Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

The lifting of the price ceiling on beef produced a peculiar set of statistics. Accord ing to the weekly Cattle Feeders Report, live prices were down 50¢ to $1 per cwt., while dressed beef was up $3 per cwt. and retail prices were up 10¢ to 20¢ per pound. This sort of sounds like the "middle man" is back in the picture.

A rush of last minute news sort of crowded me this week. It is probably as well, since I spent most of my column writing time chasing rumors. I finally got the facts, but it took some time. One of my jaunts took me to the DPS office. When the personnel there discovered I had never seen marijuana, a little "show and tell" took place and I came away much better informed. I might not know it if I see it again, but I won't soon forget the smell. Ugh!

NEARING COMPLETION - This unique picket and sotol house, with a thatched roof of sacahuiste grass, has been moved from its original site west of Ozona and is nearing complete restoration at the Ranch Headquarters of The Museum of Texas Tech University. The structure was donated to the Ranch Headquarters by Mr. and Mrs. Bascomb Cox. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Sutton have assisted in its restoration.

Before being elected State Commander, he served as Department Surgeon, Junior Vice Commander, Senior Vice Commander and National Deputy Chief of Staff. He aided in the organization of five new posts.

Lions Zip Past Eldorado 13-0, Take On Mason Tomorrow Nite

The Ozona Lions zipped by the Eldorado Eagles 13-0 Friday night in spite of 11 penalties for 115 yards and nullification of two touchdowns and some dazzling runs by Lion backs. Tomorrow night will see the Lions boarding the Mason Punchers on the Mason field. Kick-off time is 8 p.m.

In Eldorado Friday night Romaldo Cervantez led the Lions in rushing with 142 yards on 27 carries. Oliver Payne racked up 76 yards on 17 carries and Pete Maldonado had 74 yards on 11 carries. Rick Hunnicutt had 55 yards on 9 carries and quarterback Craig Taliaferro carried the ball four times for 13 yards. A minus six yards on a pass completion gave the Lions a total of 354 yards, which amounted to a good night's work for any ball team.

The Eagles only managed 24 yards rushing and 27 yards passing for a total yardage of 51. The Lions really put on a defensive show, recovering three Eagle fumbles and intercepting a pass.

Ozona's first score came shortly before the end of the first quarter as the Lions marched downfield and punched it over for the score. The PAT failed.

The Lions drove to the Eldorado 5 from their own 35-yard line, but failed to score before the half.

Ozona received the ball in the third quarter and were forced to punt. The Eagles blocked the Lion punt on the Ozona 8 yard line, but the tough Lion defense failed to allow a score. The Eagles tried a field goal, but this also failed.

An intercepted pass by Cervantez led to the final score. The Lions drove in from the Eagle 22 for the score with 3:55 minutes left in the game. Lessly Russell tacked on the extra point and that ended the scoring for the night.

Coach Sewell says tomorrow night's game against the Punchers will be a good test for the Lions. Although the Punchers have had trouble moving the ball on the ground, they have a highly touted passing game and the Lions' pass defense is sure to get a good workout.

Ozona fans may purchase reserved seats for the Mason game until noon tomorrow in the office of high school principal Foy Moody.

Approval For Nursing Wing Is Discussed

County Judge Troy Williams and Rev. John Berkley were in San Angelo last week to meet with the Concho Valley Council of Governments Health Facilities Committee concerning the proposed nursing home wing for the Crockett County hospital.

The committee, members of the COG staff and others went over the application of the Crockett County Commissioners Court for approval of the geriatrics wing with the two local men. The group took the application page by page, suggesting changes in wording, expanding in some areas, revising others, and suggesting that the county submit a proposed budget for the first year's operation, including staff, payroll, etc.

It was also suggested that letters be secured from administrators of area nursing homes stating that the facilities were full, or as the case might be, the number of surplus beds. Another suggestion by the committee was that the report emphasize the vastness of the area to be served by the nursing home, the remoteness from other facilities, etc. Statistics furnished by staff members show that there were 2515 persons age 60 and over in this area in 1970.

It was reported at the meeting that the Governors Committee to review health planning has required a new executive director and even more stringent requirements have been set up. A letter from the director was read suggesting that no new construction be approved unless occupancy of existing facilities exceeds 90% for nursing homes and 85% for hospitals.

Individual members of the COG committee expressed cautious optimism for approval of the application after it is re-worked according to their recommendations.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY -- Another one of John Berkley's homilies caught by the photographer on the sign in front of the Methodist Church this week. He often comes up with an eye-catcher, but this one seemed especially worth mention.

Crockett Field Gains Extender

The Hunt-Braggett (Strawn gas) field of Crockett County was extended 1¼ miles north and 1-5/8 miles southwest with completion of Wallen Production Co., Midland, No. 1-A Wallen-Gularco, eight miles south-southeast of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 11,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Production was through perforations at 8,913-9,084 feet, which had been acidized with 15,000 gallons.

Hilary Doran Named To Ag.Committee

Representative Hilary Doran of Del Rio has been named to the important Agricultural Committee to study the subjects of Marketing of Food and Meat Products, Meat Inspection and Contracting of Cotton and Grain.

Representative E. L. Short of Tahoka was named Chairman. Short said that he was very pleased that Representative Doran was placed on this committee. "His knowledge and closeness to the people of rural Texas will be a tremendous asset to the committee in the many hours of work that lie ahead."

Others on the Committee will be Representatives Forrest Green, Dean Cobb, Jerry Donaldson, Elmer Martin and Latham Boone.

