New Unemployment Insurance Tax Is Approved By FDR

Subsidy For Pension Plan Is Suggested

Unemployment Insurance To Rest On Contributions Of Employers Through Payroll Tax System

Plans Outlined

Of Three Optional Proposals For Old-Age Pension, Two Would Depend On Assistance From Government

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer
(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. — An unemployment insurance system resting upon contributions by employers through a payroll tax and three optional old-age pension plans, two of which would carry a federal subsidy, was approved today by President Roosevelt's economic security advisory council.

Persons familiar with the council work said the proposals to be recommended included:

Recommendations

The employer to bear the full expense of the plan.

The collection of a three per cent payroll tax.

Exercise by the federal government of a strong control over the form of state insurance plans by the payment of grants from this tax to those states whose insurance plans came up to federal specifications.

Optional Plans

These persons said the old age pension program approved called for three optional plans, any or all of which might be employed. They outlined them as:

A compulsory plan under which the states would pass a law compelling employers and employes to contribute to an old-age pension fund.

A contributory plan by which both employer and employe would pay into a general old age fund.

Federal Subsidy

A voluntary plan under which the employe would pay a specified amount each month for regular insurance that would care for his old age.

A federal subsidy would help to bolster the funds built up under the contributory and compulsory plans.

In addition, the advisory council adopted recommendations dealing with hospitalization.

It did not vote on proposals for health insurance.

Portugese Vote On Constitution

LISBON, Portugal, Dec. 15. (AP)—Portugal swings into step with Fascist Italy tomorrow when voters go to the polls to approve the new constitution modeled after Benito Mussolini's "corporative state" plan.

Assured of new support is the nine-year dictatorship of President Oscar de Fragoso Carmona, inasmuch as the government has given the voters no other choice.

Only one list of candidates, that carefully selected by government committees 20 days before the election, will be presented and Republican and Socialist parties, not represented on the ballots, are urging their supporters to stay away from the polling places.

Bones Uncovered In Cellar Frequented By Girl's Slayer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Discovery of 30 bones, buried in the basement of the Westchester county cottage in which Albert H. Fish says he killed 10-year-old Grace Budd, was announced tonight by investigators.

Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire said the bones would be analyzed to determine whether they were those of human or animal.

"All I can say is that they are similar to human bones," he said.

Fish, 65-year-old painter, has steadfastly denied knowledge of any of the other children who have disappeared in this area during the last few years.

Blow At Lobbyist Group Is Struck

Hitler Plane Is Attacked In Air

LONDON, Dec. 15. (AP) — The Marquess of Donegal, writing in tomorrow's Sunday Dispatch, says Adolf Hitler recently was attacked from the air while flying over East Prussia.

A traveler who just returned from Germany told him the tale, the marquess writes.

An unidentified plane swooped down from the clouds on der Fuehrer's craft, his account said, spraying it with bullets and then fled in the direction of Lithuania.

The marquess' story says neither Hitler nor his pilot was hurt but those in charge of the realm leader's safety were greatly alarmed and precautions to protect him thereafter were redoubled.

In his article he also says that Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi minister of propaganda, is in terror of being poisoned and has his wife, Martha, prepare all his food with her own hands.

Partial Shake-Up Of War Department Is Intended

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—At least a partial "shake-up in war department personnel and procurement" methods, designed to decrease the effectiveness of lobbyists, was reported today to have been promised congressional investigators.

Likewise, said two informed sources who declined to let their names be used, a new grand jury investigation seeking indictment of at least "two high army officers" will be initiated when the house military affairs committee concludes its investigation of war department expenditures.

Committee members now are drafting their final report, which will be completed by the end of the month. In it, they intend to point out certain lobbying practices and suggest changes in the war department methods by which things are bought.

The committee does not now plan to mention any names, but merely to deal with general practices, turning its information over to Leslie C. Garnett, the district attorney here, for presentation to the grand jury.

The committee investigators have found, for instance, that one officer in a strategic war department post had accepted fees from companies which did or hoped to do business with the government. They compiled much testimony that men who openly were lobbyists had or claimed to have close contact with officers high in the war department.

Former Prince, Associates To Be Executed By Soviet

STALINGRAD, U. S. S. R., Dec. 15. (AP)—Former Prince Machizariani and two associates were sentenced to death today by a special collegium of the provincial court here for allegedly stealing socialist property valued at 200,000 rubles.

Twenty-four tractors, five carloads of timber and a carload of iron were said to have been stolen by the former prince and his confederates. These were a merchant named Zhurloff and M. Assatziani, a former commissioner of militia under the Menshevik government of Georgia.

Move Started For Building Another Canal

Congress Would Be Authorized To Appropriate Funds For Nicaragua Project; Value In War-Time Cited

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A new move was started today to get congress to authorize construction of a $722,000,000 canal across Nicaragua for commercial and national defense advantages to the United States.

Announcing plans to push for adoption of the 30-year-old project Chairman Carl Vinson of the house naval committee today said he would discuss the proposal soon with President Roosevelt.

Favor Meets Proposal

The Georgia Democrat said he had canvassed a large number of senators and representatives and found sentiment predominantly favored the project.

Vinson today completed drafting a resolution which called for creation of a "Nicaragua canal commission" of 11 to report as quickly as possible to congress on the "feasibility and wisdom of constructing" the canal.

Last Report Unfavorable

The last report submitted to congress on the project, Dec. 10, 1931, by the United States Army Interoceanic Canal board, advised against building the canal at that time.

"The time is near when the United States will have to construct the Nicaragua canal," Vinson said. "The Panama canal's locks are not large enough to accommodate with safety some ships now being built. They scarcely are large enough to handle the big aircraft carriers—the Saratoga and Lexington.

Would Shorten Route

"From a commercial standpoint, the Nicaragua canal will shorten the route from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and the orient, . . .

"From the national defense standpoint, it is to the advantage of the United States to have two canals through which to transfer the fleet from one ocean to another in time of war. There is always possibility that one might be destroyed."

The army board reported that the most practical route for the Nicaraguan canal would be from Greyton on the Atlantic to Brito on the Pacific by way of the Deseado and San Juan rivers and Lake Nicaragua. It would be 172 miles long, cost $722,000,000 and the annual cost of maintenance was estimated at $10,800,000.

Admiral's Condition Grave Following A Heart Ailment

BREMERTON, Wash., Dec. 15. (AP)—Victim of two heart attacks, Admiral Robert E. Coontz, U. S. N., retired, was in a critical condition at the navy yard hospital here tonight.

Physicians despaired of saving the life of the 70-year-old one-time chief of naval operations and former commandant of the Puget Sound navy yard. He is a past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

French Accord On Gold Asked

Nations Drive To Get Nation To Join World In Going Off Gold Standard; Government Is Adamant

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Dec. 15.—An unremitting drive to get France to join most of the rest of the world in going off the gold standard today found the Flandin government apparently still determined to keep the European gold bloc together.

With financial circles predicting disruption sooner or later of the tight little combine of nations still clinging to the yellow metal as their currency basis, sentiment for devaluation apparently was growing in Belgium and Holland, two members of the bloc.

France Agitated

In France, too, agitation for cheaper money continued with Paul Reynaud, former minister of finance, in the forefront of those advocating devaluation—or, failing that, deflation.

The former minister's attack on the new government's defense of the franc, delivered in the chamber of deputies early this month, served to put the issue squarely up to Premier-Etienne Flandin.

Prices Or Money

"France," Renaud told the chamber, "must either deflate prices or devalue its money," arguing that "the economic activity of the gold bloc countries is diminishing, although it is increasing elsewhere."

In previous statements Renaud had urged discreet direct negotiations with President Roosevelt looking to stabilization between the United States dollar and the gold currencies. Once an agreement is effected, Reynaud predicted, England would come into line.

Flandin, those close to him say, is eager for stabilization of all currencies, but takes the position that stabilization is dependent not on France but on countries off gold.

AAA Puzzled At Prospects Over Horizon

Leaders Ask Selves If Other Major Commodities Planning To Ask Compulsory Control Of Production

Answer Unknown

Possible Demand Arouses The Board As To Whether Assent Or Dissent Would Be Given; Regimentation Grows

BY MEGBOURNE CHRISTERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The agricultural adjustment administration tonight had before it the task of answering puzzling questions raised by the nine to one vote in favor of retaining compulsory cotton control for 1935.

One was whether producers of other major commodities would be answered yea or nay, should they demand compulsory control to aid in keeping their production within bounds.

Regimentation Supported

Secretary Wallace has said he sees no reason to extend the principle of the Bankhead cotton control act to other major crops. The vote, however, was so overwhelmingly in favor of continuance that officials decided the sentiment in favor of so-called regimentation was greater than even its advocates realized.

Approximately 2,600,000 farmers were eligible to vote in the election to determine whether the Bankhead act should apply for another year. A two-thirds majority was necessary to keep the legislation on the books. The tabulation of the first million votes showed approximately 907,000 for and 93,000 against.

Yawning Woman Improves But May Give Way To Sneezing

ROUND GROVE, Ill., Dec. 15. (AP) The "yawning woman" is improving, but physicians are wondering now if she will become the "sneezing woman."

While they puzzled over the condition of Mrs. Harold McKee, 35, they recalled another case cited in Chicago by Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the journal of the American Medical association, in which he reported a 15-year-old girl who started yawning after a tooth extraction, yawned for days, and then began sneezing, and eventually gave way to yawning again.

King George Suggests Fund For Yacht Go To Indigents

LONDON, Dec. 15. (AP) — King George spiked a movement today to provide him with a new yacht by popular subscription in honor of the silver jubilee of his reign next year.

A spokesman for his majesty said: "In the first place he is tremendously fond of the Britannia (present royal yacht) and would hate to give her up. He also feels that the 30,000 pounds sterling (about $150,000) which would be required could better be applied to people out of work."

SERVICES CONDUCTED

McCAMEY, Dec. 15. (AP)—Funeral services were held here today for Mrs. R. R. Rogers, with members of the McCamey football squad as pallbearers. Her son, Herman, a member of the team, who was injured in the Big Spring game three weeks ago, was unable to attend the funeral. The body was sent to Truscott for burial tomorrow.

Austro-German Peace Effort Directed After Guards Shot

Vienna Plans Making Representations To Germany

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Dec. 15.—Austria and Germany tonight seemed equally determined not to let the slaying of two members of an Austrian border patrol disturb their increasingly good relations.

Although the Vienna government earlier was considering immediate representations to Berlin, it was said officially this evening the German government was not held responsible for the death of the patrolmen, alleged to have been shot by "Austrian Legion" Nazis from Germany.

Chancellor Kurt Shuschnigg and his foreign minister, Egon Berger Waldenegg, left Budapest for Vienna after their two-day conference with Premier Goemboes of Hungary, giving rise to rumors that the conferences had been cut short due to the possibility of Austro-German tension growing out of the incident.

Following Earlier Plans

Their return, however, was entirely in accordance with plans previously made, officials here stated, and had no connection with the border shooting.

The official version of the shooting, which occurred near the Austro-German border in the vicinity of Eri, was that the border patrol suddenly was confronted by three men who opened fire before the Austrians had time to remove their rifles from the shoulder straps.

One guard was killed instantly, it was said, and the other died later.

Confusion Admitted

At the foreign office it was admitted some confusion concerning the causes of the encounter still exists. A spokesman, however, said Austria had the assurance of Bavarian authorities that German officials were making vigorous attempts to take into custody the persons who did the shooting.

Berlin dispatches quoted government officials as saying the two men shot were not members of the Austrian patrol, but two men who entered Austrian territory from Germany, met the patrol and were slain.

Baskets Will Be Given To Needy

For an annual distribution of Christmas baskets of food to needy families, the Sanders Sunday school will need 52 baskets, a house-to-house canvass showed.

J. T. Trigg, secretary-treasurer of the class, announced that, asking persons who would give baskets to have their grocers arrange them or to send money for the baskets to George W. Dupree, superintendent of the Sunday school, or Mrs. J. H. Hankins, a teacher.

The baskets will be distributed Christmas eve afternoon, Trigg said.

Each year the class, which meets at Sanders school, has a Christmas service the Sunday just before Christmas.

Forty-five to 50 Lubbock men yearly contribute to a fund that the class uses to buy fuel, medicine, and food for indigent families in the Sanders neighborhood, Trigg said. Money for the Christmas tree and decorations for the service also comes from the fund.

Two Criminals Die In Chair For Slaying Of Patrolman

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Two men, Walter Dittman, 28, and Herman Boulan, 36, died in the electric chair today for the slaying of Policeman Earl M. Jensen.

Their deaths bring to seven the total of "cop-killers" executed in the last two years in Chicago's grim drive against the slayers of her law officers.

How'd You Like This 'Un—Fried?

Brazil Quails Under Reports Of Dreaded Black Death Cases

Pestilence Of Middle Ages A Threat To Northeast Part Of Nation; Authorities Are Taking Precautions

(By The Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 15.—Bubonic plague, the supposed "Black Death" of the Middle Ages, is an officially acknowledged threat in northeast Brazil.

Dispatches from Fortaleza today said six cases had been reported in that city and its environs, the first in early November in the central regions of the state of Ceara, the second in the Prainha suburb of Fortaleza and four others, now under laboratory observation, in Fortaleza itself.

Earlier dispatches quoted Dr. Leorne Menescal, director of public health in Fortaleza, as saying cases had been reported in Palmeiras, Mulungu, Coite and Guaramiranga. Medical aid was sent to those zones.

In Santos Dumont and Capistrano de Abreu "the disease has been successfully combated," the dispatches said.

Fortaleza authorities kept the port open, but took sanitary precautions with incoming ships. Inhabitants of the state of Ceara were being vaccinated as fast as possible.

The official explanation of the appearance of bubonic plague credited it to the death of rats, due to the drouth in the desert lands of Ceara.

Fines Assessed By Police After Downtown Car Crash

A 25-year-old Lubbock man was fined $3 for breaking glass on the sidewalk and a 23-year-old Big Spring man was fined $5 for reckless driving last night as a result of an automobile mishap in Broadway in the downtown section.

The glass the Lubbock man broke contained whisky.

Police said the automobile collided with two other cars, but that no one was hurt. The men paid their fines and were released.

H. P. Sparks, 27, of Amarillo suffered a fractured collar bone and lacerations when an automobile he was driving upset between Lubbock and Slide early last night.

Maybe He Read Hoover's Book

W. J. Cochran, naturalization bureau examiner, of El Paso Saturday was questioning Milton George Bowles of Lubbock about United States government, in federal court here.

"Do you know about the form of government of the United States?" Cochran asked.

"Yes, it has three departments or divisions, executive, legislative, judicial."

"But, I mean, what form it is, a kingdom or a republic?"

Avirett's Freedom Is Held By Jury Of Waco Residents

WACO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Joe Bailey Avirett's fate was handed to a jury early today after completion of arguments in his trial for the slaying of James Malcolm Stewart, jr., Katy, Texas youth found slain on a highway near here several weeks ago.

The state vigorously demanded the death sentence.

Avirett and Roy Curry, his youthful companion of Hubbard, were charged with Stewart's death when they surrendered to officers two days after Stewart's body was found. Avirett's first trial ended when a jury failed to agree. The state contended Stewart was slain as he resisted a holdup.

Verdict Given By Jury After Brief Period

Single Ballot Required For Decision; Jury Is Out For Two Hours, Twenty Minutes; Members Thanked

Defense Claimed

Defense Offers Witness Who Says Borger Uttered Threats Against Hutchinson County Tax Official

(By The Associated Press)

CANADIAN, Dec. 15. — Arthur Huey was acquitted tonight of a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of A. P. (Ace) Borger.

The jury deliberated but two hours and twenty minutes and reached its verdict on the first ballot.

"Thank you gentlemen," Huey said as the verdict was read. He walked from the court room with his wife. Only a few spectators were present.

State Asked Death

The state had asked for the death penalty for the slaying of Borger in the postoffice of the town which bore his name. Huey, Hutchinson couty tax assessor and collector, claimed self-defense as the motive for the killing.

Arguments ended with a stirring appeal by W. L. McConnell, district attorney, that the 42-year-old defendant be convicted for the fatal shooting of Borger in the Borger postoffice last Aug. 31.

Cowan Main Witness

The arguments of state prosecutors and defense counsel centered about the testimony of R. B. Cowan, Borger utilities official and Hutchinson county deputy sheriff.

The defense vigorously attacked and the state defended Cowan's story which said Huey entered the postoffice with his hand inside his coat, engaged Borger in a conversation and after a scuffle, fired four shots into his back.

"Assassination" Charged

McConnell and H. E. Reeder, special prosecutor, each branded the killing as a "cold-blooded assassination." Over the renewed defense objections McConnell exhibited Borger's blood-stained and bullet-pierced suede jacket to the jury

Parent-Teachers Sponsor National Drive To Keep Crime Out Of Nurseries

Toy Guns Are Listed In Ban

Stop Childhood Games Such As "Cops And Robbers," Advise Members; Honor Roll Will Include Conformists

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. — A nation drive is under way to "take murder out of the nursery."

It is being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, which is centering its attack on toy guns, holding that they lead, not only to serious accidents, but to actual crime.

Thus, while the agencies of the government, state, city and county are concentrating movements to rid the country of its "public enemies," the parents and teachers are trying to do their bit by putting a stop to such childhood games as "cops and robbers," and the like.

Ask Pledges

Pledges from school children to get rid of their toy weapons once and for all are being asked. An honor roll for all schools which obtain pledges from 75 per cent of their pupils and parents to put a stop to toy gun play has been started to add stimulus to the movement.

"We must do away with the pernicious game of 'cops and robbers'," said Mrs. W. F. Krahl of Chicago, humane education chairman of the Parent-Teacher organization of Illinois. "In one institution for the blind there are more than three hundred children who must go through life sightless because their eyes were shot out by 'play guns'."

Ceylon Swept By Outbreak Of Bad Malaria Epidemic

LONDON, Dec. 15. (AP)—A rapidly spreading epidemic of malaria in Ceylon was estimated today to have affected 500,000 people, according to dispatches from Colombo to the Colonial office here.

The governor of Ceylon reported extensive relief measures were under way in 68 government hospitals, 247 dispensaries and 120 centers for temporary treatment.

Increased Freight, Express And Mail Shipments Hailed As Real Harbingers Of Good Times; Are "Best Since 1929"

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 15—Railway officials today hailed increased freight, express and mail shipments as harbingers of better times ahead.

The annual Christmas rush, they said, started about 10 days earlier than usual and promises to be the liveliest in several years.

Heavier Loads Pulled

Freight engines over the midwest last week pulled heavier loads to give that department a seasonal boost, too.

An official of the railway express said his firm's business was running about 20 per cent ahead of last year and that it was experiencing the sharpest upturn since 1931.

F. C. Francis, manager of mail, baggage and express traffic of the Rock Island, said that its "front end business"—mail, express and baggage—was the best since 1929.

Freight reports showed that the New York Central last week scored a gain of about 2,500 revenue cars over the same week in 1933.

Even the passenger business said R. Thomson, passenger traffic manager of the Chicago and North Western, gave indication of bettering Christmas records for some years.

Lubbock Airmen Will Wheel Aloft On Anniversary Of First Power Flight

American skies will be filled with airplanes Monday morning, in a spectacular, group commemoration of the first flight of a power-driven airplane under its own power.

At least 6 airplanes, stationed at Municipal airport, will fly in formation 30 minutes over Lubbock as part of the nation-wide observance.

Thirty-One Years Ago

Thirty-one years ago tomorrow Orville Wright took up the first plane from the sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, N. C. For 12 seconds his crudely-constructed ship maintained flight.

Monday has been designated National Aviation day in tribute to Wright. Federal and private aeronautical agencies have planned nation-wide observances.

In Air At 10:30

Weather permitting, every United States army, navy, marine corps, national guard, and coast guard airplane in the nation will take the air at 10:30 a. m., local time. The local observance likewise depends on weather.

Eugene L. Vidal and Elliott Roosevelt are chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the aviation day committee.

Every precaution is being taken for safety in the local flight, said W. C. Breedlove, airport manager. When the planes fly over Lubbock they will be at an altitude of at least 1,500 feet. There will be no stunting.

Following the flight, the ships will be available for inspection at the airport.

Wm. D. Green, J65 Waco; Art Chase, Robin; A. F. Holt, Travelair; M. F. Bagley, Great Lakes; J. H. York or Eugene White, Bull Pup; Mr. Breedlove, Spartan.

School Holidays Start On Friday

Following Christmas programs by class groups in the city public school system Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, students will be dismissed for the Christmas holidays, according to an announcement by Supt. K. E. Oberholtzer. School activities will be resumed at the regular time on Monday morning, Dec. 31. There will be no official school holiday for New Year's Day.

Children in the school system will follow the usual custom of bringing gifts to the home room to be distributed through specific organizations to needy families in the community. Gifts brought to the high school will be distributed by a committee of which Mrs. W. T. Milam, social worker, is chairman. No exchange of gifts between students is sanctioned by school officials.

Neches Bridge Action Planned

BEAUMONT, Dec. 15. (AP)—County action looking to construction of a Neches river bridge has been started, quickly following signing of the compromise bill by Governor Ferguson.

Petitions will be circulated by Jefferson county commissioners, and after the required signatures are obtained, commissioners' court has signified intention of calling an election to vote $750,000 bonds to defray the county's share of the bridge's cost.

It was expected the election will be held shortly after the holidays, early in January.

The bridge, to be built with county, state and federal funds, will open up a new route from Port Arthur to Orange and Louisiana. The traffic now is handled by ferry. The bridge will be 176 feet in height, the figure being agreed on by Beaumont and Port Arthur factions after years of heated debate.

Beaumont contended Port Arthur's desired height of 155 feet would impede shipping, while Port Arthur claimed the 185 foot height asked by Beaumont would be excessive in cost.

Amarillo Judge Has Country Club Properties On His Hands

AMARILLO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Judge M. J. R. Jackson, associate justice of the seventh court of civil appeals, has gone into the golf and country club business.

Judge Jackson purchased the 180-acre Hillcrest Golf and Country club, six miles north of Amarillo, at a trustee's sale to settle a note of about $9,000 he held against the club. The property includes an 18-hole golf course, a club house which originally cost $14,000, two residences, windmills and other improvements.

The club had about 200 members in 1930 when it borrowed money from the judge to buy land. Total improvements were valued at $20,000.

Judge Jackson said he planned to effect some kind of an arrangement for continued operation of the club.

The Newark, N. J., airport holds the record for number of passengers and amount of mail loaded and unloaded.

Oil Activity Brings Fever

Wildcat Activities In Lynn County Compels Attention Of All Residents; Test Is Spudded Thursday

BY FRANK P. HILL

TAHOKA, Dec. 15.—Tahoka is running a slight fever—oil fever—as the result of renewed activity on the part of wilcatters in Lynn county.

