were about the same as yesterday. Oats steered clear from the uptourn on other grains.

Coffee Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Coffee futures were very quiet today but prices were higher. The market opened unchanged to three points higher and closed 3 to 17 points up. December 6.80; January 6.72.

Spot coffee dull; Rio 7s, 6½ to 7¼c; Santos 4s 4@4c.

The official cables reported an advance of 75 to 100 reis in Rio and quoted Santos unchanged to 150 reis higher.

RAW SUGAR MARKET IS CONTINUING ITS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The raw sugar market continued to decline today, with holders disposed to liquidate even at the expense of prices. While there were no sales below the four cents a pound level for Cubas, they were offered at 3¾c a pound, which s the lowest level touched so far this year.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The stock market ended the week in more or less confusion and disorder by reason of renewed selling of the general list, including dividend and non-dividend paying rails.

Announcement overnight that the Boston and Maine railroad had proposed dividends on its preferred shares emphasized the recent statement of New England railway officials respecting the precarious financial conditions of the transportation companies in that section of the country.

Suspension of the dividend on Fisk Rubber drew renewed attention to the present state of the automobile industry and its related specialities and other news advices of the short session were mainly discouraging. Sales, 475,000 shares.

For the short session, there was a fairly large volume of trading in bonds, convertible or speculative rails responding to the further heaviness of shares of that class.

Total sales, par value, $10,425,000.

STRENGTH OF REPUBLICAN PARTY IN TEXAS IS FOUND IN COUNTIES WITH BIG FOREIGN POPULATION

ANALYSIS OF RECENT VOTE DISCLOSES SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

NEGRO VOTE DOES NOT FIGURE CONSPICUOUSLY

Counties Republican Practically All In the Southwest Part of the State.

By JOHN GOULD

Analysis of the returns from Texas counties in the election of November 2 brings out some noteworthy facts in connection with Texas politics. Just how significant these facts are, we must wait at least until 1922, and perhaps until 1924, to determine.

One fact shown by the returns is that republican strength in Texas is due, not to the negro vote, but to the foreign vote, notably that of German sympathizers. The average Texan is prone to classify the negro voter as a republican, and to count most republican votes as negro votes. But that rule will not apply.

There were 23 Texas counties in which the republican ticket had a plurality on November 2. With the exception of Lipscomb, in the northeastern corner of the Panhandle, all were South Texas counties, and most were southwest Texas counties. The republican counties were:

Republican Counties.

Austin, Bexar, Brazoria, Chambers, Comal, DeWitt, Edwards, Fayette, Fort Bend, Gillespie, Goliad, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kinney, Lipscomb, Maverick, Medina, Menard, Refugio, Wharton, Wilson, Zapata. Most of these counties are within a 100-mile radius of San Antonio.

There are seven counties in Texas where the negroes outnumber the whites, and it may be illuminating to see how these voted.

Fort Bend—White population 6,000, negro 11,000; 79 republican votes, 67 black and tan, 20 American party, 27 democratic.

Gregg—White population 6,000, negro 7,000; 1050 democratic votes, 251 republican, 177 black and tan, 29 American.

Harrison—White population 13,000, negro 23,000; 2134 democratic votes, 377 republican, 676 black and tan.

Marion—White population 4,000, negro 7,000; 430 democratic votes, 392 republican, 304 black and tan.

Robertson—White population 12,000, negro 14,000; 1634 democratic votes, 225 republican, 134 black and tan, 515 American.

San Jacinto—White population 4,000, negro 5,000; 520 democratic votes, 7 republican, 173 black and tan, 156 American.

Walker—White population 7,000, negro; 788 democratic votes, 404 republican, 148 black and tan, 375 American.

Black and Tan Lead in Two.

In Gregg, Harrison and Robertson counties, the democratic ticket had a majority; in each of the others except Fort Bend, where very few of either color went to the polls, the democratic ticket ran well ahead of any of the other factions. In only two of these overwhelmingly negro counties did the black and tan ticket run ahead of the regular republican nominees.

There are 27 counties in east and south Texas where the percentage of negroes is well over 25 per cent of the total population, and in some of these, such as Washington, it is almost equal to the white population. These counties went democratic except where they went for the American party ticket. Only in Washington county did the republican ticket show strength.

The main strength of the republican party is found to be, not in the negro counties, but in those where there are large German and Bohemian settlements.

Votes as He Pleases.

The question might be raised, how does the negro vote? The answer is found in the figures given for the heavy negro counties and may be summed up by the words "pretty much as he blame pleases." Probably in a larger number of cases than one would imagine, he votes democratic. If not, his ballot will be cast according to the local influences. The negro voter did not look with particular favor upon the branch of the republican party that was supposed to be particularly his own, the black and tan faction. It ran behind the regular republican ticket pretty consistently in the negro counties.

One interesting development of the election is that the republicans, having polled over 100,000 votes, must now make their nominations by primary instead of through the convention system, as the state election laws provide that parties of such strength must abandon the convention plan. Almost simultaneously with the announcement comes evidence of a well developed move in the democratic party to abandon the primary system, and go back to the old system.

Not the First Time.

It was not the first time that the republican vote in Texas exceeded 100,000; in both 1896 and 1900 it passed that figure, the republican vote in those years coming more from the larger cities where business men felt that the monetary plank in the democratic platform was unsafe.

Political writers agree that the republican party in Texas has no cause for celebration in having attained such size that it must hold primaries; it is believed that the primary system will lessen, rather than increase, the G. O. P.'s chances of becoming a real factor in Texas politics.

The movement in the democratic ranks for abolition of the primary system is giving expression to an undercurrent of anti-primary sentiment that has existed for many years. Those who favor returning to the convention plan point to results, rather than to any principles involved.

Elected by Primary System.

Since the primary system was adopted, Texas has had as governors Thomas M. Campbell, O. B. Colquitt, James E. Ferguson, and William P. Hobby. It is generally conceded that of the four, Campbell served most efficiently in the governor's chair. M. M. Brooks, C. K. Bell and O. B. Colquitt opposed Campbell in the 1906 primary. Colquitt in his successful race in 1910 was opposed by R. V. Davidson, William Poindexter and Cone Johnson.

Whatever one's individual opinion of the merits and demerits of the primary system governors may be, the statement will hardly be challenged, that none of them was the best material Texas could produce for a governor. And there would seem to be some basis for the opinion that the average of gubernatorial ability, since 1906, has been below that of the days of Hogg, Culbertson, Coke, Roberts and many others of the old convention days. These views are shared by a number sufficiently large to give considerable impetus to the government to erase several bulky chapters of election laws from the statutes.

The Dallas News recently came out editorially in favor of a return to the convention system, and its stand has been endorsed in many quarters. It goes without saying, however, that such a movement will meet with vigorous opposition, and it is doubtful if it will meet with success for several years, if ever. From a standpoint of democratic principles, all the argument is on the side of those favoring the primary; from the practical standpoint, the argument is mostly the other way.

COMMERCIAL BODIES JOIN TEXAS CHAMBER

Initial Steps To Merge Taken At Meeting Of Managers At Vernon.

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—The initial step in a movement to merge the regional commercial bodies of the state with the Texas chamber of commerce was taken in Vernon when general managers of five municipal associations met in answer to a call sent out by the Vernon chamber of commerce. A resolution to this effect was signed by secretaries of the Vernon, Electra, Quanah, Childress, and Chillicothe chambers of commerce.

The resolution, which will be presented for adoption to the chambers of commerce in each of the above named places and which will be sent to the three regional organizations, the East Texas, West Texas and Panhandle Plains, and to the Texas chambers reads as follows:

Whereas, the organization genius of America has expressed itself politically in the forms of national, state, and municipal governments, this pattern was followed by the business interests of this country in planning their organizations. Wherefore we have a national chamber of commerce, state chambers, and town chambers corresponding to our national, state and municipal governments.

Whereas, the various departments, bureaus, and commissions of the national government are accustomed to dealing with, and acting for, representatives of states as units, the change in political parties in control of our government means that Texas will need a strong and thoroughly representative state commercial organization to obtain from federal agencies proper service.

Whereas, sectionalism is no more to be desired in a state than factionalism in a city, sectional chambers of commerce foster sectionalism. The principles of good business demand that the organized commercial interests of Texas conserve their resources by stopping duplicated effort. Therefore, be it resolved that it behoves the business interests of Texas to consolidate their sectional chambers of commerce into one state-wide commercial organization, thereby making it more powerful. This organization should be departmentalized in accordance with the agricultural, industrial, transportation, civil, labor, publicity, financial, organization, and other needs of Texas. This state chamber of commerce should have district offices sufficiently numerous and properly distributed to serve the entire state.

The idea of these five men in starting such a movement for merging the three regional commercial bodies of the state with the state chamber of commerce is to eliminate the expense of operating four general offices for doing work that could be done through one; and thus providing a surplus of money for the establishment of other and stronger departments under the one central body.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Special music will be an interesting feature of both services Sunday at the First Baptist church.

In the morning Carl Jester of Fort Worth, a singer well known in New York musical circles and also musically prominent among several of the leading western cities, will sing several numbers. Mr. Jester was in charge of the music at Camp Travis during the war. Another special number for the morning service will be the duet, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" (Henry Smart), sung by Misses Jones and Bartlett, popular local singers.

In the evening the Wichita Falls male quartette, Messrs. Murchison, Ray, Von Allmen and Bullington will sing "The Story of Old" (Parks). This number is also very much looked forward to, as the quartette has contributed some of the most highly appreciated numbers on several musical programs recently. For a second special number, Miss Ina Dollarhide of Vernon will sing "The Lord Is My Light," the words from an arrangement of the twenty-seventh Psalm, with music by Francis Altsen.

All parties holding bills against Bowman Lake Creek Telephone Co. will please submit such bills to secretary of company by Dec. 20, as company is being dissolved. Signed—E. E. Simmons, pres.; Mrs. A. J. Evans, sec. 213-3tp

PARTY OF RAILWAY OFFICIALS MAKE INSPECTION TRIP OVER DENVER AND WICHITA VALLEY

A party of railway notables consisting of H. R. Stafford of Chicago, assistant president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and seven officials of the Fort Worth and Denver, to-wit: E. F. Clarity of Fort Worth, vice president and general manager; S. A. Covington of Fort Worth, general superintendent; Gen. John A. Hulen of Fort Worth, traffic manager; R. C. Gowdy of Denver, chief engineer; M. A. Stainer of Fort Worth, resident engineer; J. Pfeiffer of Fort Worth, superintendent of motive power, and B. Violett of Fort Worth, general roadmaster, was in Wichita Falls Saturday and made an inspection and business trip over the Fort Worth and Denver and the Wichita Valley roads. The official party was accompanied over the former road by Superintendent E. F. Lott of that line, and over the latter by O. E. Maer, superintendent of the Wichita Valley.

Katy Officials Visit City.

Several officials of the M., K. & T. Ry. were in Wichita Falls Saturday looking over local railway facilities, and left the same day for Denison. The party consisted of W. M. Whitenton, assistant chief operating officer; L. E. Martin, assistant chief engineer; H. E. McGee, general manager; M. Atkins of St. Louis, general freight agent; E. Hanna, superintendent, of Denison, and J. C. Hill, division engineer at Denison.

Superintendent F. W. Grace of the M., K. & T., and Trainmaster C. Mansfield have just returned from a trip over the line.

John Battle arrived here from Sedalia, Missouri, to assume the duties of roadmaster. He is an old Katy employee.

Surplus of Equipment.

For the first time in many months the railroads report a surplus of equipment, and the M., K. & T., which may be safely regarded as representative of the western roads, moved seven per cent more freight in November than in the corresponding month last year.

Although there is a noticeable falling off in business generally over the country which is reflected in the tonnage handled by the railways, the American roads handled more tonnage in 1920 than in any other year in their history with the single exception of the year 1917, which was our first year in the war.

Expect Heavy Car Demand.

The Katy is anticipating a heavy demand for cars in the spring owing to the great volume of crops yet to be moved, and to the road building programs in so many parts of the Katy's territory. Although more grain was raised in this territory in 1920 than in 1919, grain shipments have been much less, owing to the fact that the grain is being held off the market wherever possible. This grain must move at some later period, and it may be reasonably expected to move in the spring to make room for the new crops and to finance the spring work.

In view of these conditions and probabilities the roads are urging the shipment of such freight as may be conveniently moved now, rather than the delay of such shipment till the expected congestion in the spring. In the words of a prominent railway official, "The forehanded shipper may help himself materially by moving traffic now, when he can do so without loss or serious inconvenience, rather than wait until too many people are again wanting to ship all at once."

Trains Make Good Time.

The M., K. & T. records show that in May of this year 91 per cent of its passenger trains made schedule time, in June 94 per cent, in July 93 per cent, in August 94 per cent, in September 89 per cent, in October 89 per cent, and in November 91 per cent.

Reduce Freight Crews.

Local railroads have curtailed expenses by reducing the number of freight crews and night telegraph offices, on account of the decrease in business. A prominent railroad man in discussing the situation said that the business stagnation is due to the cotton situation in west Texas and to the lowering of market prices and the public's disinclination to buy. These causes, he believes, have combined to make the merchants feel their way cautiously, only ordering the things that they have immediate sale for, and this has materially affected the amount of freight handled by the roads.

Railroad Personals.

F. P. Hall, a Wichita Falls man, who has been agent for the M., K. & T. at Frederick, Oklahoma, has beentransferred to the Texas Central district and promoted to the position of general agent, with headquarters at Waco.

Captain H. F. McFarland of Graham, Texas, chief engineer of construction on the Wichita Falls and Southern railroad, is in the city on business.

W. P. Rutherford of Chillicothe, Texas, traveling freight agent for the Orient railroad, was in the city Saturday visiting the different railroad offices and discussing the freight situation.

Walter Brown, of the Southern Hardware company, St. Louis, was in Wichita Falls Saturday selling railway supplies.

H. W. Locke of Parsons, Kansas, formerly of this place, who holds the title of special agent for the M., K. & T. lines, is in the city on business.

BEN BELL IS TO LEAVE FOR BILLINGS, MONTANA.

Ben Bell will leave Sunday for Billings, Montana, where he will be stationed as land man for the Sun Oil company. His family will remain here for the winter and will join him at Billings next spring.

SPECIAL PULLMANS TO RANGER MEETING

Arrangements Made To Handle The Crowds To Annual Session Of West Texas Chamber.

STAMFORD, Dec. 11.—At a conference of business men representing Abilene and Stamford held here agreement was made for the use of special Pullman cars to make up a special passenger train to be operated between Wichita Falls and Ranger to handle the great west Texas chamber of commerce crowds which will attend the organization's third annual convention February 7 and 8. Probably four to six Pullman's will be used by the delegations from these two cities alone. It is planned to operate a special train from Wichita Falls over the Wichita Valley via Abilene, stopping at the intermediate towns to pick up the crowds.

"We expect not less than 2,000 members of this organization to be present at the Ranger convention, which does not include a large number of other west Texas citizens and persons from other parts of the country who will come," declared General Manager Porter A. Whaley. "Attractions, entertainment and big programs which are the fare for the occasion is expected to bring a large crowd.

Among the thrillers will be the shooting of a large oil well at Breckenridge, the crowd to be transported from Ranger to that place on special trains provided free by the Breckenridge chamber of commerce.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Lake Wichita Division 736, B. of L. E., December 8, the following resolutions were presented and adopted:

Whereas, Almightly God, having taken from us our fraternal brother, T. R. Cook, who in the line of duty and brotherly love, in the intercourse of life, was kind and helpful and one who did a man's work in a man's world; therefore,

Be it resolved, that in the death of our brother we have reason to mourn the loss of one who was faithful and true to every obligation, to his faith to his family, to his fellow man, to the B. of L. E., and especially the members of Division 736, and the memory of Brother Cook will long be cherished by those who know him. His loss and helpful counsel at our division meetings will long be felt, and we cherish the hope that we shall meet again in the light of a brighter and more perfect day; and

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the division and published in the daily press, and a copy furnished the family of our deceased brother. A. C. Bennett, M. H. Barwise, L. R. Fanning, committee.

TOTAL OF $1,341.41 REALIZED SATURDAY FROM THE "TAG DAY" FOR CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

A total of $1,341.41 was realized Saturday from the "tag day" for the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society. While the amount is very gratifying to those interested in this work, it is not at all surprising to those who noted the number of tags in evidence on the streets during the day.

Miss Lorrine Salvester turned in the largest amount secured by a single individual, her efforts adding $106.92 to the fund. Miss Fay Green was a close second with $100.02 to her credit. These young ladies were stationed at the corner of Ninth and Indiana. Little Miss Marie Corder, unassisted, raised $39.55 at the corner of Eighth and Indiana.

Mrs. J. A. Kemp rendered valuable assistance in directing the work of the volunteers, spending the day at headquarters, and superintending the distributions of the cans used in making the collections. Miss Pauline Nicholl was also a valuable worker in directing the girls who were assigned to the downtown streets.

A feature of the day, as expressed by the young ladies following the day's activities, was the splendid sprit manifested by the public, which contributed much to the encouragement of those engaged in undertaking and rendered their work more of a pleasure than otherwise.

Those in charge of the campagn give much credit for their success to the hearty co-operation of Ira D. Brown, who kindly volunteered his place of business as headquarters for the work during the day.

