Congress Adjourns Long Session

Near Freezing Temperatures Seen Friday

TWO cold fronts bearing down on the South Plains merged into a business partnership out in northwestern New Mexico Wednesday night, and the combination was scheduled to hit Lubbock between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning to put a wintry chill on the area for at least two days.

With a low of 40 predicted early this morning, the mercury is expected to skid to 36 before midnight tonight and near freezing by Friday morning, the Weatherman said last night.

Scattered Showers Forecast

Although rain and possible snow flurries had been expected with the cold winds, the forecast now calls for a few scattered showers in the Lubbock area today, clearing skies on Friday and little chance for snow.

The bite of winter, scheduled to cover most of the north half of Texas by Friday, pushed south and east after blanketing most of the western states with snow, chilling rain and frigid temperatures.

Cold temperatures will be the principal change in South Plains weather, the Lubbock bureau said, with the maximum today expected to go no higher than the low 50's under cloudy to partly cloudy skies.

Movement Is Slowed Up

After merger of the two fronts, the movement slowed down and became weaker to bring about the changes in the earlier forecasts. As the colder air settles over the area during the day, late afternoon and night temperatures are expected to drop steadily until the near-freezing mark is reached early Friday morning.

Occasionally sunny skies on Friday are expected to push the mercury up near 60 during the afternoon, but the Weatherman said readings in the low 40's will chill spectators at South Plains and Panhandle football games on Friday night.

Winds, originally expected to hit 30 to 45 miles an hour, have been scaled down to around 22 miles an hour early today and to 12 to 15 miles an hour after the front settles down.

Mercury Hits 80 Wednesday

Adding chill by contrast, the front moved toward the area after the mercury went to a warm 80 degrees Wednesday afternoon in Lubbock.

With near freezing temperatures expected Friday, the season low thus far of 38 seemed certain to be frozen out. The 38 reading was posted here on Oct. 13, 14 and 15.

At midnight last night, the front was just west of Las Vegas, N. M., after dropping occasional snow in northwestern New Mexico and chopping temperatures at Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

At 10:30 p. m. Wednesday, Santa Fe had a nippy 35 and Albuquer-

Snow Blankets Northern States

(By International News Service)

The wintry whip of wind-lashed snow was felt over much of the northern tier of Rocky Mountain states today, with the storm spreading out over the western plains areas from North Dakota to northwestern Kansas.

Denver's temperature dipped to 33 degrees shortly before noon, with mixed snow and rain falling.

The Weather bureau reported snow over eastern Montana, all of Wyoming, western South Dakota, western Nebraska, in northeastern Colorado and the Colorado Rockies.

Hunters Fight Snow

In Wyoming the snow ranged from one to four inches deep.

Colorado hunters and travelers fought snow this morning over the Rabbit Ears, Berthod and Loveland passes.

Hunters in the mesa areas around Grand Junction found rain changing to snow in mid-morning.

There was rain in south central and southwestern Colorado — at Monte Vista and Durango — but snow in northwestern New Mexico.

Temperatures were described by the Weather bureau as being in the 30's in the rain areas and in the low 30's and 20's in snow areas.

Illinois Officers In Dalhart To Take Hawkins Into Custody

DALHART, Oct. 19. (AP)—Four Illinois officers arrived here tonight to take into custody Lenard "Lucky" Hawkins, wanted in Jersey county, Ill., on a murder charge.

Hawkins has been in jail since his dramatic capture Monday afternoon ended an intensive three day manhunt.

The four men conferred here late Wednesday night with District Attorney Floyd H. Richards, Dallam County Sheriff W. L. Stout and other officials concerning Hawkins' return to Illinois.

State's Attorney Petitt said the Illinois officers probably will start back with Hawkins some time Thursday.

Bradley Says Navy Attacks Hurt Security

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 — Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, declared today that public airings of Navy charges against defense policies has "done infinite harm" to national security.

Bradley told the House Armed Services committee that by baring Navy "insinuations" and "allegations", which he denounced as false, the inquiry has shaken the confidence of Americans in their government and has endangered U. S. world leadership.

Earlier, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, testified that his B-36 bombers could smash Russian industry with atomic bombs and defended the Air Force strategic bombing concept.

Reds Have Choice

The ordinarily mild-mannered Bradley asserted:

1. Russia can choose the starting date for a war and launch it with an attack on the United States. Therefore, America must be ready with a strategic bombing plan which provides for "early retaliation from bases which we hope to have ready at all times."

2. The Navy's "careless detractions of the power of the atomic bomb have done national security no good and may have done our collective security untold harm."

3. Admiral Arthur W. Radford was guilty of "misrepresentation" in testifying that U. S. war plans are based solely on "atomic blitz" strategy. Bradley said that in reality strategic bombing is "our first-priority retaliatory weapon in case of attack."

4. The atomic bomb may have made "surface fleets en masse a thing of the past."

Navy Charge Hit

5. The Navy's charge that the basic concept of American defense planning is wrong was a grave disservice to the nation.

6. The charge that naval offensive power is being "destroyed" by Defense Secretary Johnson and the joint chiefs to the detriment of overall security is "compound folly."

7. The B-36, so scathingly criticized by the Navy, is the best aircraft available for intercontinental bombing missions and was unanimously approved by the joint chiefs, including Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations, eight months ago.

Bradley demanded:

"If it has become so disastrous to national security now, why did

Slav Press Reports Soviet Troop Moves

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 19. (AP)— Yugoslavia's official press reported today Russia has moved Red Army troops into neighboring Cominform countries as part of a "warmongering" campaign against Premier Marshal Tito's government.

The report was carried in a three-column article in Borba, voice of the government, in the most specific accusation about Russia troop movements made public in this country.

The article declared that Russia has moved into Romania through Bucharest with some small units approaching the border toward Yugoslavia.

The article reported that Cominform (Communist International Information bureau) countries, with Russian help, are strengthening their border guards and building trenches and bunkers all along their frontiers with Yugoslavia.

Federal Move In Coal Strike Seen

WHITE SULPHUR SPRING W. Va., Oct. 19. (AP) — The nex move to settle the coal strike seems to be up to the government

Union and operator teams shu fled through more fruitless nego tiating sessions today. Afterward an operator spokesman announced

"We have about reached the e of the line. It's hopeless."

Another said everyone was s ling, waiting for a call from W shington.

Presumably it would be a call for a showdown session between United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis and the industry in the presence of government mediators.

It could be government seizure of the mines.

The White House announced today that President Truman has no present plan to intervene.

Lewis Leaves Talks

Lewis sat in on today's talks here between his aides and negotiators for the northern and western segments of the industry. He pulled out after 45 minutes and disappeared.

Vice President Thomas Kennedy of the UMW said, however, this should not be taken as a sign Lewis has abandoned the talks — "far be it from that."

West Texas Group To Request New Cottonseed Support Plan

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A committee representing farmers, ginners and oil mill operators left Lubbock by airliner late Wednesday for Washington where they are scheduled to present a new plan for handling cottonseed support prices to officials of the Production Marketing association this afternoon.

Members of the group are George A. Simmons, manager of Lubbock Cotton Oil Co.; Roy B. Davis, manager of the Plains Cooperative mill, Lubbock; Ray Grisham, of the Western Cotton Oil Co., Abilene; W. O. Fortenberry, ginner and farmer, New Deal; Logan Sowder, ginner and farmer, Idalou, and G. L. Jackson, farmer, Abernathy.

Rep. George Mahon, requested by long distance telephone to make the arrangements, said PMA officials agreed to confer with the committee in the national capital at 1:30 p.m. today.

The decision to send the committee to Washington followed a meeting of representatives of oil mill operators, ginners and farmers in Lubbock at which agreement was described as unanimous that the present cottonseed support pro-

High Level Farm Price Bill Passed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. — Congress today finally approved a high level crop price support bill, but not without a cry of "Santa Claus" from some city members.

Before the House approved the measure 175 to 34, Rep. Fulton, a Republican from Pittsburgh, inquired pointedly if Saint Nick wasn't one of the authors. Rep. Coudert, another GOP member, said the 8 million residents of New York City would be able to contain their enthusiasm. Coudert's district on Manhattan island contains 298,995 people, none of them farmers.

Supporters Defend Bill

Farm state members struck back hard. They said the bill would undrewrite continued prosperity for all, and by no means represents a gouge at the city consumers.

The bill went through the Sen... to 7, clearing away the last ...acle to final adjournment ...ess.

...es (R-NY) forced a roll... in the Senate, crying that ... would mean higher food ...or consumers and higher ...or taxpayers.

Vote Defeats Minority

...ut the final vote showed that ... opponents were in a tiny mi...ority. All seven senators who voted against the bill were Republicans—Baldwin (Conn.), Bridges and Tobey (NH), Ives (NY), Lodge and Saltonsall (Mass) and Williams (Del).

Congressional leaders predicted that President Truman would sign the bill.

The measure makes it possible for the government to keep the props under farm prices at or near the current 90 per cent of parity level indefinitely. Parity is a price figured to give the farmer a fair purchasing power when he turns his crops into cash and buys things at the store.

It would be technically possible under the bill for the Agriculture department to reduce price supports next year for all but a few major commodities, but the department also has the option of

Chest Progress Reports Slated

With two days of solicitation behind them, team workers in Lubbock's 1950 Community Chest financial campaign will begin to make their reports on progress today toward the $98,950 goal.

Several hundred men and women civic workers have been canvassing all sections of the town the past two days in an effort to contract people in every phase of Lubbock's business and professional life.

Teams will be striving to broaden the base of support of the Chest fund so that many hundreds of persons who have not contributed heretofore will be given an opportunity to contribute in this year's campaign.

Preliminary reports on the first two days' solicitations are expected to be made to the Community

Methodists Meet Today

COMING from throughout the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church, approximately 1,000 laymen and ministers are expected to attend a two-day mass meeting opening at 10 a.m. today in First Methodist church.

Three bishops are to arrive by train this morning.

Bishop William C. Martin, bishop of the Dallas area of the Methodist church and national chairman of the "Advance for Christ and His Church" four-year Methodist program, will direct the meeting, which will be one of 74 conducted in the nation as part of the four-year program.

Program Announced

Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Columbus, O., and Bishop Ralph S. Cushman of St. Paul, Minn., also will appear on the program.

Today's program follows:

10-10:30 a. m., opening worship, Bishop Martin; 10:30-11:30 a. m., address, "Rearing Our Children in the Christian Faith," Dr. Evelyn M. Duvall of Chicago, secretary of the National Conference on Family Relations, followed by discussion period; 11:30-11:40, announcements; 11:40 - 12:20, address, "The Advance for Christ as a Pastor Sees it," Dr. Warren Johnston, minister of First Methodist church, Fort Worth; 2:30-3 p. m., address, "Methodist Women and the Deepening of Our Faith," Mrs. B. 4,000 Reported Dead In Guatemala Floods

GUATEMALA, Oct. 19. (AP)— The mounting toll of Guatemala's rainy season floods were officially estimated today at about 4,000 dead and at least $50 million property damage.

Foreign Minister Gonzalez Arevalo announced the totals. Reports still are far from complete. Central American neighbors and the United States extended aid.

"As each additional report arrives," Arevalo said, "the disaster assumes greater proportions."

While he was talking, he received word 1,000 homeless children have been collected in Escuintla, a town of 26,000 south of the capital. The parents presumably are dead.

$25 Billion Anti-Russian Defense Built

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.— The first session of the 81st Congress ended at 7:11 p.m. CST tonight after a 289-day meeting in which many of President Truman's election pledges were blocked but a $25 billion defense wall was erected against Russia.

The House, which quit at 6 p.m., whooped it up in farewell festivities while it waited for completion of adjournment oratory in the Senate that finally ended an hour and eleven minutes later.

In the more sedate upper chamber, less than a dozen members hung around for the wind up. They exchanged parting greetings and quickly left the Capitol.

Bills Rushed Through

The last day adjournment rush saw passage of the $1,314,010,000 bill to arm anti-Communist nations, a measure to speed U. S A-bomb production, a new farm subsidy bill, and approval of major 11th hour nominations.

President Truman's appointment of Mon Wallgren, his closefriend and ex-Senate seatmate, to be a Federal Power commissioner was quickly okayed, despite earlier rejection of Wallgren as chairman of the National Security Resources board.

So was the nomination of ex-Sen. James Mead, of New York, to the Federal Trade commission.

Legislators Bear Down

The weary legislators, who by law could have adjourned two and a half months ago, bore down in the last 48 hours. On Tuesday they approved the $15.5 billion national defense budget and raised minimum wages from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

Insurgent Republican Sen. Morse, Ore., fired a hard parting shot at his colleagues with an assertion that the GOP leadership is "fumbling the ball again" and a prediction that his party "will get licked again" in the 1950 elections.

Vice President Barkley and Senate Democratic leader Lucas, Ill., exchanged compliments with GOP leader Wherry, Neb., in the

'Well Done,' HST Tells Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)— Congress adjourned tonight with a "well done" from President Truman and a Republican denunciation of "statism."

The House quit for the year at 6 p. m. (CST). The Senate wound up its affairs 70 minutes later, at 7:10 p. m.

Barring an emergency requiring a special session, the men and women who make the laws won't be back in Washington until next January 3.

Before catching their planes and trains, they gave their final approval to a high-level farm price support bill and passed a $1,314,010,000 appropriation to arm friendly nations against Communism.

Debate Acrimonious

They had been in session nine and a half months. Much of the debate was acrimonious; some of the disputed questions were settled by thin margins.

But all in all, Mr. Truman pronounced their achievements good. He noted that they had tussled with momentous international and domestic problems through the wilting heat of one of Washington's hottest summers.

"I am confident that the American people will agree that the results have been well worth while," the President said in identical letters to House Speaker Rayburn and to Vice President Barkley, pre-

No Political 'Purge' Seen In New Mexico To Meet Alleged Municipal Corruption, Top Official Says

BY TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

NO political purge is planned in New Mexico to combat alleged corruptness in municipal politics, Lt. Gov. Joseph M. Montoya said in Lubbock Wednesday.

"What corruptness might exist is of purely a local nature and not the general mark of New Mexico," the 34-year-old political veteran said, "and the state administration has no intention of interfering with the voting rights of local voters."

However, Montoya said that Governor Thomas J. Mabry of New Mexico, his personal friend and political ally, has banned gambling in the state and has asked for stringent enforcement of liquor laws.

"The state administration is trying in every possible way to contribute to clean government," Montoya said, "but a political purge would be a violation of local rights."

Montoya admitted in his interview that New Mexico has received unfavorable publicity across the nation from recent outbreaks of municipal scandals, but pointed out that other states have the same problem on a local level.

A Democrat, Montoya has been engaged in politics since he was elected as a representative to the state legislature at the age of 21. After two terms as representative, he served six years as a state senator. He is now serving his second term as lieutenant governor.

He took his law degree from Georgetown University in Washington, D. C. He is married and has three children, ages eight, six and four.

Of Spanish descent, he traces his ancestry back to Cabeza de Baca who followed Coronado into what is now New Mexico back in 1540.

"My family has lived in Bernalillo county since that date," Montoya said, "and were among the first settlers in New Mexico."

His father and three uncles alternately served as sheriff of the county, were Albuquerque is located, for 25 years.

"My grand uncle was the first county clerk at Tascosa in Oldham county," Texas, he said.

Montoya's family, until recent years, was engaged in sheep and

Pageant Depicting Christ Story To Be Presented At Palo Duro

CANYON, Oct. 19. (Special)—The Christ story beginning with Abraham and concluding with the birth of Christ will be presented in Palo Duro Canyon State park each night from Dec. 16-23.

The mammoth pageant, using more than 800 Panhandle residents, is sponsored by the Amarillo Ministerial alliance and produced by the Geller Productions of Hollywood.

Staged in eight scenes, the story will be portrayed on the rim of the Palo Duro Canyon between El Coronado Lodge and the State Park gate.

The production, originated by John L. McCarty of Southwestern Public Relations counsel, will for the first time present in an outdoor pageant the background Bible stories leading to the coming of Christ. Most such pageants deal almost exclusively with the life of Christ.

The show will begin at 7 p.m. each night and will include a 30 minute musical prelude. The eight scenes of the pantomime are: "Abraham, Friend of God," "Joseph, Dreamer of Dreams," "Story of Moses, a Lawgiver," "David, the Shepherd King," "Solomon, the Wise and Foolish," "Through Elijah God is Praised Again," "Foretelling the Messiah," and "Jesus Is Born in Bethlehem."

Committee Directs Work

Rev. Galen Onstad, rector of the St. Andrews Episcopal church and presidento of the Amarillo Ministerial alliance, heads a committee of five Amarillo ministers in charge of pageant scenes and publicity.

Serving on the alliance committee with Rev. Onstad are Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian church, Dr. Francis W. Pritchard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Ray Rozelle, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Dr. Neal W. Cannon, pastor of Polk Street Methodist church, all of Amarillo.

The committee will seek the cooperation of all Panhandle churches and schools in making the production an annual event.

Geller Productions has been working on the script and scenes several months. Leon Drew, general manager of the company, terms the production one of the most ambitious his organization has ever undertaken. It is the largest production attempted by the company.

The company has recently produced pageants in Fort Stockton and Lamesa.

Vet, Fighting For Life, Plans On Gift House For Parents

HOUSTON, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—The $8,000 gift house may hold just two instead of three persons, but smiling Gordon Howard planned today for it to be built — regardless.

"I want it all white— just like this," Gordon said. He pointed to his hospital bed.

The pallor of the ward room crept into Gordon's cheeks just a little.

The 26-year-old Air Force veteran, who saw service on Guam, won the unbuilt house on a nation-wide radio quiz show here.

His trip to the auditorium was a big event.

Special services at the Veterans Administration hospital, where the small, blue-eyed soldier had been a patient two weeks, wheeled him onto the stage on a stretcher.

The audience cheered so loudly it was hard to hear his soft voice answer the $8,000 question about Judy Garland's real name.

"Then I kinda remembered it was something about chewing gum," Gordon laughed. "Then I said, 'Frances Gum,' and people yelled and clapped and somebody made a speech about the six-room house I won."

The house, to be build back home in Mansfield, Desoto parish, La., on a lot chosen by Gordon, "will be a big help," he said.

Home Wanted For Parents

"It's what I've wanted for my folks for a long time. We never had a home of our own before, and were trying to buy one when I got sick. I want them to have it no matter what happens."

Plans call for the big prize to have two bedrooms, a living room, dinette, kitchen and bath. And it will be large enough for the G. H. Howards and their son. Four other sons and five daughters all are married and live away from home.

"I'm sure anxious to hurry up and get out of bed," Gordon smiled.

But doctors haven't said Gordon will get out. The boy has been hospitalized here in Louisiana since Aug. 24, but his illness has not been fully diagnosed, according to Dr. J. W. Martin.

The first radio network started operation in 1926. It was NBC.

Lubbock Police Get 'Invaluable Benefits' From FBI Instruction

Police patrolmen and officers said Wednesday, after the third day of a "case problem" school of instruction, that "invaluable benefits" were being derived.

A new high for interest of the department was engendered by the laboratory methods of the instructors, special agents of the FBI: Dwight Brightman, Davy O'Brien and Curtis L. Perryman.

The FBI agents are directing the instruction into solution of a simulated burglary case.

Audience Directed By Agents

They scatter clues and progressively direct their audience through the acceptance of a complaint, discovery, preservation and classification of evidence, then the presentment of evidence in a "court trial."

Evidence collected includes the "lifting" of footprints and latent fingerprints.

Brightman, former resident FBI special agent here, and O'Brien, once a football great at TCU, were sent here from the Dallas field office of the FBI. Perryman is resident special agent of Lubbock.

Chief of Police Lewis Kittrell said the school would be continued through Friday. Sessions are from 1 to 3 and from 4 to 6 p.m.

Waco Residents Give To Fund For Baby Stricken With Cancer

WACO, Oct. 19. (AP)—The heart O' Texas was out to live up to its name today as contributions poured in to aid the stricken baby of a Baylor university student couple.

Little Eddie Wayne Franks, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Franks, still spent most of his time under an oxygen tent.

His parents were allowed to don masks occasionally and hold him. It has been a week since doctors discovered the highly malignant abdominal cancer, rare for a child of his age. He was reported by physicians to be "improving some" under the X-ray treatment.

At Baylor, Ben Ferrell, president of the student body, reported nearly $200 had been donated in nickles and dimes from students. Waco water department employes union, Local 622 donated $25 while other Wacoans contributed another $250 to help the young couple give the baby every possible care. An ice-cream drive-in has announced 20 per cent of their gross receipts of Thursday will be given to the couple.

The young parents had not given up hope.

S.S.S. Family Favorite for Over 70 Years

ACID INDIGESTION

S.S.S. GOES STRAIGHT TO WORK WHERE THESE TROUBLES OFTEN BEGIN

STARTS TO WORK AT ONCE
Helps give you Steady Relief

S.S.S. Tonic does more than bring temporary relief from pain and discomfort of indigestion. It gets to the root of the trouble! S.S.S. Tonic's activating ingredients promote a better flow of the stomach's gastric digestive juice. When food enters the stomach, it must go through a digestive process . . . certain protein material must be broken up in order that later on in the digestive tract it can enter the blood stream for building and replacing wornout tissue.

S.S.S. Tonic helps the stomach promote the free flow of hydrochloric acid when the quantity is too little in non-organic acid indigestion. This acts to break up food for body use and tissue repair.

Get this time tested, reliable, family tonic and get to the source of your trouble.

Since 1879 this famous medicine has been a household friend. There is nothing else like it.

MILLIONS OF BOTTLES SOLD! Get a bottle of S.S.S. Tonic—in the big red box. Leadership attracts substitution, so beware of imitations claimed to be the same or just as good. Accept only S.S.S. Tonic—the established and proven leader. Ask for S.S.S. At all drug stores—Family size, $2.00, Regular size, $1.25.