American Quasar Petroleum Co., Midland, will drill a 9,200-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 14 miles southeast of Ozona, 2-3/8 miles north-northwest of the one-well Angus (Strawn gas) field and four miles east of dual 7,980 Pennsylvanian gas production in the Davidson Ranch multipay field and the DePaul (Strawn gas) field. It is the No. 2-38 Jones Ranch.

Location is 1,190 feet from the south and 660 feet from the west lines of 38-IJ-TCRR. Ground elevation is 2,378 feet.

Cubs Open Season With Win And Loss

A big crowd was on hand last Thursday afternoon to watch the Cubs win one and lose one to the Sonora Colts. The 7th graders lost their game 30-0; the 8th grade team won theirs 24-6.

Steve Pagan put the Cubs on the scoreboard with a 40 yard pass play thrown by quarterback Blake Moody; Moody ran in for the 2 conversion points. Moody threw to Pagan again for a 22 yard touchdown pass with Randy Allen making the 2 extra points. The third touchdown was made on an 8 yard run by Javier Reyes with Blake Moody adding 2 points.

Both Junior High teams will travel to Junction today for their next game. The 7th graders will kick-off at 4:00 p.m. with the 8th grade following at approximately 5:00 p.m.

Roadblock For Dope Haulers Results In Death Of Deputy

Pursuit of a young man wanted in connection with evading officers and hauling marijauna resulted in the death of a Sheffield deputy sheriff early Tuesday morning.

Deputy Allen Graham of Sheffield was stationed at a roadblock with Highway Patrolman Tom Toussaint four miles west of Ozona on Highway 290 early Tuesday morning when he was struck and fatally injured by a passing motorist. Graham was rushed to Crockett County Hospital by a Janes ambulance and transferred to San Angelo. He was dead on arrival at Shannon Hospital, apparently of massive internal and other injuries.

The ambulance broke down near Mertzon and a replacement was dispatched. When the ambulance arrived at the hospital at 8:30, Graham was dead of his injuries.

The chain of events leading to Graham's death began around 1:00 a.m. Tuesday morning when a late model Ford with two passengers ran a Border Patrol checkpoint 12 miles south of Ozona on State Hwy 163.

When the call came in to the DPS Communications Center, sheriff's officers set up a road block on the highway two miles south of town. The car evaded the road block and traveled at high speed toward Ozona. At the intersection of the highway and Besente St. the driver attempted the sharp angle turn off the highway to the right. He lost control of the car and his passenger jumped from the auto. The car then sped up Monterey St., coming to a stop only after a wreck at the dead-end of the street.

The driver, a 19-year-old Midland youth, was apprehended, along with a sizeable quantity of marijuana. He was jailed and road blocks were set up in the vicinity of Ozona on all roads leading out.

Assisting in the search for the missing suspect were officers from Sonora, Big Lake, Texas Rangers and all local officers.

At 6 a.m. Officers Toussiant and Graham had stopped a truck to check for hitch-hikers when Graham was hit by a 1973 Chevrolet driven by Henry Otis Pickett of Fort Stockton who was traveling east on Hwy 290.

Pickett said the headlights of the truck blinded him and he failed to see either officer. The car narrowly missed Patrolman Toussaint. The road blocks were cancelled after the accident.

Officers continued the search for the missing suspect, but by mid-afternoon Tuesday the general opinion was that he had managed to get out of Ozona while the first suspect was being apprehended.

The suspect who was jailed here was turned over to federal officers Tuesday and transferred to San Angelo.

Both young men are from Midland and both are 19 years of age. Names were not released pending apprehension of the missing suspect. Local officers do know the name of the missing suspect and feel that his apprehension is only a matter of time.

Graveside Rites Here Thurs. For Mrs. Pittman

Graveside services for Mrs. Bertha Galyon Pittman, 74, were held here Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. in Cedar Hill Cemetery. Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. in Johnson's Funeral Home chapel in San Angelo.

Mrs. Pittman died at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday in Baptist Memorials Geriatrics Hospital.

She was born Aug. 28, 1899 in Gay Hill and moved from Ozona to San Angelo 30 years ago. She was employed with Sears for 20 years there.

Survivors include a daughter, Audrey Adelle Galyon of Carlsbad; a son, Robert B. Galyon of San Angelo; a sister, Mrs. Alma Greer of Ozona; two brothers, Jim Poteet and Arthur Poteet, both of Phoenix, Ariz.; and six grandchildren.

Stutz Lovell Hurt In Plant Accident

L. W. (Stutz) Lovell suffered a compound fracture of the left leg Thursday in an accident involving a high pressure hose at the Ozona Gas Processing Plant.

Lovell was releasing pressure while transferring propane. The gas was freezing up and when he attempted to free the pressure, a 2-inch hammer union broke loose and struck his legs, causing the injury. There was approximately 100 pounds of pressure on the line.

Lawrence Janes administered first aid at the site. The injured man was taken to Crockett County Hospital where he received further medical aid and was transferred to Shannor Hospital in San Angelo where he underwent surgery.

His condition was satisfactory Sunday and he was scheduled to be released Monday or Tuesday.

WRECKED VEHICLES REMAIN after night of police activity and death of an officer. The vehicle above finally came to a halt after it was wrecked at the end of a dead-end street. The driver was arrested and a cache of marijuana recovered by officers. Roadblocks were set up for a passenger who escaped on foot. The search was called off after Pecos County Deputy Sheriff Allen Graham was hit and fatally injured by vehicle at bottom at a road block west of Ozona. The chase began at 1:00 a.m. Tuesday morning and ended with the tragedy at 6:00 a.m.

