Resolutions At Farm Session Are Approved

Confidence In Marvin Jones And His Work On Farm Bill Voiced By Representatives

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 22.—The West Texas Producers association condemned at its concluding two-day session today efforts of "certain men and interests to sow seeds of dissatisfaction among farmers before the present farm bill is given a fair trial."

The association expressed confidence in Congressman Marvin Jones and willingness to rely on his judgment concerning amendments to the farm bill.

Problems Not Solved

A resolution stated agricultural problems had not been solved but progress toward their solution would be made when the producer and the trade realized their common problems and the necessity of working together.

Other resolutions:

Favored parity freight rate structures, asked Secretary Henry Wallace to intercede in behalf of producers in overcoming freight rate differentials and urged Texas senators and congressmen to work toward establishing Texas on the same freight level as other states.

Development Advocated

Advocated continued development of farm co-operatives, encouragement of rural electrification, advancement of flood control plans and elimination of trade barriers between states.

Urged enactment by the 76th legislature of soil and water conservation laws with administration in the hands of active farmers.

Opposed any attempt to repeal the gasoline tax refund to farmers.

Praised Congressmen Jones and Mahon for their work in congress and supported Mahon for a place on the appropriations committee.

During the day, Wallace Louthan, acting manager of Plains Co-operative, Inc., cited co-operative refrigeration plants as a means of increasing farm income. He said such plants enabled home consumption of more products.

Repeal To Be Costly

A. B. Tarwater, 19th district congressman, spoke in opposition to repealing the gasoline refund law, saying repeal would cost Hale county $150,000 annually.

Cotton was discussed at the final meetings of the association which had already been offered the suggestion emphasis should be placed on domestic rather than foreign markets for agricultural products.

D. A. Bandeen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce discussed freight rates and John McCarty of Amarillo and W. Holbrook of Plainview outlined water conservation issues at the final session.

Law Career Is Facing Threat

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—After 10 years of successful law practice — so successful he was offered a place on the state attorney general's staff and was boomed for a judgeship—Charles A. Mulligan, jr., was charged today with having practiced without authorization.

An anonymous letter received three weeks ago by William B. Herlands, commissioner of investigation, brought an inquiry that led to his indictment.

Got Second Notice

The official report of the inquiry said Mulligan, 33, took the bar examinations in 1928 and subsequently received word he had passed. Two days later, it said, he received a second notice saying the first was all a mistake—he had failed to pass.

Newspapers printed the first report and he received congratulations and praise. To save himself and friends from embarrassment, the report said, he set up a law practice and continued it.

Now, if convicted, he faces a possible 16 years in prison on four charges of perjury and one month in jail and a $250 fine for unauthorized practice of law.

Witnesses testified Gunn, Brownwood and McCamey oil field worker, was shot when he went to Capps' home to get his wife and 13-year-old adopted son.

Grandmother Stoutly Denies Poisoning Of Young Child But Jury Brands Her Guilty And Assesses Life Term

(By The Associated Press)

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 22 — Mrs. Romie P. Sullivan, accused by the state of poisoning her deaf mute daughter's only child, was convicted of murder late today by a district court jury which set her sentence at life imprisonment.

The jury retired at 4:05 p. m. and returned its verdict an hour and a half later.

The buxom Louisiana woman, who remained calm throughout the two-day trial, maintained her composure as the verdict was read.

During the day's testimony, the jury heard the bespectacled 49-year-old grandmother deny that she poisoned Clara Jean Hay, her 2 1-2-year-old granddaughter.

She testified she did not know the child obtained the poison that caused her death last June 16.

At yesterday's session, Mrs. Richard Hay testified through an interpreter she believed her mother poisoned the child. The prosecution presented testimony that Mrs. Sullivan had taken out a $200 life insurance policy on Clara Jean.

A request for a demurrer on grounds of insufficient evidence was denied today.

In her testimony Mrs. Sullivan also denied existence of a package labeled "poison" which Mrs. Hay said she saw when she unpacked her mother's trunks after her arrival from Monroe, La., last January to teach the child to talk.

The father of the dead child, also a deaf mute, testified he didn't "know whether or not" his mother-in-law had any part in the baby's death.

An accusation by Assistant County Attorney Lucius Babcock, jr., son of the presiding judge, that Mrs. Sullivan purchased a $200 life insurance policy on the child without the parents' knowledge was denied by the defendant who declared several neighbors, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Hay, knew of the policy.

Roberson, in seeking a demurrer, declared the state failed to prove its charges, that no witness had testified they had seen any poison at the time of the child's illness and that a thorough search of the house after the baby died disclosed no poison.

Americans Said Murdered By Communists

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Sam Baron, of New York, a former Spanish war correspondent, told a house committee today that communists had kidnaped and murdered many Americans and other volunteers in the Spanish loyalist cause whom they considered "untrustworthy."

Testifying before the house committee investigating un-American activities, the witness said arrival of Soviet aid for the Spanish government signalized a "reign of terror" against all opponents of the Stalinist movement, including Trotskyites, and members of the socialist party of America.

Resigned From Party

Baron, who described himself as a former alternate member of the executive committee of the socialist party of America, said he had resigned from the party so that he might testify as an individual.

Baron said he had covered 5,000 miles of loyalist Spain while serving as a war correspondent for the Socialist Call, official newspaper of the American party.

Baron said the most fundamental objective of the communist movement was a people's front against fascist aggression, but added that the slogan was a "mockery" because of the communist party's policy of "purging" all of the united front organizations which disagreed with its principles.

Earlier, the committee heard testimony that several officials of the Indian bureau were members of the American Civil Liberties Union, described by previous witnesses as

Technicality Prevents Answer To Accusations Of Husband

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22. (AP)—A technicality of the law today prevented pretty, blonde Frances McDonald from refuting the accusation of her jobless electrician husband that she and Mrs. Karl Krueger, wife of the Kansas City orchestra leader, had an unnatural relationship.

Summoned as a witness in the trial of Charles McDonald for attempted murder of Mrs. Krueger, Mrs. McDonald was prevented from testifying by a ruling of Judge Frank Smith, who upheld the defense contention that under California law a woman may not testify against her husband.

Senator Norris Will Back FDR For A Third Term

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 22. (AP)—Senator George W. Norris (Ind-R) of Nebraska, said tonight defeat of the president's policies by "reactionary machines" would force Mr. Roosevelt to be a candidate for re-election in 1940.

"He will have my support," he added.

Norris, known as the "father of the Tennessee valley authority," arrived late today to inspect the federal agency's Chickamauga dam on the Tennessee river.

Her Smile Is Friendly But Hubby Brands Her Failure

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Bette Davis, one of Hollywood's leading dramatic actresses, chose her career over marriage, Haimon O. Nelson, jr., her husband, charged today as he filed suit for divorce.

Nelson, former orchestra leader who recently entered the advertising business, filed his suit shortly after the actress notified friends that a "trial separation" was a failure and there would be no reconciliation.

Failed In Job As Wife

"During said marriage," Nelson's complaint states, "and particularly during the last year thereof, defendant has become so engrossed in her profession that she has neglected and failed to perform her duties as a wife and has been inattentive, casual and distant to plaintiff, to the point of rudeness and embarrassment."

He asserted that Miss Davis used her spare time for reading and when he sought friendliness and affection she would indulge in a "blatant array of epithets and derision."

Convicts Say That Slaying Of Prison Guard Was Not Included In Their Plan

Cotton Council Outlines Drive

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 22. — Members of the National Cotton Council, created yesterday to boost cotton consumption, agreed today on a two-cent-a-bale "assessment" to raise a preliminary war chest of $240,000.

The $240,000 will be used mainly within the cotton industry to recruit strength to the council. Later, under the plan, a big-time newspaper and magazine advertising program would be undertaken to advertise products of American cotton.

Under the assessment plan, each state will be given a quota equivalent to two cents on each 500-pound bale of this year's crop. Just where the assessment will fall among ginners, producers, crushers, warehousemen and shippers — the interests forming the organization—will be decided by each state's representatives on the council.

TWO DIE IN CRASH

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP) — Eric Glynne Lawrence Robison, 32, who piloted Prime Minister Chamberlain to Germany during the Czechoslovakian crisis, was killed today when his plane crashed at Redcliff bay on the Bristol channel. Co-pilot R. P. J. Leborgne also was killed.

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Convicts Rufus Franklin and James C. Lucas charged with the murder of an Alcatraz guard talked freely on the witness stand today of their futile attempt to escape from prison, but denied they hammered the guard to death.

Guard Royal C. Cline, each said, was in his office the afternoon of May 23 when they and Thomas Limerick climbed out the window of the carpentry model shop and walked into the gunfire of a tower guard.

Death Not Necessary

Cline's death wasn't necessary for the success of the escape, the convicts intimated, declaring they didn't know of the attack on the guard until after their dash for freedom had failed. They said any one of six others in the shop might have killed Cline.

Lucas, 26-year-old Texas bank robber, said that Limerick came to him at his work bench and said "If we're ever going, we might as well go now," because Cline had gone to his office off the model shop.

Those were practically the same words Franklin, 24, a bank robber from Alabama, previously testified Lucas had uttered to him that afternoon.

Planned For Two Weeks

Both convicts said they had planned with Limerick for two weeks to make the "break."

Franklin said that after they stepped through the shop window they cut the barbed wire along the edge of the roof, then stepped over the firewall.

At this point tower Guard Harold Stites started shooting. Limerick was fatally shot above the eye. Stites' shots also "got" Franklin in the back of his shoulders.

Kansas Penitentiary Methyl Alcohol Party To Be Probed

LANSING, Kas., Nov. 22 (AP) — The silence of 20 sick felons stalemated Warden Kirk Prather's investigation tonight into a methyl alcohol party that resulted in death early today for three Kansas state penitentiary inmates.

The close-lipped convicts refused to disclose who stole two one-gallon jugs of a soap compound from the prison engineer's office and played host to a Sunday party climaxed last night when 25 prisoners were rushed to the penitentiary hospital.

Before dawn today the beverage had proved fatal to Glen C. Roy, 35; Monroe Adams, 31, and J. B. Harris, 41.

Oran Houseworth, 30, remained in a critical condition.

Reading Of 21 Degrees Seen At Midnight

LUBBOCK'S coldest weather of the season was only two degrees away at midnight, the mercury having fallen to 21 degrees. Low for the winter was 19 degrees, recorded Tuesday morning and once earlier, Nov. 17, records showed.

Weather observers of this area forecast a low of 15 degrees before morning. Forecast for today was "fair and warmer weather" after "continued cold" Tuesday night.

Four Degrees In Hour

The mercury at the main line station of the West Texas Gas company at 10 o'clock had dropped to 26 degrees, four degrees lower than a reading an hour earlier. The thermometer continued to drop at midnight, steadily.

Skies here cleared late in the night and much-needed moisture was not in sight for Lubbock and the South Plains.

A mild east wind prevailed at midnight. Ceiling was unlimited and visibility was 10 miles.

Tuesday's High 42.4

According to the Lubbock Municipal airport, the high for Tuesday was 42.4 degrees. A high of 42 was reported at 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the main line station.

Livestock warnings were issued by the weather bureau for both East and West Texas, but no moisture was anticipated to aggravate the cold.

Borger reported the coldest weather in the state Tuesday morning with a minimum of 17 degrees. Lubbock had a low of 19; Plainview reported a low of 18, as did Amarillo. Other lows were Wichita Falls, 28; Abilene, 30; Dallas and Fort Worth, 33, according to the Associated Press.

No Damage Reported

Late Tuesday night Amarillo reported 16 degrees, however, no crop nor livestock damage was reported. At 10:30 o'clock it was freezing at San Angelo with a low of 25 forecast.

Dr. Jos. L. Cline of the Dallas Weather bureau forecast slowly rising temperatures for West Texas today, but added the cold would be more persistent than several past northers. He explained there is a potent "high" pressure area extending from Texas to the Canadian border.

Agricultural authorities here said sub-freezing weather would cause no damage additional to that which has been done by earlier freezes.

Loss Of $152.95 On Streets Of Lubbock Is Reported

Mrs. L. L. Davis of Idalou Tuesday afternoon reported to police she lost $152.95 in an envelope on the streets of Lubbock about the middle of the afternoon.

She also lost a coin purse containing between $5 and $7 she told Bill Mabray, police identifications officer.

On the envelope was written or printed, Mabray said, "Wolf, Cameron, Texas."

She told Mabray, he said, she believed she lost it on Texas avenue between the First National bank of Lubbock and the Lyric theater. She was of the opinion that the money dropped from a bag she was carrying.

He came out again in two minutes, looking serious. Diplomatic visits usually last from ten minutes to an hour.

Before he could sign the application, he collapsed and died.

Strike Spread Threatened At Stock Yards

Thousands Of Packing House Employes May Walk Out If Non-Union Men Work

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—CIO spokesmen at the Chicago stockyards said tonight a strike of handlers called at the yards would be extended to include between 18,000 and 20,000 packing house employes if non-union men unloaded livestock.