Edgar T. Hart, Fort Worth, and associates spudded in at 4 a. m. Thursday for a test nine miles west of Tahoka, renewing the search for oil here that has covered a period of 15 years. E. B. Germany, Dallas, has the drilling contract.

Leasing Active

Coupled with the starting of this test is the fact that lease blocks are being signed for other tests to be made in the immediate future and the fact that more wildcat test wells have been drilled between Tahoka and Brownfield than in any other unproven territory on the Plains. Citizens are beginning to wonder, to predict, and to believe the oil geologists must think there is a rich pool somewhere in Lynn county.

The test just started is located on the southeast one-quarter of section 26, certificate 70, L. & S. V. Ry. Co. survey eight miles west and two south of Tahoka, on T-Bar ranch. Contract calls for a 5,000-foot hole with possibility of extension to 7,000 feet.

Rotary Equipment Set Up

The rig is the best ever used on the Plains, drillers state, consisting of a rotary drill and a 126-foot derrick. Two 150-horsepower engines are being used to start the test. Seventeen drillers and helpers have moved to Tahoka to work three shifts daily on the well, and they made record time in setting up the rig in seven days.

While a water well near the drilling location is being dug, the contractor has been forced to pipe water from about two miles away, and this will delay work for a few days.

Another Company Interested

J. B. Nance, local real estate man, who blocked up the leases for the test, was instrumental in securing the well.

Another company, reliably reported to be the Honolulu, is blocking a lease northwest of Tahoka and west of Wilson in the New Home territory. J. B. Nance, since completing the Hart lease block, has started blocking a third one east and northeast of Tahoka for another test well to be started by June 1, if a solid block is secured. O'Donnell men have been working on still another lease block northwest of that city and southwest of Tahoka. The Atlantic holds leases on a large territory south and southwest of Tahoka.

Majors Invest, Rumored

Rumors are that several major companies are interested financially in the Edgar T. Hart enterprise.

The search for oil in Lynn county really started in 1918 when the late A. D. Shook and other local capital financed a well south of town that reached 2700 feet in depth and had a slight showing of oil at 1,000 feet.

Then in 1927, the late J. J. Hart of Fort Worth started a test on the southeast quarter of section 5, Block 2, L. S. & S. V. Ry. Co., survey, four miles west of Tahoka on T-Bar ranch. At a depth of 1300 feet the bit was lost, and the company moved to the northwest quarter of the same section and was joined by George B. McCamey, discoverer of the McCamey field, and it put down a test 5,284 feet deep with a rotary drill. Slight showing of oil and gas was encountered at 1135 feet.

Other Wildcats Follow

About the same time, 1927 to 1930 three other wildcats were drilled west of Tahoka.

Elpo Oil and Gas Co. put down a test reported to have reached 3,500 feet on the Nevels ranch, section 6, Block C-42, Public School Lands, 14 miles west and two north of Tahoka.

Just over the Lynn county line in Terry on section 7, block A-1, E. L. & R. Ry Co. survey on the Brownfield ranch, Dr. Gerson and associates of Brownfield sponsored a test reported to have stopped at 3,200 feet, with good showings of oil at three different depths.

The other test was that by the Penn company in 1929, which reached a depth of slightly over 4,000 feet on a location about 10 or 12 miles northeast of Brownfield.

Local citizens are not excited over prospects for oil, but many consider the amount of activity west of here in past years warrants a reason for belief oil men think they are on the trail of another major field.

Geologists have been known to declare there is possibility of a shallow pool in this territory and an even greater chance for a big pool between 4,000 and 5,000 feet.

Counterfeiting "Racket" Grows But Faked Notes No Better In Spite Of Modern Times; 'Leggers Turn To It

BY F. B. COLTON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—If you make a thousand counterfeit dollar bills you can be sentenced to prison for 15,000 years, and even if you make a counterfeit quarter that has more silver than the government's quarters, it's still a crime.

These are two old sidelights on counterfeiting pointed out at the treasury department in connection with the recent drive of the secret service against the "bad money" rings.

Fifteen years is the penalty for passing, possessing or manufacturing counterfeit money and a person convicted of any of these crimes can be given 15 additional years in jail for every counterfeit note found in his possession, says the treasury department.

'BAD MONEY' FIGURES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counterfeiting statistics during the depression years follow:

ARRESTS BY FISCAL YEARS	1933	1932	1931	1930
Counterfeiting and passing paper money	1,539	880	498	347
Raising bills and passing	74	119	127	129
Counterfeiting and passing coins	956	685	423	306
Forging checks	340	440	436	329
AMOUNTS OF SEIZED MONEY
Bills	$921,490	$540,588	$301,957	$509,978
Coin	72,818	49,773	44,978	27,306
Altered bills	14,220	24,215	30,572	33,484

Imitations No Better

The secret service hopes its recent round-up will smash the upward trend of counterfeiting activity that has been in evidence since the beginning of the depression, in the fiscal year of 1930. There were 2,569 arrests for counterfeiting, raising and passing paper and metal coins in 1933 as against 684 in 1930.

But counterfeiting doesn't improve much, even if there has been more of it. The bills captured in the latest round-up, although well executed imitations, are no better than the hand-drawn counterfeit bills executed by "Jim the Penman," one of the most famous counterfeiters of the early 1900s, says the treasury.

Jim eluded capture for 11 years, but finally served his time in prison and now is living the life of a law-abiding citizen on an obscure farm. A clever German artist, Jim traced his first counterfeit by hand on glass placed over a good bill. He meant it only as a stunt, but the temptation proved too much when he discovered what he could do.

Bills Go To 'Dealers'

Modern counterfeiters seldom pass their own product, but pay a heavy price for this added safety from the law. The counterfeit money goes to wholesale "dealers" at 30 cents on the dollar—three bad dollars for one good one—and the wholesaler in turn sells it to retail passers, underworld characters, at a further discount. Seldom do the retail passers know the source of their "hot money."

How counterfeit bills are made is a closely-guarded treasury secret. However, the makers usually are men with a gift for the artistic and for taking the great pains necessary in turning out bills that are good imitations. They slip up most often on the portraits and serial numbers of paper money and the milling on the edges of coins. Seldom are bills for more than $100 counterfeited, for big bills are too rare to pass without scrutiny.

Ex-Bootleggers In 'Racket'

The recent large rise in counterfeiting can be laid to two causes, says the treasury. One is that there is always more crime, including counterfeiting, during a time of business depression. Second, it is believed many former bootleggers, driven from their "racket" by repeal, have taken up counterfeiting. It is suspected that many of the bootlegging "big shots" of prohibition days carried on counterfeiting on the side, and passed off the bad money on their business dealings with other underworld characters.

Some counterfeit coins are sterling silver, containing more silver than the government's coins. A counterfeiter could still make a profit on such coins under right conditions, but his crime is as serious as any other kind of counterfeiting. Bills are harder to make than coins, but counterfeiting is about evenly divided between the two.

Counterfeiting is one of the oldest crimes. It goes back to the middle ages, when such offenders were boiled in oil.

Fire Spread By Burning Wax Almost Razes New York Town

ELMSFORD, N. Y., Dec. 15. (AP)—A fire, sent flowing through the streets by burning wax, was brought under control early today after it threatened general destruction to this village.

Twelve buildings were burned—five of them levelled—and ten other roof fires were extinguished, but the very center of the village escaped unscathed. Fire Chief Harvey Dunnigan estimated damage at $150,000.

The fire started in old Colonial hall, housing the Elmsford Wax works, and spread on the spluttering wax that poured forth to the adjoining Valley Stream hotel on Main street, beside the Saw Mill river.

Sacred Harp Convention To Meet At Anton In December

Next regular "singing" of the South Plains Sacred Harp Singing convention will be held in the Primitive Baptist church at Anton, the fourth Sunday in December, H. McEachern, Woodrow, president, said yesterday.

"It will be an all-day singing of old-time hymns and tunes," Mr. McEachern said. "We expect 500 or more people from over a wide area. Our members reach into about 20 or 25 counties in this part of the state."

At the last meeting, in Anton, it was voted to meet at Friendship church, near Sudan. However, a change was made and the singing will be at Anton.

Miss Leola Clark, of Wolfforth, is secretary of the association.

Lynn Farmers Vote Control

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

TAHOKA, Dec. 15.—Lynn county cotton farmers, by a majority of 333, approved the Bankhead bill retention in 1935, according to an announcement by the county cotton committee today. Vote was: 782 for; 449 against; majority for, 333.

Figures were from all 24 communities in the county. The total vote, 1231, was slightly over half the number of cotton producers in the county eligible to vote. It was estimated 2,500 farmers were eligible.

The committee had about 20 challenges to consider. Only three or four were approved, the committee finding in the other cases that the voter was eligible under regulations, to vote.

First Lady Is Real Heroine

Loyal Girl Who Married Foster Father As Ill Luck Was Looming, Is First Lady Of Sooner State

By NEA Service

PONCA CITY, Okla., Dec 15.—A May-and-December romance that weathered the storms of adversity will make Lydie Roberts Marland the new first lady of Oklahoma in January.

She came into the life of E. W. Marland, Democratic governor-elect, as his young adopted daughter, the niece of his wife. When her aunt died, she came into his heart as the second Mrs. Marland.

Youngest First Lady

And now, six years later, because she stood by him when his $30,000,000 oil fortune was swept away, she stands at the threshold of the executive mansion, ready to step into a role as the state's youngest, perhaps its prettiest, first lady.

For most of her 34 years, Mrs. Marland has lived a quiet, sequestered life.

On the public stage now for the first time, she shuns the spotlight that her romantic story arouses—the story of a child from a middle-class, relatively poor Pennsylvania family, adopted by wealthy western relatives, suddenly becoming the mistress of the fleeting Marland millions, and now rejoicing in his spectacular comeback in the field of politics.

Loyalty And Adulation

Loyalty and adulation, rather than counsel and suggestion, have been her contribution to the success of her 60-year-old husband whose star is rising again in the southwest.

While he campaigned for election, she visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Roberts, at Flourtown, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb.

Unlike the wife of Oklahoma's first governor, the late C. N. Haskell, Mrs. Marland does not sit at the elbow of her husband, advising his decisions, helping with his speeches, steering his course of action.

Prefers A Frolic

She prefers a frolic with her Irish setters, a canter along the bridle paths of the baronial Marland estate here, a cool plunge, or a quiet visit with friends in Washington.

When Lydie and George Roberts left their drab Pennsylvania surroundings 20 years ago to visit their rich aunt and uncle here, they stepped into a new world.

Mrs. Marland wanted to adopt George; "E. W." wanted to adopt Lydie, two years younger. Happy to see them provided with luxury and opportunity, the Roberts consented to the adoption, performed in a Pennsylvania court two years later.

A gay, light-hearted child, Lydie attended exclusive eastern girls' schools while George went off to college, training for an executive job in his foster father's $150,000,000 oil concern.

Importance Mounts

Mrs. Marland, an invalid in her later years, died in 1926. Meanwhile Lydie became an increasingly important part of the Marland household.

The Croesus of the oil independents was treading unsuspectingly on the brink of financial disaster when, in 1928 he and Lydie were married. First the adoption was annulled in Philadelphia. They started for a California honeymoon after a quiet ceremony at the Flourtown home of the bride's parents.

Meanwhile Marland's vast oil empire was crashing. Millions borrowed for expansion gave New York bankers control. Gradually he was eased out. His huge fortune was gone.

Shortly the newlyweds found it necessary to move out of their palatial $3,000,000 mansion with its rich tapestries and paintings, which cost $2500 a month to operate. They moved to a smaller studio on the estate, where they live now.

Holds No Resentment

Lydie Marland took it unflinchingly, cheerfully, with no rankling resentment. She learned for the first time to cook. They were far from poverty-stricken (Marland's recent federal income tax rebates amounted to hundreds of thousands), but she learned to use sparingly their available cash during the lean years.

After Marland won a congress seat in 1932, they lived conservatively, taking no part in the capital social whirl.

A lithe, slender, girl-like figure, Mrs. Marland busied herself with piano lessons, outdoor sports, and studying French, while her husband talked flood control and oil legislation in house committees.

As when financial disaster overtook them she said nothing when a last-minute tirade on their private life was used to try to block Marland's nomination for the governorship.

She remains, as she says, "only an interested spectator of politics."

Loyalty Pays

Lydie Roberts Marland . . . "an interested spectator."

Aimee Plans Retirement As Active Pastor Of Temple

LOS ANGELES, Dec 15. (AP)—Retirement of blonde Aimee Semple McPherson as active pastor of Angelus Temple of the Four Square Gospel was announced.

Although she will retain the nominal title of pastor and leader of a congregation estimated at more than 15,000 members, Mrs. McPherson will be succeeded in active pulpit duty by Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo, a former "Angel of Broadway," who acquired homiletic eloquence as a Salvation Army worker in New York.

Legalized Wagering On Horse Races Will Go To Barrier In Next Session

Opposition To Sport Growing

Leaders To Make A Determined Fight; Senator Small Will Lead Campaign In The Upper House Of Legislature

BY DAWSON DUNCAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 15.—Legalized parimutuel wagering on Texas horse races, just past its first birthday, will go to the barrier before the state's legislature next month for a handicap race against a rising tide of militant opposition.

Attendance of more than 1,500,000 Texans at 11 major race meets since October, 1933, attested their interest in the sport reinstated in good graces after being outlawed for many years. Nearly $25,000,000 has been bet on the ponies since then.

More Being Wagered

At each successive meet more dollars were wagered than at the preceding one. For instance, turf followers who attended the first meet at the state's largest plant, Arlington Downs, a year ago placed bets of $2,795,985 on the horses. This fall $3,868,070 in bets were pushed across cashiers' windows.

But in less than a year and a half critics of horse race betting have laid plans and enlisted aid for a determined fight for repeal. They received a helpful boost from the dominating Democratic party, whose platform, approved by James V. Allred, declared:

"We condemn the law legalizing race track gambling and favor its repeal."

Association Spreads

D. A. Frank, executive secretary of the anti-race track gambling league, said his association spread over the entire state.

One of the staunch antagonists of the act, Representative Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, a lawyer, did not evade issues in announcing a renewal of the repeal campaign in the next legislature. Frank said veteran Senator C. C. Small of Amarillo would lead the fight for repeal in the senate.

Impetus assertedly given professional gambling is another point urged by those who will seek repeal of the pari-mutuel wagering system law. In their opinion an undesirable class was attracted to Texas.

Bookies Are Menace

Friends of Texas horse racing, confident their industry will not again be outlawed by the Texas legislature, look upon bookies as a menace and are laying plans for their extinction. Racing advocates plan to rebut the prospective campaign for repeal with an equally strong movement to effect sufficiently severe penalties to drive bookies from Texas.

While discussion continues on the merits or demerits of the issue, J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, and ex-officio member of the Texas racing commission, foresees little danger of repeal.

In his opinion, the tide of public opinion is swinging in favor of the sport. Furthermore, he believes public support will increase as time goes on.

In the agriculture commissioner's opinion, no small part of the credit for a changing public viewpoint is due the state's unparalleled plan of diverting a portion of the race wagering profit to support of a government program for quality breeding of thoroughbred stallions and jacks.

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Lubbock Votes For Retention

Three To One Ratio Is Given, On Basis Of Incomplete Returns; Vote Is 1,367 For And 462 Against

By a majority of virtually three to one, based on unofficial figures from all the 29 rural communities in Lubbock county, farmers Friday approved the Bankhead bill as a cotton control measure for 1935. Vote as announced at the county agent's office was: 1,367 for retention of the act and 462 against.

In eight of the communities the measure failed to receive the necessary two thirds majority. In one box, the majority of the farmers voting opposed the bill.

Monday the county cotton committee, composed of V. L. Cade, Douglas Pounds and Ches Merrill, will canvass the ballots. It was understood that there were a number of protested ballots in nearly every box.

"The most of these challenges, as I get it, were because a farmer voted in one community and the committee was of the opinion he should have voted in another," it was explained by P. T. Montfort, county agent. "I do not think there were many, if any, really illegal ballots. I estimate an average of three or four challenges were made in each box In some instances, the challenges may change the final result."

Approximately 3,500 producers in the county, landlords, tenants and share-croppers, were entitled to vote. The votes cast were slightly above half of the total.

FERA Enrollment To Be Continued

Enrollment in the Federal Emergency Relief administration classes will continue through this week, announces Supt. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer. Adults, 16 years old and older, who wish to enroll for the first time are requested to register at 7:30 o'clock any evening during the week at junior high school where both afternoon and evening classes are being conducted.

Seven teachers are to teach the following supjects in the white school: English, Spanish, mathematics and accounting, arts and crafts, home economics. Approximately 50 adults attended the school last week. Two teachers are employed in the negro school which had an average attendance of 75 persons at each session last week.

Admittance is not limited to adults listed on relief rolls and no tuition is charged. Supt Oberholtzer urges that adults interested in taking work in the school enroll immediately.

Revision Of Wage Scale Retires One Of Chief Objections To Relief Plan

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—One of the chief objections of employers to the government's relief program was removed, in the opinion of E. A. Baugh, assistant Texas Relief director, by a recent revision of the Federal Emergency Relief administration's wage scale.

Regulations were altered to permit payment of the prevailing wage scale in a community rather than a minimum of 30 cents an hour. Baugh estimated common labor wage rates on Texas relief projects in the future would vary from 12 1-2 cents to 20 cents an hour. Counties were instructed to report to the state office in local wage rates.

National authorities did not alter regulations governing hours of work per week and per month, which are 30 and 120 hours, respectively. Reduction of wage rates may occasion a conflict between earnings of relief clients and budget prescribed by the welfare division, Baugh noted.

For instance, on the basis of 15 cents an hour, a client's monthly earning would be $18, while in a number of instances budgets reach $25.

"In such cases," Baugh observed, "the client must perform $18 worth of work and receive $7 in direct relief, or he must be worked at a rate of pay higher than that established by the county wage committee."

Baugh reviewed complaints in the past made by employers who asserted they were unable to hire relief clients for certain types of work because the clients demanded a minimum scale of 30 cents an hour.

"Now, however," he pointed out, "we ascertain local prevailing rates through deliberations of county wage scale committees. It is hoped and expected that these revisions will remove the conflict which has heretofore existed between a relatively high relief wage scale and the local prevailing scale for common labor, and it is hoped also that there now will be more incentive for the relief client to accept private employment where such is available."

Jafsie Believes Hauptmann Evidence To Be Insufficient

Extortion Is Stronger Case

Chances For Convicting Him Depend On Pressing Charge Growing Out Of Receiving Ransom, Condon Says

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 15. (AP)—An opinion that Bruno Hauptmann, held at Flemington, N. J., on a charge of murder in connection with the Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., kidnaping case, will not be convicted of the murder charge, was expressed here last night by Dr. John F. "Jafsie" Condon, central figure and intermediary around whom the case revolved.

Dr. Condon stopped in Palm Beach on the last leg of a series of trips to Miami. He said he is investigating purported clues given him in 2,500 letters bearing on the case.

"No one saw Hauptmann kill the baby. I don't think they can convict him," Dr. Condon said. He said he believed there are greater chances of extortion and of possessing Lindbergh ransom money.

He said he would return to New Jersey in time for the opening of Hauptmann's trial on Jan. 2.

Ex-Chaplain Of West Point Dies At His New York Home

BEDFORD CENTER, N. Y., Dec. 15. (AP)—Dr. H. Percy Silver, former chaplain at West Point Military academy, died of a heart attack at his home here early today.

In 1901 he became chaplain of the United States army, serving for ten years.

He was elected bishop coadjutor of Kansas but withdrew and declined election as bishop coadjutor of Texas after serving with the church's missionary department of the southwest.

Railroad Employes Conduct Wreck-Stranded Passengers

PARSONS, Kas., Dec. 15. (AP)—Employes of the M.-K.-T. railroad using their own motor cars transported 90 passengers of the railroad from St. Paul to Parsons today when a freight train wreck blocked the line between the two towns.

A train was waiting here for the passengers and they proceeded on their way to Texas and Oklahoma points.

Santa's "Branch" In Nippon Ships More Toys To U. S.; Low Yen Cause

OSAKA, Japan, Dec. 15 (AP)—Santa Claus may have his headquarters at the North Pole but he maintains a thriving branch office in Osaka. For although the childhood of America may not be aware of it, toys made in non-Christian Japan, and most of them in the teeming factory districts of Osaka, will enter millions of American homes this Christmas.

The depreciated yen, the low cost of skilled Japanese labor and America's hostility to the Hitler regime in Germany, former toymaking center of the world, have combined to make Japan's export of toys to the United States 25 per cent larger in 1934 than in 1933. The gain in all markets was only 16 per cent.

At the end of September, with most of the Christmas orders filled, Japan had shipped to the United States during the nine months of 1934 toys valued at 6,800,849 yen, as against 5,267,257 yen for the same period of 1933. For the first nine months of the year toy exports to the world had totalled 21,235,000 yen, as against 18,651,000 yen for the first nine months of 1933 and only 9,831,000 yen for the same months of 1932.

Great Britain, British India and Australia rank after the United States as consumers of Japan-made toys.

The Osaka factories turn out toys on the latest occidental patterns and according to buyers' specifications.

Santa Claus is unknown to most of the children of Japan, but that does not keep Japanese manufacturers from supplying a large proportion of the Santa Claus masks that will be sold in America this Christmas. One Osaka maker has been busy for months on an order from New York for one million such masks, postage stamp size.

Fred Woods Can Stay In Prison

JOLIET, Ill., Dec. 15 (AP)—Half a hundred convicts got Christmas paroles today, but old Fred Woods gets the best Christmas present of all—five more years in the penitentiary.

That was what he wanted most. He was due for a parole, but the prospect of freedom brought tears. Here he was 73, without home or friend except in prison, where he has loved to tend the gardens for five years. He tried to refuse the parole, but they turned him down.

Today Woods got his "reprieve."

The warden said he could stay five years longer. He had only served half his ten year term, and they couldn't force him out.

Bridge Expert Offers To Take Culbertson Bid

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 15. (AP)—Vincent P. Boland, Cleveland bridge expert and father of the "Boland club" system of contract bidding, said today he would accept a challenge by Ely Culbertson for a five year match at a dollar a point. Boland threatens to sue Culbertson and P. Hal Sims, alleging that the Boland system of bidding has been barred from both the American Bridge league, headed by Sims, and the United States Bridge association, dominated by Culbertson.

Boland has announced he will seek $200,000 damages in the contemplated action.

Informed of the threatened suit, Culbertson was quoted as saying in New York:

"Mr. Boland does not have to sue me. I will pay him $200,000 if he agrees to use the Boland club system of bidding in a five-year match at a dollar a point."

"We're going to take Culbertson up," said Boland. "We'll put up a seasonable amount, $3,000 or $4,000."

A WORD FROM HENRY FORD

We expect to announce our new 1935 cars, and have them in dealers' showrooms where you may see and examine them, on Saturday, December 29th. The cars are coming off the line now and distribution will soon commence.