DOCTORS' TESTS PROVE

STOMACH DIGESTIVE JUICE

Medical authorities, by tests and analyses on men and women using S.S.S. Tonic, show the following conclusions: . . .

"Laboratory studies on S.S.S. Tonic showed that there was a significant increase in the stomach's free hydrochloric acid. There was relief from stomach gastric distress and there was a definite increase in appetite . . ."

Further tests showed S.S.S. Tonic produced a significant "increase in the red-blood-cells and their coloring richness" thereby bringing welcome relief from that sluggish,

VIRUS CULTURE PLAN DISCOVERED

Scientist Reports Advances In Search For Anti-Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—Scientists in the past few weeks have developed promising results in their search for a polio vaccine, an official of the National Foundation for Infantile paralysis says.

Dr. H. M. Weaver, research director for the foundation, said a new way has been found for producing two of the three strains of polio in the laboratory. He spoke last night at a public meeting sponsored by the District of Columbia Medical society.

Later he told reporters the next step is to try and transmit the virus to chicken egg embryos. If this can be done successfully Dr. Weaver said it may be possible to produce a polio virus so weak that it would not produce crippling infantile paralysis in a person. But the vaccine still may be strong enough to immunize people against the disease.

Dr. Weaver said a method was found several months ago to keep polio virus alive in the laboratory in the tissue of human embryos—unborn children.

Then recently it was discovered the virus could be kept alive in detached mature human tissue. This means that a human medium for producing the virus in quantities sufficient for enlarged research work is now available, Dr. Weaver said. The work heretofore has been limited by the insufficient supply of embryonic tissue, he added.

W. English, Dr. Sam G. Dunn, Dr. Lee Hale, Dr. J. D. Donaldson, Dr. S. C. Arnett, Dr. C. B. Batson, George Benson, Paul Hardwick, Spencer Wells, J. D. Hassell and Earl Hennersdorff.

Soldier Killed, Five Wounded By Exploding Artillery Shell

KILLEEN, Oct. 19. (AP)—A large artillery shell blew up at the ammunition supply point at Camp Hood today, killing one soldier and injuring five others.

The name of the victim was withheld pending notification of kin.

The shell—a 105 artillery round described as capable of blowing a hole four feet deep in the ground—exploded while it was being moved to be loaded on a truck. The time was 11:45 a. m.

Fire started in the truck but it was put out quickly and the vehicle was driven out of the range of danger.

Almost one-fourth of all pedestrian deaths in street traffic occur during one-sixteenth of the year—the hours between 5 and 8 p.m. from October through March.

During 1948 more than 32,000 people were killed and nearly 1,500,000 persons injured on highways in the United States. That is mass murder.

A number of Lubbockites who had planned to motor to Amarillo for the game Friday are reconsidering and will either go on the train or bus or call the trip off.

The pleasure in an anticipated car trip is marred by the odor of death hanging over the highway.

GRANDMA AMERICA

Keith Franklin of route 6 is quite proud these days because his grandmother, Mrs. Bettie Bowen Mason of Memphis, Tenn., has been chosen Grandma America. She won over 196 entries at the Mid-South fair in Tennessee and when you see the double column picture the Memphis Press-Scimitar carried, along with a two column story, you can understand why Mr. Franklin is so pleased.

The Memphis columnist wondered if he could find a few beauty hints from Mrs. Eason, who admits to 86 summers. She told him she had no secrets. She was born during the Civil war and grew up during the Reconstruction period in Mississippi when everybody was broke, so she never learned much about cosmetics. She thinks nothing has taken the place of soap for a good complexion.

GRANDMA America does her own housework, does flower gardening, makes her own clothes, goes to church and picture shows, listens to music and reads, especially romantic novels.

She starts the day with a good breakfast, consisting of coffee, toast and egg and occasionally a strip of bacon. Her lunch is two vegetables and occasionally some kind of meat and supper is always the same, milk and bread. She also eats lots of fruit.

Here is her keynote to philosophy and charm: "Be natural. Be yourself. Don't try to imitate anyone. And try to stay in a good humor and smile, and keep your troubles to yourself. Everybody else has enough of his own without listening to yours."

Mr. Franklin, who is owner of the Lubbock Monument works, has lived here since 1938.

COFFEE PRICES

WHY are coffee prices advancing? It's because the world is drinking more coffee than it is producing. Americans are drinking more than 19 pounds of coffee per capita, an all-time record, particularly in consideration of the recent population increase in the U.S.

A 1942 cold wave killed millions of Brazilian coffee trees and Brazil supplies more than half of the coffee consumed in the United States. In succeeding years there was a drought and more cold weather. Coffee growers have not yet recovered from the effects.

Countless thousands of plantations have been abandoned and although trees have been planted once more, it takes five to seven years for them to mature. It also takes a large investment to start a coffee plantation and coffee growers, who remember the days of the '30s when more than elevn billion pounds were burned in Brazil. That happened when the Latin-American countries were selling their coffee to America for less than the cost of raising it. They got rid of their surplus in a hurry.

Despite the increase in cost, it costs less than two cents to brew coffee. If it gets too costly, we can always substitute other drinks or quit it altogether.

Wedding Is Read

Mrs. Pauline Peel of 2121 Twenty-seventh is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Modell Peel, to William Hoyle McCright, jr., of Midland, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCright of Rotan, which took place in the home of the bride Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Rev. C. J. McCarty performed a double ring candlelight ceremony before an embankment of pink and white gladioli and palms.

Musical selections offered by Miss Nona Martin, pianist, were "Because," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "I Love You Truly" and wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, T. A. Peel, wore a pearl gray gabardine suit with Navy blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Nell Peel, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a aqua satin dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Jay Edwards of Midland served as best man. Candles were lighted by Misses Betty Killian and Shirley Peel, nieces of the bride.

Out-of-town guests at the reception held following the ceremony were from Idalou, Lorenzo, Muleshoe, Midland, Tahoka, and Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. Paul Ward, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register and Mesdames T. A. Peel, J. O. Easter and C. E. Killian served guests.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride wore a royal blue gabardine suit with black accessories. After Oct. 24 the couple will be at home in Midland where Mr. McCright is employed at the First National bank and where Mrs. McCright is employed by Redford-Heard Oil properties. The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Draughons Business college. The bridegroom is a graduate of Dowell High school and served two and one-half years with the Navy during the war.

Observances Are Held By OES Units

With Mrs. Morris Cranford, worthy matron, presiding, Lubbock chapter observed its 48th birthday with a program at Masonic hall.

Mrs. Pat Boone of Littlefield, associate grand conductress, reported a recent meeting of the General Grand chapter in Toronto, Can., and displayed souvenirs presented by several states. Highlights and sidelights also were given by Mrs. T. H. Barnard of Decatur, past worthy grand matron and Mr. Boone, junior past worthy grand patron.

Other grand officers present were Mrs. Bernice House of Yoakum, grand warder; Mrs. Lottie Merritt of Fort Worth, deputy grand matron of district 4, section 1; Mrs. Blanche Dodgen of Littlefield, deputy grand matron of district 2, section 3; Mrs. L. D. Thomas, credentials committee; Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher, grand representative from West Virginia and Mrs. Ben V. Smith, chairman of the welfare committee.

There were visitors from Fort Worth, Plainview, Freedom, Slaton, Seymour, Decatur, Stephenville, Oak Cliff and Louisiana chapters.

Birthday Cake Is Served

During a social hour the birthday cake decorated in blue and red, was cut and served by Mrs. Cranford. Mrs. Grover C. Mitchell was chairman of the refreshments committee.

The hall was decked with baskets of red and yellow dahlias, carrying out the worthy matron's colors. Mrs. Jim Roberts was chairman of decorations.

Preceding the meeting, a dinner was served at Chicken Village in honor of the grand officers. Red and yellow dahlias were decorations and places were laid for 33 persons.

The OES will attend a covered dish luncheon at the hall Tuesday, Oct. 25 and all members are invited to attend and bring a covered dish.

A memorial service is planned for Nov. 1, with Mrs. Kearby Nash as chairman of the program.

Truth Chapter Stages Friendship Night

A special Friendship Night meeting was held by Truth chapter, No. 941, Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in First Presbyterian Fellowship hall. Arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and marigolds decorated the room.

Of the 81 persons attending, visitors were present from Brownfield, Anton, Burkburnett, Crosbyton, Freedom, Slaton and Lorenzo chapters.

Mrs. Carl O. Stewart, secretary of the Board of Directors, of Grand Chapter Benevolences, O. E. S., attended as a grand officer.

Mrs. France Baker greeted guests at the door, and Mrs. Johnny Goldwater was in charge of decorations. The program on friendship which was given was directed by Miss Ruby Stewart, associate matron. Mrs. Early Daniels presided as worthy matron.

On the refreshment committee were Mesdames C. C. Chambers, R. W. Scott, Otis Taylor, R. A. Metcalfe, V. B. Mays, W. K. Moore and Vera Salmon.

Town Talk

MRS. SARAH WILSON of Corpus Christi, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. L. G. H. Williams, 2023 Seventeenth, will leave Lubbock this morning and drive to Dallas, where she will meet a group of Hockaday girls and take them to Bryan for the weekend. Miss Sarah Janin Wilson, her daughter, will be included in the group Mrs. Wilson is chaperoning in Bryan, while they are attending the A&M senior ringboot dance Friday night and the Aggie-Baylor game Saturday.

Charming Mrs. Wilson will return to Lubbock late Monday night, and plans to stay in Lubbock the remainder of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt, 2324 Broadway, returned Tuesday night from a three day trip to Fort Worth.

Mrs. Johnny Portwood, a former resident of Lubbock, was in town for a Tuesday visit with friends.

The Portwoods are living in Brownfield now.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lieski of Crosbyton, who were visiting in Lubbock Tuesday, told Lubbock friends that they are planning another extended fishing trip in the near future.

The full-of-fun couple has spent most of the past year touring Florida and other southern costal states, and are known in this area as real fishing enthusiasts.

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Martin of 2508 Twenty-second have returned from a ten day vacation in Hot Springs, N. M.

Women of area Methodist churches will meet today for luncheon at 12 noon in the Chicken Village.

Mrs. Page Gollihar of Spur, conference treasurer, will preside as chairman. Other conference officers attending will be Mesdames M. B. Hilburn of Lubbock, president; T. W. Whigham of Amarillo, secretary of missionary education and service; George Turnley of Amarillo, secretary of the Wesleyan Service guild; and C. C. Coffee of Lubbock, promotion secretary. Mrs. H. A. De'Lamar of Dumas will be a special guest.

District treasurers attending will be Mesdames Thomas G. Carter, Abilene; Homer Newton, Dimmitt; Carlton Nance, Clarendon; A. F. Reese, Shallowater; A. W. Evans, Gruver, P. O. Dixon, Kress; Bill Newton, Throckmorton; J. S. Craddock, Colorado City; and W. W. Barns, Vernon.

Early Diagnosis Of Cancer Stressed As Best Cure By Doctor

CHICAGO, Oct. 19. (INS)—Specialists emphasized in Chicago today that early diagnosis remains the most important step in the war against cancer, although new cures for the dread disease are being developed almost daily.

Dr. Grantley W. Taylor, chairman of the American College of surgeons' Cancer committee, told the 7,500 delegates attending the 35th annual clinical congress of the group.

Early Treatment Stressed

"There will be a new cure for cancer next week; there will be a new cure for cancer the following week; but the best possible cure for cancer so far discovered is a chance to see a patient before cancer has taken hold.

"In other words, education and normal watchfulness are still worth more than any of the present approaches to the problem."

Dr. Taylor predicted that because of increasing longevity and growing population there probably would be 250,000 cancer cases in the country in 1955.

The most promising developments in three fields of cancer treatment were reviewed at the symposium on the disease, they are:

Rays Used On Throat

1. Use of the betatron rays, so far known to be useful only on cancer of the throat.

2. Use of radio-active cobalt as a less expensive, more easily handled substitute for radium.

3. Acth. the hormone which greatly relieves pain in artiritis, has shown promise in a number of cancer experiments.

Others participating in the symposium included Dr. Murray M. Copeland of Georgetown university; Hamilton Montgomery of the Mayo clinic; Hayes Martin and Fred W. Stewart of Cornell university; Herman L. Kretschmer of the University of Illinois, and Arthur P. Stout of Columbia university.

The first major league baseball game to be televised was Brooklyn vs Cincinnati August 26, 1939.

Seizure Of 58 Korean Schools Ordered By Japanese Officials

TOKYO, Oct. 19. (INS)—Fifty-eight Korean schools in Japan were ordered seized today and their pupils transferred to Japanese schools.

The Japanese government's seizure order came as an aftermath of its recent decree banning the leftish league of Korean residents in Japan.

The government charged that leaders of the outlawed league had continued to use the fifty-eight schools for "anti-democratic" purposes. It also pointed out that since the league was disbaned the schools had been operated without legal administrative controls.

Still functioning in Japan are 262 Korean schools with 70,085 students who receive instructions in both the Korean and Japanese languages.

The South Korean government mission in Tokyo began negotiating with the Japanese government for acquisition of the fifty-eight schools affected by the seizure order.

Process Developed To Insure Clean Breaks For Egg Shells

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Tired of shells in your scrambled eggs?

George F. Hodson of Altus has been issued a patent on a process which he says will insure a "nice, clean break" with no shattering of the egg shell.

The process involves coating the eggs with plastic before breaking. Hodson says it also will keep eggs freer from contamination which might result in mold or spoilage.

Hodson, who earlier patented an egg washer, works for Wilson and company here and has assigned the patent to that firm.

GREATER MECHANIZATION BOOSTS PRODUCTION

Demand For Feedstuffs Declines, Prices Drop As Heavy Crops Boost Nation's Supply, USDA Reports

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (INS)—The Agriculture department reported today that the demand for feedstuffs slackened and prices dropped materially during the week ending Oct. 18.

The department ascribed the decline to these factors:

Plentiful supplies of corn at relatively low prices; fuller pastures; competition from Argentine wheat mill feeds in eastern and southern markets and sustained high output of most grain by-product feed and oilseed meals.

Feedstuffs production during the first eleven months of the current feeding season was estimated at 125,000 tons above the same period last year.

The nation's farmers are using more than twice as many tractors as they did before the war. This was reported by Wesley McCune, executive assistant to Agriculture Secretary Brannan, in a speech before the National Retail Farm Equipment association.

McCune said there were three and one-half million tractors at the beginning of 1949, compared with one and one-half million in 1940.

The Agriculture department also reported that eight and one-half million pounds of wheat flour have been purchased for export to Turkey. This brings the department's total wheat flour purchases to date to 111,398,800 pounds, or 2,457,068 bushels of wheat.

The department, meanwhile, set forth amendments to the federal seed act which are designed to simplify import requirements.

Canary grass seed was brought under the act. Imported lima bean seed and canary grass seed, however, were exempted from the purity and germination provisions when imported for other than seeding purposes.

Imported seed may now be identified on tags attached to containers instead of stencils on containers.

Products processed by agricultural cooperatives continue to occupy a prominent place on grocers' shelves.

According to the department, co-ops processed more than three-fourths of the total production of nuts, more than one-fourth of dried fruits, about one-third of olives, and more than one-fifth of the wine and brandy during 1947-48 season.

On Capitol Hill, Sen. Brewster (R-Me.), said that Canada is about to "dump" millions of bushels of potatoes in the U. S. He said this would cost taxpayers $20 million in price supports.

Brewster contended that the administration can halt the operation by existing law. He charged that the State department has "repudiated" an agreement which previously limited Canadian potato shipments.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Levelland Man Killed In Loading Accident

LEVELLAND, Oct. 19. (Special) Funeral arrangements are still pending for Francis Vineyard, 29, of Levelland route 3, who was killed about 10 a.m. today while loading an oil rig on a truck about eight miles southwest of Whiteface.

Vineyard, a helper employed by Paul Musselwhite Trucking company here, was crushed between a collapsing gin pole and "headache" post on the truck on which the rig was being loaded, incomplete reports here indicated.

Chest Is Crushed

Price Funeral home here, where the body was taken, reported that Vineyard suffered injuries to the head and left arm and received a crushed chest in the mishap.

The trucking company, where Vineyard had been employed about two years, said it was believed the man's mother was a resident of Whitharral.

20-30 Club Members Hold Meeting Here

Twenty-one members and two guests attended the weekly meeting of the Lubbock 20-30 club last night in Hotel Lubbock.

The guests were Ed Langford of Dallas and Ray BeBolla.

Club members discussed plans to participate in the inter-club proposal to open the various Lubbock business and civic clubs to Air Force personnel at LAFB.

A report from a special committee was heard concerning the club's project of replacing 20-30 road signs on all incoming Lubbock highways. Signs for the project are nearing completion.

The club last night welcomed Conrad Ward back into active membership. His membership was placed on the inactive list when he moved to New Orleans several months ago.

UN Faces Unpleasant Task Of Siding With Slavs Or Soviets

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Writer

The United Nations appeared today on the verge of taking sides with Titoism against Stalinism.

That in effect will be the result if Yugoslavia is elected to the Security council over Czechoslovakia, as predicted.

For the West it means a choice between two unpalatable candidates.

Russia will take it as public condemnation of her actions in one of the most embarrassing disputes to threaten internationl Communism.

Bitter Fight Stirred

It has stirred up one of the bitterest fights in UN history.

Nothing since the dispute over the Berlin problem at Paris last year has aroused so much speculation that Russia might withdraw from the UN. Calmer elements discount this.

Andrei Vishinsky put up a measure technical argument in favor of what he called a long-standing gentlemen's agreement that non-permanent council members should be chosen on a regional basis, the candidates chosen by their own group to be accepted by other delegations. He said Russia supported Argentina, the Latin-American choice, two years ago, despite strained relations.

He claims that since Yugoslavia is running independently, she has no claim to the seat.

U. S. Denies Claim

The United States says the gentlemen's agreement envisioned representation for the Communist states of eastern Europe, that Yugoslavia is a Communist state, and that the fact she is no longer a member of the Soviet bloc has nothing to do with it.

The truth lying in between is that the argument is merely a part of the cold war.

Britain and the United States would have been glad if Yugoslavia had not run. It caused an unwelcome disagreement between the two partners, and Russia's announcement that she will never consider Yugoslavia's election legal is forewarning of the "painful consequences" with which Vishinsky threatened the UN.

Tech Dairy Judgers Go To West Coast

Four members of Texas Technological college's dairy manufacturing judging team are en route today to Los Angeles and the Collegiate Students' International contest in dairy products judging beginning Sunday.

Accompanied by J. J. Willingham, acting chairman of dairy manufacturing at Tech, the four making the trip include Clarence Darter, Childress, Royce Jackson, Quanah, Harold Sawyer, Evant, and Terry Smith, Roby.

Highest awards in the contest are graduate fellowships worth $850 each, given for a year of research in the dairy sciences. This is the seventh time Tech has sent teams to the classic, with two individuals during that time rating as medalists.

Report On Oil Industry Made At Luncheon Of Exchange Club

"Oil Progress Week" was the theme of G. L. Maciula, area engineer for Stanolind Pipe Line company, at an Exchange club luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock Wednesday.

He said the oil industry and other industries connected with petroleum products have grown to their present sizes because the six per cent of the world's population living in the United States use more than twice as much oil as the other 94 per cent of the earth's residents.

C. E. Wilson, superintendent of the company's West Texas division, was a guest. Other guests were Dr. M. L. Carlton, John King and Dr. Nelson Nichols.

Wayne Sullivan presided in the absence of M. B. Hilburn, jr.

Traffic Violators On Tech Campus To Receive Tickets

Traffic tickets will be given today to traffic violators on the Texas Tech campus as administrative officials crack down on students and others parking on college streets and exceeding the school speed limit.

The move came after all other means had been exhausted to get co-operation by the students in the college's parking rules, Frank Junell, assistant to the president, said.

Starting today, parking will be prohibited on all college streets and the speed limit of 15 miles per hour will be enforced. Parking may be done only on designated campus parking lots or a fine of $1 will be charged. Fine for exceeding the speed limit is $15.

Several minor wrecks have occurred on the campus in recent weeks, one of them slightly injuring a Tech coed.

P-TA Group To Sponsor Barbecue At K. Carter School Tonight

A chuck wagon dinner with barbecue, red beans, potatoes and all the trimmings will be sponsored at K. Carter school cafeteria from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. today by the Parent-Teachers association, Mrs. L. C. Peveto, president, announced today.

The general public is welcome, it was announced. Prices are 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children. Proceeds will be used by the P-TA to buy school equipment.

An orchestra will play during the supper.

Women's Club Carnival Set Today

Held as a benefit for Girlstown, U. S. A., the annual winter carnival and dance of Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club will be conducted tonight at the Playmor on Slaton highway.

The carnival will open at 7 p. m. Hamburgers and cake and pie will be sold.

Carnival games will be conducted. A fortune telling booth will be operated by Madame Louella, Lubbock fortune teller who has agreed to donate services.

Ross Edwards' orchestra will play for dancing, which will open at 9 p. m. Tickets are $1.20, including tax, per person.

Ohio Students Cut Classes In Objection To University Rules

BOWLING GREEN, O., Oct. 19. (AP)—Approximately 200 students cut classes today as classmates tried to incite a strike against regulations at Bowling Green State university.

W. J. Rohrs, campus police chief, reported the 200 were absent from their classrooms after an estimated 500 attended an early morning mass meeting.

The objectors in the student body of 4600 young men and women want, among other things:

Abolition of a rule which prohibits unmarried coeds from riding in automobiles; 3.2 beer; "complete freedom of expression" for the campus newspaper, the Bee Gee News, and a less tough attitude by campus police.