Ben Brown, president of the CIO livestock handlers union, said all CIO packing house employes would refuse to butcher any "scab handled" livestock which was unloaded after 6 p. m. tonight.

Previously the management of the yards announced operations would be continued.

"We will continue to operate," said O. T. Henkle, vice president and general manager of the Union Stock Yards and Transit company.

Plans Not Revealed

He issued this defy an hour before a trading truce, expired at 5 p. m. but declined to outline his plans for moving livestock through the nation's largest market without benefit of the striking handlers.

Under an agreement with the Packing House Workers union, the 60,000 cattle, sheep and hogs herded into the corrals since the walkout yesterday morning were sold.

The square mile of pens teemed throughout the day. Clerks and commission men, their white collars muffled under heavy coats, guided the stock to the weighing chutes. Thence they were led to the slaughter houses.

Crisis Is Expected

It was indicated the dispute would reach a crisis tomorrow. Approximately 10,000 head of stock were expected to arrive from the country then.

No peace parleys were arranged. Union members—estimated to number 575 by officials of the organization—left the yards after they ceased work.

Convict Nabbed In Gun Battle

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22—Officers today captured an escaped convict and sought a second one after engaging the pair in a running gun fight which resulted in their abandoning a stolen car near Vineyard.

Hugh Nix, who was returned here after his capture, said his companion was Horace Posey. Both escaped from the Harlem prison farm a week ago. The abandoned automobile was taken from W. W. Cobb, resident of a tourist camp, in a holdup this morning.

Car Struck Five Times

Detectives H. J. Cobb and Ed Smith overtook the fugitives near Lake Worth. Smith said the men fired and they returned the shots. The convicts' car was struck five times during the 80-mile-an-hour chase.

The convicts left the car near Vineyard, southeast of Jacksboro, and separated. Sheriff Turner and Deputies J. E. Ross and G. M. Cope of Jacksboro joined the search. Nix was spotted in a cornfield, dropped his guns and surrendered.

Nix told Fort Worth police the pair since escaping had stolen an automobile at Houston, bought guns at Wichita Falls and staged a holdup at Decatur.

Student Scores High In Test Held At Tech

In a standard psychological test offered freshmen college students throughout the nation, Marie McCrummen scored highest among freshmen students at Texas Technological college and was excelled by less than .8 of one per cent of freshmen in 36 colleges from which reports have been received at Tech.

Miss McCrummen was valedictorian of last spring's graduating class at Lubbock High school.

Hundreds Take Test

Her score was 146 of a possible 198, said Dr. Albert Barnett, professor of education and psychology, and who had charge of the test at Tech. Approximately 1,200 freshmen took the test. Franklin F. Clark, engineering major from Houston, placed second with a score of 147. Miss McCrummen is a freshmen chemistry major.

The test measures both the native ability and training, said Dr. Barnett. It was prepared by Dr. L. L. Thurstone of the University of Chicago, who for several years worked with Thomas A. Edison. It is divided into two parts, one relative to quantitative capacity, or capacity for figures and mathematical subjects, and the other on linguistic capacity.

Reports Are Made

Reports on results of tests in 36 colleges show that of 6,514 students, five made scores between 165 and 169, two between 160 and 164, eight between 155 and 159, 16 between 150 and 154, and 42 between 145 and 149.

Miss McCrummen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McCrummen of 1614 Avenue N.

Results of the test will be used at Tech in advising with freshmen failing or doing unsatisfactory work, and also will be used in vocational guidance, said Dr. Barnett.

Briggs contended he was parked on a shoulder when a car driven by Dr. Storm and owned by Dr. Tisdal struck him, injuring his right knee.

Sharp Warning Given Britain

Economic Annihilation Of All Jews Goes Forward; Wedge Of Hatred Driven Deeper

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 22 — Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels declared to 2,000 propaganda workers of the Berlin district tonight that nazis will "stick to their guns" on the Jewish problem.

The meeting, first of a series of 1,500 anti-Semitic demonstrations scheduled during the next few months, was held as Germany prepared to press economic annihilation of the Jews, a policy which appeared to be driving a wedge between her and three great nations—the United States, France and Britain.

Warning Is Given

Speaking in the Kroll opera house, Goebbels coupled his attacks on Jews with yesterday's debate in the British house of commons, when Germany's policies were criticised, and warned:

"If the English want to conclude a binding friendship with the German people, they should not make this friendship dependent on inner political German circumstances."

Earlier in the day Germany had received a United States note asking formal assurances that decrees ousting Jews from German business would not apply to American citizens, and informed quarters had admitted the pressure on Jews had greatly alienated French sentiment conducive to a "no more war" accord with France like that with Britain.

Solution Is Necessary

"The behaviour of Jewry itself in Germany compels a sweeping and swift solution," Goebbels asserted.

"The German nation today no longer will put up with interference and a governess-like tutelage," he said of parliamentary criticism in London.

"They say: in the last five years you have handled the Jews badly.

"But Jews still possess 60 per cent of Berlin's real estate. Jews even now own capital of approximately 8,000,000,000 marks ($3,200,000,000). That means the German people, according to their percentage of the population, ought to have 900,000,000,000 marks ($360,000,000,000), but the German people possess only 200,000,000,000 marks ($80,000,000,000) of national wealth.

Still Retain Wealth

"That means, therefore, that the Jews still have managed to keep the four and one-half times more of German wealth after five and a half years of national socialist government."

The press continued to assail both the United States and England as

Witnesses Deny Parts Of Woman's Story In Which She Accused Man Of Assault

(By The Associated Press)

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 22.—The defense rested in the trial of four persons charged with the revenge abduction of Irving Baker late today, and rebuttal witnesses denied parts of Mrs. Kent W. Berry's story that she was violated by Baker during a July 4 outing.

Four guests at the outing were state witnesses in the trial of Dr. Berry, 50; William K. McAloon, 55; James Reddick, 28, and Robert H. Smith, 32, charged with first degree kidnaping and assault in connection with an admitted attack on Baker last Aug. 19.

The four declared Baker was not under the influence of liquor on July 4, said they had not noticed any change in Mrs. Berry's attitude toward Baker after the time she said the violation occurred.

Previously 12-year-old Mardell Smith testified for her father, saying Dr. Berry came to their home to see Smith the day of the beating.

"They talked about horses and bird dogs," she testified, "and he

Increased Control Measures In Fight Against Grasshoppers In '39 Is Sought

Federal Funds Are Required

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 22. (AP)—Men on the front line of the nation's battle against grasshoppers recommended today increased control measures for 1939 and an extension of the program to a permanent basis.

A conference of state hopper control leaders suggested a $5,000,000 congressional appropriation for the 1939 campaign, more than double the $2,125,646 spent this year. The regional grasshopper control committee boosted estimates of poison bait needed—from 178,411 tons, the 1938 estimate, to 206,242 tons for 1939.

Baiting Crews Sought

Federally paid baiting crews, using airplanes and power-spreading machines, where necessary, were recommended.

Infestation through the midwestern states is not so severe as last year, the committee reported, but included in the 1939 plans are provisions for poisoning idle and range land never before controlled.

The control committee reelected O. S. Bare, Nebraska extension entomologist, chairman.

Tons of bait estimated as necessary for the various states in 1939 and the comparative amounts estimated for 1938, included: New Mexico 8,049 and 2,178; Oklahoma 2,125 and 4,052; Texas 17,977 and 14,000.

Welcome Is To Be Given Here

Hundreds of Lubbock automobile windshields will be marked by "Welcome, Sandies; Hop In" when Amarillo rooters arrive at 11:55 o'clock Thursday morning and at 12:05 that afternoon at the Santa Fe depot for the annual Turkey day game between the Sandies and the Lubbock High school Westerners.

Appeal Made To Car Owners

Moreover, there will be an attempt to transport Amarilloans to and from the football game.

The chamber of commerce goodwill committee, joined by agencies of the public schools, have combined in an appeal to Lubbock motorists.

"Go to the chamber of commerce or to the high school and get those stickers," asked Chas. Whitacre, goodwill committee chairman.

Take Them To Game

"Then go to the station and help transport the hundreds from the grid specials, taking them to Hilton hotel headquarters.

"Then, beginning at 1 o'clock that afternoon, drive your "Welcome, Sandies; Hop In" tagged cars slowly by the Hilton and invite every Amarilloan in sight to ride with you to the stadium.

"And don't forget them when the game is over—no matter who wins. Drive the North Plains representatives back to their hotel.

Further Developments Announced

"Why not contribute to our obligation of making Lubbock known as the Friendly City?"

Further developments were announced.

The Amarillo football team will arrive at 10:10 o'clock tonight, aboard train.

Lubbock's Westerner band will meet the Amarillo grid special.

Parade Is Scheduled

There will be a parade on downtown streets, the line of march not having been announced.

Thousands are expected to line the sidewalks to watch.

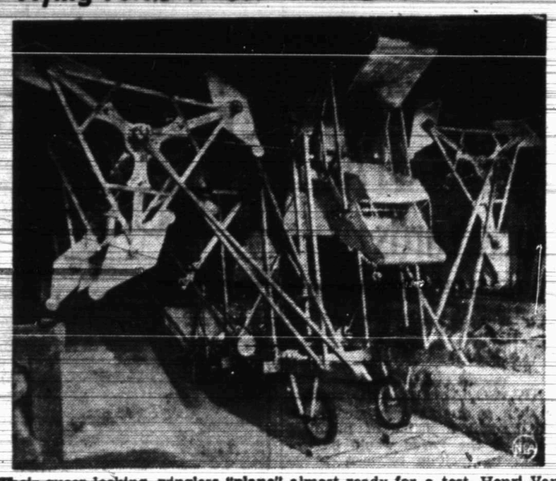

Last estimate, based on a report of the general agent of the Santa Fe lines at Amarillo, on attendance was that possibly 8,000 would be here from Amarillo—by rail, cars, bus, autos and otherwise.

Playing her own accompaniment, Miss Coyla Prosser, a protege of the Lions club, played and sang yesterday at the luncheon in the Hilton hotel. She sang two solos as well as played two piano numbers.

Miss Prosser is operating a news stand in the postoffice lobby and she was started in the work by the club, President Robert H. Bean said. She is also helping Miss Ola Belle Brown of Brownfield, who hopes to get a similar stand in the new postoffice building there.

Burton K. Hackney of the Brownfield club, head of a delegation from that group, told of their plans for Miss Brown. They are also helping Mrs. Chambless, also blind, with a stand in the court house.

W. H. Evans announced the Band Mother's club was selling badges after the luncheon, to aid in purchasing uniforms for the high school band.

Take Calotabs to Help Nature Throw off Colds

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of any virus-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which may be needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package.—(adv.)

Mrs. J. R. Jameson Is Treated For Fracture Of Knee-Cap

Mrs. J. R. Jameson of 2625 Nineteenth street Tuesday was admitted to West Texas hospital for treatment of a fracture of her left knee-cap, almost exactly four years after having suffered a similar fracture of the right knee-cap.

She was returning Monday from Dallas when the automobile in which she was riding was in collision with a mule. The accident was near Weatherford.

After receiving emergency treatment at Weatherford, she arrived here Tuesday by train and was taken to the hospital. Surgery was required.

Tuesday night her condition was described by hospital authorities as "good."

Her injury four years ago was in an automobile accident.

Building Total For Year In City Nearing Three Million

To within $30,000 of the three-million-dollar mark went Lubbock's building permit total for 1938 with issuance of a half-dozen permits Tuesday by the inspector, authorizing construction and repairs estimated to cost $16,760.

The total for the two-day-old week shot to $26,260; the November aggregate neared the $250,000-figure with a total of $226,468; and the year's mark rested at $2,971,272.76.

Permits went for three residences and a brick and tile building, each of which will cost from $3,000 to $5,500.

Net Estate Of $26,410,837 Left By John D. Rockefeller

Majority Is In Federal Bonds

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—A net estate of $26,410,837—some $17,000,000 of it in government bonds—was left by John D. Rockefeller, sr., founder of one of the mightiest of all fortunes.

This was disclosed in a transfer tax appraisal—a step legally incident to the collection of taxes—filed today. At the same time attorneys estimated that after payment of federal and state levies the estate would amount to some $10,000,000.

One Standard Oil Share

In all the securities left by the capitalist there was a single $43.94 share of stock of the vast Standard Oil enterprise he had fashioned many years ago.

Rockefeller's holdings once were estimated at close to $1,000,000,000, but in the last years of his long life—he was 97 when he died 18 months ago—he had confined his activities substantially to giving away vast sums.

In addition, he had settled money on his descendants.

With this explanation that other heirs already had been provided for, he left almost the whole of the remaining estate in trust for a granddaughter, Mrs. Margaret Strong De Cuevas, the wife of a Spanish marquis who maintains an American home in Lakewood, N. J.; her two children, and the Rockefeller institute for medical research.

Programs Will Be Held Today

Special assemblies, parties, and programs are being given in Lubbock schools today to celebrate Thanksgiving. At 3 o'clock this afternoon all schools will be dismissed until Monday.