I have never been very much in favor of the custom of yearly models. Good motor cars do not become obsolete simply because the calendar turns a leaf. Our former custom was to put improvements on our cars as soon as we developed and tested them, so that there was continuous refinement and progress. The custom of introducing new models annually is justified when they are really new, and not merely equipped with new talking points for the purposes of salesmanship.

Last year's Ford V-8 was a good car, the best we had built up to that time. We don't say to any customer with a last year's car that his car is out of date. If it is giving him service, and if he is not in the market for a new car, there is no reason for him to feel that he is behind the procession. He still drives the fundamentally latest thing in cars. The new car has all the qualities and advantages of last year's car, with something added.

The improvements we offer are not experimental in any sense; they were thoroughly tried out under every conceivable circumstance before we finally adopted them. That, in fact, is our job all the year 'round—refining, improving, making new balance of qualities, always adhering closely to our principle of continuous growth in the basic purpose of the Ford car.

The 1935 V-8 engine is practically the same engine we built in 1934, because we have not learned how to build a better one. It has, however, some refinements; amongst which are the copper-lead connecting rod bearings, and the new type of crankcase ventilation.

Most of the improvements concern the riding qualities of the car. There is now more comfort both in driving the car and riding in it—and it was always a very comfortable car to drive. This year we have paid particular attention to the comfort of the back seat rider. The rear seat is now forward of the rear axle, so that all passengers ride between the axles. With the new flexible springs, this gives what has been aptly described as "a front seat ride for the back seat passengers." Besides, it has permitted changes in the design of the body which have resulted in those lines of beauty so much in favor with automobile owners today.

We have always had three fundamentals—Durability, Economy of operation and maintenance, and Comfort. Safety, of course, is taken for granted. The Durability is just what it always was; no one needs to be told at this late day that Fords are built to last. The Economy is even greater than before—an 8-cylinder engine with the economy of a four. As to Comfort, however, there has been a very considerable advance, as I think you will agree when you have tried the car out.

We built more than 20,000,000 cars previous to the V-8. We have built 1,500,000 V-8 cars. The V-8, we believe, is the proper engine for the low-price car field, which is our field.

This 1935 car will be on display December 29th, with all details ready for your information. It is entirely probable that the prices will start at lower levels than in 1934. We want them lower because we expect to build a million cars and better next year, and the price must be right. If the price is right, people will buy; men will go back to work; a thousand related businesses will feel the new impulse. At least, we are trying to make 1935 a busier, happier and more hopeful year.

Amarillo Defeats Big Spring, 31-20; Masonic Home Downs Highland Park

Sandies Take Schoolboy Grid Title Of West Texas And Win Right To Play In Semi-Final

Stubborn Steers Rally In Second Quarter To Make Things Warm For Amarillo, But Stidger And Mates Follow Sturdy Line Of Interferers For Many Yards And Enough Scores

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

MAKING themselves perfectly at home on the neutral field supplied by Texas Tech, Blair Cherry's Amarillo High school Sandies staged a dazzling display of defense and offense yesterday to erase Big Spring's Steers from the Texas Interscholastic league football race for 1934.

The score was 31 to 20, and the victory gave Amarillo the ticket to West Texas' schoolboy championship and a pass to the state semi-finals next week in which they meet the Orphans of Masonic Home. The game is to be played in Amarillo, probably Saturday.

Masonic Home yesterday defeated Highland Park of Dallas in another state quarter-final contest.

Too Much Amarillo

The Sandies, undefeated and untied standard bearers of District One football, conqueror of Ranger's Bulldogs in bi-district competition, simply turned on the pressure pump for about 30 minutes, all told, to assume a commanding position in the first and second quarters and to squelch Big Spring's first rabid attack.

At no time after the first quarter, with the score 12 to 0 in their favor, were the Sandies in danger of being defeated, although about 5,500 fans, anticipating a runaway for the Sandstorm, were handed a thrill and surprise in the second quarter, and the last.

NEEL

The Steer, a fierce and tricky critter but lacking in size, stampeded in that second quarter after being lashed around by the swishing Sandstorm. Whipped into a milling attitude by the tintest Steer of them all, 125-pound George Neel, the sparkplug of the Herd and a ferocious fighter who would never quit until they carried him out of there in the fourth period, bruised, bloody and all but broken, the Steers charged.

They charged into and over the stiff Sandie line, and back into the backfield where Denton, Sandie punter, was trying to punt from his own 25-yard line. And the punt was blocked, and Paul Coburn, Steer tackle, scooped it up and ran for a touchdown.

The Steers had gored into the flesh of the Sandstorm then, and blood smelled good. It was late in the same quarter when they smelled of it again, but they went after it with a vengeance after Amarillo had scored its fourth touchdown.

Take To Ozone

Unable to do much against Amarillo's husky forwards, the Steers took to the air. Little Neel, in a class by himself yesterday, threw a long, slow-moving lob which Olie Cordill, Big Spring's candidate for all-state honors, jumped high out of a nest of Sandies to snare for a gain of 40 yards. That was good, too, so Neel tried it again. This time it was to Mills, end, and it was good 12 yards and a touchdown.

Late in the third period, after being outplayed by the Steers most of the way, the Sandies started a drive on Big Spring's 40-yard line. Fyfe, playing for the injured Bufkin in the Sandie backfield, and Donovon, a substitute for Harlow who was injured in the second quarter, and Stidger, versatile quarterback, carried the ball down the field, Donovon running 13 yards on the second play, Stidger getting away for 21 and then the 4 remaining yards for a touchdown.

Even after that Big Spring was not through. The embattled Steer, seeing plenty of red now, fought valiantly during all the fourth period, uncorking a passing attack that threatened but never quite got away, and stopping up Amarillo's offense.

With two minutes to play, Amarillo drew a 15-yard penalty, placing the ball on the Sandie 23. Cauble, replacement for Leo Hare, picked up five yards. Then Cordill passed to Captain Bob Flowers for 18 yards and a touchdown.

Who Gave 13 Points?

Cordill, a great running back, stepped back and calmly booted the field goal that spelled the day for fans who had given 12 points. The game was over ere long.

There was nothing fluky about Amarillo's victory. It was simple and it looked quite easy. Coordination, team work, balance and ability was turned loose against a team that boasted a fine backfield in Neel, Bob Flowers, Cordill, Hare and Cauble. A great blocking back, Flowers, and he and his brother, Sam, playing at center, made most of the tackles, saved other touchdowns, fought desperately. Sam Flowers blocked the punt that resulted in Big Spring's first touchdown.

In their first assault, the Sandies drove 53 yards, on the ground, for touchdown. Stidger, Fyfe and Harlow were doing the toting. Stidger crashed over for the touchdown from the 2-yard line, but his try for point was blocked by Sam Flowers and his aides.

A costly fumble by Cordill later in the quarter helped Amarillo to a scoring position. Stidger ran to the 31, passed to Cochrane for first down on the 20, ran seven more and gave the ball to Fyfe who ran 13 yards for touchdown. Again Stidger's try for point was knocked awry.

Fyfe Gets Away

The longest run of the game happened on the second play of the second quarter. Cordill's punt was short and out of bounds on the Amarillo 32. On the first play, Fyfe broke into free territory, shook off the secondary men and was off, 68 yards, for touchdown. This time, and for the only time of the game, Stidger's kick was good.

After Big Spring's first counter, Denton, reserve halfback, took the ball on a spinner from Stidger and raced 46 yards for the fourth Sandie touchdown.

Coach Obie Bristow, known for his trick-teaching, had the pleasure of seeing one of his tricks work in the fourth period, and comedy was provided. With eight yards to go for a first down, the Big Spring team lined up. But just before the ball was snapped, a halfback fell over in what looked like a faint, and teammates carried him back. The Steer linemen took occasion to rest. A Sandie lineman reached over to cover the ball, and Amarillo drew a five-yard penalty for encroaching upon neutral territory as the "injured" Steer back scampered into position. The penalty didn't help, however, to gain a first down, and after the next play Cordill was forced to kick.

Hanley Resigns

DICK HANLEY

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 15. (AP) — Dick Hanley's resignation as head football coach at Northwestern university was tendered today at a meeting of the faculty athletic committee. The committee, it was said, already had decided not to offer him another contract.

The first two possibilities mentioned in connection with the expected vacancy were Ossie Solem of Iowa and Dana X. Bible of Nebraska. It was reported from Lincoln, Neb., that Bible had been approached, but had replied that he was "happily situated at Nebraska."

Detton Is To Grapple Burns

Two Clean-Battling Matmen To Mingle In Top Go; Jack Van Bebber Returns For A Match With Gene La Belle

The battle for which wrestling clients have been waiting will be unfurled at Sled Allen's mat show at the Auditorium Wednesday night.

Dory Detton, matman of science, comes to grips with clean-fighting, hard-punching Bobby Burns in a bout that goes over the two-in-three falls route to a positive finish.

Van Bebber Back

Detton and Burns have never before grappled with one another but their meeting should be a thrilling affair, similar to the Detton-Clingman series last spring.

In the semi-windup Gene La Belle, cock-eyed, cross-tempered Frenchman, grape-vines with Jack Van Bebber, one-time Olympic champion and former wrestling coach at Texas Tech. Van Bebber has made an extensive tour of the southern and West Coast circuits during the last six months and is said to have improved his technique.

ROSWELL, Ga., Dec. 15. (AP) — George N. (Nap) Rucker, veteran major league pitcher and scout, was out of the big time baseball picture today after 27 years of campaigning.

Rucker said officials of the Brooklyn club of the National League, for which he scouted 17 years and pitched ten, had notified him they would be unable to renew his contract.

One of the National League's greatest lefthanders, Nap has devoted his time to corralling promising timber for the Dodgers along with another old timer, Larry Sutton. Between seasons he operates his flour and feed mill here.

Longhorns See "New Deal" In Cage Line, Too

Jack Gray, Star Football End, To Lead University Of Texas In Basketball; Karow Hopes For Big Season

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Durable Jack Gray, forward, will lead the University of Texas basketball quintet in the 1934-35 Southwest conference race. Coach Marty Karow's "new deal" team has a nucleus of seven lettermen combined around Captain Gray who paced last season's scoring race with 54 field goals and 43 free throws for 151 points. He turned in the most points by a single player in one game—24 points against Rice; he shot the most field goals by a single player in one game by making 10 for 20 points against Rice, and he tied with Parks of Baylor for the greatest number of successful free throws in one game, scoring 9 against Baylor. He made the all-conference team.

Two All-Star Forwards

Paired with Gray in the forward court will be Jean Francis another all-conference sharp-shooter. Francis finished fifth in last season's scoring marathon with 42 field goals and 24 gratis shots for 108 points.

Jack Collins, a 6 foot, 3 inch sophomore center, is missing practice due to a football injury but probably will be ready in time to open the Longhorns' conference campaign against Southern Methodist at Dallas on Jan. 5. Demoy Paulk, a 6 foot, 4 inch senior, will play center while Collins recovers.

Marshall Pennington and Paul Wittman, seniors and outstanding stars are assured of guard positions.

An All-Senior Club

With Collins out of the lineup, Karow has an all-senior team, and one that promises to show better development than last season's quint which finished in a third place tie with 6 wins and 6 defeats.

The Longhorns will be a comparatively short team, with only Gray, Francis, Paul and Collins exceeding the 6 foot mark among the first string players. Wittman and Pennington are less than six feet.

The University of Texas playing roster follows:

Player	Position	Height
Jack Gray (C)	forward	6' 2"
Francis	forward	6' 2"
Claude Harris	forward	6'
Jack Taylor	forward	6'
L. White	forward	6'

Baylor Faces Dismal Season From Start

WACO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Due to the scarcity of material, and to the inexperience of available talent, Baylor university's 1934-35 Southwest conference basketball team faces a dismal season. Baylor finished last with two victories and ten defeats last season.

Coach Ralph Wolf must start with three lettermen. They are Mark O'Heeron, Bunk Bradley and Hugh Wilfong. Around this trio, Wolf faces the difficult task of building a quintet strong enough to lift itself out of the league cellar.

May Change Positions

No positions are definitely assured. Wolf may change forwards into guards and guards into forwards. Squadmen from last year include Ledus Curd, Robert Clifton, Horace Nash and John Williams.

Wolf hopes he will get some good basketball from Earl Wray, a transfer from the College of Marshall; Theo Alford, who was prevented from playing last season by illness, and from John Bolger, a senior out of last season's lineup.

Russell A Candidate

Candidates from last year's freshman aggregation are: Boyd Sorelle, Lloyd Russell, W. Whenslee, Shuford McDonald, Kenneth Clark and Fred Vinson. Russell, an outstanding football star may develop into the team's best player. He was outstanding on the Oak Cliff High school team where he played forward or guard.

The Bears will play their first non-conference game the night of Dec. 19 against the Southwestern Teachers college of Weatherford, Okla. The melee will be in the Baylor gymnasium. Due to the shortage of material Wolf is sending his cohorts through strenuous drills.

Amarillo Badgers Own Second Grid Title After Win

AMARILLO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Amarillo college's Badgers owned the Texas Junior college grid championship today after a smashing 34 to 7 victory over the Lamar college Cardinals of Beaumont here yesterday.

A deadly offensive attack in the last two periods gave Amarillo its second consecutive title. Off to an early lead, the Badgers were tied in the second period by a dazzling aerial attack the Cardinals presented.

Cherry ripped off a 29-yard touchdown sprint in the third period, added another in the fourth and then Howes pushed across for his second marker. Amarillo scored 17 first downs to two for the Cardinals and gained 330 yards from scrimmage against 64 for the visitors. Four passes were good for 165 yards.

Price said he expected more than 500 players, coaches, and school officials to attend.

S. M. U. Protests Naming Of Horse Race After The School

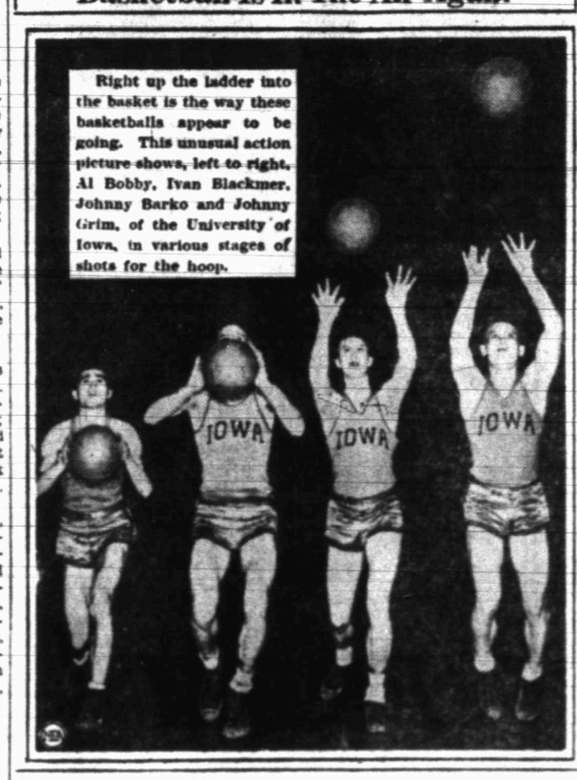

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—Southern Methodist university officials want it understood they have nothing to do with horse races. A race run at Epsom Downs Tuesday was named for the school.

President Charles C. Selecman wired a protest today to Lou Smith, director of the Houston track. He said use of the name was "unwarranted and unauthorized" and asked that Smith make it clear officials of the denominational institution did not know the name was to be used.

He said a flood of inquiries from indignant Methodist pastors and church people had resulted from publicity on the race.

Events on the Tuesday program at Epsom were named for the seven schools in the southwest conference.

Frank Shields Gives Up First Place To S. Wood

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Frank Shields' tennis stock, weakened by an unimpressive season this year took its first fall today as the Eastern Lawn Tennis association, announcing its ranking for 1934, demoted the tall New Yorker to No. 2.

Sidney B. Wood, jr., of New York, headed a list of 25 ranked players. Nationally, it is generally figured that Shields will drop to third place.

Bell To No. 3

The elevation of Wood to No. 1 vied for importance with the lifting of Berkeley Bell, the erstwhile Texas firebrand, from No. 6 to No. 3.

The eastern "first ten," announced by a committee of which M. Fischer is chairman, follows:

No. 1, Sidney B. Wood, jr., New York.
No. 2, Frank X. Shields, New York.
No. 3, Berkeley Bell, New York.
No. 4, Clifford Sutter, New York.
No. 5, Gregory S. Mangin, New York.
No. 6, J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J.
No. 7, Dr. Eugene McCauliff, Yonkers, N. Y.
No. 8, Edward W. Deibleman, New York.
No. 9, Leonard Hartman, New York.
No. 10, Frank J. Bowden, New York.

Whoa, Siwash!
Arkansas School Claims Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—Move over, Knox and Hobart, on the mourner's bench of football. Here's a new claimant for the title of team losing most consecutive games.

More in sorrow than in anger Brian Coyne, sports editor of the Arkansas City, Kas., Daily Traveler, writes the Associated Press sports editor that Arkansas City junior college completed a string of 28 consecutive losses, one more than old Siwash and two more than Hobart, this fall and then started another streak by losing its last two games of the season.

Coyne's letter

"Alan Gould, general sports editor,

"Associated Press.

"Dear Mr. Gould:

"I notice that Knox college of Galesburg, Ill., has been given credit for a national record which does not belong to it, a record of losing the most football games in a row.

Started In 1931

"Not that we consider it any great honor but I think you ought to know that the record belongs to Arkansas City, Kas., junior college which lost 28 consecutive games. The losing streak began in the season of 1931 and was ended this year with a 6-0 victory over the Chilocco, Okla., Federal High school.

"As a team seems to get considerable publicity for losing more games than it wins, I think we ought to get in on a little of it. After winning the Chilocco game the college lost its two remaining games of the season to start out on another losing jamboree that may even surpass the present record of 28.

"Respectively, etc."

Morrison Confers With SMU Head Regarding 1935 "Job"

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—Ray Morrison, athletic director and head coach of Southern Methodist university's football team, said he had reached no decision on an offer from Vanderbilt university to replace Dan McGugin as head coach of the Commodores.

Commenting on a dispatch from New York, which quoted Eldon B. Stevenson, president of the Vanderbilt alumni association as saying Morrison had been chosen as the Vandy coach, Morrison said:

Has Not Accepted

"My being 'selected' does not mean that I have accepted. I had a conference today with Dr. Charles C. Selectman (president of Southern Methodist) regarding the renewal of my contract. We reached no decision and I plan to confer with him again within the next few days. We are not in a hurry to definitely end the matter. I expect to give Vanderbilt an answer soon."

Recently Dallas city officials and the chamber of commerce urged Morrison to remain at Southern Methodist.

Masons Defeat Scotties, 13-0 On Frog Field

Fort Worth Club Goes Through Air And On Ground To Surpass Stubborn Dallas Team In Quarter-Final Game

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15.—Battering a stout and stubborn Highland Park team into submission 13-0 at the T. C. U. stadium this afternoon, the Masonic Home Masons advanced into the semi-finals of the 1934 saw off for the state schoolboy grid title. The victory pairs the Orange against the powerful Amarillo Sandies, victors over Big Spring in their quarter final game at Lubbock. The game will be played in Amarillo probably on Saturday.

The game against Highland Park was only a few minutes old when the Masons clearly demonstrated their superiority. They ripped through the Scot line for 263 yards, all on running plays. But so stout was the Scot defense when its goal was threatened that only once was the smashing Mason machine able to drive through it to pay dirt. The other score resulted from a blocked punt.

17 First Downs To Five

The Masons piled up 17 first downs, all on running plays while the Scots made only five, three on passes.

The Scots gained 116 yards, 52 on passes. They never penetrated the Masons' 20-yard line. The game was won for all general purposes in the second period. Robert Cook, Mason tackle, blocked Busacker's punt and Lester Crocker, Mason end, fell on the leather for a touchdown. Hugh Handley tried the plunge for the point but was stopped, making the score 6-0.

The second Mason score resulted from an 89-yard drive at the start of the second half.

Handley Goes Over

Handley made the last two yards. This time Davis added the point with a place kick.

Joe Louis May Be What Heavyweight Fighting Desires

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—He may not turn out to be another Jack Johnson, but Joe Louis, a dynamite-fisted negro from Detroit looks like just what the ailing heavyweight boxing business needs.

This dark cloud, with a silver lining in the way of increased public interest in the big division, surmounted the first critical test of his six-month professional career by scoring a spectacular eight-round technical knockout triumph over Lee Ramage of San Diego, Calif., in the Chicago Stadium last night. Only 20 years old, weighing 194 1-2 pounds and still growing, Louis socked his way into the front rank of the division by the victory.

Ramage, a better than ordinary boxer, worked up a slight lead in points during the first seven rounds.

Up And Down

During the first minute of the eighth round a left hook jarred Ramage and before he could tie Louis up again, a right cross to the chin sent him down for a nine-count. He arose and another right floored him for nine. As he struggled to his feet, Louis, again sent his right crashing against Ramage's chin.

He managed to regain his feet at "nine," but before Louis could deliver another right, a towel fluttered out from the Californian's corner and Referee Phil Collins stopped the fight after two minutes 15 seconds of the round. Ramage weighed 183 1-2, eleven less than Louis.

A crowd of 12,151, paying gross receipts of $26,088.80, saw Louis triumph and remained to watch Teddy Yarosz of Pittsburgh, the new middleweight titleholder, punch out a decision over Kid Leonard of East Moline, Ill., in the ten-round co-feature.

Yarosz's title was not involved.

Lamesa Golden Tornado Winds Up Undefeated 12-Game Schedule With A Regional Footfall Title And Grand Total Of 413 Points; Defeat Shamrock's Irish

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, Dec. 15.—Striding through a tough schedule without a lapse or miscue, the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes closed their 1934 football campaign Friday still in possession of the regional title which they won last year.

The Tornadoes out-classed an earnest aggregation of Shamrock Irishmen, 14 to 0, to reach the pinnacle of Class B achievement and add to a series of consecutive victories that stretches back to the autumn of 1932.

12 Wins, No Setbacks

This year the Lamesa lads have taken a total of 12 games, most of them by lop-sided scores. They have run up a total of 413 points.

The Tornadoes scored first Friday toward the last of the second period. For 29 minutes the Irish stoutly resisted every Lamesa effort to penetrate their goal-line then withered to let Boswell pass to Harrell for the first touchdown just a minute before the half gun fired. Cozzins, Lamesa pivotman, kicked goal.

In the final period an exchange of punts placed the Tornadoes on Shamrock's 32. Boswell passed to McKinnon for 7 yards, McKinnon carried for another 8 paces. Then on a fake pass play, Boswell delayed until he was nearly thrown, charged through the scattered Irishmen to go into the end zones standing up. Cozzins again converted.

