Plains Farms In Demand As Money Flows Freely

Others Are Injured; Guard Rails Fail To Halt Machine

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

WITHIN the past nine months to a year hundreds of South Plains farms have changed ownership as insurance companies, banks and trust companies and others holding title to farm lands have sold the equity to farmers who were either on the land or who moved onto it to establish a home.

LEWIS

So great has been this change of ownership of equity that many school teachers, through payment of back taxes, have been able to cash salary warrants that were months old and even as old as one and two years. It has been common for teachers in the smaller districts to have to hold a warrant for from six months to a year or more after the close of school before cashing it.

Many Transfers Made

M. G. Abernathy, field supervisor of the state farm debt conciliation committee for this section is authority for the statement that in the 18 or 20 South Plains counties, approximately 2,000 farm land transfers have been made. These sales, largely sponsored through county debt conciliation committees, have resulted in hundreds of farmers being able to prevent the loss of land and also having a debt reduced to near what they can meet.

In many instances payments past due for three and four years have

Fireman Dies To Save Four

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP) — The only person believed to have lost his life in today's huge fire was a hero.

Four young men appeared on the roof of the blazing exchange building. A fireman named Handon dashed up an extension ladder to the roof while his comrades poured streams of water on the building.

He balanced himself on the top rung of the extension ladder, hooked another ladder onto the roof and went atop the building. The four were saved but before the fireman could get back on his ladder the roof collapsed and he was tossed down into the wreckage.

Hamilton Gets Life Term In Robbery Case

Jury Willing To Assess The Death Penalty Impossible To Secure And Young Bandit Enters Guilty Plea

(By The Associated Press)

DENTON, May 19.—State prosecutors failed again today in their attempt to send Raymond Hamilton to the electric chair, but had the satisfaction of seeing another 99-year sentence added to the total of 263 years in sentences already hanging over the braggart youth for armed robberies and a murder.

Hamilton pleaded guilty in district court here today to robbery of the First National bank of Lewisville, Denton county, after state's attorneys devoted most of yesterday and today to a futile attempt to obtain a jury willing to assess the death penalty for robbery with firearms.

No Chance For Jury

After questioning 109 veniremen and finding only one juror willing to impose such a heavy punishment, County Attorney Judge Gambill decided there was no chance of getting such a jury in Denton county.

District Judge Ben Boyd recessed court today while lawyers discussed the possible ways to work out the problem. A change of venue was considered but finally the state agreed if Hamilton would plead guilty to robbing the bank of $500 on April 25, and would accept a life term in prison, efforts to have him

Four Persons Die As Bus Plunges 50 Feet From Rail Overpass Near Cisco

Business Conditions Over Section Are In Better Shape

(By The Associated Press)

CISCO, May 19.—A blowout was blamed for a bus accident today in which two women, a baby and a man were injured fatally when the bus plunged to death from a railroad overpass and three other persons were injured.

The huge Greyhound bus went out of control just as it reached the top of the quarter-mile-long overpass by which motor traffic crosses the Texas and Pacific railroad three miles east of here. The bus driver, Roy Turnbow of Fort Worth, said the vehicle suddenly failed to respond to its steering apparatus and it veered sharply toward the left side of the overpass.

Rips Through Rail

It ripped through a guard rail of cement posts along the side and dived, engine foremost, to the ground 50 feet below.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hilton of Abilene; Mrs. Ethel Boney, 19, wife of a farmer living ten miles north of Ranger; and Mrs. Boney's two-month old baby were smashed to death in the wreckage. Mrs. Hilton had boarded the bus at Abilene just a few hours before to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Hoggman, at Eastland.

Bulgarian Army Strikes Before Sunup To Establish A Military Dictatorship By Royal Decrees

Members Of Former Cabinet Are Arrested And Are Put Under Guard; Troops Move Speedily From Their Barracks To All Public Buildings; Program Of Dictatorship Announced

(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press)

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 19.—Striking swiftly before the sun was up, the Bulgarian army today junked constitutional government and took control of the nation under a military dictatorship established by royal decrees.

Whether King Boris, the 40-year-old monarch who has the reputation of being a fighter, was the sponsor of the coup d'etat, or had it thrust upon him by the army, was not immediately apparent, even to the populace of Sofia.

Signs Decrees

Whatever his original position, the king acquiesced promptly to the new state of affairs, and signed decrees which dissolved parliament and put the new government, with Kimon Gueroguieff as premier, in power.

Members of the former cabinet were arrested and placed under guard as the soldiers seized the government. Reports that several hundred persons had been arrested were heard on the streets.

Soldiers were in absolute control of the situation, not only here but in other cities throughout the country.

Guards On Duty

Heavy guards were on duty at all public buildings and in the streets, and most of the populace remained indoors. No disturbances were reported.

The blow was struck swiftly and effectively before dawn, and in the manner of its execution showed evidence of weeks of planning.

Troops moved speedily from their barracks to all public buildings in Sofia, and took possession of every strategic point without hinderance.

At the same time, garrisons in provincial cities were executing similar movements.

In the time required for brief military march through the streets to previously designated posts of

Legislation Is To Be Speeded By Chieftains

Good Chance For Adjournment By End Of The First Week In June Seen; Three Major Problems Remain

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19 — While both houses recessed over the week-end, congressional chieftains today surveyed the work ahead of them and agreed there was a good chance for adjournment by the end of the first week in June.

With a senate vote on the tariff bill in prospect and evidence of an early settlement of the dispute over silver legislation, President Roosevelt's leaders on Capitol Hill forecast clear sailing ahead unless the administration housing bill stirs up a storm.

Three Major Problems

These were the three major legislative problems remaining, though a number of less important measures that have been placed on the program were still awaiting action.

The housing bill bad met with easy going so far, and Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee hoped to complete hearings on it by the middle of next week. But leaders could see plenty of danger for so complicated a measure as that to cause trouble, and even delay adjournment.

Vote Next Week

Administration leaders in the senate predicted a vote would be reached on the reciprocal tariff bargaining bill by the end of next week. That would clear the way for consideration of the silver and housing measures as soon as they were ready.

The house, which has passed the

Stockyards Section Is Swept By Blaze As 2,000 Firemen And 300 Police Fight Fire Over 42 Square Blocks

Worst Since 1871

Dozens Of Cottages, Stores, Shops And Office Buildings In Path Of Flames; Smoke Seen For Miles

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 19.—Chicago's most disastrous fire since the city-destroying holocaust of 1871 tonight wiped out 42 square blocks of packingtown property with an estimated loss of $10,000,000.

The conflagration, starting as did the historic fire of 71, in the stockyards area, raged uncontrolled for four and one half hours. Not until 7:30 p. m. did Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan directing efforts of 2,000 firemen, declare that the blaze was under control.

300 Policemen On Hand

Every available piece of fire-fighting equipment in the city was thrown into the melee. Firemen off duty and on vacation were hurriedly summoned to the fight. Three hundred policemen commanded by 25 captains and under the supervision of Police Commissioner James Allman marshalled the huge crowds of curious out of the fire fighters' way and aided in the actual work of the fire fighters.

Despite its wide sweep, the blaze did not attack any of the major packing companies, plants. They were located in a westerly direction from the flames, although the fire started near the western limits of the mile-square yards, apparently from a carelessly tossed cigarette.

Three Are Missing

No deaths were reported but three persons were reported missing. Officers and physicians carried through the heavy pall of smoke and embers, 25 seriously injured firemen and spectators. They were taken to hospitals as were a score of others who had been stifled by the oppressive heat and fumes. Three of the casualties were in a critical condition.

At least 1,200 persons were rendered homeless.

STOCK IS LOST

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP) — It was estimated tonight that about half the livestock in the yards had perished in the fire. Today's receipts, as officially estimated earlier, were: cattle, 700; hogs, 10,000; sheep, 2,000; and calves, 200. Shipments out during the day were 200 head of cattle and 500 hogs. These were mostly cleared before the fire started.

Solution Of Robles Mystery Believed Near; Articles In Prison Pit Are Traced To Unnamed Suspects

(By The Associated Press)

TUCSON, Ariz., May 19.—Solution of the mystery underlying the kidnaping and rescue of June Robles was said by authorities here today to be imminent.

The statement was made after it became known articles found in the desert prison pit in which the 6-year-old girl was found last Monday, 19 days after her disappearance, had directed suspicion toward two unnamed persons.

Articles Traced

Several articles found in the pit with June were understood to have been traced, and the identity of persons in whose possession they were believed to have been at the time of the kidnaping tentatively established.

The impending "break" in the case came after several days of questioning of possible suspects, and fruitless attempts to find the person June would recognize as the man who took her away from in front of Roskruge school last April 25, or as one of two other men she said she saw while she was in the prison hole 9 1-2 miles from Tucson.

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, May 19.—An estimate of 14,500,000 bushels was paced on the 1934 Panhandle-Plains wheat crop today by grain dealers of the area. The estimate was less than half a normal crop.

Hale county topped the list with an estimate of 2,160,000 bushels. Swisher, Carson, and Ochiltree counties were allotted 1,500,000 bushels each, and Hansford, Castro and Floyd all were above the Million mark, in the estimates compiled by the dealers. Gray and Armstrong were placed slightly under a millon.

Drouth Area Bare

The dealers said some of the drouth stricken counties, including Dallam, Hartley, Moore, Oldham, Collingsworth, Hall, Motley and Cottle, would produce no wheat at all. If the price continues high, however, acreage that will produce from three to five bushels will be harvested, they said.

Anthony Becomes American Citizen

AMARILLO, May 19. (AP) — Antonio Giarrocchi fought in the American army during the world war. Today, 17 years after the close of the war, the country for which he risked his life accepted him as a citizen.

There are a lot of things Antonio still doesn't know about the country of his adoption, as naturalization Examiner F. C. Emmerich, of Denver, will bear witness. Most of the questions the examiner asked went unanswered. But Federal Judge James C. Wilson held that if Antonio was man enough to be a good soldier for four years he also should make a good citizen, even if he doesn't know how many judges comprise the supreme court.

So Antonio, the immigrant and soldier, became Anthony La Port, the citizen.

Theaters Take On Boom Here

Remodeling Of Palace Theater Starts Monday; Two Other Organizations Contemplating New Show Houses

With remodeling of the Palace theater set to begin tomorrow night and two other organizations contemplating the establishment of theaters here, the talking picture business in Lubbock has taken on a decided boom.

Pete Barnes, owner of the Angelus theater in San Angelo, spent yesterday in Lubbock making arrangemens to enter the local field and Pat McGee, Oklahoma City showman, had been here earlier in the week to secure a down-town option for a lease. Mr. Barnes' theater, he said, will be either in the down-town area or in the vicinity of Texas Technological college.

Five Houses Here Now

Lubbock has at present five theaters showing talking pictures. They are the Lyric and Broadway, the latter an unusually attractive new house, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mauldin; the Lindsey, Texan and Palace owned by the Griffith Amusement company and the Lindsed Theater Enterprises. Only one other West Texas city—Amarillo—has as many show houses in operation and should either or both of the planning newcomers enter the field the city will be at the top of the movie heap for the area West of Fort Worth.

C. B. 'Brownie' Akers and Clifton Lindsey, of the Palace, have announced that pre-construction work on the remodeling job will begin tomorrow morning but that regular performances would be offered patrons through the day and until midnight. After that the Palace will be dark until the remodeling is complete.

Approval Is Being Sought For County Crop Contracts

Cotton acreage reduction contracts for Lubbock county Saturday were turned over to community cotton committee groups for the securing of approval of signers, it was announced Saturday at the county agent's office. Approximately 2,000 contracts were handed to 29 community committees.

Each contract has been stamped with an approval stamp and signers are asked, if they accept the new figures on acreage and lint yield, to "initial" the stamp and return the contract to the committee.

"We hope all the contracts can be returned by Wednesday," Jason Gordon, who has charge of the cotton program office work, said. "The majority of the contracts can be returned by that time. There will be a number, however, that will have to be sent to land owners at a distance, for approval".

New figures on both acreage and lint yield to bring the county total within the limit set by the state cotton review board, were placed on each contract. The allowable is 25,000,000 pounds of lint for 199,900 acres.

Lubbock Young Demos Not Seeking Ouster For Leech

Mel Janes, president of Lubbock county Young Democrats, said Saturday that his club was not one of a so-called West Texas bloc which joined with the Dallas club in asking resignation of MacDonald Leech of Corpus Christi, state president.

The Lubbock club has wired Leech it would continue to support him. Janes said he knew of no West Texas bloc opposing Leech, as reported by Phil Overton, president of the Dallas club.

Overton's charge of "high-handed methods" was denied by the local man, who declared state leaders were working "in harmony for the good of the organization.

"All of West Texas supported Leech and helped elect him president, and I feel safe in saying that they will continue to do so as long as Leech works as he has done in the past," Janes said.

Bishop A. Frank Smith Will Give Baccalaureate Sermon For Tech Graduates June 3 At College Gym

A total of 191 candidates for bachelor degrees at Texas Technological college has been announced for the June graduating class by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the college.

Bishop A. Frank Smith of the Southern Methodist church, Houston, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the Tech gymnasium, Sunday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Henry G. Bennett, president of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, Stillwater, will be the principal speaker for the conferring of degrees, 10 o'clock the following Tuesday morning.

Other events on the commencement program include the annual reception in honor of the graduating class, faculty, and visitors at the home of President and Mrs. Bradford Knapp, the senior banquet, alumni banquet, a special breakfast for home economics graduates, the laying of corner stones for the new dormitories, and the annual meeting of the board of directors.

Roquefort cheese can now be made from cows' milk in this country instead from sheeps' milk, as in France.

Former Van Zandt Citizens To Meet

Former residents of Van Zandt county now living on the South Plains are invited to an all-day get-together to be held in Shannon park Sunday, May 27, H. M. McEachern, Woodrow, chairman of a group of former residents, announced Saturday.

"We invite every former resident of Van Zandt county now living on the South Plains to attend this meeting," he said. "We want every one to take part in the social and singing portions of the program, as well as the other services."

The program starts at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, with a sing-song, led by former Van Zandt singers. This will be followed by a sermon by a former minister from that county, Rev. W. B. Wages, now of Lubbock. He was formerly a pastor at Lamesa.

At noon a basket dinner will be served. Each family is asked to bring a well-filled basket.

In the afternoon there will be another session of singing, with short, informal talks by former residents. A social get-together will follow the talks.

He was assistant state Sunday school secretary until recently when he resigned because of the work taking him from home too much.

Hearst Cattle To Be Shipped

Movement From Brownfield To Markets Expected To Start This Week If Prices Are Favorable

Shipment of W. R. Hearst's cattle from Brownfield is expected to begin this week, provided markets are "right." The Babicora Development company, Chihuahua, Mexico, owns the cattle, some 8,200.

Last week J. M. Barbee, general manager of the development company, visited the operations, arriving by plane from Kansas City Tuesday and spending several days at Brownfield with H. W. Rowe, superintendent in charge of the operations.

Markets Studied

Barbee indicated the cattle would be sold in several markets, the sale depending upon prices. Kansas City, Los Angeles and Fort Worth were mentioned among other places.

Several weeks ago the cattle were placed in separate pens. The animals went into the pens beginning early in December and have been on feed ever since. Some of the animals are reported to have made good gains.

A federal customs officer has been stationed at the pens all the time. The cattle came in under bond and in the event they are sold in the United States, a customs duty will have to be paid the federal government. The average duty is expected to be between $10 and $12, depending upon weight of the animal on its arrival at the post of entry, El Paso.

Klondike Kate To Aid Friends With Picture Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 19. (AP)—Money to "do little things" for old-time friends of the gold rush days is what a movie contract means to Klondike Kate.

Mrs. Kate Rockwell Matson, famous "queen of the Yukon" in the gold stampede of 1898, left Los Angeles last night with a contract for her own life story to be put on the screen, Marjorie Rambeau to star in the title role.

"I'd like to be able to stake some of the old miners who are broke so they could get back to the Yukon and mine again," she said. "I'd like to help the Pioneer's home up there, and be able to do little things for all the old-time friends who need it."