In Senior High school the Thespian club, sponsored by Miss Marie Cook, will present a one act play, "Puritan Follies" in the regular assembly at 2:35. The Music department, directed by Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter, will give several numbers at the beginning of the program. Members of the cast are: Buddy Sprague, Governor Bradford; Ruth Overton, Mrs. Bradford; Margaret Cammack, Priscilla; Jimmy Day, Miles Standish; Norma Day, Theresa; Jo Jackson, Roger; O. J. Davis, Indian Chief; Mary Jane Paine, Kay West. The club constructed the stage set. Nancy Ann Miller is chairman of the scenery committee, and Sara Jones is chairman of the property committee.

To Give Program

The orchestra, directed by Miss Beulah Dunn, will give the regular assembly program at Junior High today. Mothers of K. Carter pupils have been giving Thanksgiving parties for rooms, and special programs are scheduled in the various rooms.

Sanders school will present the regular Lubbock Public school radio broadcast this afternoon at 2:30 this afternoon, giving seasonal scripture readings and music. The program has been arranged by Mrs. E. B. Speck and Miss Margaret Prewitt.

A special program has been planned by Sanders students in the third grade for their mothers. Second grade students are to sing Thanksgiving songs through the halls today.

Last night Guadalupe pupils gave a program for their parents and the community. Mary Chaves told the story of Thanksgiving, and each room in this school presented a number on the program. The program was closed with a play on books.

Tech Debaters Enter Contest

Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, debate coach of Texas Technological college, announces that four Tech debate teams will leave this morning for Winfield, Kas., to enter the annual Interstate Debate tournament at Southwestern college.

The tournament, which is the second largest of its kind in the United States, will begin Friday morning and continue through Saturday. The Tech teams will return to Lubbock Sunday. Entries are limited to 50 schools.

Team members planning to leave Wednesday are: Waggoner and Warlick Carr, both junior arts and sciences students of Lubbock, comprising a senior men's team; Richard Burwell, junior arts and sciences from Amarillo, Orville Shofner, Levelland, freshman arts and sciences, and Roy Chambless, sophomore arts and sciences, Brownfield, who alternate on another men's senior team; Lois Mae Speers, junior arts and sciences of Dickens, and Mary Paul Long, junior arts and sciences of Lubbock, senior women's team; Shirley Bass, San Angelo, sophomore arts and sciences, and Raymond Goodrich, Amarillo, freshman arts and sciences, mixed junior team. The two Carr boys are the only ones of this group who went to Kansas debates last year.

Senior teams may be entered by senior colleges only, but freshman and sophomore debaters may enter the junior college division.

The Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary debate fraternity, question will be used: "Resolved, that the United States should cease to use public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

Each team will participate in at least eight different debates, Miss Pendleton said, six decision contests and two non-decision.

This is the third consecutive year that Tech teams have entered the Kansas tournament. Last year however, the college sent only two teams, one senior girls and one senior boys. The boys' team won all their debates and girls lost only one.

After returning from the Interstate tournament the Tech debaters will contest teams from Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, here Dec. 9. The other teams at the Kansas matches will be the first competition the Tech groups have met this fall.

YOUR WILL-POWER ...THE MODERN HAZARD TO YOUR NERVES

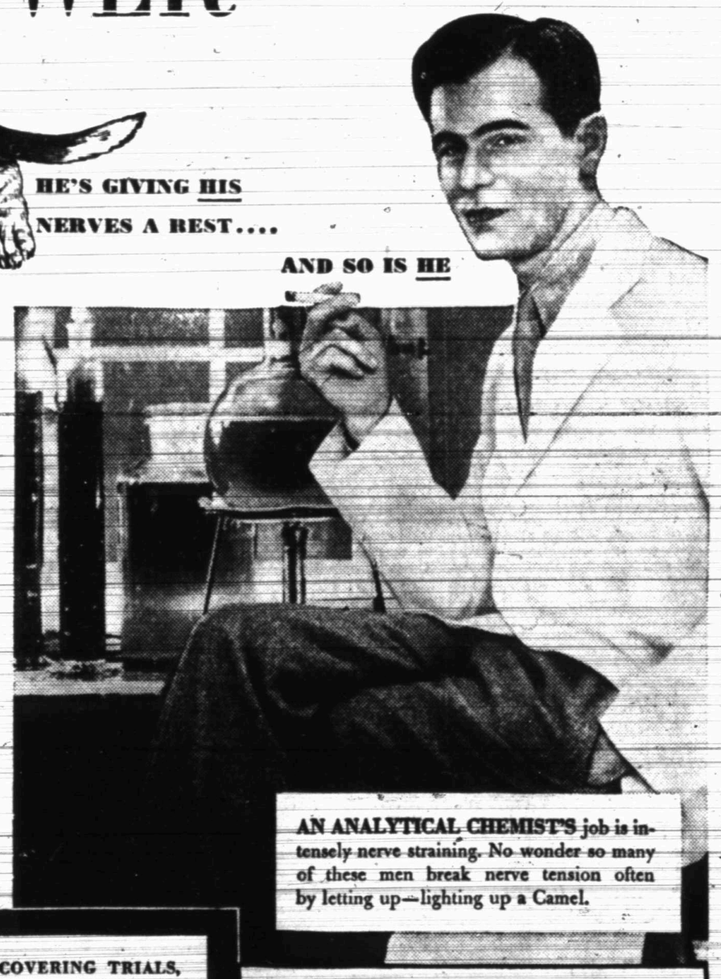

BEAGLE HOUND

English fox-hound in miniature. Solid and big for his inches, true beagle has the long-wearing look of the hound that can last in the chase. One of the oldest breeds in history—close to the original breed of hounds. U. S. standards specify 15 inches maximum height—any true hound color acceptable.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST....

AND SO IS HE

THE frazzling pace of these fast-moving times doesn't mean a thing in the life of the dog. Although his complex, high-keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, when the dog feels his nerves tire he settles down—relaxes—as the beagle hound above is doing. That is instinctive with the dog. We are not so likely to break nerve tension before it gets our nerves upset. Ambition and determination push us on and on... past the warning stage of nerve strain. Will-power silences the instinct to pause and rest.

And yet jittery, ragged nerves are a distinct handicap. Don't let your nerves get that way. Learn to ease the strain occasionally. Let up—light up a Camel! It's such a pleasant way to rest your nerves—a brief recess, mellow with the pleasure of Camel's mildness and ripe, rich taste. Yes, no wonder smokers say Camel's costlier tobaccos are so soothing to the nerves.

They've learned—millions have—to give nerves relief... They

Not all cigarettes can be made from the choicest tobacco, the fine top grades—there isn't enough of it available! Guest Programs Are Held By Three Of Six Study Clubs Meeting Tuesday

Literary Discussions Are Featured At Several Afternoon Gatherings

Three of six study clubs meeting Tuesday afternoon had guest programs with a combined attendance of approximately 200 women.

The Junior Twentieth Century club and guests, meeting in the Texas Technological college library, heard an interesting review of "The Yearling" (Rawlings) by James G. Allen of the Tech English faculty.

Mr. Allen complimented the book highly and suggested that those attending, who have not already done so, read the book for their own entertainment. He read a chapter of "Roaring Guns," written by an 8-year-old boy, as illustrative material connected with his lecture. About 50 women were present.

Texas Book Reviewed

Fifty members and guests of the Athenaeum club heard H. C. Pender, acting head of the Tech department of government, review "Texas Bluebonnets and Blood" (Lenoir Hunt) in the junior ballroom at Hotel Lubbock. The author's daughter, Mrs. Arthur A. Moore, jr., of Lubbock, was among the guests.

Mrs. M. L. Shepherd introduced Mr. Pender.

Seventy Attend

A regular meeting of the Lubbock Woman's Forum, held in the Tech women's dormitory lounge, was designated as guest day, and 70 members and guests heard a program for which Mrs. H. J. Bingham was leader.

Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the college department of history, was guest lecturer on "Recent Trends in Mexico." He told the life story of President Cardenas, explained political and economic changes in Mexico during the past several years, explained the Mexican government expropriation of oil fields and properties and described relations between governments of the United States and Mexico.

The lecture was preceded by two vocal solos, "The Trumpeter" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Rex Webster with piano accompaniment by Miss Imogene Webster. The program was concluded with two piano solos by Miss Jane Wilson who played "The Fountain" by John Steinfieldt, a Texas composer living in San Antonio, and "Valcik" (Mojkrex).

During a business discussion, presided over by Mrs. R. H. Hester, it was announced that the members will give a dinner for their husbands the night of Dec. 12 at Seaman hall.

Mesdames Hester and Raymond Marshall presided at the refreshment table which was decorated in a manner suggestive of Thanksgiving in Colonial days. A lace cloth covered the table which was centered with two hurricane lamps of red glass and two arrangements of grapes and other fruits draped from crystal holders. Also on the table were lighted white candles in two old-fashioned, three-pronged candelabra, and red autumn leaves.

Hostesses were Mesdames M. M. Ewing, Robert Crawford, Charles Adams, jr., R. P. Fuller, Fred Ellison, A. H. Maas, Jimmy Smith and Emmett B. Kerr.

Magazine Is Studied

Mrs. George W. Dupree was leader for an Atlantic Monthly magazine program at Twentieth-Century club meeting at Hotel Lubbock. The current article, "Patriotism—But How?" (Howard M. Jones) was discussed by the leader and Mrs. R. A. Studhalter. Twenty-one members were present.

Sorosis Club Meets

Mrs. J. W. Wallace of 2113 Fourteenth street was hostess to Sorosis club members at her home. Mrs. E. R. Howell discussed the book, "The Real Abyssinia" (C. F. Ray) and Mrs. W. A. Clark discussed current topics of Abyssinia. General discussion followed.

Others attending were Mesdames E. L. Banks, W. L. Bradshaw, R. T. Campbell, W. P. Clement, C. B. Powell, A. W. Evans, I. M. Robinson, C. R. Hurmence, C. Y. Partain, J. D. Peters, E. L. Price, J. C. Reynolds, T. C. Root, W. R. Rush, C. H. Smith, A. T. Stewart, R. S. Williams and Ed Tonn.

Two Entertain

Mesdames J. D. Sanders and Gordon Thompson were hostesses for a Clement-Sorosis club meeting in the Sanders home, 2401 Twenty-first street. Roll call, answered by naming famous Texas educators, was followed by a program on "The Educational System."

Feature of the program was presented by seven children of the Guadalupe school and their principal, Mrs. George Duval. Their subject was "Talking Books." Mrs. Robert Cooper discussed "Our State Colleges and Libraries."

A convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in Austin, Nov. 7, was discussed by Mrs. Sanders who was a delegate.

Others attending Tuesday were Mrs. Lewis Kerr, a new member, and Mesdames W. K. Cooper, J. D. Hinson, Ben Jenkins, Hugh V. Newton, Ernest Ohnemus, Guy L. Wheatley, Powell McWhirter, Preston Smith, Bob Gee and Cliff Widener.

It was announced that the club will meet at 1 p. m., Dec. 13, in the new home of Mrs. Gee for luncheon for which Mesdames Gee, Robert Cooper and McWhirter will be hostesses. A regular meeting will follow.

Capacity Audience Receives Blitzes

Every one of the almost 1500 seats in the Senior high school auditorium was filled Tuesday afternoon when George M. Hunt school presented Mr. and Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz, cellist and pianist, in an illustrated concert for elementary school pupils.

Mr. Blitz showed a moving picture, "The Little Swiss Wood-Carver," and allowed the children to help him select proper musical scores for the scenes, lecturing meanwhile on how the selections should be made. Then the picture was shown again while Mr. and Mrs. Blitz played the proper music. The musicians also played "The Swan" inviting the children to "listen to the water" and imagine their own picture.

The lecture was replete with Mr. Blitz' witticisms which were enjoyed thoroughly by the children as well as the number of adults who attended.

Miss Mary Meador, Hunt principal, introduced the artists. Mr. Blitz concluded his lecture by complimenting the audience for its courteous and undivided attention.

"Helping Hand Suicide" Puzzles Police; Friend Of Wife Held As Witness

Strange Death Investigated

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 22. (AP)—Melvin Kittel, 34, New York salesman and friend of Mrs. Marie Burckhalter, 44, who is accused of aiding in her husband's death by carbon monoxide, was held in $2,000 bail today as a material witness in the strange case.

"I am going to help her all I can," Kittel said, after Assistant District Attorney Elbert T. Gallagher questioned him on his presence at the Burckhalter home four hours before police were summoned.

Found Dead Saturday

The husband, Eugene Y. Burckhalter, 47, president of the Southern Chemical company in Mount Vernon, was found dead Saturday in one of the family cars, with a vacuum cleaner hose attached to the exhaust pipe and leading into the tonneau.

Mrs. Burckhalter's wise-cracking calm—the lack of emotion that first aroused Prosecutor Gallagher's suspicions—broke late today when she was held in $10,000 bail on a formal charge of first degree manslaughter.