Press Excess

Ominously, the Watergate scandal reflecting lack of principle on the part of some in the executive branch has also produced behavior reflecting a lack of principle in the news media.

The seed for this excess among members of the press and television was laid years ago, when some came to loathe Richard Nixon. A hard core of leftwing writers, many in movieland, and some with Communist connections which made them suspect, were hurt by the then Congressman Nixon's investigations.

The core of hatred spawned by the Alger Hiss case was active and working in the 1960 presidential election, a dubious election, perhaps stolen from Mr. Nixon in several key states.

That hatred expanded sometimes slavishly, to a majority of press and television reporters in the 1960 election, it being fashionable among liberals in 1960 to support the handsome, charismatic John Kennedy, the Democrat. By 1968, the vast majority of newsmen and commentators had savagely degraded Mr. Nixon for years. And many went on record in 1968 as saying his election would be a national catastrophe, ruin the country, etc.

For more than four years they were wrong. Mr. Nixon ended the war in Vietnam, made giant strides toward detente by improving relations with Russia and China, imposed economic controls, achieved a nuclear arms agreement with Russia. Business was good.

The Nixon haters had had their noses rubbed in the dirt, or worse, for over four years when the Watergate scandals were revealed. They were, as all admit, serious and disturbing misdeeds.

But the eagerness of certain newspapers and many television and wire service reporters to break the next scandalous revelation (and in effect prove they had been right about Mr. Nixon all along) was too much of a temptation. As a result, as numerous lawyers, judges, editors, foreign newspapers and, recently, American columnists, have observed, news policy suddenly became one of printing or broadcasting every accusation, stories from unnamed "informed sources" or sources "close to the investigation," rumors, innuendo, gossip, etc.

The new journalism, in short, was sadly lacking. David Broader has pointed out recently that the lesson of the McCarthy era was that accusations against individuals must be presented by the media with due regard to the motives of the accusers. This was often not done in Watergate reporting.

In addition, all kinds of leaked information was reported, some from grand juries; our criminal justice system, of course, cannot work fairly if secret excerpts from grand jury hearings (a non-adversary type forum) are splashed over front pages. Such reporting is completely unfair to the accused.

Shocking excesses within the media in these ways threaten the continued freedom of the press as we know it. If the press acts more and more irresponsibly, it will gradually lose more and more of its cherished freedom, for it will be abusing the rights of citizens innocent until proven guilty, contrary to the American tradition of justice and fairplay.

There are many ways to abuse such rights—lending dignity to unfounded reports and charges, slanted reporting, carefully selected, slanted pictures, slanted headlines, slanted television through editing and selection, etc. All the methods were used in the Watergate scandal, by too many in the news media, in addition to the much abused tactic of stating opinion as accepted fact. By some it was a deliberate attempt to stampede the public, and force the President out of the White House.

Gun Time

This is the time of year fathers and sons are getting guns cleaned and oiled for hunting, preparing for the seasons on deer, pheasant, quail, etc.

Thus it's good to recall, at the beginning of the season, that sportsmen are killed every year unnecessarily through carelessness with firearms. In New Orleans recently a mother was showing her son how to handle a pistol and accidentally shot and killed him. He was sixteen.

That accident, unfortunately, will not be the last this year. Hunters will trip and shoot the hunter ahead, some will shoot themselves while crossing fences. Others will be shot by unloaded weapons in cars. Some will be shot by trigger-happy hunters mistaking them for wild game.

Safety with firearms can't be stressed too much; as the expanded population and more leisure time and money send more and more hunters into the fields, the danger of accidents increases. The year 1973 is thus the most dangerous yet. Keep that in mind and you might live to enjoy many more hunting seasons.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

BY BILL BOYKIN

Texas Press Association

New legislative sub-committee investigations of the amusement and vending machine industry have been ordered amid sensational (and disputed) allegations resulting from a 1968 probe.

Speaker Price Daniel Jr. named Rep. Arthur (Buddy) Temple of Diboll to head a House Consumer Affairs sub-panel inquiry into juke box operations and needed legislation in the field.

The sub-committee was instructed to work jointly with a Senate group headed by Sen. Ron Clower of Garland. Clower said his sub-committee will look into allegations the industry is linked to organized crime and that the regulatory state Amusement Machine Commission is dominated by big operators who do not protect customers.

Daniel said the air should be cleared of speculation, controversy and innuendo which have surrounded operation of the industry for years.

Meanwhile, Daniel unveiled some of the previously-secret records of a 1968 House investigation. Most controversial was a tape recording of testimony by Pete Martinez of Austin that he gave money to a state representative, a state senator (who is now dead) and a judge, on behalf of Raymond B. Williams of Dallas, a major amusement machine owner who previously served on the regulatory commission.

Williams has denied Martinez's testimony. Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir said Martinez, now serving a probated sentence for burglary, failed to satisfy a lie detector test that he was telling the truth and that he refused to repeat his charges to a district attorney or grand jury.

AID FOR RUNAWAYS--An experimental hot line for runaway youths to send word to their families is being installed through leadership of Gov. Dolph Briscoe and with cooperation of the telephone company and its employees.

Briscoe announced the facility, which he termed "Operation Peace-of-Mind," will be manned by volunteers for 30 days. The initial Houston office will have two statewide inbound Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) lines, one national WATS line and three local lines in the city.

The Governor said the network will transmit messages from the runaways to their parents and friends and is not intended to "inform" on them. Volunteers will also tell the youthful wanderers where they can receive assistance anywhere in the state.

Number of the state WATS line is 1-800-392-3352. The national WATS number is 1-800-231-6946.