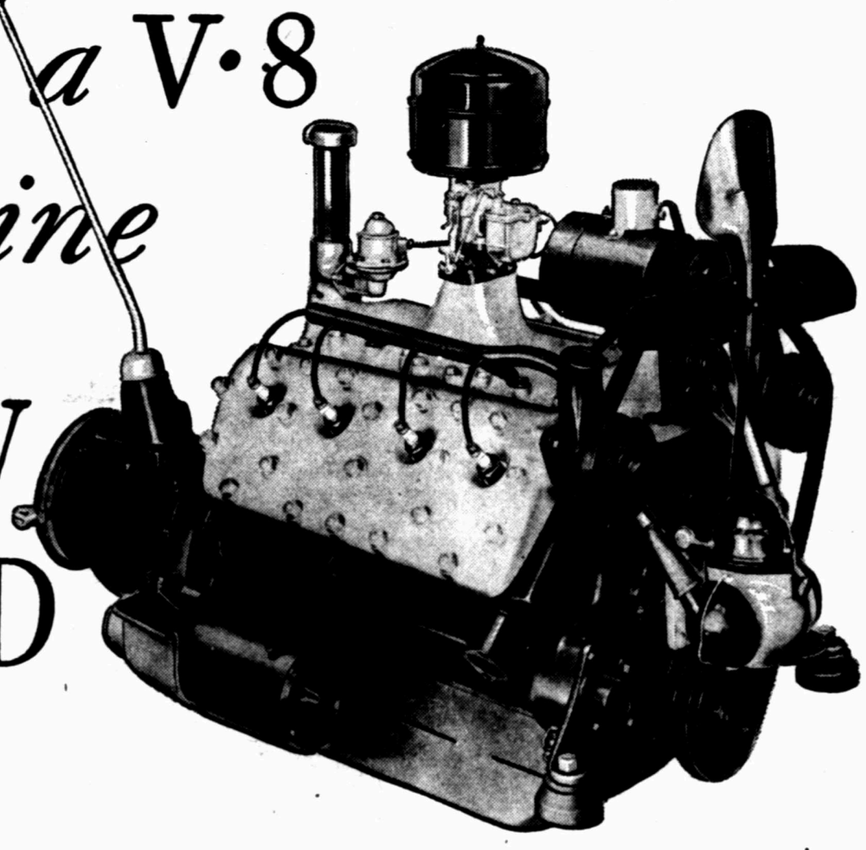

The one-time queen of the Dawson dance-halls is today a gracious kindly woman in her fifties, trim and well-dressed and speaking in soft voice about picturesque times she once knew.

SISTERS UNITED

O'DONNELL, May 19. (Special)—Mrs. J. M. Payne, wife of a well known farmer here, recently enjoyed a family reunion with her sister, whom she had not seen for 20 years.

The sisters separated after marriage. Mrs. W. I. Wilson, of Batavia, Ohio, came here to see Mrs. Payne.

Only car under $2500 with a V-8 Engine

NEW FORD V-8

Definite reasons for the superior performance and efficiency of the V-type engine

THERE'S no guessing about the superiority of V-type engines. They hold every major record on land, on water and in the air. For years they have been used for the finest motor cars in this country.

We designed a V-type engine for the Ford because it has certain basic, fundamental advantages that cannot be duplicated in any other type. It costs more to build a V-type engine—a great deal more. But we absorb that cost for the sake of getting better performance on the road. Here are just a few of the advantages of Ford V-8 design:

MORE EFFICIENT DESIGN—The Ford V-8 engine is more efficient because the eight cylinders are divided into two short banks of four each and placed opposite each other in a compact V-shape design — instead of being strung out in a long straight line.

ONE-PIECE CASTING of cylinder blocks, crankcase and exhaust passages. An exclusive Ford V-8 engine feature that means better performance and economy. Keeps operating parts in permanent alignment by providing exceptional rigidity for entire engine. Also increases smoothness, gives longer life to bearings and all moving parts.

SHORTER CRANKSHAFT — Compact V-type design of Ford engine permits use of shorter, more rigid crankshaft. This reduces vibration.

BETTER FUEL DISTRIBUTION—Shorter and more direct fuel passages to cylinders increase engine efficiency.

SIMPLER COOLING SYSTEM—Ford V-8 design brings all cylinders close together and results in simpler cooling system within the engine. The Ford V-8 has two water pumps.

MORE EFFICIENT LUBRICATION — Oil lines are shorter in the Ford because of V-8 design. Less distance for oil to travel. More efficient lubrication.

GREATER SMOOTHNESS because of inherently correct engine balance resulting from 90° V-8 design with 90° spacing of crankthrows on fully counterbalanced crankshaft. Precision weighing of pistons and connecting-rods assures accurate running balance.

INCREASED BODY ROOM—Ford V-8 engine takes up less space in hood because of shorter, more compact design. That permits more of car's length to be used for the passengers. It is one reason why the Ford V-8 has more interior room than any other low-price car.

PROVED PERFORMANCE—V-type engines hold every major record on land, on water and in the air. (Seaplane.) In every test, they show their superior efficiency and performance.

Those are the advantages of the V-type design. The foremost engineers in the country acknowledge the superiority of this type of engine and use it in the finest automobiles, speed boats and airplanes. Only the Ford gives you a V-8 cylinder engine for less than $2500.

The Ford V-8 is the most remarkable engine ever built because it combines V-8 performance with economy. It delivers more horsepower per gallon of fuel than any Ford engine ever built. Dynamometer tests prove it in the laboratory. Ford owners by the thousands have proved it on the road. They know, as you will know, that no car costs less to own and run than the New Ford V-8.

Renewed Pledge For Support Of Jews In Olympics Is Given

The committee reaffirmed its determination to keep the Olympic games free of any politics.

Goodman Favored, 6 To 1, To Win British Amateur

Johnny Goodman

U. S. Open Champ Is Making Impression On The Scots

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 19. (AP)—Johnny Goodman, the United States open golf champion, today was made a prohibitive 6 to 1 favorite to win the British amateur title starting over the Prestwick course Monday.

Although he took 74 wallops in his final practice round, Goodman made such an impression on Scotland's leading bookmaker he promptly reduced the previously quoted figures of 8 to 1 against the boy from Omaha.

McLean 8 To 1 Shot

Jack McLean, the Scot, remained at 8 to 1 as second choice.

Goodman, in top form despite the score, told the Associated Press: "Boy, I'm hitting them right for the first time since I reached England."

A gallery of more than 1,000 persons followed a foursome in which he played with Lawson Little, Tony Torrance and James Alred Stout the Yorkshire star. With Little and Stout each scoring 71 the match ended all square.

Johnny Fischer, the former American intercollegiate champion from Cincinnati, posted a practice round of 72, followed by Chandler Egan and Francis Ouimet with 74's, Max Marston 75, Gus Moreland and Jack Westland each 77 and George T. Dunlap, jr., the American amateur champion, 78.

Hemsley Leads Loops At Bat

Erstwhile Cub And Pirate "Playboy" And Now Serious Browns Catcher Poles Out 26 Hits Last Week

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 19. — Rollie Hemsley, erstwhile Cub and Pirate "playboy" and now the serious and businesslike backstop for Roger Hornsby's St. Louis Browns, swung the mightiest bat in the major leagues during the past week, while the big ten of each division underwent another revision in standings.

Hemsley moved into the American league lead with a .426 average derived from 26 hits out of 61 times at bat. That average put him 24 percentage points ahead of Lou Gehrig, slugging Yankee first sacker, and 52 points in front of Sam Leslie, Brooklyn first baseman, who led the National league for the week which ended yesterday. Gehrig moved up from fourth place to second at .402.

Carl Reynolds of the Sox, who led the American league last week, and Joe Vosmik of Cleveland, who was second, toppled far down the list as did Kiki Cuyler, Cubs' outfielder, erstwhile National league leader.

Chuck Klein of the Chicago Nationals and Gehrig captured the all-around slugging honors in their respective divisions.

Records of the 10 leading bastmen in each major league follow:

Champion In Good Form

Miss Aniela Gorczyca, slender Fort Worth girl who will be defending champion, is again shooting her best game and looms as the consensus choice to retain her title.

Miss Gorczyca won the title last year over the Galveston Country club course by defeating Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, 2 and 1.

Miss Betty Jameson, 15-year old city champion of Dallas and recent winner of the Southern crown, is a redoubtable challenger for the championship along with two former champions, Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. R. R. Fisk of Wichita Falls.

Professional George Aulbach, who has the Dallas Country club course in marvelous condition for the week of play, said today he believed it would require a card of 95 to make the championship flight. "It looks like the fastest field in several years," he said.

After the qualifying round, matches in all flights will be 18 holes except in the finals of the championship bracket which will be thirty-six.

Theout-of-town entry list today was impressive. It included Mrs. Grace Jennings of Electra; Mrs. W. L. James of Galveston; Mrs. Ida Stephenson, Miss Ann Matterson, Mrs. J. S. Tate, and Mrs. R. N. Gresham, all of San Antonio; Mrs. Sam Hopkins of Texarkana; Mrs. Chas. Holloway and Mrs. W. C. Stroube of Corsicana; Miss Hilda Urbantke of Austin; Mrs. C. M. McCullough of Amarillo; Mrs. F. C. Rochon of Wichita Falls; Mrs. W. T. Chapman of El Paso; Mrs. Fred Dodge of Port Arthur; Mrs. B. A. Krieson and Miss Virginia Williams of Houston and Miss Nell Moody of Galveston.

France Eliminates Austria In Attempted Comeback In Tennis

PARIS, May 19 (AP) — On the way to an attempted comeback this year in Davis cup tennis competition, France clinched its first triumph and eliminated Austria today after a mild furore over the belated arrival of Jean Borotra, the bounding basque, for the deciding doubles match.

The Austrians at first claimed a default when Borotra appeared three minutes late but then decided to go on with the match, which resulted in a decisive victory for the basque and his veteran partner, Jacques Brugnon, over G. Von Metaxa and H. Artens, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

The youthful French singles players, Christian Boussus and Andre Merlin, swept the opening two contests yesterday.

Remove Loan Restrictions

Action Taken By F.C.A. For Tenants Of One Landlord In Six Counties Because Of Drouth Conditions

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The Farm Credit administration has announced that limitations on maximum crop loans available to tenants of one landlord had been removed in Dallam, Moore, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Sherman and Hartley counties, Texas.

S. M. Garwood, production credit commissioner, said the action was taken because of the drouth in that area, adding offices in the district would continue to receive applieations for loens up to June 1.

Farmers in the six counties also are eligible to loans for purchase of feed for livestock, running to a maximum of $250 to an individual.

Applications for emergency loans for feed for livestock, but not for crop production, also are being received in Hansford, Lipscomb, Carson, Roberts, Armstrong, Ochiltree, Hutchinson, Hemphill, Potter, Gray, Randall and Bailey counties, Garwood said. Those counties were designed as drouth-stricken on April 5.

Cox Named Aid To Baggett At Canyon

CANYON, May 19 (Special)—Bob Cox, nationally famous fullback of Duke university and former Amarillo College Badger star, has been announced as assistant coach at West Texas State Teachers college to aid Coach Al Baggett.

Cox was captain of the first two teams that Amarillo college ever had, in 1930 and 1931. He went to Duke in the spring of 1932 and immediately became fullback on the varsity football team. Cox proved a sensation his first year with his exceptional passing, and his powerful line plunges. At the close of the 1932 season he was characterized as "one of the best line-cracking fullbacks ever to perform in the Southern conference." Last year "Our Bob" as Durham N. Carolina sports writers call him took up where he had left off the year before and as high scorer in the South led Coach Wallace Wade's Duke university Blue Devils to the Southern conference championship. His 69 points gained by eleven touchdowns and three extra points also gave him fourth high scoring honors in the nation. Cox was named on the North Carolina all-state team, the all-South Atlantic team, was voted almost unanimously the fullback post on the All-Southern conference team, and was given honorable mention on the All-American team. His merit Card certifying his all-American rating and signed by Christy Welsh of the All-America Board of Football is in the possession of Coach Baggett.

Previous to his two years under Coach Baggett at Amarillo college Cox had served one year at Vernon High school, and one year at Wichita Falls Junior college under the tutelage of Baggett. Thus he is thoroughly grounded in Baggett's system of football, and will be able to help Coach Baggett get that system firmly established at West Texas.

World Record Is Claimed For Laffoon's 226 For 72 Holes

DENVER, Colo., May 19 (AP) — Denver golfing experts claimed a world record today for Ky Laffoon, Denver professional.

Laffoon, an entrant in the National open, won the Park Hill open here yesterday by shooting 266 for 72 holes which, local experts say, is four strokes under the world's record for standard 18-hole courses. His total card was 22 strokes under par for the Park Hill course.

AMARILLO, May 19. (Special)—Horse racing is coming to the Panhandle in big style next month, and those who wish to learn about ponies should start now. The Panhandle race meet at Panhandle on June 7-10 and the nine-day spring meeting of the Tri-State Fair and Racing association in Amarillo June 15-25 will bring to this section all the thrills found on the "big apples."

Do you know what the "big apple" is? If you don't you might as well learn now what it and a lot of other expressions peculiar to the race track mean. You'll be hearing a lot of funny expressions at the races here, and if you'll study the definitions below, you will be in a position to know what they mean.

Big Apple—the major tracks of the country such as Belmont, Arlington Downs, Churchill Downs, etc.

"Frying Pan Circuit"

Frying Pan circuit—the smaller tracks where most the thoroughbreds start their careers.

Plater—a horse which runs in the claiming races, so called because in the old days horses used to run for a piece of a plate. The claiming race is one in which any horse in it must be sold to anyone who wishes to buy it at a price stipulated before the race. This plan keeps owners of hot shot horses from entering them in all races to win as many stakes as possible. In other words, it gives the small fellow a chance to participate in the earnings.

Furlong—an eighth of a mile.

Panel—a furlong.

Feed-box—a term used by jockeys, bettors, and others about the tracks to designate a hot tip from the stables or information, the exact source of which is not known, but is to be considered reliable.

Grapevine—a term used by track followers in a mysterious manner. The grapevine is that system of "gossip" that is current on any horse or races. The source of the grapevine reports is unknown. Any word over the "grapevine route" is heresay pure and simple.

Booter—a jockey; known also as pilots, helmsman, driver, rider, a boy, etc.

Maiden—This has nothing to do with the sex of the horse or jockey. A horse or jockey is known as a maiden until the horse or jockey in question has won a race.

Throne—the saddle—Also called the pilot seat, etc.

Tack—all saddle equipment. But—a whip used by the jockey.

Overland route—bringing a horse down the stretch by the outside or longest way around the field.

On the Bill Daly — applies to horses that have an early burst of speed and break in front at the start. Also called "front runner."

Stretch runner or horse—applies to horses that have a reserve burst of speed for the final home stretch.

Sprinters—horses that are at their best in mile or under races.

Routers—horses that prefer races of over one mile.

Morning glory — a horse that looks like a million dollars in the morning workouts, but fades out in the real tests in the afternoons.

"Knights Of The Rag"

Knights of the Rag—Stablemen and others who take care of the racers. Also known as "swipes."

Valets—those fellows who help the jockeys, carrying their tack, throwing them the "bat" and otherwise being useful.

Pancake—the oval tract itself. Also called "oval," "turf," or "course."

There are many more terms you'll hear around the track, but these will do for the first class.

Equipoise Loses When Disqualified

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP) — For the second time in five years of racing, C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, mightiest of America's thoroughbreds, lost a race by disqualification today when he was charged with driving Mrs. James M. Austin's Mr. Khayyam into the rail in the 41st running of the Metropolitan mile at Belmont Park.

Equipoise, seeking his third straight triumph in the classic turf fixture, stepped home three lengths in front of Mr. Khayyam but his courageous effort went for naught as the decision of the judges went to Mrs. Austin's colt after the latter's jockey, Bobby Jones, had lodged a claim of a foul.

With the downfall of Equipoise went the last race for Mrs. Elizabeth Bosley's Chase Me, unbeaten in seven straight races since making his debut as a four-year old last fall and heralded as Equipoise's most formidable rival. It was the first time the pair had matched strides.

Ridden by a steeplechase jockey, Frakie Slate, Chase Me broke his left front leg while running in full stride at the stretch turn. After being helped off the track he was destroyed, ending the career of one of the turf's most sensatonal runners. Slate was uninjured.

The disqualification of Equipoise shoved Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Archer into second and moved W. R. Coe's Ladysman, Champion Juvenile of 1932, up from fourth to third.

"DON'T YOU EVER RUN OUT OF ICE CUBES?"

"YOU MUST BE THINKING OF OLD-FASHIONED ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS...