The Children's Home and Aid Society has accomplished remarkable good for helpless, starved, underfed and poorly clothed children throughout this section. The work has been especially noticeable in the oil fields, where Miss Katherine Hendricle, secretary of the local branch of the organization, has found many pitiable cases. The Wichita Falls Rotary club not long ago raised a small fund to continue the work, after investigating and learning of the fine results being obtained by Miss Hendricle. The ladies of the Civic League also have interested themselves and are holding a charity ball at the Kemp hotel on the night of December 21, the proceeds from which will be applied to the care of children found deserving of aid from the society.

Local citizens gave generously Saturday for the privilege of being tagged in the interest of the society—or rather, the interests of childhood generally. Very few men or women refused to heed the plea to help some child, the poverty or neglect of whose parents might result in a stunted mind and a starved body.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1920.

It is quite a different personality that appears from a New York Tribune dispatch concerning Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman-elect from the Muskogee district of Oklahoma, from that most of us gleaned from earlier dispatches. Miss Robertson is a very highly educated woman instead of a mere caterer to the human appetite for foods, as one might judge from her vocation as owner of a restaurant. She is possessor of a master of arts degree from Elmira College, Boston, social-welfare worker, domestic science teacher, the first stenographer in Eastern Oklahoma, did graduate work in Carlisle and taught there two years to fit herself for work among the Indians, and later taught in Henry Kendall College at Tulsa. Originally and actively opposed to woman suffrage, after Oklahoma adopted the suffrage amendment, her attitude was that "the men have thrust the vote upon us, and now I am going to see whether they mean it," and her candidacy for the republican nomination for congress in a district usually safely democratic was her way of testing it. She got the nomination, because there wasn't much contest for it; and then she beat the democratic congressman because she was personally popular and because she worked to the one end of beating him. Miss Robertson, we predict, will make a lot better showing in congress than did the first woman member—Miss Jeanette Rankin from Wyoming, wasn't it?—because she has demonstrated that she has ability in every one of the several executive positions she has filled, and she has no false ideas about feminism, but expects to render a real service to her constituents.

A Massachusetts congressman already is preparing for "a drive" against "grandfather clauses" in the constitutions of several southern states and other means by which the south has, he thinks virtually disfranchised the negro, and will seek to assess a penalty against the south, and incidentally against the democratic party, by reducing southern representation on the basis of the vote in the regular elections. We rather think, however, that the Massachusetts congressman will find that his task will be very much more difficult than it would have been a few years ago, for there are many parts of the north today with a very much better understanding of the south's problem than they used to have, and with that better understanding has come a greater sympathy. And parts of the west, where they have a racial problem of their own, can be counted upon, we believe, to give not only sympathy to the south, but active support in opposing any punitive measures offered by members whose attitude is due either to downright ignorance or a partisanship that would inflict deadly wrong for party advantage. President-elect Harding, moreover, is committed to the idea of breaking up the historic political solidarity of the south. The Massachusetts member's bill, by demonstrating anew that there is still an element in the republican party which regards the south as "conquered provinces," increases the improbability of the success of the president-elect's hopes; its passage would make it forever impossible.

The fact that Arthur Griffith, sinn fein leader, has gone so far as even to communicate with the British government is regarded as significant and indicative of the fact that the sinn feiners have abandoned their idea of murdering their way to freedom. Griffith wrote Lloyd-George, asking details of his ideas for the restoration of peace in Ireland—a very great concession on the part of the sinn feiners in view of their previous attitude of no dealings whatever with the British government. The British premier has invited dealings with the sinn feiners to the end of effecting a reconciliation and a permanent settlement of the Irish trouble through mutual concessions. Responsibly placed persons on both sides of the Irish controversy have inevitably recognized the futility of the methods in use, insofar as offering any hope for a final disposition of a very serious difficulty confronting both the English and Irish. This realization ought to make it easier for them further to realize that concessions must be made to avoid bringing on a real crisis, the effects of which might not stop in either Ireland or the United Kingdom. Once there can get together a meeting of leaders on both sides really desirous of effecting a settlement and admitting that methods used have been wrong and prejudicial to a settlement, there would be hope of bringing about peace. The world is hoping that the lead given by Griffith will be accepted by Lloyd-George, and that out of the conference may come some mutually satisfactory compromises that will end the tragic trouble that has upset the affairs of both Ireland and of the United Kingdom.

It would seem that every former Texas University student would count the benefits he received from that great institution as being worth his support at least to the extent of becoming a member of the "Texas Exes," whether he becomes a contributing member with the Alcalde for a year in return for his $5 or just a signatory member with no dues and no duties except to count himself or herself a member of his county branch of the organization. It isn't well for a body to get so old he loses all touch with the time when he was younger; membership in the Texas Exes and once-in-a-while attendance upon its gatherings will help all of us to stay young a while longer. There should be a general response from Texas Exes and University Alumni to the campaign, the purpose of which is to include every last one of them in the ex-Students' Association.

That democratic majority which Texas gave in November is a bright spot in an otherwise somewhat dark chromosphere. With a lot of counties still unaccounted for, the total vote was 488,706 and of those the democratic electors received 289,688, a majority of 174,048 over the republicans and a majority over all of 90,670—a bit short of the minimum of 100,000 we were counting on, but we'd "a" had that if the whole democratic roster of counties had turned in their totals. Texas seems safely democratic for some time to come, having overcome attacks from both outside and inside in the recent past!

Eddie Cicotte is being called on to pay $2,200 income tax on the $10,000 he is alleged to have received for "throwing" the 1919 world series games. And even that probably will not end the punishment for him.

Jess Willard announces that he plans a real "come back" in his fight with the man who snatched away his championship laurels at Toledo over a year ago. They have to hatch up something like that to create an interest in the fight and get a crowd.

Bankrupt Statesmanship.
(New York World.)

No Irish campaign of political murder has ever brought any benefits to the Irish people.

No British campaign of coercion has ever been successful or made the Irish problem less difficult of solution.

Yet, with those two indisputable historical facts before them, sinn fein Ireland is engaged in wholesale murder, and the British government is engaged in wholesale coercion and reprisal.

Outside of soviet Russia there are no other such conditions in the world that used to call itself civilized as those existing in Ireland today.

The sinn feiners describe the situation as one of civil war, but it is not civil war. Civil war implies organized forces responsible to a definite authority and fighting in the open. Killing men in their beds is not civil war. It is murder, and nothing can make it anything else.

Although the Lloyd George government refuses to recognize the Irish uprising as anything more than a disturbed condition of the peace, it has encouraged a policy of reprisals which are nothing more than counter-assassination. The answer to murder is due process of law. No government that pretends to respect law can afford to deal with murder by the primitive process of destroying towns and killing innocent and guilty indiscriminately. When the British authorities attempt to suppress Irish murders by a series of police pogroms they confess that the great British administrative system, which has long been one of the bulwarks of civilization, has broken down.

It is plain enough that the Irish will never succeed in murdering their way to independence, and it is equally plain that the British government will never succeed in driving the Irish back to the status quo at the point of the bayonet. Both methods are equally futile, and in the circumstances both are equally criminal.

As for accomplishing any good for Ireland, the sinn fein leaders have failed utterly; but the British government has likewise failed, and failed ignominously. It has shown itself incapable of satisfying the Irish or of pacifying the Irish. Instead of making matters better it has made them worse. That ought to be as apparent in Downing street as in Dublin.

Tomorrow the house of lords is to vote on the Irish Home Rule bill, which has already passed the house of commons, but the bill is dead and can never bet put into effect. Whatever their differences about everything else may be, all the factions of Ireland are united in their opposition to this measure, and without the support of the Irish themselves the bill is only so much waste parchment. The one outstanding fact is that under Lloyd George British statesmanship is bankrupt so far as the Irish question is concerned. It can govern Ireland neither by law nor by force, and can find no solution of the Irish problem except anarchy.

Artists And Art.

We got to talking art one day, discussing in a general way
How some can match with brush and paint the glory of a tree,
And some in stone can catch the things of which the dreamy poet sings,
While others seem to have no way to tell the joys they see.

Old Blake had sat in silence there and let each one of us declare
Our notions of what's known as art, until he'd heard us through;
And then said he: "It seems to me that any man, whoe'er he be,
Becomes an artist by the good he daily tries to do.

He need not write the books men read to be an artist. No, indeed!
He need not work with paint and brush to show his love of art;
Who does a kindly deed today and helps another on his way,
Has painted beauty on a face and played the poet's part.

Though some of us cannot express our inmost thoughts of loveliness,
We prove we love the beautiful by how we act and live;
The poet singing of a tree no greater poet is than he
Who finds it in his heart some care unto a tree to give.

Though he who works in marble stone the name of artists here may own,
No less an artist is the man who guards his children well;
'Tis art to love the fine and true, by what we are and what we do;
How much we love life's nobler things to all the world we tell."

Time Budgets.

"I can't see where on earth the time goes. The days simply fly by without my getting half I want done."

"I seem to be busy from morning until night and yet I don't seem to accomplish much."

"I must write those letters, but I simply can't find time."

How often one hears complaints like the above. "How to live 24 hours a day" is the next most difficult problem to "How to live on an income that won't buy half what it used to."

And the only way really to solve either problem is to go at it systematically, scrutinizing each item of expenditure with a judicial mind. Most of us have tried that on our financial problems, but how about our time one?

Has the lady who said, "I can't see where on earth my time goes to," ever inspected her daily time expenditure and found out just where it did go? Probably not.

Or else she would have unquestionably learned "something to her advantage" as the delightful old personals used to read.

She would perhaps have discovered that the 15 minutes she visions herself as spending over the morning paper, is really nearer 40 minutes. She would very likely have found that several hours a week of that mysteriously disappearing time goes into telephone conversations. She would perhaps have been astonished to discover how much time the making of elaborate desserts takes; or how many hours she spent shopping for an article that she ultimately got only a few cents cheaper than she might have bought it at the first place she looked; or just how much more time it takes to do her hair an elaborate way than it would in a simpler fashion; or how much time some long tolerated household inconvenience eats up.

Now, mind you, I am not condemning any of these usages of time. That is a matter one must decide for one-self. I am just suggesting that it is interesting to know what one is spending one's time for, so that one may consider the whole situation and make up one's mind whether one is getting the most possible pleasure and profit out of one's time income.

It isn't always easy to decide this. In my own life there is a problem which I have often faced but never satisfactorily disposed of. I know where too much of my time goes—into sleep. I always feel rebuked when I read the Psalmist's reproachful "Yet a little slumber, yet a little folding of the hands to sleep." And still it does seem to me that that extra hour (I want six hours) adds to my efficiency in my waking hours. Every now and then I rearrange my time budget and cut that hour out. And then I get tired and put it in again. With the help of mental science I hope some time to cut it out altogether and be more like Solomon's ideal woman who "Riseth also while it is yet night."

But there are other ways in which I have increased my time efficiency by stopping small leaks, and I have found the results well worth the effort of. Try it—if you haven't already.

WHY?—

Is "Blackguard" a Synonym For "Rascal"?

(Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

A number of centuries ago the palaces of kings and nobles were by no means as well furnished and as clean as they are at the present time. It was therefore customary, when members of the royalty or nobility visited each other, for the guest to bring with him all his kitchen utensils, pots, pans and even a certain amount of coal. The scullions and other lesser retainers had charge of these goods, rode among them, were smutted by them, and were referred to by the contemptuous appellation of the "black guard."

In time the word came to be understood as meaning any troop or company of ragamuffins, and finally, when its original meaning had been buried in the lore of centuries, it was applied to a single person as an epithet or opprobrium—as being synonymous with a rogue or rascal who would stop at nothing in order to attain his ends.

RIPPLING RHYMES
By WALT MASON

Sunset Of Life.

I'm waxing old, I've reached the gloaming, the coming night its shadow flings; and here I sit, my whiskers combing, and moralising on all things. The young go by, the dancers, laughers, the singers of life's morning hymn; and I'm unlike some other gaffers; for envy makes their eyes grow dim. Some graybeards watch the young in sorrow, and long to tread their shining ways, and sigh, "Youth always has tomorrow, but age has only yesterdays." The wintry dusk seems rather tragic, but I would cry, "Nay, nay, my dear," if some kind fairy, with her magic, would take me back to yesteryear. I once was young and full of trouble, in trackless wilds I went astray, and every bright hope proved a bubble, my idols all had feet of clay. I had no tranquil eves or mornings, all day a weary load I bore; the road was marked with solemn warnings, left there by failures gone before. Oh, youth was full of fire and fever, and love was false and vows askew, and every hope was a deceiver, and only bitter dreams came true. And now I sit, with a valise full of bottled grapejuice by my side; the closing hours are calm and peaceful, and slumber comes at eventide.

HOROSCOPE

The stars incline but do not compel
(Copyright, 1913, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Sunday, December 12, 1920.

Until late today the planetary rule is unimportant, according to astrology. In the afternoon Jupiter dominates with a kindly power.

Under this government of the stars persons who live much in thought should benefit.

Clergymen, orators and statesmen have the best possible direction, making for access of zeal and increase of achievement.

There is a sign that promises much reading of books on science and economics and a widening of the circle of men and women who hold advanced views.

Mars mildly hostile changes from adverse to friendly sway, thus disturbing the poise of the human mind that is dominated by this powerful planet.

Men and women are likely to disagree seriously while this configuration prevails. Arguments will be readily started and will lead to naught.

Again changes in the churches are prognosticated. Those that represent the extremes of religious faith will prosper most in the coming year. One of these is the oldest and the other is the newest creed presented to mankind.

The seers declare that since selfishness is the ruling passion of the time, it must be eliminated before it is possible for a nation to reach its highest achievements.

Leaders of women will develop in the next few months, and one of these will climb to an exalted place, it is prophesied.

The cause of children will focus attention from this date on, astrologers forecast. Thus Christmas will have a special significance this year.

Emphasis on truth will be strongly recommended and constantly preached in the next few weeks, owing to a strange event.

Persons whose birthdate it is will have a very successful year, but they must not enter into litigation of any sort.

Children born on this day may be endowed with sarcastic wit, but they are likely to be extremely gifted and very fortunate.

PHONOGRAPH EXPERTS who have heard the Widdicomb say that the Tone Amplifier marks a new epoch in the musical development of the Phonograph industry.

For the first time in Phonograph history the Widdicomb Amplifier does full justice to the lower as well as the higher musical tones.

When playing an Orchestral record on the Widdicomb, the deeper, richer tones are given equal prominence. This is a feature readily appreciated by music lovers. It is largely responsible for the ever-growing demand for the Widdicomb Phonograph by true music lovers and those that appreciate Fine Art in period designs. The fact that

TAX PAYERS SLOW IN SETTLING WITH CITY

Only $41,157.50 Paid With Twenty Days Remaining In Which To Avoid Penalty.

City tax collections are not coming in as rapidly as they should, according to City Tax Collector Anderson, who reports that over $650,000 in tax valuations are still unpaid for the fiscal year 1920. And what is still more noticeable, but twenty days remain in which the assessments may be paid without being rendered delinquent.

The records in the tax collector's office show that thus far in December only $41,157.50 has been paid into the treasury. This subtracted from the $650,000 leaves the total of $608,843.50 which must be paid by local citizens by December 31.

Mr. Anderson has stated that he believes the line of would-be tax payers on the last night will reach from the city hall to the Security National bank and has used this as a plea to the citizens of Wichita Falls to visit his office while there is still plenty of room at the window.

In spite of its apparent "bad order," the tax situation this year is better than at the same time in 1919, according to Mr. Anderson. He estimates that in December, 1919, only about one-third of the amount which has been paid this month has been received, which would mean but $13,713 was paid at the last of 1919.

Mother and Baby Found by Roadside On Thursday Night

A mother and baby who narrowly escaped death from exposure Thursday night are in the Wichita General hospital. Her husband was notified Friday morning, and while she is still very ill, it is expected that both the mother and child will be able to return home in a short time.

Attention was attracted to the two Thursday night when a child's crying brought a local carpenter, on his way home late at night, to a lonely path between the railroad tracks and the rear of Curlee and Johnson's new addition. The baby was new born, and the mother unconscious. The carpenter ran to his home, two blocks away for his wife, and the two returned to the woman's assistance. She was carried to their home and a neighbor summoned, who got his car in readiness to take the two to the hospital. They were taken there immediately. The woman did not regain consciousness sufficiently to make it clear who she was Thursday night, but said she wanted to go home, and that home was several miles distant.

Saturday morning officials at the General hospital stated that they knew the woman, and that her relatives had been notified. It was supposed she was on her way home when the baby came, before it was expected. The mother had stayed conscious long enough to wrap a thin covering which she had probably been wearing herself, about the child for protection.

SANTA CLAUS HAS ARRANGED WITH "PA" AND "MA" BURDICK TO RECEIVE CHILDREN'S LETTERS

Santa Claus has made arrangements with Pa and Ma Burdick of the Salvation Army to receive mail from his young friends in Wichita Falls from now until Christmas. He has also assured Pa and Ma that he will come to the Salvation Army's Christmas tree and distribute Christmas gifts to the children of Wichita Falls.

The letters should be addressed as follows:

Santa Claus,
Care Salvation Army
P. O. Box 443,
Wichita Falls, Texas.

The time for the Salvation Army's Christmas tree has not been definitely fixed but will probably be on the night of Christmas day or the Monday night following Christmas. The entertainment will be held in the hall at the Salvation Army citadel and the biggest tree that can be found will be in place.

