Texas Going Over In Kenny Goal

Early reports on progress of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Campaign in Texas shows the state going over the top in raising its $150,000 quota, it was announced here today by George C. Francisco, Jr., of Houston, Chairman of the Texas Executive Committee, Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation. Campaigns in more than 150 Texas counties will come to an end Saturday, December 7. In the counties where no organized campaign is underway, Francisco said that the committee had resorted to asking for contributions by mail.

The Texas committee urged anyone who was interested in seeing the Kenny method of treating polio made available to every unfortunate victim in Texas to mail their contributions direct to State Headquarters, Driskill Hotel, Austin, and that the contributions received through the mail would be credited to the quota of the county from which such contributions were received.

Guadalupe County was the first to "go over the top," with Uvalde running a close second, and followed by Hopkins, Bandera, Houston, Matagorda and others.

A number of counties in Texas are holding their campaign until the picture "Sister Kenny," in which Rosalind Russell plays the part of the famous Australian nurse, is shown. It is being shown during the first two weeks of December in more than 52 Texas cities.

USO's the Place They Go

WHETHER they're teen-age inductees getting accustomed to Uncle Sam's Army or experienced veterans returning to civilian life, the USO's the place they like to go, as this pictorial evidence from Seattle, Washington, clearly demonstrates. USO is now campaigning for funds with which to serve both the veteran and the GI through 1947.

FOR example, youthful Private William Baker of Wichita Falls, Texas (left), is decorating the dance hall of Seattle's Second Avenue USO with hostess May Hanson; while ex-Sergeant Norman M. Shaffer of West Medford, Massachusetts, gets the help of Mrs. Pearl J. Kendrick in sewing on his "ruptured duck" at the Army-Navy USO.

While editor of the Eastland county seat daily, I narrowly escaped being killed while helping in the pursuit of the Santa Claus bank robbers.

Not long after that, I wrote of the emergence of Old Rip from the Eastland courthouse cornerstone.

Now, for the first time, the full accounts of the most spectacular crime in history of the Southwest and of the horned frog, who will be a legend centuries from now, have been written. They are in a new book, "Cowtown Columnist," of which the author is one Boyce House.

The volume contains the cream of eight years' "columning" for this and many other papers and five years' broadcasting about Texas history, adventure, romance and legend.

There are first-hand stories which were obtained from J. E. Cooper, long-time editor of the Williamson County Sun, who knew the famous gun-fighters, John Wesley Hardin and Ben Thompson, personally. In the book, Tom Bend, of Eastland tells about the time he disarmed Hardin, who was credited with killing 40 men; and Sterling Price Buster tells about his friend, Bob Ollinger, the last man that Billy the Kid killed.

* * *

I was lucky enough to discover an unpublished poem by O. Henry, too, and it is included.

Did you know that the first man in the history of the world to fly was a Texan?

And that the last battle of the Civil War was fought in Texas, weeks after Lee's surrender?

That Old Spanish Fort actually was an Indian fort and the scene of a big battle when Spain ruled Texas?

And that Texas used to have camels?

The only monument erected by Southerners to the memory of Union soldiers is in Texas?

Besides all these stories, "Cowtown Columnist" tells about Harley Sadler, famous tent-showman; Bigfoot Wallace; the "White Indian"; Capt. Bill McDonald of the Texas Rangers; Sam Bass; Cynthia Ann Parker; the trial of the Indian Chiefs at Jacksboro; wolf-hunting and famous wolves; of how J. R. Couts, single-handed, shot it out with four "bad men"--and many other colorful Texas events, many of which never before have been published in any book.

Texas Aviation Association To Try Making State First In Air

Plans designed to make-and keep-Texas First in Aviation, are being activated by the Texas Aviation Association, Howard Bumbaugh, newly elected President, formally announced today.

The Texas Aviation Association-formerly the Texas State Council of the National Aeronautic Association-met in their Annual Convention in Lubbock this week under Fred H. Lindall, past President, for the purpose of considering proposed State aviation legislation; plans for the establishment of a State Headquarters office to coordinate and activate a comprehensive Texas aviation program; and to elect officers for the coming year.