Lubbock Resident Attends Last Rites For Father In Fort Worth

Mrs. L. S. Bridge and son, Bill, of 2615 Thirtyleighth attended funeral services in Fort Worth a 2 p. m. Wednesday for her father, W. H. Compton, 80, of Fort Worth, who died of a heart attack at his residence Monday night.

Mr. Bridge, just out of the hospital himself, was unable to go to Fort Worth.

Mr. Compton had lived in Fort Worth since 1918, and prior to that had lived in Quanah for about 18 years. He had visited in Lubbock on numerous occasions and had many friends here.

Westerners Working Hard For Game With Amarillo Club

Newby To Spark Sandies Attack

Enthusiasm was high at the Westerner grid practice Wednesday as the team went through a light workout in preparation for the traditional game with the Amarillo Sandies Friday in Amarillo.

So far the team members have needed no shot in the arm to make them work hard for the coming game, and the workouts move along at a fast clip. It is doubtful that Coach Pat Pattison will try to key the team up too highly for the Amarillo game, and he considers the tilt — without the usual tradition — as just another game against a powerful opponent.

Practices Routine

Practices this week have been almost routine, but there has been an absence of the hard scrimmaging seen in previous weekly drills. Coach Pattison is not risking the danger of injuring one of the players in practice, and the additional time is being put to use on offensive and defensive drills.

More polish is being applied to the ground game — which in previous contest has averaged 301 yards — and defensive drills come in for a large measure of attention.

Amarillo, in its previous games, has shown that it has a ground and air attack to be reckoned with, and one of its backs, Jack Newby, has run-up a scoring record of 78 points in the first five games this season, accounting for more than half of the Sandstorms' 147 points.

Must Stop Offensive

On the ability of the Westerners to stop the Amarillo offensive will rest the outcome of the Friday game. Game by game the Westerners have outscored the Sandies, averaging 40.4 points per contest to 29.4 for Amarillo, but in no game have the Westerners faced such an offense.

Last week an underrated Pampa team put up a tough fight before losing to Lubbock, 33-20, bringing to light many mistakes being made on defense against a ground and air attack, with passes helping in each scoring drive.

Ticket sales indicate that local fans will be out in force for the clash, with 4,252 ducats in the hands of Lubbock people. Of this number at least 1,000 are student tickets. Persons having tickets reserved should pick them up by noon today at the high school athletic office or they will be sold on a first-come basis.

Special Train To Run

Amarillo officials estimate a packed stadium for the tilt, with the 15,150 seats being sold. Temporary bleachers will be used, and the expected crowd will be more than 16,000.

A special Santa Fe train will carry fans to and from Amarillo, with the round trip ticket set at $6.33. Time of departure is 4 p.m. Friday, with the return being made 45 minutes after the game. Amarilloans will furnish "courtesy cars" to transport fans to and from the game, with cars picking up Lubbock people at the Herring hotel from 6:45 to about 7:15 o'clock.

Harris Returns As Washington Manager

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (INS) — Stanley (Bucky) Harris returned today as manager of the Washington Senators — a team he twice guided to the American League pennant.

The 53-year-old Harris, "Boy Wonder" of the Senators a generation ago, signed a contract to manage the Washington club for the next three years reportedly at a salary of $30,000 a year. This makes him the highest paid pilot in Washington baseball history.

The signing marked the return to the major leagues of a veteran pilot who has also guided four other big league clubs — the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Phillies.

In taking over again as the Senators' manager, Harris succeeds Jo Kuhel, who was dismissed by owner Clark Griffith after the Washington club finished in the American league cellar this year.

The new manager said t' at he will start at once on his plans to rebuild the team. He said that he's in the market for any able-bodied players who might help and Griffith has promised to take the rubber band off his wallet to acquire them.

Harris, who guided the Senators to their first world championship in 1924 as a freshman manager and 27-year-old second baseman, spent the 1949 season managing the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast League.

He went to San Diego, a Cleveland Indians' affiliate, after being ousted a year ago as manager of the Yankees. His San Diego team this year finished in fourth place.

Harris' decision to rteurn to Washington despite attractive offers from the San Diego management apparently was influenced by his long friendship with Griffith and the fact that his home is in Washington.

Mississippi's Rebels Hold Full Scale Game Workouts

OXFORD, Miss., Oct. 18 (U.P.) — Mississippi's Rebels went through fully-detailed offensive workouts today as Coach Johnny Vaught expressed his first optimism of the season.

"We've been playing good football this year," Vaught said, "but every time we've made a mistake it has hurt badly. I'm not complaining, and I feel certain that we're bound to get a few breaks

DEFENSIVE GUARD—Rated as one of the best defensive men in the Amarillo lineup, is Doc Williams, (above), who subs in at guard when the opposing team has possession of the ball. Strictly a defensive specialist, the 161-pound Williams has been one of the main reasons why opponents of the Sandies have been stopped through the middle of the line.

Sports Program Enlarged At Tech

A larger and wider intramural sports program is in full swing on the Texas Tech campus with touch football and tennis matches already being played, George Philbrick, athletics instructor, has announced.

Golf and fencing were added to the program this year, with competition in those events to be slated to begin in the spring. Handball and bowling games should get underway before the end of this month.

Designed to take the place of a non-existent compulsory athletic program for Tech students, purpose of the intramural set-up is to provide a means of exercise and recreation for every student on teams about equally matched, according to Philbrick.

Over 2,400 participated in activities last year and an even larger turn-out is hoped for this year. Besides those sports already mentioned, basketball, badminton, softball and track will be included before the long term is completed.

Playing is done in three leagues, the dormitory, independent and fraternity in those sports requiring team play. Others, such as tennis, are matched according to the number of years the individual has played previously. Those with three or more are in one category, two in a second and those playing for the first time this year in still another.

A field day in which competition in all phases of track and field will be staged is set for May 14. It will conclude activities for this year.

Over 350 men are now on some touch football team, with an additional 125 playing tennis. Persons wishing to play either handball or bowling are now signing up for those sports.

Onslow To Remain As Pilot Of White Sox

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (INS) — Jack Onslow, given the heave-ho by everyone except his bosses, will be kept as manager of the Chicago White Sox for 1950 because he kept his promise to the club in 1949.

Vice President Charles A. Comiskey of the Sox wired Onslow at his home in West Acton, Mass., that "for the best interests of all" it was agreed that he should fulfill his contract for next season.

The 61-year-old Onslow took charge of the Chicago American League baseball team at the beginning of 1949. The Sox had finished last in 1948 and Onslow made only one promise when he signed a two-year contract—"we won't be last this year." The Pale Hose were sixth.

At no time did Comiskey say Onslow would be fired. The youthful executive always maintained he had an "open mind."

Reports that Onslow would be "paid to go fishing for 1950" arose when General Manager Frank Lane and the elderly field manager began a public war of words over the strategy and direction of the club's players.

The former manager of the Southern Association's Memphis Chicks went to team president Grace Comiskey and other members of her family to secure a vote of confidence. Vice President Comiskey reprimanded Onslow at a news conference for going over the head of Lane with his problems.

Chicago newspapers immediately began speculation stories on who would manage the Sox for 1950.

Bucky Harris, Paul Richards, Del Baker and Lou Boudreau were reported to have been hired by the Sox during the final days of the baseball season. One Chicago newspaper even ran a popularity poll for a new manager. Onslow's only comment was:

"I won't quit."

Two City Games On Tap Tonight

Two games tonight open football for Lubbock Senior and Junior High school teams, with the Pioneers playing in Levelland and Dunbar High school meeting Odessa at 8 o'clock at Chapman field.

The Pioneers face a tough opponent in their 7 p. m. game with Levelland's "B" team, and the tilt is regarded as a toss-up. Dunbar, on the other hand, is expected to snap a two-game losing streak with a victory over Odessa.

Other senior high games send the Westerners to Amarillo Friday, and Saturday the Cowhands entertain Odessa's B team in a return game at Chapman field. The only Cowhand loss was to Odessa, a 13-19 decision, and coaches have been working the Lubbock squad hard preparing for the Saturday game.

O. L. Slaton Junior high is scheduled to play at Brownfield this afternoon, and Saturday afternoon J. T. Hutchinson goes to Plainview for a game.

Only one change in the Pioneer lineup is apparent tonight, with Ben West moving into the right guard slot in place of Charles Nix.

Williams Is Named Lineman Of Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (AP)—James (Froggy) Williams, Rice end, is the football Lineman Of The Week for his major role in helping upset Southern Methodist, 41 to 27.

In gaining top honors in the weekly Associated Press Poll, Williams was selected over such worthy contenders as Bob Toneff, Notre Dame tackle, and Don Coleman, Michigan State tackle.

This is what Williams did to SMU:

1. Caught a 20-yard pass for a touchdown.
2. Caught a 27-yard pass for a touchdown.
3. Caught pass on SMU five-yard line to set up another touchdown.
4. Caught another aerial on SMU one to set up a fourth score.
5. Kicked five extra points and played a terrific defensive game.

Toneff, sophomore Notre Dame tackle, played superbly as the Irish walloped Tulane, 46-7.

Coleman, Michigan State sophomore tackle, came in for praise of his great work in MSC's 42-13 rout of William and Mary.

Williams is the second end this season to gain the lineman award. He joins Howard Houston, Harvard tackle; Art Weiner, North Carolina end; and Clayton Tonnemaker, Minnesota center, the previous 1949 winners.

This week's nominations:

Ends — James Williams, Rice; J. D. Ison, Baylor; Bill Moorman, 1Texas Christian; Walter Bruska, Cornell; Jim Owen, Oklahoma; Herb Agocs, Pennsylvania; Sam Duca, Arizona (Tempe) State.

Tackles — Don Coleman, Michigan State; Leo Nomellini, Minnesota; Bob Toneff, Notre Dame; Dick Loyno, Cornell; Harold Kilman, Texas Christian.

Guards — Ray Cicia, Wake Forest; Stan West, Oklahoma; Gerald Audette, Columbia.

Centers — Irv Holdash, North Carolina; Joe Castagloni, Stanford; Joe Watson, Rice; Bill Gosselin, Arizona (Tempe) State; Clayton Tunnemaker, Minnesota; Pat O'Sullivan, Alabama.

Area Leaders Face Tough Foes

19 Conference Tussles Are Listed For Plains Teams Over Weekend

BY CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

The tension eases a bit in South Plains schoolboy grid circles this weekend, but there still are some significant tussles on tap in Districts 3-A, 5-A, 3-B and 4-B.

A total of 26 games, of which 19 are conference tilts, are listed for South Plains teams this weekend. All are set for Friday night, except the Kermit-at-Seminole scrap, which is to be played Saturday night.

Headlining the weekend card, of course, is Lubbock's invasion of Amarillo. This one needs no buildup, for a sellout crowd of more than 15,000 already is assured. Lubbock, with five straight impressive victories under its belt, will be bumping into top-notch opposition for the first time when it goes against the once-beaten Sandstorm. A convincing win in this one would strengthen Lubbock's rating as one of the state's top aggregations.

Lamesa Faces Pampa

Lamesa, the area's other perfect-record Class AA outfit, will be in real danger when it tangles with Pampa's well-drilled Harvesters at Pampa. The Harvesters, who last week played Lubbock to a 33-20 score, are expected to give the acid test to a tight Lamesa defense which hasn't yielded a touchdown all season.

Plainview's Bulldogs, of District 1-AA, journey to El Paso for an engagement with Bowie High of that city.

Brownfield's Cubs, badly battered but as game as they come, try again to break into the victory column at Levelland. But even against the Class A Loboes, the Dougle A Cubs will be district underdogs.

3-A Standings Shuffled

In District 3-A, where the standings were shuffled earlier this week when an Abernathy player was declared ineligible (resulting in forfeiture of three games by the Antelopes), one important encounter is on the docket. Crosbyton and Sour, currently tied with Lockney for second place, battle it out at Sour. The loser will be virtually eliminated from the title scramble.

Floydada, the 3-A pacesetter, is expected to have little trouble with eighth-place Matador at Matador, Lockney, bidding to repeat as district champion, will be favored over the visiting Ralls squad. Abernathy, its championship hopes shattered by the ineligibility ruling, will try for its first official conference victory at Paducah. In a non-conference fray, Tulia goes to Lefors.

Two district settos are slated in 4-A North, with Sudan at Morton in the spotlight affair. By winning, Sudan can take over (temporarily, at least) leadership of the circuit, as Littlefield is idle this week. Muleshoe plays at Sundown in a tilt which finds both teams trying for their first district win.

Slaton Team Favored

In 4-A South, Slaton's favored Tigers play hosts to the winless Seagraves Eagles. Post, the loop leader, steps outside the district to meet Snyder at Snyder.

A full five-game card is set in 5-A. As mentioned earlier, front-running Kermit squares off against Seminole at Seminole Saturday night. Other 5-A games involving South Plains elevens are Denver City at Fort Stockton and Andrews at Monahans.

Olton's Mustangs, perched at the top of the 3-B standings, lay their perfect district record on the line at Farwell. Hale Center, Olton's foremost challenger, entertains tough Springlake. Dimmitt travels to Anton, Friona to Whitharral and Spade to Amherst in other 3-B games.

Both Ropesville and Meadow, the top teams in 4-B, face stern tests. Meadow is at Idalou for a tussle with the defending champion Wildcats. Ropesville, sporting an unscored-on record conference competition, is at home against strong New Deal. Frenship plays at Cooper, and Plains at Whiteface in other district engagements. Petersburg is pitted against Kress in a non-conference clash.

Meyer Denies He Will Leave TCU

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (AP)—Leo (Dutch) Meyer, the dynamic little man who has been a coach at Texas Christian university for more than a quarter of a century, said emphatically today that he had no intention of retiring.

Meyer, head coach of the Horned Frog football forces for 16 years and before that freshman tutor for 10, answered a report by Dallas News Columnist Charles Burton.

Burton said in today's News that "no one will admit it yet but all plans have been made for the voluntary retirement of Texas Christian university's grand little battler, Dutch Meyer. Othol (Abe) Martin, a successful high school mentor before joining Meyer's staff, is due to become TCU's new head coach."

Burton added that Meyer himself had given so many broad hints that this is his last season that "it is commonly accepted in inner circles of the Southwest conference that Meyer won't be at TCU next autumn. He won't say yes or no on the question when asked directly.

"I'm not going to resign and I am not going to retire," the 48-year-old Meyer declared today. "I am still a young man and I'm going to stay in there and battle 'em."

"The reports that I still intend to quit are entirely false," Meyer said. "I don't know, but would sure like to know, where the rumor spreaders are getting their information."

University of Arizona football tackle Bob Morrison is playing for his fifth varsity letter this season.

The Doaker Suffering From Flu

Walker May Be Out Of Action For Game

DALLAS, Oct. 19. (AP)—Doak Walker took the flu today. Southern Methodist's All-America probably will miss the first game of his college career.

SMU plays Kentucky Saturday in one of the nation's top contests.

It will be interesting to see what SMU can do without its meal ticket.

Walker has played through all kinds of conditions in his four seasons. There was a time in 1947 when he went to bed with a bad cold and also had a bunged up foot. But he played that week against Texas A. & M., confining his activities to quarterbacking, blocking and passing.

Last year against Texas A. & M. he was swathed in bandages. He had a bad leg, but Coach Matty Bell bandaged up both of them so the opposition wouldn't know which was injured. The Doaker was the star of the game, bringing all three SMU touchdowns as the Methodists won 20-14.

Last week against Rice, Doak was driven out of bounds into a wheel chair on which lay a war veteran watching the game. His head struck the chair and he was knocked unconscious. But in five minutes he was back in the game although he didn't do any running or passing the rest of the way.

Saturday night the fans got an idea of what SMU could do without Walker. When he went out the Methodists were two touchdowns behind. That's the way the game ended as Rice won 41-27.

SMU will be tough for Kentucky to beat even if Walker doesn't get out of bed in time to play.

But they'll lay you three to one on the campus that Walker plays against Kentucky. He bounds back mighty easily.

George M. Hunt School Downs George R. Bean Broncs, 13-6

Coach D. C. Heath's Pioneers of George M. Hunt School defeated the George R. Bean Broncos, under the coaching of Arthur Smith, 13-6 Wednesday afternoon to take the championship of the southeast quatrant of the city.

The Pioneers will play P. F. Brown, champion of the southwest quatrant, in the semi-finals of the city school flag football race on Oct. 27.

Parks Decisions Fenton At Arena

It didn't make much difference to the crowd last night at Sled Allen's arena who won the main event, for it was an All-Canadian show, but it made a difference to Herb Parks of North Bay, Ontario.

Parks proceeded to defend the glory of the northern province with vengeance, pounding the inimitable Rod Fenton of Alberta in two straight falls. It was a good match and the near capacity crowd aproved of the result.

But the best match of the night was the semi-final, where a pair of riotous old timers put on a show that put the younger wrestlers in the shade. Al Getz and Alex Kasaboski, both of whom are almost fathers to the present crop of wrestlers, staged a semi-final that had the crowd shouting most of the time. And all they got out of it was a draw.

In the preliminary, Charley Carr stopped Dick Brooks in a good curtain raiser.

Parks and Fenton, who argued afterwards as to which was the gateway to the north, Edmonton or North Bay, did most of their arguing in the ring. Fenton cuffed up the North Bay wrestler early and opened a slight cut on his forehead. It didn't stop Parks, who took a gruelling first fall decision in 17 minutes when Fenton was disqualified for throwing Parks over the ropes.

Parks came back in the second fall to win in 12 minutes with a series of drop kicks and inside stepover toehold. It was a bruising match and had the crowd howling for Parks to apply the finisher.

Kasaboski won the first fall from Getz in 24 minutes with a reverse crab, after the two old timers had shown the crowd some fine wrestling. It was an interesting match, with plenty of action.

Unbeaten Teams To Clash Friday

(By The Associated Press)

Two teams with great season records clash Friday night when Highland Park (Dallas) goes to Wichita Falls in the top game of Texas schoolboy football for the week.

The Coyotes, who have rolled up 146 points to 26 for the opposition in five games, have the better offensive record but Highland Park has a defense that allowed only one team — Waco — to cross the Scotty goal line.

Highland Park has scored 103 points to seven for the opposition in five tests.

These teams are among eleven with undefeated, untied records in the state, nine of them having games this weekend.

The unbeaten, untied teams are Wichita Falls, Lamesa, Lubbock, Ysleta, Grand Prairie, Highland Park, Henderson, Marshall, Port Arthur, Corsicana and Galena Park. Port Arthur and Corsicana rest this week but Lamesa is in for trouble against Pampa, Lubbock may find Amarillo too tough and Galena Park could come acropper against Galveston.

Four games are scheduled Thursday night, all in the City Conference. Friday night there will be 41 and Saturday night four.

The weekend schedule:

Thursday — Sunset (Dallas) vs. North Dallas, Amon Carter Riverside (Fort Worth) vs. North Side (Fort Worth), Jeff Davis (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston), Lanier (San Antonio) vs. San Antonio Teeh.

Friday — Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs. Forest (Dallas), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs. Poly (Fort Worth), Reagan (Houston) at Brownsville, San Jacinto (Houston), vs. Lamar (Houston), Alamo Heights (San Antonio) Burbank (San Antonio) at Kerrville, Lubbock at Amarillo, Lamesa at Pampa, Highland Park (Dallas) at Wichita Falls, Hollis, Okla., at Quanah, Brownfield at Levelland, Plainview at Bowie (El Paso), Borger at Ysleta, El Paso High at Phoenix, Ariz., Breckenridge at Brownwood, Grand Prairie at Mineral Wells, Cisco at Stephenville, Bonham at Denison, Sherman at Gainesville, McKinney at Greenville, Denton at Sulphur Springs, Texarkana at Gladewater, South Park (Beaumont) at Marshall, Kilgore at Longview, Tyler at Henderson, Conroe at Lufkin, Palestine at Bryan, Jacksonville at Nacogdoches, Orange at Port Neches, San Benito at Beaumont, Pasadena at Freeport, Galveston at Galena Park, Baytown at Texas City, Hillsboro at Cleburne, Austin at Temple, Waco at Ennis, Weatherford at Waxahachie, Victoria at Corpus Christi, Laredo at Kingsville, McAllen at Harlingen, Robstown at Edinburg.

Saturday — Adamson (Dallas) vs. Crozier Tech (DaHas), Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Lamar (Houston), Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. Harlandale (San Antonio), Roswell, N. M., at Austin (El Paso).

Dunbar Panthers Meet Odessa Team At Chapman Field Tonight

Dunbar's Panthers will face Odessa at 8 o'clock tonight at Chapman field in their sixth game of the year.

A two-game schedule away from home brought disaster to the Panthers, and they lost by a 12-6 count to Wichita Falls and then bowed to Abilene, 19-0, last week. The losses give Dunbar a record of three victories and two defeats. Early wins were scored over Hobbs, 40-12, Amarillo, 20-7, and Midland, 27-7.

Coach Damon Hill is expecting the Dunbar team to snap back with a victory tonight. Center Odell Gary, who came down with a light pneumonia attack last week in Abilene, is back in school but not likely to play.

Admission to the game will be 74 and 30 cents.

EAST TEXAS GOLF WINNERS

LUFKIN, Oct. 19. (AP)—Mattie Lou Pogue of Sulphur Springs shot an 88 to win the low gross of the championship flight in the East Texas Women's Golf Association tournament here today. The low net was won by Mrs. W. V. Whitbread of Nacogdoches with a 79. She won the low putts with 29.

Knee Injury Places Quarterback Milton Rathbone Out Of Lineup

Raiders Prepare For Arizona Game

Troubles at Texas Tech, it seems, come in bunches this year.