Will Provide Baskets.

Ma Burdick said Saturday that the Army would this year have Santa Claus provide for gifts to more children than ever before in Wichita Falls. A larger number of Christmas baskets will also be provided. These will be distributed on the day before Christmas. They will contain all the necessaries for a Christmas dinner and also provisions.

The Salvation Army will put out its Christmas kettles on December 15. The kettles will be kept ringing until Christmas eve. While contributions will be solicited on no other way checks or other contributions received will be welcomed and will serve a good purpose.

Ma Burdick has taken the responsibility of seeing that the letters to Santa Claus from every child who might not reach him except through the Salvation Army gets to its destination. She will welcome the names and addresses of such children who may not write.

There's not going to be any camouflage about this sale. No bunk about reducing the high cost of living, or about getting back to normal, no stall about too much stock, or anything of that kind. Just the cold, cruel statement that we need the money.

MONDAY WE ARE GOING TO SELL $75,000 Worth of

Some job, we admit, but not impossible, especially when one looks at the prices. Herewith are listed 100 pieces of Diamond Jewelry selected from our immense stock with a view of matching everyone's desire and pocketbook. Several of these pieces the platinum mountings alone are actually worth more than we are asking for the piece. Why do we do it? Just to clean up, just to get on Restful street.

AND TELL THE GOD'S HONEST TRUTH

THE MONEY

What has become of the old fashioned banker who a year or two ago used to slap us on the back of a morning and say: "What's the matter Sam, can't you use a little more money in your business. Remember, we've got plenty to loan?"

Diamonds In One Day

We are not broke, and we are not going broke. Our business this season so far, actually shows a gain over that of last year. But every oil man, especially, knows that longing to get where one does not need to worry. A feeling that one would gladly sacrifice a good deal to get away from the care. That's our position in this sale. We are going to sacrifice, and we are going to do it by making one slash that will do the job up right now.

Wichita Falls, Texas

At the Churches Today

Lamar Avenue Baptist Church.
400 Lamar. This will be our second day in the new building, although the building is not complete we are holding services in it. There was a large attendance last Sunday and we hope for a larger one each Sunday. Sunday school at 10 a. m., Fred Cone, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. Subject for the morning service, "Some Bonds That Hinder." A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend these services. A. J. HOLT, Pastor.

First Presbyterian Church.
The pastor will speak morning and evening. Subject for morning sermon will be, "Evenly Balanced." At night, "Left-handed Folks." If you are not acquainted with the location of the First Presbyterian Church look for the electric sign on Tenth street. Good music always. Strangers welcomed. N. F. GRAFTON, Pastor.

Church of the Good Shepherd. (Episcopal.)
Holy communion, 8 a. m.; church school, 9:45. Good classes for everybody. Fine adult class to which you are welcome. Confirmation class, 9:45; morning service, 11:00. Bishop Moore will be present. A class for confirmation will be presented at this service. Evening service Olympic theatre, 7:30. Bishop Moore will be the preacher. The motion picture "Fires of Faith" will be shown. Everybody welcome to all the services of this church. You must come early to the Olympic services if you want good seats. FRED T. DATSON, Rector.

Floral Heights Methodist Church.
Try our Sunday school. Our people are wide awake. Newly organized choir under direction of Mr. B. R. Ellis and Mrs. Mary B. Adams assures us of some good music. A worthwhile league. Pastor's subject at 7:30 will be, "Thinking God's Thoughts After Him." It is our purpose to make every service a distinct blessing to you. You will be glad you came. W. L. TITTLE, Pastor.

Seventh Day Adventist Church.
Floral Heights Presbyterian Church, Kemp Boulevard and Avenue G. Bible study Saturday at 3 p. m.; subject, "A Call to Prayer." Sermon on Sunday night, at 7:30; subject, "The Second Coming of Christ; Its Manner and Purpose." Written Bible questions will be answered before each service. Special music will be rendered on Sunday night by the orchestra. You are cordially invited. GEORGE W. SPIES, Pastor.

First Baptist Church.
Sunday school 10:00 a. m., W. C. Ashford, Supt. We cordially invite you to become a member of one of the classes of this school. 11:00 a. m. preaching by the pastor; subject, "Now." Duet, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by Misses Bartlett and Jones. 7:30 p. m., preaching by the pastor; subject will be, "The Overcoming Man." In this sermon I will discuss the struggles and triumphs of pool boys and girls, who had no chance. Come and bring your friend to this service Messrs. Murchison, Ray, Von Allmen and Bullington will sing "The Story of Old." We assure you that you will greatly enjoy the singing of this quartet. We give you a cordial invitation to attend the service.

Church of Christ.
Corner Tenth and Austin streets.—Bible school at 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11:00 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. We believe the gospel is the power of God unto salvation; and that the love of God as manifested in the sacrifice of Christ and the hope of eternal life will draw men unto Him. Hence we are not studying to make some new sensational announcement each week, as an appeal to idle, morbid curiosity. But we offer the words of eternal life to all who desire to hear. The preacher's commission reads, "Preach the Word."
J. EARLY ARCENEAUX, Minister.

Floral Heights Epworth League.
The Epworth League of the Floral Heights Methodist church will begin their service promptly at 6:30 Sunday evening with a snappy song service. Short talks and good musical numbers make the program an excellent one. You are invited.

International Bible Students Association.
Will met at Labor Temple, 703 Travis, room 10, to study Leviticus 8:14-33 at 10:30 a. m. and at 3:00 p. m. to study "The Author of the Atonement." All are welcome to bring your Bibles and study with us.

Central Presbyterian Church.
Eleventh and Bluff.—Sunday school at 9:45. Everybody on time to sing the first song. The subject of our morning hour of worship will be: "Our Mexican Home Mission Opportunity." Rev. Walter S. Scott, of Taylor, Texas, who is advance field evangelist to the Mexicans in this state, and Rev. Herbert Penn, a native Mexican minister, will both have part in the service. The pastor will preach at the evening service. Junior Endeavor will meet at 3:00 p. m. and Senior Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. We want you at any of these services.
GUY DAVIS, Pastor.

First Christian Church.
Corner Tenth and Travis streets.—Bible school 9:30 a. m. Morning worship with sermon 10:30. Young Peoples Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. Evening worship with sermon 7:30. The subject for the evening services will be "Believing a Lie—or the Great Delusion." What is a lie? Noted characters of the Bible will be called to account for their lies. Some of the lies that are common in every day life will be laid bare and the dangers pointed out. The sermon will be down to the minute. Everybody invited. A cordial welcome awaits you. There will be a special musical program Chorus will sing at both morning and evening services.
J. LEM KEEVIL, Pastor.

Trinity Lutheran Church.
Corner Fourteenth and Bluff streets.—Sunday, Dec. 12; Regular Sunday school at 9:30. No service, as the pastor has to preach at Vernon. Next Sunday, Dec. 19, all members are urged to be present for a meeting after morning service. Important matters have to be discussed.
W. UTESCH, Pastor.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Mo. Synod)
Eleventh and Holliday streets.—Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock the Christmas program. Morning services children will meet to practice the in the English language at 10:30 a. m. Subject, "Christ Is Truly the Messiah Who Should Come." Berea Bible class will have their Bible study meeting at 7:30 p. m. On Wednesday and Friday afternoon the children will again meet for practice. Everybody is cordially invited to worship with us. Come and hear the scriptural proof that Jesus Christ is the true Messiah and Saviour of the world. Our Bible class is increasing rapidly and the studies in St. John are creating more interest every Sunday. Won't you come? You are welcome always. Bring all of your friends with you.
C. M. BEYER, Pastor.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services. Pupils up to the age of 20 years are welcome to the Sunday school.

First Methodist Church.
Seventh and Lamar. Plans for the Christmas program are working out well, but the committee needs you to help. Make your plans to be on hand church day, which is December 12, when the first quarterly conference of this year will be held at 7:30 p. m Sunday—9:45, Sunday school; 11 a. m., sermon, "Cure for the Moral Paralysis of the World." Evening, 7:30, "Christ the Light of the World." Come and meet the pastor and be assured that he is anxious to be of help wherever needed. This pastor will respond to any call for his services, and can be found in the study or reached by phone. Come to the services next Sunday and let us study together the need of this city to make for less crime. Bring your friends to all the services.
T. S. PITTENGER, Pastor.

Evangelical Church.
Corner Fifteenth and Broad. Sunday school 10 a. m. Preaching 11 a. m. by the pastor. All members of Mrs. Ross's class, "The King's Daughters," are requested to meet at the church at 2 p. m. for drill practice. The juniors and younger children meet at the church at 3 p. m. for practice. Y. P. A. at 6:45; leader, Miss Emma Maier; subject, "Wise Things That Have Helped Me." Preaching at 7:45 by the pastor. We insist all members attend these services, and a hearty invitation and welcome to strangers and visitors.
REV. GEO. L. TRABANT.

Notice to King's Daughters.
Last Sunday being the last Sunday on the old attendance chart, and only one scholar—Miss Tinsy Elliott—having a perfect attendance record, will receive a prize. We will start a new chart December 12 and run three months, and let's see how many of us can have a perfect record when this chart is filled. Be sure and come and get your first star. Your teacher,
MRS. B. B. ROSS.

Floral Heights Presbyterian Church.
Kemp boulevard and Ave. G. Rev. Geo. K. McKnight, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, will preach at the 11 a. m. service on the subject, "Four Visions." Services also at 7:00 p. m. Everyone in this vicinity who does not attend anywhere else is given a hearty invitation to come and worship with us. All Cumberland Presbyterians are urged to come for the morning service that we may talk over things pertaining to our church. We are looking for you.
(Rev.) GEO. K. McMACKIN.

New Thought Society.
Because the Jewish synagogue is to be used for a special service by the Jews Sunday evening, the New Thought society will have its meeting Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The subject is "Blessed Be Drudgery." All comers will be welcomed. If you do not know what New Thought is, come Sunday afternoon to the corner of Eleventh and Burnett and find out.

Any service that a sound, well managed bank can render you, the City National Bank of Commerce can extend to you, and will do it with a spirit of courtesy that wins your friendship as well as your confidence. 213-1tc

COUNTY WILL PAY OVER $300,000 IN EXCESS STATE TAX

Wichita county will pay over $300,000 more than her proportionate share of state taxes through the higher assessment of Wichita county property this year, according to Gus Reininger of San Antonio, field manager for the Texas League for Uniform and Equal Taxation, who is spending several days in Wichita Falls. Last year Wichita county paid at least $150,000 more than her just share into the state treasury, Mr. Reinenger told the business council of the chamber of commerce Friday.

Mr. Reininger is going into the figures for Wichita county and is finding many facts that ought to interest Wichita county tax payers and the patrons of the public schools in the rural districts. Wichita county paying into the state school fund for the rural aid many thousands of dollars more than the county receives in this aid. Mr. Reininger declares that if the constitutional mandate regarding school funds is applied that Wichita county will get at least twenty-five times as much rural school aid as at present.

Wichita county this year has contributed nearly one-third of the increased valuations of the entire state of Texas, according to the report to the secretary of state. The total increase in Texas valuations was approximately $65,000,000. Of the total Wichita county contributed more than $20,000,000.

SAN ANGELO PARTY HERE TO INVESTIGATE ROAD CONSTRUCTION

A committee of three men from San Angelo were in Wichita Falls Friday inspecting the methods employed in the construction of the new concrete highway to Lake Wichita which is now nearing completion. The committee was headed by J. G. Murphy, better known as Pat, who is now county road commissioner of Tom Green county, of which San Angelo is the county seat. County Engineer Beaver and Commissioner Reed made up the remaining personnel of the committee.

Tom Green county recently voted, and has now sold, a bond issue of $825,000 which is to be used in the construction of concrete highways. The inspection trip to this city was for the purpose of investigating the apparatus used by the local contractors in the building of the Lake road.

County Road Superintendent J. M. Isbell spent the day with the visitors, taking them over the entire territory which is to be covered by the new road and explaining the methods being used in the construction of the highway.

The narrow guage railroad which has been employed to haul materials to the scene of operations came in for a close inspection by the Tom Green county men, who were said to be greatly impressed by its evident efficiency and usefulness. It was intimated that such a railway would be built for the work near San Angelo.

The party left Wichita Falls late Friday evening.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE TO ORGANIZE IN OTHER STATES

FARGO, N. D., Dec. 11.—With the election out of the way and the legislative program largely settled upon, A. C. Townley, president of the non-partisan league, will devote most of his time to organizing in other states from now on, according to league leaders here. William Lempke, newly elected attorney general, and vice-president of the league, will direct the legislative work of league members at Bismarck, it was said.

A state committee has been named to work with Lempke and other league leaders in carrying on the work in North Dakota.

Townley will assist in organizing Minnesota, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado, and other states where organization work is under way.

WILDCAT TERRITORY REPORTS INDICATE MUCH ACTIVITY BUT NO OUTSTANDING DEVELOPMENT

Nothing startling developed in the oil industry in and around Wichita Falls district last week. A few wells were brought in in the proven districts but no completions were announced in wildcat territory.

The Donehoo-Raysor well has finally been reported as dry and abandoned. The well has been shut down for some time and it was stated yesterday that drilling operations have been given up.

Salt water is said to have broken into Bass and Dillard's well on the Riggs in Archer county. This well has been watched with considerable interest owing to the fact that it was thought a new territory had been opened up by the Bissonet & Cizaux well some tim ago. Thus far salt water has broken into both of the latters' wells on the Parkey as well as into Bass and Dillard's.

The Chapman & Clark well in the South Bend district in Young county was reported as on top of the sand around 2100 feet. It was rumored yesterday that the well was already in, but the report could not be confirmed. Several other wells in Young county are near the sand, but no completions were announced for the week.

Three new locations on the Burnett in the Electra district were reported by the Bryan Oil corporation and the Gladiolus Oil Company made two new ones.

Following is the most recent report on wildcat activities:

Archer County.

According to the latest report received from Bass and Dillard's No. 1 well on the Riggs in Archer county, water was being bailed around the 1765 foot mark.

Preparations were being made to abandon the Bissonet & Cizaux Nos. 2 and 3 wells on the Parkey ranch around 1760 feet. Salt water broke into both wells. Their No. 1 on the Riggs was still reported as rigging up.

Dee & Bellport's No. 2 on the Mangold is shut down around the 1908-foot mark.

R. O. Harvey's No. 1 Ferguson was drilling around 1720 feet and the formation was reported as different from that found at the same depth at the Bass and Dillard well.

The J. E. McCauley et al No. 1 Griffin was drilling around 1310 feet.

The Sun Company was rigging up tools for its cable tool test on the Farmer tract. According to present plans this will be a 3,000-foot test.

Wilbarger County.

The Staley Green Drilling company was cleaning out around 2109 feet on the Dill lease.

The Pyramid Royal company was drilling in the lime around 1925 feet on the Wharton.

The Penn Burk Oil company's No. 1 on the Hurt was shut down around 1590 feet.

The Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas company was reported as setting 6⅝ casing around 1975 feet at the No. 1 Waggoner.

The McAdoo, Oaks & Shaffer No. 1 Wharton was shut down around 1800 feet.

The Gulf Production's No. 1 George was reported as drilling in the shale around 2200 feet.

The Atwood & Reeves No. 1 Waggoner was shut down around 2100 feet.

The American Eagle Oil & Gas company's No. 1 English was reported as dry and abandoned at 2100 feet.

The Aetna Oil company was drilling around 1965 feet on the Goss tract.

Wichita County.

The Western Crude Oil company's No. 1 Troutman was reported as drilling around 1090 feet.

Tools in the hole forced the F. R. Weatherford Oil company to temporarily shut down the No. 1 Weatherford.

The Twin City Oil Syndicate is preparing to move in a star rig at their No. 1 well on the Guinn farm. Casing was set around 1240 feet.

The 2,000-foot rotary test being sunk by the Texas National Oil company on the Rathgber was reported as drilling around 200 feet.

The last report from the Spur Oil company's well on the Hirshi is that 5 3-16 casing is being pulled around 2400 feet.

The Southern Production company's No. 1 Munger has been standardized around 1750 feet and the hole is now being cleaned out preparatory to setting a liner.

Casing was pulled at the Smith et al's No. 1 well on the Potter Lewis and the hole was being reamed to 1500 feet.

The Ryan Petroleum company's No. 4 on the Nance was reported as bailing and swabbing from a 1300-foot sand with indications good for a 50-barrel well. The No. 3 well was drilling around the 2000-foot mark.

The Red Eurk Oil company had a fishing job around 1200 feet on the Mattie Parker.

Pruitt et al's No. 1 Mitchell was shut down around 700 feet.

W. H. Prince's new location on the Mattie Parker has been drilled into about 240 feet.

The J. Pat Pope company was moving in a rotary to begin operations at the No. 1 Bruce.

The Muleberger et al's No. 1 Hope was reported as drilling around 1700 feet.

Casing was being pulled to abandon the Magnolia Petroleum Co's No. 1 on the McFarland.

Kane and Garrett's No. 1 on the Mattie Parker was drilling around 940 feet.

The No. 1 Mitchell, being drilled by Readington et al was drilling around 925 feet.

The Great States Petroleum company was drilling around 1240 feet at the No. 1 Mundon.

The Flagg Oil Co.'s well on the Mattie Parker was near the sand and drilling around the 1300-foot mark.