Gallagher said the housewife admitted she "thought up" the method of death and helped her husband locate the starter button in the darkened garage when he faltered.

Shaking violently, Mrs. Burckhalter, who was named sole beneficiary in her husband's $10,000 life insurance policy, was ordered to the county jail, pending arraignment next Tuesday.

Gallagher described Kittel as having been "very friendly" with Mrs. Burckhalter for some years. She insisted, Gallagher said, their relations were "platonic."

Gallagher said Mrs. Burckhalter told him she took a farewell snapshot of her husband before he entered the garage "because I had one more film left and I wanted to use it."

The department estimated that the farm cash income for the twelve months of 1938 would be about $7,625,000,000 compared with $8,600,000,000 last year.

General Pershing Arrives For Short Visit In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Twenty-one years older than when he left San Antonio to become commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces in the World war, but still carrying himself with the bearing of a soldier, despite the rigors of war and advancing years, General John J. Pershing arrived in San Antonio for a brief visit today.

On hand at the depot to greet Gen. Pershing was a delegation of military and civic leaders, headed by Mayor C. K. Quin. Army commanders of the various military posts in this section were present.

Gen. Pershing, preserving his well-known reluctance to be interviewed, was silent concerning his plans. He said he did not know how long he would remain in San Antonio.

Accompanying the general was his sister, Miss Mary Pershing.

Burglary Case Draws Probe

Federal authorities, along with city and county authorities, Tuesday night continued to delve into the recent burglary of the postoffice of Shallowater in which pennies were taken.

It was indicated charges against at least one of the several negroes held, would be filed in federal court today.

Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and Bill Mabray, assistant chief of police, figured primarily in breaking the case. They said an alert filling station proprietor between Lubbock and Shalloweter had given the tip that, in the neck of time, halted flight of the suspects.

Loot Is Recovered

The negroes paid in pennies for several gallons of gasoline, he said. The station man telephoned Harrist, who with Mabray, went to Shallowater and not only recovered from a third to half the pennies believed taken, but six or seven dresses, women's underwear, a coatsuit, and shoes.

A statement had been dictated and signed by one of the blacks after their car had been halted by Ralph Goldwater of the police when en route to Paris, Texas.

Negroes were questioned Tuesday night in connection with the case.

Happy Over The Gly-Cas Action

Mrs. Mattie Grayson Found Gly-Cas To Be Just What She Had Needed For Years; Enjoying Good Health

"I am now on my second box of Gly-Cas and feel like an entirely different person," said Mrs. Mattie Grayson, 816 South P. Street, Harlingen, Texas. "Constipation, gas and bloating had caused me many miserable years of suffering and there seemed to be nothing I could do about it for everything I tried failed to help me in the least. My stomach simply would not digest my foods properly and I had to diet strictly. Often after eating, my heart would pain me so I could hardly get my beath, endured awful smothering spells. It seems my entire system was filled with poison and in spite of all I tried I only grew worse each day. It was terribly discouraging for all I could see ahead of me was suffering. But finally I began Gly-Cas and from the first I realized I had found the medicine I had been searching for these many years.

"It is remarkable the change Gly-Cas has made in my condition and in such a short time too," continued Mrs. Grayson. "I am now enjoying the best health I have had in fifteen years. All that dreadful gas, bloating and smothering spells have now gone. Even my bowels have been regulated, eat three meals a day and no longer have to diet to keep from suffering afterwards. No wonder everyone is talking of the action of Gly-Cas—it is truly remarkable."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

3. CHASSIS PROTECTED. WHY: Under ordinary driving conditions winter Mobilgrease Won't Squeeze Out—Wash Out—or Congeal—stops squeaks and makes your car run smoother.
4. TRANSMISSION PROTECTED. WHY: Your gear-shift lever answers this when it sticks and is hard to move. Winter Mobil Gear Oil makes shifting easy.
5. DIFFERENTIAL PROTECTED. WHY: There are two types of differential gears, and each needs a special winter Mobil Gear Oil to prevent dragging and wear.
6. RADIATOR PROTECTED. WHY: Mobil Radiator Flush loosens rust and scale and re-opens clogged passages. It prepares your radiator for Mobil Freezone.
7. BATTERY PROTECTED. WHY: Cold weather reduces battery efficiency. Clean and grease terminals; regular servicing speeds cold starts.

When you step on the starter gasoline is pumped into the motor in vapor form. If it doesn't fire and start your motor promptly, it turns back into liquid form and either drains into the crankcase to dilute your oil, or passes out the exhause pipe... wasted!

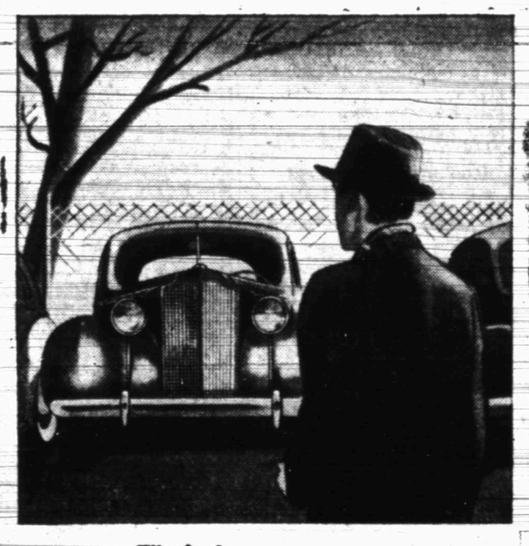

You can eliminate this waste by stopping at the sign of the Flying Red Horse for fast-firing winter Mobilgas and quick-flowing winter Mobiloil, two important points of Magnolia Winter Proof service.

Undetermined Number Of Persons Buried When Mountainsides Crack Open

Great Section Is Evacuated

GASTRIES, St. Lucia, British West Indies, Nov. 22. (AP)—Steep mountainsides of St. Lucia, among the most beautiful in the West Indies, cracked open today in a series of avalanches which buried an undetermined number of persons estimated as running into the hundreds.

The government, supervising rescue work, late today had accounted for 75 bodies. Many persons were missing and one estimate was that 150 had been killed.

An area of 64 square miles was ordered evacuated as a precautionary measure as slides continued this afternoon.

Covered With Slime

One area of seven acres was covered with a coat of clay slime 20 feet deep.

A whole mountain appeared to have parted in half and toppled over, the mass moving across so rapidly that few had time to escape its path.

Some witnesses said the landslides began with loud detonations, lending weight to reports they might be of volcanic origin.

Others attributed the slides solely to continuous rains of the past three weeks.

failing to solve Germany's problem of getting rid of her Jews.

Although a formal French-German accord was said to have been delayed, Adolf Hitler and Robert Coulondre, new French ambassador, exchanged friendly assurances when Coulondre presented his credentials to Hitler at Berchtesgaden.

Reply Asked By U. S.

The United States note, presented to the foreign office late yesterday and disclosed today, said the Washington government assumed Germany's decrees against Jewish participation in business did not apply to American citizens and asked a reply as to whether the assumption were correct.

Meanwhile, there were these developments in the anti-Jewish campaign.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels announced a "new wave of mass meetings" was underway to acquaint every German with what nazis term the Jewish "menace" to civilization;

Ban Upon Services

Authoritative quarters said the German government had ordered a ban on all Jewish religious services except marriage and burial rites—the most far-reaching interference with practice of the Jewish religion in the present anti-Semitic campaign;

The justice ministry was reported by the Frankfurter Zeitung to have ruled that any non-Jewish attorney who undertakes to defend a Jew in court or even give him legal advice risks exclusion from the bar association.

The press, meanwhile, recorded nazi feeling against settlement of German Jews in British Tanganyika, former German East Africa, as proposed by Great Britain. Official reaction was withheld.

However, there was talk that Chancellor Hitler would summon the reichstag to protest against allotment of former German territory to Jews.

Alice Lee Jemison, a Seneca Indian and a representative of the American Indian Federation, testified that the Civil Liberties Union had sponsored the Wheeler-Howard act of 1934, an Indian control measure.

She said the measure, which was advocated by John Collier, head of the Indian bureau, was opposed by "all intelligent Indians." She said the measure provided for collective farming and encouraged communal ownership and destruction of private property.

When the skull-and-crossbones pictured above rises in Washington nowadays it doesn't mean that Captain Kidd has sailed up the Potomac but rather that the pirate, Traffic Death, has stolen another human life. For twenty-four hours after a person is killed in a traffic accident, the pirate flag flies, as pictured above, before the District building. When no traffic fatality happens in a 24-hour period, the white banner of safety, shown at right, is raised.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 22. (AP)—A slender blonde today convinced Joseph E. Daily, circuit court judge, she was Miss Jessie Barker and was awarded a $1,500,000 fortune.

Miss Barker said she was happy after it was all over, but not excited.

Westerners Pronounced "Ready" As Heavy Drills For Amarillo Game End

Battle Of High Powered Backs Nearly Here

The Westerners are "right."

For the first time in several seasons Coach Weldon Chapman's squad is approaching a contest with the Golden Sandstorm with no tenseness whatever and with a determination that causes railbirds to strengthen their hopes for a Lubbock victory.

Last hard workout before the title clash was reeled off Tuesday afternoon. A light limbering up exercise is scheduled for today. In the workout yesterday every phase of the game was stressed. All players were on hand and in fine physical and mental condition.

Sandies Arrive Tonight

Coach Howard Lynch leads his squad into Lubbock tonight at 10 o'clock. No serious injuries have been reported from the Sandie camp which has been defying freezing weather in preparing to overcome the most serious threat to their District 1 supremacy in many years.

Rumors to the effect that Blazin' Bill Thompson had undergone an appendectomy are false, reports from Amarillo state. The big fullback will definitely be in the Sandie line-up carrying the hopes of Amarillo for the District pennant. It is that respect the expected record throng of 17,000 will have another all-state candidate to keep their eyes on, Lubbock's Wild Wallace Webster. Both have been prominent in their team's rise to the top this season and it is on their individual efforts that much of the outcome of Thursday's tussle depends. While the contest is expected to be a battle of backs much of the circulation is being centered around the forward walls of the two elevens. Should each team's stellar backs be spotted then the winner will depend on the best line.

Tickets Nearly Gone

Lubbock's line play has been probably more outstanding defensively this season. In more than one instance Westerner forwards have repelled opponents goal line thrust to come out on top. The most notable such incident was when Lubbock held Vernon on the 1-yard line then came bac kto score.

While the Amarillos and Lubbocks are playing their traditional game, Wichita Falls and Vernon will be attempting to eliminate each other and win the right to clash with District 1's champion.

Only a few general admission tickets were left on sale late Tuesday and high school officials made preparations for a sell-out. Approximately 2,500 extra bleacher seats have been erected at the south end of the field according to E. J. Lowrey, business manager of high school athletics. Texas Technological students must present their activity tickets along with their general admission ducats to the game, Lowrey said.

Brownfield Fans To Ride Special For Championship Tilt

A special train will be run from Brownfield Thursday morning for Plainview where the Cubs and Olton's Mustangs clash in a Turkey Day feature for the championship of District 5B.

Leaving Brownfield at 8 o'clock the special is scheduled to arrive in Plainview at 10:30. Return starts at 6:30 that afternoon.

The Plainview Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the game which will be played on the Junior High school field. Brownfield, undefeated in southern half play, will face an Olton eleven that has steadily improved with each succeeding game. The teams met earlier in the season with the Cubs emerging victorious.

Coach Ernest Jones, working his first year with Olton, has shaped his heavy team into a powerful, polished squad since September and the Mustangs are expected to be a real test for the tauted Cubs. Winner of the contest meets Rotan, crowned champion of District 6B, in bi-district play, probably in Lubbock Dec. 2.

More than 200 tickets have been sold for the train.

Notre Dame Nudges Frogs For Top Grid Position; Red Raiders Are 17th

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Numbering ranking teams from the East, Middle west and South among its eight victims, Notre Dame's all-conquering football team today retained its top ranking among the leading gridiron powers in the latest Associated Press poll of the country's sports writers.

The fact that Georgia Tech, from the South, Army, Navy and Carnegie Tech, from the East, and Minnesota and Northwestern, two front-rank Big Ten teams, bowed before the might of the Irish probably was the deciding factor that kept Elmer Layden's crew, with 48 first-place ballots and 807 points, ahead of Texas Christian, with 28 and 746. T.C.U. has scored 234 points in nine games to Notre Dame's 149 in eight, but the Southwest conference leaders have played a less representative schedule.

Duke Places Third

Of the 84 ballots, the other first-place nominations were spilt among the next three teams. Duke, only unbeaten-untied-unscored on major eleven in the country, drew three No. 1 votes and 553 points, to place third. Tennessee, also given three votes as top team, and once-beaten Pittsburgh, given two, tied for fourth with 523 points.

Behind them came Oklahoma, all-winning Big Six conference champion; Carnegie Tech, downed only by Notre Dame; Minnesota, repeating Big Ten title-holder; California, sure of at least a tie for Pacific Coast conference honors, and Cornell, the eastern "Ivy league's" dominant power.