No sooner have the Red Raiders returned to about full strength than misery — or fate — deals them another blow. This time it robs them of a quarterback, who may be out for the season.

Milton Rathbone, who has been doing some good passing and signal calling, was injured Tuesday. It wasn't thought serious at first, but further examination disclosed Wednesday that he had torn up his right knee and the most optimistic report has him out of action for two weeks.

May Be Out For Season

More pessimistic reports place him on the shelf for the remainder of the season. It all depends upon how his knee responds to treatment during the next week. If there is vast improvement in the next seven days, he'll be ready for limited action soon afterwards. Otherwise, the Raiders needn't count on him.

The loss of the quarterback leaves Tech with just two signal men, Ernest Hawkins and Bill Lyman. John Moughon, the fine-looking sophomore, could play, but the coaches would rather keep him out of action this year so that he'd have three full years of activity.

Tech yesterday settled down to dummy scrimmage in preparation for the game here Saturday afternoon against Arizona, which will furnish the opposition in Tech's second Border Conference game of the year.

Raiders Show Improvement

Coach Dell Morgan took various defensive units over to the practice field, one by one, to work against plays Coach Bob Winslow's eleven probably will use. Coach Polk Robison sent the freshmen squad through the most popular plays and the Raiders showed some signs of improvement.

Coach G. B. Morris and Coach Tipp Mooney, meanwhile, were whipping the varsity through a long, steady offensive dummy drill. Emphasis was on blocking, which hasn't been good all year, on the whole. As the session wore on, linemen were making blocks better and opening the secondary for the backs.

Arizona indicated yesterday that they hope it is cold and wet in Lubbock Saturday. Winslow sent the squad through a two-hour scrimmage with the temperatures in the low 40s and rain pouring down. The squad was divided into four teams which alternated on defense and offense.

Wildcats Workout

It was the final hard workout of the week for the Wildcats, who entrain Friday night for Lubbock. Winslow said that Thursday's workout will be light.

At the conclusion of the Raider practice session, Coach Morgan said that there was noticeable improvement on the Tech squad this week. He was unhappy, though, about the large number of minor injuries on the squad.

"It seems like every time we walk on the field, some one hurts an ankle, an elbow, a back, a shoulder or something else. "We're snakebit this year."

Latest to join Rathbone on the casualty list are Earl Jackson, fullback, and Elbert Johnson, end. Jackson has a sacro-iliac condition that is bothering him and Johnson has a badly bruised right shoulder. Both are expected to be ready to play Saturday.

BY CHOG HUTCHESON

If you believe that history repeats itself, you can plunk down your pesos that Amarillo's Golden Sandstorms will snap Lubbock's winning streak Friday night.

Those Sandies have a nasty habit of winning when it comes to Amarillo-Lubbock grid classics.

The two teams have met 27 times since the University of Texas Interscholastic league was formed. On 22 occasions, Amarillo has come out on the heavy end of the score. Lubbock has scored four victories, with one tie.

Here are a few features of the Sandie-Westerner series since 1924 (the TIL era):

Amarillo's biggest margins of victory were 47 points by 50-3 in 1925 and 47-0 in 1943. Lubbock's biggest edge was a mere 10 points, 29-19 in 1938.

Lubbock has held Amarillo scoreless twice, winning 7-0 in 1931 and tying 0-0 in 1930 when Amarillo gained the verdict on 20-yard line penetrations. Amarillo has blanked the Westerners 13 times, including five in a row from 1940 through 1944.

In two seasons, 1926 and 1931, the teams met twice—each winning once.

Amarillo twice has won, 3-0, on field goals, in 1926 and 1941.

Lubbock has scored only 25 points against the Sandies in the last decade, as compared to Amarillo's total of 212.

The Sandies and Westerners met a number of times before the Interscholastic league came into being, but accurate records of the earlier games are not available.

According to information supplied by early-day Lubbock gridders, however, the teams first played in 1910. That year, Lubbock won the first meeting at Amarillo, 6-0, then lost by the same score in a return engagement here.

Available information indicates that Amarillo scored victories in the years 1911 through 1916, but LHS players of this span do not recall the exact scores.

In 1917, when Lubbock had an undefeated and untied team which was scored upon only by Wayland college, the Westerners did not play the Sandies.

Amarillo won, 19-2, in 1918, and records indicate that the two elevens did not meet again until they began TIL play in 1924.

So, if you're a guy who goes for tradition, you can count with 80% assurance on a Sandie triumph.

During my lifetime, however, I have never met a football with a memory, so I'm trusting that bygones will be bygones and that Friday night's game will be decided entirely by the respective merits of this year's teams.

Right now, I honestly believe that Lubbock has the better ball club, and that the Westerners will smash that so-called "Sandie jinx" into smithereens.

I just hope that the "weather's clear and track fast" so that we can have a true test of football.

Bill Serena, the ex-Hubber who went up from Dallas to the Chicago Cubs late in the 1949 baseball season, did more than his share in rewriting the Texas league record books.

By drawing 141 bases on balls in 151 games, Serena cracked a mark set by Frank Edington in 1925. His total of 600 chances at third base is believed to be an all-time high, since there is considerable doubt about the 648 credited to San Antonio's Al Odell in 1915.

Serena established a third record by participating in 55 double plays. It was the first time that any Texas league third baseman had taken part in more than 50 twin killings during a single season.

Several members of the first Texas Tech football squad were present for last Saturday's Homecoming day game. Among them were W. W. (Windy) Nicklaus, Amarillo, fullback; W. H. Carpenter, Lubbock, tackle; N. E. Trostle, Temple, center; Red Smith, Clovis, guard; J. W. Westerfeldt, Odessa, tackle, and L. C. (Al) Jennings, Plainview, end. . . Bill Henderson said Wednesday that his left ear, re-injured in Tuesday night's Manny Ortega bout, had responded well to initial treatment. He added, however, that he probably will be out of action for "at least three weeks" while the injury heals completely. Henderson's next match may be with Lou Alter, Canadian featherweight champion, but nothing definite is set yet. . . Rick Spinks of Kermit is the top scorer in District 5-A with 62 points on ten touchdowns and two conversions. The Andrews team has the top pass offensive record, with a net gain of 450 yards through the air. Andrews also boasts the circuit's best defensive mark, having allowed only 834 yards all season. . . Big Ten grid experts are saying that the Minnesota team doesn't know its own strength. Ohio State Coach Wes Fesler, who saw all Jock Sutherland's Pittsburgh powerhouses during the 1930's, remarked this week that "Pitt never had a team like this 1949 Minnesota squad" . . . Ty Cobb, as quoted in The Sporting News, said recently, "Anybody who ever said he liked to hit against Walter Johnson lied. You went up there because it was a duty."

Tech Fish Meet NMMI Saturday

The highly touted Texas Tech freshman football team returns to action Saturday night in Roswell, New Mexico, when it faces the New Mexico Military Institute.

Coach Allie White expects to take about 35 men to Roswell and is hopeful of victory. The Tech Fish in their only game this fall defeated West Texas State junior Buffaloes, 59-7.

Team Has Improved

Coach White believes his team is somewhat improved over its last appearance because of almost daily workouts with the Tech varsity. The freshmen, in the main, have been using plays of Tech's foes and may present a varied offensive in Roswell.

Tech probably will start the same crew which did so well against West Texas; All-Stater Jimmie Williams, Phillips, center; All-Stater Buddy Barron, Temple, and Don Gray, Breckenridge, guards; Marlan Ribble, Arlington Heights, Fort Worth, and Charles Goff, McAllen, tackles; All-Stater Alton Linne, Monahans, and James Thames, Alvarado, ends; Carl Madison, Atmore, Ala., all-stater quarterback; All-Stater Waldo Young, Monahans, left halfback; W. H. Barker, Colorado City, right halfback; and Ronnie Miller, Albany, fullback.

Fresh Line Holds

In the West Texas game the Tech line gave little ground, while backs ran wild and passers hit 12 of 21 tosses, including four touchdown heaves. Thames caught all eight passes which went his way; Barker turned in 60 and 85 yard touchdown runs; Miller kicked all five conversions he tried; and Young ran the closing punt back 70 yards for a TD, crossing the goal line after time ran out.

Coach White has been using the freshmen on both offensive and defensive drills this week, polishing what appears to be a sharp attack and good defense. His squad is in good physical shape and eager for their second test of the season.

The squad will leave Lubbock Friday and will return Sunday, spending the night in Roswell.

EARLY SEASON ACTION—Mike Ghnouly, Missouri tackler, makes a futile flying leap at Ohio State's Jimmy Clark, but the Buckeye halfback completed this touchdown pass in the wild and wooly opener at Columbus. In the end, a misplaced kick spelled the difference between the two teams, Ohio State coming out on top 35-34 before 66,510 fans.

Texas Western Meets New Mexico Saturday

EL PASO, Oct. 19.—Five down and five to go, the Texas Western Miners are ready to embark on the second half of the current grid season when they tangle with the New Mexico University Lobos in a Border Conference tussle Saturday on Kidd Field.

Sporting the only undefeated record in the conference, the Miners will face the Lobos fresh from a 28-0 victory over the University of Arizona. This followed Texas Western wins over Brigham Young 47-6, John Carroll University 33-7, University of Hawaii 14-7 and West Texas State 34-7.

The dope bucket indicates that the New Mexico eleven is not likely to present any obstacles to the Miners' winning streak. Coach Jack Curtice, however, is guarding against his team taking the Lobos too easily. If the Lobos are fired up and the Miners have a let down, it could be dangerous.

Too, the Miners will be without the services of Cordell McCraw, line-pounding fullback who received a broken foot in the Arizona battle. Lee Cargile has been shifted back to fullback to offset the loss of McCraw.

In preparing for the New Mexicans, the Miners are following Chief Scout Dale Waters report, which indicates that the Lobos are potentially a good ball club. Joe Stell, Chuck Hill, Jerry McKown and Manny Morales spark the Lobos offense. It was a case of fumbles and pass interceptions which handed Hardin-Simmons their 34-7 win over the Lobos last Saturday.

Past years point up the fact that the Texas Western-New Mexico football rivalry is a heated one in view of the closeness of the scores.

Each year the earth rotates on its axis about 366¼ times.

Congress Quits After 289 Days

closing moments of the session, in words which contrasted with the sharp exchanges of the last nine and a half months.

The 81st Congress, which meets again Jan. 3, 1950, wound up its first session with rival leaders lodging the usual claims of success and failure.

HST Praises Session

Mr. Truman marked the adjournment with a letter to Vice President Barkley, who presides in the Senate, and House Speaker Rayburn, stating confidence "that the American people will agree that the results have been well worth while."

The President said Congress "has been faced with many momentous problems concerning both our foreign relations and domestic affairs" and has "labored diligently" to meet them.

On several occasions the Chief Executive had charged that "special interests" were pressuring the Congress to defeat his legislative program, but recently he entered a strong defense of the session's accomplishments.

In its last two days, the 81st—"eighty-worst" to the GOP which recalled Mr. Truman's denunciation of the 80th as the "second worst in history"— stamped approval on:

Accomplishments Listed

1. A $15.5 billion national defense budget, including funds for a 58-group Air Force, 10 groups more than the President wanted.

2. A $1.3 billion appropriation to arm Atlantic pact and other free powers ready to fight feared Russian aggression.

3. A bill to permit rapid expansion of America's atomic bomb production by easing financing policies of the Atomic Energy commission. This is in answer to Russia's atomic achievement disclosed recently by Mr. Truman.

4. A compromise farm subsidy bill providing the 90 per cent of parity farm price supports pledged by the President, but only for one year. After that the supports will be scaled downward to 80-90 per cent in 1951 and 75-90 percent thereafter.

Defense Measures Okayed

The national defense and arms-for-friends appropriations, plus earlier approval of $5.8 billion for foreign economic assistance, and billions for atomic production, guided missiles testing, a radar fence around America, and other defense items, brought to $25 billion the cost of the defense wall against the Soviets.

Congress met on Jan. 3, 1949. The law says that only an emergency allows the legislators to meet past July 31, When that day arrived, House Speaker Rayburn ruled that because World War II had not been formally ended by peace treaties an emergency did exist.

Nearly every Truman request for foreign aid and defense was approved by the 81st. Request to finance a "bold new program" for economic development of backward nations were pigeonholed.

Alliance Wins Approval

In the foreign and defense field, in addition to arms-aid and economic assistance, Congress approved the President's North Atlantic military alliance, and his demand for renewal and broadening of the reciprocal trade agreements act.

It also met his request for legislation strengthening the hand of the defense secretary in achieving armed forces unification.

But in the domestic field it was different. There a GOP-Southern Democrat coalition played hop with the President's program.

Mr. Truman won only one major victory, passage of a public housing and slum clearance bill authorizing construction of 810,000 low-cost housing units in the next six years.

Probably the President's most stunning defeat was the shambles Congress made of his demand for repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act. The House pigeonholed the administration bill; the Senate subtituted a modified Taft-Hartley act. No legislation ever reached the White House.

Mr. Truman's demand for a strong rent control law resulted in passage of a watered-down measure giving local and state governments power to decontrol.

Five Pledges Fail

Five other key 1948 election campaign pledges Congress either pigeonholed or simply failed to act on. These were federal aid to education, a multi-billion dollar compulsory health insurance program, civil rights legislation, liberalization of the displaced persons law, and social security expansion.

In addition to the farm bill, the President won a partial victory on minimum wage demands, when Congress hiked the minimum from 40 to 75 cents an hour. It refused, however, to broaden requested coverage of the law.

Two major presidential appointments were blocked.

A Senate committee tabled the nomination of Mon Wallgren, former upper chamber seatmate and crony of Mr. Truman, to be chairman of the National Security Resources board.

The Senate itself overwhelmingly rejected the nomination of Leland Olds for another term on the Federal Power commission.

festival. He congratulated them on their fine work in the area, typified by the idea of Rotary, "Service Above Self."

Sadler was introduced by Preston Smith, state representative from Lubbock.

State Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lamesa, Elmo Wasson of Big Spring, district governor of Rotary International, and Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, were introduced and gave brief extemporaneous talks.

Band Gives Concert

The afternoon program opened with a concert by the Brownfield High school band, during which C. K. Kendrick, president of the Rotary club, presented the Lamesa band with the Class AA award, Littlefield with the Class A band award and Whiteface with the Class B award. The three awards were loving cups, and were won during performances in the parade this morning.

Big event for the youngsters during the afternoon was the presentation of western film star Rod Cameron by Hiram Parks. Cameron was kept quite busy autographing items for the children.

A fiddlers' contest attracted quite a crowd during the hour it lasted, and many seemed to enjoy it more than any of the other activities during the day. It was divided into two groups, those under 45, and the "oldtimers" over 45.

The Brownfield Community Men's Glee club, composed of about two dozen townsmen directed by Richard Young, band director at Brownfield High school, and a quartet composed of members of the glee club, gave a beautiful arrangement of songs shortly before evening mealtime.

A Mexican band entertained with Spanish music before coronation ceremonies.

Attendance at the dance closing the day was estimated at more than 300 couples by James H. Dallas, program chairman for the day's activities. "It's the largest crowd I have ever seen at Veterans hall," he said. The dance began at 9 p.m.

Most of the local stores were closed for the day, and schools were dismissed for the festivities.

The day got under way at 10:40 this morning with a 15-minute demonstration by two jet fighter planes from the Air Force base at Albuquerque.

Thousands lined the streets a few minutes later to see the parade which included bands from Texas Technological college, Lamesa, Littlefield, Whiteface, Plains, Sundown and Brownfield, and several well-decorated floats.

cattle raising.

In refernce to his political future, Montoya pointed out that he could become governor only if Gov. Mabry should resign, or by election after two years out of state office.

"The succession law bars me from running for governor in the next election. I can not venture any definite opinion on whether I will run for congressman or senator," Montoya said, adding "I can't tell now whether the incumbents are going to run again or not."

Sees Okay On Compact

Discussing the proposed Canadian River dam project to supply water for West Texas towns, Montoya said that he was certain a compact between New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma could be arranged.

"New Mexico is very much interested in entering into a equitable compact to solve the water problem. As in past compacts, I am certain of an arrival at some satisfactory agreement on this one.

"In the past, when New Mexico and Texas got down to real negotiations, we have solved our problems across the conference table." Montoya said.

Putting in a word for recreational attractions in his state, Montoya said:

"New Mexico's tourist picture is being planned to satisfy the recreational demands of West Texas people. We want them to come. We are cognizant of the demands that West Texas has on New Mexico for recreational facilities."

He pointed out that an elaborate ski lodge is being opened at Santa Fe this season, and invited West Texans to give it a try.

Montoya flew to Lubbock Tuesday night and went by car to Brownfield Wednesday as a guest of honor for the annual Harvest festival there. He left Lubbock by plane last night for Santa Fe.

Still looking neat and fresh after a busy day in Brownfield, Montoya was asked if he enjoyed the Harvest festival. He replied: "It was terrific."

West Texas Group

gram is unworkable and is costing the cottonbelt "millions of dollars."

The new plan to be presented would involve, in gist, the purchase of cottonseed by the ginner at the prevailing market price and the reimbursement of the producer by the government of the difference between that amount and the government support figure, which is $49.50 a ton.

Dissatisfaction Widespread

The workings of the support program have caused widespread dissatisfaction since it was announced. In theory, the program would guarantee the farmer a minimum of $49.50 a ton for his cottonseed. In practice, few have been getting that amount.

Under the program originally announced, the farmer was required to furnish proper storage, assume all losses in weight and deterioration and deliver the seed before April 30, 1950, to the Commodity Credit corporation or a mill designated by that agency.

The plan did not work because few farmers could meet the storage requirements.

On Oct. 4, the CCC announced a new program whereby seed would be purchased on an "as is" basis through contracts with ginners at $46.50 a ton—$3 less than the parity price.

Spokesmen of ginners termed the proposed contract unworkable for several reasons, one of them being the question of their ability to provide storage for the seed purchased and for which they would be responsible. Few have signed contracts to buy seed in accordance with the terms proposed by the federal agency.

Under the new plan adopted in Lubbock, and to be presented in Washington today, the ginner would buy cotton at the prevailing market price.

Would Get Ticket

The farmer would receive this cash and a ticket showing the number of pounds in each bale ginned.

The plan proposes that farmers be paid the difference between the price received at the gin and the support of $49.50 a ton when they present their tickets to the PMA, which is an agency of the CCC.

The plan proposes further that this system be made retroactive to apply to all 1949 cottonseed already sold.

Supporters of the proposal argued that it would insure the speedy movement of seed through existing channels and avert the danger of heavy losses through damage, followed by shortages and high prices of cottonseed products next year.

Federal Call Awaited

another of his tart blasts at William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Green Refuses Plea

Lewis has suggested to Green that the UMW, CIO, and nine other big AFL unions put together a $2,500,000 weekly war chest for the CIO steel workers now on strike. Green refused.

Lewis wrote Green:

"I did not think you would do anything. You rarely do. Unfortunately, you follow invariably your well known policy of anxious inertia. You cry loud for labor peace and labor security, but seldom do anything to secure it."

AFL spokesmen in Washington said Green has asked Lewis some questions about his proposal and couldn't agree to it until he got the answers.

Meet Set Today

Both sides then held press conferences.

George H. Love, spokesman for the operators, said they "have no place here — we're just sitting on the sidelines while powerful union leaders race to see which is the most powerful."

Love said Lewis is trying to show himself more powerful than the CIO or the AFL.

Kennedy replied for the UMW that there is "nothing to this . . . "We've never taken that into consideration in any negotiations."

Kennedy said he could not agree with Love that the situation is hopeless.

Gas Explosion Injures Eight, Destroys Wisconsin Building

JACKSON, Wis., Oct. 19. (INS)—Eight persons were injured today when a gas explosion leveled a two-story wooden building housing a telephone company office and an apartment in Jackson.

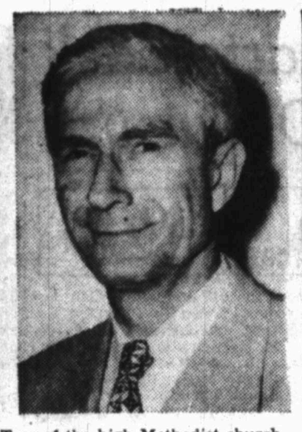

The blast rocked the village.

Among those injured were Gulford Perkins and Frank Sheehan of Milwaukee, who were installing a new stove in the building.

The explosion wiped out the Commonwealth Telephone company exchange, serving 500 customers in the area.

Sheriff Sylvester Nauman of Washington county said the blast was caused by a gas leak.

Crop Support Bill

keeping them up or in some instances actually increasing them.

For the crops which Congress previously has defined as basic—cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts—the support level would have to be 90 per cent of parity next year if restrictions on planting and marketing are in effect. The range in 1951 could be 80 to 90 per cent of parity, and after that the supports could vary from 75 to 90 per cent.

Tobacco, another crop classed as basic, gets special treatment. It is to be supported at 90 per cent of parity indefinitely provided growers—as they always have in recent years—approve government controls.

Two Formulas Set Up

Two separate — but not equal — parity formulas will be in use until 1954 under the bill. One is the present formula. The other is one developed by the Senate, which takes into account the cost of hired hands and the relationship between the price of crops and manufactured articles in the recent past.

The measure instructs the Agriculture department, in figuring parity for the basic crops for the next four years to employ the formula which will be most advantageous to the farmer. In 1954 the Senate formula is to become the only guide.

Apart from the so-called basic crops, dairy crops would be supported at from 75 to 90 per cent. A scale of 60 to 90 per cent of parity would be the rule for wool (including mohair), tung nuts, honey and Irish potatoes. The secretary of agriculture would have discretion to support other produce at from zero to 90 per cent of parity.