The East Wichita Oil Co.'s No. 1 on the Honaker was reported as underreaming around 2500 feet.

The Donehoo Raysor Oil Co.'s No. 1 Middleton was reported as dry and abandoned at 1200 feet.

A star machine was being moved on at the Cline Oil Co.'s No. 2 well on the Mattie Parker. The well is reported as down about 1250 feet.

The Cauble Oil Co.'s No. 1 Dale was reported as having a fishing job around the 2550-foot mark.

Montague County.

The last report received from the Big Six Oil & Gas company's No. 2 well on the Dunn farm in Montague county states that the well has passed the 1700-foot mark.

Clay County.

Drilling operations have been resumed at the Wichita Littlerock's No. 1 well on the Douthitt in Clay county and the well has passed the 2,000-foot mark.

Salt water broke into the Sylvester Oil company's No. 1 Kempner and it has been shut down around 2700 feet.

The Lone Star Gas company has spudded in about 20 feet at the No. 2 well on the Edrington.

The Gurten Oil company was reported as drilling around 2490 feet at the No. 1 Franke.

The General Oil company's No. 1 on the Shafer lands has been shut down around 3100 feet.

Cook and Milton's No. 1 Martin & Walker has been shut down around 2250 feet and the hole junked.

The Blue Grove Oil company is now fishing for junk around 2300 feet at the No. 1 Nutter.

The Ashland Oil company has set 8-inch casing around 1170 feet on the Joyce ranch and is preparing to rig up cable tools.

KELLER BROS. OIL CO. BUYS TRANSYLVANIA COMPANY INTERESTS

NOCONA, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—A deal of considerable interest to Montague county and the Red river district is reported to have recently been consummated by the terms of which the Keller Bros. Oil company of Kentucky, a corporation with a capital stock of $6,000,000 fully paid, becomes owner of the interests held by the Transylvania Company, which is interested in Wyoming and Montana fields and will devote attention to their interests there. Transylvania holdings in Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana are said to have been included in the deal, but not their properties in Mexico. In taking over these interests, the Keller Bros. Oil company becomes interested in the northwest extension at Burkburnett, the Texhoma field and in the K. M. A. district. These properties will be further developed as will also their holdings in the Homer, La., field. Their development program includes a test in the old Beaver valley holdings in the Kaufman county school lands, which, according to information given the writer, is to be started by March 1, 1921. This company has considerable shallow sand production in Kentucky and is building a refinery of 5,000 barrels capacity near Bowling Green, Ky.

Taking into account the projects that are under way; that is, apparently nearing completion in being put over for an early start in next year, and by strong and responsible companies together with other projects that are shaping, it may be said to be reasonably certain that 1921 will do a lot for Montague county. The good showing of oil and gas found in the Nocona well at 2,340 feet and the encouraging results in a sand coming in at 2,190 in the Simms Oil company well on the Bud Reed farm in section 14-7s-5w and about a mile back from the river on the Oklahoma side indicate that these formations carry a saturation of oil and gas which is important and is pretty certain in both cases to lead to such development as will find the rich spot which should be somewhere in the vicinity of each well, and here geological dope may be of assistance in determining locations. It may be said here that several anticlines in this district have been mapped and that most if not all of these will get from one to two or more wells during the coming year, and it is hardly probable that all these will not be oil-bearing. In fact, statistics show that 65 per cent of the geological locations either are paying wells or find enough oil and gas to lead to opening a field, and it can hardly be probable the rule will be broken against Montague county, when the indications are it should go the other way.

The Big Six well on the Dunn farm southwest of Nocona has set the 8-inch casing around 1,800 feet and is waiting for a string of 6¼. This well had a showing of oil and gas at about 1,450 feet. Interests increases as it gets nearer the depth of the good showings found in the Simms and Nocona wells. These were both in probably what corresponds to the Cherokee shale in Oklahoma and Kansas. The Cherokee shale is about 400 feet thick in Kansas and in the vicinity of Okmulgee it increases to around 600 feet. In this formation, which is overlaid by the Oswego or Fort Scott lime, is found most of the oil-bearing sand of the Kansas and Oklahoma fields, including the Bartlettsville sand. The Cherokee shale should come in the neighborhood of 2,000 to 2,100 feet, and its thickness will have to be determined as development work proceeds, though present well logs indicate 500 to 600 feet.

TIMES FORCE ACKNOWLEDGES BOX LUCIOUS APPLES FROM FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY

The Times force is indebted to A. S. Fonville of Springdale, Arkansas, for a box of luscious mammoth black twig apples from his orchard there. Mr. Fonville is spending several days in Wichita Falls and a carload of apples from his orchard is now being handled here by R. L. Yates.

Mr. Fonville has one hundred acres in orchard on his place near Springdale, and the car now here is the twenty-third shipped from his orchard this season. Another car that will be shipped soon will complete his crop.

Mr. Fonville, who for many years was a merchant here, is well pleased with his new home in Arkansas and is finding the apple growing business profitable. The shipment of apples now here is made up mostly of the mammoth black twig which are exceptionally large and juicy.

Mr. Fonville reports that one of the leading grape juice manufacturers will build a plant at Springdale and that extensive plans are being made for the growing of grapes in that section.

DENY INJUNCTION IN SERVICE CAR CASE

Ordinance Regulating Operation Of Cars For Hire Goes Into Effect Immediately.

Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court Saturday afternoon refused to grant to A. L. Givens, owner of Givens' Auto Service, an injunction restraining the city from enforcing Ordinance No. 331, which was originally passed by the city council early last month as a measure to license and regulate service cars in Wichita Falls. The matter, which has been before the court for several weeks, is of particular interest to service car drivers with stands in the downtown district and to many property owners in the business area of the city.

Givens, who was represented in the case by Clark and Hughes, contended that the ordinance in question was in conflict with both the state constitution and the constitution of the United States, and that it was "oppressive, unjust and unconscionable," and its enforcement would "render his property worthless, destroy his business and do him irreparable injury." These views, however, were not held by Judge Martin who, after reading the complaint and argument and hearing the presentation of the city's case by City Attorney E. M. Mann, declined to grant the injunction.

The ordinance, therefore, will go into effect imemdiately. It provides among other things that for each service car in operation the city shall receive an annual license fee of $25; that certain stands shall be designated in the license for each car; that a written bond of assurance shall be obtained by the owner of each car, and that a certain schedule of prices designated in the ordinance shall be maintained.

Notice of appeal was filed by Givens' attorneys.

NEW WELL NORTH OF THE SIGLER DUSTER WILL BE DRILLED

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—The Triangle Production company expects to spud in at a very early date, probably next week, a well not quite 2300 feet west and a little north of Sigler No. 1, according to J. E. Watts, manager. The Triangle company is the old Buckeye reorganized. This new well, is is expected, should prove the most interesting test yet put down. While a number of dusters have been dug in other directions not one hole in this direction condemns the field. A number of tests have been started along a line slightly northwest of Sigler No. 1, but none of them has reached a depth sufficient to prove up the field.

Buckeye No. 1, of which Mr. Watts and his associates were promoters, found oil sand. "We are confident this well is very near the pool," Mr. Watts said. "Whether it is to one side or not yet at sand depth, we cannot say. We know there is oil in this pool, though, as we have bought $14,000 worth of it for drilling purposes."

The land on which the Triangle well is be drilled is a 40 tract which was purchased recently from the Sigler interests. It is in section 98 in which Sigler No. 1 is located, and is 12 miles southwest of Vernon. The erection of a derrick for a Triangle test was started the first of this week, and as soon as it is completed, the company plans to start drilling, continuing operations until the field is proved to their entire satisfaction.

COMPLETE CABLE FOR ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

Business District Will Be Brilliantly Illuminated First Time On New Year's Eve.

The last foot of cable for the new ornamental street lighting system was laid Saturday, according to John Donald of the city engineer's office, who is supervising the installation. Practically all of the material for completing the system is in the warehouse, with the exception of a number of porcelain switches. There are enough of these switches on hand, however, to complete at least two circuits on the system, and the others are expected before the system is ready for operation.

Although it was originally planned to turn on the new lights on Christmas night, there is a substitute plan now on foot to delay a few days and flood the business section with light on New Year's eve, and to celebrate the event with a quiet little home street carnival. As the light are in a sense indicative of the general growth and development of the city, and unquestionably will add a great deal to the attractiveness of the business district, it is believed by a number of city officials and prominent business men that a little celebration is now in order.

Depositors of the City National Bank of Commerce receive every courtesy, service and assistance within the range of prudent banking. Moreover, all customers are treated equally, no partiality being shown to any. The bank has only one class of service, and that is the best. 213-1tc

CHIROPRACTIC

The Chiropractors are to be tried in the courts again tomorrow for practicing medicine without license.

Not as a defense for our action, but as an explanation which we think due the thousands of people who have employed Chiropractic, and who apparently intend to continue to employ it in treatment of whatever ills they may have, we desire to call attention to a few things in connection with the present cases.

In the first place, our present prosecution seems more the result of one man's prejudice than a general demand for the upholding of the law. There are twenty-eight cases filed against the several Chiropractors, and in every instance the complaint is signed by the same person.

And this, too, in spite of the fact that four or five grand juries have convened within the past couple of years, every one of which had before it the question of Chiropractic, and every one of which failed to find bills.

As to practicing without a license. We deny that we are practicing medicine. The present medical law of Texas was framed before Chiropractic was discovered. It provides that to get a license a practioncioner must have had four years course in a medical school and must pass an examination in knowledge and use of drugs.

As Chiropractic employs no drugs it can be readily understood why the Chiropractic schools do not teach their use, and equally readily appreciate why a Chiropractor would not care to take an examination in knowledge and use of drugs, especially before a medical board made up of drug doctors.

A Chiropractor uses absolutely no drugs and employs no surgery. It is a science more in the nature of physical culture, but because it brings health to the sick, and because we practice it to make a livelihood, Dr. Walker complains. (His complain does not state whether it is because of the good results we have had or because of the living we are making). However, he will probably make it all clear on the witness stand next Friday.

It has never been the purpose of the Chiropractors to defy the law. When Chiropractic was discovered every state in the Union was in exactly the same position as Texas is now. Early day statutes covering medicine were on the books, and but little was known of the new science. It took actual demonstration of the science and an accumulation of results to bring it prominently before the public to the end that at the present time twenty-eight states have already revised their medical laws to permit the practice of Chiropractic, and bills will be introduced in every other legislature this winter. In Texas we hope to have the active support of Gov. Neff, who has already made much favorable comment on the results of Chiropractic, as well as many of the ablest members of the house and senate, who are already converts to the science and who employ it in their own homes.