The final relative standing of Duke and Pittsburgh should be settled Saturday before a Durham, N. C., crowd that promises to set a record for Dixie football. Davey O'Brien, on the same afternoon, will lead his high-geared T.C.U. machine against Southern Methodist in the deciding game of the Southwest conference race; Tennessee will stack its perfect slate against Kentucky, last but one of the Volunteers' rivals, on Thursday, when Carnegie Tech meets North Carolina State and Cornell battles Pennsylvania in their annual "Turkey Day" scrap.

Irish Rest This Week

Only Minnesota and California, of the first ten, can stand on their present records when the final returns are in, while of the others only Notre Dame, which winds up its campaign Dec. 3 against Southern California, gets a chance to rest this week.

Second ten—Holy Cross 79, Michigan 52, Dartmouth 38, Southern California 36, Northwestern 35, Villanova 33, TEXAS TECH 25, Fordham 21, Santa Clara 13, Georgetown 11.

Blazin' Bill Continues In Health

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following yarn concerning Amarillo High school's line-slashing backfield star, Bill Thompson, appeared in Monday's Amarillo Globe, and is self-explanatory).

To Whom it may concern:

Mr. Blazing Bill Thompson, offensive sparkplug of the Amarillo High School football team, is in excellent health.

Rumors and reports to the contrary, Mr. Blazing Bill Thompson was NOT operated on for alleged appendicitis this morning; his temperature at noon was normal, his pulse rate normal, and his blood count normal.

BLAZIN' BILL THOMPSON

Rumors about Mr. Blazin' Bill's operation have been prevalent for more than a week, but they reached an all-time high this morning when one rumor carrier said he saw the Blazer taken to a hospital in an ambulance.

All Normal Except Appetite

Mr. Blazing Bill Thompson's family doctor reported that everything about the young man's general physical condition is normal except his appetite which, like his ability to carry a football, is above normal.

Arising with the sun this morning, The Blazer took his customary exercises, deep breathing out in the fresh air and that sort of thing.

Then with a gusto that surprised even himself, The Blazer side-stepped through a breakfast of a loaf of bread, toasted, of course, a hunk of ham, eggs, orange juice, a bowl of cereal (the kind champions eat), a pitcher of milk. On his way to school, he nibbled on a half dozen apples and a couple of oranges. Unsubstantiated rumor also reported that between classes, The Blazer consumed a chocolate bar and wrestled four class-mates for another.

Just what The Blazer ate for lunch is not known, for he was so hungry that he merely grabbed what was in front of him. However, it is known that several slices of bread, some milk, and a pot roast disappeared mysteriously from the school cafeteria.

Mr. Blazing Bill Thompson himself said at 12:45 P. M. today, "The report of my operation has been grossly exaggerated. I feel fine and so far as I can tell my appendix feels fine, also, thank you."

Confronted with these cold facts, Dame Rumor hung her head in shame and confessed, "Ah, me, I just can't get going any more. It must be the change in the weather. I confess it was a put up job, but what a story it would have made to have had Mr. Blazing Bill Thompson's appendix removed on the historical eve of the Sandies traditional game with the Lubbock Westerners. I'm just an old dame, an idle rumor with nothing else to do, but you can't blame me for trying, or can you?"

Meanwhile, doctors, nurses, specialists, and dietitians will continue to issue hourly bulletins like this one released only five minutes ago:

"The condition of Mr. Blazing Bill Thompson's appendix continues to be excellent with every indication pointing toward a complete recovery of the patient's appetite in time to permit his taking part in the Amarillo-Lubbock football game Thursday afternoon."

FOR JAYCEE TITLE

KILGORE, Nov. 22. (AP)—Kilgore Junior college and Schreiner Institute of Kerrville will play here Thursday night, Dec. 1, for the Texas Junior College conference championship, Coach Clyde Lee of Kilgore announced today.

Duke-Pitt Conflict First On Schedule

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—One of the biggest games on the week's double-barreled football program, Saturday's clash at Durham, N. C., between unscored-on Duke and Pittsburgh also is very definitely the No. 1 game of seven major intersectional engagements.

Pitt, beaten only by Carnegie Tech, will be upholding eastern football's rank as the dominant force in this season's intersectional warfare. Aided by the Panthers' three previous victories over teams from other sectors—Southern Methodist, Nebraska and Wisconsin—the East has come out on top in 35 games and lost 21, despite the fact it dropped two out of three over the past week end.

Marquette At Lubbock

The Southwest, only other section with a percentage better than .500, and the South came out of the latest firing with the big share of the spoils. Centenary and Miami turned in triumphs for Dixie, while Arizona upheld Southwestern prestige with its victory over Marquette.

This week's slate finds Carnegie Tech meeting North Carolina State and Miami playing Bucknell in two Thanksgiving Day intersectional duels, while on Saturday, in addition to Duke-Pitt, there will be Dartmouth's battle with Stanford on the Pacific Coast, Texas Tech's meeting with Marquette, and Catholic U's game with South Carolina. On Sunday Santa Clara will play Detroit.

Banaski Clashes With Kopecky In Main Event

TONIGHT'S CARD

Curtain Raiser—Scotty Williams vs. John Nemanic; one fall or 20 minutes.

Semi-Final — Sailor Watkins vs. Gus Johnson; one fall or 30 minutes.

Main Event—Joe Banaski vs. Joe Kopecky; two out of three falls, or two hours.

A couple of fellows named Joe go after each other tonight in Sled Allen's main event offering at the Auditorium.

From recent indications and performances, it's likely to be one of the better grappling bouts on the local stage for some time.

Banaski, a very smooth individual who knows a lot of tricks and backs them up with able manpower, is given a slight edge over the Texan. If Banaski can keep Kopecky in the ring long enough, he may bowl him over.

Banaski Is Impressive

Fans who have been attending the mat cards since Banaski hit town have been quite favorably impressed with his style and his victories; he has knocked over some good boys. Having grown into a middleweight, Banaski had to forsake his world's lightweight title.

The supporting card brings on a couple of good men against a couple of less popular rasslers. Sailor Popeye Tex Kirby Watkins, always good for a laugh and a thrill or two, tangles with Gus Johnson, the ever-faithful Swede who lacks color but who gives his opposition something to worry about.

Scotty Williams, the short Southerner, tangles with long, tall John Nemanic in the opener. Nemanic's extra height and reach give him an advantage, but the faster Williams is far from a slouch.

Four Teams Initiate Bowling League

First in a series of games initiating the Commercial Bowling league was reeled off Tuesday night with Hub Clothiers, West Texas Gas, Optometric Five, and American Optical company teams playing.

The league has scheduled games for Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Lubbock Bowling club. A special match series will be played Thursday night at 7 o'clock between picked Lubbock and Amarillo teams.

Threat To Tennessee 'Bowl' Hopes Seen In Kentucky

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 22. (AP)—Double trouble from Kentucky cast a shadow today before the Tennessee Volunteers' unchecked drive toward their first undisputed Southeastern conference championship and a "bowl" bid.

Kentucky's Wildcats, slapped around all season, come to town Thanksgiving with their famed "jinx" — a combination that has proved disastrous in the past to unbeaten, untied Tennessee teams—to try to stop George (Bad News) Cafego, great triple-threat back, and his mates.

The Kentuckians' cause looks hopeless, but Maj. Bob Neyland, a gloomy sort of fellow, is taking no chances.

"We're looking for a hard game," he said. "Kentucky is always tough for us and we can't let down."

The steel industry alone consumes approximately 3,360,000 electric light bulbs annually.

Beef In Marquette Line

CARL SIEFERT, TACKLE — RAY BUSLER, TACKLE

Another big line, even bigger than Gonzaga's powerful forwards, will face the Red Raiders Saturday when the Hilltoppers of Marquette come here. Pictured above are four of the toughest; three are regular starters, Braden at 205, Siefert at 210 and Busler at 215, while Beitzinger, the other guard pictured, weighs over 200 and will play considerable at guard.

Longhorns Lean On Old Jinx And Tradition For Turkey Victory

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (AP)—Eight straight lickings absorbed to date, one of the weakest University of Texas teams in history will lean on jinxes and tradition in the Thanksgiving Day classic against the favored Texas Aggies.

Exes who ignore records and are quite certain the entire season is played on Turkey Day, had bought more than 33,000 tickets tonight and promised to be on hand 40,000 strong for the 2:30 p. m. kickoff, business manager Ed Olle of Texas said.

Brisk, clear weather would bring out the largest Austin crowd since 1928, officials believed. Temporary bleachers have been erected in the end zone to accommodate an extra 2,000 should the enthusiasm get that far out of bounds.

No one gave Texas, weak on reserves and sparkplugs in the backfield, a look-in against the powerhouse Aggies—except the fellow who handles the jinxes and traditions department of the 45-year-old series.

Not since 1924, the year the vast Memorial Stadium was dedicated, has a Texas Aggie team even so much as scored a touchdown in Austin—let alone go back to College Station a winner.

But this year tradition is due for a jolt. One of the sturdiest Aggie backfields in a decade, teeming with power and finesse, will be sent out against the Texans. Dick Todd, the brilliant broken fielder, has a couple of line-jabbing partners in John Kimbrough and Jim Thomason who paraded through Rice's defense the last time out. Capt. Owen Rogers fills out the quartet.

At that, Texas has shown an improved defense in its last three games centered around Guard Jack Rhodes, a standout on a starless team.

A veteran back field of Wally Lawson, hard-working fullback; Bill Forney, Wes Boyer and Beefus Bryan will start for the Longhorns.

LADIES DAY TODAY

Regular observance of Ladies Day at Lubbock Country club is scheduled today, although cold weather may handicap golf attendance.

Mrs. Mabry Hellhecker will be hostess at a luncheon for the golfers at noon at Hotel Lubbock.

Chicago May Retire From Grid Wars

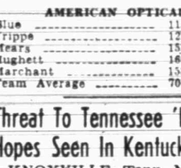

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The University of Chicago, once one of football's great powers, may be nearing the end of the inter-collegiate gridiron road.

With a record of only one Big Ten victory in the last three seasons and only one win in eight games through the comparatively easy 1938 schedule, Chicago is taking steps to further lighten the Maroon program as "the best way out of a gloomy situation."

"Chicago is systematically lightening its schedule," Athletic Director T. Nelson Metcalf said today. "This is the best solution to the problem of Chicago's consistent gridiron defeats. But if the university administration thinks a schedule in which the team plays smaller schools is harmful to public relations, I do not look with disfavor upon the abolition of intercollegiate football."

Chicago, which defeated De Pauw this season, last won a Western conference title in 1924. Since that time football fortunes of the Maroons, who once produced such greats as Walter Eckersall, Fritz Crisler, John Thomas, Walter Steffen and more recently, Jay Berwanger, have declined steadily.

Forest fires in unprotected areas of the U. S. averaged 104,816 per year from 1933-37, and did an estimated annual damage of $33,613,000.

Red Raiders Steam Up For Closing Game Of Regular Season Against Marquette; Invaders On Way

Sharing the Thanksgiving week football spotlight with the Westerners of Lubbock High, Texas Tech's Red Raiders settled down yesterday for four afternoons of rehearsals in preparation for the grand finale of the scheduled season Saturday.

Coach Paddy Driscoll leads his Marquette university Hilltoppers into Lubbock tomorrow in time for a Thanksgiving dinner. They'll drill at Westerner Field while the Westerners are having a tiff with the Amarillo Sandies, and conclude their workouts Friday at Tech field.

Upset by Arizona last Saturday night, the gridders from Milwaukee are pretty certain to be in a dangerous frame of mind when they take the field Saturday against the Red Raiders.

To Outweigh Raiders

For the second time in two weeks, the Raiders will be outweighed, this time more so in the line than was the case when the Gonzaga team came here. Marquette's line averages better than 200 pounds, the backfield around 180.

One of the toughest schedules ever drawn for a team was picked for Marquette this season, and the Hilltoppers have had their ups and downs. Starting with University of Wisconsin, Marquette has played Southern Methodist, Kansas State, Texas Christian, Iowa State, Michigan State and University of Arizona. The game with Tech winds up the Marquette schedule.

The Red Raiders, in good physical fettle, worked out lightly yesterday, and will increase the tempo today. Given a holiday Monday, they took the field with a fine spirit yesterday, and coaches were thankful for the relaxation that Monday had given them.

Tickets for the contest are on sale at the usual downtown places, and at Bo Williams office on the campus. Choice seats are going swiftly, Williams said yesterday, and late comers may have to be satisfied with general admission ducats. The out-of-town trade is especially encouraging, more than a thousand reservations having been made by out-of-town fans.

Fans may purchase tickets for the Marquette game at the stadium box office Thursday before and after the Lubbock-Amarillo game.

Options on seats for the Tech-Centenary post-season game should be taken up as early as possible, Williams said. Season ticket holders may reserve the same stadium locations for the Centenary game by making early application. The Centenary tickets go on sale next Monday.