Nifty Forwards

Powerful Guards Addison and Burdine, and Mitchell, wingman, were outstanding in the Tornado forward line. In the backfield McKinnon and Boswell were the stars on attack but they were aided by the bullet blocking of Field General Berry and Fullback Jordon.

McKinnon, Boswell and Jordon will be back for the 1935 wars. Only Co-Captain Berry of first-string secondarymen will be lost. In the line the losses will be more serious. Mitchell and Harrel, ends; Morgan, tackle; Co-Captain Addison, and Burdine, guards, are all senior gridmen.

Coach F. T. McCollum is closing his tenth season as mentor of the Tornadoes.

Remainder of the Lamesa squad follows:

Gilbert, Alexander, Easterwood, Sandel, Hahn, Lambeth, Roberts, Matthews, Key, E. Roberts, Fuson, Sales and Hughes.

Border Conference May Accept College Of Mines Today

Tech Schedule May Be Rapped By Conference

Cawthon Thinks Miners Will Be Accepted, That Cowboys Of Hardin-Simmons Will Apply For Loop Membership

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 15.—Pete Cawthon, director of athletics and head coach at Texas Technological college, said today he thought Texas College of Mines at El Paso probably would be formally accepted into the Border Athletic conference at the conference meting in Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday.

Cawthon said the application of Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene, likely would be tabled for a year, as was that of the Miners last year.

3 Games In 1936

The Tech coach said his Matadors, winners of the Border conference championship this season, probably will play three conference games in 1936. In 1935, however, the only Border conference team they will play is University of Arizona. This season Arizona was the only conference team, yet was awarded the title under the existing arrangement, by winning from Arizona.

Dutchy Smith, assistant athletic director, will represent Texas Tech at the Tempe meeting, Cawthon said.

Eligibility Rules May Become Less Severe

Dr. W. A. Jackson, faculty representative from Tech and vice-president of the Border Intercollegiate Athletic conference, and Russell T. "Dutchy" Smith, assistant coach, are in Phoenix, Arizona, today to attend the annual winter meeting of the conference.

Jackson and Smith made no statement before leaving Lubbock regarding a report last week that Texas Tech might be asked to withdraw from the Border conference today. It has been suggested that Tech, since it did not play but one conference game during 1933 and one during 1934, should drop from the membership roll.

Conference officials today are expected to consider changes in eligibility rules designed to bring less pressure to bear upon schools and athletes. Eligibility rules of the conference now are even more strict than those of the Southwest conference. These may be "eased up" a bit as a result of today's meeting.

Although no official conference championship is awarded in the Border conference, Texas Tech was generally accepted as the standard team this season and last, although it did not play a full conference schedule.

White Sox And Pirates To Get Acquainted Next Spring

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Chicago's White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates are going to get acquainted in a big way next spring.

Schedules for next spring's exhibition, announced today, reveal that the two clubs will play each other 21 games in 15 cities before settling down to their respective pennant campaigns. The White Sox, who went in for strictly minor league competition during their 1933 training jaunt, also will play four games against their northside rivals, the Chicago Cubs, and two against Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league.

Thirtythree players—15 pitchers, four catchers, six infielders and eight outfielders—are on the White Sox 1935 spring roster. Thirteen of them are newcomers.

The White Sox training trip schedule includes:

March 30, Pittsburgh at El Paso.
March 31 and April 1, Pittsburgh at San Antonio.
April 2 and 3, Pittsburgh at Galveston.
April 4, Pittsburgh at Houston.
April 5 and 6, Pittsburgh at Fort Worth.
April 7, Pittsburgh at Dallas.

Orchestra Leader Killed By Pistol

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Pistol shots cracked out at an orchestra rehearsal here today and the well-known Argentine conductor, Franco Paolantonio, fell mortally wounded, allegedly by a flute-player in his own orchestra.

The orchestra was rehearsing the opera Fedora at a local theater when the furious musician was said to have turned a gun on the conductor.

Manoel Demendonca, a cornetist, was wounded and died on the way to a hospital, struck by bullets from the same gun.

Flood Danger In Foothills Near Los Angeles About Over

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15. (AP)—Flood danger in the foothills bordering Los Angeles was believed past today as the storm that drenched virtually all of Southern California with near-record rainfall moved eastward.

Cloudbursts over the La Crescenta-Montrose area yesterday sent torrents of water rushing down fire-denuded hillsides and caused the temporary evacuation of 300 residents. The water subsided without causing severe damage.

Grid Officials Must Not Be Socked, Rule Fathers Of Southwest Conference

Conference Fails To Name Commissioner At Winter Meet

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 15. — The expectation that the Southwest conference would name an athletic commissioner similar to the Western conference did not materialize at today's annual meeting. The faculty athletic committee expressed regret over the resignation of President Dr. D. A. Penick and appointed Professor E. W. McDiarmid of Texas Christian university to serve the remainder of Dr. Penick's term which will end next spring.

The subject of a probable athletic commissioner was put to a straw vote, found little interest and shelved without a major discussion.

It was the consensus that Professor McDiarmid would be elected president next spring when the annual meeting will be held at College Station. McDiarmid, in agreeing to serve in this capacity, said he did not wish to become the permanent president.

In order to curb conference athletes from fighting game officials, the conference added a by-law that will bar any athlete from Southwest conference competition who is guilty of abuse toward any official. If a coach is guilty instead of a player, the school employing him will be requested to dispense with his service. Two football players were guilty of slugging officals during the recent gridiron campaign. The new rule would prohibit a guilty player from conference competition for the entire duration of his school career whether the abuse occurred during or after a game.

To Appoint Officials

A committee consisting of Harry Vmer of Houston, Gaylord Johnson of Houston and Dr. Penick will appoint football officials next season. The Southwest football officials association will send a list of capable officials to this trio. They in turn will send the list to coaches who will mark the men they favor and then return to the committee and from the list will be selected next year's grid officials. This does not apply to 1934-35 basketball officials due to the fact that coaches have named officials.

This new rule will be in vogue for one year, if successful, it is to become permanent.

Discuss Broadcasting

The conference football broadcasting subject was discussed but no proposal will be reported by the committee until the spring meeting. Dr. Penick said broadcasting companies had worked in perfect co-operation with the conference during progress of the 1934 grid season.

Coming out of the meeting, Dr. Penick said "We didn't do very much, mostly talking."

The conference track meet was awarded to Texas A. and M., golf to Rice, swimming to the University of Texas, tennis to Texas A. and M. or S. M. U., and cross country to the University of Texas. No dates were set.

West Texas Teachers In Lone Star Loop

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—The Lone Star and Texas conferences held meetings here today. The Texas conference attended to routine matter early in and then most of the officials departed for Fort Worth to attend the Masonic Home-Highland Park football game.

The Lone Star conference awarded the West Texas Teachers college an honorary membership but athletic games played by the Teachers will not officially count in the conference standing. Texas A. and I. was admitted on a year's probation. Sul Ross was expected to ask for admittance but did not have a representative. The West Texas Teachers and Texas A. and I. will play a few athletic games against bona-fide members of the Lone Star circuit but none will be listed as championship tilts.

Mrs. Roosevelt Inspects Red House Homestead Plan

RED HOUSE, W. Va., Dec. 15. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt inspected the Red House homestead project today and described it as "a marvelous thing" built for the rehabilitation of "a stranded population."

The first lady came on an unannounced and hurried trip to see the little farming village where homesteaders will each till an acre of land of his own, and where all will join in tilling also a 400-acre farm as a community project, all to share the work and profits.

"I think it is a marvelous thing, any very well planned," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

She sat at the dinner table in the administration building eating only crackers and drinking milk while the rest of her party enjoyed a full lunch prepared and served by relief workers.

GOES TO CAPITAL

EAGLE PASS, Dec. 15 (AP)—Francisco Cardenas, brother of the new president of Mexico, has assumed his new duties as chief of customs at Mexico, D. F. He was customs collector at Piedras Negras, across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, during the last year.

With him to the capital went his sub-chief of the Piedras Negras customs house, Manuel Sanchez Mendoza. They were given a farewell banquet in Piedras Negras.

How To Handicap Leading Nags Of Nation Is Worry

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15. (AP)—Anyone with ideas of how 71 thoroughbreds including Equipoise, Twenty Grand, Cavalcade, Mate, Head Play and Statesman should be handicapped, could be a big help to Webb A. Everett, racing secretary of the Los Angeles Turf club.

Everett, who plans to announce the weights Monday for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap of Feb. 23, admits he is in a quandary. The outcome of the Bay Meadows $25,000 handicaps at San Mateo will help but it gives him no assistance where he admits aid is most needed.

"Twenty Grand has been in retirement for two years," moaned Everett, "so how am I to know whether he is as good as he once was and how he stacks up with Equipoise now or Cavalcade?"

The general opinion is that top weight for the rich stake event will be 128 pounds, with Cavalcade, Equipoise and Statesman detained to be closely bunched at this mark.

Next in line would be Twenty Grand, Mate, Head Play and Ladysman, grouped closely together, with Time Supply, Top Show and Riskulus somewhere not far behind, depending on their showing at Bay Meadows Sunday.

Everett believes 20 of the 71 nominees will start.

Catholic High School Athletic Body Tentatively Formed; Football, Track And Basketball Are To Be Sponsored

DALLAS, Dec. 15. (AP)—The Texas Catholic high school athletics association was tentatively formed here today with Dr. L. J. Banck of St. Mary's university, San Antonio, as chairman of the temporary directing board.

Another meeting will be held soon with the purpose of effecting permanent organization. Dr. Banck said about 20 schools would be members, including institutions at Amarillo, Abilene, El Paso, Texarkana, Gainesville, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, La Porte, Houston, Beaumont, Galveston, Victoria, Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Other members of the directing board are the Rev. Thomas Zachary of St. Joseph's High school Dallas; and Bro. B. Patrick of Kirwin High school, Galveston.

Football, track and basketball will be embraced by the association's program, Dr. Banck said.

May Play Ten Semesters

Under tentative rules league members would be restricted to ten football games a season, to be played between the opening of class work and the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Players would be allowed four years participation but would be required to pass at least three half-unit credit courses in the semester preceding play. Freshman would be eligible but no student who had played at any other school of equal rank could participate. Eligibility would expire in ten semesters, and the age limit would be 20 years.

Game contracts would be on a two-year, home-and-home basis.

The basketball championship would be awarded the winner of a round-robin tournament to be held each March in San Antonio under auspices of St. Mary's university. The winner would be sent to the national championship tournament in Chicago. The first Texas tournament was tentatively planned for March, 1935.

Cecil Smith, Rube Williams To Spend Winter In Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 15. (AP) — Cecil Smith and Rube Williams, famous west polo players, and the other two members of the Austin polo team, George Miller and Gilly Gilmore, arrived here tonight for their regular winter stay. The Austin team is the chief cog in San Antonio's winter polo tournaments.

One minor tournament already has been held and a second, a low goal handicap event, will be finished Sunday. Eight teams originally were in the tournament.

GREAT RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky., (AP)—Adolph Rupp's record as basketball coach at the University of Kentucky is 69 games won and nine lost since 1929.

RAZORBACKS WIN

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Dec. 15. (AP)—Ike Poole, giant center, ran wild again tonight to lead the University of Arkansas Raborback cagers to a clean sweep over the Northeast Oklahoma Redmen, 53 to 14. Poole's shooting netted 16 points.

The Porkers used their height advantage to smother the Teachers. Hanes, Redman guard, rang up eight points to lead the losers. Razorbacks led 18 to 8 at the half.

The Porkers meet Tulsa university's Golden Hurricanes at Tulsa Tuesday night.

Creighton university of Omaha has six intersectional games on its 20-game basketball schedule including two with Stanford University.

L. S. U. Comes Back To Shade Oregon, 14-13

Extra-Point Kicking Good For 14-13 Victory As Louisiana State Overtakes Lead Gained By Webfeet

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 15. — Snapping back with flashy scoring thrusts after being outclassed for nearly half the game and with defeat staring starkly, Louisiana State university's gridmen overcame a 2-touchdown lead today to shade Oregon 14-13.

The accurate extra point kicking toe of Ernie Seago, the brilliant Abe Mickal's placement understudy, plus an Oregon decision that put misjudged faith in a pass instead of a kick for conversion, directly accounted for Louisiana's triumph.

No team probably ever more greatly reversed its form to win after being pushed and shoved around for so long after the opening kickoff as Louisiana State did in beating the Webfeet from the Northwest.

Oct. 19—New Mexico A. and M. at Alpine.
Oct. 19—New Mexico A. and M. at Alpine.
Oct. 26—Texas A. and I. at Alpine.
Nov. 2—John Tarleton at Alpine.

AGS BEAT LUMBERJACKS

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 15. (AP)—Tommy Hutton, Texas Aggie forward, paced the Cadets in a 39 to 23 victory over Stephen F. Austin here tonight in the opening cage tilt. The Aggies led 14 to 10 at the half. Hutto and Bisby collected 19 points between them while Williams and Arnold played well for the losers.

Cold Blooded, Public Execution Of Two American Missionaries Is Described

Child Rescued From Bandits

Details Of Fate Which Befell Mr. And Mrs. John C. Stam Given Mission Headquarters By A Canadian

SHANGHAI, Dec. 15 (AP)—The cold-blooded, public execution of two American missionaries by the Chinese bandits who looted Tsingteh was described in reports received today by the China inland mission station.

Details of the fate which befell Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stam, young victims of the outlaws' brutality, were communicated to the mission headquarters by the Rev. George Birch.

Daughter Is Saved

Mr. Birch, a Canadian missionary, was one of a group which brought the Stams' orphaned daughter, three-months-old Helen Priscilla, to Wuhu after the pillage of Tsingteh.

The missionary said the Americans were slain by the bandits, apparently with the object of embarrassing the Chinese government in its relations with the United States. Their bodies, abandoned on a battlefield 15 miles from Tsingteh, were discovered by Chinese, who risked their lives in the search for the family.

A Chinese Christian pastor, Mr. Birch related, found Helen, crying and hungry, in a deserted house where she apparently had been abandoned by her captors. Chinese harbored the infant in a rice basket until it was possible to begin the long trek to Wuhu.

Mothers Nurse Baby

Chinese mothers nursed the baby along the route, the missionary said, and volunteer nurses cared for her. The infant arrived at Wuhu in apparent good health. Unaware of the tragedy in which she had figured, beamed brightly from the improvised crib in which she made the trip.

Arrangements were made to care for her in the Episcopal foreign board mission hospital at Wuhu. In this same hospital Helen wa born last September.

Poignant details of the events which preceded his execution were disclosed in the second of two letters which Stam wrote P. W. Gibbs, director of the mission here.

Forced To Walk

The letter was written the day after the raid from a village a few miles outside Tsingteh. It related that the Stams had been forced by their captors to walk most of the distance between the two towns, carrying Helen in their arms.

Stam wrote he implored the outlaws to permit his wife and child to return to Tsingteh, promising to sacrifice his own safety for their sake. The offer was refused.

Although recognizing that he and his family were in grave danger, the missionary expressed confidence that God would deliver them safely.

The bandits, Stam's letter said, took all his family's personal and household effects and also the mission relief funds which he kept in his home.

The previous letter to Gibbs related that Stam and his family were held for a ransom of 20,000 Chinese silver dollars (about $7,000).

Rome Almost Seaport; Water Rises 46 Feet In The Tiber

ROME, Dec. 16 (AP)—Rome became almost a seaport today as Father Tiber humped his back up to 46.7 feet, the river's most extreme flood stage in many years.

The extraordinary depth enabled boats of heavy draft to come up the river from Ostia and discharge their cargoes at St. Paul's gate. Already dangerously swollen, the level of the river rose two feet during the night.

Rome itself is well protected by high embankments but a serious situation confronted upriver communities.

District Court Grand Jury Will Reconvene On Monday

A 99th district court grand jury will reconvene at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Seven liquor law violations and two intoxicated driving cases and one each of burglary and receiving a stolen automobile will be investigated, the district attorney's office said. Most of the liquor cases involved whisky.

It was anticipated the grand jury would not be in session more than three days.

Woman Who Indirectly Was Holiday Originator, Dies

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15. (AP)—Mrs. Mary A. Woodward, daughter of Colonel Robert M. Moore, said to have originated the idea of Memorial day, died at her home last night.

Her story related that after the close of the Civil war, her father once each year visited Spring Grove cemetery here to honor the soldier dead buried there. In 1868, he suggested such a nation-wide observance to General John A. Logan, then commander of the GAA and designation of May 30, 1868 as Memorial day resulted.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has visited Mrs. Donner Roosevelt and her grandson several times while passing through Philadelphia on automobile trips.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15 (AP)—Supplies of better grade steers and yearlings were comparatively light, the coming holiday trade was the principal factor in an advance of 10-40. The lower grades ruled steady to extremes 25 up at river points but at Chicago an oversupply of common and medium short-feds declined 25 or more. Little change occurred in prices of fed steers and heifers and the better grade of beef cows, while the less desirable she stock which predominated in the run went at weak to 25 lower figures. The country outlet for feeding classes continued extremely narrow and thin cattle moved only at comparatively low prices. The week's high figure was 10.10 apid at Chicago for strictly choice 1187 lb. steers. At Kansas City, a range of 3.50@4.75 secured most stockers and feeders. Some strictly choice stock steer calves realized 5.25.

The hog run shows a decrease of approximately 54,000 against last week's figures, but continued ample than the same week last year. The various markets were uneven as a result of the distribution of supplies. At Omaha and Chicago closing rates were 10 to 15 lower while other principal points advanced 10 to 25.

A break of 25 to nearly 50 featured the week's trade in slaughter lambs. Sheep were reported strong to 25 above last week. Closing quotations, while feeding lambs followed the trend in fed lambs. An early top of 7.75 was made at St. Louis and Chicago for selected natives, most late sales at 7.35 down. Slaughter ewes moved largely from 2.00@3.00, and good to choice feeding lambs at 6.00 and below.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Varying trade current swayed a few stocks today while the market generally steadied in a rut.

Tape-watchers detected a better tone to the share list. On the surface, however, average final prices showed little change.

Typical week-end peace prevailed in most markets. Turnover in the stock exchange totaled 464,060 shares compared with 458,740 last Saturday, but much was in a handful of issues, notably Radio common.

The Standard Statistics Co. average for 90 stocks worked out at 72.6, up two-tenths of a point.

The heavy vote for the Bankhead crop restriction plan by southern growers failed to excite the cotton market. Futures here were 10 cents lower to 15 cents a bale higher at the finish. Grains relinquished most of their previous gains, wheat closing with losses of about a cent a bushel. Corn was off 3-8 to up 5-8.

Wall Street's information from some steel centers suggested more gains for that industry. But the progress of heavy industry as a whole left much to be desired.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 15 (AP)—The cotton market was fairly active in today's short week-end session with higher cables than due and Bankhead bill influences predominating.

Riding on the wave of the returns from the farmer's referendum showing the large majority given for continuance of the production control act, the market gained an early advance of 7 to 12 points with October showing the highest gain.

But late in the session the market turned easy and prices declined rather sharply, losing 10 to 14 points from the highs.

In the late trading the market weakened on some doubt created that the farmer vote was not sufficiently large technically to continue the Bankhead law. Before the decline was checked March traded down to 12.57, May to 12.58, July to 12.39 and Oct. to 12.42 or 10 to 14 points below the earlier highs. The market closed at the bottom with March and May 5 points net down for the day and July and Oct. 2 points net down.

Port receipts 13,651, for season 2,188,089 last season 3,278,226. Exports 18,502; for season 2,140,799 last season 3,766,966. Port stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 109,220, last year 166,132. Spot sales at southern markets 12,398, last year 19,749.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—The prospects for continuance of the Bankhead control act next year and relatively firm Liverpool cables were reflected by advances in cotton in the early trading today.

The opening was 2 to 7 points higher in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and reports that farmers yesterday were voting 10 to 1 in favoring of continuing the Bankhead act during 1935. Profit-taking was prompted by an advance of 6 to 9 points and prices reacted after the morning demand had been supplied with later fluctuations rather irregular. The relatively easy tone of January was attributed to liquidation partly from abroad, while yesterday's reduction in the October discount evidently attracted some selling of that position and readjustment of switches.

The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance was estimated at 115,000 bales against 107,000 last year.

Wool production in 20 northern and southern hemisphere countries which produce 80 per cent of the world total was 8 per cent less in 1933 than the record production in 1932.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—An end-of-the-week selling flurry late today much more than wiped out price gains scored earlier both by wheat and corn.

Wheat fell 1 1-2 cents from the day's top, and landed abruptly at the day's bottom. Profit-taking sales caught the speculative pits, minus any aggressive buying support in the final minutes, with some notice being taken that for the second time in 48 hours a new low price record for the season had been reached in the Rotterdam wheat market today.

Wheat in Chicago closed weak at about the day's low point, 3-4 to 1 1-8 under yesterday's finish, May 1.00 7-8@1.01, corn 1-2 to 3-4 down, May 88 5-8@88 3-4, oats 3-8 to 5-8 off, and provisions varying from 2 cents setback to 5 cents advance.

Unfavorable weather prevailing in the domestic corn belt served as only a transient stimulus to buyers of corn. December oats, wanted by shorts, advanced to within 1-2 cent of the highest level of the season, but the oats market gave way at the last with corn and wheat.

Provisions were easy, responsive to a downward slant of the hog market.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 16. (AP)—Fair demand continued to the week-end on the grain market here. Receipts Saturday were, wheat 13 cars; corn 31; oats 3, and sorghums 3.

Prices quoted: Wheat No. 1 hard 1.14 1-2@1.18 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 99@1.01, No. 3 nominally 98@1.00. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 2.10@2.15; No. 3 milo nominally 2.08@2.13. Park Site To Get Approval

Chief Architect Of State Park Board To Recommend New Site; May Establish CCC Camp For Work There

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 15—Approval of a state park near Quitaque will be recommended, Roy E. Lane, chief architect of the state park board, said here after an inspection of the proposed site in northeast Floyd county last week.

Lane said he was ready to recommend that Civilian Conservation corps be transferred to the site to improve it for a recreation center. He announced that 2,000 acres, including the upper and lower Quitaque falls and an area for a rim drive around the canyon, would be needed for the proposed park. It would be necessary for the land to be dedicated to the state, he pointed out.

The land is owned by Howard Brothers of New Orleans. No. steps have been taken to obtain title, it was said by officials of the Quitaque Creek Park association, an organization formed to sponsor location of the park. The land is part of a 210,000-acre purchase by the Howards from Goodnight and Adair in the early 80's. The Howards now own about 100 sections in this territory.

After Wild Ride With Two Bad Men, Officer Wears Gun

HERRINGTON, Kas., Dec. 15. (AP)—Police Chief Art Calkins buckled on a pistol again when convinced by a wild ride with two gunmen into Oklahoma that more stringent steps should be taken to stamp out kidnaping.