Ours is a Frigidaire '34"

Big, husky ice cubes—120 of them at one freezing, in the model shown above. But that's only one reason why everyone is talking about the Frigidaire '34.

To begin with, it has automatic ice tray release . . . the trays slide from the freezer at a finger touch! And automatic defrosting . . . it turns itself on when defrosting is completed! Then, there are models with Life-time Porcelain inside and out . . . double Hydrator capacity . . . much greater food space . . . the Sliding Utility Basket . . . the Frigidaire Servashelf . . . interior lighting . . . extra space for tall bottles . . . and—come in, won't you? . . . That, really, is the best way to see just what's happened in electric refrigeration; to learn just why people are proudly saying, "Ours is a Frigidaire '34."

To come together as we have, brings back the memory of days gone, when we, under the urge of patriotism, marched away to do or die. There were many illusions and the dreams "have not all come true." That comradeship, born of a common experience, is felt by one to the other, and for the task at hand to still serve our country and fight for the right of our more unfortunate brother in arms who did not come back whole. For this common purpose we are gathered here, and we again bid you welcome and ask you to do as was said of old: "BEHOLD, HOW GOOD AND HOW PLEASANT IT IS FOR BRETHREN TO DWELL TOGETHER IN UNITY."

Heavy Loss In Chicago Blaze

Stockyards Section Is Swept By Flames As 2,000 Firemen And 300 Police Fight Fire Over 42 Square Blocks

ed or demolished by the flames that swept with volcanic fury from the eastward into the heart of the yards and on across Halsted street into a residential and commercial neighborhood.

Livestock Is Lost

Hundreds of cattle, sheep and hogs, trapped by the scorching wave, perished in their stals but others were herded to havens. Pens, corrals, runways, plants, sheds and other wooden structures in the yards burned like paper boxes.

Smoke at the height of the fire could be seen as far away as South Bend, Ind., by aviators. The flames were clearly visible from the tops of taller loop buildings, five miles to the north.

A series of explosive blasts set off by firemen to stop the tide of flame, razed several structures in its path but was effectual in staying its course.

Worst Since 1871

Mayor Edward Kelly termed the blaze the worst since most of the community was laid waste by the fire of 1871 and gray-haired Marshal Corrigan described it as the most extensive he had ever seen.

Among the major buildings damaged or completely ruined were the livestock exchange building, housing many administrative offices; the hall of the Percheron Society of America; the the huge stock yards amphitheater and Dexter pavilion, scene of many blue-ribbon horse shows and livestock expositions; the Drovers National bank; the Stock Yards Inn; the Stock Yards National bank; the P. Brennan railroad offices; the Agar Packing company; and American Express branch; an elevated train station; the Omaha Packing cmpany's wholesale market; the block square plant of the Equipment corporation of America.

Scores of rooming houses, bungalows, apartment buildings, railroad cars and other structures were also on the list of lost property.

Refugees Trudge Away

Refugees, some of them openly weeping, trudged away with a few valuables on their backs in a tragic panorama reminiscent of war times.

But that was only one element in a drama as huge and stark as Chicago was witnessed recently Bankers looked sorrowfully at vaults that turned into glowing signed bulks but they believed no currency had been lost. Executives feared the destruction of the livestock exchange, nerve center of the local hub of the industry, would hamper the packing business throughout the country for the next few weeks as loss of records and drafts would throw them out of normal operation.

Heroism stalked across the scene as firemen and civilians climbed extension ladders and held nets to rescue persons stranded on the roofs of flame-enveloped buildings. Scores of tales of individual prowess were related.

Firemen Are Hindered

Firemen were hindered in their efforts to curb the progress of the flames by the fact that many streets into the area are blocked off by railroad tracks. The only through street east of the point where the conflagration started was Halsted street, almost a mile away. It was there that the fire fighters "dug in" and fought. Engineers and pumpers were hooked on every available water plug for blocks in that direction. The streets were rivers of water after an hour of fighting. It was there the fire was finally downed.

The district, famous over the world for its thriving industry, was a sorry spectacle of ruin tonight. Thousands of people thronged railroad embankments, bridges, tops of nearby buildings, and even stood in the streams of water to watch the final of the struggle of the firemen.

Heart Of South Side

The stockyards area is in the heart of the south side. It is located between Halsted and Ashland streets, five miles south of the loop, extending from 39th to 47th street. Almost four miles to the east is located the grounds of the Century of Progress exposition on the lake front.

Chief among heroes and heroines were telephone company employes who stuck at their posts through the thick of the battle. During the worst of the blaze the yards exchange office caught fire giving rise to reports that the building was destroyed.

The crew of 100 operators at the exchange, lungs clogged with smoke and eyes smarting, carried on at one time with only two trunk lines working out of the exchange.

Red Cross On Hand

The Red Cross set up headquarters in the stricken zone to care for the homeless and the Illinois national guard turned over its armories to be used as dormitories. The war department was asked to release cots for the homeless.

While Governor Henry Horner proffered the aid of the national guard, Mayor Edward J. Kelly said he did not believe it necessary to call out the militia. The mayor, however, ordered 500 patrolmen to the area. Four men were arrested by police seeking looters.

By lights of electric and gas torches searchers tramped the ruins late at night and into the early hours in hopes of finding those reported missing.

Drouth Is Blamed

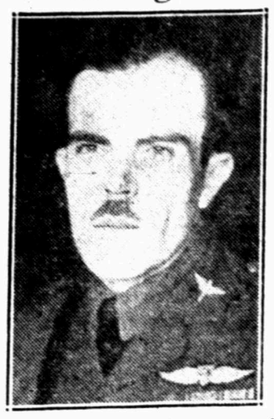

The middlewest's drouth of more than a month which has been alleviated here by only occasional minor showers was blamed for the rapid spread of the flames. Every day, almost, has its fire in the yards area but the fire-fighting personnel there is so efficient that only a few ever reach the stage of newspaper notice.

Today the woden buildings were fire tinder after two days of excessive heat. The circumstance which gave the famous fire of 1871 its great start—a long dry spell—offered another opportunity for even more widespread damage but modern fire fighting apparatus and methods finally swung the victory where 19th century equipment failed.

While reports were current that railroads planned an embargo upon shipments of livestock into Chicago, railroad officials contacted said no such step had been taken as yet.

The Northwestern road reported that it was receiving shipments of livestock as usual for delivery here. Other roads said stock en route would be cared for adequately.

Plainview Post Backing Mason

Hub Mason, (above) manager of Lockney Cotton Oil company since 1927, is a candidate for executive committeeman of the American Legion in the 19th congressional district.

Plainview's post, with about 50 members here, last night was pushing Mason's candidacy. Mason, former president of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce and a former director of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was a member of the Pershing expedition into Mexico and during the World war he was in the United States air service attached to the British Royal Flying corps.

His legion history began with his return from the army in 1919, when he became a charter member of the Hillsboro Post. He was post commander at Lockney in 1930 and 1931.

Mason will be nominated today by L. G. Matthews of Floydada.

Ray Hamilton

sentenced to death for the crime would be discontinued. This agreement was carried out.

Term Is Handed Out

Hamilton pleaded guilty and after testimony from a few Lewisville witnesses had been heard, the jury promptly handed out the prison term.

To Hamilton, the 99-year sentence means virtually nothing, for he already faced sentences aggregating 263 years.

The 263 years in sentences were imposed on Hamilton about a year ago when he was tried at various points in the state for robberies and a killing. Authorities at that time sought a death sentence. Hamilton was sent to Eastham state prison farm and served a few months. On Jan. 15 he escaped under cover of machine gun fire directed at guards, allegedly by Clyde Barrow, the killer with whom Hamilton formerly was a partner in crime. A guard was killed in the escape and Hamilton may be prosecuted on some charge growing out of his death.

State Moves Rapidly To Avenge Death Of Dallas Policeman; Grand Jury Is Called And Indictment Returned

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—Auhorities moved rapidly today to avenge the slaying of a Dallas policeman by preparing for the trial Monday of Richard Charles Rehm, New York criminal, whose fugitive flight was ended five hours after the killing.

Trailed by officers from the time he dashed out of a downtown garage after shooting Luke J. Bell, policeman, Rhem was forced to surrender under a barrage of pistol shots on a lane in Denton county.

Jury Is Summoned

Blood dripped from two flesh wounds as he was rushed back here. The grand jury was summoned hastily into extraordinary session.

A few minutes after Ira Burk, proprietor of the garage in which Bell was slain, accusingly pointed at Rehm as the killer and his identification was substantiated by Carprage Pope, negro garage employe, the jury returned an indictment. Court was convened and Rehm's trial was set. The entire incident—shooting, flight, capture, indictment and arraignment took but nine hours.

Bell, patrol driver, was slain after he had conveyed several prisoners to the rear entrance of the jail. Rehm dashed for freedom but Bell pursued him. Both entered the garage and Rehm threw up his hands when Bell confronted him with a drawn pistol. As the officer reached for his handcuffs with one hand, Rehm grabbed the pistol from the other and fired.

Runs From Place

He ran from the place, commandeered three automobiles and kidnaped two persons in his filght. He stopped long enough to shave a heavy beard with a bare safety razor blade in a thicket of woods before he was captured.

Burk, a witness, gave a graphic account of the slaying:

"The policeman followed Rehm into my garage," he said. "The officer drew his pistol and the man ran behind the elevator shaft with the policeman after him. I heard the officer give an order. Then the man came out from behind the shaft with his hands up. The officer walked up to him and began removing his handcuffs from his belt with one hand, holding his pistol in the other.

"Then the man grabbed the officer's gun. The officer leaped at him and they went down together. I heard two shots and then I heard the officer groan."

Rehm was arrested here March 12 when he appeared at the federal building and asked that his car, impounded in connection with an alleged violation of the United States internal revenue act, be returned to him. He carries a long police record and is a New York parole violator.

The agreement was reached last month when Mrs. Doubleday made a visit to Chicago but word of the arrangement was suppressed at that time. The counsel declined to divulge details of the settlement.

Farm Transfers

been paid to the original holder of the land or the land company, taxes to school districts, state and county paid and the farmer able to make some needed improvements.

$200,000 In Taxes

Mr. Abernathy estimates a average of $100 in taxes per transaction have turned into tax funds $200,000 since last fall. All transactions through the federal farm loan bank at Houston have included tax payments.

Local representatives of some of the larger concerns holding mortgages on farm lands, state this business has been very large the past year. Financial condition of these companies has been improved by these transactions as well as the land ownership of the territory.

Only a small proportion of these transfers have brought new farmers into this section. The majority of sales have been to farmers who either were tenants on the land itself or from another farm and who sought to become land owners.

Make Down Payments

Many farmers, who profited by the plowup campaign last year, were able to make a substantial down payment on a place of their own. Others, unable to get a satisfactory tenant agreement with their landlord, took advantage of an opportunity to buy an improved place with a small down payment. Those who owned their own horses or tractors and farm machinery and who had some livestock, thus had an advantage in buying a place.

Business men and landowners, desiring to make an investment, bought these places at low prices, but the greater proportions is believed to represent dirt farmers who took a forward step in financial independence.

Some of the larger land companies indicate the turnover of their cultivated land was not much greater than last. These concerns always have a turnover as some purchasers are unable to complete their transactions and have to turn the property back to the real estate firm.

No Accurate Figures

Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Bailey, Cochran, Lynn and Dawson counties probably lead in these types of transactions. It is almost impossible to get accurate figures on the acreage involved in these counties.

Bailey county, for example, has shown land transfers recorded during the past six to ten months of from 3,000 to 5,000 acres per month. Other counties had proportionate transfers. These counties had probably from 100 to 200 or more land transfers during the past nine months, involving from 15,000 to 30,000 acres or more.

In Hale, Garza, Crosby, Floyd, Terry and Gaines the number has not been as large. These counties have not had the land activity, for one reason or another.

Estimates Are Made

Conservative estimates would place the number of farm transactions of this type at from 1,500 to 1,800, with other estimates of 2,000 and more. Certain real estate men have indicated their opinion is that twice as many land transactions involving cultivated land as raw land have been made during the past year. Total acreage involved is placed at from a quarter of a million acres to a third of a million acres.

One result of the transfer of these land titles or equity has been a series of improvements on properties. Fences have been rebuilt, barns and sheds repaired or rebuilt and houses repaired and additions made.

Likewise, household goods have been purchased, domestic improvements added such as running water, hot and cold water, large and better arranged kitchen, refrigeration, home lighting systems or connections with high lines, and more bed rooms added or living quarters enlarged.

The influx of new property owners also has been reflected in the purchase of new farm machinery, new automobiles and livestock.

Coupled with the purchase of raw land for development and the building program in the towns and on the farms, business conditions in general as well as agricultural conditions over the South Plains are many times better than a year ago.

Watch Reported Pawned

Watch of a Lubbock man was reported to have been pawned at Brownfield. Officers believe the men may have stolen the watch.

Conflicting statements were made by the men questioned separately yesterday. One admitted he had been to Littlefield Friday and that his companion had accompanied him. The other denied going to Littlefield.

Wendt was hijacked while returning to Lubbock from Littlefield. He lost $68 when his car was forced off highway 7, he reported.

No Cards Issued

The Associated Press does not issue cards or credentials to its employes.

A telegram found in one suspect's effects and telephonic verification revealed that he had been indicted in Tarrant county for automobile theft and his bond set at $750. The telegram also said he was wanted in Dallas county for a felony swindle.

A newspaper clipping that he had said a man and a woman were to be charged and a second man was sought in the abduction and robbery of J. H. Slade, 27, son of a late Amarillo cattleman, in Fort Worth. Less than $50 had been taken from Slade.

Charged At Longview

Another clipping reported that the suspect, described as the "scion of a prominent north central Texas family," had been charged at Longview, in Gregg county, with swindling and false use of credential cards. He was accused as using the cards in posing as an Associated Press staff member.

In the swindle scheme, the news story said, the young man had bought cheap watches in Dallas. With the aid of a purported Associated Press card he pawned the watches, which resembled a standard make, for an appreciably larger amount than he had paid for them.

Several years before, he had been charged at Gainesville with forging his father's name on a check, the Longview news story said.

shaken, as well as cut and bruised.

Turnbow said he pulled desperately at the wheel in a futile effort to swing the heavy bus back into the highway but it headed straight for the drop. On the lip, it hovered momentarily and then plunged violently to the ground. It flipped over on its top as it hit.

Golden, Swindell and Mrs. Peacock were unconscious when pulled from the bus. They were rushed to a hospital in that condition. Swindell and Mrs. Peabody son regained consciousness but Golden did not.

The bus driver had no list of his passengers' names and for a considerable time after the accident it was impossible to ascertain the identity of the victims.

The bus left Big Spring at 7 a. m. today and was headed for the Fort Worth terminal.

Congress

tariff bill will spend most of next week working on bills that have passed the senate, including loans to industry, extension of bank deposit insurance and possibly the communications commission bill.

Bill To Be Ready

By the end of next week the deficiency appropriation bill, which always marks the approach of adjournment, will be ready for house consideration. It is more significant than usual this year, providing the $1,322,000,000 recommended by President Roosevelt for carrying on the recovery program.

Before resuming debate on the tariff, the Senate Monday will try to reach a vote on the Norris resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to do away with the electorial college.

Norris predicted today it would be approved by the senate and sent over to the house for final submission to the states.

duty the army was in control of the whole nation, from the premiership down to the mayors of villages.

Soldiers went also to the royal palace and soon King Boris was signing decree after decree setting up the new form of government. Some thirty documents had received his approval by noon.

One report was that the first information the king had of the movement was when soldiers surrounded his residence.

Even if that was the case, the monarch did not hesitate long about giving his approval.

Authority Regime

The manifesto describes the new government as an "authority" regime, "independent of political passions." There will not even be municipal elections, which have been a source of embarrassment to the government recently, because of the huge communist vote piled up in them.

Complete failure of the system of party government, the manifesto declared, sowed the seeds of trouble, demoralized the people, and hampered the normal functioning of the state.

The program of the dictatorship as outlined in the manifesto involves the following points:

Program Outlined

1. Organization of a disciplined state with fusion of some ministries and a reduction in the number of political divisions in the public service.

2. Creation of a stable local administration, with the mayors named by the central government.

3. Re-establishment of the credit and authority of the state by balancing the budget and creating new sources of revenue.