Muleshoe And Ropes To Meet Tonight

Undefeated Muleshoe, winner of District 1-C, tangles with Ropes' Eagles, champions of District 2-C, in a bi-district title game tonight at 7:45 in the Levelland stadium.

Ropes won the right to play Muleshoe by defeating Hale Center 15-0 last week-end. The Eagles started season play rather slowly but gained momentum to mass 149 points to their opponents' 37 and take the 2-C title.

Coach Stevens' Muleshoe lads had little trouble winning the District 1-C crown making 193 points to 21 for the opposition in eight games. The Muleshoe squad is rated the superior eleven but steady improvement in the Ropes' ranks have boosted Eagle partisans' hopes for an upset.

United States Is Preparing To Send New Note To Japan Insisting On Rights

Break Sought In Deadlock

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—In an effort to break a diplomatic deadlock with Japan, the United States department appeared to be preparing tonight to send a new note to Tokyo insisting that American rights in China be observed.

Japan's reply to an earlier American note, which demanded the maintenance of the open door and complained that Japan was trying to monopolize Chinese trade, was characterized today by Secretary of State Hull as unsatisfactory.

Contentions Rejected

The Japanese reply had rejected all major contentions in the earlier American note and declared that "ideas and principles" of the past no longer applied to the Chinese situation.

Officials acknowledged that it was the implications in Japan's remarks about past principles and about the creation of a "new order" in eastern Asia that troubled them most. Observers have interpreted the remarks as an indication Japan expects to dictate conditions under which foreigners shall live and foreign business be carried on in China.

Informed students of governmental affairs expect the next American note to assert that the rights of the United States are on a par with those of Japan or any other nation.

Cheapest Dinner In Four Years Is Being Offered To The Public On Thanksgiving

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The family Thanksgiving this year will be solemnized over the cheapest dinner in four years.

A survey of wholesale and retail markets today in Chicago, the nation's food center, showed most of the important items housewives will buy at shops the next two days are priced lower than a year ago.

The general average of food prices, based on government figures, indicated the best bargains since 1934 are available.

Turkey Is Lower

For one thing, the roasted bird—most important item on the Thanksgiving day dinner—is cheaper than in 1937. In the Chicago wholesale market the price of dressed turkeys is about ½ cent a pound lower, well below the 1935 price. Ducks, geese and chickens are 10 to 15 per cent or more cheaper.

Comparison of prices in retail and wholesale markets now and a year ago also showed:

Butter 29 per cent lower; oysters about 8 per cent lower; sugar 16 per cent off; lard 28 per cent down; milk 16 per cent lower; coffee 12 per cent lower; eggs, bread, mincemeat, celery, olives and assorted nuts little changed; potatoes slightly higher; apples about 10 per cent up; cranberries 35 per cent higher; lemons and oranges slightly lower.

Releases On Oil And Gas Leases In County Filed

Thirty-one releases of oil and gas leases on Lubbock county land were filed at the office of the county clerk early this week.

Leases for exploration of oil and gas on a total of 6,303 acres of the county's land were released.

Releases were filed by Maner Graham. Land released was in block C in the northeast part of the county.

A few other releases have been filed in the last several months, attaches of the clerk's office said, but not in such numbers nor affecting so much land.

Power Project Will Get Federal Funds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Public Works administration announced today financing of its first public power project under its new policy governing competition with existing private utilities.

Administrator Ickes announced a grant of $126,000 for Columbus, Miss., to build up its own electric distribution system.

This followed negotiations in which the city offered the Mississippi Power company $232,000 for local facilities. The company held out for $536,366.

The policy under which Ickes acted was enunicated by the administrator in July, after a consultation with the White House on rules of procedure for a public body proposing to construct its own electric system with PWA assistance.

It requires, first, that a "fair and reasonable offer" be made to purchase competitive private properties. Ickes and his advisors are referees. If the offer is accepted, the PWA application is dismissed. Otherwise, the applicant is authorized to construct a duplicate system with government aid.

Band Boosters Club Plans To Stage Dance Saturday Night

The Band Boosters club will sponsor a dance to be given at the Auditorium, Saturday night. Jack York's orchestra will play. Price of admission will be 75 cents for dates and $1.00 for stags and adults.

Proceeds for the dance will go into the club's fund for buying new uniforms for the 80 band members of Senior High.

WOMEN ARE HURT

KANE, Pa., Nov. 22. (AP)—A driver and 30 women passengers were hurt, two seriously, as a bus bound from Sheffield to a Kane shirt factory collided with a deer and then crashed into a ditch today.

All of the women were employes of the shirt factory.

Tournament At Slaton Is Set

SLATON, Nov. 22 (Special)—As a means of raising funds to apply toward expense of a school yearbook, to purchase library and office supplies, and to increase general emergency funds, Slaton High school is sponsoring through its dramatics and speech department a two-night tournament of one-act plays, one to be given by each class, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

Both comedy and drama constitute the program, a play fitting each classification being scheduled each night. Freshman and senior plays are being coached by Mrs. W. K. Fry. Mrs. R. L. Smith, jr., has charge of the sophomore and junior productions. First-year students will give "Squaring It With The Boss," a comedy by J. C. McMullen, listing a cast of Billy Lokey, Jimmie Jean Guinn, Cleo Joyce Marr, Robert Hestand, Phyllis McReynolds, and Billy Lovelady.

The Sophomore Cast

Sophomores offer "Be Home By Midnight," comedy by Christopher Sergel, with a cast composed of Bobby Bailey, Juanita Burns, Kirby Scudder, jr., Frances Crowther and Paul Melton.

Laurence Russell Cook's "Riff-Raff," a drama, will be given by Dick Ragsdale, Blanch Gregory, Roy Yusbick and Laverne DeBusk, juniors.

"The Whirlwind," a temperance drama by Dorothy Clarke Wilson, will be given by the following seniors: David Todd, Marian Ferguson, Marian Bechtol and Maurice Middleton.

Musical and novelty entertainment fill the card between acts with music to be furnished by a ten-piece swing orchestra composed of Clyde Rowe, director; Mrs. Allen Ferrel, pianist; Dick Ragsdale, Truman Shelton, Lannes Hope, George Halton, J. C. Tucker, Frank Todd, Willie Petty and Warren Tabor.

The commercial and business administration departments, under direction of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Nash, have charge of advertising, sale of tickets and stage properties. Costumes are being arranged by the home economics department, under Mrs. Dayton Eckert, while the music department, with Mrs. Lillian Butler and Rowe as heads, is furnishing musical skits for the entertainment between acts.

Fifty per cent of the gate proceeds go to the yearbook fund, twenty per cent to general emergency fund, fifteen per cent to the class with the best play, ten per cent to the class with the second best play, and five per cent to the class with the third best play.

One ticket of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students will entitle the holder to admittance to all four plays.

Girl Held In Dayton No Kidnap Victim

DAYTON, O., Nov. 22. (AP)—Detective Inspector E. L. McElhaney announced today a girl held here said she is Gladys Scott, 14, of Baldwin City, Kas., reported kidnaped on the west coast last Sept. 1.

Mrs. Dorothy Ross, 17, Dayton, the girl's companion, said she knew the girl as Dorothea Karnes and met her when they worked in a Zillah, Wash., cannery. They hitchhiked to Dayton three weeks ago, Mrs. Ross said.

McElhaney asserted the two were held at the request of Sheriff Fred A. Volger of Lawrence, Kas., and that Volger's message quoted W. A. Scott, father of Gladys Scott, as saying he received a message from Mrs. O. W. Vaughn, mother of Mrs. Ross, that the Scott girl was ill here.

The girl denied she had been kidnaped, McElhaney said.

Patrolmen Block Burglar In Attempt To "Blow" Safe

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Policemen R. T. Whittle and T. B. Griffin early today snatched a lighted fuse from a nitro glycerin-loaded safe at a laundry just a few seconds before it would have discharged the "soup" and blown the safe to pieces.

The officers were only a block away when a passerby called police headquarters with information that he had heard an explosion in the building. Hurrying to the scene, the officers forced the front door and saw the sputtering fuse. Both ran to the safe and one of them—they later could not say which—pulled the fuse loose.

The burglar meanwhile had fled through the rear window through which he had entered the building. One charge of the explosive had been set off after the knob was knocked from the box, but it had only bulged the door.

DECREASE IN DEATHS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Association of American Railroads announced today that deaths caused by highway-railroad grade crossing accidents in the first eight months of 1938 totaled 900, a decrease of 244 from the corresponding period last year.

Nearly 1/2 of telephone expenses in Texas goes for wages...

Out of more than 23½ million dollars spent by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to provide telephone service in Texas last year, about 10 million dollars . . . nearly half . . . went for wages. Wages to 9,000 telephone people, who in turn spent most of that money in Texas.

Telephone wages play no small part in keeping the state's business moving. And by assuring telephone users of the services of skilled, efficient people, they play a large part in giving you good telephone service at reasonable cost. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"Jones Pays The Freight!"

MOST persons whose property holdings are so small their names do not appear on the tax rolls are aware that they pay taxes just the same. They know vaguely that the price of almost everything they buy is higher than would be the case if it bore no taxes.

But extremely rare is the individual who has even a remote idea as to how much those "invisible" taxes cost him in the course of a month or a year.

Attempting to answer that question was a survey completed recently for one of the largest life insurance companies. It apparently was a sincere endeavor to get at the real facts. The findings are interesting and informative—perhaps they may be amazing to some.

Taking the case of the individual whose wage is $20 per week who owns neither home, furniture nor automobile, it was disclosed that he pays $10.29 per month, $123.48 per year, in invisible taxes and that he pays more for everything he buys because of taxation. If he owns an automobile, as some of that wage do, his tax bill naturally goes up. If he owns a radio or if his wife owns an electric washing machine or even an electric toaster, it reflects itself in taxation. And if he should get a pay raise of say $5 per week, his tax bill becomes more in proportion than at the lower wage.

Thus is made apparent that when matters of government spending, which means taxation, are discussed, they are of concern to everyone. No one escapes entirely. That includes even the pauper in the street who would receive more from the public bounty if taxation could be substantially reduced.

Suckers And Football Pools

RARE is the individual who isn't a "sucker" for what looks like a little easy money.

It is because of this entirely human failing that such things as football betting lists have thrived to the point where they have become a racket whose payoff runs into many thousands of dollars each week.

Almost every newspaper reader knows that these football betting pools exist. They have seen numerous articles concerning them.

Perhaps smaller numbers realize that at least one variation of the racket is being operated in Lubbock and probably in other towns of the South Plains. This variation involves the picking of winners in a number of selected games of the particular week-end. In a recent list were 16 games. If the sucker could pick four out of four, he was offered odds of 4 to 1. If he could pick 14 out of 14, the quoted odds were 400 to 1. If one of his teams should lose or be tied, the bookmaker won.

The most casual knowledge of arithmetic will reveal how fantastic are the odds against the "sucker." If he should be given an even break for his money, his return on the 4-in-4 wager should be 16 to 1. And in the 14-in-14 proposition, his return should be not 400 for 1, but 16,384 for 1.

Despite these odds, it sometimes happens that the bookmaker runs into a bad day. When that happens, he already has the sucker's money. Whether he pays off depends upon his own financial ability and his inclination to honesty.

Even if these conditions weren't true, cities like Lubbock want none of such things. If pools are permitted to thrive, we are liable to discover the city infested with rival gangs competing for the easy money. Out of such things, a problem of crime or even of honesty in government can very easily grow.

It is a situation which should command the attention of officers and prosecutors without any delay. They will be failing in their duty if they permit any rackets of this breed ever to get a start.