SALES TAX BONDS REQUIRED--Businessmen delinquent in payment of sales taxes they collect from customers must post bonds ranging from $100 to $50,000 after January 1.

Failure to put up the required bond (based on volume of business) and pay delinquent taxes may result in court action to close a business.

Fred Russ, Director of the State Comptroller's Tax Division, estimated $35 million in state and $7 million in local sales taxes are delinquent for the period which began in 1961. Much of this total is due to business failure.

Russ predicted $3 million to $4 million will be produced by the new bonding law from businessmen who are now delinquent.

Under the new law, a bond will be required of all new businesses for a two-year period. If there are no delinquencies, the requirement will be dropped. Discounts will be allowed for timely payments to the state of taxes collected and pre-payments.

BRISCOE LIKES IT HERE---Governor Briscoe says he likes his job and has given no thought to quitting after a single term.

While he said he is not ready to make a formal announcement, the Governor didn't leave much room for doubt that he will seek a second term in 1974.

"I have enjoyed this job," said Briscoe. "I haven't thought about leaving."

While he was at it, Briscoe said he sees no reason to change his mind about not calling a special legislative session. He stated flatly he does not see one as needed for any purpose.

COLLEGE BOND REQUIREMENTS REVIEWED--The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System looked over proposed rules and regulations by which three Texas schools may issue tuiton-backed bonds to construct new facilities.

Action is expected to be taken on the rules and on tuition equalization grant procedures at a September 28 meeting in Dallas.

The 63rd Legislature authorized the University of Houston to issue up to $40 million in tuition bonds for its Clear Lake Campus, Texas A&M University a maximum of $7.5 million for Texas Maritime Academy $10 million.

Washington News Letter

By

Congressman O. C. Fisher

The Watergate burglary may turn out to be the most prosecuted burglary in history --and one of the most expensive.

It's now estimated that special prosecutors will cost $4 million before the case is closed. And the 5 burglars who were caught in the act were tried and convicted long before Archibald Cox and his entourage of special prosecutors were hired.

In addition, the Ervin Senate committee has run up a tab of $1 million.

Cox's office now has 80 workers on his payroll. The 38 lawyers hired for this special job, including many college law professors, get from $14,000 to a high of $38,000 paid Cox.

There's no way of knowing how many indictments will be returned. One would think that with the seasoned and experienced prosecutors in the Department of Justice, a good hard-working and well-directed grand jury could have done this job without calling in the array of college professors. But that's water over the dam now.

CLEAN ENERGY FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

A Natural Energy Home uses natural gas for heating, cooling, water heating, cooking and clothes drying to save you money and help conserve our cleanest natural energy resource . . . natural gas.

That's because electricity in West Texas is generated by burning natural gas, and in the process of generating and transmitting electricity to your home, 2/3 of the gas energy is lost.

So, by using gas directly in the home for the jobs it can do, you're helping to conserve it and you're getting more energy for your money.

Last Friday a check of $100 was given to Gary Buck from his grandmother for a donation to the Senior Class. She read in the paper that if you didn't want to buy a mum you could donate to the senior class. Well, we don't expect that much for a donation. We would like to give our appreciation to Myrtle for such a wonderful gift. Thanks ever so much, Myrt!

H. E. III and IV have started making coats. Friday Pat S., Teresa S., Leticia G., Mel V., and Martha F. forgot to go back after school and put up their material. Monday morning they started looking for it but couldn't find it. Finally, the other girls looked in the closet to get their material and saw that ours was in there too. Man, what a relief!

Last Friday, band buses left, or were supposed to pull out, at 5:30. As usual, Suzanne W. and Teresa S. were late and were nearly left. Be on time next time! Bus 3 had some trouble and pulled off the road. Everyone piled out of the bus after Mr. Hoover went back to town with the Caines and many Ozona people were stopped--you might say they couldn't help it with as many kids as there were. Later, another bus appeared with Mr. Spiller driving it. Many groans were heard, right Sir Spiller? Mr. Spiller didn't have to put up with us after all. He went on the instrument wagon. I'm still not sure what happened to Mr. Hoover, but when we got to Eldorado, he was there.

--LR--

The Victory Bell was late. We made a touchdown before Dennis H., James K. and Mike A. had it in front of the field, but that didn't stop us from ringing it.

A tennis tournament for the Cancer Society was held in San Angelo Saturday. These people attended: Darryl K., Debra D., Karla F., Tony H., Tommy H., Mike H., Belinda B., Karen B., Brad H., Tia S., Jack C., Lisa C., Drew I., and Kelly F.

They left at 5:30 Saturday morning and returned Sunday at 8:00 p.m. Karla and Debra went to the quarter finals in the girls high school doubles match. Karen Beebe and Karen Kerby went in junior high finals. Great job!

The Cancer Society was about 200 dollars richer after the tournament.

The Ozona Lions beat the Eldorado Eagles 13-0 last Friday night. Romaldo C. made both touchdowns and Melvin R. kicked for the extra point. Great job, Lions. Keep it up.

Much spirit was shown throughout the stands. The Lions were showing us on the field that they were determined to win. Let's keep this determination and spirit up. Let's have an instant replay at Mason this Friday night.

Educational Grants Available To Youth

High school graduates desiring to further their education and who need financial assistance to do so may now apply for grants to fund part of this training.

Under a new federal program, the Basic Educational Opportunity Grants Program, interested students may apply for grants that will pay up to one-half of their educational costs, points out Dr. Warren Mauk, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Extension Service, through its county agents, has applications for the grants as well as additional information on the program. Applications are also available at post offices, high schools and state employment offices.