Lull In Crime Brings 'Breather' To Police

Investigations of prior complaints occupied police attention Wednesday as that department wound up one of the quietest days on record.

Only minor collisions, arrests for drunkenness and traffic violations were recorded on the official reports as crime activity in the city hit a new low.

Officers were, however, continuing investigations of several thefts reported as occuring during the night Tuesday.

They included: theft of a box of tools valued at $50 from S. M. Oswald, of 518 Fortieth; two hub caps taken from a car belonging to Kenneth Duty, of Abernathy, while it was parked in the 1600 block College Ave.; and a bicycle stolen from Wayne Putman, of 1208 Eighth.

Officials said Patrolmen Jeff Earthman and D. W. DuBoe, working the night shift Tuesday, frightened away burglars who were attempting to get into Hailey Service station at 1420 Broadway. A clothes-hanger had been inserted through a smashed window in an attempt to turn a door-lock, it was reported, but the lock had not been moved—possibly because of the arrival of the officers on a routine inspection.

que had 39. At 5:30 p. m. the reading at Albuquerque had been 65.

The southern boundary of the front remained just north of Clayton, N. M., early today, flirting with the northwest corner of the Texas Panhandle.

Thundershowers were forecast to accompany the "norther" into the Amarillo area, the Associated Press said. Amarillo was expecting a low this morning of 38 degrees.

The Weather bureau at Dallas said the combined cold fronts should drop temperatures at least into the forties in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and into the fifties in East Texas by Friday morning.

Atomic Plans

day nullifies earlier legislation that required the AEC to obtain congressional approval whenever a construction project exceeds original estimates by 15 per cent.

More Freedom Given AEC

AEC is enabled under the new bill to proceed with any construction it certifies to the budget director as essential to national security.

Informed sources said that the $300 million program is in addition to the $427 million in contract authority given the AEC for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Report Given HST

McMahon said he gave the Chief Executive the committee's report exonerating AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal of "incredible mismanagement" charges hurled by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

The senator, after the White House conference, made it plain that the congressional group will be consulted on any agreement with Britain and Canada for a greater exchange of atomic information.

He added that new conferences between U. S., British and Canadian atomic authorities will begin about Nov. 1, but predicted no agreement for a three-power pool of nuclear know-how will be reached before Congress reconvenes Jan. 3.

Significance Given Move

The statement Tuesday by Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky that Russia has had a "real" atom bomb since 1947 and Vishinsky's reiteration of the Soviet refusal to agree to the Baruch plan for international control gave added significance to the U. S. plans to accelerate production.

However, McMahon said that the expansion program has been in preparation for several months.

Although McMahon refused to say whether the Russian atomic achievements spurred the expansion program, Sen Knowland (R-Calif.) declared:

"We must never let ourselves get into a second-best position.

"I think the Russian atomic bomb would tend to expedite developments."

Country Club Elects Four New Directors

Four new directors were elected to the board of the Lubbock Country club in an annual meeting of stockholders at the club Wednesday night.

New directors are: Fenner Tubbs, automobile dealer; Olen Stewart, wholesale grocery owner; Wright Kerr, confections distributor; and Kyle Ratisseau, insurance adjuster.

Cliff Dean, president, presided at the meeting, attended by approximately 100 of the club's 400 voting stockholders.

Considerable discussion featured the meeting on several propositions to increase the club revenues but action was left up to the new board of directors, who will meet within the next few days to elect officers.

Jack Stone was announced as the new chairman of the golf activities, succeeding Chick Trout, who resigned after several years' service.

Bond of $1,000 was set Wednesday in binding Weldon Waller, 18, over to grand jury investigation of a charge that he stole a watch valued at more than $50 from George B. Long. L. W. Forrester, city detective, swore to the complaint before Assistant Dictrict Attorney A. W. Salyars who filed it in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace. Forrester and City Detective Lee Rice, jr., made the arrest.

A Plainview youth, Johnny Gregg, showed the grand champion lamb in the Junior Sheep show Wednesday at State Fair of Texas, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Dallas last night. In the Berkshire division of the Junior Pig show, Jimmy Marlar of Lorenzo showed the champion barrow and the champion pen of three.

Mrs. James C. Clark of 1920 Twenty-third street, who was admitted to West Texas hospital Tuesday night with a virus infection, was reported in an improved condition last night by attendants.

Navy Charges Hit

the Navy concur eight months ago?"

After hearing Bradley, the committee recessed until 10 a.m. Thursday, when the witness will be Gen. J. Lawton (Lightning Joe) Collins, Army chief of staff, who was ordered back from Tokyo to testify in behalf of Johnson's policies.

Bradley pulled no punches in telling the committee he believed it had harmed the nation's defense system by being made a sounding board for the "grievances of a few officers," whom he scornfully labeled "fancy dans."

Bradley said that Russia and her satellites are the only nations against which the United States might have to fight.

He warned that if war comes, "the Soviet Union, because of their peculiar governmental organization, can choose the starting date."

Therefore, he declared, the United States must follow the strategic bombing plan which provides for early retaliation.

Needs Explained

The chairman of the joint chiefs explained that ultimately strategic air bombardment and large-scale land operations will be needed to "carry the war back to the enemy by all means at our disposal."

Bradley angrily denied the Navy's contention that reliance on the Air Force concept of strategic bombing jeopardizes U. S. security.

He pointed out that Russia has developed a strategic air force of its own, and that strategic bombing holds "high priority" in U. S. planning because America cannot maintain large enough land forces to come to grips with Russian armies in early stages of a war.

Bradley emphasized that the American plan of operations calls for "violent airborne attacks on the war-making capacity or potential" of Russia.

"Immoral" Charge Answered

He replied to Navy criticism of strategic bombing as "immoral" by saying that "war itself is immoral" but that if America is attacked mass bombing of Russian cities in retaliation would be "justified."

The nation's top military man declared that all of the armed services must function as "one team." He said that if there had been more understanding and mutual trust, the Pearl Harbor catastrophe might have been avoided.

Bradley admitted that the congressional hearings have indicated "something seriously wrong with our defense establishment" but said that "with patience, understanding and co-operation this wrong can be corrected."

He said the Defense department means "to build peace and defend it if necessary."

Critics Scorned

Bradley scornfully referred to Navy critics of defense policies as "fancy dans who won't hit the line with all they have on every play unless they can call the signals."

Vandenberg told the House Armed Services committee that in a war with Russia the United States must atom-bomb "the industrial heart land . . . deep inside the Eurasian land mass" and that neither carriers nor naval aviation would be needed for that mission.

The top Air Force officer contended that the Navy has no need of the 65,000-ton super-aircraft carrier it wants. He said naval aviation should be restricted to anti-submarine warfare and keeping sea lanes open for transports.

Truman Commends

siding officer of the Senate.

House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts, however, issued a statement saying that "the first session of the 81st Congress which has just adjourned will go down in history as the tree which bent before the gale of statism." That word has gained wide use among Republicans for what they say is a trend to regulate everything the citizens do.

"Mr. Truman's socialistic program must be stopped in the months ahead," Martin declared.

In the final minutes of the Senate session, Senator Morse (R-Ore) accused his own party however of "fumbling the ball again", by attacking the so-called welfare state.

"The Democrats are getting across to the people," he said, "that only the Democrats are for the welfare of the people."

Interested In Welfare

Morse said the American people are interested in the general welfare of the country.

"I think it is a mistake for the Republican party to let the Democrats run away with the ball," he said.

There were women and song—if no wine—in the House chamber as that body adjourned. Three girl committee employes trilled "The Eyes of Texas" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream" into the microphone in front of the speaker's desk.

Back-slapping, hand shaking members whooped with pleasure as Rayburn banged the final gavel. Then the members dashed for the doors that led to home.

Chest Fund Reports

Chest office, 1006½ Fourteenth or at the office of the Continental Air Lines in the Hilton hotel today, J. Ray Dickey, chairman of the drive, said Wednesday.

Dickey said, however, that he didn't expect complete reports from many of the team workers until Friday or Saturday.

Campaign leaders launched the drive with an expressed hope that the goal would be reached within a week or ten days.

The second series of "kick-off" meetings were conducted at the Lubbock Boys' club Wednesday from 8 a.m. until noon, with workers going out to contract various classifications of business and professional men. The first round of meetings was conducted Tuesday, launching the fourth annual Chest campaign here.

Eight affiliated charity, welfare and recreation agencies will benefit from the campaign, which lumps financial solicitations for all of them into one big drive. The agencies covered by the Chest budget are:

Salvation Army, Lubbock Boys' club, Junior Optimist club, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Carver Heights Nursery, Lubbock Service Organization and Milam Home.

"When you give, give enough so that each of the agencies will have as much of a donation as if they were conducting individual campaigns," Dickey said, in sounding a plea to contributors Wednesday.

"'Everybody Benefits— Everybody Gives" is the official slogan for the campaign, but it has almost been supplanted by a second slogan, "Give, Give Enough,'" Dickey said. "That's what we're hoping every Lubbock citizen will do."

Up to noon, Colorado Springs was the southern extremity of the rain area along the eastern slope of the Rockies.

Storms Hit California

Storms still raged in the North Atlantic. Southern California was pounded by cold wintry winds, the Associated Press said.

Pleasant weather prevailed in most other sections of the country.

A large section of Montana was under four to eight inches of snow. Snow was forecast as far eastward as western Nebraska and northwest Kansas.

The mercury tumbled to 9 degrees at Butte, Mont., 11 at Cut Bank, Mont., and a record-breaking 30 for the date at Fresno, Calif., mile high Mt. Wilson, Calif., had 22.

The cold winds in California uprooted trees, beached boats, stirred up dust storms and dashed waves over the sea wall at Redondo Beach. Snow fell in the mountains.

SECRET DOCUMENT DISCLOSED

State Department Charged With Plot Against Nationalist China

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (INS)—Rep. Judd (R-Minn), today disclosed a secret document which he charged shows that State department officials "connived" against Nationalist China "even during the war."

Judd in a House speech identified the author of the document as John S. Service, who when the paper was prepared in 1944 was a foreign service officer stationed at Chinese Communist headquarters.

Navy Document Found

Service at one time was suspended from the State department for his connection with the Amerasia case. In 1945 secret Navy documents were found in the New York offices of the publication Amerasia.

The Service memorandum, as introduced by Judd, was sent to Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, American commander in the Chinese-Burma-India war theater, and to the U. S. ambassador at Chiang Kai-Shek's capital of Chunking.

It urged abandonment by the U. S. of the Nationalist cause, saying:

"Our dealings with Chiang Kai-Shek apparently continues on the basis of the unrealistic assumption that he is China, and that he is necessary to our cause.

"It is time, for the sake of the war and also for our future interests in China, that we take a more realistic line.

"We need feel no ties of gratitude to Chiang. The men he has kept around him have proved selfish and corrupt, incapable and obstructive. Chiang's own dealings with us have been an opportunist combination of extravagant demands and unfilled promises, wheedling and bargaining, bluff and blackmail.

"He did not resist Japan until forced by his own people."

Judd declared Service's conclusions "represent either incredible miscalculation or misrepresentation. Such mistakes in the armed forces, leading to disaster, would produce a court martial. In the State department they earn promotions."

Youth Kills Foster Mother To Get Car For Trip To Texas

CLAYTON, Mo., Oct. 19. (INS)—An eighteen-year-old Ohio youth was arrested in Clayton today and admitted killing his foster mother to obtain the family car for a trip to Texas.

The youth, James Nairy of Fairview village, a suburb of Cleveland, told sheriff's deputies he shot and fatally wounded his foster mother, Mrs. Ivan Nairy, 53, yesterday because she refused to let him have the car for the trip.

Hitchhiker Accompanies Youth

Young Nairy was arrested early today, driving a late model coupe belonging to his foster parents. He was accompanied by a hitchhiker he picked up en route to St. Louis.

Sheriff's deputies said a .22 caliber target pistol, believed to be the weapon that killed Mrs. Nairy, was found in the youth's possession.

Nairy, whose faster father is a Cleveland high school teacher, told the deputies he had no criminal record.

He admitted that Mrs. Nairy, who had cared for him since he was two years old, had "treated me nice," but explained to arresting Deputy Sheriff Walter Piotraschke:

Use Of Car Refused

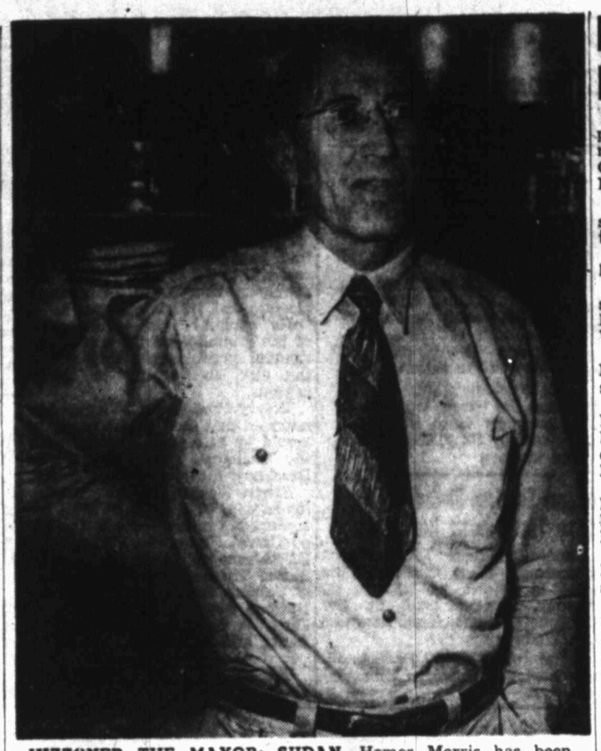

"I al[illegible] wanted to drive her car and she always refused, I decided to take it anyway."

Young Nairy said he hit his mother with the butt of his gun and a struggle ensued. He was quoted as saying:

"I didn't think, just started firing. I think I emptied the gun at her. She fell in the yard and I got in her car and started for Texas."

Nairy explained that he returned from visiting a Corpus Christi, friend Monday and wanted to return there.

Cleveland authorities reportedly were en route to Clayton to question the youth.

HIZZONER THE MAYOR: SUDAN—Homer Morris has been mayor of Sudan for one and one-half years. He is the owner and manager of a hardware and furniture business. Morris was born at Richland, Texas, Jan 6, 1906. He came to Sudan in 1923 after obtaining his schooling in East Texas and Eastern Oklahoma. He was on the city council for three years. Morris married Lillie Parton at Sudan, July 5, 1925. He has a daughter, Mrs. Doris Bryant, now attending Baylor; and a son, Jerry, in school at Sudan. The mayor's hobby is taking movie pictures. Sally Rand, Cleared In Lawsuit, Returns To Work At State Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Sally Rand was back at work with her fans today at the Texas State fair, no longer involved in a lawsuit concerning her "girlie" show on the midway.

Miss Rand had been named as a co-defendant in a suit brought by Robert Peck and James Hess of Chicago. They claimed they were entitled to half of Miss Rand's State fair profits through a contract with the Independent Midways association, the other defendant.

But lawyers representing both sides of the dispute conferred yesterday and announced that Miss Rand had been absolved of any blame in the affair.

Sally was present and told reporters that she was an "innocent bystander." She added that "while I may be a public figure, my contracts are private."

Accused Alice Slayer Will Seek Release

ALICE, Oct. 19. (AP)—Sam Smithwick, under murder indictment in the slaying of radio announcer W. H. (Bill) Mason, will try to get his freedom under bond tomorrow.

A habeas corpus hearing is set at 10 a.m. before Judge Paul Martineau.

Smithwick, 61, a former Jim Wells county deputy sheriff, has been held in jail since July 29—the day Mason was shot as he sat in his car in an industrial section of Alice.

Smithwick's trial was transferred to Bell county and on Sept. 13 he was placed in the jail at Belton.

A month later—Oct. 14—his attorneys filed application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Bell county officers were bringing Smithwick to Alice for tomorrow's hearing. His trial is docketed in Belton for Oct. 24.

Shivers Urges Support Of Goliad Park Fund Campaign

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today urged Texans to support a $200,000 campaign for beautification of Goliad State park and proclaimed Oct. 23-29 as "Remember Goliad" week.

The campaign opens Monday under sponsorship of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas. Maj. Gen. H. Miller Ainsworth of Luling, commander of the 36th Infantry division, Texas National guard, is chairman of the State Advisory committee.

Gunshot Killing Of Kansas City Gambling Figure Termed Suicide

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 19. (U.P.)—Official police reports today labeled the gunshot death of Sammy Butler, widely known Kansas City gambling world figure, a "suicide," but officers continued to check rumors that Butler had engaged in a hot argument last week.

Butler apparently shot and killed himself in the Coates House hotel yesterday afternoon. He had been scheduled to appear at almost the same time before a federal grand jury investigating gambling.

Homicide officers said they had heard reports that Butler and five other men had engaged in a heated streetcorner argument.

Several of Butler's associates were questioned at headquarters, but police said the inquiry was "routine."

Hoffman Predicts Continued U. S. Foreign Aid Necessary

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19. (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman predicted today that America must continue to spend at least $2 billion a year on foreign aid even after the Marshall plan ends in 1952.

The economic cooperation administrator made the forecast in a speech prepared for delivery before the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

Landscape Problems Discussed At Club

Lubbock Rotarians attending their regular weekly luncheon at the Hilton hotel Wednesday were given a brief view of some of the problems facing Elo J. Urbanovsky, landscape architect for Texas Tec.

Urbanovsky told them that actual landscaping of the campus was still in the future, as the main problems now were in general cleanup and traffic congestion.

He explained the maintenance of the grounds and the method of gradual improvement that is being used to beautify the large campus.

Rotary Pres. Guy C. Victory announced that next week's program would be at a joint meeting with the Exchange club. Prof. W. L. Bradshaw introduced Urbanovsky.

Ernest West of Tahoka gave the invocation. C. I. "Stony" Wall introduced visitors, which included Carrol Hinners of Fort Worth, Ed Hearne of Little Rock, Ark., Skiles Thomas and Ernest West of Tahoka, Rud Swan of Abilene, Herman Ford of Amarillo, A. L. Duff of Seminole, and L. W. Banta and Bill Killiam of Ralls.

CITIZENS TO JOIN CEREMONY

Navy To Commission Training Center In Lubbock Next Week

Commissioning ceremonies for the Lubbock Naval Reserve Training center located on the Texas Tech campus will be held at 3 p.m. next Wednesday, it has been announced.

Capt. L. D. Coly, district director of the naval reserve, will represent Rear Admiral L. F. Reifsnider of New Orleans in the commissioning ceremonies. Lt. J. E. Ruzic is in charge of the station.

Several prominent Lubbock citizens will take part in the commissioning as well as Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech. The ceremonies will be conducted in front of the Center at Eighth and College avenues and an inspection tour by Capt. Coly and his party will follow.

Coly To Arrive Tuesday

Capt. Coly will arrive here Tuesday with Commander A. H. Ashton from New Orleans. Others of the official party will include Commanders F. J. Sabathier and R. D. Hutchins, also of New Orleans, who will arrive Wednesday.

The ceremonies will include talks by Dr. Jones, Capt. Coly and Mayor W. H. Rodgers of Lubbock. Among the others present will be Col. George W. Pardy, commanding officer of Lubbock Air Force base, Lt. Col. Robert P. Riordan, head of the Tech Reserve Officers Training corps, and Mrs. W. E. Klien, president of the Lubbock Navy Mothers club.

The NRTC here has been in operation for approximately one year and has been commanded by Lt. Ruzic for a month. The unit consists of 156 enlisted men and 18 officers, with emphasis in the training program being placed on radar, radio, electronics and electricity.

Public Inspection Slated

Open to the public, the commissioning services will be by acting chaplain, Col. James E. Becker of LAFB. Following the official inspection tour by the naval officers, the center will be open to the public for inspection.

Other Lubbock citizens who will be official guests at the ceremonies include Robert Sission, head of the Veterans' Administration office here; A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; Col. H. D. Wallace, wing commander at Lubbock Air Force base; R. W. Matthews, superintendent of Lubbock public schools; Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal; W. D. Groce, commander of the American Legion post; W. T. Gaston, Tech business manager; and Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, commanding officer of the 132nd Field Artillery battalion of the National guard.

Wholesalers To Form Lubbock Office Of Credit Men Today

Improvements At Municipal Airport Are Approved

Runways Work Fund Granted

The President approved Wednesday an appropriation of $187,493 to repair runways damaged by wartime use at Lubbock Municipal airport, according to a telegram to The Morning Avalanche from Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

The damage occurred while the airport was under lease to the government as part of South Plains Army Air field.

City officials credited Ed Colby, airport manager, with having originated the claim which received final approval with the President's signature after having been passed by the Senate and House.

Rep. George Mahon, of Lubbock and Colorado City, was the chief sponsor of the measure in the House and Senator Johnson in the Senate.

City Manager Steve Matthews said all the money will be required to put the runways in first class condition.

The work, he added, will be among the first city projects scheduled next spring. The runways are built of crushed rock and asphalt, which cannot be applied satisfactorily during cold weather.

Several weeks were required for the preparation and presentation of the claim. Colby, formerly with the War Assets administration, first reported the city was eligible for reimbursement for the wartime damage. The municipal airport board, composed of Ray Hinchey, Robert H. Bean and Bob Walker, supervised preparation of the detailed claim, which was approved by the city commission and introduced in Congress by Representative Mahon.

SPEAKER—George . McCleskey, above, young Lubbock attorney, will be principal speaker when South Plains Scottish Rite club stages its annual Feast of Tabernacles here tonight. The dinner program will commence at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple. McCleskey will speak on "The Significance of the Feast of the Tabernacle." Preliminary estimates said approximately 150 Scottish Rite Masons from a jurisdiction embracing 21 South Plains communities may attend. (Reeves Photo.)