With Our Contemporaries

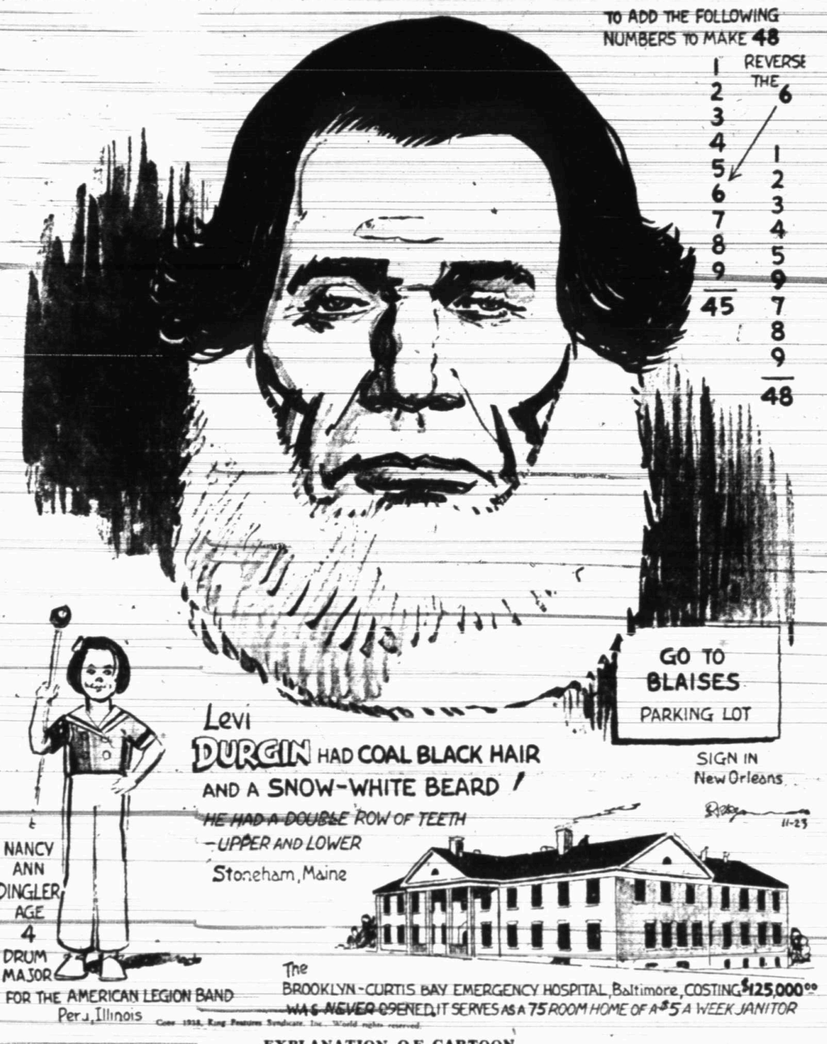

"Some men think it's their work that is burdensome, when it's the chip on their shoulder that is holding them down," J. C. Smyth says in the Scurry County Times, Snyder.

The One-Minute Sermon

Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye judgment and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

Chapter 45

The Hostage

The smoke filled my eyes, smarting, stinging, blinding, so that I marveled how Hugo could hold the car on the road, but on we hurtled, right into the red heart of the inferno, and suddenly, as the whole world around seemed filled with a single sheet of screaming, searing flame, I saw him wrench at the wheel and swing it round; as we swerved violently to the right, I felt that we were climbing again, and at the same moment a giant flaming pine fell crashing across the road we had just left.

I saw that Noah More was leaning forward, gripping Hugo's shoulder and pointing ahead with a bony finger. He was screaming out curses, urgings to go faster still, shrill threats of what he would do to Geiss when we found him. The uncanny voice poured forth in a crazed monotone, and I shuddered involuntarily, for it seemed that it needed only this, the realization that a lunatic sat beside me, to add the final touch of horror.

The unseen track grew steadily rougher, and the Hispano was bumping wildly from side to side; but I had a faint, growing suspicion that the smoke was thinning. I could see the scorched and blackened hillsides on either hand, with only a fiery thread here and there to show that devastation still lingered, holding its hand. I glanced up, saw the night sky above us flecked with stars and the moon riding clear, and ripped the coverings from my face.

"We're through!" I yelled, and as I spoke, Hugo pulled up abruptly.

We had come to another set of cross-roads. The madman at my side pointed to the right-hand, steeper path. Up and up we climbed, bumping and skidding, through a darkness of trees; and then we came out on the crest of the ridge, and before us lay a narrow, wedge-shaped valley, with the track running down, like a thin black ribbon through rough fields, to a dark huddle at the bottom that I guessed to be a building.

But now we were back in the track of the fire. The valley was still untouched, but there was a scarlet light at the head of it, the hot wind struck once more against my cheek, and I heard again the horrid roaring noise. The glow strengthened as I watched, and Fleuriot realized it at the same instant. Hugo gave a wild huzza. "We're in time!" he yelled, but the other, his anxious eyes fixed on that red horizon, muttered under his breath:

"Only just, my friend, only just!"

Down into the valley we shot, rocketing and ricocheting from unseen boulders, while the lunatic at my side screamed and chattered, and Dunning, beside Hugo, took something from his pocket that I guessed to be a gun and carefully locked it over. The inn was a big shadowy place, and as we pulled up at the entrance, where rotting gates hung open from the massive pillars, I had a sudden cold fear that once again we were too late and our quarry had gone.

The Knife

We climbed out painfully, and as we stood for a moment hesitating, Fleuriot laid a hand on Dunning's arm. "You have a gun?" he asked sharply. "Wait here, then, and keep an eye on this poor creature. It is your business to see that no one breaks away through this gate." He turned to Hugo. "You, my friend, will similarly guard the door of the main building, while you and I, Monsieur Archee, will encircle it, making contact at the farther side."

He added on a warning note: "But no noise, you understand! No calling to Mademoiselle Ottilie, even if you should see her. When we have made our inspection, we will return here, all three, to arrange our campaign."

He turned away, and Hugo and I padded softly at his heels across the great yard, to the lowering walls of the farmstead itself. Here Hugo halted obediently at the door under its overhanging lintel, and Fleuriot turned noiselessly right and I left, feeling my way along the rough stonework to the angle of the building.

As I rounded it, the red glow from the west struck my face, and I saw that the wall ahead of me was cut by a couple of windows, both heavily shuttered; but though I tried them gingerly, one after the other, they were securely fastened from the inside, and no gleam of light showed. I crept on, feeling my way, round the second corner to the rear of the house and halted abruptly, holding my breath, for Fleuriot was there before me, crouched with his eye to the ledge of another window.

He signed sharply to me to be careful, as I tiptoed forward and knelt beside him.

I looked, setting my eye to the crack between the bottom of the shutter and the crumbling stonework and bit back an exclamation.

It was a big room that I stared into, the farmhouse kitchen by the look of it, but it was bare and unfurnished now, indescribably dirty, and lit only by a single candle. Ottilie sat there propped against the wall, deathly pale, eyes closed, a crimson handkerchief bound across her mouth. She was still wearing the dark blue pajamas in which I had last seen her, but now they were torn and dusty, and her wrists and ankles were bound with heavy rope. For an instant I thought that she was dead, and a wild rush of fury seized me, so that I would have torn the shutters apart to reach the wild beast who had done it, but Fleuriot seemed to sense my impulse, for he caught my arm with a steely grip. At the same moment I saw her open her eyes suddenly and look at the man before her, and I knew that she was very much alive, for never have I seen such a look of defiant rage on any human face.

Geiss was perched on an upturned packing-case staring at her in his turn, with his blank opaque eyes, while slowly, between his long fingers, he turned something flat and shining that I realized with an uncontrollable shudder to be a razor-sharp palette knife. It was a dreadful sight, made all the more ghastly by the complete silence that enveloped it.

I saw the girl's eyes shift from his face to the knife and back to his face again, but she never blenched, and I took off my hat to her for the bravest creature I had ever known. And then suddenly Geiss spoke, and his voice seemed suddenly to break the spell that held us.

'My Life For Yours'

"You know," he said, "it was a very clever idea of mine to bring you with me, for I do not think they will find us here for a long time, and when they do, with this sharp blade across your throat, they will think a long time before they shoot, and during that time I shall be able to make terms with them—my life for yours."

Fleuriot touched my shoulder softly. "It is time!" he whispered. "We must move quickly." But the words died on his lips and he sprang to his feet with something between a groan and a sob, for on that instant, from the night shadows that ringed us, came the sound of a cracked, shrill voice raised in song. "Noah More was a funny chap, for he lived until he died. . . ."

The man inside the room heard it too, and like a flash he was on his feet, glaring round him like a wild beast. With one swift spring he was beside the prostrate girl, slashing with his knife at the cords that bound her ankles.

"They are here!" he muttered. "So soon they are here!" and he dragged her, helpless, to her feet and thrust her in front of him, facing the door in the opposite wall.

The singing voice had seemed to come from the other side of the house, but as I waited, suddenly there came a pause, and next instant it echoed again, startlingly near, from somewhere just round the corner of the building.

"And you'll hear no more of poor Noah More," it sang, "for poor Noah More's no more!"

Geiss heard it too, for he swung round swiftly, facing the window, dragging the girl after him, and holding her once more against his breast, the cruel blade across her throat. I leaped to my feet, thrust my fingers between the slit in the heavy shutters, and pulled with all my strength.

"Be quick!" I heard Fleuriot's anxious voice behind me.

As I tugged and strained, my head seemed bursting, and I could feel the muscles in my back cracking under the effort, but suddenly the shutters gave, with a rending crack of breaking wood, and as they swung open I saw Geiss standing motionless, a bare two yards away from me, peering out over the girl's shoulder with eyes that looked blind and yet were filled with a dreadful expectancy.

"You!" he said, and gave a sudden shrill cackle. "It is always you—but this time, I think, I have the better of it. Her life against mine, my young friend! I go free and you take her back to our poor Hugo—is it a bargain?"

I hesitated, my eyes fixed, shuddering, on the thin, sharp steel that lay across Ottilie's golden throat. Fleuriot had vanished, and I guessed that he was afraid the sight of him might startle the creature inside into hasty action. Everything, I thought hopelessly, hung on me and on the next words I spoke—and then, as I waited, tongue-tied, I knew that I was wrong and that everything hung on something very different, for the door behind Geiss was slowly opening, and as I looked, I saw Hugo's face, hard and dangerous, peer cautiously round it.

Hugo leaped forward, hurling the whole weight of his hundred and ninety-six pounds full on the other's back, while at the same time one sinewy hand caught at the wrist that held the knife.

Ottilie, suddenly freed, staggered sideways, as two wrestling bodies crashed together to the floor. A sudden wind blew the candle out and left the room in darkness.

Concluded tomorrow.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

BELIEVE it or not, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg has emerged as the dominant Capitol Hill figure of the rejuvenated G. O. P. He's the fellow whose hand all the Congressional newcomers want to shake, in preference to the horny paws of Jim Davis on that side, or Borah's and Norris' on the other side.

Washington veterans can't quite understand the youngsters' hero worship for the Michigan man. He's such a familiar and shopworn figure that the 1940 bookmakers dismiss him in all their reckonings. He antagonized party higherups — he was shrewder than they were—when he didn't answer the vice-presidential tap-tap on his hotel suite at Cleveland in 1936. The general opinion has been that he was through in a little way.

But Arthur apparently packs some kind of political appeal. If he's smart, he may become the mentor for the incoming band of senatorial freshmen. So, in making bets on the 1940 long-shotters, don't forget the boom-boom orator from Grand Rapids. He's in the running.

POPULAR: Contemplated expenditures— federal and private-apparently assure a baby boom last through 1940, probably until 1941 or 1942. Wise operators in business, industry and finance are making their plans to fit this unfolding economic pattern. It will be listed in history, perhaps, as the "national defense boom."

Private estimates by F. D. R.'s favorite economists forecast shot-in-the-arm outlays totaling almost 20 billion dollars (a purposely conservative figure for the 1939-1941 calendar years. They look for army-navy-air rearmament money to hit at least three billion, with W. P. A., P. W. A. and Federal Housing pouring out at least eight billions more. The utilities, the railroads and industry (with Uncle Sam's help, if necessary are counted on to raise the rest of the 20 billion outlay.

All this money, of course, will be in addition to the normal, abnormal and annual federal expenditures of about 10 billion dollars for regular and emergency activities of the government. The justification for the new financial spree will be "national defense." Every time F. D. R. socks Hitler, for instance, he rings up another billion on the federal cash register. And the people seem to be with the President on this issue.

TEAMED: Don't look now, but those two presidential hopefuls you didn't cotton to in 1932 and 1936—Herbert Hoover and Alf Landon—are trying to creep back under the flap of the political tent. After what happened on November 8, they apparently think that anything—and anybody—can happen here. So do a lot of other skeptical people around Washington.

The two titular leaders of the G. O. P.—or the tit-for-tat leaders—have not re-expressed or reaffirmed their presidential ambitions in definite or quotable language. They're too savvy—now—to commit themselves for or against any human event. But their closest friends, who can read between lines and winks when the writing and winking is good, suspect that they detect a comeback and come-hither gleam in these four famous eyes.

Funny—and almost incredible—thing is that if the present conservative trend persists, the names of Herbert Hoover and Alf Landon may figure heavily in 1940's political name-calling. They may be the Grover Clevelands of the Republican party. Don't bet on it, but wouldn't a ticket of Hoover and Landon be fun? That's the kind of humor, significantly enough, which you hear around the Capital these balmy November days.

PROBLEMS: On election night the New Deal's radio strategist phoned a national broadcasting chain to ask how many more times they planned to feature a certain political news commentator. The letter, like everybody else wise to what was happened from New Hampshire to Kansas, was reporting the results as a slap at some phases of the New Deal.

The broadcasting company replied that it expected to sponsor the announcer at least once an hour until early in the morning. Whereupon the New Deal man protested and urged that another commentator, whom he named, be substituted. The telephoned reason was that the second announcer, who had been on the air a few times, was "more interesting."

Despite F. C. C. Chairman Frank McNinch's disclaimer of any censorship intentions, it is such episodes as this which give shudders to a billion-dollar industry operating under six-month licenses revocable at the will or whim of a governmental agency. It's a problem which the next Congress will deal with pronto.