"The new program provides an excellent opportunity for students to enroll in colleges and universities as well as in vocational or technical schools," says Mauk. "However, the program in which the student enrolls must require a high school diploma and must be at least six months in duration.

"Students must be entering a post-secondary educational program for the first time after July 1, 1973 and on a full-time basis. And grants must be applied for annually. Applications for the 1973-74 school year may be submitted until next February."

According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, the amount of the grants are based on the cost of the program in which the student enrolls and the ability of the student or his family to pay for the training. The issuance of the grants will not be influenced by scholarships or other sources of funding available to the student.

The grants are designed to pay for tuition, student service fees, board and room, books and certain other expenses.

"This program provides a tremendous opportunity for high school students to obtain further education and training," says Mauk. "And, it's not a 'poverty' program. Individual situations will be considered in awarding the grants."

Shooting Crows In State Is Still Legal

Is it still legal to shoot crows in Texas?

Yes, according to Parks and Wildlife Department wildlife officials, the crow may be shot if it is committing depredation or about to commit depredation on ornamental or shade trees, agricultural crops, livestock or wildlife.

The use of crow calls or recordings is still legal in the state.

All the controversy on crow shooting started about a year ago when the U. S. signed a treaty with the Republic of Mexico placing the family corvidae, which includes crows, under federal protection.

Actually, the intent of the agreement was to protect other members of the family which are found in Mexico, but the raucous, common American crow found himslef enjoying the unusual leisure of federal protection.

Recent federal guidelines received by the Parks and Wildlife Department give Texas two options on crow hunting.

One provides for a season which treats the crow as a game bird. Such a season would be for a maximum of 120 days and prohibits the hunting of crows during the peak nesting season.

The second option permits the hunting of depredating crows the year round.

Texas is bound to the second option.

To set a season on crows as outlined in option one would call for legislative action making the crow a game bird.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After the wonderful rains of the past few weeks we should have a beautiful face to enjoy. There is a physiological difference of entering the winter months if vegetation is lush green rather than dry and dead from lack of moisture.

Several have asked if English ivy growing in a tree will harm or kill it. It seems to depend on how high the ivy is allowed to climb. If the ivy gets out onto the leaf-bearing branches of the tree and gives too much shade, the branches would not bear leaves and would die. To avoid this, keep the ivy trimmed back to the main trunk.

Many of you are puzzled when your flowering annuals and perennials don't bloom properly. One problem in Ozona is lack of sunshine where you have large shade trees, and if you prepare flower beds too close tree roots interfere. There are many attractive plants that will grow here in the shade and near trees.

If you have an open space or partial shade and plan to make new flower beds, concentrate on gradually enriching your soil until it is thoroughly cushioned with humus and soil life. Rain soaks in and never puddles. Because of the nice, fairly loose particles of soil with organic matter in various stages of decomposition, drainage is near perfect. During dry spells, moisture is available to plant roots as needed and earthworms abound, creating a reservoir of plant nutrients. This will almost guarantee rapid, strong root growth.

If your Bougainvillea has finished blooming, you may want to try a new fertilizer Martha Henderson gave me. The nursery man told her the plant would bloom again in about three weeks after feeding it. Mix 1 tsp. aluminum sulphate, ¼tsp. potash in ½ gallon water and feed once a week. Also, he says to pour out or put on another plant any unused solution and never use when left for any time. I have had a rather quick response in feeding my Bougainvillea with BR61 but intend to try the above.

Debra Says:

By HD Agent Debra Price

You can stretch your dollars with buying know-how. Good buying habits help you get more for your money.

Good shopping sense begins by looking ahead. Identify purchases which your family has coming up throughout the year. Be on the lookout for both sales prices and a product that fits your needs. One plan-ahead trick is a shopping list which can help you resist the temptation to buy unnecessary items.

Shop around for purchases. Prices and products vary from store to store. By comparing prices you can save on many items.

Analyze your shopping motives. Ask yourself why you really want the item. Avoid spending out of boredom or unnecessary indulgence.

Know your dealer. Buy from reliable businessmen who are established in the community. Be careful about buying from door-to-door salesmen. Most are legitimate, but a few are out to cheat you. Check for their credentials. Be cautious when dealing with a strange firm, particularly if there is no permanent address or sales representative in town.

More information on buying know-how is available from the County Extension Office. Contact Debra Price for a FREE series of 10 leaflets, "Be a Smart Shopper". Phone 2-2721 or write Box 969, Ozona, Texas 76943.

I have received several cards that have asked to receive the Shopper Series but did not include a name or address. Be sure to include your name and address on your cards.

Deer Meat Last Season Has $12 Million Value

Texas deer hunters took home almost $12 million worth of venison during the past season, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The figure is based on the amount of boneless meat from 14,400 mule deer and 362,000 white-tailed deer killed during the 1972-73 season and the November, 1972, price of ground beef chuck which averaged $.85 per pound statewide.

The average field-dressed mule deer weighed 106 pounds and yielded an estimated 53 pounds of boneless meat, while whitetails field dressed at approximately 73 pounds and yielded slightly more than 36 pounds of boneless meat.

The total amount of boneless mule deer meat harvested in Texas was approximately 672,000 pounds and valued at more than $647,000.

Whitetails yielded approximately 13,174,000 pounds of boneless meat valued at more than $11,198,000.

Department officials say that rising beef prices should raise the value of venison considerably during the coming season.

I didn't know how to tell Billy about the accident. How can you say to your son that his mother is injured and there seems no hope?