4. Provisions to make credit more accessible, especially to farmers and artisans.

5. Raising of the cultural level in villages.

6. Regulation of industrial production with respect to the real needs of the country, and the lowering of prices of industrial goods.

7. Reduction of unemployment through measures to provide work by strict application of social legislation.

8. Creation of new markets.

9. A fundamental reorganization of the educational system.

10. Reforms expediting justice.

11. Maintenance of peace and good relations with all powers, particularly neighboring countries, and establishment of relations with Soviet Russia.

Besides his wife, a woman identified as his sister was at the home when Head committed self-desrtuction. Two of his children, a son and a daughter, arrived soon afterward.

Injured In Crash

Three sons, Lester of Weatherford, Grayford and Orvil Head of Lubbock, and the daughter, Miss Mildred Head of Lubbock, survived Head. He had lived in this vicinity four years.

Head was injured in an head-on automobile collision Oct. 18 after he swerved to avoid hitting a wagon. Mrs. Head said his physical as well as mental health had been affected and he had been depressed by his inability to do needed work on the farm and by suggestions by his family that he undergo mental treatment, officers reported.

IN SOME WAYS THIS BANK IS LIKE A COUNTRY STORE

THE old-time country storekeeper was a good judge of human nature. He had to be. He got many requests for goods on credit and he needed to know—and usually did know—when to say "yes" and when not to.

Modern banking, despite advanced bookkeeping and adding machines, is a human business, too. To protect his depositors, a good banker relies on not one but several sets of dependable factors when considering a loan.

But, if he is wise, he looks beyond what mere statistics tell him. He learns to size up his man. He makes it a point to know as much as he can about his applicant's ability, energy, itnegrity and sense of responsibility. For figures may occasionally mask the truth. You can't juggle human nature.

Here at the First National Bank we never depend entirely upon machine-made statistics where our depositors' money is concerned. We always make our decisions in the light of what we know of a man's character.

'Elijah' To Be Offered Again

Oratorio To Be Interpreted By Main Chorus Of Sixty-Four Voices At Methodist Church Here Tonight

Mendelssohn's "Elijah" is to be presented this evening at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist church under the direction of Miss Myrtle Dunn.

The oratorio is to be interpreted by a main chorus of 64 voices and an antiphonal chorus of 30, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Mamie I. Neal and at the piano by Charles Fike. Gordon Gaines has the leading role.

The girls' choral club of the Lubbock High school, glee clubs of Texas Technological college and leading musicians of the city have rehearsed for more than eight months for the performance, Miss Dunn said.

"Elijah" was presented here last Sunday afternoon by the same group at the church.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, May 19. (AP)—Demand on the Fort Worth grain market today was fair for all offerings except milo and kaffir.

Prices quoted:

Wheat No. 1 hard 91@94. Barley No. 2 nominally 56@57; No. 3 nominally 55@56. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. nominally 1.06@1.08; No. 3 milo nominally 1.04@1.06; No. 2 kaffir 96@97; No. 3 kaffir 94@95.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 white 72@73; No. 2 yellow 68 1-2@69 1-2. Oats No. 2 red 41@42; No. 3 red 40@41.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Buoyancy developed in wheat values today, largely as a result of an official forecast indicating no likelihood of a break-up of drought next week.

Drought damage to wheat, especially in the spring crop region northwest, was reported as showing rapid enlargement owing to combined effects of high temperatures and winds. These factors were asserted to be furnishing the worst possible conditions over enormous areas already lacking both surface and subsoil moisture of any adequate extent.

Wheat soared 2 1-4 cents a bushel, despite brisk profit-taking, with the close unsettled, 1 5-8 to 1 3-4 higher than yesterday's finish, corn 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 up, oats 5-8 to 1 cent advanced, and provisions exactly unchanged.

There are approximately 194.- acres of unappropriated public lands in the United States, exclusive of the Territory of Alaska.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 19.—Trading slowed almost to a standstill in a narrow, mixed stock market today.

Only 249,300 shares changed hands on the stock exchange, the smallest turnover for a two-hour Saturday session since July 19, 1932, when the volume totaled 235,080. Aside from that it was the dullest week-end session in about eight years.

With final action on the federal stock exchange control bill and President Roosevelt's silver message immediately ahead, traders stayed out of the market or away from Wall street entirely.

The usual trading favorites were neglected. Transactions in American Telephone, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Chrysler and other ordinarily active issues were restricted to a few thousand shares which made little impression upon prices.

The average of 90 stocks sagged two-tenths of a point to 78.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (AP)—Following an early decline cotton rallied later today in sympathy with an advance in wheat and stocks and final prices were 6 to 8 points above the previous close. The closing tone was steady. Trading on the whole was comparatively quiet even for a short Saturday session.

First trades were 2 to 3 points down and prices continued to ease during the first hour on week-end liquidation and more favorable weather in the belt.

In the final hour the market rallied owing to optimism over passage of a silver bill and to firmness in wheat and stocks. New highs were reached in final trading at 11.48 for July 11.66 for October and 11.78 for December or 11 to 13 points up from the earlier lows. The close was firm and virtually at the top, July showing a net gain for the day of 6 points, October a net gain of 7 points and December a net gain of 8 points.

Port receipts 6,214, for season 7,292,804, last season 8,260,234. Exports 8,420 for season 6,625,055, last season 6,672,921. Port stock 2,897,558, last year 4,010,205. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 81,672, last year 100,645. Spot sales at southern markets 3,160, last year 8,530.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Cotton rallied today after an early decline. July contracts sold up from 11.39@11.49, and closed at that figure, with the general market finishing steady at net advances of 2 to 4 points.

There was some selling of March from commission house sources which observers thought might be for mill account and active months sold about 4 to 6 points net lower during the early trading with December declining to 11.68.

The market then steadied and there were rallies of about 10 to 11 points from the lowest in the late trading on covering and buying by trade interests which found comparatively few contracts for sale. Closing quotations were at or within a point of the best for the day.

The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 88,000 bales against 104,000 last year.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—Although supplies of medium weight and heavy beeves were limited at mid-western markets this week, prices suffered a setback of 35 or more at most river markets. Chicago, however, recovered part of the sharp break of the previous week on this class. Lightweight steers and yearlings at all centers sold readily all with final prices strong to 50 higher was compared with last week's close. Heifers and mixed yearlings ruled 25-50 higher, good clearances being made all week on a fairly liberal supply. Cows sold unevenly steady to 50 higher at the various markets. Stockers and feeders went at weak to 25 lower rates although receipts of fed cattle were comparatively light. Fleshy feeders being in narrow demand show the most decline. Best weighty beeves offered scored 9.35 and choice yearlings made 8.35 at Chicago. Choice 1068-lb. steers reached 8.40 and strictly choice 942 lb. yearlings 8.25 at St. Louis. Choice heavy heifers sold up to 7.25 and light heifers 7.10 at Chicago, but Texas yearling stockers scaling 567 lbs. realized 5.65 at Kansas City. Approximate receipts this week of 180,000 compare with 157,556 actual arrivals the same period a year ago.

Fat lamp prices ruled steady to 25 higher at most markets as compared with last week's close. An advance of 50 in instances was noted on springers. Sharply reduced prices were paid for aged sheep, declines of 50@1.00 or more reported at most centers.

Hog prices are mostly steady to 15 under last week's close with weights over 210 lbs. off most. Desirable 180-350-lb. averages moved in a range of 2.75@3.75, largely with the extreme top at Chicago 3.80.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, May 19. (AP)—Hogs 750; hogs steady, top 3.55, mixed grade unchanged with weights over 210 lbs. down to 3.00, packing sows up to 2.75 or steady.

Cattle 250; calves 100; nominal. For week: slaughter steers 25-40 lower; slaughter yearlings 25 or more higher, other classes cattle generally unchanged; bulk prices, plain and common grass slaughter steers 3.25@4.25; better grades fed yearlings 5.50@6.25; butcher cows 2.25@2.75; sausage bulls 1.75@2.25; slaughter calves 4.00 down.

County Tax Collector Issues Formal Statement On His Candidacy For Combined Office For County

Hurley Carpenter, Lubbock county tax collector, Saturday issued his formal statement on his candidacy for election to the combined office of assessor and collector of taxes of Lubbock county. Carpenter is serving his first term as tax collector.

Carpenter claims to be a "working tax collector" and was elected to the post he now holds on a strict economy ticket. And to prove that he has carried out his pledge to the people, Carpenter displayed an annual fee report of his office Saturday which revealed a saving of more than $1,800 during 1933 on office expenses, over the preceding year. This saving resulted from Carpenter's active work in the office.

Has Experience

Carpenter has had six years as a deputy collector and had had active charge of the office for eighteen months prior to his election.

"During the time I have spent in the office, I have made a thorough study of tax matters which include many changes in the tax laws as well as automobile registration laws and feel that with the experience I have had in tax assessing due to the fact that the law automatically requires a tax collector to assess and collect taxes on property (both personal and real) that has not been charged on the tax rolls, that I am thoroughly qualified to handle the combined office," Carpenter said.

Feels Well Qualified

Carpenter declared that through direct handling he has a thorough knowledge of automobile registration work which has always been handled by the tax collector's office and said he believed the taxpaying public could best be served in the office by someone who has had actual experience in all phases and departments which will come under the head of the office to be known as assessor and collector of taxes, "since experience is the best teacher after all."

"I promise, if elected," he said, "to give the office my continued personal attention and a continuation of honest, economical, courteous and efficient service to all alike. If elected, I will ever be mindful of the trust committed to my care, always doing the very best I can and being continually aware of the important duties of the office."

Carpenter said he wished it were possible for all taxpayers to pay a visit to his office and inspect the condition of the records and the system of automobile registration and bookkeeping he has installed.

"I also wish it were possible for me to see each and every voter between now and the first primary, but I want the voters to know," he continued, "that if I fail to contact them and the kind of service I have rendered in the past meets with their approval, I most earnestly solicit their support."

Hurley Urges Investigation

Removal Of A. V. Dalrymple As Assistant To Attorney General Is Demanded By Former Cabinet Member

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—An investigation to determine whether the department of justice was "attempting to destroy the reputation of all the members of the former administration" was demanded today by Patrick J. Hurley, the Hoover secretary of war.

In a heated session of the senate civil service committee, Hurley said it should be ascertained whether one of the department's officials—A. V. Dalrymple—is "just an irresponsible falsifier in charge of the wooden pistol section."

Hurley reiterated denials of statements that he participated in a "conspiracy" to keep Republicans in the prohibition service and demanded removal of Dalrymple, former prohibition director and now a special assistant to the attorney general.

Hurley said if the justice department had in it the "square dealers" he thought it had it would immediately remove Dalrymple for making a "false, malicious, cowardly charge" and using the department to "sustain him in his slanderous attack."

Dalrymple jumped up and denied he personally had made the statement and said he had been told by others that a meeting in Hurley's Virginia home was held to form the "conspiracy" and thought the committee should investigate it.

Chairman Bulow (D-SD) said the committee would meet next week to decide whether it would proceed with the inquiry.

MacDonald To Speak In City

Wichita Falls Lawyer Coming For Address Tuesday Night; Wears Ferguson Toga In '34 Governor's Marathon

Opening the 1934 gubernatorial derby in Lubbock, Charles C. MacDonald, Wichita Falls attorney, will speak here Tuesday night, May 22, in the county courthouse it was announced here yesterday.

MacDonald, who bears the Ferguson blessing as well as promised active support from 'Farmer Jim', will hold his rally in the district courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse. He will begin his address at 8 p. m.

Committee In Charge

The Wichita Falls man will in all probabilities be introduced here by Dan Powers, high school teacher and long a wheel horse of Ferguson politics. Other followers of the present administration will be on the platform and arrangements for the speaking are in the hands of a committee composed of J. E. Vickers, D. W. Puckett, Hill Stewart, W. W. Campbell, all Lubbock lawyers, Chas. A. Holcomb and J. W. Thompson, Mr. Powers said.

MacDonald, who with Maury Hughes, of Dallas, composes the 'wringing wet' section of the governor's marathoners, long has been identified with Texas politics, although he has not held a state-wide elective office nor has he sought one. He was secretary of state under Governor Oscar Colquit's appointment.

Ed Hambright Has Statement

Candidate For District Clerk Pledges To Give Courteous And Efficient Service, If Elected To Office

Ed Hambright, candidate for district clerk of the 72nd and 99th district, Lubbock county, Saturday issued a formal statement on his candidacy in which he pledged if elected to give an efficient and economic administration of the office's affairs.

"The district clerk's office is solely for the use of the people and should be regarded only as such," Hambright said. "I will endeavor to administer the affairs of the office in a courteous and efficient manner, if elected to the post.

Touches On Records

"I believe the records of the office should be constantly up to date and available for use of the public at all times, as this is one function of the clerkship. It will be my intention of keeping expense of the office as low as possible, believing that economy is also paramount in conducting the affairs of taxpayers."

Hambright is a young man, 27 years of age with college education in business administration. He taught school for three years in Jones county before coming to Lubbock five years ago. At present he is engaged in the insurance business. This race is his first for a public office.

Hambright announced his candidacy earlier this year and has been carrying his campaign individually to voters. He declared Saturday, he hoped to meet every voter if possible before the first primary, July 28, and personally solicit his vote.

Because of the peculiar construction of their mouths, sharks turn on their backs when attacking.

Legion Candidate

J. (Jack) Thomman (above) postmaster at Levelland and for 12 years active in American Legion work, is one of the candidates for district committeeman of the American Legion from the new 19th district.

For the past seven years Mr. Thomman has been service officer for William Ex Evans post, 417, at Levelland. He was home service secretary, A. R. C. for Hockley county and also Veteran Placement officer for the county in CWA work.

"I have not been solicited by any one or by a group of members of the American Legion to be a candidate," he said Saturday. "I am making the race with the idea in mind for the good that I can do to help perpetrate the fellowship and good will toward one another.

"I have missed only two district or state conventions in the past ten years."

Japan has spent over $90,000,000 in purchasing rice as a relief measure, and probably $30,000,000 will be required.

GIFTS THAT LAST

Introducing the Greater Hemphill-Wells Co.

Tuesday night a greatly enlarged and a vastly more conveniently arranged Hemphill Wells Company will make its initial bow to the people of Lubbock and the South Plains—At last the carpenters are out of the way. Arrangements of fixtures has been completed—The various departments are in their new locations. There remains only to add the final touches here and there and everything will be completed. All this will be accomplished before the opening hour.

The Development Of This Great South Plains Section Has Made This Greater Hemphill-Wells Co. Possible

As many of you remember, this store first opened its doors late in October 1922, when Lubbock boasted a population of slightly more than four thousand, and the entire South Plains Section was just beginning to bud into the great empire it is today. Our development during this twelve years has been but the development of the section for such a plant as the one we will dedicate Tuesday night, would have never been possible otherwise. It is these thoughts that make us very meek on this occasion for honesty requires us to face the fact that the things we ourselves have done during this time in carrying on the operation of this business have had only a very small part in making the Greater Hemphill Wells Co. possible. That we firmly believe in the future goes without saying for otherwise we would never have made the material investments that this new plant entails.

Even Though The New Hemphill-Wells Co. Will Be A Greatly Enlarged Hemphill-Wells Co. We Expect To Keep It The Same Old Hemphill-Wells Co. As Regards Policies, Service, Attitude And Appreciation

When you inspect this new plant Tuesday night do not expect to find an overly elaborately arranged store—an ultra modern exclusive air—We have not attempted this and will not attempt it. We believe you will find the appointments convenient, serviceable and livable—Beyond that we have not attempted to go—More than this, we pledge you here and now that that undefinable something—that "air"—that "attitude"—tha "something" that bespeaks comradeship and confidence will be just as much a part of the new store as it was of the old.