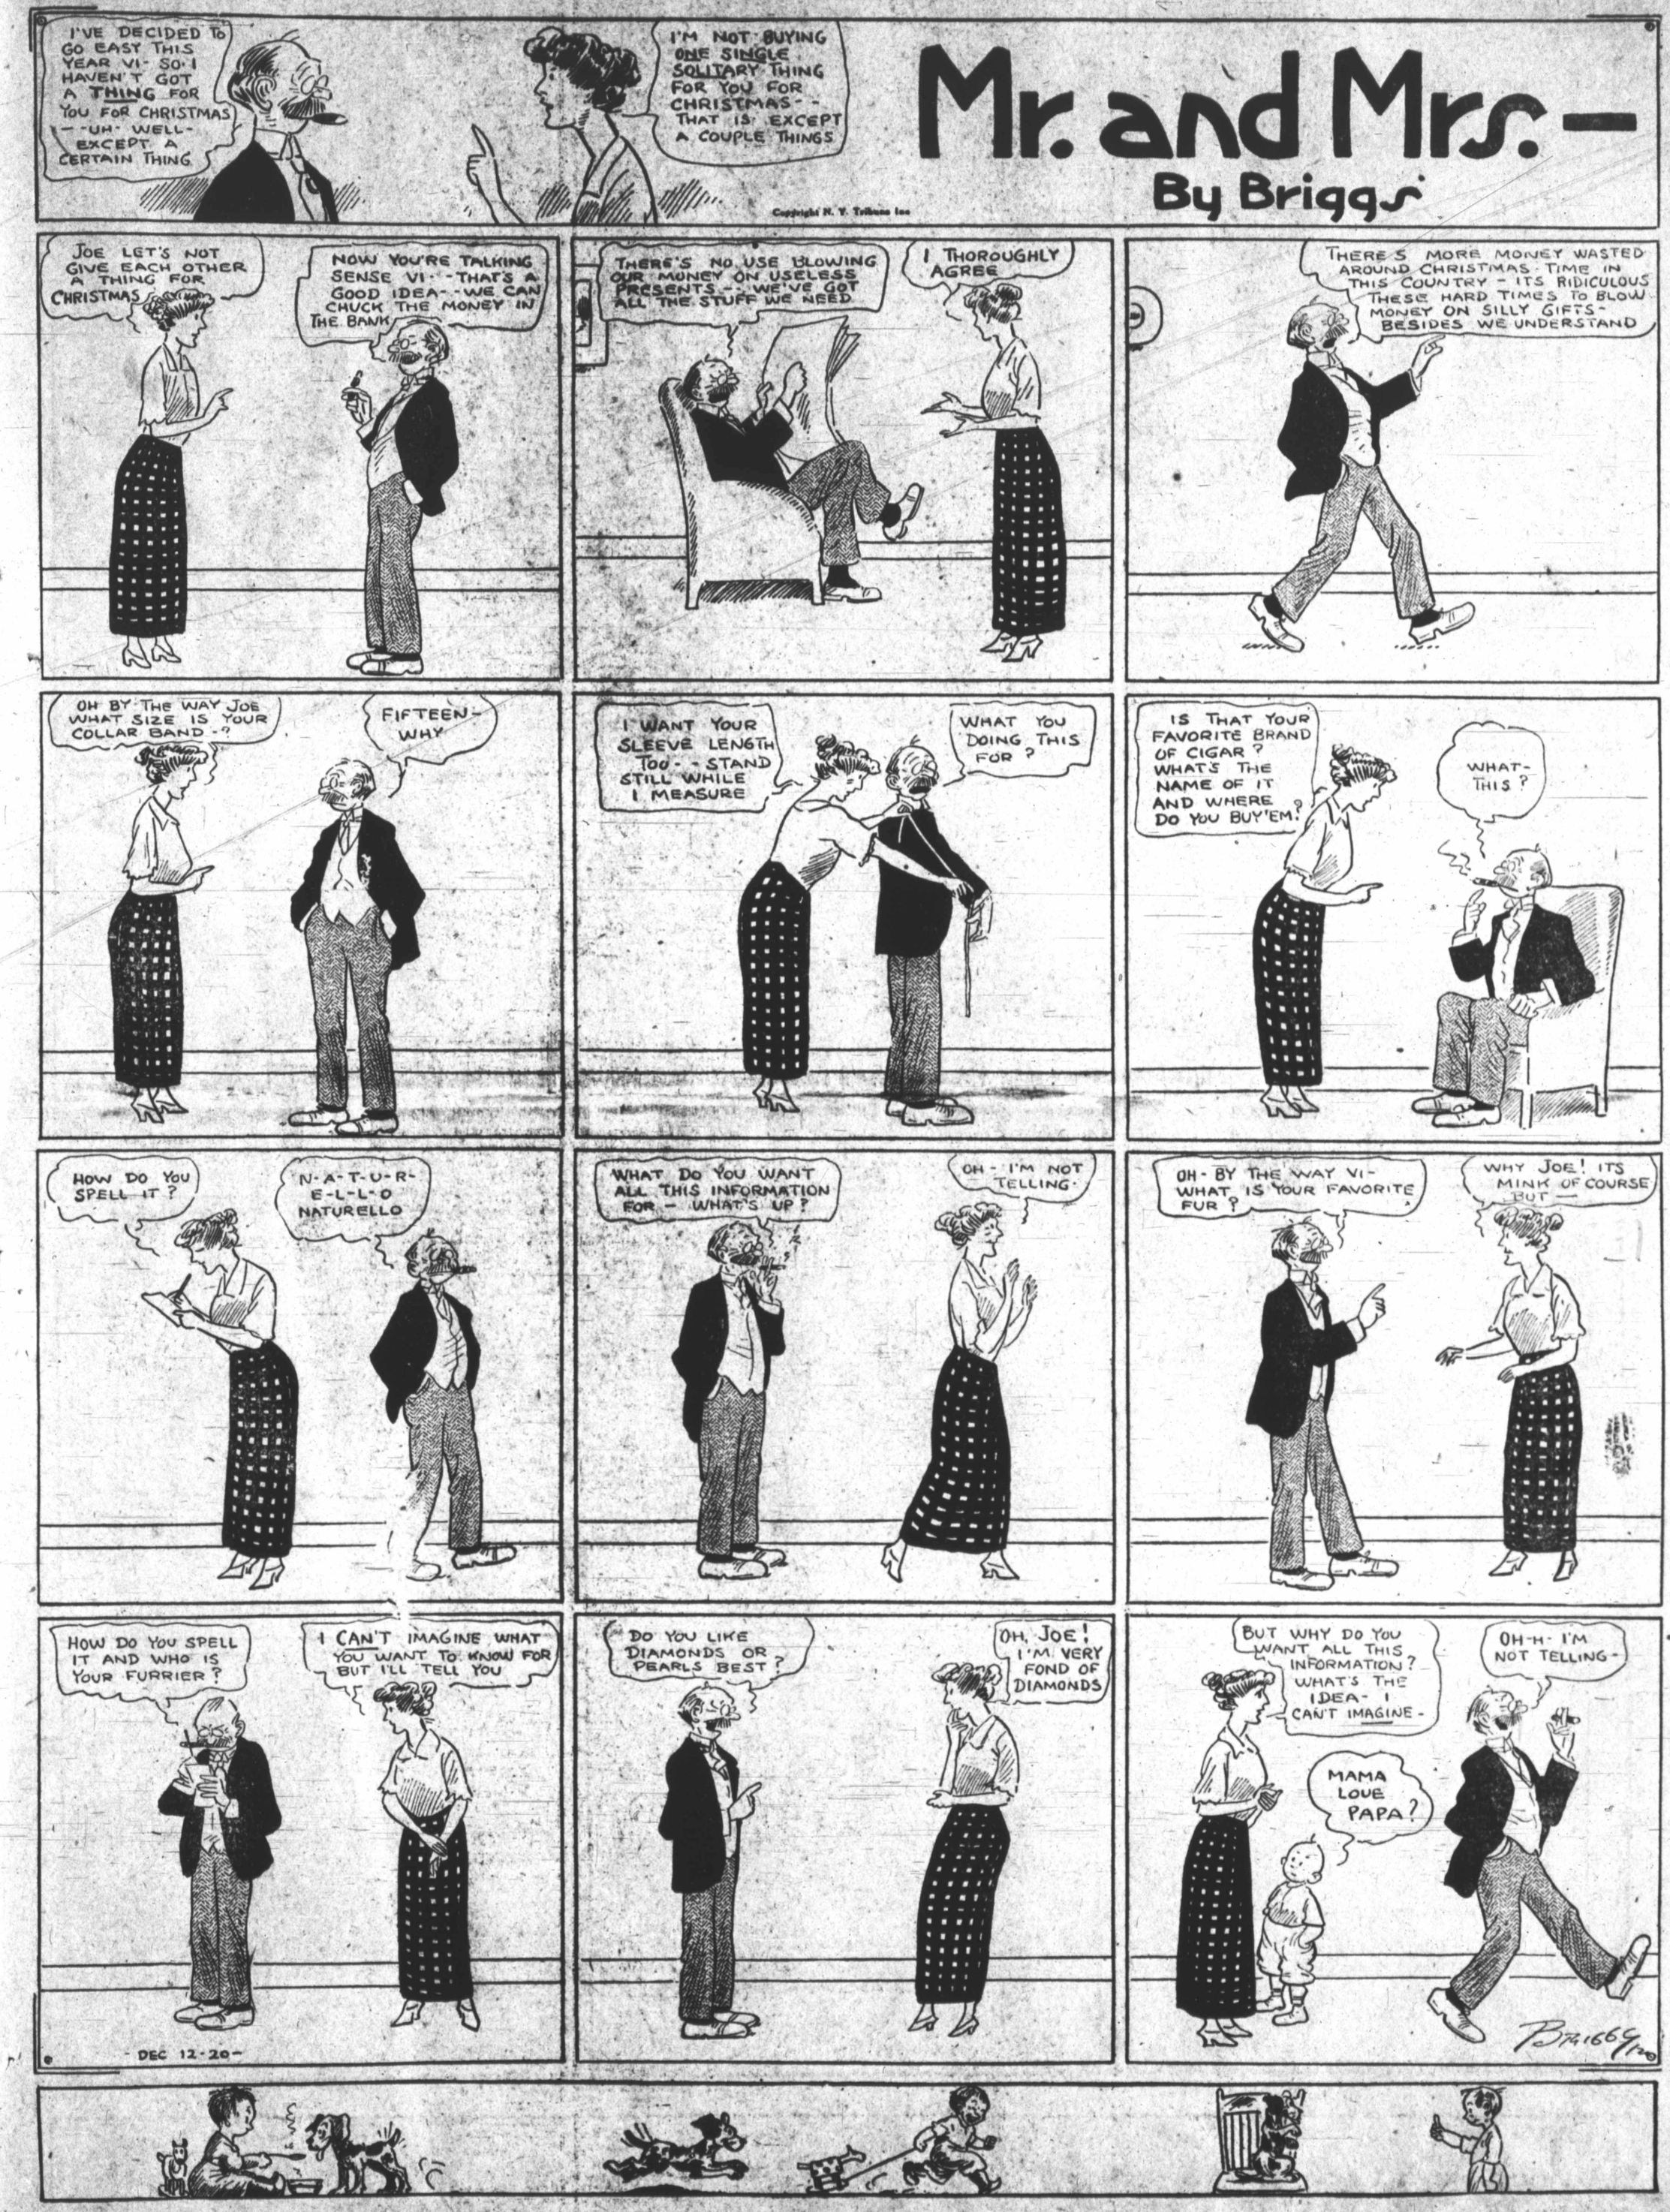

To the six thousand in Wichita county who have already well learned the results to be obtained by Chiropractic, we need say nothing. We know that they will continue to employ it, even though Dr. Walker succeeds in running us out of town, and they have to go elsewhere for adjustments. To those who have never tried Chiropractic, we desire to say that we believe it will win because it is right. It is a right principle of health and the people have a right to choose whether they may employ a method that appeals to the laws of nature and to common sense, or whether they must be filled up on drugs, because the medical profession decrees so.

All those who have learned the value of Chiropractic, and who desire to learn for themselves the legal situation of the matter, as well as the medical opposition to it, will do well to attend the session of the county court at law Monday.

$4,000,000 for Babies; $47,000,000 for Hogs. Sheppard-Towner Bill to Receive Consideration at Short-Term Congress

PARENT-TEACHERS' COUNCIL WICHITA FALLS HIGH SCHOOL HAS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The Parent-Teachers' Council, recently organized, of the Wichita Falls high school, held an enthusiastic meeting and rendered a most inspirational program Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, recently elected president of the organization, presided through a short business session during which, on account of her further inability to serve because of reasons given, Mrs. Fred Couper was chosen president. The program as prepared was especially appropriate for the first business meeting of the council following organization. Mrs. James Berney's talk on the advantages of such an association to the parents and Miss Lila Boone's on the advantages to the teacher, being features, and the half dozen or more informal talks contributed by teachers who recently attended the State Teachers' Association meeting in Dallas being particularly to the point.

Preceding the two feature talks on the program, Myron Lyle gave a saxophone solo which was greatly enjoyed. Vaughn Buchanan read "Angela's Missionary Box," a laughable and much appreciated little sketch, and Jo Betsy Miller sang a pretty song.

Interesting gleanings from the association meeting in Dallas were given by Misses Cheila Hendrick, Agnes Zihlman and Lila Boone, Mesdames Anna Wicherspoon and Kyle Price, and Mr. Ryder, principal of the high school.

The program committee, of which Mrs. Barnard Martin is chairman and Mesdames James Berney and A. H. Carrigan and Misses Juanita Kinsey and Genevieve Goff are members, announced that they are planning some good programs for the year, and that some systematic study of a subject interesting and profitable for both mothers and teachers may be taken up shortly.

The personnel of the membership and constitution and by-laws committees were announced as follows: Membership—Mesdames M. J. Bashara, chairman; R. L. Buchanan, and L. E. Stone; constitution and by-laws, Mesdames R. E. Buchanan, chairman; Goodale, Louis Fink and Walter Nelson.

The next meeting of the council will be held in the high school auditorium Friday, January 14.

MRS. T. L. McGEE ENTERTAINED AT TEA THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. T. L. McGee of 1100 Travis delightfully entertained a few friends at an afternoon tea Thursday, December 9. The house was very attractively decorated with Christmas decorations. Several beautiful music numbers were given by Mrs. Fred C. Barron and Mrs. John C. Kay, after which the guests were invited to view an "art exhibit" which furnished much amusement during the process of fitting names to the "pictures." The guests were then invited into the dining room to partake of a delicious two-course luncheon. During the luncheon hour, Mrs. Charles William Wallace was asked to relate some interesting experience of her long residence abroad. She talked informally about the part the English women play in the development of their colonies, and used as an example some incidents in the life of a friend, during the development of a great gold-mining concession in the jungles of west Africa. The rest of the guests found topics, calling for a personal experience, hidden in the nut course and much laughter was evoked by such subjects as "My First Beau," "Most Humorous Experience of My First House-keeping," "My First Movie," etc.

The guests were Mesdames Fred C. Barron, John C. Kay, J. L. Fox, J. R. McGee, E. T. Barker, J. L. Maxwell, Charles William Wallace and J. D. Meredith.

WHATSOEVER CLASS ENTERTAINED IN BASEMENT OF FIRST BAPTIST

Friday evening, December 10, the Whatsoever Class of the First Baptist Sunday school entertained E. E. Richardson's class of young men, in the basement of the First Baptist church, on Ninth and Burnett streets.

Miss Reeves, chairman of the social committee, met the guests with a cheerful welcome. Readings were given by Mrs. John Abbott, Mrs. J. M. Broncushio and Mrs. Henderson. Each number was heartily encored. Miss Evelyn Saunderson furnished music, which was enjoyed by all present. Games and different contests were conducted by Misses Morris and Reeves, teacher of the class.

After refreshments were served, the president of hthe yong men's class made an appropriate talk. There were about 40 present.

All young people who are not in Sunday school are cordially invited to attend either of these classes, Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock, in the basement of the church.

HOSTESSES ANNOUNCED FOR LADIES DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

Hostesses for next Tuesday, which is Ladies' Day at the Country Club, were announced as follows Saturday: Mesdames C. J. Barnard, James Berney, Merrill Blair, T. R. Boone, and Alfred R. Booth.

The Sheppard-Towner bill, concerning which inquiry has been made at the Times office a number of times recently, is asking congress for a grand total appropriation of $4,000,000 for the conservation of the lives of mothers and babies annually in the United States. The bill has provisions similar to the Smith-Lever bill, under which the United States is spending annually a grand total of $47,000,000 for the conservation of hogs.

A summary of the bill was recently received from the Texas League of Women Voters, an El Paso organization which purposes to keep women voters informed on matters of state and national legislation specially bearing on the problems of the home and social progress.

The Sheppard-Towner bill, of which Morris Sheppard, the Texas senator, was co-author, provides for the appropriation of a certain sum of money to each state for maternity and infant hygiene for the purpose of reducing the high mortality rate among mothers and babes. A striking comparison is drawn between the mortality of American soldiers during a certain period of the world war and the mortality of American mothers, alone, during the same period. There were 34,625 casualties among the soldiers of the American expeditionary forces, against 30,000 casualties among American motherhood.

The bill provides for an appropriation by each state for a sum of money equaling that asked of the federal government, before the federal aid can be provided. Extension and conservation work among livestock is being done by the land-grant men's colleges throughout the United States under the Smith-Lever bill, including that being done by the Texas A. and M. College at College Station.

Under the Sheppard-Towner bill, which asks for less than one-tenth as much for the protection of mothers and babies as is being provided for livestock, the federal board of maternal and infant hygiene will co-operate with the state and local departments in the effective use of the money. Instruction in the health and hygiene of maternity and infancy through public health nurses, consultation centers and other suitable methods, making use of organizations already in operation, will be provided.

Write Congressman Parrish.

It is suggested that the women's clubs, leagues, federations and other organizations in each town take the matter up with Congressman Lucien Parrish at Washington by writing him directly, requesting his support of the bill. The bill was introduced in the senate by Morris Sheppard and in the house by Congressman Towner of Iowa, and may receive consideration during the opening session of the short session of congress now in progress. If it is passed during this session, the state legislatures meeting in January and February can avail themselves of the federal aid provided for the coming year.

Local clubs which may take the matter up at once include the Civic League, the Delphians, Beta Delphians, Travel Club, the Musicians, the New Standard Club, the Business Women's Club, the Alamo Home and School Club, the San Jacinto Mothers Club, the Sam Houston Home and School Club, the Travis Mothers Club, the Wichita Falls High Parent-Teacher Association, and others.

Patrons and Patronesses are Announced For Civic League Charity Ball Dec. 21; Benefit for Local Work Among Orphans

Evening gown of jade green Salome velvet, apron effect in front made of crystal drop ornaments. To catch the train at the side Joseph uses a black velvet lily.

Patrons and patronesses were announced Saturday for the Christmas Charity Ball which is to be given Tuesday evening, December 21, by the Civic League to raise money for work among the poor, neglected and homeless little children of Wichita county.

The charity ball has been planned for some weeks, growing out of the urgent and almost desperate need of the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society for more money for the work among children in Wichita county. Funds far in excess of those pledged and donated by the county have been drawn from the general state fund for the work in Wichita county, where partly because of the abnormal conditions of the past two years, the need for work and money has been two or three times greater than in any other county.

Mayor and Mrs. W. D. Cline are to lead the grand march at the ball which is to be given in Kemp hotel. Orchestral music is to be furnished for the 16 dances and extras, and refreshments will be served. The entertainment is expected to be one of the biggest and most successful affairs of the year, because of the splendid purpose of service supporting it.

The patrons and patronesses, who will be assisted by the members of the entertainment and executive committees of the Civic League, are named as follows:

Mayor and Mrs. Walter D. Cline.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Reid.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Kemp.
Mr. and Mrs. Julien Montgomery.
Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hartsook.
Mr. and Mrs. Newton Maer.

MUSICIANS MET THURSDAY; PROGRAM FOR NEXT WEEK

The Mucicians club met in regular session Thursday morning at the Wichita Club, and during a short business session elected four new associate members, as follows: Mesdames B. F. Merrill, G. H. Hampshire, W. E. Maxson Jr. and R. E. Strange.

The Chopin program included a group of interesting numbers. They were:

"Chopin Study," by Mrs. F. C. Barron.
Violin, "Nocturne in E," Mrs. O. E. Nicholls.
Piano duet, "Funeral March," Mesdames B. M. Bell and J. L. Art.
Piano, "Military Polonaise," Mrs. F. R. Collard.

The program for next Thursday will be as follows:

"The Modern School," Mrs. J. C. Mytinger.
Piano duet, "March of the Marionettes," Mrs. E. N. Evans and Miss Virginia Parks.
Violin, "Liebesfreud Vienna Waltz" (Kreisler), Mrs. T. B. Greenwood.
Voice (a) "C'est Mon Ami" (Weckerlin); (b) "Sing, Smile, Slumber" (Gounod), Miss Catherine Cook.
Piano, (a) "Reverie" (Schutt); (b) "Lieber Valse" (Moskowski), Mrs. Frank Von Wormer.
Violin solo, "To Spring" (Grieg), Miss Vivian Bailey.
Piano, "Minuetto" (Greunfeld), Mrs. John Kay.
Voice, "At the Cloister Gate" (Grieg), Mesdames J. W. King and R. A. Lyle, soloists; Mesdames Barron, Thorburn, Clifford, Tully, Priddy and Roberts, chorus.

AIN'T IT?

Little Bo Peep has lost her sheep
But Life is like that, Bo;
While Mary's lamb sticks tight to her,
Your lambs a-roaming go.
And our's go too. But Ishka Bib!
The dear old world is funny;
It's up to us to lift our chins
And be good losers, honey.

The women in ancient Crete wore flounced dresses over four thousand years ago.—Shreveport Times.

The women in the United States wear flounced dresses over first one thing and then another. It used to be hoops. Now its pettibockers.

The Italian commander of troops forming a cordon about Fiume has been instructed to avoid all painful incidents.' But maybe the Italian government would not object if the commander should give D'Annunzio a sound spanking, or take his wrist watch away from him.—Abilene Reporter.

These military terms confuse us so. Er—what is a cordon? As for Gabriel and the suggested chastisement, you misunderstand the Italian government. It did not refer to any painful incidents which may have to happen to others.

You ain't got a thing on us'ens;
What we've got, your riff-raff dims

A bunch of dancing masters in convention assembled recently paid their respects to the Methodists. Time about is fair play. The Methodists have been handing the dancers and dancing masters packages for these many years.—Sherman Democrat.

The "packages" haven't seemed to make much of an impression, either on dancing or the dancing masters. Could it be possible that there is a better method of handling the situation, and that our good Methodist brethren have missed it?

The Americas hero had probably got incurably used to being obeyed. But the army did a few worse things to some of our boys, among the many better ones. "What do you miss most since you have come home?" a girl asked her youthful soldier friend who had managed to retain his second-lieutenancy throughout two years of service in France. "My orderly," replied the youth pompously.

NOT A GERMAN SYMPATHIZER, BUT HE HATED PROFITEERING

To sell something of doubtful merit is dishonest. To sell anything at many times its intrinsic value is profiteering. Waving the Stars and Stripes over Toyland at Christmas time and charging exhorbitant prices for dolls in the name of patriotism is about the meanest kind of commercialism extant.

A soldier in A. E. F. uniform, who said he was just back from guard duty on the German border, stopped in the toy department of one of New York's big stores. His four-year-old baby girl was holding his hand. She had her eyes rooted on a wonderful doll. The doll was only two dollars. Any one could see the child heart yearned for the doll, and tiny arms reached out to possess it.

The saleslady, noting the uniform, said: "That's a German doll—here are our American dolls, but they are four dollars each." About all that could be said for the four-dollar doll was that it was made here. Even to the child eyes the foreign doll was infinitely superior, and the baby could not read price tags, nor did it know the war was over.