I held him close, but could find no words of comfort. Suddenly I heard Billy start to pray softly. I had always left prayers and that sort of thing up to Mary. I somehow felt it couldn't really help, but I felt myself kneeling with Billy.

Softly he prayed as his mother had taught him. To my surprise I heard no begging plea but rather earnest conversation like that with a trusted and loved friend. "Thy will be done," not hopelessly, but serenely acknowledging the goodness of God's will.

Miraculously, we brought Mary home yesterday, and I plan to spend the rest of my life praising God, not only for her recovery, but also for the faith I have learned from our son.

You can bet that when Mary and Billy go to church next Sunday, I'll be right there with them —singing, praising and believing.

1974 Chevrolet
A better-than-ever way.

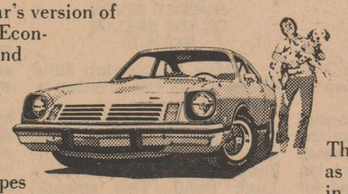

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

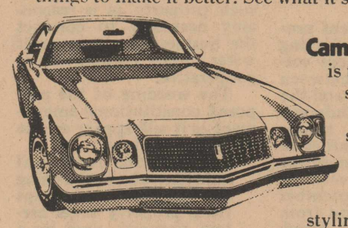

When the wheel belongs to you, the road goes anywhere you say. And it's so much better with a '74 Chevrolet.

Caprice Classic. Introducing an elegant motor car, just asking to be enjoyed. Outside: an imposing new grille, and on the Coupe, a distinctive new roof line. Inside: peace, quiet and convenience. With standard power steering to do most of the turning, standard power front disc brakes to do most of the stopping, and a standard Turbo Hydra-matic transmission to do the shifting. If you want the luxury and comfort of a car that leaves little else for you to do but enjoy the ride, you don't have to look beyond the '74 Caprice Classic. However, the freedom of the open road begins with the freedom of choice:

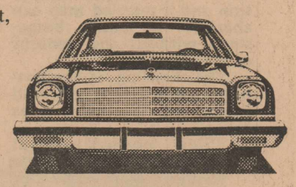

Vega GT. This year's version of last year's Motor Trend Economy Car of the Year. (And Car and Driver Readers' Choice as Best Economy Sedan for the last three years.) With a reshaped nose, bigger bumpers, nicer carpeting, new stripes and new colors. Plus more good things to make it better. See what it's like to drive a winner.

Camaro. The way it looks is the way it goes. Quick, sleek and nimble. With a low, wide stance, responsive steering. And comfort that's rare in a car that handles so well. Plus classic new styling, and plushness from the cut-pile carpeting up.

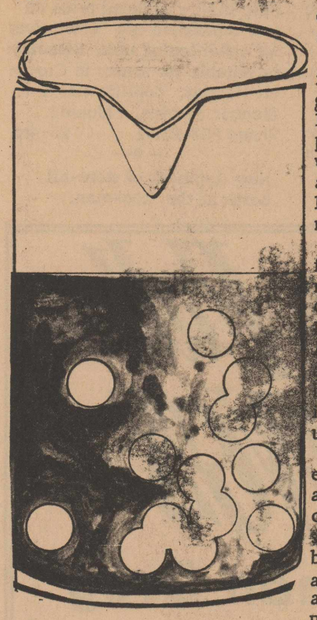

Malibu Classic. A luxury Chevelle, new this year. With full foam seats. A fold-down front armrest. Wood-grained vinyl accents. Elegant inner door panels. Extremely tasteful upholstery and cut-pile nylon carpeting. That's just inside. The exterior is just as classic, in character and in detail, as the interior. Yet, it remains mid-size. And, it remains all Chevelle. With Chevelle handling and at a Chevelle price. Now that you've looked, come and see the new Malibu Classic—and all the 1974 Chevrolets. The ones shown here, plus Impala, Monte Carlo, Nova, Corvette, pickups, vans and all our new cars and trucks.

Vitamins, Minerals, and FDA

ounts of all nutrients necessary to good health.

The Agency is saying that it will prohibit unsupported generalizations about nutrient losses because of soil, transportation, and processing when such generalizations are used to frighten or mislead consumers about their need for dietary supplements.

The FDA responsibility for the vitamin and mineral regulations is assigned by the Congress. The basic Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of 1938 requires that FDA act as it has to insure safety, honesty, and full consumer information about such products.

In the 1940's, it was generally thought that vitamins and minerals were such innocuous substances that excessive quantities would merely be excreted. FDA regulations at the time reflected this view and were sufficient to the needs and to the knowledge of the day.

This is no longer true. Even though a number of vitamins and minerals are essential to human nutrition, we know, for example, that excessive and prolonged vitamin A intake can cause serious problems, including pressures within the skull that mimic a brain tumor. This in turn may raise the danger of serious operations for brain tumors that do not exist.

Excessive and prolonged doses of vitamin D can cause calcification in soft tissues and bone deformity in adults as well as children.

Vitamin C in very high doses can cause diarrhea. High doses of this vitamin have been used in Russia to induce early abortion.

Iron toxicity is a well established cause of accidental poisonings in children. Iron as well as all other minerals essential to human nutrition are toxic at some level.

On the basis of increasing knowledge, the thinking of the 1940's is obsolete today. The view that unlimited quantities of vitamins and minerals are innocuous is today not only obsolete but dangerous. The evidence of this is so clear on vitamins A and D, for example, that FDA is recommending that high-potency doses be taken only under physician guidance. Nevertheless, both A and D will continue to be available, either in nonprescription strengths up to the U. S. RDA or in higher potency forms under physician prescription.