The "Early Birds" From W. F. A. A. With Carl Lambert As Master Of Ceremonies Will Be Here In Person To Assist With Our Opening

We are bringing a very popular Radio Attraction to Lubbock for our Opening Tuesday night—"The Early Birds" have no doubt entertained you over the air many times from WFAA. Tuesday night they will be here in person and you will have an opportunity to see them and hear their program first hand. No goods will be sold Tuesday night but we will hold open house for our friends and visitors from 7 p. m. until 10 p .m. We especially want YOU to be our Guest—

Formal Opening Tuesday Night From 7:00 p. m. Untill 10:00 p. m.---Wednesday Morning We Begin A Great Introductory Merchandising Event

A President's Wife Speaks Out

Mrs. Roosevelt's Column

What Is Success?, Eleanor Roosevelt Asks And Gives Views

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

I HAVE been analyzing the various impulses which make men and women work, and undoubtedly the greatest incentive is the necessity to earn a living. There are many, however, who, while they recognize this force, are content to gain a modest livelihood if they may work at something in which they are really interested. This explains why many college professors remain with our universities at modest salaries when they might be earning far more in business or even in the commercial application of the work they are doing. I have known them to leave their five or six thousand dollar a year jobs and go to work temporarily for twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars a year and then, in a few years and of their own volition, return to their chosen profession.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

It seems to me this attitude of mind is a growing one in our country. We must make a living, we must have security and we want certain simple pleasures but, as a whole, we are becoming more and more contended with simplicity and less and less interested in pretentiousness. We want comfort, but we care less about luxury. We are willing to work, and in return we want the security of a decent living with the chance for occasional adventure into wider fields which afford opportunities for pure pleasure.

One thing which has been most discouraging in the era just past is the fact that many people have accepted without question an estimate of human nature which I think is not only wrong, but harmful to a man or woman who may believe in it. It may be true that some people work only because they have to; it may be true that some people have only one objective in their work; namely, the acquiring of as much profit for themselves as is possible, but those who believe this of everyone must have a bad time in their contacts with other human beings. They must be looking constantly for selfishness and ruthlessness, and therefore they must lose the pleasure of working with others in attempt to benefit everyone concerned.

In the past there have been great benefits conferred on the people of the United States by some individuals who have acquired vast wealth. The Carnegie libraries, the Rockefeller Foundation and many other institutions stand as enduring monuments to the generosity of men who have amassed great fortunes, but many of us believe it would be better if these objectives were reached because a great many people saw the necessity for them and, out of their more modest fortunes, were willing to give something toward such developments.

It may be that the period which we have come through was necessary in order to awaken the great mass of the people to the necessity for certain things. We may hope that in the future there will be no less liberality for the benefit of the people as a whole, that such generosity will be shared by large groups of people who will realize that no individual can do it all, and that there is much that can be done by combining for the good of science and art in general.

I believe that many people are acquiring the idea that there is great satisfaction in doing work well and that there are spiritual as well as material returns which may be counted as success in one's life job.

This new conception of the reasons for which we work and the results we desire to accomplish are being understood and held by constantly growing numbers of people. In view of what I have seen in the past, I grant you it requires faith in the possibilities of human nature, not only to change, but to become intelligent enough to realize that it, too, must change. Self preservation is a powerful force, and if we can rise only through sharing with others, then we undoubtedly will share with them. The sooner we study ourselves as individuals and recognize our governing motives, both of work and of play, the sooner our governmental and economic questions will unravel themselves. For, in the final analysis, the individual is the unit from whom all future development must spring.

Flapper Fanny

Many a man falls over a stare.

From The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche-Journal Woman's Editor

THE other day at a Shallowater Home Demonstration club meeting W. D. Crump, pioneer resident of that town, talked on "Pioneer Days." The women thought that the talk was so interesting they sent it to us and we are passing it along to you.

IS LONG-TIME RESIDENT

MR. CRUMP, who will be 90 years old in August, has lived on the Plains for the last 43 years. He formerly lived in Kentucky. He tells the following history:

"In March of 1890 I came to the Plains on a prospecting trip. As soon as I got up on the Caprock I knew that this was the country I had been looking for ever since I came to Texas.

"On my return I met H. M. Bandy and Judge D. F. Goss who had just located the town of Dimmitt. I suggested that we begin a town in Lubbock county and they agreed. We met in Estacado about the middle of May. The next day we interviewed R. C. Burns and F. E. Wheelock, who were managers of the IOA ranch. They fell in with our plan, and we selected a section of land about three miles northwest of the present site of Lubbock and began building.

"A short time after this, I met a Mr. Raynor in Amarillo. He was surprised to hear what we were doing and said he had thought about it himself. I invited him to join us, but he preferred to start a rival town near ours.

HOTEL STILL STANDS

"AFTER each had built a number of houses an agreement was made to consolidate on the present site. All building materials and supplies had to be brought by wagons from Amarillo or Colorado City. We had built a hotel and it had to be torn down and moved across the canyon. It was re-built into the Nicholet hotel, which still stands in Lubbock.

"A campaign was started to get settlers. It took 150 voters to organize a county and this was done with Colonel Shannon as the first county judge. Shannon park in Lubbock is named for him.

"A jail was among the first buildings to be put up, but it was not needed in this capacity, so it was used for a school and for church services. Since there were so few people, everyone took part in everything that happened.

"I raised a crop of sorghum that first year. It was planted but not cultivated. I had no fence and the cattle were in the habit of coming by on their way to water. I had a dog that scared them off so they began a new trail.

"After the railroad came, the town grew like other towns in the west."

WE CELEBRATE FOR LINDY

SEVEN years ago tomorrow a master craftsman of the air, Charles A. Lindbergh, set his trim airplane, "Spirit of Saint Louis", down at Le Bourget field out from Paris, establishing a precedent for flying the Atlantic ocean that has not been surpassed or even reached.

It seemed strange today to get out the files for that day and read about this young man, who was destined to become the hero of all countries. Early stories spoke of his extreme modesty. His first words on arriving were "Well here we are." Interviews spoke of his being a man's man and of his great reluctance to attend the many festive occasions given in his honor. "The Flying Fool" is a description of him that one writer gives. This was not a fit expression, because he was soon spoken of as "a man who flies in a course as straight as that of a bird." He is the only aviator who left a place for a destined location and reached it without changing his course.

Constance Bennett Insists On Marshall As Male Lead To Confirm Gossip

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.— Movieland can rest easy now, having received pretty good proof of the authenticity of its latest gossip.

For the last few weeks tongues have been wagging rather vigorously about the reported romance between Gloria Swanson and Herbert Marshall. It even is said that Gloria went to Mrs. Marshall and asked permission to take ... hubby from ...

SWANSON

However, no evidence could be found to substantiate the rumors—except the separation of Gloria and Michael Farmer. Then Connie Bennett started insisting to studio officials that Marshall and nobody else play the male lead opposite her in "The Green Hat."

That cinched things as far as Hollywood was concerned. Remembering the rivalry between Gloria and Connie particularly where the marquis was concerned the only interpretation Hollywood could put on Miss Bennett's insistence was that there must be a romance between Gloria and Herby.

Too Plentiful To See

THE most ridiculous statement a producer can make is to say that there is a shortage of beautiful girls in Hollywood. Yet you have heard of that statement being made before and you are about to hear of Samuel Goldwyn making it again.

EDDIE CANTOR

Goldwyn contends that he is having difficulty finding 50 pretty girls for Eddie Cantor's new film. As a matter of fact beautiful girls are so plentiful ... can comb them out of your hair or buy them for a dime a dozen.

The trouble with the producers is that they want girls who never have appeared before the cameras. They seem to forget that the girls don't stay in front of that camera long enough to be recognized.

Death's Holiday

THIS is one that you can believe or not, but it is vouched for by a reported in Mobile, Ala. According to the reporter, there wasn't a single death in Mobile during the three days that "Death Takes a Holiday" played there. And that's supposed to be an unprecedented record for that city.

Girls Like 'Em Rough

JUDGING from the interest being shown in our local prize fights by the beautiful and charming members of the film colony, Hollywood soon will be sporting a group of very pugilistic leading men.

LUPE VELEZ

Even here, where beautiful girls are more plentiful than anywhere else on earth, the males still are governed to a large extent by feminine desires. So if the girls want 'em rough, they'll be rough.

And if you think the girls don't like to see a wicked left, just watch them at the fights some night. Mae West, Lupe Velez, Connie Bennett, Sylvia Sidney, Madge Evans, Barbara Stanwyck, and even demure Ruby Keeler are regular ringside seaters at the fistic contests.

Dr. Battle Is To Give Up Office He Occupied 43 Years

AUSTIN, May 19 (Special)—When the antiquated main building at the University of Texas is razed to make way for the new $1,633,000 administration-library building, it will necessitate the removal to new quarters of the office of Dr. W. J. Battle, professor of classical languages. For 43 years, Dr. Battle has occupied the tower room of the building, four flights up, and has given it the spirit of ancient Rome and Greece. In the hallway stand Winged Victory, Laocoon and his two sons, and other examples of classic statuary. Within the office is Dr. Battle's vast collection of classical tomes, numbering some 11,000.

It was with this in mind that Dr. Battle composed a verse in Latin which he inscribed on the Christmas card he sent his colleagues last Christmas: "The great tower which has been for 40 years a beloved home of Greek studies and the room that is called the bats' roost are doomed to death, but they pray for the health of the university; may the university live and grow and flourish."

Dr. George W. Truett Is To Preach Univ. Of Texas Sermon

AUSTIN, May 19.—(Special)—The baccalaureate sermon at the commencement exercises of the University of Texas June 4 will be delivered by Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, distinguished Baptist clergyman, according to E. C. H. Bantel, member of the faculty of the university, who is in charge of the program for the event.

Dr. Truett has had a long and notable career in the ministry. He is a native of North Carolina. He began his public service as a teacher and was principal of the Hiawassie high school at Hiawassie, Ga., 1887-89. During 1890-92 he was financial secretary of Baylor University. He was honored by being elected to the presidency of that institution but declined. In 1890 he was ordained to the Baptist ministry and during 1893-97 he filled a pastorate in Waco.

He became pastor of the First Baptist church at Dallas in 1897, and for the 37 years he has filled that charge and occupied the pulpits in a multitude of cities and towns throughout the country by special invitation. His sermons and publications have attracted wide and highly favorable attention.

Retail Sales Are Favorable

Eighty-Eight Establishments Representing All Parts Of State Report 13 Per Cent Increase For April

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AUSTIN, May 19.—Retail sales in Texas during April continued the favorable showing compared with 1933 which has prevailed during the previous months of the current year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"Dollar sales in 88 retail establishments representing all sections of the state were 13 per cent higher than in April, 1933, despite the fact that a year ago Easter, with its customary stimulus to the retail trade, came in April while this year it fell in March," the bureau's report said. "Largely because of this fact sales in April were 12 per cent below those in March. The fact that April contains one day less than March also tended to reduce aggregate sales for April proportionally. During the first four months of the year sales were 31 per cent above those of the corresponding period last year.

Purchasing Power Improves

"Cities showing better than average gain over sales in April last year were: Abilene, Corsicana, Dallas, Temple, Tyler, Waco and the group of smaller towns listed under "all others." Those showing better than average gains for the year to date were: Abilene, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Port Arthur, Temple, Tyler, Waco and the "all others" group. The favorable showing of the "all others" group reflects the growing improvement of rural purchasing power.

"Men's clothing stores made the best showing with an increase of 36.5 per cent over April, 1933, and 5.7 per cent over March of the current year together with 40.5 per cent for the year to date against the corresponding period last year. Women's specialty shops were next in order, followed consecutively by department stores with annual volumes of $500,000 or more a year, those with less than that amount of business, and lastly by dry goods and apparel stores.

"Collections continued far better than a year ago. During April 34.5 per cent of outstanding accounts were collected, compared with 30.4 per cent during the corresponding month last year.

"From now on and including April, favorable comparisons with a year ago will have greater significance as indicating improvement in business conditions than have comparisons with the first three months of the year. About this time last year a wave of optimism was sweeping the country which reached its peak during July and August, and after that only gradually tapered off. This situation was soon reflected in expansion of retail sales and therefore future month to month comparisons with last year will be based on rapidly growing sales as against the declining sales during the first three months of 1933."

Business Letdown For Nation Seen

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—Signs of business recession were noted today in the weekly trade review of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc.

"Drouths, unseasonable weather, undetermined outcome of pending legislation and curtailed operations in many industries have left in their wake instability of prices and a less insistent demand for merchandise, accompanied by the gathering of labor clouds over some of the chief centers of production," the review reported.

"Complications now arising doubtless are the first direct result of transitional work necessary while the recovery movement is being extricated gradually from governmental guidance to private initiative.

"There has been no weakening of confidence in the immediate future and resumption of the uptrend, with more vigor than that which characterized it even during the first quarter of the year, doubtless will be achieved as soon as distribution receives the benefit of more normal temperatures and producers of goods will have been given a clearer appraisal of the administration's policies.

"Trade is at its lowest ebb in the corn belt and the northwest, where precipitation during the past four months has been the lightest in nearly a quarter of a century. Majority or reports stress the certainty that the summer letdown will be less marked than was anticipated a few weeks ago and will be followed by a general expansion in the fall."

Wichita Falls Is Praised For Treatment Of Nurses

GALVESTON, May 19 (AP)—It was announced at the Texas convention of Texas graduate nurses here Friday that Wichita Falls is the only city in Texas where the 8-hour-day for nurses is 100 per cent effective. Strong sentiment in favor of the 8-hour-plan was manifest.

Miss Mary O'Donoghue of Beaumont declared that "nerve-wracking" hours lowered the efficiency of nurses.

Miss Gladys Luckey of El Paso was re-elected chairman; Miss Minnie Ferguson, Cuero, was elected vice-chairman; and Miss Zule M. Tauzin, Galveston, secretary.

Compisory training for nurses in mental cases was advocted by Miss Anna Reikert of the state psychopathic hospital.

Texas Railroads Reveal Increase

AUSTIN, May 19 (AP)—Reduced fares brought more revenue passengers and consequently more income to Texas railroads in March this year than the same month last year, a report issued by the Texas railroad commission showed.

In March this year 262,947 passengers were transported at an average fare of $2.41, yielding an income of $634,396 compared to 138,626 passengers transported in the same month last year at an average of $3.53, which produced $488,699 revenue. The increase was 29.8 per cent.

Total passenger train income in March, which also included earnings from mail and express, was $1,-167,119, compared to $941,871 an increase of 23.9 per cent. Passenger train miles decreased, however, by 2.4 per cent, from 1,468,404 to 1,-433,095.

For the first quarter of the year, passenger train income increased 5.9 per cent, from $3,042,416 to $3,-223,553. Passengers carried increased during the three month period by 43.4 per cent compared to last year while average fares were dropping 27.7 per cent, from $3.43 to $2.48.

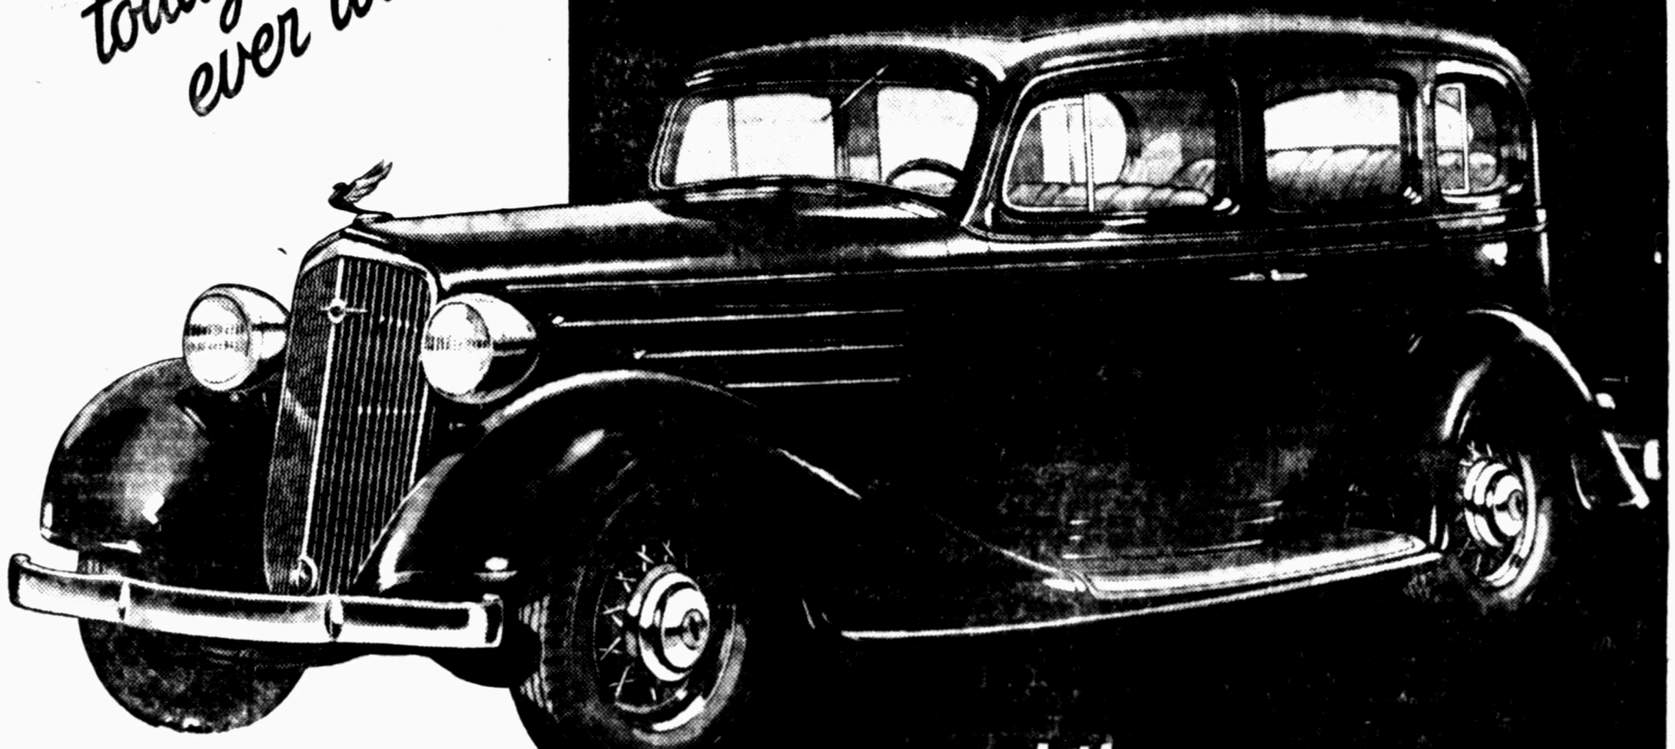

The interstate commerce commission recently continued authority for the fare reductions in southern and western states to September 30 and the Texas railroad commission followed with a similar order for intrastate rates.