"They spent considerable time telling me how tough they were and hinting at their past stunts," reported the officer, "but never said anything definite."

He was unable to identify the pair.

Love And Hate May Be Grown Side By Side In Garden, Scientists Say

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Scientists outlined a way today by which love and hate might be grown in a vegetable garden along with beans and carrots.

Likewise, the annual exhibit of scientific work of the Carnegie institution of Washington described a manner by which sorrow and joy might be planted along with beets and cabbages.

These emotions, it is explained, depend chiefly on gland secretions and some of the gland secretions which govern emotions have been found to originate in the yellow pigments of plants. When the plants are eaten they help manufacture in the body the hormones or gland secretions that govern emotional behavior.

At the same exhibit, astronomers showed the latest evidence that the universe is expending, growing 48,000 miles larger in diameter every second with the farthest "edge" now visible through telescopes racing away from the earth at the breakneck speed of 24,000 miles per second.

Grim Cat-O-Nine Tail Punishment Is Effective In Keeping Prisoners "In"

BY GAYLE TALBOT

DARTMOOR, Dec. 15. (AP)—Wardens here at England's most dreaded prison, where its toughest criminals are stowed away for long periods and whence none escape, swear by the "cat" as the most effective means of discouraging crime.

Two long-term inmates recently committed suicide rather than submit to a "treatment" with the terrifying cat-o'-nine tails. It is a punishment more feared than any other a British judge may mete out.

"They might take a prison term—as you say in America—standing on their head, but they never forget the 'cat,'" said one of Dartmoor's veteran keepers. "And not many of them try to escape when they know the old 'cat' is waiting for them on their return."

Attempted breaks from Dartmoor, situated on a desolate wasteland in Devonshire, are so rare that a recent abortive effort by two long-terms was front-page news throughout England. There is said to be a record of a single successful escape in the prison's long history.

Robbery with violence is one of the numerous crimes for which a British judge may prescribe flogging in addition to a jail sentence. Within the prison, it may be administered for inciting mutiny, assaulting a prison guard or a dozen other varieties of offense.

The "cat," consists of a wooden stick to the end of which are attached nine 28-inch strips of cord, interspersed every six inches with knots of silk cord. It has been made exactly like that, they say here, for hundreds of years. There never has been any need for modern improvements.

Official doses range from 12 to 36 strokes, laid on by a husky guard. The man is stripped to the waist, handcuffed and his feet fixed to a steel contraption that makes him lean slightly forward. Prison officials and hospital attendants are present, with the doctor standing in front of the prisoner to determine his condition as the punishment progresses.

Man Doesn't Mind Losing His Wife, But He Raises A Row About Brass Spittoon

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Thaddeus Slawinski didn't mind losing his wife—but that brass spittoon was a different matter.

"But I want my spittoon," Thaddeus told Judge Rudolph Desort after his wife, Bernice, had been granted a divorce, $75 a month in alimony and custody of their child.

"He means the cuspidor, and he can't have it," said Mrs. Slavinski firmly.

"Just what, Mrs. Slawinski, do you want with a cuspidor?" asked the judge.

"I never did want it," she replied. "I sold it."

George Beusoleil, 63, was killed.

It is estimated that there are not more than 500,000 Communists in this country. The majority of these cannot vote, because they are aliens.

Lubbock county has an allotment of 3,000 head for this series of purchases, County Agent P. T. Montfort explained. "The present quota will be sufficient to take care of every man in the county who finds it at all necessary to sell his cattle to the government," he added. "Farmers with cattle to sell must fill out an application."

Solons Worry Over Finances

Social And Financial Legislation Demanded; Economic Barrier Interposed And No Solution Found

BY TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—The finances of recovery are causing America's newly elected state legislators their severest headaches as they map the course of government for the next two years.

A steadily growing deficit, that combined is now more than half a billion dollars, greets them. A stupendous problem in itself, it serves but as a bold background to the public's clamor for revised criminal codes, more stringent public utility control and more workable liquor laws.

To Add To Budgets

Inseparable from the financial problem, questions of social legislature demand answers. Advocates of unemployment relief programs, old age pensions and job insurance propose to add tens of millions of dollars to already burdened budgets.

Increased taxation in present channels and new subjects of taxation are favored for providing the cost of recovery in most states. Others, considering that the tax burden has reached its saturation point, incline to drastic reductions of government expenditures to compensate for the growing demands on the state purse.

Still a third group plans a nice combination of the two, holding down inevitable tax increases by a consolidation of duplicating governmental functions.

Plan County Consolidation

In Colorado and New Mexico county consolidation for efficiency and economy is certain to be considered. In Texas duplicating state departments are due to be scrapped in the fight on governmental waste. Tax increases are expected however, in these two states.

The war against crime, given added impetus by President Roosevelt's appeal, will loom large on the calendars of state legislatures.

Consider Combining Units

Texas is considering a merger of the colorful Texas rangers, famed law enforcement agency, with the state highway patrol as a more effective means of curbing crime. The proposal carries with it the establishment of a state bureau of criminal identification.

In Oklahoma, bills will be introduced asking establishment of a state police patrol. New Mexico seeks revision of her criminal code, particularly making prosecutions technicality proof.

While other states watch the result of the TVA experiments, they are not delaying in tightening their own public utility laws.

In Texas, with the state itself entering the public utility field through the Colorado River authority, laws are planned to make it possible for any community to acquire and operate its own utilities in an effort to reduce excessive rates.

Airplane Brings Hobbs Man Here To Have Steel Removed

Steel lodged in the left eyeball of J. P. Pearce, 36, of Hobbs, N. M., was removed in an operation at Lubbock sanitarium early Saturday night.

Pearce was brought here in an airplane owned by Olson Drilling company and operated by R. C. Reeves of Tulsa. The ship arrived about 6:20 o'clock and Rix-Bynum ambulance carried Pearce to the sanitarium, where he remained.

The steel flaked off either from a hammer or a piece of metal being hammered. It was removed by use of a giant magnet. The eye was saved, but vision probably will be lost, an attending physician said.

Premiere Masseuse Of Hollywood Says She Removed 3,037 1-2 Pounds Total

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Blonde, energetic Sylvia Ulbeck, who has hammered the famous of Hollywood with impunity, reduced to figures today the sum total of a decade's labor as a premiere masseuse of the movie capital.

"I make it exactly 9,037 1-2 pounds," she announced.

"Imagine, in 10 years that's what I took off Hollywood's waist line—that's enough left over from Hollywood, I think, for an entire Atlantic City beauty parade."

And the half-pound?

Madame Sylvia's blue eyes glinted as she murmured something about the "stars' pet dogs," bless 'em, whose owners thought an occasional beauty pummeling might be needed.

"See," she said, "I'm just as good for dumb animals as for the stars." Hollywood's temperament and capacity for trouble are overrated, Madame Sylvia declared. In all her years of pounding high-priced anatomies, she said, she had experienced only one bit of trouble and that was when Ginger Rogers recently sued her for $100,000.

The case was withdrawn, however, without having reached the stage of serving papers on Madame Sylvia. Though the case was reported settled out of court, Madame Sylvia said no claims had been made upon her. She declared that if there was a settlement, as Ginger says, she was not a party to it.

Competition Of Brewers Making For Beer's Kick

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 15. (AP)—Major brewers of this malt capital have found it necessary to increase the strength of beer past the 3.2 per cent mark—but they do not approve of it.

Reviewing the situation since repeal, they say competition alone forced them to exceed the 3.2 measure they hailed as a perfect content when the beer bill was passed.

Quality—Not Power

To combat evils they see as imminent if alcoholic content is allowed to rise uncontrolled, they are backing a program of the United States Brewers association to sell beer on its quality instead of power. Brewers who overcalculated the market and fell back on "strength" to stimulate sales are blamed for the state of the market.

"In the old days," recalls S. E. Abrams, beer company official, "no one thought of selling beer on a basis of how much alcohol it contained.

Baer Sends Boxing Gloves And Hopes Child Is A Boy

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 15. (AP)—Clara Bow entered a hospital here today to await the arrival of the stork.

The actress was calm and smiling, but Rex Bell, her actor-husband, wore a worried, nervous look.

Among gifts already received for the expected infant, Bell selected one and took it to the hospital with him. It was a tiny pair of boxing gloves presented by Max Baer, the heavyweight champion, who evidently expected the youngster to be a boy.

Prisoners Rushing To Jail Of Cooking Deputy Sheriff

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Dec. 15. (AP)—The annual rush of prisoners seeking terms in Niagara county's jail is underway. Word has gone the rounds the "cooking deputy sheriff," Edward Second, will don the white attire of a chef to prepare the jail's Christmas dinner.

A former hotelman, Second placed the Lockport jail on the map in the "jungles" of hoboland. Annually an influx of prisoners is noticed as the ground turns white with snow and the sun sets early.

Lightning has been known to injure tomato plants for some distance around where it struck in a tomato patch.

Prize Turkey Is Given President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—If he wishes, President Roosevelt can have on his dinner table on Christmas the prize-winning dressed turkey of the Southwestern turkey show.

The bird was presented Friday by Paul A. Cunyas of College Station, Texas, the judge of the show.

He took it to the White House where it was receivd by Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary to Mr. Roosevelt.

The turkey was owned by L. B. Churchill. The show was put on by the South Plains Turkey Improvement association at Plainview, Texas.

The Chessboard

Winner of city of Lubbock chess championship likely will give a simultaneous display during the winter, playing at one time as many persons wish to engage over the board.

Dr. R. S. Underwood, defending champion, has indicated he would be willing to undertake the matches if he wins the title. Dr. Alan L. Stroup, who is meeting Doctor Underwood for the championship, probably will agree to the proposal if he is victor. After playing four games they were tied 2-2.

After a 5 1-2 hour session last night Doctor Stroup won the 5th game, but more about it next Sunday.

President Zamora's Son Is Acquitted In Indiscretion

JACA, Spain, Dec. 15. (AP)—Luis Alcala Zamora, son of President Niceto Alcala Zamora and a corporal in the Spanish army, was absolved of charges of insubordination today.

A court martial acquitted the youthful soldier after a military prosecutor informed the tribunal that he believed Zamora had been guilty of no crime, but only an "indiscretion."

Unwritten Law Invoked By Jury And Doke Is Cleared

WOODLAND, Calif., Dec. 15. (AP) The "unwritten law" had its way here today when a jury of 11 men and one woman acquitted Judson C. Doke of murder in the slaying of his attractive wife's verse-writing lover, Lamar Hollingshead.

The courtroom crowd cheered as the verdict was announced. With tears in his eyes, Doke, 34-year-old Leandro, Calif., milk inspector, thanked the jurors and shook hands with each.

Applications Are Completed

More Than 2,500 Application Blanks Turned In By Those Who Seek Ennumerators' Job In Farm Census

No more applications for positions as enumerators in the federal farm survey will be accepted for district No. 2 of Texas, Kenneth C. Holmes, supervisor, said yesterday in announcing the number already made.

"We have over 2,500 applications for the 89 positions to be filled in this district," he stated. "We have to stop taking any more in order to have time to go over those we already have and make selections before January 2. There is no need for any one to make applications now; we have more than enough."

Twenty-Five Counties

There are 25 counties in the district, an average of 100 to the county. An average of 30 persons for each post seek the work.

Enumerators must reside within the district, they must be a farmer and former-service men will be given preference over others, all things considered, it was explained.

Mr. Holmes has an office in the second floor of the federal building. J. B. Wallace, Plainview, is deputy supervisor.

New Problems

a law almost as long and a poll on it is now in progress.

The legislation is the Kerr act applying to almost all types of tobacco. Final returns on this measure will be announced about Dec. 21.

AAA officials assert the legislation has been satisfactory and that a vote for continuance is almost certain.

Plans Must Dove-Tail

Another problem raised was whether the tax which the act levies will apply on all cotton marketed above 10,400,000 bales—as was the case this year.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) favors the 10,400,000 quota but AAA officials point out that about 12,000,000 bales will be grown under the voluntary program. They assert that the Bankhead act and the voluntary plan must synchronize to avoid arousing the South against both. They will insist on about 12,000,000 tax free bales.

Texas Deluge For Control Feature

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 15. (AP)—A deluge of Texas votes attested today to the popularity of the compulsory cotton control program in this vast growing state.

As votes poured in from yesterday's balloting on whether the Bankhead act should be continued next year, those in favor of the restrictive measure piled up 233,782 votes. Those opposed numbered 52,815.

The Texas cotton allotment board compiling votes here had received returns from 203 of the 237 cotton producing counties in Texas, of which 196 counties had supplied completed figures.

With the tabulation approaching completion, there remained little doubt but that the Bankhead act had been approved by a vote ratio of at least five to one.

Only six counties so far had returned majorities against the act. They were Parmer, Cochran, Gillespie, Wise, Shackelford and Cameron. A few had voted unanimously for retention.

Some Professors Want Their Beer Too, Application Says

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15. (AP)—Students at the University of California at Los Agneles want beer.

They want it sold in the campus cafeteria, and they see no reason why they shouldn't have it.

An application from the cafeteria for a license to sell beer was received today by the state board of equalization. It stated that faculty members want the beverage, too.

The editorial Council of the Religious Press has been invited to hold its 1935 meeting in Richmond, Va.

Children Still Believe In Santa

But They Want Him Modern-Minded; Jolly Old Fellow Has A Joke On Himself; Kids Are Trying To Make Stork Of Him

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP)—Santa Claus has a jolly joke on himself these days.

"The kids this year," he chuckled as he settled into a chair in a State Street department store, "are trying to make a stork out of me. Just listen."

He turned to a little girl in a crowd of youngsters at his knee.

She Wants Quintuplets

"Tell me, what do you want Santa Claus to bring you this year?"

"Quin-tu-quintuplets," stammered the golden-haired 4-year-old.

"See, Ha, ha," and Santa's fallen chest juggled like a bowlful of jelly. "But my dear, quintuplets are quite an armful. Now—"

"Well, then," interrupted Goldilocks. "Just make it twins."

The white-whiskered gentleman took a few minutes to chat.

"I have noticed this year that an increasing number of both boys and girls are asking for baby sisters. There is not such a big call for baby brothers. Probably because most dolls are girls."

On Good Behavior

Santa said he has to watch his P's and Q's with the children of today.

"They are much more sophisticated than the youngsters of five, ten years ago. I have been listening to their pleas for many, many years now, and it used to be they just asked for dolls, wagons and automobiles.

"But now they specify what kind of doll and what they don't know about the different makes of automobiles!

"Children still believe in Santa Claus, but they want their Santa Claus modern-minded."

Half Million People Will Hear From Santa Direct; Postmaster Gets Busy

SANTA CLAUS, Ind., Dec. 15. (AP)—A half million people will hear from Santa Claus direct this year.

That is why his postmaster, James F. Martin, is so busy there these days. He is mailing Christmas greetings to people all over the world. The other day letters came from Alaska to receive the official Santa Claus postmark.

So many children have written to Santa Claus here that a Santa Claus committee has been organized.

Business at the Santa Claus postoffice, situated in the rear of Postmaster Martin's general store, is at least one-fourth greater than it was a year ago, he said. Thirty men and women—more than a third of all the residents of Santa Claus—are helping during the rush.

Hardly A Fan!

ASHVILLE, N. C., Dec. 15. (AP)—Gay Banks, a veteran employe of the city water department, attended a moving picture theater the other night for the first time in 28 years.

NEWS BRIEFS

Obtaining a change of venue, Herbert N. Rowse, 17, of Crosbyton pleaded guilty of a burglary in which he stole an automobile, before Judge Homer L. Pharr in 72nd district court here Saturday morning. The judge imposed a suspended 3-year sentence on the youth, who had asked transfer of the case from Crosby county, also in the 72nd district, because court was not in session there. Young Rowse wished immediate hearing of his case as he intended to go to a CCC camp. The burglary was of the Crosbyton Ford agency.

Released from New Mexico state prison at Santa Fe after serving about 5 years for an automobile theft committed while he was free on appeal bond from Lubbock county, George Harlin was returned to Lubbock from Santa Fe by Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore, Friday. Harlin will be transferred to the Texas penitentiary from Lubbock county jail to serve a 3-year automobile theft sentence imposed upon him here in October, 1928. The Texas appeals court affirmed it in May, 1929. Meanwhile Harlin had been imprisoned in New Mexico. Moore was Lubbock county jailer when Harlin first was held here.

Some Lubbock policemen were wearing smart new black serge uniforms while others were finishing their fittings Saturday afternoon. Eighteen policemen procured the uniforms, paid for with money raised at an annual policeman's ball, Police Chief H. L. Johnston said.

Ted Blackburn, county clerk of Potter county, was here Saturday to attend the Amarillo-Big Spring high school football game.

While a part was being welded, an automobile caught fire at 807 Avenue J at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. The fire was extinguished before a firetruck arrived. Damage was slight, a fireman said.

Theft of his bicycle, an Excelsior, from the Lindsey theater corner was reported to police Saturday by Marion Kratzer, First street and Avenue T.

T. J. McMahan, Abilene attorney, spent Saturday here on business.

W. P. Walker came over from Crosbyton yesterday on business.

J. A. Feagin, federal district court reporter, left last night for Fort Worth. Monday he will begin reporting a term of district court in Dallas. John Edmisson, reporter for the 99th district court, will handle the Lubbock division work this week.

L. E. Whicker, Littlefield business man, here yesterday, said light showers had fallen there Saturday morning.

R. E. Overstreet, Lubbock man who operates and owns several farms in Lynn county, was here on business yesterday.

Lubbock High school glee club, directed by Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter, will sing at Asbury Methodist Episcopal church at 11 o'clock this morning.

Miss Margaret Puckett, 25, a former Texas Technological college student, who died Friday at Waco following an illness of several years, was buried in Amarillo Saturday afternoon. Miss Puckett was well-known in Lubbock.

BOY ACQUITTED

CHARLESTON, Miss., Dec. 15. (AP) A Tallahatchie county jury tonight acquitted George Spencer Quinton, 17-year-old high school athlete, of a charge of killing Marjorie May Scott, his 11-year-old schoolmate, by giving her candy plugged with potato bug poison last St. Valentine's day.

Westerner Cagers Win At Wilson

Lubbock High School Westerners won an invitation basketball tournament by defeating Levelland in a closely-fought game at Wilson last night. The score was 20-19.

Twenty-four teams entered. Levelland took second prize, Wilson third, and Southland fourth.

The Westerners started Loftis and Jones as forwards, Gammill as center, Upton and McWhorter as guards and used Mott as a substitute forward. Ben Huffman is Westerner cage coach.

Huey Trial

as evidence corroborating Cowan's testimony.

The jacket had a number of holes in the back.

The testimony of M. H. Chenault also figured prominently in arguments. Chenault testified Borger talked with him about 2 p. m. the day of the shooting and said, "I will kill him (Huey) or he will kill me before night."

Testimony Attacked

A rebuttal witness for the state declared Borger was at Amarillo at the time. The defense objected when McConnell pictured Chenault and Borger as "arch enemies." It was sustained.

C. B. Reeder, chief defense counsel, demanded acquittal of the defendant on the grounds of self defense. He attacked the testimony of Cowan as not supported by other witnesses.

"If you fail to find Huey stood over Borger's body and fired into his back what are you going to do with this case?" he asked.

E. C. Cussen, special prosecutor, attacked the self-defense theory and contended Huey provoked the difficulty that led to Borger's death.

Two Injured When Lockhart Holds Christmas Festivities

LOCKHART, Dec. 15. (AP) — Two boys were seriously injured in festivities opening Lockhart's Christmas party Friday night.

As a part of the fun a number of guineas were liberated from the tops of buildings, over the heads of a crowd gathered in the public square. The lucky ones caught their Christmas dinners on the fly.

Two Mexican boys climbed a large tree near the courthouse in quest of the birds. One fell and was injured as he sought to make a catch. A limb broke under the other and struck another boy below.

Gloria M. Vanderbilt Loses Round In Fight For Heiress

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt lost on another round today in the fight for custody of her heiress-daughter, little Gloria Vanderbilt.

Surrogate James A. Foley denied her petition for apointment as a personal guardian of Gloria, ruling the question had been adequately covered in the decision of Supreme Court Justice John P. Carew, who made the girl a ward of his court and granted principal custody to Mrs. Harry Payne Witney, a paternal aunt.

Radio Priest Gets Tickets For Driving Car Too Fast

DETROIT, Dec. 15. (AP) — Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, of the Shrine of the Little Flower, today had two tickets to appear in court at Ferndale Monday to answer charges of speeding and operating a car without a drivers' license.

He posted bond of $15 today which will be accepted as a "fine" if he does not appear in court. Father Coughlin said he was hurrying to keep an appointment. The speeding ticket charged 50 miles an hour on a 35-mile highway.

Prisoner Conducts Own Case But Makes Pleading Miscue

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15. (AP)—All the hand waving and the passionate pleadings are to no avail—Roxie Long the racketeer who tried to make good as his own attorney has lost his case.

Hitching up his pants every minute or two in a half-hour exhortation, the little ex-bootlegger of the Tenderloin made the jurors laugh until they cried but they came back with a verdict yesterday convicting him of conspiracy to defraud merchants and of the outright robbery of a warehouse.

thereafter, statistical and technical testimony proved uninteresting leaving only attorneys and witnesses in attendance.

A GOOD LAUNDRY SERVICE VS DOCTOR BILLS

Don't try to economize on your laundry bill to boost Junior's Christmas . . . it won't save you anything in the long run.

It is much cheaper to send your laundry to a modernly equipped laundry service, than to stand the exposure and hard-work of trying to save a few pennies at home . . . Exposure means colds and fever . . . and that means Doctor Bills . . . and possibly, something even more serious.

Considering it from every angle, you will SAVE MONEY week-in and week-out by sending your laundry to us instead of doing it at home.

PEERLESS PUMPS

Are As Modern As The World's Newest Streamline Train

As further evidence that the PEERLESS PUMP is the most ECONOMICAL PUMP TO OPERATE is amply proven by the contract for the purchase, on the 13th day of November, 1934, by the United States Government covering 64 pumps THE PEERLESS PUMP COMPANY received this order by reason of the light horsepower required to operate Peerless Pumps.

In the early part of the year the United States Government purchased more than 50 Peerless Pumps. As a matter of information the Government paid and is paying the code price for every pump so purchased, the same as any farmer, for every pump company's price is in accordance with the Governments Code. Yet when it comes to purchasing a pump the Government notifies all pump companies that it will buy so many pumps and pay the price as shown by the Government Code, and to determine which pump company the Government will give the order, the Government says to the pump companies that a Kilowatt has a valuation of $100 and for each company to make a guarantee contract of the Kilowatt required to furnish so many gallons of water, and to the Pump Manufacturer that could perform the job with the least horse-power would go the order.

Ask the other Pump Companies to show you what their performance is when you consider purchasing a pump and enter into a contract with you that such performance is guaranteed or no sale is made. I am in a position to enter into such a contract covering every pump purchased. Whichever pump company can furnish the lightest pulling pump then give them your order.