Displaced Polish Family Of Ten Arrives In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 19. (AP)—Texas' population took a sudden jump yesterday.

Responsible are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Jodzki, formerly of Mikaszewice, Poland, who arrived in San Antonio with their eight children.

The displaced family has been since 1945 in Wildflecken D. P. Camp, Germany.

Two Are Injured In Auto Mishaps Here

Two persons were taken to Lubbock hospitals Wednesday as the result of collisions in and near the city. Neither was seriously hurt.

Miss Alice Armstrong, 18, of Lubbock route 1, was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment of face lacerations suffered in a two-car collision on East Broadway near the entrance to Mackenzie park about 7:15 p.m.

Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred as Ralph Eugene Brewer, 22, who was driving west on East Broadway, stopped his car prior to turning left from the thoroughfare. The car in which Miss Armstrong was riding, driven by Billy Glenn Cooper, 19, struck the Brewer vehicle on the left rear fender. Brewer was charged with having no rear lights on his car.

Mrs. Maxine C. Chalmers, 30, of 3202 Thirty-third, was taken to West Texas hospital following an accident at Eighth and Ave. K about 5:30 p.m. She was released after examination.

Billy Jo O'Neal, 24, of Lubbock route 5, was charged with drunkenness, negligent collision by failure to yield right of way, and having no operator's license as a result of the mishap. Police said Mrs. Chalmers was traveling north on Ave. K in a car driven by her husband when the vehicle was struck on the right rear fender by O'Neal's westbound 1941 Oldsmobile.

O'Neal posted three bonds of $100 each in connection with the charges.

New Operations In Scurry County Are Announced

Gaines Producer Is Completed

The third producer for the Doss-Wolfcamp field of Southwest Gaines county has been completed at Humble Oil & Refining company No. 5 Helen Cunningham.

The new pumper completed for a 24-hour production of 168.28 barrels of 45.2 gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 285-1. There was no formation water reported.

Completion was through perforations in the casing between 8,875 feet and the total plugged back depth at 8,931 feet. That zone was treated with 7,000 gallons of acid.

Location of the new well is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 4, block A-52, psl survey.

COMPLETION IS MADE ON SCURRY WELL

Completion has been made at Thomas W. Doswell, Henry Ford II, and others, No. 2 C. W. Addison on the west side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry county.

It flowed natural through a 32/64th-inch tubing choke for six hours to rate a daily potential of 1,706.88 barrels of 43-gravity oil. It also made one and five-tenths per cent drilling water. Gas-oil ratio was 960-1.

Flowing casing pressure was 400 pounds. Flowing tubing pressure was 800 pounds.

The flow from the Canyon reef was at the rate of 71 barrels of oil per hour during the six hours that the well actually flowed on the potential test.

It completed from open hole between the 7-inch oil string cemented at 6,674 feet and the total depth at 6,720 feet.

The new producer is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

NEW DISCOVERY IN SCURRY COMPLETED

Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 7 L. M. Wilson has been completed as a discovery from the Clear Fork of the Permian in the Diamond-M field of southwest Scurry county where production is from the Canyon reef lime above 7000 feet.

The new pumper made an initial daily production of 74.41 barrels of 31.7-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio of the petroleum was 76-1.

From the Clear Fork completion was from open hole. Top of the pay was at 3,170 feet and the total depth was 3,225 feet. Five and one-half oil string was set at 3,140 feet.

The pay section was treated with 9,000 gallons of acid.

The discovery is 330 feet from south and 1,100 feet from east lines of the lease in section 133, block 97, H&TC survey.

DRILLSTEM TEST ON GAINES WELL MADE

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 L. R. Nichols, central-west Gaines county wildcat, 23 miles west of Seminole, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block A-10, psl survey, took a drillstem test in the San Andres of the Permian at 4,530-621 feet.

The tool was open two hours and five minutes. Recovery was 500 feet of drilling mud, slightly cut with oil and gas, and 1,820 feet of sulphur water.

Deepening is now in progress. It

Indian Student At Tech Says Christians Are Fleeing Russia

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

There is a large number of Russian Christian missionaries in India today, according to Hazelton V. Madison, Indian student who arrived on the Texas Tech campus this weekend.

Madison, whose family he says was among the first to adopt Christianity in his region, is in America to get an education and return to his homeland to preach his religion. His family was converted to the Christian faith by a Russian, he declared.

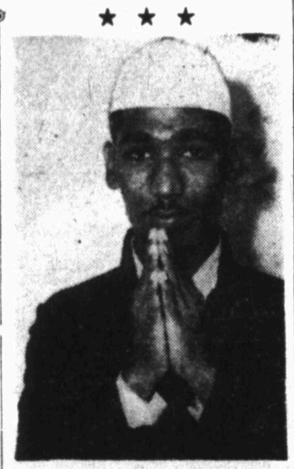

The Indian is being given his education by the Church of Christ at Seventeenth and Avenue N, Madison said. He is now living in a boarding house at 2101 Thirteenth.

Missionary Came To India

Madison, who says his name is of Indian origin, related that a Russian Christian driven out of the USSR because of his faith, came to India to preach his religion.

He settled in Hyderabad Deccan, Madison's home state, and the Tech student's family was among the first to adopt the religion. The missionary himself, said Madison, lost two daughters on the long trek to India, arriving with his wife and one daughter. There are many more who escaped death by fleeing to India to preach the gospel, he said.

But Christianity is still in a very great minority, the Indian said. It

"NAMESTA"—Hazelton V. Madison, new Indian student at Texas Tech, says "Namesta" meaning "Hello" in his native tongue, giving the gesture of his countrymen instead of the United States handshake. The cape Madison wears is called "Sherwani" and the cap is a Ghandi cap. During British rule, says the Indian, anyone wearing such a cap was thrown into prison for six months for advocating Independence. (Staff Photo.)

Lubbock Pastor Gets High Honor

Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Lubbock for the past 27 years, has been named for the highest honor in Scottish Rite Masonry — the 33rd Degree, according to an announcement from Washington headquarters of the Masonic order.

A Brownfield man and a Paducah man also were named for high honors, according to the announcement.

Dr. Lewis was among several Texans awarded the high honor in the Scottish Rite Masonry, according to a list announced by the Supreme Council, 33rd Degree, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, southern jurisdiction, at its biennial session in the nation's capital.

Leave For Washington

Dr. Lewis, accompanied by Lubbock's only two 33rd Degree Masons, left Lubbock Tuesday morning for Washington, where ceremonies at which he will receive the honor, have been set for Friday night.

Accompanying him was John Dalrymple and Temple Morrow. Dalrymple is the only other Lubbock man to have received the award, an honorary one, Morrow having received his while a resident of Dallas.

Dr. Lewis has been active in the Yellowhouse Lodge AF&AM and has held offices in York Rite bodies not only in Lubbock but also in the State Commandery. Dr. Lewis is a member of the El Paso consistory. A 32nd Degree Mason, he has held the rank of Knight Commander of the Court of Honor for seven years.

Probe Of Sewing Machine Thefts Believed Centered In Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 19 (AP) — Investigation of sewing machine burglaries in Texas and Louisiana was believed centered in Dallas today.

The burglary ring specialized in the theft of the machines from public schools.

Sheriff Levi Brawley of McKinney, Collin county, was conferring with Dallas officers today with the subject understood to be such thefts.

The police chief of Shreveport, La., has been in Dallas and North Texas for several days on the same investigation.

Dallas police said E. G. Huckaby, the Shreveport chief, told of a number of sewing machine thefts from a Shreveport school. Huckaby also told Dallas police his investigation had taken him to Canton, Tex., and said he had located some of the machines in Missouri and Illinois.

War With Reds Feared Unless U.S. Develops More Patience

FORMER GERMAN OFFICIAL SPEAKS

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

"War with Russia is imminent unless Americans can develop perseverence and an almost inexhaustive patience for use in their dealings with the Soviets."

That is the opinion of Dr. Gerhart H. Seger, noted lecturer and New York newspaper editor, who spoke on "America's Foreign Policy," before more than 150 persons at the Knife and Fork club banquet at the Hilton Wednesday night.

Policy Claimed Effective

Dr. Seger said that contrary to the assertions of many, the United States does have an effective foreign policy, as evidenced by the diplomatic victories achieved with the Berlin Blockade and the Marshall Plan.

"As for the Russian atom bomb, there is a possibility, and I stress the word possibility, that a balance of power against Russia is the answer," he said. "As with poison gas in World War Two, the fear of retaliation also may be an important factor to consider."

After only four years of work, impatient Americans already are branding the UN a failure, which is not fair, he asserted. "It has the job of bringing peace to a world which has been fighting for thousands of years, and it cannot be expected to get the job done in four years."

As a naturalized U.S. citizen from Germany, Dr. Seger had many interesting facts to present concerning the nation of his birth.

He said the Morgenthau policy for Germany, which would have reduced it to an agrarian state, had long been abandoned because U.S. State department officials realized that it could not be done without punishing other European nations as well.

"For better or for worse, Germany is an integral part of the economy of Western Europe, and in order to rebuild the other nations of Europe, it was necessary to rebuild Germany."

Production Shows Boost

Dr. Seger made note of the currency reform in 1948, and the changes it made in German life. "Only four weeks after the reform, production in Western Germany had increased 27 per cent, and is still increasing," he commented.

The speaker took issue with a common conception today, one that the German is naturally submissive to leadership and cannot adjust himself to the responsibil-

GROUP HEARS BLUNT ADVICE

Committee On Texas Lawmaking Warned Against Effect Of Politics

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 — A committee to bring order out of the often-chaotic process of new lawmaking in Texas heard some bluntly worded advice and went to work today.

The advice came from Frederic H. Guild, research director of the Kansas Legislative council, the first of its kind in the nation. He told members of the newly-formed Texas Legislative council they can't do the big job without wearing some blisters on their heels.

Guild said that politics could have no part in a genuine legislative council and that its research staff would have to have protection from undue pressures.

Observers Attend Meeting

Among the observers at the meeting were professors of government and a considerable turnout of lobbyists or ears-to-the-ground men interested in this new turn in Texas Legislative affairs.

The Kansas council has been in operation since 1933. Guild said one of its chief functions was to translate research into language the average legislator could understand and therefore use.

The council voted to meet again Nov. 14. It authorized Chairman G. C. Morris of Greenville and vice-chairman Durwood Manford to name an executive committee to work out details of organization, a finance committee and a subject-matter committee.

The 17-member committee headed by the acting lieutenant governor was created by the 51st Legislature, given broad powers to make state government studies and investigations, and recommend legislation.

Tugs Win Battle Against Gale To Save British Plane Carrier

ROSYTH, Scotland, Oct. 19. (AP) —Two tiny tugs won their battle against a North Sea gale and pulled the damaged British aircraft carrier Albion into the protected Firth of Forth today.

The newly-built carrier was holed on the aft port side yesterday in a collision with the 2,025-ton coal-carrying British steamer, Maystone. The Maystone sank quickly with the loss of 20 of her crew of 24.

TEXANS GET HIGH MASONIC AWARDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP) A number of Texans were among the 364 persons awarded today the highest honor in Scottish Rite Masonry—the 33rd degree.

The list was announced by the Supreme Council, 33rd degree, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, southern jurisdiction, at its biennial session.

The council named also 1,168 Masons as knights commander of the court of honor —among them Rep. William Homer Thornberry of Texas.

Texans receiving the 33rd degree were:

Claude Lee Austin, Alvarado; George Haggard Belew, Waco; Howard Edward Duty, Corpus Christi; Orlando Hugh Carlisle, Houston; Clarence McClellan Cash, San Benito; George Washington Clampitt, Galveston; Carroll Ray Davis, San Antonio; John Cochran Harris, Dallas; Leo Shafter Hart, Gilmer; Edward Dwight Hodge, El Paso; Eugene Jackson, Galveston; Harry Earle Jenkins, Tyler; George Royal Jordan, Dallas; Dudley Battle Kennedy, Dallas; Jess Foy Lafferty, Dallas; John Milligan Lewis, Lubbock; Scott Matthews, Houston; Weldon Leslie Moore, Dallas; John Edgar Peper, San Antonio; Curtice Rosser, Dallas; Albert Jacob William Schmid, El Paso; Edgar Carlyle Smith, Grand Prairie; Benjamin Carroll Tharp, Austin, Melvin J. Miller, Fort Worth.

Texans elected by the Scottish Rite as Knights of the court of honor included:

is for that reason he came to America to get an education and return to teach his people. He plans to preach in Bombay, where there is a population of 35 lakhes (3,500,000) and only two lakhes of them Christian. Hinduism, Mohammedianism and several other faiths are among the leading religions.

Madison had "an inclination to engineering" when in high school in Hyderabad, deep in the heart of India. "God has changed all that, though," he said. "I want to teach my people Christianity."

Flying all the way from Bombay to Lubbock via New York, Madison explained he had wanted to arrive here in time to enroll for the fall semester at Tech. "It takes a lot of trouble, time and money to get visas," he explained.

Because of his late arrival he will take two extension courses from the college this fall and will enroll for regular classes in the spring. Meanwhile, he will go to classes and take tests without credit while making up for that he has missed.

In comparing customs of India with those of the United States, Madison said that child marriages in his homeland are now banned. "I have seen a few, though," he confided. He explained that parents in such cases choose marriage partners for their children and that the man might be 15 years old at the time and the girl not yet old enough to walk.

"It really doesn't matter anyhow," he said though, "The man later chooses whoever he wishes for a mate and the woman does the same. So the two never live together unless they want to."

Everyone in the United States with whom he has come into contact has treated him "fine," Madison asserted. In fact, so far, he likes this country even better than his homeland, he said.

India is still very backward, he pointed out, even though great strides are now being taken to improve the living standards. It will take many years to get the nation well on its feet, Madison asserted, but he believes Christianity will give it a boost.

ities of democracy.

The German has been under imperialism for many centuries, and it will take him time to become adjusted, more time than the 14 years of the Weimar Republic, he said. The Germans already are well on their way to development of a democracy as evidenced by the resounding defeat of the extremists in the recent election.

Occupation Is Lauded

Dr. Seger praised the American occupation as being more helpful to the reconstruction of Germany than any of the other three occupation forces. "The British have a colonial view toward Germany, and the French have made the mistake of making no distinction between Nazis and non-Nazis.

"All Hitler's victims were not Jews," he revealed. "About 90 per cent of the prisoners in his concentration camps were Christians, including myself.

"As for the Russian occupation, it is, in one word, pathetic," Dr. Seger stated.

Dr. Seger became an American citizen in 1942, after escaping from a concentration camp at Oranienburg, and has been a member of the Reichstag, the legislature of the old Weimar Republic.

Cecil H. Cale, former president of the club, introduced Dr. Seger. Dr. A. G. Barsh, president, presided.

Reports Of Arkansas Plane Crash Are Believed False

WARREN, Ark., Oct. 19. (U.P.)— Arkansas highway patrolmen said today that a jet plane which roared over this area trailing vapor yesterday may have led to apparently false reports that a burning plane crashed near here.

Patrolmen, checking on scattered reports that a plane had exploded and fallen, were unable to find any trace of wreckage or even any person who would confirm the rumors.

State patrolmen began a careful search of this area last night when an unidentified negro told officials at the nearby Dermott, Ark., airport that he saw a big plane "explode and crash."

New York City has several bonifide farms within its city limits.

General Motors Auto Output Leads Nation

DETROIT, Oct. 19. (AP)—Emphasizing the capacity of the nation's auto industry are this year's production achievements of its "big three."

General Motors, with a total passenger car output so far this year of approximately 1,840,000 units tops the combined total of Chrysler and Ford.

Indications are Chrysler will pass the million-unit output mark before Ford. With its Plymouth and Dodge divisions leading the way, Chrysler has been turning out around 31,000 cars a week for some time. Ford's total has been about 26,000 units weekly.

So far in 1949 Chrysler's four car divisions have built about 920,000 vehicles. Ford's total is approximately 865,000.

The strike of last May that tied up Ford assembly lines for nearly a month is partly responsible for the fact Ford has been in third place in passenger car output. And while Ford has been trying to regain some of the lost ground Chrysler has been working overtime.

It has been estimated the strike nearly six months ago cost Ford around 80,000 units.

SALES OPPORTUNITY
A well-known Household Appliance Distributor whose products are now sold and favorably accepted in the Lubbock area is seeking the services of a man between the ages of 25 and 40. The man we are looking for is possibly employed at present; but, for good reasons, he wishes to make a change that offers an excellent opportunity with a substantial salary and bonus arrangement. He possibly has been selling merchandise to retail dealers; and while household appliance experience might be desirable, it is not necessarily essential. Good car essential. He can present an outstanding sales performance, and we ask that you give us your qualifications and tell us in your letter that you are the man we are seeking. Enclose recent snapshot. $67 MILLION IS LOST WEEKLY

Nation's Strikes Cut Deeply Into Income And Production

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 — An estimated $67,000,000 is going down the drain each week in lost wages during the big steel, coal and aluminum strikes idling about 1,000,000.

Since Sept. 19, when the coal strike started, the strikes have cost about $196,000,000 in lost pay.

The total is expected to jump rapidly next week. Many allied industries will then run out of fuel and raw material.

Supplies Cut Heavily

The strikes are costing the nation 1,400,000 tons of steel a week, 11,000,000 tons of soft coal and 7,750 tons of aluminum.

Some production can be regained after the strikes end if mills and mines work at full speed to catch up. Wages are lost forever.

The loss means a slump in business for almost everyone from grocers to bankers, crippling the nation's economy.

The biggest pay loss of any group is for the 450,000 CIO United Steel workers who struck against basic steel companies in 27 states. Seeking free pensions and insurance, they are giving up $30,000,000 a week to support their demands.

Basic steel workers have lost about $90,000,000 in wages in their three week old strike.

Miners Hit Hard

John L. Lewis' United Mine workers are giving up $22,800,000 weekly in wages with about 380,000 soft coal diggers idle east of the Mississippi. They are striking to back Lewis' hand in bargaining for a new coal contract.

The 45,000 laid-off employes of coal-carrying railroads are saying goodbye to about $3,000,000 a week. They only work when the miners do because all are members of train crews which transport coal from mine to market.

In the steel fabricating industry, where 200,000 plants buy basic steel and process it into finished products, unemployment has not hit hard as yet. Steel stockpiles have kept the companies going. Predictions are general that they'll suffer from now on.

Only about 27,000 employes of of fabricating firms have been laid off. They are losing about $1,600,000 a week in wages.

The 16,000 to 20,000 striking employes of the Aluminum Company of America are giving up $1,200,000 a week in lost pay. CIO-United Steel workers empoyes in nine Alcoa plants struck Monday in Support of pension and insurance demands.

Everywhere the idle workers are digging deeper and deeper into their pocketbooks. Credit is being limited in some places. Savings are dwindling. Relief rolls are growing.

Last Known Jap War Criminal Sentenced

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 19. (INS)—General MacArthur's occupation headquarters announced today that the last known Japanese war criminal has been tried and sentenced to prison.

The announcement said that allied occupation authorities have completed the four-year task of apprehending and trying Japan's war criminals.

The final case on the war crimes docket was that of Osamu Sutano, who was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for beheading a captured American B-29 airman. His sentence was pronounced by a U.S. military trial commission in Yokohama.

Alvah C. Carpenter of Fort [illegible] Ind., chief of General MacArthur's legal section, said that disposal of Sutano's case cleared the war crimes docket for the first time since the trials started in 1945.

A total of 4,200 Japanese have been convicted of war crimes, including more than 700 sentenced to death. Among the latter were former Premier Hideki Tojo and members of his Pearl Harbor cabinet.

Hundreds convicted of minor offenses already have completed their terms and 2,500 others are still in prison.

Allied prosecutors who tracked down Japan's war criminals questioned every known wartime prisoner of the Japanese and more than 100 thousand Japanese suspects, plus scores of thousands of Japanese witnesses.

In the Tokyo area alone, fifty thousand affidavits were collected in the preparation of evidence for the war crimes trials.

McGrath Defends Anti-Trust Suit Against Grocery Chain

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 19. (AP)—The government's anti-trust suit against the Atlantic & Pacific grocery chain, says U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, is an attack against the company's "vicious practice and restraints of trade."

The suit, McGrath told the Connecticut Bar association last night, does not seek the closing of any of the 6,000 A & P stores.

"If any stores are closed by the company it will be in a lock-out against the public interest," McGrath said.

He said the suit is part of a planned anti-trust program to attack restraints of trade that might ultimately lead to monopoly.

Doctor's 4-Step Beauty Routine Helps 4 out of 5 to softer, smoother, lovelier-looking skin—in 2 weeks!

● If your skin gets dry or rough, if "externally-caused blemishes sometimes mar its loveliness—here's news of vital interest to you.

A noted skin doctor has recently developed a new beauty routine. In clinical tests, results proved so astonishing that beauty editors are really excited. It's a new idea!