In attendance at Lubbock were delegates from all sections of the State, representatives of the various aviation and civic organizations interested in the promotion of aviation in Texas in the public interest and the Members of the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

Among the important resolutions and projects adopted by the Convention, Mr. Bumbaugh said, were those to activate plans for the establishment of a State headquarters in Austin to be manned by paid personnel for the purpose of coordinating all aviation efforts throughout the State and to furnish information and advisory services to it's members; resolutions favoring and suggesting amendments to, pending State aviation legislation covering a uniform air act, and an aviation gasoline tax bill.

Other resolutions favored the establishment of more ports of entry between the United States--Mexico and the South American nations; a drastic relaxation of border crossing regulations for the non commercial pilot; the establishment of an International Free Trade Zone at Brownsville; the early transfer of all surplus airports to municipalities; and that all surplus hangars and other equipment shall be restricted to airport use and sold to municipal airports, or to operators of privately owned airports on a time payment basis.

The Association also adopted resolutions recommending that the Federal Government appropriate sufficient funds to permit the Civil Aeronautic Authority to operate all aiport traffic control towers; that the present allocation of funds under the Federal Airport Act be expended entirely for Class 3, or smaller, airports, and that additional funds be appropriated for larger metropolitan airports; that such funds be channelled through the Texas Aeronautics Commission; and that all flight training participated in by any State supported educational institution be done only through contract with an established and approved commercial flying school.

Resolutions and projects adopted by the Convention of special interest to the flyer, according to Mr. Bumbaugh, included plans for an Air Safety program for the State; an Air Marking project to include every community in Texas; the establishment of emergency landing facilities at strategic locations; improved weather information services; and improved airport-to-town transportation facilities at all airports.

Newly elected to head the Association for the coming year were: Howard Bumbaugh, of San Antonio, president; Fred H. Lindall, of San Angelo (retiring president), Chairman of the Board; Virgil L. Musick, Lubbock, 1st Vice President; Hart Bowman, Dallas, 2nd Vive President; E. G. Magruder, El Paso, 3rd Vice President; Dr. R. E. Capshaw, San Angelo, 4th Vice President; Ben C. Coffin, San Antonio, Secretary; and Herbert A. Joseph, Fort Worth, Treasurer.

Members of the Board of Directors will consist of duly appointed representatives from each of the member chapters and clubs.

According to President Bumbaugh, all of the projects and resolutions adopted at this Convention are being activated and it is expected that the new State office in Austin will be in full operation by January 1, 1947.

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it, he sets aside a "worrying hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find . . . right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.

County Judge G. A. Wynn spoke on "Learning the Ways of Peace" at the December meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday afternoon, December 3, in the High School Auditorium. The theme of his subject was what each individual can do toward acheiving world peace, giving an excellent, common-sense approach.

The fourth grade pupils, under the direction of their teachers, Misses Winnie Lea Williams and Maxine Robinson, presented a Thanksgiving program.

Mrs. Margaret Handley, home economics teacher, announced that the Adult Homemaking Class will hold its first meeting, for organizational purposes, next Tuesday afternoon, 1:30 o'clock in the Homemaking cottage, on the campus.

The sixth grade was winner of the P-TA attendance prize in November, according to announcement made by Rex Lowe, grammar school principal.

Mrs. Earl Lomax, treasurer, reported a balance of $191.28 in the treasury.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

THIS is the story of a blighted romance. These Swiss sweethearts have come to the parting of the ways. He keeps on climbing UP. She keeps on coming DOWN. Only a while ago they started out together, hand-in-hand.

This is also the story of your cost of living. It has been climbing steadily. Department of Labor statistics show that it has gone up 31% since 1939.

But wait a minute! National average figures show that the cost of electricity has actually been coming downward. Since 1939—through years of war and shortages, rising prices and higher taxes—the cost of electricity has decreased 14%!

Actually, the average American family is now getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Never has electricity done so much for so little.

Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—made this possible.

Outlook on wool for 1947 indicates that prices paid to ranchmen after April 15 will decline to a level competive with imported wool, depending on whether or not the government continues to support prices after that date.