Other than vitamins A and D, all vitamin and mineral products in excess of 150 percent of the U. S. RDA and now available without prescription may continue to be sold singly or in combination formulas as non-prescription drugs. They are, nevertheless, drugs and not dietary supplements. These products eventually will be reviewed by experts who will judge their safety and effectiveness as drugs and advise FDA on appropriate labeling.

As a general rule, FDA will continue as in the past to presume a drug acceptable for nonprescription use unless it is unsafe to use except under supervision of a physician.

FDA knows of no economic hardship on consumers or manufacturers that could result from handling high-potency vitamin-mineral products as drugs. Indeed, this will clearly work an economic benefit for consumers, who for the first time will begin to receive accurate information on the different uses of different levels of nutrients.

In summary, the FDA will continue to act in behalf of consumer safety and better consumer information. New regulations primarily affect labeling of vitamin and mineral products and will likely require more accurate consumer information on most such products.

FDA will continue to seek out and act against deceptive or false promotions.

The Agency is not banning any vitamin or mineral from the market or forcing any manufacturer willing to provide proper product formulation and labeling out of business.

The Agency is not restricting any vitamin or mineral available without a prescription today to prescription use only. This includes vitamins A and D in doses up to the U. S. RDA.

The FDA will continue to regulate on the basis that vitamins and minerals are essential foods when taken according to bodily need. When taken far in excess of this need, they are drugs and should be treated by the consumer and by the FDA accordingly.

The term "bodily need" is not set in concrete. FDA and others are constantly monitoring research to more precisely measure the body's nutritional requirements. As a result, changes may be anticipated in the future, in some cases to lower the U. S. RDA's and in other cases to increase them.

Above all, the new regulations will not alter or interfere with the consumer's basic responsibility for deciding his own individual nutritional practices. The rules will insure more and better information to guide the consumer in making such choices.

Get In Shape For Hunting This Season

You say your lease is all sewn up, your gun is oiled, your camping equipment is in top shape and you are sitting on your hands waiting for the hunting season to start?

Maybe you shouldn't be sitting, suggest Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Instead, walking and maybe even a little jogging would be better for your heart. According to the American Heart Association, 50 percent of all deaths in Texas are from cardiovascular diseases, heart atacks being the single greatest killer. Hunters, especially those with sedentary jobs, are prime candidates to become one of these statistics.

Part of every year's hunting preparations should also include a program geared at preparing the body for the rigorous days ahead.

Here are some tips from the American Heart Association which should help a few more hunters get safely home from their trip:

--Arrange to see your doctor before your trip. Discuss your plans with him and take his advice.

--Dress sensibly. Consider the climate both day and night. If you hunt at an altitude higher than where you live, start a few days early to get acclimated. Get adequate rest before the hunt starts. Don't hunt when exhausted. Plan your day of hunting and rest often.

--Know the approximate distance to be covered. Know the location of the nearest phone, doctor or emergency center.

--If you are already a heart patient, be sure one member of your party knows about your condition and the medicines you take. Never hunt alone.

--When you bag a heavy deer, get help in taking the animal out of the woods.

The checkup a few months before the hunt is most important. If your doctor okays it, start a training program to get yourself in shape.

The regular session in each even numbered year would be for a period not to exceed 60 days and would be limited to consideration of fiscal matters and any emergency matters submitted by the Governor. The 60 day session could be extended by the Governor for a period not to exceed 30 days;

Provide an annual salary for members of the Legislature not exceeding $15,000 per year and a per diem not exceeding $18 per day for each day of each regular session or special session;

Provide that no appropriation of money shall be made for a longer term than one year and direct the Comptroller to make annual estimates of anticipated revenue rather than biennial estimates;

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for annual regular sessions of the legislature; and to provide an annual salary of $15,000 and per diem for the members of the legislature, effective in January, 1975."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 7)

Article XVI, Sections 50 and 51 of the Texas Constitution are amended to:

Include within the scope of homestead protection the real property of a single adult person which meets the other requirements of homestead property, and to provide that a family homestead may not be abandoned except with the consent of both spouses.

Presently a single adult person is not entitled to claim a homestead exemption and a married man can abandon a family homestead without the consent of his wife.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to include within the scope of homestead protection the real property of a single adult person which meets the other requirements of homestead property, and to provide that a family homestead may not be abandoned except with the consent of both spouses."

NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 13)

Provides that no law creating a conservation and reclamation district shall be passed unless a copy of the proposed law is delivered to the commissioners court of each county and to the governing body of each incorporated city or town in whose jurisdiction said district or any part thereof is or will be located. Each such commissioners court and governing body may file its written consent or opposition to the proposed law with the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House of Representatives. Each special law creating such a district must comply with general laws then in effect relating to consent by political subdivisions to the creation of such districts.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment establishing certain requirements relative to the enactment of laws creating certain conservation and reclamation districts."

NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 12)

Article XI, Section 7 of the Texas Constitution is amended to:

Provide that all counties and cities bordering on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico are authorized to levy a tax to pay for bonds issued for the construction of sea walls and breakwaters upon a majority vote of the resident property tax-payers. Counties and cities are presently authorized to levy such taxes and this amendment only changes the required vote from a two-thirds majority to a simple majority.

Provides that the district court, concurrently with the county court, shall have the general jurisdiction of a probate court and in a probate proceeding shall also have the jurisdiction otherwise conferred on it by law. It also provides that the legislature may increase, diminish, or eliminate the jurisdiction of the district court or county court in probate matters, may adopt rules governing the filing, distribution, or transfer of cases and proceedings as between the courts having jurisdiction of probate matters, and may provide that all appeals in probate matters shall be to the courts of civil appeals.