The soldier looked at the saleslady and then at his wee daughter, and said: "I suppose you don't know the war is over. By the price of things I am sure there is little gratitude for the men who won the war. I know something about the overseas peoples and I think the meanest man in the world is the toy profiteer who waves the flag as he plys his trade—give me the two-dollar doll." The sale was concluded, and the soldier of the republic and his tiny daughter left the story happy. It surely looks as if the war is over and that the days of the toy trust are not long.

MISS FAY GARRISON ENTERTAINS GIRLS' FRIENDLY FRIDAY NIGHT

Miss Fay Garrison was hostess to the Girls' Friendly society Friday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Mann, on Elizabeth street. Christmas and Christmas service work were discussed, and plans made for the holidays. It was voted that the society would take care of a family through Christmas, providing a Christmas basket, toys and clothing where needed. Misses Gussie Kiel, Dorothy Toney and Irene Rainey were appointed a committee to attend to the arrangements for this.

Miss Garrison served refreshments of ice cream and cake to twelve or thirteen members and guests.

GALAXY OF STARS AT THE GEM THEATER THIS WEEK

Mabel Normand, Viola Dana, Dorothy Gish, Tom Mix and Lila Lee form a galaxy of stars that are to appear in the order named at the Gem theatre this week in some of their best known and most successful plays.

The Monday attraction, with Mabel Normand in her hilarious comedy, "The Slim Princess" promises to start the week with a bang, for a more appropriate role could not have been found for the diminutive and petit Mabel than the one given her in this picture. As a princess in the mythical land of Morevania she is shunned by family and subjects alike, merely because she does not tip the scales at a ton or so, as does the reigning favorites of the court, but when a young steel king from America lands in her domain and carts her off to Yankeeland things are different.

"The Chorus Girl's Romance," which is considered Viola Dana's best starring vehicle holds the center of attraction on Tuesday. As a modern exponent of the gentle art of shimmying and classical dancing this attractive star has few equals and no superiors, and in "The Chorus Girl's Romance," full use is made of her ability. Like all of Miss Dana's pictures, this film is replete with fun and humor while at the same time it has some more serious touches that lend variety.

Dorothy Gish needs no introduction to local silversheet fans, for this youthful half of the famous Gish sisters team holds a place all her own in the picture circles of the country. Her invariably fine performances have won for her the admiration and envy of the movie world, which is no small accomplishment in itself. "Nugget Nell," while one of Miss Gish's older pictures has lost none of it's popularity and like the two preceding attractions of the week, is mainly a comedy-drama.

To Tom Mix in "The Untamed" is entrusted the work of upholding the masculine end of the movie art, for the redoubtable Tom is the only He star offered during the week. His strenuous pictures of western drama and rapid fire action always take well with local audiences and "The Untamed" will offer welcome diversion from the four feminine beauties who hold the major portion of the week's bill.

"The Secret Garden" is Lila Lee's latest, and best, production offering this new star and a splendid starring vehicle.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG FEATURED AT THE PLAZA

Clara Kimball Young heads the list of screen celebrities that are scheduled to appear at the Plaza theatre during the coming week, but although easily the feature attraction she is not the whole bill by any means. Marguerite Fisher, Ann Cornwall, George Walsh, Grace Davidson and Neal Hart form a supporting outlay of stars that will give patrons of the Plaza a full measure of entertainment.

"Drilliby," one of Miss Young's best film productions is to be presented on Monday in conjunction with the Dardenalla Girls who are to be offered as the vaudeville attractions during the entire week.

Tuesday finds Marguarite Fisher in "Molly of the Follies" as the film attraction, which promises to be a good one. Miss Fisher is one of the recently developed actresses of the west coast studios and from her work in the film gives promise of developing into a famous figure.

Ann Cornwall in "The Path She Chose," holds the feature place on Wednesday while "Sink or Swim," with George Walsh in the leading role is the scheduled attraction for Thursday.

Friday's film will be Grace Davidson in "The Hidden Code," a picture of intrigue and scandal, which, however, has a happy ending with the attractive star in an unusual situation. The weeks picture bill will be closed on Saturday with Neal aHrt in "Sands of the Desert."

Reel Chatter

By JEAN DARNELL.

Natalie Talmadge, sister of Constance and Norma, has returned from a trip abroad and has been cast in "The Man From Toronto," which Chester Withey will direct.

Dorothy Gish has returned to New York from Europe, and is to commence work on a picture at the D. W. Griffith studios.

Rupert Hughes, Goldwyn eminent author, accompanied by his wife and daughter, has arrived in Los Angeles to spend the winter in the study of motion picture technique. The author's first original screen story, "Mr. and Miserable Jones," is now in production under the direction of E. Mason Hopper. Mr. Hughes saw those parts which have already been filmed and expressed himself as highly pleased.

"Lefty" Flynn has a new form of greeting which he says is an adaptation of the grandeloquent and solicitous one of Biblical times, when people inquired concerning every member of the family before coming to the person to whom they were speaking. "Lefty's" latest is: "Speaking of insects—how's your aunt, old man?"

Mary Miles Minter was, according to her press agent, the guest of honor at a dinner dance on board the U. S. S. New York. What has the navy done to deserve this?

"Whiskers," Charlie Ray's wire hair fox terrier, has an important role in "Peaceful Valley," Ray's second First National picture.

Beena Owen has gone to New York to be absent until the first of the year. Miss Owen was accompanied by her small daughter, Patricia.

Anita Stewart and her entire company are to go to Truckee, California, for scenes in "The Tornado," provided a blizzard can be guaranteed by the Truckee chamber of commerce. The script calls for a blizzard and the snowfall at Truckee this year has been unusually light.

Clarence Badger, Goldwyn director, has finished "Boys Will Be Boys," Irvin S. Cobb's story, starring Will Rogers. The combination of the Cobb and Rogers humor is expected to make an exceptional picture.

Chester Whitney will direct Constance Talmadge in "The Man From Toronto," following the completion of "Mamma's Affair," which is now being made under the direction of Victor Fleming.

Reginald Barker has started work on "Snow Blindness," a story of the Canadian northwest, by Katherine Newland Burk, author of "The Branding Iron."

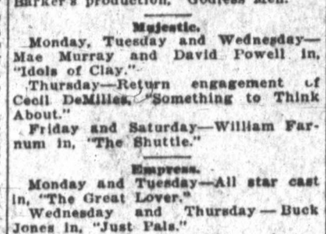

John Cotton, Universal scenic writer, has secured a log cabin at Big Bear lake and will do most of his work up there. He says he can write a better north woods story by being surrounded with snow and ice. Suppose he was told to adapt "Pigs Is Pigs."

Tom Moore, starring in Goldwyn's picturization of "Officer 666," says 666 is his lucky number. When he came to this country from Ireland, the number of his cabin was 666, and he won a watch once on that number.

Katherine McDonald has gone to New York on a pleasure trip, where she will visit her mother and her sister, Mary MacLaren.

Buster Keaton has finished his fifth Metro comedy, entitled "The Haunted House." He was supported by Virginia Fox and Joe Roberts. Eddie Cline directed.

Robert Lorraine, English actor-aviator, has arrived in Hollywood from New York with Jesse L. Lasky. Lorraine is on a trip around the world.

Many a Woman Expresses Her Personality With Well Chosen Accessories

Find the woman whose costume seems to be perfect as a whole and you will have found a woman who attaches great importance to the details of dress—the choosing of gloves, hosiery, veils and other accessories. Inspection of the accessories in our displays will reveal that each and every offering has been assembled with scrutinizing care.

Coats and Suits for Christmas

They should not be overlooked as gifts for the styles are so distinctive and varied. There are chic models with the modish flared, straight-hanging backs; Coats and Suits, belted and semi-belted and others that are boxy or artfully bloused at the waist. And not to be forgotten are those made especially gift-worthy by trimmings of elaborate embroideries or rich, glossy furs. We have very attractive prices on all our Suits.

Blouses In New Styles and Beautiful Fabrics.

Some of the most alluring models are in Georgette Crepe, Satin and Wool Jersey. Many are strikingly enhanced with embroidery of metal thread, wool, floss or beads and are very suitable for gifts and the prices are very moderate.

Second floor department.

Boudoir Caps Are So Alluring and They Cost Very Little

Even if she owns a dozen Boudoir Caps any woman will be glad to be remembered with another one if it is frilly and feminine like these. Tiny flowers of silk and ribbon nestle in lacy folds while streamers and rosettes of ribbon give others coquettish airs.

Second Floor Department.

The More Decorative a Practical Gift Is the Greater Its Welcome

Designed to transform the unsightly telephone into a thing of beauty are covers of silk which masquerade as frivolous china ladies with voluminous skirts trimmed in rosebuds, ribbons and gold galloon. They like the gorgeous velvet and brocade pillows; table runners of tapestry; dresser covers and pin cushions of brocade we are also showing appeal especially to those women who are not particularly handy in making such decorative things for the home themselves.

See our display of these suitable gifts.

THERE'S VERY LITTLE DANGER OF

Gifts Like These

BEING REPEATED.

Traveling cases of leather neatly fitted with Combs and Brushes or Mancuring outfits are happy Christmas thoughts. And the beauty about such tokens is that they are so easily chosen and may be presented to young or old. Our stock of Traveling Cases is exceptionally varied and complete.

These are gifts supreme.

Gifts for Girls

Way at the top of lists of desired Girls' Gifts one always finds hair ribbons. Young Misses are very apt to be keen on Sashes, too. Both hair bows and sashes may be selected at our ribbon counter in a glorious assortment of fascinating patterns and colors.

Pajamas Priced Invitingly for Christmas

Here's a gift that's practical and most men allow their supply to run low. The very young chap will probably like the silk ones best, but we have some handsome Pajamas in other fabrics for men who are not so much concerned with the fabrics but who are mighty particular about the fit.

Our prices are always right.

An Announcement of Paramount Importance to Our Customers

We do not intend that the mad rush of Christmas buying of articles suitable for gift making shall in any way impede or interefere with the proper merchandising of our regular lines of merchandise.

The same policy which we have adhered to for some months past will continue in force and throughout the holidays we will continue to give our customers the benefit of special pricing of articles from our year round stock.

In this connection we are pleased to announce for the first of the week.

An Unsurpassed Sale of Sheets, Sheeting, Pillow Cases and Towels

This sale will afford the housekeepers of this entire section a rare opportunity to replenish their linen chests. The goods offered measure up to the high standard maintained by this store and the values will be immediately recognized as being in full harmony with our plan of price reduction. HOOVER AS CABINET MEMBER MIGHT NOT DISPLAY TEAM WORK

DOUBT THAT HE HAS TEMPERAMENT TO WORK WITH OTHER MEN.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS MIGHT SUIT HIM

Would Be Ideal Man for Job Which Would Be Largely Apart From Rest of Cabinet.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the N. Y. Evening World.
(Copyright 1920 by N. Y. Evening Post)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Herbert Hoover is mentioned for the cabinet more often than any other man and is mentioned for more posts than any one else. Occasionally he is mentioned for secretary of state. That suggestion is rather far-fetched. Of course, it isn't indispensible that the secretary of state should be a lawyer—John Hay was not. But that qualification is pretty essential, especially in an administration during which, if the programme of the republican leaders goes through, international law is for the first time to be reduced to a formal code. As an incident of the International Association for preserving peace.

Hoover is mentioned also for secretary of the interior, for secretary of commerce, and for secretary of labor. Hoover is a very able man. It isn't quite the same kind of ability the public attributes to him and he has been at a disadvantage in the public expecting him to be the thing that he really is not. Occasionally when Hoover comes into direct personal contact with the public, there is a sense of disappointment. The reason is that Hoover as a legend is one thing. And the real Hoover is another. The real Hoover is just as impressive as the lengendary Hoover. But sometimes disappointingly different. Because of the associations with which Hoover first came into public eye—as the Almoner of starving Belgium and that sort of thing—people think of him as a person of great personal benevolence as a kind of cross between Santa Claus and a mediaeval mendicant saint. Hoover is not that at all. He is a practical engineer with a mind coldly intent on results. A mind that is one of the most incisive in America, with prodigious capacity for work and with that intangible quality that makes things go, the quality that makes success, in addition to that, Hoover has all the fundamental qualities of a super-journalist. He has the curiosity about facts and the pleasure in digging them out; he has the capacity for accurate generalization from facts, he has the reformer's itch to make things better, the zeal for public service and he has a unique sense of publicity and timeliness.

Speeches Full of Thought.

Every speech that Hoover makes—and he is in more demand for speeches than almost any other man—contains fresh material. Each speech is a definite contribution to public thought, and is received by the newspapers and the public with the interest and weight it deserves.

Hoover is in demand for the freshness and thoroughness of his thought. Not for any flatitudinous after-dinner orateness nor because he is funny, nor for any other kind of entertainment. He is in demand for what he has to say. No living American excels Hoover in the value of his contributions to the contemporary thought.

In considering Hoover as a cabinet possibility, not only is it to be remembered that he is a remarkably able man, it is to be remembered also that he has a public following. He ranks with Wilson, Bryan, Gen. Wood and a few others as a man whose guidance and counsel about public affairs large numbers of persons will accept on faith.

These things commend Hoover for the cabinet. They do not make him inevitable. For no man is inevitable in the cabinet. Harding has the clearest possible right to name his own cabinet and to choose it on a basis of getting men who will work smoothly with him. With the senate and congress, and with the leaders of republican party.

Privileged to Apply Tests.

It is Harding's privilege to apply tests of personal judgment and personal comfort in selecting the members of the cabinet. It is true he will be judged to an extent, by the men he puts in his cabinet but he can choose between being judged at the beginning of his term and being judged at the end of it. He can select men who already have big names and whose selection will give him a favorable momentum at the start, or he can select men who he is certain will make a good team, and then ask to be judged by their performance as a team at the end of four years.

In considering Hoover for the cabinet, the doubt that may be raised will rest on whether or not he is a good man for team work. Those who raise this doubt say that Hoover made his career and his fame within his profession in situations which were one-man jobs—such jobs as managing a mine in Asia with coolie labor, and the board of directors five thousand miles away in London. But it ought also to be said and remembered that the biggest job of Hoover's career, the Belgian relief, involved the most difficult and embarrassing kind of give-and-take in personal relations. It involved diplomacy with the German government and with other governments at a time when the German government was arrogant and the other governments were suspicious.

Adapted to One Man Job.

I suspect, though, there is some truth in the notion that Hoover is best adapted to a one-man job. He sets a pace that others find it hard to follow, and, plunging ahead like a spirited horse, is impatient of any ties that harness him to others. Also, he has a temperament that is sometimes inclined to varying moods. His methods of getting results are individual to himself and frequently temperamental.

George Creel, who worked with Hoover a good deal during the war, says after Hoover has gone carefully through all the minute preparations for an enterprise, he then goes into the final putting it over in the same way that George's mother crosses a street—stands timorously on the curb until the traffic is thickest, and then shuts her eyes and plunges across. That sort of thing, though brilliantly successful in individual enterprises, might easily make demands for tolerance on a group composed of more evenly gaited men.

Also, Hoover in the cabinet would fret under the necessity of political expediencies. Even legitimate political expediencies. Every administration and every cabinet must take account of the public moods and of the party's fortunes. Hoover wouldn't know how to do this, and might take an attitude of scorning to do it if he knew how. Some of these traits might well make Hoover uncomfortable in a normal cabinet job.

May Create Suitable Place.

There is, however, one possible cabinet job in which Hoover ought to be perfectly comfortable, and in which Harding could get the assets of Hoover's ability and his public following without any handicaps. If there should be a reorganization of the cabinet such as has been suggested in Senator Medill McCormack's bill and in various other projects, there will be a new cabinet office to be known as the department of public works. That is a department which will include all the construction and engineering functions of the government, which are now distributed among half a dozen other departments, the bureau of public roads and the forest service from the department of agriculture, the board of engineers for rivers and harbors from the department of war, the bureau of mines from the department of, the interior, the construction of postoffices and other public buildings, the management of the national parks, and nearly a score of other engineering and construction activities.

If the government was thus reorganized—and everybody admits it ought to be—if the office of department of public works were created as a new cabinet position, then Hoover would be an ideal man for that job. It would largely be a thing apart from the rest of the cabinet. The nature of the office would more or less insulate it from politics. Hoover would know, and everybody else would know, that little or nothing was expected from him in the way of the necessary compromises of collective cabinet or party policy.

If Harding wants Hoover in his cabinet, the way to bring it about would be to effect this reorganization of the departments and put Hoover in charge of the new post.

Do You Pay Your Bills?

When one makes a purchase at a retail store and says, "Charge it," he is not asked the pointed question, "When do you intend to pay," but if the purchaser has heretofore paid his accounts promptly the account is opened. It should be paid the first of the following month.

You Know Your Credit Standing—So Does Every Merchant

Is there very much difference between the fellow who takes something that does not belong to him and the man who buys merchandise on credit and does not pay for it? There may be times when one cannot meet all obligations at the appointed time, but there is never a time when an honest effort should not be made to settle up or make satisfactory explanations.

A DEADBEAT IS A MENACE TO ANY COMMUNITY

He who buys beyond his ability to pay is closely akin to the one who does not intend to pay.

CREDIT IS A CAPITAL—DON'T OVERDRAW YOUR ACCOUNT

Representatives of the members of the Retail Merchants Association meet every two weeks to discuss credit transactions, to report names of those who have abused the confidence placed in them by not paying their bills as agreed, and to report the names of all who have passed bad checks.