Engineering facts prove it. Experience in building nearly ten million cars confirms it. And the record of over 3,000,000 Chevrolet Six owners removes any shadow of doubt about it: The only way to get real economy in a low-priced car is to insist on SIX cylinders and OVERHEAD valves.

SIX cylinders—no more!—because extra cylinders mean extra cost for gas, oil, upkeep and parts. OVERHEAD valves—nothing else!—for the same good reason that airplanes use them. And speedboats. Let It Be Done

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has suggested that the United States return to Canada the mace of the Canadian parliament captured by American troops on April 27, 1813, in what is known as the Battle of York, fought at what is now Toronto.

The suggestion is one that should appeal to the people on this side of the border and there is every reason to hope that it will be adopted. The long unbroken period of friendship that has existed between Canada and the United States makes the proposed action highly appropriate.

A fitting occasion will be presented on July 4 next when American Daughters of 1812 unveil in Toronto a tablet to the Americans killed in the Battle of York. It was the President's suggestion that the captured mace, now in the custody of the United States Naval academy, be returned in connection with this ceremony.

The return of the trophy would serve to cement further the friendship between Canada and the United States, neighbors that for more than century have lived side by side without a hostile gesture. It ought to be done.

THE HIT-AND-RUN MENACE

It is hardly necessary to say that every effort should be made to apprehend motorists who flee from the scene of and accident leaving a victim helpless in the road. Such a person offends all sense of decency and every dictate of civilization.

One appreciates that for a moment a motorist might be panic-stricken when he realizes he has struck down a fellow-being. But he who yields to fear and flees the scene convicts himself of cowardice. But he, who actuated only by cunning, leaves a human being in distress, is worse than a coward.

An appeal to manhood where there is no manhood is futile. So long as there is a possibility of escaping the consequences of carelessness there will be those who will attempt it.

The only effective check against the hit-and-run driver is increased efficiency of the police in ferretting out such offenders and a severity of the courts that will make an attempted escape a greater hazard than stopping after an accident to render assistance to the injured and face the consequences. For people who are actuated by fear make the consequences of abandoning a victim a cause for greater fear. Make it clear to the cunning that their greater advantage lies in admitting responsibility for the accident if the fault is theirs.

And the public can help abolish the hit-and-run driver by letting the motorist know that should be stop his machine he will not become the victim of mob violence.

STILL PLAIN "JACK"

Sure, everybody in Washington—or elsewhere—who knows him likes him. They liked him when he was just a Texas Congressman. They liked him when he became speaker of the House of Representatives. They continue to like him now that he has become Vice-President, and presides over the Senate. Everybody who has known him from the time of his earliest role in Washington says that Vice-President Garner is still plain Jack Garner and that he hasn't changed and is just as likeable as ever.

All of which fits in with a story that comes from New York to the effect that some publisher wanted him to write a piece telling how it seemed to be Vice-President, and he wrote the piece, obligingly. And then the publisher sent him a check for $2,500, which was cheap enough as voices of distinction run these days. And Vice-President Garner sent the check back. But not because it was not enough. The explanation, secured on inquiry, was characteristic.

"Nobody would pay John Garner a dollar a word for any article and nobody can pay the Vice-President of the United States a cent for it."

There is something ideal in that sore of respect for high public office.

ON GOING TO CHURCH

Years ago one man naively said, "I go to church, to concert, to lecture, to drama to increase my stock of knowledge or confirm that which I have accumulated." The idea of worship never entered a man's thinking about going to church. In response to a question, "Why is the modern man so loath to form church-going habits?" A Chicago minister received 45 answers and the idea of worship was referred to but once. Above all things the church should be a place where you experience God's presence and not just talk about Him.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

WHEN and if Congress gives President Roosevelt that additional emergency appropriation—without strings—a new federal works and relief program will be in prospect.

Close observers say it will combine the best features of Public Works as administered by Harold Ickes and Federal Emergency Relief and Civil Works as directed by Harry Hopkins.

Experience has taught the administration that Public Works as now constituted is too slow. Civil Works produced the desired action but in a rather hit-and-miss fashion. Officials are working out an efficiently planned program designed to get the greatest possible number of men to work immediately.

Although most of the original public works appropriation has been allotted it will be August before the peak of expenditure is reached. Slum clearance is in abeyance pending outcome of condemnation suits. The Housing corporation Ickes set up has proven pretty much of a flop. Federal projects, bound with the usual red tape, are moving slowly.

The best investment PWA has made from a standpoint of putting men in jobs was the $200,000,000 it loaned the railroads. Overnight the number of men at work on non-federal propects doubled.

Elsewhere it seems to be a matter of waiting for the final touches to be put on the blue prints.

SHUFFLE: Relief Administrator Hopkins took a sizeable wad of money and put 4,000,000 men to work this past winter. Critics pulled the gag about raking the same leaves until they were worn out but temporarily a lot of needy people got paid off every Saturday.

Somewhere between 10 and 20 per cent of the CWA money probably was completely wasted or misapplied. This was due to the inevitable entrance of local politics and graft into a federal spending campaign that was organized and put into operation on the spur of the moment.

The warm months will give Hopkins a breathing spell in his relief work but he isn't fooling himself. He anticipated another big load next winter.

Those close to the president say the new program will be a sort of planned Civil Works. The planning will be done this summer with all the trials and errors to date as a guide.

A desire to reorganize the existing set-up is what lies back of Mr. Roosevelt's request that congress give him an unearmarked appropriation. He wants to shuffle it around according to the plans now on the fire.

Whether congress will give him a lump sum is another question. This is election year and the boys on Capitol Hill are making a big noise about specifying where all money shall be spent—preferably in their home districts.

RECESS: White House spurs are being applied to congress to get an adjournment within three weeks.

If the president has his way the boys will be on their way home by June 10 at the latest. There has been some talk of May 25 and June 5 but the 10th looks like the best bet. The extra work Mr. Roosevelt has thrown at them in the way of an emergency relief appropriation and the new housing program will provide enough additional oratory to keep the congressional Record publishing until nearly mid-June. He also is asking congress to reverse itself on the tax bill item that slapped a processing tax on cocoanut oil from the Philippines, which will occasion still more debate

Finally there is that long-promised message on international debts. This will be withheld until the last minute and will be a mere factual report but it, too, is bound to stir up the animals.

The President has a personal reason for wanting congress out of town.

He wants to spend a couple of weeks at his Hyde Park home before embarking on his lengthy voyage to the West Indies and Hawaii. Departure date for this trip is set for June 23, from Boston harbor.

Most members of congress want to close up shop with all possible speed. They don't like Washington heat and they want to get back to their election campaigns. It's just a question of how well Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey can ride herd on the speech-makers.

GERMANY: Our state department learns of a significant change in the attitude of Hitler's public.

Private advices received here tell that in Hitler's recent grandstand play to Berlin's two million force was used to gather his audience. Last year's multitudes assembled of their own free will but this time they had to be forced to attend. Firms announced that those not taking part in the march of two million to hear Hitler would be docked a day's pay. Other firms declared that a fine would be imposed for non-attendance. The spectacle was impressive, but only the insiders knew how it was obtained.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

LOCAL authorities predict an administration left turn on labor relations much sooner than expected. Original plans to allow industry to browse in laissez faire pastures this summer and let labor wait its turn must be shelved.

Settlement of the automobile strike by White House intervention—privately hailed by industrialists as a sweeping victory—has boomeranged. Labor has discovered it was gold-bricked and demands what it thought it was getting—the unhampered right to organize on its own terms. Conservative labor leaders who were willing to ride along for the summer on the understanding of government action later if needed find their followers won't let them wait.

Motor—and other—managements have helped precipitate the showdown. Their vigorous drive to build company unions and interference with the growth of outside organizations have given labor the feeling that immediate action is imperative unless it wishes to jeopardize all its benefits under NRA. The informed remark that industry's feverish eagerness to consolidate its open shop gains is the reason those gains are already so seriously menaced.

LIVELY: The administration's left turn is expected to include the following:

(1) Revamping of the National Labor Board to give it stronger teeth and a more forceful personnel.

(2) Official support for a modified version of the Wagner bill which will cut the roots from under company unions.

(3) A new drive for the 36-hour week as an alternative to the Connery 30-hour bill.

A large section of industry will resist these moves to the limit. Many business leaders rank the open shop issue ahead of recovery. A number of corporations privately admit they will use lockout tactics ond every form of court obstruction their legal talent can devise rather than yield an inch.

On the other side you have the embattled unions with fresh Washington support and a determination as grim as their employers'. Best informed local sources agree it would be dangerous for the administration to ignore labor sentiment. It looks like a lively summer.

SAVING: Another source of labor bitterness is the introduction of new labor-saving devices in many industries to offset increased wage costs under NRA. Here's a sample. A certain company employed 500 girls at $7 a week in pre-code days. Came the Blue Eagle—doubling the minimum wage. So the concern installed new machines and now hires only 100 girls at the $14 rate.

The company claimed this was necessary as a matter of survival. But you can see how it helps reemployment.

Once you heard of people who had never seen a train; now you hear of children who have never seen a horse.

THE NEW BOOKS

Tenderness And Beauty Of Style Of "Lamb In His Bosom" Of Telling Story Of Simple Folk Is Reason For Caroline Miller's Award Of Pulitzer Prize; New Book Themes Varied

"LAMB IN HIS BOSOM," by Caroline Miller; (Harpers, New York.)

ANNOUNCEMENT of the Pulitzer prizes in literature sometimes leads one to wonder just how the prize committee got that way.

This year, however, it is a pleasure to report that the prize-winning novel—"Lamb in His Bosom," by Caroline Miller—is fully deserving of the honor. By any standard, it is a good book; and if you have missed it, so far, you might be interested in hearing about it now.

This story had to do with Georgia pioneers a generation before the Civil war. It's a simple tale; a farmer's daughter marries a young chap, goes with him to a log cabin on the edge of a lonely swamp, and lives out her life there, raising a family and helping her husband turn wilderness into fruitful farm land—and that's all there is to it.

"Told With Tenderness"

But it is told with a tenderness and a beauty of style that make it exceedingly impressive. The book, in fact, is a "Good Earth" pitched in Georgia instead of China; like Mrs. Buck's book, it tells how poor and simple folk live, what life does to them, and what they live for.

And because the author has insight and great understanding, it becomes a story of universal significance. Here are the toiling folk of the earth, who work hard and long, encounter great sorrows and little, homely joys, who love and hope and strive and never quite get what they want, but who are neither frightened nor disappointed by the hard terms life offers them.

To read this book is to see the pity and terror of human existence, and to touch that miraculous something which floats, unseen but ever-present, over the pitiful and valiant lives of the earth's forgotten men and women.

Writing Statesman

"STATESMANSHIP AND RELIGION," by Henry A. Wallace; (Round-table Press.)

WE have, it appears, a cabinet member who can think calmly and write down what he thinks. His name is Henry A. Wallace, and his book is called "Statesmanship and Religion" (Round Table Press). It is a strange title for a book by a cabinet member, but when one reads it, one finds that its author actually has something of value to say.

Mr. Wallace views religion not only as a personal experience, but as a means of evaluation. He considers briefly most of the problems of today, and conceives a solution founded upon an intelligent application of religious feeling and discipline. But his idea of religious discipline and religious values are not those of the dogmatist or the doctrinaire.

Affairs Of The World

"THIS BEWILDERED WORLD," by Frazier Hunt; (Frederick A. Stokes, N. Y.)

FRAZIER HUNT, veteran war correspondent and roving journalist, who has had about as good a look at this troubled world in the last quarter century as any man alive, does not believe that mankind is going back to perdition in a high-wheeled hack, after all.

In his new book, "This Bewildered World," Mr. Hunt tells how he has seen and heard something astir in the world beneath its cries of distress, its revolutions and depressions and threats of war; something big and irrepressible, of which titanic things will come.

Consequences Incalculable

This something is, very simply, the dawning in men's hearts of the determination that human rights are to be given a new birth in the world. It is a revival of the old thirst for freedom and the good life, and its consequences will be incalculable.

Mr. Hunt has seen this thing growing—behind the grim facades of lands like Russia and China, behind the warlike soldiers of Japan and Italy, welling up from the grass roots in America and India, in Turkey and Germany.

He has seen the fountains of the great deep breaking up, in fact, and while indinite dangers lie ahead he has a growing hunch that somehow mankind will struggle past them and enter into a new heritage.

And America? In the 'twenties, he says, America failed as few nations have ever failed; but now, once more, she is lifting a torch for human rights, and giving discouraged men a new draught of hope.

Lions

"LIONS, WILD AND FRIENDLY," by Eric F. V. Wells; (Viking, N. Y.)

"THE MEMOIRS OF VINCENT NOLTE," by Hervey Allen; (Harcourt, Brace, N. Y.)

THE lion is not the jungle gangster that big game hunters say he is. On the contrary, he's a friendly and playful soul, who will let you photograph him, scratch his chin, pat his back or do anything else you please—so long as you don't make him mad. Properly cared for, he makes a fine pet.

So says Eric F. V. Wells, an English resident of South Africa, in "Lions, Wild and Friendly," which is an unusual and entertaining book.

Lives With Lions

Mr. Wells lives in the lion country, and lions are his hobby. He gets to within 10 feet of them, over and over again, takes all the pictures he pleases, sometimes even touches them—and they never make a pass at him.

Furthermore, he has raised no fewer than 33 lions from cubs to maturity on his farm. At night he locks them up, but by day they have the run of the place. They're as friendly and as tame as so many dogs.

Liable To Get Spill

Because they're so big and strong you have to be a bit careful, he says; when a 500-pound lion jumps upon you, dog-like, to lick your face you're due to take a spill.

But he has never had the least trouble; his children play with lions as they would with dogs; he takes his afternoon tea on the lawn and shares his sandwiches with the lions—and everybody, including the lions, is peffectly happy.

All this makes a surprising and an interesting book. It is illustrated with a series of exceptionally good photographs of lions.

"Anthony's" Ancestor

NOLTE," by Hervey Allen; (Harcourt, Brace, N. Y.)

THERE has been a great pother about the sources of "Anthony Adverse." Nearly every writer of literary tastes has dug up a source from which Hervey Allen is presumed to have taken something; now an enterprising publisher prints one of them.

The book is "The Memoirs of Vincent Nolte," one of the chief sources, as Mr. Allen himself declares. The reader may see for himself just what part of Nolte is in Anthony, provided he can get through the older book. Truth to tell, it will prove a considerable task for many, inasmuch as Nolte has given a quite detailed account of himself.