I will give any Pump Mfg. Co. an order for 100 pumps if they can furnish more economy than Peerless——this is why I am selling Peerless.

The deepest pump ever to be installed in Texas will be for the city of Cleburne which will be installed in the near future with a setting of 650 feet with the pump furnished by THE PEERLESS PUMP COMPANY.

Go see the B. F. Worthington well 4 miles southwest of Plainview. This was drilled and installed in accordance to my recommendations. The well is 18 inch diameter and cased with 16-inch 12 gage from top to bottom and suction pipe under pump to within 15 feet of bottom of well. This is the most economical plant that has been installed, by any pump company.

Irrigation pumps can be financed through the Federal Housing Plan. Send me your financial statement.

Early Arrival Of Shiny Tricycle Is Worrying Young Jimmy Allred; He Is Wondering What He'll Get Christmas

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (AP)—Early arrival of a shiny, super tricycle today left James V. Allred, jr., five years old, worrying a bit, generally about Christmas morning and specifically about his request to Santa Claus.

Tricycles and children in the Hyde Park neighborhood where the governor-elect and the next first lady of Texas live with their two sons were matters of political mention in the summer's campaigns.

Advised Of Desires

Whether it was that impression or just his natural yearning for a velocipede, little Jimmy early advised the Christmas eve gift bearer of his desires.

But friends were faster than old St. Nick. A shining new tricycle—with a real light, siren and bell—rolled up and down the sidewalk as the Allred family packed for a Christmas holiday tour.

His earlier request to Santa Claus worried Jimmie, jr.

"Mother says Sandy Claus'll give the extra one to some poor boy," he explained gravely. "I guess some poor boy's going to have a lot of fun out of that tricycle."

With the tricycle eliminated, young Jimmie was a little worried over what he would find under the Christmas tree at the home of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Miller, in Wichita Falls.

"You have such a nice tricycle now, Jim boy," his mother reasoned with him, "that you won't need anything else. Just some little toys perhaps, but that's all."

"Aw," he protested, "it ain't Christmas unless you get something big. Aw, mother!"

And that was the status of the Allred Christmas situation when the family—governor-elect, Mrs. Allred, young Jimmie and year-old David—left for a holiday vacation. Their home here was closed until New Year's. Mrs. Allred's mother will meet the group in Bowie, where Mr. Allred's parents live, and take the boys on to Wichita Falls.

The internal revenue department of North Carolina estimates that state's tobacco crop last season was worth $90,550,000.

Contest Names Are Requested

Many Homes Which Have Been Decorated Have Not Been Listed With Garden Club, Officials Inform

Many homes which have been decorated for Christmas have not been entered in the home lighting contest, members of the Lubbock Garden club, which is sponsoring the contest, said Saturday. Persons are urged to call Mrs. Elmo Wall, who is taking entries for the contest.

Cash prizes totaling $27.50 and merchandise valued at about $40 will be given. Any Lubbock resident may enter his home under any of the following classifications: general exterior; single large window, double window or triple window; doorway; one single medium size window; and outdoor living Christmas tree.

Several Enter

The following persons have entered their homes in the contest: Mrs. R. A. Tynes, 1002 Avenue X (triple window decoration); Mrs. Paul Barrier, 1802 Seventeenth street (triple window); Mrs. J. C. Herbstreit, 1605 Avenue R (double window); Mrs. Joe Baldridge, 2105 Seventeenth street (double window); K. N. Clapp, 1642 Thirteenth street (outdoor living Christmas tree).

At least eight entries for each contest is hoped for, Mrs. Wall said.

"We do not want the decorations to be entered on one or two thoroughfares," Mrs. W. P. Clement, president of the club, said. "We would like for them to be scattered throughout town."

Be It Ordained by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas:

Section 1. The regulation of the sale of milk within the City of Lubbock, Texas, is hereby declared necessary and expedient for the promotion of health and the suppression of disease within the said City.

Section 2. The City Health Officer of said city or his representative, is hereby authorized to issue permits to any person, firm, or corporation, or association of persons making application therefor, authorizing the sale of milk within the limits of said City. The health officer is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made his duty upon the filing of an application for a permit for the sale of milk to ascertain and determine, and under such rules and regulations as he may promulgate, the fitness and ability of the applicant to furnish and sell pure and wholesome milk under proper sanitary conditions, and if he finds that any applicant for a permit for the sale of milk is fit and able to furnish and sell milk, as aforesaid, he shall grant the application and issue a permit. The City Health Officer is further whinerized to make such rules, orders, and regulations as he deems necessary for the proper production, handling and sale of milk, applying the current requirements of the United States Public Health Service Milk Ordinance as his guide, and he is further authorized, and it is hereby made his duty to provide for the grading of the equipment and for the grading and labeling of the milk, to be sold under the permits herein provided for; provided said officer shall have authority to grade such equipment and milk according to the current requirements of the United States Public Health Service Standard Milk Ordinance with the assistance of the State Health Officer or his authorized representative. A full and complete copy of said ordinance is on file in the office of the City Clerk of this City where it may be inspected.

Section 3. No person, firm, association or corporation shall within the City of Lubbock, sell, offer or expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, any milk or milk products which are not graded or labeled as provided. Any substance claimed to be any milk or milk product defined in the United States Public Health Service Milk Ordinance but not conforming with its definition shall be deemed adulterated and misbranded. The use of the word "pasteurized" on the label unless the milk or milk product has been pasteurized and the use of the Grade letter "A" unless such grade letter has been authorized and awarded by the City and State Health Officers or their representatives according to the Grade "A" requirements of the Standard Milk Ordinance and has not been cancelled, shall be deemed misbranded.

Section 4. The City Health Officer at any time after three days notice to a holder of a permit, and after a hearing before said officer, at which hearing it shall be proved to the satisfaction of such officer that a permit holder has failed, or refused, or neglected to obey any rule, regulation, or order of the Health Officer concerning the production, labeling, handling, or sale of milk, such officer may suspend or revoke any permit issued.

Section 5. In the event the Health Officer refuses a permit to an applicant, or a permit is suspended or revoked by said officer, the applicant whose permit is refused, or the holder of a permit which has been revoked or suspended shall have the right of appeal to the City Commission by filing a written appeal with said Commission within five days from the date of refusal to grant said permit, or the revocation or suspension of said permit by the City Health Officer. The City Commission, after a hearing at a time to be set by said Commission shall either affirm, modify or otherwise change the action of the City Health Officer, and may in the event the action of the officer is not affirmed, give such instructions as it may deem necessary to the City Health Officer, who shall carry out such instructions as given by the City Council; provided that pending action on the appeal herein, a permit which has been suspended or revoked shall be considered as suspended or revoked, and the holder shall not have any right thereunder, unless the action of the City Health Officer is changed. If a permit is revoked because of the unauthorized use of the grade "A" label or for the violation of Section 3 of this ordinance, such revocation shall not be included in the appeal, but may be submitted to the State Health Officer or his representative.

Section 7. No permit herein authorized shall be assignable or transferable.

Section 8. Any person, firm, corporation or association of persons who shall sell or expose for sale any milk or milk products in the City of Lubbock, without having a permit authorizing the sale of same, issued by the City Health Officer of the City of Lubbock, Texas, or who shall sell or possess for the purpose of sale any milk after a permit has been revoked or suspended shall be fined in a sum not exceeding One Hundred Dollars, and each separate sale, or possession for sale, shall constitute a separate offense. Or whoever shall violate Section 3 of this Ordinance shall be fined in accordance with the penalty provided in the Texas Food and Drug Act for Adulteration and Misbranding.

Section 9. Nothing in this ordinance shall affect or apply to any retail merchant, restaurants, or other persons selling milk at retail in the original containers, which milk has been purchased from any holder of a permit, as herein provided for, authorizing the sale of milk, except as to placarding, cooling, and sanitary handling of the milk while in their possession.

Section 10. The dairy and milk inspector shall be an agricultural college graduate or shall have at least attended such an institution, or institutions of similar rank long enough to have acquired a working knowledge of dairy sanitation, bacteriology and chemistry.

Section 11. Every person, firm or corporation selling, or transporting milk or milk products in the City of Lubbock shall be subject to inspection, and before selling or delivering milk or milk products in the City of Lubbock, shall apply to and secure from the City Health Officer a written permit to engage in such business in the City of Lubbock for a period of one year thereafter, provided there be paid to the City of Lubbock in advance for such permit for such year a license fee graduated as follows:

(a) Annual license fee for the sale or delivery of milk or milk products by milk plant, $20.00.

(b) Annual license fee for sale or delivery of milk or milk products acquired from or produced or delivered by each dairy a minimum fee of $2.00 plus $1.00 per cow, heifer or bull up to and including ten head, and plus $1.00 per head for each cow, animal in addition to ten head provided that the maximum fee for any dairy shall not exceed $20.00 for any one year.

(c) An annual license fee for each vehicle used for the delivery of milk or milk products, $2.00 per vehicle.

Section 12. Each permit issued by the City Health Officer shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Milk and milk products shall be delivered in bottles or containers bearing the name and address of the dairy from which the contents are produced.

(b) Milk and milk products shall be delivered to consumers only in bottles or containers which have been sterilized by a method approved by the City Health Officer or his representative.

Section 13. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Dollars, and each day that such violation shall continue shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 14. Repeal. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 15. Emergency. The fact that there is no adequate ordinance governing the sale of milk and milk products in the City of Lubbock, Texas, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this ordinance be passed and become effective from and after its passage, and it is so ordained.

Passed and approved first reading by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, this 27th day of September, 1934.

Passed and approved second reading by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas, this the 25th day of October, 1934.

Looks Like A Fruit Cake Christmas!

More Than 100,000 Pounds Of Ingredients Needed Here To Supply Holiday Cake Tastes; Reporter Gathers Figures

SHOULD residents of Lubbock and vicinity hesitate in the midst of eating a big slice of tasty Christmas fruit cake to consider just how many pounds of fruit cake will be consumed in this trade area during the two-week holiday period, their "tummies" would ache with the realization and their heads would whirl with the calculation.

For instance, a calculation with the aid of local business men who know most about what Lubbock and vicinity eat, proved that, should Lubbock and the surrounding territory go on a fruit cake strike and endeavor to ship away all the fruit cakes now baked and those which will be made in the next week, it would require one and two-thirds box cars capable of carrying approximately 100,000 pounds. Now, this calculation will appear impossibly large when first considered and might even provoke a family argument.

Here Are The Figures

Before condemning the large figure, consider that an ordinary batch of fruit cake made by the housewife to do all during the holidays will weigh about five pounds. In addition, every bakery in Lubbock has been busy for weeks baking cakes of various sizes to be sold in its own shop and to sell to the food dealers. One concern has imported several thousand pounds of the seasonal cake to supply its customers. Invoice slips of wholesale dealers show that they have stocked ingredients from 3,000 to 30,000 pounds and that re-orders may be necessary before the holidays arrive, unless sales decrease appreciatively.

If the assumption that a journalist will stomp in "where angels fear to tread," then even an attempt to arrive at a truly

Women Facing Fight To Hold On To Their Jobs

Margaret Sawyer

Many Needing Work And Aid In Support Of Their Families

BY MARY MARGARET McBRIDE
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—Women white collar workers, especially married ones, are facing the hardest fight they've ever had to hold their jobs. This is the conclusion of the American Woman's Association, after studying the findings of a just-completed economic survey among its members.

So aroused is the General Service Committee of the association over the situation that a conference to lay constructive plans for battle has been called for the latter part of December.

According to a study of 1350 actual case histories, nearly twice as many women white collar workers are out of jobs now as in 1931, declares Margaret Sawyer, chairman of the committee. Meantime the proportion of married women workers or would-be workers grows rapidly.

Marriages Increase

Thus, in a survey made in 1931, only 16.9 of the women workers questioned were, or had been married, while 19 per cent in the current survey reported husbands, past or present. These comparative figures are reinforced, more-over, by similar ones culled from other studies of women's groups, occupational, collegiate and general.

That is, more married women are working than ever before, when they can find work to do. The proviso is necessary, the survey committee points out, because of the increasing restrictions against married women workers. Since 1931, the study finds, many organizations have discharged their married feminine employes and openly declared that they will take on only single women from now on—when they take on women at all. Also, a number of NRA codes have discriminated against women, it is charged.

The American Woman's Association is seeking to rally all organizations of women workers to "reaffirm and defend the right of women to work, regardless of marital status."

Most Need Jobs

"Many of these working wives," Miss Sawyer declares, "cannot justly be accused of holding jobs that might otherwise go to single women with no other means of support because many own businesses and PAY wages, not earn them.

"Nor do these women work, as they have sometimes been accused of doing merely for pin money, self-expression, or to fill in the time until some Prince Charming comes along to provide them with luxurious homes. Nearly half are supporting or helping to support one or more dependents. In short, they work for the same reason that men work."

Dependents Increase

The average number of dependents, by the way, is nearly twice per woman what it was in 1931. Also, only 69 of the 1350 quit their jobs

ON BOOK GIFTS

CHRISTMAS is a good time to give books and if you are in a quandary as to what to select for Aunt Fannie or Uncle Oscar turn to the editorial page and read C. W. Ratliff's choices for all ages.

The list of outstanding books for 1934 given in this week's Time magazine may or may not be a criterion of good reading. If it is, we are sadly off because we have read only three of those named.

A SPITTIN' IMAGE

THERE was a certain business man who went night-clubbing with some friends and fell off the waterwagon with a great splash. Along toward dawn they managed to get involved in a grand melee in some west side dive, and the aforementioned adventurer went home with an assortment of contusions and abrasions.

He took a look at himself in a mirror and hazily decided to patch up his wounds. Did his best with some adhesive tape and crawled into bed. Next day his wife accused him of being squiffy when he came home.

"I hadn't been drinking," he declared. "I was in a taxi accident."

"Not a drop."

"Then what are those strips of adhesive tape doing on the mirror in the bathroom?"

A WOMAN'S CHARM

PSYCHOLOGISTS have been studying women again. A committee of professors has been trying to find out just what qualities make a woman attractive, using all their scientific instruments and methods of technical analysis to get the answer. The result of their research is published this month in the Woman's Home Companion.

First of all, they agreed that the secret of charm in a woman is "personality." They took a list of high school girls and asked the teachers to check the list for those girls who were popular with their school mates. The four qualities of personality proved to be first, a sense of fairness; second, a certain originality; third, liveliness; fourth, a pleasant voice.

You note that such a stock requirement as facial beauty was omitted. Evidently a girl who wishes to be popular should do everything in her power to improve her speech. The right voice, it appears, should be soft, gentle and low.

THE RASPING VOICE

WHAT is an unsatisfactory voice? It is one that is muffled, guttural, strident, rasping, shrill, monopitch, flat or nasal or in which articulation is so blurred that those listening must continually resort to that most monotonous phrase in American conversation, "What did you say?"

Women seeking to improve their voices are advised by experts to turn on their radios and listen to the announcers of nation-wide broadcasting chains. In speaking they use lips, jaw and tongue to form a clear sound. Compare their articulation with yours and get off in a corner and practice.

Many Fruit Cakes

definite figure for the number of pounds of fruit cake to be consumed by Lubbock and its trade territory may be termed a bit of journalistic stomping. Nevertheless, it contains much food for thought, for, put into one huge cake, this quantity would be worth approximately $30,000, and each resident in the trade area would be forced to consume one-half pound for his share.

"Other Side" Of The Case

But, there is another side to the fruit cake question. Think of the pleasure the womenfolks who really like to cook good things to eat are experiencing preparing their cakes. It is a sure sign that Christmas is not far away when Mother or Grandmother assembles all the delicious ingredients for her fruit cake: cherries, pineapple, lemon and orange peel, figs, dates, nuts, cocoanut, spices and, of course, eggs, butter, flour, baking powder and liquid. Finished cakes, with their aroma of "done" goodies, are a thing to be marveled at by every member of the family, especially when they are told that is one thing which surely must not be opened 'til Christmas.

Then, think of the joy of the hostesses when unexpected company arrives. There is always the fruit cake, which may be served English style, that is, a very thin slice with a bread and butter sandwich with hot tea, topped with whipped cream or just plain in all its glory!

For The "Clever Hostess"

By the time New Year's Day arrives many citizens may find themselves wishing they had never seen or heard of a fruit cake, they will have eaten it on so many occasions. But, clever hostesses may have a surprise in store. They may save until last their white fruit cake, which shows off the beautiful color of the fruit so well and tastes so good. Or they may have on their supply shelves one of the tasty date cakes which are of the fruit cake variety and are so fine for the kiddies.

Residents of this community will not be alone in their celebration of the holidays as they consume their fruit cake. Practically every country on the globe has its own variety of the dainty. Some of them do not wait until Christmas to include it on their menu. In England, in fact, you will be likely to be served a tasty morsel of fruit cake almost any day for tea. In France pastries are set aside for a season and the fruits of the East are enjoyed during the holiday period, made into delicious cakes possible only to a French caterer. In Scotland an ancient custom demands that as parties of friends meet on the street on Christmas morning they exchange cakes similar to our fruit cakes as they feel it unlucky not to present a friend with a cake of some sort at that time.

Turkish Custom Unusual

In the Turkish Orient the most unusual custom is observed. Our New Year's Eve is known there as St. Basil's Eve. Women gather in groups on this day and mix all the goodies we put in our fruit cakes into a very rich paste. They do not take the matter seriously, as American housewives are prone to do. Instead, they demand that each member of their group be in a hilarious mood. As they laugh and exchange funny stories, they make the paste into unusual shapes. Much rivalry is exhibited in producing the most unique shapes. When the cakes are baked they are made a part of the celebrations which follow.

Indications are that Lubbock will eat more fruit cake this year than last, so here's hoping reading this has made you fruit cake hungry and that you will waste no time in procuring yours.

Wild Seas Reduce Ship To A Helpless Hulk; Eleven Members Of Freighter's Crew Reported Rescued

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 15 (AP)—Seventeen men perished during attempts to rescue the crew of the British freighter Usworth as wild seas reduced the ship to a helpless hulk.

Advices to the Cunard-White Star line from the liner Ascania said today that fifteen members of the Usworth's crew had been lost, along with two members of the crew of the Belgian liner Jean Jadot, which, with the Ascania, went to the rescue of the stricken freighter.

Eleven Rescued

The master of the Ascania informed the Line that eleven members of the freighter's crew had been rescued, nine by the Ascania and two by the Jean Jadot.

The Usworth was abandoned and was drifting helplessly east by southeast with a heavy list to port, the Ascania's message said.

EFFORTS DESCRIBED

Heroic attempts to rescue members of the Usworth's crew were described by Capt. Sadie Gonthier, master of the rescue ship Jean Jadot, in a wireless dispatch to the Associated Press.

As the seas rolled furiously in a wild storm of hurricane force, the Jean Jadot launched a lifeboat carrying ten members of her crew who volunteered for the rescue attempt. The Ascania stood by pouring hundreds of tons of oil on the ocean's surface.

Start Taking Off Crew

The Jean Jadot boat finally came alongside the Usworth, Capt. Gonthier said, and started taking off her crew.

It was a perilous job, for the sea kept hurling the rescue boat against the Usworth's sides and the freighter's men were forced to slide down a line to reach the Jean Jadot's boat.

Eight men had been taken off the freighter when a huge wave swamped the little boat and it became fouled in cargo derricks hanging over the side of the Usworth. The rescue boat edged away, rolling in the raging sea. Suddenly another big wave swept over the frail boat and it capsized, with its 18 passengers plunging helplesly into the water.

Rushes Another Boat

The Usworth was stricken helpless about 850 miles east of Newfoundland when giant waves smashed her steering gear. She sent out calls for help and the Jean Jadot hurried to her assistance. The Belgian liner managed to get lines aboard the Usworth and was endeavoring to tow the helpless boat to safety when the storm tore the two vessels apart and for ten hours they were separated.

Then came an SOS appeal from the Usworth that her situation was precarious and that the crew must be taken off. The Jean Jadot and the Ascania arrived to start their rescue work with its tragic results. Details regarding the deaths of the other seven victims were not contained in the dispatch from the Ascania.

Women Workers

for any cause during the entire five years covered by the survey, despite the fact that women have occasionally been scornfully accused of being "perpetual amateurs" in business. Ten of the 69 did resign, however, because they were going to be married.

Thirty per cent of those questioned had worked 20 years or more. Several had been making their own living for 50 years. Sixty-two per cent had been in the same job for five years or longer.

The average salary of the women workers was $2415 as against an average of $3035 in 1929. About one-twentieth of the group earn $5,000 or more. The highest salary reported was $14,500.

Most of the women who answered the questionnaire declared that they budget and assert that dress was the first item they cut down on when the depression hit them. The next to be curtailed was vacations, then amusements. More than half economize on rent and another fifty per cent save on food.

Use Leisure Wisely

When it comes to leisure hours, 56 per cent reveal themselves as of the purposeful type. That is, they use their spare time for lectures, classes and exhibits that will help them get on in their careers.

Swimming is their favorite sport, but mountain climbing and expressinoistic dancing also have devotees. The least popular outside-of-office diversion, strange to say, or perhaps not so strange, is cooking. Only eight per cent indeed put themselves down as especially interested in any of the activities having to do with house and garden, generally considered woman's sphere.

Civic and political activities also stood near the bottom of the list—"a fact," confessed Miss Sawyer, "which the editors of the survey heartily deplore."

Oil Drilling Stops Navigable River—The Sabine; 32 Wells

GLADEWATER, Dec. 15 (AP)—There was a day when the Sabine was a navigable river but oil drilling has stopped that.

Thirty-two wells are being drilled in the bed of the Sabine near Gladewater, on state of Texas land. Permits were granted for these operations to the Rhoads Drilling company to drill 25 of these wells, to McAllister Fuel company for three and to Dave Reed of Austin for four.

Regulations for producing contracts with the state on these river bed lands require that the producer pay to the state a bonus of $5,600 on each location for a well. This is to be paid in oil. The state also receives the regular one-eighth royalty on the well's production.

It costs approximately $5,000 more to prepare for and drill a well in the river than on an ordinary dry-land location, oil men estimate. Heavy steel foundations and expensive piling must be put in the river bed in order to erect the derricks.

Old Circus Formula Will Be Brought To The Screen In Wally's Picture

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15—The old circus formula brought to the screen.

WALLACE BEERY

That is the best way I can describe "The Mighty Barnum," which brings forth Wallace Beery as the outstanding figure in circus history, P. T. Barnum.

And in making the picture, Producer Darryl Zanuck followed the same system used by the circus king in amassing his fortune. Certainly nobody ever accused a circus of being artistic. But it is entertaining.

The same may be said of "The Mighty Barnum." I doubt if it will be numbered among the 10 best pictures of 1934. But I do think it will be among the 10 big money makers of the coming year.