If You Can't Pay What You Owe Don't Ask For Credit

The Retail Merchants Association in the city is composed of members from every line of retail business—all the banks, manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and doctors, lawyers and other professional men.

COUNTY IS DIVIDED FOR PUBLIC HEALTH WORK IN SCHOOLS

Public schools in Wichita county have been divided into two equal parts by Dr. A. W. West, all-time county health officer, and a public health nurse has been appointed for each district to assist him in the work of hygiene and health in the public schools.

Miss Quinn has been appointed as county health nurse in the district which comprises the following schools: Electra, County Line, Enterprise, Barwise, Sunshine, Beaver Creek, Rockypoint, Austin, Junior High, Bowie, Sam Houston, Howard No. 1 and No. 2, Allendale and Lakeview.

Mrs. Morey will assist in the work in the following named schools: Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Newtown, Bradley's Corner, Freeberg, Cooper, Cashion, Bacon, Everett, Weeth, Pond Creek, Prairie Cottage, Fairview No. 1 and No. 2, Clara, Fannin, Travis, San Jacinto and Alamo.

During the past week the following schools were examined and the results follow: Washington (colored)—Number examined, 162, of which number 52 per cent were found defective. In the Austin school 930 children were examined and 58 per cent were found defective. Only 38 were examined in the Alamo school and examination will be continued the first of the week.

Follow Up Work.

Follow-up work in these examinations is to be made by the public health nurses. Toothbrush drills and lectures on hygiene will be given by the two nurses monthly in each of the schools in the county and city.

In speaking of the work Dr. West stated Saturday morning that one of the results of school medical inspection must be the correction of physical defects in the coming generation. "This," he says, 'can only be accomplished by beginning with the child and in the schools. Children must be fitted physically to withstand the stress of mature life, wherever they may be.

"Statistics from the surgeon general's office of the United States army show that over thirty per cent of the 3,500,000 draftees were rejected because physically unfit to withstand the strain of military life. The causes of rejections were due to defects which were of similar nature to the defects which we find in our medical inspection of the schools.

Can Well Be Divided.

"The school problem can well be divided into two parts, the urban and the rural. At the present time the urban is being fairly well handled in a number of communities but in rural districts it is universally far from satisfactory.

"The solution of the problem lies in an efficient follow-up work by the public health nurses. For the purpose of the follow-up work a card is being left in each school for each and every pupil. One side of the card is devoted to the child's physical record and the other side for his scholastic record. Spaces are provided for each year of the child's career in school. The form follows the pupil from grade to grade and from school to school."

Reports from principals and teachers are to the effect that the results of the medical examination of children has proved very effective and improvements are noted in innumerable cases.

WORLD TRAVELER AND PUBLISHER LEAVES ON AN EXTENDED JOURNEY

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—W. D. Boyce, world traveler and publisher of Chicago and Indianapolis, left today for Vancouver, B. C., on the first leg of a 50,000-mile journey to the little known islands of the South Sea and New Zealand and Australia. When he returns home next summer, he will have visited every land and covered more than 40,000 miles by water alone in the last twenty years in search of adventure and material for books.

Airplanes will be used by the traveler and his party to reach the desert and outlying places of Australia, heretofore accessible only by use of camels because of lack of water facilities. Boyce made arrangements to charter vessels which will carry his party far off the beaten track of tourists of the South Seas, and, by use of airplanes, take pictures of the various island groups.

WITH THE AUTO DEALERS

The Excelsior Motor company reports the sale of several cars in the last week, and announces that it is now in position to show nearly all models of cars handled to prospective customers.

The Marshall Huff Motor company has sold three Oaklands and two used cars in the past week, and has two carloads of Oaklands en route from the factory. Mr. Rubsam, manager of the business, is very optimistic concerning the business outlook.

F. E. McLarty, president and general manager of the Nash-McLarty Motor company of Dallas, and A. D. Bentley, sales manager for the same firm, were in Wichita Falls Friday and Saturday. The Nash Automobile and Truck company report more business in the first four days of December than in the entire month of November.

O. M. Pinkley, the Maxwell and Chalmers zone supervisor for the southwestern states, spent a day this week with the S. Bemrod Automobile and Supply company discussing with Mr. Bemrod the business situation as it affects the automobile industry. He believes that conditions will improve noticeably very soon and that another period of improvement will come in the spring.

Eckman and Von Allmen contemplate taking the agency for the Dort car in connection with their established business in Hupmobiles and Peerless cars. They have two Dorts in hand now, which can be delivered immediately.

Fourteen carloads of Ford automobiles have arrived at Wichita Falls and are on sale at the Motor Supply company's rooms. Now that delivery can be made from the warehouse floor of almost any model of Ford car that may be called for, in contrast with the situation one year ago when it was practically impossible to get a new Ford, and people were paying premiums for second-hand ones, it would normalcy.

SUFFERS SERIOUS BREAK DOWN.

"Two years ago I spent three months in hospital under stomach and bowel specialists for mucus colitis, auto intoxication, etc., which caused awful bloating and colic attacks. My friends gave me up. I returned home and on the advice of Mrs. Wright, a friend, tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy with wonderful results. Am now in best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Mack Taylor and druggists everywhere. (adv.)

ALL ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

ITCH!

A WAR-TIME ILL THAT'S SPREADING HUNT'S SALVE CURES IT!

BRED in the war trenches of Europe, a wave of ordinary ITCH is spreading over the country. This skin disease, history shows, has always prevailed, following wars and the concentration of armies. It was common during the Civil War and following that conflict. There was an epidemic of the Itch after the Spanish-American War. Now history is repeating itself after the great European struggle.

Returned soldiers and those with whom they come in contact will find a recognized remedy for the Itch in Hunt's Salve, commonly known as "Hunt's Itch Cure." Many a veteran of the late '90's will testify to its merits.

If directions are followed HUNT'S SALVE will prove a never failing cure for all forms of the Itch, and your druggist will tell you so. He sells HUNT'S SALVE under a strict guarantee to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied user.

A Medford, Oklahoma man, among thousands who praise HUNT'S SALVE, says:

"Some people dislike to call it the Itch, but candor compels me to admit I had it badly. Your Hunt's Salve, however, cured me after many other remedies had totally failed. One box completed the cure—the first application afforded wonderful relief. My advice to those who have to scratch, is to use Hunt's Salve."

Hunt's Salve is especially compounded for the treatment of Itch, Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter and other itching skin diseases and is sold on our guarantee by all reliable drug stores, or it will be sent direct by mail if your local druggist cannot supply. Price 75c per box.

Health turns the Clock Backward

To Keep Healthful Lungs Be Watchful

Sunday Health Talk No. 18.

By P. L. Myers, D. C.

Lung membranes are delicate and they serve a purpose so important, that anyone who finds himself with a cough, with any trouble that effects the breathing, or a growing weakness that seems due to efficient lung action, it is time to grab the chiropractic opportunity by the forelock.

The lung membranes, are under control of spinal nerves. The cause of lung weakness is deficient nerve supply. Joints of the backbone become out of alignment from some disturbance of accident or habit, and the nerve openings between these joints become narrowed. The hard bone bears down upon the soft spinal nerve tissue, and the ordinary stimulus of nerve impulse is weakened. The lungs lose tone and health. Chiropractic spinal adjustments remove nerve pressure and Nature given a chance, restores health.

They Said he Had TB

"After three doctors said I had TB and I had made application to enter the state sanitarium, I was urged to try chiropractic. I had lost thirty pounds and was living on a glass of milk a day. Under adjustments I was on the road to recovery in a few weeks. Today I am sixty pounds heavier. Chiropractic saved my life."—L. C. Pierce, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1244B.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: I have a 1917 Dodge car and when I run it at a speed of 15 or 20 miles it vibrates or shakes so as to feel it back in the back seat of the car. It shook one of the lamps enough to break one of the glasses. Have put in new cylinder rings, cleaned valves and have examined drive chain and pinions and everything seems in good condition. It acts to me as though it was getting an uneven feed. Have examined carburetor and it seems to be feeding O. K., but is somewhat worn, but not badly. What else would you suggest?
—READER.

Make sure that the engine is tight in frame. If not securely anchored, you will notice a lot of vibration. A loose fly wheel will cause the trouble you mention. Sometimes you can detect this by rocking the engine against compression with the crank handle. A very careful inspection should be made because only a little lost motion will set up a great amount of vibration.

Motor Department: When I press the accelerator on my Buick car the engine does not always respond. At such times there is a hissing or sucking sound that seems to come from some part of the exhaust manifold. This trouble only happens at times. The vacuum system seems to work properly as there is always plenty of gasoline in the carburetor. What do you suspect the trouble to be?—R. T.

The noise is probably due to the air being drawn in at the hot air intake around the exhaust manifold. The air valve may be out of adjustment or the stem caught by grit. Work out the grit by pouring gasoline down along the stem and moving the valve.

Motor Department: Please tell me if a storage battery which has been frozen may be repaired. —T. S.

If jar of battery is cracked and leaks it will have to be replaced. Some of the active material may have been forced out of the plates, reducing their capacity. Have the battery fully charged and see if it holds its charge as long as usual. If not, it should be taken apart by an expert and the needed repairs made.

Motor Department: My battery does not seem to hold its charge any length of time, & I have to have it charged at a charging station. Can the cold weather have a bad effect on it? The ammeter shows that it is charging while running. —N. T.

Your battery has an internal short circuit and the plates will have to be removed to correct it. Better consult your nearest battery service station.

Motor Department: Can you tell me some way to prevent a spark plug from sticking so that it can be removed without injuring it? I have broken two by forcing the plug with a large wrench. Please reply in your next issue. —S. K.

A thick paste of flake graphite and oil will serve the purpose. The graphite will prevent adhesion of the metals and at the same time prevent leakage. The mixture is also good to use on any bolts and studs which are subjected to considerable heat.

Motor Department: Does a brake equalizer make both brakes hold the same? —P. T.

Not unless the brakes have the same braking effect on each wheel. The equalizer balances the foot or hand effort between the two wheels, and the brakes must be adjusted so that the pressure on one side will have the same effect as on the other. The equalizer will account for the wear.

Motor Department: I have a 1918 touring car. When I am running in high speed the engine seems to go too fast, according to the speed of the car. I have put new leather facing on the clutch, but this has no effect. Any information will be appreciated. —NOVICE.

When a new leather is installed it must be carefully fitted. It should be faced off on a lathe to remove all high spots in order to insure a good contact surface. A new leather usually requires several applications of castor oil or neatsfoot oil in order to get it into a pliable condition. It may be possible that the clutch spring is weak and needs adjusting or possibly replacing.

Motor Department: About how often should a muffler be cleaned? I was told the other day that a foul muffler will cut down the power of the engine to almost one-half. Is this a fact? —S. S.

The muffler should be taken apart and thoroughly cleaned once a season. If it is clogged with carbon deposits the exhaust gases will not have a free exit and undue back pressure will result. This back pressure prevents proper scavenging of the cyclinders, and loss of power results. A well designed muffler should not cause a loss of more than three per cent of power. If clogged with carbon this loss increases accordingly.

Motor Department: My engine sputters and misfires when I start it up and later runs all right. What is the cause of this? —H. T.

The trouble is undoubtedly due to a cold engine. The gasoline and air are chilled and do not mix properly. After the engine is heated the gasoline vaporizes more readily, effecting a better mixture, consequently the engine does not miss explosions. Go over the hot air pipe carefully to see that it does not allow cold air to enter and chill the air coming from the hot air stove on the exhaust manifold.

Motor Department: What is the advantage of oversize tires? Please tell me what is meant by the term. I have been told they are advisable, but do not understand why. —D. M.

An oversize tire is one which will fit the same rim as a regular tire, but has a larger cross diameter. Take a rim carrying a 34x4 inch tire. The oversize would be 4½ inches, making the height of the tire 35 inches. As the tire is broader it wears less, is less liable to puncture, is more easy riding, and does not need quite so much inflation. These advantages mean money saved and comfort which more than offset the increased cost of the oversize tire.

HELPFUL HINTS.

If the storage battery is not properly protected in cold weather its efficiency will be greatly reduced; especially if not kept fully charged. The electrolyte should be tested frequently to prevent it from getting too low and consequent freezing.

Keep watch for the green deposit which sometimes forms around the terminals of your storage battery. Unless acid has been spilled on them it indicates a slight leak in the sealing compound which should be closed up. In the meantime clean off terminals thoroughly and cover with cup grease to prevent further corrosion.

Never add acid solution to a storage battery unless you have been advised to do so by an experienced man. If the battery solution is weak it means that the acid has entered the plates and the battery needs recharging. Adding acid will sulphate the battery and ruin it.

If you do not understand the proper use of a hydrometer for testing your storage battery stop at the nearest battery station and find out. This service is free, as is the addition of distilled water from time to time as needed. Only by testing your battery once a week or two weeks can you be sure that it is in proper condition to function. Most drivers are content to watch the ammeter. If it shows "charge" at ordinary speeds they are content. But the electrolyte may be getting low or the battery discharging because of a slow short circuit. Until you learn how to do it yourself, stop at a battery station periodically and have it done by competent people.

Do not test the storage battery with a screwdriver. You can get a big spark which may lead you to believe there is plenty of current left. Always use a hydrometer for testing. The figures are easy to remember: 1275 charged; 1175 discharged. These figures are correct for all starting, lighting and ignition batteries.

Have this test made now—save costly repairs later

WHEN a battery is in a weakened, run-down condition, recharging is immediately necessary to prevent expensive repairing afterwards. Nothing short of an accurate test will reveal the true condition of your battery. We will make this test for you without charge. If your battery needs recharging only, we will tell you so, frankly. We take pride in the fact that we have built up our business on fair treatment, reliable service and the most reasonable prices consistent with guaranteed workmanship. Drive in today.

PROPOSED MEXICAN LAND LAW PROVIDES FOR SEIZURE OF LARGE TRACTS TO SUPPLY SMALL FARMS

LAREDO, TEXAS, Dec. 11.—Seizure of excessive landed estates in Mexico in order to furnish land for every Mexican desiring to become a farmer is provided for in the proposed Mexican land law, prepared by President Obregon before his inauguration. Owners of the excessive lands seized by the government would receive the amount at which their property is valuated, plus ten per cent. The land would be cut into small farms of from 12 to 50 acres and distributed among applicants. Payments would be spread over a period of twenty years.

In addition to the large estates to be seized, the government also will seize all tillable land left uncultivated for the purpose of evading the law. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the land of Mexico is withheld from cultivation by owners of large tracts. Following is the text of the bill, as published recently in El Universal, Mexico City:

1. The nation recognizes the natural inalienable right of each man to possess and cultivate for himself an amount of the surface of the land whose product with the application of the average amount of labor will be sufficient for satisfying his own necessities and those of his family.

2. Therefore, in order that this right may be realized, will be expropriated to the extent which may be necessary and within the terms of the law, the following lands: A. Latifundios (i. e., large bodies of land withheld from cultivation, held for speculative purposes). B. Lands permitted to remain uncultivated for the last five years. C. Partially or improperly cultivated lands, within the judgment of the secretary of fomento and agriculture.

3. No part of any estate having a modern system of agriculture shall be expropriated, when, in the judgment of the secretary of fomento and agriculture, to expropriate any part of it would destroy its character as an agricultural unit.

Limit Fifty Acres.

4. The extent of land which shall be conceded to each individual applicant shall be not less than five hectares nor more than twenty hectares. (One hectare is equal to slightly less than two and one-half acres).

5. The parcels of land awarded to applicants shall not be subject to contracts or purchase-sale, mortgage or any other contracts which limit the right of ownership; neither shall they be subject to seizure for debt; provided that existing legal rights shall not be disturbed; subject to modifications of this act.

6. The rights which this law confers on those granted parcels of land shall become extinct through failure to cultivate the same for one year.

7. Local agrarian commissions are authorized to receive and distribute lands. The national agrarian commission is authorized to point out to the executive lands subject to appropriation and to request their expropriation when necessary.

8. Rights when this law concedes can be exercised by native or naturalized Mexican citizens only.

9. Citizens owning more than twenty hectares of land are excluded from the benefits of this act.

10. Applicants shall be required to submit proofs of habits of industry and ability to cultivate land.

Preference to Married Men.

11. Other things being equal, preference shall be given to applicants living on or in the vicinity of land applied for; preference also shall be given to married men over bachelors. Among those to give preference are: Renters, persons working on shares and hired farm hands on the lands expropriated. Mexican women of age and widows shall have the right to acquire parcels of land, provided such are for their individual use and not for the use of others.

12. Each grantee shall be limited to one parcel of land, which shall be in one tract.

13.—For all purposes it shall be considered that each parcel forms an individual estate, and therefore when ownership passes by inheritance it shall pass to one person only. If there be more than one heir, then the heirs shall by agreement among themselves select the heir who is to receive the estate. If such designation shall not be made within four months, the parcel shall be sold at public auction.

14. The grantees shall be permitted to work their parcels with the most complete liberty, growing such crops as seem to them most profitable and in the manner which seems to them most adequate. Only exploitation of the forest and the use of water (streams) shall be subject to regulation.