Furthermore, prospective readers should digest carefully what the preface (by Burton Rascoe) and the translators notes say. The translator has been careful enough to insist that Nolte be taken with a grain of salt.

The Foreign Situation

Disarmament Is Still Big Puzzle Throughout Europe, Asia

Japan

THE recent London-Tokyo exchange of statements has pretty well crystallized British public sentiment against Japan. Both officials and the press are divided on whether Tokyo's move for the "protection" of China, the doubling of the Japanese air force and the naval increase are bluffs for the moment, or real dangers. All are convinced that Japan now will relentlessly nipponize China, with either stealth or violence—depending on the unity of the antagonistic powers.

As usual, Tokyo has picked a good time. The diarmament crisis and international bickerings make it very difficult for Europe to present a solid front. Although the British, French and Dutch interests in China are doing their best to stir up their respective governments the statesmen see the usual "many difficulties" in a concerted action. It is hoped that Russia eventually will start the fireworks and that Europe can sail in with an eye on the spoils and clean up a weakened Japan for good and all. Tokyo believes that even such an alliance-for-profit would be stalled by European hatreds and jealousies. The Japs are probably right. A leading French statesman recently told your correspondent that France would not object to seeing Great Britain weakened by Japanese control of China.

Tokyo regards Anglo-American-Russian co-operation as the crux of the matter and hopes that they will be sucked into a squabble among themselves. If that happens it's China for the Japanese.

Word comes from Tokyo that the Chinese government has recently bought 15 planes from Italy and that German interests intend opening an airplane factory near Nanking.

Russia

THE Soviet press regards the U.S.A. as Russia's only real ally against Japan and accuses London of being in cahoots with Tokyo for the weakening of American and Russian influence. London insiders say this is ridiculous. They call it the beginning of an extensive Japanese whispering and rumor campaign.

The American G.E. and the German A.E.G. are licking their chops over the new Soviet "Central Administration of the Power Industry." Russia's present electric power output of 13.4 billion kwh is to raised to 38 billion kwh a year by 1937. The Volga river and its tributaries will feed 20 new hydro-electric plants, the recently completed Dnieper station will be brought up to full capacity and four other power centers are under way—in middle Asia, Leningrad province, Armenia and Georgia. Twelve thousand miles of high-tension line are planned, with a 220,000-volt system for the Leningrad, Moscow and Ural manufacturing districts. One hundred thousand kw turbines and special boilers for low grade fuel are being ordered.

The Russian authorities are a bit worried as to where they'll get the engineers to run it all.

The central executive committee and the press are launching a big campaign against inefficiency in industrial and transport administration. Observers report an enormous wastage of time and material and phrophesy that it will take a long time to overcome the laziness and mechanical ineptness of the Russian worker and to bring the production of Soviet industry up to capacity.

Three hundred and twenty complete breakdowns of new lathes were reported in the Kalinin Cutting Tool plant in Moscow last year.

Germany's refusal to join Russia in guaranteeing the independence of the Baltic states has poured still more cold water on Berlin-Moscow relations. Poland recently refused a similar request from Litvinoff, who is feverishly trying to protect Russia's rear.

Lithuania

THERE'S a good chance of Lithuania becoming a second Austria. This column has already reported Nazi activities in the Memel district (foreign special extra April 14-15). Now a statement of Nazi Rosenberg has leaked out to the effect that the Memel district is to Nazidom what Fiume was to Fascism. The Lithuanian government will ask the powers to warn Germany away. Germany will disclaim all official connection, blaming everything on the independent action of the Memel Nazis, and will continue the propaganda.

Poland

FOLLOWING French Foreign Minister Barthou's visit to Warsaw the whole European press is debating whether Poland will take a pro-French or pro-German course. Insiders have it that Poland will stand solidly behind France in preventing German rearmament but will insist on Russia's not being given to prominent a place in the league—which Barthou has promised. All in all, Poland is for France and the Germans can reckon on little support from that quarter.

What worries Paris is that Poland has grown up and wants to be a great power with a will of its own. For the time being the "will" has been placated with substantial credits, but slavery out of gratitude for 1918 is no longer to be counted on. One of the largest countries of Europe is feeling its oats.

Great Britain

OFFICIALS are worried by Paris rumors that the British government has given Vickers-Armstrong permission to sell war materials to Germany. Insiders have it that, although official permission was not granted, the Vickers concern was informed that an eye would be closed. This is diplomatic dynamite and the journalists are getting uncomfortably curious. Until their enthusiasm dies down further shipments will probably be stopped.

(The war-scare propaganda and machinations of the international arms ring—including Vickers Schneider-Creusot and Krupp—are overdue for a complete stripping of masks—if anybody has the courage. It's worth one's life to investigate the scandal potentialities of this system in which politicians, diplomats, officials, editors and financiers play their parts. The inquiring are told nothing. The curious are clapped into jail for espionage.)

New Flying Boats Built

War office insiders report the building of two new squadrons of flying boats with greater cruising radius and speed than any now in service. Built by Vickers Supermarine, powered by Rolls-Royce with two 500-horsepower Kestrel engines, the boats have a very large bomb capacity—said to be designed for the new Whitehead aerial torpedoes. The fleet is destined for Singapore.

Political observers see difficulties ahead for the national government. Although the budget triumph strengthened the government's position greatly among the voters, party lines within the coalition government are beginning to diverge and the impending reorganization of industry will not go smoothly. Baldwin recently published a sensational warning. He pointed out the dangers "of a Socialist party, controlled by its extremists and strongly tainted with Communism, being returned to power . . . in the confusion of a party struggle." Extensive propaganda is being made for unity and insiders are generally optimistic.

Sir Oswald Mosley and his Blackshirts are due for a lot of publicity. The "Leader's" speaking ability, good stage management and sensational plans make fine copy—but it's not to be taken seriously. Although the Fascist program has found some support among the unemployed of the midlands and the north, the great bulk of British public opinion is in absolute opposition. Mosley's only chance for power would be to lead the reaction against an eventual Socialist regime—a very remote possibility.

France

THE government has launched a big "clean hands" movement in all its departments. Foreign Minister Barthou started the ball rolling by issuing an edict against "pull" in the foreign office. Politics is to be taken out of the administration. Observers are very skeptical whether this housecleaning will be either very thorough or permanent.

The development of Corsica into a first-class military base by the French has caused quite a stir in Italian military circles. Rumor has it that the heavy coast defense guns there can reach the Italian harbors of Spezia and Livoerno. The French deny all, of course, but travelers find it difficult to poke about on the island.

The expulsion of Trotsky has made a deep impression on French public opinion—as a gesture showing that the government will no longer tolerate the intrigues and machinations of political cliques. Trotsky was originally given permission to reside in France by the radical Premier Chautemps, as a favor to the Socialists.

The French "Agence Havas" is giving the purchase of American airplane materials by Germany a lot of publicity. In January and February alone $650,000 worth was bought, compared with $349,000 worth during the whole of last year—according to the report. That's effective propaganda on the "Teutonic peril."

Observers report a marked increase in "Papa" Doumergue's popularity among the broad masses of the population.

Germany

THE Control Bureau for Metals has issued an edict that all metal working plants must not only strictly conserve their material but produce a complete inventory of their stock and a description of their processes. All old iron, copper, zinc, etc., must be reported, under severe penalties. It looks like a shortage of metal.

Germany is now doing everything possible to shove upon France the blame for the breakdown of the disarmament negotiations. Foreign Minister Neurath is doing his best to justify the German claims before the world at large and a new special negotiator, Herr von Ribbentrop, has been appointed by Hindenburg to show Germany's good will. England wants a convention at all costs—to prevent general rearmament — and has swung to Germany's side in condemning France for her unconciliatory attitude. Italy and Great Britain are now at loggerheads on the question. France will probably try to prove Germany guilty of breaking the Versailles treaty before the league—which will put the fat in the fire. The whole situation is a terrible mess, with no solution in sight but a lot of dangerous friction.

Plant Working at Capacity

Reports come from Berlin that the Junkers aircraft concern is working with 9,000 hands at full capacity, the Fokker-Wulf works on three shifts, and Dornier (large flying boats) also full blast. New flying fields are going up all over Germany. A lot of the money for this activity comes from "voluntary gifts." Some insiders say that the

Agriculture Adjustment Act's First Anniversary Finds Cash Income Of U. S. Agriculture Increased 39 Per Cent

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The anniversary of the Agricultural Adjustment act terminates a period in which cash income of American agriculture increased by more than 39 per cent. The act was passed on May 12, 1933.

Created at a time when American farm prices were borne down under the weight of immense surpluses of wheat, cotton, tobacco, pork and other products, the Agricultural Adjustment administration centered its activities upon the task of better adjusting production to demand.

Surpluses Accumulated

The surpluses were accumulated as a result of loss of export markets, the transition from a debtor to creditor nation, and other causes.

Lack of organization among farmers made it impossible for them as individuals to act in concert to reduce their production.

Through the machinery created in the Act, the farmers now have been organized into production control associations. Although much remains to be done, a beginning of adjustment has been accomplished, and already farm income is showing important improvement due in part at least to the better balance of supply with demand.

800,000 Benefiting

At the close of the twelve-month period adjustment has been extended to a preponderant share of the nation's agriculture. Farmers have signed more than 2,860,000 contracts to restrict acreages under production control plans which provide benefit payments. In addition approximately 800,000 farmers are benefiting from marketing agreements which have been put into effect during the year.

The total farm cash income during the twelve-month period was 39 per cent larger than the cash income for the preceding twelve months. The estimated farm income exclusive of the value of products used on the farm for the period which terminated May 1, 1933 was $3,979,000,000. In the twelve-month period terminating May 1 of this year, the cash income is estimated at more than $5,530,000,000. The increase is more than $1,500,000,000.

Payments Listed

Of this increase in agricultural income, rental and benefit payments accounted for more than 12 per cent. The payments totalled in excess of $185,380,000. Distribution of this total to growers of various crops on which payments are made was as follows: cotton, $112,515,866; wheat, $67,617,486; tobacco, $5,206,778; corn, $15,536; and hogs, $24,844. For cotton and tobacco, the payments include those made under the 1933 and 1934 programs. On the others the payments were made on the 1934 program only.

These increases in farm income are in addition to the added returns to income that farmers received through increased prices resulting from programs to adjust production to effective demand in these basic commodities.

Initial steps towards adjustment programs now are being taken for other products recently added to the list of basic farm products by amendments to the Act. Conferences have been held on a program for the adjustment of the beef cattle industry. A program for the adjustment of the domestic sugar industry also is contemplated with a view to supporting the market and adding $30,000,000 to the income of sugar growers.

Other Agreements Planned

In the addition to the programs for basic commodities, 22 marketing agreements for special crops such as fruits, vegetables, nuts, gum turpentine and rosin are in effect. The administration has in prospect 56 other agreements to cover 68 commodities. While some of these agreements have been put in effect too recently to show resulting additions to farm income, added returns to farmers from those first established are evident. Increases in returns to growers of California cling peaches, Tokey grapes, walnuts, olives, Northwest deciduous fruits, citrus fruits, peanuts, and asparagus resulting from such agreements are estimated at more than 35 million dollars. Additional benefits from informal agreements on canning vegetables exceed 2 1-2 million dollars.

The 19 milk licenses now in effect provide for minimum prices to producers of 15 per cent of the fluid milk and cream consumed by the non-farm population of the country. Codes for fair competition affecting agricultural products have been signed and others are in prospect.

Prices Supported

Price supporting operations through surplus removal programs were also carried on. The North Pacific Emergency Export association has sold for export approximately 25 million bushels of surplus wheat grown in the Pacific Northwest. Approximately 35 million dollars have been expended in the emergency pig buying campaign to support the hog market. Large quantities of surplus agricultural products also have been removed from commercial channels by the secretary of agriculture and distributed to the needy and underfed of the country. Generally, funds for the purchase of basic agricultural commodities have been provided by funds from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and all costs of processing and distribution have been paid by the Federal Surplus Relief corporation. Commodities purchased by the Secretary have been donated to the relief corporation for distribution, the Federal Emergency Relief administration has provided funds for the purchase of various items. This joint program has resulted in the removal from commercial channels of approximately 240 million pounds of pork and pork products; 100 million pounds of flour and 8 million bushels of wheat for feed; 50 million pounds of butter; 6 million pounds of cheese; 18 million pounds of canned beef and quantities of such other items as oranges, beans, apples, syrup, cereal foods, corn, oats and barley. The expenditures, including the 35 million dollars, spent in the emergency hog campaign, totals approximately 90 million dollars, of which about 50 million dollars has been paid from Agricultural Adjustment administration funds.

Millions Loaned

Of the total commitment of $250,000,000 available through the Commodity Credit corporation for loans of 10 cents per pound on cotton, about 80 million dollars have been disbursed. Nearly 90 million dollars has been disbursed on corn loans at 45 cents per bushel out of a total commitment of $150,000,000 made available for this purpose through the Commodity Credit corporation. Cribbed ear corn under seal represents a loan value totalling in excess of 120 million dollars.

Definite progress has been made toward "parity" for farm prices, which is the objective of the act. A year ago the ratio of prices the farmer receives to the prices he pays was 52. It now has advanced to 62. Thus nearly 20 per cent of the disparity has been removed during the year. Parity will have been attained when the ratio is 100. The ratio figures apply to the general level of farm price. The basic commodities to which production control programs were applied made a much closer approach to parity than did the general price level.

On the domestically consumed portions of the wheat, cotton, and tobacco crop, parity has practically been attained.

Sign Up Not Complete

While more than 2,860,000 contracts have been signed by farmers to restrict production of wheat, cotton, tobacco, and corn and hogs, that figure does not completely express the extent of cooperation on the part of the farmers, since signups for the campaigns have not yet been completed.

In addition to the programs for basic commodities, marketing agreements and licenses are including a large number of farmers within the benefits of the act. It is estimated that 80,000 dairy farmers supply the markets in which the 19 milk licenses are enforcing minimum prices. The marketing agreement which covers the rice industry benefits 10,800 growers. The 22 agreements covering special crops are increasing prices and stabilizing marketing conditions for more than 740,000 growers.

Under contracts signed so far, nearly 36 million acres of land is being removed from production of cotton, wheat, tobacco, and corn. The seed demand indicates that much of this acreage is being used to grow soil-improving crops and grasses that will retard erosion. In the South some of the land withdrawn from cotton production is being used to supply local deficiencies in crops for home use under provisions of the contracts.

County Crop Production Control Groups To Have Charge Of '34 Allotments

Information Is Given Out On Program In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, May 19 (Special)—The same machinery will be used to administer the Bankhead act in the counties as was employed in the cotton acreage reduction program, the Agricultural Adjustment administration has advised O. B. Martin, extension service director at Texas A. & M. college. County cotton production control associations set up under the reduction program will have charge of making individual cotton allotments the next cotton year beginning June 1, during which the Bankhead act will operate.

Under the new act, the AAA points out, Texas may gin and sell 3,091,200 bales tax free. All in excess of this must pay a tax of 50 per cent of the average central market spot price for 7-8-inch middling as proclaimed from time to time by the secretary of agriculture. At no time can this tax be less than 5 cents a pound. The act limits the American production to 10,000,000 bales this year.

May Change Allotments

As far as possible, contract signers will be given the same allotments as indicated in their contracts, but these may be raised or lowered according to the county allotments assigned by the United States department of agriculture. The allotted bales are to be given tax exemption certificates on application to county cotton committees as soon as forms are received and machinery set up. Those who did not sign reduction contracts may also apply for and receive farm allotment and tax exemption certificates covering same, but they will not share in the rental and parity payments given co-operators.

The Texas allotment is based on the ratio of the average five-year production for 1928-32 to the average national production for this period. Not less than 90 per cent of the state allotment is to be allotted to the counties, the remainder being reserved for necessary adjustments to take care of special cases. Allowance is to be made for crop failures in counties where it can be established that the failure is due to an unusual cause. Washington advices point out that in some sections floods and drouths are not unusual. The United States department of agriculture has a cotton history of every county for guidance in deciding where special adjustments should be made.

Must Get Bale Tags

The first duty of every producer under the law is to apply for bale tags for all cotton produced prior to this season now in possession of the farmer. As soon as county production control associations have the forms the farmer should apply for exemption certificates for his allotted cotton for 1934-35. The final date for application for these certificates has not yet been determined. Every bale of American cotton entering trade channels in the cotton year 1934-35 must have a bale tag which the farmer may obtain either by surrendering his exemption certificate or by paying the tax.