INVESTMENT: The terrific turnover in House membership has inflicted a heavy hardship on Washington's "legislative engineers"—the 100-odd lobbyists who depend on personal contact with legislators to push or block bills affecting their special interest.

The behind-the-scenes pleaders must revise their files, get acquainted with new faces, spend thousands of dollars on entertainment for the Capitol Hill incomers. Already, in order to glean the social, economic, political and personal background of the freshman members, they have wired, phoned and written to their friendly tipsters around the country. Their job between now and convening of Congress on January 3 is to fingerprint the men they don't know, physically and mentally. They must sketch the kind of appeal to which the strangers on Capitol Hill are susceptible. It's an art and a science.

One noted lobbyist, representing shipbuilders, estimates confidentially that education and entertainment of new members will cost him at least $50,000 in the coming Congressional year. "But," he concludes, "it will be worth it if I can teach 'em a few things about ships—and convince them that my people can build cheaper than my rivals or the government's yards."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE General Motors "annual wage" plan has stirred up a furor in high industrial circles. Chairman Alfred Sloan of G. M. has been one of the New Deal's most outspoken critics, yet his company now voluntarily adopts a program in line with new deal principles of stabilizing employment and wages.

Any worker who has been in the corporation's employ for two years or more will henceforth—if he chooses—receive a substantial percentage of his average weekly pay when laid off because of seasonal slackness. However, this "unemployment benefit" is essentially a loan, not a gift.

The advances must be repaid by the worker when he is rehired. So the scheme means no net increase in the corporation's annual payroll, except to the extent that laid-off employes find jobs somewhere else. In that case they have no obligation to repay the motor company. This will presumably be a minor item of expense as General Motors will have every incentive to rehire the men it has previously employed.

SMART: Keen New York observers remark that the smartest thing about the General Motors move was its timing.

By announcing the plan right after election, G. M. served notice in effect that it did not construe the New Deal setback at the polls—and especially in Michigan—as a signal to backslide on labor policies. Instead it shows a willingness to assume greater social responsibilities.

This should be a big help to its public and labor relations—and its sales to government agencies.

CHILE: New Yorkers who know their South America are keeping a wary eye on Chile. Recent political developments indicate that serious trouble is brewing for American interests in that country.

Two months ago Gustavo Ross, the conservative candidate for the Chilean presidency, looked to be an easy winner of the forthcoming election. He was Minister of Finance in the cabinet of Arturo Alessandri, the present president, and the latter was supposed to be backing him. Then Alessandri, by accident or otherwise pulled a boner by jailing Carlos Ibanez, the radical leader and presidential candidate. His influence enhanced by martyrdom, Ibanez issued orders to his followers not to vote for him, but instead to vote for Pedro Aguirre Cerda, the "moderate" candidate, to make sure of licking Ross, Cerda squeaked through by a narrow margin, and Ibanez, not out of jail, is claiming all the credit.

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (AP)—John A. Lomax, who hauls a recording machine through swamps, cotton fields, ranch country and river fronts—any place where men work hard and sing—in order to capture for posterity the folk songs of America, believes Europe is more interested in American folk music than America.

In support he cites a recent broadcast of a series of American folk tune by the British Broadcasting company which drew 100,000 letters from listeners.

He found the BBC most interested in songs of negro prisoners. The company selected 40 of Lomax' recordings for broadcasting and 37 of them were ballads of negro prisoners.

Former University Professor

Lomax, a former faculty member of the University of Texas, now is curator of folk song for the Library of Congress. Since 1910 when he published his first volume of native songs—a collection of cowboy ballads — he has gone far afield in search of more music of the hills, bottomlands and prison farms.

His work has become a family affair since his son, Alan, is an assistant in the music division of the Library of Congress.

Lomax began his search for rustic music with a 700-pound recording machine supplied by the Rockefeller foundation, but since replaced by a lighter machine made by Dr. Paul Boner, a member of the University of Texas physics department.

About 2,000 records made on the Boner machine are in the Congressional library. Lomax is preparing to publish his second volume of American ballads and folk songs.

Country Boy Wins

W. N. Corry of Kellar, one of the 72 new members of the state House of Representatives, says he is the first "country boy" representative from Tarrant county in about 20 years, meaning he is the first from other than the city of Fort Worth.

He will be the representative from the flotorial district of Tarrant and Denton counties, succeeding Lonnie Smith who tried unsuccessfully for the senate.

Although from the home county of W. Lee O'Daniel, Corry says he will oppose any O'Daniel policies he considers advisable.

"I will work with him when he is right and fight him to the last when he is wrong," he said.

Corry picked his first cotton when he was seven and has been farming ever since. He is now 37. His primary interest in legislation will be directed at improving conditions of the small farmer and stimulating industries, especially those for farm products.

THE capital's Christmas street lighting system will work overtime this year. Thousands of colored bulbs overhanging Congress avenue first will be lighted Thanksgiving eve and Thanksgiving night and burn continuously from Dec. 3 to Jan. 2 for the Christmas season. But they won't go back into storage until after Jan. 17—serving that night and the previous night as atmosphere for the inauguration of W. Lee O'Daniel.

TEXAS TIDBITS: The Texas Planning board reports ebony wood grown in the Rio Grande Valley ranks well with that produced in India. The board sent samples of the wood to an arms manufacturer who made a pair of pistol grips from it and reported it proved to be of fine grade and milled more than satisfactorily . . . No. 1 enemy of the Lower Colorado River authority is woodpeckers who like to peck holes in the poles and crossbars of high tension lines . . . E. H. Perry, chairman of the Austin Housing authority, penned his name 750 times in one day while signing contracts and other papers in connection with construction of the authority's low cost housing units for Mexican families . . . V. H. Ehlers, sanitary engineer of the State Health department, has been named a member of the council of the testing laboratory for the National Association of Master Plumbers . . . Safety in the home, school and street will be a major topic discussion at the annual School Administrator's conference in Austin Jan. 5 . . . Capital visitors may get a preview of the unofficial completed memorial museum on the University of Texas campus Nov. 24 to 27 inclusive.

In some cases counterfeit money in Great Britain has been found to contain more silver than the money issued by the Royal Mint.

TARZAN THE FEARLESS 87 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan fol'owed swiftly along the trail of the savage warriors and their captives. Just what he would do, he did not know. He would let his strategy be determined by circumstances. The girl, at least, he was resolved to save, no matter what the hazard.

Nkima sensed Tarzan's fighting mood, and knew that danger impended. Nkima was never in a mood for danger. He dropped behind. The ape-man took to the trees, for this was his swiftest mode of travel. Sharp pains stabbed his injured arm. He ignored them.

Soon he heard Jeff's cries above the chatter and laughter of the warriors. "Don't! Don't beat me!" Tarzan frowned and darted ahead. Presently he looked down on the savages. They were beating Mary, too, but she bore her pain silently, with stoic bravery.

Tarzan was a man of phenomenal composure; but the sight of the girl being beaten by those savage brutes stirred him to blind, unthinking wrath. Without counting the consequences, he dropped earthward to defend her, to face the warriors single-handed!

Chinese Cities Facing Capture

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22. (AP)—Japanese forces in central China have consolidated their Hunan and Kiangsi provincial fronts, military and naval spokesmen said tonight, and the capture of Changsha and Nanchang, provincial capitals, is "imminent."

The spokesmen brushed aside Chinese reports that the western wing of this front in a campaign toward Changsha had been rolled back across the Sinkiang river, 40 miles north of the Hunan capital.

The eastern wing was reported 30 miles north of Nanchang, in Kiangsi.

Front Is Broad

This broad battlefront reached from the eastern shore of Tungting lake nearly 200 miles to the western shore of Lake Poyang, forming the base of a triangular area bounded on the other two sides by the lakes and the Yangtze river, with Hankow at the apex.

North of the Yangtze the most active sector appeared to be along the great bend of the Yellow river separating Shansi and Shensi provinces. There, at Tungkwan, entrance to unconquered Shensi, the Chinese were said to be feverishly fortifying themselves against a Japanese thrust.

The Japanese spokesmen said the outstanding development in South China was the recent action of military authorities in taking over control of Chinese customs at Canton, captured Oct. 21.

Chinese reports had told of a great counter drive toward Canton within the month following its capitulation and unconfirmed advices from South China today said the counterdrive had reached to within three miles of the city.

MARKET TURNS DOWNWARD

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP) — The stock market turned downward again today notwithstanding further quiet support for a few aviations and selected industrials.

Steels and coppers, with losses running to a point or so, were among the soft spots. Elsewhere declines generally were confined to fractions. Numerous issues managed to finish above the lows of the day.

Dealings were exceptionally light transfers totaling 880,030 shares against 942,020 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .2 of a point at 51.2.

While business news was still more comforting than otherwise, additional weakness of the British pound in terms of the dollar was a little disconcerting to speculative forces.

The urge to lighten commitments in stocks was traced by some to the approaching Thanksgiving holiday.

Although Aviation Corp. Consolidated Aircraft and North American Aviation edged into new high territory for the year, and Boeing and Bendix were lifted, Douglas, Glenn Martin, United and Sperry slipped on profit taking.

Prominent losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, Anaconda, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Zinc, North American, Goodrich and Owens-Illinois.

No More Grants Will Be Made

While the news wasn't entirely to their liking, city and school district officials were of the expressed opinion Tuesday that they at least know where they stand in regard to pending applications for Public Works administration grants.

The announcement in Washington there will be no further PWA grants from the 1938 appropriation, officials here said, will help them to shape definite building programs.

The information, said officials here, came as no surprise although they still had nursed a faint hope that the money might be made available.

Grants for which applications are pending, all for projects which have been approved, total approximately $425,000, of which $125,000 is for the school district and $300,000 for city projects.

The city board of school trustees is to hold its regular meeting next Tuesday night and, according to officials, doubtless will devote a considerable portion of its time to discussion of the building program. Predictions were that some of the building program will be actually under way by Jan. 1 or soon thereafter, financed from the $15,000 made available by bond issue voted last Sept. 2.

The start, however, will not be made, it was declared, while even a possibility remains of obtaining the grant. That will be within a few weeks at the latest, officials said. The school district, it was explained, will automatically be disqualified from obtaining the grant the instant it starts building.

City Projects Less Urgent

Because pending city projects are less urgently needed than more classrooms for an over-crowded school system, the city can proceed more slowly, officials said. The grants for which city applications are pending are for a storm sewer and for alterations to the city hall which, in turn, would hasten construction of a new Central fire station.

City officials disclosed they have learned from Washington that there is no possibility that city grants will be approved this year. Suggestion has been made, however, that the applications be permitted to go into "cold storage."

Thus, if more money is provided for Public Works administration projects next year, those from Lubbock will be high on the list, without necessity of putting them once more through the routine of regional and the national PWA approval.

Officials recalled that the grant for the new men's dormitory now under construction at Texas Technological college was approved more than two years after the application had been filed.

He's Giving Turkeys

Following a custom started last year, Benjamin F. Miller, above, 2003 Tenth street, has ordered Thanksgiving turkeys delivered to each of his ten tenants in the city of Lubbock. Mr. Miller also ordered two big fat turkeys sent to Mrs. W. T. Milam's orphan family at 1107 Twenty-fourth street. Turkeys were ordered for the following tenants: J. C. Hilton and family, 1312-A Twenty-fifth; J. D. Thomas and family, 1312-B Twenty-fifth; W. C. Bussy and family, 1614-A Sixth; Frank Fowler and family, 1614-B Sixth; W. S. Allen and family, 316 Avenue U; Chas. C. Jones and family, 318 Avenue U; S. T. Thornton and family, 606-A Avenue U; E. J. Smith, 606-B Avenue U; E. C. McCartney and family, 1936-B Avenue G, and A. W. Young and family, 1936-A Avenue G.

Hour's Broadcast Of Pep Rally At Texas Tech Will Be Conducted On Friday Night

The entire hour of the Texas Football Round-up program will be devoted to Texas Technological college Friday night, because of response of the public to a recent 30-minute broadcast from Tech.

A rally will be broadcast from Tech gymnasium from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Compliment of the 30-minute program broadcast from Tech over the Texas State Network the night of Nov. 4 has been received at KFYO station from the network's Fort Worth office. Tech will be the first college to broadcast the entire hour of the program.

R. B. McAlister at KFYO station is arranging the program. Tribute will be paid to sophomore, junior and senior football players, with Coaches Berl Huffman, Russell T. Smith and Pete W. Cawthon introducing them, respectively. Tribute will be paid to Jodie Marek's shoe which kicked the Red Raiders to victory Saturday in the game with the University of New Mexico. Music by the Tech band and Ned Bradley's orchestra, songs by Elton Plowman, Bette Krauss and others, music by the hill-billy band in which three football players are members, and other features will be included on the program.

The Marquette drum major, winner of Wisconsin state honors and National American Legion contest honors, will appear on the program. He is to arrive Friday, said D. O. Wiley, Tech band director. He will take part in demonstrations between halves of the game.