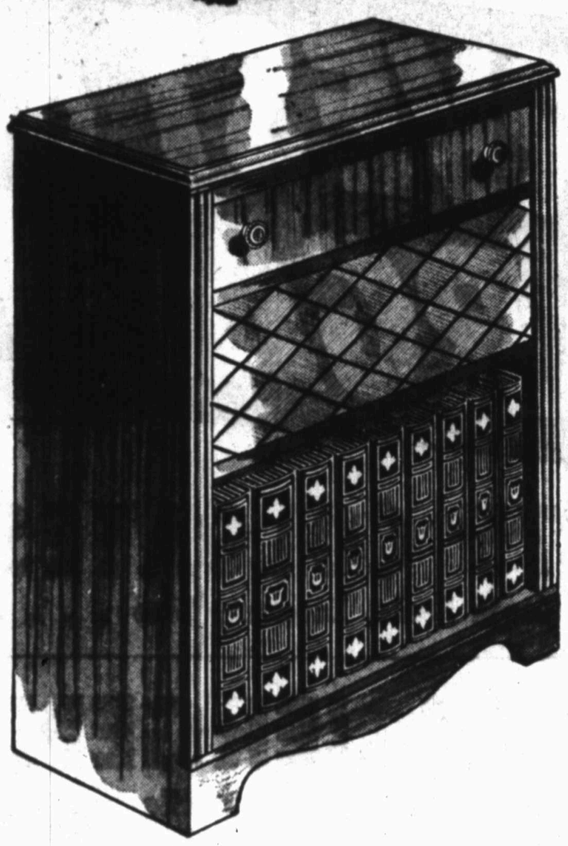

Here's what Happened!

181 women took the test under the supervision of 3 skin specialists. Each woman had something wrong with her skin—blemishes, roughness, dryness, etc. Each followed the doctor's simple 4-step routine, using Noxzema Medicated Cream.

After one week, the majority showed remarkable improvement. At the end of the test, results were astonishing. Actually, 4 out of 5 women showed softer, smoother, lovelier-looking skin. Think of it! 4 out of 5 gained softer, smoother, lovelier-looking skin in only 2 weeks.

Try it yourself! See if Noxzema doesn't help your skin to natural-looking loveliness. Here's all you do: Morning—1. Bathe face with warm water, apply Noxzema with a wet cloth, and "cream-wash" your face. 2. Apply Noxzema as a powder base. Evening—3. Before retiring, repeat morning cleansing. 4. Massage Noxzema lightly into your face. Pat on extra Noxzema over any blemishes. Special offer—For a limited time you can get the big 85¢ Boudoir jar of Noxzema Skin Cream for only 59¢ plus tax. That's 43% more Noxzema for your money than in the Small size! Try this new home beauty routine now on this money-saving offer—but hurry—it's a limited time offer! Chinese Communists Claimed To Have Scored New Triumphs Over Hard Pressed Nationalist Forces

By WAYNE RICHARDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONG KONG, Thursday, Oct. 20—Chinese Communist forces today were reported to have knocked out two Nationalist armies in a drive on Kweilin in southwestern China.

Chinese press reports said Red Gen. Lin Piao's Red veterans routed two Nationalist armies under Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi on the border of Hunan and Kwangsi provinces. Kweilin is Kwangsi's capital.

Pai withdrew to his native Kwangsi from Hunan rather than pull southward to defend now fallen Canton against the Reds. His 200,000-man force has been called the best still under the Nationalist banner.

The rapid Communist thrust into southwestern China came as the Reds massed junks and fishing vessels southeast of Shanghai for an all-out attack on Chushan island, Nationalist blackade base on the east coast.

Nationalist dispatches from Formosa said the situation was grave at Chu Shan, which is off the mainland 100 miles south of Shanghai.

(Preliminary skirmishing may have begun. The Communist radio in Peiping said three Nationalist warships tried to raid the nearby coast and one was set afire by shore batteries. The broadcast was heard at San Francisco.)

Communist troops have leapfrogged closer to Chu Shan by way of girdling islands of the Chushan archipelago.

Ships Claimed Massing

Intelligence reports said the junks and fishing craft are assembling at these smaller islands. Large Red assault forces are gathering.

Heavy Nationalist reinforcements were said to be heading for Chushan. Nationalist warplanes were making daily raids on Chintang island, only five miles to the west of Chu Shan.

Gen. Chen Cheng, Nationalist commander on Formosa and in southeast China, flew to Chushan.

The mop-up on the Canton front continued. Chinese press reports said medium Nationalist bombers raided Canton twice Tuesday, aiming their loads at military warehouses.

The new life evening post said more than 10,000 Nationalist troops fleeing Canton had missed evacuation ships at Namton, on the border of this British crown colony. They were expected to turn guerrilla.

Farther west, however, approximately 100,000 Nationalist troops were being evacuated by every available craft to Hainan island, off the south China coast, the China Mail reported.

New Farm Bill To Support Mohair At 90 Percent Parity

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (Special) — The hundred-year-old mohair industry of Texas, which until recently faced virtual extinction, will hereafter be supported by the government and treated on the same basis as wool, with passage by the House and Senate today of the Poage amendment to the farm bill.

The provision written into the House version of the bill after a fight by Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, member of the House Agricultural committee, was knocked out in the bill approved by the Senate earlier, but Poage, member of the conference committee, succeeded in getting the measure back in.

From there, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas took up the fight in the Senate.

The result is that mohair will be supported at 90 per cent of parity. Parity on mohair will be figured on the new formula.

In a Senate speech, Johnson elicited from Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) that mohair would be supported at 90 per cent of parity and at the same level as wool. Anderson replied that is correct.

Johnson praised Anderson for help in getting the mohair amendment in the final bill.

"This will be welcome news for a large section of my state and is long overdue," Johnson said in a statement issued later. "Southwest Texas has been held far too long under the thumb of Boston wool speculators who have been forcing the market price down. The government will be on the side of the mohair producer now and growers can welcome the end of starvation."

Accused Burglar Pleads Guilty

Two sentences were pronounced Wednesday in 99th district court in connection with the Aug. 19 burglary of Palace drug and jewelry, operated by Frank Husted at Twenty-fourth and East Ave. F—making a total of three in two days.

Osby James, 31, pleaded guilty before Judge G. V. Pardue after waiving a jury, and was sentenced to serve four years in the penitentiary. A panel had just sworn when James decided to withdraw a request for a jury trial.

Probation Allowed

Earl Laughry, 25, similarly charged, also pleaded guilty. He was allowed a five-year probation.

J. A. Avery, 20, was convicted of a similar charge by a jury that reported to Judge G. V. Pardue Tuesday night. It recommended five years in the penitentiary.

Husted estimated value of property taken in the burglary at $1,200. Some of it was recovered in a taxicab in which the three accused men were sitting, some later in a tourist court.

Doras Franklin Leflar, 19, pleaded guilty this morning of burglary. Sentence was deferred after the court was informed that the defendant is under treatment of a psychiatrist.

A jury panel will report back Friday morning for trial of Francis Lee Jackson, 21, of Dimmitt, charged with murder without malice.

Jackson, the indictment accuses, was driver of a car Aug. 12 that through mistake and accident collided with one in which Rex Melton was riding, causing Melton's death. Jackson was intoxicated at the time, the indictment charges.

Rites Slated Today For Lamesa Resident

LAMESA, Oct. 19. (Special)—Funeral services will be held in the Bryant Street Baptist church of Lamesa at 3:30 p. m. Thursday for N. A. Simmons, 90, who died at his home here on Tuesday.

The Rev. E. L. Jones, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial park with arrangements by the Higginbotham Funeral home.

Simmons, a native of Tennessee, had been a resident here for 18 years. His wife died in 1916.

Survivors include a brother, Hershel Simmons of Campaign, Tenn.; a sister, Mrs. V. A. Hollingsworth of Doyle, Tenn.; four sons, Floyd Simmons of Brookston, and Hubert, Herbert and Hayden Simmons, all of Lamesa; two daughters, Mrs. W. D. Smith and Mrs. Winnie Simmons, both of Lamesa; 30 grandchildren; 48 great grandchildren; one great, great grandchild, and two step daughters.

DECISION IS STATE VICTORY

Criminal Appeals Court Rules On Texas' Adult Probation Law

AUSTIN, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—The Court of Criminal appeals, in a ruling on Texas' adult probation and parole law, held today that a person whose conviction has been upheld by the appeals court cannot return to the trial court for suspension of his sentence.

The decision represented a victory for the state in the first ruling of its kind on the probation law enacted by the 50th legislature in 1947.

Prohibition Order Issued

An order prohibiting District Judge Arthur A. Klein of Willacy county from considering a motion made under the law by Jose Maria Cavazos, jr., was issued.

Cavazos was convicted of assault with intent to maim and was assessed a two-year sentence, which was upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

However, before execution of the sentence, Cavazos returned to Judge Klein's court and filed a motion under the adult probation and parole act. Klein took the plea for probation under the new law under consideration.

Turned To Appeal Court

State's attorneys turned to Judge Tom L. Beauchamp of the Court of Criminal appeals, who granted permission to file an application for an order prohibiting Klein from considering the case further.

The full court's decision upheld that action, ruling that Judge Klein was without jurisdiction when he took Cavazos' motion.

"General jurisdiction," the opinion said, "over the case was not restored by the judgment of this court, as is done in cases where we order a reversal of the judgment of conviction and remand the case for a new trial."

All that Judge Klein could do, the court said, was "to see that the judgement of this court was carried out."

Error Causes Slight Detour For Jeweler Aboard Wrong Plane

DALLAS, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—A Massachusetts jeweler, trying to get from Newark, N. J., to Providence, R. I., boarded the wrong airplane yesterday and landed in Dallas.

Not until the American airliner was aloft and headed for the southwest did John Williams, of Fall River, Mass., suspect his error.

An American airlines representative was aboard the plane.

"There must be a mistake," Williams told him. "We seem to be going the wrong way for Providence. That's where I want to go."

Passenger Told Of Error

"We're going to Dallas — non-stop," the American man informed Williams. "You might as well come along."

Williams, who operates a jewelry store in Fall River, settled down after a few nervous moments and enjoyed the flight.

It was his first trip farther south or west than Washington.

Williams is a veteran air traveler. He flies from Fall River to New York and then to Providence, he said, "every couple of weeks."

Yesterday, finished with his business in New York, he went to the Newark airport to board the Providence plane. He checked in at American's baggage counter and was told that his plane would leave from gate 5 at 8:50 p.m.

Williams Reads News Paper

"I sat down to read a newspaper, while waiting, Williams recounted.

"Shortly before takeoff time, I went out to gate 5 and there was the plane. So, I got on."

The plane, as Williams learned later, was a special flight, arranged to carry delegates of the American association of travel agents to Mexico City, for their convention which opened today.

Williams spent the night in the Adolphus hotel and today got out for his first good look at a southwestern city. Tonight, he was to board another American airliner— this one for New York.

'Party Of Year' To Fete State Officials

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 19. (Special)—Gov. Allan Shivers, two members of the State Railroad commmission, Ernest O. Thompson and Olin Culberson, and at least two members of the State Supreme court, Associate Justices Meade F. Griffin and R. H. Harvey, will be among the state officials who will be guests of honor at the "Party of the Year" here Oct. 28.

Acceptances from Fred Wemple, chairman of the State Highway commission; Homer Garrison, jr., director of the Department of Public Safety; Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of education; J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture; G. C. Morris, acting lieutenant-governor; John H. Winters, executive director of the Department of Public welfare; Ben Ramsey, secretary of state; D. C. Greer, state highway engineer; C. H. Cavness, state auditor; Gordon Shearer, executive secretary of the State Park board; and H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission have been reported received by Fred Brown, one of the hosts of the party.

Two thousand invitations are going out to citizens throughout the state to attend the party honoring Texas government executives.

Hosts are ten Mineral Wells residents and ten citizens over the state. There will be a get-together with refreshments at 6 p. m. in the water pavilion of the Baker hotel, followed by a barbecue and informal program.

Former Finance Minister To Take Job As French Premier

PARIS, Oct. 19. (AP)— President Auriol today assigned Rene Mayer, former finance minister and a radical Socialist, to take the premiership of France and attempt to form a government.

Mayer, member of the same moderate party as Henri Queuille, who resigned as premier Oct. 6, said he had accepted.

Socialist Jules Moch gave up the job Monday night because he couldn't get a set of ministers among the middle-of-the-road parties of the coalition to agree on policy.

Queuille's government had fallen in a dispute between the Socialists and the Radical Socialists over the price-wage policies.

Transportation To Houston Airport Resumes After Lapse

HOUSTON, Oct. 19 (U.P.)—Transportation to the Municipal airport was resumed today after a 10-day lapse because of a Limousine drivers' strike.

Cars were manned by 24 non-union drivers, hired by the Airways Limousine service. W. H. MaGruder, operations manager for the Limousine company, said there was no disturbance of any kind.

Some 30 union drivers struck for shorter hours and higher wages, and airport transportation since the walkout has been spotty.

Bishop Asserts Faith In God Over Powers Of Atomic Bomb

FORT WORTH, Oct. 19. (U.P.)—The atomic bomb "nor any other devilish inventions of war" can stand in the way of final success of God's purpose and program, a Methodist bishop from St. Paul, Minn., said here today.

Bishop Ralph S. Cushman's address highlighted the final session of a Methodist rally of approximately 2,500 Central and North Texas conference Methodists here.

Persons of all faiths need to "re-think the question of what is the church of Christ," the bishop said. "It is time we stopped over-exalting men."

Texas' New Council

THE recently created Texas Legislative council, which held its first meeting in Austin this week, should mean a considerable improvement in the transaction of the Legislature's business.

One of the worst and most obvious faults of legislative sessions of the past has been the delay in getting down to business. The detailed formalities involved in getting bills introduced and in shape for consideration invariably has required several weeks.

During this period, a few members of the House and Senate have been exceedingly busy — some of them overworked. The problem of most of them has been to kill time. This has been primarily a fault of antiquated procedure and not of personal preference.

The basic theoretical purpose of the new Legislative council is to get some important matters ready for consideration when the Legislature meets. Numerous duties have been designated to the new group — but the main idea, unless people have been misled, is to give the legislators something to do during the early days and weeks of sessions.

The council also is expected to serve as a fact-finding and gathering agency which should expedite action upon a great many measures. Instead of having to waste a lot of time on aimless hearings, the Legislature will expect the council to have most of the information pertinent to the more important and controversial legislation ready for the consideration of the law makers.

Attending to this job will be a council membership which includes the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the House, 10 representatives and five senators. The members named to this group appear, on the whole, to be able men, although West Texas, as usual has not been given a proportional representation on the council.

However, the whole thing offers the promise to justify a thorough trial. There's no logical reason why the plan should not work and the question of equitable representation is one which can be attended to later without apparent prejudice to any sections of the state.

Our Air Strength

THE great majority of Americans will readily acknowledge they are more than slightly vague when the term, "group," is used as a measure of Air Force strength.

But, without an important exception, various tests have indicated public opinion to be overwhelmingly in favor of enough groups to give this nation air superiority over any possible or actual antagonist.

Most Americans, therefore, will commend the U. S. House of Representatives for refusing to budge from its successful insistence upon a minimum Air Force of 58 groups, as compared with 48 favored by the Senate and the President. The House actually favored 70 groups and undoubtedly would have provided for them if the Senate had been willing to string along.

In simplest terms, an Air Force group probably can be compared most accurately with an Army division or a Navy squardron of several ships as a unit of strength. The number of planes in a group ranges from about 30 of the biggest bombers to 75 or more fighter craft. The difference between a 48 and a 58-group Air Force is about 400 planes — a 70-group force would add 500 to 600 craft to that total.

But, about all most Americans know about the matter is that a 58-group force should be stronger than one of 48.

For that reason, they will accept the 58-unit force as the most they can get. But many of them certainly would have been willing to pay their share of the difference for the 70-group force which, according to many authorities, would give Uncle Sam the air strength he actually should have.

Flowers For Adolph

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Jenny is not as happy as she should be, married to Tod Duncan. First they live with Tod's widowed mother, his brother Joe and sister Harriet, who dislike her. Later they move to a disagreeable trailer camp while Tod finishes college. Jenny must give up her job as a model when she learns she is to become a mother. Tod meets Rick Morris, an old chum, who advises Tod to forget Lis Conover, the girl who jilted Tod, but whom Tod can't forget. Jenny believes Tod married her "on the rebound." There are financial difficulties and Jenny sells an old fishing shack owned by her father to get money to live on. Then Tod's mother calls with news that Tod's brother Joe has embezzled money and Tod must help him out. Tod sells his car to get Joe out of trouble.)

XVI

THE girls at the shop gave a shower for Jenny. Everyone seemed anxious to do anything they could to please her. She had a happy faculty of making friends easily. Already she knew every single family in the trailer camp. And Tod knew scarcely any of them except the Hansens.

It might be all right to chum around with people like that, Tod thought, if you had never known the other kind. But once you'd cultivated a taste for champagne, it was a bit hard to stick to nothing but beer. Of course there was always Rick, one of the champagne crowd, you might say. He did things on a broad, handsome way. Once, for instance, he brought Jenny a dozen long-stemmed roses in a white box tied with ribbon, because she had invited him to dinner.

Rick invited the two of them to drive home with him to Centerville, 50 miles south, to spend Christmas with him and his mother. Tod thought it a grand idea, but Jenny demurred on the sentimental grounds that they should spend their first Christmas alone together. Jenny had a queer sentimental streak in her, Tod thought. For instance, the small blue powder box that Rick had left for her beneath the tree, seemed to mean more to her than the expensive robe he himself had bought her. Maybe it was because the powder box played "Rockabye Baby." And all Jenny could seem to think about was the baby.

Jenny found herself depending on Rick in a lot of ways. Sensing her moods, he catered to them, which Tod never tried to do. In January there was an especially heavy snowfall, and Jenny mentioned something about what fun it must have been in the old days to go sleigh-riding. The next day there was a wild ringing of bells and the sound of horses' hoofs, and there was Rick with an old sleigh he'd rented from some farmer. He took Jenny and Tod and the Hansens for a hilarious ride.

TOD, watching the way Rick's eyes clung to Jenny's face, knew he ought to feel jealous, but he didn't somehow. All he felt was a vague restlessness.

Jenny was happy these days, and had turned thoroughly domestic. She met with the weekly home economics club of the camp, to discuss husbands, babies, new recipes and trailer camp gossip.

February was a miserable month, bitterly cold and wet. Tod and Jenny kept pretty well to the trailer. Tod, wading snow across the campus to go to his classes, or to the grocery for Jenny, tried hard not to grumble about their lack of a car. He was still worried about their financial situation.

Ma kept troubling him with her affairs, too. Joe never wrote to her, she didn't even know where he was; and she was having trouble with Harriet. She was always phoning Tod and wanting him to come over. One particularly miserable night in March she insisted that he come across town to her apartment. She was all alone. Harriet had left for good.

"But Ma," Tod explained patiently, "I can't very well come. Jenny's all alone and what if she should get sick while I was gone?"

"Yes, of course, she comes first," Ma began to weep. Her sobs made little hiccupy noises in the receiver of the phone. "I don't have anyone that cares anything about me now." The desperate note in her words frightened him. He felt that he had better go.

Jenny wanted to point out that he was her only refuge also. But like Ma he was touchy about the tiniest hint of criticism. She let him go. After all, if she needed help she could rouse the Hansens. And anyway, the baby wasn't due for another week.

BUT the wildness of the night and the sense of being alone gave Jenny an uneasy feeling. Almost as soon as Tod left it began to sleet. The sound dinned softly on the roof of the trailer and pattered against the windows. She looked through the window facing the Hansen trailer after a while and she noticed that it was dark. Tod had forgotten to make sure they were going to be home all evening.

Panic came to her quite suddenly with the first sharp twings of pain. The hour that ensued was like a nightmare. She tried to keep calm by getting her overnight case ready to take to the hospital. Tod said he would not stay long. She did not dare venture out of the trailer because the ground was covered with ice and the wind was blowing the sleet in a steady drumming against the trailer now.

She grew no longer aware of time, only the dark waves of pain that caught her in their relentless grip over and over again. She was crying.

Then came a knock at the door. She called out, as the blackness caught her relentlessly again. All at once she was aware of Rick's calm presence, his hands putting her arms into her coat, his arms about her as he carried her to his car.

His overcoat was rough against her face. "Oh, Rick, I'm so glad you came! So glad!"

"Jenny, darling, don't worry. Everything'll be all right."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

DO you remember Gertrude Ederle, the girl who swam the English channel in August, 1926, in 14 hours and 34 minutes and whose record is still unbroken for her sex?

I had a little chat with Gertrude yesterday, and I came away with the happy conviction that even in these days of ballyhoo and drum-beating there is still real sportsmanship in this world.

BRANDEIS

For a while Gertrude Ederle was a heroine.

She had all sorts of offers and could have made a lot of money—almost as much as other members of her sex who nowadays cash in on NOT swimming the channel.

"Why didn't you take advantage of your opportunities?" I asked her.

Her answer was what restored my sometimes waning opinion of human nature.

"Well, you see," she said, "to me swimming that channel was sport, no business.

"It was a challenge, a chance to do something outstanding in the one field for which I knew I was fitted.

"When I made that record—and I could have done even better if there hadn't been so much of a storm that day—I was satisfied.

"I had done what I set out to do. That's all I wanted. I never believed in making a business out of a sport."

Now I am going to tell you something for which Gertrude might be very angry at me. I am printing it without her permission. But I'll take a chance.

After she came back from her successful swim, a promoter approached her.

He offered her an amount of money which would have meant a fortune to her, to enter in a fake swimming contest which was to promote a certain amusement enterprise.

Her competitors were to be a bunch of bathing beauties. The thing was wonderful publicity and would have made a lot of swell stories and pictures.

"And you can't lose," said the promoter. "We'll see to that."

The contest never came off.

GERTRUDE Ederle is now in her forties. She is working hard for a living. I believe she is a dressmaker or something like that.

But is she sorry that she didn't cash in?

"No," she said, "to me sport is still sport. And I still get a lot of fun out of my memories of that swim and all the excitement of that year.

"After all, you can lose money. But they can't take your memories away from you."

I have been trying to think of a moral with which to end this tale.

But it really isn't necessary. Gertrude Ederle herself is the moral.

"It's a new witness chair, designed to keep the jury's mind on the testimony!"