The amount of the tax is determined by the tax in effect at the time the cotton is ginned regardless of when it is sold. If stored and held for a year or more it must still pay the tax.

Longer Staple Exempt

Cotton of 1 1-2-inch staple length or longer is exempted from the tax but the producer of such cotton must first prove his point before exemption is granted. Experiment station cotton is also exempted from the tax.

The signers of voluntary reduction contracts stand to benefit under the Bankhead act, the Agricultural Adjustment administration has pointed out, because these producers will receive their land rental and parity payments in addition to the expected increase in cotton price on the amount sold.

Interests To Be Protected

The interests of share croppers and tenants are to be protected in the making of allotments and issuing of exemption certificates, it is promised by the administration.

Contract signers who violate their contracts are to have their exemption certificates revoked, according to the provisions of the act.

No allotments are to be made under the Bankhead act until all producers have applied to their county cotton committees giving their production figures and asking for exemption certificates. The collection of the tax is to be in charge of the bureau of internal revenue, and is to be collected as prescribed by the bureau at time of sale.

Ninety Per Cent Of Seed To Be Planted In Hockley Area Given Sterilization Treatment

LEVELLAND, May 19. (Special)—Ninety per cent of the local cotton seed to be used in planting this year's crop, in this section of Hockley county, has been sterilized, H. L. Alford, U. S. Bureau of Plant Quarantine representative here, states.

With reduced acreages of cotton, due to the government's program, not as much seed will be used as expected. In addition to local seed, there has been substantial purchases of seed from other localities.

Hockley county is in one of the pink boll worm quarantine areas. By sterilizing seed this spring, the government hopes to be able to save a year in the eradication of the pest.

CONTRACTS APPROVED

TULIA, May 19. (Special)—Cotton contracts numbering 158 have been approved for Swisher county farmers, C. B. Martin, county agent, states. The agent estimated $42,224, would be paid to cotton farmers under the contracts.

Electric Irrigation Plant Is Installed On Farm At Lockney

LOCKNEY, May 19. (Special)—D. L. Hanley, farmer, and Artie Baker, banker, have installed an electric irrigation plant on a 170-acre farm two miles west of here, in an experiment to determine if water can be pumped by electric power economically.

In the first 90-hour test, 50 acres were irrigated at a cost of $36.60 for the time or 73 cents per acre. It was estimated three inches of water had been put on the 50 acres.

The well is in the famous shallow water area near town. It is first of a series of tests planned to determine costs of operation.

PROGRAAM APPROVED

Approval of a prairie dog poisoning program for Potter county, with federal relief funds to take care of expenses, has been secured by the U. S. biological survey, J. M. Hill, jr., biologist here for Northwest Texas, has been advised.

Eleven men are to be employed for a period of two months. Prairie dog towns on ranches over the county and at the U. S. Helium plant west of Amarillo, will be worked. Mr. Hill will supervise the work.

TIME TESTED and proven ELECTRIC

REFRIGERATORS ARE BUILT FOR TEXAS CLIMATE

Texas, with its variable climate, has been a natural testing ground for Electric Refrigerators. Back in 1924, manufacturers knew that if their Electric Refrigerators fuctioned properly during the hottest days in Texas, they would also meet full requirements in other sections of the country.

So the Electric Refrigerators of today are specially designed to cope with the hottest Texas weather. They have excess freezing capacity that is needed through many months of the year—always ready to protect your foods with temperatures below 50 degrees regardless of how hot the weather may be.

This superiority didn't come all at once. Years of testing, coupled with actual experience of users, are back of the Electric Refrigerator of 1934. No matter how hot the weather is, you can be sure that an Electric Refrigerator will come up to expectations.

Your Refrigerator Dealer has new 1934 models on display and will be glad to show them to you.

PARIS is well satisfied with the results of Barthou's visit to Prague. Czech Minister Benesch has given assurance that his country and the Little Entente will support France and that they've no intention of flirting with Berlin. That will be the secondary battery against Germany on the arms question.

ECONOMY MINERALIZED FEEDS

We want to thank you not only for your patronage but for the good word that you spoke to your neighbor for ECONOMY MINERALIZED FEEDS.

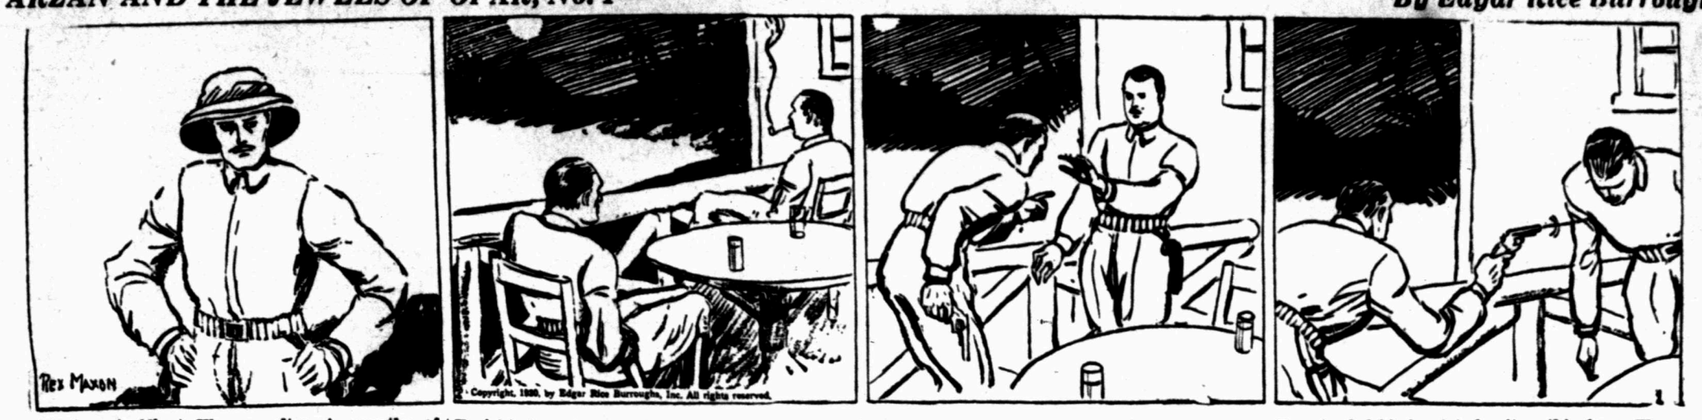

It was with the hope of your approval that we introduced fish meal, soybean meal, and milk sugar in our feeds. We knew that you wanted good feed for your poultry flocks and keeping in mind that you needed to feed your home grown grain we blended a mash to supplement those grains.

Little did we know that the results would be so surprising that you would tell your neighbor and that he like you would become a user of ECONOMY MINERALIZED FEEDS. We trust that we shall ever merit your praise and patronage.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR, No. 1—

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Lieutenant Albert Werper, after six months of loneliness in the Belgian Congo, was in a dangerous mood. Because he had dishonored his family name, the young man had been banished from the gay life of Brussels. Now, in this isolated section of Africa, he brooded over his monotonous existence until his hatred towards his superior officers had become a form of mania.

Tonight, he sat upon the veranda of their common quarters, glaring in silent rage at his captain, the one supreme object of his dislike. The captain was a silent man and Werper interpreted this silence as a studied attempt to ignore him. Werper imagined that his superior held him in contempt, and so he fumed inwardly until now his madness became suddenly homicidal.

Nervously fingering his revolver, Lieutenant Werper's eyes narrowed and his brows contracted. At last he spoke: "You've insulted me for the last time." He sprang to his feet as did the Captain, upon whose face was an expression of surprise as he turned towards his junior, though he had often seen men with this jungle madness upon them, the madness of solitude and brooding.

He extended his hand to lay it soothingly on Werper's shoulder, seeking to calm him. Quiet words of counsel were upon his lips, but they were never spoken. Even before he could defend himself, the enraged Lieutenant pulled the trigger. Without a moan, the Captain sank to the floor, and, as he fell, the mists that had clouded Werper's brain lifted. He realized he was a murderer.

Principal funds were as follows: General, $23,465.77; jury, $15.-991.29; courthouse and jail, $5.-915.99; road and bridge accounts. Girl Reports Friendliness In Lubbock High Not Found In Larger Public Schools

A girl who has attended the largest high school in Texas has found in Lubbock High school friendliness, co-operation, school spirit and serious application to studies which she said she did not find in the former school.

The statement was made in a theme, "My impression of Lubbock High School After One Year's Time," which she wrote recently.

"The grounds of the high school of which I speak cover an area of two blocks, and the school has an enrollment of about 3,000 students," she wrote.

"When I first entered the Lubbock High school I thought I would never become accustomed to such a small building. . . . Lubbock High school is beautiful, it is different in structure, but so very try. Of course, I became accustomed to that, and now I love this school."

After writing of the confusion in the other school the student wrote:

"In the Lubbock High school there is none of this confusion, for there are only about 1,400 students. . . . Everyone speaks to everyone else here and it makes one want to slap a fellow on the back and expect a smile in return. The boy or girl who has never attended a large school does not realize what a wonderful school fellowship Lubbock High has. Not only is one closer to his classmates, but one also feels that the teacher is not an old grouch who isn't human, but a fellow being like himself who is capable of smiling and teaching at the same time.

"When I attended my first pep rally here I could not keep from noticing the difference—everyone trying, everyone co-operating.

"In the study halls there is only an occasional interruption, and I find I can study four times as well in a study hall as I can at home."

In Korea, chorus girls are trained at a government academy.

Here's A Mark To Kick At

Andree Crosby, 18-year-old dancer, presents photographic proof of her claim to the world's record for high kicking. Six feet, four inches tall, Miss Crosby easily toes a mark that is eight feet from the ground. Bert Rovere, manager of a Los Angeles cafe, registers delight as the dancer kicks a silk hat which he climbed on a chair to hold for her.

Three Bridges On Santa Fe Are Being Rebuilt This Year

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, May 19.—Three bridges on the Slaton division of the Santa Fe are being rebuilt this summer as a part of the company's rehabilitation program. Two are located at Plainview and one at Snyder.

The long bridge over Running-water draw, in Plainview, has just been completed, C. S. Cravens, division superintendent, announced. It has a long trestle because the draw is fairly wide at that point. The other bridge is a short distance south of town and work in starting.

Within two weeks the Snyder job is expected to start.

Checks Cashed By Members Of Federal Reserve Showing Gain

AUSTIN, May 19.—(Special)—Checks cashed by member banks reporting to the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank totaled $626,000,000 in April, against $491,000,000 in March and $388,000,000 in April, 1933, increases of 28 per cent and 62 per cent respectively, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Deposits showed a decline of 2 per cent from March but an increase of 17.3 per cent over April last year, the Bureau's report said. The sharp increase in deposits compared with April, 1933, was limited entirely to demand deposits since there was a slight drop in time deposits in comparison with April last year.

Loans showed practically no change from March, but there was a drop of nearly 14 per cent from April, 1933. Government securities owned, however, increased 71 per cent over April, 1933.

POSTAL RECEIPTS LOWER

Two Texas 4-H Club Girls Named For Washington Trip

COLLEGE STATION, May 19.—(Special)—Florence Klingsporn, Brenham, Washington County, and Evelyn Silbernagel, Dickinson, Galveston county, have been chosen as the two 4-H Club girl representatives from Texas to the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington June 14-20, Miss Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent, Texas A & M College Extension Service, has announced. These farm girls were selected from 18,000 club girls for their ability to make money and beautify their homes. They will be sent to the national capitol with funds made by 4-H club members from a refreshment stand operated each year at the Farmers' Short course at the college.

Hockley County Sow Disregards Uncle Sam's Reduction Plans

LEVELLAND, May 19 (Special)—W. R. Baker, a well-known farmer living near here, has a sow who never heard nor read of the corn-hog reduction program of Uncle Sam.

Several weeks ago she farrowed a litter of ten. So far she has kept them all, and the litter bids fair to become a ton litter within six months, Baker said.

Grain Elevators To Be Protected

AMARILLO, May 19 (AP)—Frank A. Theis, chief of the grain division of the AAA, told Panhandle grain dealers, in annual convention here Friday that the new elevator code would protect 15,000 country elevators in the nation from being forced out of business by unfair competition of larger concerns.

A committee comprised of Harry L. Kearns, Amarillo; K. K. Smith, of Fort Worth, and S. E. Cone, of Lubbock, was appointed to figure out a schedule of elevator rates for the Panhandle which must be posted in each elevator under the code.

S. J. Cole, traffic manager of the Amarillo grain exchange, pointed out the dangers of the Panhandle losing some of its market outlets because of low water rates from the Pacific northwest through the Panama canal, and low barge rates down the Mississippi.

"Grain can be hauled down the west coast and through the Panama canal for only eight cents a hundred pounds more than if the shipment originates at a gulf point," Cole said.

The grain dealers will make their estimate of the 1934 Panhandle wheat crop tomorrow.

Leaders in Jamaica feel that the island is just recovering from the effects of the storms of 1932 and 1933.

KELVINATOR

. . . the OLDEST manufacturer of domestic electric refrigeration

One of the 4 Kelvinator factories

. . . brings you the NEWEST FEATURES!

TWENTY YEARS ago Kelvinator began building electric refrigeration for homes. Slowly and painstakingly and without many of the manufacturing advantages now available, Kelvinator labored to produce the finest refrigerator that could be built. And the pioneering still goes on—as Kelvinator, the oldest, and now the largest independent manufacturer of electric refrigeration, brings you the newest features.

THE FOOD FILE

Outstanding in the new Kelvinator is the unique Food File, handsome, chrome-fronted trays which slide out like a drawer. One for your dairy products, one to preserve the crispness and freshness of vegetables and table greens, and a third with three separate covered china dishes for left-overs that you want to save.

"4 REFRIGERATORS IN 1"

(1) World's Fastest Freezing for emergency use. (2) Ample ice cube capacity and a place to prepare quantities of frozen deserts or salads. (3) Below-freezing storage space in the Frost Chest. (4) Generous shelf storage space. And all four of these separate and distinct refrigeration services are fully automatic, no dials to set, nothing to remember.

THE PASTRY SET

Here is indeed a boon to the housewife, a lovely covered mixing bowl with two handles and a refrigerated rolling pin that puts an end to sticky rolling. Kelvinator thus constantly thinks in terms of kitchen problems. See the new Kelvinators before you buy any electric refrigerator.

THE DINOSAURS!

MILLIONS OF YEARS AGO, NO ONE KNOWS HOW MANY, THESE GIANT REPTILES WERE THE SUPREME RULERS OF THE EARTH... BUT THEIR REIGN ENDED QUITE SUDDENLY!

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE BULKIEST OF ALL THE DINOSAURS, WAS THE BRONTOSAURUS, WEIGHING ABOUT 40 TONS.

THE STEAMING SWAMPS OF PREHISTORIC WYOMING WERE IDEAL DWELLING PLACES FOR THE MONSTER REPTILES.

THE PTERODACTYLS WERE BAT-LIKE, AND COULD MAKE SHORT FLIGHTS.

THE MOST FRIGHTFUL OF ALL THE CREATURES THAT EVER HAVE INHABITED THE EARTH, WAS THE TYRANNOSAURUS! THIS DINOSAUR WAS CARNIVOROUS, AND PREYED ON OTHERS WHICH, ALTHOUGH LARGER, WERE LESS AGILE, AND POORER FIGHTERS THAN HIMSELF.

IT IS NOT KNOWN JUST WHY THIS RACE OF GIANTS DIED OFF, BUT A LACK OF BRAINS HASTENED THE DEPARTURE! THE STEGOSAURUS, A CREATURE LARGER THAN AN ELEPHANT, HAD A TWO-AND-ONE-HALF-OUNCE BRAIN... BUT IT HAD A SORT OF SECOND BRAIN IN ITS HIPS, TO DIRECT ITS HIND PARTS!

THE WHALE IS THE ONLY ANIMAL OF THE PAST OR PRESENT THAT APPROACHES THE DINOSAURS IN SIZE.

THE DIPLODOCUS, A REPTILE THAT GREW TO A LENGTH OF MORE THAN 80 FEET, HAD A NECK SO LONG THAT IT COULD HAVE PEERED IN AT A FOUR STORY WINDOW.