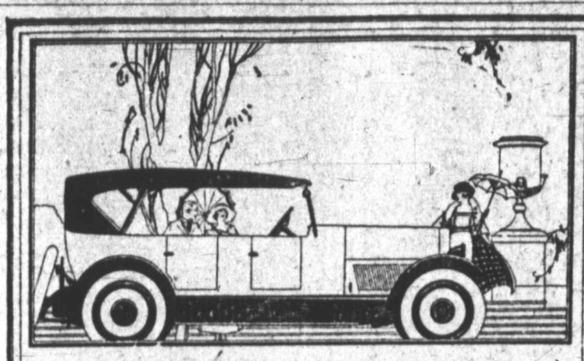

Right to Be Perpetual.

15. The right to the lands shall be perpetual and inviolate, without other restrictions than those dictated by the manifest requirements of good public policy as expressed by law. In case the grantee's right is extinguished by failure to cultivate the land for one year, he shall be permitted to remove all improvements which he has made.

16. Through the sole fact of occupation of the land, by means of judicial order or consent of the proprietor through the local agrarian commissions, shall be entirely extinguished all claims which the treasury may have against said land, whether arising through fax levies or otherwise, always excepting the right of eminent domain which can not be renounced.

17. Contracts of all kinds in conflict with the purpose of this act, are declared void. Nevertheless, those who have made contracts in good faith shall be indemnified for the improvements they have made and shall have the right to gather crops which they have planted. Renters shall have the right to a proportional reduction in rent where the land is expropriated prior to the termination of their contracts.

18. He who shall have entered into possession of his parcel of land as provided in Article 33 of this act shall not be molested with legal procedure for its recovery, nor with writs of dispossession based on such procedure

Price to Be Paid.

19. The price which the grantee shall pay for his allotment shall be that which the nation pays the former proprietor, plus 5 per cent, the latter to cover expenses of administration, the whole amount to be paid by the grantee in twenty annual payments dating from possession.

20. Proprietors whose land shall be expropriated shall have the right of indemnification for its value as appears from the tax rolls, plus ten per cent.

21. In default of data from tax rolls of which the value can be satisfactorily fixed, engineers of the local Agrarian commission of the federal district of territories, as the case may be, shall proceed to make a special valuation of the land expropriated.

22. Payment for the land expropriated shall be made in national agrarian bonds, payable in twenty years in annuities which amortize principal and interest. Interest in no case shall exceed 5 per cent annually.

23. Payment of said bonds, issued in favor of the proprietors, shall be made out of the nation's income from the resale of the expropriated lands. The federal government will make no direct investment in the funds which constitute this guarantee.

24. When it has been determined to expropriate certain lands the proprietors thereof shall present their titles and field notes to the local American Commission of the Federal District or the territories which shall belong to it. Also, they shall present certificates showing the assessed value of their estates, with statements of the value per hectare of each of the different kinds of land which compose said estates.

Penalty Is Provided.

25. Proprietors who endeavor to defeat the purposes of this act by means of legal subtleties, legal tricks or by means of resorting to notoriously improper proceedings, shall be fined a sum equivalent to 10 per cent of the assessed value of the property involved. Those who resist the national government or the local authorities by force of arms; who provoke, aid or encourage rebellion of others, or who by any violent means attempt to prevent the carrying into effect of this reform shall be deprived of their citizenship for 10 years and pay the national treasury a fine equivalent to 20 per cent of the value of the land involved. Those who, with the object indicated, provoke foreign intervention, or in any way seek the aid of foreign governments or people in the form of diplomatic, economic or military pressure on the people or government of Mexico, shall be deprived of citizenship and pay a fine equal to the value of 40 per cent of their property. It shall be the duty of the federal public minister to bring prosecutions under this act; such penal proceedings shall not interfere with the work of expropriation in the cases involved.

26. When in conformity with this act the expropriation of an estate is decided upon, proprietors shall be required to manifest within ten days whether they agree to said expropriation or whether they will formally oppose it. If the time expires without such requirement being complied with, it shall be considered that the proprietors assent and that the expropriation will be carried into effect.

Settle Disputes Promptly.

27. In case of opposition, the matter in dispute will be submitted to the federal courts, which shall hear the evidence immediately and give a decision promptly to the end that there shall be no serious delay in carrying out agrarian reform.

28. When, by consent, express or tacit of proprietors, or by judicial decree, authority to occupy the land is obtained, the local agrarian commission will take possession of it and proceed to locate and fix the bounds of the parcels according to the following rules:

A. There shall be made a ground plan of each parcel, expressing its exact size and bounds, for registry in the assessor's office.

B. Wherever the topography of the land permits, the parcels shall be given regular and uniform demarcation.

C. The bounds shall be fixed with exact precision.

D. They shall endeavor to so lay out the parcels that no one of them shall be isolated, giving each an outlet to a public road, for avoiding as far as possible the necessity for acquiring rights of passage over private land.

E. Also, they shall endeavor to arrange that each parcel of land shall have the advantage of drainage where there are canals or natural drains.

F. Parcels shall be numbered in order so that when title is passed it will be necessary to give only the district, municipality, state and number; provided that the grantee shall be permitted to give his parcel any name that he may desire.

29. In fixing the quantity of land to be allowed to applicants, the following considerations should be taken into account:

A. The superfice of each parcel should be inversely proportional to the value of the land which constitutes it, this value being estimated with its intrinsic value as well as its location with reference to roads and centers of consumption.

B. Within this standard and considering the maximum and minimum limits defined in this act, efforts should be made to fix the exact size of the parcels so that each will be large enough to maintain a farmer and his family, and in addition provide for a surplus to pay for the land and enable him to meet eventualities of the future.

Fixing the Quantity.

30. When the value of the parcel is established by the assessment rolls or by valuation as provided in this act, payment to the proprietors shall be made from the residue when are deducted the following preferential claims:

A. Taxes.

B. Amounts due on mortgages or claims existing prior to expropriation in the order of preference as established by registry. For this purpose creditors will be required to segregate their claims.

31. When the proprietors of estates refuse to receive the payments awarded to them and when mortgage or other creditors refuse to accept payment of their claims, the bonds shall remain in the national treasury subject to their demand for one year; if the bonds are unclaimed at the end of one year such creditors shall lose all rights of recovery.

32. When the lands to be granted have the character of government lands, the price shall be that fixed in the price list approved by the secretary of agriculture and fomento, the government being paid for them in agrarian bonds.

33. When the proprietor has agreed to expropriation or the latter has been accomplished by judicial decree, the local agrarian commission shall give possession to the grantee by delivery of citation describing the land allotted to him. For this transaction, which shall be a legal conveyance, a memorandum shall be drawn up and signed by those present and a copy delivered to the grantee for his protection.

34. Titles to parcels shall be signed by the secretary of agriculture and fomento in his capacity as president of the national agrarian commission, and by the interested parties. Ttitle shall not pass to the grantee until all payments have been made.

35. No fees shall be charged for preparing papers in connection with the allotment of land to applicants.

Provisions:

First. This act shall be in force from the date of its promulgation.

Second. All laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Third. The national agrarian commission, by means of circulars, shall issue necessary regulations for the application of this act.

Mexico City, December 1, 1920.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

Never draw a monkey wrench backward from the jaw as it is likely to bend the bar. Always pull toward the jaw.

When polished iron or steel becomes lusterless, it may be restored with ammonia soap suds or a stiff brush.

Kerosene will not freeze, but it has only about half the cooling effect of water, so if your motor gets fairly hot with water in the radiator, with kerosene it will get too hot.

It is quite simple to keep the feet warm when driving in cold weather. Simply remove one of the floor boards from the front compartment, and the heat from the engine will keep the car comfortably warm.

To have a clean vision windshield when driving, push the upper part outward at the desired angle. In this way the upper half of the shield keeps off the rain, while the lower half protects the driver from the wind.

Mohair tops should be cleaned frequently by dusting off and brushing briskly with a stiff brush. Panasoti tops are best cleaned with a soft brush dipped in water in which a little ammonia has been added.

In regard to parking your car when uphill, turn the front wheels out and put gear in first, while for downhill resting, turn front wheels in, with gear in reverse. In both cases be sure to set the emergency brake hard.

After you slip a cotter pin into place, don't bend the ends over flat against the bolt or rod. The cotter will lock just as accurately if the ends are spread just enough to prevent slipping out.

Batteries not used during the winter months should be stored. If the battery has seen more than six months' service it should be stored by what is known as dry storage method. This method provides that the battery be taken apart, thoroughly cleansed, dried and retained in a condition that prevents deterioration during the period of the storage.

In cleaning the muffler, after the part has been dis-assembled and the part cleaned with kerosene, it is well to go over all the holes designed to break up the gas with a sharp punch or fine taper reamer to make sure that these holes have not been reduced in size by accumulation or burned oil or carbon.

If you contemplate painting the exhaust pipe make a compound of two parts of black oxide of manganese, three parts of graphite and nine parts of fuller's earth, thoroughly mixed and added to which ten quarts of sodium silicate, one part of glucose and four quarts of water until it is of a consistency that enables it to be applied with a brush.

As a means of separating dirt, metal dust, etc., from used oil, the filter which may be made in the following manner will be found very efficient: Fasten a piece of muslin or cotton cloth to a metal or wooden ring large enough to fit over the top of a can, drum or other vessel. The cloth should be left a little slack and into the shallow bag so formed a quantity of sawdust is placed. The oil to be filtered is poured through and leaves it's foreign matter behind in the sawdust.

Before removing a cylinder head, draw off the water, remove the rubber connection between the radiator and cylinder head; detach the cable from the plugs and remove the cable supports or otherwise free the head from wiring. Take off all nuts that hold the head to the block and then, with a blunt screwdriver pry between head and block at intervals, around the line of separation until the parts are free. In lifting off the head, raise it evenly from the block, so that the studs will not catch in their holes. Try not to injure the gasket with the screwdriver. Some heads extend slightly beyond the lock of their corners and can be removed by placing a wooden block against these overhanging parts and driving the block upward with a hammer until separation occurs.

ESSEX MOTOR CARS

Why Essex Set a World Sales Record

There is no secret back of the Essex triumph.

It made the issue on finest car quality, without useless size or weight. That issue is uppermost today. For fine performance, durability and economy of upkeep and operation are more important now than ever.

And with the Essex you sacrifice no pleasure, comfort or perfomance ability that the large, high-priced car can give. Judge it by trial. Match its speed, hill-climbing ability and riding ease with any.

Your own experience will confirm the endurance and performance by which Essex accomplished its unrivaled records of traveling 3037 miles in 50 hours and in 4 times breaking the transcontinental record between San Francisco and New York, its fastest trip being 4 days, 14 hours and 43 minutes.

The Essex has won its position because it fills a want that can be supplied from nowhere else. It has met no competition because it fills a field to itself. Every one who has ever ridden in an Essex knows why no rival challenges its leadership.

FIRST BIG LAP OF LAKE WICHITA ROAD NOW COMPLETED

The first big lap of the new Lake Wichita road has been completed and the highway is open to traffic as far as Call Field. This announcement was made Saturday morning by County Road Superintendent J. M. Isbell.

Unavoidable delays, occasioned by inability to secure prompt delivery of materials has held up the completion of the road for some time, but the large half of the road has finally been laid and pronounced ready for use.

No intimation of how soon the remaining stretch to the lake would be finished has been given, as the contractors are unable to count with any degree of certainty on their ability to secure sand and cement. Twelve car loads of this material, according to Mr. Isbell, are needed at the present time with no assurance as to when they will be delivered.

Juvenile Problem One of Increasing Local Importance

Records of the county juvenile officer and juvenile court seem to indicate that many of the buds of manhood are ruining the flower through their own conduct and demeanor. An investigation of the records presents facts that are startling.

Since Juvenile Officer R. W. Morgan assumed office on February 15, 1920, he has taken 39 youths of the county to the state reformatory at Gatesville. The records kept by Juvenile Judge J. P. Jones show these results.

An equally large number of other cases of juveniles have been investigated during that time and a large percentage of these investigations are cases out on a probation period pending their future actions as to what disposition is to be made legally.

A sample case that occurred only a few days ago serves as a striking example of many of the cases in which boys have been sent to the state institution. A mother, whose husband had died, appeared before the judge with her story.

Beyond Her Control.

The story was that she had two boys, 11 and 13 years of age, and she frankly stated that they were beyond her control. She told the judge that she was unable to make them behave as boys should. In plain words, with a touch of pathos, she recited that her two boys would leave home and that she would not see them for perhaps three or four days. They did not work and they ate some where and from this she decided that they must be in some sort of mischief which, if not stopped, would eventually mean that the law would step in and take drastic action. She asked that her two sons be sent to the state institution until they had arrived at the age of 21 years.

This story does not, of course, indicate that every one of the boys who have during the past year been sent to Gatesville was sent there for that same reason. Some of the youths whom Mr. Morgan has accompanied there were because they had been found guilty of acts which are violations of the law. Even one boy was sent there because he was found guilty of murder.

According to officials who have visited the state reform school, the strictest discipline prevails at this institution. When the boys arrive they are graded according to the cause of their commital there and their knowledge and education.

At no time are any of them allowed to speak to anyone regarding the cause for their presence in the place. A guard at all times is present to see that the inmates do not talk of plots and other subjects that would be dangerous to the welfare of any other inmate or employe.

Every boy is made to go to school. The results in most cases, it is said, are astonishing and it is known that boys have come from the school, after serving the time, fitted for life and with a knowledge of some trade which will serve as a vocation to make their living.

Make Study of Boys.

Mr. Morgan, the county juvenile officer, has made a study of boys and he is a believer that there is good in every boy and he has made friends with every one of the youths he has accompanied to the state institution. Very regularly he receives letters from the boys at Gatesville in which they tell of the progress they are making in school.

Recently he received a letter from a boy who was sent there from this county. The youth it seems has no relatives whom he can locate and he stated to Mr. Morgan that he did not receive any box at Thanksgiving time like most of the others did but said he would live in anticipation that some one would think of him at Christmas time.

The boy problem, universally, is one that requires much study toward its solution. "Boys will be boys" as long as the world stands but the fact that sometimes the white chalk line is overstepped should become something more than just a passing subject.

B.F. JOHNSON LEAVES FOR MEETING AT SAN ANTONIO

B. F. Johnson, local real estate operator and representative from the 101st district in the next legislature, left Wichita Falls Saturday to attend the convention in San Antonio of the Texas Real Estate Boards' association. He also has business in Dallas, and will probably not return before the end of this week.

The realty men of Texas are particularly interested at this time in obtaining legislation that will protect legitimate operators from the competition of curb brokers. A bill on this subject will be drafted at the San Antonio convention and presented to the legislature at its January session.

"As one speaks of an old friend," describes the real warmth of feeling with which the Hupmobile is spoken of. 203-15tc

A Judgment Against Max C. Wolf for $10,597.25

"A judgment for $10,597.25 against Max C. Wolf and arising from an automobile accident in which he was the principal actor lays behind a petition in bankruptcy which Wolf, a bookkeeper of Oakland, Calif., filed in the United States District Court at San Francisco this week.

From the account of Wolf's difficulties it appears that he did not carry automobile liability insurance when his car caused a serious accident, with the result that the costs of the suit instituted against him, together with the judgment secured by the injured person, forced him into bankruptcy."

The Best Gifts Are Bought Early

The wise buyers whose Christmas Gifts always give the greatest pleasure, buy their gifts early. Better and bigger selections, goods are not handled or soiled—the unusual and different gifts—the new, novel things are not all gone. So, while our Christmas Gift stock is complete, we tell the wise buyers that we are ready with better things to select from.

GRACIOUS! ANOTHER HOLD-UP! DO YOU KNOW DEAR, I'M DREADFULLY WORRIED ABOUT PA'S HAVING TO WALK UP FROM THE TROLLEY ALONE EVERY NIGHT! IT'S A TERRIBLY LONESOME STRETCH - JUST THE PLACE FOR HOLD-UPS!

AW-WHY NOT HIRE A BODY GUARD FOAH HIM? I KNOW JUST THE CHAP - I'LL PHONE HIM.

ER-WAIT CEDRIC - PA WOULD NEVER CONSENT TO THAT!

TUT-TUT! LEAVE IT TO ME MOTHAW - FAWTHAW WILL NEVAW KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT IT!

THIS IS MR. SPIKE SLAMM, MOTHAW. HE WILL GUARD THE HOUSE AND ESCORT FAW THAW FROM THE STATION, FOAH ONLY $50 WEEKLY.

I'LL WAIT AT DE STATION FER HIM MA'M AN' FOLLER HIM HOME WIT'OUT HIS KNOWIN' IT.

WHILE I'M GONE T' MEET YER HUBBY, MA'M, I'LL LEAVE ME DORG T' GUARD DE HOUSE - HE WON'T LET NOBODY IN DE FRONT GATE WOT HE DON'T KNOW!

ER-GOSH, BUT THAT'S A TOUGH-LOOKIN' BIRD!

TRU FY STATIO

A-AN' BY JINKS HE'S FOLLERIN' ME! H-HE'S ONE O' THEM HOLD-UP GUYS, SURE!

WELL-RIGHT HERE'S WHERE A WOULD-BE HOLD-UP MAN GETS HIS!

WHAM!!

IF HE COMES TO B'FORE MORNIN' I'LL SAY HE'S A BEAR!

GR-R-R!

WOW! HALP!

CALL THIS POOCH OFF I TELL YA!

I CAWN'T CALL HIM OFF, OLD DEAH! HE PAYS NO ATTENTION TO ANYONE BUT HIS MAW-STAW!