Picture Is Pushed

Despite objections which have been raised by Joseph I. Breen, Irving Thalberg is going right ahead with his plans for "Marie Antoinette" as Norma Shearer's next vehicle. He has assured Breen that the story will be so thoroughly scrubbed that no censor will be able to raise a finger in protest.

NORMA SHEARER

Let's hope it doesn't meet the same fate that befell "The Green Hat" when it went through the washing machine, as Norma needs a really good story if she is to maintain the high standard she set in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Besides, "Marie Antoinette" will be her last picture until after the birth of her expected baby next May.

Learn About Animals

An afternoon with Siegfried Rumann is devoted to learning more about unicellular animals than about Siegfried Rumann.

SIEGFRIED RUMANN

Rumann, German character actor who is said to have many of the same qualities of Jannings and Chaney, would rather talk about his hobby than his business. His hobby is bacteriology, a science to which he probably has devoted as much time as he has to his acting.

You ask him about pictures and Rumann says, "Come, let's take a look at my workshop." He says this proudly. "I had it sent out from New York."

He shows you his woodworking equipment, consisting of a lathe, drill press, jig, band and circular saws, gouges, chisels and other tools and machinery you'd expect to find only in a professional shop. "Yah, I like this stuff," says its owner.

Greta Meets Master

Greta Garbo, moviedom's big silent woman from Sweden, has met her master.

GRETA GARBO

W. S. Van Dyke, assigned to direct retakes on her latest film, "The Painted Veil," kidded her mercilessly while these shots were being made.

When everything was set for the first scene, "Woody" shouted, "All right, kid, get your roller skates on—we're going to work." Also, during the first day of shooting, he very "carelessly" addressed the aloof star twice as Miss Crawford!

Jesse Jones Is Expected To Make Houston C. Of C. Talk

HOUSTON, Dec. 15 (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, is expected to return home to be the principal speaker at the annual Houston Chamber of Commerce banquet the night of December 21. Due mainly to Mr. Jones' scheduled appearance on the program, many persons from other cities will be present.

Governor-Elect James V. Allred has accepted an invitation to be an honor guest, and will be presented to the audience, those in charge of arrangements said. Among others expected are William McCraw, attorney general elect, and Ernest O. Thompson, member of the state railroad commission.

Lloyd Hall and Edwin Schlet of the Oregon City, Ore., police department spent several days trying to bag a deer apiece but got only one between them. On their way home their automobile crashed into one.

LINDSEY — Tuesday and Wednesday: "A Wicked Woman" (Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer). Mady Christians, Jean Parker, Charles Bickford and Betty Furness.

Will Rogers Leads Ten Most Popular Film Stars Of 1934; Eddie Cantor And Jean Harlow Lose Out

Little Shirley And Bing Crosby Take Two Of Places

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15—Any of you people, who have been laying bets as to who is the outstanding star in motion pictures today, now can pay off—or collect, if you're lucky.

The correct answer is, Will Rogers.

That's not merely my personal opinion, either. It's the opinion of the combined independent exhibitors (theater owners without any studio connection to prejudice them) throughout the United States, all of whom were polled in a survey just completed by the Motion Picture Herald, leading film trade publication.

What a break that is for those who have been campaigning for clean films! Rogers, who consistently has stood for good clean entertainment with plenty of laughs, won in a walk—replacing the late Marie Dressler who had been in first place for two years. However, despite her death, the grand old lady of the screen was not crowded out entirely. She still ranks among the ten biggest money makers of the year. And that, without a single new picture during 1934.

Here's The List

The ten leading stars, listed according to their respective standings in this survey, are:

1. Will Rogers; 2. Clark Gable; 3. Janet Gaynor; 4. Wallace Beery; 5. Mae West; 6. Joan Crawford; 7. Bing Crosby; 8. Shirley Temple; 9. Marie Dressler; 10. Norma Shearer.

This list shows, among other things, an even increasing tendency on the part of the American public to retain old favorites. Only two new names, Crosby and Shirley Temple, are in the line-up. All of the others were among the ten leaders last year. And many of them were in similar postions two years ago.

Up From Sixth Place

However, there has been some juggling of positions. Two years ago Rogers was in sixth place. Last year he was second. Now he's at the head of the parade. It has taken Gable only one short year to climb from seventh place into his present position.

Janet Gaynor remains right where she was before. Wally Beery has climbed a notch. Mae West has come up from eighth place. Joan Crawford has moved up from the tenth rung. And Norma Shearer has slipped back one step.

Good Prospects For 1935

And now that we have seen the public's preference for the past year, as expressed by the number of admissions they bought, let's have a look at what kind of screen entertainment 1935 will hold for us.

Winfield Sheehan, boss of the Fox lot, unloaded a few words on this subject to me the other day.

"Chief characteristics of talking picture entertainment in 1935 will be good music, clean comedy and drama of modern life, all built on strong simple stories of present-day times," remarked Sheehan.

"The group of new artists introduced this past year will continue to establish themselves more strongly in the public favor. These new players, recruited from all nationalities, offer distinct and interesting personalities to the film world.

"The campaign to eliminate certain questionable elements from motion pictures will result in a marked improvement in quality. As a result, I believe new theater attendance records will be set."

Not a bad outlook, is it? Particularly that part about new records since they will result only from increased entertainment in pictures. I hope you're right, Mr. Sheehan. We can stand it.

Dog Fancier

His West Highland terriers having captured practically all honors in both the Oakland and Los Angeles dog shows, Charlies Ruggles now is making plans to send the animals to New York to compete in the National Dog Show this winter.

Strangers Together!

While talking with W. C. Fields the other day I discovered that one of his ambitions is to meet Lionel Barrymore. And they just finished playing in the same picture, "David Copperfield"! But never once were they on the set at the same time.

"I thought sure that I would have a chance to get acquainted with Barrymore when I was cast in that picture," Fields declared. "But we never met once. In fact, because of the construction of the story, about half of the cast never met the other half.

"Why, Frank Lawton never even met Elizabeth Allan, and she played his mother!"

Last Texas County To Be Organized Plans Program Of Civic Beautification

PECOS, Dec. 15 (AP)—Loving county, last to be organized in Texas, is going in for civic beauty.

At Mentone, county seat of this county of 600 inhabitants, a relief project is under way to improve the scenery around the courthouse by planting grass and shrubbery.

Loving county was organized in 1930. Prior to that it was attached to another sparsely-settled southwest Texas county and had barely enough inhabitants to organize a government of its own.

Better Health Work Sought

Texas' Backwardness Cited By Chairman Of State Board Of Health, In Making Plea For Increased Activities

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 15.—Officials and citizens interested in the state's welfare have set about to clear Texas of "an indictment for the crime of negligence in the matter of protecting public health."

Texas' backwardness in the work, as revealed in reports of the government on national health conditions, constitute the indictment, in the opinion of Dr. C. M. Rosser of Dallas, chairman of the state board of health.

Seek Appropriations

He enlisted aid of various civic organizations and of the citizenship generally in a campaign to secure for the Texas health department adequate state appropriations. An active program was outlined to impress the necessity for more funds upon the legislature at its next regular session starting in January.

"It is an astounding fact," reminded Dr. Rosser, "that Texas, first in area, natural resources, agriculture and cattle raising, and fifth in population; enjoying enviable climate, and boasting of rugged ancestry, is recorded as having a higher death rate per capita from preventable diseases than is true of few other states and twice that averagely experienced by the nation as a whole."

Answer Is Protection

Texas' high death rate from preventable diseases, he said, apparently was due "to short-sighted financial consideration of indifference to humanitarian appeals." The answer, he noted, lay in an examination which revealed "results in health protection are in direct ratio to the support given departments of public health."

While Texas spent three cents per capita for public health service, Dr. Rosser compared expenditures from 12 to 40 cents by such states as New York, Delaware, Maryland, Alabama, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Florida, Maine, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Louisiana, Tennessee, Virginia and Vermont. Many other states spent more than three times that of Texas, while the Lone Star state trailed its neighbors, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arkansas and Oklahoma "with discrediting, direful results."

STUDENTS HELPED

MANHATTAN, Kas. (AP)—Agricultural adjustment contract payments and other federal aid programs are making it possible for one-third of the freshmen at Kansas State college to attend school this year, a recent survey of 992 members of the class revealed.

Deputy Is Needed Here

WE have with us again the United States District court for the Northern District of Texas and that brings to mind the fact that the Lubbock division, third largest in importance and number of cases handled, does not have a resident deputy United States marshal.

It is necessary for the government, when papers have to be served in the twenty-odd counties comprising this division, to send a deputy from Amarillo, 125 miles away, or from Abilene, 175 miles away, to this area to serve these papers.

Established some six or seven years ago and the youngest in the district, the Lubbock division now handles more cases than any of the other six divisions except Dallas and Fort Worth. This record has been held for several years.

The clerk of the court saw this fact some months ago when the part time deputy clerk for this division was placed on a full time basis. The clerk, Mr. George Parker, recognized the importance of this additional service.

Prior to the change in marshals, about a year and a half ago, dputy was stationed in Lubbock to serve this section. He devoted his full time to the work. On the change, the new marshal announced an economy program, reduced the number of deputies in the field and left Lubbock out in the cold.

The change might have been an economy, in one sense of the word. Yet, travel expenses necessary to having a deputy come from Amarillo or Abilene to Lubbock and this section, would appear to eat up a considerable portion of the "savings" accomplished otherwise.

BIG BAD WINTER

Pessimism is never warranted, particularly about the severity of a coming winter. To say this winter will be the coldest in 60 years may be an arresting opening for a radio broadcast advertising a standard furnace but it is not necessarily one to send cold chills up one's spine.

The New York weather bureau, for instance, does considerable nose-thumbing over the idea of an unusually cold winter ahead. While it shares the popular recollection of a period of last winter when the temperature reached new lows, it points out that, except for February last, the winter was pretty well behaved and rather close to normal in the matter of average temperature.

It recalls that we have had a series of six years in which there have been large excesses of temperature, the excess last year being 460 degrees, or 1.3 degrees a day if uniformly distributed. This year—according to the same authority—there is an accumulated deficiency of 89 degrees or about one-third of a degree a day; and "there is nothing in the statistics that forms the basis for a prediction of an unusually cold winter, nor is there anything that promises a mild one."

While definiteness may be lacking in such a statement, it is the only one with which weather authorities agree. Doubtless there may be much about which to be concerned, in prospects of winter ahead but there would seem to be no point in taking unusually severe weather for granted. People who take colds easily and are otherwise sensitive to winter's inclemencies may well be provident or the flu germ may get them if they don't watch out. It is probably a good idea to prepare heating facilities to full efficiency. Incidentally fairly moderately priced heaters are available for cars.

Amateur weather forecasters who go by thickness of fur on animals and whatnot, may be indulged in their favorite prognosticating pastime; but if winter comes, the disposition to take it—by degrees—should not be far behind.

A new census of North American Indians shows an increase in their number. No one is alarmed but importers of birch-bark novelties from Czechoslavakia.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.

And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

And He shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.—Isaiah 2, 2-4.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

PERIODICALLY for years there have been lobby investigations. Always it was possible to uncover one or more of the less adroit who had put too much in writing or talked too much in the presence of outsiders. Like early martyrs fed to the lions they made good entertainment while they lasted. The martyrs became hamburger and the exposed lobbyists lost their jobs—and the show was over.

There has been pressure for years to force all lobbyists to register their names and connections with the proper Congressional authorities so all may see who they are. That is about as far as Congress—or the administration—could go if it goes hunting lobbyists. It is entirely legal for any firm or individual to be represented in Washington, as elsewhere. It would take a brave law-drafter to write a law defining lobbying and its fine points.

Registration would be annoying to the boys but it wouldn't put the bulk of them out of business.

President Roosevelt took a cut at the trade last year when he decreed Democratic national, state and county committeemen, etc., would have to choose between their party affiliations and Washington lobbying.

Public Works Administrator Ickes and others, taking a cue from the boss, decreed their doors were closed to business representatives of this nature.

Most of the men FDR was aiming at resigned their political connections. Some didn't. All seemingly are still doing business at the same old stand, and very well, thank you. They adopted an attitude there weren't no law agin it—and the gravy is very rich.

LOANS: Do not get the idea there are no dangerous lobbies at work in Washington. There are, and there always have been. At this moment their number is legion, as the saying goes.

The big question, always present, is how many legislators and how many government officials a smart lobbyist can sway by wining and dining—or better.

Perhaps Congress should investigate the susceptibilities of its own members. Or pass a law making it illegal for a member of Congress to accept free food, drinks and or entertainment—and, naturally, "loans."

VOTES: The Treasury department put out an official figure the other day that tells a whole story when lined up alongside three other figures.

In 1933 a grand total of 3,660,105 individuals paid all the income tax Uncle Sam received. Right now there are approximately 18,000,000 living on federal relief. Around 29,000,000 voters went to the polls last month. Current population usually is estimated at about 130,000,000.

More succinctly, five relief-benefitters for every taxpaper. Assuming they are adults, all six are entitled to vote.

Some of Washington's keenest analysts have decided this ratio points the national trend of the immediate future—not by the same differential, of course, because half the dole-dependents probably are minors.

Here is their line of reasoning. The needy are content to let the national debt pile skyward so long as it means their food and shelter. The taxpayer may complain but he is in the minority. He can be voted down. This enables the New Deal to go ahead with its big pump-priming act. For the present there is no need to tinker with the dollar or inflate via the printing press. Much-needed money to finance the forthcoming public works program can be borrowed. Payment as usual, comes later.

In this connection economic authorities have been stressing a premise recently that Uncle Sam is far from foundering in debt. Comparisons with England and France—on a basis of debt vs. national wealth—would permit us to put many more billions on the cuff.

CASH: Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, arch-advocate of the paid-up bonus, is preparing to steal a leaf from the diary of those astute nursemaids of Democracy, Jim Farley and Emil Hurja.

During the recent campaign Farley and Hurja, from National Democratic headquarters here, saw to it that every district learned just how much federal aid money had been pumped into it by the New Deal. Senatorial and Congressional contests made and broke on those figures.

Now Patman has prepared an elaboate breakdown showing how many World War veterans there are in each state and how much actual cash would be thrown into each county if the bonus is paid off at the coming session.

All he has to do is look up the counties embraced by any reluctant member's district and Patman can immediately start quoting telephone numbers on the cash benefits constituents of that district would derive.

Some of Mr. Roosevelt's smart Brain-Trusters who are tearing their hair over a really good method of starting the wheels of industry humming again should take a lesson from Eugene Meyer, now a Washington publisher but formerly Governor of the Federal Reserve board under Herbert Hoover.

One day when things were toughest in the latter stage of the Hoover Administration Meyer hopped a train for New York and called a meeting of some of the Big Town's leading bankers. In effect, Meyer told them gravely that price levels had reached an intolerable stage. The government in Washington, he inferred broadly, was considering a bold price-fixing campaign reminiscent of World War days when Mr. Hoover was Food Administrator.

Somehow word of this leaked out to the right sources. Manufacturers were tipped by their bankers to lay in an immediate surplus ahead of arbitrary price rises. Millions were spent in stocking up. Your history tells you the Hoover administration undertook no price-fixing.

That is what might be called creating "a good panic"—for the moment.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK bankers are descending from their ivory towers and hobnobbing with their associates in other sections to an unprecedented extent. Not much publicity has attended their movements, but it's notable that several outstanding financial aces have heeded Horace Greeley's advice to go West.

The important treks began in August when two Morgan partners made a quiet tour of the middle and far West. A little later James H. Perkins of the National City followed their trail through roughly the same territory. But the most elaborate expedition to date is the one now being conducted by the Chase Bank. The party includes—apart from Chairman Winthrop W. Aldrich—President Don Campbell, economist Benjamin M. Anderson and Nelson Rockefeller (son of John D., jr.,). This sort of thing has been done about as often as the King of England visits New Zealand.

Hitherto it's been almost an invariable custom that correspondent bankers who wished to confer with financial field-marshals had to come to New York to do so. Now the mountain is going to Mahomet. Insiders say the result has been a notable improvement in harmonious banking relationships between different sections. The New Yorkers have shown a genuine interest in the other fellow's point of view.

Here's an ironic angle. Well-posted sources say the Wall Street emissaries have been spreading the gospel of cooperation with the government and have done much to convert the suspicious brethren elsewhere. Not that they agree with all angles of the New Deal, but they are convinced—more so than most industrialists—that cooperation is advisable as a matter of self-interest.

If you're buying for mother, who likes straight-away fiction, not too tragic and not particularly sexy, these might do:

"Little Orvie," Booth Tarkington, a swell story of a boy. "Red Heifer," by P. D. Davidson, an interesting biography of (no kidding) an Australian cow; "Patterns of Wolfpen," by Harlan Hatcher, a very fine story of Kentucky pioneers.

"The Foolscap Rose," by Joseph Hergesheimer, unfolding the changing fortunes of a Pennsylvania manufacturing clan. "Blinkey Manor," by P. G. Wodehouse, a hilarious story of Jeeves the valet; "Mary Peters," by Mary Ellen Chase, a warm and appealing romance of a by-gone generation.

"Lightship," by Archie Binns, a thoroughly masculine book about men in a little-known calling; "Captain Caution," by Kenneth L. Roberts, exciting sea-story of the war of 1812; "February Hill," by Victoria Lincoln, a blithe yarn of a deplorable Fall River family.

"Picairn's Island" by Charles Nordhoff and James Hall, finishing the famous south sea trilogy; "Duck at the Grove," by Samuel Rogers, another sombre but well-written tale of youngsters whom the war cut adrift.

DETECTIVE MYSTERIES

AND now for Uncle Pete, who likes mysteries and adventure stories:

"The Case of the Curious Bride," by Earle Stanley Gardner, the most exciting detective story of the fall; "Adventures of Ellery Queen," by Elery Queen, a flock of short detective yarns; "The Great White Gods," by Edward Stucken, a sanguinary romance of the Aztec conquest; "Still Dead", by Ronald Knox, a pippin of an English mystery.

BIOGRAPHY

THEN there's Aunt Hortense, who likes biography.

"Robert E. Lee," by Douglas Southall Freeman, Vols. I and II, a really magnificent account of the Confederacy's great military hero; "Phantom Crown," by Bertita Harding, an engrossing story of Maximilian who tried to be emperor of Mexico; "Experiment in Autobiography," by H. G. Wells, a glimpse at an active and interesting mind.

"The Eve of Conflict," by George Fort Milton, a biography of Douglas which suggests that we might have dodged the Civil War. "Glory Hunter," by Frederic F. Van de Water, critical life of General Custer. "The Story of My Life," by Queen Marie of Roumania which is just about what you would suppose.

WORLD WAR

AND for Cousin Egbert, who is studying up on the World War. Volumes III and IV of the "War Memoirs" of Lloyd George, spilling plenty. "The Riddle of Jutland," by Langhorne Gibson and Vice-Admiral J. E. T. Harper, describing the world's greatest naval battle, the "Naval Memoirs" of Admiral Sir Roger Keyes, analyzing the Dardanelles tragedy, "A History of the Great War," by C. M. F. "Mary Poppins," by P. L. Travers, a finely imaginative fantasy which any child from 7 or 8 upward is almost sure to enjoy; "Valor," by Hal Borland, a grade-A dog story; "Hans Sees the World," by Lisa Teizner, a fairy story of a boy and a rabbit on a world tour.

"The Snowbaby's Own Story," by Marie Ahnighito Peary, true story of a girl born at the north of Greenland; "Pogo, the Circus Horse," by Josef Berger, which made a big hit with an 8-year-old in this reviewer's household. "The Back-Yard Zoo," by Daniel Pratt Mannix, telling about wild creatures which can be made pets.

Side Glances —By George Clark

The Foreign Situation

Situation In Germany Still Threatening And Revolution Is Not Improbable; Difficulties In Saar Valley Continue

AS this column pointed out last week, the events that led up to the bloody June 30th "clean-up" are repeating themselves. The atmosphere in Berlin political circles is thundefy. Schacht has protested to the Fuehrer about the "peasants' and workers' revolution" that Farmer Leader Darre is organizing. Now, the Reichswehr Chief, General von Fritsch, tells Hitler that the party leaders are again trying to nazify the army and demands that it be stopped. Of course this is all officially denied, but true.

As in June, heavy industry and army are preparing to annihilate the labor, farmer, and Sturm Abteilung elements which demand the realization of Hitler's original promises. Fritsch has the Reichswehr officers well in hand and both Goering and Himmler, with their police, seem to be on his side. As most of the S. A. has been disarmed and lacks a determined leader like Roehm, the situation is fortunately not so critical as it was in June. The backers of the "second revolution" seem to be even more in earnest this time, however. Hitler is trying to stall violent measures on both sides which would have a disturbing influence on the Saar population, but Berlin insiders don't think he'll be able to. Trouble is expected.

Goebbels Calms Down

At a recent meeting of Nazi "Veteran Fighters" in Berlin, Goebbels, usually so aggressive, struck an entirely new note. He defended himself and the government. He tried to explain away the failure of the government to relieve poverty and lighten taxes. He denied that the minister and leaders were living off the fat of the land. He attempted to counter the attacks against the government for abolishing free thought, wrecking foreign policy, not settling the church row, and losing driving power generally. He was actually defending Hitler. The catcalls and heckling that greeted the propaganda minister have given Berlin something to think about.

The Nazi statesmen are worrying about where they will get the money to pay for the Saar mines if the plebiscite does go in Berlin's favor. Insiders say that the league experts will probably set the price at around 300 million gold marks. Schacht had the bright idea of confiscating all the French francs in the Saar valley after the plebiscite and exchanging them for marks at the official exchange rate. The Saarlander saw the danger, however, and have carefully removed all their capital to France and Switzerland. An appeal has been suggested to all Germans to turn in their gold jewelry, the Schutz Staffel and secret police would see that the appeal is responded to. Hitler is hesitant, however.

Pay For Mines Doubtful

International observers think that the remaining danger of the Saar provoking a war lies in Germany's inability to pay for the mines. If Berlin cannot produce a guarantee of payment the league can refuse the return of the valley to Germany, even if the plebiscite goes to Hitler. The point of the Fuehrer's recent fervid peace gestures is to clear the way for direct negotiations with Paris. Berlin hopes to swap an armament agreement and an eventual return to the league for favorable payment conditions. It's doubtful whether the french chauvinists will let Laval meet Hitler half way, however. The Saar question remains fraught with danger.

A big German paper reports a 10 per cent rise in the consumption of salt in Germany during the last year. Trade observers are surprised; salt consumption seldom fluctuates more than a few points. Insiders say that this year the meatpackers have been very busy delivering to the war ministry. The Reichswehr certainly believes in being prepared.