IN AN ATOMIC WAR

First Blow May Win

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The atomic bomb as a weapon of warfare figures in readers' minds lately, largely because of the Navy-Air Force controversy under consideration by the House Armed Services committee. Asks T. F. of Moline, Ill.:

TUCKER

I have read recently that the quantity of A-bombs which a nation possesses in time of war is of relatively small importance as a contribution to victory. That is, if we have 300 and the Russians have 100, the fact that we are better stocked does not insure that we shall win. How do you explain that seeming contradiction?"

FIRST: Answer: As I get it from supposed experts on this question—in fact, the only ones we have — atomic bombs cannot be compared to such orthodox weapons as big guns, rifles, planes etc.

What they seem to mean is that, if Russia were able to A-bomb us first, especially our ports, railroads, industrial centers, warehouses etc., our numerical superiority in this type of missile would be of no advantage to us.

In other words, the first few atomic hits, if properly and strategically delivered, would be the last. Any nation so pulverized would not be in a position to retaliate with its A-bombs, no matter how many it had.

Never before has there been such a premium on getting in the first blow at the other fellow. Indeed, although I have not heard the question discussed publicly in responsible quarters, the eventual development of the manufacturing and production process by possible enemy countries may force Congress to revise the slow-motion method in which the United States declares and goes to war.

It may have to lodge that awful authority in the Chief Executive or in a small, representative committee that can be assembled at the Capital within a few hours.

BOMB: "I have read two different accounts within the last week," writes F. R. of Nashua, N. H., "on the diffusion of damage from an A-bomb. Scientists say that it will level buildings within a range of several miles, while Naval men have testified before the Vinson committee that it will not even harm a human being at a distance of about a mile and a half. Which is correct?"

Answer: I don't know, and I don't think that they do. However, it is impossible to discount the damage and death which a single, comparatively primitive and old-fashioned A-bomb did at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

An eminent scientist who worked on the Manhattan project says that an A-bomb dropped over the Potomac river directly in the rear of the White House would destroy every government building from the Capitol to the Pentagon, across the river in Virginia. That covers an area with a diameter of approximately five miles.

UNDERGROUND: The military place the area of death at about a mile and a half. Their minimization, however, may derive from their unwillingness to believe that the A-bomb has transformed the fundamentals of warfare.

In connection with this general problem, there is a question which has not received sufficient attention.

Neither at Washington nor at any other city, so far as we have been able to discover, have defensive preparations been made or even started to minimize the danger of an atomic attack to human life and property.

There has been sporadic talk of placing key factories underground, as Hitler did in a few instances, and as Stalin is supposed to be doing now, but it has not progressed beyond the talking stage.

INVESTMENT: "In its distribution of a special dividend to veterans," inquires A. C. of Cincinnati, "is the Administration gypping the taxpayers in order to win the veterans' vote? I ask because I understand that, in some instances, the refunds will mean that an ex-G. I. will have paid only ten cents a month on a $10,000 policy.

Answer: That is not true. It is a fact that, if the premium rate was sixty-five cents, and the dividend rate amounts to fifty-five cents, a veteran would seem to have paid only the ten-cents difference on his policy.

But it must not be forgotten that the government — specifically, the Veterans' Administration — had the use of the full premium payments for investment purposes since the insurance became effective some years ago.

PRIEST: "Is it true," asks M. A. of Bridgeport, Conn., "that the son of Senator John Foster Dulles is studying to be a Catholic priest?"

Answer: Yes. I understand that he has entered the Jesuit order. Incidentally, it is not true that the father has not spoken to his son because of having joined the Catholic church.

On the contrary, they are extremely close. Indeed, I hear that the son attributes his decision to the Christian inspiration of his father, who is one of the leading members of the Federal Council of Churches.

A humorous situation is one in which someone else is involved.

Job had patience, but of course he never struggled with a zipper that wouldn't work.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanch, Oct. 20, 1929.)

Mrs. G. C. Stinson entertained with an attractive party at her home at 2221 Fourteenth street, Friday afternoon complimenting Mrs. J. C. Powell, who will leave in several weeks to make her home in Oklahoma City.

Several games were played during the afternoon and a musical program included vocal solos by Mrs. I. F. Holland and Mrs. D. I. Skelton of Slaton, and piano selections by Mrs. Powell.

A salad course was served to Mesdames R. E. Nabors, I. F. Holland, W. L. Bradshaw, H. L. Allen, J. R. Bush, D. L. Skelton, J. B. Edwards, Robert Bean, Leo Edwards, Lee Ragland, L. E. Grimes, Allen F. Stewart, and M. N. Hale.

At Lorenzo, the Woman's Study club met last Friday afternoon with Mesdames P. D. Fullingim and Dewey Sullivan in the home of Mrs. Fullingim on Van Buren avenue. An interesting program was led by Mrs. W. P. Fullingim on the novel, "Sentimental Tommy," by James M. Barrie.

Mrs. R. L. Bowman very ably discussed "Barrie, A Master of Pathos" and the talk by Mrs. T. G. Hendrick on "The Egotism of Tommy" was interesting. A round table discussion also was held.

Mrs. W. L. Pattillo was a club guest for the afternoon.

Refreshments were served to the following members: J. S. Garmon, Roy J. Terrell, J. L. Suits, J. T. Howell, R. C. Kirksey, W. P. Fullingim, H. F. Pearson, Ewell Smith, Irl Robertson, F. B. Hoople, R. Jones Goode, T. G. Hendrick, Sullivan and Fullingim

Believe It Or Not -

IN RUNNING FOR STATE POST

Byrnes May Head Southern Group

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Specisl Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The announcement by James F. Byrnes that he may run for governor of his native South Carolina is one of the most intriguing political developments in some time because of the play in national politics that also involves Harry S. Truman.

STOKES

At first blush one might ask quite logically why Jimmy Byrnes should now run for governor of his state with all the national honors he has enjoyed — House member, senator, Supreme Court justice, "assistant president" as top civilian advisor during the war to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, Secretary of State under President Truman. He is no longer a young man, either, though quite active.

States Rights Defended

The clue may be found in a sort of condition he suggested for his candidacy as governor, coupled with his attack a few weeks ago on the Truman fair deal as "leading down the road to statism," which surprised some people because of his former high position in the Truman administration. In an interview at his home with The Spartanburg Herald, Mr. Byrnes said:

"A very important question is whether one as governor could secure the co-operation of other governors in arousing the people of the nation to hold the line against further encroachments upon the rights of the states."

IN SHORT, Mr. Byrnes is inviting himself, or yielding to the invitations of others, to lead a new southern movement against President Truman and the Fair Deal. As interpreted here the object obviously is to use Jimmy Byrnes, because of his previous high position in the party, to wipe out the stigma of the Dixiecrat movement of the last election. The latter failed to attract outstanding party leaders and failed in its aim of pulling away enough southern states to defeat Mr. Truman. Jimmy Byrnes did not get himself identified publicly with that abortive movement. He could provide respectability and tone to a renovated State Rights movement, and give it the color of a regular party matter rather than such a rump affair as the Dixiecrat movement turned out to be.

Further developments in this interesting situation may come from the southern governors conference at Biloxi, Miss., November 21, which Mr. Byrnes is to address.

One Democrat high in the party here said this new project of Jimmy Byrnes became manifest six months ago. He professed to see the fine hand of Mr. Byrnes, one of the party's most skillful political operators, in the "face-saving" maneuvered for Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, last year's Dixiecrat presidential candidate. This was accomplished a few weeks ago when the governor resigned as South Carolina national committeeman to the Democratic state central committee, which thereupon elected Senator Burnet R. Maybank to the post. This saved Governor Thurmond from the embarrassment of being publicly kicked off the committee at its session here a few days later when it ousted other members who had bolted President Truman. Mr. Byrnes and Senator Maybank are close friends and political associates.

Thurmond May Seek Post

Governor Thurmond wants to come to the Senate. He plans to seek the Democratic senatorial nomination, tantamount to election in his state, against the incumbent, Senator Olin D. Johnston, at next July's primary, in which Mr. Byrnes also would be a candidate for governor if he decides to run.

The surprise caused by Jimmy Byrnes' attack on President Truman's Fair Deal some weeks ago was mixed also with expressions of cynicism in some quarters where it was pointed out that Mr. Brynes had helped President Roosevelt put through the Senate much of the New Deal, of which the Fair Deal is largely an extension of the same principles.

HE WAS in and out of the White House as liaison between President Roosevelt and the Senate when other southerners were persona non grata at the White House because of hostility to New Deal reforms. Subsequently, he was elevated to the Supreme Court by President Roosevelt and left the court to become top civilian adviser at the White House during the war.

A considerable coolness has developed between President Truman and Jimmy Byrnes. The latter, like Henry Wallace, was passed over as Democratic vice presidential candidate at the 1944 convention when then Senator Harry Truman was picked After he became President, Mr. Truman appointed his former Senate colleague as Secretary of State.

The President was offended by Mr. Byrnes' attack on his Fair Deal and let the latter know of his feelings.

Plains Oil Industry In High Gear

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

South Plains farmers are in the midst of harvest of the largest cotton crop in the area's history, one which will pour from 200 to 250 million dollars into their pockets.

But there is another "cash crop" gathered from beneath the South Plains soil that has reached such proportions that few realize it is one of the major industries of the area.

That crop is oil—production of which last year totaled 76,804,795 barrels in eleven counties in the area for a total worth of approximately $182,000,000.

Of course, oil men point out, all of this money doesn't go directly to the land owners as in the case of a cotton crop, but there are so many channels in the oil industry that it eventually benefits indirectly all phases of the area's economic life.

As "Oil Progress Week" is being observed throughout the nation this week, it is well that we take a look at the South Plains oil industry, which is still a mere infant, but growing lustily day by day.

First discovery of any sort of oil well in the area was in 1923 in Scurry county, which is again in the spotlight as a booming oil field after a lull of nearly 20 years.

Garza county, which saw its first discovery in 1926, has experienced a similar period of activity as Scurry and during the past several years production has risen rapidly with the opening of new fields and drilling of deeper tests.

But the bulk of the oil development on the South Plains has been since 1936 when discoveries were made in Yoakum, Gaines and Cochran counties.

Since that time, two of the counties, Yoakum and Hockley, which had its discovery well in 1937, have produced a total of 100,000,000 barrels of oil. Gaines county isn't far behind with a total of 81,623,974 barrels to date.

Three of the counties, Gaines, Hockley and Yoakum, produced more than the million barrels of oil last year and Yorkum county ranks seventh in the state in production with a total of 25,221,881 barrels during 1948.

Since opening their discovery fields, the eleven oil-producing counties in this area, Cochran, Dawson, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Scurry, Terry and Yoakum, have produced a total of 405,198,792 barrels of oil.

Source of the figures are: 1948 production from state comptroller and cumulative production compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association from Railroad Commission records and trade journals.

WE ARE AS NEAR AS YOUR TELEPHONE

Call us about our listings, try your best to get the locations, so you can just drive by, but it's a two to one bet that won't have any success. We're just naturally friendly at our office and just enjoy "driving-by" with our customers. Anyway we often go out to show a certain piece of property and end up by selling an entirely different property. Won't you call us, tell us your troubles and we'll tell you ours.

LEGAL NOTICE
Proposed Amendments to Zoning Ordinance of the City of Lubbock, Texas.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended to the City Commission that Zoning Ordinance No. 661 be amended so that:

The North one-half (N-½) of the East one-half (E-½) of Tract 40 Arnett and Benson Addition, be changed from a "B" Zoning District to an "F" District.

Lots 1 through 6, Block 2, Wayside Addition, be changed from an "E" Zoning District to an "F" District.

The City Commission will hold a public hearing on Nov. 10, 1949 at 2:30 o'clock P.M., in the City Commission room on the second floor of the City Hall in Lubbock, to consider the recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission to determine the advisability of adopting its proposal, and at which time and place all interested persons will be given an opportunity to protest against the proposed amendment or make recommendations in support thereof.

After said hearing the City Commission will determine whether the Zoning Ordinance will be amended in accordance with such recommendation.

MARKET CONTINUES ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (AP)—The stock market labored mightily today but, like the famous mountain, produced only a mouse.

A hand-picked group of shares made an excellent showing. Despite frequent bursts of activity the main body of stocks scarcely budged.

The general tendency was upward. Railroad, radio and television and an assortment of industrial shares were on the shaky side, many emerging with modest losses.

Today's stability followed a brisk run-up which just about cancelled the effects of a slump Monday. At the close the market was a breath away from the 1949 high established last week.

Business was done in fits and starts. Turnover stepped up to 1,310,000 shares from 1,210,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .2 of one point to 67.3, only 2 of a point below the 1949 high scored last Thursday. The industrial section led the field with utilities a poor second. Railroad stocks, on average, slipped a bit.

A total of 1,105 individual issues changed hands, of which 524 advanced and 299 declined.

One of the market's strongest spots was Douglas Aircraft, rising 3¼ to 67. The stock advanced against the background of an excellent earnings statement.

Magnavox, most active issue, advanced in contrast to the performance of other issues in this group. The stock gained ¾ at 12¾.

Radio Corp., second most active issue, remained at 13¼ while fractional declines were noted in Admiral Corp. at 28⅛, Emerson Radio 17⅞, Philco 30¾, and Zenith 29½.

Gains of around a point or more appeared for Lockheed 23⅝, General Motors 65⅞, Mid-Continent Petroleum 47, U. S. Rubber 34⅛, American Smelting 47¾, Texas Co. 63¼, and U. S. Gypsum 89½.

Also ahead were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Lion Oil, and American Broadcasting.

Skelly Oil dropped 1⅛ to 112⅝, possibly a result of disappointment over the $2.50 dividend announced after the close yesterday.

Also down were Youngstown Sheet, Greyhound, Socony Vacuum, Montgomery Ward, Allied Chemical, Consolidated Natural Gas, and Johns-Manville.

Higher in the curb were Aluminum Ltd. (helped by a raised and extra dividend), Humble Oil, Imperial Oil, National Union Petroleum, and United Aircraft Products.

Lower were Kaiser-Frazer, and Middle West Corp. Sales of 380,000 shares compared with 310,000 Tuesday.

Railway issues slanted upward in the bond market. U. S. governments, particularly in the distant maturity range, lost 1/32 to 3/32 of a point in over-the-counter dealings.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm today on trade and commission house buying. New crop deliveries moved up more than $1 a bale on expectations of a 90 per cent of parity loans next year, coupled with acreage restrictions on the 1950 crop already recommended by the secretary of agriculture. The market lost part of its gains on broad profit taking. The upturn in old crop months was limited by hedging and selling by traders who were purchasing the new crop deliveries.

Futures closed 10 to 85 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Bus Workers Granted Pay Boost In New Two-Year Contract

DALLAS, Oct. 19. (AP)—A new two-year wage contract, bringing wage hikes to about 700 Continental Bus system employes in the southwest, was announced today by company officials and representatives of the AFL Motor Coach employes union.

A. F. Steele of Tulsa, the union's international vice-president, said the new pact calls for a 1/4 cent per mile increase for bus operators and a 6-cent per hour boost for maintenance and terminal personnel.

The contract, he said, is based on a 48-hour work week with overtime after 40 hours. The new contract is retroactive to May 16 and will be in force until May 16, 1951. The agreement provides that the contract may be reopened for negotiation on Oct. 16, 1950, he added.

ONE MORNING ON TAYLOR 3991—
A ring-by-ring description of one morning in the busy life of Mrs. R. E. Sivley, 2115 Rutland St., Houston, Texas, (TAylor 3991).

7:00 Saved my husband's pocket knife with an early call to Cleo. She found it in his navy pants before she started our family washing.

"Thanks so much for the lift"

8:15 Dorothy, my sister-in-law, phoned to offer me a lift to the bridge luncheon today. She'll be by at 11:30. That will be a big help!

"...and thanks for a wonderful bargain!"

This is just one morning's record in the diary Mrs. Sivley kept for five days of all the telephone calls she and her husband made and received. Score for the five days was 25 separate conversations, two of them long distance calls from Austin, the rest local calls. Cost per local call—about two cents.

Like most people, Mrs. Sivley had never realized how much she depended on her telephone to run her household—or how many good times started with a telephone call. When she figured the actual cost, she added a footnote to her diary —"Thanks for a wonderful bargain."

Every year brings further progress in telephone service. New telephones added so you can call more people, more people can call you. Improvements made so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. The result—a real bargain today that keeps growing in value every year!

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

8:20 Called Mrs. Charlot to see whether she can stay with Beaver (our son, age 3½) while I go to the luncheon. My lucky day! She can.

9:45 Mother phoned from Austin, wanted to hear Beaver's voice, said she was lonesome for her grandson. He was cute, carried on quite a conversation.

What else gives so much for so little?

10:30 Called a real estate agent about a house I saw advertised in the newspaper. Only five rooms and too high priced. So-o we're still looking!

10:45 My good friend, Jen, called to exchange the latest news. We made a date to spend the day together a week from tomorrow.

11:30 Dorothy had to hunt for her car keys, called to tell me she would be a few minutes late. That gives me a few more minutes to get ready.

Invasion Fleet Loses Transport To Sub In Maneuvers Off Hawaii

ABOARD THE USS ELDORADO, Oct. 19. (AP)— The Miki invasion fleet has "lost" the attack transport Noble to an aggressor submarine attack, it was reported today.

But other invasion craft destroyed two subs in a fast moving battle maneuver last night.

Rear Admiral B. J. Rodgers' Miki invasion force is carrying the second infantry division on an expedition to recapture Hawaii from a theoretical aggressor now in occupation.

DEFICIT SPENDING DRAWS FIRE

Mixed Reactions Meet Nourse's Blast At U. S. Economic Policy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—A complaint by economist Edwin G. Nourse against what he called the government's failure to put "its fiscal house in order" drew both criticism and praise in Congress today.

This statement by the retiring chairman of President Truman's economic advisory council was labeled by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) as "a political argument" against deficit spending.

On the other hand, Senator Watkins (R-Utah) said Nourse is the only member of the three-man counell who has followed a "purely professional course."

Watkins asserted that the other members, vice chairman Leon Keyserling and John D. Clark, "slanted their activities politically."

Criticism Implied

O'Mahoney heads the Senate-House economic committee set up to study presidential recommendations—based on the council's advice—on how to keep the nation's economy on an even keel. Watkins is a member of the joint committee.

High government officials say Nourse in effect has told Mr. Truman he is quitting Nov. 1 whether his resignation is accepted or not. These officials report Nourse feels he has failed, after three years of trying, to set the economic council up as a professional advisory unit entirely divorced from political issues and party programs.

Against that background Nourse made a speech yesterday before the National Retail Farm Equipment association. Implying criticism of administration policies, he said:

"I am uneasy when I see farmers demanding stimulative prices while the government accumulates gigantic surplus holdings, pays subsidies out of federal deficits and imposes production allotments and marketing quotas.

Refused To Testify

"I am not happy when I see government slipping back into deficits as a way of life, instead of putting its fiscal house in order and husbanding reserves to support the economy if less prosperous times should overtake us."

O'Mahoney retorted: "The cry of deficit spending, except when uttered by persons who know nothing about the facts of government, is merely a political argument against progressive policy."

O'Mahoney told a reporter he does not regard Nourse as a man who is ignorant of the facts of government. He made it clear he was charging Nourse with making a political argument.

O'Mahoney many times has urged Nourse to testify at committee hearings on Mr. Truman's economic programs. Nourse always has refused on the ground he does not believe the President's economic advisers should be drawn into possible political controversy.

Policy Approved

Watkins said Nourse was absolutely right in following that policy.

"I am convinced," Watkins added, "that Keyserling and Clark, in testimony to our committee in support of the President's policies have become active politically.

"I sympathize with Dr. Nourse in his dislike of that sort of thing. I regret that he is resigning, but I am not surprised."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) called the Senate's attention last night to Nourse's remarks about deficit spending. He did so in saying that Congress at this session has approved government spending of $50,991,997,28.

Ferguson said Nourse's speech amounted to a "flag of warning" and added that neither the administration nor the present Congress has displayed "sound economic sense."

O'Mahoney said that "if this country were not under the obligation to spend huge sums for national defense and to back the international struggle to establish world peace, there would be no deficit."

Senator Myers (D-Pa), also a member of the economic committee, commented similarly.

"Once the peace is won," Myers said, "there will be a reduction in military and foreign aid spending which not only will balance the budget but provide a sizeable surplus."

President Accepts Resignation Of Top Economic Adviser

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, his chief economic adviser who had attacked government in-the-red financial operation as "a slippery road to misery."

The parting was polite. The President thanked Nourse for "valuable service" but did not make public the economist's letter of resignation. The White House said no successor has been chosen.

Political significance of the occurrence was seen in a statement by Republican National Chairman Guy George, Gabrielson, who praised Nourse for "his courageous analysis of our present economic situation."

Nourse, chairman of the Council of Economic advisers, long had been at loggerheads with fellow member Leon Keyserling, and in a blow-off speech Tuesday he questioned Keyserling's theories.

In that speech he said he did not question the bright future claimed for the U.S. by Keyserling. But he declared such a future can only be attained if the country "attacks courageously" several basic problems.

Among these he listed deficit spending, strikes and slow-downs, and backward industrial policies.

Nourse long has opposed support by Keyserling and council member John D. Clark of administration fiscal policies before congressional committees.

He insisted that the council should devote itself to non-political economic reporting and strive for unbiased, factual answers to the nation's economic problems.

Republicans and dissident Democrats are believed certain to make political capital in the 1950 elections of Nourse's leave-taking. The issue probably will involve these two questions:

1. Whether the Council of Economic advisers should be an impartial fact-finding body or a political instrument for the administration in power.

2. The matter of deficit spending which Nourse called "a slippery road to misery."