Specialists of the Texas A. and M. Colege Extension Service who attended the Annual Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C., report that the Commodity Credit Corporation will continue to purchase wool at about the present level of 42 cents per pound until April 15, after which prices to growers will depend on Government price support action.

Consumption of domestic wool has been on the increase this year, and since foreign wool prices are on the rise, the use of even more domestic types of wool should be encouraged next year, the specialists point out. Mill consumption of domestic wool may be larger in 1947 than in the three previous years, the specialists say, but total mill use of all types of wool will decline. Goal for stock sheep and lambs on Texas ranches for 1947 have been set at 9,575,000 head, down one percent from the 1947 number. This goal has been approved by the Texas USDA Council.

—(½*!?$*@)—

Is DDT the best dip ever offered to ranchmen? Maybe so, or maybe not, but Thomas A. Morriss, Edwards County ranchman, will say it is and give some cold facts to back up his statements.

County Agricultural Agent A. A. Storey, Jr., reports that Morriss got almost perfect control of horn flies, lice and screw-worms on his cattle, sheep, goats and hogs by dipping the animals in a two-tenths of one percent solution of DDT. The dipping was done last spring, and this fall at shearing time his Angora goats were "entirely free of lice". Using other types of dips, Morriss always failed to get rid of blue lice at shearing time. And apparently, says County Agent Storey, the lice on Morriss' hogs were also controlled by the DDT.

Screw-worm cases resulting from shearing cuts — always a thorn in the side of sheep and goat raisers — can be held to a minimum by dipping in DDT after shearing, judging from Morriss' experiences.

Regular dipping during the summer will also keep the horn flies down, says Morriss. For three weeks after he dipped his cattle, he says they "didn't switch at tail or sling a head" — the horn flies just weren't around. He plans to dip regularly next summer, and believes that the DDT solution "is the best dip that has ever been offered ranchmen".

Veterans' News

More than 13,000 veterans training in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi are currently suspended from Veterans Administration subsistence rolls for failure to report their earnings.

Subsistence checks ordinarily mailed to these veterans the first of every month will be held up until the required report is submitted to the proper VA regional office, VA officials said.

Both veterans in training and educational status must report their earnings from productive labor for the months of August, September and October.

Forms have been mailed to all veterans on the suspended list, but if these have been misplaced, the report on earnings can be made in a letter over the veteran's signature.

Under legislation passed last summer, veterans' payments and earnings are limited to a total of $175 monthly for those without dependents and to $200 monthly for those with dependents. In the event those figures are exceeded, the subsistence allowances must be reduced accordingly.

VA officials believe most of the reductions will be made in allowances to veterans taking on-the-job training. It is believed that only a few veterans in educational status will be affected.

The Veterans Administration has obtained an additional 1,600,000 books from the United States Armed Forces Institute to add to the 600,000 other surplus books still available to schools and colleges for their veteran-students, VA announced this week.

The USAFI list contains 196 diferent titles and includes standard cloth-bound texts, paper-bound volumes, and self-teaching texts. Mathematics, literature, foreign languages, science, history and business are among the many subjects included.

USE HAND SIGNALS WHEN STOPPING AND TURNING.

A total of 66 recognized organizations are now authorized to present claims for veterans with Veterans Administration.

USO Camp Shows gave 587 performances before 105,000 veteran-patients in Veterans Administration hospitals and homes during August.

Are YOU going to have a FIRE this winter?

We don't mean in your fireplace either, because statistics from preceding years lead us to believe that between five and ten Sonora residences will catch fire this winter.

You can help prevent fires by turning off gas stoves when leaving home or when retiring for the night. You can help by having faulty wiring replaced, by having the fireplace and flue cleaned and checked and by remembering that when the fire siren blows your own friends and neighbors, the local firemen, may have to endanger THEIR lives to save YOUR PROPERTY.

NEW PRODUCTION

GOING UP...

BUT NOT FAST ENOUGH

Yes, production of switchboards, cable, and other vitally needed telephone equipment is increasing. But the increase is not keeping pace with the demand. The reasons for this are generally the same as the reasons why the demand for houses, cars, appliances, etc., cannot be met today and for many months to come. Manufacturers will not predict when orders can be filled, but we pledge our continued best efforts to provide service as soon as possible.