Revolters Enroute To Bremen

The 2,500 Nazis who fled into Jugoslavia from Austria after the collapse of the revolt in July are on their way to Bremen. It seems that the Jugoslavs, while accusing Hungary of harboring foreign political agitators, wanted to clear their own slate. The Nazis, for whose upkeep Belgrade received a fat sum from Berlin, are not wanted in Germany—but when Belgrade asks, Hitler does. The revolutionists are to build roads now. One of their quartermasters confided to your correspondent over a third "seidel" —"Himmelkreuzdonnerwetter! Who told us it was glorious to be a German?"

AUSTRIA: The celebration of Otto Habsburg's birthday in Vienna has given the Central European observers a lot to think about. Not only the army, but also the paramilitary Heimwehr and Sturmschar sent large delegations to an impressive demonstration. Monarchistic propaganda has been steadily on the increase and is well received by large sections of the population.

Since Dollfuss' death the struggle between the Fascist Heimwehr and the clerical Christian Socialists has become more and more violent. The balance swings back and forth between Schuschnigg and Starhemberg. Both feel that a monarchy at the head of the present dictatorial system is best for Austria's future as a stabilizing force combining all parties. The Vatican and Mussolini agree. The Little Entente stands in the way. Jugoslavia and Czechoslovakia fear worse than death the joining of Austria and Hungary under the Habsburg aegis and the revolt of the pro-Habsburg minorities. France has to play along with her allies. Just now restoration is impossible, but if Nazidom again threatens Austria seriously the Duce will try to put Otto on the Austrian throne. Schuschnigg has already said "The Habsburg question is a purely Austrian matter, and Austria is an independent country." That's significant.

Mussolini Doing Well

Mussolini's plan to make Austria Italy's yes-man and vanguard is coming along nicely. During the recent Rome talks the Duce laid down a set program for the Austrian Chancellor. Vienna has taken the first step and demanded the abrogation of the St. Germain clauses which limit the Austrian army to 30,000 men. The Little Entente is already getting nervous. The Duce is as set as ever to rule the Danuhian basin and that's what makes Franco-Italian cooperation impossible in the long run.

FRANCE: Hitler's words of peace and conciliation to Jean Goy, the head of the French ex-service men's organization, has started a storm in Paris. The chauvinistic press warns against a German feint and demands that Laval have nothing to do with a deceitful villain. The foreign office and the vets feel otherwise. Directly after the Hitler interview was published, Laval had a friend write an article in which Germany and France face the alternatives of either destroying one another or cooperating. Let it be cooperation. Laval is ready to do some constructive work with Ribbentrop when Hitler's emissary comes to Paris before Christmas. The anti-Germans are giving a lot of trouble, however, and even counsel the Foreign Minister to prevent the return of the Saar to Germany at all costs. They claim that a plebiscite in favor of Hitler and a return of the valley would "legalize" Nazidom and weaken French prestige. It's too early to see which tendency will win out—the chances are against reconciliation now.

Flandin's measures to disarm political parties and prevent political disorders have met with considerable resistance throughout the country. Both the Socialists and the fascists-minded combine in protesting their "rights" and refuse to abandon their plans of making trouble for the government if the coming grain reforms don't please them.

Air Show Facts Pessimistic

The International Aeronautical show in Paris was an eye-opener for the optimistic who are still skeptical about the honors of the next war. The expert that conducted your correspondent spent most of the time explaining how rapidly all the private and commercial planes exhibited could be turned into effective military units. In fact, he had exact specifications as to weight of bombs, machine-gun armament, etc.

The French arms manufacturing circles are watching the threatening London Parliament investigation with great amusement. The Labor party intends to make a big political weapon of it and have all relations between Vickers and associates and the British government officials out for a good airing. The Londoners implicated are already scurrying for cover and concealing their tracks. By the time the government investigators get to the Vickers offices they won't have the luck that Nye's gumshoes had. M. Schneider and friends in Paris smile and say, "We live in a civilized country."

Nation's Farmers Take Drouth In Stride, With AAA Adding To Cash Income

Devastation's Forces Met

ash Income For Farmers Of Country Shows Increase In Spite Of Elements; Prices Go Higher

BY STEPHEN McDONOUGH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—The merican farmer took the most vastating year since 1881 in his ride.

One year ago farm prices had ritantly improved, credit was ghtly looser, and cash a little ter, but back of such indications y a fear that perhaps the bot- m of the farm depression had not en reached.

Then in the spring of 1934 began e worst agricultural conditions e country ever had seen. Heat se to record-breaking heights hile rainfall declined to nothing er large areas. Twenty-seven tates were affected seriously. rasshoppers consumed thousands f acres of growing crops while inch bugs sucked the moisture out f other thousands.

Yields of food grains and cotton ere drastically reduced, produc- ion of food, forage, and pasture de- lined to nothing over a wide area, nd a heavy reduction in livestock umbers was made necessary.

Farmers' Income Rose

The drouth, coupled with the arm administration's acreage cur- ilment, brought wheat production own to 497,000,000 bushels, the west since 1883, and the corn out- ut to 1,372,000,000 bushels, small- r since 1881. Most other crops, ex- ept vegetables and fruits grown in estricted sections of the east and outh, suffered in similar fashion.

Despite this calamity cash income f farmers totaled about $6,000,000,- 00 for the calendar year, an in- rease of 19 per cent over the figure f $5,051,000,000 for 1933 and 39 per ent above the low level of $4,328,- 00,000 in 1932.

A. A. A. Big Factor

About $550,000,000, or 10 per cent, f this increase came from cash enefit payments of the AAA in re- urn for reduction in acreage, ightly more than $100,000,000 came rom emergency sale of cattle and heep to the AAA; about $10,000,000 ame in payments for cattle de- troyed by the government after hey had been found to be tuber- ular or infected with Bang's dis- ase. The remainder came from the ale of farm products and non-farm ork done by farmers and their amilies.

As drouth damage continued to increase, prices of farm products spurted in response. Cotton rose rom 9.5 cents a pound on the farm o 12.3 at the close of the year. Wheat went up from 70 cents a ushel to 90, corn increased from 0 to 75 per cent a bushel and hogs rom $3.80 a hundredweight to $5.00. Part of these increases was attri- buted to President Roosevelt's de- valuation of the dollar.

Reduction Quotas Whittled

The index of all farm prices rose from 80 to 102, expressed in terms of the 1909-1914 average, thus touch- ing and slightly exceeding the much- talked of "parity" point toward which the AAA has been driving since it started a year and a half ago. These prices were not truly in- dicative, however, since prices paid by farmer went up from 116 to 126 and the ratio of prices received to prices paid went up only from 69 to 81.

The farm administration, starting on its permanent program of adjust- ing production to the level of do- mestic demand plus whatever amounts can be sold abroad, an- nounced for 1935 a 10 per cent re- duction in wheat acreage instead of the 15 per cent in force during 1934 curtailment of cotton by 25 per cent compared to 40 per cent, slicing of corn production by 10 to 30 per cent instead of 20 to 30, and curtail- ment of hog numbers by 10 per cent instead of 25.

Adopts Land Program

In addition the administration adopted a comprehensive national land policy and began its program of buying instead of renting land to take it out of production, having purchased about 5,000,000 acres of definitely sub-marginal land, moved the families living on them to bet- ter areas, and turned the land back to grass, forests, and game.

An outstanding development was the trend away from voluntary con- trol of production on the part of farmers to compulsion under which cotton and tobacco farmers were given definite production allotments and taxed heavily if they attempted to market any goods in excess of their quotas.

Activities Varied

While the new AAA was busy at its adjustment problems older di- visions of the department of agri- culture continued engrossed in their many-sided activities ranging from predicting tomorrow's weather to searching the Hinyan mountains and the Gobi desert of Asia for new grass plants.

The forest service, in addition to its regular work in conservation and forest management, aided in direct-

Wool Buying In San Angelo Section Proceeds Unabated

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 15 (AP)—With between five and six million pounds of Texas wools still unsold, buyers continue active in West Texas.

About 400,000 pounds of the total unsold is estimated to be short wool. Short wool has been selling at from 12 to 20 cents a pound with 12-months going at 17 to 25 cents a pound. It is estimated that more than 2,000,000 pounds of wool have moved out of West Texas to Boston in the last three weeks.

Meanwhile, the membership fight between the two rival ranch as- sociations, the Sheep and Goat Raisers association and the Texas Wool & Mohair Growers' associa- tion, continues.

J. M. Lea, sponsor of the latter organization, this week started sending contracts of membership to the 20,000 wool and mohair grow- ers in Texas. Lea said that each day members whose total output is 100,000 pounds of wool and mohair are being signed.

ELECTRIC PIG BROODERS

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—Electric brood- ers for pigs have been adopted by the California College of Agricul- ture. The brooders will be tried out here and at farms in various parts of the state in the hope of cutting by a fourth the annual loss of 150,- 000 pigs during cold weather.

WEIGHS 31 POUNDS

RUMA, Yugoslavia (AP)—A sugar beet weighing 31 pounds, a world record according to figures avail- able here, has been raised on a near- by farm. It will yield nearly six pounds of sugar, the owner esti- mates.

Rye for Germany

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish government has agreed to the sale of 50,000 additional tons of rye to foreign countries, most of it to go to Germany. This will bring exports of this year's rye crop to 150,000 tons.

ing the civilian conservation crops in thousands of far-flung camps and began work on the $75,000,000 Can- ada-to-Texas shelterbelt of trees.

In the field of farm finance the farm credit administration practi- cally halted the explosive mort- gage foreclosures of 1933 and re- financed approximately $1,342,926,- 843 in mortgage indebtedness while scaling down those debts by $680,000,- 000.

Pease River Dam Sought

Formal Application To Be Entered On Project; Cost Is Estimated At $3,360,000; Hearing Anticipated

(By The Associated Press)

VERNON, Dec. 15—A formal ap- plication seeking construction of a dam across Pease river near Mar- garet in Foard county at an esti- mated cost of approximately $3,- 360,000 has been unanimously ap- proved at a meeting of the board of directors of the Pease River De- velopment association.

The application, with a revised engineering report on the project, was forwarded to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes at Wash- ington. Federal and state funds are to be sought to finance the project.

Anticipates Hearing

The board anticipates the ar- rangement of a formal hearing with Secretary Ickes at a later date. A committee previously appointed by the board will then go to Washing- ton to present the matter personal- ly.

The committee is composed of E. R. Brown, Electra, president of the association; J. H. Allison of Wichita Falls; and Congressman W. D. Mc- Farlane of Graham.

Joe E. Ward of Wichita Falls, consulting engineer, submitted a revised engineering report on the project, bringing the figures up to date but basing his estimates on facts compiled by engineers in a survey conducted several years ago.

Ward's report estimated that the total cost of the project would ag- gregate $3,360,000, including labor and materials, of which $2,100,000, or 62 per cent, would be for labor alone.

Municipal Water Plan Progresses

DALHART, Dec. 15 (AP)—Progress in Dalhart's movement for a munici- pal water plant was reported by Mayor B. M. Kendall after the city had submitted a new proposal to the West Texas Utilities com- pany.

The plan calls for the city to buy all of the utilities' water system, including Rita Blanca lake and sev- eral hundred acres of land near the city. The land was purchased several years ago for hydro-electric development and water storage.

Mayor Kendall said J. A. Brewer, district utilities superintendent, in- dicated he looked with favor on the plan and would take it up with Price Kampbell, president of the company, at Abilene.

Dalhart has applied for a PWA loan of $490,000 to pipe water from shallow wells in the Buffalo springs district, 32 miles to the northwest. The PWA opposed a duplicate sys- tem and recommended that the city buy the utilities plant.

Under PWA rules only about $122,000 could be used for acquisi- tion of the utilities properties. The new plan proposes that the city pay that amount in cash and furnish the company with water for its ice plant for the balance. The company has a contract to re-ice the Rock Island's transcontinental fruit and vegetable trains here.

POTATOES FOR RUSSIA

Farmers In Alabama Claiming Record Yields For Potatoes

ROBERTSDALE, Ala., Dec. 15 (AP) —Joe Reding, a farmer residing near here, amazed fellow-agriculturists this season by harvesting a five- acre crop of sweet potatoes that averaged 240 bushels per acre.

SHIPS DRIED BEEF

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP)— About 4,920 tons of salt dried beef were exported by this state of Rio Grande do Sul in September. Prin- cipal shippers were the Syndicate of Meat Dressers with 25 per cent of the total, Swift's with 15 per cent and Armour's with 10 per cent.

BIG WOOL PRODUCER

NANKING (AP)—China produces 125,000,000 pounds of wool a year, most of which is raised in the north- western provinces. Chinese wool, formerly in heavy demand in the United States for carpet-making, has fallen off appreciably in recent years.

PARK RAPIDS, N. D. (AP)—"As fast as a jack rabbit" means be- tween 30 and 35 miles an hour to L. P. Vegtman of Park Rapids, who says he managed to keep one of them in front of his automobile headlights for a distance of two miles while driving his car at that speed.

Nebraska Youth Wins Education

OMAHA, Dec. 15 (AP)—Twenty- year-old Mervin Aegerter of Seward, Neb., is going away to college and the bill is being paid by Don Laurel, a Here- ford that thrived in the drouth.

All last summer when the drouth made feed scarce, Aeger- ter saw to it that Don Laurel was nourished, but he little thought the Hereford would win for him the grand champion- ship of the 4-H club baby beef division at the recent Ak-Sar- Ben exposition.

Later when Don Laurel went on the auction block it brought $1.05 a pound for a gross profit of $1,113 to its proud owner. With that money Aegerter intends to finance himself through the college of agriculture at the University of Nebraska.

Brady Ships Two Carloads Of Cavalry Remount Horses

BRADY, Dec. 15 (AP)—Two car- loads of cavalry horses, represent- ing a revenue of about $10,000 to local ranchmen, have been shipped from Brady to Fort Reno, Okla- homa.

These horses were purchased by Major E. C. Conant and Captain H. A. Fudge, who spent a week here reconnoitering local ranches for good saddle horses for the cavalry service of the United States Army at Fort Reno. One carload was purchased from Ben Strickland, manager of the White and Strick- land polo farms and C. T. White and Ed Gibbons, local ranchmen, while the other carload was selected from a number of other ranches in the immediate vicinity of Brady.

A total of forty-six horses was included in the two shipments.

GROWS GIANT POTATOES

ATMORE, Ala., Dec. 15 (AP)— When it comes to growing sweet potatoes, Farmer W. P. Bates really grows 'em. His fall harvest includ- ed many that weighed in the 10- pound class and the daddy of them all tipped the scales at 10 pounds, 14 ounces.

Farmers of the Irish Free State will be encouraged to raise wheat.

Wheat King

Crown of the world's wheat king rests on the head of this 20-year- old Canadian farmer, John Allsop. His samples of "Reward" wheat from his Wembley, Alberta, farm captured top honors at the grain show of the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

Because ground-squirrels of Cali- fornia can carry bubonic plague, squirrel-free zones are maintained around ports there to prevent the squirrels from infecting city rats and starting a serious outbreak.

Erosion Control In Central Texas Is Well Advanced

BRYAN, Dec. 15 (AP)—Farmers of 27 central Texas counties, working in cooperation with the forces of erosion control camps of the federal department of agriculture, have ter- raced or rebuilt terraces on more than 60,000 acres. Most of this work has been the construction of new terraces rather than the rebuilding of old ones.

In the same area, farmers have dug about 211 miles of outlet ditches. The total amount of work done by landowners was estimated by M. J. Bentley, Texas A. & M. college agricultural engineer, in charge of this work, to be worth approximately $195,000.

The work that has been done has greatly stimulated interest in ero- sion control and the opportunity for follow up work by county agents and vocational teachers is large. But in view of the fact that Bentley esti- mates 20,000,000 acres of cultivated farm land in Texas stands in need of such work, the surface scarcely has been scratched.

The camps which have fostered this work—in a definite sense made it possible—are located at Farmers- ville, Bowie, Belton, Taylor, Gra- ham, Boyd, Weatherford, Coolidge, Hillsboro and Brenham. Camps dis- continued were located at Jones- boro, Valley Mills, Dublin, Cleburne and Gainesville.

Here's Something NEW in LAMPS
...the New
I.E.S. STUDY LAMP
Has an outside shade for beauty... an inner lining that gives twice the useful light of ordinary shades... and an opal reflector that softens and diffuses the light for real eye comfort.
LOOK FOR THIS TAG
"Why is this lamp so different you ask?" It is different because it was created for the sole purpose of checking the alarming increase in defective eyesight shown by these figures:
20% of the children in grade schools are handicapped by impaired eyesight.
40% of the graduates leave our colleges with damaged eyes.
75% of all people over 50 suffer from defects of vision.
Much of this trouble has been caused by reading and studying under the wrong kind and amount of light.
So that everyone—the child in the grade school—the student at college—the man or woman who reads or studies at home might have the benefit of scientifically correct light, the Illuminating Engineering Society worked out the specifications for the New Study and Reading Lamp.
It is not offered as a substitute for the services of an eyesight specialist, but it is recommended to everyone who wants eye protection.
I. E. S. Study Lamps are made in table and floor models, in many styles, finishes and decorative effects—and are as outstanding in beauty as they are in protecting eyesight.
STUDY LAMP FEATURES
Inside Reflector Diffuser—eliminates reflected and direct glare and softens shadows.
Height—Purposely made high to spread light over entire working area. Also adds to beauty.
It is the mark of the genuine Study Lamp—approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society and endorsed for lighting effectiveness by the Lighting Committee of the Edison Electric Institute.
WHY YOU SHOULD NOT READ OR WORK BESIDE A LOW LAMP
1. Low lamp doesn't spread light out far enough to reach your book or work.
2. Customary dark shades waste much of the light you need for eye-comfort.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE, No. 79 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

It all happened so quickly and was over so quickly that scarcely had Caesar's shriek rung through the Colosseum when he lay dead at the foot of the carved throne, and Gabula, the assassin, in a single leap had cleared the wall and was running across the sand to von Harben.

"I have avenged you, Bwana!" cried the black man. "No matter what they do, you are avenged." A great groan arose from the audience and then a cheer as someone shouted, "Caesar is dead!" A flash of hope came to the breast of von Harben. "Now is our chance," he whispered.

"Follow me!" cried Mallius Lepus to the prisoners. The guards had been stunned by the murder of the Emperor. Everything was in confusion. Mallius Lepus started on a run toward the gateway and the shouting prisoners fell in behind him. No effort was made to stop them.

The sudden rush of the escaping prisoners so upset the guards beneath the Colosseum that they were easily overpowered and a moment later the prisoners found themselves in the streets of Castrum Mare. Von Harben, Mallius Lepus and Gabula dashed off together to find a hiding place.

"Smelling Committees" At Work In Washington As Congress Approaches; 11 Investigations Held

Staff Correspondent

BY HERBERT PLUMMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—"Smelling committees"—the term applied to congressional investigations in the post-world far years—are being out-done in numbers on capitol hill these days.

Probably at no time in the nation's history has the government shown such curiosity about so many different things as it is showing at present.

No fewer than 11 separate investigations are either now being conducted or authorized by the senate alone. And the house has its share as well.

Topping the list at the moment in point of interest is the investigation of the munitions industry being conducted by a committee headed by Senator Nye of North Dakota. This inquiry may be prolonged indefinitely. Nye is prepared to go before the senate in the coming congress and request more money to continue the investigation.

Mail Contracts Scanned

AIRMAIL and ocean mail contracts have been scanned thoroughly by the senate, and further probing of the latter is to be had. In addition the post office department is looking into its own mail contracts which may result in either cancellations or modifications, and the interstate commerce commission is endeavoring to find out whether existing airmail contract rates are fair and reasonable.

The senate's investigation of crime and criminal practices is to be resumed shortly.

The Philippine Islands are also due for a periodic scrutiny by the senate.

There May Be More

A SENATE investigation of FERA, as a result of charges by Senator Borah of Idaho, appears certain.

A committee is busy at work inquiring into un-American practices in this country. Profiteering in war department contracts are being investigated as well as veterans' guardianship practices, the tin industry, civil service and alleged abuses in real estate and bondholders' reorganizations.

A subcommittee of the house ways and means committee has been at work for months in an attempt to find a way to get more money for the treasury without slowing up recovery.

These are only a few. The President has his own agencies at work investigating and seeking information for him. Various departments of the government are doing the same thing.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent. Prospects are that the coming congress will increase the number of investigations.

En Garde!

"Foiled!" exclaim the beach Don Juans at Miami, Fla., when they see this pretty miss surrounded in the above manner. She is Bernice Tansill, fencing enthusiast, who practices her lunges and parries on the sands to develop poise, grace, and perfection of figure—all of which she seems to have already.

Brooke S. Ramsey Named To President Of School Board

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 15 (AP)—Brooke S. Ramey of Brownwood has been elected president of the board of trustees of Howard Payne college, succeeding former Mayor O. W. McDonald, who has been president of the board for several years and remains on the board as a member.

Sam Hughes of Brady has been elected vice president and W. E. Burleson has been named secretary of the board.

J. Horace Shelton has been named by the board as vice president and treasurer of the college. For several years he has served as business manager. Dr. Thomas H. Taylor is president of the college.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The CANADA GOOSE,

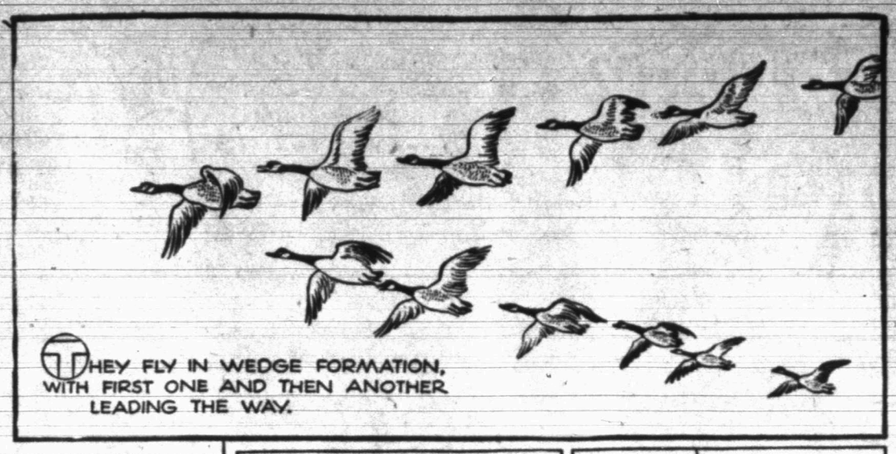

ONE OF OUR LARGEST WATERFOWLS, BREEDS FROM NORTHERN ALASKA TO BAFFIN ISLAND, AND SOUTHWARD INTO THE UNITED STATES.

THE NORTHWARD FLIGHT OF THE NOISY HONKERS IS WELCOMED AS A TRUE SIGN OF APPROACHING SPRING.

ORDINARILY THE EGGS ARE LAID IN TALL MARSH GRASS, ALTHOUGH AT TIMES OLD OSPREY NESTS, 100 FEET IN THE AIR, ARE USED.