NUMBER SEVEN ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 6)

Article III, Section 49-b of the Texas Constitution is amended to:

Provide for an additional $100 million in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the Veterans' Land Fund. This amendment increases the present $400 million authorization to $500 million;

Remove the present provision which permits buying of land only by those veterans who served between September 16, 1940 and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the armed conflict in Viet Nam. This amendment would allow all veterans who serve after September 16, 1940 to buy land from the Veterans' Land Fund, provided they are otherwise qualified;

Provide that, in the event of the death of an eligible Texas veteran after the veteran has filed with the Board an application and contract of sale to purchase through the Board the tract selected by him or her and before the purchase has been completed, then the surviving spouse may complete the transaction.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for an additional $100 million in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the Veterans' Land Fund."

NUMBER EIGHT ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 29)

Article XI, of the Texas Constitution is amended by adding a new Section 5(a) which:

Authorizes and requires incorporated cities, towns, and villages, regardless of population and notwithstanding the constitutional limitations on total tax rates, to levy such annual ad valorem taxes on the taxable property in the city, town or village as are necessary to pay the principal of and interest on, when due, the general obligations hereinafter issued by the city, town, or village. The legislature is empowered to limit by general or special law the total principal amount of general obligations which may be issued, but unless and until the legislature acts to do so, the limitations established by statute with respect to the total principal amount of bonds which may be issued by independent school districts shall apply as the rate limitation on cities, towns, and villages.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it appears on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize cities, towns, and villages to levy such ad valorem taxes as are sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on their general obligations hereafter issued subject to the restrictions provided by law."

NUMBER NINE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 25)

Article VIII of the Texas Constitution is amended by adding a new Section 2C which:

Allows the Legislature, by general law, to exempt all real and personal property used by non-profit water supply corporations or cooperatives from all property taxes. Predators Create Livestock Emergency

Representatives of various agricultural groups testified in Austin that the predatory animal problem is nearing the emergency stage in the livestock industry. This testimony was presented to the Wildlife Subcommittee of the Environmental Affairs Committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

Chairman Fred Agnich called the meeting to organize the sub-committee into a hearing body to try to determine the actual damage predatory animals are causing livestock and wildlife industries in Texas. Mr. Agnich said because of the evidenced problem with predatory animals the committee plans to conduct at least two field hearings, at which time they will hear testimony from livestock producers as well as environmentalists as to their losses and the problem as they see it. The hearings will be conducted in Fort Stockton, Texas on Friday, September 28 at 10:00 a.m. and in Lampasas, Texas on Wednesday, October 10 at 10:00 a.m. Meeting places will be announced at a later date.

The Wildlife Sub-committee heard representatives of five agricultural groups testify as to the enormous amount of predation their members are experiencing. Those testifying were Mort L. Mertz, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association; Bill Sims, TS&GRA executive secretary; Pat Smith, State Affairs director for the Texas Farm Bureau; Bill Powers, executive director of the Texas Poultry Federation; and Ed Stanfield, administrative assistant for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association.

Mr. Mertz pointed out that because of the nature of sheep and goats it is virtually impossible to raise them in the same pasture with the coyote. Sometimes no matter how much other food is available there are times during the year when the coyote will take the baby lambs and kids and possibly even eventually kill the adult sheep or goats. The TS &GRA executive further pointed out that because of the ban on the use of poisons by the President of the United States and the Environmental Protection Agency the loss of livestock has greatly increased. In a recent survey a total of 35, 940 producers were contacted, and of this number 13, 686 producers responded. Over 6, 000 of these producers were experiencing some predator loss. Over 66, 778 sheep and goats and over 6, 179 calves were reported lost just to coyotes. Other predators were blamed for the death of 44,111 sheep, goats and cattle.

Bill Sims, executive secretary of the TS&GRA, stated that this is not only a loss to the producer but also to the consumer because these animals would have eventually produced over ten million pounds of red meat for the consumers of the United States, not counting what their offspring would have produced or the amount of wool or mohair that could have been produced. Sims further stated that the deer population in the counties that have adequate predator control programs is far beyond the number in those that do not have a good control program, as evidenced by Parks and Wildlife records.

The Wildlife Sub-committee of the Environmental Affairs Committee is made up of Fred Agnich of Dallas, Chairman; Ben Grant of Marshall; Ben Atwell of Dallas; Tony Dramberger of San Antonio; Jimmy C. Edwards of Conroe; T. H. McDonald of Mesquite; and Ed Watson of Deer Park.

New Cases Of Screwworm Number 300

300 cases of screwworm infestation confirmed in Texas livestock during the past ten days brought the year's total to 1410, say officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

The preponderance of these cases were in the South Texas region. Brooks County led the list with 144 recorded cases, followed by Kenedy County with 67.

Other South Texas Counties recording screwworm action were Jim Hogg, Starr, Kleberg, Hidalgo, Duval, Willacy, Jim Wells, Zapata, and Live Oak.

Elsewhere in Texas, scattered cases were reported from El Paso, Hudspeth, Zavala, Jeff Davis, Haskell, Bosque, Stonewall, and Gonzales counties.

Intensive sterile fly release procedures are in effect in the Kenedy, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Starr, Willacy and Hidalgo County region in an effort to control the problem.

Dr. M. E. Meadows, veterinarian-in-charge of the Screwworm Eradication Program, urges livestock owners to carefully watch their animals for signs of screwworm infestation and submit samples of larvae found in wounds for identification. Both Coral and Korlan are USDA approved sprays for screwworm prevention and owners are urged to spray their herds where possible.
